FORWARD...

In this forty-fourth volume of the Meletean, it has not been our purpose to think up new ways of presenting the history of 1954-55. Our objective has been to leave with you, in as vivid a form as possible, a pictorial record of what happened at the College this year. In order to do this we have changed the traditional arrangement of the Meletean into one that seems more logical to us. It will have fulfilled its purpose if it gives you an accurate reminder of this year's history, and if it is an adequate record of college days which can never be relived, or ever quite forgotten.

WE DEDICATE...

It is well known that nothing creates international goodwill better than personal contact with people of foreign lands. On the River Falls Campus this year there were eleven such people. All of them individuals, and all good representatives. It is in this feeling of international goodwill that we dedicate this 1955 Meletean to the foreign students on our campus.

Old South Hall

MELETEAN...

Many times has our Campus, with its buildings, been pictured in yearbooks. However, this is the first time in its history that it has been pictured in full color. It is with pride that we of the '55 Meletean staff give you this book.

WE SALUTE...

...Glenn Junkman

It has been said that an institution is but the lengthened shadow of a great man. If this be true, WSC represents the contribution of Glenn Junkman to teacher education. During the past thirty-seven years he has seen the college grow from a normal school to a degree-granting institution of high reputation.

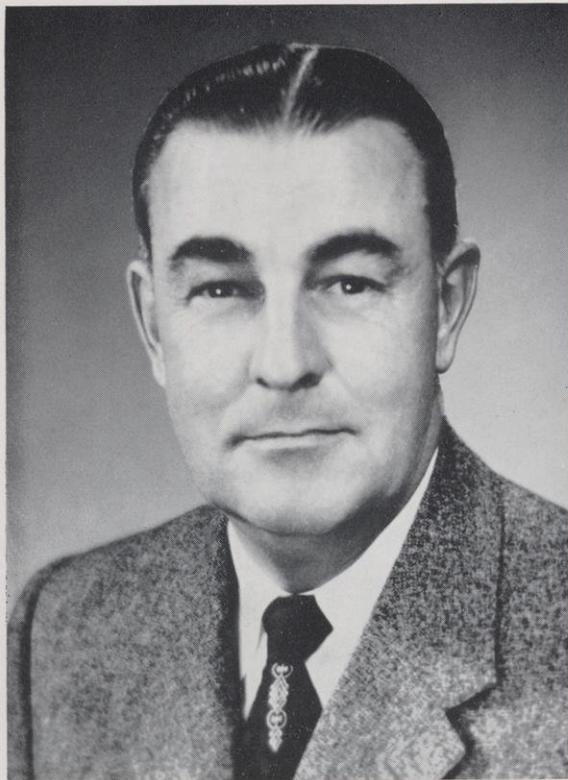

Born near Ellsworth, Glenn Junkman graduated from the high school there in 1902, then taught rural schools until 1903 when he entered the State Normal School at River Falls. From 1906-1918 he served as principal of schools at Pitsville, Independence and Wabeno. In 1913 he was granted a B.A. degree in history at the University of Wisconsin and in 1935 he received his M.A. degree in mathematics from Iowa University. He has taught at River Falls since 1918.

Glenn Junkman's years of teaching are now committed to history—he will be remembered as a friend, a student, a scholar and just "Mr. Junkman."

THE PRESIDENT...

"The Meletean this year, dedicated to our students from abroad, foretells in a small way the ever widening influence and growing prestige of our College. Here on the campus we feel that a significant contribution to world understanding and the development of international good will is taking place.

"As the following pages convincingly portray, the current year has been a memorable one in the history of the College. The new library is in full operation. South Hall has been remodeled and renovated. A laboratory building for agriculture has been added. Improved services, both to the area and to students, have been inaugurated. Plans for future expansion, both physical and academic, are on the drawing boards.

"The College must be prepared to meet the challenge of the future. This year significant progress has been made. I know that students, alumni and friends will always be alert to augment the stature of the Falcon."

A cursive signature of G.W. Kempf, written in black ink. The signature is fluid and personal, with 'G.W.' at the beginning and 'Kempf' following.

The 1954 Falcons had a good year in football, and but for a fluke in one game could have been on the heels of the 1954 champs from La Crosse. River Falls finished in fifth position behind Eau Claire, Platteville, and Stevens Point.

While River Falls did not win the conference title, they did place three men on the honorary All-Conference Team. The three selected were Clair Murphy, Falcon's Most Valuable Player; Reg Hansen, Falcon captain; and Bob Margotto. The Falcon fortunes took a slight tumble during the season with the induction into the army of Joe Burgoyne, and the costly injury of Don Helberg. On the brighter side was the very valuable return to the gridiron of Bob Wood, after his siege with polio.

The league was rather tight this year as not even La Crosse missed having their record blemished. Good proof of the topsy-turvy condition in the conference was that Stout tied La Crosse, La Crosse beat River Falls 26-7, and then the Falcons turned around and beat Stout 26-7.

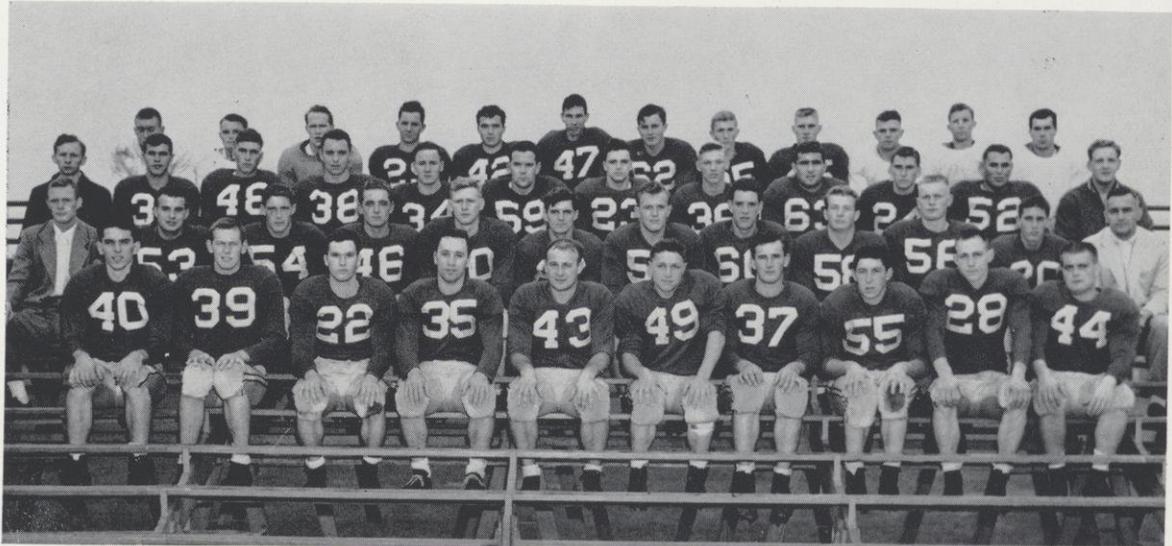

Highlights of the conference could well be the high figure of three tie ball games, no team coming through with a perfect record, and the general balance of the league.

Looking now to the local scene, we find that the Falcons had a 3-2 record in the conference, and a 6-2 record for the entire season. Coach Phil Belfiori's charges chalked up 184 points this season to 68 for the opposition. Of the three non-league foes, only Mankato crossed the Falcon goal line, and they did it twice in season finale, in a game which was fiercely waged and was not decided until the closing minutes.

High spots for River Falls partisans were the rain soaked tilt with Eau Claire, the rugged La Crosse game, and the twist of fate catch by that Oshkosh player on his back.

The 1955 edition of the River Falls Baseball team turned in a very respectable record this season with the bulk of the load being carried by the unusually high number of eleven returning lettermen. Included in that eleven were three pitchers, one catcher, four infielders, and three outfielders. The only starter missing was Joe Burgoyne, who is serving a stretch in the army.

The returning pitchers were Glen Hansen and sophomore Dick Fischer. The veteran man behind the plate was Troy Rudesill. Among the men in the infield back for this last campaign were second baseman John Steffen, third sacker Dave Fisher, and two first sackers, Bob Hubert and Dick Hoffman. Outfielders forming the nucleus of the team were Cabby Wild, Gene Luebker and Donald Pederson.

River Falls competes in two leagues, namely the WSC league and the Bi-State. The WSC League consists of River Falls, Eau Claire, Stout, La Crosse, and Stevens Point. The Bi-State is made up of River Falls, Eau Claire, Stout, Winona, St. Cloud and Mankato.

Over thirty men answered Coach Polsfoot's call for a track team this spring and the results were very promising. Among the stars who wore the Red and White this year were Phil Kuss, Dave Herum, and Don Swanson, to name a few.

The team took part in the Bi-State and the Invitational Meet at Winona as well as several other inter-varsity meets.

On May 7 the college again sponsored the annual Middle Border High School Conference Track Meet.

The purpose of the Women's Recreation Association (WRA) is to organize and control extra-curricular activities sponsored by the Association, and to promote permanent interest in recreational activities. Membership is open to all women of the college. Throughout the year the WRA sponsors intramural tournaments in basketball, volleyball and softball. Tennis, badminton, bowling and golf are the main individual sports. Many other activities are carried on during the year such as the basketball game at Winter Carnival, High School Sports Day, picnics, splash parties and others.

Awards are earned on a point system basis and the points accumulate throughout the time at college. The awards include a WRA sweat shirt, "R" letter, WRA pin and a senior award.

Clair Takes Aim

The minor sport of bowling took on new prominence at River Falls this past year, as the program was broadened to include both individual and mixed team bowling. All indications point to a rapid growth of bowling, as evidenced by the large participation of the student body.

The Student Senate was organized to provide a student voice in college affairs as well as to take care of the many routine matters which must be attended to if the college is to function smoothly.

The Senate is elected by the student body in the spring and is entirely a student organization with no direct faculty supervision. It is composed of eleven members, seven elected from the student body at large and the four class presidents. The Senate has charge of all school social activities and large scale events. Each year it elects the editors for the Meletean and the Student Voice from names submitted by the advisors

It supervises all college elections and considers and grants charters for the establishment of new campus organizations. The Senate receives a definite money allotment each year from the student activity ticket fund. These funds are then appropriated by the Senate for various purposes, the chief of which are social.

The Social Committee is a sub-committee of the Student Senate. All social functions must be approved by this group as it makes all the arrangements and takes charge of the social calendar throughout the year. Some of the social affairs this year have been: the Homecoming dance October 16, featuring the music of Dick Maw and his orchestra, the Sadie Hawkins dance when the Falconaires furnished the music, and record dances at the girls' dorm. The first formal event of the year was the Winter Formal and music for this was again furnished by the Falconaires. Other affairs were the term dances, the popular Valentine Formal (when gals ask guys), all-school square dances and many other social events.

The Concert and Lecture Committee is another subsidiary group of the Student Senate. This committee selects the lecture series and all-school convocations that visit the campus. This selection is made in the spring. Some of the outstanding convocations this year included "The Silvertones," "Jean and Barbara Jacks," and "Doc Evans." Probably the most outstanding lecture this year was the one given by the noted Howard Pierce Davis.

Another subsidiary group of the Student Senate is the Student Advisory Council. This council is represented by one person from each organization on campus and meets under authorization by the Senate to serve as a legislative group. The Associated Women Students also function under the direction of the Senate, through its executive board.

This year the Senate selected the furnishings for the new Student Activities Center, bought new uniforms for the cheerleaders, assembled the Student Directories and granted a charter to a new organization on campus, the Canterbury Club. Among other things, they also gave their approval to, and sponsored, a student insurance policy. As a whole the Student Senate directs camps organizations, oversees all college events and serves as a sounding board for students wishing to express their opinion.

Sigma, an honorary sorority, has the three-fold purpose of service, culture and sociability. A girl must maintain a high grade average and possess desirable personality and ethical traits to be considered for membership. Membership is by invitation only.

Sigma plans a series of extensive and interesting programs which follow the regular business meetings which are held every other Thursday night. Among some of the most significant this year was a lecture by Mr. Polk on bridge playing, a book review by Dr. Wyman and panel discussions by the girls.

Sigma held a spaghetti supper to help raise money for the organization. The preparations and work was all carried out by the members and advisors. They also were in charge of the "Warm-up" in regard to Winter Carnival. As a service group, Sigma takes charge of the money raising events for the March of Dimes, sponsors a scholarship for a worthy freshman girl and contributes generously to all worthy drives.

They meet once a month at the homes of faculty members who are members of the fraternity. These members are Dr. Wyman, Miss Moss, Miss Akins, Dr. Stone, Mr. Anderson, Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Smith. In February they hold a dinner meeting at which membership in Kappa Delta Pi is bestowed on some well known person in the teaching field. This year Mr. Junkman was given the honorary membership in the fraternity.

Student Vets...

An organization of World War II and Korean veterans, the Vet's Club this year is one of the largest social groups on campus. Their aim is to familiarize veterans on college problems and to install a feeling of unity and belonging among the older groups on campus. The club meets twice a month to discuss various problems at the local National Guard Armory. After the meetings they usually have a social hour in which they play cards, etc.

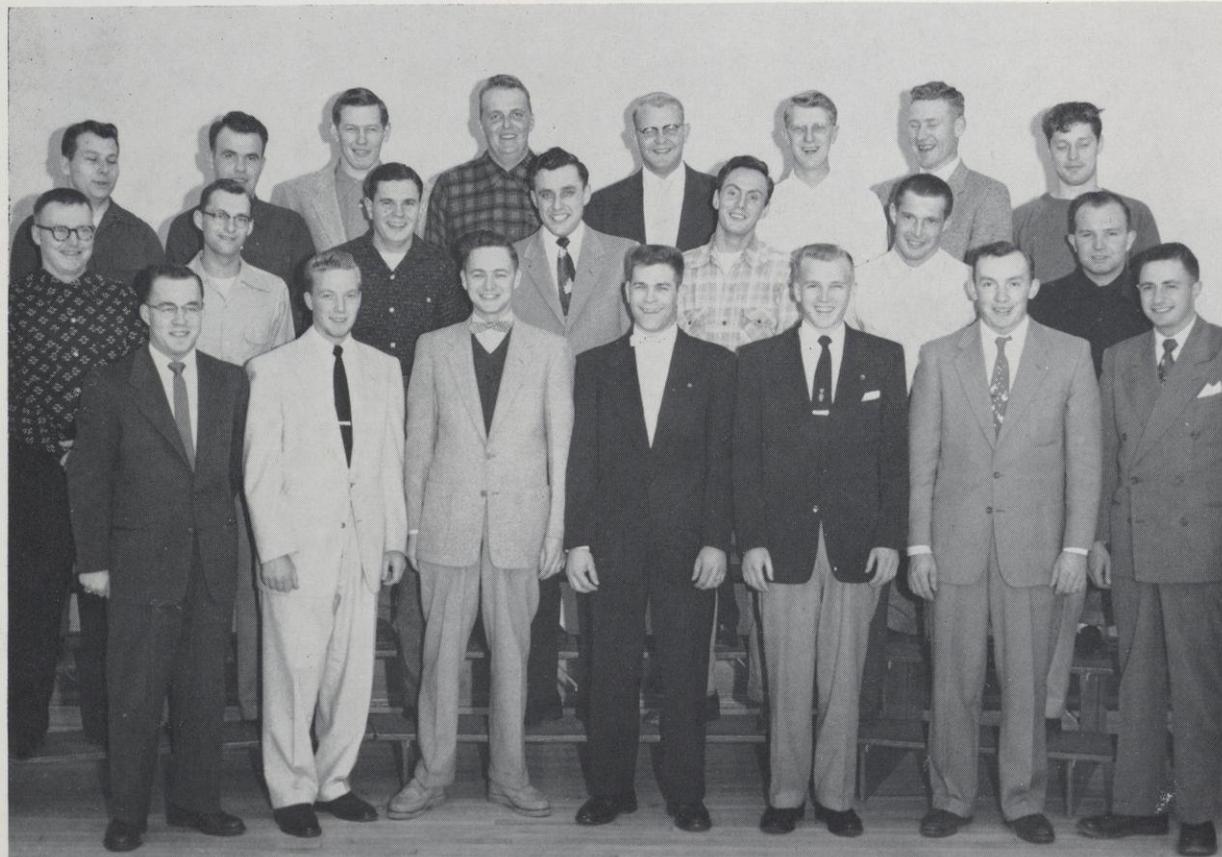

One of the high points of the year for the club was the annual Vets' Christmas party at the Belmont Club in St. Paul. Their float took third place in the Homecoming parade and they also sponsored a candidate for Homecoming queen. In the spring, the Vets' held "Children's Day," a day of play for orphaned and underprivileged children.

"Level the Blue Devils"

Homecoming 1954 can be described briefly by using two adjectives and a noun — biggest, best and cooperation. At the pep rally Friday night Queen LaVonne Thompson was crowned by Bob Strain. Other events on the program were skits, cheers, music and a speaker. Blazing torches lead the way to the bonfire behind Hathorn Hall. A variety of colorful and exciting floats highlighted this year's Homecoming parade. Marching bands, a drill unit and even two army tanks were on hand for the crowd to watch. The Falcons then "leveled the Blue Devils" 26-6 before a capacity crowd. Climaxing the day's activities was the big Homecoming dance with music furnished by Dick Maw and his orchestra.

Activities for the Alumni who returned to the campus included a buffet luncheon, a reception and a coffee hour. Special mention is due Bob Strain, Homecoming Chairman and his assistants, John Bos and Stan Lehman for their splendid job of making Homecoming 1954 so successful!

The Association of Women Students (formerly called the C.W.A.) is an organization of all college women students. On the River Falls campus there are two groups: the resident women, comprised of the girls living at Hathorn Hall and Hathorn Cottage, and the off-campus women, composed of those commuting or rooming in private homes. An executive board is chosen by both groups for the general management of affairs. This board decides such problems as late hours, etc. The purpose of the organization is to promote the best interests of college women by affording them the opportunity for active participation in college activities.

The functions of A.W.S. are numerous. They sponsor such events as the "Big and Little Sister" tea, style shows, faculty teas and social hours. This year they also sponsored the Valentine Formal and, in the spring, the group was host to the state convention of the Association of Women Students which met on the River Falls campus.

The members, through many hours of hard work at practice and play, uphold the sport ideals and traditions of WSC. Financially, this club is by far the most successful on the campus. They run the concessions at all football and basketball games and participate in various other campus activities. This year the organization sponsored a basketball game with the proceeds going to help furnish the Student Activities Center, collected money for a needy family and at Homecoming time the boys put on a good campaign for their candidate for Homecoming queen.

The club buys the letters, jackets and sweaters used as awards for its deserving members.

The River Falls State College Band is composed of students who are interested in instrumental music. The band plays at many school functions such as football games and assemblies. Every quarter they present a concert before the assembled student body. In the fall the band visited such towns as Elmwood, Maiden Rock and Baldwin and presented a concert in each town. In the spring they made a 550-mile concert tour, traveling to Watertown, Rosholt, and Thorp. Their program this year for the series of concerts featured modern American music. Featured soloists with the band include Harry Elzinga, Bob Strain, Don Richards, and David Zerahn. Strain, Zerahn, Richards and Larry Hanson make up a jazz quartet called the Dixieland Four. B. J. The Toastmasters Club is an organized group of ambitious men who seek to improve themselves in the art of speech, both in conversation and in public address as a means of increasing their usefulness in business, social and civic relationships.

The group meets every Wednesday night in the Calico room to listen to speeches of the members and to discuss problems of parliamentary procedures. The club holds an annual speech contest to discover the better speakers in their group. Some of their activities are a leadership clinic in which they work with other groups to improve speech problems and in the fall they held a joint meeting with the Toastmasters Club from Macalester College in which they discussed problems common to both groups. Several meetings with other colleges were also held.

River Falls — (WSC) — 1955 marks the sixtieth year of school publications at Wisconsin State College. The first edition of the paper was published in the spring of 1895 under the mast-head "The Normal Badger." Later it appeared under various names such as "The Oracle" and "The Renaissance." In 1916 the name was changed to the Student Voice and has remained that ever since. This year The Voice, in connection with the journalism class, published a special supplement commemorating sixty years of student publications.

This issue featured the history of the Meletean as well as the Student Voice. Since the Student Voice is the official voice of the students, its purpose is to furnish the students with an opportunity to publish their opinions, promote all-school events and to bring to the eyes of the reading world the everyday happenings on campus.

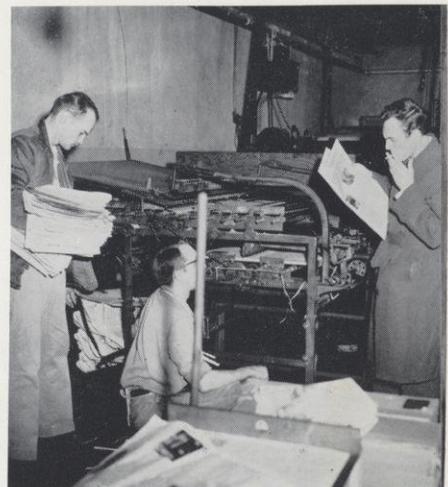

One of the new changes in the Voice occurred January 10, 1955, when the paper became a weekly instead of a semi-monthly publication. This gave a much more complete and wider coverage of campus happenings, as events could be reported shortly before and after they happened.

During the fall term, the Voice was printed under difficulties due to the fact that the staff did not have an office because of the remodeling of South Hall. However, deadlines were met and the Voice came out on time. Shortly after Christmas, the staff moved into their new office on the first floor of South Hall.

The Voice is distributed every Monday evening at five in the Caf. Papers are sent to advertisers, other colleges, and Alumni.

They performed for college day and in the spring they presented several numbers at the Spring Festival.

The Women's Recreational Association directs the intramural activities of the college women. Membership is open to all those who wish to participate in any of the various sport activities. Accurate recordings are made of participation and awards are given according to the amount of time put in on a sport and the number of points acquired. A point system has been established — 450 points earn the girl a chenille "R," 700 points earn a sweat shirt and a WRA emblem, and 900 points merits a gold honor pin.

At the beginning of the fall term, WRA held a wiener roast at Glen Park Lodge. This party was well attended and served as an introduction for the new members into the activities of the organization.

Although the activities of the group were somewhat curtailed because of the remodeling of South Hall, the girls still had a good year playing field hockey, tennis, bowling, volleyball, swimming, basketball, and softball. Exciting tournaments culminated the seasons of each of these sports.

Winter Carnival 1955 was marked by the usual carnival weather — rain, sleet and fog. However, despite the weather a small but enthusiastic crowd turned out for winter fun and frolic. Doris Lindemann, junior from Barronett, was elected as the chairwoman with Sally Dickenson and Mary Murphy as her capable assistants. The student body elected Claire Richardson, President of Sitzmarkers, as Carnival King. He chose lovely Sylvia Anderson as his queen. Attendants to the royal couple were Pat Turner and Cleland Cook, Mae Wiskerchen and John Bos.

The Masquers is the organization on campus for all students interested in dramatics. Objectives of the group are to further interest in dramatics, keep its members informed as to what is being done in the field of present-day dramatics and to give each member an opportunity to appear in plays as well as to direct them and work on staging. In the fall the Masquers presented "Stagedoor." The winter production was Shaw's "Pygmalion." "Pygmalion" marked the first formal presentation in the Little Theatre of the new Chalmer Davee Library. The theatre, with its excellent lighting and staging facilities and 239 seating capacity is an actor's paradise. Some of the students directed plays produced during the year were: "Heaven Can Wait," "The Proposal," "Outward Bound," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "Shadow and Substance." Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary fraternity for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics. Membership in Alpha Psi Omega is determined by points earned by activity in plays, assistant directing, prompting, stagework, and by heading committees.

The River Falls chapter of the Future Teachers of America was organized in 1952. Membership is open to all students enrolled in the teaching curriculum. Their aim is to provide an opportunity for the members to learn about the field they have chosen. This year the State F.T.A. convention was held on the River Falls campus. The local chapter has the honor of having two state officers in the group as Jenny Sue Garnett is state president and Audrey Windal is state treasurer. At the present time the chapter is the largest in the state.

The Rural Life Club includes all students enrolled in the two-year course in the training of rural school teachers. Membership is voluntary; however, the values and services of the organization gain membership from nearly all the students enrolled in the course. The group is actually one of the closest-knit organizations on campus. The purpose of the club is to develop the qualities of leadership for teachers in rural schools. The organization attempts to develop in the teacher a keener understanding and appreciation of rural problems.

The group meets the first Monday of every month. At many of these meetings, former members that are now teaching, come back and speak to the group on the problems they have encountered. The members of Rural Life help out during the Rural School Fair in the fall, by running a concession stand.

The purposes of ACEI are to work for the education and well being of children; promote desirable conditions and practices in the schools; bring into active cooperation all groups concerned with children in the school, home and community; and to inform the public of the needs of children and how the school program must be adjusted to fit those needs. Membership is open to both men and women enrolled in the teaching profession. This year the ACEI sponsored National Book Week and served refreshments to faculty members, students, and parents. To start the fall term they held a "get acquainted" picnic at Glen Park Lodge and in the spring the traditional breakfast for graduating seniors was held. They also sponsored a Homecoming float and a queen candidate. This year they sent several delegates to the National Convention at Kansas City, Missouri.

Future Farmers of America is the organization on campus for all men enrolled in the agricultural curriculum. It began in 1912 as the Agrifallian Society and in 1937 it received its present title upon the receiving of a chapter. FFA organizations are found in all colleges that train agricultural teachers. The purpose of the group is to train and develop advisors and leaders for high school FFA organizations. FFA is one of the most active groups on campus as they take an active part in Homecoming by sponsoring not only a queen candidate and a float, but also a skit at the pep fest. This year they took first prize for the float and second on the skit. In January they held the annual FFA banquet and in February the Talent show at the Winter Carnival was very well received. Other activities were the Rural School fair and the annual tractor driving contest.

The function of the Foundation Committee, which is composed of both faculty members and students, is to build up alumni goodwill, establish alumni chapters and promote interest in the River Falls expansion program.

The big project of the committee this past year was the furnishing of the new Student Activities Rooms in the basement of South Hall. January 17-23 was selected as "Foundation Week" and the slogan used was "United for a Union." Some of the high points of the week included a professional talent show, a sleighride and dorm dance, a "Mardi Gras" dance, and topping the week-long entertainment was the "Faculty Follies." This successful two-hour show featured "educational television" and demonstrated the many "other" talents of our faculty. To make the week a huge success, the Falcons defeated Eau Claire in one of the biggest games of the season.

The debate squad is open to all students interested in participating in forensic activities. This year 28 people actively took part in debate and attended at least one tournament. This is the largest active squad on record. The squad participated in tournaments at St. Olaf, Bradley University, Eau Claire State, the University of Minnesota "B" Tournament, Delta Sigma Rho Discussion and Debate Conference at the University of Wisconsin, the Midwest Tournament at the University of Minnesota and the Northwest held jointly at St. Thomas and Macalester.

The debate topic for this year was, "Resolved: That the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China." Besides debate, discussion of the proposition, "How can the American education system best meet the needs of our society," oratory, after-dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking and folktale telling were engaged in by varsity speakers. The organization offers a more practical conception of the music education profession as gained from the students' actual participation in programs, discussions and performance groups.

Any undergraduate music student is eligible for membership. When a student accepts a teaching position he is transferred to a full, active MENC membership status.

In the fall MENC members took a trip to Minneapolis to listen to a jazz concert. Springtime activities included helping with the State Music Festival.

This organization is a society originated for the purpose of promoting social and religious work among young men and women, joining Christians of all faiths and denominations. The YM-YW co-sponsored with the churches Christmas Vespers, Ash Wednesday, Thanksgiving and Easter services for the students. Weekly Bible study programs were held as were campus-wide student educational programs. Social activities began this year with the freshman picnic. Next came "Y" day, which is essentially a membership drive to introduce new members to the organization. This year the group co-sponsored the Winter Formal and built the queen's float for the Homecoming parade.

W.S.C.R.F. 1955...

The year 1954-55 has seen an expansion of facilities on the campus of Wisconsin State College at River Falls. We of the Meletean staff, as members of the student body, are proud of this. The following pages review pictorially the major phases of this expansion.

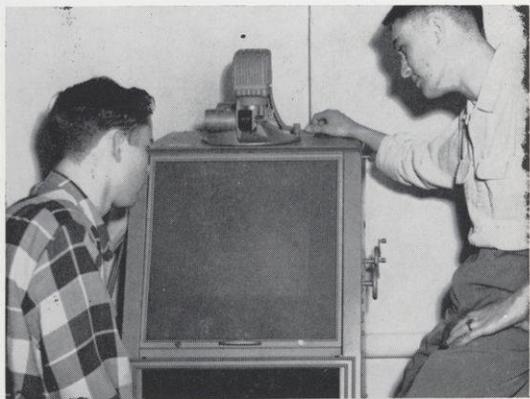

Main Lobby

Chalmer Davee Library . . .

The new Chalmer Davee Library was formally dedicated early in May. The beautiful limestone building has been in use since fall and several of its special rooms were used as classrooms during the early part of the year due to the renovation of South Hall. The library contains several large reading rooms, a Little Theatre which seats 239 people, a faculty lounge, browsing room, music listening room, children's library, space for micro-film viewing, an audio-visual room as well as the stacks and a huge textbook library.

The desks in the stack rooms are for students doing research. Each compartment with its study desk, is known as a "carrel." The name dates back to medieval times when each scholarly monk had a carrel where he could study in a tranquil atmosphere.

The two micro-film machines are located at the far end of the basement hall. Films 50 and 100 feet long are read in the film reader while the other machine takes cards a little larger than index cards that may contain as many as 50 pages of an ordinary book. However, each tiny page may be enlarged to 8 1/2 x 11 inches for easy viewing.

The browsing room, sometimes mistaken for a lounge, contains a number of exceptionally fine volumes of art and literature, plus the "Ames" collection. For the most part, these books are non-circulating, and are intended to develop the esthetic appreciation of the students.

There are two floors of open stacks where the books are located. Magazine files are also found on the second floor. All-in-all the stacks contain approximately 40,000 books and in this wide selection students may find anything from nuclear fission to comics and fiction.

Equipment in the music listening room on the second floor includes four turn tables for earphone listening and a hi-fidelity machine for precise reproduction of music or drama. The record collection numbers over a hundred pieces and includes music in classical, traditional and jazz. Also there are foreign language and dramatic productions available on records.

Old South . . .

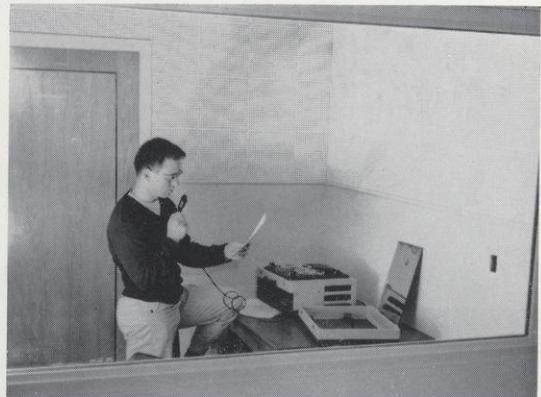

"Old South," as it is affectionately called by the students, received a face-lifting this year. The inside of the building was completely repainted and renovated. A welcome addition was the speech laboratory where special recording booths have been installed for the use of speech students. The new art laboratory on the first floor is large and well-equipped. Student activity rooms are located in the basement where students may relax and enjoy themselves between classes and evenings.

Ag Lab Building...

The newest construction on campus this year is the Agronomy building. The one-story brick structure contains large, well-equipped agronomy, dairy and soil testing laboratories, classroom space and offices for faculty members. Construction began in the fall and the building was ready for occupancy by June 1.
