Lamp of Knowledge

DEDICATION

To the Citizens of Sturgeon Bay and Sawyer, who through their co-operative efforts have established and maintained this splendid educational institution, thus making it possible for us to acquire a foundation of knowledge upon which to build a future, we, The Class of 1924, dedicate this edition of the "Flashes" as a measure of our gratitude and appreciation.

STAFF

'Tis Done!

The "Flashes" staff has pulled through once more
First a groan, a yell, then a roar.
They've stormed and raved, pleaded, implored,
Down in the depths, then high they soared.

The novelty wore off, the real work commenced
Before long we thought the whole thing quenched.
Then came to our minds the saying old
"Work on! Strive on! See you not the goal?"

We regained spirit, and worked like a man
"Who dares to do—does!" Of course we can.
Material came in, there were jokes galore,
The "point" to some we're still wondering o'er.

But despite all laughter, buffing, and chaff
We have done our best—the "Flashes" staff.

Senior Class History

ON September 4, 1920, ninety-five jolly, and courageous Freshmen entered the Sturgeon Bay High School, in contrast to all other Freshmen classes which had entered with fear and trembling. We established our reputation for doing things well at the start and never once fell behind.

As Sophomores we proved to our classmates the material of which we were made. During this year our career in social activities and "decorations" began.

When we were Juniors the whole High School was at "our feet," giving the honors to us for a peppy and successful Hallowe'en party. The prom was the crowning event of the year. We look back on our Junior year with but one regret—the death of one whom we shall always remember with kindest thoughts, Madonna Dier, who died May 5, 1923.

Now we are Seniors. We are sorry our brilliant career is so nearly over but we are sure that no one will ever forget the thirty-four who will leave the old high school forever. For us it holds many pleasant memories.

Class Prophecy

I sat in my studio, thinking of the many things I had discovered and of the many that were still to be found. What were the secrets of King Tut's tomb to me? Surely, there were more interesting things to discover. Ah—at last I had it; what did my classmates of 1924 turn out to be? The only possible way to find out, I concluded, was to look up items in old issues of the home town paper.

I went into the attic and at once found what I was after. On the front page was a warning signed by Chief of Police Garland. He had evidently succeeded Mr. Fritschler. Right next to it was an article written by Mayor Heald who was trying to show the readers the benefits of having a merry-go-round in the city.

I, being a lover of sports, turned at once to that section of the paper. So Lucious Fortemps was pitcher for the Ellison Bay Bear-cats! Vernon Krieser had unsuccessfully tried to show up Kriesler's violin playing, and now was a football player on the Green Bay Packers' Team.

In the advertisements, familiar names caught my eyes. Edgar Madden had taken over Cully Feister's taxi line; Lorne Bagnall was running a bus line from Green Bay to Egg Harbor. Omer Goserud had taken over Theodore Augustine's Boat House and was married to Clara Tansing.

Clifford Herlache still worked in Miss Miles' News stand, though he lived in Sawyer, and was wedded to Ardis Bentley. Linwood Forge runs the new electric pop corn stand in this city.

Henry Hickey was engaged in the business of making brushes in Baileys Harbor for the Artist's Colony.

In the movie and art column I was surprised to see a large picture of John Galbraith, who is now the leading sheik of the screen. Herbert Stephenson was having the honor of being valet to Rudolph Valentino—blackening his shoes every morning. Daniel Hall, who has been an understudy of Al Jolson for some time, has now taken his place.

In the section called "News from Here and There," I saw that Conrad Weis, assisted by Daryl Ives, was at the head of the Doris Blake Department in the Chicago Tribune, writing advice to the lovelorn. Norman Marx, Lougee Stedman, and Eugene Odber were professors at some college in Hickville. Ivan Lauscher was keeping a music store in Brussels, and was letting his wife, Edna Walker, formally, have the last word. Wise man!

It seemed that Eugene Boler, the special delivery carrier, had quite a bad fall. He stepped on his beard while passing the Boettcher estate.

Mary Graham was on the stage; rumor has it that her dancing partner is—well, who shall say?

Gerhard Miller is now writing short anecdotes for the "Literary Digest."

Barbara Bingham is now clerking in Miller's Clothing Store.

Harold Miller turned Mormon, and is living in Utah with his numerous wives, among which are Ethel Halstead, Evelyn Birmingham, Elaine Osmundson, Laura May, and Sylvia Mann.

Luella Wheelock is lecturing on "The Whichness of the What in How to Become a Man Hater."

Gwendolyn Hagen is singing her way into the hearts of the South Sea Islanders. They do say music hath charms!

Helen Polster runs the elevator in Washburn's store.

There! I knew all the happenings of my classmates, and as the attic was getting dark, I went downstairs to continue my work.

The Class Will

WE, the Class of 1924, being about to pass from this sphere of education, in full possession of a crammed mind and almost superhuman, although unspoken intelligence, declare this our last will and testament.

First: We give and bequeath to the Faculty all the amazing bits of information which we have given them from time to time on our marvelous examination papers. We, also, give them full permission to use said bits of information in teaching the classes to come, so that they, too, may derive benefit contained therein. This last we leave to their own personal preference.

Second: To the future Seniors we leave our ability to run things; also, our retentivity and permeability. (You'll find out about that in Physics next year.)

Third: To all the underclassmen we leave the fond memory of a perfect class that has passed into the ranks of the alumni.

Fourth: To the Freshman we leave our well known Senior dignity, with sincere wishes that they will possess said quality in same measure as we do.

Fifth: We hereby give up our pull with the teachers to anyone who applies.

Sixth: We direct that our personal property shall be disposed of as follows:

1. The long hair of Barbara Bingham, Ethel Halstead, Clara Tansing, and Evelyn Birmingham we bequeath, as a relic, to the future classes.
2. John Galbraith's, Harold Miller's, and Norman Marx's famous detestation of womankind to Lester Peterson.
3. Gwendolyn Hagen's ability to ask foolish questions to Oscar Struck.
4. All of Agnes Pleck's science and art of love-making to Lillian Appel.
5. We leave Luella Wheelock's numerous heart-breaking "cases" and her art of reforming woman haters to Myra Rieboldt.
6. Selma Boettcher's empty note book (history) to Rose Conlon—with the hope that she fills it.
7. Eugene Boler's aptitude as a cheer leader—also the white trousers—to James Maples.
8. Sylvia Mann's modulated voice and well-bred demeanor to Alice Johnson.
9. Mary Graham's "spontaneous combustion" nature to Arthur Togge.
10. Lorne Bagnall's typing ability to Raymond Hendrickson.
11. Ardis Bentley's sweet little mannerisms to Mae Gillispie.
12. Evelyn Birmingham's numerous collar and cuff sets to Muriel Hayes.
13. Linwood Forge's love for teasing girls to Clyde LeClair.
14. Nat Garland's prowess at facial distortions to Russell Knuth.
15. To Matilda Goss we will and bequeath Omer Goserud's sheepish and altogether unnecessary grin.
16. Clifford Herlache's membership in the Society for the Protection of Bachelors to Morris Hulten—Clifford has resigned.

17. To the Juniors we will Henry Hickey's Physics' friend, Oscar Struck.
18. Vernon Krieser's football tenacity to Earl Volkman.
19. Ivan Lauscher's "at homes" to next year's valedictorian.
20. We will Laura May's bluffing powers to Joseph Writt. Bury them, Joe.
21. Gerhard Miller's oratorical brilliance to Donald Pheil.
22. To Hugh Writt we will E. W. Odbert, Jr.' entertaining jig. This goes fine with your freckles, Hugh.
23. Elaine Osmundson's side-bursting "oh-h-h" in shorthand class to Alphonse Ullsperger.
24. Helen Polster's "one man belief" to Genevieve Wiest.
25. Lougee Stedman's hair to Elwin Miller. Just for a change, Elwin!
26. Herbert Stephenson's ability to "cut up" to Genevieve Wiest, hoping that the two negatives will make a positive in this case.
27. Edna Walker's domestically inclined nature to Alice Johnson.
28. Lucius Fortemps tall air of self-confidence to Genevieve Kraft.
29. Edgar Madden's favorite phrase "Last summer when I was sailing for the government—" to Donald Pheil.
30. Daniel Hall's nickname "Irish" to Hugh Writt.
31. Conrad Weis changeableness to Wilford Alberts.
32. Daryl Ives bright saying to Janet Magistad.
33. Eugene Heald's "contrary Mary" attitude to Irene Bosman.

Seventh: We hereby appoint the Student Senate as executor of the will, knowing that they will carry out our last wishes.

In testimony whereof, we the Class of 1924, have hereunto set our hand and seal, on this fifth day of June, 1924.

JUNIOR CLASS

Junior Class History

On September 5, 1923, eighty-eight "Jolly Juniors" returned to school. The year 1923 marked a record in the history of this institution of learning and as Freshman a more remarkable class has yet to be found. The high standard we have raised has been maintained to the best of our ability throughout our school years. As Juniors we have contributed liberally to all activities of our school and have proved to the satisfaction of all our classmates that our class can be depended upon.

The things we pride ourselves upon most are: The winning of both the boys' and girls' basketball tournament. We are also proud that our Juniors lead in oratory and declamation.

The prom of this year held May 16th, was a remarkable event, being of a somewhat different nature from that of former years. We Juniors strove to do our best in making the Japanese effect outstanding.

Each member of the class has united in the effort to uphold the traditions of S. B. H. S.

Our class also entertained the students at a mixer in the form of a Christmas party. We don't believe that there has ever been a larger crowd at a mixer, except at a Hallowe'en party held a few weeks before.

Sophomore Class History

On September 5th, forty-five students entered High School as Sophomores.

The first meeting was held October ninth. The purpose of the meeting was to decide whether or not we should entertain the Freshman, or give a mixer for the entire High School. A party for the Freshman was decided upon.

On the Friday of December seventh, a party was given in the gymnasium for the Freshman by the Sophomores. Shadow dancing, music, and games were the different forms of entertainment. The Freshman eagerly partook in the games of "rat and cat" and "the farmer in the dell."

Many of our Sophomores have participated in athletics and social doings. We hope that next year, our class as Juniors, may do more for our school.

In February, fifteen more students were added to the class.

Are just the "Frosh" of the year before.
They come to school all full of pride;
They're the highest class, and dignified.

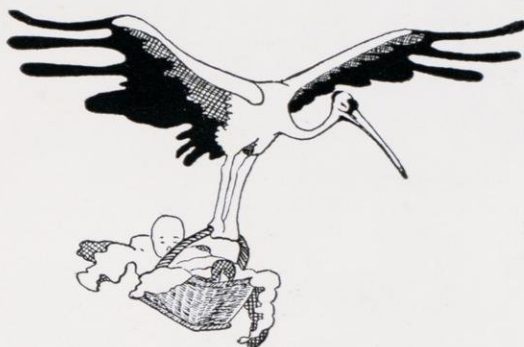

Class History

The Class of '24 began the year with class spirit and has kept it up throughout the year. Among the things we think of with pleasure are the Thanksgiving plays, the carnival, and our class play "Breaking Winnie."

Our parties were "mixers." There was one given in honor of Mr. Langemak's birthday, in which party the alumni participated. Our Hallowe'en party was a success.

We have endeavored to keep the ball a-rolling and hope our attempts have been passing fair in living up to our motto "Always onward, never stopping."

STURGEON BAY FRESHMAN CLASS

The Freshman History

Eighty-six boys and girls entered the Sturgeon Bay High School in September, 1923, as Freshmen. In February there were more added to the list.

Everyone took an interest in the school activities and helped to make them a success.

Athletic also received its share of attention, especially basketball, in which the class was well represented.

As Freshmen we have tried to make a good beginning and hope to be more successful in the remaining three years as student of S. B. H. S.

Class History

On September 5, 1923, forty-five verdant Freshmen enrolled in the Sawyer High School. We came in quaking and doubtful of our future, but with a determination to do our best.

The year has sped quickly by, and with its development has come many pleasures. Our Get Acquainted Party has not been forgotten; our Hallowe'en party with its terrors and thrills still remains in our minds; the results of our successful carnival even now make us feel quite business-like. The farewell banquet to the Sophomore Class will long be remembered.

We are all proud of our girls' basketball team.

Football Team

The call for football material in the fall of 1923 was responded to by about thirty men. Out of these, Coach Van Adestine whipped together a team which won the first game of the season. Due to the inexperience of some of the players, the light weight of the line, etc., the remainder of the season was not so successful, but it can be said that every one did his best to make it so. Out of the thirty or so that began practice, nineteen were still practicing at the close of the season, and fourteen of these had earned letters.

The season closed with the following line-up:

Robert Van Adestine	Coach
Edgar Madden (Captain)	Full Back
Lougee Stedman	Left Half Back
Perry Minor	Right Half Back
James Glomstad	Half Back
Lester Peterson	Quarter Back
Henry Hickey	Center
Vernon Krieser	Guard
Eugene Boler	Guard
Henry Wiegand	Guard
Harry Trodhal	Guard

Boys' Basketball Team

The Basketball team pictured above is the result of a season of stiff practice, including ten games. Beginning as a team composed of comparatively inexperienced men, it developed into a team that kept its opponents on their mettle throughout the game. Although it did not break any records, the team made a desperate effort to put Sturgeon Bay High School on the map as having a basketball team. The team's only regret is that the players will be elsewhere when basketball season comes next year.

Lougee Stedman (Captain)	Right Forward
John Galbraith	Left Forward
Eugene Odbert	Center
Nat Garland	Left Guard
Eugene Heald	Right Guard
Linwood Forge	Forward
Wesley Jackson	Center
Henry Hickey	Guard

THE SECOND TEAM

Credit must be given to those who were on the second team. Although they did not play any games, they were an important factor in making the first team what it was. Most of its members will be back next year and we feel sure that they will establish a record which Sturgeon Bay will be proud of.

The members of the second team were: Ralph Odbert, John Simpson, Donald Cheeseman, Harold Haen, and Lloyd Spudy.

Girls' Basketball Team

Gwendolyn Hagen	Center
Gladys Simpson	Forward
Dorothy Augustine	Forward
Ruth Wilson	Running Center
Helen Polster (Business Manager)	Guard
Luella Wheelock (Captain)	Guard
Martha Proctor	Sub-forward
Miss Dettinger	Coach

The Girls' Basketball season opened with a game at home, January 25. Kewaunee came with high hopes. The visiting team scored first with a field basket, after which our home team got her stride. We held them down and then tied the score, with Simpson making the first basket for Sturgeon Bay. A free throw put us in the lead; thus ended the first half. During the second half Sturgeon Bay ran away with Kewaunee. Simpson, Wilson, Hagen and Augustine each made a field basket. The score was 11 to 2 in Sturgeon Bay's favor.

The second game was also a home game played February 20, with West De Pere. Our girls seemed not at their best, so consequently, lost the game. Ruth Wilson made a free throw. The score was 7 to 1.

The last game the girls went to Kewaunee, February 29. Kewaunee played a good game but Sturgeon Bay was just a little better. The score was 6 to 4 in Sturgeon Bay's favor.

The girls' tournament was held March 25 and 26, after school. The Juniors won first place; the Seniors second place; the Sophomores third place; the Freshman fourth place.

Baseball Team

Due to the loss of some of the players, shortly after the beginning of the season, the baseball team of 1923 was not so much of a success as we hoped for. The line-up, as it stood at the end of the season, consisted of players who had tried hard to make the team a success. It was as follows:

Ellis Holmes	Catcher
Lucious Fortemps	Pitcher
Leonard Schafer	First Base
Perry Minor	Second Base
Eugene Heald	Third Base
John Whitford	Shortstop
Edgar Madden	Right Field
Harold Hart	Center Field
Louis Rockendorf	Left Field
Lougee Stedman
Walter Johnson
Wesley Jackson

This years practice began about April 7, 1924, and everyone looks forward to a successful season.

I've written lines 'till my brain's in a whirl
Then comes a thought for baseball I must
Make a good poem of those who kept
The bat and the ball from rust.

I ponder and ponder; no thoughts come to me
Except one, ever holding sway
The diamond—our diamond—has done things
To make us proud of Sturgeon Bay.

Some of the players have gone, 'tis true,
Yet there are those left who will
In the future, for our good High
On that same diamond prove their skill.

Lincoln Debating Society

The Lincoln Debating Society for the school year of 1923 has been one of the most enjoyable and successful of any year.

The officers elected for the year were:

President	First Semester	Second Semester
Vice President	Lougee Stedman	Eugene Odber
Secretary	Elwin Miller	Gerhardt Miller
Treasurer	Clifford Herlache	Lougee Stedman
	Norman Marx	Vernon Krieser

When the society had been well organized for the year, nine of the members, and several girls, tried for the debating teams.

The financial standing of the society has been low all through the year, so the members decided to give another of their mock trials, this one to be one of the "Great Chicken Cases."

The members leaving the organization this year hope that the coming members will make of it even more a success than it has been in the past.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Club organized in December. Committees were appointed to draw up the constitution and arrange the programs. It was decided that only those who had taken science should be allowed to join. Meetings were held every second and fourth Monday of the month.

President	First Semester	Second Semester
Vice President	Jessie Tufts	Loretta Strah
Secretary	Harriet Birmingham	Harriet Birmingham
Treasurer	Clarence Jirtle	John Maples

On February fifteenth the Affirmative team debated at Sturgeon Bay with the Negative from Kewaunee and lost by a vote of two to one. On the same night the Negative team went to Algoma and won by a vote of three to nothing.

The question for debate was, "Resolved that Congress enact a law embodying the essential provisions of the Huber Unemployment Bill, constitutionality conceded."

COMMERCIAL CLUB

	First Semester	Second Semester
President	Luella Wheelock	Eugene Boler
Vice President	Linwood Forge	Alan Kimber
Secretary	Elaine Osmundson	Lorne Bagnall
Treasurer	John Galbraith	Ivan Lauscher

The members enjoyed themselves at many meetings among which was one social gathering. Plans are being made for the usual commercial banquet, which it is the custom of the C. C.'s to give at the close of the year, and which is looked forward to by all the members.

The aim of the club has been to further commercial interests, and as such we hope it will continue.

Radio Club

In the fall of 1923 the Sturgeon Bay Radio Club held its first meeting. The officers elected for the year were:

George Gabert	President
Philip Gordon	Vice President
Arthur Moeller, Eugene Boler	Secretary
Edward Green	Treasurer

Arthur Moeller resigned from the position of secretary at the beginning of the second semester, and Eugene Boler was elected to the office.

The school year had been well begun when the president presented the high school with the radio set that the club made. This gift was accepted by Raymond Barnard, he being spokesman for the school in the instance.

At the beginning of the year financial development of the club was not at the best. The selling of "Hot Dogs" at nearly all the athletic events, helped the club a great deal. The Thalia Society donated to the club twenty-five dollars with which to buy a Magnavox.

The club members have had a splendid time at all of their meetings, especially at the one where the boys brought parts of their radio sets. They then took the different parts and made them into freak sets. The different experiments that were tried out were a great success.

As a number of the club members are graduating from school this year, they hope that the old members, and the new members to come, will have as successful a year as the club has had this year.

Home Economics Club

Elaine Osmundson	President
Rose Conlon	Vice President
Lillian Matske	Secretary-Treasurer

The Home Economics Club, the first of its kind in the Sturgeon Bay High School, was organized at the beginning of the year, upon the suggestion of Miss Soukup.

The first meeting was held October 9, and officers were elected. The society in itself was profitable, because Miss Soukup, in her position, was able to give us very good advice, and instructions on the subject of etiquette. The meetings were held every Tuesday at four o'clock, and lasted for forty-five minutes.

The members of the city were also benefited by this club, for at Miss Soukup's notice, the ladies could, at any time, call upon one of the members of the society to assist them in serving their dinner, or otherwise. The person was paid twenty-five cents an hour. Not only did the individual in question benefit by the money but it gave her actual experience in that line, and perhaps erased a bit of shyness and self-consciousness. As the society progressed, sales were given occasionally at the front entrance of the school, and each one proved a success, for the demand always exceeded the supply.

Some members of the society gradually dropped out, but those faithful adherents who managed so successfully to struggle on, owe all their accumulated information and actual experience to Miss Soukup, and it was only under her guidance that the society proved a success.

Thalia Society

The first meeting of the Thalia Society for the year 1923-1924 was held September 23 with a membership of sixty.

	First Semester	Second Semester
President	Ardis Bentley	Dorothy Augustine
Vice President	Helen Knutson	Josephine Neuville
Secretary	Muriel Johnson	Catherine Egan
Treasurer	Miriam Greenwood	Olive Knudson

The president appointed the vice president as chairman of the program committee, the chairman choosing his own members. During the entire year, many interesting programs were held. The night for the Thalia meetings was every second and fourth Wednesday of the month.

Musical selections, readings, recitations, jokes, story-telling, debates, lectures, and general practice in public speaking was the chief work this year.

One meeting was in the nature of a humorous program; it was an open meeting and everyone there enjoyed it.

Much benefit as well as amusement was derived from the organization, and it is sincerely hoped by all that next year every girl will become a member.

THE THALIA SOCIETY

Latin Club

With the help of Miss Peterson and Mr. Hulten, a Latin Club was organized in October. A good deal of interest was shown in the club, as it is the first of its kind for many years in this High School.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to promote good fellowship among the pupils and the teachers, and to promote scholarship and interest in Latin. Almost forty Latin students are enrolled as members.

A constituion was drawn up, and the following officers were elected:

Murray Bingham	First Consul, President
Morris Hulten	Second Consul, Vice President
Barbara Bingham	Quaestor, Treasurer
Helen Knutson	Aedile, Secretary
Lougee Stedman, George Haen, Helen Olson	} Senators
Josephine Neuville, Miriam Greenwood . .

At various meetings throughout the year two Latin plays were given; Miss Peterson entertained us with humorous readings, and short talks were given on subjects relating to Latin. One meeting was in the form of a sleigh-ride party at the home of Helen Olson, on February 5. There was great excitement on our way out, as two of our number jumped off and walked almost half the way. It was only meant to be a practical joke, but it was a little too practical to be fully enjoyed.

Considering these things, and it being our first year in developing a Latin Club, we are sure it has been a success, and we hope to continue our Latin Club next year.

High School Orchestra

Mr. Peralta	Cornet, Director
Alan Kimber	Violin
Bertha Schultz	Violin
Irene Bosman	Violin
Vernon Kreiser	Violin
Wendell Fuller	Saxophone
Milton Nelson	Clarinet
George Hoslett	Alto
Kenneth Cheeseman	Trombone
Ardis Bentley	Piano

The Sturgeon Bay High School Orchestra, under the able leadership of Mr. R. C. Peralta, has been in great demand during this school year. The orchestra was organized in the latter part of November.

The orchestra has played at numerous High School functions as well as at many community gatherings. We hope that the orchestra will continue to be one of the features of this High School during the next year.

Student Government

John May, Katharine Egan Freshman

For several years, one of the most common questions for debates in the English classes was this: "Resolved, that our High School should adopt the Honor System of Government." It seemed as though the majority of the student body was opposed to the plan. But, again, it has been shown what a great force public opinion can be.

The Social Problems class, having discussed the question of student government, were confident that, if public opinion could be stirred, Student Government would work. Several plans were discussed, and the class chose the one they thought to be the best. The plan provided:

1. That the Assembly should be placed in charge of a proctor, whose duty is not to keep order, but to take roll, sign transfer slips, and ring the bells.
2. That a Senate, consisting of a president, and eight senators, should be elected by the classes.
3. If any person creates undue disturbance the proctors may give him a writ of warning. When one receives three of these he shall be brought before senate for trial.

Class meetings were called, and everyone had a chance to express his ideas on the question. The majority seemed in favor of the plan; still one question bothered us; would it work?

A vote was taken, and the measure was passed by a large majority, two hundred and thirty-five being in favor of it.

A constitution was drawn up by the Senate, and adopted by a unanimous vote of the student body.

The plan has worked, and we believe it will keep on working. The average student, when placed on his own honor and responsibility, will refrain from "acting up" to make others laugh.

The establishment of student government is one of the biggest things we have tackled, and, if it can be kept up for several years, our High School will have another decided improvement.

THE THREE

I came to school very early
To study up a bit;
It was only eight-thirty
But I thought I'd make a hit.
I talked for half an hour—
I didnt ask to speak.
The proctor used his power
A warning—the first this week.

I got along all right in History
Turned out fine in Civics too;
But you should see me at ten-thirty!
The second warning now was due.
I was awfully thirsty, kind o' hungry too
Now don't you envy me?
(I got something they didn't give you)
Let me tell you—now it's three!
Delia Weigand.

Editorials

"I serve," were the words spoken by King John of Bohemia, and it has been a motto of the heir to the throne of Great Britain ever since.

Undoubtedly, there is not one of us who would not like to see our school triumphant in the interscholastic contests, such as debating, football, basketball, baseball, and declamatory work. How many of us are there, however, who have "pep" or will power enough to do their very best in order that our school might be victorious over other contestants? Time after time you will find that it is always the same ones who have enough ambition and school spirit to spend a great many hours of hard work in order that this might be possible.

School spirit is not noise: it is an attitude of one's mind and heart. School spirit consists not so much in cheering the team on to victory, or even in supporting it in time of defeat, as it does in manifesting itself in pride in the appearance of the school, and also in the surroundings. Pupils who have true school spirit are considerate of schoolmates and teachers, and are enthusiastic and loyal supporters of all school activities. Instead of this the greater majority of the students are satisfied by merely saying that I can't. "Can't" never accomplished anything. We invariably find this to be true. Those who are slack in doing some outside work, which would benefit them greatly, also find it very difficult to even manage the work which is required of them. I will repeat again that "can't" never accomplished anything, nor will it ever acquire satisfactory results.

What would have been the consequence if George Washington had yielded to the British under the trying conditions by which he was confronted? It has been said that his men underwent many hardships in order that they might conquer tyranny and rescue liberty from the hands of the English. His stern determination to succeed was not affected by the terrible conditions which he and his army had to undergo. Finally, the hard earned success, liberty, and independence were won—due to his patience and confidence in his ability to lead his army to victory.

In September, 1862, when Lincoln issued his preliminary emancipation proclamation, he said, "I promised my God I would do it." Does anyone doubt that such a resolution added power to this man? Or that it inspired him to accomplish what he had undertaken? Neither ridicule, dread of enemies, nor desertion of friends, could weaken his faith in his ability to lead his beloved country through the greatest struggle in its history.

These marvelous men have established a precedent which shall not soon fade from the minds of their countrymen. Nothing hindered them from doing what they had set out to do. Can this not be a lesson to the rest of us? Whether one be rich or poor the world demand that he be a man. Does a real man yield to the hardships and difficulties which he often has to undergo in order to obtain a successful career? No, he ever looks upward, keeps on climbing and climbing till he reaches his goal.

Joyce Henschel.

Our Progress in the Past Year

Thinking over the happenings of the past year, I believe that Sturgeon Bay High School has made more progress than has been made in a single year before. We have participated in interscholastic activities to a great extent, more so than last year.

Our athletic teams have met and played against teams of other schools. Some may say, "Oh, yes, but they weren't any good! They didn't win many games!" Students, don't let those people influence you to turn traitor to our good old H. S. Our athletic teams have done thir level best for the honor of the school, and anyone who tries to tear them down is committing murder—to his and other persons'—school spirit. Besides, those who do the criticising are the same people who won't even stand up when a mass meeting is in session, and we are called upon to yell. I am not apologizing for our athletic teams, because there is nothing to apologize for!

Last year, our High School was not represented in the Lawrence College Debating League. This year, however, we went into it with vigor, and came out second in our district.

It is also planned to compete with other High Schools in baseball, oratory, and declamatory, so we are by no means decaying or dying out.

Added to these things, more school spirit has been shown than we had last year. There have been fairly good crowds at the football and basketball games, and much interest has been shown in forming new clubs to make our school life happier and more worth-while. A Commercial Club, Science Club, Latin Club, and Home Economics Club were organized, the first of their kind for several years, to say nothing of our older clubs, as Thalia, L. D. S., Radio, and Athletic Association.

We have, in our High School, a faculty which would be hard to "beat." With such a good crew running the school, we ought to give them our support and co-operation as well as our appreciation of what they have done for us.

Taking all these things into consideration, no one can say that S. B. H. S. has deteriorated in the past year. Rather, we have made rapid progress toward being nearer a one hundred per cent High School.

Three cheers for Sturgeon High!

Helen Knutson, '25

Monitar: "Elmer, quit talking."

Elmer: "Just started."

Mae Baker: (to clerk in the Style Shop) "I would like to see a dress that would fit me."

Clerk: "So would I."

Ralph: "Is that a natural wave in your hair?"

Miss Thorpe: "Yes, as natural as I can make it."

Dorothy B.: "Do you like bobbed hair?"

Caroline P.: "Naw, yah gotta wash your neck too often."

Mate: "Throw out a line; a man overboard."

Captain: "Never mind the line—that's an English instructor."

Miss Wildhagen: "Morris, by what process did the Third Estate become a National Assembly?"

Morris: "I'm not sure, but I think it was by the process of osmosis."

Miss Clark: (In English class explaining a stanza from the poem "To a Waterfowl": "Just as the bird goes to a different climate in the summer, so shall we when we die.")

In English 11 Leon S. was asked to read his theme on "What I would do if I were a Freshman again. He read: "If I were a Freshman again, I would never begin."

Winkyn, Blinkyn, and Nod one night	O, Chemist of skill, investigate

But, Lester, I'd rather ride in a Ford	I think I know what carbonate
With a good looking guy like you!	But where did Iodine?
—Lucille Wiest	—Before a Physics quiz.

Wilford: "What do I really mean to you, dear?"

Dorothy Baker: "A movie twice a week, and a box of candy three times a month."

Gladys S.: "Phillip, did you flunk in the History exam?"

Phillip: "Sure I did; she asked me things that happened before I was born."

Muriel J.: "Oh, what beautiful flowers! There is still a little dew on them!"

Morris: "I know, but I'll pay it tomorrow."

Miss Wildhagen: "Who was that prompting you then? I distinctly heard someone prompt you, and whisper that date."

Gladys S.: "Excuse me, but I think that was history repeating itself."

Lawson Hitt: "It's not good for one to be out so late, is it?"

Ralph: "No—only for two."

Mae: "You scared me so my heart almost jumped out of my mouth."

Lawson: "Gee, you must have a small heart."

Mae: "No, I've got such a big mouth."

Mary: (at "Flashes" staff meeting): "This is the third time this joke has been put in the box. They must all read the same paper."

Daryl Ives, while reading, came to a word she could not pronounce.

"Barque," prompted Mr. Preston.

Daryl looked at her classmates and grinned.

"Barque, Daryl," said Mr. Preston again.

Daryl looked at Mr. Preston and cried: "Bow-wow!"

"Men of Affairs," Lester Peterson, Nat Garland, Kenneth Solomon.

"Scarlet Letter." "C—"

"Gear": "Going to have dinner anywhere tonight?"

Irene (interestedly): "Why, no not that I know of."

"Gear": "Gee, you'll be awfully hungry by morning."

Mr. Rieboldt (to the Junior class): "Look pleasant, please."

A moment later: "It's all over; you may now resume your natural expression."

"That Old Gang of Mine"—Nat, Hank, and Eugene.

"DEATH OF THE FLOWERS"

(A High School Student's Version)

The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year,
Of geometry, and English, and history, which we fear.
We think about our quizzes, our hopes are nearly dead;
We enter every class room with a heavy lingering tread;
But when we near vacation, we hear everybody say,
It isn't such a bad life, it grows better every day.

—Harriet Birmingham.

DAYS WORTH REMEMBERING

When Lillian Appel doesn't have a smile for the boys.
When Edgar Madden forgets to comb his hair.
When Irene Rogen doesn't get a note.
When Phil Gordon is anything but tall.
When Lester Peterson doesn't take Lucille for a ride.
When Ruth Wilson wears something besides boy's shirts.
When Norma Seidemann and Lois Greisen don't dress alike.
When Barbara Bingham is tall.
When Murray Bingham gets a girl.
When Kenneth Solomn graduates.
When Myra Rieboldt gets her hair bobbed.
When no one gets a warning.

Dear Ma:

I take my pen,
To let you know I need a ten,
If you are short a five will do
I really hate to bother you;
If lacking five then send me none.
Must go to bed,
Your loving son.

Hy! Diddle, diddle
The Cat and the Fiddle!
Pete jumped over the moon.
Lucille laughed to see such sport
And they both ran away to spoon.

Geometry is hard, physics is worse,
Study them both and abolish the curse.

Arthur B. sat idly upon a seat in Room 4.

Miss Wildhagen: "Arthur, what is work?"

Arthur: "Everything."

Miss Wildhagen: "Do you mean to say that that chair is work?"

Arthur: "Yes, ma'am, woodwork."

If the stenographer fainted would the pen-holder?

If a snake sheds skin, what does a wood shed?

Dorothy Baker (in giving a talk urging our co-operation in the "Flashes":
"There are a lot of nice boys and girls in Sturgeon Bay when you get to know them." Why that blush!

Luella: "Mr. Preston, the more I read Physics, the less I know."

Mr. Preston: "You seem to have read a great deal."

Gene Boler: "Who do you think is the smartest guy in school?"

Conrad: "My modesty forbids me to tell."

Miss W.: (In History 11) "It is very dangerous to jump at conclusions."
Ella G.: "Yes, I jumped at the conclusion of a canoe once and missed it."

Teacher: "What does AS203 stand for?"

Student: "It's on the end of my tongue."

Teacher: "Spit it out—its arsenic."

Guy Sutton: "Would you accept a pet monkey?"

Gen. Wiest: "Oh, this is so sudden, you'll have to ask father."

George Hoslett: "If I ever marry a girl, it will be one that can take a joke."

Martha Proctor: "Don't worry, that's the only kind you will ever get!"

Miss Wildhagen: "Why did America close the door of immigration in 1880?"

Wise student: "Because there were too many nationalities coming over—like thieves, burglars, etc."

Miss Wildhagen: "Be sure to know all the Ancient History dates."

Grace M.: "I can't remember all those ancient dates, I have so many modern ones."

Mr. Brown to Allan Kimber, who was working out the square root of a number: "You're a little off, but not much."

Sidney G.: "Disease always strikes one in the weakest spots."

Dorothy B.: "Is that why you have a cold in your head?"

Miss Reynolds: "Why are the middle ages called the dark ages?"

Gene Boler: "Because there were so many knights."

Agnes P. to Norman Marx (desiring a watch with a second hand): "Say, Norman, have you a second hand watch?"

Suthers: "I think I should have 100 on my English paper."

Miss Jorsch: "Let me see your paper."

What she saw: "Rhuback Kipling was born in Bombay Madogascar. He wrote Gry's Elegy."

Clarence J. (Wildly waving his hand in Latin class).

Miss Peterson: "Well, Clarence?"

Clarence: "Is boy masculine or feminine?"

Mr. Preston: "What taps a tree?"

Myra R.: "A wood-pecker."

Miss Olson, taking roll in English class, pointed to an empty seat and said: "Is that Willie?"

He sat in his room at midnight
His head was in a whirl,
His eyes were on his Latin book,
His thoughts were on his girl.

WHO'S WHO IN S. B. H. S.

Oscar Struck—unanimously agreed upon as our bookworm.
Ruth Wilson—from Egg Harbor, always ready with her "I told you so."
"The Dizzys"—a group of three boys who are as their title shows—just a little dizzy.
Leola Peterson—our strongest girl.
Helen Polster—"Izzy's" little darling.
John Galbraith—High School's Sheik.
Luella Wheelock—"Our Wonder?"
Dorothy Idhe—Our Kid.
Mrs. Lester Peterson—alias Miss Lucille Wiest, known nationally for her original and ever-ready giggle.
Barbara Bingham—"A Debater"—enough said.
Mary Graham—Our Sweet One.
Lois Griesen and Norma Seideman—Inseparables.
Catherine Acker—Famous Tee-Hee-er.
Guy Sutton and Phillip Gordon—The long and the short of it; the lean and the fat of it.
Laura May—Our walking joke book.
Daryl Ives, Bertha Oram, Eugene Heald—Champion gum chewers.

"SENIOR" (may be sung to the tune of "Mother.")

"S" is for the "Seniors" of this high school,
"E" is for the "efforts" they've put forth,
"N" is for the "name" which they have worked for,
"I" is for their "iron will" of course;
"O" is for the "other things" they have done,
"R" is for the "rest" they have to do
Put them all together they spell "Senior"
A word that means the world to you.

E. W. O. Jr.

THE BALM OF STRIFE

Tell me not in mournful numbers
That my deeds I can't redeem.
And in class rooms I have slumbered
And my hopes are all in dreams.
Mister Brown and Mister Krueger
Look on me with scowling mein
Little child, your marks are meager
Take these studies oe'r again.

INFINITE VARIETY

Oh, I'm seventeen when I'm sunny,
And I'm seventy when I'm sad;
I'm forty when I'm sensible—
And I'm nothing when I'm mad.

How to Get the Most Out of High School

In order to show you briefly how to get the most out of a high school course, I think the best way would be to tell you what to accomplish in a day.

In the morning, get up exactly five minutes after your alarm clock rings; this will strengthen your will power. Collect your clothes and put them on. Then proceed to wash. In brushing your teeth, it is best to allow the first portion of the tooth paste to fall down the sink but use the second. Eat your breakfast, swallowing it whole; this will save brushing your teeth again. 100

I would advise you to get to school about five minutes to nine in order to study your nine o'clock subject. At roll call carry on a lively conversation; this will shorten the period of your first study. In your first class, if you are all ready acquainted with the subject discussed, get a seat near a window; you may be called upon any day to give a description on some form of nature.

In the assembly room, if you have nothing else to do, write a note to some girl and sign another's name; this will make the girl happy, occupy your time, and give the teacher something to do. When this is done, practice shooting paper wads; one never knows when the world will be involved in war.

In your classes, do not waste your time listening to other people recite, but try to think up some new excuses for absences and for tardiness.

In the last period, begin to think about how you will spend your evening.

From four until six, hang around the assembly and talk over the day's doings. The people who are reading will have to learn to concentrate and this will do them good. 302

By the time this is done it will be time to go up town or home to supper. After your meal, begin to get ready for your much earned amusement. One o'clock would be about the usual time to retire. It is not necessary to go to bed before midnight, as all great men like Edison worked while others slept. 362

THE WORLD AS IT IS

Study and the world studies with you,
Meet the quizzes alone;
If only others would leave me!
I have troubles enough of my own.
Talk and the school talks with you
Be quiet and you are quiet alone.
Pass a note, you are sent to the office
Where you reap what others have sown;
Get A's and your friends will seek you
Get C's and you're left alone;
Oh! What a trouble-some world this is
When you are left to do your own.

Snapshots are such little things
What can they mean to us?
We look with pleasure on them
But still they don't mean much.

But as the years go swiftly by
And we look at them once more
We still remember the "little things"
And give thanks, score on score.

IN OUR SCHOOL

The pencils have made quite a number of pointed remarks about the crowded condition of the desks, and of the waste baskets being full. The pencil sharpeners retorted rather sharply on the rough treatment they are receiving. The marbles express a wish to be used as they were intended instead of being used as if they were airplanes. The "Vicar of Wakefield" and "Lorna Doone" were heard lamenting the utter disregard of their feelings shown them by the students. All express the hope that student government will remedy all the existing evils.

I spied on January 14—Lucille Wiest coming to school at one minute to two, with very pink cheeks and—at two o'clock Lester comes into the assembly with very pink cheeks, and a healthy brow of perspiration—both plenty of evidence that some one had been shoveling snow.

SCHOOL WORK

With brains so small and few,
And hands to idleness wed,
How in the world am I going to manage
To do what my teacher said?
Work—work—work
My brain begins to whirl
When my assignments are given out
Oh!—Why am I a girl?
Oh! School with exams like mine
Oh! Teachers with pupils like me
Haven't you any pity
When you find I get a C?

Delia Weigand

SCANDAL

(With apologies to the original)

Said Dorothy A.
To Clarence J.
In quite a confidential way
"It seems to me
That Barbara B.
Has taken a fancy to John G."
And Clarence J.
To Helen K.
That night was overheard to say
He grieved to touch
Upon it much,
But "Barbara B. had such and such!"
Then Helen K.
Went straight away
And told her friend the following day,
" 'Twas sad to think—
Her heart did sink—
That Barbara B. at John did wink."
The friends disgust
Was such she must
Inform her friend, "which she nussed,"
"That Barbara B.
At half past three
Was that far gone she couldn't see!"
From "Bug House Fables."

"Isn't that just the funniest thing!"
 "I think this' a peach, don't you?"
 "Ain't she the purtiest girl?"
 "I like this best, I do!"

Such are the remarks we often hear
 As those long ago pictures we find
 We look once more at friends so dear
 And fond thoughts enter our mind.

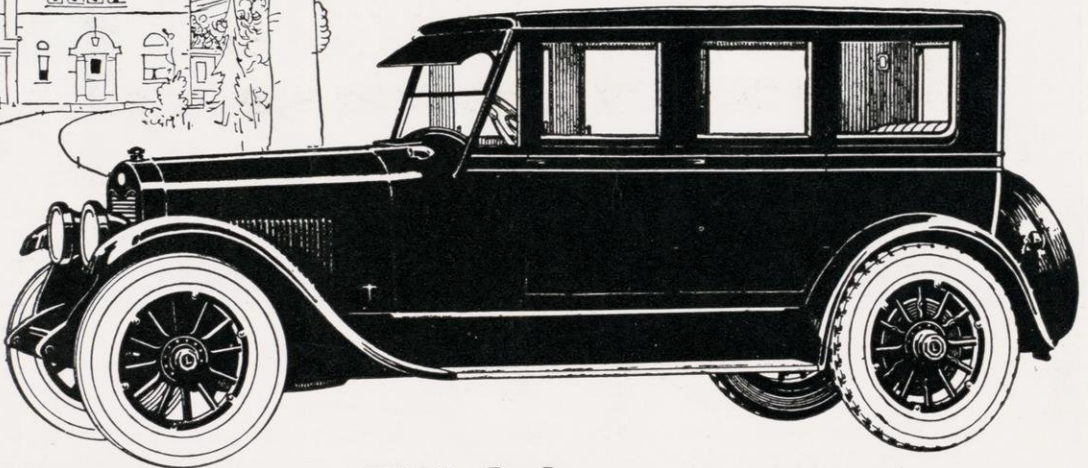

LINCOLN

M O T O R C A R S

There is a pride of ownership which comes instinctively to the man who drives a Lincoln. It is felt with the first mile that the car is driven.

It grows with each succeeding demand upon the performance ability of the motor—the riding luxury of the car itself—until it reaches its fullest realization in a complete knowledge that there is no motoring requirement which cannot be met by this car.

"Jahn & Ollier Again"

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere.

How Important are Good Clothes to You?

Before you answer that question—answer these: How important are friends who say good things about you? How important is it to have confidence in yourself? How important are the first impressions you make? How important is it to know that you are as well dressed as any of your associates?

WE'RE answering these questions by offering HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES: They are as good as clothes can be made.

I haven't had many good times
this year but nevertheless
I'll remember those of previous years. Love, Helen

Love to Start Early!

Teach the children to save systematically and the habit will have firm hold of them by the time they reach their majority.

If the lesson of saving money—in a savings bank—had been impressed upon the boys and girls of yesterday, there would be less want in the world today.
