The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

An Old Woman

One time an old woman went to see her grandchild. She went on foot deep into the woods where there was a small footpath for travelling. Then it got dark so she came home late at night. After a little ways she met up with a bear and she couldn't run away.

She said, "Now I'm going to die."

So she lay down on the path since there was no way she could escape. The bear got there where she was lying and sniffed her feet.

The bear said, "I don't eat meat that's been dead for ten days."

Then the bear went on. So the old woman got up and went home. Nothing happened to her.
