16 HIGH SCHOOLS TEAMS TO CLASH IN GYM TODAY

Wisconsin Rapids Meets River Falls in First Game at 2 O'Clock

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, sixteen district championship high school basketball teams, each confident and hopeful of winning the title of the state of Wisconsin, each primed for the hardest and most crucial contest of their 1924 season, will anxiously await the whistle which will call them to play in the elimination series of the ninth annual state high school championship tournament to be held in the university gymnasium. Wisconsin Rapids will meet River Falls in the opening game.

Eight Games Today

Eight games will be played in the elimination series this afternoon and evening. The tournament will begin at 2 o'clock and games will be played every hour until 6 o'clock. Beginning at 6:30 in the evening when Oregon clashes with Rice Lake, the evening contests will continue until the final games of the first series are played at 9:30 ending with the La Crosse-Marquette battle.

Season tickets, which include all of the 22 games and the titular are on sale at the general office of the gymnasium for $1.50. The price of the season tickets has been reduced and the seats are selling satisfactorily.

Banquet of Coaches

The city of Oregon, whose team will compete against Rice Lake in the first game of the evening series today has chartered a special train to carry a delegation of more than 350 rooters to the contest.

A banquet will be held by the coaches of the competing high school teams at the University club this noon. The mentors will discuss rules of the tournament and clear up all questionable points at this time.

Music By Bands

Music will be furnished during the nine periods of the championship tournament by the Madison Central and Wisconsin high school bands.

Action is Final Move in Campaign to Clean Up Campus Politics

(Special to The Cardinal)
CHAMPAIGN, March 25—Sixteen members of Theta Nu Epsilon, sub rosa political fraternity, were barred from all student activities in which office holders have been appointed by any electoral method, by a vote of the council of administration of the University of Illinois on March 18.

The action was the final move of a long fight waged by the dean of men and the Daily Illini to clean up campus politics and to eliminate secret influences which have always proved a demoralizing influence in student activities.

Not only have all members of T. N. E. been barred from holding further offices, but they are automatically relieved of offices they now hold, including in one case the presidency of the student council. An exception was made in the case of athletes who do not hold political positions and who do not hold their varsity position because of political influence.

Possible action by various social fraternities in ousting members known to be T. N. E. is not definitely known. Certain fraternities do have very strict rules against membership in the organization and are expected to expel known T. N. E.'s with surrender of the T. N. E. charter.

Nardin Will Speak at Installation of New S. G. A. Heads

Dean F. Louise Nardin will be the main speaker at S. G. A. board meeting which will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. Her talk will begin promptly at 7:15, and will be followed by the installation of the new S. G. A. officers.

Preceding the board meeting the old officers will entertain the new with an informal dinner which will take place at 5:30 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

The old officers are Lois Jacobs '24, president, Helen Kingsford '24, vice-president, Mary Burchard '24, secretary, Mary Devine '25, treasurer, Hazel Weingandt '25, census chairman, Ethel Vinje, office secretary, Lorraine Moody '25, general district chairman.

The new officers are Alice Corl '25, president, Helen Callen '25, vice-president, Margaret Ashton '26, secretary, Marion Telford '25, treasurer, Dorothy Wright, office secretary, Emily Davidson '25, general district chairman.

Plans are under way among the old district chairmen to entertain the new as soon as appointments are made public.

LIGHTING EFFECTS PLANNED FOR BALL

Thorson Aids Committee in Working Out Decorations For Cadet Function

Intense spotlights in the corridors of the state capitol playing upon the dark rotunda is the novel idea in decorations which has been worked out by Sidney R. Thorson '24, who is aiding the committee in beautifying the capitol building for the twelfth Military ball to be held on Friday night, April 4, according to Christian J. Randall '24, chairman of the decorations committee.

In former years the dome of the capitol has been always lighted up in beautifying for prom or Military ball. The attempt this year is to get away from the conventional method of decoration, and to present some novel lighting effects under this new arrangement, according to Thorson.

With the rotunda of the capitol building darkened all the beams of light, which will be shot from the corridors on various floors, will melt in the center and thus afford greater opportunity for varied color effects, Thorson pointed out.

More than 1,000 little rainbows and spectra will be formed in the darkened center when the lights from the corridors are thrown upon the rotunda, according to these plans. In this manner the beams of light can be used more effectively in setting off the women's costumes to a greater advantage.

ELECT NEW MEMBERS FOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

At the tryouts for the Girls' glee club held Tuesday afternoon, eleven new members were chosen. They are Misses Dorothy Crocker '27, Louise Roedel '27, Leone Glav '27, Grace Trestrail '27, Muriel Andrews '27, Isabel Kramert '24, Eleanor Wooster '27, Edith Cuff '26, Gertrude Gessler, grad, Mildred Anderson '26 and Estella Rawleigh '26.

TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR GERMAN PLAY TODAY

Tryouts for the German play will be held at 4:30 o'clock today in 255 Bascom hall. The play which will be presented on May 23 in the comedy Moser, "Der Bibliothekar," Miss Ruth Staley and E. Mohne will direct the play. A good reading knowledge and understanding of German is all that is needed for eligibility.

MISS QUAYLE TO SPEAK ON EUROPE AT CONVO TODAY

Union Board and S. G. A. Call Meeting to Aid Student Friendship

"Student Conditions in Europe" will be the subject of the address by Miss Margaret Quayle at the convocation at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Biology building. The convocation was called by the combined student friendship and campus religious council committees in collaboration with the Union board and S. G. A. to give all of the students in the university an opportunity to hear Miss Quayle.

Dean F. Louise Nardin will introduce the speaker and John C. Dawson '24 will give a report of the work of the local committee after the address. Lawrence Denyes L 1 will preside at the meeting.

$1,200 Contributed

Miss Quayle has been in Europe for four years working with the international student friendship fund organization and has made a study of the economic and social conditions in a number of countries particularly with regard to education problems.

About $1,200 has been contributed to the fund at Wisconsin since the drive started, Helen Kingsford '24, reported last night. One S. G. A. district comprising about 30 women, subscribed $94, and the chairman said that she hoped to increase the amount to $100. In one sorority the average subscription was $3.

Checks may be mailed or brought to the headquarters in the Union board office.

"While this sounds like a creditable showing I feel that we ought to make it much more," Miss Kingsford said. "Other universities have given liberally and we want to see Wisconsin subscribe as much as any."

Parkway Not Reported

No report of the ticket sale for the Parkway showing of "Woman to Woman" has been made as yet. Twenty percent of the tickets sold by the committee will be turned over to the fund. The tickets are on sale at tables in campus buildings.

Factional Strife Dividing Southern Club, Is Report

The Southern club is divided into factions over a petition which has been circulated among the members, the nature of which has not as yet been disclosed to the public, according to members who were interviewed yesterday.

Two meetings were called, one official meeting by the president, Robye Nichols '25, for the first of next week, and another by a member of the club, Thomas H. Ford, grad, for Thursday night. This meeting has been called off.

When questioned about the author and the purpose of the petition Miss Nichols said, "I have no publicity to give."

"The president claims that the petition has been withdrawn. I will have more to communicate to the public later," Ford declared.

FRIENDSHIP DRIVE IS ENDORSED BY BIRGE

President Birge has given his hearty endorsement to the Student Friendship fund drive. His statement is as follows:

The student friendship fund represents a cause which should appeal to every student at Wisconsin. It furnishes aid to students in European universities who are struggling to secure an education in spite of the greatest hardships. The cause should meet the same generous response here that it has received from our sister universities all over the country.

E. A. BIRGE,
President.

SENIORS LAUD TEAM AT ROUSING DINNER; DIEBOLD IS CAPTAIN

1925 PILOT

Marshall Diebold '25

Marshall Diebold, who has been selected by many sport writers as one of the best guards in the conference this year, has been elected to captain the 1925 Badger basketball team.

TO SELECT ACES BY NEW METHOD

Questionnaires Sent By Badger to Deans and Heads of Activities

Aces for the 1925 Badger will be selected by a method which is based as little as possible on individual opinion and personal prejudices.

Over 400 questionnaires, prepared by Dorothy Haskins '25 and Clifford Franseen '25, of the Badger staff, have been sent to organizations representing campus activities such as publications, prom, forsenics, music and aces will be selected by leaders of their respective activities. The number each organization may choose will depend on the number of individuals engaged in the activity.

For the selection of students outstanding in scholarship, deans and professors in each school will be consulted.

Besides nominating students from within their organizations, students are asked to select 15 from the university at large. This second list will serve as a check up on the first.

Final analysis of the questionnaires will be made by a committee on the Badger staff, which will determine the numerical results of the nominations.

"There seems to be a wide consensus among the students as to who the leading men and women in the university are, judging by the nominations which have already come in," Ellis Fulton '25, editor-in-chief of the Badger said, "we feel confident that this plan will meet with the approval of everyone, for those picked will be among the aces because all of the influential students and faculty members will have selected them."

WENTWORTH TICKETS GO ON SALE TODAY

250 Stags Crowd Banquet Room of Lutheran Church to Pay Tribute

Two hundred and fifty senior men sat down in the Luther Memorial dining hall last night at the first strictly "stag" dinner given by a class in 10 years. Enthusiastic singing, rousing speeches and first class good time was enjoyed by every man who attended according to the seniors present. They left the hall declaring the event as on a par with the epoch making university birthday party held last month.

Diebold New Captain

It was the tribute paid by the senior men to Wisconsin's championship basketball team. The team that fought up from the position of underdogs to a place at the top, was toasted and feted by men of 1924.

The election of Marshall Diebold '25 to the captaincy of next year's team was announced by "Gibby" as a feature of the celebration.

"This is the sort of thing that will do more for this school both in building spirit and furthering athletics than any other thing you can do," "Doc" Meanwell, coach of the fighting Badgers said.

Mason Speaks

"No other school in the conference has the spirit and the fight that Wisconsin has," were the words of Ned Gardner, and he continued with, "you men of 1924 have started something that is never to die. You'll soon be alumni of Wisconsin and you are always going to remember that you started the practice of having stag parties on this campus again."

"The greatest university this country has ever known is what we all want Wisconsin to be," Prof. Max Mason said. "And you men as future members of the alumni can help it to be known as just that. Nothing is impossible for the human mind in the ultimate, and this is one of the events that marks the first step toward a greater Wisconsin."

U. S. RESPONSIBLE FOR RUHR TROUBLE

—HESS

Colonel Says That America is to Blame For Not Backing Peace Treaty

"The difficult situation between France and Germany over the Ruhr developed logically and inevitably because the United States did not back up France through the treaty of Versailles," Col. Ralph H. Hess, former professor of economics here said in his address at Music hall last night.

Colonel Hess has recently returned from Europe where he has been in close touch with the Ruhr situation and the reparations question for four years.

"The United States," Colonel Hess said, "is in the position of having locked the door and thrown away the key to a cage containing a man and a sick lion. France, as the man, has the option of killing the lion, Germany, or taming it. At present her policy seems to be to kill it."

"Two recent developments are significant for the future of the situation, one of them is the act of the United States Congress in voting ten million dollars to the relief of the suffering German women and children. This shows an acknowledgment of the situation in Germany as it actually exists."

"The other is that Poincare, according to an unofficial report, is now ready to cease independent action in the Ruhr and submit the future protection of France to the world," he concluded.

LAST DEBATE TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Badgers to Meet Northwestern and Minnesota; Ruhr is Subject

The last intercollegiate debate of the year will be held on Friday night in Music hall. The Wisconsin debaters will take the affirmative here against Minnesota and the negative against Northwestern at Evanston on the proposition, "Resolved that France should evacuate the Ruhr immediately." A third debate will take place the same night at Minneapolis.

The Wisconsin affirmative team—Morse '25 will be represented by Herbert Morse '25, Alfred H. Nicolaus '25, and Ross Bennett L. I, who will close the debate.

The negative trio which will go into action against Northwestern at Evanston is composed of Harold A. Seering '25, Harold A. Cranefield '25, and Ralph E. Axley L. 2, closer.

Harold A. Seering '24, who is the first speaker on the negative team, is a veteran of two intercollegiate debates. He is president of the forensics board and a member of the Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensics fraternity. Seering is a Philomathian and he has represented his society in one sophomore semi-public and two joint debates.

Herbert Morse '25, who introduces the affirmative case here on Friday night, represents Wisconsin for the first time. He is a junior in the law school.

The debate will be conducted under the one judge system. The speakers will be allowed twelve minutes for main speeches and five minutes for rebuttals.

The forensics board which is sponsoring the debate has announced that the price of admission will be 25 cents. Tickets may be secured from members of the forensics board. The debate will start at 8 o'clock.

Arno Haack '26 has charge of the concert. Tickets are on sale for 50 cents at Hook's Music store.

CHLORINE IS COLD CURE, KICHN SAYS

Lieutenant on Leave Here Tells Value of Newly Found Treatment

Some interesting information regarding colds and treatment of them by chlorine gas has been given by Lieut. H. A. Kuhn of the Medical Research division of Washington. Lieutenant Kuhn has been detailed here on leave of absence from Washington by the Chemical Warfare service to do research work.

"The common cold does more economic injury to the country than any other cause, and if it can be caught in an early stage the germs on the surface of the mucous membrane killed, by means of the chlorine gas treatment, it will help conditions considerably.

"It was found that men in the chlorine plant at Edgewood arsenal were freer from diseases affecting the respiratory tract than any of the other soldiers during the late war, and it was in consequence of this discovery that treatment of such cases was begun. Under treatment by Colonel Vedder of the Medical Reserve corps it was found possible to cut down the duration of colds from ten to four days. It is not an absolute cure for colds, but it invariably kills the germ by sterilizing the respiratory tract.

"Disease of the sinus and lungs cannot be relieved by the treatment because the gas cannot be administered in strong enough doses to penetrate the tissues. But one one-hundred and fiftieth part of chlorine necessary to kill a man is administered in the doses, so that people should not worry about any injurious effects resulting from the treatment," Lt. Kuhn said.

on to Paris, and will spend the remainder of the summer touring France and Switzerland. Professor Van Vleck has been granted a leave of absence for the second semester. They expect to return the middle of September in time for the beginning of the fall semester.

Two Best Frosh Scholars to Live At English House

Two freshmen, who have had the highest scholastic standing for their four years in any high school in the state of Wisconsin, will be taken into the home of the English majors immediately upon their entrance, it was decided by the central committee at its last meeting.

Only upperclassmen, with the exception made by this new ruling, will be entitled to live at the house. Although active operations are on foot for securing a house immediately, the furnishing of it will not be rushed, according to a decision by the committee.

"The result of such action would be ruinous," Carrie Rasmussen '25, chairman, said. "If we wish our place to be different from mere rooming houses, the furnishing of it cannot be done in a week unless a great amount of money is to be spent. We must be economical as well as artistic in this respect. Every little piece of furniture must be selected with the greatest of care and set in its place only after it has been made to blend with the rest of its setting," Miss Rasmussen declared.

WOMAN'S CHAMP
BASEBALL SERIESOvertime Match With Sophs
Nearly Upsets Upper-class
Scoring Machine

In an over-time slugging match Monday afternoon, the juniors ran home with the co-ed baseball championship by defeating the sophomores 41 to 28, after the losers had tied them in the last inning 28 to 28.

The game was the most exciting contest of the year, not alone because of the tie but because the juniors seemed unable to ward off the onslaught of the sophomores, who had lost every one of their matches this season.

At the end of the fourth inning the score stood 11 to 26 in favor of the juniors. But in their half of the fifth, the sophs ran wild, piling up 17 runs, which tied the score.

Ties Open Fifth

Shepard opened with a three-base hit, followed by Arnold and Johnson with singles, started the rally. The hits that followed might have been fielded but the juniors were dazed by the sudden burst.

Substituting Wilson in the box for Burdick in the middle of the inning failed to stop the sophomore rampage. Nine more runs took them from the bat and incidentally tied the score.

Both teams decided to play off the tie then and there. The juniors came back to life, gaining 13 runs in the extra inning and blanketing the sophs at their chance at bat.

The sophomores are trailing in last, having gone down to the seniors 38 to 13 and to the freshmen 29 to 21.

Seniors Second

In the senior-freshman baseball game yesterday afternoon, the seniors walked into second place by defeating the freshmen 39 to 15.

This last game gives the freshmen third place, an opportunity to who failed to win a game this season.

Change Schedule
For Rice Lake-
Oregon Prep Tilt

A change in time for the Oregon-Rice Lake state tourney basketball game, as announced by officials this morning, will start the tilt at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, instead of 6 o'clock.

The game should prove a feature of the first day's program, for the Oregon team has a huge following among the towns about Madison, and is expected to draw a large crowd of spectators. Oregon plans to send a delegation on a special train to Madison to view its team in action.

Beginning at 2 p. m. Wednesday when Wisconsin Rapids and River Falls take the floor, the first round of the event will get under way. Games will be played every hour during the afternoon and evening until every team has played.

Tournament tickets, enabling the holder to view all games during the four days, have been reduced in price from $2.50 to $1.50 in an attempt to draw larger crowds to the tournament than have been able to see the games in the past.

Frats Asked to Enter Teams in
Free Throw Match

Fraternities that plan to enter the interfraternity basketball free throwing competition are asked to line up their teams and make their entries with Jackson Taylor, student manager of intramural sports. Taylor may be reached at B. 5177 between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening. Entries may also be made with George Berg, director of intramural athletics.

This four shooting competition will be held by fraternities at Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio State, Illinois, Michigan, and Ames. Cups will go to local teams that top the scoring column. The number of these trophies will depend on the number of squads that enter.

Competition will start March 31 and continue until April 10 when scores will be cleared and the winners announced.

A fee of two dollars is being charged for each entering team. These fees should be made payable to Jackson Taylor.

Edward H. Gibson '23, former Wisconsin football and baseball star, who is coach of the Janesville basketball team that enters the state tournament from the White-water district, is expected to use some of the style that has brought championship to coach Walter Meanwell's teams, according to Coach Howard Johnson of the Madison Central high school.

"A rally in the fourth quarter put the Janesville team in the lead at the district meet. Whether they will be able to do this in the state tournament or not, I do not know. But their game with Eagle River Wednesday night will be a good one at least," said the coach.

"Fond du Lac has one of the strongest teams entered in the tournament," he continued. "Appleton has built this year's team around some of the players who lost in the final consolation game and won the sportsmanship trophy last year. Wisconsin Rapids beat Stevens Point, a team that hoped to capture the state title this year.

"One of the best games of the preliminary series in the tournament will be the battle between Oregon and Rice Lake scheduled to meet Wednesday afternoon. Both of these teams are strong. I expect them to put on a good fight."

NEW BASKETBALL
LEADER IS NOTED
FOR STEADY GAMEDiebold's Game is the Result of Many Years Consistent Work

The election of Marshall Diebold to lead the 1925 quintet tops a year of consistent effort for the well-known Badger guard and follows the trend of many sport writers who picked Diebold for all conference honors this season.

Played for Years

The new captain has been playing basketball for years. Playing guard on the Madison Central high squad for four seasons he was considered one of the steadiest men on the team. He and "Bud" Walsh played together there for two years and during one of these seasons the team played in the state tournament.

Diebold won a letter in freshman football and made the frosh basketball squad. The following year he made the Varsity squad and earned his "W," but not until the season did he spring into prominence as one of the leading Wisconsin stars.

Mainstay of Team

"Dee" has played steady, consistent basketball in every game of the season and has been a mainstay upon whom Coach Meanwell relied in tight pinches.

declared that he was sick and tired of hearing that Michigan and other schools were superior to Wisconsin in spirit and loyalty. "The enthusiasm and loyalty of this meeting disproves any such talk," he declared.

Marshall Diebold gave away many of the basketball family's secrets, and what he missed "Windy" Levis, former Wisconsin basketball star told. "Curley" Wentworth and E. Crane lead the men in some rousing singing and a senior orchestra composed of Harold Buell '24, Nelson Fairbanks '24, Merrill Taft '24, Torey Foy '24, Bill Haden '24 and Adolph Schoeschert '25, furnished the music that completed the party.

WITHIN THESE WALLS

What's the matter with Wisconsin?

Universities in America today are thriving on praise and favorable comment. Every school and college flaunts its good qualities and by extensive publicity campaigns points out why this school or that school is preeminent in the field of educational institutions. But sometimes it is healthy to stop and think over some of the faults of the schools. When a prominent visitor comes to the campus, for instance, and after the usual polite compliments and platitudinous phrases as well sincere congratulations are meted out, it is sometimes wise and profitable to demand some adverse criticism and to ask for a comparison with other similar institutions.

To Wisconsin comes any number of these compliments and most of them are sincere. But in the adverse criticism of our school the most serious and perhaps the most reoccurring one is that Wisconsin students are narrow and selfish.

We build up a wall around our campus and refuse to look beyond our own undergraduate interests. Football, basketball, dramatics, even our school work interests us, but we don't feel ourselves a part of a larger nation or world group. We are isolationists, interested in our petty selves.

At times when something such as the Student Relief is boldly thrust upon us, we can not escape the issue and we face an international problem in the most commendable way.

But these problems never reach the majority. It is just a few, possibly always the same few, who meet up with these problems and ideas, and make an effort to help or study them.

Wisconsin needs to face some of the things which occur without these walls. Badger students should begin to realize that they have brother students all over the world and that some of them are starving, cold, and scantily clad.

For Wisconsin's own good these walls around our campus should be broken down and we should meet with the world in its problems.

CHURCHES FEAR EDUCATION

It is with great pleasure that one learns that the lecture delivered by Professor Ross at Minneapolis was received by three times as great an audience as was expected, as a result of the opposition of the fundamentalists. That such opposition should have existed is regrettable, even though its results were beneficial. Yet, such an attitude of opposition to things educational has existed on the part of the church since its beginning, just as if the educated mind would be incapable of worshipping its Deity.

Today, even as in the Middle Ages, that same attitude exists, though fortunately on a smaller scale. But it is none the less real. Let some educational advance be made, some new theory of life be promulgated, and the churches denounce it and declare it blasphemous, and threaten their members with a loss of their religion should they dare to investigate it, and with eternal destruction should they accept it. Then they wonder why the younger generation is breaking away from the church and why the better educated people seem to be alien to it.

The churches teach that religion and education are incompatible with one another, while quite on the other hand, an education enables the individual to better appreciate the Deity and to worship more fervently. The Word of God is not such that it cannot withstand the gaze of an educated eye. The sooner that churches cast aside their narrowness, their bigotry and their dogma, and accept education as an ally, the sooner shall they play fully their mighty part in the lives of all men.

Other Editors Say—

FORGING AHEAD

The Daily Cardinal is to be congratulated upon its spring opening number. This is the year of the Cardinal's greatest progress. In 1923-24 it has made its closest approach to a definite policy, based upon principles of reasoning liberality and wholesome public and private life. It is a paper of youth, and its comment still retains upon occasion that finality of judgment which is a quality of youth. But it has been more open minded, more searching than before. Its news columns have been more interesting and more cleverness has been displayed. There has been an understanding of reader interest and a wider covering of the University field. There has, we believe, been a better representation of the interests of all university classes and groups.

Such a daily newspaper developed as it can be from year to year, renders valuable service to its university and its state, and gives promise of growing significance in the commonwealth.

National Student Forum Organizes Summer Camp

EDITOR'S NOTE:

From the director of the speaker's bureau of the National Student Forum comes the following article and an invitation to the colleges of the country to send delegates to the camp. The article is self-explanatory.

Students at Bryn Mawr, Dartmouth, Yale, Swarthmore and Northwestern will cooperate next summer in maintaining an Intercollegiate Camp at Woodstock, New York, July 1st to September 17th. These students have assumed joint management of the camp with a committee of The National Student Forum which organized the enterprise last summer. One hundred fifty students from colleges, universities and Labor Schools are expected to visit the camp during the summer. Twenty-five scholarships are available to pay the expenses of labor delegates.

The camp will give students the opportunity to meet some of the leaders of American thought not only in lectures and discussion but in the frank and free comradeship of the open air. A number of educators, churchmen, business men, labor leaders and social workers will visit the camp during the summer. Among those who are already expected are Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, Director, Institute of International Education; Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Community Church, New York; Professor William Heard Kilpatrick, Dept. of Philosophy of Education, Teachers College; Professor William Fielding Ogburn, Dept. of Economics and Sociology, Barnard College, and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Free Synagogue, New York.

There will be five conference periods of two weeks each beginning July 1st, during each of which the camp committee will be limited to forty students. Each conference will consider, with individual differences, international, industrial, racial and educational questions. The camp will be equipped with a small theatre and workshop in which students may on occasion present one-act plays.

Woodstock, N. Y., is in the Catskill Mts., 14 miles from Kingston. In addition to offering hiking, swimming, and possibly tennis, it is a community which affords unusual artistic and musical advantages. Owing to the limited accommodations of the camp, delegates from any one college will number from four to eight. Colleges desiring to send delegates should apply immediately for quotas to The National Student Forum, 2929 Broadway, New York City, recommending at the time of application a local student agency which will elect or appoint delegates. Students may register from April 1st to May 1st but only the first 150 registrations can be accepted.

One of the most interesting features of the camp is that it will gradually come into the control of the students who visit it. The most expert advisors are helping to draft the plans for making Woodstock a cooperative enterprise with shares in the hands of the organizations represented there this summer. This will be the first enterprise of the kind in America.

Fuller information can be secured from The National Student Forum, 2929 Broadway, New York.

The Reader's Say-So

THE OTHER SIDE AGAIN

Editor, The Cardinal:
After all these articles relating to the Klan have come and gone, don't you think it is proper to no longer permit the pen to run away with the brain? How unwise it is to argue whether or not Harding was a Klansman, and I do not think C. A. T. endeavored to justify the order by saying that Harding with many other leading men were members of the Klan. He merely tried to show (contrary to the unthinking) the personality of the organization and thereby prove that the nature is, in truth not the kind that the "illiterate and ignorant" would be likely to produce.

To justify the existence it is not necessary to cite men already members; rather, just bring to light the fact that the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is a legal entity having been chartered in a United States court in the state of Georgia. To anyone who has faith in the American courts this ought to be sufficient justification for its existence. To say that the "Klan is an unlawful organization is indeed a false statement" and the accuser should be sure of his ground before making it. Statements of such trenchant denunciations usually come from persons who are incapable of investigating the facts of the case. Now upon what grounds can such an accusation be based? Surely not upon Williamson County for every Klansman who participated in that marvelous "boze-clean up" was made a deputy. Furthermore, they did it in broad-daylight and not under the cover of hoods and night gowns. The Ku Klux Klan is not an anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish nor anti-Negro" organization; it is merely pro-American. The greater and more surprising the development of that organization is, the more surely will it be attributed by its opponents to the employment of unlawful means.

In regard to the race question the Klan only wishes to aid the Negro in being the best black man possible but in his own black skin, and thus prevent any more mixtures of blood with the white man. In regard to this issue, even the intelligent Negro is backing the Klan. This also, the Klan will do, not behind hoods and robes, but by the lawful means of legislation.

L. G. L.

FACING THE FACTS

Editor, The Cardinal:
I am not a member of the Klan, but only an Ag-student taking cow engineering at the university. In my short sojourn on this earth I find the world full of deceptions and fairy tales, and each day brings new proof to my convictions. I was thrilled beyond words when I heard

COMMENTARIES BY LEED

Political pull may be an asset, but friends last longer.

Making Phi Beta Kappa in studies doesn't insure making Phi Beta Kappa in life. Ask Steve Gilman.

The "big" man of the campus does not always heighten the standards of the honor societies. As, for instance, a little episode last Sunday, on Langdon street.

that a huge fiery cross had been burned on Lake Mendota. I had heard much of the Ku Klux Klan, but had never before witnessed any of its activities. I watched with keen interest the free-for-all discussion which for the past week has been going on in The Cardinal in the hopes of seeing some real excitement. My interest waxed unusually high, but I was undecided as to which side to choose. This question was an enigma to me until the article written by Robert R. Hull came out in the Saturday edition of The Cardinal. In this article he makes the startling announcement that he has made a recent discovery which is, "There ain't no such animal" as the Ku Klux Klan, that the gulable people of America have been deceived by an organization which is only a myth. "How dumb we mortals be!" Imagine the people of a civilized world allowing themselves to be hoodwinked all this time by such an old Santa Claus tale as that!

This benevolent wizard of Huntington, Indiana, the true martyr, that he is, has offered to reveal the deadly sins and terrible atrocities of the Ku Klux Klan for two cents. There is a bargain that would entice the most skeptical, and this leather bound book entitled "The Why, When and Where of Everything", would be an asset to any library. It is perfectly easy to see that Mr. Hull is a man of sagacity by merely reading his article, and if he by his power of clairvoyance can penetrate to the darkest recess of the Invisible Empire and expose the real "character of the hooded crew" then he is an asset to his country—Long live Palestine! Prepare yourself for an immediate down fall of that hypocritical crew composed of scallawag preachers, professors, doctors, lawyers and congressmen. Restrain your hands, ye sons of Jacob, heed not the commands of your brother Kossoris, for your liberator has come to free you of the White Robed Demons who are small in number, but big in talk. Down! I say, with these mythical cut-throats who swear upon bended knee to protect pure womanhood, the teachings of Christ, and the Stars and Stripes.

TO ISSUE BLANKS FOR SIMMS AWARD

Scholarship to Enable Eight
Girls to Attend University This Summer

Application blanks will be out the first of next week for the Florence Simms scholarships which will be awarded to eight girls working in industries by the Student-Industrial cooperation, an organization of students and industrial girls working through the Y. W. C. A. of which Alice Cori '25 is chairman. The scholarship which is being inaugurated for the first time this year will make it possible for eight industrial girls to attend the university during the summer session.

The project will cost about $600 and will be financed by individuals and by city and campus organizations. This is the first time that any such plan is being put into operation anywhere in the United States.

The girls who are to receive the scholarships will be chosen by a committee composed of Miss Mary Simpson, industrial secretary, Miss Mary Andersen, student secretary, Prof. D. D. Lescohier of the economics department, Nell Martinson of the Industrial association, Ann Ligon '24, and Alice Cori '25. All girls working in industries are eligible to apply.

Entrance requirements will be waived for the Florence Simms scholars as many of the girls have not completed the grade school. They will be allowed to elect any courses they choose. The Student-Industrial conference plan to make arrangements whereby the girls may live at Barnard hall while going to school. They also plan that students take their positions while the industrial girls are taking courses on the hill.

As a result they have developed a colloidal gold solution which is superior to X-rays and radium in the treatment of cases of cancer.
