UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN STUDIES

Studies in Language and Literature

- No. 12. The Formation of Tennyson's Style, by J. F. A. Pyre. 250 p. Cloth.
$1.50.

A study, primarily, of the versification of the early poems. This work is a contribution to the theory of English metrics, as well as a subtly definite appreciation of Tennyson's actual work.

- No. 13. Modern Thoughts in the German Lyric Poets from Goethe to Dehmel, by Friedrich Bruns. 104 p. $1.00.

This study aims to trace the development of modern thought in German lyric poetry from Goethe to Richard Dehmel. The investigation limits itself to three main trends of thought: pantheism, freedom of the will, and the valuation of life.

[Studies in the Social Sciences and History

- No. 3. The Misinterpretation of Locke as a Formalist in Educational Philosophy, by V. T. Thayer. 24 p. $.50.

Historians usually interpret Locke's writings as supplying a philosophic foundation for the "dogma of formal discipline." This monograph contends that such a view not only rests upon a false interpretation of Locke's writings, but ignores as well his direct influence upon the English and American academies through the writings of his disciples, chief of whom was Isaac Watts.

- No. 4. Scientific Determination of the Content of the Elementary School Course in Reading, by W. L. Uhl. 152 p. $1.50.

A report based on an investigation of the success of reading selections now in use in elementary schools. Standards for judging such selections are derived from the reactions of several thousand teachers and pupils.

- No. 5. Cycles of Prosperity and Depression in the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, 1902-1908, by Alvin Harvey Hansen. 112 p. $1.00.

A detailed statistical study of business cycles and the causes of unemployment. Various theories are measured statistically and a final conclusion is reached. While limited to a restricted period the study is an interpretation of all business cycles.

Complete lists of the above series of Studies and of the Studies in Science may be obtained from the University Editor.

Orders should be sent to the Secretary of the Regents, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin.

Why have 57,000 College Men enrolled in the Alexander Hamilton Institute?

THE President of the largest institution of its kind in America—a man still in his forties—was commenting on his own experience in business.

“When I graduated from college I supposed I was equipped with the training necessary to business success,” he said.

“As a matter of fact I had nothing more than a bare foundation. I discovered that fact even in my first job, and for weeks I spent my evenings in a night school trying to master the elements of cost-finding and accountancy.

“Later as I made my way up toward executive positions I found I needed to know the fundamentals of sales and merchandising, of advertising and factory management, of office organization and corporation finance.

“These I picked up from books as best I could. Probably my college training made it easier for me to acquire them; but the college training alone certainly was not an adequate preparation for business in my case. I doubt if it is for any man.”

More than 155,000 men in 11 years

The Alexander Hamilton Institute was not founded early enough to be of service to this man; but it grew out of an appreciation of the needs of men of just this type.

In the eleven years of its existence the Institute has enrolled more than 155,000 men who are today making more rapid progress in business as a result of its training.

Of these 155,000 no less than 57,000 are graduates of colleges and universities.

This is the Institute's mark of distinction—that its appeal is to the unusual man. It has only one Course, embracing the fundamentals underlying all business, and its training fits a man for the sort of executive positions where demand always outruns supply.

The splendid privilege of saving wasted years

One of the tragedies of the business world is that so many college men spend so many of the best years of their lives in doing tasks which they know are below their real capacities.

It is the privilege of the Institute to save those wasted years—to give a man in the leisure moments of a few months the working knowledge of the various departments of modern business which would ordinarily take him years to acquire.

That the Institute's Modern Business Course and Service actually achieves this splendid result, that its training is practical and immediately applicable to the problems of every business, the records of 155,000 business men, in every kind of business, prove.

At least you will want the facts

Every college man in business is interested in business training. He is interested in it either as a factor in his own progress; or as a factor in the progress of the younger men associated with him, who are constantly turning to him for advice.

To put all the facts regarding the Modern Business Course and Service in convenient form the Alexander Hamilton Institute has prepared a 120-page book, entitled “Forging Ahead in Business.” It tells concisely and specifically what the Course is and what it has done for other men. There is a copy of this book free for every college man in business; send for your copy today.

To My Alma Mater

BY F. KUNZ, '12

The snow is falling in the twilight hush
Upon the Hill. The elms are standing,—still,
Grey ghosts, across the pallid wintry flush
Of Northern Lights above the cloud-clothed lake.
The flute-like voices of some passing girls—
Students homeward bound—in little billows,
Mysteriously soft, sound through the snowy swirls;
The tones, thin, far-off, and shrill, flow
And ebb, but gently, as the falling flakes.

They pass. I am alone with you, my Mother.
Cold am I, and lonely—one apart.
Yet through the cold I feel thy warmth, dear Mother,
And in the stillness hear the beating of thy heart.

THE question of arranging Commencement dates so that Alumni Day may fall on Saturday is receiving serious attention by members of the universities of the Big Ten this year. For some years Ohio State has had a schedule which places Alumni Day on Saturday.

The success of this plan in Ohio led Michigan to change Alumni Day to Saturday. Chicago and Cornell also already hold Alumni reunions at the week-end. Minnesota is now investigating the desirability of adopting a similar schedule. Reports from Illinois which, like Wisconsin, still holds Alumni Day on Tuesday, show that the graduates desire the change to Saturday.

Not only would graduates find it more convenient to leave business and professional duties to return for Alumni Day festivities arranged for Saturday than for Tuesday, but students and faculty members would also find it easier to participate in activities arranged on a day which did not require them to stay at the institution too long after examinations are completed.

At Wisconsin the faculty has this matter under advisement. Professor F. J. Hubbard, chairman of the faculty committee considering this matter, is said to favor a change which would place Class Day on Friday, Alumni Day on Saturday, leave Baccalaureate on Sunday, and hold Commencement on Monday. Such a plan would prove very convenient for graduates who wish to return, would enable undergraduates who desire to stay for Commencement to do so with the saving of two days' time and expense, and would also probably prove more convenient for relatives of members of the graduating class.

On motion of William Foster, '15, the Board of Visitors some weeks ago appointed Imogene Hand Carpenter, '87, to investigate the desirability of such a change, and asked her to report on January 18. The student publication, The Daily Cardinal, in editorial and news columns takes the position that Alumni Day should be on Saturday, and shows that student sentiment favors this slight change which, without radically overturning the general Commencement schedule, will prove more convenient for students, faculty and graduates.

The reunion committee of the class of 1917 is particularly desirous that this change in the Commencement schedule shall be made effective for the coming June. Naturally all class reunion committees are asking that the authorities act on this matter as soon as possible.

One editor in discussing the desirability of changing Alumni Day from Tuesday to Saturday says, "All the logic of modern business efficiency, reasonableness, and convenience for the returning graduate is in favor of the week-end plan."

Dormitories have received "enthusiastic silence" here for such a long time that it is almost startling to run across the statement made by a great university leader a few years ago that dormitories were "our greatest need." If they were our "greatest need" a few years ago when rooms were plentiful in number and reasonable in price, what about their superlative need now? Do lake-edge fraternity lodges and week-end sorority house parties supply all the social life or the only kind of social life needed in a great democratic university?

Surely Wisconsin needs dormitories. Only a few years ago we all joined in the crusade yell "We want dormitories!" Students, faculty, regents, visitors, graduates—we were all there with the big yell. Admitting that the need of dormitories is greater at Wisconsin than ever before, the betting chances are good that we must show something more than "the enthusiasm of clams and the eloquence of oysters" to secure dormitories. A number of us have, of course, shed crocodile tears over the fact that, while one legislature listened to our yell "We want dormitories!" and appropriated dormitory funds, a succeeding legislature, withdrew the appropriation. Merely because we won the first round with one legislature and were unexpectedly knocked out in the second round with the succeeding legislature, are we never to champion the good cause of dormitories again? If we cannot sell the dormitory idea to the people of Wisconsin are we justified in sitting idly by and hoping and trusting and praying that some beneficent individual will make a final will and testament providing adequate funds for a dormitory system?

We believe that suggestions that private capital build these dormitories have never received adequate consideration at Wisconsin. Those who have had the audacity to suggest that private capital be invited to embark in this enterprise will rejoice to know that a bond and mortgage company has underwritten an issue of nearly one million dollars worth of first mortgage real estate 7 per cent serial bonds on "the largest and finest" dormitory in America at Ohio State University. These bonds are to be sold to the clientele of the company and the investing public in denominations of $100, $500, and $1,000. The commercial advertisement of the bond company that has undertaken this project mentions the following benefits of the new dormitories: (1) It will solve the problem of providing adequate dormitory facilities; (2) it will rank with the stadium as a prestige getter for Ohio State; (3) it will bring a class of students to Ohio State that would go elsewhere to obtain the advantages of dormitory facilities; (4) it will serve as a social center for the University; (5) it will provide an investment having no superior.

We have been asked if the dormitory idea is dead or only sleeping at Wisconsin. We believe it is only sleeping, but, like many another important university undertaking, the body which can most easily arouse the sleeper is the Board of Regents.

Students must be divided into two great divisions: those who are socially surfeited and those who are socially starved. The first group has little cause to think of the advantages of dormitories even though they may need the influence more than their less financially fortunate fellow students. Members of the second group are not sufficiently well acquainted or sufficiently well organized to make their needs felt. Students, faculty, and graduates should co-operate in every way possible with the Regents in carrying out some workable plan for dormitories, and the dormitory need should be viewed, not as need of tomorrow, but as an immediate need of today.

There is little doubt about the real dynamic force behind the whole move which put the Memorial Union fund across. The task has taken toll in no small part from "Ned" Gardner's Skyrocket for Gardner health, but it has not for a minute discouraged him in his fixed resolve to see the thing go through. Professor Gardner had a big thing in mind for Wisconsin. So big a thing that many of us were unable to see the forest for the trees.

"Ned" had to move a tremendous machine to accomplish what he did; there was little oil on the bearings, and the inertia of the mass was very great. He was vibrant with confidence in the face of hard times, lack of money, and general ignorance of the need for his proposition. But he put it over with a bang which will still be ringing in our ears when the new Memorial Union building is erected. So I say, "Skyrocket for Gardner, s'make it a big one."

Graduated from Amherst in 1905; received his M. A. at Columbia in 1908; after two years of graduate work at Columbia came to Wisconsin in the English department in 1909; began teaching commercial correspondence so that it is the oldest advanced college course in that subject in the country. He is now professor of business administration, in charge of marketing and advertising. Author of Effective Business Letters (1915); New Collection Methods (1918); Constructive Dictation (1919); revised Wooley's Handbook of Composition (1920). One of the editors of Administration, a national magazine of business. His salesmanship and organizing ability are responsible for the success of the student campaign for $100,000 for the Memorial Union.—Commerce Magazine.

It is interesting to find that among about 7,000 students now at the University over 6,000 record membership in some religious organization.

Religion Statistics Roman Catholics lead with 1,400. Protestant denominations are headed by the Methodists with 1,050. Congregationalists rank next with 875, followed by Presbyterians with 850. Lutherans and Episcopalians have 600 each. Of the Baptists there are 275, Hebrews 135, Disciples 100, Reformed 75, Unitarians and Evangelicals 50 each. In addition there are 215 others.

Estimates place annual expenditures by religious organizations in providing services, Bible classes, and general religious work for students at about $50,000. Investments in land, buildings, and endowments now amount to close on half a million dollars.

Several co-operative undertakings have been accomplished through the Campus Religious Council, an interdenominational organization consisting of one religious worker, one professor, and five students from most of the organizations interested in campus religious work.

After speaking of benefits of local club scholarships to the individual recipients and to the institution, the Yale Alumni Weekly adds, "But of no less importance is the inevitable effect Local Club Scholarships upon the association which has made a college education possible for a student of the right sort. Allowed to go on as a purely social organization following the lines of least resistance, the Alumni Association runs the risk of sooner or later ceasing to hold the interest of many of its members. On the other hand, the same group of alumni, grown aware of what they are individually and as a group contributing toward scholarship aid, will almost certainly develop into an increasingly strong organization."

The establishment of the Zona Gale Scholarship by the U. W. Club of New York during the past year received widespread approval and approbation from Wisconsin graduates everywhere. The question of the feasibility of the maintenance of a scholarship is a topic worthy of careful consideration by local U. W. Clubs. We suggest the Foundation Day meeting as a proper time for a devotion of some attention to such commendable undertaking.

THE PROM

By BERTHA BURKHARDT, '23

THE Junior Class will give its Prom at the State Capitol, Friday evening, February 3. James Brader, Madison, is general chairman; he will lead the grand march with the "Prom Queen," Mary Baldwin, La Crosse.

A Pre-Prom dance at Lathrop Jan. 13 started activities. Prom "Movie Benefit" performances of the Film "At the End of the World" were given Jan. 18, 19, and 20.

The Pre-Prom play, "On the Hiring Line," which is the joint production of the three University dramatic societies, will be presented at the new Parkway theatre Feb. 2. Members of the cast are: Roy French, '23, Merle Shaw, '23, Beatrice Humiston, '18, Roberta Loudan, '24, Richard McCaffery, '23, Horace Wetmore, '24, William Tannewitz, '23, Dixie Davis, '24, and H. S. Rubel, '23.

Prom itself will start at 9:30 and dancing will continue until 3 o'clock the following morning. A twenty-one piece orchestra composed of A. L. Thompson's best musicians has been selected for the occasion and a special feature act will be presented during the evening.

The guests of honor will include Governor J. J. Blaine and Mrs. Blaine, several high state officials, President E. A. Birge, deans of the colleges, judges of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and members of the Alumni Board.

The Prom programs consist of dark brown leather vanity cases for the girls and memorandum pads of the same material for the men with the words "U. W. 1923 Prom" embossed on the cover of each. A ten-page printed program, including the list of dances, quotations, and the list of patrons and patronesses, will be enclosed in these favors.

Formal dinner dances and informal parties will be given by fraternities and parties of men not connected with groups on Saturday evening following Prom. Week-end festivities will close with dinners at the various houses on Sunday.

The Prom chairman, James Brader, is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Pi Epsilon Delta, White Spades, Klu Klux

Klan, Edwin Booth Dramatic Society, and the "W" Club. He is a "W" man, having played on the Varsity football team three years. He was a member of the freshman baseball and swimming teams of 1918-19, and a member of the cast that presented "Mrs. Bumpsted-Leigh," the 1922 Pre-Prom play. He also took part in the 1923 joint dramatic production of "The Marriage of Kitty." He is a member of the all-University traditions committee and was in charge of the distribution of the Wisconsin Athletic Review last semester.

Mary Baldwin is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Council, W. A. A., the Outing Club Board, and Euthenics Club. She was the vice president of Green Button during her freshman year. She was an active member of the Memorial Union Drive committee last fall.

- St. Paul's University Chapel is the first institution of its kind at the University; it is also the first Catholic chapel to be established at any state or secular university in the country. Both the spiritual and the social wants of the students are adequately provided for at this chapel, which is centrally located in the student resident district. Four masses on Sunday, with Benediction at five in the afternoon, are followed by a social study lecture course conducted by the pastor. A passing grade in the examination at the end of the course is credited by the National Catholic Welfare Council. These classes are open to the public.

There are also a number of Catholic social organizations on the campus. Chief of these, the Newman Club, known up to this year as the Catholic Student Association, is becoming an international organization.

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together."

"The surest means of making a vigorous, centralized Alumni Association is through the organization of local associations that help to crystalize alumni opinion, keep alive alumni loyalty by occasional social gatherings and celebrations, and that can function in a business or executive way on short notice."

AKRON

By RUTH STOLTE ALBRIGHT, '18

A MEETING of all Wisconsin alumni was held at the Akron University Club on Nov. 19. After a wire had been sent to our football team at Chicago, luncheon was sandwiched between cheers and songs. Later the returns of the Chicago-Wisconsin game were received play by play over a special wire. Most of us had sore throats from our attempts to keep becoming dignity in the presence of our rivals.

Alumni living in this vicinity are asked to communicate with the secretary at 57 Mayfield Ave., Bell phone, Portage 1468. We believe every alumnus should be connected with an alumni club. At present we number only thirty. We are a unique club in many ways, especially since we vetoed club dues.

Watch us grow!

CHICAGO ALUMNAE

By JESSIE SHEPHERD, '95

THE luncheon given by U. W. Alumnae Club of Chicago at the Palmer House on Dec. 10 was a most enjoyable affair. Ethel Lawler Davis, '14, had charge of the meeting, and she, with the help of her committees, left nothing undone to make the occasion a great success.

Mrs. E. W. Bemis was the speaker of the afternoon. She gave a most interesting address on "The Measure of Our Citizenship," tracing the growth of democracy from ancient times to the present and pointing out some practical applications that all women should be prepared to make in order to help our foreign citizens become more wholly Americanized.

Alice Bemis, '18, gave a brief report of the Memorial Union conference she had attended at the University the previous week. She emphasized the very important part of the alumni play in this great project.

A few matters of business were then taken up; Irma Strassen Brady, '11, was elected secretary. Winifred Bartholf, '19, will have charge of the next meeting. 1-3-'22

CHICAGO ALUMNI

By B. D. BURHOE, ex '13

The annual Football Banquet of the U. W. Club was held Friday evening, Nov. 18, at the Hotel Sherman, 300 loyal Badgers being present. President H. J. Smith, '77, was toastmaster; the meeting opened with the Varsity Toast, football songs, and yells. Between courses Bishop Fallows, '59, spoke in his characteristic inspiring manner, Arthur Curtis, '02, told of earlier games and victories won over seemingly superior teams, and spirit ran high.

The Haresfoot Club gave several numbers: Eugene Juster, ex '18, on the violin, Earl Carpenter, '21, as pianist, and W. G. "Doc" Dorward, '23, as a singer, proving to everyone's satisfaction that Haresfoot equals professional talent.

Israel Shrimski, ex '88, president of the Alumni Association, urged increased support of the Association for the coming year. Col. Wm. Lightfoot Vischer kept the crowd in continuous laughter with his stories and with several character songs—all done in an inimitable manner.

While tellers compiled the election returns, annual reports of committees were presented. O. W. Middleton, '07, who has set a very high standard for his successors on the Luncheon Committee to maintain, reported average attendance on Fridays of 44, the record numbers being 260 on Foundation Day, and over 200 on Nov. 4 when J. W. Wilce, '10, spoke.

The membership committee has enrolled 70 new members, making a total of 400.

Officers elected for 1921-22 are: President, R. F. Schuchardt, '97; vice president, B. D. Burhoe, ex '13; secy-treasurer, B. R. Brindley, '14; directors, E. C. Austin, '12, A. M. Kessenich, '16, O. W. Ray, '78, F. J. Saridakis, '04.

On Nov. 19, immediately after the Chicago game, Dr. Bertram Sippy, ex '88, and Mrs. Sippy (Mabel Lamberson) ex '98, entertained at an open house at their home on Woodlawn Ave. A large number of former Wisconsin men and women gathered there to meet old friends, and the generous hospitality of the hosts was deeply appreciated.

CHICAGO CLUBS WILL OBSERVE FOUNDATION DAY

At the Nov. 25 luncheon our new president, R. F. Schuchardt, '97, outlined his program for the coming year. We want the membership of the club enlarged, and to attain that, two Indian camps, named the Chippewa and Winnebago for distinctive Wisconsin tribes by Historian George Haight, '99, have been established, the Chippewa chief being T. J. Lucas, '07, and the Winnebago chief, A. D. Janes, '17. The two tribes will compete in securing new members and will alternate in giving a series of smokers at the University Club, culminating in a party to be given by the losers late next spring.

The Committee on Relations with the University, consisting of George Haight, '99, J. G. Wray, '93, and F. D. Silber, '94, was announced. C. A. Keller, '99, is chairman of the Foundation Day Luncheon Committee, and this party, a joint affair with the Chicago Alumnae, will be given at the Hotel Sherman, Saturday, Feb. 11. C. L. Byron, '08, is chairman of the Friday Luncheon Committee.

Judge Emil Baensch, '81, of Manitowoc, was present at the luncheon on Dec. 2 and gave a very interesting account of the days when South Hall was a dormitory and the student court over which he presided fined men for sleeping in Y. M. C. A. meetings.

The Chicago Association of Wisconsin Alumnae gave an Open House, Dec. 4, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bemis, 5647 Kenmore Ave. Over 100 attended and voted the party a success in every way.

Coach John Richards, '96, was our guest and speaker at the meeting Dec. 9, being introduced by his former team mate, W. A. Baehr, '99. The coach gave a most interesting account of the past season at Wisconsin and of conditions throughout the Conference, touching upon the need for completion of the Camp Randall Stadium. Mr. Richards also diagramed some plays upon a blackboard, showing us how the systems of attack used by our rivals are met and overcome. It was a great treat for students of the game, which meant everyone of the 90 men present. At the conclusion by a unanimous vote the Club expressed its confidence in Coach Richards. 12-15-'21.

Luncheons of the U. W. Club of Chicago on Dec. 16 and 30 were informal meetings devoted largely to the discussion of plans for the coming year.

December 23, with an illuminated tree to give the proper atmosphere, we enjoyed a Christmas talk by Bishop Fallows, '59. Drawing from his wealth of experience and observation he gave us an invigorating message of inspiration for the New Year.

Charles Wacker, chairman of the Chicago Plan Commission, outlined the future development of the city at luncheon on Jan. 6, at which the alumnae were guests.

T. J. Lucas, '07, has been elected a director of the U. W. Club for one year to succeed W. M. Heymann, '14, resigned.

The first smoker in the series to be given this year in the interest of the membership drive was held at the University Club, Jan. 19. The Winnebago Tribe, of which Chief A. D. Janes '17, is now in charge, set a standard which will be difficult for its rivals, the Chippewa, to excel.

Professors O. S. Rundell '10 and J. D. Wickhem '16, of the Law School, and A. B. Hall, of the department of Political Science, were visitors at the luncheon Dec. 30.

Founders' Day will be celebrated in Chicago on Saturday, Feb. 11, at the Hotel Sherman. This affair is under the joint auspices of the U. of W. Club of Chicago and the Chicago Association of Wisconsin Alumnae. The committee in charge consists of: U. W. Club—Chairman, C. A. Keller, '99, Louis Berger, ex '15, N. J. Conrad, '05, E. H. Handy '11, and Harold Weld, '05; Alumnae—Jessie Shepherd, '95, Winifred Bartholf, '19, Alice Bemis, '18, Lucy McGlachlin Berry, '94, Catherine Cleveland, '94, and Mary Farley, '14.

Luncheon will be served in the Tiger Room at 1:30 p. m. An elaborate program has been prepared to follow the luncheon. E. S. Jordan, '05, of the Jordan Motor Car Co., Cleveland, O., will be the principal speaker. Imogene Hand Carpenter, '87, member of the Board of Visitors, will speak on "College Activities." A skit entitled "Trials of a Flapper" will be presented by an all-Badger cast, which means dramatic talent unequalled by any company now at a "Loop" theater. The Glee Club of the U. W. Club will supply real college melody.

After this program there will be dancing from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Visitors in the city on this date are cordially invited to join the party which will without question be the "best ever." 1-10-'22.

DETROIT ALUMNAE

By LUCY ROGERS, '18

Increased enthusiasm marks every meeting of the U. W. Women's Club of Detroit, and the first luncheon in 1922, on Jan. 7, augurs well for the future of the club. Sixteen were in attendance; in the absence of Isabelle Gamble Winchester, '15, president, Edith Johnson Rauch, '06, the vice-president, presided.

Tentative plans were laid at this meeting for the celebration of Founders' Day by a banquet early in February, at which S. H. Goodnight, '05, dean of men at the University, will speak. Members are asked to watch the local papers for further announcements as to the date and program; notices will also be sent out to individuals.

A clipping from the U. W. Press Bulletin on the growth of the Alumni Association was read by the secretary and the suggestion made that members of the club who are not already members of the Association take steps to join, in order that the club may have a 100 per cent membership.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, members went in a body to the Federation of Clubs for the reception and exhibit of the American Association of University Women for the local high school senior girls. The U. W. Women's Club had a booth in charge of Magdalen Cronin Casey, '18, Hazel Hoag, '20, Margaret Reinking, '20, Margaret Quinlan, '21, Lucy Rogers, '18. Banners, Badgers, Cardinals, memory books, pictures, and W. A. A. emblems were used to attract, and a number of Detroit girls were given helpful information about entering the University.

The next meeting of the club will be held on the last Saturday of January, the 28th, at the College Club; all former U. W. women are cordially invited to attend. Reservations may be made through Harriet Hutson Crocker, '08, by the preceding Thursday, for the luncheon.

WATCH FOR THE DATE OF THE FOUNDATION DAY BANQUET!

DULUTH

By J. G. NYE, '14

I am mailing a cut of the president of our local alumni association, Lewis Castle, '13. Mr. Castle is very prominent in local business and civic circles. He is at present assistant cashier of the Northern Nat'l

Bank of Duluth and vice president of the Riverside Bank, as well as being interested in a number of other business enterprises. It was largely through the interest and enthusiasm of Mr. Castle that the successful entertainment of the Wisconsin crews last spring and the general success of the Regatta were due.

The other officers of our club are Oliver Andresen, '00, attorney at law, who has for years been one of the most enthusiastic, loyal, and hard-working alumni in this part of the country. It was largely through his influence and interest that the local alumni have been held together. J. G. Nye, secretary, is an attorney at law with the firm of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell. Harold Matteson, '15, treasurer, is an accountant with J. S. Matteson, C. P. A.

We have had a letter from Carl Bronson, '22, of the Haresfoot Club and things begin to look quite hopeful that we may be able to get the club here next spring. 12-16-21

INDIANAPOLIS

The U. W. Club of Indianapolis plans to observe Foundation Day. During the past few years our Foundation Day meeting has excelled all of our other gatherings in attendance. The date depends upon the convenience of the speaker we have invited from the University. We hope to have him with us on Saturday, Feb. 4.

FARGO

By H. L. WALSTER, '08

The fifty or more alumni and former students living in Fargo, N. D., and in Moorhead, Minn., have held three enthusiastic meetings this winter. The club was launched at a reorganization meeting held at the Commercial Club, Fargo, Nov. 12. Dr. M. P. Rindlaub, Jr., '96, was chosen president, Magdalena Carpenter Birch, '09, vice president; Dr. H. L. Walster, '08, secretary; Clara Richards, '06, treasurer; B. C. Tighe, '08, member of executive committee; Dr. J. G. Dillon, '00, cheer leader and Prof. A. P. Hollis, '97, song leader.

On Nov. 21 we gathered again at the Commercial Club, re-enforced by a score or more of U. W. folk who are teaching in North Dakota and who were in Fargo attending the annual meeting of the N. D. State Teachers' Ass'n. Prof. P. W. Dykema, of the Music department, was our guest of honor. He brought us a message of love from the varsity and told it in such a way that each person present felt as though he or she had received a personal message. Dr. Dykema closed his most pleasing address by teaching us the new Wisconsin song, "Wisconsin Evermore."

Prof. A. W. Hopkins, '03, was our guest of honor at our last dinner, held at the Waldorf Hotel, Tuesday evening, Dec. 13. Over thirty former Badgers, now domiciled in the Flicker-tail State, including some half dozen county agents, apostles of the Wisconsin idea on the prairie farms of North Dakota, heard "Andy" tell us about the growth of the Varsity, about the changes that have taken place, and about what the future holds. Two reels of moving pictures showed Varsity life and events and gave us a glimpse of the possibilities that will attend the completion and use of the Memorial Union. M. E. Diemer, '08, is to be congratulated upon the splendid Wisconsin films he has produced. Every alumni club in the United States will want to see these pictures. They were so good that we shall all soon cry for more.—12-19-21.

DULUTH MEETS AT HOLLAND GRILL, NOON FEB. 6

MOSCOW

By W. M. GIBBS, '16

A meeting of all Wisconsin men on the Idaho and Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station faculties was held in the University Hut, Friday night, Nov. 12. The room was beautifully decorated in red and white, and many Wisconsin wares were in evidence. One of the best features of the evening was a guessing contest as to the exact location of 20 views snapped on or near the Wisconsin campus. The area covered by the pictures extended from Black Hawk Cave to Tenny Park. They all brought back fond memories and several persons located 18 of the 20 views. Hausmann's brewery was represented by a barrel from which we imbibed freely (cider). Everything was truly Wisconsin and as the evening waned the pep increased until the echo of Badger songs and yells could be heard over the campus.

Before adjourning, a Wisconsin Club was formed with Prof. C. W. Hungerford, '15, president and Prof. W. M. Gibbs, '16, sec'y-treasurer.

Those who attended were: C. W. Hungerford, '15, and Mrs. Hungerford; J. E. Wodsedalek, '10, and Hazel Phillips Wodsedalek, '14; R. K. Bonnett, '16, and Mrs. Bonnett; E. Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor; J. H. Johnson, '09, and Evangeline Fryette Johnson, '13; V. H. Young, '13, and Mrs. Young; W. M. Gibbs, '16, and Mrs. Gibbs; L. E. Longley, and Mrs. Longley; A. P. Ludberg, '11, and Everetta Bass Ludberg, '11; J. J. Gill and Mrs. Gill; R. A. Muttkowski, '13.

Several Wisconsinites were unable to attend, but there are over 20 faculty members who have at some time done undergraduate or graduate study at Wisconsin, or have been on that faculty. 12-27-'21.

NEW YORK

Our U. W. Club has planned a series of interesting meetings for the winter. We are anxious to have every Wisconsin alumnus in New York City or its vicinity enrolled in the Association. To enable the officers to meet the expenses incidental to securing prominent speakers and in making arrangements for the meetings, it is necessary to have a large paid membership. On the reorganization of the club last year, it was decided, after discussion, that yearly dues of Three Dollars would cover these expenses.

The Zona Gale Scholarship we established seems destined to become one of the most interesting and noteworthy projects of any of the U. W. Clubs. Our protégé, R. F. Weber, of Brooklyn, seems quite to have taken the University by storm—both the undergraduate body and the faculty. The scholarship is receiving favorable comment in the press and in magazines throughout the country. The cost of the scholarship is $700 a year.

PITTSBURGH

By K. A. BENNETT, '14

The U. W. Alumni Club of Pittsburgh has grown by leaps and bounds during the last year under the able leadership of C. J. Jacobson, '12, president, and M. E. Skinner, '14, vice president. The last meeting was the annual Fall Frolic on the top of Mt. Nebo, which proved to be a great success and was enjoyed by the ladies and men alike. R. H. ("Doc") Johnson, '11, initiated his new car by forgetting his road map, losing his way, and taking a short cut through barnyards, stubble fields, and several extra long miles of moist highways. H. A. ("Doc") Heise, '13, and his wife drove from Uniontown. Young "Dad" F. N. Winter, '87, and his wife played twelve innings of errorless ball. John Farris, '07, ran a taxi from the railroad station to the dining hall and safely umpired part of the ballgame. Viola Dillman Skinner, ex '15, placed seventh in the quoits tournament. She got away with a poor start but made several rings after moving closer to the stake. E. J. Stephany, '13, unattached, paid full admission but got his money's worth at the table.

All members of the association here were sorry to have C. L. Jamison, '13, one of our most loyal and active members, leave us for Minneapolis during the year. C. H. Powell, '13, of Milwaukee has been taking some work at the University of Pittsburgh and has been attending our meetings. A. W. Nance, '10, is serving his second year as secretary of the Western Conference Alumni Association of Pittsburgh.

Wisconsin had a good crowd out at the sixth annual Big Ten "Jamboree" Saturday, Dec. 10. R. C. "Bob" Zuppke, '05, Illinois coach, was the principal speaker of the evening. Plans are in the making for the annual strictly Wisconsin smoker which is always held during the winter months.—12-14-'21.

TWIN CITY ALUMNAE

By SARAH SPENSLEY MICHENER, '18

Modern tendencies of the American drama, with particular reference to dramatizations from books, were described by Ariel Macnaughton (Grad. '17), director of dramatics at Minnesota U, during a luncheon which the Twin City Alumnae Club of Wisconsin gave in the Hotel Leamington, Minneapolis, Saturday, Dec.

INDIANAPOLIS WILL OBSERVE FOUNDATION DAY

10. Miss Macnaughton, who is an active member of the alumnae group, has charge of all student plays on the Minnesota campus. She gave a very interesting and stimulating address. The luncheon was followed by bridge playing.

Badger alumnae and former students who now live in Minneapolis and St. Paul are invited to join the alumnae club and attend its monthly meetings. Mirah Congdon, '04, 904 W. Franklin Ave., Minneapolis, is secretary.—12-14-'21.

BOOK NOTES

Puritan and Pagan (Henry Holt & Co., N. Y. $1.75) by Elizabeth Corbett, '10, the scene of which is set amidst New York art and theatrical circles, is the story of a schooling in which strong characters learn to make the best of fate; it pictures for the vast majority of the less great, whose course of true love does run, in general, more or less smoothly, the inevitable fate of one who cannot sacrifice a career for domestic bliss. The New York Times calls it "captivating—a novel of power and subtlety," while the Boston Transcript speaks of the leading characters as "magnificent women, women endowed beyond the ordinary run of their sex. They are figures, personalities. * * * Mary Allen stands in her book world in much the same position that Mary Garden holds in our real world. This book succeeds completely in fascinating us."

S. J. Buck, '04, superintendent of the Minn. Historical Society, has recently forwarded to Headquarters a copy of The Twenty-first Biennial Report of the Society.

The Social Philosophy of Carlyle and Ruskin (Harcourt Brace & Co., N. Y.) by Frederick William Roe, junior dean and associate professor of English at the University.

"This will be accounted, one may well believe, among the worthy volumes of a year productive of many books of mark.

"Prof. Roe's work is not a perfunctory academic production, but a serious and illuminating interpretation of the philosophy of two great apostles of social and economic reform, and of the times which gave rise to them. The author's foreword gives the key to his attitude toward his subject. He would 'fain hope that the challenging message of these prophets, delivered in a time of profound transformations in the structure of society, might not be without inspiration and guidance for our own day, a day even more disturbed than theirs, more fraught with unrest and uncertainty, when men everywhere are listening for authentic voices that shall speak counsels worthy to be followed. For the social-philosophy of Carlyle and Ruskin is not a matter of academic interest for a few leisured scholars and book-lovers alone.

It is rather a trumpet-call to workers, old and young, workers alike with hand and with brain, to put forth their utmost efforts, in the midst of the present confusion for the purpose of effecting an ordered revolution of our industrial system, so that civilization in reality may become what for generations at least it has not been, "the humanization of man in society."

"There is a virility and an earnestness in the manner in which Prof. Roe treats his subject which impress one, and these with a style of rare lucidity make the book entertaining and inspiring far beyond the ordinary discussions of social and economic theories. With so vigorous and clear a style and a background of deep seriousness it could not well be otherwise than that the book should be one of the most readable and stimulating discussions of the work of the two great Victorian prophets that has come from the pen of an American."—W. J. Anderson, '96, in Wisconsin State Journal.

Tobacco in Wisconsin, by James Johnson, '09, and C. M. Slagg, '16, bulletin 337 of the Agricultural Experiment Station, prints the following digest of the contents: The Havanna seed or Spanish type is best suited to Wisconsin; the best quality of tobacco is grown on the sandy loam or prairie loam soils; rotation and the use of resistant strains help to control root rot; steaming the seed beds makes plant growing easy; sowing the seed too thickly in the seed beds is the most common fault among Wisconsin growers; more commercial fertilizers can be used with profit; late planting is often more desirable if tobacco must be planted on the old fields—on new tobacco land, early planting; the essentials for successful curing are: favorable weather conditions, a properly built shed and an understanding of how to manage the process; neatness and uniformity of the bundles and careful attention to grading will increase the value of the crop.

ATHLETICS

By T. E. JONES

THE Conference Basketball Season opened very auspiciously for Wisconsin at Iowa City with an 18 to 15 win in a game that was full of thrills. At no time from the opening whistle to the final gun was the outcome assured; the immense crowd which packed the new armory was given an exhibition of real basketball.

Following this good beginning, the Badgers stopped at Evanston on the way home long enough to take the Purple into camp with a score of 21 to 9, and the loyal followers are beginning to lift up their heads and boast of 1000% teams.

The very good beginning is exceedingly gratifying after a preliminary season which witnessed the first defeat a Wisconsin team has ever suffered in a pre-Conference program, and a series of games which did not at any time cause the Badger rooters any deep and abiding confidence, though most of them concealed the fact and joined in the popular chorus of "Just wait till we get going." The team seems to have justified this faith and is opening up with a swing which should carry it through its first semester's program without defeat. We had strong competition from Michigan on Saturday, Jan. 14, and met Minnesota on the following week end, Jan. 21.

Scores to date:

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

	Home	Opp.
Dec. 10—Mich. Aggies at Madison	27	13
Dec. 16—Butler at Madison	20	26
Dec. 17—Ripon at Madison	27	17
Dec. 20—Knox at Madison	15	9
Dec. 22—"M" Club at Milwaukee	23	19
Dec. 23—Normal at La Crosse	34	21
Jan. 4—Nebraska at Madison	27	14

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Jan. 7—Iowa at Iowa City	18	15
Jan. 9—Northwestern at Evanston	21	9
Jan. 14—Michigan at Madison	18	16
Jan. 21—Minnesota at Madison	15	17

Coach Steinauer has developed a strong swimming team which should count in the Conference reckoning if it is able to overcome the old eligibility bugbear which has ruined more than one promising team in its second semester. In its first competition this year with the Milwaukee Athletic Club at Milwaukee, it ran up a score of 40 points against 28 for the M. A. C. to the surprise of nearly everybody, including the Club. The victory was especially pleasing in that the swimming team of this club easily ranks with the best in the Conference and would indicate a good winning chance for the Badgers if the team can be kept intact for the second semester, which has the Conference program in this sport.

Other activities about the gymnasium include wrestling with nearly 75 men reporting daily for work; this means that Coach Hitchcock will have some job in picking his team. The wrestling card features matches with Lawrence, Minnesota, Chicago, and Ames. This last-named meet will be the hardest of the season, the Iowa team having been recognized for many years as a leader in this sport. The Conference meet will be held at Madison on March 17-18.

Track men and baseball men are reporting for practice daily. In the latter sport battery men only are being instructed. Because of lessons learned in a bitter school, that of Experience, coaches are stressing scholastic eligibility at this time as the most important phase of the athlete's training.

Out of doors the interest centers around the hockey field which has been constructed on the lower campus where Dr. Viner is developing a representative sextet. Dr. Viner is an expert player and a hockey enthusiast, and despite the fact that only one player, Captain Grieve, '22, is back from the team of two years ago, many of the men have had experience in the sport before coming to the University and are showing up well. Bleachers will be erected for spectators at the matches which have been scheduled with Michigan and Minnesota; and it is believed that the general interest in the sport will be increased with the rink where the spectators will be more or less sheltered. A further advantage lies in a rink kept in good condition, since the uneven weight caused by cleaning snow from off the ice made it almost impossible to keep a rink on the lake in playing condition.

Robert Quick, instructor in the Physical Education department and manager of ticket sales, has left the University and has joined the federal prohibition forces in Milwaukee. With the exception of 30 months which were spent in military service, Quick has held his position for about 10 years.

DEATHS

LEWIS MATURIN FISHER, '72, prominent Davenport, Ia., attorney, died at his home on Nov. 19. Mr. Fisher at the time of his death was the oldest as well as one of the most successful practicing lawyers in Davenport. His widow, one son, and two daughters survive him.

ALFRED H. BRIGHT, '74, chief counsel to the "Soo" lines at Minneapolis, died of apoplexy at his home in Minneapolis, Sept. 20. Mr. Bright was born in Jefferson County, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1850. He was the son of a Baptist minister. He was a loyal and interested alumnus, who returned to Madison regularly for the joys of Commencement week.

HENRY C. PROCHAZKA, '12, was killed in an explosion of an oil still at the plant of the Roxana Petroleum Co. at Roxana, Ill., Dec. 5. Burial was at Manitowoc. Following graduation the deceased was for several years assistant superintendent of the University heating station.

WAYNE MOSELEY, '00, practicing attorney at Cando, N. D., died on Dec. 26. Mr. Moseley came to the University from Sparta; after graduation he spent two years studying law at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., completing his professional course at Wisconsin in 1903. He married Josephine Wells, '03, of Portage, who with their two children, his mother, and a brother, Ray Moseley, '08, survive him.

Burial was at Portage.

DOUGLAS MCKEY, '11, prominent among the younger business men of Milwaukee, died at his home, 414 Irving Place, Dec. 13, of pneumonia. Mr. McKey was born at Janesville. After graduating from the University he entered the offices of the Wisconsin Trust Co. When consolidation with the First Trust Co. occurred he remained as secretary. He resigned this position a year ago to become secretary-treasurer of the Durant Mfg. Co. and the American Filter Co. When he resigned from the trust company he was elected a member of the board of directors and has since acted in that capacity. Mr. McKey is survived by his widow and one son.

HAL R. MARTIN, '12, Madison attorney, drowned on Jan. 6, when his car broke through the ice about 1000 feet from the Yahara River on Lake Monona, while he was attempting to drive across the lake. Mr. Martin was hurrying to his home, where a party for the evening was scheduled, when the tragedy occurred.

After graduation and admission to the bar Mr. Martin practiced law in Edgerton for some years; later he became associated with a Rockford manufacturing concern. A few years ago he developed the municipal traffic post since which time he has been general manager of the Municipal Traffic Devices Inc., with offices in the Washington building. He leaves a wife and two children.

DOROTHY ROBERTS, '17, assistant professor of home economics, died in the University infirmary on Dec. 12 as a result of shock and burns caused by the explosion of an alcohol lamp. The accident happened on Dec. 7 in the laboratory where Miss Roberts was conducting an experiment.

Miss Roberts came to the University from California in 1916, entering as a senior. She has taught in the department of Home Economics since her graduation. As a memorial to her, women students in her department gave Christmas gifts to children of the poor in Madison.

"The accident that caused her death has taken one of the most loved and admired instructors of the University. Her untimely passing is mourned by all who knew her. We mourn her because of her genial friendliness because of her true worth as a teacher and as a friend. To her near friends and relatives we extend our sincere sorrow and sympathy."—Daily Cardinal.

ANSLEY B. MCCONNELL, '22, of Darlington, died on Dec. 14, at the University infirmary, of pneumonia, after a losing fight of nearly two weeks. McConnell entered the University in 1916. Immediately, upon declaration of war the following year, he enlisted, serving a year and a half overseas. Since his return to school in 1919 he has been prominent in school activities. He was recently elected treasurer of the Interfraternity conference. McConnell's greatest interest lay in musical circles. He played in the University band and was a member of the 1921 music committee. He was 24 years of age.

L. E. ANDERSON, a student in the Short Course, died on Dec. 19, from appendicitis. Mr. Anderson came to the University from Sheboygan; he was 31 years of age.

F. W. NOTZ, noted educator and former Regent of the University, died in Milwaukee, Dec. 16 at the age of 80 years. Dr. Notz was a graduate of the University of Teubingen, Germany. Upon arriving in America in 1866 he became professor of ancient languages at the University of Pennsylvania, giving up this position for one on the faculty of Muehlenberg College. He served for several years as secretary of the German-American Press Ass'n and as president of the German Educational Ass'n of Pennsylvania. For a short time he was a member of the faculty of Gettysburg College. He is remembered as a professor at Northwestern College, Watertown, where he made his home for many years. In 1912 he was appointed Regent of the University, serving until 1918.

CLASS NEWS

A Christmas message from Bishop FALLOWS is featured on the front page of the Wisconsin Farmer for December 22. The story of the Bishop's useful and interesting life, which accompanies the message, concludes: "Bishop Fallow's loyalty to his old State and his interest in its welfare have never wavered. This loyalty and interest have found their chief expression in his participation in the annual Commencement exercises at the University of Wisconsin. He assisted in the organization of the Alumni Association in 1862 and was elected its first vice president. He is still an active member of the Association and has been a familiar figure at reunions since his graduation, having frequently given addresses for memorial and dedicatory exercises. He delivered the address at the dedication of the Union Memorial building at the University this fall. His erect and martial figure is still practically unbent under the weight of his 86 years; his once raven hair has not yet surrendered its native blackness, while his eloquent voice rings seemingly as clearly as ever with the golden fluency which has been his gift from the beginning. Class after class has come and gone at the University, but Bishop Fallows has returned year after year to Commencement, thus typifying, as it were, the recurring youth, or 'eternal now' which is of the substance of University life. That this gracious privilege may be vouchsafed him and the State and University thus honored is, needless to say, the holiday felicitation, which the people of the whole State will silently, if not formally, extend him at this happy season."

5308 Hyde Park Blvd.

E. S. WHITE writes: "The sun is bright, the weather clear; we'd enjoy it more, if you were here." (signed Frank PORTER and Emil BAENSCH). The above laconic communique was received in due season by your Secretary and was followed a few weeks later by a personal call from our illustrious fellow member, Hon. Emil B. Judge Baensch was a delegate to the Bankers' Convention at Los Angeles and went via the Northern Route, stopping at Seattle, where he spent several delightful days much in the company of Classmate Edward BRADY. He reports "Ed" as having waxed large in body and plethoric in pocketbook—looks fine, lives handsomely, and welcomes old friends most cordially.

"Emil regrets his report on Frank Porter must be tinged with sadness. Frank had energetically worked himself up to the enviable position of dean of the Law School of Lower California, when suddenly his health failed him and he has been voted a six months' vacation to recuperate. May his recovery be rapid and complete is the wish of all '81ers.

"By a happy co-incidence, Emil breezed into Chicago on Friday just in time to be our guest at the weekly noonday luncheon, always held at the Palmer House, which is always attended by at least one hundred alumni. This happened to be a propitious day, when once a month the alumnae also attend. The Lieutenant Governor was called on for remarks and responded very felicitously. Reminiscences were indulged in and college pranks of forty years ago were related, hardly consorting with the dignity and urbanity of the speaker.

"The Secretary of 1881 has been sick for the past three weeks with bronchitis. Anyone having anything of interest to the class will confer a favor by dropping him a line." 12-11-'21.

Reune in June!

The way you people of 1902 didn't reply to our request for suggestions about the reunion reminds us of the way you used to respond when called upon to recite by Messrs Haskins, Scott, Turner, '84, Pyre, '92, and others. Very well, if you won't help prepare the schedule of events for our Reunion Circus next June, don't throw things at the ringmaster when these events occur. The committee would like to know, however, how many nineteenthozers we may expect; it makes a difference to us who must secure a meeting place whether we make requisition for the gymnasium or a washroom in North Hall.

The committee is very anxious that you should bring the bairn—all of 'em—the clumsy boy with big feet, the diffident daughter with little ones. If you have an institution that rides in a carriage, bring "it"; the committee guarantees to furnish a bachelor classmate to push the vehicle in the parade.

Meanwhile continue to drop metallic discs into that stocking bank—next month we shall expect a report.

BACK TO MADISON
IN JUNE

1922

This is the year:

Back in 1917 you said there were few things that could prevent your returning to reunite in June, 1922, providing the war was over.

The war is over; the tax is off on railroad fares, and there will be no tax on the entertainment now being worked out by the Reunion Committee under Harry Bullis.

Absolutely the first choice in reunion headquarters has been reserved for 1917 by the Committee on Local Arrangements headed by George Chandler, and the following subcommittees are going to produce something original in reunion features:

Regalia: Genevieve Penhallegon Fox, Eleanor Ramsay, Helen Snaddon. Decoration: Frances Bacon, George Cargill, William Frazier. Barquet Stunts: Madeline Willman, "Billy" Ross, "Bob" Snaddon. Class Day: "Os" Fox, Ruth Chase, Meade Burke.

The time is June 18, 19, 20.

CAMPUS NOTES

E. A. Gilmore, professor of law, has been appointed vice governor-general of the Philippine Islands.

Here is the biography of the Philippine's new vice-governor:

Eugene Allen Gilmore—A.B., De Pauw; LL.B., Harvard Law School; Professor of Law, Wisconsin; former acting dean; sometime nonresident lecturer in law, U. of the Philippines; sometime professor of law, U. of California; School of Jurisprudence, Columbia Law School; U. of Chicago Law School.

Former president Ass'n of American Law Schools; Secretary Nat'l Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. Author of treaties and monographs on various legal subjects.

Greek letter societies: Delta Kappa Epsilon, Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Kappa Phi.

Editor, Cases on Partnership; Modern American Law, 15 vols. Joint editor, Documentary History of American Industrial Society.

Professor Gilmore was born at Brownville, Neb., July 4, 1871. He was married to Miss Blanche Basye, of Rockport, Ind., Dec. 27, 1899.

Several professors in history attended the American Historical Ass'n Dec. 27-30. They were: Professors C. R. Fish, W. C. Chase, W. T. Root, M. I. Rostovtzeff, F. L. Paxson, and Martha Edwards, '13.

A total of 147 foreign students from 24 other countries or American territories are enrolled at the University. This includes 131 men and 16 women. The Chinese representation of 57 men and 4 women is the largest.

Sixty-eight persons were rescued from drowning in Lake Mendota during the past season by Capt. Thomas Isabell of the life-saving station.

Over 100 college teachers of journalism and advertising and editors of college news bulletins met at the University Dec. 28-30 for the annual conventions of the four national organizations: the American Ass'n of Teachers of Journalism; the Ass'n of American Schools and Departments of Journalism; the American Ass'n of College News Bureaus; and the central division of the Nat'l Ass'n of Teachers of Advertising.

G. W. Davies, secretary of the Wis. Live Stock Breeders' Ass'n, addressed the Agric Triangle recently on "How to Organize a Rural Community."

"Reconstruction is the watchword of the day," said Rabbi Felix Levy of Chicago at a meeting of the Jewish students at a recent Sunday evening service, "reconstruction, not only of the depleted finances and devastated regions of the world, but also of the moral structure of our life."

Prof. D. W. Mead of the College of Engineering, addressed a meeting of the American Ass'n of Engineers Dec. 20 on the nature and industrial importance of the Great Lakes to St. Lawrence tidewater project.

"Scientific Determination of the Content of the Elementary School Course in Reading," by Prof. W. L. Uhl of the department of Education, is soon to come from the press as No. 3 in the Social Sciences and History series of the Wisconsin Studies.

Italian courses have enrolled 70 pupils, twice the number of last year.

A half century of co-education was completed at the University, Dec. 20.

Menorah societies of 73 universities and colleges of the United States and Canada were represented at the Intercollegiate Menorah convention, which was held in Lathrop Hall, Dec. 27-29. The purpose of these societies is to promote the study of Hebrew culture and ideals.

Free sleeping quarters in the Dairy Bldg. have been provided at the Swiss cheese specialists' dairy school, held from Jan. 30 to Feb. 11.

A co-ed's wardrobe at Wisconsin averages about $637, according to the result of a survey made by 20 home economic juniors. The highest total of any one student is $1,159.49; the lowest $214.75.

About 9,300 Badger boys and girls earned more than $122,000 last year as a result of the activity of 435 organized clubs, according to T. L. Bewick, '06, State boys' and girls' club leader.

The $14,000 subscribed by the faculty to the Memorial Union Fund during the recent campaign brings the total faculty subscription to date to $25,000.

A total of $1,500 was subscribed to the student friendship fund, the gift of American colleges and universities to European students.

Tutoring classes will be conducted by the Y. M. C. A. to help students prepare for final examinations.

Linden Drive is to be widened in order to take its proper place in the proposed new agricultural campus, the "Agriquadrangle."

Louise Strang, instructor in home economics, gave a lecture recently on the paintings by William Wendt and Frederick Waugh which were on exhibition in the Museum during December.

" Skiing in the Sierra Nevadas" is the topic on which Dr. H. C. Bradley addressed the Outing Club at its December meeting.

Two members of the football team, Rolland Williams, '23, and George Bunge, '22, were given places on the mythical all-conference eleven picked by Coach Howard Jones of Iowa.

Major W. F. Lorenz, professor of neuropsychiatry at the University, has been awarded the D.S.M. "for exceptionally meritorious and distinct services as commanding officer of Field Hospital No. 127 and while in personal charge of the Triage sorting station for wounded of the Thirty-second Division during the combat activities of that division on the Marne, Oise-Aisne, and in the Meuse Argonne he so displayed indefatigable zeal and exceptionally good judgment in sorting, caring for, and evacuating thousands of wounded, as to directly result in the saving of many lives."

More than 7,000 copies of "Wisconsin Evermore," the music for which was composed by H. W. Willett, '23, had been sold by December 9. During Christmas week it was sung at the Parkway Theatre and placed on sale for the benefit of the Empty Stocking fund.

Professors F. A. Aust, F. R. Gifford, C. J. Humphrey, J. G. Moore appeared on the program of the 55th annual convention of the State Horticultural Society, Dec. 14-16.

The Little Theater troupe of the Wisconsin Library School, which presented a benefit program at Lathrop Hall on Dec. 12 realized a profit of $135, which will be used towards furnishing the new co-operative house on Charter Street. Three plays: "The Will," by J. M. Barrie, and "The Window to the South" and "The Early Ohios and Rhode Island Reds," by Mary Reely of the Library Commission, were read. Those who took part were: Dean F. W. Roe; Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Fish; Mrs. W. T. Root; Anna Birge, '06; William Haake, Dean S. H. Goodnight, '05; Dean Harry Glicksman, '07; Mrs. Arthur Beatty; Rev. N. F. L. Clapp, associate professor of education, on Dec. 8 delivered two lectures in Superior before normal school students and city teachers on "More Effective Teaching" and "Responsibility of the Teacher;" at the convention of county school boards held in Waukesha on Dec. 5, he spoke on "The Responsibility of the Community for its Schools."

Alumni of the College of Agriculture will be asked to compete in the "Agri-Home Ec song contest," according to B. B. Langen, '23, manager of the Agricultural College Federation song writing contest. First prize consists of a silver loving cup; second, a cigarette case or a bon-bon dish.

Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, announces the election of seniors T. G. Klenn, R. H. Bruce, C. E. Hunziker, W. D. O'Connor; and juniors W. I. Senger, W. H. Porth, A. J. Nerad, R. P. Anderson, I. L. Wade.

Through efforts of operator Malcolm Hanson, ex '18, and Professor E. M. Terry, '04, Wisconsin probably leads all other states in broadcasting useful information and concerts by radiophone. The recent Josef Lhevinne concert was heard over 18 states and Canada.

Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, recently elected the following seniors: L. H. Garber; T. G. Glenn; E. G. Drew; A. J. Huegel; C. H. Kirk; P. H. Moon; F. W. Nolte; C. L. Neumeister; H. H. Wheaton; A. F. Rholfing; G. P. Ryan; and F. A. Buese. E. C. Meyers was initiated as the junior with the highest standing.

The Memorial Union, according to some of the heads of departments and organizations which will use the building, should provide two halls of different capacities: one of about 1,200 to accommodate gatherings for lectures, plays, and recitals, and the other of about 4,000 to serve as an auditorium.

Chistmas Customs of early days were described by Prof. C. R. Fish at a meeting of the Fellowship Club at the Y. M. C. A. shortly before the holidays.

Varsity gridiron letters, the "W" emblems awarded to football players, were recently conferred by the Athletic Board upon the following seniors: Guy Sundt, Geo. Bunge, Alvah Elliott, Stevens Gould, Gordon Nelson, Carl Christianson; and upon Oscar Kiessling, and Rolland Williams, juniors. Thos. Stavrum, '22, was awarded the manager's "W" and Sundt and Bunge each received their fourth letters for football.

Fifty dollars was awarded the winner of the Prom fox trot contest.

The World's Student Christian Federation conference in Peking, China, this spring will be represented by Helen Kasbeer and Carl Rogers, juniors, who have been chosen as two of the four undergraduate delegates-at-large from the United States.

Changes in Pan-Hellenic rules are being considered that will enable sororities which have broken regulations to carry appeals to committees composed of Pan-Hellenic members, of alumnae, or of faculty members. A vote of four out of five will be necessary to convict a sorority.

The Men's Glee Club gave its 34th annual home concert at the Parkway Theatre on Dec. 16. The program of worth-while selections received much favorable comment. The club sang in Chicago on Jan. 13 and in Rockford the evening following. In the spring the tour will cover Oshkosh, Neenah, and Milwaukee; and on March 24 another concert will be given in Madison.

Alif Min and Delta Chi, with 1.98 and 1.88 points, respectively, lead in scholastic standing among the 37 fraternities. Delta Zeta and Alpha Xi Delta lead the sororities with 1.86 and 1.73 points respectively. Alpha Chi Sigma, with 1.95 points, and Phi Beta Pi, with 1.65, lead the professional fraternities. The average for all students is 1.44.

A letter from John Gowdy, president of the Anglo-Chinese College, to Prof. E. A. Ross, in which the work of John Childs, '11, Wisconsin's representative in China, is highly praised, appears in the Capital Times of Dec. 20.

Outside activities are blamed for the low marks of freshmen by the Commerce Advisory Commission.

"99% Nerve and 1% Talent," by Wm. Purnell, '22, won first prize at the Union Vodvil performance, Dec. 10. A ballot was taken at the door following the performance.

U W economists to attend the annual meeting of the American Economic Ass'n were Professors R. T. Ely; J. R. Commons; E. A. Ross; D. D. Leschier; and F. H. Elwell, '08.

Dean C. S. Slichter was elected president of the Ass'n of All Cosmopolitan and International clubs recently. The publication of the association's monthly has been turned over to the Wisconsin chapter. Grace Langdon, graduate student in journalism, is editor-in-chief and E. G. Ash, business manager.

Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, former dean of women, addressed the women's mass meeting at Missouri U. on Dec. 1 on "College Women as Good Citizens."

The Chinese students at the University sent a telegram to the Disarmament Conference voicing a protest against the 21 demands made by Japan.

"Jerusalem Junction," the 24th annual production of Haresfoot, to be given in the spring, is a satire on blue laws.

F. A. Ogg, professor of political science, is editor of one of the most important works ever undertaken by a member of the University. This series of authoritative books on American and international political science will number about 15 volumes written by professors in Chicago, Yale, California, and other American universities.

Lodging and board are the greatest expenses placed upon the student, being more than his tuition, laboratory fees, books, and other incidentals, according to E. A. Fitzpatrick, lecturer in education and secretary of the State Board of Education.

Philomathia, supporting the negative side, won from Athenae, Dec. 17 on the question: "Resolved that a system of compulsory unemployment insurance, applicable to at least a majority of industrial workers, be adopted by Wisconsin."

Sophomore men voted recently to abolish all hazing and recommended that freshmen who do not wear the green cap lose their suffrage privileges and be deprived of the right to take part in school activities or to join any fraternity while at the University.

"Youth" was the topic of Rabbi Felix Levy's Sunday evening address to Jewish students recently. "It is to the youth that the world looks for the real construction that is to come," he said. "In view of this, then, youth must make preparation for the great task." On Jan. 8 he spoke on "Pharisees and Keys to Sociology and Religion."

Seventy-seven mechanical engineers, on measuring the calories and water consumed by the boilers at the Heating Plant, found that the plant is normal and that it is converting 69.42 per cent of the heat energy in the coal fed to it into steam for use on the campus. The daily coal consumption of 86 tons is increased to about 120 in cold weather.

An even $100 was voted to the Student Friendship fund by W. A. A.

"Prom of Proms," submitted by Franklin Pamperin, '22, received the $5 prize which was offered for the best 1923 Prom slogan embodying the idea of representativeness and beauty.

Christmas spirit was evidenced in tangible form by the S. G. A. Christmas trees at the foot of the upper campus.

The purpose and nature of the new course in humanities was explained at convocation recently by Professors B. W. Snow and C. R. Fish, and Sterling Tracy, '22.

A University relief fund, to which each fraternity contributed, was substituted for the customary Christmas parties given for children of needy families.

A remedy for the dishonesty situation at the University was discussed recently by the Sophomore commission of the Y. M. C. A.

Prom tickets this year will cost $7 apiece.

The University Presbyterian Church was organized Sunday, Dec. 18, at the Presbyterian Student Headquarters. Students only will serve as officers.

"Snowflakes" was given by Prof. B. W. Snow before an audience of over 700 students and townspeople recently.

The vested choir of the University Methodist Church gave a concert at Christ Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, Dec. 11, for the benefit of the Student Friendship fund.

A University press, to be established in the basement of the Memorial Union building, is being urged by editors of campus publications.

About 834 persons took correspondence courses in education during the last year.

Waldo Batten, '24, is the only poet in the University who has been given space in this year's anthology of verse, The Poets of the Future, a compilation of college and university verse, in which 68 institutions are represented. "Don't Spoil My Circle" is the poem for which Mr. Batten received honorable mention.

A resumé of the work of the Y. M. C. A. during the past year appears in the Wisconsin State Journal of Jan. 1 and in the Capital Times of Jan. 3.

Prof. A. S. Root, president of the American Library Commission and librarian at Oberlin, addressed the Wis. Library School on Jan. 1 on "The History of Books and Printing."

Co-ed leaders have taken exception to the statement of the faculty that students get too little sleep. Ellen Correll, president of S. G. A., says: "The S. G. A. has a system whereby the number of non-scholastic activities in which a girl may engage is limited. Thus we hope to keep women from having too many interests apart from their school work, so that they will not have to leave their studying until late at night."

Co-eds at Wisconsin deny being "hard" but admit they have "changed"; they agree in part only with the assertions of President W. A. Neilson of Smith College, who characterizes the modern co-ed as a 'shrewd, keen, hard, worldly little thing, whose salvation can be effected only by giving her a reasonable amount of rope to learn the ill effects of her own indiscretions."

Vanity cases for women and memorandum pads for men will be the Prom favors this year.

Phi Beta Phi, honorary medical fraternity, has purchased the property at 416 N. Carroll St.

The Y. W. C. A. Christmas Bazaar was a success no less from a financial than from the standpoint of entertainment. The carnival in the gymnasium, dancing in the parlors, the tea room, the Italian sunken garden, with its gondola floating on the swimming pool, furnished a continuous entertainment for all. The proceeds netted $500.

A week-end Commencement is being considered by alumni and campus groups, on the ground that more people interested could come at that time. Under the new system Class day would come on Friday, Alumni day on Saturday, Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, and Commencement on Monday.

President Birge, LL.D., '15, has been named superintendent of the Wisconsin committee in the national movement to establish the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. B. W. Jones, '70, and Maj. E. A. Fitzpatrick are other members; Professors Commons and Ross are heading the committee at the University.

Three times the average number of daily cases were sent to the infirmary the first two days following the holiday vacation.

Twelfth Night Dramatic society has postponed its performance from Jan. 14 to Feb. 25. The plays to be given are: "A Sunny Morning," by Serafin and Joaquin Alvarez Quintoro; "The Birthday of the Infanta," dramatized from the story by Oscar Wilde, and a farce by Alice Gerstenberg, "The Pot Boiler."

Practically all student activities will be suspended for two weeks prior to the final examinations, the only exceptions being the Michigan basketball game, on Jan. 14, the Pre-Prom party, and the Badger party on Jan. 18.

Nationwide interest is being shown in the questionnaire which appeared in the Commerce Magazine for Jan. 10.

A daily ice boat journey enables Dr. A. K. Viner, stationed at Mendota hospital, to supervise the practices of the hockey squad and fulfill his new duties as coach of the team.

The Seventh annual "Wisconsin in China" banquet, Jan. 10, which formally opened the drive for funds to support John Childs, '11, in China for another year, was addressed by C. R. Crane, former ambassador to China.

The annual auction at Chadbourne Hall this year netted $55; this will nearly complete the payment on the victrola purchased last year.

The bulletin boards in Bascom Hall have been rearranged so as to increase their usefulness. One board is reserved for classified announcements, another for official notices, the other two to remain as before for general announcements.

Charges of excessive and unwise social activities of certain students have led to the following ballot being submitted to all fraternities and sororities:

Do you approve of concerted action to bring about a reduction of dance orchestra prices?

Will your organization enter upon an agreement with others to affect this end?

Are you willing to abandon the practice of importing orchestras for private parties?

Are you willing to abandon Saturday matinee dances during the semester?

Are you willing to abandon 1 o'clock parties during the semester?

Are you willing to see all activities prohibited during the two weeks preceding final examinations?

Sophomore honors for high scholastic rank during their first two years at the University have been awarded eight juniors in the College of Agriculture. They are: Kathleen Dietrich, Mildred Downie, Sarah Wismer, home economics; Allan Dickson, Conrad Elvehjen, Harris Parmele, Carl Rogers, and Hugh Stiles.

The second annual ice carnival will be held on Feb. 11.

The Badger affirmative team won from Missouri on "Resolved that the Kansas Industrial Court plan for adjusting industrial disputes should be adopted throughout the U. S." Arnold Perstein, '21, coached the Missouri team.

No credit will be given students who accumulate library fines until these accounts are clear.

Outing Club credits were gained during the holidays in skating, horseback riding, coasting tobogganing, roller skating, and skiing. Credit was limited to 10 hours, with a minimum of three hours for one day.
