

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

Preliminary poop sheet - Wisconsin Student Association - Rose Bowl tour (p. 1).

[s.l.]: [s.n.], 1962

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/G2MV5PAXNBYKN8T>

<http://rightsstatements.org/vocab/CNE/1.0/>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

PRELIMINARY POOP SHEET
containing general information of great import

Wisconsin Student Association
Official University of Wisconsin Rose Bowl Plane Tour

December 27, 1962-January 2, 1963

or

December 28, 1962-January 3, 1963

So now you've done it--the folks' checkbook may never be the same but you're going to California and the fabulous 1963 Rose Bowl. You've plunked down $25.00, decided to take in washing over the next ten days, and then, friend, you are going to fly (if this is your first plane experience, make a point of hearing Shelly Berman's reassuring record bit including the proper use of the plastic bag). Seven fantastic days in Los Angeles and environs and hours of stories to tell your stay-at-home friends. So welcome aboard and off we go. . .

The purpose of this PPS (that's preliminary poop sheet in case you haven't been reading carefully) is to give you some idea of what's in store for you during the week we'll be Flying Badgers. Of special importance is the small print and hidden "catches" stuck here and there in the paragraphs that follow--

1. Faculty advisers--W. S. A. has arranged faculty advisers on the basis of two per DC-7. It will be their job to assist you in any way possible both in the air and at the hotels and generally to keep things running smoothly wherever we are. We think that getting to know them will be a happy experience all the way around. They will be hand-picked faculty and staff members chosen because of their ability to work well with students. What we're trying to tell you is just this: "They're going to be there as they have been on all such Big Ten trips, they want you to have a good time, so get to know them and don't be reluctant to ask for their help." Who knows - one of them might have just the answer to that upcoming exam question that's worrying you.

2. Doctors--There will be a physician on duty at all times in Los Angeles (on the planes, the stewardii, we're told, can put Ben Casey to shame). Whether you're for or against Medicare, use him if you need him because that's why we're bringing him. His hotel number will be listed on the FPS (that's final poop sheet) you receive when you make your final payment.

3. On the flight--Your seat will be reserved both coming and going. We'll be in the air for about six hours and that should give you the chance to get to know that potential New Year's Eve date across the aisle. And there should be some pretty interesting scenery outside the plane too.

4. Alcoholic Beverages--Beer will not be available on the plane (nor can it be carried on) but six hours of prohibition oughtn't to be too rough on anyone. Soft drinks and "coffee, tea or milk" will, of course, be offered.

In keeping with University rules, no other alcoholic beverages will be allowed on the plane. Faculty advisers will be instructed to confiscate any bottles or cans in evidence so don't get yourself hung just for the sake of an extra nip. Some other schools on previous trips have had to put students off the tour for liquor violations. Let's not run any risks of that happening to Wisconsin (besides, it's a long way down).