S. G. A. STANDS FOR ACTIVITIES, JACOBS AFFIRMS

Reports on Midwest Conference

"S. G. A. is not just a little governing body to punish, but it is something bigger, as it stands back of all university activities," said Lois Jacobs '24, representative to the S. G. A. Midwest conference held May 2 to 5 at Ohio State university at Columbus.

Representatives of S. G. A. from all over the country attended the conference, which was decidedly an alive one. Discussions were held on all kinds of subjects, the universities of Michigan, Missouri, Minnesota, Illinois, Washington and Wisconsin leading.

"I was impressed most by the big part that S. G. A. plays on every campus," Miss Jacobs stated. "Some of the organizations are still struggling, but many of them are practically perfected."

Are Working Factors

Everywhere it is felt that S. G. A. is a working factor, and no school is discouraged over its accomplishments, Miss Jacobs pointed out.

Cooperation among S. G. A., W. A. A. and Y. W. C. A. is strong everywhere and there is no school that does not cooperate with the faculty.

Optimism was the key-note of the speech which was given by Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, at the conference.

"I have a feeling that some day the students will have the whole university in their hands and will choose even the faculty," he declared.

Standards Are Set

"The young people are setting the standards, assuming the responsibilities and, above all, are keeping the joy of living," Miss Elizabeth Conrad, dean of women at Ohio State, who is also optimistic about the college problems, said.

A great deal of the discussion was about the way in which S. G. A. is organized. There were many different methods at the various schools, but it was found that everywhere there is a very careful selection of the nominating committee.

Run Own Elections

At some of the universities the girls take out their own petitions for elections as the men here do. Many schools allow only a certain number of dates a week, or base the number on scholarship.

A national symbolic badge was voted for and will be worn by the presidents of S. G. A. Every other year a national conference will be held and the alternate years there will be sectional conferences with national delegates. Next year the conference will be held at the University of Missouri.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVATION IS GIVEN FIRST OUT-DOOR BAND CONCERT

Last night, for the first time in the history of the University of Wisconsin, the first and second bands combined in giving an open air concert. Heretofore they have played together only in parades.

From the size of the audience and the enthusiastic applause, the concert might be called a great success. It is estimated that over 2500 people were gathered, on the campus and in the windows of nearby buildings.

The opening number was "The Federal Guards March" by Skaggs. This was followed by selection from the opera "Mikado" by Sir Arthur Sullivan. The fourth number was "The Probscidian March" by Willis; then five actions from the "Ballet Egyptien" by Luigini.

The next number was the "Grand Pageant March" by English, and the program was closed with "Tannhauser March" by Richard Wagner. "It is a noteworthy fact that the finer and most delicate pieces were the best received by the audience."

To Have Daylight Saving or Not; Faculty Disagrees

To change to daylight saving or not to change, that is the question. Faculty members seem to disagree as to the advisability of rotating the schedule so that one gets up at 6 o'clock to make the first class at 7 instead of arising at 7 to make an 8 o'clock.

President Birge in commenting on the daylight saving idea last night, said that there is little possibility of making the change this semester as the next faculty meeting is on June 1.

"If the plan receives sufficient backing, I see no reason why it should not be successful," he said. "I get up at 7 o'clock every morning and could get to the university on time easily enough. It makes no difference whether or not the city changes for classes could start at 7 o'clock anyway."

A Daylight saving plan in the university community would give rise to endless trouble unless it were adopted in Madison as a whole," said Dean Glicksman when asked what he thought of the idea.

President Birge in commenting on the daylight saving idea last night, said that there is little possibility of making the change this semester as the next faculty meeting is on June 1.

State Athletes Will Hold Track Meet at Camp Randall

One hundred and twenty-five track and field athletes from six high schools in the southern part of the state will compete in the first southern Wisconsin meet at Camp Randall this afternoon starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Schools entered are Central high, East Side high and Wisconsin high all of Madison, Stoughton, Edgerton and Milton Union.

Mead Burke, University of Wisconsin track coach, will be the official starter and Varsity track men under him will be timers and Judges.

The university is giving a silver cup to the team that wins first place in the meet and the Petrie Sporting Goods shop is giving a cup to the winners of second place. The George Levis Sporting Goods store is offering a silver cup to the winning relay team.

Madison's three high schools are cooperating in putting on the meet. Coaches of these schools are Ira Davis, U. W. High; Howard Johnson, Central; and Archie Morrow, East Side high.

Because of their win over 12 other schools at the Whitewater Normal meet last Saturday, the Central high team is a heavy favorite. Coach Johnson has a good squad of track and field stars who can be expected to place in nearly any event they enter.

CONDUCTOR E. W. MORPHY DECLARED THIS SHOWS THAT THE STANDARD OF APPRECIATION HAS BEEN RAISED BY THE NUMEROUS CONCERTS GIVEN DURING THE WINTER.

"It pays to present only the best to our audience," he added.

UNIVERSITIES VOTE ON MEN TO REPRESENT U. S. IN MEET

Chicago yesterday voted for a hypothetical commission to represent the United States in a new world conference.

Other state universities, including, Ohio, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Washington have already voted. Prof. L. D. White of Chicago will tabulate all the results.

Among the names suggested for positions on the commission are those of Jane Addams, Herbert Hoover, Charles Evans Hughes, Woodrow Wilson and Chief Justice Taft.

"An increase in daylight hours would decrease the disposition to study at night, a result which would be disastrous in many cases. A student in the midst of a pleasant canoe party who finds it is still daylight at 8 o'clock naturally postpones his evening's work for an hour or so only to find that at that time he is tired enough for further postponement."

"I can't work up much enthusiasm about daylight saving when it means getting up an hour earlier," Dean Goodnight said. "It is improbable that the students would go to bed any earlier and the additional daylight hours would have a tendency to distract from studies. Of course the coaches like it as there would be more time for practice. Academically I believe it would be a poor thing and I don't believe that the faculty would favor making the change. The only way in which it could be adopted is to have it brought up at faculty meeting and a recommendation made to the board of regents."

The programs will start in about two days, and no orders may be received after the real work is started. Only 3,500 programs have been ordered to date, in contrast with 6,500 which were printed last year. The estimated demand for this year was 7,000.

Printing will start in about two days, and no orders may be received after the real work is started. Only 3,500 programs have been ordered to date, in contrast with 6,500 which were printed last year. The estimated demand for this year was 7,000.

Seniors desiring commencement programs must place their orders by Saturday at the latest, it was announced at the Print Shop yesterday.

Approximately 200 persons out of a class of more than 1,600 have sent in order blanks thus far. Individual orders range from two to 40, with an average around ten.

A limited number of extra books will be printed, it was announced, but since the cost is 40 cents each, this number will probably not be more than 1,000. First choice on extra programs will be given those who have orders in now.

The programs will be ready about

May 25 and will be placed on sale at the Co-op. Orders are being taken at the Print Shop the rest of this week, and cards with places for signatures are also on a number of bulletin boards on the hill.

Comedy Night Shows Talent, Humor and Wit

By L. B.

"Comedy Night," consisting of a program of short one-act comedies, was presented by the University Players last night before a delighted audience that filled the concert room of Lathrop hall.

"A Matter of Choice," written and directed by William Tannowitz '23, was easily the hit of the evening. The piece is well written and full of fun and was admirably played by the well-chosen cast. Rienette Douglas '23, as the opinionated college-bred daughter, was entertaining, and Dora Ingraham '23 gave a clever impersonation of the misguided mother. Lillian Bresler '23 was well-liked as the spoiled youngest daughter.

The program opened with a sketch called "The Robbery," written by Clare Kummer. Roberta Louden '23 was a captivating heroine, and "Heinie" Hall '23, who was so successful as the "Crew" in the Haresfoot play, was very funny as the leading man.

"A Pair of Lunatics," which introduced a rather novel situation, was played successfully by Carol Goodyear '23 and Thomas MacLean '24, also of Haresfoot fame.

"Into the Nowhere," a pantomime phantasy that was written several years ago for Red Domino and has since achieved success elsewhere, concluded the program. It was given with the original setting made for its first performance by Red Domino.

The play presented a series of lovely pictures set to music, and gave the players an opportunity to display their gift of pantomime. Martha Semelroth '25 as the comic clown, and Carolyn Hinsdell '25 and Sara Maxwell '25 as Pierrette and Pieret especially distinguished themselves.

CLEAR TONE QUALITY MARKS LANDON'S MUSIC

Clear tone quality combined with wonderfully sustained harmony characterized the playing of Frances Landon '23, pianist, in her senior recital given last night at Music hall. Miss Landon's program consisted of selections from the three masters, Beethoven, Chopin and Schumann. Janet Breitenbach '23, played the orchestra parts on the second piano for Schumann's "Concerto a minor."

Miss Landon interpreted her selections with natural spontaneity which was evident in all her playing.

The finished quality of the playing of both Miss Landon and Miss Breitenbach was best displayed in the "Concerto a minor" by Schumann.

HAWKEYES FALL BEFORE LOCAL FROSH BY 71-64

Iowa Takes High Point Honors

The Wisconsin freshmen proved their superiority over the Iowa freshmen for the second time this year when they won the telegraphic track meet from the Hawkeye yearlings yesterday afternoon by a 71 to 64 count.

The meet was easily the best of its kind ever carried out at the two schools for it was close and good marks were made in all events.

Iowa High Point Winners

Wisconsin won the indoor meet which was held last winter handily but the added strength of the Hawks in the weight events almost proved the undoing of the Badgers yesterday. Only the consistent work of the Wisconsin yearlings in the runs won the meet for them.

Despite the win for Wisconsin, high point honors and second high point honors both go to Iowa men. Dauber, of Iowa, was easily the star of the meet, scoring a total of 17 points for his team. Roberts, also of Iowa, followed close on Dauber's heels with twelve points.

Cassidy Stars

Cassidy and Captain Zilisch starred for the Badger frosh. Cassidy counted 10 points with first places in the mile and half mile, while Zilisch scored 9 1-3 points on his work in the hurdles and the high jump.

McAndrews and Limberg also showed up well for Wisconsin. Limberg bested Dauber in the shot put by 4 1-2 of his 38 feet 4 1-2 inch heave and McAndrews scored a first and second in the dashes.

A summary of the meet follows: 100 yard dash—Mc Andrews, (W) first; Roberts, (I) Sherbourne (W) tied for second. Time, 10 seconds 220 yard dash—Roberts, (I) first; McAndrews, (W) second; Nesler, (I) third. Time, 22 1-5 seconds.

440 yard dash—Applegate, (I) first; Kreglow, (W) second; Armstrong, (I) third. Time 53 3-5 seconds.

880 yard run—Cassidy, (W) first; Schutt (W) second; Funshaler, (I) third. Time, 2 minutes 6 4-5 seconds.

Mile run—Cassidy, (W) first; Nanness, (I) second; Petaja (W) third. Time 4 minutes 44 seconds.

Two mile run—Butz, (W) first; Bender, (I) second; Dolmade, (I) third. Time 10 minutes 26 3-5 seconds.

120 yard high hurdles—Zilisch (W) first; Dauber, (I) second; Kohler, (W) third. Time 16 1-5 seconds.

220 yard low hurdles—Molzahn, (W) first; Zilisch, (W) second; Pickard (I) third. Time 26 4-5 seconds.

Javelin—Lemley, (I) first; Dauber, (I) second; Rogers, (I) third. Distance, 141 feet.

Broad jump—Roberts, (I) first; McGiveran (W) second; Neffsger, (I) third. Distance, 21 feet 4 1-8 inches.

High jump—Dauber, (I) first; Zilisch, (W) Oatway, (W) and Browne, (I), tied for second. Height 5 feet, 8 1-4 inches.

Pole vault—Weinecke, (I) first; Olson, (W) Neffsger, (I) tied for second. Height, 11 feet 6 inches.

Hammer—Tressler, (W) first; Rogers, (I) second; Fleckenstein, (I) third. Distance, 95 feet 6 1-2 inches.

Discus—Aller, (W) first; Dauber, (I) second; Thomson (W) Schrader, (W) tied for third. Distance, 111 feet 9 inches.

Dauber, (I) second; Fleckenstein, (I) third. Distance, 38 feet 4 1-2 inches.

Boilermakers Win 18-11 in Circus Baseball With Purdue

Three hours and a half of circus baseball, made interesting by comical scrambles after the ball and two head-on collisions, resulted in an 18 to 11 victory for Purdue over Northwestern at Evanston last Saturday. The Boilermakers won because their lone pitcher, Campbell, held up better than both Palmer and Ridpath of the Purple. Joe Bryant, Northwestern shortstop, seemed determined to give the game away on errors.

CHEERLEADERS TRYOUT NEXT TUESDAY IN GYM

Tryouts for underclass cheerleaders will be held Tuesday at 7 o'clock in the gym, according to Ezra Crane, Varsity cheerleader.

"These men will be judged by the ability they display in leading cheers at the baseball games and other athletic activities this spring, and four or five of those trying out will be chosen for next year," Crane said.

The following men have signed up: W. T. Shoemaker, V. E. Vaile, J. O. Bjerke, T. H. Savery, W. B. Sarles, E. C. Snell, Knox and Griffiths.

"We are working for uniform movements and also will work on the details of the human 'W' planned for next year," Crane asserted last night. Crane will be assisted in this work by assistant cheerleaders Walsted and Perry. "It is important that all members are out," Crane added.

COACH NAMES CLASS SQUADS

Women Are Picked to Work Out on Spring Athletic Teams

Assigned to squads yesterday noon by Miss Alice Gall, baseball coach, the women who "warm up" almost daily at Camp Randall will swing into a couple of days hard practice before teams are finally chosen and the inter-class games begun.

The senior squad is composed of Isabel Capps, Norma Carl, Irene Clayton, Bernice Elver, B. Harrington, Helen Kasbeer, Clara Lamson, Gladys Shaw, Emma Stevening and Phyllis Tatman.

In the junior squad are Esther Bilstad, Janice Boardman, Margaret Brown, Margaret Carpenter, Marie Damez, Dorothy Dodge, Leora Ellsworth, Florence Fox, Dora Harris, (manager) Margaret Hatfield, Gretchen Kronke, Hazel Miller and Josephine Snow.

The somewhat larger sophomore squad is composed of Mary Blair, Doris Burdick, Margaret Coon, Mary Devine, Ann Fox, Emilie Hunt, Katherine Jackson, Burnett Kuehnlau, Winifred Lowe, Carita Robertson, Dorothea Oestrich, Mabel Rugen, Gladys Sampson (manager), Daisy Simpson, Jane Truesdale, Margaret Ulrich, Hazel Weinhardt, and Mildred Wohlfred.

For the class of 1926 the following people have been placed on squads: Elizabeth Bloom, Mary Brader, Madge Burt, Violet Dohse, Rena Grubb, Mary Elizabeth Haven, Margaret Hoover, Esther Hornsby, Alberta Johnson, Lorraine Maytum, Pauline McLoon, Evelyn Oestrich, Myrtle Oetting, Fedelia Pease, Lillian Piehl, Grace Sherman (manager), and Margaret Wegner.

A list of practice hours has also been posted in Lathrop hall, and it is expected that the squads will do some hard work this week for teams are to be announced on Sunday May 13. Early the same week matched games will be begun. The following schedule for matched games has been announced:

May 15 Soph-Senior
May 16 Frosh-Junior
May 18 Soph-Junior
May 21 Frosh-Senior
May 23 Frosh-Soph
May 26 (Field Day) Junior-Senior.

BADGERS MEET GOPHERS IN TILT HERE SATURDAY

Men Work Out Against Frosh Squad

Coach Guy S. Lowman sent his baseball men through a short practice game with the Frosh squad last night in preparation for the game Saturday with Minnesota. The Gophers will invade Madison determined to keep their record clean.

Pitchers Johnson, Pickford, Radke and Shrank loosened up their arms yesterday so that they will be in good condition for the fray. Only a slight tapering off will be on the bill of fare this afternoon, and unless weather conditions go back to where they were the first of the week, Coach Lowman's men will be in shape.

Gophers Are Strong

Although this is only Minnesota's second year in Conference baseball, a strong team has been developed. With four veterans left from last year, Coach Watrous has assembled a group of willing men. They have defeated Northwestern and Iowa, conquerors of Illinois. Coach Watrous is being assisted by various members of the Minneapolis association team pitching staff. A regular heaver from the Millers goes out to Northrup field daily to teach the men a few tricks in the trade.

Star Minnesota Pitchers

Friedhl, a left-over from last year, and Hartfeil, a former St. Thomas star, bear the brunt of the pitching and have done well so far this season. Friedhl is also noted for his long clouts.

But regardless of Minnesota's reported strength, Coach Lowman, while not over-confident, is not losing sleep over the game. If Wisconsin's defense holds up, he thinks the Badgers have excellent chances for victory. The pitching of the two teams is about equal.

Johnson to Pitch

Becker and Gibson are having a merry fight this week to decide who is to play center field. Becker started in that position at the beginning of the season, but was benched in favor of Gibson when he struck a hitting slump. Gibson, while not a hitter, showed that he could travel in the center garden for fly balls.

If the weather continues to get warmer, Johnson will receive the assignment to sling the pill, said Coach Lowman yesterday afternoon. Pickford will be ready to take the mound should anything go wrong with Johnson.

Physical Eds Plan Picnic and Boat Ride For Tuesday

All of the women physical education students and members of that faculty will have a picnic supper at Barnard's park next Tuesday evening and a boat trip around the lake.

This is the second year that such an affair to get all of the women connected with the department together in a social way has been planned.

All who go are to meet in Lathrop at 6 o'clock Tuesday and go to the dock together for the boat. A poster will be posted on the bulletin board at Lathrop for all to sign. The estimated cost is 35 cents for the boat trip and a similar amount for the supper.

"W" CLUB WILL MEET

All members of the "W" club will meet at 12:45 o'clock this noon in the trophy room of the gym.

ACACIA FALLS BEFORE SIG EP

Semi-finals of Greek Baseball Contest Brings Shapeup

The Sigma Phi Epsilon team yesterday afternoon easily defeated the Acacia nine in the feature game of the semi-finals of the interfraternity baseball league.

Montgomery was the star of the Sig Ep team when he clouted out a three-base hit with three men on base near the end of the game.

The Betas played the D. U. team to a 6 to 6 tie in a seven inning game Wednesday afternoon. The tie will be played off Sunday morning on the Varsity diamond at Camp Randall.

The other games which were scheduled for yesterday afternoon were postponed. The Kappa Sigs will play the Alpha Kappa Lambda nine today, and the Phi Alpha Deltas will engage with the Square and Compass team Monday.

The Chi Psis have won from Lamda Chi and with the Phi Psis, they will represent their division in the semi-finals.

CREW TAKES TO WATER AFTER A FORCED DELAY

Will Meet Duluth on Venetian Night

After a forced rest of several days, due to stormy seas, the varsity crew is again on the water.

Development of the men is yet at an early stage, and it will be more than a week before the rowers will be in shape to race. Coach Harry E. "Dad" Vail will not pick his men for the regular crew until they have reached their best possible condition.

Crew Meets Duluth

On the afternoon of May 26, Venetian night, the crew will race the Duluth Boat club. This will be the big race of the season for the Duluth Boat club has long been famed for its crews, and has long been the foremost club of its kind in America.

On the same day the junior crew will race the St. John's Military academy crew. This race will be a big feature of the day for St. John's crews have raced at Wisconsin for many years.

With the eastern trip a sure thing for 1924, Wisconsin crews are again in the national eye and there is bound to be a renewed interest in the sport here at the university.

Trip Brings Material

"We can expect more and better crew material for next year because of the trip," Dad Vail said. "It will help football material also, for men big and powerful enough for rowing are usually football players too."

Besides the three varsity crews, the college and freshman crews are also at work.

Men in varsity competition are Capt. H. E. Johnson, D. C. Newcomb, F. H. Grover, R. B. Rhode, A. S. Smedal, W. F. Holms, R. E. Krueger, E. C. Esser, A. J. Platten, W. S. Smith, C. B. Puestow, C. G. Okerstrom, E. C. Grunitz, T. R. Salter, H. J. Bentson, R. J. Schuetz, K. C. Sly, E. M. Plattner, R. C. Kluessendorf, G. W. Bacchus, L. H. Kingston and W. A. Gerhardt.

Hoosiers Baseball Hopes

Indiana university will lose the services of Captain Dichtermen and Moomaw for a few days as a result of injuries suffered last Saturday in the Indiana-Butler game, which was won by the latter, 9-6, in the ninth inning.

Captain Dichtermen twisted his knee for the second time this season and Moomaw was spiked in the jaw by Middleworth as he was sliding home in the first half of the ninth.

Slaughter, pitching for Butler, was hit hard in the last half of the ninth and was taken out. Staton, first string pitcher, took up the burden and retired the side.

CO-EDS AND THE EAST

The eastern colleges and universities still rail against co-education. They cannot understand why the Big Ten schools are so heartily in favor of it. One of the eastern delegates at a recent national collegiate conference made the remark that "we applaud but cannot understand nor subscribe to the chivalry of the West."

We wish that some of these effete eastern collegians could attend Wisconsin for a semester. Perhaps then there would be less ridicule and more understanding of why the western schools accept co-education.

There are cynics on this campus also who believe that a co-ed has little ability and less charm. They would have her relegated to women's colleges. They claim that she distracts the men students from their studies and is an indirect cause of poor varsity spirit. She is accused of not supporting athletics and campus activities, — except those that possess drawing room opportunities for social advancement.

But how about it?

As to ability, is not Wisconsin proud of the marked ability of Honore Wilsie and Zona Gale? Are not women students leading men in scholarship at this institution? Look at the masthead of The Cardinal, the Badger, and the other campus publications.

There you will see the names of many women students who are actively engaged in giving their best journalistic ability to the aid of Wisconsin magazines.

Through S. G. A. they rule themselves allowance or hindrance from the men. At the annual spring elections they give their time and selves without allowance or hindrance from the men. At the annual spring elections they give their time and ability to assisting the clerks of the polls. When they are candidates for an office against men candidates it is an even chance that the co-ed will poll more votes than the man.

At football and basketball games they cheer not less vigorously than do the men. Even at baseball games of late years there are many co-eds who not only witness the game but understand it.

When the football extra came out last winter announcing the election of a new coach, co-eds dug into their vanity bags and beaded purses and produced the three cents for the extra. They were just as anxious for Wisconsin to have a good coach as were the men students.

These are a few of the reasons why Wisconsin enjoys co-education. And even the East may have to drop its spirit of ridicule and tolerate if not welcome the coming of women students.

THE NEAR "W" WEAVER

One of the lamentable things about college athletics is that there is no way of rewarding the many men who nearly satisfy the requirements for college insignia,—nearly but not quite.

There are a large number of these men in every major sport, whether football, basketball, baseball or track.

Every spring sees many of these men graduate without any college insignia. And yet they have toiled throughout their college career and have somehow just failed to qualify as wearers of the Varsity letters in their sport.

The difference in athletic ability between these men and the letter wearers may be very slight. It may be a difference of five pounds in weight, of a fifth of a second's time in running the 220 dash or a curious twist in the throw from the infield to first base that makes them just a little bit less able than the athlete who gets the place.

Whatever is the cause it is generally an inherent one and no amount of training will quite eradicate it. So these athletes are not permitted to wear the insignia that others wear by putting in no more time and perhaps not as much energy and perseverance.

The system of awarding insignia seems entirely just. The very competition for the Varsity teams and squads makes the final team what it is. And it is inevitable that many must be disappointed when only a few can receive the major or minor."

Perhaps some day a method may be found of materially rewarding these men. We hope so.

Just at present there is no other way than that of quiet approval by the students of the work these men have given the team and the university.

That and the knowledge they themselves have that they have served in no little way toward the success of the varsity team.

If they are denied, and justly so, the fame and satisfaction of the "W" wearers, no one will deny them a full appreciation of their consistent grueling practices and drills,—consistently performed even after all hopes of making a letter had fled.

That is Varsity spirit and we doubt if a better example of it could be found.

There are senior track men who have worked out regularly in the gym for the full four years, never making the team and yet always near enough to making it as to furnish active competition for the more fortunately endowed letter men.

They kept the letter men always on the alert and always striving to do their best else they be supplanted. And thus a better, abler team was placed on the field for Varsity.

Many come but few are chosen is the inexorable rule in college athletics. There is undoubtedly no other way possible. But while the few are being lauded and rewarded with the Varsity letter let us not deny praise and commendation to the many who just "nearly" made the team.

Column Right!

Books and things—cabbages
Kings—as penciled by Ever Sharp

The kidnapping of the engineer St. Pat by the lawyers at the crucial moment on the day of the plumbers' parade several weeks ago and the fact that "Prex," Meikeljohn of Amherst will speak here next week remind us of a tradition which has existed at Amherst for many years but which is just coming into nation-wide prominence.

In the middle of the nineteenth century some gentleman with a kind heart and foresighted mind presented that New England college with a nearly life-size statue of half-clad lady, her name "Sabrina". Just what the institution should do with such a possession was a question. So, after it had remained around the campus for some time and students had draped it in weird garbs it was carted out into the country and deposited in a barn.

Then along came an enterprising member of an even class and conceived the idea of having Sabrina present at the banquet of his class and the other even class in college at the time. For in the spring of each year banquets were held in Springfield or some other place about 50 miles from the college.

Well, Sabrina was carted in at the banquet and the tradition was started. Henceforth she was to be a guest of honor. In due course of time a song was written to her and at her appearance every student would rise with due respect and sing the song.

As may be supposed, this custom provided a source for class rivalry and the odd classmen who were not in possession of the statue made preparations to secure it from the even classmen.

Now a great deal of doubt and uncertainty surround the early life of Sabrina. But this is her approximate story as near as it can be gleaned from the many rumors about her. Up to only a few years ago the odds and evens vied for her possession with intrigue, trickery and every imaginable method that they could employ. The evens, it may be said, have been the more successful.

The tradition became so ingrained in the minds of the students, squads makes the final team what it is. And it is inevitable that many must be disappointed when only a few can receive the major or minor."

DIARY OF SAMUEL PEPY'S ONLY SON

May 10: Up bright and early and to my classes where my profs made much ado over seeing me again after my enforced absence due to inclement weather. Whilst passing up Langdon street saw several canoes starting across the lake. That, as I watched them, how strange it is that dances and such must, of necessity, be chaperoned, but a chaperon on a canoe party—ah, what a novelty.

He: Please just one kiss.

Baby: No, if I give you one you will want more.

He: No, I won't.

Baby: Then you don't deserve any.

BOLD FACTS

The engineers are hardy lads;

They wear their khaki breeches

And keep their woolens all year long—

They care not how it itches.

Isn't it funny,

But everybody knows,

The better the shape,

The fewer the clothes,

The prettier the face,

The more the rouge;

The cheaper the price,

The worse the booze.

The lower the lights,

The greater the fun;

The faster the cops chase,

The harder you run.

Campus Hill Yields Historic Find in Early Gravestone

A gravestone of historical interest to Wisconsin has been put on exhibition in the State Historical museum in the Library building. The stone is in room 422 and a brief history of it is written on a placard hanging above.

The stone marked the grave of an English carpenter who was working in Madison on the first capitol building here. This worker was the second person to be buried in the town of Madison.

The first cemetery of Madison was situated on the spot where Bascom hall now stands. The grave worker was found by workers last summer, in the earth directly in front of the steps of Bascom hall and a little back of the statue of President Lincoln.

Mr. Brown, superintendent of the museum, was called two years ago by some workers to look at some human bones that were found in front of Bascom hall. He found the bones along with some decayed wood and wrought iron nails.

It was not until last summer that the identity of the remains was established when the grave stone was found. The stone, which is a very soft limestone, was cracked and damaged in several places and looks as if one of the workers had hit it in the center with a pick. It had to be cleaned and repaired before being put on exhibition but is now placed in the museum.

The lettering on the stone is poorly spaced in places and shows that the labor on it was unskilled. The inscription on the stone reads as follows:

Sacred

Memory
of Samuel Warren
of Middlesex, England
Was killed by Lightning

DOLPHIN EXHIBITION ATTRACTS INTEREST

Mayhap there will be a time when the announcement "Annual Dolphin Exhibition" will cause a ripple such as is now aroused only by the "Annual Haresfoot Production." Programs such as put on by Dolphin club last night will not fail to win for the organization a vast amount of praise, admiration, and interest. The program, which will be repeated on Friday night, is varied, original, and shows nothing less than talent which has been developed by hard work.

The outstanding features of the program are a Romeo and Juliet scene by Elizabeth Schafer and Helen Parr; a Chinese Live-Saving stunt by Lois Barry and Olga Anderson; and an under-water swim by Elna Mygdal of two and one-half lengths or 150 feet.

Tickets for the Friday night performance may be obtained from any Dolphin club member, and for women may be purchased at the door. The price is 25 cents.

In this cream, men

Now you can wield the old razor in less time every morning—with greater comfort while doing it, and after.

Clean of cheek and chin—a great way to start the day right.

A new shaving cream, men, of five actual improvements does this for you. Made by soap experts to meet your shaving needs. We spent 18 months, tested 130 formulae, perfecting it.

Now we ask you to do us a favor by trying it out—our expense.

5 ways better

This cream multiplies itself 250 times in rich lather.

The lather lasts for 10 full minutes, on the face.

It softens the wickedest set of whiskers in one minute—without any tedious, more-or-less-painful "rubbing in."

The lather-bubbles are strong-walled—holding hairs erect for easier, cleaner cutting.

And, because PALMOLIVE SHAVING CREAM is blended of palm and olive oils, it has a soothing, lotion-like after-effect on tender skin.

See if you like it

We're asking a favor. Try this shaving cream. If it does all we claim, you'll probably be glad you found out about it. If it doesn't, then we're the only losers.

SCRIBES WILL PICNIC SUNDAY

Amazonian Reporters to Test Supremacy on Ball Diamond

Two journalism professors have accepted invitations to attend the "1922 Pi Picnic" of the University Press club Sunday afternoon and evening at Bernard park, Lake Mendota. Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Johnson will chaperon the picnic, and Prof. Grant M. Hyde, acting director of the Course of Journalism, will attend as a Press club guest.

A baseball game between the "Scribes" and the "Cardinals" will be one of the stellar attractions in the afternoon. "Cupid" Lawton is reported to be coaching the "Scribes," composed of Amazonian star feature writers, while "Uncle Joe" Lawler is said to be lining up the "Cardinals" to give the co-eds battle.

"Thirty-five have signed up to date," Gene Alleman '24, president, said yesterday. "Members of the committees are making elaborate preparations, and Press club members and their guests are urged to sign up at once in South hall."
