A MONTHLY INCOME FOR YOU

Money intrusted to us for this purpose is made secure by every possible means. It is invested in first mortgages on property worth at least double the amount of the loan, approved by our executive committee and by our attorneys. Only such mortgages are assigned to you and become your own property. We collect the interest; see that the taxes are paid, and that the insurance is kept in force. We then pay you a regular income on the first of each month.

There are several important advantages to this plan besides that of receiving a regular amount on the first of each month. Your income begins from the day you leave your funds with the Trust Company and continues to come in in regular monthly installments so long as you continue the arrangement. There are no periods when you have no income or where the income is reduced by reason of having only a part of your money invested.

You have the safest of all securities,—namely, first mortgages on real estate.

In the selection of your mortgages you have the benefit of the judgment of men who have been lending money for the greater part of their lives,—men whose judgment is well recognized in the community. No loan will be made if there is objection made on the part of any one of our Loan Committee. You will have absolutely no trouble in connection with your investments.

Your income will be as large as it is now and probably larger. An interview will quickly determine this.

The chairman of the committee on public functions must be given credit for getting good things done. A year ago he started the Lincoln Ceremonial. This year he continued the idea by dedicating the John Muir Knoll. We bespeak cooperation for these worthy movements. They dignify and improve commencement gatherings.

Did you see the service flag with nearly 3,000 stars? It was worth a trip of many days, and it was but one of the many unexpected inspirations Wisconsin men and women received when they returned on the annual pilgrimage to beloved Alma Mater. Five Year Reunions! Come home every year. It is a privilege that you can ill afford to miss.

"Some like it hot, some like it cold," but all got it cold. The cateress did a good job, too. After having understood that all the facilities of the wonderful University kitchen would be at her disposal, the non-University cateress was astonished to find that after all she was not to use the kitchen nor were dishes available. Indeed, even the oil stove to keep the coffee warm had to be secured from a local hardware store. We don't know who blundered. We do know we got a cold dinner. We have no complaints to offer. An explanation as to why alumni cannot be served a hot dinner from the University kitchen by the faculty member in charge there at a salary of over $2,500 per year would be interesting. But what good would it do? A good hot dinner served at about cost would do more to convince alumni of the real worth of a department of Halls and Commons than all the argumentative literature we could publish. Here's hoping we have it hot next year. In war time all sorts of excuses go. This is not the time to argue and complain. We got a good cold dinner. The outside cateress did wonderfully well under most adverse circumstances. Let's hope the University's own hired food preparers will try their hand next year—and may we have it hot please?

I received my first lesson in botany from a student by the name of Griswold, who is now County Judge of the County of Waukesha, Wisconsin. In the University he was often laughed at on account of his anxiety to instruct others, and his frequently saying, with fine emphasis, "Imparting instruction is my greatest enjoyment." One memorable day in June, when I was standing on the stone steps of the north dormitory, Mr. Griswold joined me and at once began to teach. He reached up, plucked a flower from an overspreading branch of a locust tree, and, handing it to me, said, "Muir, do you know what family this tree belongs to?"—From My Boyhood and Youth—By John Muir.

THE COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC FUNCTIONS

April 17, 1918

To the President:

At the time of the John Muir exercises, in December, 1916, I learned that there is still standing on the knoll north of North Hall a locust tree under which John Muir received his first botany lesson. The student who acted as teacher was Judge Milton S. Griswold, '63, of Waukesha. A flower from the tree was used for the lesson.

As a student, John Muir lived in North Hall. He was doubtless fond of the beautiful knoll, as I myself remember students in an early day were. But the place has been forgotten and neglected.

I have thought that a fitting name might restore it to favor. I suggest calling it The Muir Knoll.

I ask the authority of the Regents to give it this name.

If this is done I shall arrange a ceremony for Alumni Day to arouse the interest of the Alumni in John Muir.

Very respectfully,

Dear Sir:

At the meeting of the Board of Regents held April 17, 1918, President Van Hise read your letter of April 17, relating to the Muir Knoll. The Regents voted that the spot designated in your letter be officially called Muir Knoll.

Yours very truly,

MUIR KNOLL DEDICATORY EXERCISES

IN HONOR OF
JOHN MUIR

Muir Knoll, close by which John Muir, world-famous naturalist, took his first lesson in botany from the blossom of a locust—and the tree, big and scraggy, still stands—was impos-

*In the summer of 1879, while exploring glaciers in Alaska with Muir, Dr. S. Hall Young was seriously hurt, and lay helpless on the brink of a precipice. Muir was on the other side of the chasm, and called to him to hold fast and keep cool, while he crossed the rift higher up in order to reach him. Then he started off, whistling The Blue Bells of Scotland, and singing snatches of Scotch songs, evidently to cheer the one in agony and danger.

ingly dedicated at the University, June 18.

It was an ideal June day, "just such as John Muir loved," one spectator said; and several hundred people were respectful and interested auditors. Here were Muir's roommate, Charles E. Vroman, '68, of Chicago, and also the man, then a boy, who gave him the locust bloom and unfolded its beauties to him, Judge Milton S. Griswold, '63. Altogether tion in the early sixties with this our University. And in this book, among other things, he has told us of his first lesson in botany, a lesson which, as he states, I by chance gave him on this very mound around which we now stand and under the locust tree then growing upon it,—probably the larger of these trees which has survived the intervening years.

it was an inspiring occasion, and there now remains on the spot a giant red granite boulder, procured from the countryside, and duly labeled

MUIR KNOLL

Judge Griswold said in part:

"We have gathered here at this time and under the auspices of the Board of Regents, in a humble way to pay a tribute to the memory of California's great naturalist, explorer and geologist, John Muir, who, in his book wherein he writes the story of his boyhood and youth, has so charmingly told of the days of his associa-and on this campus, that he and I clasped hands for the last time and bade each other 'Good-bye.' From that time I never again personally met him, but of our associations with each other during the period of our student life here I cannot but cherish the most vivid and pleasing recollections. He has ended his earthly career; but if his spirit still lives, and we are taught to believe it does, I can fancy that somewhere it is still studying and contemplating the glories of God's vast universe."

Dr. Vilas, class of '63, giving the dedicating address, spoke beautifully and eloquently of Muir whom he knew intimately. "His was an unique organization," said Dr. Vilas. "Beneath a rugged exterior there was a tender heart and a highly sensitive nervous structure. Especially in later life crowds distressed him; he loved the woods, the silence of their depths, and counted as lost the hours spent in cities. In the wilds of nature he lived in an ethereal atmosphere far removed from that of crowded habitations. The denizens of the forest were his friends, and he had a happy way of talking and writing of them."

Closing his remarks with a tribute to the ability of Muir, and his loyalty to his Alma Mater at all times, he said: "Wherefore, my honorable colleagues, the regents of the University of Wisconsin, have ordained, and do decree, that this mound hereafter shall be known as MUIR KNOLL in recognition of John Muir, who here first received that instruction which opened an acquaintance with hidden problems of the scientific world, the after pursuit of which brought such lustre to his name."

Professor Charles E. Allen, '99, discussing Muir's contributions to science said:

"His greatest work, then, was to infuse dry facts with emotion; with the emotion of esthetic enjoyment, but with the deeper joy also that comes with the discovery of a new bit of knowledge—a joy known to every student of nature who has contributed however little, but a joy that very few have been able to express as John Muir could express it."

comes with the discovery of a new bit

Charles E. Vroman, '68, of Chicago, who roomed with Muir in the "northeast room, first floor, North Hall" humorously dwelt on Muir's many mechanical contrivances all about the room—of an ingenious clock that let the bed down with a crash at any designated hour, that lit fire and lamp and even slid before Muir at his table the books he should study, opened them and pushed them on in proper time and rotation. "Everybody in the north end of the building always knew when Muir got up, or down," remarked Mr. Vroman. Muir surprised everyone.

Some of his varsity friends were sure he was to get rich as an instructor, others as a nationalist, others as a chemist, "Yet," said Mr. Vroman, "the most of his money was made in raising Tokio grapes, and considerable deposits of it were found in various banks after his death."

Thomas S. Morris, president of the John Muir walking club, to whose quality membership displays the true Muir spirit in frequent week-end tramps, made the following presentation of the Muir Knoll marker:

"Two years ago this summer, a small band of lovers of nature in this city organized themselves into a club for the promotion of outdoor life, in the form of walks and outings and the dissemination of knowledge of the attractions of the country around and about the city of Madison. No more fitting and appropriate name could have been selected for our club than the name of this great disciple of nature study—John Muir. Wandering about the hills and lakes of this beautiful region, every member of our organization understands better the flowers, the hills, the sunsets that once thrilled and inspired the heart of this great man.

"Speaking for our club, it is a great honor, a great inspiration to have the privilege to be a part of this celebration. It is a great honor to present the marker which is to mark the knoll frequented and loved by this illustrious fellow student.

"We have plucked from the neighboring hillside a red granite boulder, and in the name of the John Muir Club, I present the regents of the University of Wisconsin this token which, when seen by future generations of students, may arouse in them an interest to know and study the works of John Muir. May it inspire them to know more of the great book of nature which he has opened unto us."

Regent Theodore M. Hammond, in opening the exercises as presiding officer said that it was not for him to tell the story of Muir's life, yet that it was pleasant indeed to turn for a moment from the consideration of the toll of the battle-fields; of the sound of bursting bombs and shrieking shrapnels, from liberty loans and Red Cross and thrift savings, to the consideration and appreciation of a life of "useful and constructive peace."

Professor Julius E. Olson, master of ceremonies, called on Dr. Robert Mark Wenley of the University of Michigan, a fellow Scotchman with Muir, for his impression of the occasion, and he responded by saying:

"After what has been said by others this afternoon, it is superfluous for me to labor the point that John Muir was a typical specimen of his race. In addition, he enjoyed the strength of character and toughness of body, so characteristic of the Scots, which enabled him to go anywhere and do anything.

"No nation keeps such close tab upon its distinguished sons, and you may be perfectly sure that Scotland claims credit for Muir so exclusively as to minimize all that Wisconsin did for him. But you must just put up with this, for the sake of the qualities of race brought by him to you as the raw materials to be turned to such splendid purposes by your opportune training."

The Brittingham bronze bust of Muir rested on a pedestal on the speaker's platform, and the songs were Scottish in honor of Muir—Blue Bells of Scotland and Auld Lang Syne. Of course America, too, was given, and every speaker got a skyrocket or the varsity yell.

The regents occupied the platform, also President Van Hise, Professor J. B. Parkinson, former regent Elizabeth Waters of Fond du Lac, and a few others. Rarely has a more interesting episode characterized a commencement week.

The Muir marker is directly at the roadside, perhaps 200 feet from North Hall toward the lake, the Muir locust between.

"John o' the mountains, wonderful John,
Is past the summit and still traveling on
The turn of the trail on the mountain side,
A smile and 'Hail!' where the glaciers glide,
A streak of red where the condors ride,
For John is over the Great Divide.

John o' the mountains camps to-day
On a level spot by the milky way;
And God is telling him how he rolled
The smiling earth from the iron mold,
And hammered the mountains till they were cold,
And planted the Redwood trees of old.

And John o' the mountains says,—'I knew,
And I wanted to grapple the hand o' you;
And now we're sure to be friends and chums,
And camp together till chaos comes.'—C. L. Edsen.

ALUMNI COUNCIL MEETING

Meeting called to order by President John S. Lord, '04, at 2:30 p. m., Monday, June 17, at Music Hall. The following were present:

Dr. C. H. Bunting, '96; Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '89; Mr. I. S. Leavitt, '68; Miss Louise Kellogg, '97; Mrs. W. A. Rogers, '91; Miss Helen Peterson, '13; Miss Amy Comstock, '09; Mrs. Chas. Harper, '75; Miss Katherine Allen, '87; Mr. H. S. Stafford, '10; Mr. F. H. Clausen, '97; Sen. Geo. A. Buckstaff, '86; Mr. C. C. Parlin, '93; Judge C. B. Rogers, '93; Mr. A. C. Umbreit, '83; Mr. W. C. Lindemann, '08; Mr. E. F. Rice, '08; Mr. F. H. Elwell, '08; Mr. C. S. Larsen, '08; Mrs. E. R. Shorey, '08; Mr. F. O. Leiser, '02; Mr. O. D. Brandenburg, '85; Mr. A. E. Proudfit, '78; and Mr. A. J. Myrland, '90.

Mr. Lord—At this time of the year the officers make their report at the annual meeting of the Association, so the officers will make their announcements at the meeting tomorrow. One of the other matters that is to come to the attention of this meeting is the action taken by the Alumni Board. The Alumni Board recommends to the Council the election of members to the Board of Visitors. The Alumni Board has recommended that Mrs. Howard Greene, '88, shall be appointed a member of the Board of Visitors for a period of four years. This is to be approved by this meeting. What action do you wish taken?

Moved and seconded that the nomination of Mrs. Howard Greene as a member of the Board of Visitors be approved.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Lord—Miss Taylor, our recording secretary, is not present to read the minutes of the last meeting. The most important thing at that meeting was the action taken regarding Senator La Follette. At that time the motion was passed expressing the regret of the Association at the failure of Senator La Follette to support the war. The only other matter of business that remains to come before this meeting is,—possibly the question will be taken up tomorrow before the Association,—that some of the western colleges wish to take some action with regard to the organization of a relief unit working under the Red Cross. Mrs. Brittingham has had some communications, I believe. It is to be carried out according to the Smith unit. Tomorrow we will go into it more in detail.

Mrs. Brittingham—Subscribing to this unit would mean the raising of $3,000 by the Alumni Association.

Mr. Lord—There are ten members of this unit. I believe Smith went ahead and organized a complete unit of itself. That meant that it made $30,000 to support that unit abroad for a year. From Minnesota we have received communications asking that Wisconsin support, with other universities here in the West, a unit. Whether it is to be done by the alumnae themselves or by the Association is something for you to pass upon, and it means that if we go ahead along the line outlined by the Minnesota authorities in their request of President Van Hise, it will cost $3,000 a year to take care of one member of the unit abroad for a year. Do you want to go ahead with some other western universities or what? We ought to do something. After the meeting of last November, the regents voted the membership fee of $500 in the American University Union in Europe. Thereupon the Attorney General decided that was not in the power of the regents. At a subsequent meeting, the Alumni Board took action and, as a result, the appeals went out in the MAGAZINE, and very readily the membership fee of $500 was raised, and we are going to continue that membership. It was too bad that we didn't take action immediately, but it was during the winter when people were not travelling so we didn't have a regular meeting in January. Consequently action was not taken until February, but we went ahead and the fee was taken care of. Now we have other relief work to provide for.

Would this unit be under our government?

Mr. Lord—It is under the Red Cross and all disbursements are made through the Red Cross. Our money goes to the Red Cross. It is an intercollegiate relief unit. Some of the girl's colleges in the East have done something. Smith has gone ahead and made their unit. Do you want to think of this today and come tomorrow to act on it?

Miss Kellogg—We could recommend that some action be taken tomorrow.

Mr. Lord—This is purely a woman's matter, and if the alumnae of the University of Wisconsin wish to go ahead, the Alumni Association will do everything it can to assist them. If, on the other hand, we do not wish to go into it today, but wish to do something on our own hook, possibly we could go ahead and do something of our own.

Mr. Brandenburg—I move that the matter be deferred until tomorrow. Seconded by Mrs. Brittingham.

Mr. Lord—It is moved and seconded that action on this matter be deferred until tomorrow when it be taken up by the General Association meeting. Motion carried.

Mrs. Pease—I should like to call the attention of the Council to the fact that there are only two members of the Alumni Association on the Board of Visitors.

Mr. Lord—All vacancies on the Board of Visitors are filled by the action of the Alumni Board. It is a question of whether Mr. Reid, who was selected to succeed Mr. Foster, was going to take that place or not.

Mrs. Pease—He has never been present at any meeting, and that place is still vacant.

Mr. Lord—You see, the Alumni Board selects members of the Board of Visitors, and in the fall a resignation was tendered by him which was not acted upon, and Mr. Reid, at one of the meetings of the Alumni Board, was elected to the Alumni Board as Mr. Foster's successor, and no action was taken to determine whether Mr. Reid should succeed Mr. Foster on the Board of Visitors or not. Someone suggested that there had to be an agricultural graduate on the Board of Visitors, and I disagreed with that. That was brought up this morning. No action was taken, but action will be taken before Commencement is closed. Are there any other matters of business?

(Q.)—Has the Association anything to do with the publication of the Alumni Directory?

Mr. Lord—I think that the Board of Regents, about a year ago, decided that we should have some $600 for a directory. Then they got parsimonious again and decided that altho they passed it they wouldn't spend it, and we passed a resolution about a year ago to get the Board of Regents to publish a directory. Judge Rogers made a very good speech before the Board of Regents in regard to having the directory published, but nothing was done. The University is going to have a surplus this year, so it is a very good time to take up the matter of a directory.

Mr. Rogers—I was appointed by the Alumni Council as a committee to appear before the Board of Regents and urge the publication of a directory, and I did so a year ago, and at that meeting I was given to understand that (this was a year and a half ago, I believe) at that meeting I was given to understand, in an indirect way, that the Alumni Association helping, a directory would be published the following June, and, acting under that, the Alumni Association went ahead and got the records in perfect shape so that we were all ready, and then nothing was done, and inquiry since then has elicited only the information that the Legislature, at its meeting, failed to furnish the funds with which to do this work, and that is the way the matter stands. It wasn't for us to appear before the Legislature and ask for the funds because those funds were to be part of the University budget, and they were not submitted to the Legislature as a part of the University budget and that is the reason why we have no alumni directory. As a matter of fact, in ordinary times it came very nearly bad faith on the part of the University authorities in not doing what they promised.

Mr. Clausen—I move that Mr. Rogers be continued on this committee to investigate the matter of an alumni directory, and I also want to introduce Mr. Parlin who will talk on an alumni employment bureau.

Mr. Parlin—I don't know that this is exactly with reference to a directory, but this is an experience that we meet with in the Curtis Company. We want men who have been out for ten years. Those men who are thirty or thirty-five years of age. We find that there is no college in the United States that can furnish us any information of value in regard to the type of men we want to employ. It must be equally true of all men employing people. Nearly all colleges have employment bureaus that can give you information in regard to graduates who have been out two or three years. A university which could keep in touch for a longer time with its men who go into various occupations with a very definite point of view of helping them along their line could build up a basis of work that would be of very great value to themselves and to employers of high grade labor. If there would come to every alumnus of this University a circular letter inviting them to express rather frankly exactly what they were doing, and what their ambitions were, and what they were finding in the opportunity for the development that they had hoped, and if they would indicate what their desires are and what they would like, we could get the information through which we would be in a position to really come across people who come to us with suggestions that would be really helpful. If you could give us the names of three or four men who have had ten years' experience, it would be a help to us and to the graduate. If some college could work that out, it would be a very great help both to them and to us and they would have done something that would be entirely unique in a university employment bureau.

Mr. Lord—About three years ago, when I was president of the U. W. Club of Chicago, I appointed a committee to place all Wisconsin men who came to the city. They did something, but not very much. They didn't have a great deal of clerical help, and they wanted clerical help, but I think they all appreciated that it would be a very valuable thing. Nothing further was done, but it seems to me as though those suggestions are very much in point. Do you wish to make any motion? It is merely a question of getting those people on committees who would do that work or secure funds to take care of that work.

Mr. Parlin—The thing to do is for someone here to look up the situation in regard to our own employment bureau and see what expense would be involved, the amount of work, and the possible accomplishment. I would be unable to serve on such a committee, but if it would be acceptable for anyone else, I would be glad to move that a committee be appointed by the chair to consider this matter and make a report at your November meeting.

Judge Rogers—The Alumni Association runs the employment bureau for students, and we have the use of their clerical help. I move that the general secretary be requested to study into the possibilities of an employment bureau for the Alumni Association or for the extension of existing facilities in the University to cover the employment of alumni who have been out several years, and make a report on the possibilities and the probable cost of such work at the November meeting. Motion seconded. Motion carried.

Mr. Clausen—I move that Mr. Rogers be continued on the committee for the publication of a directory to take immediate action. Motion seconded. Motion carried.

Mr. Lord—Are there any other matters of business to come before the meeting?

Mrs. Pease—Are the dues paid by an alumnus and his wife for family membership, provided for in our constitution? It was recommended that if we did that, the possibilities are that we could increase the number of members and, at the same time, it would not mean two copies of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE in the home. That ought to be presented to the General Association.

Mr. Lord—We had that discussion up a year ago. I don't remember what was done. No action was taken. I believe it was put into Mr. Crawford's power to do what he thought was advisable.

Moved and seconded that the meeting adjourn. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned at 3:30 p. m.

GENERAL ALUMNI MEETING

Meeting called to order by John S. Lord, president, at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, June 18.

Mr. Van Hagan—I move that the reading of the minutes of the last meeting be dispensed with. Motion seconded. Carried.

Mr. Lord—During the past year we have had several meetings of the Alumni Board some of them one and two months apart, and some of them three months apart, and at those meetings the various matters of business were passed upon and disposed of. We had in November a meeting of the Alumni Council at the homecoming. The principal matter of business was the discussion of action to be taken by the Council with respect to the senior Senator, a member of this organization, and a resolution was passed expressing the regret that he had not seen fit to support the Government in the prosecution of this war. Nothing further has come before the Board or Council at any subsequent meeting regarding that action although there has been considerable approval. In fact, the approval has been almost unanimous. We regret that there have been some things at the University that have given more or less publicity to the questioned loyalty of the University and the state. I think the loyalty is more questioned outside of the state than otherwise. I don't believe the McElroy affair hurt the University, but it did hurt Mr. McElroy. These things may have a great many benefits. There are so many speakers of every type that people anticipate there is going to be great difficulty in shutting them up after the war. If a speaker talks to people who do not happen to be comfortable, there is no reason why he should anticipate the most quiet attention if he doesn't speak interestingly and convincingly.

At one of the meetings of the Council yesterday there was a special matter of business which will be presented later by Miss Kellogg. Before we present the other matters of business, I appoint the following committee on nominations: Israel Shrimski, chairman, F. H. Elwell, and Charles E. Vroman to present a ballot to be passed upon by this meeting. According to the constitution, we are charged with the duty of electing three members of the Alumni Board and ten members of the Alumni Council. Will the committee please retire and prepare the ballot to present to the meeting later?

The next matter of business is a report by Mr. Brown, treasurer of the Association.

Charles N. Brown, Treasurer in Account with University of Wisconsin Alumni Association.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES N. BROWN,
Treasurer.

Mr. Lord—You have heard the treasurer's report. What do you wish done?

Moved that it be received, approved, and placed on file. Motion seconded. Carried.

Mr. Lord—The recording secretary is not present, so we cannot have a report by her although I covered that in mentioning the meetings we have held. The next business is a report from the general secretary and editor, Mr. Crawford. I have asked him to speak on the meeting of general secretaries, and I ask him to briefly call to your attention some things that occurred at that meeting.

Mr. Crawford—Mr. president and members of the Association. The president has very kindly suggested the nature of the secretary's report, and in the brief time that we have at this meeting, I think it would be best to indicate what the National Secretaries' Association is, and what important topics and sub-topics they discussed this year and then inform you that later full details of the matter will probably be printed in the August issue of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE.

The Association of Alumni Secretaries is a national organization started four or five years ago by middle-west university alumni secretaries, I think the leading spirit was secretary Johnson of Minnesota who was aided by secretary Shaw of the University of Michigan. Practically all the leading state universities maintain membership. The eastern universities and colleges belong, and the University of California and Leland Stanford are among the far western universities. It was the custom formerly to meet annually. Two years ago it was decided that under present conditions to meet every two years should suffice. This year the meeting was to have been held at Ann Arbor. Owing to certain conditions existing at Ann Arbor, secretary Shaw felt it would be better to meet elsewhere at this time, so it was agreed to meet in New Haven. The New Haven meeting occupied itself entirely with the activities of alumni organizations in war times. The first day's meeting was given over to the financing of educational institutions in universities and colleges in war times. The two principal speakers were Professor Potter, of Brown University, and the financial agent of the alumni association of Yale University. As you perhaps all understand, most of the institutions dependent upon tuition are in sad straits as compared with publicly supported institutions now that the war is upon us, and as one listened to what these men had been able to accomplish toward securing funds from alumni during war time, one was certainly amazed that alumni associations could do so much. Brown University has raised considerably over $100,000. Yale University was very modest over what they had done and said that the announcements would be made in a few days, but, inasmuch as Harvard men said that Yale University had raised over a $1,000,000, I judge that the sum is correct.

Part of the program was given over more to alumni influence along other lines than finances during war times. The principal speaker on the athletic situation was Dean Briggs, of Harvard. Dean Briggs' speech was such an excellent one that I understand it is to be printed in full in the Atlantic Monthly. It will also be printed in full in the Harvard Alumni Weekly, and Mr. Howe has promised to give us copy for the WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE. The other well known speaker at the two day's meeting was Phelps Stokes, who is connected with the American University Union in Europe movement. He explained to the alumni secretaries that the American University Union in Europe starts out to be very much more than a mere hotel club for college men who may be in France in military service or in service connected with war activities, and it is the hope of Professor Stokes that the American University Union in Europe may prove a link between the educational institutions of America and the educational institutions of Europe subsequent to the war. The French professors are so fully with him in this movement that they make the American University Union in Paris their headquarters. They come there for smokers and informal talks. They come there for regular courses as it were, on what the European universities, other than those of Germany, have to offer to American, English, Anglo-Saxon students. Professor Stokes is using the Y. M. C. A. as a sort of educational medium to promote this propaganda regarding the advertising of European universities, other than those of Germany, to American scholars and students.

The most important speaker among the alumni secretaries themselves was Mr. Howe, the editor of the Harvard Alumni Weekly, who is the senior editor of alumni publications in this country; a man of marked ability, and his paper in full will probably be published in the WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE.

Perhaps some of you may feel that this speech is a little indefinite, but the alumni secretaries did not decide on a panacea for winning the war, and they seemed to have been able to do considerable in the financial way in those institutions where that sort of help is needed, and are willing to do everything in a favorable way wherever other help could be rendered. The next meeting of the association will not be held for two years, and the place is to be determined by the executive committee of the association.

The report on the general affairs of our Association may also well appear in the MAGAZINE. The treasurer's report gives a rather optimistic outlook to things when we find that after some years of indebtedness we now have a report showing about $4,000 assets.

There are two or three announcements which should be made before the meeting is brought to a close. In the first place, the seniors have planned a box lunch for this noon out of doors. Conditions do not seem most favorable for holding such a meeting out doors. In case it rains, we may have this room for that purpose. Seniors have to make expenses on this luncheon. It is an affair for alumni who returned at this time, and, while the Alumni Association has nothing to do with it, we feel it is a duty, privilege, and pleasure for us to participate in seeing that the box lunches are bought and paid for. In addition, there is some entertainment of music and dancing provided.

Mr. Lord—In case of rain the senior play will be held in the Madison High School tonight.

In case of rain, the Muir exercises, which were to have been held on the Muir knoll, will be held in this hall, and the class exercises at three, and the patriotic concert at five, will be held in this hall.

It has occurred to me that it would be very desirable if this meeting express some feeling of appreciation of its oldest alumnus, Mr. J. S. Slaughter. This is his sixtieth reunion and he is not able to be with us. I think it would be nice if we wrote a little letter and had it passed upon expressing our good wishes to Mr. Slaughter. I'll ask Miss Zona Gale, '95 and Mr. Leavitt, '68, to write to Mr. Slaughter.

XX—I move that they be authorized and requested to write and send the letter in behalf of the Association and express the appreciation of the interest that Mr. Slaughter has shown in the Alumni Association, and express our regrets at his inability to be present. Motion seconded, carried.

Mr. Lord—The next matter is the report of the members of the various committees. Mr. Van Hagan reported that he had nothing to say. He has just recently been appointed on the membership committee. Report of the chairman on funds.

Mr. Rogers—I have no report to make either as a member of the fund's committee or as a member of the legislative committee. There has been no opportunity, thank Heavens, for a committee on legislation to do anything.

Mr. Lord—We will now hear from the nominating committee.

Mr. Shrimski—The committee recommends the following nominations:

ALUMNI BOARD

Mrs. Mary C. Brittingham, '89; Robert C. McMynn, '94; and Stuart Reid, '15.

ALUMNI COUNCIL

Mrs. Charles H. Carpenter, '87; Miss Jessie Shepherd, '95; J. E. McConnell, '87; C. K. Leith, '97; C. J. Cunningham, '09; A. E. Van Hagen, '06; A. J. Myrland, '90; Katherine Faville, '15; Helen Peterson, '13, and Sarah Spensley, '18.

Mr. Brown—I move that the report be adopted and that the persons named be elected.

Mr. Van Hagan—I second the motion.

Mr. Lord—Moved and seconded that the report be adopted and the secretary cast a unanimous ballot for the persons mentioned. Carried.

Mr. Lord—Miss Kellogg was requested yesterday to examine some reports about a relief unit for the Red Cross.

Miss Kellogg—I had such a very short time to prepare this report that it is, of course not complete. I was told to investigate the matter only yesterday at the annual meeting. Our participation in some of the relief work to be undertaken by college women was taken up. Our first idea was that this was not a matter which concerned the Association, but upon looking the matter up with care, I am confident that it concerns the entire association, and we should have an intelligent knowledge of what is being done, and we should be prepared to take our part. This is so important that I want everybody to know something about it. There has come up from the Intercollegiate Women's Committee upon National Defense, an S. O. S. call for college women to go over and take their share of the work in Europe that is needed. The appeal comes in two forms. There are two propositions before the Alumni Association that we can take up and either or both of them would be very good. I hope you will decide to take a part in both movements. The first is the canteen work of the Y. M. C. A. The proposition is that any college association may take part that will recommend a woman who has been passed upon by the board of Y. M. C. A. workers after her qualifications shall be passed upon in that way she shall be sent out as general supply and canteen manager and general mother of the boys at the front. I would like to read the letter which Mr. John R. Mott sent out. He says:

Mrs. F. Louis Slade,
Chairman of the Women's Overseas
Section of the Y. M. C. A.

My dear Mrs. Slade:

I have just returned from my fifth journey which I have made since the beginning of the War to the warring countries. While in France I had opportunity to study the needs and opportunities for serving the young men of the American Expeditionary Forces at the various ports of debarkation, in the training camps, in the reserve camps of the areas of combat and in the front lines. The ministry performed by the Young Men's Christian Association is simply wonderful. It is placing at the disposal of the officers and enlisted men of our Army and Navy all that is best in American life—its home, its school, its library, its club, its stage, its Church.

Among the thousands of workers who are making possible this service on behalf of our young men in the midst of their strain and loneliness, I saw none who were doing so much good and whose practical and unselfish activities were so much appreciated by both officers and men as the hundreds of American women serving in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association. Nor have I ever at home or abroad seen bands of women who were experiencing deeper soul satisfaction in their work. They are, however, fearfully understaffed. Their number should be increased four-fold in the immediate future. This is one of the principal burdens with which I have returned.

I have been glad to learn today of the plan of recruiting for this service units of college alumnae in different parts of the country and I commend it most heartily. I earnestly hope that your Committee, which has already accomplished such a great patriotic service, may through this plan and through other means succeed in securing one thousand of the choicest spirits among the women of America. They should be women of social gifts and graces, of established Christian character, of sound health capable of enduring constant strain. They should believe with all their souls in the cause of the United States and her Allies. They should possess quiet undiscouragable enthusiasm and above all should have the capacity of bringing cheer and comfort to men in the face of the great realities involved in devotion even unto death to a great cause.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) J. R. Mott.

Mrs. F. Louis Slade,
347 Madison Avenue.

Now this proposition is up to the college people of the country. I say people because I am certain that this is just as important for the men as for the women. We helped you when it came to the question of providing for the membership in the American University Union in Paris for all men of the Wisconsin University. Now it's up to the Alumni Association to help provide the college women and the funds to send them forth. The request says that for each worker there shall be a fund of $2,000. She is not to have a salary; she is to give her services, but provision must be made for her care and support. The Association shall send her out and is supposed to provide a fund to stand behind each worker who goes into canteen work.

Second proposition—You all have read of the wonderful relief work. It would not be called reconstruction work that Smith college is doing under the direction of the Red Cross Association. The alumnae of Smith sent out $30,000 to conduct this work. What they did in saving the lives of the French civilians in this last drive was worth every cent and ten times more, and the testimonials of the activeness of the college women of America is a skillful thing. From the University of Minnesota has come a request signed by either the wife or daughter of President Burton asking that ten middle-west universities unite to form a middle-western unit for that kind of work under the Red Cross. They ask that the Wisconsin university be one and that the Alumni Association be put in line to enter such a group which will make it responsible for $3,000 and one woman on this board. Instead of one college they ask that ten middle-western universities be gathered together to send out such a relief unit. That is for work among the French people. It is done under the direct management of the Red Cross and is endorsed by the Red Cross movement. Those two projects are before us. The canteen under the Y. M. C. A., which requires $2,000 backing, or the French relief unit, which would be combined with nine other universities of the Middle-west to send out a middle-western unit for this work under the Red Cross management. I hope that this organization will today decide to do both of these things. I think we should, without any question, and I know there are people among us who would make this work absolutely possible and easy. It would come so easy if we would undertake it with enthusiasm that we would all be surprised, and it would put us in direct contact with our own men and the French relief work, and we cannot afford to do anything else than accept these proposals as they have been put up to us.

Mr. Lord—There is no question about the desirability of doing everything we can for both projects. It appeals to me it is only a question of getting things done in the most efficient, quickest, and most satisfactory manner. Some people working for the Red Cross think that they can possibly do more by working for the Red Cross than they can through some other organization working for the same purpose. If we can get people to give up their other work and take up this work it will be all right. It is a question of will people who are charged with the responsibility do it. What is the desire of this body?

Mr. Pease—There is no question that it can be worked out by our regular organization, if this Association approves both these projects. We should get the Association to act, that would suffice for everything that would be done today.

Mr. Lord—It is very easy to get up and have a committee appointed when you are not on the committee. If we are going through with it, we have got to go clear through to a successful conclusion. If we can, it is more desirable for us to do it alone, or else do it with other universities here in the West. Another thing we must bear in mind is, that it is an alumnae and not an alumni affair. It appeals to me that if we did do anything a committee of the alumnae should take it up. We could appoint a committee of alumnae and we could go ahead and assist them all we can. There are a great many people here who are doing a great many things for councils of defense, Red Cross, etc. Some of those people cannot have more burdens put upon them.

Mrs. Brittingham—Would it be possible to use some of the $4,000 in our treasury for this purpose.

Mr. Lord—That is to be considered. The Board felt that considerable more money should be spent on the ALUMNI MAGAZINE than has been. We are going to have considerably more expenses during this year.

Mrs. Brittingham—I second Mr. Pease's motion, and I hope the Association will take up this matter.

XX—We are doing this with other universities. The women's colleges in the East have done ten times what we are called upon to do in shouldering the responsibility, and I feel it is fully incumbent upon Alumni Association men and women to put their time to the project. I also think it is not right to ask any of them to give up any work. It is merely a question of paying out the money, and I don't think that anything should stand in the way. Nothing should stand in the way of this Association's raising $5,000 for this project.

Mr. Pease—I move that we grant authority to the officers to use any funds the Association may have according to their best judgment.

Miss Kellogg—It seems to me that it is very well to have a surplus to fall back on, but if there is any member of the Association who would not give a dollar for this work, I would not care much for them. We can ask for this fund through the MAGAZINE. There is no question about it that all we need from the Association is the endorsement of the project and a live committee to put the thing through, and if we need to fall back on the surplus, we can fall back on that.

Mr. Pease—I understand that the organization is to raise the funds, but there might be an emergency when we would want to use one, or two, or three thousand dollars of what we have. My idea is that it should be an emergency fund.

Mr. Van Hagan—How many women shall we have? Are we going to be satisfied with one woman for relief and one woman for canteen work.

Miss Kellogg—There is no question that we will have more Wisconsin women for that work. All they ask is for the Alumni Association to stand responsible for one woman. If we can do more, we will be delighted to do it. The younger women are of the colleges and are greatly desirous of finding their work and agree to take part in it, but that is all that is asked of the Alumni Association, and all we propose to do is get the board to authorize the collection of $5,000 for these two purposes.

Mr. Lord—I would like to go ahead in some real proposition in which the University of Wisconsin would not have to go in with any one else. If we can raise the money, I would like to do that. The point is, who here is willing to give up their time to raise this money.

Mr. Rogers—Certainly there are two very enthusiastic women here willing to give up their time. I think we could get three more. I think I could go out and raise $3,000 in Fort Atkinson better than I could in the Alumni Association for the Red Cross work. We raised over $10,000 in all in the last campaigns. I think the motion is all right. I think the motion is all right just as it is.

Mr. Blakeman—I am willing to be one to assist in getting this money. The chief thing that this Alumni Association needs is the responsibility to raise money. The associations in the Middle-west have difficulty because the legislature is too generous. I would be glad to serve on a committee to raise this $5,000.

Mr. Lord—That is very concrete and very definite. Who else is willing to give their time and energy to raising such funds?

Mr. Pease—I want to suggest that it is possible to make a mistake in getting recruits out of the present crowd. It is not a matter to be cared for during twenty-four hours. If there is a member of the Alumni Association who isn't working nights and Sundays and all possible time he can steal away from his business doing war work, I don't know it. If there is an alumnus who isn't contributing now until it hurts, I don't know it. It is going to be difficult to get funds. I have also encountered Judge Roger's experience. We must bear in mind that people are contributing up to the point where it hurts them, and it is going to take time.

The committee must be picked out with reference to localities. I would suggest that the whole matter be referred to the alumni officers, then they can select better than can be selected by voluntary offerings as at the present time. As to the point whether we should act individually or cooperatively: We have been asked to cooperate. I don't think that it really appeals to me as having the University of Wisconsin get credit for this, as to have them do the work. I like the idea of cooperation very much. I think, however, the matter having been brought up, it ought to be decided by the officers. I think my motion was to approve the proposition as suggested or reported by Miss Kellogg, and that the whole matter be referred, with our approval, to the alumni officers with authority to appoint committees to collect money and to use such money as we have surplus, and to use such funds with our approval. Motion seconded.

Mr. Lord—The motion is that we cooperate with the University of Minnesota and other relief units to support the French relief in France, and also to assist in getting canteen workers for French work. (The vote was not taken.)

Mr. Hulburt—Why has the University of Wisconsin got to be united with the University of Minnesota?

Mr. Lord—It takes $30,000 to raise one unit, and I have been trying to raise money among alumni for some time. I found when I got to raising the money that I did a great deal of the work. What we want is workers, and I hope that anyone who thinks that he can spare any time will come forward frankly and say he will assist.

Mr. Bright—Mr. President, it seems there is a good deal of pessimism about the University of Wisconsin being able to raise $5,000 for this purpose. It would be very easy for this purpose. Don't let's have any pessimism about it.

Mr. Rogers—Just one other thing I think ought to be mentioned, not for the purpose of any resolution passed at all, but in order that you may use your efforts with the president and the board of regents. Go to them as individuals. If you put the dairy cows into this building you would not get any milk, or if you put the chickens into it for a hen house you would not get any eggs. This hall is the only hall that the Association has to meet in and, in so far as I know, there hasn't been anything done to it for twenty-five years. I wish that everyone would talk to the University regents and the president as individuals and ask them to fix up Music Hall so that when we meet here we may have a somewhat decent place to meet as individuals.

Mr. Lord—I want everyone here to promise that when they receive a written request to contribute to this cause that they will not only subscribe all they can, but that they will secure two or three other Wisconsin men and women to contribute. Do not stop with $5,000. Go after all we can get. Give and give until it hurts. That's all there is to it. Wisconsin is doing this, and she ought to do this and much, much more.

XX—I would make a suggestion that the committee in arranging this fund make an allotment by cities, and for each city raise a certain fund. I am in favor of each city raising it as under government work. That works fine.

Mr. Lord—A very good suggestion. Any other business to come before the meeting?

A standing vote was taken to pledge that each one of us will not only give but will also secure the co-operation of three or four other Wisconsin men or women.

Moved and seconded that the meeting adjourn. Carried.

Meeting adjourned at 3:30 p. m.

ATHLETICS

By W. D. RICHARDSON, Alumni Member of the Athletic Council

Coach Jones, director of athletics at the University, is up at Camp Douglas where he will remain during the encampment of Co. K of the 8th regiment, state guard. Coach Jones has been put in charge of the athletic program and he has devised a system of calisthenic drills for the men. It comprises twelve exercises and is especially adapted to the physical needs of the men who comprise the guard this year. He has also arranged a series of baseball games, each company being represented. The championship will be decided after the elimination games have been played. With Coach Jones and Earl Driver, former Badger football star and coach, at the helm, the boys at the camp are assured of plenty of time for athletic work, for both men are strong believers in the advantages of athletics in building up men. After the camp is over, Coach Jones will return to summer school where he is giving a series of courses in physical education. He will then go to the next officers' training camp which will be held at Fort Sheridan.

Among the notables who are here attending the summer session are Dr. Meanwell, now director of athletics at Missouri; Coach Kahle, of the state championship North Division high school track team, Milwaukee; and Watts, who was formerly a pitcher on the Illinois baseball team. Dr. Meanwell is taking some courses in French and he expects to be commissioned in the medical service in the near future. His first year at Missouri was an eventful one for he succeeded in having football re-established in the Kansas City schools. His basketball team won the championship of the Missouri Valley conference while the Tigers copped the baseball and track championship. Coach Kahle, who is here taking some courses in physical education, is the adviser of two men who are to enter Wisconsin next fall—Spetz, the sensational quarter-miler, and Schneider, the low-hurdler. Both men are far above the average high school performer and Spetz is the most promising runner that has entered Wisconsin in years. Coach Jones expects him to prove a greater runner than "Speed" Williams and "Speed" is the fastest 440 man that ever wore the cardinal in spite of the fact that he does not hold the varsity record.

Frank Nickerson, assistant to Coach Jones, leaves with the draft quota in the near future and his going will make things more difficult for the Badger director. "Nick" handled all the sales and was in charge of all the equipment and did most of the detail work connected with Wisconsin athletics. He is the second assistant to leave for war service, Bob Quick, his predecessor, going to Fort Sheridan and winning a second lieutenantcy. He is now stationed at Camp Custer.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together, and you'll work together"

WEST BEND

By CORA ROHN, '10

Our Club met for its third annual meeting at Fred Welferem's, little Cedar Lake, June 8. An informal dinner was served at 6:30 which was attended by thirty-two members and guests. Good old Wisconsin songs and ballads were sung during dinner.

At the business meeting, which was presided over by Dr. Albion Heidner, '11, Gwen Jones, '05, and Ramona Reichert, '17, were named delegate and alternate to attend the Alumni Council meeting at Madison, June 17. The most significant detail of the evening was the generous support given to the secretary's report of the work of the American University Union in Paris. Eleven dollars were contributed towards Wisconsin's share. Armand Langenbach, '03, was elected president; Ramona Reichert, vice president; and Cora Rohn, '10, secretary-treasurer. The new president, as toastmaster, called for impromptu talks from John O'Meara, '02, John Wickam, Frank Bucklin, '02, Clara Jones, '96, Lehman Rosenheimer, '02, Guido Schroeder, and Judge Patrick O'Meara, '70. The rest of the evening was spent in visiting and dancing. The executive committee hopes to arrange for several informal meetings during the next year.

OUR OLDEST ALUMNUS REPLIES

Dear Mr. Leavitt:

Your kind letter of remembrance and greeting on the occasion of the annual meeting, expressing your affectionate regard for an old fellow alumnus, warmed my heart and cheered me beyond any power of words to express.

On this, my eightieth birthday, I send to you, and through you to my dear fellow alumni, my cordial greetings and heartfelt appreciation of your thought of me at this gathering of the graduates of our beloved Alma Mater, and I ask you, one and all, to accept my earnest wishes for your success and happiness.

Most sincerely yours,

(Signed)

AFTER FIVE YEARS

By F. H. ELWELL

Notwithstanding the fact that the class of '08 made no definite plans toward their tenth reunion, a large number of the alumni returned for the two days' festival.

Monday noon the class lunched at the University Club (for details write Rice and Lindemann) and in the afternoon attended the meeting of the Alumni Council in a body. After the Council meeting adjourned, the class held its business meeting, the following officers being elected: President, Ernest Rice; vice president, Ruby Byron; secretary and treasurer, F. H. Elwell. The following executive committee was appointed: Charles Byron, Rudolph Soukup, Walter Lindemann, G. L. Jensen, Sue Armstrong, E. H. Zobel, and Roy Shorey. After refreshments at the Chocolate Shop,

A MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF 1908

By Ernest F. Rice

To those of you who were so unfortunate as to miss our tenth reunion, I want to send a word of greeting. Of course in these strenuous war times, it was impossible for all of us to leave our duties long enough to travel to Madison. We all know that the class of '08 is doing its share, and when this conflict is over, its deeds will compare well with other achievements.

The thought I want to leave with you is that, although you were absent, you were not forgotten. Our two days' visit was the most happy and congenial family affair of which you ever heard. Each Tom, Dick, Harry, and Sue was mentioned by name, and in nearly every instance there was someone present who knew where you were and what you are doing, and imparted the interesting information to the rest of us. During these discussions it became apparent that we urgently needed a class directory, and we have decided to issue one early in the fall. Blank cards asking for the necessary information have already been sent you by the General Alumni Association. In order that this directory may be of the greatest value, it should be as nearly correct and up to date as possible, and the only way we can do that is for each and every one of you to return these cards at once to Secy. Crawford of the General Alumni Association or else write him a note giving him your correct address and occupation, etc. We all realize that as we grow older, our various missions in life take us further and further away from our Alma Mater. We know that the class directory will keep us in closer touch with each other, and five years from now we will have another reunion that will make all the University sit up and take notice, and prove to the world that the only class of record that won both its freshman and sophomore rush is still true to its motto "SURE AS FATE."

the members met at the Madison Club for dinner. Talk about a banquet! While '93 and '88 were also there, not one sound was uttered by them—'08 simply supplied the ginger and enthusiasm for them all. At the class meeting, which was held later in the evening, the organization of the class into active force for its own as well as that of the University was discussed. It was the unanimous opinion of all those present that it is seldom that such a frank discussion and diagnosis had ever been held, and the General Alumni Association may expect accomplishments from the class of '08.

George Buckstaff, '85, of Oshkosh, counselled with us relative to the best method to proceed with the reorganization of our class affairs. While it is undoubtedly true that some alumni of a state university do not seem to have that sense of duty or obligation to their Alma Mater that alumni of endowed institutions evidence, it is believed that every member of the class of '08 will soon be enrolled as an active force for the good of old Wisconsin. Two specific things which were decided upon as steps toward enlistment in this service were the publication of a class directory and the compilation and publication of a class history. The former is discussed in inserted articles by president, "Ernie" Rice, the latter subject by historian, "Chuck" Byron.

"Sure as Fate, Sure as Fate We're the class of 1908."

—Courtesy of Photoart House 277

Tuesday morning was spent in visiting friends in the faculty and going over the University grounds. At 11:30 a picnic lunch was served at which the class took a prominent part appearing in reunion regalia each member carrying the Stars and Stripes and wearing the Indian cap with regulation feathers of brilliant hues. At 1:15 the class of '08 held place of honor in the alumni parade and so, once more, led all other classes. The parade made a serpentine trail from Music Hall to the knoll north of North Hall where the Muir Knoll dedication exercises were held. At 4 p. m. the class chartered a launch for a trip on Lake Mendota. "Many were the thoughts, etc." but why tell what those present all admitted they were thinking about!

At 6:30 Tuesday evening the alumni banquet was held in Lathrop Hall.

THE CLASS HISTORY

By Charles L. Byron

There are many good reasons why most of the class of '08 could not be back in Madison for the reunion in June. However, you were not forgotten by those of us who were fortunate enough to be present and, furthermore, you never shall be forgotten. This is one of the reasons: After we had enjoyed the reunion dinner, some of us sat around for a few hours reminiscing, and while it did all our hearts good, still we were hungry for news, or more news, concerning every single member of our class. We who were there were all happy, but beyond that we were enthusiastically groping for a more intimate feeling and knowledge of our scattered classmates.

To get right down to brass tacks, we are going to know each other better. Your '08 reunion group decided so. The plan is this: Each member of the class is to write his or her history covering the period from the date of graduation up to the present time and send such history to Charles L. Byron, class historian, at his office, First National Bank Building, Chicago. The history of the class will then be compiled and a copy sent to you. The history of each one is to be brought up to date every five years. All members of the class will receive proper instructions by means of an article forming a part of the class directory which will be sent to each member. This class directory, which is more fully discussed by Ernest Rice, will be a detachable part of a later issue of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE. To make a success of this class history, like all big undertakings, requires sincere cooperation. Let us think and talk class history from now on until the same is a success.

The class of '08 was there en masse and supplied the spirit(s) for the occasion. With Mr. Zoebel acting as band leader with his trombone, the class sang many songs and performed stunts which finally brought some little action from the other classes. The old class yell came in frequently, and those present were clearly impressed with the fact that the '08 spirit was a live one. One of the songs, written especially for the occasion, is as follows:

There's a long, long string of naught eights,
 Out in No Man's Land in France,
 Where the shrapnel shells are bursting,
 But they will advance.
 There'll be lots of lead and powder,
 Until their dreams all come true,
 But they're going to get the kaiser,
 When our naught eight boys go through.

FROM THE FRONT

"As soon as I get back out of the line, I will mail this letter with check for the support of Wisconsin's share in the American University Union at Paris. The March issue of the MAGAZINE arrived a few days ago, shortly after I came up for another tour. This makes my fourth trip up, so I am beginning to feel like a veteran.

The Boche have been behaving lately, but we got a warm reception the first time up. We were nervous then, now they are kept busy dodging our raiding pistols.

An automatic rifle just bursted loose down the line, so I'd better see what the trouble is. Expect the sentinel heard a rat in the wire. . . . It was a dog—probably a Boche's. They use them. While it looks like that leave every four months does not apply to any one near the front, I am still in hopes of getting mine some day and perhaps seeing Paris. I hope my contribution arrives in time to help the American University Union fund.

It is daylight now, so I can take a nap. This war is making night hawks of an awful bunch of fellows."

Prof. Barry Cerf of the Romance Languages Dept. addressed the war course on "The Problem of Alsace-Lorraine" last month.

Forty men, who enrolled in the summer session, have signed up for the course in military tactics. A single company has been formed with the title of Co. A., U. W. Summer Session, and drills are held daily.

The Lincoln statue in front of Main Hall will soon be moved to the site originally planned for it by its sculptor, Mr. Weinman.

William Neidig, formerly instructor in English, and author of "The Fire-fingers" now being published serially in the Saturday Evening Post, recently visited Prof. and Mrs. H. B. Lathrop. Mr. Neidig leaves shortly for Washington in connection with war work which he has on hand.

A Red Cross course of seventeen lectures is one of the special features of the summer session. Persons not registered for summer work may also attend the course without payment of fees.

Prof. E. A. Ross recently received the following cablegram: "Wisconsin alumni in Russia meeting this graduation week. Moscow send loyal greetings to University." The signers are: Lewis Read, '09; Clara Taylor, '10; Alfred Klieforth, '13; William Webster, '14; Crawford Wheeler, '16; Edwin Rytell; and O. W. Dewitt.

Alice Webb, editor of the extension division, has resigned her position to take up canteen work in France under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

Maj. George Bascom, one of the eight sanitary engineers who has been granted leave of absence to render service in the U. S. Army, spoke last month, on the occasion of a brief visit home, of the work being done at Camp Pike.

Dr. A. S. Pearse, associate professor of zoology, has left for Venezuela, S. America, where he will be engaged in research work during the summer. He will resume his duties here next fall.

Prof. Carl Russell Fish of the History Dept. is making guns at the Northwestern Ordnance Co.

Prof. J. L. Tormey, who has resigned his position in the Animal Husbandry Dept., has accepted a position with the American Short Horn Breeders' Assn., with headquarters in Chicago.

BOOK NOTES

Brief reviews of writings by Wisconsin students, alumni, and faculty.

Russia in Upheaval (The Century Co., N. Y.) by Prof. E. A. Ross, is an account of his recent visit to and study of the Russian revolution. The work discusses the overthrow of autocracy, the new freedom of Russia, soil hunger and redistribution, labor and capital in Russia, the casting out of vodka, Russian women and their outlook, the church and the sects, the co-operative movement in Russia, the Zemstvos and how they built a state within a state, and the future of emigration from Russia.

Auditing Procedure (La Salle Extension U., Chicago) by W. B. Castenholz, '03, is a manual of procedure which tells the practitioner not only what accounts must be audited and why but how. The book stands out by itself as a working manual and discusses fully the steps which must be taken by an auditor in verifying the balance sheet, and profit and loss accounts. . . . Of special interest to the practical accountant will be the detailed treatment of special businesses such as railroads and other public service companies, financial institutions, insurance companies, publishers, timber companies, breweries, mines, branch accounts, department stores, contractors, professional men, oil mills, textile mills, and automobile manufacturers.

The Profession of Journalism by Prof. W. G. Bleyer, '96. This text book has been compiled from articles appearing recently in the Atlantic Monthly including those of Oswald Villard, Henry Watterson, Melville Stone, and many others preeminent in journalism. The whole range of newspaper work is covered. ($1.00 postpaid; school rate $.80 plus carriage.)

The great public service of John Muir was leading the nation, through his writings, to appreciate the grandeur of our mountains and the beauty and variety of their plant and animal life, and the consequent necessity for holding forever as a heritage for all the people the most precious of these great scenic areas. Probably to his leadership more than to that of any other man is due the adoption of the policy of national parks.—President Van Hise.

WISCONSIN INVESTMENTS FOR WISCONSIN ALUMNI

As a Wisconsin House, we are interested in Wisconsin's growth and prosperity. So are you.

We have faith in and recommend the issues originating in our own state, when they are soundly secured by physical properties and earnings, and are providing capital for the upbuilding of essential industries.

Our new booklet, "Investment Opportunities in Wisconsin" will be sent upon request to those interested.

WAR RECORDS

The General Alumni Association desires to collect and preserve a record of the service performed by every University of Wisconsin man in the present war. Information concerning every person who has been enrolled in any department of the University, or who has been or is a member of its teaching staff, and who is engaged in any form of service connected with the prosecution of the war—whether in military or civil lines—is desired. It is urged that every person to whom this notice comes report for themselves and for their friends so that no one may be missed. This is most important and we hope that the alumni may respond promptly. If you cannot give full information about the person engaged in such work kindly send name and tell us where further information may be obtained. The colleges of the country have reason to be proud of the way in which the students and alumni have responded to the call for service. We know that Wisconsin is not behind other colleges in this respect but we want the facts to show it and we also want to give the men and women who have taken an active part in this war their due meed of credit for their patriotic devotion.

KISSELKAR

EVERY INCH A CAR

The Hundred Point Six

ITS VITAL PARTS ARE BUILT ON ANTI-REPAIR LINES

THE Kessel engineers specified steel side rails of high carbon contents in the Kessel frame, and Chrome Vanadium steel in the springs.

To make the Kessel driving shaft absolutely dependable, a special heat-treated steel forging is used, with nickel steel gears and pinion.

This Kessel quality in all the vital under-the-surface parts, keeps the KesselKar a stranger to repair men.

The ALL-YEAR Car

The sturdy construction of the ALL-YEAR Top is that of a permanently closed car. The only difference is—it is built-IN, not ON, and entirely removable for summer touring.

The Kessel policy of "Quality First" is back of every one of its Hundred Quality Features. By placing your order now, you are sure of getting your KesselKar at an early date.

KISSEL MOTOR CAR COMPANY
HARTFORD, WIS., U. S. A.

The University Graduate

Insures his life liberally, and selects his insurance company and policy with judgment. The trained intelligence that is the product of his college course enables him to understand the great benefits of Life Insurance. Moreover, the power to analyze facts teaches him the importance of selection and correct valuation.

Such a man grasps with ease the merits of the proposal of the NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Boston. This Company—the oldest chartered in America, 1835—has stood consistently for the highest ideals of insurance service. Its administration has been progressive, absolutely fair, and in the fullest degree has safeguarded the interests of all policyholders. The Policy Contract of the NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL is the most liberal written. It embodies in a perfect form the principle of strictly Mutual Life Insurance.

You will appreciate the truth of these statements if you will send for the booklet "Four Facts."

DID YOU EVER

After you left Madison, want some article that you had or saw when you were in the University?

You made inquiries at the several stores where you are now located but did not find exactly what you wished.

Most likely it was some article that would have a sale only in a college town, or perhaps the shops in your town just didn't have it.

Do you ever remember that you used to purchase that same article at The University Co-Operative Company years ago?
