"JACK'S" BODY IS WILLED TO U. OF W. MEDICS

Curbstone Philosopher Offers Remains For Scientific Research; Includes
Tractor

"Railroad Jack," memory expert and curbstone philosopher who has become well known in Madison by his antics here for several months past has willed his body to the University of Wisconsin in the interests of science.

"Jack," whose legal name is Harry D. Cooper, he says, has decided that his body will be of greater value under the dissecting knives of pathologists than feeding the maws of hungry worms.

He Learned

During two years of his varied career, "Railroad Jack" attended the Rush Medical college, he avers, and he professes to have learned, together with a few other trifles the great value placed on such subjects as he will become.

The will, drawn up by "Jack" himself, in the office of The Daily Cardinal, was witnessed by Fred S. Siebert '23, and Karl A. Maier '23. The "last will and testament," partly typewritten and finished in pencil, follows:

"Know all men by these presents that I, Harry D. Cooper, more familiarly known to the world as Railroad Jack, do hereby will my

Advices Women In Choosing of Later Vocations

Collegiate Bureau Head to Meet
Seniors at Conference

Miss Helen Bennett will speak at the second meeting of the Women's Vocational conference, Friday afternoon, in Lathrop hall. Senior women may arrange for conferences some time next Friday to discuss opportunities in vocations.

Miss Bennett is head of the Women's Collegiate Bureau of Occupation, which is maintained in Chicago by the Association of Collegiate Alumni. The bureau places only college women.

Last year Miss Bennett spoke at the women's vocational conference here, and also interviewed the senior women of the university. She goes over each girl's individual case, and helps her to enter the work which she is most interested in and best suited for.

A placard has been posted in Lathrop hall where girls may sign up for their appointments with Miss Bennett. She will give all her time for these interviews on Friday until 4:30, when she will speak at the second meeting of the conference.

Haresfoot Tryouts To Be Held Tonight

Tryouts for positions in the cast, chorus, orchestra, and production staff of "Jerusalem Junction," the 1922 Haresfoot production, will be held at 7 tonight in the auditorium of the Wisconsin high school, on University avenue. All men enrolled in the university are eligible, provided they are of sophomore standing or higher.

With a cast of 12 principals, a chorus of 24 singers and dancers, an orchestra of 30, and a production staff of 15, the Haresfoot club offers opportunities for all sorts of dramatic work in its twenty-fourth annual production.

Seat Sale Indicates Large Attendance For Pyre Reading

A large mail order sale of tickets for the Walton Pyre reading to take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Music hall, has already disposed of many of the tickets. There will also be a sale at the door.

Mr. Pyre, who is an alumnus of Wisconsin and a brother to Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the English department, will read Francesca da Rimini. As a dramatic revelator, Walton Pyre has achieved distinction that has brought him enthusiastic praise from a variety of critics. The Milwaukee Sentinel is quoted below:

"In his selection yesterday afternoon, Mr. Pyre's work was marked by a pleasing naturalness and absence of affectation. He has a well rounded sympathetic voice which is equally effective in pathos, tender sentiment, and in powerful outburst which make heavy demands upon it."

Prom Play Tickets Now Selling on Hill

Tickets for "On the Hiring Line" may now be obtained in the rotunda of Bascom hall and from various members of the dramatic clubs. Though the box office seat sale at the Parkway does not open until Thursday morning these tickets obtained on the campus may be exchanged at the box office at any time for the regular seat checks.

In this way university students are enabled to obtain excellent seats for the production. Owing to the fact that the first performance of the play was more of a Prom affair and attended largely by university students, a heavy Madison mail order sale is expected.

Winter Sports Are Key-note of New Octy on Sale Today

Displaying the eccentricities and possibilities of winter sports, the Octopus appears on the hill this morning in its annual Winter Sports spree. Copies will be on sale at stands in university buildings and drug stores today.

Characterized as "One of Octy's best" by Octopus editors and razzed by the Cardinal critics yesterday, the current issue is causing much comment and today awaits a student verdict.

Octopus mailing envelopes have been placed at all drug stores today for the convenience of Octopus subscribers who wish to send extra copies out of the city. The envelopes are sold for one cent each.

Grads Are Promised More Badger Space

Graduate students in the university are promised more space than usual in the Badger this year, the management announces. A petition is being sent out by the staff for snap-shot contributions.

The year-book is to be of an unusual size this year, and a large 32-page section of the book is to be devoted to the "Campus Life" section, several pages of which will consist exclusively of pictures on graduate activities.

The section is already in process of preparation. The staff asks all graduates to submit material which must consist of snapshots and pictures of campus life, humorous or otherwise. These pictures are to be sent or brought to the Badger office as soon as possible. They may be sent to James Perky '24, editor of the Campus Life section.

"Punkin' Holler" is To Be Staged By Ags Friday Night

Tickets For Take-off on Rural Meetin' Sell
Rapidly

Forty students will take part in the "Punkin' Holler Community Program" to be given in Agricultural auditorium Friday evening, Feb. 17, at 8 o'clock.

Participants in the entertainment include nine home-economics students, 16 members of the short course in agriculture, and 15 students of the long and middle courses in agriculture.

The program is composed of acts representing typical rural community characters. Many of the numbers will be conducted by the country school ma'am. A "Hoss Doctor Act," and a talk by the president of the Larkin club are other acts which are typical of a country town.

Only 250 tickets remain to be sold. Students who will attend the community meetin' are urged to communicate with Lippert Ellis '23, in charge of ticket sales. The ticket sale is strictly limited due to the seating capacity of agricultural auditorium.

GIRLS SMOKE LESS AT U. W. —NARDIN

Dean of Women Says Students
Condemn Tobacco Habit

Smoking among women of the University of Wisconsin is dying out, F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, said yesterday, when asked to comment upon statements by an official of Columbia university who said the habit was banned in the graduate college these because the rooms were "so stuffy."

She was confident that fewer women smoke here than did three years ago, she said.

"We try to have few campus rules at Wisconsin," said Miss Nardin on Monday, "and so it cannot be said that we ban smoking and have severe penalties for those who indulge in it. Campus rules, you see, may not apply in later life and, for that reason, we try to limit them, making them apply only in extreme cases."

Fewer Smoke Now

"Campus leaders and school organizations, including all sororities, have taken a stand against women smoking. The university woman at Wisconsin has come to realize that smoking is not a trait of the true 'smart set' and it is not countenanced by the worth while people."

Miss Nardin was unable to make an estimate as to the number of Wisconsin women who smoke, but was positive in her declaration that fewer indulge in the cigaret now than did three years ago.

Statements made by deans of other colleges varied from outright disclaiming of any smoking among the women students, to the charge by the dean of Illinois women that only those who come from outside schools are addicted to the "weed." Some thought girls smoked a little "just to be smart."

But Who Knows

There is no way, it is suggested, of discovering absolutely how many women students here do smoke. After reading Dean Nardin's statement yesterday, a student observed: "Now, maybe the girls wouldn't tell the dean about it after all."

A newspaper, Tuesday quoted an unnamed woman faculty member as saying that nearly 50 per cent of the university women students had smoked or do occasionally.

SCOTT TO OPEN WOMEN'S MEET HERE FRIDAY

Secure Northwestern President as Speaker for Annual Vocational Conference

President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university will speak at the all-university convocation to be held Thursday afternoon at 4:30 in the gymnasium. The convocation will open the Ninth Annual Vocational conference of university women.

"President Scott is one of the foremost men in vocational training in the country," said Prof. John R. Commons of the Economics department in discussing President Scott's visit to the university.

Served in War

"During the war President Scott served as a colonel in the American army where he had complete charge of devising, installing, and supervising the personnel system. He is also well-known through his work as president of the Scott company, which he organized in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Boston. His work there was organizing of labor forces, and supervising industrial personnel."

He was formerly professor of psychology at Northwestern university, and later director of the Bureau of Research at Carnegie Institute.

President Birge said of President Scott, "He is a very interesting speaker, and a splendid one to open the conference."

Will Meet Students

After his talk at the convocation, President Scott will be entertained at the University club at dinner by members of the faculty. Thursday at 8 p. m. there will be an informal conference in room 122 of the Historical library where President Scott will discuss the question, "The Use of Psycho-Analysis in Employment and Labor Management," before instructors and advanced students in labor and industrial problems, who will attend the meeting.

Bishop Jones Claims Gospels Have Cure For Industrial Evils

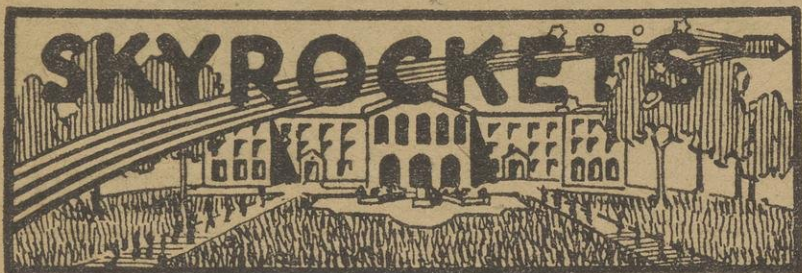

That the youth of today in European and American schools is beginning to appreciate the wisdom of the first century gospels as sound advice for the cure of industrial evils of the present time, was claimed last night by Bishop Paul Jones of New York in his address in 165 Bascom hall.

Bishop Jones spoke here under the auspices of the Social Science club. He was introduced by Or. H. H. Lumpkin, rector of the local Episcopal church.

The subject which was announced was slightly changed to read as follows: "The Challenge that our Present Industrial System Presents to the Youth of America."

"Modern day industrial ills are based upon three things—property, competition, and profit," said the bishop. "All war, racial problems, and lack of mutual understanding between the classes are brought about by these three things."

"What the world needs today is the gospel. A practical application of the doctrines of 'brotherhood of man' and 'love thy neighbor as thyself' are undoubtedly revolutionary to our modern systems of life, but their practice, as many young people especially in war-stricken Europe are realizing, presents the real challenge and cure for the absence of human relationships in modern life."

AH, children of all those who believe so blindly in the fruits of this nobly debasing institution, week and sorrow no more!

Throughout the restricted territory the past few centuries have listened to the moaning and lament of the people who were forced to peruse the contents of this space. The aforesaid entirely damnable contents has been adjudged ROT-TEN. It shall be so no more!

It shall be vastly different in one great respect,—it shall be ROT-TONER! The fall of your countenances, and the paling thereof daunts our spirit. Let your ears be opened, oh men! Let your hair be lifted and your ears uncovered, oh women! The evil root of all your forthcoming woe is on our shoulders.

The casting about, the peering into the crevices and crannies of the campus which has been done by the most high exalted emasculated Bovines who rule this space has thrown the light of public appearance upon our hitherto shy and skittish person. Hence, children, your sorrows shall spring from the synthetic pearls to be dropped from our eager and willing lips.

What shall be your favor, oh people! The singling out of the members of your august and sinning student body for scandalous mention? Too often have your voices risen in protest against this practice of the scribulous gossip. Too often have called upon the gods to destroy those snoopers who gathered up these bits of reputations.

Or is it your desire to while away the lecture periods by reading our notion of suitable verse,—verse that shall tang and sting with the poison of personal prejudice? Will you have your dislikes and your enemies parboiled in such rhyme that we would consider fitting? If your will be this, oh people, raise a clamor of magnificent demand, and our humble service shall be rendered unto you.

It is within our recollection that certain humorous tables have put in their attractive appearance in this space. You have caviled at their mechanical regularity. The merit of these lists of humorous intent lies in their similarity to obituaries and matrimonial notices, they are all mechanical, and few of you care to gaze upon their humorous aspect. Is it within your power to stand for more of these carefully selected diagrams? It is our heartfelt hope that you done with all such, for our imagination follows not the track of mathematical precision.

We pause at this point expectant, not of applause, but of a mob uprising. Haranguing in this fashion has placed us on a plane of sympathy and some little understanding. Oh children, judge us not by our unceasing flow of bombastic persiflage. From the cradle of our father's shield until now, when we gaze upon your awestruck visages, it has been our lot to ramble thus; it has got us so far and we are riding strong. Our prayer arises that you may bathe in it together with your coffee and be equally nourished.

Throwing our mantle over our shoulder and gesturing magnificently, let us again take up our task of presenting a columnary menu. What will it be?

But enough of this oratorical bamboozling! What you shall have is not, after all, yours to select. None of you are able to come together upon a fitting program. Your ways have told us so much. You, oh people, know little of yourselves, and we care not if you do. You shall have a scrambling together of all things in this highly displeasing manner just as often as it falls our manner just as often as it falls our lot to serve you.

Again, let there be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Your tears are already more copious and your sorrows multiplied. Yet you sorrow not alone,—we are with you and uncomfortable!

City "Y. W." Offers to Aid Student Work; Course is Praised

The industrial girls of the city Y. W. C. A. have offered to contribute $50 toward the expenses of the delegate to the national convention to be held at Hot Springs, Ark., April 20 to 26.

The fact that the National Industrial department of the organization has asked Wisconsin women to draw up a course of study of the co-operative movement based on the discussions of students and employed girls that have been conducted here this winter, is also taken as an indication of the success of the work in Madison.

"Because we have so well succeeded in student-industrial co-operative work, the national industrial department has asked us to draw up a course of study on the co-operative movement to be used in similar groups," said Miss Mary Andersen, secretary of the university Y. W. C. A. A group of three students and three employed girls who have taken part in the weekly discussions will meet with an advisor to draw up the proposed outline of study.

The industrial group of the city Y. W. C. A. on Monday nominated Gladys Haskins as its representative to the Hot Springs convention. She heads all student advisors of the employed girls' groups and the domestic group. Beginning on Thursday of this week, the domestic group will hold a course of study in home economics in the leadership of Miss Abby Marlatt of the Home Economics department of the university and the vocational school.

Miss Haskins intends to study industrial problems in England this summer.

Baker to Speak on Industrial Waste

C. M. Baker, state sanitary engineer, and formerly with the United States health department, will speak tonight at the meeting of the Chemistry club at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Engineering building on the problems of industrial waste as it confronts manufacturers. He will stress the dangers caused by pollution of stream and lake water. Mr. Baker recently made investigations on the treatment and disposal of industrial waste in Wisconsin. The meeting will be open to the public.

Auto Club Protests Gasoline Tax Project

The Madison Auto club, in a telegram sent to Congressman John M. Nelson, Monday, protests against a bill calling for a tax of 3 cents per gallon on gasoline and against the suggestion of Secretary Mellon, who proposes a tax of 50 cents a horsepower on automobiles as revenue to be used for a soldier bonus fund. The telegram follows:

"We wish to call your attention to the fact that the American Auto club is unanimously in favor of a soldier bonus providing the funds for such bonus are raised in a way which is not discriminatory to any class; and also that the Madison Auto club is emphatically opposed to the bill of Rep. Bacharach, calling for a tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline, and the suggestion of Secretary Mellon proposing a tax of 50 cents a horsepower on automobiles, the revenue to be derived therefrom to be used for a soldier bonus."

TRIXIE FRIGANZA

Last Time at Orph this Afternoon and EveningRev. Hunt Explains
Biblical Story of Daniel

"Oriental imagery, weird, extravagant, such as figures of beings with men's heads, bodies of cattle, leopards, lions, with many wings and horns and a multitude of feet and hands, makes the meaning of the book of Daniel difficult for the occidental mind. Pious men, without scholarship, imagine they have discovered the mystic key to these weird visions by which they may unfold all the future. They rush out and proclaim some wild theory of world cataclysm. The unthinking swallow the wildest theories if told they come from the Bible."

So said Rev. George E. Hunt of Christ Presbyterian church Sunday night speaking on "The Puzzling Books of the Bible."

"I suppose no other book in the world has been the source of so many crazy theories as this book," said Dr. Hunt. "The book of Daniel was written by an unknown author about 167 B. C., during the persecutions of the Jews by Antiochus Ephianes to stiffen the courage of despairing men cruelly beaten down for their faith."

"In the form of a prediction put in the mouth of Daniel, it recounts the nation's history and ends with a prophecy of the near approach of the victory of the Jews over their enemies by divine and miraculous power. When Christian people will turn on the light of reverent scholarship upon much enigmatic portions of the bible and get the facts about such writings," declared Dr. Hunt, "the bible is seen to be a sane book of life, telling man the truth and setting men free."

Judge TributeSiebecker Funeral is Held at 3; Scores of Attorneys Here

Official business of every description was halted today in tribute to the memory of Chief Justice Robert G. Siebecker.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Unitarian church, Rev. A. E. Haydon officiating. At the conclusion of the church service a short Masonic service under C. E. Shaffer was held at the church.

The offices in the capitol building were closed to business this afternoon. All courts in the city—federal, state, circuit, superior and county, were closed today.

Scores of attorneys, headed by John M. Whitehead, president of the state bar association, began to arrive in Madison this morning for the funeral. Nearly every county in the state sent a representative to attend the funeral.

Gov. Blaine on Monday paid the following tribute to the memory of Judge Siebecker:

"Chief Justice Robert G. Siebecker has been an ideal judge. From the time he was elevated to the circuit bench he has pursued a single course as an interpreter and administrator of the law. Thus all his energy, his keen intellect, and his broad humanity were combined in the pursuit of justice."

"Thus constituted, he has devoted over thirty years to the single purpose of service. His fine character, high degree of learning, and judicial temperament commanded confidence, inspired the bar, and leave his memory and his work as a precious gift to his state and its people."

Judges E. T. Fairchild and John J. Gregory represented the circuit judges of Milwaukee county at the funeral.

Lumber Industry to Boom in State Belief

MILWAUKEE — The New Year opens with promise of active building construction. C. E. Babcock, Neenah, president of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's association holding its convention in Milwaukee told delegates today. He said that with gradually declining yields on all classes of investments, it may be expected that funds heretofore unavailable to the mortgage market will be turned into construction projects. D. S. Montgomery, secretary, said that the year 1922 has all the earmarks of prosperity for Wisconsin.

WEATHER

The highest temperature in the past 24 hours, was 11 at 4 p. m. Monday, the lowest 2 at 5 a. m. Tuesday. The sun set at 5:28.

Unsettled weather with rain and colder prevails in the south. Nearly 2 inches of rain fell at Raleigh, N. C. Cold is moderating in the Mississippi valley and on the southern plains, but the weather continues clear and extremely cold on the northern plains. A minimum of 30 below zero occurred in the Red River valley this morning. Chinook winds and much warmer prevails in the Canadian Rockies.

Honey-Dews, World
Champs, to Bowl Here

The Honey-Dew Flours of Oshkosh, captained by R. Tee-la, is scheduled to prove a sensation at the Madison bowling alleys at the 8 o'clock shift tomorrow night, and is expected to step up among the five-man leaders. The Honey-Dew team, formerly the Athearn Hotel five, won the American Bowling Congress world's title in 1919 with 2992.

The Egan and Kelley five, Lawrence Lunch No. 1, and Wisconsin Alley five, three of the crack Madison teams, roll on the 10 o'clock shift tonight. Ten Eagles teams roll tonight, the No. 1 aggregation having a pretty good rating. The Eagles will march to the alleys from the hall with a 26-piece band.

JUDGE SIEBECKER

IN the death of Chief Justice Siebecker the university shares with the state a serious loss. Just before he passed away, his alma mater conferred upon him the honorary degree of L. L. D. There was universal approval of this action. Judge Siebecker distinguished himself eminently on the bench. His unfailing integrity made him an inspiration to all younger aspirants to judicial preferment. His liberal thought and his inclination to look upon the law in terms of human values made him great as a man as well as a judge.

Through all his life he was intensely interested in the university. In his day he was one of the prominent men in forensics on this campus. He was a joint debater. Time after time since then he served as judge or presiding officer at debates. His enthusiastic encouragement of debating gave heart to those students interested in that activity.

The university mourns his passing and finds solace in the splendid example of his life, which will stir others to worthy emulation.

AN ALUMNUS COMES HOME

WALTON PYRE is coming to the university tomorrow to give a dramatic reading. Mr. Pyre is a son of Wisconsin. He was graduated in 1899. Since then he has attained enviable success in his chosen art. The critics acclaim him in the first rank of interpreters of dramatic art.

He should receive a warm reception on his return home. He is all the closer to us because he is the brother of Prof. "Sunny" Pyre.

STUDENTS AND GOOD MUSIC

THE last of the series of Union board concerts will be given Friday night. Pablo Casals is the artist who will appear. The fervent praise bestowed on him by Ysaye and Kreisler is enough to recommend his work to all lovers of music. The engagement is a good one to close the season properly.

The concerts this year have been of unusual merit. The support was good. However, the preponderance of this support came from Madison people. The number of students attending was far too small. Certainly the cost was not prohibitive. The season ticket rate was one of the most attractive ever offered in Madison for engagements of such high character. Lack of interest on the part of the students seems to be the only explanation.

It is difficult to understand why so many students ignore the opportunity of patronizing good music. As a class, college students are supposed to be interested in all the aspects of the higher life. That is one of the reasons why they elect to attend a university. When they complete their college work and return home their communities have a right to look to them as the chief patrons of art.

Next year the Union board should repeat a series of good concerts. Much more of the support ought to come from the students.

WE HAVE THE NORWEGIANS

SATURDAY afternoon the dual ski meet with Minnesota will be held here. The national professional and amateur champions are expected to be present for exhibition jumping. This will be a fine chance to display interest in a sport which has suffered from adverse weather conditions during the last two years. Snow is being imported for the coming meet.

Minnesota has the advantage of more favorable weather, but Wisconsin has the Norwegians. Enough said.

THE ART OF BEING LAZY

This is indeed a strange title with which to grace an editorial in this time of 20th century efficiency systems, memory courses, and all sorts of get-mentally-rich-quick devices. Really, we should exhort the student to emulate the example of the busy little bee, or of the diminutive ant, who staggers manfully along under a load many times his own size. Solomon, during a lull in his matrimonial disturbances, commended the industrious ways of this tiny creature to his readers, and ever since then the ant has been a widespread emblem of industry.

However, it is sometimes well to stop worrying about the golden minutes as they pass silently along; they are important, but it is just as important that we should take time to think. It is in this sense that our title was suggested. Pure laziness is an abominable characteristic, but a quiet, thoughtful period of rest now and then is more of a necessity than a luxury. The man who can take time to tip back in his chair occasionally and dreamily watch the blue clouds of fragrant tobacco smoke float upwards from his pipe may appear to be just lazy, but from these "pipe dreams," as they are called, may spring a thought or an idea that may be grasped upon and moulded into some enduring work of art or literature that some day will prove of great benefit to humanity.

There is another aspect to this question. The man who has time to stop and talk with his brother man will learn much from their mutual intercourse. The interchange of ideas stirs up the intellect; problems will be seen from different viewpoints; intellect will be broadened and the man will find as time goes on that this genial friendship with his fellow beings is profitable as well as pleasureable.

It is by thought that we are enabled to order our lives well and wisely, and it is by associating with our fellow men that we learn the wonder and beauty of friendship. If we have neither time to think nor to cultivate friendship, our lives will not count for much even if we have not wasted any golden minutes. Let our golden minutes be divided equally between work, thought and friendship, then will our lives be well rounded out; profitable to others as well as to ourselves.—McGill Daily.

The Theaters

AT THE ORPHEUM

Trixie Friganza and her "Little Bag of Trix" are holding forth for the last three performances at the Orpheum today, where a matinee and two evening shows are scheduled. Miss Friganza, her hugeness and her bobbed hair are all delighted to behold and her laugh is a contagious one; she sings a little, tells amusing stories and all in all proves one of the most entertaining offerings of the present season. Others of interest on this bill are Robert Reilly and company in the song playlet "Bedilia O'Shea"; The Four Flying Valentines; Jack George Due; Bert Stoddard and the Rosa Kress Duo.

The new bill which opens at the Orpheum tomorrow night and remains for the Sunday performances brings Mlle. Marianne with Stone's Novelty Bays and Ysobel Gray in "The Syncopated Studio"; Bert Lewis, Southern Syncopator; "The Knight and His Knave"; Mack and Stanton in "Home Sweet Home"; Doyle and Elaine, a study in tan; Barquette, a versatile Specialty and Pathe News, together with Aesop's Fables films.

NEW YORK DANCE ORCHESTRA COMING TO MADISON

The Joe Kayser Novelty orchestra of New York city, formerly of Earl Fuller's Rector orchestra, makers of the Celebrated Earl Fuller phonograph records, will come to Madison to play for a series of dances to be given at the Woman's building on Friday and Saturday evenings.

This orchestra is making a tour of the entire country and Madison is very fortunate to be on their route. Anyone who dances should not miss this opportunity to dance to the wonderful exhilarating harmony and melodious syncopations of these monarchs of mirth and melody.

Prof. J. G. Moore will speak tonight on "Judging Fruits and Vegetables at Fairs" at a meeting of the Grafters Club in the Horticulture building at 7:15 o'clock.

Other interesting meetings planned for the coming semester include talks on "Marketing Wisconsin Fruits," "The Inspection of Nurseries," and "The Value of Nurseries." The annual mushroom feed and banquet are being planned.

Mozart Club Sings At Capitol Tonight

Patriotic music by the Mozart club will be a feature of the Washington and Lincoln meeting to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Assembly chamber of the capitol. In addition to a program of camp songs, there will be dramatic readings by Alexius Baas, director of the club, and a baritone solo by Emerson Cole.

The celebration is an annual affair given under the auspices of the local G. A. R., and the committee is making an especial effort this year to secure the co-operation of the university, and of Madison high school. Prof. Julius Olson will give an address on "Lincoln's Visit to Wisconsin in 1859." William Olsen of the high school will speak on Washington, and the invocation will be given by Comrade Stanley Lathrop, post chaplain. Justice Rosenberry will preside. An invitation is extended to all students.

Hold First Meeting of U. W. Chess Club

At the first business meeting of the University Chess club to be held this evening in the cabinet room, university Y. M. C. A. at 7:15, each aspirant will be placed in a class and given a partner. Due to the short amount of time in which to pick a team, individual partners will fix the schedule rather than playing at regular meetings.

Following elimination games will be a round robin in which every members will play every other member. The winners will comprise the Varsity team.

Chicago has already promised a game. Correspondence is being carried on with other schools with whom games will be held by post card, telegraph, or telephone.

The club invites any students, grads, or faculty members interested to attend the meeting tonight.

LONDON—Michael Collins' dramatic disclosure of an alleged Republican plot to overthrow the provisional government, the sudden suspension of British military evacuation and the tension between the North and South have combined to produce a serious situation in Ireland.

The outcome no one here ventures to forecast more definitely than by speculating on the dreaded possibilities but dispatches show that the position on the frontier is not far removed from a state of war. The prospect of civil war is being seriously discussed in Belfast and elsewhere in the north.

SNOW COMING AT LAST—IN FREIGHT CARS

Eau Claire Club Helps Out For Meet Saturday

Although the weather for the past two days has been clear and the skies remain cloudless, M. K. Drewry, head of the Badger Ski club announced last night that snow was on the way to Madison and that the vicinity of Muir knoll was due for a heavy storm on or about Friday morning.

Edward Baker, president of the Eau Claire Ski club is in charge of the importation of favorable weather for the big ski tournament to be held here Saturday, and all of yesterday was spent in loading cars with the frozen crystals from the winter landscape in the region of that city. Two car loads are today on the way to Madison.

Gophers Are Ready

The snow will be rushed on to the slide as soon as possible so that the Wisconsin jumpers will be given a chance to practice Friday afternoon for their meet with the strong Minnesota squad. C. B. Roemer, Minnesota coach, sends word that the team has had snow since Christmas and is in excellent shape for the meet. The Gopher ski team took part in a meet last Saturday held by the Minneapolis Municipal club, and did good work against a number of formidable entrants.

In this meet, Ragnar Omtvedt, who will perform here Saturday, won the amateur championship of the northwest.

Entries Pour In

With the near approach of the meet, entries continue to pour in. Twenty-five names have already been sent in, and many cities remain to be heard from. Three Stoughton stars, who have entered the contest for the State Amateur Championship are: Erling Landwick, Ingolf Sand, and William Sundby. An entrant from Mount Horeb is Gilbert Hagene. The Norge Ski club of Chicago last night held its regular meeting and word will be received today as to whether they will send the expected 12 entrants or not.

Varsity Track Men Selected For First Dual Meet Saturday

Final trials for Varsity track men which were held yesterday afternoon enabled Coach Thomas E. Jones to select a squad of athletes which will meet Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., in the first dual meet of the season next Saturday.

A series of tryouts which culminated in the Varsity-Freshman track meet held last Saturday gave Coach Jones a line on new men who have made the squad, and with the intensive training they will undergo this week, the team will be in shape to stack up against Rockee's men.

Although it has been weakened by the loss of "Chet" Wynne and Shaw who turned professional, Notre Dame will send a strong track team against the Badgers. Gus Desch, who is entered in the 40-yard dash, high hurdles, quarter-mile run, and the relay, is one of the Catholics' stars counted upon to score many points. "Johnny" Murphy, winner of the high jump at the last Olympic games, is still eligible for competition, and Hayes is another fast sprinter.

Usually weak in the distance events, Notre Dame has this year developed new men who have made good time in the mile and two-mile events. These men will have to approach record-breaking time if they expect to beat Wall, Wille, Finkle, and Rossmeissel of Wisconsin. A good relay team with Mer-

D. U.'s Lead in Frat Basketball Tourney With Clean Slate

The D. U. quintet swamped the A. T. O.'s by a score of 26 to 11 last night. The Alpha Sigs beat the Sigma Nu team in a tight game, the score being 10 to 7. Both of these games are in the semi-final series, and the defeated teams are eliminated from the race for the cups.

In the eighth division, the triple tie for second place has been played off. The Phi Kappas forfeited to the Theta Xi's. The latter team played the Kappa Psis, defeating them by a score of 18 to 8, last night. The Theta Xis will play the Phi Kappa Psis at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

The Chi Psis were scheduled to play the Alpha Pi Deltas last night, but the game has been postponed.

The D. U.'s, after defeating the A. T. O.'s, come out with a clean slate. The A. T. O.'s were the high team in their division, and were considered one of the best in the league, so the D. U. aggregation, after defeating them ought to stand a good chance of taking the first place cup. The men who played on the D. U. team last night were Kellett, Fladoes, Harris, Frawley, and Combacker. Combacker scored most of the points made by his team, making six baskets. Harris was close behind, putting the ball through the net four times. Frawley made two baskets.

The A. T. O. quintet which took the floor last evening was composed of Culbertson, Siggekow, Crane, Lewis, and Butts. Culbertson made seven out of the 11 points scored by his team.

The Alpha Sigs have only one defeat against them, being the second highest in the division. Their quintet which defeated the Sigma Nu's consisted of Puchner, Miller, Sanderson, Taylor, and Hansen. Miller and Taylor each scored two baskets, and Puchner dropped the ball through the ring once.

The Sigma Nu team which was downed by the Alpha Sigs, was composed of Williams, Mainland, Platten, McCartney, and Jones. Mainland scored twice, McCartney once, and Williams made one free throw.

There will be two games at 6:15 tonight. The Deltas will meet the Zeta Psis, and the Kappa Sigs will play the Delta Sigs.

edith and Burke as the nucleus will stack up against the Badgers.

Personnel of the Wisconsin team follows:

40yard dash—Spetz, Knollin, Johnson.

High hurdles—Knollin, Stolley, Newell.

Quarter-mile run — Johnson, Spetz, Ellingson.

Half-mile run—G. Wade, Ramsay, Hohlfield.

Mile run—Wall, Schneider, Wille.

Two-mile run — Finkle, Rossmeissel Herman.

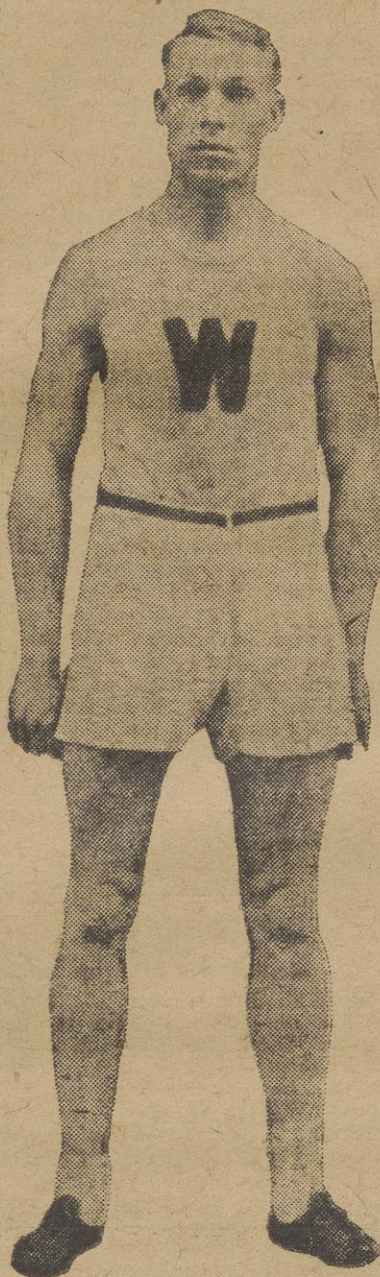

Pole vault—Merrick, Hammann, McClure or Tomlinson.

Shot put—Gude, Sundt.

High jump—Platten, Gibson.

Relay—Spetz, Johnson, Ellingson, Stolley, Wade.

Presenting-- George H. Finkle

George H. Finkle '23, holder of the new Wisconsin indoor record for the two mile run, according to Coach T. E. Jones, will this season prove himself to be the best distance runner in the west. The new mark of 9 minutes, 50 2-5 seconds, set by Finkle in the Varsity-Fresh meet last Saturday, lowers by almost 3 seconds the former record for the distance held by the famous Arlie Schardt '17, member of the last United States Olympic team and runner for the Chicago Athletic association.

Is Badger Product

As an athlete, Finkle is a product solely of the University of Wisconsin. As a student at the Greenwood, Wis., high school, from which he was graduated, he took little interest in athletic affairs of the school. His first experience in distance running was gained while serving as a soldier in the World war. As a member of the American army of occupation in Germany he won his first race, a four mile road affair, running in hobnail boots and under the weight of full army equipment.

During his freshman year he won recognition in track work by consistently placing in inter-college, inter-class, and other intra-mural events, and as soon as he became eligible for conference competition, was given a permanent berth on the varsity squad. His work improved rapidly throughout the indoor season last year, and when outdoor practice began in the spring he was going strong. He finished his first season of cinder work by running in the first National Inter-collegiate meet to be held in this country.

Beats All Harriers

His work in cross country was the feature of the conference season. Not only did he easily take firsts in dual contests with the strong Minnesota and Chicago

PURDUE TAKES STEP TOWARD CHAMPIONSHIP

Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota Lose Im- portant Games

CONFERENCE STANDINGS

Team	Pct.
Purdue	.833
Minnesota	.714
Wisconsin	.666
Illinois	.666
Indiana	.500
Chicago	.500
Ohio State	.400
Iowa	.333
Michigan	.200
Northwestern	.000

The past week end saw Purdue take a big step toward the Big Ten conference basketball championship, for the Boilermakers won a hard game from Indiana, while Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota each saw their percentages drop further down the ladder.

According to the way in which the various teams performed in recent games, the Boilermakers can drop another game and still win the pennant, as the most dangerous aspirants are almost certain to drop at least one more game. While it must be admitted that Purdue is not as strong as earlier in the season, it appears that White was in the lineup just long enough to cinch the flag. Several upsets however, are still bound to occur, and Chicago, Illinois, and Indiana, must all be granted outside chances to win from Coach Ward Lambert's five. At the present time, it would seem that the nine game schedule is going to prove an asset rather than a detriment to Purdue.

The decisive beating handed the Badgers on Monday night by Iowa checked the hopes of a championship in the minds of most followers, but the more optimistic have not as yet given up in despair. The erratic manner in which the players have been performing of late indicates that they will play great ball when they get off their own floor. The next two games should be chalked up in favor of Wisconsin, and the fresh start may lead to a successful conclusion of the season.

The Badgers played a brand of ball in the last half of the Illinois game over which no conference team could triumph, and, when this becomes the regular thing, rather than the exception, a string of victories can be expected. Gibson seems to play a better game away

Fistic Tournament To Test Ability of Varsity Scrappers

With the inter-class boxing tournament scheduled to be held during the last week in February, the athletic department is calling for all mit-wielders to begin training for the first inter-mural ring affairs.

All winners in previous contests have been barred from participation in this year's event. Numerals will be awarded to the winners in the final matches in each class. Prospective entrants in the tourney are asked by the boxing authorities to boxing room in the west tower of the gym any afternoon this week.

"What we want," said one boxing official yesterday, "is a number of new men who will compete in the fights. For this reason we are barring last year's title holders. Men who intend to battle in the tournament must work under the supervision of the boxing coach after this week. No men in poor condition can enter the ring."

Matches will be conducted in the featherweight, bantamweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight, and heavyweight divisions. The all-university boxing tournament will probably be held later during the week of March 18-30.

Harding Hits Special Tax For Vet Bonus

Will Indicate Attitude in Communication to Congress

WASHINGTON — President Harding is unalterably opposed to the enactment of the special taxes suggested to finance the soldier bonus or to the return to taxes which have been repealed, it was stated officially today at the White House.

It was indicated he was in doubt if it would be possible to raise the required amount to finance the cash feature of the bonus under an issue of bonds without appreciably advancing interest rates and destroying the financial tranquility which is sought.

The president, it was said, was disposed to be favorable to the bonus but his attitude had to be that of finding sensible conditions for the fulfillment of promises made on one hand without disturbing the desired return to financial stability.

It was stated that Mr. Harding's attitude on the bonus question would be made clear to congress in a communication.

Colleges Should Have Courses in Politics

"Politics is a profession. It will be a great day when our colleges and state universities will include in their curriculum courses in practical politics," declared Harold Siljan, university student, speaking at a meeting of the Young Progressives club, Monday night, in the offices of the secretary of state at the capitol. He advocated that those contemplating politics as a career should be well trained for it.

Inequalities in education was the subject of a brief talk by Herbert Roswell, also a student. He deplored the "haphazard conditions in our present educational system."

A tribute to the late Justice R. G. Siebecker was paid by O. C. Quate, who declared that he was a man about whom no disparaging remarks have ever been uttered. "The good that Judge Siebecker has done for the people of Wisconsin can never be measured."

Observe 3rd Birthday of Y. M. C. A. Feb. 28

Three years ago on Feb. 28 the doors of the city Y. M. C. A. building were opened for the first time. This year on Feb. 28 the event will be duly celebrated, according to F. O. Leiser, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

"We have planned a fine program which is nearly all made out now," said Mr. Leiser. "We have never had a celebration here, and we intend to make this a good one."

Janesville's 30th anniversary of the organization of their Y. M. C. A. was quietly observed last Sunday.

Will Name Election Officials On Feb. 24

Mayor I. M. Kittleson this morning received the first of the lists of election officials for ward chairmen. The appointments will be made at the next council meeting, Feb. 24. He reports that a number of women will serve as inspectors of election, ballot clerks or clerks of election this year. Last year there was only one. The lists are sent in to the mayor by the ward chairman. Two of the inspectors are to be of the same political party as the party which is in power in national politics. Three inspectors, two clerks of election and two ballot clerks are to be appointed from each election precinct.

Finish Minister of Interior Assassinated

HELSINGFORS Finland.— M. Ritavuori, Finnish minister of the Interior was shot three times with a revolver as he was alighting from his motor car outside his residence here today. He died while being taken to a hospital. The alleged assassin, Ernest Tanderfelt was arrested. The authorities declare he is demented.

Dean Russell Will Address Realty Men

"Agriculture in Business" is the subject of the speech which Dean H. L. Russell will deliver February 16 before the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers at their four day's convention at Eau Claire beginning Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Dr. R. T. Ely will read a paper on "National Policy for Land Utilization" on Wednesday afternoon. An oil 123456.6m.6m.6m.6m6 An illustrated lecture on city zoning will be given by Prof. Leonard Smith on Thursday afternoon.

The convention will close with a Wisconsin university alumni banquet Friday evening, Feb. 17.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"Where are you going next Saturday night? Why not see Cecil B. De Mille's great Paramount picture production, "SATURDAY NIGHT," at the MAJESTIC theatre next Saturday night, if you can't see it before? It's a remarkable picture and you'll enjoy it to-night as well as tomorrow night or Saturday night.

AT THE GRAND

A hit is Marshall Neilan's latest cinema innovation, "Bits of Life" which is now showing at the Grand. It took courage to do that which others feared to do, but Neilan proved that courage is an asset, even in motion pictures, when he combined the efforts of four authors in "Bits of Life." Lon Chaney gives a magnificent characterization as a Chinaman in the episode based on "Hop." It is one of his finest contributions to the screen. Wesley Barry, Noah Beery, Rockcliffe Fellows and Teddy Sampson are some of the others who have prominent roles.

from home, and the husky center has plenty of chance to still come through and help tuck a few victories away. The shooting eyes of all of the men are improving, and this fact is most encouraging when games with Illinois, Minnesota, and Chicago are still to be played.

Iowa's victory over Chicago last Saturday night indicated that the Hawkeyes are a powerful team. Coach Ashmore changed his style of play during vacation, and the results are so effective, that it would not be surprising if Iowa finished her schedule without suffering another defeat. Had the Iowans been the well-coached team in the early part of the season that they are now, there is little question but that the percentage column would read differently than it now does.

Minnesota's downfall at the hands of the Suckers practically ruined the Gopher chances for a championship team. Illinois staged a mighty come-back after the defeat at Wisconsin, and the Suckers should win from the same team again this week end. The Badgers play at Minnesota on March 4, and that the home floor offers no advantages to either of these two teams. If Coach Meanwell's aggregation can work the way they did against Illinois, a Wisconsin victory would certainly be the outcome.

Indiana's improved showing against Purdue and Michigan bespeak well for the success of the Hoosiers in future games. Levis' team should win easily from Ohio State and Northwestern and stands a chance against Purdue and Michigan.

Newell, an entry in the 40-yard high hurdles, will probably be unable to compete. He is confined to the infirmary with an attack of appendicitis.

teams, but he wound up his first year's work as a harrier by winning the biggest honor which the West confers in the sport, first place in the Conference and Midwest meet. At the conclusion of the season he was unanimously chosen as captain of the 1922 team.

Besides being one of the best athletes in the history of the university, Finkle is a good student, and is working his way through school. He is a member of Alif Mm fraternity.
