As soon as the bill is in final shape it will be given to the governor for signature.

1924 BADGERS DISTRIBUTED ON HILL TODAY

Will Be Given Out at Music Hall

Distribution of 4000 1924 Badgers begins at 7:45 o'clock this morning in Music hall.

A force of 30 circulation assistants has been drafted into service, and these persons will be in charge of dispensing the year-books. They will distribute the books today, Saturday morning, and on Monday.

A shipment of 1,000 Badgers arrived here by truck late last night, and B. Lyman and Editor-in-Chief Gamber F. Tegtmeyer. The remaining 3,000 books are scheduled to arrive here at 11 o'clock this morning by rail. In case the first 1,000 are distributed before 11 o'clock, the Music hall quarters will be closed until the remainder of the shipment has been transported to the campus from the freight yards.

Distribution is Planned

Persons who have paid the subscription price of $4 will enter Music hall through the first door on the hill walk, get their books at the south end of the building and exit on Park street.

Those who paid $2 during the fall campaign will enter through the first door on the hill walk, get the stub which certifies they have paid $2, and after getting the book exit through the Music school proper. Persons who owe $5 for the book will be assigned to a separate section and will exit on Park street.

Non-subscribers Must Wait
Blanks have been placed on tables in the distribution room, and persons who have lost stubs certifying they have paid a part or all of the subscription price can fill the blanks and procure the Badger. In case they have lost the stub and the Badger business staff has no record in its files, they will not be given their book until after the regular circulation period.

Three hundred extra copies of the book, 200 of which were signed for on lists placed in various campus buildings, will be on sale for $5 each. Books not sold for $5 will be exchanged with other universities, and there will be no surplus to be sold at lower rates.

Two free copies of the Badger were given to a pair of freshmen who camped upon the steps of Music hall during Thursday. They were first in line.

CHUDNOW, HALL PERFORM AT SOPH DANCE TONIGHT

Final arrangements for the annual spring dance to be given by members of the sophomore class tonight in the Badger room of the Woman's building have been completed.

Decoration and lighting effects have been planned and the dance promises to eclipse any class dance of previous years. The dance is open to the members of all classes and tickets can be secured at the door and from members of the sophomore class.

Dave Chudnow's orchestra that recently returned from playing at the Well's college prom in Aurora New York, will furnish the music. Orchestra members are Dave Chudnow '25 at the piano, Bud Buell '23 on the saxophone, Nate Grabin '24 on the banjo, Torrey Foy '23 trombone, Ed Kehl drums and Bob Talley '25 cornet.

T. Faxon Hall will present one or two songs and a dance skit. He will be accompanied on the piano by Dave Chudnow.

Carolyn Hinsdell will also present a solo dance. The number of ticket sales is to be limited.

3:30 p. m.—Baseball, Chicago vs. Wisconsin
6:30 p. m.—Intercollegiate crew races
7 p. m.—Interfraternity sing, behind Union building

8 p. m.—Awarding of conference medal
8:45 p. m.—Welcome by Gus Tebell. Freshman bonfire, lower campus.

BULLETIN

Eugene Tuhtar '26 last night gave out the following statement: "Sophomores! Varsity night has placed Cap night on a new basis. For any sophomores to prematurely light the bonfire on the lower campus or to wage any combat will be no reflection on the freshman class but will rather do harm to the entire university. Every member of the class of 1925 should respect the new tradition and take part in the welcome ceremonies."

The inception of Varsity night, Wisconsin's new spring event, will be celebrated tonight on the Mendota lake front and the lower campus by the first inter-fraternity sing, the presentation of "W"s and awards by the athletic department, and the welcoming of the freshmen into further brotherhood of the university.

A score of communications have been received by the Cardinal during the last week signifying approval of the idea and commending the action of the Student court and the presidents of the lower classes in making the green cap wearing optional and the placing of the bonfire ceremony on a basis of welcome rather than combat.

As was formerly done, the bonfire will be lit and constructed by the freshman class, but the entire university will witness the lighting and will take part in the celebration. A snake dance of classes will take place after the fire.

Sophomores Approve

The freshmen will be officially welcomed by Gus Tebell who was appointed by Rollie Williams, president of the senior class. Both presidents of the lower classes have signified their approbation of the idea and have agreed to maintain Varsity night upon a status of friendship and fellowship.

The last social event of the year will be a dance tonight in Lathrop parlors. Mayor and Mrs. I. Milo Kittleson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peterson will chaperon the party.

AWAIT ADVANCE GUARD OF HIGH SCHOOL GUESTS

Numerous Events Are Scheduled

The university is waiting for the advance guard of high school visitors from all over the state today. Several hundred students are expected to arrive in Madison before tonight, and the rest will come tomorrow morning. Fair weather, forecasted for today, should insure a successful beginning of the two-day program.

Varsity Night Events

6:30—Inter-college crew race.
7:00—Inter-fraternity sing.
7:45—Introduction to awarding of "W"s by Rollie Williams.
8:00—Awarding of conference medal by member of Athletic council.
8:15—Introduction of Coach Jack Ryan.
8:20—Parade from lake shore to lower campus led by Rollie Williams, Gus Tebell and all class officers.
8:30—Speech of welcome by Gus Tebell.
8:40—Freshman bonfire.

An appeal for additional rooming quarters for the visitors was made yesterday by Hawley V. Porter '25, chairman of the housing committee.

More Rooms Needed

Any rooming houses or individuals who can take care of one or two men are asked to call some member of the committee as early as possible today.

The committeemen are Dave Taub, F. 2824; Jack McGrath, B. 196; James Sutton, B. 8; Henry Smith, B. 651; George Barber, B. 312.

Gordon B. Wanzer '24, general chairman spoke over the radio last night inviting high school students and their parents to come to Madison for the week-end celebration.

Students are Hosts

"The university student body is host to the entire state this week-end, and it is our sincerest hope that as many of the friends and relatives of the athletes as possible will take advantage of the opportunity to see the university at its best," Wanzer's message stated.

Any organizations that have not notified the committee of their intention of entering the float parade tomorrow night should list them immediately. "The impression given the high school visitors by the parade will depend as much upon numbers of floats as anything," Walter A. Frautschi, Venetian Night chairman said last night.

Trophy cups for Venetian Night are on display in the window of the Panatorium. Water carnival cups are on exhibition in the window of the University pharmacy.

FROSH TAG SALE NETS $30 TOWARD CAP NIGHT

"About $30 was made from the sale of tags by freshmen," said James Flickinger, president of the freshman class, yesterday. "I think that this will be enough to defray the expenses of Cap Night, and there will be some to pay the overdue bills of the class."

Tags were sold on the hill by freshmen yesterday to raise funds for the expenses of their part of Varsity night this evening. Proceeds from the frosh dance held last week-end will also help defray expenses.

Freshmen intending to work on the bonfire should meet at the Sigma Nu house, 625 North Henry street today. Orin Wernecke '26 is in charge.

VARSITY MEETS MAROON MEN ON DIAMOND TODAY

Game Scheduled For 3:30 O'Clock

Wisconsin and Chicago baseball teams will meet for the second time this season tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Camp Randall. It will be a battle between two teams which have met several successive reversals and each outfit will fight to the last ditch to come out of the rut.

The Maroon team, headed by Coach Nelson Norgren, arrived in Madison early last evening in time for a good night's rest.

Coach Guy S. Lowman has been polishing off the rough spots in his outfit since the Northwestern disaster in hopes that he can eliminate some of the bad playing which resulted in the recent defeats. The Badgers defeated Chicago on the Midway diamond 6 to 4 in the first game of the season.

Call Snappy Practice

The Wisconsin men went through a snappy hitting and fielding practice yesterday afternoon.

Arndt, Chicago pitching ace, although he held Iowa to three hits, was defeated the first of the week by the Cornhuskers, 2 to 0. Wildness in the early innings proved his disaster, however, as he issued six free tickets to the initial sack. Captain Yardley, who is playing his third year in Conference baseball, will do the receiving.

Is Good Backstop

The Maroon leader is recognized as one of the leading backstoppers in the Big 10, having the reputation of steadying his heavers and holding runners close to the sack.

Following the batting and hitting practice yesterday, Coach Lowman gave his men another workout in the form of skull practice. Pitchers Pickford, Radke, Johnson and Shrenck worked out long enough to show control and were excused for the day.

Lineup Not Decided

Coach Lowman has not definitely decided on his lineup, he said yesterday. Indications were yesterday that Pickford would receive the mound assignment with Radke held in reserve. The only possible change in the remainder of the team is that Johnson might be stationed in one of the gardens.

The magazine contains the name and number of every man entered in the meet and designates which high schools the runners represent. The schedule is arranged according to class A and class B schools.

Coach Jones has written a welcome to the high school students who will attend the meet.

"Track Men Prove Fighters", "A Tennis Championship?", "Men-dota Transformed into Venice", "Ryan Drills Gridiron Men", "Preparing for Poughkeepsie", "Coach Harry E. Vail", "Golf—Our Latest

MOULDING CHOSEN TENNIS CAPTAIN

Arthur Moulding '24 was elected captain of the 1924 tennis team after the conference tennis tournament, it was wired from Chicago last night. Moulding is a veteran of two years service on the tennis squad.

Treadwell and Aagesen still remain in the championship doubles at the conference meet at Chicago. They defeated Barret and Scott of Northwestern by the score of 6-3 and 6-1.

SENIORS CLOSE TENNIS EVENTS

Hentzen is Winner of 23 Matches in Net Tourney

hndlu rdlu mfwyp rdlu ggkqj bgkqj

With the exception of the senior match which is finished, the annual inter-class tennis tournament is progressing slower than the officials had expected.

Hentzen won the senior match after hotly contested play with Headly. In the first set Hentzen rather had his own way, but in the second Headly came back and beat Hentzen by the score of 6 to 2.

The third set was won by Hentzen by 6 to 4.

The junior matches have progressed rather slowly with Crane and Stebbins in the lead. The Crane-Sinclair match ended in the set scores 6-2 and 6-1. The Wilken-Stebbins match was hotly contested; the set scores were 6-4 and 6-3.

Some of the sophomore matches in the first round have not been played. Those who are in the second round and who have won their matches are Giesel, Hocking and Johnson.

There is evidence that the frosh is intensely interested in the tournament for 32 men are signed up for play. Ockerman, by defeating Woy 6-0, 6-2, has worked himself into the finals.

Class numerals will be awarded to the winner of the frosh class tournament only. The winners of the other classes will play one another to decide the victor of the four classes.

Sport" are the titles of other articles appearing in this issue of the Athletic Review. A picture of Ralph Spetz '23, track captain, appears on the front cover.

The Interscholastic day issue has been planned especially for the high school students who will be here for the week-end.

DULUTH AND ST. JOHN'S OARSMEN ARRIVE TODAY

Races Begin at Eleven Tomorrow

The Duluth Boat club crew and the crew from St. John's military academy will arrive today to launch their shells in Badger waters.

The crew from the Duluth Boat club will row the varsity, and the St. John's military academy will row the junior crew at 11 o'clock tomorrow. In case the sea is rough, the races will be postponed until 6 o'clock.

The length of the course is to be a mile and a quarter.

Crews Practice Much

The Badger crews have been practicing steadily for the coming races, but coach Harry E. "Dad" Vail states that the men have not yet reached their limit of development. Late spring has greatly retarded the practice and has been the chief drawback to the progress of the rowing.

The varsity will meet a formidable foe in the Duluth oarsmen who have long been the foremost of their kind in America. The club is shipping its own equipment here, thus doing away with the handicap of a strange shell.

St. John's has always been a favorite at Wisconsin in crew racing and their rowers are especially strong this season.

Hold Inter-College Race

Besides the varsity and junior races scheduled for tomorrow, the inter-college races are to be held. These races will take place at 10 o'clock. The Engineers, Ags, L&S, and Commerce schools have crews entered.

The rowers in Wisconsin's varsity crew who will race tomorrow are D. C. Newcomb, stroke, Capt. H. E. Johnson 7, E. H. Grozier 6, R. J. Schuetz 5, P. J. Okerstrom 4, H. J. Bentson 3, R. C. Klussendorf 2, A. J. Platten bow, and C. G. Hausmann coxswain.

The junior crew is composed of T. D. Bacchus stroke, W. S. Smith 7, E. M. Plattner 6, K. C. Sly 5, L. H. Kingston 4, C. G. Jax 3, C. B. Puestow 2, W. F. Holms bow, and F. L. Luehring coxswain.

University doctors supply medical treatment to about 86 per cent of the women students and 60 per cent of the men at the university.

"W" CLUB MEETING

There will be a meeting of the "W" club in the trophy room of the gymnasium at 12:45 o'clock today. All members are asked to be there to formulate plans for welcoming high school athletes.

CO-EDS MAKE SWIM

ENTRIES TOMORROW

Final entries for the women's swimming contest of the water carnival will be received by Lois Barry '25 on the university Y. M. C. A. pier at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The women's contest will consist of diving and a 40-yard dash, the respective prizes of which will be a Jentzen bathing suit given by Simpson Garment company, and a King Tut scarf given by Anderson Bros.

Men's entries should be left with J. F. Manierre '25, in charge of swimming events, at the gym office. The events will be a 40-yard dash, a 100-yard dash, a lighted candle race, an inter-fraternity relay and an undressing race.

ATHLETES ARE READY TO TOE LINE SATURDAY

46 High Schools Are Entered

More than 500 high school athletes will be ready to toe the white line at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Camp Randall in the twenty-ninth annual interscholastic track meet sponsored by the university. Forty-six high schools will have men entered in the two classes.

Increased interest in high school track meets throughout the state this spring probably will result in the breaking of several state records. More dual and sectional meets have been held this year than ever before in the history of the state interscholastic program.

Future Stars Perform

The annual Interscholastic gives university track authorities and students the first opportunity to watch future college athletes in action.

Many of these high school men have borne out early predictions later at the university. Capt. Ralph Spetz was a point winner in the interscholastic in his high school days. Valley, Hilberts, Schneider, Kennedy and Zilisch now on the Varsity and freshman squads were prominent in interscholastic circles a few years ago.

Encourage Education

"While the primary object of the Interscholastic is to interest high school students in Wisconsin athletics, we don't want them to overlook the educational and other facilities of the institution," Coach T. E. Jones said yesterday.

"For that reason I should like to ask every student to join in hearty welcome to the visitors. It is us show them what Wisconsin traditions and ideals in every line mean."

APPROVED, NOT PROVED

A week of enthusiastic communications and widespread approval has demonstrated the popularity of the new Wisconsin idea, Varsity night; its practicability will be proved tonight by the attitude and actions of these men and of the entire school.

Sophomores especially will be in the limelight, for tradition has heretofore accorded to them the privilege of opening combat with the first year men at this time. The ideals of Varsity night are not commensurate with the old order of things; temporary carnal pleasure must bow to the permanent benefit of a future constructive tradition.

The sophomore president has issued a plea to his class to respect the new tradition which he believes will add to the protection and glory of Wisconsin. One who has once gained the confidence of his class by a majority vote, should be again supported in the furthering of a beneficial transformation.

Faculty, activity secretaries, and students have propounded reasons for the instigation and perpetuation of Varsity night. Wisconsin cannot face the devastating results of even the slightest scandal; the Memorial union cannot successfully grow under the handicap of a state population misguided by one event's results; Wisconsin spirit cannot thrive under the shadow of a possible second Jandorf episode or phosphorus assault.

For any group to organize an opposition to the freshman fire tomorrow will not be a reflection or "a good joke" upon the class of 1926. It will be a reflection against the university, a retribution of all that has been said by Wisconsin's leaders of the celebration's importance, and an utter failure in the eyes of Conference schools who are interestedly watching Wisconsin's experiment.

Varsity night is for the freshmen, but not entirely by them. Sophomores are not an organized body in the evening's proceedings. Seniors, juniors and sophomores will be amalgamated into a great brotherhood to welcome the class of 1926.

Wisconsin, prove that which you have approved.

"W" MEN

Of all men now in the university or who have graduated, nowhere will a greater spirit of Wisconsin be found than exists among the "W" men. And why? No men have labored harder to earn success for themselves and glory for their alma mater. No men have given more of themselves to Wisconsin or fought harder for it. To win scholastic honor is a splendid thing and all who secure it surely merit the respect and approbation of the entire university. But to attain both the high scholastic standard now required of all athletes and, in addition thereto, earn the much coveted "W" is indeed to prove to the world that Wisconsin produces red blooded men of courage and stamina who combine brain and brawn in perfect unison.

No man ever won his "W" without first proving his determination, his willingness to work, his discipline and his true loyalty to Wisconsin under the acid test. Nor did he win it without most earnest conscientious effort and much personal sacrifice, spurred on only by the hope of adding laurels to the record of his school. A roster of Wisconsin "W" men of the past 40 years would bring a thrill of just pride to all of us for the record of service, citizenship and achievement it would tell. Among them will be found many of the leading business and professional men of America, outstanding builders of their communities. Judges, attorneys, physicians and surgeons, educators, ministers, state, government and municipal public officials with excellent records of accomplishment; publishers, bankers and financiers, engineers, merchants and manufacturers of prominence are all well represented in the list. And wherever one of them is located there will be found a great, loyal believer in Wisconsin, an active supporter of the university and a living exponent of Wisconsin spirit.

It is good for us here to know and recognize that in the vast majority of cases the winning of Wisconsin's "W" has served as a true insight to future and even greater success in the broader field of life. Let undergraduate "W" men and all who are now trying out on the squads keep that thought before them as a further incentive to put forth their best efforts.

Honor the "W" men for what they have done and are doing for Wisconsin. Join with them and encourage them in their earnest, legitimate efforts to show all prospective "W" men who may now be attending the university or who may contemplate coming here that at Wisconsin clean, upright athletics and athletes are accorded full respect and all honor justly due them. Carry the good word to all high school and normal school athletes who are just now determining what university they will enter this fall that here at Wisconsin they will be welcomed and that the winning of the cardinal "W" has been the forerunner of greater success after graduation.

AN ALUMNUS.

PASSING THE PEN

Many are the stories that are told of high school students who have come to Wisconsin because they caught a glimpse of the Badger. Fascinating is the legend of the men who wait days and nights on the steps of Music hall that they may carry away free the first coveted copy.

For Wisconsin the Badger is an integral piece of recording and advertising machinery. For the world of college annuals it sets the standard of excellence.

Today the assembled work of a year is placed before the public and the editorial and accounting pens are passed on. Active work on the 1925 Badger has commenced and we are assured an excellent book.

But it is with apprehension that we view the future. The election to chief positions this year went by default. Interest dwindles. If tiresome election campaigns kill incentive, then the present system should go.

The Badger in its finest form must be perpetuated.

Coincident with the change in Badger staffs comes the announcement of next year's Cardinal editors.

One hundred and four staff members are named. There is significance in that number alone. Never has the staff been nearly as large and representative of student interests before. The Cardinal is growing. It is a larger paper this year; it carries more news, more ads, more features.

Its future is unbounded in opportunities.

The people who take up the 1923-24 news duties will have the pulse of university life in their fingers to report and prescribe for. There is much they can do to stimulate more life in a too passive institution and to inspire a state's confidence in its greatest resource, the university. We look to the next year's 104 to carry on.

Water Carnival From Boats

High school athletes here for the interscholastic meet will view the water carnival tomorrow morning from special boats chartered to take them out on the lake. All the men will meet at the gymnasium at 9 o'clock and go to the Park street pier to take the boat. They will be taken for a ride along the lake shore and then to a point opposite the gymnasium where they can watch the events of the carnival.

Widows and self-supporting mothers sent 153 sons and daughters last fall to join the freshman class at the university.

Column Right!

Books and things—cabbages—
Kings—as penciled by Ever Sharp

Business picks up. We received a letter some time ago from a demure young miss who said that she actually liked this col. The funny part of it all is that we happen to have been a playmate of this girl many years ago. Whether or not she knows who we are is a question. Perhaps she wants to renew acquaintances.

She sent us a clipping on Conrad in which there were a number of interesting statements. It seems among other things, that a book of Conrad passages has been made by Miss Harriet Capes and published by Doubleday, Page and Co. It contains excerpts in which Conrad admirers have found infinite delight.

A few days ago a notice about the magazine, Asia, came to us and we thought back on the days when we used to find great delight in reading that excellent publication. Altogether too few people read it or even know about it. In its own way, it quite outstrips the National Geographic. It is full of absorbing articles and splendid photographs.

The only trouble with it, and the reason why we left off reading it is that it contains almost too much so that one is disheartened before one has done more than scan through it. Such is often the case you know; when sometimes you have so much to do that you don't know where to start you never get started at all.

If there are any mute Miltons on the campus, and there is plenty of evidence to indicate that there are, they should take notice of a contest which is being conducted by the Pioneer Writer's Guild of America, an organization of young writers.

Four prizes are being offered to writers unknown to fame. They are $150 each and will be awarded for the best short story, poem, play and cartoon. The last does not seem to be in keeping with the others, but that is none of our business. If you expect to enter, though, you had better get busy, for the contest closes June 30. The Guild's address is 9 Charles street.

We really ought to say something about the interscholastic performances this week-end. Tradition forms the very basis and moving spirit of an institution like this and interscholastic especially Venetian night, is one of Wisconsin's oldest traditions. It is one of the times which graduates remember with pleasure long after their hair has started to recede or turn gray, a time like homecoming, when the university world is transformed into a glorious dream-land. We are jubilant at hearing that fireworks will be used in the celebrations, Saturday. As far as we remember, they haven't been used in many years and we only hope that no serious accident in connection with them will happen this year so that they will again be tabooed.

Freshmen will not need to wear old clothes to the ceremony. No traces of any kind is included in the celebration. Sophomores have given their word of approval, officials of Interscholastic day who are supervising the events, declared last night.

The program for the evening will be opened by the first interfraternity sing in the history of the university. Fraternity and organized groups will compete in the sing on the lake shore at the rear of the Union building for first prize. Each group will sing two songs.

Cap Ceremony is on Campus Following the sing, "W"s will be awarded to those receiving Wisconsin's athletic insignia. The Conference medal winner, the highest athletic honor of the school, will next be announced for the first time. Each Jack Ryan will receive his official introduction to a student audience at this time.

The freshman cap ceremony will take place on lower campus and will be opened by a short address of welcome by Gus Tebell. The bonfire will follow.

"The success of Varsity night as the biggest tradition of the future depends upon its smooth running and the reception tonight. Many fraternities are advancing the dinner hours in order to make sure of attendance at all events. The entire night should receive the fullest cooperation," Gordon Wanzer '24, chairman of Interscholastic day, asserted last night.

If you're looking for a proposition to take on this vacation period, don't think of making an arrangement until you've had a look at the selling opportunity we offer you. There is nothing in the whole field of selling to compare or compete with it. Think of an article that is new—that is patented—that is not to be had in stores—that sells to both men and women—and sells on sight because they need it. The price of the article is very small, which helps to make it a ready seller, yet the profit to you as salesman is exceptionally large. You have a very small article to carry, no delivering to do, and you get your profit AT ONCE, cash with order. Earnings from $15.00 to $30.00 a day are not unusual, and more is possible.
