The World's Window

By S. H.

REPRESENTATIVES of every worth-while nation in the world heard Russia challenge them to abolish completely all armies and navies at a conference to discuss disarmament which opened in Geneva on Wednesday. M. Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation, also scathingly denounced the dilatory tactics of the League of Nations.

Glib and polished diplomats assured the Soviets that the league was doing its best under the circumstances and that their proposal was too idealistic. Discussion on the proposition was postponed.

The same difficulties that have disrupted previous disarmament conferences are being encountered again. Will not disarmament come as a result of peace? If so, should not arbitration treaties be made to obtain this peace? But nations are not yet willing to assume the responsibilities for guaranteeing the operation of an arbitration system. What assurance have they that nations will not violate arbitration pacts, and what security will they have against such nations?

Some countries believe that, if some neutrality or arbitration compact is signed, international good faith may be depended upon to make it work successfully. Other nations feel that something more than signatures is necessary to make certain the fulfillment of the obligations.

The deliberate and cumbersome machinery of international politics now necessitates a delay until Feb. 20 when a body officially known as "the subcommittee of the security and arbitration committee of the League of Nations, preparatory disarmament commission" will render a report.

THE FIRST session of the seventh congress, which opens tomorrow, promises to be one of the most interesting since the World war. In addition to the discussion of problems that are vitally important in themselves and instrumental in determining future policies, there is uncertainty as to whether the Democrats or Republicans will control the senate to add to the anticipated display of pyrotechnics.

The house is expected to be peaceful enough with a Republican majority of 39. However, the senate lineup will be: Republicans, 48; Democrats, 47; Farmer Labor, 1. But it is expected that Republican Senators-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith of Illinois will not be permitted to take the oath of office because their elections "were impregnated with questionable expenditures of large sums of money." In this event the Republican vote will be reduced to 46.

Of this number there is a small group of insurgents, including LaFollette and Blaine of Wisconsin who are Republicans merely in name and may be depended upon to vote independently on most issues. Some Democrats are doubtful whether it is sound policy to gain control of the senate by excluding Vare and Smith and thus place the responsibilities for the senate's conduct upon themselves.

Just how many of the important issues will be disposed of is hard to say. These issues are as follows: Agricultural relief, flood control, tax reduction coupled with lessening the heavy burden of the public debt, railroad consolidation, immigration, national defense, a governmental merchant marine policy, the Great Lakes-to-the-Sea canal, Boulder dam, Muscle Shoals, the return of enemy alien private property seized during the war, and Briand's proposal for a treaty outlawing war between the United States and France. Much anti-third term talk is expected from the Democrats who hope to embarrass Coolidge as much as possible.

The manner in which the matters of flood control, merchant marine, Muscle Shoals, Boulder dam, etc., are disposed will have direct bearing upon the fundamental policies of the government. The action on these questions will determine whether or not a general policy of super-power construction and distribution will be entered upon.

To politicians throughout the country this old dictum may very well be repeated: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

Theologian Who Speaks At Convocation Today

Rev. Reinhold Niebuhr

Rev. Niebuhr, Noted Pastor, Talks Tonight

Choir of Sixty Students From Hillel and Wesley Will Sing

Widely recognized as an authority on religious thought although only in his thirties, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, pastor of the Bethel Evangelical church of Detroit, will address the student body and the public at 7:30 tonight in Music hall at the monthly all-university religious service.

The Rev. Niebuhr will speak on the subject of "Authority and Experience in Religion," covering a field in which he is well qualified to talk.

Following the completion of his address and the musical program, the uni-service committee has arranged for an open forum, conducted by Dr. Niebuhr, for which all listeners are invited to remain and participate.

A new feature to the convocation musical program has been added this month in the form of a chorus of 60 students consisting of the combined choir of the Hillel and Wesley Memorial foundations. They will sing "By Babylon's Wave" from Gounod, directed by Prof. L. L. Iltis of the music school, with organ accompaniment by Paul Jones. The Wesley choir will also sing a choral benediction.

With the program this evening, the committee will have completed its fall calendar. The speaker and the date of the next meeting, to be held in January, will be announced after the Christmas vacation.

Sandburg Embodies Spirit of America In His Life and Works

"Something of the Whitman who loved to catalogue people and places; something of the O. Henry who loved colloquial America, something of the homely outlook and gesture of that other Illinoisan, Lincoln; each plays its phase in the tune that is Sandburg."

In these words Alfred Kreymschauer characterizes the poetry of Carl Sandburg, who is to lecture here Tuesday under the auspices of the Arden club. Sandburg's similarity to the "Good Grey Poet," both in the form and spirit of his verse, was noticed at the time of the publication of his first book, "Chicago Poems," and this impression was deepened by his succeeding books of poetry, "Cornhuskers," "Smoke and Steel," and "Slabs of the Sunburnt West."

That the variety and excellence of Carl Sandburg's lecture program will interest all types is vouched for by William Allen White, who wrote of a similar recital: "The Carl Sandburg entertainment is a concert, grand opera, philosophic pabulum, and dramatic entertainment all in one. I have never enjoyed an evening's entertainment more."

Phi Kappa Phi, Honorary Scholastic-Activity Society, Elects 37 of Class of 1928

Three Faculty Members Also Chosen; Initiation Takes Place Dec. 9

The honor society of Phi Kappa Phi announces today the election of 37 seniors and three faculty members. High scholarship, leadership in activities, and character form the basis of the selection.

Of the students elected, three are from agriculture, two from home economics, six from engineering, one from music, and 28 from letters and science. Thirteen women and 24 men were selected.

The three faculty members receiving honorary membership are: Miss M. N. H'Doubler, associate professor of physical education for women; Prof. A. R. Hohlfield, professor of German; and Prof. Philo M. Buck, professor of comparative literature.

Initiation on Dec. 9

The elections to Phi Kappa Phi were made from lists of seniors compiled by a special committee consisting of Miss Margaret Scallon, chairman; Prof. J. R. Roebuck, Miss Helen White, Prof. E. B. Gordon, Prof. A. T. Weaver, Prof. O. L. Kowalke, Prof. B. H. Hibbard, and Dr. H. C. Bradley. The initiation and banquet will be held at the University club Friday evening, Dec. 9, from 6:15 until 8:30 o'clock.

The faculty elections were made upon the recommendation of a committee with Prof. Thomas Lloyd Jones, chairman; Dean F. L. Roe, and Prof. R. H. Whitback.

Organized in 1897

The officers of Phi Kappa Phi are:

Dutch Bazaar Aids, Amuses Gift Shoppers

Hundreds Thronged Market; Dancing and Volvil Please Others

A picturesque old Dutch mart with is many booths of flowers, candy, jewelry, and dolls attended by people in quaint Dutch costumes greeted hundreds of visitors at the Y. W. C. A. Christmas bazaar yesterday afternoon and evening.

At one table in the market place an attractive display of jewelry provided opportunities for the Christmas shoppers. At another booth a colorful array of flowers and corsages caught the eye. Still other booths displayed imported Christmas cards, dolls and stuffed animals. For those who wanted their future told there was a tiny fortune telling booth in the shape of a windmill with Joan Hunt '30 and Virginia Brown '30 in charge.

For the hungry a little Dutch tea room with the name the "Wooden Shoe Tea Room" provided cider, doughnuts, ice cream, and toast-wiches under the direction of Catherine Howard '29, and served by waitresses wearing Dutch aprons and caps. Thompson's orchestra provided music all during the afternoon and evening for dancing.

Cardinal Scribe Names 14 Probable Queens for Prom in Greatest Scoop of Year

By D. C.

"Say, Bill," I began after cornering the prom king at his place of business on the corner of State and Francis. "There's a rumor . . ."

"There'll be no drinking at prom," he assured me.

"No, seriously, there's a rumor that the queen has been chosen."

"It's nothing but a rumor," Momen said hurriedly.

"O. K. if you say so, Bill. Sure you haven't anybody in mind?"

"Haven't given it a thought," he said solemnly.

In the back of my mind there lurked the slightest shadow of suspicion. The editor said I had to get a story . . . what to do?

"Can't you even give me a hint,

Weather Forecast Bids Fair For Winter Sports

Eric Miller's forecast of colder weather for the coming week issued at a late hour last evening does not bid well for devotees of fall sports on the campus when the thermometer drops to three degrees above zero as it did yesterday morning.

It does, however, appear favorable to and suggestive of the varied opportunities for an excellent winter sports program which Wisconsin offers to all her residents. With such invigorating forms of exercise as skiing, skating, hockey, tobogganing, and sleighing offered to Wisconsinites for diversion while the wintry blasts are blowing, we may correctly state that cold weather is not an entirely unwelcome visitor.

Predictions of the next few days that the lowest temperature of the current spell has not yet been reached and that a new low mark for the season will be set before the week-end is over.

Dean S. H. Goodnight, president; Miss Margaret Scallon, vice president; and W. A. Sumner, secretary-treasurer.

The society of Phi Kappa Phi was organized in 1897 at the University of Maine for the purpose of promoting scholarship and leadership among college students. It now has about 50 chapters.

It elects from the upper one-fifth of the class and considers scholarship plus activities. This is its ninth year at Wisconsin.

Open to All Students

Membership in the society is open to all students in all colleges and courses in the university upon equal terms. Phi Kappa Phi is the only fraternity on the Wisconsin campus which elects from all courses in the university upon basis of scholarship.

Faculty Expects Action on Three Important Topics

Problem of Student Conduct to Be Taken Up at Monday Meeting

At least a temporary truce will be reached in the means of regulating student conduct at the monthly meeting of the faculty, to be held Monday afternoon, the topics listed for discussion at the meeting indicated.

Three important actions are expected by the faculty:

1. The report of the special committee headed by Dr. H. C. Bradley will present its stand on the feasibility of the establishment of a committee on student conduct and morals as proposed at the October meeting by Dean of Men Scott H. Goodnight.

May Consider Vacation

2. The disciplinary committee supplemented by non-functional members who aided in investigation, will ask faculty approval of the method devised for handling of cases of scholastic dishonesty.

3. The matter of changing the Christmas vacation dates may be injected into the meeting but is not on the program of business. The petition of 435 names can be acted on only at the unanimous consent of the faculty.

PASTORS EXCHANGE CHURCHES TODAY

With a view to furthering co-operation between the various religious groups on the campus, the Rev. Atlie H. Krussell, director of Wesley foundation, and Rabbi Solomon Landman, director of Hillel foundation, are exchanging pulpits today.

Rev. Krussell is speaking on the subject "On Respecting the Opinions of Others" and Rabbi Landman on "Genesis and the New Folk Lore." The Hillel services begin at 11 o'clock and the Wesley services at 10:45 o'clock.

This is the second year that the two foundations have exchanged directors for Sunday services.

Ela, Deadman Name Festival Staff Members

Christmas Celebration Plans Are Now Under Way; 300 to Participate

The university student body and faculty is forgetting the acrimony of the recent controversies within and without its halls over the matters of military training and imputed apathy toward the importance of athletic victories, in preparation for the first university-wide Christmas festival, to be held on Sunday, Dec. 18.

Richard E. Ela '28, Madison, and June E. Deadman '29, Madison, men's and women's chairmen respectively, of the committees in charge of planning the event are announcing this morning the following executives for divisions of the staff:

J. Robert De Haven '29, South Bend, Ind., is finance chairman. Jane Bull '29, Redfield, S. D., and John D. McLane '29, West Bend, are in charge of ticket sales. Blanche Paris '28, Prairie du Chien, is program chairman; Orlo E. Brown '29, Kenosha, chairman of the committee on arrangements; Elise Roberts '28, Brim, Ill., chairman of the personnel committee arranging events which will precede the festival; and William P. Steven '30, Eau Claire, publicity.

The university gymnasium will be the scene of the festival, which will center about group singing of Christmas carols. Prof. W. C. Troutman, director of the Wisconsin Players, will direct the presentation of a Christmas pantomime. Prof. E. B. Gordon of the school of music will lead the caroling. Students in a pageantry class will supervise the production of tableaux. The Men's Glee club and Women's Glee club will sing. Present plans call for active participation of more than 300 students.

FACULTY TO ACT UPON THREE TOPICS MONDAY

Goodnight would provide for a definite means of administering jurisdiction in major infractions of university regulations of conduct and decency. Minor infractions would continue to be administered by the Deans of Men and Women.

Student opinion seems to favor such a course, and The Daily Cardinal has consistently favored such a plan in its editorial comment. An editorial this morning in favor of the plan declares:

"With the proposed committee in existence, an infractious man or woman would appear before a body of people acquainted with psychology, psychiatry, and other pertinent sciences." The editorial points out that the "helter-skelter system at present" is frequently unfair, and that the new plan would allow the blame for any unjust decision to be laid to a committee rather than an individual.

Otto's Suggestion Discarded.

The method of handling disciplinary cases in matters of scholastic dishonesty, cribbing, and classroom cheating has been a subject of controversy since June, 1926, when a student-faculty committee under Prof. M. C. Otto discovered "rampant dishonesty" and proposed a new machinery with more stringent penalties to solve the problem.

Prof. Otto's suggestion was definitely discarded when the regents' failure to act on the new penalties forced the faculty to seek a new solution. This fall the old method of naming the committee was resorted to, but the disciplinary committee, supplemented

To Present Freshman Plans

Only one petition representing 435 students, all residents of Tripp and Adams halls, had reached the secretary of the faculty up to yesterday. This petition did not reach him in time to be placed on the calendar for the meeting, and can be considered only by the unanimous consent of the faculty or at the insistence of President Glenn Frank. Plans for a freshman week, or freshmen orientation days, prior to the beginning of registration for upper classmen are to be presented to the faculty in a report from the bureau of vocational guidance. The committee on high school relations is recommending that the faculty permit four years of music in high school to be allowed as vocational credit in application for admission to the university.

Louis XIV, his character and personality and his effect on history were revealed by Prof. Carl Stephenson of the University of Wisconsin in his lecture before the Woman's club Thursday afternoon, when he gave an outline of a day at the court of St. Louis.

The famous king was of mediocre intelligence and poor education, of excellent self control and of no sense of humor or morals, said the professor. His great defect was his interest in his own glory.

"The system of government demanded that the king work six or eight hours a day, and this Louis XIV did. He was a man of great industry in state affairs. But when a king came to the throne who wasn't able or willing to apply himself to the work of the government, the system failed, and the failure led up to the revolution, which completely changed all conditions in France," declared Prof. Stephenson.

Alpha Kappa Kappa Bows To Smashing Line Drive

Sig Alpha Eps Given Third Place By the Flip of a Coin

BY AARON GOTTLEB

"And when they hit that line, There'll be no line at all." So runs an ancient ditty, and so went the Theta Xi varsity football team yesterday when it defeated the Alpha Kappa Kappa's 18-0 in a match supreme, with no holds barred, for the fraternity championship of the present season.

The few spectators were treated to one of the outstanding examples of the year concerning the question, "when is a football game not a football game?" as arms, legs, and bodies, seemed to be the only example of savagery missing.

Rough? and How!

Just who started the amusing part of the game, in which no less than seven penalties were given for roughness and slugging is not known, but the players quickly took to this added feature and "fist and fought" with deadly earnestness.

Bert Moldenhauer, satellite of the Theta Xi team again showed his ability to make holes when there were none, and aided by his mate Johnson, proceeded to chop the A. K. K. line to shreds. Credit too must be given to the Theta Xi's line, which outplayed and outfought that of their opponents.

For the A. K. K.'s no outstanding star shone, for the ball was rarely in their possession, but their best known man and nemesis of referees, was A. Pomainville, who at least fought a great verbal battle for his team.

Third place in the fraternity varsity league went to Sigma Alpha Epsilon when a flip of the coin gave them the honor over the Psi Upsilon's.

First Half

Theta Xi kicked off, and on the first play of the game the A. K. K.'s made their closest bid for a touchdown. A hiding end was in the clear and a perfect pass for 25 yards sailed right into his arms and on through them. The Theta Xi's lost little time in getting the ball and started their offense.

Johnson hit the line for eight yards. A. Bachhuber of the A. K. K.'s was hurt on the play and left the game. Moldenhauer smashed the line for 10 yards. O'Neill added four and Moldenhauer five. Johnson broke lose for eight yards. Moldenhauer hit right tackle for 15 yards. A. K. K. was penalized 15 for roughing and the ball was on their 10 yard line. Moldenhauer made two yards, Johnson added three, and Moldenhauer three more. Moldenhauer went over left tackle for the touchdown as the quarter ended. Try for goal failed. Score—Theta Xi, 6; A. K. K., 0.

Theta Xi kicked off, and A. K. K. was offside on the first play. An A. K. K. kick was partially blocked and went two yards where Kanalz, Theta Xi recovered it and ran to the A. K. K. eight yard line. Moldenhauer made the necessary distance in one trial. The place kick again failed. Score—Theta Xi, 12; A. K. K., 0.

Second Half

Theta Xi kicked off. Theta Xi was penalized 15 yards for roughing. Theta Xi was penalized for being offside. An A. K. K. pass was intercepted by Moldenhauer. A Theta Xi pass failed and Johnson hit the line for 17 yards. Theta Xi suffered another five yard penalty. A. K. K. was penalized 15 yards for slugging. Moldenhauer made 6 yards as the third quarter ended.

With the ball on the A. K. K.'s 29 yard line, Moldenhauer made first down in two trials. A. K. K. was penalized 15 yards for roughing. Johnson hit the line for three and Wiswell took the ball over. Trial for goal failed. Score—18-0. Both teams opened up with long passes during the remainder of the game, but a high wind prevented any of them from being good.

Theta Xi—Kelley, Weathers, Brody, Hanson, Wiswell, Kanalz, Burke, Jonas, O'Neill, Johnson, Moldenhauer.

Alpha Kappa Kappa—Fretchette, Urban, Earney, Bachhuber, Owen, Simenson, Donkie, Pomainville, Weismuller, Huth, Pomainville.

"The Teaching of Norse in the High Schools" was the subject of the lecture given by Prof. Julius E. Olson at the Minneapolis Central high school Friday night.

HERE'S the DOPE

It won't be long now until the basketball season starts, and then the 33 students who succeeded in getting series tickets may see an athletic contest now and then.

Otherwise we'll have to be satisfied with reading the intramural news, which as you may see by this morning's deed, is becoming more and more voluminous. Intramurals at Wisconsin, if they keep on growing, will soon outrank those at any other institution in the west, south, east, or north.

In order to maintain the honor, good name, and, other attributes of intramural football, the officials have agreed to select an all-fraternity football team from the ranks of the various contenders. All we can do now is wait and hope that the officials use at least as much discretion on this team as they have in refereeing games. That's the minimum.

Grantland Rice has picked his—ha, ha—all-American team. It's not such a bad one either, except that Grantland felt a crying need for including some member of the conference championship Illinois team, and he went out of his way to pick Crane at guard. Now Crane is a guard, and a good guard, but Bob Reitsch and Butch Nowack, center and tackle respectively, have received considerably more attention than he for their season's work. We wouldn't kick about one man though. Grantland at least has Joesting on his team.

Down at Ohio State, basketball enthusiasts are becoming perturbed over a slight scholastic defection in the ranks of the varsity cage squad. Three men, Bell, Hectorne, and Tarbert, have been placed on the list of non-combatants for letting too much dust accumulate on the covers of their textbooks. Again we say, heroes may be born and Phi Betas may be made, but the two seldom come in one package.

New football coaches in the Western conference this year did not fare exceedingly well, if you stop to think about it. Tad Wieman, breaking in at Michigan, saw the Wolverines get trimmed down by two traditional enemies, Illinois and Minnesota; Glenn Thistlethwaite at Wisconsin enjoyed various sensations, mostly unpleasant, as the Badgers knuckled down before Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, and Chicago; and Dick Hanley at Northwestern was present and accounted for when Purdue, Illinois and Indiana marped the Wildcats. It was a baptism of fire for each of them—may they be more fortunate in the future.

By way of rewarding Indiana football players for particularly fine performances during the season, Coach H. O. Page has started the practice of giving gold, silver, and bronze medals to various members of the squad. Men who received such awards included Paul Balay, silver medal for two place kicks in Minnesota game; George Reinhardt, bronze medal for only field goal scored by a Western conference team this year; Herman Byers, gold medal for passing in Minnesota game; Clare Randolph, silver medal for consistent passing from center; Paul Harrell, bronze medal for completing longest pass in Memorial stadium (45 yards); Jewett Hull, gold medal for being fastest lineman; William Shields, silver medal for speed and aggressiveness in action, and Charles Bennett, bronze medal for being best all-around running back on squad.

The fact that Reinhardt scored the only field goal made by a Western conference team this season emphasizes once more the passing of the place-kick. Time was when Wisconsin won

Barnard, Bears, Cubs Advance In Women's Basketball Tourney

As the women's intramural basketball tournament advances, one of the most outstanding features of the preliminary games now being runoff is the improvement in the quality of the playing on the part of the members of all of the teams, and at times these more or less amateur contests resemble regular interclass competition.

Three interesting games were played off yesterday afternoon in the Lathrop gym, and one was defaulted. The 1203 West Dayton team defaulted to the Tri Deltas.

Barnard 50; Medics 4

Barnard literally walked away with the Medics yesterday afternoon, rolling up a score of 50 to 4. The combination of Teddy Weisner '30 and Marguerite Burdon '31, as forwards was too strong for the Medics, and with this powerful pair of forwards, Barnard should bid strongly for the championship when the elimination contest begins in another week.

Lineups: Barnard—Grimm, Gitchell, Lambeck, Van Roo, Cannon, Smith, Luby, Burdon, and Keisner. Medics—Steele, Keenan, Lotwin, Boyer, Ig-lauer, Rousesche, and Petty.

Bears 17; 520 Lake 6

The All American Bears defeated the 520 North Lake team in their match yesterday with the score of 19 to 6. This team, composed of women with no group affiliations, showed up very well, their victory being largely due to the extraordinary ability of Marjorie Morrison '28, to sink in long shots.

Lineups: Bears—Metz, Barry, Redd, Weiss, Nethenson, Dahl, and Morrison. 420 North Lake—Jackson, Aaron, Rowntree, Michelson, Smith, and Noyes.

Cubs 25; Thetas 12

The other All American team, the Cubs, also managed to gain a victory yesterday, defeating Theta Phi Alpha with a score of 24 to 12. The Cubs exhibited some very fine team play, and had little difficulty in winning the match.

Lineups: Theta Phi Alpha—M. Jamieson, DeBryne, Behrend, Dewhurst, Mulvey, Hoffrichter, R. Jamieson, and P. Nelson. All American Cubs—Todd, Kramer, Thorson, Peranty, Thompson, and Elliott.

Week's Schedule

The last of the preliminary round-robin games will be run off this week and the final elimination contests between the various group winners will then begin. The schedule for the week follows:

Monday, December 5

Alpha Chi Omega vs. Green Lantern, 3:30—Church.
Alpha Delta Pi vs. Hancock's, 4:30—Church.
Alpha Epsilon Phi vs. Theta Phi Alpha, 4:30—Church.
Coronto vs. Grads, 5:10—Lathrop gym.

Alpha Gamma Delta vs. Pi Beta Phi, 8:15—gym.
C. L. G. C. vs. Hillel, 8:15—gym.

Tuesday, December 6

Alpha Omicron Pi vs. 929 University, 3:30—Church.
Alpha Xi Delta vs. 104 Langdon, 4:30—Church.
Charter vs. Phi Mu, 4:30—Church.
Alpha Phi vs. Sigma, 6:45—Gym.

Wednesday, December 7

Barnard vs. Phi Omega Pi, 3:30—Church.
Cubs vs. 1203 W. Dayton, 4:30—Church.
Delta Gamma vs. Kappa Delta, 4:30—Church.

Delta Zeta vs. Medics, 5:10—gym.
Chad vs. Gamma Phi, 6:45—gym.

Thursday, December 8

Chi Omega vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma, 3:30—Church.
Tri Delt vs. Theta Phi Alpha, 3:30—Church.
Sigma Kappa vs. 248 Langdon, 4:30—Church.
Beta Sigma Omicron vs. Nurses, 4:30—gym.
Beta Phi Alpha vs. Mouldings, 4:30—gym.

two games in a single season by virtue of field-goals which were the only scores made. The decline of the field-goal is not, as most people seem to think, entirely due to the setting back of the goal-posts. Modern football has changed to such an extent that a team will usually prefer gambling for a touchdown by passing on fourth down to attempting a kick which, even if it is made, counts only three points.

Noyes House Cedes Game At Half; No Substitutes

Intramurals

Two upsets occurred in the Greek basket games Friday in the Delta Sigma Tau-Phi Gam and Chi Psi-Alpha Gamma Rho games. The Chi Psi's fell prey to the fast moving Alpha Gamma Rho five. The Agric's displayed too much defensive and offensive ability for the Chi Psi's. Delta Sigma Tau displayed a smooth working combination in their game with the Phi Gam's and will be a strong contender for high honors. Farm house ran up the highest total to date in their game with Phi Epsilon Pi Friday.

Alpha Gamma Rho 7, Chi Psi 5

The Chi Psi's, one of the best fraternity teams last year, received an unexpected upset Friday at the hands of the Alpha Gamma Rho's. The score was knotted at 5-all at the half, but the Alpha Gamma Rho's topped a basket in the last half while holding the Chi Psi's scoreless. Lineups—Alpha Gamma Rho—Ross, Biller, Barden, Ellington, Bradett, Kuester, and Berge. Chi Psi—Cassidy, Boldenweck, Olson, Freeborn, Wilson, and Gernon.

Farm House 28, Phi Epsilon Pi 1

Farm house loomed up as one of the likely contenders for the Greek basket title by swamping Phi Epsilon Pi by a 28-1 count in their game Friday. Lineups—Farm house—Ream, Hall, Ullstrup, Josephson, Teguin, Burndt, Wormeli, and Weyer. Phi Epsilon Pi—Crohn, Fiore, Philips, Brodsky, Co-han, Marcus, and Stein.

Sigma Pi 14, Pi Lambda 2

The Sig Pi's subdued the U Lam's Friday in a one-sided battle. Art Mansfield and Van Wake did most of the scoring for the Sig Pi's. Dapin scored the lone Pi Lam basket. Lineups—Sigma Pi—Van Wake, Mansfield, Freudenberg, Eichmeier, Stokes, Jarvis, Carle, and Rueckert. Pi Lambda Phi—Winer, Dapin, Doman, Doman, Arnol, Gottlieb, and Feldman.

Delta Sigma Tau 10, Phi Gamma Delta 6

The Delta Sigma Tau's defeated the Phi Gam's in a hectic game Friday noon. Melvin Minton and Roy Turton showed up well for Delta Sigma Tau, while Lee Gulick was the chief scoring ace for the Phi Gam's. Lineups—Delta Sigma Tau—Westercamp, Turton, Horsfall, Olson, Minton, and Rothermel. Phi Gamma Delta—Jensen, Gulick, Reed, Fitzgerald, Morsebach, Buchanan, and Powell.

A. K. K.-12, Delta Chi 9

The A. K. K.'s, not content with displaying their prowess on the gridiron, took the Delta Chi's into camp Friday noon by a 12-9 count. Lineups—Alpha Kappa Kappa—Denis, Perkins, Parish, Davis, Monroe, Donkie, Rosenow, Bachhuber, Freehette, Greiber, Earney, and Livingston. Delta Chi—Herrick, St. John, Ballou, Neeb, Grube, Brennan, Leonardson, Peterson, Meisnest, Hartman, and Zink.

Chi Psi's Win Third

The Chi Psi's won third place in the Greek touch football race yesterday afternoon at Intramural field by defeating the Pi K. A.'s 6-0 in an overtime period game. A 30-yard pass from Bill Gernon to Mike Wilson over the Pi K. A. goal line in the first three minutes of the overtime period turned the trick.

The Chi Psi's had the upper hand throughout most of the first half, making four first downs to none for the Pi K. A.'s. In the second half, however, the Pi K. A.'s threatened the Chi Psi goal at two intervals, but an attempted dropkick by Keith Mellencamp and an attempted pass over the goal line both failed.

Lineups—Chi Psi—Reeves, Boldenweck, Freeborn, Gernon, Hanks, Wilson, and Smith. Pi Kappa Alpha—Pahl, Sewell, Roehl, Mellencamp, Donagan, Ousterhoudt, and Olson.

THREE RUN FOR GREEN BUTTON PRESIDENCY

Thel C. Buelow, Jane L. Cannon, and Virginia M. Snyder, have been named candidates for presidency of Green Button, the freshmen women's organization, at the University of Wisconsin.

Victors Show Superiority During the Entire Time Played

By BERNARD DUFFY

High, high, ever so high is the spirit in one High house, better known as Section D of Tripp hall, for that section, house, or rather the football team won the championship of the men's dormitories by beating Noyse house, Section A, of Adams, 6 to 0, yesterday afternoon at Intramural field.

Playing a hard smashing off tackle game, the High team clearly outplayed their rivals from Adams and incidentally the Experimental college and well deserved the victory. At the start of the second quarter after a steady march down the field, Dicks took the ball on fourth down and ran around left end for nine yards and a touchdown.

Called at Half

The game was called at the end of the first half when Adams conceded the game after four of their men were injured and no substitutes were available. Again the cold, hard field handicapped the playing of the two teams.

To retract any statements that might have been mistaken Friday, let it here to said that the Tripp team is a hard driving, conscientious and well conditioned team that is well deserving of the championship.

Play by Play

High house won the toss and received with the wind at their back. The ball was returned to the 30-yard line on the kickoff. On two plays first down was made but in the next play the ball went wild and Adams recovered. Noyes was held without gain and punted. Blott punted back and the kick was returned by Butts. Blott kicked again on first down and the ball traveled 60 yards across the Adams goal line. Butts kicked high and short and it was the Tripp team's ball on the Adams 30-yard line. Peters, hero of Friday's game, dropped an easy pass with a clear field ahead of him. Tripp made first down on the next two plays on two smashes of right tackle and the quarter ended with the ball on the 13-yard line.

The east goal line, with an uphill run, stopped the Tripp backfield temporarily, but on fourth down Dicks made a pretty nine-yard run for a touchdown. The kick was blocked.

Adams received and started a rally that almost tied the score. Two long passes, Schaffter to Killinger, put the ball on the Tripp 20-yard line. Killinger made brilliant catches of both passes. Tripp held and on last down Adams tried another long pass that bounced out of Killinger's hands as he stepped over the goal line. He was hurt on the play, but continued to the end of the half. High house made a first down and was steadily marching down the field as the half ended. Killinger and three of the other Adams men were badly battered and it was deemed advisable to concede the game to Tripp. The lineup:

Adams-Noyes	Tripp-High
Henshaw	R.E. Peters
Abramson	R.T. Bird
Porter	R.G. Bennett
Hickock	C. Whipp
Aynardi	L.G. Watson
Lewis	L.T. Tews
Helgeson	R.E. Roench
Butts	Q.B. Sacks
Tanner	R.H. Eastman
Killinger	L.H. Blott
Schaffter	F.B. Dicks

Y. W. C. A. WORKER TALKS TO STUDENTS

Women students who are interested in Y. W. C. A. work as a vocation will be given the opportunity of interviewing Miss Constance Ball of the National Y. W. C. A. Personal bureau, Miss Mary Anderson, university secretary, said in an interview today. Miss Ball will be in the Y. W. C. A. office at Lathrop hall all day Monday, and those who wish to interview her there should call Miss Anderson at Fairchild 693 to make appointments.

Our selfish reaction to the prophecy of war in 1928 is that we'll know what stocks to buy this time.

But What Would Father Say?

A STUDENT PERIODICAL called the "Siwasher," published at Knox college, has stepped into the limelight recently by the simple expedient of advocating a smoking room for the women students of that institution. "Faculty members refused to comment," according to news dispatches.

"Knox, as a liberal college," the magazine states, "would do well to allow the co-eds to smoke." The writer continues with, "My father often told me when I was at the age where I smoked corn silk and coffee that if I was going to smoke, he would rather have me smoke at home than behind the barn. At present the co-eds must sneak their cigarettes, and since it is no longer a secret that they do smoke, would it not be more honorable and more convenient if they were allowed to enjoy their cigarettes without sneaking around the corner out of the vision of the faculty."

A smoking lounge for co-eds is a delightful idea and one which probably would be welcomed by the student body of any co-educational college or university. But it won't work in this staid, puritanical Middle West. And it won't work in an institution supported by state funds. The great majority of our "solid citizens" are still too old-fashioned to regard women's smoking as anything less than a vice and a menace to future generations.

Vassar, we understand, is equipped with a smoking room, as are other eastern girl's colleges. But this is not the effete East. This is a section largely inhabited by stolid Germans, stoical Swedes, descendants of Puritan emigrants from New England, and by various other peoples whose ancestral and national characteristics strongly forbid radical changes from traditional morals and customs. The great mass of our mid-western population is as free from sophistication as is the average Main Street literary club.

This fact was admirably demonstrated early this fall when the W. C. T. U. waged its campaign against cigarette-smoking Wisconsin co-eds. Although the desultory war against Lady Nicotine proved futile, the president of the local chapter of the Union received hundreds of letters from righteous parents and taxpayers in every corner of the state commending the good work and deploring the nauseating fact that those girls in the university were afflicted with the nasty habit.

And so it goes. But the problem is a deeper one than women students. It is one which affects our conduct and the mere determination of whether or not this or that university shall provide facilities for her cigarette-smoking decides our moral questions. In time, perhaps, as the Melting Pot continues to boil and as the younger generation continues to grow old, conditions will change. But meanwhile, it seems improbable that Knox college will provide a retreat for "ladies, and smokers, only."

Dean Goodnight's Proposal

DEAN GOODNIGHT'S plan for establishing a committee on student morals will probably be voted upon by the faculty at their December meeting tomorrow, following a report given by the investigating committee headed by Dr. Bradley.

This, we feel, is the most important business which has arisen this year, at least in so far as the student body is concerned, and we trust that members of the faculty will give the suggestion their most careful consideration before accepting or rejecting it.

We believe that the student body as a whole is heartily in favor of adopting such a system for handling moral delinquencies as the Dean of Men prescribes. The advantages it holds over the present methods of dealing with violators of the social code are obvious, while the disadvantages are seemingly few.

Under the present helter-skelter disciplinary system, Dean Goodnight or Dean Nardin, the dean of the college of the student involved, the student's advisor, and occasionally a physician, psychologist, or psychiatrist decide on the case of an erring member of the university community. This is not the ordinary community's way of handling law breakers. It is not a system assured free from impartiality and of extensive investigation. It is one which is unreliable because of the constantly changing personnel of the court and because of the personal feelings a dean or an advisor may hold toward the student being tried.

With the proposed committee in existence, an infratious man or woman would appear before a body of people acquainted with psychology, psychiatry, and other pertinent sciences and one used to dealing with student problems. It would be a committee of experts. Of course, specialists in various fields may be consulted under the present methods, but the advantage of the set committee would be the fact that its members would constitute a permanent court, one which, by virtue of its definite character, would be impelled to investigate thoroughly and consider impersonally each case which came to its attention.

Also, this entire committee would be responsible for penalties imposed upon delinquents, and the blame which might arise in the future as it has in the past would devolve upon it rather than upon one disciplinary officer. The handling of student morals is not a one-man job, and the Daily Cardinal sincerely hopes the faculty will pass favorably on Dean Goodnight's proposal.

Phi Kappa Phi

IN OUR NEWS columns this morning is an announcement of the annual elections to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary activities and scholastic fraternity. These elections are indubitably one of the most important events of the fall semester, and the Daily Cardinal wishes to congratulate the winners of the honor.

Phi Kappa Phi is awarded upon a basis of both a student's work in the classroom and in extra-curricular activities and athletics. No senior is eligible unless he has a scholastic average of 89 or above, and then is only voted to membership provided he has been active in one or more phases of our campus life. A Phi Kappa Phi key is, therefore, a stamp of approval on a senior's university career as a whole.

The winner of this honor must have lead a well-rounded life during the three and one-half years he or she has spent on the campus. He must have attended to the prime factor of university life—the acquiring of an education; and at the same time found himself able to derive those benefits which may be obtained through contact with his fellow students in athletics, dramatics, student government, journalism, or whatever it may be.

One often hears of this or that person's perverted tendency to stress outside activities while in college, to become what is known as an "activities hound." And on the other hand, everyone recognizes and pities the "grind" who slaves away on his books without thought for the more practical and healthful aspects of life. The winner of Phi Kappa Phi is neither of these. He is a student who has succeeded in striking a happy medium between scholarship and activities, and has acquired a well-rounded education during his university career. For these reasons, we wish again to congratulate those members of the senior class whose names are announced this morning as winners of Phi Kappa Phi.

The High School Hero

STRANGE as it may seem to the upperclassman, who has already forgotten his freshman days, the semester is not yet old enough to have passed that period in the life of the first year student when he is "down in the mouth." There are many factors contributing to this disappointment among freshmen. Among them are the great difference in teaching methods in the university and high school, the very bigness of the institution as compared with the more personal community of the preparatory school, and the let-down from popular senior to regular, even insignificant, freshman.

The last factor is especially poignant in the case of the high school hero who received a big rush among the fraternities during his first week at school. There is nothing more discouraging to his desire, for popularity than the realization that he, like thousands of others, is a green freshman trying to adjust himself to the complexities of college. Sometimes he quits. Fortunately, more often he acquires insight in the ways of this new world and settles down to play a useful part in it.

The modern Greeks have a beautiful opportunity to revenge themselves on the fish they didn't catch during the rushing season when they encounter them in the inter-fraternity football games. Perhaps we shouldn't have said that. The Tribune will probably now state that Wisconsin fraternity men kill off the freshmen pledged by rival groups.

Wonder how the Chicago Tribune would feel if military training were made optional at the University of Illinois?

BADGER PUCK SQUAD GETS FIRST WORKOUT

The impossibility of warding off the arrival of old king winter was definitely proved yesterday when the Badger puck squad traveled out to the lagoons at Lake Wingre and took an initial workout on the smooth but somewhat precarious ice.

The boys put on their hockey skates and whizzed around the narrow lagoons and took to the ice with an unbounded enthusiasm. They were trucked out to Wingra in company with a couple of cages, and soon more than 30 varsity candidates were trying to shoot the puck into the net.

No Coach Yet

Because no coach has been appointed as yet, the puck men were under the supervision of the senior manager. The customary practice of sending two wingmen and a center through the defense was practiced with no little success.

Of particular interest was the show of ability made by the aspiring sophomore candidates, who spurted about the rink as if to show that they are to be considered in the final reckoning for positions on the sextet.

Don Mitchell, captain of the puck team this season, was not out for practice last night but will take active charge of the squad until a coach is appointed.

BUTTS ASK FUNDS TO MEET UNION PAYMENT

December payment notices are being received by 500 student and 900 alumni subscribers to the Memorial union. In the notice, which takes the form of a letter, Porter Butts, secretary, stresses the seriousness of the present financial situation of the Union.

The letter states:

"To complete the building, the Union committee, on behalf of the subscribers, has undertaken obligations amounting to $116,432.71. Subscribers have paid in to Dec. 1, $57,000.00. Subscribers must still provide $59,432.71.

Part of this sum is already borrowed at 6 per cent. The balance is construction expense which will fall due as the building proceeds. We must meet both exactly on schedule."

Delay in the payment of pledges, according to Butts, means an additional expense in interest charges, postage, and collection overhead. With the completion of the contractor's work a matter of only a few months, Butts urges subscribers to put their December notices "on top of all other bills."

Bulletin Board

This column is for the use of all organizations and university staff members who wish to reach large groups readily. No charge is made for notices. Notices may be brought to the editorial office at 772 Langdon street, or 'phoned to Badger 250, before 5 o'clock of the day preceding publication.

ARDEN CLUB

Prof. Paul Fulcher will talk on Meredith's poetry at the Arden house from 5 until 7 o'clock this Sunday. Supper will be served as usual.

OMIT ST. FRANCIS PROGRAM

Because of the religious convocation at Music hall, tonight the usual program will be omitted at St. Francis house, Episcopalian student headquarters, but cost supper will be served as usual at 6 o'clock.

CALVARY BANQUET

Calvary Lutheran Church will give a banquet Sunday evening at 5:30 in honor of the intermural church team which won the touch football championship. All Lutherans and their friends are invited. Price 25c.

BAPTIST DISCUSSION

Baptist students will hold a discussion on War (illustrated) on Sunday at 6:30 p. m. in the parlors of the church—corner of Carrol and Dayton streets. Social hour at 5; cost supper at 5:45.

Dorothy Galbraith And Marvin Lehmkuhl '28 Announce Engagement

The engagement of Dorothy Galbraith '28, Oak Park, Ill., and Marvin Lehmkuhl '28, executive editor of the Daily Cardinal, was announced Friday evening at a formal dance at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Miss Galbraith is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and the Wisconsin Players. She is enrolled in the course in home economics at the university.

Mr. Lehmkuhl is a member of affiliated with Beta Gamma Sigma, White Spades, Commerce club, and is national honorary commerce fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, and Theta Delta Chi.

Alumni Notes

James F. Case '06 recently completed a survey of the waterways of Poland for the League of Nations. During this survey Mr. Case worked with M. Watier, director general of the ports of France, and M. Nijhoff, consulting hydraulic engineer of the Dutch government.

Dorothy Peterson '23 is culminating a successful career through her appearance this fall in "Dracula," the thriller written by Bran Stoker and presented by Horace Liveright at the Fulton theater in New York. Many critics consider "Dracula" the most successful mystery play of the season.

Rev. John M. Bach '88, who spent five years studying at the Royal Imperial university in Austria after graduation, has spent 34 years in church work in Wisconsin. For the past 11 years he has been at the St. Joseph's Catholic church in Racine. Preceding this time he was at St. Anthony's church in Milwaukee for one year, at Cross Plains for three years, at Jefferson for 11 years, and at Madison for eight years.

Louise Zimmerman '27, who has been active in Camp Fire work for several years, during the past summer took over the duties of field work secretary for the Spokane Camp Fire Girls council, Spokane, Wash. Her office is in the Lindelle building in Spokane. While at the university Miss Zimmerman spent two years in the journalism course and in addition was active in public work on the campus. For one year she was assistant editor of both the Cardinal and the Badger.

Prof. Paul John Weaver '11, director of the Men's Glee club at the University of North Carolina, took the club abroad on a six weeks' tour last summer. The trip was so successful that the club has been engaged for an 11 weeks' trip next summer.

Congressman Beck '03 of Viroqua, who has become known as "Rough and Ready" Joe Beck because of his rise to prominence in Wisconsin politics, has given the LaFollette progressive Republican party much confidence in the coming gubernatorial election.

Social Notes

The social events of the day include a fraternity and sorority dinner and a "cozy" this evening at the Arden club.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega will entertain at a dinner today at the chapter house from 1 to 3 o'clock. Mrs. Julia Ormsby will chaperon.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will give a dinner today at the chapter house. Prof. and Mrs. C. F. Gillen will chaperon.

Arden Club

The Arden club today gives the last of its fireside talks until after the Christmas holidays, at which Mr. Fulcher will speak on Meredith's poetry. Mr. Fulcher is well known on the campus for his brilliant criticism. Supper will be served as usual between 5 and 7 o'clock.

TO SAVE THE SOIL

There are only two ways in which man can radically alter the condition of the earth's surface, says Floods, Forests, and the Future, published by the American Tree association of Washington. One way is through tilling the soil. Poor tillage leads to rapid runoff and soil erosion; good tillage leads to absorption and stability of soil. The other great means of changing surface conditions is through the use or abuse of vegetative cover.

Helen Hinkley '27 Weds Ross Bennett '26 Saturday at West Allis

Helen C. Hinkley '27 and Ross H. Bennett '26 were married Saturday afternoon, Dec. 3, at 4 o'clock at the West Allis Presbyterian church. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Earl L. Hinkley, and the Rev. Merlin Ennis read the marriage service. Ferns and white chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church.

The bride's gown was of white satin in period style, and her veil was of tulle banded with orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Jessie Hinkley '28 attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a period gown of gold taffeta and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Shirley Hinkley, sister of the bride, wore pale yellow taffeta and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom was attended by Harold Sporer '26 as best man. George Hinkley and Stephen Aschenbrenner '26 were the ushers. Helen Erhard '28 played the wedding marches, and Fern Fernholz '28 sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "Because."

A wedding reception was given after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in West Allis.

The bride is affiliated with Phi Chi Theta sorority. The groom attended Beloit college and was graduated from the law course at the university in 1926. He is a member of Gamma Eta Gamma fraternity. They will be at home in Portage where Mr. Bennett is an attorney-at-law.

Wiedenbeck-Moore

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Frances Wiedenbeck '24, Madison, to Loren C. Moore, Chicago, which will take place on Saturday, Jan. 28, in the Grace Episcopal church of this city.

Miss Wiedenbeck is a member of Sigma Lambda, professional art sorority.

Kruse's Present Novel $75,000 Exhibit and Sale of Fur Coats

Special Representative Here Will Show Many New Fur
Tendencies

By special arrangement with one of America's finest fur manufacturers' the Fred W. Kruse Co., 205-7 State street, will offer to the women of Madison and vicinity a $75,000 fur exhibit and sale, Dec. 5-6, in conjunction with their own annual pre-Christmas sale.

A special representative of this fur concern will be in charge of the display in the store. Fur pelts from every corner of the globe, beaver from Canada, fitch from Germany, mink from Japan, Kolinsky from Russia, weasel from China, opossum from Australia, seal from the Arctic regions, muskrat from Alaska, and caracul from Asia will be included in this two-day showing.

Kruse's are the first in Madison to realize the sluggishness of the fur market and to take advantage of it to bring these timely reductions on quality merchandise to its clientele.

Savings in this event will average 33 1-3 to 50 per cent, and it is an opportune occasion for any woman or girl who requires a small, large, or special size to give her measurements to this representative so that he can fit her with the correct model.

A small deposit will reserve any coat included in this grouping.

THE HOUR GLASS

Now that the formal season is in swing, co-ed cramming is more strenuous than for hill exams. And, just as in the scheduled courses, broad understanding makes no impression unless the details are correct. Madison shops are as helpful as sorority exam and topic files; and to take advantage of their suggestions is not only legitimate but expresses a degree of ethical sensitiveness that the boy friend will be quick to understand.

At Manchester's

I found a very unusual evening bag fashioned of gold kid with a diamond shaped insert of rhinestones. For gowns that necessitate an envelope purse instead of a bag on a chain, this same store shows brocade metal envelopes that are just the right size to be carried conveniently. The handkerchief tucked in the corner of an evening bag must be wispy and dainty to carry out the femininity of evening wear. Colored georgette handkerchiefs with embroidery and lace inserts are lovely for elaborate period dresses, but if you are one of those who dress with sophisticated simplicity, you will prefer the fine white linen handkerchiefs with wide rosepoint lace borders. (Of course it is only imitation lace—with genuine rosepoint a handkerchief would be about $75; the ones at MANCHESTER'S are only $2.)

The Dress

And a new frock, of course, will be one of the things you can show the folks when you go back home for vacation, for you'll need a new one for the formals and informals that are going on this week and next. MARGUERITE WESSEL, on State street near Lake, is showing her new frocks especially bought for the co-ed. Crepe, satins, and Georgettes in black and the favored winter colors are all ready for your selection. Dainty collars and cuffs, quaint belts or flares are used to finish many of her frocks, and each one of them possesses that elusive quality—exclusiveness.

Many of her frocks have been reduced 20 per cent this week. Stop in and see the variety of things in dresses, scarfs, and hats she has to offer you, too. Mrs. Wessel also specializes in dressmaking and alterations, so if you have any problems about making your clothes look chic, a talk with her will help you.

The "Hanky"

A dainty, frivolous handkerchief will be an absolute accessory for the formal—flat crepe, crepe de chine, and georgette in pale, pastel shades or vivid futuristic patterns are the filmy materials of the hankies at BURDICK AND MURRAY'S. Lace edging, drawn threads, cross stitching, and embroidery finish the linen handkerchiefs, and rand rolled hems touch off the "party" ones. Prices on these dainty bits of femininity range from 25 cents apiece up to $1.50. Single handkerchiefs in one box, three in box, or just as many as you can use that evening, or can give to your friends for Christmas.

Georgette 'kerchiefs come in boxes with lovely pastel shaded garters or combined with ribbon trimmed shoe trees, from $1.25 to $3. You'll like especially the crepe hand painted ones in rainbow colors that will go with your frock, no matter what color.

The Perfume and Flower

KESSENICH'S lovely evening flowers are bound to tempt you, especially when you see the huge, shimmering chrysanthemums made of gold or silver metallic cloth. They are well worth their price of $8.50, but if you do not care to pay that much, Kessenich's have some other pretty flowers in metallic pastel tints. Did you know that the authoritative Chicago shops are featuring metallic flowers for evening wear?

You yourself must look your best before the accessories you wear can show off to their best advantage. The orchid powder at Kessenich's that both blonde and brunette can use gives a light transparency to the skin in the evening. Brunettes will love the scent of Guerlain's new perfume that is called "Shalimar." Of course, if you are a blonde this perfume will not do for you. But Rosin, who is really Paul Poiret, the famous French designer, has created, "Qui-es-tu?" for you.

Underthings

A thorough foundation is essential in everything—but for the formal it must be exquisite as well. For a feeling of complete formal ensemble, you'll want one of the dainty dance sets of bandeau and step-ins that the CO-OP lingerie department is showing now. Of soft crepe de chine, these Betty Jane undies come in pale pastel shades of peach, flesh, and orchid, according to shading of the dress. The dainty lace insets and borders, or fluffy georgette ruffles give the little girl feeling of a "real party" insistently enough to carry through the festiveness completely.

The Face

Before you even think of donning

the frock and slippers a visit at MARINELLO'S should occupy your time. A facial will make your skin feel smooth and healthful, while a soft, beminine finger wave will enhance your attractiveness more than ever. There is a girl there called "Miss Anne" who is simply a marvel at finger waving. A ring over the phone, and Miss Anne will take care of you, so you'll feel confident that you look your best for the evening.

Bonbons

What is so romantic as an old-fashioned lover who brings bonbons when he comes to call; and, if he's a finished courtier, he'll buy them at THE CHOCOLATE SHOP. This week's feature is delightful enough to tempt even the co-ed to invest, to help ease the excitement of preparing for the dance. Stuffed fruit delicacies from all over the world, among them Italian cherries, figs from Smyrna, pineapples from Porto Rico, or dates from Egypt (and the Hill). They come daintily packed in one-, two-, or three-pound containers, which can be utilized long after the fruits are gone.

Be romantic, boys—the girls enjoy it—start off with a dashing thought like this before the formal comes off.

And now to the dance itself. I hope, my dears, that the party will be gorgeous, and that the princess' dreams will be realized, as those of ROSEMARIE.
