ARCHIVES HELD BY EX-PRINCESS ROSS DECLARES

Says Russian Division Was Nest of Anti-Bolshevist
Sympathizers

Prof. E. A. Ross in an interview yesterday said that publication of the "present personnel" of the Russian division of the state department did not refute the following charges:

"The fact is that after President Wilson fell sick, the American State department exhibited a malignancy and hypocrisy respecting Soviet Russia which is very unrepresentative of the American people. This appears to have been due to the fact that the division of Russian affairs became a nest of anti-Bolsheviks, who, by birth or by marriage were connected with the expropriated Russian aristocracy."

Princess in Charge
A former Russian princess from whom the Soviet government had taken estate and caste, was brought to Washington and made confidential filing clerk of the Russian division, his book, "The Russian Soviet Republic states."

It says further that reports of the supremest importance and secrecy were therefore in the hands of this noblewoman who had every reason to feel the most intense hatred for the Soviet government.

"My first interest in the situation between the United States and the Soviet government lies in presenting to the public the historical truth regarding the actions of the state department towards the Soviet regime to the end of the year 1922, rather than in any controversy over its recognition by the United States," Professor Ross said.

Wants Investigation

"In my opinion, it is no longer possible to uphold a system of deceit by hurling the word Bolshevik at the exposé. The time has come for a show down," Professor Ross stated regarding the state department—Soviet situation.

Investigation by congress of the personnel of the state department's Russian division for the six years past is said to be one of the results which Professor Ross hopes will be brought about by publication of his book."

LIT HAS NOT QUIT, EDITORS DECLARE

Deny Report Published in Local Newspaper Yesterday Afternoon

Contrary to the announcement made yesterday in a local newspaper the Wisconsin Literary Magazine has not suspended publication.

"I have received no notice from Dean Goodnight that the publication has ceased," Kenneth Fearing, editor, said.

In the twenty-two years that the Lit has been published it has never been out of debt except once, according to the editor, but it has never had to stop publication. It has been suppressed twice; once, on account of a poem by Stanley Weinbaum, and once during the war.

"I have received no notice of the cessation of publication of the Lit," Jack Weimer '25, managing editor, declared late yesterday afternoon. "In fact, I am even now engaged in reading copy for the next number."

The report was also denied by Oscar Riegel '24 and John Schindler '24, associate editors. The staff is now busily engaged working on the fourth issue which will be published about January 25. The deadline is January 14. "The Curtain," a story by Catherine Davis '26, will be featured.

King Pines As Queen Departs to Purchase Royal Wardrobe

"Choo-choo! Choo-choo! Good-bye!"

Very different from the departure at Christmas, a long, empty train puffed out of Madison bound for Chicago yesterday noon with Wisconsin's Prom Queen waving a blithe good-bye to Clifford Nolte, remaining behind.

Books, finals, hill and all—but one—will be forgotten in a gay few days reckless shopping of evening gowns, formal and informal. What shops will not be explored! What mirrors not viewed!

And the Prom gown! Will it be discovered there in the world's great metropolis? Will she come upon it gleaming brilliantly where the world can see or will she find it hidden in some lovely little shop, as one comes upon a sparkling dewdrop in the night?

Miss Stolte and her sister are staying at the Blackstone hotel while in Chicago.

Friday a Madison-bound train from Chicago will rumble, "Prom! Prom! Prom!" over every bridge and through every tunnel, and hard-pressed by brakes, the wheels will shriek, "Queen! Queen! Queen!"

HAREFOOT NEEDS SPECIAL WORKERS

Issues Second Call For Artists and Advertising
Solicitors

The second call for specialized workers for the production staff of the twenty-sixth annual Haresfoot show. "Twinkle Twinkle" to be given this spring was issued last night by student managers.

Five or six advertising solicitors are needed to aid in making up the Haresfoot souvenir program which this year will be larger than ever before in the history of the club. Men wishing to tryout for the program staff should consult with Sam Thompson '24, program manager at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Haresfoot loft.

Cali was also issued last night by Walter A. Frautschi '24, publicity manager of the club, for campus artists to do Haresfoot work. Frautschi will be in the Haresfoot loft this afternoon and will outline the work which will be needed. There will be an opportunity for a program cover, score cover, special poster work and incidental art work.

The program and score covers will be opened to campus competition and the winning artist will earn the distinction of being Haresfoot art director, according to Frautschi.

When application is made, the plot of the book and its theme will be outlined so that the artists will have an opportunity to include the proper atmosphere in their drawings.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH ANNOUNCES VESPERS

The Rev. Stanley M. Cleveland, Episcopal student chaplain, announced yesterday that vespers services will be held regularly each Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the club rooms on University avenue. The first service was read last Sunday. This form of service was introduced to fill a place that has formerly been vacant in the program of the Episcopal students on the campus. The regular supporters will be served following the service as in the past.

SENIOR APPOINTMENTS TO BE OUT TOMORROW

Announcement of the committees, committee chairman, and commencement speakers for the class of 1924 will be made in tomorrow morning's Cardinal, according to Walter A. Frautschi '24, president of the senior class. The names are now in the hands of the dean being checked up for eligibility.

DRINKWATER PLAY TO BE READ TO PLAYERS

A meeting of unusual interest to the public will be held by the Wisconsin Players at 8:15 o'clock Thursday evening in Lathrop parlors. All students are invited. Miss Gertrude Johnson, of the speech department, will read a one-act play by John Drinkwater. A selection from Marie Stuart will be read to probationary members.

$5,000 Donated to Scholarship Fund

By Martha Weeks

The University of Wisconsin has received $5,000 through the division of the fortune of the late Miss Martha Weeks of Stevens Point, the income of which is to be used as a scholarship for a woman student in the department of chemistry. Instructors in the department will choose the woman who is to receive the scholarship.

The money has already been received and a student may be selected to receive the benefits of this scholarship beginning in September according to M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the Board of Regents.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority received $500 from this estate and the national board of the Y. W. C. A. received $4,860.

FACULTY SEEKS TO ABOLISH EXAM "POLICE SYSTEM"

Opinion of Both Faculty and Students Favors Honor System

With the approach of examinations comes again the old question—shall they be conducted under the honor or police system? Agitation for the general use of the honor system must come from the students in accordance with a ruling made by the faculty and regents, and every student is honor-bound to report any cases of cribbing which he sees. This provision is the only objection which many of the students have to the system. They do not like the idea of "telling on" their classmates. The consensus of opinion among both students and professors is in favor of the honor system.

Professor F. C. Sharp, of the philosophy department says: "A few years ago I used the honor system in my classes exclusively. I stopped it after a very unpleasant incident occurred, but I regret now that I did. Not long ago a graduate came to me and said, 'Professor Sharp, I am sorry you are no longer using the honor system. It created an atmosphere which one never forgets.' That, after all, is the basic idea of it—it creates an unforgettable atmosphere."

"Honor is an abstract affair, which, to appeal to the normal student must be presented to him in concrete form. He may crib just for the fun of it, make a game of it, but if he can be made to see that it is concretely dishonorable there is not one in one hundred who will cheat."

"The student is given a diploma which is a certificate of work that he has accomplished. If, in his examination he has cribbed, he has stolen the work of another, his diploma is meaningless, and he is injuring the university and the faculty which issued it. Employers are not going to respect the university which issues diplomas to dishonorable students."

"To put the matter up to him from a personal point of view is getting at the wrong angle. He should not be honest simply because his professor wishes him to."

"The present police system is like the city police, it protects pro-

Y. W. C. A. to Rent Cottage on Lake Mendota For May

Perhaps it is the sudden spring-like thaw that makes the co-ed mind turn to thoughts of the Y. W. C. A. cottage which will be rented as usual for the month of May.

The cottage will be situated on Lake Mendota within walking distance of the campus, and can be obtained for a night during the week by any girl or group of girls who signs up for it.

"We want all of the girls to take advantage of this cottage," Miss Mary Anderson secretary of the Y. W. C. A. said. "It will accommodate twenty girls, and they can hike out for a picnic supper and a slumber party."

There will be a house party every week end during the month, and the girls will definitely sign up during the first part of April, if they wish to attend.

50 SCHOLARSHIPS READY FOR FROSH

Only L. & S., Engineer and Ag
Students Eligible For Awards

The committee on loans and undergraduate scholarships has at its disposal fifty Wisconsin scholarships for $100 each for first year students. These scholarships were established by the Board of Regents in 1919.

"Application blanks for these scholarships may be obtained at the Registrar's office after January 20. Applicants must be first year students either men or women who are registered as residents of Wisconsin; who have shown worth and ability, and who are in need of financial assistance. Students who are receiving a monthly bonus from the state are not eligible. Ability will be judged principally by the first semester's work," Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman of the committee said.

The Wisconsin scholarships are not available for students in the Law school, Medical school, Graduate school, or for upperclassmen in other colleges.

FOX TROT FEATURES PRE-PROM DANCE

Annual Affair Will Be Held Friday Evening at Lathrop

The Prom Fox Trot will be introduced by the composer at the Pre-Prom dance, which will be held next Friday evening, January 12, in Lathrop gymnasium.

"The pre-prom dance is not a dance exclusively for those who are going to Prom, but everybody is urged to come," Lawson Adams '25, chairman of the dance, said.

Two pianos, played by Jesse Cohen and Bill Hayden, with Lawson Adams Nelson Fairbanks at the violin, in addition to Jesse Cohen's seven piece orchestra, will furnish the music.

Tickets, which are $2, will go on sale this morning at Morgan's and the University pharmacy. They can also be purchased at the door, and a canvas of the fraternity and sorority houses is being made.

Union board has cancelled the dance for Friday night, so that all may attend the Pre-Prom affair.

Non-Fraternity Men Meet

A meeting has been called for all non-fraternity men who are interested in going to Prom. It will take place tonight at 7:15 o'clock in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A.

Carrying out the spirit of making Prom an entirely democratic function this year, every effort is being made to give non-fraternity groups all possible advantages. There will be no distinction made in assigning boxes to groups and ten boxes are being saved for non-fraternity Prom-goers. Four have already been taken and if more than ten will be needed, they will be supplied.

BLUE DRAGON RINGS ARRIVE FOR SENIORS

Seniors who ordered the Blue Dragon rings may get them now, as the first order has come. The second order for them will not be sent in until next semester according to Josephine Snow '24, who has charge of ordering them.

YELLOW CABS GIVEN CONTRACT FOR PROM

The Yellow Cab and Transfer Co. has been given the contract for handling cab service during Prom, having in addition the charge of the traffic direction at the Capitol. COMSTOCK CALLED TO ACTIVE SERVICE

Captain For Four Years Here
Probably Will Go to Hawaii

Captain J. H. Comstock, assistant professor of military science and tactics, announced yesterday in an address on "Our National Safety" given before the Lions club that he had been notified of his transfer to active service with the army, and that he will probably be stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

Captain Comstock, who is serving his fourth year at the university, declared that as a soldier he would forego a bonus for ex-service men, even though workers who stayed at home were paid a bonus during the war in the form of higher wages. He would have the ex-service men set an example, he said, by proving that "patriotism can not be bought."

The speaker further declared that the United States must maintain its national defense and prove morally that it will do its utmost to maintain the balance of power for any righteous cause in the interest of peace. Captain Comstock attacked vigorously the dreamers who refuse to accept facts as they are and seek a Utopian state. On the duties of citizenship and Americanism, the speaker emphasized the need of education to correct the mistakes of the past.

COLD WEATHER IS EXPLAINED HERE

Eric Miller, Weather Man, Tells Why Icy Blasts Hit Madison

"The cold weather that Madison has experienced since New Year's Eve is not an unusual winter phenomenon, but is easily explained by a study of the weather maps," said Eric Miller of the U. S. weather bureau in an interview Monday.

Temperature and weather conditions are largely controlled by the cyclonic areas of high and low atmospheric pressure. A "low" causes cloudiness and precipitation and is generally followed by cold clear weather of a "high."

Until the cold wave of New Year's Eve the "lows" originating near the Aleutian Islands had followed the northern route. Being areas of low pressure, winds blow in toward their centers from all directions. As the "lows" during December, passed to the north of us, Madison was being warmed by the southerly winds importing high temperatures as they were drawn northward by the low pressure of the cyclonic "lows."

On the last day of December an immense "low" formed down in Arizona and New Mexico, taking the Southern route for its path. The sudden change of routes caused a complete reversal of wind directions. As the "low" moved eastward the cold west and north winds were attracted to its center of low pressure, and Madison was frozen up by the cold temperatures imported from barren, Canada and the Arctic ocean.

Although 25 degrees below zero, seems extremely cold it is not an unusual January temperature as the weather bureau records prove. The lowest temperature recorded was on January 21, 1888 when 49 below was reached. The two years previous to 1888 had cold spells as temperatures of -26, and -29 are recorded. In January 1904, 26 below and in February, 1905, a 24 below temperatures were experienced in Madison. During the month of January in the years of 1912, 1915 and 1919 low marks of -25, -23, and -23 were respectively recorded.

The theory that an early freezing off the Davis Straits between Greenland and Labrador was responsible for the seemingly freakish weather of December was not given much credence by the weather experts.

Prom Etiquette to Feature January Issue of Octopus

The Prom number of the Octopus will appear Wednesday, January 23.

The cover design was made by Kenneth Kehl '26 and Gretchen Gilbert '25 and Muriel Lietzell each have several drawings in this issue.

"A two page book of 'Etiquette on Prom', written by Larry Hastings '24, is a spicy piece of advice" Richard Bellack '24, editor said "and should be read by all Prom-goers."

Bellack has attended recently the College Humor convention for humorous magazine editors, and it is said that many new ideas obtained there are incorporated in the Prom issue.

PARENTS OF FROSH DONATE 'Y' $1,165

Approximately $12,000 Results From Finance Drive Among Men Students

The university Y. M. C. A. is in receipt of some $1,165 as the result of a circular letter sent to the interested parents of the freshmen. Approximately $12,000 was taken in as a result of the annual finance drive among the men of the campus, and a little over $1,100 was taken in from pledges of members. However this amount is not sufficient to carry on the work of the "Y" or meet some of the needs of the men whom it helps.

"This amount is wholly inadequate for the needs of the "Y" and it will be necessary for some changes to be made in order to meet this situation," said Frederick E. Wolf, secretary, last night. "If we are to carry on some of the services which we have given here-to-fore we will have to raise more money, or change the budget to meet this lack of finances. It may be that the check cashing service and the employment bureau will have to be eliminated, yet this will not be done for some time, at least not until the end of the semester."

The loan funds will not be affected in any way by any change which is made, since they are all endowed. The Whitney Russell memorial loan fund is for the loan of small amounts for a short period of time.

IN 29 TO 28 WIN
OVER FROSH TEAMSecond Meet, Compulsory to All Men, is Held Tomorrow Night

The Varsity swimmers, minus the services of several stars, just nosed out the freshmen in the first of a series of meets held in the tank last night. The final count was 29 to 28. The frosh started off auspiciously by copping the relay, the 40 yard swim, and scoring a tie in the dives.

Another meet will be held Thursday night, followed by another contest next Tuesday night. Both meets will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

The varsity squad is in bad shape at present due to injuries. Koch, star diver, is out with a wrenched back done in a gym meet, and Flueck is in the infirmary. Several other men are out of training with sprained ankles.

"There has been a mighty poor turnout of varsity and freshmen swimmers at these practice meets," said Coach "Joe" Steinauer, at the close of the meet last night. "The men offer up bearcat excuses but I am getting tired of it."

"Varsity and frosh swimmers who don't turn up for the meets to be held Thursday and Tuesday nights will be turned off the squad. This is final."

The sensation of the meet was a fast swim in the 40 yard event, won by Hershberger in 19 seconds. Hershberger is a freshman, but has made better time in his events than the varsity men.

Only a small number of both varsity and frosh turned out and the time in most of the events was slow. Following are the results:

Relay—won by the frosh in 1:22 3-5. (Grigsby, Ratclif, Herschberger and Stevens.)

40 yard dash—Hershberger, frosh; Johnson, varsity; Crane, varsity; time 19 seconds.

Dives—Wheatley, frosh, and Simpkins, varsity, tied with 69 points each out of a possible 80.

Breast stroke—Czerwonky, Bell, both varsity; time 2:40.

Plunge—Cook, varsity, Nichols, varsity, Roesch, frosh; 56 feet in 43 seconds.

100 yard dash—Ratclif, frosh; Alton, varsity; Mageath, varsity; time 1:07.

Back stroke—Czerwonky, varsity; Crowell, varsity. Bauman, frosh; time 1:51.

South American Tells About
Athletic Games in ArgentinaRepublic to Enter Olympics
For First Time, Ewing
Says

"Young Argentina is enthusiastic over sports and athletics, soccer football being the chief national sport. About 150 athletes from Argentina participated in the South American Olympics held last year in Rio de Janeiro. Argentina won second place. For the first time in history, the republic will have a representative team in the world Olympics to be held in Paris this year."

These were the statements of H. E. Ewing, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Buenos Aires, who was a campus visitor the first part of this week. He was here visiting Latin American students in the university.

"Great interest is developing in basketball in the Argentina Republic. The game was introduced by the association in 1912. There are about 20 clubs in Buenos Aires at the present time. The special recreational program carried on in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium stimulates wholesome competition and is a source of releasing much valuable health information."

In speaking of the growth of the association, Mr. Ewing said that the membership now comprised 4,100 persons. Of this number, over 1,000 are students in the universities.

Mr. Ewing spoke on the country and the National University of Buenos Aires, which is one of the five in the republic. He told of the population of 1,800,000 in Buenos Aires making that city the fourth ranking metropolis in the western hemisphere. New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia are the three cities larger than the southern capital.

Founded in 1821, the National University of Buenos Aires is one of the oldest in the southern continent. Today there are nearly 8,000 men students enrolled in the institution. The six departments of education are law, medicine, agriculture, engineering, commerce and philosophy.

Morning falls!

We see by the papers that Iowa, the highly touted team with all of last year's regulars back on the job again, has lost its last two preliminary games—one by a 36-16 score and the other by a 21-20 score. Hope you have better luck pretty soon Iowa!

Purdue bumps into Ohio State on Saturday. That'll be a hot game. Purdue is good, but so is Ohio State this year. Ohio has never won a basketball game from Purdue—somehow we think Ohio is due.

Most everyone is looking forward to the Indiana game here next Monday. The Hoosiers gave us a scare last week, and with our boys playing Northwestern away this Saturday, and then engaging the Hoosiers again on Monday, it looks as though Capt. Gibson's men will have to step some.

The swimming Varsity is sure working for a win over Iowa on the 19th. Steinauer is making the men go through a flock of time trials right now. Last night he was measuring the wave length of the tank—get a rubber tank Joe! It'll save wear and tear on your diver's domes.

George Martin, the hale and hearty young outdoor sport King from the frozen North, is putting on a campaign for more interest in outdoor sports. It's a hard proposition to compete with a good warm fire at any time during the winter though!

"The great open spaces are calling," said the young skater as he slid into a hole in the lake.

Skaters to Race
on Mendota Track
Saturday at 1:30

A 220 yard skating race will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday on the Lake Mendota ice track.

"The primary object of the race is to work up interest in skating among the students, especially in inter-class skating," said Mildred Rieck '24, who is in charge of the entries for the affair, yesterday.

"It is hoped that the race will awaken interest in the annual ice carnival which will be held in a few weeks. It will also give skaters enough competition to find out what they really can do in racing," said Mrs. Rieck.

The University has plenty of material among both men and women students, but skaters have been rather slow in signing up for the race. Miss Rieck asks that any who are interested in entering call her at Fairchild 156.

Rifle Club Gets
Program Outline
From Coach Shire

An extensive program was outlined to the Rifle club last night in the armory by Coach Shire.

The first match, the Sixth Corps Area match, is to be fired within the next week. Other matches include a triangle match with Drexel Institute and Orono, Maine; a Randolph Hearst match; and an all state championship match at Milwaukee on Feb. 23.

On March 2, a match with the University of Minnesota, University of Missouri, Pennsylvania State College, North Dakota Agricultural College, and University of Tennessee will be fired. Oregon Agricultural College will be fired against on March 24.

The team that will represent the University Rifle club at the Sixth Corps Area match will be Capt. W. A. Rorison, G. H. Ross, H. A. Schlick, W. G. Winkels, L. P. Drake, D. G. Folk, E. J. Hewitt, H. C. Hull, Roy Jackson, C. J. Ludwig, C. J. Neess, A. Paroni, K. V. Powers, C. J. Randall, and E. P. Von Rohr.

The date for the meeting of the club was changed from the second and fourth Tuesday of each month to the second and fourth Thursday.

HOCKEY MEN ARE PRACTICING DAILY

Marquette Game Next Saturday Will Show Strength of Team

The varsity hockey team, according to Coach Blodgett, is rapidly developing and will soon be ready for competition. The men are out every day from 4 to 6 p. m.

The coach said that some of the most promising men for varsity material were Harris, Gross, McLain and Moran for forwards, Von Rohr and Saari for goal guards and Captain Johnson and Ritchie for defense. Most of these men have had previous experience.

Marquette, which comes here Saturday, has been practicing for two months and is in good condition. Bleachers will be put up for Saturday's game and a small admission will be charged to defray the expenses of the team. Negotiations for a game with Notre Dame team to be played here during Prom week are underway.

The officials have asked that students and other persons should please stay off the rink. It is flooded every evening after the members of the squad have swent it. It is hard to get the rink in condition and smooth ice is very essential.

Coach Blodgett is well pleased with the number of men who are out and also with the frosh team. He said there are some fine players on the yearling squad and prospects for next year are very bright.

Carlin Will Direct

Dynamite Left In Coal
Blinds Youth In Home

HARRISBURG, Ky.—Dynamite left embedded in a piece of coal is thought only to have caused the explosion Thursday in an open grate at the home of Curtis Alford, 18, who has lost the sight of one eye and is suffering injury to the other as a result of being struck by hot coals. A 16-month-old baby, sitting near the fireplace was blown into an empty coal bucket.

WASHINGTON—In observance of the 109th anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, President Coolidge today placed a wreath at the base of the statue of Andrew Jackson in Lafayette Square opposite the White House.

CARDINAL CREW
GIVEN BID TO
HUDSON REGATTA

Annual Regatta Will Interfere
With Olympic Games
This Year

The University of Wisconsin crew, along with eights from Princeton, the Naval Academy, and the University of Washington, is to be extended an invitation to go east for the annual regatta of the Inter-collegiate Rowing Association on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie, June 17.

The resolution to invite these crews was made by the board of stewards of the association at their annual meeting recently. At the same time they voted down a resolution to lengthen the course from three to four miles.

While the Wisconsin athletic council passed a resolution last year which would enable the Badger crew to accept the invitation it is doubtful whether the Cardinal will make the trip this year. Rowing is gaining in interest at Wisconsin, and when the Badgers produce a crew which may be expected to hold its own in the Eastern classic they will take part in the big race.

There is much evident friction this year between two interests, the Olympic games and the college race, which are in a way pulling at opposite ends. So far as the Olympics are concerned, there is little relation to the inter-collegiate classic, in as much as the Olympic championship distance for eight-oared shells is only a mile and a quarter, somewhat less than half the distance of the Poughkeepsie race.

Washington and Navy, however, crews finishing first and second in the inter-collegiate race last year, plan to make a try for the Olympic team, and if either is successful it is probable that that team will not row at Poughkeepsie. The boat which is to carry the American Olympic team to France leaves one day before the Poughkeepsie races.

W. A. A. Votes to Join National Amateur Club

After an address by Miss Blanche M. Trilling of the Physical Education department, W. A. A. voted to become a member of the National Amateur Federation of America last night.

The association is not a controlling organization but is merely a deliberating one, suggesting future policy. It is a federation of many athletic associations both of men and women, the board consisting of an equal number of men and women.

Second swimming teams will be picked during the winter season, it was announced by Helen Robinson '25, head of swimming. Tryout dates will be posted soon.

Nina Faris '24, vice president and head of gymnastic honors, announced that practices for apparatus honors will be held the second semester.

"The end of the semester is dangerously near, which fact reminds us that our 40 miles of hiking is not yet completed," warned Ester Bilstad, president. "Only 20 miles can be done in seven days; so you had better distribute your hikes evenly throughout these last few days."

Beth Biglow '24, received her W. A. A. pin last night.

THE UNION UNEXCELED

The proposition that a zoning system and districting of men's groups in the university be furthered by the Union Board presents a great many difficulties and obstacles. It would seem, however, that the benefits to be derived from such a plan are of a magnitude such that the idea should be pushed to the furthest by student effort, and the Union Board should be urged to continue with its commendable work.

In the first place, there seems to be a misconception of the Union Board itself in the minds of the student body. It is not generally known or realized, for instance, that every male student in the university, at his matriculation automatically becomes a member of the Wisconsin Union. The Union Board then is only the executive and administrative arm of this vast organization of THE UNION—Wisconsin's men.

The object of the Union Board, then, as expressed in the Senate constitution is to "minister to the social wants of the men in the university." This object, of course, has grown and expanded to include a larger all-Wisconsin conception typified by such things as the Memorial Union, concerts, speakers, and other activities.

But in the past, the Union Board has been hampered in its work with Wisconsin men by not being able to get in touch with them except in a cursory fashion through the few organized groups, fraternities and clubs and through The Cardinal.

This plan has always left a great many men who are just as much members of the Wisconsin Union but who have never received any intimate benefit.

If these men, then, were districts and organized into groups with the aid of the Union, so that they would soon develop their own internal organization, a plan would have been furthered which not only would benefit the men themselves but would build a preliminary foundation for that great and glorious ideal which every Wisconsinite is anticipating—the Memorial Union.

The Union would do well if it would sponsor these groups with that idea; viz., encourage intra mural sports, competitive stunts, scholarship contests or whatnot. And then when in two years or so the Memorial Union is a reality, these groups will be ready to take their places in the organization as active groups with that as their center.

Generally the policy has been to build a building and then establish a program. The Union Board has assumed a tremendous task, but it is to be congratulated and helped in its effort to prepare the way among the student body so that when the building is completed a strong student program and organization will be ready with EVERY MAN IN WISCONSIN REPRESENTED. That will be a Union unexcelled.

Illinois successfully worked the district plan. Wisconsin can.

AN ACCUSATION REFUTED

The lake is frozen and ice-boats skim across its surface. Skaters glide to and fro, thoughts of ice carnivals are entertained with a deal of interest, the hockey team is holding regular practices and soon the toboggan and ski slides will be operating—that is the hope, anyway. Madison has taken on the aspect of a veritable winter resort, a St. Moritz without its snow-crowned Johannesburg.

That is just it. Madison looks like a place devoted to sport during the winter months. Perhaps you have even heard people say of the town, and the university especially, that in summer it is a summer resort and in winter it is a winter resort. It has been said, anyway, and it has been thought a good deal. The university is considered a sort of glorified Monte Carlo and St. Moritz all wrapped into one and disguised as an institution of learning.

We of the student body, however, know better than that. We realize that perhaps summer school is looked upon by some of those enrolled in it as a pleasant vacation at a delightful resort. But even that accusation is a little strong and beside, that is the summer school with which at present we are not especially concerned. As for the accusation made against the university for its being a winter resort, we should be all too ready to defend ourselves.

True it is that we have an ice carnival and ski meets. But one ice carnival does not, as it were, make a resort and the ski meets are in the natural course of athletics. There are not more than 20 ice boats on the lake which number will not accommodate much of the student body and which are being used mainly on week-end days. An observer will tell anybody that there is very little skating during the week. Thus one finds it difficult to believe that the lure of winter is so strong during the mid-year months that students are out playing with the elements to the detriment of their studies or that they come here simply because they think Madison is a good winter resort.

The Greeks combined their sports with their arts and letters. Every Greek was something of an athlete. It seems to us that had Plato had an opportunity to found his Academy in a place where so much exercise could be had as here, he would not have hesitated to choose this site.

The university is rather fortunate than otherwise in being able to be called a winter resort, but these outsiders who place a slur on the word "resort" are probably more jealous of our situation than critical of our use of it.

EDUCATED JOURNALISTS

From the Atlantic to the Pacific teachers of journalism came to Chicago during the Christmas vacation to convene in conferences, compare notes, discuss teaching methods and the future of journalism in the institutions which they represented. A good many things of interest developed at the convention, but the most important matter was the suggestion of putting schools of journalism on the same sort of a basis on which law and medicine are now placed in universities.

It was suggested that a two year course in journalism be instituted for which two years of general university work would be required. Such a scheme would make it possible for students to commence their intensive study of journalism with a firm and broad general foundation. As it is now, most institutions make it possible for the journalist student to take a number of electives during the course of his regular work. The suggestion advanced, however, if worked out as it probably will be within a short time, will make it impossible for a student who does not have a pretty good fund of general information to undertake courses in journalism.

Such a step would be a splendid one. It would insure our having educated journalists—men who know something about affairs as well as what relates directly to their business—how to tell the difference between seven and eight point type, where small v lies in a font, how to write feature stories and so on. Under the new scheme the student will probably be examined on his general information as well.

If newspapers are going to continue to be such a mighty force as they have been especially during the last decade, it will be imperative that we have educated newspapermen. If a writer wishes to succeed on a newspaper, wishes to get to the top, he will have to have a wealth of general information.

So it is that two years of general university education should raise the calibre of graduating journalists.

Everyday when he is bored
Willie drives out in his Ford.

A broken bridge was on his way

On high it ran four miles an hour,
The whole thing was ugly as sin,
It scared all the brutes on the high-way,

It frightened the dog and the cat,
When the thing wouldn't start,
I would take it apart,
And I learned about motors from that.

Mountains Get Restless and Change Places, Geologists Say

Maybe the mountain couldn't come to Mohammed, but it could have gone part way. At least, it could according to the statement of a California geologist, Dr. Mailey

Willis of Leland Stanford university, who claims that mountains in California have moved within the last two decades. He is supported in his assertion by other eminent geologists.

It is quite possible that mountains move, in the opinion of Prof. W. O. Twenholf of Wisconsin's geology department. Dr. Bailey says that Mount Tamalpais has moved five feet south since 1910, Mount Diablo three and a half feet southeast and Point Reyes 11 feet north. The greatest movement was near San Luis Obispo.

"Two other scientists have proved and upheld this idea that mountains move," Prof. Twenholf said when asked if it were possible. "They have proved it by comparing the position of certain points with the relative positions of other points. Twenty-five or thirty years ago they measured a number of points in the Sierra Nevada mountains and then measured other points directly west of them. These same measurements were made recently and comparisons made show a shifting from the original positions.

"Exact measurements were taken of the latitude and longitude of the mountains in the first statistics. Then by means of engineering-apparatus distances were measured within a few feet. In the comparisons son some of the points were always considered stationary."

The cause of the shifting? Shrinkage of the earth's crust interior is thought to cause up and down movement of mountains, according to the findings of geology Professor Twenholf says.

"The earth's crust is made up of blocks that form a huge mosaic. The pressure caused by the shrinkage of the interior of the earth and unloading and loading due to erosion causes these blocks to shift in a horizontal direction," was Professor Twenholf's explanation.

"Such movement would not customarily take place in a stable country like Wisconsin," he said. "It is characteristic of localities like Japan, California, and the Philippines where recent movement has taken place."

STUDENT Y. W. C. A. WILL HELP GIRLS

Local Organization First in Country to Plan Scholarships For Industrial Girls

The student department of the Y. W. C. A. here is the first group in the United States to conceive plans for establishing a scholarship for industrial girls. Although definite plans will not be formulated until next summer, the general plans are to provide means for eight industrial girls of Madison to attend the summer session of the university.

This plan is somewhat similar to that of the industrial school at Bryn Mawr college, but there the summer session is for industrial girls only, while this plan allows the girls to attend regular university classes composed of university students.

"If the plan proves successful," said Alice Corl '25 head of the Student Industrial committee of the local association, "we hope to include girls from all over the state instead of just Madison."

The scholarship will be called the Florence Simms scholarship for Florence Simms, former head of the Student department of the Y. W. C. A., who conceived the idea of working out the problem presented by labor and capital by cooperation of the two groups.

Miss Simms felt that to start with the youth of the country was important so she began industrial cooperation all over the country where colleges could cooperate with organized industrial groups.

"Not only should the university girl be versed in the problems of the factory," Miss Corl said "but the industrial girl should have the opportunity to share the higher education."

"This is something that we have hoped and worked for for some time," said Miss Mary Anderson, student secretary of Y. W. C. A. "but we never dreamed that we could realize our hopes this soon."

The student movement committee under Miss Corl includes: Clara Hertzburg '25, Louise Tobey '24, Mary Devine '25, Marian Telford '26, and Isabelle Winterboer '25.

SPORT FANS NEW ORGANIZATION

Winter Activity Enthusiasts Elect Officers and Make Plans

Winter sports at Wisconsin took a big step forward at the initial organization meeting at the union building last night.

Gilbert F. Hoffman '24 was elected president, Sally Fletcher '25, vice president, and George Munkowitz '26, secretary and treasurer. Plans were made for the formation of committees and the crystallization of action in all forms of outdoor winter sports. Fifty men and women attended.

No sports will be left out, and each sport will be directed by a committee. Appointing of committees will be gotten under way immediately. All persons interested in winter sports are invited to give their names to Hoffman, and they will be given a chance to take part in the activities of the organization.

It is planned to model the club after the Snow Bird club of Lake Placid, New York. A fitting name and emblem will be selected soon.

It is expected that the club will be in shape for permanent establishment this winter. Future ice carnivals will be taken care of by this organization and the carnival chairman will be elected from its membership.

CO-EDS FLOCK TO PROM GOWN REVUE

300 Witness Display of Latest Garments Imported From East

Three hundred enthusiastic University of Wisconsin coeds witnessed a pre-prom fashion revue at the Loken department store Monday night. The entire second floor of the large store was filled with Prom-bound coeds who witnessed a display of formal garments and materials for Prom gowns which lasted for an hour and a half.

The revue was staged under the supervision of Mrs. Clare C. Confare, buyer of ready to wear for the Loken organization, and Paul B. Gentling head of the Loken silks section, both of whom had recently returned from a special New York trip made for Prom merchandise.

The models—the Misses Maricle, Scheidler, Babler, Tallett and Kaefer of the Loken organizations—were garbed in gorgeous New York and Parisian creations imported especially for Prom. Beaded garments predominated in the display, and according to Mrs. Confare were much in evidence at the important shows which she attended in New York two weeks ago.

Among the very interested spectators was Miss Elizabeth Stolte, announcement of whose selection as Prom Queen was made several days ago by Prom chairman Nolte.

PROF. DITTMER IN TALK AT CAPITOL

Gives First of Series of 10 Sociological Lectures Monday Afternoon

Professor C. F. Dittmer of the department of sociology and economics gave the first of a series of ten lectures concerning basic social problems which are confronting present day civilization, in the G. A. R. hall of the state capital at 4:30 Monday afternoon.

The lectures are given to heads and members of departments of the state house and are aimed to give the serious minded some of the outstanding social problems that the people of the United States must solve during the next generation.

Monday's talk was devoted to the "Growth and Numbers of Population" America has been changed from a vast wilderness to a nation teeming with cities and cultivated fields, according to Prof. Dittmer. This change has come with amazing swiftness and has brought about problems because of the social changes which are a natural result of this growth.

The object of the course is not according to the speaker, to present a cure for all social ills. Its object is not to solve any of them, but merely to define issues and point the way that a clearer and a saner viewpoint may be taken. The next lecture will be given January 14, on "The Quality of the Social Population."

DRESDEN ATTENDS SCIENCE MEETING

Chicago Professor Wins Prize For Most Significant Paper of Convention

Dr. Arnold Dresden, professor of mathematics, attended the convention of the American Association for the Advance of Science in Cincinnati. At this meeting a prize of $1,000 was awarded to Professor L. E. Dickson of the University of Chicago for the most significant paper handed in at any of the meetings.

The meeting was concerned with the endowment fund for the American Mathematical Association. Dr. Dresden is in charge of the campaign to raise $100,000 and gave a report at this meeting. The campaign was at first carried on among mathematicians only. They subscribed $20,000 and the remainder of the $100,000 is to be subscribed by outside people," Dresden said in his report.

The National Research Council, found in Washington during the war for research work, has established a graduate research fellowship from an endowment of the Rockefeller foundation. This fellowship was formerly only for physicists and chemists, but is now also for mathematicians. It will be administered by the National Research Council.

FACULTY SEEKS TO INSTALL HONOR SYSTEM

party from theft. There is no reason to feel personally insulted when an instructor patrols the examination room. He is protecting you. I wish very much to see the honor system in force."

Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the education department says, "The student under the police system feels no moral responsibility. The whole examination is a battle of wits between student and instructor to see how much one can put over on the other and 'get by.' Examinations should be matters of honor. The instructor attempts to make them fair and the student should treat them fairly as he probably would do under the honor system."

Ellis Fulton '25, says: "I don't believe that 'police system' is a correct term for the present method. I have never taken an examination in which I felt that the teacher was watching me, that I couldn't be dishonest if I happened to want to and not be caught. He seems to me to be there simply as a help if difficulties arise which he can straighten out."

"If the honor system is used, and I see no need for it, I would be unwilling to bear the responsibility of reporting anyone I saw cheating. I'm too busy minding my own business to watch others anyway."

A Cornell transfer is warmly in favor of the honor system, which has been at Cornell for several years, with complete success. "I would be willing to report cribbers if it were understood that that was a condition of the system," he said.

One student who obviously wishes her name to remain unknown declares in favor of the present method. "I would rather be able to cheat in a pinch," she said.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—The common council here has approved two bond issues amounting to $65,000, one of $40,000 to complete payment on the new Lowell school.

SURVEY OF FAMILIES COMPLETED BY ROSS

A survey of American families which has been carried on during the past year by Prof. E. A. Ross and other members of the sociology department has been completed and the first report of the findings of the investigation will appear in the next issue of the Century magazine, which will be published on January 25.

The purpose of the survey is to ascertain facts concerning the size and other characteristics of family groups in this country. Students taking courses in sociology assisted in the work by furnishing information regarding their own families.

Following the publication of the report of Professor Ross in the Century, the university will prepare the article for printing in pamphlet form.
