OVER 200 WILL ENTER SEVENTH STOCK EXHIBIT

Final Junior Competition To Open at Pavilion Monday

More than 200 boys and girls will meet in final competition at the seventh annual Junior Live Stock exposition to be held at the university stock pavilion October 23 to 28.

The show is an annual exposition of baby beesves, dairy calves, sheep, and pigs conducted by the boys and girls of the state under the auspices of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeder's association and the College of Agriculture.

The aim of the exposition, according to those in charge, is to stimulate greater interest in farming, and greater responsibility on the part of the boys and girls.

More than 300 entries of live stock have already been registered. The entries comprise: 105 baby beesves, 100 dairy calves, 48 sheep, and 70 swine. Some of the animals were exhibited at the state fair and at the National Dairy show.

Award Many Prizes

To stimulate greater interest in the show, some $3,000 in cash, trophies, and other prizes will be awarded to the competing boys and girls. The prizes include silver trophies, subscriptions to farm papers, barn esquipment and many other awards.

A special feature of the exposition is the annual sale of baby beesves Tuesday evening when Swift Armour and many other noted packers bid for the prize winning animals that are auctioned off. Some of the animals are later displayed at the National Live Stock show, Chicago.

Abundant entertainment is provided for the boys and girls at the exposition during their leisure hours, according to T. L. Bewick, in charge of Boy's and Girl's club work.

Program Is Elaborate

Fitting demonstrations, by prominent live stock authorities, excursions about the campus, to Camp Randall, and to the Madison Packing plant, a banquet by the Madison Chamber of Commerce, and many other forms of entertainment will be provided.

Nationally known judges will place the awards in the different classes. Baby beesves will be judged by J. E. Robbins, Indiana, lambs by William Miles, Evansville, pigs by J. E. Robbins and Dairy calves by L. S. Gillette, Iowa.

The officers and directors of our association are putting forth every effort to make this the most educational of the contests held thus far," declared Reid Murray, secretary of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeder's association, in discussing the show.

The program for Monday includes entries of baby beesves: 8:00 a.m.-12:00 m; Address of Welcome, by E. H. Parker, at 10 o'clock; auto trip about Madison at 1:45 o'clock; preparing baby beesves for Show Ring at 3 o'clock; banquet for exhibitors at 6 o'clock; program at 8 o'clock.

To instigate improvements in the system for ad copy and service was the purpose of the meeting of the Octopus advertising staff, yesterday afternoon. Ads of last month were surveyed and suggestions for improvements in advertising campaigns were discussed.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is predicted for today and tomorrow for Madison and vicinity. Warmer weather is expected Saturday and cooler Sunday.

Dedrick and Sinclair Will Run For Senate

Calvert L. Dedrick and David Sinclair announced their candidacies for junior member of the student senate yesterday.

Dedrick is forensic editor of the 1924 Badger. He was a member of the Inner Circle and Sophomore commission at the Y. M. C. A., was closer for Hesperia in the Sophomore Semi-Public debates, has taken lead parts in the annual Spanish play during both his freshman and sophomore years and is now vice-president of the Spanish club.

Sinclair is a member of Hesperia Literary society, the Social Science club, Campus Religious council and Chemistry club.

John S. Palmer, Waukegan, Ill., heads the fourth ticket to enter the field for freshman offices in the November 3 elections.

Ellen Matheson is candidate for vice-president; Gertrude Graham for secretary; Lyle Tibbitts for treasurer; and Lyman Smith for sergeant-at-arms on the ticket.

Palmer was graduated from St. John's Military academy where he was campus editor of the annual Trumpeter. He was prophet of the senior class, marshal of the commencement military ball, winner of the Dr. DeKoven medal for United States history, winner of the medal for physiology and hygiene and received honorable mention in chemistry, English and modern history.

He won his letter in track and was a candidate for football, basketball and baseball squads for two years.

Palmer is now a candidate for the freshman track team squad. He is a member of the St. Francis society, a pledge of Phi Sigma Kappa and is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Miss Matheson was graduated from the Grand Rapids, Mich., high school, where she participated in athletics and journalism. She was captain of the hockey team, member

MASS MEET FOR HOMECOMING TO BE BIG SUCCESS

Professor Fish, Pyre, and Gridiron Stars, Past and Present Will Speak

Plans for a bigger and better Homecoming massmeeting than has ever been held before are rapidly rounding into shape under the direction of Robert Stewart '23. The meeting will be held in the university gymnasium on Friday night, November 10, at 7:15 p.m.

The list of speakers is only tentative as yet, but it is expected that few changes in the program will be necessary. In addition the services of the 100 piece University band have been promised.

Prof. Carl Russell Fish will again appear on the program and Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, is the other faculty member who is booked to appear. Professor Fish has taken part in these meetings for many years, and Profesor Pyre, is chairman of the athletic committee.

John A. Richards, Badger football coach, will have something to say regarding his team and its status in the conference this season. Rollie Williams, captain of this year's eleven, and Gus Tebell, star grid end for three seasons, are the two members of the squad who will address the assemblage.

Paul Meyers, who starred on three former Badger elevens, has been invited to make a short talk. Meyers played at an end position, and his spectacular work was the talk of the conference during the time he was in school.

BADGERS AND HOOSIERS PLAY FIRST GAME IN TEN YEARS; EXPECT 10,000 TO ATTEND

Political Publicity Due At Cardinal Office Today

Candidates for the November 3 election who have not announced their candidacies in The Cardinal and who desire such publicity must send their lists of qualifications, accompanied by eligibility slips, to the editorial office in the Union building today.

Because of a special Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. edition of The Cardinal tomorrow, no election ticket will be published. Announcements received today, together with those previously received, will be printed early next week.

The Student senate elections committee has ruled that all announcements must be published in The Cardinal by tomorrow. Special dispensation will be made for candidates' publicity received today, however.

DOORS CLOSED ON POLITICIANS

No More Nominations Accepted By Senate After 5 O'Clock Yesterday

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the student senate elections committee closed its door upon political aspirants and settled down to the business of tabulating the names and respective offices of the 82 candidates.

Whether or not the sophomore ticket headed by Gene Tuhter has been elected by default is to be decided this afternoon at a special meeting of the senate elections committee, when the validity of a presidency petition presented by Frederick Radke is decided. Radke's nomination was originally for treasurer, but the petition was changed on account of the ineligibility of Oscar Teckemeyer, candidate for president.

The candidates with Radke are: Elizabeth Stolte for vice-president; John Palica, secretary; Edward Schele, treasurer; and Roland O. Bartels, sergeant-at-arms. They probably will not run unless Radke's candidacy is accepted, Schele said last night.

The official election list, with the exception of the sophomore tickets are given below. A special meeting of the elections committee will be held this afternoon to settle a matter of dispute along a purely technical line, which arose yesterday in regard to one of the second year tickets.

The list of candidates as given out by the senate elections committee is as follows:

Senior Class

President - Leslie R. Gage, Wayne L. Morse and Rolland F. Williams; vice-president - Mildred Downie, Helen Gude and Marjorie Severance; secretary - Isabel Capps, Elizabeth Kirk and Wilma Trost; treasurer - William Frederick, Julian Lunney and Hugo Rusch; sergeant-at-arms - Charles Rawson, Gustave Tebell and Lionel Tschudy; student senate - Maynard Brown, Lucius P. Chase, Vincent Conlin, Earle Gill, Herbert D. Hentzen, K.

Receive First Supply Of Student Directories

An advance supply of 1922 student directories were received at the registrars office yesterday. These will be distributed among instructors. The supply for the student body is expected to arrive early next week.

The new directories do not include the list of instructors. With this exception they are like those of last year.

Capt. Williams Will Lead Eleven In First Big Ten Game

BY CHAS. J. LEWIN

For the first time in 10 years a University of Wisconsin football team will clash with an eleven representing Indiana at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

An estimated crowd of 10,000 persons is expected to throng the new Camp Randall stadium in this revival of gridiron relations between the Hoosier and the Badger. A 100-piece band and 200 Indiana rooters will arrive on a special train from Bloomington this morning.

Not only will the contest mark a resumption of relations between Indiana and Wisconsin, but it will also mark the Badgers' first performance in a Big Ten Conference football engagement. With two preliminary victories under their belts, Richard's men are primed to make their 1922 debut as successful as it was last year.

Practically every one of the first string men are in the best condition. Afflicted by minor ailments, some of the warriors have been withheld from early games, but the full force of Wisconsin's powerful attack will be thrown into the fray this afternoon.

Already Defeated

Its record already smirched by one tie game and one decisive defeat, the Hoosiers are expected to exert every effort in an attempt to redeem themselves. Indiana was held to a scoreless tie by De Pauw college two weeks ago. Coach Spaulding and his northern huskies trekked down from Minnesota last Saturday and emerged on the long end of a 20 to 0 score. Two upsets in succession have forced Coach Pat Herron to the last ditch and if the eastern style of football is to be given future trial in the Middle West, Indiana will have to demonstrate its effectiveness.

Twenty-eight players and a retinue of Indiana coaches and trainers arrived in Madison at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. Herron was accompanied by Murry and Bolen who have been aiding him coach the Hoosiers. In the squad were included Capt. Hanny, Lordan, Wilkins, Eberhardt, Woodward, Knox, France, Niness, Helm, Springer, E. Smith, Butler, Mumsey, Clay, Cox, Fisher, Lohrie, Goodman, Tripp, Harris, Davis, Landis, Sloats, Moonmaw, T. Smith and Ruckelhaus.

In Good Condition

The Indiana team is in good condition with the exception of T. Smith and Wilkins. The backfield has profited by its errors in two previous grid battles and will slash off-tackle and run the ends with mid-season power.

Use North Entrance

The entrance for the Indiana game will be on the north end of the field through the high board fence, the same as was used for the South Dakota game. Because of the grading and levelling at the rear of the West stand, the athletic department can not use Breeze terrace for entrances. Person holding tickets for the west stand will disregard gate directions printed on the reverse side of the Indiana tickets.

Tickets for the West stand are blue. Tickets for the east side, the new concrete bleachers, are white and entrance for these sections will be at the north end of the new stand.

People on the west stand are cautioned to leave the stands after the game by way of the track. Construction work with fresh cement will block the rear for exits.

Capt. Rollie Williams will prance onto Camp Randall at the head of his sohers for the first time this year. Williams was refused permission to play in the Carleton and South Dakota victories, Coach Richards believing that it would be foolhardy to risk the left half in an unimportant contest. As a result of his inactivity, Rollie is "rarin' to go". Badger fans can look forward to some meteor-like activity when Williams carries the pigskin.

Gibson, Taft, and Shorty Barr will compose the remainder of Wisconsin's backfield. Gibson is an excellent running mate to the speedy line and do the punting, and Shorty Barr to hurl the forward passes, Indiana will be at a loss to hold the versatile Badger attack.

Nichols New

In the line, Nichols is a certain starter of center. He will be flanked by guards Christianson and Hohlfeld. Jab Murray is slated to be at right tackle, with either Schernecker or Below handling the other tackle job. Below is again in shape after a short lay-off and has run through signal practices with the squad. By this sterling work in the Dakota contest, Schernecker demonstrated that he was a reliable forward.

Gus Tebell and Russ Irish probably the best pair of ends in the Big Ten, will hold down the wing jobs. Tebell is due for the best year in a great career. He is one of the greatest defensive ends that has ever donned a Cardinal uniform. In addition to crushing interference, Tebell has ability to nail opposing ball-carriers. On the offense, he is always in the van under punts, arriving simultaneously with the oval and spilling the receiver in his tracks.

Irish is the closet resemblance to Chuck Carney that has been seen here in some time. He can pick forward passes out of the ozone from any position.

A formidable array of reserves remains to close up any gaps that may occur from injury or ineffective play. Steve Polaski is an end that many Big Ten coaches would be glad to have on their teams. As to forwards, Smith, Friedl, Pearse, Alton, Sykes and Paige have all been tried. In the backfield, Harris Saari, Radtke, Eagleburger, Whitten, and Carlson may all get an opportunity to show their wares during the Conference season.

Harris and Whitten are especially strong backs while Saari and Eagleburger did most of the running against South Dakota.

Immediately after today's contest with Indiana, Richards will groom his outfit for the Minnesota Homecoming battle on November 4. A Badger scout will watch the Gophers perform against Northwestern today.

ATHLETIC REVIEW ON SALE AT GAME

The football issue of the Athletic Review will be on sale this afternoon at Camp Randall. Letter and numeral men will sell the magazine at the gate as the crowd enters and in the stands between halves.

CHARLEY O'HEARN IS BIG COG
IN YALE FOOTBALL ELEVEN

CHARLEY O'HEARN

GOPHERS HAVE STRONG ELEVEN

Are Very Optimistic as to Out-come of Game With Purple

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 20.—Coach Bill Spaulding, of Minnesota's new football aggregation, has apparently located his permanent line-up. The Gophers showed up well under Indiana's attack last week and the Maroon and Gold coaching staff is well pleased with the progress being made by the eleven. It is generally expected that the Gopher mentor will enter the same men against Northwestern Saturday that started against Indiana.

There is one quality more than any other that Coach Spaulding is requiring of his men and this is fight. There is not a man on the Gopher squad who has not fought to gain his position. There has been some stiff competition for several berths on the squad but with one or two exceptions the first string has been found.

Grose has won his spurs at the quarter location. Myrum is light for the job and does not quite equal Grose when it comes to generalship. The duel for this position was one of the hardest on the squad. Mitchell, Mac Creery, Peterson, Oster and Hultkrans are the claimants for full back and one half position while Martineau is a fixture at the other half.

Eklund and Schjoll have won their spurs at ends while Cox and MacDonald look like the first string tackles. At present Gay and Abrahamson are holding down the guards, flanking Captain Aas at center.

Minnesota's comeback in football has also met with a comeback in old Minnesota spirit amongst the students. The main topic of discussion is football in particular and Bill Spaulding, Martineau and the Gophers in general. While there is no overconfidence as to the abilities

Bennett Wins Finals In Tennis Tourney

Playing a steady, consistent game George Bennett won the final game of the Varsity tryout tennis tournament from Pete Henika yesterday afternoon. After winning the first set in a hard fought contest by a score of 7-5, he took the next two easily with scores of 6-1 and 6-0.

Bennett has played tennis in the tournaments in both the regular school year and during the summer session at Wisconsin for the past year. He was ineligible to play on the Varsity squad last spring, but it is known that he will be able to represent Wisconsin on Coach Lind's team next spring.

If weather permits, Tom Tredwell captain of last year's Varsity team, will play Bennett this fall. Tredwell did not participate in the fall tournament because of other activities which took his time. Boardman, winner of the freshman tournament, will also have a chance to play Bennett.

BIG TEN TEAMS IN FULL SWING TODAY

The results of today's battles will give football fans a fair idea of the relative strengths of the aggregations, as the Big Ten teams get into full swing.

Minnesota playing at Northwestern promises to be hotly contested. Northwestern will have difficulty defending its honor on her home field against Spaulding's eleven. Judging by the score the Gophers amassed in last Saturday's battle with Indiana, Northwestern will likely be a victim of defeat.

Chicago Sees Battle

The Boilermakers pitted against the Maroons will furnish another fray for the Chicago fans. Although Purdue was forced to bow to Notre Dame they are reported to be in first class shape to give the Maroons a fierce struggle.

Highest interest is centered in the outcome of the Michigan-Ohio clash at Columbus. With both teams reported at their best the struggle will be indeterminable until the final whistle is blown.

Iowa Confident

Iowa feeling the thrill of last week's victory is planning on taking the scalp of Illinois in an easy manner. Zuppke's eleven has suffered severe injuries and seems to have little hopes of defeating last year's champions.

Wisconsin enthusiasts will witness the Badgers in entirely new style of attack.

With grueling practices on the aerial route Coach Richards expects his warriors to beat Indiana at its own game.

Infirmary Has Smaller Number Than Last Year

There are 21 students in the University Infirmary at present. This figure is slightly less than the average for October 1921.

BADGERS MEET WOLVERINES IN FIRST LONG RUN

Cross Country Teams Leave Gym at 11:15 O'clock Today

For the first time in Big Ten Conference history a Michigan cross country team will invade Badger territory today when at 11:15 o'clock a gun shot will start the harriers bounding off in a dual contest from the men's gymnasium.

The Wisconsin team, headed by veteran Captain Ramsay, is not overconfident, but is starting the race determined to fight to the finish. Wade, Tschudy, Schneider, Moorhead, Valley and Perry especially have been running strong in practice trials and can be looked for among the leaders tomorrow.

Michigan Strong

Captain Bowen of Michigan probably is the fastest man in the opposing outfit. He is a veteran in the game and has an enviable record chalked up for the 1921 season.

Arndt and Reinke are two other Wolverines who are apt to prove dangerous to Cardinal runners. Arndt is an experienced distance man and is a fit running mate for Captain Bowen. Reinke, besides starring on the Maize and Blue freshman squad last year, was a champion miler and half miler in high school meets.

The ability of the remaining members of Coach Steve Farrel's team is unknown. Considering the past record of Michigan in cross country and the modern coaching system used by the school, however, it can be predicted safely that the Badgers will receive the acid test.

To Start Ten

Ten men will start for Wisconsin and seven for Michigan. The first five runners of each squad to finish constitute the scoring team. Points are awarded on the basis of one for first, two for second, three for third and the team with the lowest aggregate number of points wins the meet.

The Badger runners who will start and their numbers are Ramsay, captain, 22; Wade, 24; Tschudy, 25; Rossmessel, 29; Moorhead, 30; Schneider, 33; Link, 34; Valley, 35; Perry, 38; and Bergstresser, 39.

The Wolverines entered are Bowen, captain, 4; Arndt, 5; Isbell, 6; Van Visse, 7; Griffin, 8; Reinke, 9; and Rearicke, 10.

SCHEDULE SUGGESTION

THE time for making football schedules approaches. In little more than a month Wisconsin will know who are her adversaries for next year. Students are dissatisfied with the schedule this year. They are anxiously wondering whether next year's schedule is to be more satisfactory.

Students are dissatisfied with the number and importance of home games this year; but they are mainly dissatisfied with the provincialism of the schedule. They want an inter-sectional game.

This question of intersectionalism has come up several times in the last few years. California has repeatedly offered Wisconsin a place on her track schedule.

Last year the western university offered to adjust her schedule to the Badgers' convenience. The team could go during vacation and miss few classes. Student enthusiasm ran high. Students wanted their team to go to California. Would it go?

The question hung fire for a few days. Then the group of reactionary despots which controls Wisconsin athletics emerged from solemn conclave in Wisconsin's Star chamber and said, "No."

Such has been the history of student hopes that Wisconsin will come out of her shell.

Around football university spirit centers. No more potent spirit is found than that engendered by a powerful eleven which has battled with worthy adversaries. The more lime-light is on the battle, the more spirit is aroused.

Today Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, a rather influential member and chairman of the Wisconsin Athletic council, is at Columbus aiding in the dedication of the Ohio State stadium. He sees there today a great structure which Ohio spirit has built. Ohio has participated in inter-sectional contests.

In a few days he will return to Madison. If then he will walk down on Langdon street he will see a hole in the ground and an optimistic bill-board which represents the home which Wisconsin spirit has built for itself. Wisconsin has pursued a policy of "splendid isolation."

Perhaps this manifestation of Ohio spirit will change Professor Pyre's opinion of moderate intersectionalism. Most likely it won't. Opinions are hard to change. They tend to petrify.

But if Wisconsin student opinion, the opinion which last year declared itself 99 per cent in favor of a gridiron battle with an eastern university, were militantly manifested, it might exert some influence. The psychological power of suggestion is great. When properly administered, it is practically irresistible.

It is time for a student suggestion, a thunderous suggestion, to be offered the athletic council. It is time for an alumni suggestion, sounding from a stadium full of homecomers, to project its influence into the Star chamber at Bascom hall.

Wisconsin athletics are by and for students. It is time the athletic policy governing Wisconsin athletics should reflect in some measure the athletic policy that Wisconsin students want.

The Council of 40 was organized to lead student opinion and make it felt. Let the Council of 40 mobilize. Let every student organization marshal its power of suggestion and every other power it may possess and aid in bringing Wisconsin into line with other Conference universities which are not hiding their lights under bushel baskets.

BESIDES FOOTBALL

EST the glamour of the afternoon's bustle and the conspicuousness of gridiron battle shadow the events of the morning, we call attention to the second lively Conference contest held her today, the cross country race between Wisconsin and Michigan.

At 11:15 o'clock a gunshot will start the harriers from the men's gymnasium. At 11:30 o'clock winners will begin to cross the finish line in front of the gymnasium. A three mile course allows ample room for spectators to watch the runners.

Wisconsin expects two Conference victories today. The student's day will be incomplete if he does not witness both.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Student Volunteers will meet for supper at Baptist student headquarters at 5:30 Monday. C. G. Dittmer will speak on "Wisconsin and China."

MARCHERS FOOL EVERYBODY; DID YOU BITE TOO

Up and down, back and forth, west on Langdon; all yesterday morning they marched. Singly, by two's and three's, and in groups they passed; some marched leisurely as though time were the last thing they considered, some unconcernedly as though there were nothing unusual in their actions.

And to add to the picture they refused to use the sidewalks that the city fathers put there for that purpose, but used the center of the highway for their ostensibly aimless perambulations.

To speak to any of them was like giving a third degree to the sphinx. "No; seven, eight, nine, —", being the longest answer forthcoming from any of them.

All sophomores in the R. O. T. C. counting the number of paces it took them to cover 1000 yards in their stride. The information will be used later in the course in the making of maps, using the length of stride as a unit of measure rather than a tape line.

Religious Council to Bring Prominent Men

The Campus Religious council is planning to bring speakers of national influence here, it was announced yesterday. Such men as Craig Stuart of Evanston, Azora Davis of Chicago, Bishop Connell, Pittsburgh, Pa., Alan K. Foster of New York, Dean Brown of Yale University, Henry Van Dyke of Princeton university, and Bishop Mc Dowell of Washington, D. C., are included in the list. Modern problems of education and religion will be discussed.

WELL, NOW that winter is coming the boys are beginning to let their beards grow!

IN VIEW of the fact that this is a very economical habit, because if you let it grow long enough you can have your very favorite lady friend knit it into a nice wooly scarf for the winter months, this column is going to offer a prize to him who at the beginning of Christmas vacation has the longest beard.

THE PRIZE has not as yet been decided upon but the odds are in favor of an autographed photo of one of the Smith brothers.

THE JUDGES have ruled HUB TOWNSEND out of the contest because of the head start he has on his upper lip.

HEY! Don't you want to buy a Badger.
Naw, I got two dogs at home now.

WE HAVE just discovered how the football tickets are chosen.

On receiving the application the man who is filling out the orders first looks at your name; then he divides that by his income tax, and multiplies the result by the number of cough drops in a package of Camels.

The next step is to determine the number of tickets you are going to get in relation to the number you ordered. This is done by a very simple calculation.

For instance, if you have ordered four, this number is multiplied by the sum total of the numbers on the football sweaters. Then they take the square root of the result.

This is done to be sure that you get a square deal in the selection of tickets. After all these calculations are completed your choice of seats is noted and these are laid aside.

The rest of them are laid out in a row and, after throwing your application out of the window, the selector blind folds himself and picks out a seat. If it turns out to be a good one they try it over again.

WE rise every morning at eight by the clock

We finish our breakfast and reluctantly walk

To our class on the hill, where we inwardly rave,

In mute insurrection. "Tis the lift of a slave!"

WE dream of old Egypt with harems galore

Where slavery's pleasure, and there on the floor

We recline on our pillows and wish nothing, save

To live thus forever the life of a slave!"

Prof. finishing a lecture in English Lit: "And now Shakespeare's bones rest in Westminster Abbey!"

Wise guy in the back of the room: "Ah! His paradise."

We see, by the Morning Cardinal that the Alpha Chi Rhos are giving a Hollywood Party, with decorations in keeping.

WELL it ain't no cinema to give a party thus!!

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE?

Fancy this: A young man with sleek black hair dining in one of the more favored booths of the chocolate shop with his most favored girl friend. The young man has very softly tucked his napkin under his chin so that it covers that part of him between his vest and his chin. (Answer at the bottom of this column.)

There was a young man from Me.

And the people thought he was INSe,

One night he was seen

To eat an apple so green

And he murmured, "You get me a Pe."

Ans, to above picture! The young man had forgotten his shirt

CHEMICALS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Will Entertain New Members With Vaudeville Skits On Tuesday

An open meeting to introduce new and prospective members to the society, is planned by the Chemical Engineering society for Tuesday night. It will be held in the auditorium of the Chemical engineering building.

"You know me, Al, a playlet written by E. H. Hauger '23, will be the feature of the evenings entertainment. The play is a short humorous skit particularly interesting to those interested in chemistry and chemical engineering.

The Bunkini brothorn in a "Night with the Spirits" is another number which will be presented. The program committee announces that they will have a special surprise feature for presentation.

Discussions, informal talks, special chemical exhibits and an informal membership campaign will also be conducted.

"Persons attending our meeting Tuesday night will witness a program the equal of which has never been presented in the history of the society," said Bernard A. Weimer '24, chairman of programs.

Flaherty Garage Reduces Rates On Rental Cars

According to Flaherty, manager of the Flaherty Rent-A-Car, he is doing his utmost to reduce the rates on rented cars to the lowest possible cost.

Flaherty has cut the rates on Ford roadsters from 75c to 50c, on touring cars from $1.00 to 75c, and on coupes from $1.25 to $1.00. He has also reduced the rates on all Dodge cars 25c per hour.

Besides the reduction in rates, the Flaherty Rent-A-Car insures the user against all liability which includes property damage, personal injury, and collisions.

W. A. A. WILL HOLD FIRST PICNIC SUNDAY

The first official hike sign post of the W. A. A. is to be formally inaugurated tomorrow morning when the W. A. A.'s "best ever" picnic is to be held.

Crisp bacon, eggs, boiling hot coffee, fruit, big buns—that's the breakfast menu and the special cooks are going out early and will have everything already when the main body comes. A real service—very formally ceremonial and complicated—will be performed during the service, which will be conducted by Marj Severance '23.

Esther Bilstad '24 and Norman Carl '23 are in charge of the picnic.

All members are urged to sign up in Lathrop early Saturday morning. The group is to meet at 8:45 o'clock and the definite hike formation will start at 9 o'clock promptly for the tent colony.

The honor squad, which was announced in yesterday's Cardinal, is to meet in the Concert room, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning to go over their plans.

"Your Neighbor Wears One"

FEET ACHE, FROSH? BETTER SEE JOHN

Somewhere there is a frosh whose shoes hurt him; or they are going to hurt him when he puts them on.

Time was when this Frosh esteemed his shoes much. But this affection proved the undoing of their soles, and in a final burst of tenderness, the frosh took them to a shoe shop for recuperation.

On Tuesday the frosh went to get his shoes from the repairman. It so chanced that he was in much haste for a 1:30 and the repairman hurriedly encased the shoes in paper.

Then the fun began—for soon appeared another Frosh looking for his shoes. Alas! The repairman had given the wrong shoes to the first frosh. Worse calamity—the pair he got were many times smaller than his own.

And then the repairman, John J. Werth, hied him to the usual haven to all those with troubles—the Union Building, and sweetly made query, "Who is the frosh who got the wrong pair of shoes from my shop, and do his feet hurt?"

But none could tell him, and so there is where the matter stands.

LITS PRESENT VARIED TALKS

Men's and Women's Societies Hold Tryouts Next Week

At the regular Friday meetings of the men's Literary Societies, unusually varied programs were presented.

Hesperia specialized in travel talks, several of which were personal experiences. Charles Greco spoke on "The Dardeneilles," C. Peterson '23, presented "The lesson of the Battle Field," as shown by what France has paid, David Sinclair '24, talked on the "Mediterranean and Central Europe," while Ben White '23, presented "A Trip to Monte Carlo or leave from the A. E. F." Wayne Morse '23, then gave a humorous talk on "A Trip via 'Lizzie'".

In Philomathia the principle event of the program was the talk on Forensics, by John Sanborn, an attorney of Madison, and an alumnus of the University. He emphasized the fact, that most of the activities of the University have developed as the institution itself has grown, but that Debating and Oratory, as represented by the Literary Societies, has not kept pace with this enlargement. "The same number of societies exist today as thirty years ago, when," according to Mr. Sanborn, "there should be at least ten to adequately care for the increased demand for such activities." The remainder of the program consisted of a lively parliamentary drill, followed by initiation speeches by Lloyd Saddler '26, Hampton K. Snell '25, and George McKinnis '23.

Athena held tryouts for its debate with the Agricultural literary society. Places were won by Edgar Smith '24, Samuel F. Soref '23, and E. P. Meyer '23, closer. The remainder of the program consisted of an extemporaneous talk by E. V. Kellogg.

Castalia Literary Society will continue its tryouts at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon in the concert room at Lathrop Hall. Students elected

POPCORN, GIRLS STAFF OF LIFE

Pop-corn! To university students the word brings up visions, not of huge pans filled with fluffy white kernels, such as we helped make at home, but of paper sacks, filled to overflowing with hot, buttery pop-corn.

Three of the pop-corn stands near the university sell an average of more than 200 sacks a day. The owner of one stand estimates that he sells as many as 350.

About four o'clock in the afternoon the demand for pop-corn begins. From then until six o'clock and from seven o'clock in the evening until eleven o'clock, trade is lively. One of the stands on the corners of University and North Murray street, State and Lake streets, or Langdon and Lake street, is passed every day by almost every student, and the smell of hot, fresh pop-corn is a temptation to many.

The managers of two of the stands believed that girls ate, or at least bought, most of the corn. In the opinion of the owner of the other, men buy as much as girls.

One sort of activity seems to help another, and studying is helped by dipping occasionally into a box or sack of something to eat.

LUTHERAN DRIVE GOING OVER TOP

With only $21,525 left to raise, and three more days remaining, the 250 workers in the $150,000 campaign for Luther Memorial church, are looking forward to going over the top.

Students have subscribed a total of $6,845. Madison has raised $67,519.25 of its quota of $75,000.

Milwaukee has pledged $50,000, while the towns through the state report $10,955. This makes a grand total of $128,475.00.

to membership will be announced in Sunday's Cardinal.
