SIX ARE PENALIZED FOR DISHONESTY

Two Women and Four Men Given Extra Work By Committee

Six students were penalized by the faculty discipline committee of the university during the last month for dishonesty in classroom work. The action of the committee was reported at the meeting of the university faculty yesterday afternoon.

Four of the six were women students. Four were freshmen, one was a junior, and one was a senior. Two were journalism students, one was a music student, one was an agricultural student, and two were Letters and Science students.

Two were punished for cribbing in quizzes or final examinations, in philosophy and journalism. One was dishonest in laboratory work in zoology. Three plagiarized in English themes. The penalties included probation, the adding from 2 to 10 extra credits for graduation, and loss of credit in the course involved.

Spring Vacation Near! Last Minute Rush as Per Usual

She is in such a flutter that the very atmosphere gleefully echoes her happy excitement. Like a bee, buzzing busily, she is now here and now there, doing a thousand little things and leaving as many big ones undone.

Of course, she does not fail to dust his picture and tuck it deep beneath handkerchiefs and stockings where she will forget to unbury it until her stock has been depleted. She has packed in every trifle from her blue band to her fifth variety of powder, but with so much to attend to, how can she remember her trunk key, her tickets and her gloves.

And he—poor Atlas with his world of troubles! Like a small boy with his pockets of marbles, nails, keys and things, his grip bulges with his "junk". So busy is he in his calm, good-natured way that he never thinks of his laundry bag, hanging plump and alone from some corner closet hook, or that library book, that, as the happy vacation minutes, hours, and days go by, will grow heavy with all he owes.

Mid-semester, eight o'clocks, nagging roommates, bad breakfasts—everything is forgotten but—"See you on the 5:30!"

JOURNALISTS TAKE TRIP TO CHICAGO

Students Will Inspect Various Plants of Printing Companies

Fifty students in the course in Journalism will take an inspection trip to Chicago, leaving at 6:05 o'clock Wednesday morning, April 9, from the West Madison station.

Professors W. G. Bleyer, G. M. Hyde, and E. M. Johnson will be in charge of the inspection tour.

The company will go to the Western Newspaper Union plant. Explanations will be made of the stereotype plates of news and general reading matter used by small dailies and weekly newspapers.

After luncheon half-tones, zinc etchings, and color plates will be studied at the Barnes Crosby company. The students will have a chance to observe the receiving by wire, editing, and distribution of news at the Associated Press building.

The City News bureau will be visited next. The inspection company will then take a bus out to the Chicago Tribune building. The linotypes, perfecting presses, city room, "morgue," telegraph room and business office will be studied here. Students will have a chance to watch the printing of the Chicago American at the Chicago Examiner and American building.

A. will furnish the names of students who are willing to help during the spring vacation. Many students who are going to remain in Madison are anxious to do full time work. COMMITTEE RULES OUT PETITION FOR ANNUAL JAMBOREE

No Explanation Given By Body in Turning Down Varsity Affair

No Varsity Jamboree will be held this year.

This was the action taken by the committee on student life and interests yesterday noon when it met to discuss the petition asking for permission for the affair that was presented by members of the student senate.

No Explanation Given

No explanation for their action was given by the committee, which is composed of Dean S. H. Goodnight, Dean F. Louise Nardin, and Prof. Julius E. Olson.

Speaking of the action regarding the Varsity Jamboree, Alice Corl '25, president of the S. G. A., said yesterday that the S. G. A. and the student senate had always cooperated and would do so in the future.

S. G. A. and Senate Cooperate

"The student senate is beginning to realize that the S. G. A. is an organized body of some importance. This year the two governing organizations have worked in harmony more than in any previous year. To foster this cooperation the S. G. A. has a representative, Martha Williamson '25, on the student elections committee," declared Miss Corl.

Harold Seering '24, president of the student senate, said that one of the aims of the organization is to cooperate with the women's group. As evidence of harmony between the two, he cited the recent investigation into the honor system, in which the senate helped S. G. A.

GENERAL HOSPITAL NEARS COMPLETION

Large $1,200,000 Structure to Be Finished By July or September

The State of Wisconsin general hospital, a memorial to the soldiers sailors and nurses who took part in the world war, is to be completed between July 2 and September 3. The medical staff is now studying the problem of moving in.

In a special session of the legislature in 1920, an appropriation was voted for the hospital. In the fall of that same year, the foundations were laid. It was only in August, 1922, that contracts for the superstructure were given.

Although the hospital is to become a part of the medical school, and although the university staff of physicians is to be in attendance, the institution will be public in every way. There will be room for approximately 300 patients and a staff of 150 nurses.

On both east and west ends of each floor, there are spacious sun parlors, which can even now be seen in the unfinished state. These are to be used by convalescent patients. A large recess portico in the front will serve the patients more advanced in their convalescence. One of the special features is a roof garden for invalid children.

Union troubles, which have arisen of late, will not seriously impede the erection of the hospital, according to Arthur Peabody, state architect.

HANG-OVER DANCE IN LATHROP SATURDAY

A hang-over dance will be held under the auspices of the Union board at 9 o'clock in Lathrop parlors next Saturday night, April 12. Jess Cohen's orchestra will play.

LAST ISSUE

With this issue The Cardinal suspends publication until after the spring recess. The next issue will appear Thursday morning, April 17.

Unknown Vandals Redecorate Sigma Kappa Snuggle-pup

The Sigma Kappa girls are on the war-path.

The people who passed their house yesterday afternoon around 6 o'clock saw an excited group gathered around a nondescript mass of red and yellow. For someone, none too artistically, had decorated "Fifi", the petite brute that has made himself conspicuous on Langdon since Christmas by frightening co-eds and such.

Streaks of yellow paint now give a modish striped effect to his long legs and S. K. in large red letters make of this otherwise somber-hued dog a truly beautiful sport-model hound.

But the young ladies of the Sigma Kappa house fail to see that "Fifi's" beauty is in any way enhanced by this colorful touch, and the practical joker, whoever it may be, had better watch out.

"Fifi" refused to make any comments, but if eyes can talk his seem to say, "When a fellow needs a friend."

CAPACITY HOUSE SEES HARESFOOT

Sheboygan Cheers "Ladies" of 26th Annual Haresfoot Production

(Special to The Cardinal)

SHEBOYGAN, April 7.—Enthusiastic applause from a capacity house greeted "Twinkle Twinkle," the Haresfoot twenty-sixth annual production, at its first presentation here last night. It was not possible for the whole town to see the show but everybody was talking about it and gave the club a rousing welcome.

"The Hero of My Story," and "The Evening Star" numbers were the best received by the crowd which jammed the theatre long before the show started. Porter Butts and Byron Rivers were congratulated on their success as feminine impersonators and Thomas McLean in the comic roll brought down the house with roars and cheers.

The sixty-one men on the trip left Madison early yesterday, had luncheon in Milwaukee where the boys gave the hotel patrons a taste of college enthusiasm by singing a few Haresfoot and Wisconsin songs, and arrived at Sheboygan at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Wisconsin alumni opened their homes for the night and gave an open house after the performance. Sheboygan people expressed the hope that next year they would again have the opportunity of filling the house for a Haresfoot show.

Two performances, matinee and evening, will be given in Appleton today.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR DIES SUDDENLY HERE

Walter Chisholm, who served on the faculty of the Engineering school here before the war, died suddenly Sunday night of heart trouble, in his room at the city Y. M. C. A. When the war broke out, Chisholm entered the army and obtained a captaincy.

Captain Chisholm was born in Scotland in 1881 and was educated at Heriot Watt College. He was an instructor there for some time. In a few years, he gave up Scotland for America, and became a member of the staff at the Engineering school at the university.

He is survived by his parents, his wife, and two daughters.

OLDEST GRADUATE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Prof. J. B. Parkinson, the oldest living graduate of the university, will celebrate his 90th birthday Friday, April 11. Professor Parkinson graduated in 1860 and ever since has been connected with the university. For a number of years he was a professor of political law. At present he is vice-president of the university.

STUDENTS LEAVE TODAY FOR ONE WEEK VACATION

Railroads to Provide Special Trains to Handle General Exodus

With the ringing of the bells in their last class today, 5,000 students will pack up their grips and rush for the first train to go home for the spring recess.

While most of the students are planning to leave Madison for their home to spend the vacation, many students will not depart from the city.

No-Cut Rule in Effect

The no-cut rule is in effect today and will also apply to the first class of each course when school begins on Wednesday morning, April 16.

Special trains on the Northwestern railway and special equipment of extra coaches and parlor cars on the C. M. & St. P. railway will provide transportation for students in the spring exodus.

Run Special Trains

On the Northwestern line special trains will leave for Chicago at 1:30 and 5:30 this afternoon; for Milwaukee at 1 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock; for Green Bay and the Fox River valley at 5:35 o'clock; for La Crosse at 1 o'clock; for St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth at 9:30 this evening. There will be parlor cars on all these trains except the Green Bay special.

The regular service on the C. M. & St. Paul railroad includes trains to Chicago at 6:05 and 9:05 o'clock this morning and 4:10 o'clock this afternoon; to Milwaukee at 6:05, 7:25, and 9:05 o'clock this morning and 1 o'clock, 4:10 and 5:35 o'clock this afternoon; to Kansas City and Omaha at 5:10 o'clock; to points west of the Mississippi at 10:15 o'clock this evening.

Neither of these railways will provide special trains for returning students next week but ample equipment will be furnished.

UNIVERSITY GIVEN TWENTY ETCHINGS

Twenty etchings of various subjects have been presented to the university by Dr. Albert Ochsner, alumnus of the university and now a surgeon practicing in Chicago.

The etchings have not been designated for any special building, but will be placed in the different buildings on the campus. The end of this week or the beginning of the next, the etchings will be placed on exhibition in the museum of the State Historical library under the auspices of the Madison Art association.

Today marks the end of the Sears Gallagher exhibition which has been in the museum for the last month. From here the exhibit will travel to Chicago and then to Ann Arbor.

THOSE TO TAKE CON EXAMS APPLY NOW

Students Having Incompletes to Make Up Must Register Before Vacation

Today is the last day that application can be made for the condition examinations to be given April 19, according to George Chandler, assistant secretary of the faculty.

Students having either incompletes or conditions are required to make written application in person at the office of the secretary, 151 Bascom hall. Official application blanks are available at the office. Announcement of the places of meeting will be made immediately after the spring recess.

Those who pass the examinations will receive no grade points, according to a ruling of the faculty. The results of these examinations in the past have not been very encouraging, for only 35 per cent of the students taking them pass, according to Mr. Chandler.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK MAY 4-10

Professors Dykema and Gordon Head Executive Committee For Celebration

"I hear America singing," said Walt Whitman, the American poet, at the time of the Civil war. That prophecy is about to be fulfilled by the members of the Madison Community Music committee, which has undertaken the task of supervising a gala week of spring festival to initiate the first national observation of music week, May 4-10.

The executive committee is composed of Prof. Peter W. Dykema, of the School of Music, Prof. E. B. Gordon, and Mrs. C. V. Seastone. Each day of the week will be set aside for the observation of some special phase of community music.

The events and activities begin on May 4 with the ringing of church bells and chimes all over the city, and with special music in the churches. Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry will be asked to head the committee on music in religion.

Oscar Christianson '25, president of Phi Mu Alpha, will be asked to head the committee on music in the home. Fraternities and sororities may hold musicales in their fraternity homes on May 5. The values of good singing, playing, phonograph music, and radio music will be emphasized.

Clever Players Give Chic Spanish Farce

Before a capacity house last night the Spanish club presented "Una Yangua en Espana" a farce written by Mr. Samuel A. Wofsy, of the Spanish department, especially for the Spanish club production.

The outstanding characters were Clara Pratt '26, Elizabeth Morey '24, Edith Miller '26, Irene Norman '25, whose enunciation was excellent, played her part with an exquisite charm. Lucy Jamieson '25, played the part of the young country maid effectively.

Of the men, Herbert Sapper '24, gave a good characterization of Jeronimo. Inocencio was played by Lloyd Kasten '26. Lewis Mrckvicka '26, is naturally humorous and was a great hit with the audience, while George Darby '24, playing the part of the sentimental Pepe adapted himself well to his part. Edwin Kleist '26, and Harold Beeman '26, completed the cast, helping greatly toward the smooth working of the whole play.

Lecture Program Includes English Pacifist Writer

Bertrand Russell, the great English pacifist, will lecture on "Mechanism and Life" at 8 o'clock, April 21, in Music hall. Mr. Russell, noted among philosophers for his works on logic and epistemology, is being brought here under the auspices of the University lecture committee.

At the outbreak of the war, Mr. Russell published a book called "Why Men Fight" which was a severe criticism of the allied governments in the war. He was imprisoned during the war under the alien sedition act and so could not come to this country at an earlier date to become professor of philosophy at Harvard.

In a book called "The Problems of China" which Mr. Russell wrote after studying the people of the country following the war, he stated that on the whole he preferred Chinese civilization to the civilization of Western nations.

COLLEGIATE WORLDOUTDOOR WORK

BASEBALL NINEInside Work and Bad Weather
Handicapped Team to Great Extent

The varsity baseball team lost its initial game of the season to Butler college Saturday afternoon by the comparatively overwhelming score of 10 to 2, but that does not go to prove that the nine will not show more flash and brilliance as the season progresses.

Handicapped by inclement weather which kept it at practice in the inadequate quarters of the gymnasium annex, the team was unable to spend a single day outdoors and consequently could not work on team play, fielding, and base running.

The fielders didn't catch a single fly before the day of the game and had previously viewed the game from what is the infield on a regulation diamond, while the infielders had been accustomed to make throws of from 20 to 50 feet between bases.

Butler boasted a team largely composed of veterans, and a team which had been outdoors for over two weeks. The varsity will play six games in the south within a week, and will undoubtedly return looking a hundred per cent better than when it set out.

When Wisconsin opens the conference season against Chicago on April 15 the nine should have remedied to a large extent the defects which these earlier training games will uncover. The team is already pounding the ball harder than the nine did last year and promises to turn into a slugging outfit that will send cold chills up any pitcher's back.

The pitching staff failed to show anything startling in the game Saturday but has material which may turn out a couple of first rate flingers. Johnson did not get into the game against Butler and Coach Lowman is probably saving him to work against the next opponent.

Christianson, Luther and Porter all fell down when they tried to stop the husky swings of the Butler nine, but should show better stuff within a few days. Indoor lighting is deceptive and makes it hard for a man to adjust himself to outdoor conditions.

Baseball fans may have an entirely different outlook facing them when they return to school after vacation, as the future of this year's nine will be largely determined then.

Phi Sigs Defeat
Hilltop Bowling
Champs Yesterday

The Phi Sigma Kappa bowling team, champions of the Wisconsin interfraternity ten pin league, took two of three games from the Alpha Gamma Phi team, champions of Marquette university. The games were rolled yesterday on the Wisconsin alleys.

The Marquette team boasts of such athletic stars as "Red" Dunn, Quinn, Bentzin, McKinley, and Bran. The Phi Sigs were represented by Knutson, Weeman, Ruediger, Stebbins and Hoffman. The team scores were 890, 770, and 815 for Marquette and 837, 836, 905 for the Wisconsin pin men. The next series of games will be rolled tonight at Milwaukee.

Yesterday was blue Monday and look what came in the mail bag.

High Spots: How about this this interfraternity tennis that you spoke about. I'm all in favor of it.

Dear Ken: Now is the time to grade the lower campus when it is soft and it sure needs it.

High Spots: They say that the athletic council approved the system for selling football tickets next fall. Yet they won't make it public. Why not release it now so that we will have time to learn it by next fall.

Announcement of the appointment of Wayne Morse, instructor in the speech department, to the position of debating coach in the University of Minnesota has been received here. He will leave next fall for Minneapolis. Morse, who received the B. A. degree last year was active in forensics while an undergraduate. He represented Wisconsin on intercollegiate debating teams and won second place in the Northern Oratorical league contest which was held at Minneapolis last year.

RELAY CARNIVALRepresentative Prep Teams
Come to First Annual Interscholastic Meet

Six representative high schools have entered the first University of Wisconsin interscholastic relay carnival which will be held at Camp Randall on Saturday, May 3, according to information given out by officials at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

The high schools which will compete in the meet are Washington high school, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Rockford high school, Rockford, Ill.; Hyde Park high school, Chicago, Ill.; Senn high school, Chicago, Ill.; Riverside high school, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Waukegan Township high school, Waukegan, Ill.

Medals will be given to the winners of the first three places in each of the seven special events and to the men on the first three teams in the relay races, in addition to a trophy which will be awarded to the winning team in each relay race.

"This will be the first time that an outdoor relay carnival has ever been held," declared Arthur W. Trost '24, general chairman, "and while the entire affair has been placed in the hands of the student committees, I hope that the student body will co-operate with them in order to make the meet a success."

Entries for the relay carnival close on April 26, and officials of the athletic department have made applications for special railroad rates.

SIMPKINS IN RACE FOR ATHLETIC BOARD

A petition has been circulated and handed in for "Mac" Simpkins to run for a position on the athletic board. He will run for the position of sophomore non "W" representative. This is the third man whose papers have been handed in as Gerber and Spooner are also in the race for positions on the board this year.

THREE WIRELESS MEETS FOR FROSH TRACK MEN

Three telegraphic track meets have been arranged for the freshman track squad, according to Coach Meade Burke, who announced the schedule yesterday afternoon.

The telegraphic track schedule follows:

May 7—Illinois vs. Wisconsin.
May 21—Triangular meet (Iowa, Purdue and Wisconsin.)
May 28—Minnesota vs. Wisconsin.

Engineers Beat

Meet, 20 to 10

The first of a series of intercollegiate wrestling meets was held last Friday. The Engineer and "Ag" grapplers gave the first exhibition with the Plumbers coming out on the long end of a 20 to 10 score.

The turn out from each school was very poor. Only enough men being present from each school to put on matches in the 158 pound, 175 pound and heavyweight divisions. In the other weights only one man for each weight was present from one school or the other and in the 125 pound class no one showed up to go on the mat for either the Engineers or Ags.

The results of the bouts that were staged are:

158 lb. class—Splees, Eng., won from Piper, Ag., by a fall.

175 lb. class—Muegge, Eng., won from Martin, Ag., by a fall.

Heavyweight class—Blacket, Ag., won from Smalling, Eng., by a fall.

This afternoon the second round of the series will be held. The Engineers are scheduled to meet the L. and S. mat men.

Games

First preliminary trials for the relay teams which will represent Wisconsin in the Kansas and Ohio State relay games at Lawrence, Kas., and Columbus, Ohio, respectively, will be held at Camp Randall this afternoon.

The candidates who are chosen will remain in Madison during the spring vacation and will take workouts daily in preparation for the coming meets.

It is probable that Wisconsin will enter a one-half mile relay team, consisting of four men, each running 220-yards in the Drake relay meet at Des Moines, Ia., on April 26.

"The Drake relays are an important meet on the Wisconsin schedule," declared Coach Thomas E. Jones, "and I have urged the men to continue intensive drills in order to condition themselves as rapidly as possible for the hard schedule."

LOWER CAMPUS100 Candidates Sign Up For
Squad; Coach Combacker
Handles Team

While the varsity baseball men are demonstrating their wares down South, the freshman diamond aspirants are working out daily under Coach "Doc" Combacker on the lower campus. One hundred men have answered the first call, and the coach does not expect to cut the squad until after spring vacation.

Several of the pitchers have been working for the past several weeks with the varsity in the annex, and they are in good condition. The fingers who are showing up best are Edwards and Olsen, left handers, and Franta, Timlin, Gehle, Stoll, Rogers and Cohen, right handers.

The catchers who look good for early season form are Faneck, Barnum, and Godfrey. These men are all big and stocky, and have had experience on high school teams. Of the infielders who are out, the following look like comers: Martell, Williams, Donagen, Pabst and Bachhuber. These men can throw and field well and also seem to know how to handle the willow.

A large number are trying for berths in the outfield, but those that have a slight edge now are Larsen, Breattrick, Novotny, Littman, Metter, and Jacobs. The men who are best with handling the bat are the ones who will get the regular berths.

As soon as the men return from spring vacation, real practice will be started out at Camp Randall. The squad will then be cut to about 30 men, and these will play against the varsity in practice tilts.

be weak in the weight events, several of the candidates in the field events have been requested to remain in Madison during the spring recess.

ANOTHER WISCONSIN EMISSARY

Another Wisconsin activity organization will leave tonight to tour through Mississippi valley towns to bring to Wisconsin alumni a representation of undergraduate life.

The Glee club in its tour will appeal to all former Wisconsin graduates and friends in these cities and their work and effort will undoubtedly be greatly appreciated. These singers have worked long and hard to attain the perfection required to compete in an entertainment field in which almost every college in the country is represented. And as usual Wisconsin is foremost.

Every wish for success is offered to the Glee club.

PASSED OR NOT PASSED

Now and again, protests are made against the custom of giving grades on the grounds that any system of grading is inaccurate, and hence unfair and detrimental. The Daily Iowan has voiced the most recent protest in this matter. The charge is made that the student who receives A in his courses receives no better degree than the student who gets a bare C that the student who gets a D in a course receives as much credit from that court as does the student who gets an A, and that as a result, the very purpose of giving grades, which is to reward the studious is defeated. Accordingly, a plea is made for the raising of standards to a slight extent and the reducing of grades to two, passed and not passed.

However, the passed or not passed system of grading is far from desirable. It supplies no incentive to change a mark from an 82 to an 85 nor a 90 to a 93. The industrious student has no means of ascertaining whether he is obtaining the most possible from his work. It induces the individual to do just enough work to get by, which is an inducement that the average student does not need.

As for the inaccuracy and hence injustice of any system of grading, it may be said that, generally speaking, the average instructor is fully capable of determining whether a student is deserving of an A, or B, or C.

So far as any injustice in the awarding of the same degrees to the A and C students, let it be recognized that the degree is neither the aim nor the end of college preparation, and that the C student is only handicapped by his lesser knowledge and preparation in his competition with the A student in later life. It is neither the degree, nor the grades that are important, but the actual amount of knowledge that the student derives from his work that is important.

TIME IN THE WASTE BASKET

Vacations are really an abominable waste of time. What are they used for but miserable loafing, dancing, staying up late at night, in short having nothing but a good time? A good time! dear me suz, what an unnecessary thing that is in these days of toil and trouble!

We leave this place for home. For two weeks before we go we can do no work because we are thinking of the good time to come; for two weeks after we return we can likewise do no work because we can put our minds to nothing but the good time we have had. Thus five weeks are lost to no avail whatsoever. Surely a waste of time and what else?

Who with any brains about him cares to have a vacation, to spend a whole week with nothing to do? The fact that many students purposely get behind in their work so that they will have something worthwhile to do during the holidays goes to prove that students do not enjoy vacations. It is preposterous for the pilots of education to think that students enjoy a vacation? No, students enjoy only work.

Ah, how truly Stevenson in the Apology for Idlers has Mr. Worldly Wiseman tell the Idler that he "would have all such rogues scourged by the hangman." Yes, we love to ply our book with diligence at all times and it is foolish to think that any one would rather spend the hours beside a miserable little brook with his lady love, or dance the whole night through to lie abed of a morning.

Yes, vacations are a miserable waste of time, but—
Curses on the man who wants to do away with them!

Other Editors Say—

LEADERSHIP

Chief Justice Taft, of the Supreme Court, representing President Coolidge in the celebration of the ninetyth birthday of Charles W. Eliot, for forty years president of Harvard University, said some things on the subject of government and leadership that merit the consideration of all thoughtful men. We quote:

The most ambitious and the most difficult task that man has attempted is successful self-government. When people are herded as cattle under the rule of the strongest, the problem is a simple one of force and discipline. The few are intelligent and controlling and are united to keep the many under their will. But when government is based on the electoral equality of all among a people who vary much in conditions of bodily comfort and estate, in natural capacity, in rained intelligence, in self-restraint, in a sense of justice, and in the interest of each in the welfare of all, it is not easy safely to interpret the popular will into effective action, and at the same time secure the just rights of the minority.

Experience has proved that parties are indispensable in working out this problem, and the fewer parties there are, the greater the chance of efficient action toward a desired end. But if the party convention and the party leaders are to be the only exponents of political opinion, party expediency will shrivel all reforms and progress will cease. In no kind of government, therefore, is independent and courageous non-partisan leadership in economic, social and political discussion so vital as in a democracy.

Such leadership does not count numbers in its following. It does not trim its sails to catch the wind of popular acclaim. Its concern is with its facts, its logic, its clearness of vision, its own disinterestedness, its freedom from prejudice, its concern for the common welfare, its power of reasoned statement, its real prophetic faculty. With these, it seeks no census, convention or primary. It tells the truth to the electors, however unpalatable. It abides the slowly waking but clarified convictions of the people taught by hard experience; and achieves a real advance by the occasional overthrow of party rule. It may not always be right. It may underestimate practical objections to measures it urges; but it promotes discussion on a plane of unselfish patriotic endeavor and offers to a real electorate groping for the welfare of the state, a high standard of judgment and a freedom from the self-seeking of groups.

The application, of course, was to the personal character and achievements of Mr. Eliot, in keeping with the occasion. But what Mr. Taft had to say has a broad significance. We need able leadership. Our need is not so great for men who can think clearly as it is for men who will speak boldly and honestly. We need not be concerned greatly about lack of judgment regarding what is wise and wholesome, or that is foolish and harmful. There are plenty of men competent to size up a situation and decide what is best. We shall not go far wrong if it is a matter of judgment alone that decides our direction. But so often men do not say what they think. Through fear or because of greed they distort the truth to their own advantage.

It is harder to tell the truth when it is unpalatable than it is to sidestep or paint a picture according to popular clamor. Many take the easier course. That is why we need more men who will give us their honest opinions even at the cost of votes or prestige. herein lies real public service.

Won't it be wonderful in the old home-town once more, telling the folks of all your successes, and those wonderful parties you were to, and that new dress you need?

And it's about time, too, to tell them that this semester they are cutting down on grades in general, and that Madison is known as a very warm place in summer, and that you never could study when it was so warm.

The Reader's Say-So

THE MILITARIST WORM TURNS
Editor, The Cardinal:

Some persons are obsessed with the absurd notion that anyone interested in national preparation for times of emergency is a "Militarist," eager to defend war. It is as idiotic to defend war in the abstract as it is silly to make a tirade against it in general. When some pacifist imperiously demands, "Are you in favor of war?" it is as if he were to say, "Are you in favor of a holocaust? Do you like pestilence? Should we put persons in prison?" All are disagreeable, but we can't help matters by merely saying so.

Recent editorials in The Cardinal suggested that the psychological effect of speaking about the probability of future wars is preventive to universal peace. Does the writer believe that by ceasing to mention the possibility of war and by refusing to prepare for it we shall have destroyed at one swoop all the causes of war? The ostrich is known to have such a philosophy.

When the aggressor says "Here you, kow-tow to me," you can't get out of it by whining, "No, no, please don't." It's fight for your life or you won't have it much longer to fight for.

The pirates of Tripoli had all of the nations of the world kow-towing before them until the United States decided that it was better to fight than to grovel.

All the notes Lincoln could have written, all the notes all his secretaries could have written would not have prevented the South from seceding. We did not have to drive out the British with flails and pikes to gain our independence. It was war while it lasted. We didn't have to fight, but we would not be a nation today if we hadn't.

All good men want peace, but there is a group of pacifists who delight themselves by using the epithet "murderers" in respect to those who have the interest of their country at heart and who advocate an adequate national defense. It is time for the worms to turn and place the blame for the unnecessary slaughter of untrained troops upon these same pacifists.

The danger in their propaganda is that when we are cowed to defend our nationality, we shall again "fling untrained troops, raw, into battle—as we plucked them, raw from the streets." In the words of General Lee: "A government is the murderer of its citizens which sends them to the field uninformed and untaught."

CLIMB STAIRS CORRECTLY

Editor, The Cardinal:
Ninety-nine and ninety-nine one-hundredths per cent. What does it make you think of? Ivory soap? Wrong. It is an estimate of the number of students who go up a stairs in the incorrect way. Watch that girl over there. Weighs about 115. Close your eye and listen. Sounds 215.

Lot of energy wasted in this stair climbing. How do you go up? Do you step on the stairs as if you were walking, or do you shove, shove, shove your weary way up?

Let's each have a proper stair-climbing-week of our own. These are the days when every one tries to keep the appearance of youth. Thin walk up stairs as if you were young, not as if you were overweight and getting on in years.

GOOD TIMES FOR ALL PLAY-GOERS

By CHATTY

It has been estimated that of the 7,000 odd (very odd) students who tramp up and down the hill every day of the week 4,000 odd get into Chicago during every vacation period. That, you understand is a rough estimate, very rough indeed, but it is approximately correct and will do as a text for this morning's col.

We should go on and try to estimate how many of those 4,000 odd students who get into Chicago during some part of the vacation go to shows there for it is to them that the col this morning is especially dedicated. We haven't any figures on this little matter, however, so will just go ahead blindly and look over the menu of shows with you.

Abie Comes First

We're going to do more, however, than just look over the menu, we're going to try to put the items on the menu in some order of importance according to what we think the popular estimation will be. (We're great on estimations this morning.)

Now for the average person let's put "Abie's Irish Rose," first and foremost. Its nothing extraordinary, just happens to be popular, but it is real fun, and Anne Nichols is making several millions, they say, from it. It's had the longest run of anything that is on in New York at present, too. In fact, anyone will like it; that's why we put it first.

Next to it we'll put Otis Skinner because he is a clever impersonator whom you can't help liking, because he is a member of Haresfoot and because "Sancho Panza" is said to be his best role ever.

A Laughing Barrymore

Now we are coming to our favorite actress, Ethel Barrymore, whom personally we would place second on the program, Ethel Barrymore, of that wonderful voice, that beautiful profile, gorgeous hair and charming personality, the best of all her famous family according to our estimation. "The Laughing Lady" as a play isn't so much, but then it isn't written by that person, Zoe Atkins, in whose plays Miss Barrymore so delights to appear, and heaven knows that is something for which to be thankful.

Hearing the Climax

Guy Bates Post is next in the popular list, he who made a justified sensation on the stage with "The Masquerader" a fascinating work indeed. "The Climax," his vehicle, is something entirely different from the other but also excellent, and press reports of the play have been laudatory.

The Real Thing

Now we come to the thing that is in a class by itself, something

Harsh Hands Destroy
Beautiful Fairy Tale

"THE ENCHANTED COTTAGE"
Presented at the Strand
Produced by a First National.
Featuring Richard Barthelmess.
H. J. B.

"Impossible! Improbable! Quite the bunk!" is how the average movie patron will react to "The Enchanted Cottage". And he isn't especially unappreciative either, for a beautiful fairy tale atmosphere has been ruined by uncouth handling of circumstances and over-exaggeration of minor characters.

A plain, unattractive girl and a physical wreck of manhood marry for companionship and later fall in love. They are hideous in the eyes of the world. "Love is Blind" and to each other they are recreated. reliving in the spirit of colonial romance that haunts "Enchanted Cottage." Gallant and courtly are the love trysts that steal over the cottage by night and inspire the lovers with a sweeping happiness in each other, making them forget all.

The beauty behind the plot is splendid. The acting of Barthelmess and Miss McEvoy is carried out with keen execution. Why does the moving picture public display such aversion to a picture that fails to abound in material beauty but is rich enough in the bigger beauty of soul contact?

By TORMENTOR

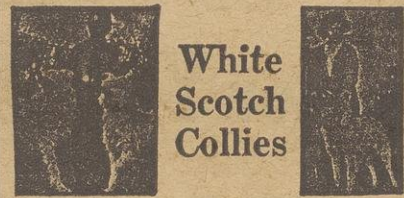

With the glee club and Haresfoot both gone on long trips, there seems to be a great dearth of good looking men on the campus.

The guest performance of "Alice Sit by the Fire" was one of the most commendatory things done here this year and it is to be regretted that notice was not given to the play the following morning.

It's too bad though that we had to be disillusioned through this play as to the ethical quality of our younger instructors. At least if one of them is to be taken as a sample, and at the last minute he throws over his part for no reason at all, the whole crowd suffers.

But this fellow Abbot who took which we would put first on a personal list, for which action we would probably lose our job. That's the Russian Moscow Art theater, and we're mighty glad to know that the members of that remarkable company have settled their various petty jealousies and reorganized for an American tour.

A stunning ornament, a sympathetic companion, a courageous guardian. Big and powerful, but quick and graceful; gentle, but unafraid; brave, but not ugly. Unusual intelligence. Hardy as an Eskimo. The sparkling dark eyes and long glistening white coat make a strikingly beautiful picture as a companion in an auto, on the campus, in the field, at the chapter house or in the home. Players' Version of Barrie Play
Is Well Received

H. D. S.

Of course there are few plays as well adapted to be presented by amateur performers as the Barrie plays, but a Barrie play "Alice Sit by the Fire," presented in a most professional manner, well, the audience at the Concert Room of Lathrop Hall last Saturday night could expect no more and gave its satisfaction by its voluminous applause.

Mildred Engler '26 once more proved an accomplished actress in the handling of her difficult role of the mother. Laura White '24, was a close second to Miss Engler as Amy, the romantic and youthful daughter. She was ably assisted by Carol de la Hunt '26, who played the part of her chum, Genivre.

Hazel Weingandt '25 and Bernice Klug '26 as the maid and the old nurse respectively fitted well into their parts. Agatha McCaffery '24, in a small but very effective character role drew much applause by her most realistic acting.

Rene Hemingway '25 as Steve, the housefriend who gets in bed, played his lines to the entire satisfaction, while Jackson Taylor '26, as Cosmo, the young boy, drew many laughs by his clever lines.

Special mention should be given Gordon Abbot '25 who jumped into his difficult part, that of the father with but a few days preparation due to the sudden withdrawal of one of the players, and played it exceedingly well.

Alethea Smith '24 and Olivia Orth '24 directed the play and deserve much credit for their work, which is as difficult as that of the people on the stage.

the quitter's place did some remarkable work. If he stays here another year or two he should be one of the foremost dramatic stars Wisconsin has had in years. He's good.

Everyone in the play should be congratulated, too.

Well right now all the Haresfoot boys are having a royal time, eating under the tables of Wisconsin alumni clubs in Sheboygan, Oshkosh and Appleton, and poor Tormentor is left at home trying to write a thesis.

It certainly is a fright when school work interferes with your work in that way.

Cheer up. Saw the dress rehearsal all Saturday night and Sunday morning and in spite of missing church and sleep felt some compensation in having seen "Twinkle Twinkle."

It's the greatest show ever and many people are going to have a hard time getting seats.

"AFTER THE BALL"
Presented at the Majestic
Featuring Gaston Glass and Miriam Cooper
Produced by the Renco Film company.

By H. E. R.

Again comes the cry from the critics, the very critical critics, for better scenarios. This plot is terrible. We sat and mourned for the players, who were good, and laughed—ironically, at the scenes that someone probably rattled off on a typewriter without giving them as much thought as we are this review.

Gaston Glass and Miriam Cooper were the stars, and seemed to be doing their best to make the play a success, but their efforts couldn't cover up the brazen defects such as were ever present. Another feminine person rather caught our eyes—and our admiration. This was Edna Murphy, who plays the part of the wife of the wayward son. She rather appealed to us as being a "comer", and we are sorry that she didn't appear more than she did.

The efforts of the playwright to create a plot that would concern the destinies of more than one young couple have been shown.

DADDIES' TROUBLES
MAKE GOOD COMEDY

"DADDIES"

Presented at the Parkway.
Featuring Harry Meyers and Mae Marsh
Directed by William A. Seiter
Produced by Warner Brothers.
By N. M. J.

When five eligible bachelors solemnly swear that they will never, never marry or forfeit $5000 each if they break their vows, there are $25,000 thrown away like so much water. And if one little woman is able to coax them into adopting an orphan apiece, they are already vanquished. It is not long before one by one they sheepishly apologize to each other, "Well, the child needs a mother as well as a father, doesn't he?"

When one of the orphans turns out to be triplets, and little terrors at that, it may be, most provoking to the new daddy, but it is hilarious comedy for the audience. Neither is it very much fun to have a youngster drop a go-cart on one's head from the upstairs landing when all the kids are thought to be safely tucked in bed and sound asleep.

CHANCE TO GET A COLD SHIVER
AT ORPH PLAY

By SHEVIE

Do you want a thrill and chance to use your grey matter at the same time? You will get both at the Orpheum this week in "The Thirteenth Chair" the three-act mystery of Bayard Veiller which the Dorothy La Vern players are presenting.

The story and the mystery center around the murder of Edward Wales which is committed during a seance that is held in the home of Roscoe Crosby, prominent New Yorker. Which one of the Crosby guests is "guilty"? Try to find out.

If the villain in the play did not look so much like a villain and if his actions were not made so obvious, but were done with a subtle touch such as the real artist is capable of the task of solving the mystery yourself would be a much more difficult one.

Dorothy La Vern as Madame Rosalie La Grange, the medium is better in this part than in any she has taken thus far. Her voice seems peculiarly well suited to this type of character. Melvyn Hesselberg plays the detective with the proper amount of suspense but we can't help feeling that he should take the part of a younger man. He fails to impress the audience with the idea of age. That Charles Browne is a member of this cast seems most unfortunate. Browne emphatically cannot act and his voice has the habit of being about fifteen shades louder than the rest of the players, which reduces the fine points of the play to either the ridiculous or the obvious.

Milwaukee Doctor Scores Practice of Birth Control

That a constantly rising standard of comfort secured to a people by the practice of birth control means not a higher, but a lower plane of life was the statement made by Dr. T. L. Harrington of Milwaukee in a talk on "Birth Control from a Catholic Standpoint," recently.

Speaking of the statement of Prof. Edward A. Ross of the university that "a deluge of babies threatens to sweep away the comforts of all classes," Dr. Harrington said that the small family fosters selfishness, egotism, love of ease and luxury, and self-indulgence.

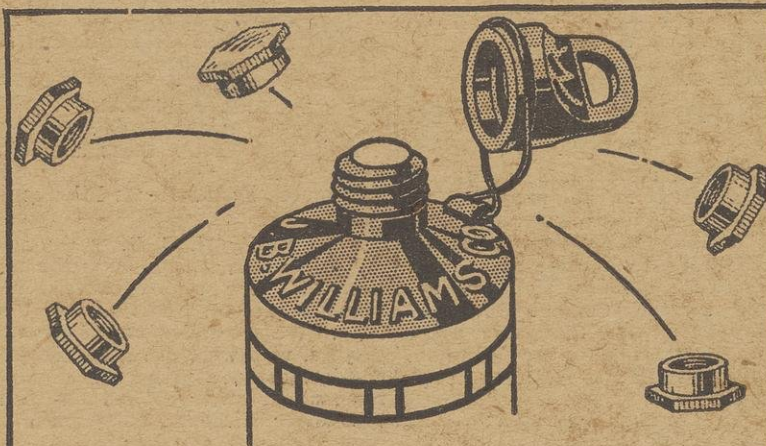

"Continence and abstinence are the only ethical methods of birth control," he said. "I am glad to say that my understanding of the teaching of the Catholic church is in perfect harmony with my reason, judgment, and medical experience."

UNKNOWN ALUMNUS GIVES GRADE TROPHY

The inter-fraternity scholarship cup, which was awarded last week to the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity, was presented to the university by an alumnus who asked that his name be withheld. The name of the fraternity will be engraved on the cup once for each semester during which the members of the house maintain the highest scholastic average among the social and professional fraternities.

The trophy will be awarded on the basis of records compiled at the office of Dean Goodnight, at the end of each semester.

This cap stays put!

Other caps get lost but the new Williams Hinge-Cap stays where you want it. Truly, that's an improvement.

Like the cap, the shaving cream in the Williams tube is a big improvement, too. For Williams lather is heavier and faster-working. It holds the water in, so that your beard is softened sooner. And the lather lubricates. The razor fairly glides over your skin! Because of a soothing ingredient in Williams you can shave daily yet always have a smooth and well-cared-for face. Williams is pure, natural-white cream. Absolutely without coloring matter. Buy it, try it—with the new Hinge-Cap!

"Grape-Nuts" and Psychology

An interesting letter from a student at the University of Pennsylvania

POSTUM CEREAL COMPANY, INC.
Battle Creek, Michigan

Gentlemen:

Today in psychology class we had an experiment known as the mental imagery experiment in which we were given the Galton Breakfast Table Blank to fill out.

The procedure of this interesting experiment was first to recall in the "mind's eye" the breakfast table as we sat down to it that morning and to call up its general appearance: the table, the food, dishes, and those present.

This is what happened to me:

I tried to recall the appearance of the table, the dishes, those who sat at the table with me—the only thing that I could recall was my breakfast food—"Grape-Nuts." I could see plainly in my mental imagery the crisp and wonderfully delicious dish of my breakfast food and the well-known box of Grape-Nuts.

The cause for this mental imagery of "Grape-Nuts" was that we are "conscious of environment through sensations"—that we will recall in mental imagery those things that have made a favorable impression upon our minds.

I have eaten "Grape-Nuts" since the time I started to grade school and your famous slogan "There's a Reason" explains it all.

Yours for a well-balanced food,
