5 CENTS

2,800 ATTEND FIRST UNION BOARD MIXER

Dancers Jam Gymnasium in Spite of 92 Degree Temperature

Although the mercury registered at the 92 mark, more than 2,800 students attended the first all-university mixer in the gymnasium last night.

"The turnout was far above the board's expectation," said Alfred D. Hotton, chairman of the mixer. "We were sure that since the night was so hot and humid that everybody would want to be splashing around in bathing suits instead of dancing in a hot hall. The crowd we had shows that the students actually take a keen interest in such affairs and that there is a demand for them. It is our purpose to give one about every month."

At 9 o'clock when the orchestra struck up its first fox trot, 200 couples were on the floor. Along either side of the room stood the rows of wall flowers, those timid few that are afraid to "break ice." It was for these that mixing stunts were arranged—"get acquainted" schemes,—so that by the fourth dance instead of supporting the brick wall the erstwhile wall flowers were whirling with the others.

The committee in charge of the mixer allowed no one to stand without dancing because he knew no one and was too shy to introduce himself. Deputies made the rounds of the gym spotting those bashful ones who were afraid to ask someone to dance and found partners for them.

"To get the newcomers acquainted and to get them to feel at home is the purpose of the mixers," said a member of the committee. "That is why we have people go around and see that everyone is enjoying himself. The first mixer is always the hardest since so many feel abashed."

Despite the humid heat, the witting collars, and the ruining of fresh marcel, the crowds stayed until "Home, Sweet Home" was played at midnight.

The gymnasium was decorated in allied flags and bunting. The Stars and Stripes festooned the orchestra pit and brightened the gallery which was filled with spectators. The floor had been scraped and waxed for the dance.

The party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Frank O. Reed of the Romance language department, and Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Elsom of the physical education department.

According to officers of the board, another mixer will be given October 23.

NEW WOMEN ARE INVITED TO VESPERS

New women are being personally invited as far as possible by the Lake Geneva delegates to attend the first Vespers meeting of Y. W. C. A. today, 4:30 p. m., in Lathrop parlors, at which Dean Frederick W. Roe will speak on "The Ideal Wisconsin Woman."

The service will be a welcome from the association and will be presided over by Mildred Rogers, president, who will be assisted by Sophomore commission women acting as hostesses.

Several violin and piano duets will make up the program of special music.

FROSH WORKOUT BRINGS OUT ONLY HALF OF SQUAD

Scrimmage to Begin Next Week; Almost 100 Yearlings Signed Up

Although nearly 100 huskies signed up for frosh football Friday afternoon, but a scanty half reported for the first workout on Saturday afternoon. Coach Robert Quick, who is handling the freshman footballers while Director T. E. Jones turns his attention to the varsity squad, put the yearlings through a preliminary practice consisting of instruction in charging, blocking, and tackling, and before the afternoon's program was completed, had the youngsters panting and sweltering under the hot September sun.

Following is the list of freshmen signed up for the fall sport:

W. F. Anderson, N. W. Armfield, L. H. Austey, W. C. Babcock, C. S. Beyer, N. M. Butterfield, G. A. Carlson, D. O. Coe, A. Deyer, B. M. Densling, D. O. Farrand, W. H. Feirin, E. C. Foster, O. M. DAVEY PICKS AIDES FOR CLASS RUSH

Allen C. Davey, chief-of-police for the annual class rush, announced yesterday that he had picked as his four assistants: Carson F. Lyman, Malcom Mecartney, Clyde Nash, and Warren Taylor.

In addition to these assistant chiefs there will be 20 men appointed who will act as captains over squads of nine each.

The 20 squad leaders will be announced in the Cardinal Tuesday morning.

BIRGE TALKS TO BADGER CLUB AT 'Y' MEET TONIGHT

Interesting Musical Program Promised for First Meeting

President E. A. Birge is to give the opening address of the year before the Badger club in the Y. M. C. A. parlors tonight. His talk will be informal, and is intended to offer an opportunity for the students, especially the new-comers, to meet him personally.

The club will meet at 8 o'clock, and the first twenty minutes will be devoted to getting acquainted. Community singing will follow, led by "Doc" Dorward, who has agreed to take charge of this part of the program for the year. In addition there will be a special song program. A trio of student musicians, Paul Saunders, piano, Horner Chapman, cello, and Abe Shapiro, violin, are to play, having undertaken to furnish the musical programs regularly.

After President Birge's talk refreshments will be served. A committee of girls under Doris Lucas has been working to make the "eats" and the serving a success, and has arranged to eliminate having each person serve himself. They have also planned a Badger club art design for the service and advertising. The monogram is the work of Miss Bennett.

The hosts and hostesses tonight will be President and Miss Nan Birge, Dean F. Louise Nardin, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Greeley, Dr. and Mrs. Grant Showerman. With the girls more active in the work this year than ever before, a large attendance is expected, and a successful year is looked forward to.

BADGER EDITORS OPEN UP OFFICES

Dust clouds, piles of antique paper, relics from the remains of last year's Badger activities all appeared on the scene yesterday when the 1922 year book officers rolled up their sleeves and formally began the establishment of offices in the Union building.

Three rooms on the second floor of the building have been secured for the sole use of Badger staff workers. Furniture and equipment is being installed rapidly, so that the more detailed work on the book may be commenced at once. Regular office hours will be announced soon.

GRADUATE RETURNS; TALKS UPON SYRIA

Miss Margaret McGilvary who returned from Syria this summer after spending the terrible war years in the Near East has been persuaded to give a talk on "Trapped in Syria; A Personal Experience," at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 28, in 165 Bascom hall. Although her address will be given under the auspices of the Self-Government association and primarily for university students, the public will be admitted.

Miss McGilvary, who is the daughter of Prof. E. B. McGilvary, chairman of the department of philosophy, and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in 1914, was in the Near East when the Great war broke out in 1914. During the years of the war and its aftermath, she was in the midst of the Syrian horrors. She witnessed unusual and thrilling scenes and has developed a remarkable power of expression in describing them.

LAWRENCE TO BE BADGER FOE IN FIRST GAME

Only Two of Five Conference Battles to Be Played at Home

1920 SCHEDULE
Oct. 2 — Lawrence college at Madison.
Oct. 9 — Michigan Aggies at Madison.
Oct. 16 — Northwestern at Madison.
Oct. 23 — Ohio State at Columbus.
Nov. 6 — Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 13 — Illinois at Madison (Homecoming).
Nov. 20 — Chicago at Chicago.

The 1920 Wisconsin football schedule will open next Saturday afternoon in Camp Randall with Captain "Red" Weston leading his varsity eleven against Lawrence college.

The program this year calls for seven games, four of which will be battled on the home field. Although but two conference games will be played at home it is generally agreed that with the present arrangement Wisconsin stands as good chances of climbing to the top of the "Big Ten" as could be asked for.

Ohio First Hard Game

The first conflict to arouse the most fear will be with Ohio State the latter part of October. After that there will be two weeks for the squad to rest after their first long trip and get in trim for the fight with the Norsemen at Minneapolis, which is always a hard one because of the historic rivalry between the Badgers and the Gophers. The next game will be played at home with Illinois and will be the occasion of the Wisconsin Homecoming celebration. The team will then go to Chicago where the curtain will drop on the season.

At Chicago Coach Richards' squad will meet the "Stagmen" to play the second game of a contract series which calls for Wisconsin-Chicago games to be held for five consecutive years at Stagg field. The purpose of this agreement, as announced when it was made, is to afford a greater number of football enthusiasts including alumni of both institutions in the vicinity of the big city a better opportunity to witness an annual conflict which is intended to arouse as much interest as the Harvard-Yale battle of the west.

No Dope on Preliminaries

How the teams coming here in the preliminary encounters will stack up against Coach Richards' men can hardly be determined. As is often the case they may work the varsity hard because of the early season condition of the team. The Michigan Aggies usually come through with a squad of huskies capable of giving stiff opposition to most any foe.

Northwestern comes to Madison October 23 for the first conference game on the schedule. Usually the Purple team does not arouse much consternation among Wisconsin fans, but last year it put up an unexpected battle which hustled Richards' men to come out with the long end of the 10 to 6 score. This year there has been a shakeup of the Methodists coaching staff with

SOPHOMORES PICKED FOR TRADITION BODY

Daniel O'Neil, recently appointed temporary chairman of the sophomore traditions committee, has chosen the following men to serve on the committee: Carl Repp, Gilbert Ward, Phillip Voltz, Robert Reynolds, Howard Willett, Walter Schulke, Everett Jones, Steven Reichart, Kenneth Leith, Ed Frawley, Gerold Koch, Tom McCandless, Joseph Hook, Morton Frost.

This committee is to have charge of sophomore preparations for the Class Rush, and will be the instrument for enforcing university traditions upon the freshmen.

The committee, obeying the general sentiment of the sophomore class this year, is in full accord with the student senate on the main questions of hazing, but frankly anticipates difficulty in repressing harmless outbreaks of the old sophomore spirit. Already it has made use of its authority in a class encounter, and members of the committee were responsible for the dry and peaceful outcome of a small hazing affair Friday night.

FULLER NAME TO BE CHANGED TO PARKWAY

The Fuller theater, which for a score of years has been one of Madison's leading amusement places, will soon be called "The Parkway," according to advices received from the management yesterday.

Besides changing the name of the theater, extensive plans are being made to have the house remodeled, but due to the present labor situation this will not be started until May of next year.

No More Nigger Heaven

The new plans contemplate the elimination of the two stores in front of the theater building and the present offices on the second floor of the building. A large new lobby will stretch across the entire width of the building, while the wall back of the stage will be arranged in such a way as to give a greater seating capacity, with 300 more seats on the first floor.

The saddest news in connection with the remodeling of the house is that the "nigger heaven" will be no more." The management has announced that there will be only two floors in the new building, and as a consequence, many a student who has "rushed the Fuller" will have to find another perch.

Many Productions Coming

Ralph W. Jackman, owner of the property, conferred with J. E. O. Pridmore, theatrical architect, recently, and decided on the comprehensive changes that are to make The Parkway one of the best show houses in the northwest. William Gird Beecroft, manager; Harold J. Donovan, active manager; and Joseph E. Davis, who for 30 years has been connected with the firm as treasurer, will continue their duties Parkway.

Among the coming productions which were announced exclusively to The Cardinal, are: The Old Homestead, with May Robson; Sweetheart Shop, Blind Youth, Three Wise Fools, Take It From Me, Captain Kid, Fiske O'Hara, Jack O'Lantern, Bringing Up Father, Bubbles, Wedding Bells, Carmen, Max Bloom, Keeping Up With the Jones's, Golden Girl, All Aboard for Cuba, and Vogel's Minstrels.

JOIN A LITERARY SOCIETY

COLLEGE activities are as varied as they are interesting. There are students who have a special aptitude for athletics, a fact which affords Wisconsin front rank in the world of sports; others take to debating; still others concentrate on dramatics; while a large group gives its measure of service in the field of literary endeavor.

One branch of campus life, however, has the unique distinction of bringing together all other factors that go to make up a university personnel. In the ranks of the leading literary societies one can find listed men and women who have made their mark in every other type of activity.

A scratch on the surface makes the reason perfectly obvious. A literary society requires a minimum of the students' time, and yet it gives in return a maximum of benefit. Meeting for two hours on Friday nights they thresh out problems that are foremost in the minds of thinking Americans today. They delve into the realms of parliamentary procedure; they tax a student's thinking apparatus by giving him live subjects to discuss; they furnish the ingredients of stimulating friendly rivalry through the medium of inter-society contests.

With only a limited time at their disposal they deal only with facts and realities. The majority of the student body has always thought that one must of necessity be a forensic leader to belong to a literary society. Such is not the case. If anyone has aspirations in that direction a literary society can show the way to further it.

Pick at random one hundred noted alumni and it will be found that one of the outstanding features of their university days, one which has remained with them when other courses were known only as index and file numbers, was the part they took in Wisconsin's literary societies. Membership is limited in all of the societies. To be certain of the benefits, those interested should be on hand when the opening gun is fired next Friday night.

WITH the renewal of other school activities, the University Choral Union will begin its rehearsals this week. A year filled with good musical things is promised by those in charge, and the students who are interested in singing are urged to get an early start by being present at the first rehearsal.

The Choral Union is a musical organization open to all students and faculty members. To gain admittance no one is asked to pass a test or furnish evidence of any ability to sing.

Among its members the Choral Union numbers nearly all of the university's best singers, but it always enrolls applicants who can scarcely carry a tune. The only requirement for admission is an interest in choral music.

In the past the work of the Choral Union has been a great success. Last year many students made use of the opportunity of belonging to this chorus and many more are expected this year.

Rehearsals will be held weekly and all lovers of music will enjoy attending them. At the first rehearsal of the season, next Tuesday night, the welcome hand will be extended to all newcomers by those who joined the union one or two, or more years ago.

NORSE MUSICIAN DELIGHTS CROWD

Audience Especially Pleased With National Music; Part of Program Too Heavy

Two hundred devotees of Norwegian music attended the concert of Torfinn Litlere at Turner hall last night. The first half of the program was devoted to selections from the old classical school from Corelli to Bach. These displayed the artist's splendid technic and command of his instrument, but were not received with great enthusiasm by the audience.

Four numbers from the older classics, whose chief beauty, their form, is incomprehensible to the average listener—perfectly executed but unrelieved by some of the later romantic works, do not seem the best choice for a popular program.

But when Mr. Litlere swung into his second group, the Norwegian national music, the audience was delighted. The characteristic Scandinavian melodies, with a monotonous minor accompaniment like that of a bigpipe, found a glad welcome in the hearts of many who had heard them in childhood. Even to those who were not familiar with them they were truly charming, literally caressed out of the violin by the artist. A great deal of applause drew two encores from the modest young Norwegian.

LAWRENCE WILL BE FIRST BADGER FOE

McDeavitt of Yale as the new grid mentor.

The week following this the varsity will go to Columbus to square last year's score. Every Badger remembers the game in which Chic Harley, thrown for losses almost every time he carried the ball, drop kicked in the last quarter and won the game by the score of 3 to 0.

Besides the grudge against Ohio there is one to be squared two weeks later with the Gophers who still have Arnold Oss in the lineup to carry the oval. Illinois and Chicago, the last two on the list, will be far from easy marks. Illinois topped the "Big Ten" as conference champion last year and is again considered a contender for the same honors.

Next Tuesday evening at 5:45 the student unit captains will hold their first banquet of the present school year. Complete attendance at this meeting will do much to assure success in reaching Lutheran students for the whole school year. Banquet plates will be 35 cents each.

Chemical Engineers society will meet at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 28. Talks by Hirshberg and Montgomery. Freshmen invited.

NURSES COURSE IS FIRST OF ITS KIND

The only course in public health work, specially prepared for public health nursing, to be offered by any state university will be offered in Wisconsin this term, according to Miss Florence Patterson, in charge of the nurses' training courses at the university. The course is offered to meet the demand for public health workers which is so great that throughout the country only one out of eight requests can be filled.

It will be a 5-year course and any student may enter. Although the new General hospital will not be completed and ready for practice work for two years, the first two years of the course are general college medical courses and the practice work does not come until the third year of the course.

In addition to this 5-year course, the university now offers a 3-year course, which fits the candidate for hospital duty, public health work, and other branches of nursing. The candidate is offered a choice of six months' training in public health work or six months' training for institutional work in this shorter course.

THE DAILY CARDINAL

A Dollar saved is a Quarter Earned

If all this talk is true about the American dollar only being worth 25 cents, then the man who overpays $10 for a Fall Suit is in reality $40 out.

Or turn it around—if the same chap pays us $10 less than he would have to pay someone else—by all the laws of logic he is $40 in.

We are selling Fall Suits this September on such reasonable profits that it's only a matter of time until the men of Madison wake up to our values—and then they won't want to go back to sleep.

WORLD-FAMOUS SINGER

May Peterson, Metropolitan Soprano, First of Three Musicians to Be Brought to University Through Efforts of Union Board

BY ADRIAN SCOLTEL

May Peterson, famous Metropolitan soprano and concert star who will sing at the university gymnasium on October 22, is a Wisconsin girl of such rare American talent that she has been selected for the impersonation of at least five leading roles at the Metropolitan theater, New York, this season.

The roles in which she will be starred are "Lakme," "Mimi," "Violetta," "Micchaela," and "Manon."

Miss Peterson is a superb singer of old ballads and melodies. One of her latest phonograph records, "Comin' Thro' the Rye," scored the greatest number of sales in the month of July of any record made by any artist for any talking machine.

Miss Peterson always includes some of the old favorite songs on her programs, and this is one of the things that have so endeared her to the great concert going public.

To obtain money to live on and complete her musical education in Paris, Miss Peterson used to sing in a church, play piano accompaniments for other artists, teach English to the French girls, and read aloud to an old invalid lady. She always did her own laundry, dressmaking and cooking.

The struggle was hard but the reward has been ample for today May Peterson is one of the most prominent figures in the musical life of America and one of the greatest of artists.

Union board is bringing May Peterson, Fritz Kreisler and Moiseiwitsch to Madison this season. Season tickets for all three of these concerts will be sold for $3.00 and $4.00, and will be placed on sale at Hook Bros. Music store and on the campus within a few days.

AT THE STRAND

"The Soul of Youth" which is now playing at the Strand theater, is a drama of the most refreshing type and leaves the spectator in a happy frame of mind after witnessing the thrilling dramatic plot and the wholesome comedy with which the entire film is pervaded.

The story is centered around a boy who grows up in a foundling home and shows his unhappy life in that institution, where he gains the reputation of being the worst boy in the place, and his subsequent experience after he departs from the loveless home to make his way in the city streets.

Included in the cast are Lewis Sargent, who played the title role in "Huckleberry Finn" and who is the center of action in this production; Ernest Butterworth, Clyde Fillmore, Lila Lee, William Collier, Jr., Fred Huntley, Claude Peyton, Betty Schade, and others. Judge Lindsey, the noted juvenile jurist, and his wife, Mrs. Ben Lindsey, also appear in several important scenes.

As added attractions, the University of Wisconsin Pageant and Welcome to college students pictures taken during the ceremony Friday will be shown in addition to a comedy cartoon and "News Weekly."
