

The daily cardinal. Vol. XXXVII, No. 85

January 14, 1928

Madison, Wisconsin: University of Wisconsin, January 14, 1928

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/YSX6ORO7MD6K38E>

<http://rightsstatements.org/vocab/InC/1.0/>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

WEATHER
Mostly cloudy today and tomorrow, probably rain today. Much colder tomorrow.

The Daily Cardinal

VOL. XXXVII, No. 85

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON SATURDAY, JAN. 14, 1928

PHONES
Editorial B. 250
Business B. 6606
Night B. 1137

PRICE 5 CENTS

Six Assistant Chairmen Choose 'Dates' for Prom

Aides to Momsen Pick Queens; All But One Wisconsin Students

With the date of the annual junior prom just three weeks off, the assistant chairmen for the dance, in accordance with the custom, last night announced the choice of their partners for the mid-year social fete. This year all but one of the assistant queens are Wisconsin students, past or present.

Jane Fried '30 will accompany Fred Jensen. Her home is in Chicago and she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Only One Non-Badger

Kenneth Crowell's queen for the dance will be Pauline K. Meyer, a senior from Platteville. She is affiliated with the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

The only non-Wisconsin girl to be chosen is Ione E. Yarwood, who will attend the prom with Wallace Jensen. Miss Yarwood's home is in Elgin, Ill.

James Hanks will take Virginia Tingle '30 to what will probably be the last prom held in the state capitol. Miss Tingle, who is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, lives in Evanston, Ill.

Miss Cahoon to Come

An alumna, Miss Dyrell Cahoon '27, of Baraboo, is William Slavic's choice of a queen. She is a member of the Alpha Phi sorority.

Francis Woolard will escort Bernice Altpeter '29, who is from Wauwatosa and is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She has been active in junior class work, acting as chairman of the poster committee for the prom.

Jack Mason Writes Best Prom Fox Trot

"Who Makes Me Happy?" yesterday won first place in the prom fox trot contest. The words and music are both by Jack W. Mason '29, composer of all the music in Haresfoot's show, "Feature That!". He will receive $25 prize money.

The second prize of $15 was awarded to Robert Scott '28, who submitted "Honey Dear, I Love You." The judges of the contest were Cecil Brodt, Bunny Lyons, August Backus '29, Lee O'Brian, and Robert Pratt '29, chairman of the fox trot committee.

Movie Tells How Air Freezes Ice

Art of Glass Making Also Shown in Chemistry Exhibit

Liquid air is the power that makes ice cubes in electric refrigerators was the information contained in the moving picture on liquification of air given at the Chemistry building yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the chemistry department. In collaboration with this, another moving picture on the manufacture of glass bottles was shown.

In order to reduce air to a liquid, compression is used. The air is expanded and cooled in a refrigerator to a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. It is then taken to the liquifier and expanded and cooled to a lower temperature.

Part of the air is drawn off in a liquid state. The main use that liquid air is put to is electric refrigerators which have come into popular use in the last five years.

Glass making is one of the oldest arts in the world. It was known even in the time of the pharaohs, when glass was blown by hand. Little progress in the blowing of glass has been made until recently.

Michael J. Owens, in 1899, perfected machine-made glass. Sand, soda, and lime are used in the mixture for glass bottles. The mixture is fed to a furnace which in turn feeds two bottle machines. The bottle machines suck up the molten glass from a revolving tank and form the bottle. The next step is the catching of the bottle, red hot, by clappers which deposit it in the leir for cooling. After five hours, the bottle can be packed for shipment.

Men Join French Foreign Legion To Begin Life Anew---Pechkoff

Legionnaire

Maj. Zinovi Pechkoff

"This is the secret of the French foreign legion. There is an opportunity to help men, not only to command in a military way, but to possess the hearts of the men you lead," said the short, crisp, erect little man, Maj. Zinovi Pechkoff, soldier of fortune from the legion, who addressed an audience which jammed Bascom theater yesterday afternoon.

After sketching the history, service, and personnel of the legion, Maj. Pechkoff turned to the personal side of the unit.

"But the men who do not belong to any nation—men from Norway, Sweden, South America, anywhere—who are they, where have they come from, what is their past?

"You see, when you enlist in the French foreign legion, no questions are asked. You give the name you choose to give and the profession and age you choose to give." And the major shrugged a sharp, incisive shrug.

"I have seen many come to forget a sad past, some failure, something within themselves that asks to go far,

(Continued on Page 8)

Haresfoot Boys are Simply Too Darling, Co-ed Reports

Wisconsin Students Must Get Licenses

According to the Wisconsin license bureau, all student drivers who are residents of the state of Wisconsin must have drivers' licenses before they will be able to drive any car.

Beginning next week all drivers will be stopped and licenses will have to be shown whether the students are driving state-licensed cars or out-of-state cars. Non-state residents, however, will not be required to get licenses.

These licenses may be obtained today and next week at the Doty street bureau. By filling out a blank and paying a small fee, licenses may be procured in a short time.

PROF. ZEHNPFENNING DIES AT HOSPITAL

George Zehnpfenning, a member of the seed department of the university college of agriculture for the past 15 years, died Wednesday morning at a local hospital after a several months' illness of kidney trouble.

He was born at Cross Plains, Wis., Jan. 2, 1872, and was married to Catherine Carmody. He was a member of company 36, coast artillery, in the Spanish-American war.

Besides his widow, he is survived by four children, Ila and Adean, at home, Mrs. V. B. Hyslop, Madison, and Mrs. Nelson O. Brandt of Atlanta, Ga. His home was at 107 S. Mill street.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fitch funeral parlors, the Rev. Leo officiating. Interment will be held in the Holy Cross cemetery.

The pallbearers will be Sergt. William G. Atkins, Edward Klief, N. E. Behrend, Frank Duckert, George Joachim, and John Kammer.

Les Beaux Arts Ball Bids Out; Specialties, Decorations Planned

Bids for Les Beaux Arts ball are now out. There are to be two sales, one for the students alone, and the other for the friends of art students. Each art student is allowed to invite one other couple.

The decorations committee for the ball, under the chairmanship of Ruth Kellogg, '29, has agreed upon the decorations to be used in the Crystal ballroom on Feb. 17, the night of the ball.

In order to carry out the Russian style, the ballroom is to be hung with soft silks of hue. Revolving, varicolored floodlights will cast lights and shadows upon the draped silks and the dancing couples clad in Russian dress of many periods. Three or four feature acts will be sponsored to entertain the "Russians" between dances. A song number and a dance number are among the feature entertainments of the evening already scheduled.

She Could Cry at Waste of Clothes on Just Mere Men

BY MARY LOU

My dear, I think those Haresfoot boys are just too darling! I mean I actually do! The costumes! I was ready to roll over and butter myself with dismay at the sight of those simply stunning outfits all wasted on men. Could you bear it?

My dear, it was all about movie people. I always think there is something so fascinating about movie people, don't you? I mean, they're so awfully—well—fascinating. It seems that this Jack Vincent (who is really Franklin Prinz, and, my dear, with the most heavenly voice) has a yen to break into the movies. And, of course, his sister too.

So they have a really hectic time to convince their father—the great, big butter-and-egg man—to finance a production. Well, what do they do but invite the most fascinating movie people to their house. Actually!

And can you imagine, that clever Don Abert is Eleanor Flynn. The most snaky attire. And simply huge pearls. It's too rare. And the vamp! Kerb Earle is simply too exotic. I mean he actually is! But talk about rare! I thought I'd die at the press agent. Wilfred Roberts, and such a line. Honestly, my dear, he could sell you a hairnet! But did you know that Jimmy Curtis has a dimple?

And I nearly popped a button at Chester. The butler, you know. I mean, he's really Roy Goodlad. And the way he and Eleanor hit it off in the first act! But the director! The most apoplectic creature, with a monocle and the most intriguing accent. Only it was David Sachs. Oh, and my dear, the orchestra! Actually, the hottest thing! Just gorgeous!

Actually, I've never seen anything like the chorus. Such trick steps. And the men! Stunning! But the costumes, my dear, that were utterly wasted on the girls. Simply ravishing. I could cry! But they sang the cutest songs, all about blue eyes, and Japan knees, and Englishmen, and everything. And what do you think? That little Philip Colehour actually did a toe dance! Can you bear it?

Well, my dear, after all the excitement, their movie is a flop. I mean, it's positively putrid. Imagine! But what do you suppose? Chester turns out to be a promising star! Can you feature that?

Haresfoot will close its 1927-1928 season today when it presents two performances, one this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock and another this evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Parkway theater. Tickets for this evening's performance will be held only until 5 o'clock.

ON THE EDITORIAL PAGE

1. Drivers' Licenses for Students.
2. Fascism.
3. Ingerson at Iowa.
4. Other Editors Say.

Rebates Will Remain Same If Co-op Methods Change, Grady States

Wanted: A Bully for the Villain Part in the Pre-Prom Play

Wanted—A good looking bully to torment the life out of "The Poor Nut."

Prof. W. C. Troutman, director of the pre-prom play, "The Poor Nut," is searching far and wide for a man to take the part of Spike Hoyt, the villain of the comedy, and has now decided to hold a special tryout at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the Bascom theater. The man formerly cast for the role of Spike is unable to play.

"A deep-voiced, hard-boiled athlete—that's what I want," declared Prof. Troutman. "Someone who is tall, heavy-set, and has a very self-confident air. If the man looks the part, previous dramatic training is not essential."

Governor Asks Aid on Pardons

Zimmerman Speaks at Meeting of Unitarian Laymen's League

"In my experience as governor of Wisconsin, there is nothing more interesting than the pardon cases that have come up before me," said Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman last night at a meeting of the Robert G. Siebecker chapter of the Unitarian Laymen's league at the Unitarian parish house.

"A state places a great deal of pardon in its governor's hands when it grants him this power of parole. In my experience I know of no task harder to handle nor none that presents as many interesting problems.

"Some states have pardon boards that share in this work, but in Wisconsin, as you know, the responsibility is with one man, the governor. A great many applications are made, and it is necessary to devote nearly a week of each month to their consideration.

"Of course, a considerable number of these applications are without merit, and are denied almost immediately, but, in my opinion, I think a better handling of cases deserving of attention could be brought about if there were a board to aid me in this work."

Gov. Zimmerman also outlined a plan for the centralization of the state's charitable and penal institutions, which he termed "an idea for the future." He stated that a great saving could be effected if these numerous institutions, which are now scattered throughout the state, could be brought together on a single large piece of land and placed under a single management. Although it would mean the abandoning of a number of buildings used at the present time, the governor declared that it was his belief that in 25 years the plan would pay for itself.

PROF. OLSON BUYS NEW LARGE HOME

Prof. K. E. Olson, assistant professor of journalism, and Mrs. Olson have purchased a new home at 1709 Jefferson street, formerly known as the "Lokeen home," a 10-room vapor heated, brick and tile structure. The home was formerly the property of the Capital City bank. Both parties were represented by the Gover-Colter company, 22 N. Carroll street.

FRAZIER HEAD OF ENGINEER GROUP

Arthur H. Frazier, senior in the school of engineering, was elected president of the university bureau of the American Society of Civil Engineers at a meeting held Thursday night. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Robert Poss '30 and Franklin J. Summerill '28, secretary and treasurer.

Kremer Not to Start Action Until Conference With Firm's Attorneys

"Even though a change were made in the method of paying rebates, it would not change the amount," said E. J. Grady, manager of the Co-op, in a statement yesterday to The Daily Cardinal on the controversy which is raging as to whether business methods of the Co-op violate the provisions of the trading stamp law.

An opinion handed down Thursday by the attorney general rules that the rebate system of the Co-op violates the law.

Attorneys for the Co-op, in a prior opinion, held that rebates as handled by this firm are not in violation of the trading stamp act. It is the question of which opinion is correct which has led C. J. Kremer, dairy and food commissioner, who represents the state, to threaten court action if the Co-op declines to change its business methods.

Could Not Reach Attorneys
"I tried to reach the Co-op's attorneys today," Mr. Kremer said yesterday, "but they were out of the city. I will do nothing until I have conferred with them. If an agreement cannot be reached, I will start criminal action against the company. I want the suit to be a friendly one, however, and stipulations will be made wherever possible."

Action awaits the return of W. J. P. Aberg, chairman of the board of trustees of the Co-op, who is expected to be out of the city for a week.

At the office of Sanborn, Blake, and Aberg, attorneys for the firm, it was thought yesterday that there is a possibility that the Co-op will agree to change its business methods to avoid any court procedure Mr. Kremer may institute.

Case Is Year Old
The attorney general's opinion, which was written by Frank W. Kuehl assistant, and approved by Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds, was requested by Mr. Kremer. The case arose almost a year ago, but at that time a difference of opinion came up whether or not the Co-op was a genuine co-operative institution.

After an investigation, however, Mr. Kremer told the attorney general that the element of co-operation in the Co-op was abandoned in 1914 when a trust agreement was made and since that time none of the holders of membership cards have any "proprietary interest in the business or any claim to profits enforceable by the court."

Modrall Heads Livestock Show

Annual Show to be Held at Stock Pavilion February 1

James R. Modrall '28 has been chosen chairman for the 1928 Little International Livestock show which will be held at the Stock pavilion on the evening of Feb. 1.

The following committees have been appointed to assist:

Night show—Gerald Burghart, chairman; Ted Frost, Jean Webster, Arnold Ullstrop, Robert Proctor, and Curtis Ellickson.

Awards—Allen Bibby, chairman; Mark H. Mitchell, Al Wojta, Richard Barden, and Ira N. Fender.

Publicity—Jerome J. Henry, chairman; Harold Cate, Helen Zeimet, Louise Thomsen, Gertrude Schmidt, and Adolph Hendrickson.

Finance and tickets—Richard Brackett, chairman; Lester Davis, Ed Delwiche, Willis Freitag, and David Holt.

Programs—Roland C. Hartman, chairman; Donald Zellmer, Frank Henry, Dale Aebischer, and Vernon Taylor.

Horses—Fred Burgy, chairman, and Harry Thoma; beef cattle—Reuben James, chairman; dairy cattle—Floyd Wolberg, chairman; Ralph Hadson, and Milton Wussow; swine—Roscoe Starkey, chairman, and Donald Vincent; sheep—George Humphrey, chairman, and Henry Heferbecker.

Summer Session Faculty Chosen

Department of Education Secures Lectures From Entire Country

The summer school faculty in the department of education has been chosen and the courses to be offered have been arranged. The catalogs will be out in March.

Following are the names of the faculty:

Profs. F. L. Clapp, Alanson Edgerton, John G. Fowlkes, M. C. O'Shea, Frank C. Sharp, W. L. Uhl, chairman; associate professors, A. S. Barr, Curtis Merriman, M. H. Willing; assistant professors, I. C. Davis, J. M. Dorrans, C. E. Ragsdale.

Lecturers, Miss Grace Aldrich, Elizabeth, N. J.; H. J. Baker, Detroit, Mich., public schools; W. F. Book, University of Indiana; Miss Essie Chamberlain, Oak Park, Ill.; J. S. Georges, University of Chicago; J. T. Giles, supervisor of high schools, Wisconsin department of public instruction; A. R. Graham, director of Madison vocational school; E. D. Grizzell, University of Pennsylvania; Miss Regina Groves, head of the commercial department, Madison vocational school; Miss Delia Kibba, supervisor of elementary schools, Wisconsin department of public instruction; Miss Elma A. Neal, San Antonio, Tex.; Miss Lucy Oppen, American Child Health Association, N. Y.; W. J. Osburn, supervisor of high schools, Wisconsin department of public instruction; Miss Margaret Roberts, Fond du Lac, Wis., schools; R. H. Rodgers, Milwaukee vocational school; Clay D. Slinker, Des Moines, Ia., public schools; H. C. Thayer, supervisor of teachers' training, Wisconsin state board of vocational education; O. H. Pfenzke, Wisconsin department of public instruction; W. W. Thiesen, Milwaukee, Wis., schools; R. B. Thiel, Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis.; T. L. Torgerson, Mrs. Jennie McMullen, Wisconsin state board of vocational education.

'Get Slim' Nostrums Are Dangers to Health, Doctor Warns Reducers

"Lying advertising of patent medicine is what sells it," asserted Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, professor of pharmacology at the University of Wisconsin, in his lecture on patent medicines recently.

"These patent medicines are not patent medicines, they are misnomers. The name alone is patented. Well-known drugs or no drug at all compose these medicines. Patent medicines are sold on the claim of what they will do rather than what they contain.

"'Get slim' remedies are very dangerous and are apt to ruin the health permanently. Many common patent medicines and beauty preparations on the market today, when analyzed, were found to contain such ingredients as boric acid, epsom salts, and vegetable extracts. The cost of these is cheap, the retail price high, and the labels promise many things."

Many of these so-called health restorers and builders selling today depend entirely on alcohol for any action, according to Dr. Loevenhart.

How the worst type of people in society falsely advertise their medicines and pile up fortunes by preying on the ignorant was shown by American Medical slides with which Dr. Loevenhart illustrated his talk. Trick wording promising refunds trap people into paying a large sum for the medicine before they may send back for a small refund. Letter testimonials written by "cured" or "helped" patients induce people to try a patent medicine. These so-called letters written in confidence from people asking help are often sold outright to letter brokers when the company dissolves or is caught for using the mails to defraud.

"The labels on the patent medicines are just within the law," Dr. Loevenhart said. "After the food and drug act was passed, many medicine names were changed because the drugs specified were never in them. Prosecution means merely changing the name of the medicine, since it only costs about $10 or so to copyright a name."

Advertisers in the Daily Cardinal know what students want—buy from them.

Chicago Costumers May Bring Costumes for Beaux Arts Ball

Well-known costume houses from Chicago and Milwaukee may establish themselves in Madison to furnish costumes for the Beaux Arts ball to be held Feb. 17 in the Hotel Lorraine Crystal ballroom.

Don Abert, assistant chairman of the ball, and Prof. W. T. Hickinson, applied arts department, are going to personally look over the stocks of these houses before any contract to bring them here is made.

The costumers will bring the best of their stock, staying in Madison three or four days before the ball. The idea of having the costumes represent a certain type or period in history was given up by the Beaux Arts in a special meeting yesterday in the Industrial Arts building.

It was decided that there would be more originality if each person plan his own costume. The decorations will be decided by the Arts ball committee, Ruth Kellogg, chairman. Betty Simons is chairman of the costume committee.

$1,000,000 Gift to Help Science

Albert Lasker Gives Sum to Chicago University to Fight Disease

Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the United States shipping board, and his wife, Mrs. Flora W. Lasker, have put at the disposal of the University of Chicago a fund of $1,000,000 which will be used for the purpose of increasing the life expectancy of persons of 50 or more years of age.

With its aid, scientists hope to bring degenerative diseases under as great a degree of control as already has been established over contagious and infectious maladies.

Bright's disease, cancer, and heart afflictions, all common to persons over 50, will be the special object of research.

Commenting on the gift, President Max Mason of the university said more than 200,000 persons died in the United States last year from heart disease.

"While the life expectancy of young people has been increased," he said, "persons of middle age live no longer on the average now than they did 100 years ago."

"Bright's disease, cancer, and other over 50" maladies killed thousands of persons last year. Research in this branch of medicine has been restricted because of concentration on other diseases."

Lasker called the $1,000,000 fund an "initial endowment," and it was believed the donation might be increased. His brief announcement follows: "Following the brilliant researches of Koch and Pasteur, it was natural that most of the creative work of medicine was on infectious diseases, and mankind has derived untold advantages. Now that the pace of discovery in this field is slackening, it is reasonable to direct effort toward the diseases which appear in later life as evidenced by premature decay of the vital organs."

READ CARDINAL ADS

"Come in and Browse"

Among Our

Used Books

10c 25c 50c

and up

Reference Books on All Subjects

Fiction-Sets-Misc.

Fair Prices—Friendly Service at

BROWN

BOOK SHOP
621-623 STATE

Learn to Dance
Fox Trot, Waltz,
Kinkajou, etc.
Taught By
Eva Marie Kehl
Dancing Instructor
Studio Hours—9 a.m.-10 p.m.
337 W. Johnson F-4868

Greek Societies Plan Co-operation

Leland Stanford Groups to Buy Food Under University Supervision

Plans for co-operative marketing among the fraternities and sororities at Leland Stanford University were completed recently. The aim of the plan is to establish quantity buying under the control of the university so as to get better food and general provisions at a discount.

Similar plans tried during the last 15 years have failed due to lack of co-operation among the members, but encouraged by its success in other schools, the university is attempting the arrangement again.

Other interfraternity council activities at other schools include the recent resolutions passed by the Interfraternity Council at Michigan University in which any fraternity missing two successive council meetings is threatened with suspension, and a $10 fine imposed upon application for reinstatement.

Michigan is also to hold an Interfraternity Bridge Tournament to promote better acquaintance and understanding between the houses of the campus. This is a plan originated at Chicago.

The interfraternity council of Northwestern University decided in a recent meeting that its dream of the future was a campus policy that would be free from partizanship. A general mass meeting of all fraternity men held Monday night drew plans for a rushing program for the coming semester that tended to eliminate politics for the benefit of the campus as a whole.

mind and marshalls it up into opinions and attitudes of his own.

He went on to explain that a "bull-session" is not a "smut-session." Only when a man takes part in a session with the wrong attitude of mind, according to the dean, does he fail to get material value from the talk-fest.

Thousands of dollars are spent each week by university students. Advertise in the Cardinal to reach this trade.

The largest selling quality pencil in the world

VENUS
17 black degrees
3 copying
At all dealers
Buy a dozen
give best service and longest wear.
Plain ends, per doz. $1.00
Rubber ends, per doz. 1.20
American Pencil Co., 215 Fifth Ave., N.Y.
Makers of UNIQUE Thin Lead
Colored Pencils in 12 colors—$1.00 per doz.

PERMANENT WAVES

Special $8.00

Done by Expert

Rosemary Beauty Shop

521 State St.

--Shows Start At--

1—3—5—7—9

--- STARTING TODAY ---

Love! Thrills! A Thousand Laughs!

A fascinating picture of life inside the walls of the great military academy—its loves, thrills, humor, drama. William Haines will win your heart as the breezy youth who finds that West Point discipline interferes with love and football.

Haines hands you a flock of laughs in this one! And the real Army football scenes will get you up cheering!

WILLIAM HAINES in WEST POINT

with

JOAN CRAWFORD

*A
Metro-
Goldwyn-
Mayer
PICTURE*

Daily Reports
of all
Badger Teams

CARDINAL-SPORTS

Athletics in the Collegiate World

Cardinal Mat Men Win From Iowa 16-11, as Fortney Downs Rival

Badgers Do Not Triumph
Until Final Fall of Meet

BY AARON ARNOLD

Going into the last match of the evening with the score 11 to 11, Thomas Fortney came through to win from Gilchrist on a fall in 6 minutes 40 second in the hardest fought match of the evening, to give Wisconsin a 16-11 victory. Outweighted by 30 pounds, the smaller man managed to elude the cornhusker and pinned his opponent in skillful fashion.

The victory was the first Big Ten match of the season for Wisconsin, and came as a complete surprise, almost more to Iowa than to the fighting Badgers. Wisconsin having suffered two defeats in practice meets, was only given an outside chance.

Louis Smitz, 1927 conference champion, started off the fireworks with a bang when he wrestled Edwards to a fall in five minutes, forty seconds. Smitz, shortly after the bout opened, had his taller opponent almost pinned, but failed and then took his turn at fighting off the Iowan. A minute later he decisively pinned Edwards to receive the enthused cheers of a wildly clamorous crowd.

In the next match Dave Holt succumbed to the efforts of Weir, conference champion, after ten minutes of wiping up the various corners of the mat. Weir had a one minute, 45 second time advantage, and was given the decision.

In a test of strength, Arthur Smith was awarded a draw with Michaels after two three minute overtime periods. Each team was given 1 1-2 points, which brought the score to Wisconsin 6 1-2, Iowa 4 1-2.

Captain Harold Meyers came through splendidly to beat Montgomery by a decision. Meyers tried desperately to gain a fall but could not pin his man who resorted to crawling off the mat every time he found the going hot.

In a fast bout Albert Tiffany's struggle with Jarrard was called a draw. They started at a fast pace, faster than any of the preceding matches. Early in the match, Jarrard got the advantage and had Tiffany in bad shape, but the latter finally succeeded in breaking away, and took the offensive to give his opponent a bit of his own medicine. At the end of the allotted time, Jarrard had a forty second advantage, not enough to give him the match, and they wrestled through two overtime periods. The referee called it a draw to end the festivities.

Captain L. Beers of Iowa pinned Leland Heywood in 8 minutes, 41 seconds, and then skipped over the ropes for the benefit of the unenthusiastic crowd. The score was tied, the stage was set, Thomas Fortney was the Badgers only hope for the victory.

The crowd greeted the heavyweights somewhat anxiously for the smaller Fortney was tremendously handicapped. What he lacked in weight he made up for in skill, and after staging the most exciting match of the evening, he pinned his opponent. The crowd found it a fitting climax to the evening.

Results—115, L. Smitz (W) over W. Edwards, fall 125, R. Weir (I) over D. Holt (W) decision; 135, Smith (W), R. Michaels (I), draw; 145, H. Meyers, Capt. (W) over A. Montgomery (I), decision; 158, A. Tiffany, (W), R. Jarrard (I), draw; 175, L. Beers, Capt. (I), over L. Heywood (W), fall; Heavyweight, Fortney (W), over J. Gilchrist (I), fall. Referee, J. G. Kallas.

FORMER STUDENT OPENS SHOE SHOP

C. H. Lovendahl, formerly a student in the university, where he was enrolled in civil engineering, has opened the Diamond "L" shoe shop at 411 W. Gilman street, thereby realizing a dream of freshman days.

Mr. Lovendahl has been associated with the manufacture of shoes since boyhood, when he spent his spare time learning the methods of shoe manufacturing in the factory with which his father was associated.

After finishing high school, he abandoned the craft and came to the university to study civil engineering. He found that course little to his liking, however, and came to the conclusion that "the shoemaker should stick to the last."

Wisconsin Gymnasts Set Scenery for Big Revenge Play Tonight

A pleasant little gymnastic meet is in store for fans tonight at 7:45 in the Armory, when the Badger team will make a grim effort to avenge a previous defeat handed to it by the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., who have come to Madison for their return meet.

An 18.5-point margin, by which the Badger boys lost last time, has completely failed to convince them that they are the inferior team, and tonight every man will be doing his work as though visions of promised delicacies lie before him.

Badgers Seek Gore

Just what a feast this will make, no one knows, but the eats evidently seem to be on the Milwaukee club, and their men will have to be in fine fettle tonight to turn away the hungry Badgers.

Coach "Art" Masley has been giving his men enough hard training during the last two weeks to work their appetites up to a fine pitch and their bodies up to fine shape, and only one thing will satisfy the Wisconsin team tonight—victory.

The meet with Milwaukee will close the Badger preparatory season, and Feb. 11 the team journeys down to Purdue for its first conference meet. Purdue was defeated here last year and the team is not adverse to repeating the performance this season.

"Y" Has Same Team

The same team that represented Milwaukee two weeks ago will undoubtedly contest for them again. They are: Wilmott, E. Zarnow, J. Zarnow, Grunwald, Keller, C. Meyer, Walsh, Nielson, Kuritz, Babischak, and Lohrman.

The Badgers will be represented by the following men:

Horizontal bars—Neller, Hinderliter, and Rusch.

Side horse—Brill, Bartelt, and Kraut.

Rings—Neller, Hinderliter, and Rusch.

Parallel bars—Neller, Hinderliter, and Hayward.

Tumbling—Kraut, Rhodes, and Bartelt.

Club swinging—Brill.

10-CENT TAX ON TIMBER LAND

Revenues from taxation of forest crop lands should go into the general funds of the towns in whose territory the lands are located, the attorney general has advised the state conservation commission.

In order to encourage the growth of timber as a farm crop, the state has made it taxable only on a flat rate basis of 10 cents an acre.

To this 10 cents acreage tax, the state pays into the town treasury an additional 10 cents per acre to compensate the town for loss of revenue.

Varsity, Frosh Trackmen Compete in Trial Meet This Afternoon

Following the swimming meet today, Wisconsin varsity and frosh track candidates will vie in separate meets to determine the yearling and varsity teams. The competition is scheduled to get under way promptly at 3:30 o'clock, with the pole vault and shot put events.

Coach T. E. Jones is concerned with this initial tryout because he feels that it will be his best opportunity to look over the prospects for the season and to judge the condition of the varsity men competing.

Lack Material

Coach Jones believes that the competition will be a great benefit to the up and coming varsity candidates. First reports show that Wisconsin is suffering from a lack of material.

In the high jump, Bill Monson has been working steadily and appears to have the necessary sprightliness. Things look brighter in the high hurdles with Pahlmeyer working them as a veteran. He has been putting in some good hard hours of work recently.

Erickson Gone

Another event in which the Badgers

Swimming Team Meets First Test in Tank Today

Chicago Squad Opposes Wisconsin at 2:30 This Afternoon; Both Strong

Bent on opening their Big Ten season in a successful manner, Wisconsin's swimming team will take to the water this afternoon at 2:30, and see what can be done with an equally determined Chicago squad.

Dope on the meet is scarce, since neither team has faced conference competition. Chicago last year placed above Wisconsin in the Big Ten meet, but this year the Badgers have a squad of men who are point-getters, and that is precisely what they will be after today.

Kratz Heads List

In Capt. Kratz, the Badgers have a swimmer who should stand in the tank as a figure five, since in two years of competition he has rarely taken other than a first place, and is not adverse to keeping up this fine record.

Pederson, who in his spare moments is acting as assistant swimming coach, is a reliable man, with plenty of speed and stamina, and will aid the Badgers considerably in the 160 yard relay.

Tanaka, a last year's veteran, and Crowley, a comer from the freshman team, have both shown good form this year, and are among the best speed merchants on the Badger team.

Strong Scoring Team

Add to these men, the ability of Davis, Lang, McGovern, Kinkead, Davis, Vinson, Von Maltitz, Wheatley, Cuisinier, and Windsey, and one may easily realize why the Wisconsin team is regarded as a star-less one with plenty of point-securing power behind it.

In addition to the regular swimming meet, the water polo teams of the two schools will tangle, and thrills should be found here aplenty. The Badgers will be led by Capt. Scott Stewart, and since the Cardinal water-dogs have been practicing a great deal in the past few weeks, the invading Maroons will have to show their best form.

The Chicago squad, coached by E. W. McGillivray, will be represented by 18 men today, many of whom are veterans, and they, too, will be on edge to sink the Badgers.

The men who will compete today in the meet are:

Wisconsin—

Relay—Davis, Lang, Tanaka, Crowley, and Pederson. Breast stroke—Kratz, McGovern, and Kinkead. 40 yard dash—Davis and Vinson. 100 yard dash—Crowley and Tanaka. 440 yard dash—Wierkers and Windsey. Back stroke—Bailey and Von Maltitz. Diving—Wheatley and Cuisinier. Medley relay—Lang, Kratz, Kinkead, and McGovern.

Chicago—Relay, 40 yard dash, and 100 yard dash—Faris, Rittnehouse, Stephenson, Lavizzarei, Plimpton, and Szold. Breast stroke—Mygda and Getzoo. 440 yard dash—Krogh, Szold, and Campbell. Back stroke—Stephenson and Bay. Diving—Fellinger, Faris, Mygda, and Rittnehouse.

will find themselves weak is the half-mile. Moe has been trying for the half, and seems to have improved much. Walters, who is ineligible at the present time, will compete today, and promises to be the winner of that event.

The distance races, with such men as Zola, Bullamore, Burgess, Fink, Wall, Chamberlin, and Steenis running, will comprise the most interesting part of the program this afternoon. John Petaja, Wisconsin's miler, will have little or no competition in his event.

Center on Dash

The race which will be watched with the greatest interest is the 40-yard dash. Today's race will decide as to the sprinting ability of Capt. Gil Smith this year. Smith was going at a fast pace last year, and if he is in condition will be one of the best dash men in the conference.

Another race which promises to give fast competition is the 440-yard dash. In this event Kanalz, Ramsey, Dougan, Arne, Smith, and others of this caliber, will vie for honors, and such

HERE'S the DOPE

HOW TO ATTEND A SWIMMING MEET SUCCESSFULLY

Much has not been written on the proper technique of swimming meet attendance, which is expected to be one of the fashionable vogues among the shore-line set this season. The art of attending a swimming meet successfully is difficult, but can be easily acquired if proper instructions are provided. Try and find the proper instructions.

Attendance on the swimming meet may be either singly, in couples, or in droves, no exchanges permitted during sale. Proper behavior begins at the Phi Lambda Omicron Pi house when you pick up the lady who is to be bored with your uncultivated remarks during the evening. Show your independence by shouting up the stairs instead of using the bells. They're probably out of order.

Swimming meets may be held in many places, but they work best in some sort of water. For this reason, proceed at a dog-trot to the gymnasium. Tickets will be helpful in gaining admission, though not absolutely essential.

Once inside, take a seat. This is an important point often neglected even by the veteran swimming-meet attenders. It counts for everything in your success, especially if it entails climbing over four tiers of closely packed individuals who will be delighted to have you among them, although they may pretend otherwise.

After a small amount of practice, you will be able to master these preliminary exercises almost perfectly. The rest is more difficult. From your seat it is essential that you recognize all important acquaintances present, including the third assistant prom chairman, the editor of the Badger, the chairman of the sophomore shuffle, etc., etc., etc.—e-uh.

The girl friend will want to know how in the world they swim 40 yards in a 20-yard tank. According to the decision in Hull vs. Hooligan, C. P. D., x-39-y, F. S. I. P., No. 30303030, you are required to answer.

At the start of the 200-yard breast stroke, just before the boys jump off, wave your arms wildly and shout, "Attaboy, Wratz, go get 'em," or some such refined phrase. This constitutes brilliant technique.

If you have ever been on the same dance floor with Stan Wheatley, you'll probably know him. When he comes up to do the three and one-half forward Gaynor in the diving events, don't fail to say, "Hello, Stan, let's see you show 'em this time." Considered the last work in dignified cheering.

The remainder of the space so generously allotted to us today will be taken up between a consideration of the Minnesota basketball game and anything else that turns up. Way up there in the Swedish province, the home folks are preparing for a heavy diet of field goals and free throws. The Gophers make it a point to enjoy beating somebody from Wisconsin on any and every occasion when the Fates will permit. But that's not saying that the Fates always permit.

a galaxy of stars gives promise of speed.

Pair of Frosh

In the freshman competition, there are two notable men who will compete. The first of these is a lad named Davidson, who runs the 440-yard dash in his spare time. One of his performances this year was a 54.6 seconds quarter which sets a new annex record for freshman track. Inasmuch as the varsity annex record is only 53.4 seconds, Davidson promises to develop into a valuable addition to future varsity teams.

Another yearling of ability is Johny Bell, who has formed the consistent habit of cleaning up in the half mile. Bell holds the state record for his distance last year.

Gophers Seek to Garble Cardinal Cage Standings

Wisconsin Five at Minneapolis Tonight; Play Illini Monday

What chance Wisconsin may have to win the Big Ten basketball championship will be determined largely tonight and Monday night when the Badgers play Minnesota and Illinois, respectively, or respectfully.

The game with Minnesota tonight was thought at the start of the season to be an easy one, but at the present time it is far from that. The Gophers beat Iowa by a one-point margin in their first conference game of the season, and the Hawks were supposedly one of the best.

Gophers Threaten

With a new coach this year the Minnesota five promises to make up for the prestige that it lost on the court the past two years. The main trouble was the lack of a good coach and apparently the Gophers have now found what they needed most.

Although Michigan has been hailed as the giants of the conference the Gophers are not far behind. Williams at center will have an easy time getting the tip off over Foster and this alone will give the Gophers an advantage that sometimes counts considerably.

Two Grid Men

Minnesota has two football players on the first team that promise to give the Cardinal midgets plenty to do. Capt. Mally Nydahl is a guard and one of the clearest floor men in the conference. Nydahl usually gets open for plenty of shots at his running guard position, and if he has any luck on them it is likely to prove disastrous for the low scoring Wisconsin quintet. The other football man is Hovde, a new man this year, who is also reputed to be playing a good game for the Maroon and Gold.

Ottersness, high scorer last year for the Gophers, is back at one of the forwards and with any kind of support will pile up plenty of points in the games against the Minnesota opponents this year. At the other forward will be Stark, another veteran.

Badger Lineup Same

Against this promising aggregation Wisconsin will present the team that conquered Michigan and Ohio State. The same team, minus George Hotchkiss again, left for Minnesota last night. Johnny Doyle will again be at the back guard position and if he plays the kind of basketball that he has displayed in his last two games, the Gopher scoring aces will have trouble in piling up any kind of a score. As to the offense it will be up to Bud Foster at center and the two Rockford ponies, Capt. Lou Behr and Charlie Andrews, whether the Badgers will be able to outscore the Gophers.

Capt. Lou had an off night against Michigan but it is expected that he will be back in form tonight to help Foster lead the offense. If Foster displays the brand of basketball that he has in the past he is likely to be slated for an all-conference birth in his first year of Big Ten basketball.

Sport writers have had their say about the Ohio playing floor, but it certainly must be terrible to be any worse than Kenwood armory where Minnesota plays their basketball games. Located on Hennepin avenue in downtown Minneapolis, it is used for everything from public dances to automobile shows and the playing floor shows evidences of it. The writer played on the floor in the state prep school tournament some odd years ago, and at that time pop corn machines were running during the games and smoking was not uncommon. Combined with this the lights are rather deceiving.

Following the game tonight, which will not be broadcast, the result may be found out at the Cardinal office as soon as the game is over. The Badgers will entrain for home to rest up for the final game of the second semester with Illinois here Monday night. The Illini play at Iowa City tonight and a better idea of their strength will be known after this game.

BUS LINE ASKS FRANCHISE
PLATTEVILLE, Wis.—A public hearing before representatives of the state railroad commission was held here Tuesday on application of the Mound City Bus company. It seeks an exclusive franchise to operate between Dubuque, Ia., and Boscobel, Wis., via Platteville, Lancaster, and Fennimore.

The Daily Cardinal

FOUNDED APRIL 4, 1892

University of Wisconsin official daily newspaper owned and controlled by the student body. Published every morning except Monday by the Daily Cardinal company at the Union building, 772 Langdon street, and at the University Y. M. C. A. building, 740 Langdon, Madison, Wis. Printed by the Daily Cardinal Publishing company. Member of the Western Conference association.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Madison, Wis.

Subscription rates—$3 a year by carrier; $3.50 a year by mail; $1.75 a semester by carrier; $2 a semester by mail. Single copies 5 cents.

Editorial office—Union Building, phone B. 250 before 5:30 p. m.; Y. M. C. A. phone ... after 5:30 p. m.

Business office—Union building, phone B. 6606 before 5:30 p. m.

BOARD OF CONTROL

PRESIDENT, JAMES SIFFLE; vice-president, Thomas Kirmse; treasurer, Harry Thoma; secretary, Margaret Alsop; Catherine Kuehn; ex officio members, Edwin H. Ferree and Marvin A. Lehmkuhl; faculty advisory board, Don R. Fellows, J. C. Gilson, and Grant M. Hyde, chairman.

EDITORIAL STAFF

EXECUTIVE EDITOR MARVIN A. LEHMKUHL

Managing Editor ALEXANDER GOTTLIEB Editor-in-Chief WESLEY F. PETERSON

Senior Editor Hamilton Beatty Woman's Editor Isabel Sine

Sports Editor Dan Albrecht Women's Sports Editor Pearl Malsin

Society Editor Elinor Prideaux

Desk Editors—Eugene S. Duffield, Warren C. Price, Hampton Randolph.

Junior Editors—Marie Heuer, Renee Newman, Judith Ninman

Skyrockets Editor Don Trenary

Literary Editor Bayard Still

Assistant Desk Editors—Wilbur Davis, Robert Godley, Edith Haentzschel, David Morrison, Franklin Prinz, Ben Salinsky, Thomas Stavrum, Allen Tenny, William Fuller

Assistant Sports Editors Harold Dubinsky, Aaron Gottlieb

Assistant Society Editors Marjorie Drotters

Exchange Editor Margaret Reuter

Alumni Editor Ethelwyn Barton

Intramural Sports Editor Ty Dahlgren

Engineering Reporter Marvin Hersh

Librarian Elizabeth Lyman

Special Writers—Alice Bickel, Kirk Bates, Marjorie Hamer, George Harb, Margaret La Budde, Irving Tarrant, Berne Tweed, Francis Utley, Helena Weil.

Reporters Margaret Ludden, Elizabeth Maier, Jean Polk

BUSINESS STAFF

BUSINESS MANAGER EDWIN H. FERREE

Associate Business Manager Clayton O. Braatz

Local Advertising Manager Marvin M. Fein

Foreign Advertising Manager Glen H. Arthur

Circulation Manager Walter Eckers

Collection Manager Robert Kafton

Circulation Assistant Byron Caldwell

Promotion Manager Pearl Malsin

Service Manager Melvin Swanson

Office Secretary Myrtle Campbell

Associate Advertising Managers—Dorothea Zarbell, Orval Bast, Edward Schmidt

Assistant Advertising Manager Melvin Swanson

Advertising Assistants—Gerald Rice, Herbert Lenichek, Janet Miller, Lydia Eskridge, Henry Holm, Elizabeth Babcock, Jean Sontag, Eileen Walper, Tirzah Caldwell, William Payne, Edith Allen, James McMullen, Margaret Sheppard, Marc McKinley, Joseph Schaffa, Martin Spero.

Assistant Circulation Managers—Elizabeth Ascraft, Erma Kleinpell, Newell Munson

Associate Service Manager William Payne

Collection Assistants Betty Olbrich, Alice Purcell

Promotion Assistants—Sigurd Trammal, Anita Cohen, Maurice Pasch.

Office Assistants—Margaret Nutting, Dorothea Zarbell, Henry Kaufman.

DESK EDITOR—WARREN C. PRICE

"ON WISCONSIN"

1. Adoption of a system for Fraternity Rushing.
2. Betterment of student Self-Government.
3. Success to the Experimental College.
4. Athletics for all.

Drivers Licenses for Students

A NEWS story in the local papers to the effect that automobile drivers will be stopped next week and asked to show their licenses has brought the question of student licensing to the fore.

According to information obtained yesterday afternoon from the Wisconsin license bureau, all students who are residents of the state of Wisconsin must procure licenses at once. No exemption is made for them because of their student status.

Out-of-state students are not required to have licenses, either to drive out-of-state cars or to drive Wisconsin-licensed cars. Rent-a-cars fall under the latter qualification.

Wisconsin students may obtain licenses today or next week at the bureau on Doty street. If the licenses are obtained directly from the bureau, they can be secured in a few minutes.

Fascism

THURSDAY night Dr. Vincenzo Nitti, eminent Italian author, historian, and lecturer, delivered an anti-Fascist lecture here, characterizing the Fascist movement as violent and undemocratic. His remarks are worth noting.

He painted the blackest possible picture of conditions in Italy under the Fascist regime, and he severely criticised the present dictatorship of Benito Mussolini. He pointed out that Mussolini realized that he must make legal what he did illegally, and consequently took steps to vindicate his action. He declared that Mussolini doubted everyone, that the militia was under his direct supervision, and since he holds practically all the offices, the government is all Mussolini and a crime against him is a crime against the state.

"No opposition is tolerated in Italy, not even the opposition of thought," declared Dr. Nitti. "No one is permitted to leave the country without a passport, and an attempt to escape subjects the violator to a prison sentence."

It has been pointed out by those favorable to the movement, said Nitti, that business has been stabilized and that industries have been built up. Both these statements are false, he declared. Employment is at its lowest ebb in Italy the labor unions and periodicals are severely supervised. All business places that are not favorable to Mussolini are closed by his orders.

Dr. Nitti also quoted Mussolini's speech of last year in which he said: "We must be able to call five million men in a moment; we must be able to arm them instantly; we need more dominions, more territory."

We would have enjoyed a more fair-minded criticism and analysis of Mussolini's work in Italy. Unfortunately Dr. Nitti is forced to color his remarks by a personal prejudice. Premier Nitti was forced to submit to Mussolini's will, and the younger Nitti bears an undying hatred of Italy's new Caesar.

For so Mussolini must consider himself. He is building another Rome, but in a trifle more diplomatic way and with more preliminary care. Of course his world empire dreams, if he has them, are impossible, but Mussolini deserves credit for his remodeling and rebuilding of the Italian nation. He has created a new Italy, a new world power, despite the mother-country prejudices of anti-Fascists.

Unfortunately Mussolini has built a one-man nation. We can foresee no success for Italy when Mussolini steps out of the picture, either by natural death or from an assassin's bullet. The picture in Italy is rosy now, but remove the strong-jawed Dictator and revolution will be imminent.

Ingwerson at Iowa

FTER Burt Ingwerson, head football coach at the University of Iowa, failed for the third consecutive year to turn out a winning team, Hawkeye alumni and students rose en masse to call for his dismissal. Iowa officials recently announced, however, that he will be retained.

To anyone looking in from the outside, this seems the fair thing to do. According to President Jessup of the university, the decision to keep Ingwerson was reached only after a most careful, impartial investigation of the situation, and only after the arguments of the objectors to this move had been heard. It is obvious that those who officially judged the matter were more conversant with the merits of the coach than the knockers, yet at the same time were equally enthusiastic for winning Iowa football teams.

The cry of the mob in this case had risen to great proportions, and undoubtedly great force was brought to bear on the Hawkeye faculty. To make their decision in the face of this pressure speaks well for their integrity and independence.

It was gratifying to note that many fraternity and sorority slam presents found their way to the Bradley Memorial hospital where they were useful in helping the children spend a happy Christmas. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good.

"Women in the future will dominate men," says a learned writer. And what have they been doing all these years, professor?

Good night's sleep is the best medicine for imaginary troubles.

What Other Editors Say

HONEST JOURNALISM

As was only to be expected, the documents recently produced by William R. Hearst purporting to show that the Mexican government had paid four American senators more than a million dollars for their support of a pro-Mexican legislative program have been exposed as false. If anyone even doubted that the four senators named were innocent, his fears should now be set completely at rest, for even the handwriting experts employed by Mr. Hearst himself have decided against the authenticity of the documents.

To waste invectives against the policy of journalism which publishes such documents first and attempts to verify them afterwards is out of place. Rather more fitting it would be for America to laugh long and loudly at the recent complete failure to hoax the American public for a moment with the publication.

Such is the reputation of the Hearst newspapers that even before the myth was exploded nearly every respectable newspaper in the United States had rallied to the defense of the integrity of the four senators named. And whatever the general level of intelligence may be, it must be admitted that the American public was not "taken in" by the recent fake.—Michigan Daily.

When You Were a Freshman

January 14

THREE YEARS AGO

By forging ahead in the last part of their game with Wisconsin last night, the veteran Ohio team overcame a comfortable Badger lead and defeated them 27 to 20. It was the second conference game of the season.

Notre Dame authorities today denied the report that Coach Knute Rockne was being considered as coach for the University of Southern California. Rockne is serving under a ten year contract at Notre Dame.

The Wisconsin legislature will meet at noon today for the first assemblage of the new session.

TWO YEARS AGO

The body of Maurice S. Coburn, English instructor who drowned in Lake Mendota while skating before the holidays, was taken from the lake today by a searching party headed by W. Coburn, the instructor's brother.

For the seventh successive year, members of Sigma Delta Chi will publish the Junior Prom Cardinal. Stuart B. McCoy '26, has been selected editor in chief.

ONE YEAR AGO

James M. Nelson '27, and Eulalie Beffel '27, co-chairman of the All-University religious conference to be held in February, today announced the complete list of all committee workers of the meeting and specific plans which will be carried out.

Minnesota arrived here tonight for the first of a trio of games to be played with the Badger hockey team over the week end. Wisconsin is favored to defeat the north-erners, who have been considerably weakened since last year.

It has been pointed out by those favorable to the movement, said Nitti, that business has been stabilized and that industries have been built up. Both these statements are false, he declared. Employment is at its lowest ebb in Italy the labor unions and periodicals are severely supervised. All business places that are not favorable to Mussolini are closed by his orders.

Dr. Nitti also quoted Mussolini's speech of last year in which he said: "We must be able to call five million

A WORD OF EXPLANATION

Today the pen has been taken away from the budding geniuses of the present college generation and been given to the blooming idiots of another and former generation. The column today is written by Nebuchadnezzar, the man who broke the all-university endurance record by being a sophomore for three years. Finally he got grade points enough to be a junior. It broke his heart, and he quit school.

Incidentally, he was the perpetrator of a dirty crack about us three years ago, a crack which we have neither forgiven nor forgotten.

ARGON.

And today is the day that all the dear girls who didn't get Haresfoot dots will spend their hard-fought-for cash to see the show.

Prom is on its way, and it's time for Rocketeers to swear they'll not pun on the queen's name.

Will there be a Skyrocket prom this year?

It would be a shame to let a tradition die after only three short years of life.

A professor, children, is a man who can be laughed at, not with, and still think he has a sense of humor.

Now that the censors have taken the scissors to Octy, the pure, the undefiled, another sweet dream of my childhood is shattered.

I had thought that Gordy Lewis had reformed the book!

The careful student dots his i's; a fashion note says the careful woman will dot her clothes.

The Wisconsin Daily league says it covers 70 per cent of Wisconsin's population. Coal dust and the Chi Trib take care of the rest.

A Columbia professor says long legs are a sign of intelligence. At Wisconsin, they're a sign of a thirst for knowledge.

Plans for the escalator at the back of the hill were completely deranged by the chem building.

Nicaraguan revolt, halted temporarily while Lindbergh was in the land, continued until the natives had recovered from attacks of stiff neck.

Washington reports a tough paper devised for currency. What we need is something to make it less tough—to get.

News is what you like to read; scandal is the same thing, with you as subject.

This business of being a father isn't all it's cracked up to be. Really, crying is much louder than the static of one's radio.

Success, in America, consists in being able to get away with something nobody else can.

Frankness is sometimes nothing more than excuse for telling a dirty story.

And after divesting myself of these curbstone philosophies, I retire, leaving the field clear to younger pens than that of NEBUCHADNEZZAR.

White Attacks Student Cribbing

English Professor Charges Too Much Dishonesty is Tolerated by Students

"If indifference to student dishonesty became as widespread as many of the people outside of the faculty believe that it is at the University of Wisconsin, our school would no longer be worth bothering about," said Miss H. C. White, assistant professor of English, at the W. S. G. A. council meeting in Lathrop parlors last evening.

"As soon as the faculty lets down the bars concerning student dishonesty our day as a great university will be over," is the opinion of Miss White. She declared that as soon as prospective employers came to feel that, say, 30 per cent of a diploma from the University of Wisconsin had been obtained by cheating, that diploma would lose its present significance.

Miss White thinks that even the majority of the students are not cheaters but she does believe that too much dishonesty is tolerated by them. The faculty tries to deal honestly and truthfully with the students and they expect the same treatment in return.

"If a man with heart trouble went to a doctor and told him that he had a pain in his head because it was more stylish, we would think that he truly did have something wrong with his head. Is not this the same case with the student who cheats to get a B instead of a C because it is more stylish?" asked Miss White.

"No one says that his greatest ambition is to make money by corruption," she said, "so why should anyone be ambitious to receive a diploma by corruption and cheating?"

Wisconsin Represented at Racine Conference of Oriental Students

Eight students from the University of Wisconsin attended the convention of Oriental students which was held in Racine during the Christmas vacation, according to Emily W. Dawson, student at the university last year, who also attended the convention.

These gatherings, sponsored by the Episcopal church, are held twice a year, before the opening of school in the fall and during the Christmas vacation, for the purpose of giving the Orientals who attend American universities the opportunity to discuss social, political, or economic problems.

About 45 students were at the convention, Arthur W. Gosling '28 said, among whom were the eight from Wisconsin: Haridas T. Muzumdar,

Univ. Y Observes An Anniversary

Y. M. C. A. Observes Birth-day of National Student Dept. Organization

The university Y. M. C. A. has been celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the student department of the national organization and the inauguration of absolute self-government in this division.

That the university Y. M. C. A. is a Christian association, a dormitory, and the center of many of the men's activities combined is the declaration of C. V. Hibbard, secretary of that association.

Primarily it is the center of men's Christian work on the campus though it is entirely separated from university jurisdiction except for the general resolutions that apply to all university parties.

The Y. M. C. A. building is a dormitory for 128 men, about 40 of whom are active in the Christian work and the organization. Almost as many persons are accommodated there as in either one of the girls' dormitories.

"When the new Union building is available, most of the activities not directly connected with the Y. M. C. A. will be moved and the building will be used entirely for Y. M. C. A. work and for a men's dormitory," said Mr. Hibbard.

Self-government in the dormitory division is complete now. A student court that makes house rules and enforces them as it sees fit, with the aid of the house officers, is absolute in government.

The house officers are: Theodore A. Thelander '29, president; Cecil J. Metcalf '29, vice president; Royce W. Robarge '28, secretary; and Samuel D. Fox '31, treasurer.

Nationally, too, the student Y. M. C. A. division gained self-government last September. Now the student department is as separate from the national home department as is the foreign and personnel divisions. Fewer restrictions, rules for young men only, and liberty in adjusting the government to suit the immediate needs seem to be the main advantages derived from this action, is the opinion of Mr. Hibbard.

The first national student Y. M. C. A. student organization became active 50 years ago, but until this year the absolute division from the regular home department was not accomplished. Today more than 1,000 organizations in university and college towns are conducted like the one in Madison. The officers for the entire local student Y. M. C. A. are: E. Adamson Hoebel '28, president; Richard E. Ela '28, vice president; Donald Newton '28, secretary; and Kenneth Findley '29, treasurer.

Several men prominent today on the campus and in the world Y. M. C. A. work have been officers of this local division. Prof. Grant Showman of the classics department was

Garrick Theatre

LAST TIMES TODAY

NOTE: Engagement ends next Saturday Evening

First Time Here of the 7th WONDER of the SCREEN

Cecil B. DeMille's

KING of KINGS

Story by Jeanie Macpherson

18 STELLAR PLAYERS

5000 IN CAST

WITH

Touring Symphony Orchestra

ALL SEATS RESERVED

PRICES: Eves. 50c, $1.10 and $1.65
(Tax Included)

BARGAIN DAILY MATINEES:
50c, 75c and $1.10

This Production Will Not Be Shown in Any Other Theatre This Season or Next.

STARS IN 'KING OF KINGS'

RUDOLPH SCHILDKRAUT
as the High Priest of Israel in " one of the first secretaries of this organization. Dean Harry L. Russell of the college of agriculture was the student president in 1886, and the present secretary, C. V. Hibbard, is an outstanding Y. M. C. A. worker, having been president of the local student organization in 1899, a Y. M. C. A. representative in Japan for several years, and since 1923, local student secretary here.
The King of Kings"

Other men who have gone out from this organization at the University of Wisconsin and who have become prominent in world-wide Y. M. C. A. work are: Frederick O. Leiser '02, who went to South China; John L.

Childs '11, who worked in North China; H. Ray Sweetman '13, who was in China; C. V. Hibbard '00, who worked in Japan; Joseph F. Machotta '15 went to Czechoslovakia and Greece; E. C. Stevens '11 did Y. M. C. A. work in Turkey; and Conrad Hoffman '06 led the post-war student movement in Germany and interested European students in working their way through school. He has also been one of the leaders in the World Student Christian federation.

"It is quite remarkable," said Mr. Hibbard, "that one organization should send out so many world famous men in this work."

Baron Brothers INC.

JUST ARRIVED—

New Felts, Straws, and Combinations

$5

In the new colors for spring, these hats will brighten the entire costumes of their wearers. Authentically styled in all sizes.

BARON'S SECOND FLOOR

Jue Fong, Chinese Tenor Is Versatile Musician and Actor

Jue Fong, Chinese tenor, holds the unique position of being the only Chinese in the world who has mastered operatic arias in the Italian language. He is a sincere student of classical music but also knows and understands popular music.

He was a great campus favorite at the University of Oregon and took part in many of the stage productions at the university. He was soloist for the University of Oregon orchestra, sang oratorios in churches such as "The Messiah" and "The Elijah," and also played in a jazz band, which shows his wide range of ability as a musician.

Educated in American schools, Mr. Fong speaks an excellent English with just enough hint of an accent to make his speech interesting. He made his bachelor of science degree at the University of Oregon and then decided to give up the idea of becoming a physician to devote all his time to music.

Four years of vocal training at the University gave him a good start and he went to Boston to continue his medical study.

In Boston he studied under Theodore Schroeder but became interested in the vaudeville stage and joined the Keith circuit last season. This season he has traveled from New York to the west coast on the Orpheum circuit and is now returning to New York. Mr. Fong has introduced many of the popular song hits, the most popular one being "Cheerie Beerie Bee."

Mr. Fong is a great admirer of the operatic stage. He knows which stars are at their height and which ones are on the decline. He relates that Caruso's first records reveal that he had a lyric tenor voice and as he grew older his voice changed to a rich dramatic tenor. He discussed such singers as Ricardo Martin, Reinhard Wernerrath, Mme. Schumann-Heink, Tetzlitzini, and especially Tito Schipa, whom he admires a great deal.

"Jazz," says Mr. Fong, "has improved much in the last few years. Formerly it was just a lot of noise, now it is developing more harmony and melody. If it is moderated still more, it may win a permanent place in the music world."

DESERTER NEEDS "JACK"

IRON RIVER, Mich.—If Henry M. Gorske can raise the railroad fare to Chicago he may escape a charge of larceny.

Gorske, held here on a charge of stealing clothes and $24 from a Caspian hotel, is, by his own admission, a deserter from the Great Lakes (Ill.) naval station. Naval attaches have notified police Gorske may return to the station without fear of court martial and may receive an honorable discharge.

But Gorske is "broke" and there are no present indications he can raise enough cash for the fare.

Read This!

Owing to our utter inability to satisfy the demand for seats for the evening performance of--

Mrs. Fiske AND Otis Skinner WITH Henrietta Crossman

IN SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDY

"THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR"

We Have Arranged for a Special Matinee on Monday Afternoon

CURTAINS TO RISE PROMPTLY AT 2:15

BARGAIN PRICES FOR MATINEE

Main Floor—$2.75 & $3.30; Boxes—$3.30
Balcony—$1.10 and $2.20

Seats for Both Performances
NOW SELLING

GET YOUR ORDERS IN EARLY
FOR ONE OF THESE SHOWS

Garrick

MONDAY, JAN. 16
MAT. and NIGHT
2:15 & 8:15

Badger Cagers Among Title Contenders in Big Ten Basketball

By B. D.

Basketball is well under way in the Big Ten and at present four teams are outstanding: Northwestern, Wisconsin, Purdue, and Indiana.

All of these four teams and Minnesota are undefeated but the latter is not considered in the class of the other three. Northwestern, by defeating Chicago Thursday night, took undisputed possession of first place with three victories, but Wisconsin is close behind them with two to its credit. The other three teams have each won one game.

Northwestern Surprises

Northwestern is the surprise team of the year to date. Ending up in a tie with Minnesota for last place last year, the Wildcats have made impressive showings in all of their games to date and have conquered Michigan, champions last year, Iowa, and Chicago, besides a non-conference victory over the strong Notre Dame quintet.

Led by Capt. Waldo Fisher and with some promising sophomores in the lineup, Northwestern is conceded the best chance to take the conference title this year. The main reason for this assumption is the fact that the Purple has an easier schedule than the other outstanding teams. While Wisconsin, Indiana, and Purdue play each other at least two games, Northwestern has been treated kindly by the "round robin" schedule this year. The best two teams that appear on the schedule of the Wildcats are Illinois and Michigan, and they have already beaten the Wolverines while Craig Ruby's quintet lost prestige by being beaten by Purdue. Iowa and Chicago have also been trampled on by the uncanny Cats. The other two teams that they meet, Ohio State and Minnesota, are comparatively weak.

Illinois Here Monday

The first semester of play will end for most of the teams today and Monday. Illinois plays Iowa tonight and will return via Madison to meet the Badgers here Monday night. Other games on Monday are Chicago at Indiana and Ohio State at Michigan.

These games will wind up the playing careers of some of the best players of the conference, most notable of whom is Beckner of Indiana. On the other hand, the end of the semester will be looked upon with pleasure by Badger followers for it probably will mean the eligibility of Elmer Tenhopen and Lycan Miller and the return of George Hotchkiss from the infirmary. With these three men on the Badger squad, the strength of the Meanwell Midgets is expected to be increased by 50 per cent.

Should the Badgers win their next two games with Minnesota and Illinois, they will be conceded a good chance to give Northwestern and any other contender a good run for the basketball championship.

The defense that Wisconsin has displayed this year is likely to supersede that of last year when it held its opponents to the lowest average of score of any of the Big Ten teams. Opponents have averaged only 16 points per game this year to Wisconsin's 28.

Summer Session Tour Offered by Harvard for Geology Students

Harvard will offer in its 1928 Summer Session curriculum a geology and geography tour of France, Italy, Switzerland, and Spain under the direction of Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, of the Harvard geology department, with the cooperation of Thos. Cook and Son, Lmt., authors of the Cook tours.

A pamphlet recently received here announces that "a limited number of qualified students will be given opportunity to study geology, physiography, and archaeology in selected regions of the countries mentioned." For three and a half weeks the party will be combined with a similar group of students from the University of Geneva for Alpine study and travel, under the direction of Prof. Leon W. Collet, head of the geology department at Geneva, and authority on Alpine structure.

The party will be taken on several climbs of the lesser Alpine peaks, and at the close of the work those who are able to make the climb will be given a chance at the Matterhorn.

The course, to be known as S-5, will be open to those who have had a year of elementary geology. Mrs. Mather will accompany the tour, making it open to women as well as to men. The course will be accepted toward either an A. B., or S. B. degree at Harvard university and it also carries credit for graduate degrees.

The cost of the trip will include a $25 tuition and registration fee, fare amounting to $1,175, exclusive of personal expenses such as laundry, tips, passports, and food not ordinarily served without extra charge.

VOLCANO SUBSIDES

VOLCANO HOUSE, Island of Hawaii—The eruption of the Kilauea volcano which started with a tremendous avalanche in Halemaumau pit Wednesday had subsided early Thursday.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

IN THE CARDINAL
Reaches Every Student

FOR RENT—Single and double rooms for men next semester. Block from university; good heat and hot water. 315 N. Brooks. 5x12

FOR RENT—Two attractive light housekeeping rooms. B. 3709. 6x12

FOR RENT—Very beautifully furnished rooms and two-room suits. Centrally located, moderately priced. B. 3709. 6x12

FOR RENT—Pleasant rooms for girls, near lake, single and double. B. 5724. 6x10

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished rooms for men; single, triple, double. One-half block from university. Good heat, hot water, reasonable rent. 308 N. Orchard. F. 1016. 6x15

FOR RENT—Very desirable furnished room for woman student. 309 N. Brooks street, near Lathrop and Barnard halls. Well heated, oil burner. Will rent single or double. Rental low. B. 2171. 2x14

FOR RENT—One double and two single rooms one-half block from gym at 631 Langdon street. F. 5535. 6x11

FOR RENT—Garage at 1109 University avenue. B. 5040. 5x11

FOR RENT—Newly decorated double room for boys; $20 per month. 112 S. Mills street. 6x11

FOR RENT—One-half double room with sleeping porch, for boys. Various apartments. F. 4807. 3x13

FOR RENT—Pleasant rooms for men, one double and one single. Call F. 4825-J. 4x13

LOST—Small brown purse containing a sum of money, between Music hall and Lawrence's. Money needed for fees very badly. Please return to Cardinal office. 1x14

LOST—At Orpheum theater, pair of black lamb-lined gloves. B. 726. 2x14

FOR SALE—Pair of lady's new, unused Winchester racing skates. Size 6 1/2. Reasonable. Call B. 7438. 2x14

FOR SALE—Tuxedo, size 37, including vest; excellent condition. Cost $67, cash price $20. Call F. 3634 evenings. 3x13

WANTED—Capable university co-ed to teach Sunday school class at the Pilgrim Sunday school. Ability to organize young people is desirable.

For further information call B. 3228. 2x14

WANTED—Man to work in exchange for room. B. 3709. 6x12

EXPERIENCED TUTORING in English history. Telephone evenings after 7. F. 2948. 2x14

TYPING—Theses, themes, topics; accurate work, very reasonable. F. 1861. 5x13

TYPING—Expert typing. F. 4282.

TYPING done for students. Call anytime except Wednesday or Thursday. F. 1006. 1x14

TUTORING in German and English. B. 7284. 3x14

Tickets Selling Now RUSSIAN COSSACK CHORUS

A Human Organ at Christ Church, Feb. 9. Tickets at Ward-Brodt's, 328 State St.

MADISON NOW PLAYING

COME ON—AND LAUGH OUT LOUD AT THIS BRAND NEW COMEDY

Artists' studios. Artists' models. Cabaret dancers. French love. They form part of the ingredients of the best comedy in years—"The Cohens and Kellys in Paris"

AND BIG BILL OF ADDED ATTRACTIONS

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"I love the Tobacco business. There is a fascination about it that grips you. The fine texture and beauty of a Leaf of Tobacco appeals to the Tobacco buyer as a great Painting does to the artist. I buy Tobacco for LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes. I buy 'The Cream of the Crop.' Under instructions only the best and mildest goes into LUCKY STRIKE. It is my job to see that this is so."

W. Holman

Buyer of Tobacco
at Owensboro, Ky.

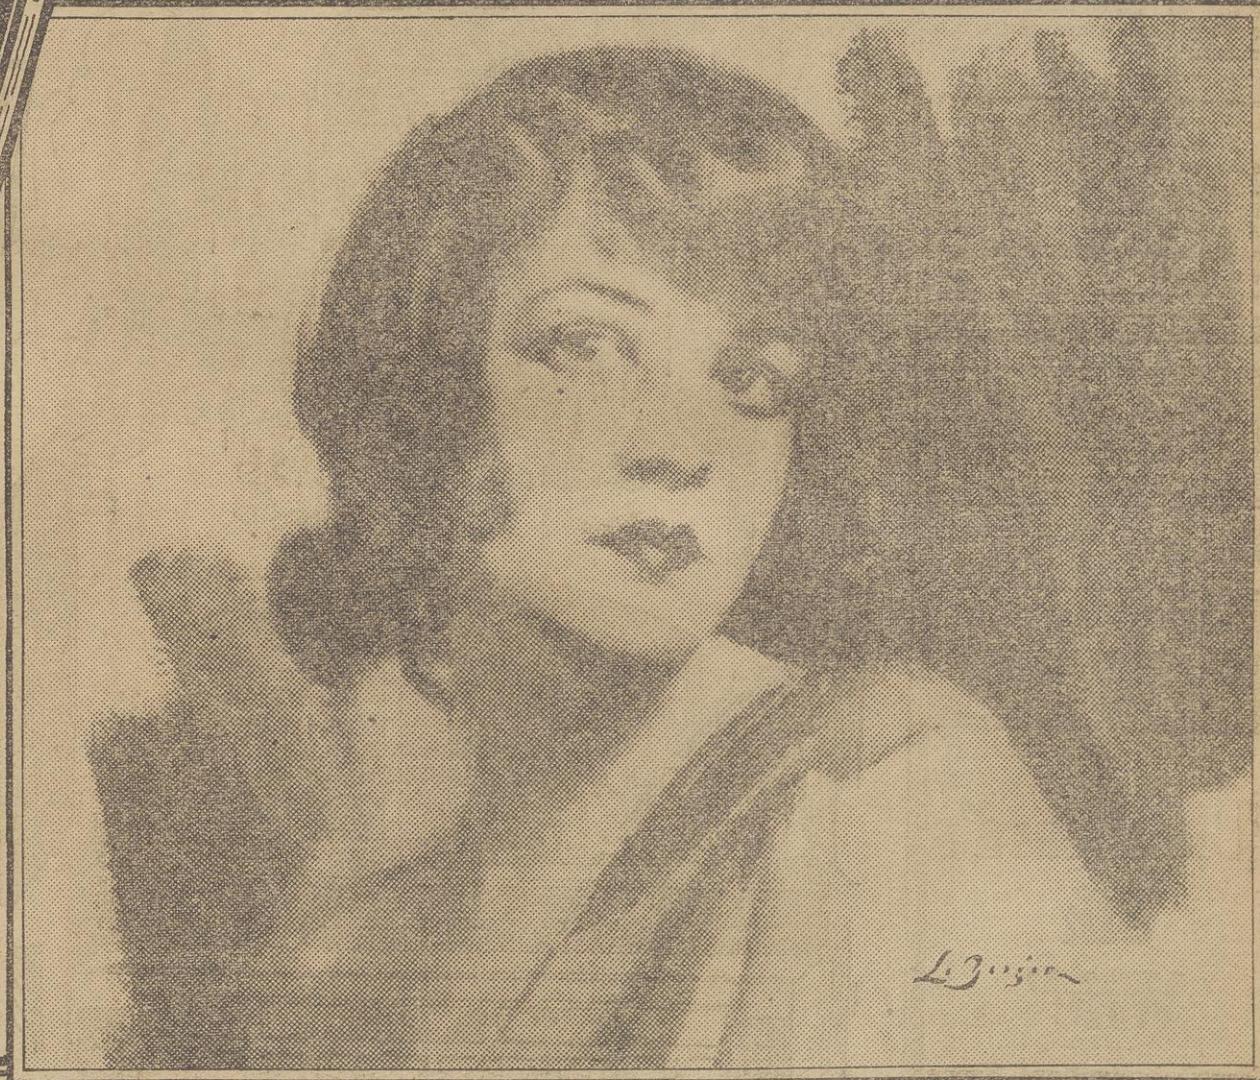

LENORE ULRIC

Talented Actress, writes:

"With women in practically all the professions smoking, I have observed those in my own calling and have found their favorite cigarette is the Lucky Strike. I always choose it for my occasional smoke because it affords the greatest relaxation and pleasure."

Lenore Ulrich

Lenore Ulrich

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation - No Cough.

College Rules of 1734 Forbade Reading, Flirting, Daguerotypes

Co-eds Could Know Only
Missionaries or Clergymen;
Shakespeare Called
Immoral

Wisconsin students who loudly protest against the proposed banning of their flivvers and who bemoan the fact that they can not have all the cuts they wish should not feel that the university officials are too harsh and undemocratic. They might enjoy the flivvers a little more and rest a little easier in classes after reading a few excerpts from the Harvard college regulations of 1734 published in a recent number of the Harvard Crimson. Some of the most interesting follow.

"Sec. VI. All the Scholars shall, at Sunset on the evening preceding the Lord's Day, retire to their chambers and not unnecessarily leave them; and all disorders on said evenings shall be punished as violations of the Sabbath are. And every Scholar, on the Lord's Day, shall carefully apply himself to the Duties of Religion and Piety. And whosoever shall profane said Day by unnecessary Business or Visiting, Walking on the Common, or in the Streets or Fields in the town of Cambridge, or by any sort of Diversion before sunset—shall be fined 10 shillings."

"Sec. IX. Undergraduates shall repeat at least the main heads of the forenoon and afternoon sermons on Lord's Day evenings in the Hall, and such as are Delinquent shall be punished—not exceeding three shillings."

If 1734 rules at Harvard seem ancient and far away consider a few regulations observed at Mount Holyoke less than a century ago. How many modern co-eds would be qualified to enter?

"1. No young lady shall become a member of Mount Holyoke seminary who cannot kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication table, and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism.

"2. Every member of the school shall walk at least one mile a day, unless a freshet, earthquake, or some other calamity prevent. The bounds to the north are marked by a stake, also those to the south and west.

"4. No young lady shall devote more than one hour a day to miscellaneous reading. The Atlantic Monthly, Shakespeare, Scott's works, Robinson Crusoe, and other immoral works are strictly prohibited. The Boston Record, Missionary Herald, Doddridge's 'Rise and Progress,' and Washington's 'Farewell Address' are earnestly recommended for light reading.

"5. No young lady is expected to have any gentleman acquaintances, unless they are returned missionaries or agents of benevolent societies. Daguerrotypes and plaster busts are also prohibited."

NO QUESTIONS ASKED FRENCH LEGION MEN

(Continued from Page 1)

far away.

"In joining the French foreign legion a man says, 'Nobody knows anything about me. They'll judge me only according to the acts I perform from the first day, they will judge me only from the present and the future.' This is the secret of the French foreign legion.

"Men find themselves in the legion and begin life anew after their discharge."

Not only men who seek forgetfulness, but men who quest after adventure, soldiers of fortune, come to the legion. "We have doctors, gardeners, architects, masons, carpenters, and engineers in the French foreign legion," Maj. Pechkoff smiled.

Contrary to popular belief, the legion is not a refuge for criminals, Maj. Pechkoff declared. He denied that he had ever known any man of criminal tendencies in the legion. If they enlist, they are sure to give indications of their character during the strenuous six-months training period and are to be discharged as unfit. Forty per cent of the recruits fail in this period.

Men who desert from the legion do not leave because of any especially rigid discipline; they are the same men that would desert from any army that demands honor, endurance, intelligence, and fidelity, according to the major.

"Right now, since the great war, given me much more."

the most men in the French foreign legion are Germans. It seems strange that people who have just been fighting us should come to fight under our flag, but—" And again the major shrugged.

Upon the outbreak of the World war, Germans who were in the legion reiterated their loyalty and served in Africa during the whole struggle. Many times they were the only white soldiers France had in the African field.

"Men, no matter to what nation they belong, acquire the psychology of the legionnaire. During the five years of their service, men lose many of their national peculiarities and develop a general psychology—a legionnaire psychology."

When the French foreign legion returned to Africa after the war, it numbered only a few hundred survivors. But by 1921, in spite of military antipathies, its ranks had been swelled to 15,000 or 16,000.

Since the war, Germans of the defeated royalist and communist parties and Russians from the annihilated White armies have flocked to the French foreign legion.

Maj. Pechkoff enlisted in the legion four days after the opening of the war. After he had lost his arm in 1915, he was assigned to diplomatic posts in Russia and the Caucasus. He was born in Russia and is the adopted son of the novelist, Maxim Gorky. Recently he served four years with the legion in the Atlas mountains as commander of several outposts.

"When I started to speak of the French foreign legion," he told the audience yesterday, "I know that I speak of something to which I have given much and which certainly has

Benett Boys of Vilas Roll Up Big Score on Frankenberger House

Again starring the Bennett brothers, Bill and Fran, Vilas House ran up another big score, the victims this time being Frankenberger House, by the score of 37 to 4. The Bennett brothers alone accounted for 24 points, each contributing half. The game merely developed into an orgy of scoring for the losers had very little to say. For the latter, Born showed up well, scoring all of his team's points.

Vilas House—Brown, B. Bennett, F. Bennett, Mehl, Davidson, Bainbridge, Sell, Eberhardt, Wahlberg, Vrabec, Morse.

Frankenberger House—Keller, Hornig, Hinz, Born, Schaffer.

Gregory 21, Fallows 8

Gregory House triumphed over Fallows House, 21 to 8, in a game much closer than the score indicates for both sides fought hard, one to make and maintain a lead, the other, to overcome it.

The winners showed good teamwork throughout and although Dan Yule and Kelley, forwards, played especially well, finished the game with an unequal share of the points to his credit, so well divided was the scoring. For the losers, Walters, forward, and Lehman, guard, divided the honors between them.

Fallows House—Bell, Erickson, Walters, Werblow, Tiegs, Moren, Lehman, Marshall, Schroeder.

Gregory House—Blodgett, Bubbert, G. Yule, Cole, Kelley, D. Yule.

Spooner 13, High 6

In the closest guarded game of the evening, Spooner House defeated High House, 13 to 6. Most of the work for Spooner house was done by Zinn, forward. Lott and Sachs scored all of their team's points, not so very much, and played all-around good ball.

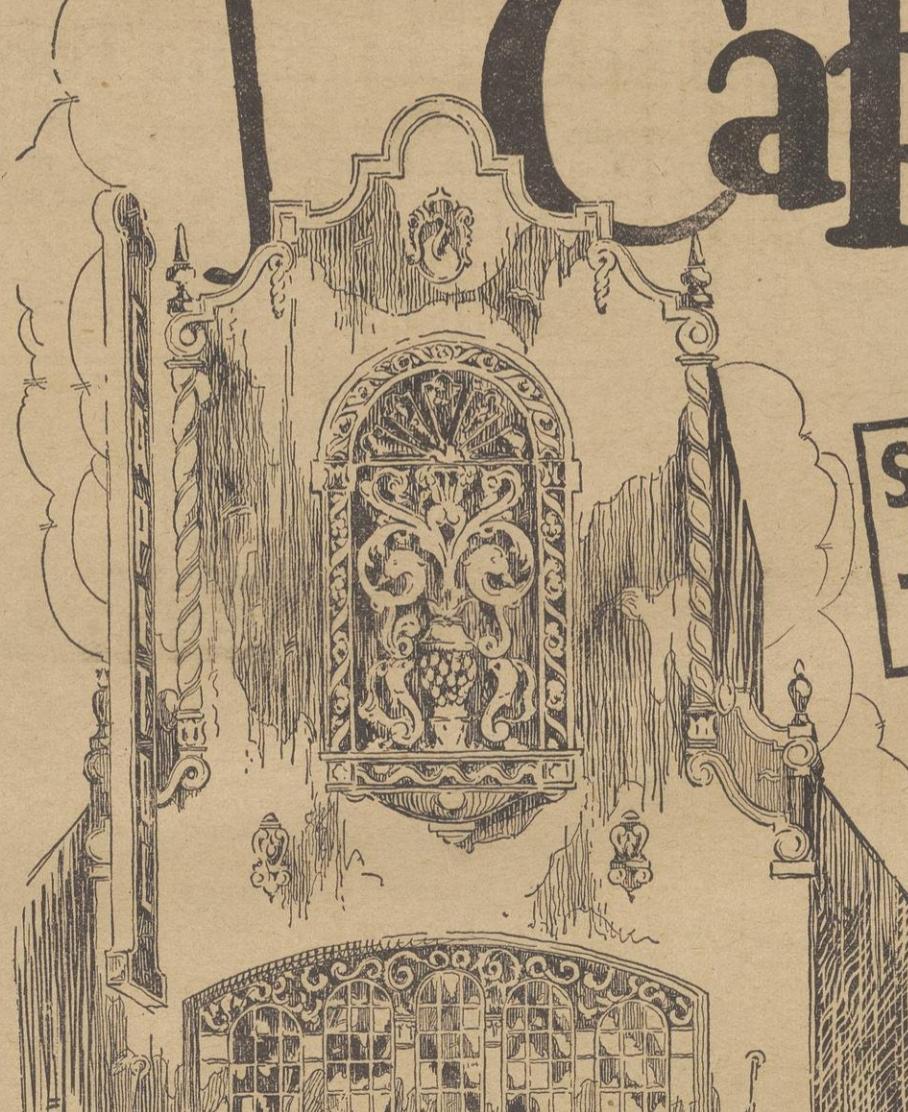

Spooner House—Zinn, Dahlen, Van Vleet, Wilcox, Godfrey, Constance. High House—Tews, Peters, Nehs, Eastman, Lott, Sachs, Czerwonky, Watson.

SKATERS NOTICE!

Have Your Skates Ground on Our Special Skate
Sharpening Machine.

Harloff-Loprich Electric Co.

Grand Opening!! Capitol

Saturday Nite
JAN. 21ST at 6 P.M.
3 SHOWS

Plan Now
to Attend the Greatest Event in the History of Madison

Make no other appointment. You must be present at this tremendous opening. You'll behold—Wonderland. It's ready for you. It's waiting for you. Gorgeous! Vivid! Dazzling! Sweeping!

Superior Pictures. And Midwesco Stage Presentations. Amid Fairyland Surroundings.

CAPITOL ADMISSION PRICES

	SATURDAY	SUNDAY
12:30 to 2 P. M.
Adults 35c	Adults 50c
Children 10c	Children 10c
2 to 6 P. M.
Adults 50c	Adults 60c
Children 15c	Children 15c
6 to 11 P. M.
Adults 60c	Adults 60c
Children 15c	Children 15c

GARRICK THEATRE

— TOMORROW —

Matinee 3:00 p. m.
25c & 50c

EVENING AT 8:15

AL JACKSON'S
GARRICK PLAYERS

IN

"Bluebeard's
8th
Wife"

"Here's a Brilliant Farce
Comedy That Satisfies a Natural Craving for the Spicy Bits of Life."
"GOOD FUN FROM START TO FINISH"