TEN NATIONS TO BE DEPICTED IN CLUB'S "REVUE"

Cosmopolitan Students to Present Novelty Tomorrow Night

Ten acts, each portraying the characteristics of a nation, will make up the "Cosmopolitan Revue" to be presented by the International club in the Open Air theater at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, July 30.

The program will include the following numbers:

A group of native Sioux Indian songs, "Sunset Song," "Indian Hymn," "From Ghost Dance Canyon" and others will be sung by F. P. Frazier, a Sioux Indiana student from Oberlin college, who is attending the summer session here. Frazier will wear native Sioux war costume. Although Frazier has appeared in many programs this summer he has never before sung the songs of his people.

The Far East

A "Hindu at Prayer" is another act of outstanding interest since S. S. Aiyar of Mysore state, India, will actually perform the religious ceremony as it is done in the mosques of his race. He will wear richly colored and embroidered robes entirely hand woven which he brought with him from his country. In addition to the prayer, Aiyar will demonstrate how the Hindu winds the yards and yards of his turban about his head with no other aid than a few deft twists.

"Lion Hunting in South Africa" will be acted by students who have actually hunted "big game" in the Orange Free State. Part of the act will be Kaffir dances and weird hunting songs of the blacks. J. D. de Wet, R. Weihe, B. J. Smith and M. Bahadur will take part.

A Chinese act, prefaced by mysterious perfume and lingering music, is entitled "The King, the Fool and the Bolshevik." The playlet was written exclusively for the "Cosmopolitan Revue" by Dr. C. L. Chen of Peking, now a student.

The Island Peoples

Beautiful Hawaiian dances and music played by native girls from the "Paradise of the Pacific" is another feature. A shortskech showing domestic life in Hawaii is also included.

Violin solos, folk dances and national airs of different countries make up the remainder of the program.

The proceeds of the entertainment are to be used in starting a fund for an International club house such as other great universities like Ames, Cornell, California and Illinois now have.

The following committees are in charge of the work:

Tickets—Raymond Weihe. Program—E. Mohme, M. Bahadur, C. C. Lu and F. C. Corvalos. Publicity—P. W. Voltz, R. H. Stinchfield, E. Giryotus Stage—Mary Johnstone. Decorations—B. Ochler, J. Mallari.

A detailed program of the entertainment follows:

Violin solos, Recuerdos de Borinquen Vano Empeno, I. M. Marrero.

Chinese Play, "The King, the Fool and the Bolshevik," Dr. C. L. Chen.

Far Off I Hear a Lover's Flute, Indian Hymn, Sunset Song, From Ghost Dance Canyon, E. P. Frazier.

Hindu at Prayer, S. Aiyer.

Paradise of the Pacific, Violet and Mabel Goo.

Philippine Sextette: The Mountain Girl, Midnight, Messrs. C. Burgos, P. Montilano, L. Linsangan, P. Linsangan, C. Paras, F. Ramirez.

Carimosa—Folk Dance, Sonya Forthal, Emelia Giryotus, Ismael Mallari, R. Martinez.

Lion Hunting, J. D. de Wet, R. Weihe, B. J. Smit, M. Bahadur.

French Airs, E. Dejean, M. Treille.

Teachers Forget Your Sedateness; Come Out and Frolic With All the Youngsters

Give ear all ye summer sessioners—The grand, glorious finale is tonight. Don your holiday togs, smile your broadest and make your last good impression for yourself and your state. Remember the good old school picnics where every one brought his own lunch? Well, here's your chance to renew fond memories. You're all just full of clever ideas.

Put a few in that stunt tonight. Be a sport,—come out and let the others laugh at you. Wasn't it our old friend Shakespeare who said that "to be able to make amusement for others at the expense of yourself makes life worth living (At least for others).

Forget that cultivated dignity—that precise manner, all ye school-teachers. You're really quite an interesting looking crowd. But don't give us all the cold shoulder. We like you, and we want to know you better. Bring your own lunches. The stage is all set in back of the open air theatre for a good time.

Everybody form in a big procession after lunch and see which state has the biggest representation here. Then the stage will be cleared for the stunts, and you will have five minutes in which to display, with the assistance of your fellow-statesmen, all your originality. You must give the spectators an idea of your state through your performance, for the purpose is to give the other summer school students something to help them remember that "you're from Missouri," or any other "best state in the Union"—which ever one it may be.

At least a dozen states already have their stunts planned. After witnessing perhaps a huge water-melon feast, you will know that there were some dusky Alabamians here amongst you this summer, or there might be a chick feed to prove that there were some hospitable Virginians in our midst. As for the conservative New Englanders with their claims of ancestors, don't let that bother you. Why, dogs, cows and horses have pedigree too. Just be yourself—that's what we want—a truly democratic, cosmopolitan crowd.

And whatever you do, don't fail to give a stunt, because every state around yours will be represented, and of all tragedies—well—don't let your state be a minus quantity tonight, because it won't be conspicuous by its absence.

NEW FEATURES FOR CARDINAL WILL BE STARTED MONDAY

To reach those high school graduates whose credentials have already been accepted by the university, permitting them to enter as freshmen next fall, and thus tell them something about the institution they are to attend is the purpose of the special edition of the Daily Cardinal, sponsored by the Union board, which will be issued Monday.

Several novelties in the way of make-up, that are entirely different from the usual style of the Daily Cardinal will be inaugurated in this issue. It is the plan to continue these in the regular session of the paper with the opening of the fall term. They include a special feature section with type and cut displays, a regular sport page, and a new editorial page made up with three columns. A fund of facts concerning the university will be given.

WATER CARNIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Places in the annual summer session water carnival, held yesterday from 6 to 8, were distributed over quite a field. Despite the threatening weather, there was a good crowd out to witness the meet. A. O. Gardner led the men with two firsts, and among the women Katherine Kitchin scored two firsts and Margaret Eulass a first and two thirds. The old clothes race which was scheduled was eliminated at the last moment because of a lack of entries. The following are the results out of a field of about twenty-five entrants.

100 yard swim, three stroke (men)—A. O. Gardner, first; Ray Kanitz, second; Willah Haugen, third.

50 yard side stroke (women)—Margaret Eulass, first; Louise Macklin, second; Maud Vrooman, third.

50 yard breast stroke (women)—Katherine Kitchin, first; Louise Macklin, second; Margaret Eulass, third.

Free-or-all (women)—Katherine Kitchin, first; Inez Levenson, second; Margaret Eulass, third.

Hurry-scurry (men)—A. O. Gardner, first.

Canoe singles (women)—Agnes Matthias, first; Betty Park, second.

Canoe doubles (mixed)—Jean Fitzgerald and J. B. Hamblen, first; Betty Park and A. O. Gardner, second; Miss Maher and H. D. Keston, third.

50 yard dash (men)—Wolf, first; Nelson, second; Haugen, third.

Diving (women)—Ruth Hoover, first; Marguerite Croskey, second; Olga Anderson, third.

Diving (men)—Nash, first; Felton, second; Kanitz, third.

ROUNDTABLE WILL TAKE UP PROBLEMS OF EDITOR'S WORK

Problems dealing with the editing and managing of school publications will be the subject discussed at a roundtable meeting to be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the lecture room in South hall. Prof. W. G. Bleyer will act as chairman, and the teachers and principals will be asked to exchange and discuss informally their experiences with school papers in their respective schools.

In connection with this will be a discussion on the Central Interscholastic Press association, an organization started here last April consisting of representatives of school papers from six states of the middle west. Another such convention will be held in May and in connection with it will be a conference of the faculty advisors of school publications.

ZONA GALE CHARMS IN READING "BIRTH"

"Birth" by Zona Gale was probably the most called-for book of fiction in Madison libraries Wednesday night.

Miss Gale, herself, introduced and read selections from it in the Music hall Wednesday afternoon, in so charming a manner that the entire audience went away with an eager desire to read more of the story.

"Birth" is a tragedy involving the lives of a father and a son left by a wayward mother. In it, the small town, its homely, comfortable life which takes so much more account of its creature comforts than the growth of its soul, its big heart and sympathy in the great tragedies, and its everyday gossips and pettiness are skillfully pictured.

Miss Gale's readings portrayed the character of the dull, plodding, good-hearted father and his pitiful groping for the means of conveying to the boy what he himself had missed of life.

DELTA SIGS TAKE ONE FROM LOWMAN'S

Delta Sigma Phi won from Coach Lowman's nine yesterday by a score of 1 to 0. A home run in the last inning by Francis Johnson brought in the winning score.

Cruikshank and Morrison were the battery for Lowman's team, Stellner and Buckheimer for the Delta Sigs. Stellner allowed three hits and Cruikshank four, the work of the two men being exceptionally fine.

This evening, Coach Lowman's nine plays the Gun and Blade club.

SUMMER PLAY TO BE STAGED AT 8 TONIGHT

House Nearly Sold Out; Andrea Kiland to Have Lead

The feature dramatic event of the summer session, the Evening of Dance and Drama, will be staged tonight at 8 o'clock in the Open Air theater.

The program consists of a series of interpretive group and solo dances selected and trained by Miss Margaret H'Doubler, and The Sanctuary, a play by Percy Mackaye, which is under the personal direction of Prof. Gertrude E. Johnson, head of the department of dramatic production. The entertainment is given under the auspices of Pi Epsilon Delta, national dramatic fraternity, and Orchesus, women's dancing society of the university.

Students who will appear in the dance drama are all former students of Miss H'Doubler and many of them have been on tour with the dance troupes.

Hold Cast Secret

The cast of the play The Sanctuary is not definitely known owing to the secrecy with which the production has been surrounded. An unofficial list of student characters was published in the Cardinal Wednesday. The list includes Andrea Kiland, who is said to be playing a leading part. Miss Kiland has scored a number of successes in university dramatics. She played the leading part in three productions during the past two years.

Other students who are said to be in the play are: Ralph Scheinpflug, Jack Cornelius, Julia Hanks, Arthur McCaffery, Alfred Ludden, Eleanor Riley, and Bertha Ochsner. All of these people have had extensive experience in dramatic work, several of them having done professional work on the stage and in the movies.

The staff which is producing the Evening of Dance and Drama follows: Margaret H'Doubler, Director Dance Drama; Gertrude E. Johnson, Director The Sanctuary; Ray E. Holcombe, Manager; Lawrence W. Murphy, Publicity Manager; Calvert Dredrich, Electrical Effects; Ralph Colby, Sales Manager.

The house has been practically sold out. A few good seats are still unclaimed for and will be on sale at the Open Air theater at 7 this evening.

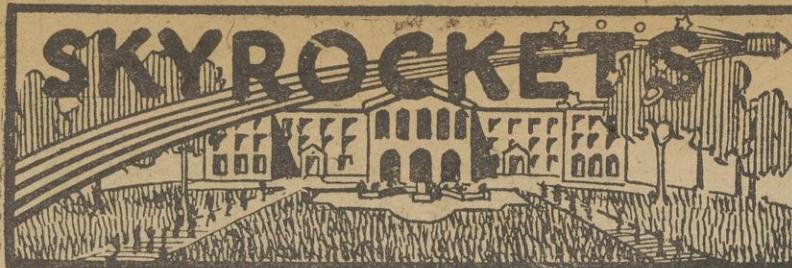

HAAKE HOLDS ROLE OF MANAGEMENT TO HAVE DUAL NATURE

The "Role of Management in Industry is a dual one," says Prof. A. P. Haake, of the Economics department, who addressed a group of summer school students in Bascom hall yesterday afternoon.

"Management is both an employer and employee in the business unit," Prof. Haake explained, "consisting of capital, labor, and society closely coordinated. It is an employer when it borrows capital, hires labor, and develops natural resources, an employee when it is used by capital to apportion the efforts of labor and natural resources so that their combined efforts may produce more."

MENORAH SOCIETY WILL GIVE PICNIC

The University Menorah Society is sponsoring a picnic for all Jewish students in attendance at the summer session. The outing will be held Tuesday afternoon at Bernard's park and all Jewish students are invited. Particulars about the picnic will be given in Monday's edition of the Cardinal.

Marvels of Modern Electricity Are Awing to Laymen Who Watch Terry in Demonstration

By A. H. N.

"The devil's own workshop." With Leyden jars, condensers, induction coils, Teslin transformers, electric light bulbs, insulated wires, an electric switch card, and a phonograph horn arranged on a long table before him, Prof. E. M. Terry yesterday afternoon transformed the electrical lecture room in Sterling hall into a place of black magic.

The crackling, jagged sparks, two or three feet long, which shot from the ball at the top of a huge coil of brass wire were, to the uninitiated, the result of magic. And the man must have been in league with satan himself, for through his conjuring, a long zig-zagging spark leaped the gap between the transformer and himself, and entered two properly-wired electric light bulbs which he held in his hands. His body acted as the grounding wire.

Prof. Terry played on the formidable array of electrical appliances like a master, and forced them to do his will. At his command music and the spoken word issued from the phonograph horn. Even the automatic raising and lowering of the curtains to darken the room had something uncanny and occult about it.

Only the clear logical explanation of each step in the demonstration of the radio telephone kept the audience from being transported back to the days of witchcraft and black magic.

Professor Terry, by means of diagrams, made perfectly clear the way in which the latest method of communication works, and demonstrated conclusively that it does work, by letting the audience listen in on a concert being given for their benefit in another part of the building. This concert, which consisted of a cornet and a violin solo, two victrola selections, and the Wisconsin song and yell, closed the performance.

MILLS PRESENTS SECOND RECITAL IN ORGAN SERIES

A program designed to illustrate the course of study which has been featured in the class in music appreciation given by Dr. Charles H. Mills at the School of Music, was given in the second number of his summer series of organ recitals Wednesday afternoon in Christ church. For this reason a number of compositions were presented which are seldom seen on the programs of organ virtuosi.

To many the gem of the program was the familiar "Andante" from Beethoven's 5th Symphony but historically the interest centered around the "Fantasia and Fugue in F. Minor" by Mozart. A touch of modern color was added in the "Courts of Jamshyd" from Persian Suite by Stoughton, which brought out some delightful effects in Harmony and registration.

The assisting artist on the program was Miss Bertha Ann Cooper, employed this summer as voice instructor at the University School of Music. Miss Cooper possesses a delightful soprano voice with a certain sympathetic quality which is rare, and decidedly agreeable. Her intonation was a model for any student of voice culture. Her diction is conspicuously accurate.

Miss Cooper was at her best in the aria from Mendelssohn's Oratorio "Elijah," in which she demonstrated her wide experience as an oratorio singer.

The following editorial was written by William G. Burgin, a member of the class in editorial writing in the Course in Journalism given this summer session by Prof. Leon Nelson Flint, of Kansas University. Professor Flint selected Burgin from his class members to write the editorial in this co-operative step with the Daily Cardinal, the idea being to aid in the presentation of actual facts concerning the much-talked of question of vivisection.—Editor's Note.

A MAN VERSUS A GUINEA PIG

By William Garner Burgin

WERE it not for the fact that an un-discriminating public is likely to be mis-led by their activities, the anti-vivisectionists could be treated with indifference. But the susceptibility of the public to an erroneous impression, and the consequent detriment to the advance of medical science and surgery, make it imperative that their fallacious contentions be denied and their ill-directed activity discredited.

In an attempt to do this Ernest Harold Baynes, whom John Burroughs characterized as a "sane and accurate naturalist," has contributed a valuable article to a recent issue of the Woman's Home Companion.—Mr. Baynes has been a life-long lover of animals, and in any sensible crusade in their behalf he would be the first to enlist. But in this case he speaks out vigorously against the hue and cry about the cruelty of vivisection, and rightly justifies the practice in the interest of humanity. His article is a careful refutation of the claims of the anti-vivisectionists, and reveals not only their falsity but their unfairness as well.

For example, he cites the fact that certain of the leading so-called "authorities" who oppose vivisection are no authorities at all, and that many of them, whose testimony the Anti-vivisection society sets great store by, were of a period antedating our own by several generations,—one having been born as long as one hundred and sixty years ago! Yet a perusal of their publication gives the impression that these eminent "authorities" are of the present day, conversant with all the methods and purposes of modern experimentation with animals. Many of them lived before the discovery of anesthetics.

It may not be denied that in some cases where animals are experimented upon, suffering is inflicted,—but it is infinitesimal in comparison with the human suffering which is thereby relieved. Anesthesia is used in all cases except those in which its use would nullify the experiment, and medical men, as a rule, show the greatest tenderness and consideration for the animals under their care. It is a gross injustice to the members of the medical profession, in whose veins the "milk of human kindness" flows freely, to impute to them the inhumanity the anti-vivisectionists charge. No scientist takes delight in causing an animal pain, even the slightest degree of pain, but a consideration of human welfare and human happiness may lead even the most tender-hearted to consent to do so.

The Mayo brothers in Rochester are said to maintain a dog farm where dogs are raised for purposes of experimentation in their laboratories. As a single result of such experimentation, they have been enabled to perform an operation on the human being, thus successfully combating a disease which heretofore has cost many thousands of lives. Already more than 100,000 lives have been saved by this one operation alone, and many other thousands yet unborn will benefit by it. Who would deny the Mayos the right to experiment with dogs as a means of saving men?

If vivisection did not yield a large return in human happiness and well-being it would not be tolerated. But when by means of it, scientists have been led to such great discoveries as the anti-toxin cure for diphtheria and the vaccine treatment for typhoid, it would seem that it has unquestionably been justified. Yet, a group of sentimentalists would have it outlawed by legislative enactment and would hamper medical men in the furtherance of their humanitarian science.

It is certain that a group of people hostile to the medical profession is back of the movement to suppress vivisection. Many of them actually preach the doctrine of the non-existence of disease and deny the possibility of human pain. Their activity in behalf of the animals seems, therefore, paradoxical. It is a curious philosophy which denies the existence of human pain while expressing solicitude for pain in lower animals.

But whatever their motives, their propaganda should not gain currency, nor their cult followers. The freedom of scientists and medical men to experiment on animals should in no way be restricted. It is a choice between maudlin sentimentality and humanitarian science—and the latter should prevail. IT IS A CASE OF GUINEA PIG VERSUS MAN, and those who believe in the fundamental Christian principle of the SACREDNESS OF HUMAN LIFE will not hesitate in their choice.

FACULTY MEMBERS AS ALL STAR CAST READ "CRICHTON"

By E. C.

"Ann all star cast," was Miss Mary E. Hazeltine's announcement as she introduced the dramatic reading of Barrie's comedy "The Admirable Crichton," presented by the Library school before a large audience Wednesday at 7:45 in the auditorium of the city library, 206 N. Carroll st.

Prof. C. R. Fish as Lord Loam, a peer of advanced ideas, and his three lazy daughters, Mary, Catherine and Agatha, whose parts were played by Mrs. J. Jastrow, Mrs. H. P. Greeley and Miss Nan Birge, were reduced from their high rank to that of serving their butler, Crichton, who was none other than Dean S. H. Goodnight.

Prof. E. H. Byrne as the Hon. Ernest Wooley, and Prof. E. A. Gilmore as John Treherne, a clergyman, were also forced to serve Crichton when shipwrecked on an island. The characters of Tweeny, the kitchen maid; Lady Brocklehurst, a tyrannical old woman, and her son, who was completely under her control, were interpreted by Mrs. W. T. Root, Mrs. Arthur Beatty, and Professor Beatty.

The evening was one of great enjoyment and showed emphatically that much pleasure can be gained through the reading of a play without any acting.

Miss Zona Gale, who is a new commissioner of the Free Library commission, was the guest of honor.

GUN AND BLADE MEN WILL GO TO FORT SHERIDAN

Will Have Special Car to Make Trip to New Resort August 6

"On to Fort Sheridan" seems to be the slogan of the Gun and Blade club following a meeting held last night at which time the whole plan for the ex-soldiers' outing was discussed. It is now certain that enough men will go to the Fort on Saturday, Aug. 6, to warrant a special car.

R. Hines, who has spent a week at the Fort that is now made over into an amusement resort for the Federal Board men, told the club of the things to do at the Sheridan camp and aroused great interest in the plan. Mr. Chisholm, head of the Federal board work for Madison, outlined the plans made for the transportation and care of the visitors.

All Federal board men may avail themselves of the opportunity to take this trip. The carfare will be at a cheaper rate than the regular fare and board and quarters cost eight dollars for the first week and seven dollars for each week thereafter.

The attractions are the beach, trips into Chicago where the men are taken free to the big league games, and to theaters, grand opera and amusement devices at Ravinia park, the bathing beach, automobile rides and the like.

Other matters of club policy and plans for next year were discussed. The loan fund came in for a lot of debate. It was decided to work out some of the plans for the ensuing year while the members are at the Fort.

FORMAL EXERCISES WILL OPEN NEW WOMEN'S PIER

The department of women's athletics announces that the women's new pier which has just been built will be formally opened next Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The exercises will consist of various aquatic events including swimming and diving, and an address by Dean H. Goodnight at 5:30. The pier will be almost entirely reserved for the use of contestants and the audience will have to remain on the shore.

The last get-together of the Dixie students will be on Sunday, July 31, at 5 p. m. Everyone belonging to the club who wishes to enjoy one more boaride with the "gang" is invited to be at the Park street pier at the appointed time.
