PLAN TO BANQUET MOTHERS DURING VISIT, MAY 29-31

Committee Includes Senior Swingout, Dance Drama, Vespers in Program

General announcement of the mothers' reception program was mailed to all fraternities, sororities and rooming houses by the invitation committee for the week-end May 29, 30 and 31 when mothers of all students will be invited to attend the university as guests of President Birge and the student body.

The two-page schedule for the events of the week-end include Senior Swingout, Dance Drama, vespers on Muir Knoll, a banquet for mothers and their sons and daughters, and special services in the Madison churches. By arrangement with the faculty, mothers will be invited to attend classes Friday, May 29.

Ask Student Cooperation

Students are asked, in the announcement, to make accurate lists of mothers names and addresses so that invitations may be sent out in time. These lists should be turned in by the men at Dean Goodnight's office in South hall and by the women at the W. S. G. A. office in Lathrop hall.

Difficulty has been experienced by the committees in getting this list because there is no record of mothers at the registrar's office, according to Alberta Johnson '26, general chairman of Mothers' Reception. "Lists from the students make the only way possible for us to invite the mothers, and only those mothers whose names are turned in can be invited," Miss Johnson said.

Announce Committees

Committees in charge of the arrangements for the week-end were announced last night by the general chairman, They are:

Faculty committee—Dean F. Louise Nardin, Miss A. Isabel Hunt, Miss Helen White and professors Thomas Lloyd Jones, Julius Olson, William Kiekhoffer, Grant M. Hyde, D. L. Robertson and A. B. Hall.

Invitations—George Hanna '26, Dorothy Strauss '26.

Swingout—Miriam Inglis '26, Norton Smith '26.

Publicity—Vernon Carrier '27, Rena Grubb '26.

Novel Publicity—Sally Fletcher '25, Palmer Narveson '26.

Special features—Dorothy King '25, Robert Snyder '26.

RUTH ALLCOTT DRAWS COVER OF NEXT OCTY

Octopus has selected a cover drawn by Ruth Allcott '25 for the "Gawf" issue, which will appear on the campus April 22. Mike Stiver '25, art editor, announced last night. Green, red, and blue will make a vivid cover of the drawing, which pictures a fair golfer and her caddy on the links. The absence of blacks for outline marks a departure from a number of the previous covers. The "Gawf" issue of Octy will be permeated by the true spring atmosphere, with an emphasis on the greatest of Scotch outdoor sports. It will be the next to the last number of the school year.

Badger is Nearing Completion, Says Otis Wiese, Editor

With two-thirds of the Badger made up and the remainder in the process of being made up, it is now only a question of time for the annual to appear, according to Otis Wiese '26, editor of the 1926 Badger. The campus section, the part which depicts activities, is now going through. This section has been held back in order to give place to the horse show, to the California sendoff, and to the crew's trip to Poughkeepsie.

It includes a story of Haresfoot actual pictures of the Haresfoot show, and cuts of outdoor track. "All these will find a place in the book despite the fact that it is coming out early," declared Wiese.

WART-ON-THE-FOOT IS THE LATEST STUDENT AILMENT

First it was a mumps epidemic now the wart-on-the-foot is the latest thing in student ailments. A marked increase in students coming to the clinic for treatment of warts on the pedal extremities has been noted by clinic officials.

The wart, according to Dr. J. C. Elsom of the physical education department, is really a skin disease that seems to be exceptionally prevalent among students. Usually the growth is found on the sole of the foot.

Although the exact cause is not known, Dr. Elsom believes that any little irritation may start a wart.

Tennis shoes or shoes that are too tight are especially conducive to wart growth.

For years people have used acid to remove the wart, but one never knows, Dr. Elsom said, how deep the acid will go, and it is liable to make the whole foot sore. Now a special machine, called a high frequency machine, concentrates its rays upon the growth, dries the cells and destroys them. If the rays hit the base, the wart will never return; often several applications are necessary to strike the base. Where the old acid treatment is unsafe and vague, the new machine with its process of electro-dessication, is exact and safe.

STUDENTS BOOST WISCONSIN MAG

Organize in Committees to Sell
Issue Treating of Campus
Conditions

Students yesterday volunteered to assist in the sale of the current issue of the Wisconsin magazine which was published to present the financial case of the university and its needs for the next two years. The magazine was sold on the hill Friday and will be on sale again tomorrow in various campus buildings.

Under the direction of a committee of students copies of the magazine were distributed yesterday for sale. The sales campaign was organized to give students an opportunity to get the magazines for the purpose of distributing them in their home towns, according to the committee.

"This is the one big chance for students to present the cause of the university on their own behalf," Lester L. Kissel '25, president of the Union board, said yesterday. "I think students realize the seriousness of the situation, but have been hindered from doing anything because they do not know how to go about it."

Junior Engineers Leave Tomorrow For Annual Tour

The annual spring inspection tour of the junior civil engineering class will begin tomorrow. Nearly 45 members of the class will take the trip, which is a part of the required course.

Several buildings and plants will be inspected by the class, including the Chicago and Northwestern station, the Northwestern terra cotta works, the New Morrison hotel, the new Masonic Temple, all in Chicago; the Universal Portland Cement company plant, Buffington, and the Indiana Steel company plant, Gary, Indiana.

Profs. M. O. Withey, L. F. Van Hagan and E. R. Stivers will accompany the group. The headquarters will be at the Hotel Planters, Chicago.

What You Can Do

An Editorial

For several months the facts about the financial situation of the university have been the subject of conversation of administrative officials of the institution and all friends of Wisconsin. The reason that students have not done more talking about it is that they have not known what is going on. The issues have been confused largely because the information has not been available in concrete form.

But now the facts are available in compact unified style. The current issue of the Wisconsin magazine is devoted entirely to the university and its needs. Extra copies were published to give students an opportunity to have this information as a handbook.

Every student should take a copy of this magazine home with him Tuesday. When he gets there he should leave no stone unturned to see that it gets into sympathetic hands. Parents, friends, civic clubs, and organizations of all kinds should know what the magazine contains.

You, who often wished you might do something for the university, you, who have envied the glories of Wisconsin's athletic heroes in their efforts to bring fame to the university, you, who have wished that you might represent her in some line of activity, you can do something right now.

Wisconsin must know the truth about the situation. You can do it by taking a copy of the magazine home with you and telling the story.

It is your opportunity to do something for Wisconsin.

BADGERS LOSE 9-8 IN ST. LOUIS CONTEST

(Special to Daily Cardinal)
ST. LOUIS, April 5.—One of those last-half of the ninth inning rallies, a dime-novel thriller, defeated the Wisconsin university baseball team here in its game yesterday afternoon with the University of St. Louis. The score was 9-8, St. Louis scoring three runs in their half of the last frame after it looked like the Badgers had the game tied up in their bat-bags. It was the first contest of the Wisconsin team's southern trip. The Badgers worked well despite the fact that it was their first competition of the season. Schrenk and Stoll pitched for Wisconsin and allowed St. Louis ten hits. The Badgers collected nine safe blows. Ellingson, Edwards, Barnum, Tangen, Steen and Larson connecting.

Smith Names 13 Men Who Have Worked; Tryouts Are Open

Recommendations to voters who will choose their representatives at the spring election will be made from this staff. Other men will be recommended also but those on the staff are automatically eligible.

Smith stated that freshmen and upperclassmen may still apply for tryouts to work on the staff. Freshmen particularly are needed for the staff.

HARESFOOT TICKETS BRING SCALPERS $10

(Special to Daily Cardinal)

APPLETON, April 4.—Single tickets to the Haresfoot show at Sheboygan were scalped at a high price of $10. The Sheboygan Press reviewer stated that "Ivan Ho!" was the best road show to visit that city this season. The stage orchestra is making a big hit, and E. Mortimer Shuter, coach, claims that "Ivan Ho!" is the greatest Haresfoot show. Tickets for the Appleton show are all sold out. The company jumps from here to Minneapolis and St. Paul, taking the stage there Monday. The production has played to full houses thus far on the trip. Audiences are pleased with Byron Rivers and his feminine impersonations.

SUN TO BE OUT FOR EASTER, SAYS MILLER

From all indications, Easter will be a bright and sunny day. The weather forecast for spring vacation is encouraging, although there is a chance that we will have some rain, according to Mr. Miller of the United States Weather bureau. "One rain storm, starting in the west last Monday, passed through the central portion of the United States. A second storm has started and may come farther north, but generally the second moves farther south than the first," Mr. Miller said. "The fair weather period through which we have just passed was due to this first rain storm."

MATMEN, FENCERS GIVE EXHIBITION AT CLASS MEET

Contests Show Varsity Squad
Will Get Keen Competition

"Mighty fine," was the way Coach George Schlatter characterized the interclass gymnastic exhibition held in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. According to the coach the varsity men will be given keen competition for their positions by the athletes now pursuing the mat and bar game.

Performances on the horse, parallel bars and rings were especially good, but the other contests were not lacking in interest. Schwoerke, although the only one competing in the club swinging event, made a perfect score.

Janecek Loses

Hinderleiter beat Janecek on the horizontal bars, and Thomas led Schwoerke and Johnson in the side horse event. Beckley was awarded the winning position for his work on the rings, Kuhe and Hinderleiter earning second and third places respectively.

Competitors on the parallel bars who scored winning posts are: Kamm, first; Hinderleiter, second; and Janecek, third. Those who figured in the awards of the tumbling exhibition were, Beckley, first; Kuhe, second, and Hinderleiter, third.

Coach Schlatter said that the men will now take to the outdoors and engage in such sports as tennis, baseball, and the like in order to keep in condition when the gymnastic seasons opens again next fall.

Two Classes Compete.

Foil and saber enthusiasts of the university went through a fine display of the fencing art in the annual interclass meet yesterday afternoon. The exhibitions were put on by both the fencers and the novices.

Walter May and Freytag of the fencers earned their letters following a round robin contest in which they were successful in defeating Hollister, Waters and Mathys. Kashim was unable to best Asplund in the saber contest.

Seven men competed in the novice class of the fencing and saber exhibitions. They included Church, Miller, Paula, Quantock, Ingold, Frink and Baird. Church and Miller earned letters by their work.

MAROONS WIN EIGHTH STRAIGHT RIFLE MEET

Little Plans Special Award For Physical Efficiency Star

Best All-around Man to Be Given Silver Loving Cup

A silver loving cup from director of athletics, George Little, will be the reward to the 100 per cent physically efficient student this semester.

The new reward was announced yesterday by Coach Fred Schlatter, who is heartily in accord with Coach Little's plan for recognizing the all-around efficient man along with the student who excels in some special sport such as football or basketball.

A university physical efficiency champion to receive the cup will be chosen on the basis of the tests now being given to the gym classes. The tests include the fence vault, rope climb, running forward dive and roll, running high jump, chinning or pull-up, 110-yard dash, dip and push-up, one mile endurance run, sit-up and trunk flexion and the running broad jump.

N. U. FROSH TIES TWO SWIM MARKS IN MEET

Northwestern university freshman swimmers yesterday held a telegraphic meet with Iowa. The results will not be known until Monday, but Purple aquatic fans already are aware that Weston Kimball of the Evanston school tied two national intercollegiate records in the 100 and 40 yard events. In the former race Kimball swam the distance in :53 4-5, while his time for the 40 yards was :18 2-5.

PARKIN IS ADDED TO IOWA COACHING STAFF

ALPHA CHI RHO LOSES CLOSE CONTEST TO "Y"

The baseball season was inaugurated yesterday afternoon on the lower campus with the playing of the first game between the nines of Alpha Chi Rho and the Y. M. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. winning 9-8. The two teams started with the intention of playing a five inning game but it took nine innings to play off the 8-8 tie at the end of the fifth. Both teams played fast ball and many of the men showed mid-season form. With the score heavily against them the Alpha Chi Rho men staged a rally in the last of the fifth and brought in three runs to tie the score. The "R" men took a spurt in the first of the ninth and knocked in a needed run. The fraternity men failed to score with two bases, the game ending with a man on first and second.

Don't Write About Murder and Ghosts Advises Instructor

"Murders and ghosts should be avoided," especially when students write short stories, one of the members of the English department thinks.

The second volume of "The Best College Stories" is being prepared for publication by the Stratford publishing company and all students are asked to submit their stories for examination with a view to inclusion in this volume.

An honor roll is included in the volume naming those whose work has been exceptionally good but has not excelled. THREE GOLF MEN ARE BACK FROM LAST YEAR'S TEAM

Four Meets Are Scheduled For Spring Besides Conference Contest

With the varsity golf season only a month away, Captain R. T. Porter has issued a call for golfers to meet at 12:45 o'clock Monday noon in Coach Steinauer's office.

Only three men of last year's team are back, including Porter, Van Guenther and Bock, former captain. With the three experienced men as a nucleus for the team, Porter believes that Wisconsin can have a winning golf team this season if enough golfers turn out for practice.

Steinauer Is Sponsor
Coach Steinauer is sponsoring the sport this year and no regular coach will be engaged.

The 1924 team won two meets and lost three playing with an inexperienced squad. Golf was first recognized as a sport at Wisconsin last year. Few of the Big Ten schools have teams at the present time.

1925 Schedule

Dope Gives California Edge On Wisconsin Tracksters

Small Colleges in Meet Saturday May Be Better For Badgers

Little is known as to the relative strength of the team made up of the men from the six smaller colleges that are to form the third part of the triangular meet at Berkeley next Saturday but a brief survey of the comparative power of California and Wisconsin gives the Golden Bears a very slight advantage.

First place in the dash events will be evenly divided between Barber and McAndrews. The California flash has consistently done the century in even time or better and unless he is over form will be likely to break the tape an inch or so in front of McAndrews, but "Mac" should come back and take the longer dash with ease as it has always been a trifl too far for Barber in previous meets while it is here that McAndrews is at his best. The Badgers should place one other man in each of the dashes with McGiveran or Francis as the likely placers.

Weak in 440

Johnson, colored flash in the 440 at California, is almost certain to take the quarter as he has done it in slightly under 50 seconds which is considerably faster than any of the Cardinal quarter milers have turned in. However, Kennedy and Flueck are both improving daily and will press him hard for first place.

Boyden and Bergstresser will stage a merry battle in the half with the outcome a toss up. Both men have turned in times under two minutes and it will be a case of the man in best condition that particular day who will win.

Strong in Distance

It would be no surprise to see two Badgers take first and second in the mile and two mile. California is sadly lacking in capable distance men, while this is Wisconsin's strong point. Valley and Schutt are going strong in the two mile, while both Piper and Perry can do better than 9:50 in the two mile which is the best that any of the California two milers have done.

First places in the high jump and shot put look like Wisconsin's certainties with McGinnis and Schwarze competing, but the other two places should go to California and if Schwarze is not at his best Gerkin, Golden Bear weight man, will sneak in a first place as he has put the shot around 45 feet.

Schwarze in Discus Event

The javelin looks like a slam for California with three men throwing it over 180 feet which is 12 feet better than the best throw made by Kreuz this year. In the discus Schwarze is the only Badger with a chance to place.

McAndrews and Krieger have a chance to pick up a few points in the broad jump and pole vault although first place looks good for California, with men broad jumping over 23 feet and pole vaulters consistently clearing 12 feet 8 inches.

Relay Team Better

Wisconsin's crack mile relay quartet should head the field. Although California has a star 440 man who will make a desperate effort from anchor position, it is not likely that Coach Walter Christie's

Track Special

By RAY KUBLY

U. W. Track Special Enroute, April 4.—(Special from Rockford, Ill.)—Members of the Wisconsin track squad on the special Pullman to the California meet are getting adjusted to their new home. John Bergstresser '25, characterizing the send off from the Madison station says "they gave us a hair-tingling send-off Friday. The team certainly appreciated it and will never forget it."

When the train left the West Madison station, "Cap" McAndrews was found hiding under his berth. He was afraid the crowd at the station would call on him for a speech.

Captain Valley was so nervous after his attempt at oratory that he could scarcely eat the big steak they served on the diner.

"Bush" Solbraa and "Blackie" Blackman started with us for California. They got as far as Stoughton. Jim Brader did much better; he stuck on until we hit Beloit.

People in Janesville thought there was a communist's convention in town when Dave Taub, manager, passed out to every man on the team, and also to Tom Jones, a flaming cardinal necktie. These flamboyant cravats were gifts from Ed Grady, manager of the Co-op.

Coach Jones has been taking moving pictures ever since we left Camp Randall. He is getting so expert in handling the little machine that the team is afraid he will set himself up in the movie business in Hollywood.

Big things tonight! The coach is going to put on a "movie" showing the team all the pictures he has collected of the send-off and so on.

The Madison Rotary club, besides feasting the team Thursday noon, has given two crates of apples for the trip. Frank Bros. fruit company and the Universal Grocery Co. also donated a box apiece. As the old saying goes, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." Coach Jones is taking no chances—he is giving us two a day!

men can compare with the crack Badger mile team.

The best hope for victory lies in the possibility that a few stars from the college group will crowd out some of the California satellites and leave the field open for McGinnis, Schwarze, McAndrews, Valley and the mile relay team to pick off a few first places which will count heavily in the final scoring.

RYAN SELECTED AS ASSISTANT TO N. U. GRID COACH

Steger, Former Michigan Star,
Will Also Assist
Thistlewaite

Jack Ryan, for two years head football coach at Wisconsin, who resigned shortly after the appointment of George Little as athletic director here, will be first assistant to Glenn Thistlewaite, gridiron mentor of Northwestern university, according to an announcement by Prof. O. F. Long, chairman of the Purple athletic committee.

Ryan will be the right hand man of Thistlewaite and will have full charge of the backs and ends.

Steger Is Chosen

A peculiar slant to this selection of Ryan to this post is that Irwin Uteritz, who was first assistant last year, has come here to assist Little in the development of the 1925 gridiron team.

As assistant backfield coach Northwestern has secured the services of Herbert Steger, star halfback and captain of last year's University of Michigan football eleven. Steger is about to enter business in Chicago and will arrange to be at Northwestern field each coaching day.

R. G. Dunne, well known as "Duke" Dunne, remains as line coach, while Mautry Kent and Henry Penfield will continue to look after the freshmen.

Thistlewaite Pleased

Coach Thistlewaite said that Coach Ryan will be on the job next Monday to participate in spring football practice. He also expressed gratification over Captain Steger's decision to assist Coach Ryan in the backfield job.

The coach said that Coach Ryan next fall will be on the football job throughout the season. His business is in Milwaukee and it will be so arranged that he will be able to devote his whole time to assisting in shaping the Purple for a hard season.

WOLVERINE ATHLETES LEAD IN CLASS WORK

Athletes are getting better marks than students who do not participate in any sports, the records of the Michigan athletic association show. The average grade of all men competing in the four major sports show the grades of athletes to be 2 per cent higher than that of the average student. The track squad heads the list with an average of 81.2 per cent for more than 30 men, an average grade of more than three hours being credited to the track squad. Grididers placed second with an average grade of 77.9 per cent for 40 men. Baseball players averaged 73.3 per cent, and basketball men 70.5 per cent.

George Kress received a third-place medal for placing in the side-horse exhibition.

The meet at Minneapolis was the last meet for both Schmidt and Kress, who graduate in June. Earl Hicks, consistent performer on the Badger squad, graduates also.

START PLANS FOR MID-WEST RELAY CARNIVAL MAY 2

George Dennis '27 is Named
Student Manager By Coach Burke

Before leaving for California Mead Burke, assistant track coach, made his final arrangements for the Mid-West Relay Carnival to be held here May 2.

George Dennis '27 was appointed student manager in charge of the meet. The only work that is to be done before the spring recess is that of organization. Committees will be selected by Dennis before vacation and announced in the Daily Cardinal immediately after the holidays.

The only definite step that has been taken is the appointment of Leo Klinger '27 as assistant general manager. Klinger will have complete charge of the committees on housing, awards and entertainment in addition to assisting Dennis with the general management of the meet.

Present indications point to a bigger and better meet than last year. The carnival last year was the first of its kind to be staged at Wisconsin and its success warrants making the event a permanent fixture on the Badger athletic program. Two hundred and fifty men representing 28 high schools from four different states competed last year and a much larger representation is expected this spring.

It is the ambition of the committee in charge of the relays to make this meet mean to high schools of the middle west what the Drake and Penn relays mean to the universities and colleges.

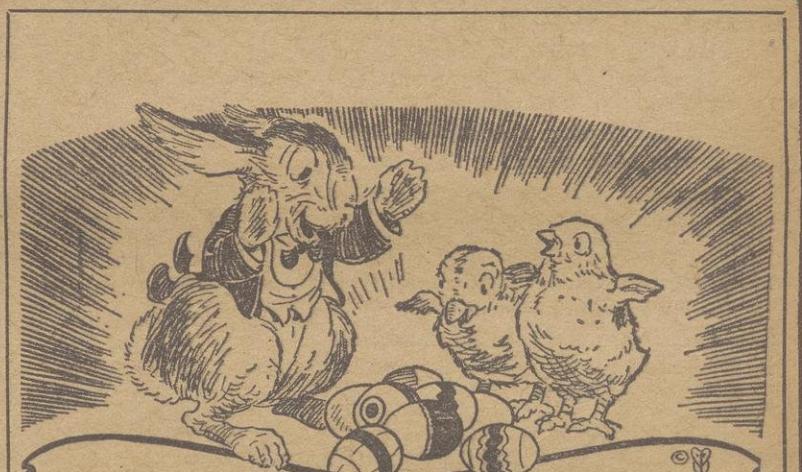

THE ARMY IS MOVING

Laureene Eklund '27 has charge of mailing, and Arthur Lustig '27 is taking care of clippings and files.

Ruth Stevens '26 and Bonita Spencer '25 are doing the mimeographing.

Clippings have been coming in so well from the state papers that those handling the exposition are confident of success in getting a large attendance.

"We have more column inches of clippings now than the total number of the last exposition," says Kriegbaum.

THE BALL

The thirteenth annual Military ball is history.

It is an entirely creditable chapter in the history of social functions of the university. It is doubtful whether there has been a social function in the capitol that was as entirely satisfactory from every point of view.

Certainly the conduct of the ball and the efficient work of the cadets who acted as military police was beyond reproach. The usual complaints of dancers who objected to the crowded condition of the floor and the spectators' interferences are missing. Probably the spectators themselves were as well pleased since they were not being asked continually to move out of the corridors. There was nothing to prevent their having a good time from the galleries, which were kept clear for their benefit.

Concerning the question of the prohibition laws nothing need be said for the simple reason that there were no violations. Men who cleaned up the capitol after the ball stated that the nearest thing to incriminating evidence found in the boxes was a bag of peanuts. The guests and students conducted themselves in a manner befitting the building offered for their use by the legislature.

If this ball is to be the last that will be held in the capitol it is well that it should have been so conducted. It will be all the more remembered because of its favorable impression.

GET INTO STEP

The army is moving, get into step.

This slogan, blazoned forth by the large sign in front of the Union building for the past week, subtly suggests to the student that there is something going on that he ought to be in on. He is right; there is something that he should be in on.

For three days week after next the university will be on display for all who will be here to see it. And there will be thousands here to see what the university really is on the inside. Doubtless there are many students who do not know much about the intricate workings of the institution in all its departments. For these, too, Wisconsin will be ready to show itself as it actually is.

Webster defines the word exposition as "an exposing or laying open." That is exactly what the university will be doing April 16, 17, and 18. The whole university will be literally turned inside out so that all may see what it is. Those who are working on the committees know something of the magnitude of the task; the others will be readily convinced when they have seen it.

Every citizen in the state ought to see the exposition. Everyone who takes pride in his state university will be still more proud after he has seen its inside workings. When you go home day after tomorrow invite your father, mother, uncles, aunts, and your relatives to come back with you on April 16.

The army is moving, get into step.

When the snow departed from these climes some weeks ago it left a not very beautiful sight to behold at the entrance of some of our campus buildings. The ground was littered; it is not necessary to enumerate with what. With the coming of spring these unsightly spots have been cleaned up. Let's try to keep the campus clean.

Perhaps nothing expresses the care-free joyous attitude which it is the pleasure of the college youth to effect than the old dilapidated car which he drives. The "wrecks" are numerous now and the life of the pedestrian has become just a little more precarious. The carefree attitude would be a little safer if it could be confined to at least 20 miles an hour.

Now it's Purdue! A professor of that institution has made charges that intercollegiate sports are now on a professional basis. He declares that the control of the Big Ten athletics has passed from the hands of the faculties.

The ice has gone out at last. It's an old, old story, this spring opening of the lake. But the warning is ever timely. The lake is not yet safe for canoeing.

Jack Ryan is to coach football at Northwestern. The Daily Cardinal joins with others in extending him good wishes in his work. We believe Jack is a good coach and we hope that he has good success with the Purple.

The band gives its annual concert this afternoon. One of Wisconsin's best institutions, the band may be counted upon to furnish high class entertainment.

Wisconsin lacks funds. Say so when you go home.

LIBERALITY IN EDUCATION

Students generally entertain the idea that they take training in some particular line of work because they expect to follow in later life the profession to which this work is related. This, naturally, appears to be sound and logic reasoning. And then to complicate matters we refer to a statement made by President Hopkins in an address to students. He says the following: "The man who concentrates on the things farthest removed from his contemplated business or profession will make the most of his college career. . . . I have no sympathy with the idea that you will be able to earn more money through going to college. . . . Many students in college have never had the experience of sitting down and thinking until a result is achieved." President Hopkins is attempting to stress the fact that a college is not the place for the wholesale absorption of facts, formulas and principles, but is the training camp for the acquisition of the ability to think.

Such a statement as this, however, appears to reach the limit in the advocacy of liberality in education. And it cannot be assumed that the limit constitutes the most desirable procedure. We cannot imagine a successful engineer advising an engineering student to study liberal arts in college and to then attempt to make a name for himself in the field of engineering. Such an idea is absurd. But it is possible for the engineering student to receive training while in college in a few subjects which, while not of a purely technical nature, may prove to be of greater assistance to the student in later life than would an extra subject or two relating to engineering. There are dangers in specialization as well as in generalization. But too often the student does not realize this fact until he has entered upon his profession and finds himself lacking in several qualities which he might have acquired in college. The student must look ahead and determine just what factors will play important parts in deciding his future success. If he must depart from the specialized training which he had been receiving, he should not hesitate to do so. Someone once said to look out for the little things and the big things will take care of themselves. This expression may well be applied to the securing of a college education. The individual who, in acquiring the principles of his future profession, is careful in the development of his character and personality, items which may seem to be of minor consideration to him despite their importance, will find himself many steps ahead of the one who has specialized to the exclusion of the paramount matters.—Purdue Exponent.

BOY SCOUT BALL

Gee, gosh, we heard two of the best circus bands that ever hit Madison at the Capitol Friday night. There was only one big ring for the performers, and believe us, some of the clowns were sure funny.

Ringside seats sold at one and one-half dollars per each, and we raised an awful kick with the ticket-seller. He said, "Say, you have to pay $3.30 to see a good comedy, and there aren't any that are as good as this."

The only thing that kept the affair serious to the onlookers was the fact that there were a lot of American flags strewn around.

Every time we were tempted to laugh in the dancers' faces, we would look at a flag, and think, "Oh, where is my wandering tuxedo tonight?"

We tried to figure out the reasons for the bayonets on the guns, and finally gave up, conceding the fact that there must be some points about them worth considering.

Then at intermission everybody piled over to the side show to see the only living performing soldiers. It was more or less a show of arms, though, and all of the fellows got disgusted and walked away. Then the orchestra sounded the call to arms, and the fun began again.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Phi Kappa Psi

Now with the bulk of the eligible membership of PHI PSI on the Haresfoot trip (sans shoes) the remaining brothers are devoting themselves strenuously to athletics. The game illustrated is played in Sterling court. Messrs. Joe Pipenski and Arvid Skjarsen are being assisted by Miss Nazim Nazimoviski of Gamma Phi Beta. The object is to keep the ball (pardon, did you say "bat") away from Coranto.

Somebody suggested that the Phi Psi have a terrible habit. It has grown on them so much, that they are even digging for gold in their own front yard.

The asphalt arabs were having a considerable time making the rest of us jealous yesterday, by taking our girls out for rides.

Speaking of asphalt arabs, the Thetas are developing a lot of muskals pushing their Ford around in hopes of getting it started.

Dog-gone it, we were going to take up horseback riding this winter, and we waited for a good heavy, soft, snowfall. Now it's spring, and we have to wait until next winter.

This is the time of the year when lots of kodak pictures are taken. When the proofs come back, we see why everybody has been grinning at us all winter.

The most unfortunate thing about going home in the early part of April is that your bank statement comes out just before, and Dad hasn't had enough other worry on his mind to make him forget it.

We heard a new interpretation of the affair on State street last Saturday. It seems as though the engineers were celebrating a golden anniversary of something or other, so the lawyers, out of friendly feeling, just naturally showered them with gifts in keeping.

ANECDOTE

Here's a fairly new one that we picked up this week:

A high building was being erected in Chicago, and an Irishman lost his footing, and fell. As he was coming down he caught a hold on a telegraph wire where he dangled while his fellow workmen shouted to him to hold on for his life, and ran to find some soft coal for him to land on.

He hung on for a few seconds longer, yelled "Look out, below," and dropped. Just before the ambulance reached the hospital he came back to consciousness, and they asked him why he let go of the wire.

"Shure, and I was afraid that it would break," he answered.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

First senator: "How are your New Year's resolutions coming?"

Second senator: "I tabled them."

Robins may be hopping all around these days, but we wish that we could see our first "birdie" out on the links.

And with baseball coming around, we are reminded of some of the famous outs that we have heard of:

- Out of sight
- Out of mind
- Out of luck
- Out of money
- Out of place
- Let him out
- Throw him out
- Out!

Whenever we began to crank the car at home, Dad used to tell us to stop rattling the family skeleton.

JUDGE HOPPMANN
Editor, Daily Cardinal:

Next Tuesday many faculty members and students will carry out their civic duties by voting for judicial officers.

Believing that both faculty and students are interested in seeing elected the most capable judge and in friends and alumni of the university, the writer wishes to call attention to some facts in connection with Judge Hoppmann.

Judge Hoppmann has had nine years of experience as a judge, during which time he has built up his court from a small municipal court to a superior court with two judges and of great importance. This experience is in exactly the same work which he would do as circuit judge.

Judge Hoppmann has felt for many years that the people and courts owe a responsibility and a duty to help the students who are here to get their education. The writer can testify from his own knowledge that there are many students, some even now in the university who owe a great deal to him for kindly advice and friendly help in difficulties.

Law students have regularly been invited into his chambers to talk over cases. The law and the reasons for the procedure followed by attorneys have been explained. The writer's first meeting with the judge came when with four other law students he was invited to come in and talk over a case to which the group had just listened.

Judge Hoppmann has always shown a desire to cooperate with and help university and students.

AMERICA'S CLASSIC OF LAUGHS AND HEART THROBS

The writer for a year and a half wrote up every criminal case tried in superior court and since September, 1924, has heard practically every case, civil or criminal, tried before him and is in a position to know the judge, the law and the facts of the cases tried.

Judge Hoppmann knows and upholds the law to the limit, not as he might wish it to be or as we might wish it to be, but as it is on the books. He is fair and just in his decisions, which are made without regard to color, nationality, creed or social position. That such is the case is apparent when one recalls that in any contested case, one side and one attorney must lose and that he has been indorsed by almost all of the attorneys in Dane county, each one of whom probably has lost cases before the judge.

PLACARDING CARS

Editor, Daily Cardinal:

This morning I found my car almost entirely whitewashed with great large letters, "All Out, etc." Not content with painting the front windshield, the two side windows and the back window, this ambitious advertising man thought it would be nice to paint my doors and fenders.

And preceding this sign painting fanatic had come the Haresfoot press agent a week ago and left his little sticker, and just yesterday, the Exposition bill poster.

Last fall, once a week, and as regular as clock-work, appeared in brazen letters, on every window pane of my car, "All out, etc."

And each time it meant $1.50 to have my car cleaned. You see, I'm not a student any longer and it is hardly in order for me to do business about town in a coupe resembling a circus heralder.

In other words, I believe that my $1.50 every week is more than I should afford to pay toward Wisconsin publicity of the type that is being rendered. I've paid my life membership to the Memorial union, and a few other things, and it seems to me that I have done almost enough.

This is a remonstrance at the flagrant manner in which unthinking students are painting sleeping automobiles.

La Vern Players Act in "Business Before Pleasure"

"Business Before Pleasure," the play which the Dorothy La Vern Players are presenting at the Orpheum theater all this week is another of the Potash and Perlmutter series.

Abe and Mawrus appear as fillum mag-nuts. At the start the partners feature the family to cut down the expenses, but the results are entirely unsatisfactory, according to box office receipts, so the partners hire a "vamp" to play the part of the leading lady. The vamp however leads the partners into many compromising situations that are none too welcome to their respective families.

Al Jackson has the main comedy lead, playing the part of Abe Potash, with Richard Allan following a close second playing Abe's partner, Mawrus Perlmutter. Dorothy La Vern portrays the part of the "vamp" and is the one who gets the unsuspecting Abe and Mawrus into so much "hot water."

The week of April 12th the Dorothy La Vern Players will present "Lightnin."

FASHION PROBLEMS

De Longe Studio

Can you all wait until spring vacation? I am so excited because a Chi Psi is taking me to the depot and he isn't so bad even if he is an engineer and then I got a letter from mother today and we are both invited to a tea during vacation and what do you think my Dad sent an extra check too and oh well to make a long story short it is all spent now.

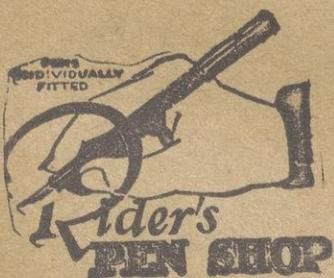

But look what I bought! I knew that Simpson's had just received a new shipment of the large French picture hats, similar to the one Mildred Rogers '26 is wearing in the picture, and because Easter is most here and because this mode of hat is so good now and because I want to look nice at the tea I bought it

If You Have Your Pen Repaired Now

You won't have to worry about it at exam time

Exams are coming soon and you'll be busy studying. Consequently you'll want that pen in first class condition all of the time.

We will repair it now in 24 hours and then you will not have to worry about it again until next year.

and you see it is going to serve a double purpose perfectly, the Easter hat and the tea hat.

Of course this is going to be a formal tea and that is the reason that I selected this soft, gray, georgette, Simpson model with the petticoled skirt edged with pleated ruffles. Isn't the long yoke effect exquisite and the streamer from the hat falls on both sides of the shoulder although one can not tell this from the picture? The novelty satin slippers I found at Huegel and Hyland and they are perfect but of course their shoes always are!

Miss Manning at Simpson's says that teas are very cosmopolitan and one can wear most anything from a chic tailored dress to the soft fluffy models. Gloves seem to be coming back and the French magazines state that no woman will consider herself well dressed this summer without the gloves which harmonize with her costume. The gauntlet glove is being worn with the short sleeve instead of the long glove.

Neither the very petite girl or the tall girl can wear the new French picture hats but the medium sized girl looks perfect in them—and now don't you think my Dad will be glad he sent me the check when he finds what a darling costume I bought and of course it didn't cost me so very much because Simpson's things are very smart but reasonable.

Connie

With Haresfoot

BY CHATTY

The scene shifters made record time when they set the stage for the second act in 35 minutes and two seconds.

Bob Scott spent all the money he had for the entire trip in Jefferson Junction and Fond du Lac.

It has been deemed advisable to send for petticoats for the show girls and pony chorus in the Lady in Lace number.

The switch engine tried out some new trick steps Wednesday night with the Haresfoot coaches. As a result, the boys' joints were well limbered up by morning.

The ghost number in the second act brought forth a few screeches. But the ushers informed the women that they had nothing to fear.

Jimmie Hildreth and Bill Rahr brought down the house with some feet features.
