REGENT P. W. RAMER

PRESIDENT AMES

PRESIDENT Ames, head of the Western Wisconsin State Teachers college, came to River Falls in 1908 as an instructor in the history department of the River Falls State Normal School. He served in this capacity until 1914, when he became head of the training school.

He occupied this office for three years, and in 1917 he became president of the institution.

In June, President Ames will have completed his tenth successful year at the helm of our school. His administration has been marked by innumerable accomplishments leading to the growth and expansion of the school.

In Memoriam

LLOYD GOBLE

LLOYD Goble came to the River Falls Normal School in September 1906 as teacher of grammar and composition. In 1911 he was promoted to the position of Head of the English Department which he held to the time of his last illness.

Mr. Goble brought to his work here a mind trained by study and enriched by travel. He held a Master's Degree from the University of Illinois and he had spent a year in graduate study at Harvard University, also. Before coming to River Falls Mr. Goble had spent several years as a teacher in the Philippine Islands. While in this work he spent his vacations travelling in China and Japan.

While Mr. Goble was preeminently the scholarly student and teacher of English, he had endeared himself to generations of students by his kindly sympathy and interest in their problems. Much as he loved English Literature, the student always had first place in his thought. Hundreds of graduates who have gone out from his classes will long cherish his memory.

Classes

THIRD YEAR CLASS

The Third Year Class

THE Third Year Class is a group of those students who are finishing one of the three-year courses for high school teachers and supervisors. The group is continually growing and now takes a major part in all forms of school activities.

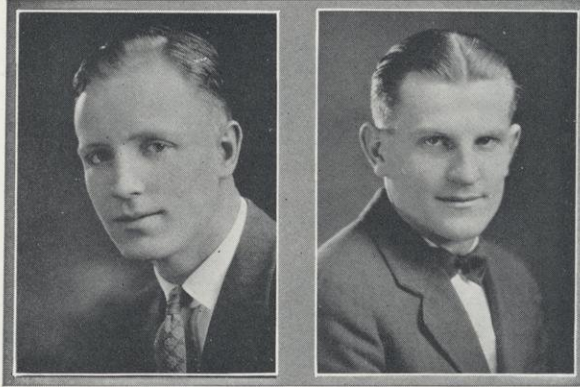

The history of the Third Year Class began in September, 1924, when, together with students of other courses, it formed a freshman class of 175. There are now 60 who are graduating from the various three-year courses. The class was fortunate to obtain Mr. Karges as class advisor at the outset. The marked success of the class has been possible only through his cooperation and advice.

The class put on the Prom of 1926, the success of which could not easily have been improved upon. It published the Meletean of 1927. It will present, together with the Second Year Senior Class, the Class Play in June, 1927.

The Third Year Class is well represented in every branch of athletics, in debate, music, oratory, drama, school publications, and in scholarship.

It has never failed to respond to aid in the progress or success of its Alma Mater.

SECOND YEAR CLASS

The Second Year Class

THE Second Year Class consists of two groups, a Second Year Senior Class, the members of which are completing some one of the two-year courses for elementary teachers, and those who are in their second year of one of the three-year courses.

This Second Year Class with its advisor, Mr. May, who has given his very active and valuable cooperation to the class, has contributed much to the successes of the River Falls State Teachers' College this year and last.

The members have been very active in all school activities, taking prominent parts in athletics, musical activities, dramatics, and especially forensics. Our State Championship orator, the men on the Championship debate teams, and our school extempore speaker are all members of this class.

Many of the members have been leaders in the various school organizations during the past two years. The class presented the Junior Prom, their chief project for the year on Friday, May 13, 1927.

FIRST YEAR CLASS

First Year Class

LAST fall the largest freshman class in the history of this school enrolled in the various departments of the institution. At the first class meeting two hundred twenty-seven freshmen put their names on the roll. Under Mr. Stratton's able, and what has proved to be constant and untiring leadership, the class organized and elected their officers. LeRoy Luberg was elected president. He served faithfully and well.

It did not take many weeks for the members of the school to learn that the freshmen not only had a large number of students, but that there was a great deal of talent among them. This talent was further manifested by the large percentage that the class furnished each organization.

The football championship team was strengthened by the presence of no less than ten freshmen, each of whom took part in enough of the games to receive the coveted "R".

In basket-ball our class showed up very well. Seven of the ten men on the state championship squad were freshmen. At no time in any game did any other class have as many men on the team as we did.

Athletics was not the only line of activity in which the freshmen took part. In music we furnished ten boys for the Men's Glee Club, and twenty-two members for the Girls' Glee Club. There were several from our group in the band and orchestra.

Most classes have to write the history of their freshman year with an apologetic "wait until next year" note, but we feel that we have made a truly unusual record, and our greatest hope is that we may be able to equal or surpass this record in the coming years.

ATHLETICS

COACH "TED" COX

COACH Ted Cox has been one of the most successful leaders in Red and White athletics since the old school acquired the habit of winning State Championships. During his two years' administration in athletics, he has turned out three State Championship teams, all of which were also 1000% teams. The first State Championship came in football during the 1925 season. The football championship was repeated in 1926 and the 1926-27 basket-ball team continued his string of successes by going through a difficult schedule without a defeat.

It is not surprising that "Ted" has made this record of which we are all so proud as he came to us from the University of Minnesota with an enviable record as a player and leader of men. He played tackle on the varsity for three years and captained the great Minnesota team of 1924 that defeated Illinois and the famous "Red" Grange. He also won a varsity letter in basket-ball and three letters in track. His record in the hammer throw still stands.

His friendly approach and easy manner in handling the candidates for places on the Red and White teams has won a place for him in the hearts of all of the loyal followers of the school; and their best wishes will go with him wherever he may choose to carry on his chosen work.

KURT WENNERBERG
Captain-Elect

LAWRENCE DAWSON

The Captains

CAPTAIN Paulson has held down the position of center on the red and white team for three years. He has played on three state championship teams and certainly earned the distinction of captain. He was a cool and steady player and did more than his bit to help build up a good line. River Falls loses a valuable man with the loss of "Pauly" this year.

Next year the gridiron squad will be led by the Shell Lake athlete, Kurt Wennerberg. During his first year here, Kurt played a wonderful game in the fullback position. During the early part of this season, he was held back with injuries. But he worked hard and conscientiously and was soon back in the line up for the guard position. The team of '27 will have a valuable asset in Captain Wennerberg.

WEBER

Luther-Phalen

THE opening game of the third consecutive championship season was with Luther-Phalen of St. Paul. Luther was more or less of an unknown quantity but their close contest with Winona the week before indicated a fast game for the opener.

The Luther team, however, was lighter and slower than the River Falls team and the Red and White won easily with a score of 54 to 0. Coach Cox used all of his men, but only a few plays in the game.

LOWELL DAWSON

ALVIN MAIER

Homecoming

THE Homecoming victory over Eau Claire gave the Red and White team some real experience. Though the game was one sided, it was very exciting. The gridiron fans saw some real football displayed on Ramer Field that Saturday afternoon. The line that faced the blue and gold warriors was nothing less than a stone wall. MacDonald and King showed the old pile driving zip and several times broke through for some pretty runs. The first conference game of the season ended in a victory 20 to 0.

An unusually large number of the older grads were back for home coming. The drawing card was Bert E. Swenson, our first coach, who returned for the game. Bert alone would make a homecoming and hundreds of his old friends welcomed him back in his first visit since leaving the school.

KING

HELWIG

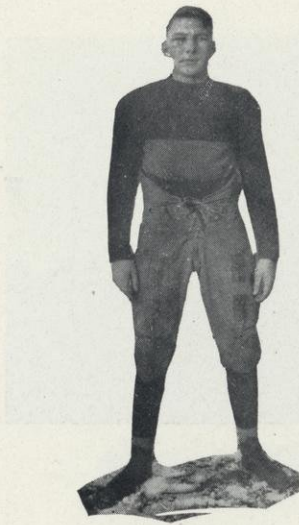

Stout Game

DISMAY and chagrin were in the hearts of the Stout rooters as the Red and White wrecked Stout's Homecoming by defeating them 21 to 6.

Lawrence and Lowell led a slashing attack which netted 58 yards and brought the ball within two yards of the goal. At this vital point, the Red and White fumbled, and Stout recovered. Then it was Stout's turn to fumble. As luck would have it, however, they fumbled behind the goal line, and Feske recovered for a touchdown.

After Paulson made a beautiful place kick, Stout marched straight down the field for four first downs and a touchdown. Then Stout opened up with passes, but one of them got into the hands of Lawrence Dawson who made a beautiful run of 45 yards for a touchdown. Maier made a nice 22 yard run in this quarter.

RODEWALD

GRAHN

Stevens Point

IN the third conference game, Stevens Point was swamped by the Falls 40 to 7. Six times the Red and White marched down Ramer Field for touchdowns. Unfortunately, old dame misfortune picked "Al" Maier for her victim and broke his leg in the second play. "Al" had been doing some nice work for the Red and White and his absence was keenly felt.

Early in the game, Lowell and MacDonald put over two touchdowns. The way for one of them was paved by a pass which Helwig speared from the air. Then Glass, Standish, and "Nor" Manion each hung up a touchdown. "Bud" and Grahn also made some pretty runs in this game.

WIGEN

COLLINS

St. Mary's

ST. MARY'S handed the invincible Red and White squad its only defeat of the season by beating them 12 to 0. The game was played away from home and local boys made St. Mary's do her best to beat them. The Red and White did not open up with very many plays, however, for fear of being scouted by Superior. This was the last game before our closing game with Superior and Coach did not care to have any dope leak out as to our signals.

The game furnished some good practice for our boys and put them in form to tackle our old jinx Superior.

Superior

IN an exciting and hard fought game, the Red and White wound up their championship season by emerging victorious over Superior 2 to 0. For the third consecutive time the team "brought home the bacon" and championship honors to River Falls.

Playing in a quagmire of mud and water, Superior's light but fast backs were virtually powerless against the heavier Red and White. Time and again our backfield men hit the line for no gain. By dogged plugging and plunging, the Red and White finally got down to the Superior six yard line where they were held for downs. Superior attempted to punt, but the pass was wild and the kicker was tackled behind the line for a safety (the only score in the game). The remainder of the game resulted in a kicking duel. Lowell was able to hold his own with the Superior punter. In the closing minutes he saved the game and the championship by a wonderful punt from behind the goal line.

The Freshmen

MUCH of the glory of the championship season should go to the Freshmen. It is not often that ten freshmen will win letters in a Championship team. But every one of them deserved his letter. The freshman list of champions includes: MacDonald and Standish, half backs; Bud Manion, quarter; Jensen, Hagestad, Luberg and Clafflin, tackles; Segestrom and "Nor" Manion, ends; and Hunt, center.

Prospects

WITH the wonderful galaxy of Freshman stars the future looks bright for football. Besides the ten Freshmen, there are four Junior lettermen, who are eligible for another year of competition. They are: Captain Elect Wennerberg, Glass, Weber and Collins. With his record of this year as a hard running, hard hitting back, Glass should be of great value another season. In spite of injuries, the giant tackle Weber made a wonderful showing the past season and may be counted on as a fixture for next year. Collins lived up fully to his freshman reputation as a heady, experienced line man and should make trouble again for the opponents of the Red and White.

"BUD" MANION

Review of the Season

ON the whole, the 1926 football season was more than successful. The old River Falls spirit was somewhat lacking throughout the season due, probably, to so many championships at River Falls that the students fail to appreciate them. Toward the end of the season, however, with prospects for another state championship looming bright, the student body began to pep up and displayed some of that old time spirit.

The Superior game terminated the gridiron career under the Red and White for ten of the boys of this year's fighting squad. These men are: Capt. Paulson, center; Lowell Dawson, quarter; Lawrence Dawson, Maier, and Grahm, half-backs; King, full-back; Feske and Rodewald, guards; Wigen, and Helwig, ends.

Paulson has played the last three years losing only a few minutes. This year as Captain, he piloted the team to a State Championship in great style. The Dawson brothers played great football during those three years. Lawrence's running and Lowell's kicking was a great asset to the team and helped us to win many games. Feske and Helwig have played two years in the line, and they were hard to beat. Feske hit hard and stopped at nothing. Helwig's ability to spear passes out of the air was marvelous. Rodewald played one year as guard. He was a scrapper all the time which was evidenced by the black eyes that he carried around most of the season. King was one of the hardest fighting half-backs that has ever played for River Falls. Maier was a wizard at the full-back position. Wigen played on a championship team here in 1916, and came back to play on another this year at the end position. He played good football all through the season.

There was no individual star on the team. In fact, the entire team was made up of stars. It was their cooperation with each other and with the coach that made them a great team.

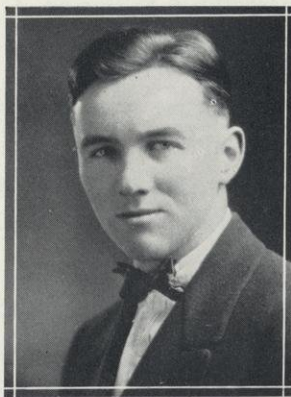

Basket-ball Season --- 1927

LOWELL DAWSON
Captain

LOWELL in the guard position always played wonderful basket-ball. He was consistent and cool headed and seldom let a man slip behind him for a basket. He did not appear to hurry himself while on the floor, yet he usually kept himself open and free to pass to. He worked in well with the rest of the team and piloted the squad to championship honors in grand fashion. He has been a valuable man in his two years of basket-ball.

LEO SMITH
Student Manager

Basket-ball Squad

THREE letter men of last year's basket-ball squad and many high school stars formed the material this year from which Coach Cox picked out his championship quintet.

Out of forty candidates, Coach Cox picked seventeen men who worked hard for regular berths on the squad. Coach put these men through stiff workouts and finally got them tuned up to where they could carry off championship honors.

Toward the end of the season with another state championship in view, the school spirit threw back the covers and began to come out. At the end of the season old dame spirit was at her highest pitch and a little chill would run up and down one's spine as the student body began to cheer.

It was an entirely successful season, and we sincerely hope that Coach Cox can build up another state championship team in basket-ball next year. He will have eight letter men back to form a nucleus for the squad.

Captain-elect Bliss played a wonderful game throughout the season. He was always cool headed, and his work at guard was beyond compare. He is so shifty that he seldom lets his man get away for an open shot. He should make a wonderful leader for the Red and White.

BLISS
Captain-Elect

The cage artists started their season by taking an easy victory from Hamline. The game was played at home and gave the fans a little inkling into the prospects of the season.

SEGESTROM

The basketeters played six practice games to condition them for the conference tilt. After the Hamline game the squad played two games at Northfield, both of them closely contested. The Red and White came out on top in a game with the St. Paul Y. M. C. A., but took the worst defeat of the season from St. Olaf.

The Oles' ability to make free throws enabled them to add many points to their score. St. Olaf exhibited a good defense, forcing the Red and White to resort to long shots, most of which were unsuccessful.

HUNT

River Falls opened their conference in a game with Eau Claire. The game was fast and well played. The Red and White took the lead right at the start and at no time were they in any particular danger from the Eau Claire boys. The game ended after a beautiful exhibition of stalling by the River Falls team. The score was 35 to 28. The game was featured by the all around aggressiveness of the River Falls team.

The second conference tilt was with La Crosse at La Crosse. The superb playing of the Coxmen in this game was lauded in the La Crosse Tribune. The Maroons were helpless before the speedy floorwork of River Falls and the opponents failed to break away from the guards for open shots. The superior playing in every way took Coach Ted Cox's charges through to a victory of 27 to 18 which they richly deserved.

"BUD" MANION

In the best of condition, and full of confidence to take in the northern boys for a cleaning, the Red and White trekked to Superior for the third conference game. After passing the ball over, around and under the Superiorites and running circles around them, the local boys emerged victorious to the tune of 30 to 22. The home boys were fast, shifty, and clever.

LANDIS

After the local fans had worn out shoe leather and torn hair for an hour and a half, they finally got word from Cox at Eau Claire that River Falls had won 28 to 25. Judging from the score we concluded that it must have been a fight to a finish game. However we found that in the last few minutes of play, the Eau Claire boys had made a mess of things by breaking up the famous Red and White stalling game. Not satisfied with this, they proceeded to make four baskets one after the other, thus making things look bad. The Red and White were leading by a comfortable margin up to those last few minutes.

COLLINS

The fourth conference tilt was at Stout. Although the game was not at all one sided the local boys managed to maintain a fair lead. Standish in his clever way caged three baskets in rather short succession. The defense work of River Falls forced Stout to resort to long range shooting. Judging from the results they must have been short sighted.

After about sixty minutes of hard struggling, the boys hung up another victory for River Falls with a score of 23 to 18.

NORBERT MANION

In one of the most exciting games of the season, the River Falls teachers defeated the Stout Institute basket-ball team by a 28 to 21 score.

Stout presented their usual team of giants with great effect. Nor Manion, however, was able to get the biggest share of the jumps at center. The half ended 14 to 9 in River Falls' favor.

Stout recovered their wind and came back strong at the beginning of the second half. Things began to look dangerous for the Falls. At this critical point, Standish broke through with a basket and Hunt followed with another. The Falls team then started their famous stalling game and held off the Miller crew for the remaining few minutes. The game ended 28 to 23.

Undoubtedly the most thrilling battle of the season was the last one with La Crosse. The Keelerites held the lead until the third quarter then lost the game 28 to 23. La Crosse took the lead right from the start and maintained it on into the last quarter with a 3-point margin.

At this point Lowell and Standish starred in a spurt that gave River Falls its first advantage. La Crosse came back and gained a 1-point lead. Standish closed the gap with a free throw. Dawson followed with a beautiful field shot. The game ended in a beautiful exhibition of stalling.

CASE

Another State Championship was won when the Red and White cagers after a close struggle in the first half, came back in the final period and downed Superior by the wide margin of 38 to 15.

By virtue of the victory over Superior, the Red and White finished the season with 1000% and tied with Platteville for championship.

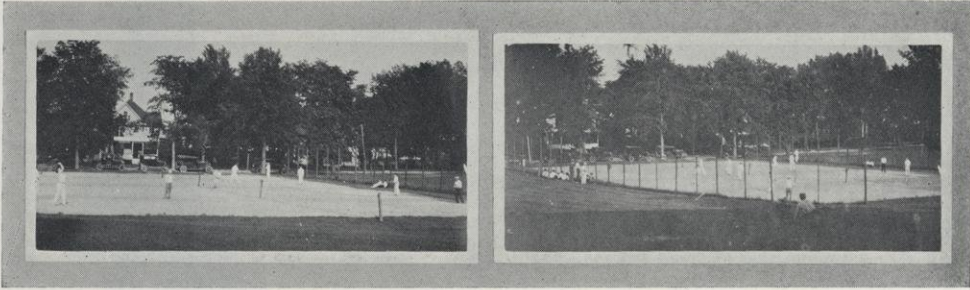

Eight members of the Red and White squad figured in the scoring. Bliss was high point man with two field goals and five out of six free throws. In the last quarter Landis and Collins stepped into the game for their first time this season in a home game. Case and Segerstrom were also sent in.

Much of the success of the season was due to the fine spirit of cooperation among the players and with the coach. "Nor" Manion, center and shining star of the Red and White, was more than able to hold his own with all comers. He was not outjumped in any game though he played against much taller men. Bud's playing was remarkable for consistent team work; his floor work was shifty and clever and he eluded the guards for many short shots. Because of his eagle eye for the basket Landis frequently got into the games. The playing of Standish was of exceptional quality; he pulled several games out of the fire with his phenomenal side shots. Most of the season Standish alternated with Hunt at forward. Never before has the normal had two men of such quality for one position. Bill's uncanny ability to work in the ball on the short shots made him one of the high scorers of the game season. The defense work of Segerstrom was beyond reproach. He seldom let his man slip behind him for an open shot. He was speedy and had a good eye for the basket. Case came to us from Gustavus where he had acquired one year's experience at center. He was a steady, consistent player and deserves much credit for helping to lift the team to championship heights.

Collins' ability to change position on the team and still be able to work well with the rest of the team made him a valuable man. He could play either forward or guard with equal ability. Collins will be back next year with two years' experience in basket-ball and should prove good material for another team.

STANDISH

Tennis in 1926

WITH the completion of the four new trap rock courts, an immense impetus was given to the interest in tennis during the season of 1926. The courts were in constant use before the breakfast hour, after school, and after supper. With new, well kept courts the old players developed stellar quality and many students, who had done little or nothing with tennis, showed great promise. Tennis became one of the leading spring sports.

The spring tournaments were very interesting and very hotly contested. Prof. May defeated Gerald Paul in a close and exciting match in the finals of Singles. Bob Smith and Clarence Wesslyn won first honors in the doubles. In the first inter-school meet ever held, the River Falls team consisting of Paul, Wesslyn, Dawson and Wandry defeated a team representing Luther Phalen. The River Falls team took five of the six matches of this meet.

Coaches Cox and Mitchell broke into championship honors once more by winning the faculty men's doubles. The champions point to the fact that this series ran all season to prove that there was no fluke or accident to the result.

Women's Athletics

G. A. A.

THE Girls' Athletic Association aims to encourage participation in girls' sports. It endeavors to create a spirit of good sportsmanship and loyalty toward all school activities. All girls in school who are interested in athletics are eligible to become members.

This organization took an active part in the Homecoming and the Victory celebrations and exhibited as much pep as any. The Winter Carnival, which the G. A. A. sponsored, was one of the big events of the year.

Participation in athletics is encouraged by the sweater awards, the Loving Cup, and the official "R's".

The white G. A. A. sweaters were awarded to four girls. These girls have worked hard and earnestly for their sweaters.

To receive a sweater a girl must earn six hundred points. Our point system awards two points for every hour of hiking, swimming, skiing, skating, tobogganing, tennis and horseback riding; one hundred points for any position on the first team of basket-ball, volley ball or baseball, and fifty points for hygienic living.

The girls who won sweaters are Ruth Foley (in the picture) Laura May Lampson, May Fuller, and Alma Guerkink.

FORENSICS

THE year 1927 has been another "Mitchell" year. First place in Oratory, a State Championship in Debate, and second place in Extemporaneous Speaking might be considered a case of great good luck. A review of the record of 1926 reveals, however, that it is a typical record for Coach Mitchell. Every member of the school is glad to give full credit to our great leader.

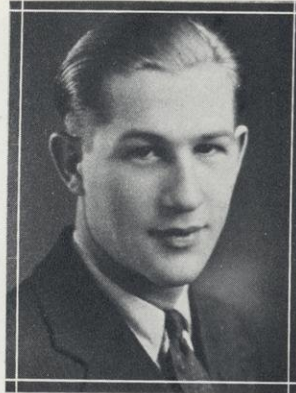

It is due largely to the inspiring personality and leadership of Mr. Mitchell that Forensics has become a major interest in the school. The celebration at the close of the debate season lacked nothing in fervor when compared with the celebrations of the Football and Basket-ball Championships. There is as much squad spirit and team loyalty among the debaters and orators as there is among the football men. It is the consciousness that they are working with a real man that inspires students to write orations, try out for extemporaneous speaking and to toil in the long series of preliminary and practice debates.

One outstanding quality of Mr. Mitchell's work is that he works with his men and women. No argument or line of thought is handed out by the coach. Everything is worked out in practice debates and the debaters think and work with the coach. It is this practice of working with an outstanding personality, rather than accepting orders, that makes the work in Forensics so much appreciated.

The Forensic banquet given by two hundred students and Faculty members was a fitting recognition of the great work of coach and students. The outstanding event of the evening was the announcement by Pres. Ames of the establishment of a Department of Public Speaking with Mr. Mitchell as head of the department. So long as Mr. Mitchell remains in this position the honors of the school are safe.

MARSHALL NORSENG

BERNARD MORTON

THIS has been another year of outstanding success in oratory and extemporaneous speaking. At the state contest we received first in oratory and second in extemporaneous speaking. In the interstate contest we received second in oratory. This rivals the record of last year when we won second in oratory and first in extemporaneous speaking both in the state and interstate contests.

The State Contest was held at Eau Claire March 18th. Our contestants were accompanied by a group of sixty students, including the Men's Glee Club, the Women's Glee Club and the Lincolnian debating society. The extemporaneous speaking contest occurred in the afternoon. Mr. Morton placed second. Donald Vetter of Stevens Point, who won the contest, later tied for first place in the interstate contest. Mr. Norseng won the oratorical contest in the evening with his oration, "Our Harvest of Hate".

The Interstate Contest occurred at Cedar Falls, Iowa, April 29th. Here Mr. Norseng met the winners of the state contests in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois, and placed second, the Missouri representative winning first.

Mr. Norseng's showing in oratory and extemporaneous speaking the last two years constitutes a record never duplicated in the history of the state or interstate leagues. Never before has one person won both state contests and never before has a representative placed in both interstate contests. We congratulate Mr. Norseng on his extraordinary showing.

FOR the second consecutive year River Falls stands at the head of the Normal School system of the state with the State Championship in Debate.

The prospects for the year looked very good with Norseng, Davison, and Smith back from last year's State Championship Team. The return of Morton at the beginning of the second quarter boosted debate stock still higher. Of last year's squad Barry and Donald Olson were able to make the teams after strenuous competition with the excellent Freshman material.

Following his usual system, Coach Mitchell divided the squad into teams for a series of practice debates. Each team debated fourteen times, seven on each side of the question. Following the cutting down of the squad, the members were assigned to sides of the question. Practice debates were held with several of the Minnesota colleges. The affirmative team also made a trip to the eastern part of the state for practice debates with Oshkosh, Stevens Point and St. Norbert's College. These debates as well as the debates between the affirmative and the negative teams gave invaluable practice to the squad. They also uncovered every argument on the McNary-Haugen Bill. Nothing was met in the conference debates which the teams had not fought over repeatedly in the practice debates.

In the Northern triangle the affirmative team, speaking at home, eliminated Superior, while the negative team journeyed to Eau Claire and won another victory. In the final round the negative team showed splendid mastery of the question in defeating the strong Stevens Point team, while the affirmative team was winning from Platteville at Platteville.

Much of the credit for the season's work is due the Girls' Team. They repeatedly debated against the regular teams and often won the judge's decision. The Girls' Team met the Girls' Team of La Crosse at La Crosse in a no decision debate and made a very strong showing.

MUSIC

THE Music Department of the River Falls Teachers' College has, in its development of the musical life of the school, maintained as its chief aim, the idea of making the school a better place in which to spend our student days. The Department has attempted to carry out this aim by providing every student with a chance of active participation in some branch of musical activity. In other words, the chance to attain some musical culture is open to every one who attends the River Falls Teachers' College.

Activities in the musical world have reached a high peak in this year's program. Fields hitherto untouched have been entered into with a great deal of success. The organization of the musical activities began in the second week of school, and a well developed musical program was soon in force. Outstanding among the musical events of the year were the College Minstrel, the College Vaudeville, the High School Music Contest, the Spring Concert, and the concert given at the Oratorical Contest at Eau Claire in March.

This year witnessed one of the most successful seasons which the Men's Glee Club and the Women's Glee Club have ever experienced. The Men's Glee Club under the direction of Marvin D. Geere put across a very successful minstrel show. The Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Cara Wharton has attained an excellence which is hard to surpass.

The two girls' quartettes have approached and surpassed the quartettes of other years. With most of these people returning to school next year, a bright future for the College seems sure.

The men's quartette has enjoyed a successful season and plans to do big things next year.

The Orchestra has maintained its standard of excellence this year. It has been very active in providing music for all the main College functions.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Richard C. Eide, has developed and maintained for itself the reputation which a River Falls Teachers' College band always has.

THE college band furnishes music for all football and basket-ball games, pep fests, and other occasions when band music is suitable. It is composed of about thirty pieces, and its membership is open to anyone who can qualify. A beginners' band is started each fall for those interested in learning to play an instrument. Each spring a small group is elected to honorary band membership on the basis of progress, attitude, and ability. This group is entitled to wear the band key as a token of this worthy membership.

DRAMA

MISS SCHLOSSER

Drama

DRAMATIC work has been an outstanding feature in the activities of the school year. Much of the credit for all the dramatic work must be given to Miss Schlosser, whose patience, efficiency and thorough work make our stage productions possible. The drama has produced several plays, one of which was a one act play, The Burglar, that was given as an assembly program during the winter months. A faculty play, Twelve Hundred a Year, was given in the fall for the benefit of the school promotion fund. The annual play for the benefit of the Agri-fallian Society was staged on the seventh of March. A cast of sixteen students presented The Whole Town's Talking, by John Emerson and Anita Loos, to a large audience which thoroughly enjoyed it from start to finish. The Senior Class Play is the final work in dramatics for the year. Bab, by Edward Childs Carpenter, has been selected for this event. The cast has been chosen and is already at work. The play will be given on the Monday night of Commencement Week. It is a four-act comedy which promises to give an evening of complete entertainment.

Homecoming

Saturday, October 9, 1926

MARSHALL NORSENG - - General Chairman

PROGRAM

8:00 P. M. (Friday evening) Mass Meeting.

9:30 P. M. (Friday evening) Torchlight Parade.

10:30 A. M. (Saturday) Parade.

2:00 P. M. (Saturday) Game (Eau Claire vs. Falls).

8:30 P. M. (Saturday) Homecoming Ball.

WITH traditional decorations of red and white, both in the streets and store fronts, River Falls welcomed her guests to the 1926 Homecoming.

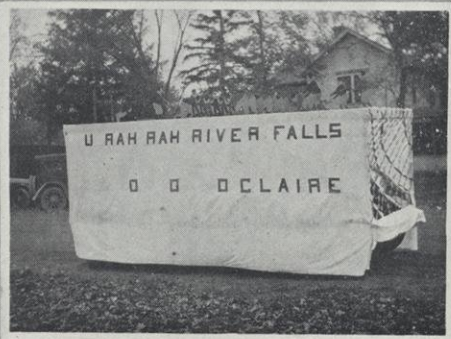

The program began in good spirit with a mass meeting presided over by Senator Hunt. With many of the former graduates on the platform, and the general assembly packed, as lively a mass meeting as any one has ever seen took place. Each one on the platform gave an interesting talk, lauding our athletics.

Among these was Mr. Bert Swenson of California, the first athletic coach of River Falls.

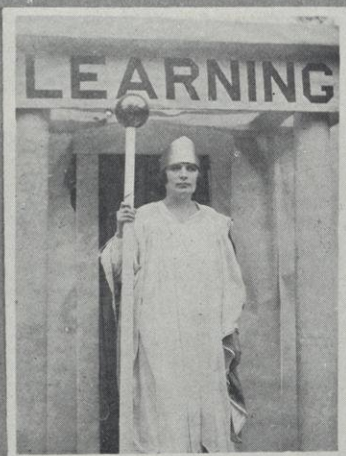

The active organizations all prepared floats, which indeed added much to the success of Homecoming and filled the morning with fun for all.

Ramer Field was crowded to its fullest capacity at the very minute of the "kick-off". Tension was prevalent throughout the whole game, but joy and shouts were the rule on the way home.

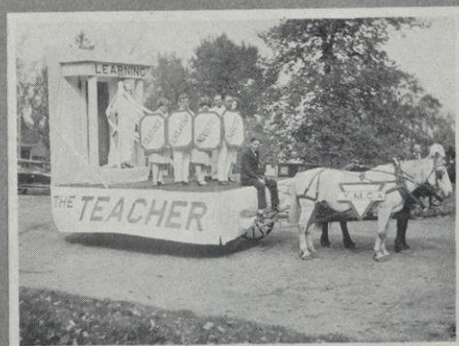

The closing event of Homecoming was the dance in the gymnasium. Altogether River Falls launched a great "Welcome-Back-Home".

The Meletean

SINCE 1912 the Senior Class of the River Falls Normal School has each year published the school annual, the Meletean. Up to 1925 this was done by the second year class. But in 1926 the third year Seniors, for the first time, constituted the larger part of the graduating class and took over the responsibility of the Meletean. With the growth of the school the annual has grown in size and in quality.

The high water mark of literary and artistic merit was certainly reached by the staff of 1926 under the advisorship of Miss Latta.

With such a model of achievement, the new and inexperienced staff of 1927 took up their work with a heavy sense of responsibility. Upon one point however there was no hesitation or trepidation. The central theme must be the expansion of the River Falls Normal School into the Western State Teachers' College. This expansion, as well as the erection of the fine addition to North Hall, point to a useful and hopeful future for the school. It is this greater future that the staff has endeavored to make the central idea of the book.

Not only was the staff fortunate in having this worthy theme, but as the activities of the school developed, it was evident that they would have a great year to chronicle. The Annual is necessarily historical in that it is built about the events of the year. Great events make great history. Surely no school has ever had a greater year. Football championship, basket-ball championship, first place in oratory, and the debate championship should form the base of a worthy chronicle. It has been the ambition of the staff to make a worthy and appreciative record of these great events. It is their hope that this ambition has been reasonably well achieved.

The Student Voice

THE STUDENT VOICE, the weekly publication of the students of the Western State Teachers' College, has in its eleven years of existence developed from a small three column sheet into a six column paper that easily meets the requirements of a standard college weekly. Its three column size was used until the spring of 1924, when the need for more news space to meet the demands of widening school and campus activities was felt, and the possibility of financially maintaining a larger paper was recognized. The result was a four column sheet that was used until the end of the school year, 1925-26. At the opening of the school year last fall the present six column sheet was initiated and has been successfully maintained throughout the year.

THE STUDENT VOICE is a self-supporting paper; that is, it receives no financial aid save that which it makes through its subscriptions and its paid advertising. It has a circulation of over eight hundred copies weekly. Four hundred of its subscribers are numbered in the student body; one hundred in the neighboring high schools; fifty-four in the ranks of the alumni of the school; and forty in the faculty. Over two hundred copies are sent out weekly in exchange with other colleges, with high schools, and with town and city papers.

THE STUDENT VOICE is intrinsically a student publication. It is written, edited, and published by members of the student body. The staff is organized into two distinct groups: the editorial staff and the business staff. The editor and the business manager earn their positions by a year's work as assistants to their respective offices. These assistantships are in turn acquired on merits of ability and willingness to work. This plan is on a strictly competitive basis; each student "trying out" is given ample opportunity to show his fitness for the position that he is trying for. The staff members also earn their places on the staff, and keep them only by doing better work than their competitors. This plan not only keeps the standard of the paper higher, but also serves as a means of giving the staff members invaluable training in journalistic work and business methods.

THE STUDENT VOICE for the past nine months has not only been of such high standard as to compare favorably with the college papers of much larger schools, but it also has earned recognition from other campuses. In addition, it has carried word of the activities of this school abroad and spread the fame of the Red and White throughout the state. This has been a successful year for THE STUDENT VOICE.

THE Student Social Committee is a representative body composed of three members from each class with Miss Hathorn as faculty advisor.

It is the duty of this Social Committee to foster social activities throughout the school year for the benefit of the student body. The matinee dances, as well as the evening dances, have been sponsored by this committee. The masquerade seemed the high light in the way of dancing.

Another project attempted by the Social Committee was the outdoor skating rink. With the aid of the townspeople, faculty and students, the rink was enlarged a great deal in comparison with the rink of last year. This rink was used in municipal capacity, townspeople as well as students and faculty members having access to it. One of the feature additions was the erection of a warming house.

It is the hope of the present committee that future members will still further increase the number of real social activities for the normal school students.

Y. M. C. A.

THE Y. M. C. A. is an organization which seeks to build up in its members Creative Christian Personality. "Y" members pledge themselves to foster right thinking, right speaking, and right living. This involves honest class work, clean athletics, pure social relationships, and service to the other fellow.

When nearly one-half of all the young men in school so pledge themselves, as in the past year, one can readily see what a large part such a movement must play in our campus life. In a year of many successes, the River Falls Y. M. C. A. has held a leading place among the other Associations in the State. Indeed not a little of the most desirable publicity around the state has come to River Falls because of its active Y. M. C. A.

Throughout the year the "Y" has taken an active part in the social life of the school. The "Joint Mixers" staged early in the year, the annual "Stag" party, and the joint picnic with the Y. W. C. A. and the N. C. A. have done much to enliven and make enjoyable a year of happy campus life.

In December, through the efforts of the "Y", the Hon. J. Stitt Wilson visited school and gave a number of thought-provoking lectures. Four delegates from the "Y" attended the National Student Conference at Milwaukee during the Christmas vacation, and two were also sent to the Officers' Training Conference held in Milwaukee at Easter Time. A series of joint discussions with the Y. W. C. A. and the N. C. A. aroused considerable interest in various student problems. As a climax to these discussions Reverend Fred Jordan of Rice Lake, Wisconsin, delivered an address on the subject, "Right Relationships Between Men and Women". Gratifying interest was manifested throughout the year in the regular Tuesday evening meetings.

Agrifallian

THE Agrifallian society, an organization whose membership includes all students of Agriculture, looks back on the year 1926-27 as a truly "red letter" year in its several lines of endeavor which include a Poultry show, a spring field day, and a series of bi-monthly meetings with programs that have been entertaining and of unusual educational value.

The first major project undertaken by the society was the sixth annual poultry and grain show, an event in which local poultrymen tied for honors in the show ring and the agriculture students had an opportunity to get some practical experience.

In addition to the usual show, with some six hundred birds entered, we added a new feature to the show in the form of a community club booth contest. Three clubs entered booths of such outstanding excellence that every one is convinced that this should be made a permanent feature of the show.

Another innovation in the form of a demonstration contest among teams coached by members of the society, proved to be the high light of the afternoon program and a well worth while event.

Our regular programs of the year have been designed to entertain and at the same time offer an opportunity for members to obtain some exceptional valuable experience. On several occasions senior students spoke on various timely topics. At other times up-to-the-minute questions were debated.

In accordance with our policy of continual improvements the demonstrations in our spring meet were coached by senior students rather than given by them as has been customary in the past. No doubt, this new method is the more practical plan for prospective teachers of agriculture.

Several of the Smith-Hughes high schools of the vicinity were invited to attend the field day program and to compete in various judging contests. During the day they were entertained by members of the society.

The play, "The Whole Town's Talking", staged by the society as a means of financing the poultry show, was successful in every way.

A great deal of credit for the success of the society's program should be given to Prof. A. N. Johnson, our faculty advisor, and to other members of the faculty in the agriculture department who have spared no efforts to boost projects promoted by the society.

THE Aurelia Literary Society has for its aims the setting before the girls of some of the best literature of the stage, the school, and the fireside. At the semi-monthly meetings there have been exciting discussions, and worthwhile talks and readings, supplemented by inspiring music. All the members feel that during this year the Aurelia Society has accomplished its noble purpose.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

Barkus is willing!
John, turn out the light.
"In a Little Spanish Town——"
I guesh I know what I'm doin'.
I'll take mine straight.
Just once more!
Don't!
All right!

BIG SCANDAL

Miss Hathorn was walking down Cascade Avenue last night about 12:00, when she saw two suspicious looking characters lurking along the street. With great fear in her heart she drew nearer to the culprits. When a little ways from them, she noticed that one reached in his hind pocket and leaned slightly forward towards her. The other scowled and put his hand behind him as though hiding something.

She got by them in safety, and then looking back, she saw Peewee Weber and Trink Glass, our college babies, slyly smoking their first cigarettes.

AFTER THE BRAWL!

Of all the dumb surprises
There's nothing to compare
With treading in the darkness
On a step that isn't there.

JIGGERS! AUNT MARY!

Do you suppose the "cowies" will recognize the "aggies" when they return to the old homestead?

Miss Haddow: "What do you know of Milton?"

Joe: "Milton was the poet who wrote 'Paradise Lost', then his wife died and he wrote 'Paradise Regained'."

Bob: "Why do you always smoke cigar butts?"

Morton: "People don't throw away whole cigars."

Absence makes the grades go lower.

He: "Pardon me, has your dress slipped off or am I seeing things?"

She. "Both."

In days of old
 When knights were bold,
 And sheet-iron trousers wore;
 They lived in peace,
 For then a crease
 Would last ten years or more.
 In those old days
 They had a craze
 For cast-iron shirts—and wore 'em!
 And there was bliss
 Enough in this—
 The laundry never tore 'em.
 —Oregon Owl.

Stewed: "Letsh go pickin' flowersh."

Soak: "What would we do if there weren't no flowersh?"

"It": "Shay, d'ya sponse dem road ruts ever get together?"

GEOGRAPHY

The moon affects both the tide and the untied.

GRAMMAR

Teacher: "Give the principal parts of the verb 'set'."

Student: "Set, hatch, cackle."

Mr. Geere, to the mixed chorus after they had been practicing on a song: "We will now sing something."

To the Senior, "bread" means a three year loaf, requiring a great deal of dough, as well as plenty of crust.

The poets sing
About the spring
And say the bird
Is on the wing,
Upon my word
It is absurd,
Because the wing
Is on the bird.

Stude: "Say! What the heck did they call those big things that they used in the war—you know—They rolled over and over like a big bug—"

More Stude: "Oh—or—tanks!"

Still More Stude: "Yeh! You're welcome."

A minister from Tennessee
Accidentally sat down on a bee,
But the darn little bee,
Just chuckled with glee,
And said, "That's a good one on me!"

—Puzzle.

He: "Why do you look at me that way?"

She: "I'm in love, I just can't help it when I see you."

He: "Oh, I'm so happy. I never realized it before."

She: "Yes, isn't it strange that everyone seems to have a double?"
(C'mon girls, it's time to laugh)

Jim: "Lived here all your life?"

Standish: "Dunno, haven't died yet."

"Tell them I'll be gone for the day," said the lunatic as he awoke.

Stratton: "What this institution needs is a collegiate Ford that will run."

Mary had a little lamb,
This tale was told before,
But did you know she passed her plate
And had a little more?

SHAKESPEARE AS A GRIDDER

Has it been realized that the great William Shakespeare was a football player? The following quotations offer proofs:

"Down, down."—Henry IV.

"An excellent pass!"—The Tempest.

"Let him not pass but kill him rather!"—Othello.

"But to the goal!"—Winter's Tale.

"We must have bloody noses and racked crowns."—Henry IV.

"I'll catch it 'ere it comes to ground!"—Macbeth.

Said the moth as he sniffed at the camphor,
I'm sorry I'm here where I amphor
Some things that I eat
Taste pleasant and sweet,
But camphor I don't give a damphor.
—Exchange

I sent my son to Normal,
With a pat upon the back.
I spent a thousand dollars,
And got a quarterback.

Prof. Johnson, assigning Ag. topics: "Thurston, do you want 'Hog cholera?'"

Ford Thurston: "No, sir, I would prefer chicken lice."
