"It's a Great Day for Hockey!"

"It's a great day for hockey!" Those are the words uttered by legendary Wisconsin men's hockey coach Bob Johnson. It was a frequent statement by "Badger Bob" during his time spreading the game of hockey around the state during the 1960s, 1970s and 1980s. A three-time NCAA champion before moving on to coach in the NHL with the Calgary Flames and before winning a Stanley Cup championship as head coach of the Pittsburgh Penguins, Johnson left a legacy that still resonates today.

Winning is part of that legacy and Wisconsin fans get to see plenty of it. Six NCAA championships, 11 WCHA playoff championships, three WCHA titles and annual NCAA appearances give Badger fans many reasons to come out in droves.

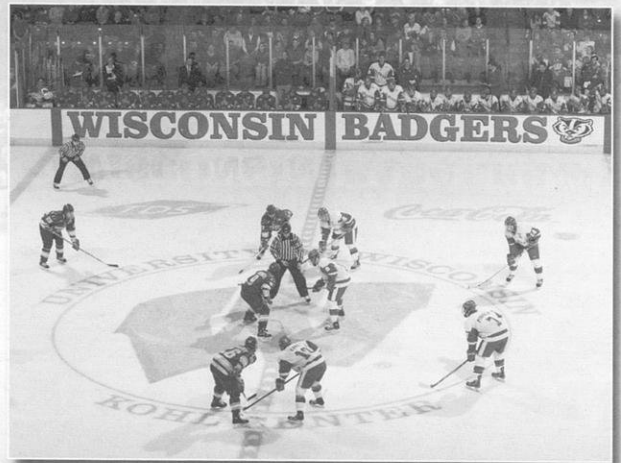

Come out in droves they do. Wisconsin fans have led the nation in attendance 32 of the last 37 seasons, including each of the past eight campaigns. Badger fanatics hold NCAA records for attendance average and total attendance while taking in games in the 15,237-seat Kohl Center. Sellouts are a regular occurrence, allowing the Badgers to average more fans than a handful of NHL teams attract.

Badger hockey fans have a reputation throughout the college hockey world as passionate, dedicated, knowledgeable and well-traveled supporters of their team. A student section, 2,800 strong, breathes added life into the following. The carnival-like atmosphere of the storied UW band accompanying costumed and red and white clad students who pass intermissions dancing through the aisles makes quite an impression. The power-play chant resonates during entire man-advantage situations, while the generally jovial atmosphere is highlighted by improvised cheers and chants throughout the game. Then there is always the postgame singing of "Varsity" to celebrate another Badger victory and a game well played.

In 2005-06, Badger hockey fans were treated to a special season. 40,890 people showed up at Lambeau Field in Green Bay, Wis., to watch the Badgers defeat Ohio State at the Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic, and many returned to Green Bay to watch the Badgers capture the NCAA Midwest Regional. Still others made the short trek to the Bradley Center in Milwaukee to witness the sixth NCAA title in school history. So not only do Badger hockey fans fill the Kohl Center, they fill venues everywhere.

A Wisconsin hockey gameday experience is like none other. Combining the sheer fan support of a professional team with the exuberance only afforded the intercollegiate level makes for a perfect combination.

Every great program is built on the shoulders of outstanding players. It is no different at Wisconsin. The remarkable success the hockey program has enjoyed throughout its history has come with national recognition for a number of Badger players.

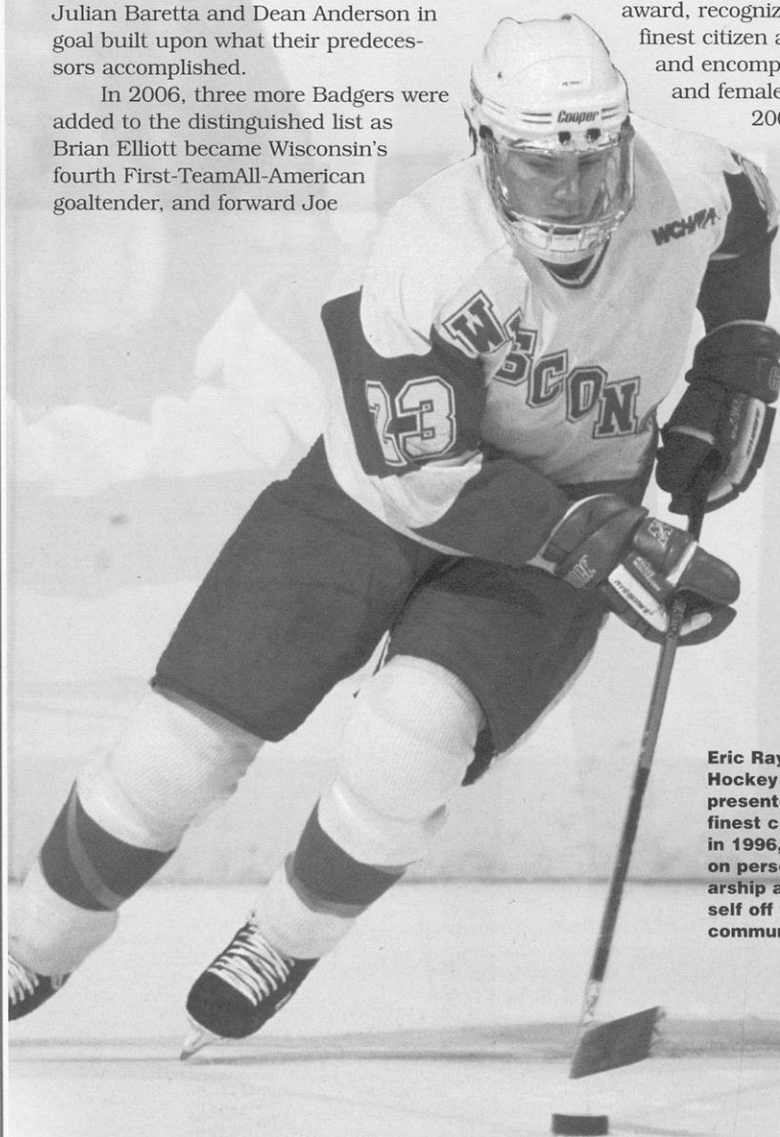

The names read like a who's who of the hockey world. John Jagger became the first Badger to be named an All-American in 1970, and 31 others have since been added to the nation's list of top collegiate hockey players. People like Mike Eaves and John Newberry at forward, Brian Engblom and Brian Rafalski on defense and Julian Baretta and Dean Anderson in goal built upon what their predecessors accomplished.

In 2006, three more Badgers were added to the distinguished list as Brian Elliott became Wisconsin's fourth First-Team All-American goaltender, and forward Joe Pavelski and defenseman Tom Gilbert earned recognition on the second team. Elliott went beyond All-American status, like six Badgers before him and finished as one of the finalists for the Hobey Baker Memorial Award.

In addition to the student-athletes, head coach Mike Eaves was named a runner-up for the 2006 Spencer Penrose Award for the national coach of the year.

Over the years, two Badgers have earned special recognition as their names have been associated with The Hockey Humanitarian Award. In 1998, Erik Raygor became the first Badger to win the award, recognizing college hockey's finest citizen across all divisions and encompassing both male and female hockey players. In 2004, Dan Boeser made the list of five finalists for the prestigious honor.

Eric Raygor won the 1998 Hockey Humanitarian Award, presented to college hockey's finest citizen. First presented in 1996, the award is based on personal character, scholarship and the giving of oneself off the ice to the larger community.

Paul Ranheim was a First-Team All-American forward in 1988.

Above: A First-Team All-American in 2006, Brian Elliott made the Hobey "Hat Trick" as one of the final three candidates for the 2006 Hobey Baker Memorial Award. All three finalists were present at the ESPN-televised award presentation during the 2006 NCAA Frozen Four weekend.

Left: Duane Derksen, the 1992 WCHA Player of the Year, was a Second-Team All-American that same season.

Below: Defenseman John Jagger made Wisconsin hockey history in 1970 when he was named a First-Team All-American.

HOBEBY BAKER AWARD

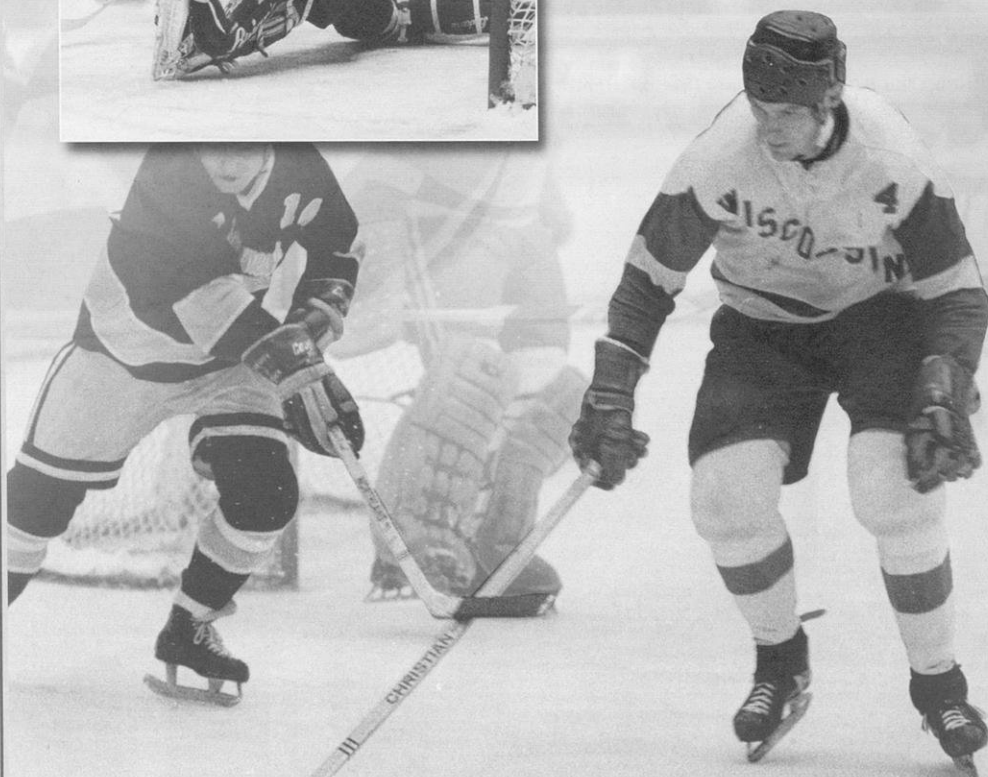

First awarded in 1981, the Hobey Baker Memorial Award was established to recognize college hockey's premier individual player. Ten players are selected each year as finalists for the award. Wisconsin has had seven finalists for the award.

Wisconsin is one of the top college hockey media draws

Over the past three seasons, 97 of Wisconsin's 127 hockey games have been shown live on television, an average of over 32 games each season. FOX Sports Net leads the way for Wisconsin hockey broadcasts with 65 over the past three years. Additional national coverage has included games live on ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU and CSTV, while live local coverage on UPN and tape-delayed coverage across the State of Wisconsin on Wisconsin Public Television adds to the many avenues Badger hockey fans can enjoy their team.

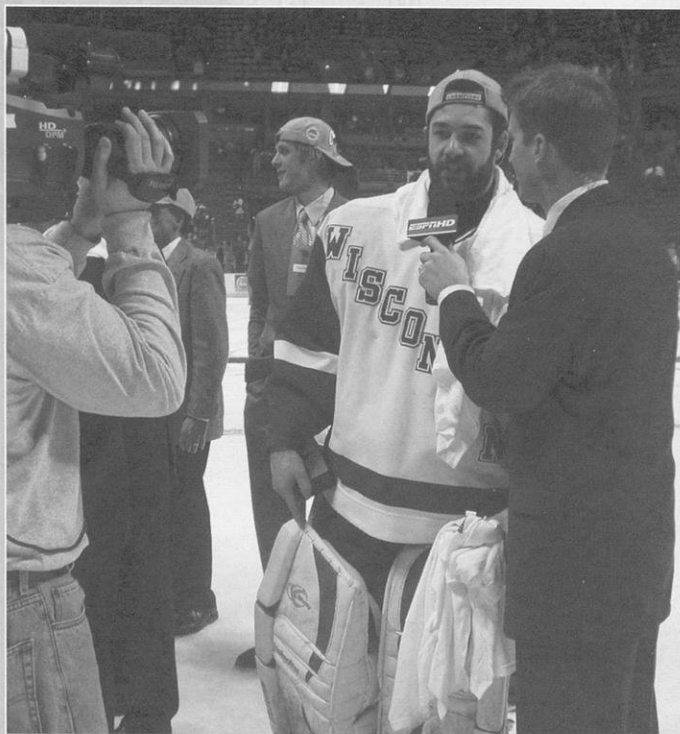

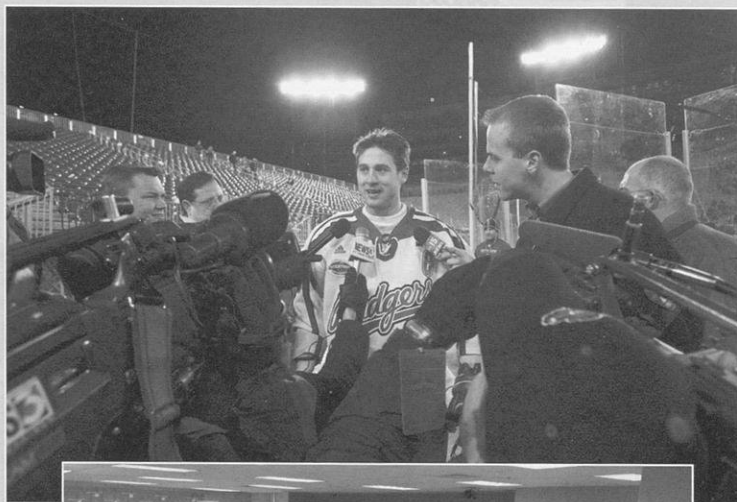

When television coverage is not available, Wisconsin hockey games can be seen live at uwbadgers.com, while all games can be heard live on the radio on WIBA-AM and at uwbadgers.com.

Wisconsin's reputation as the major athletic program in the state also attracts a lot of media attention. Madison is home to four television stations, 18 radio stations, two daily newspapers and two student newspapers. In addition, media from around the state, including the Milwaukee area, also cover the Badgers on a regular basis.

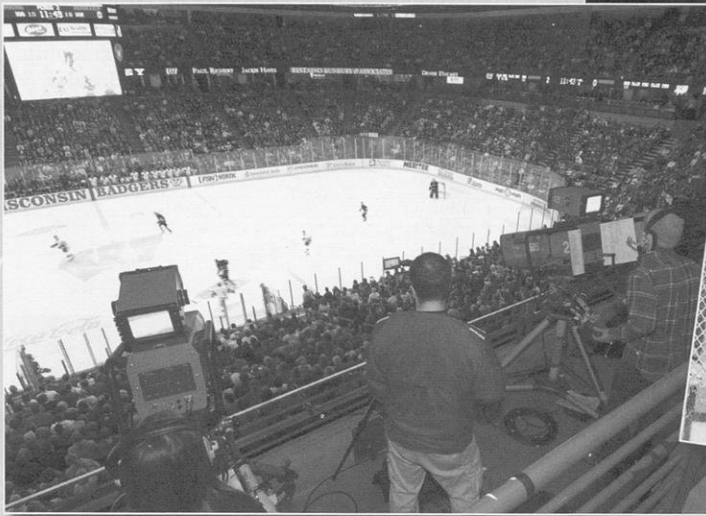

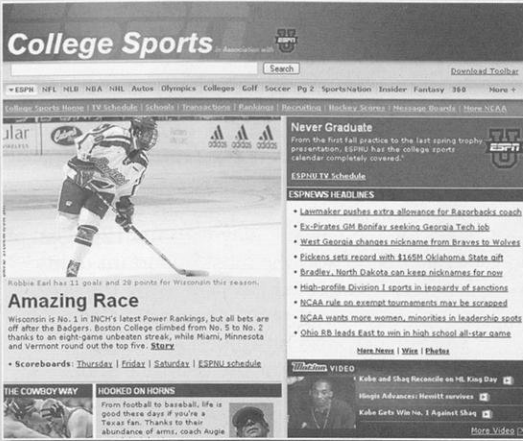

The UW athletic department makes Wisconsin men's hockey well known around the internet. Along with video and radio Web streams, all of Wisconsin's home postgame news conferences, as well as head coach Mike Eaves' weekly Monday news conference are shown live and are archived on the site. uwbadgers.com always stays one step ahead of the curve among college athletics' Web sites.

Wisconsin may be the only school in the country to conduct a postgame news conference after each home hockey contest (right). Each news conference is live streamed at uwbadgers.com.

Media from all over the State of Wisconsin followed the team's run through the NCAA tournament (bottom right).

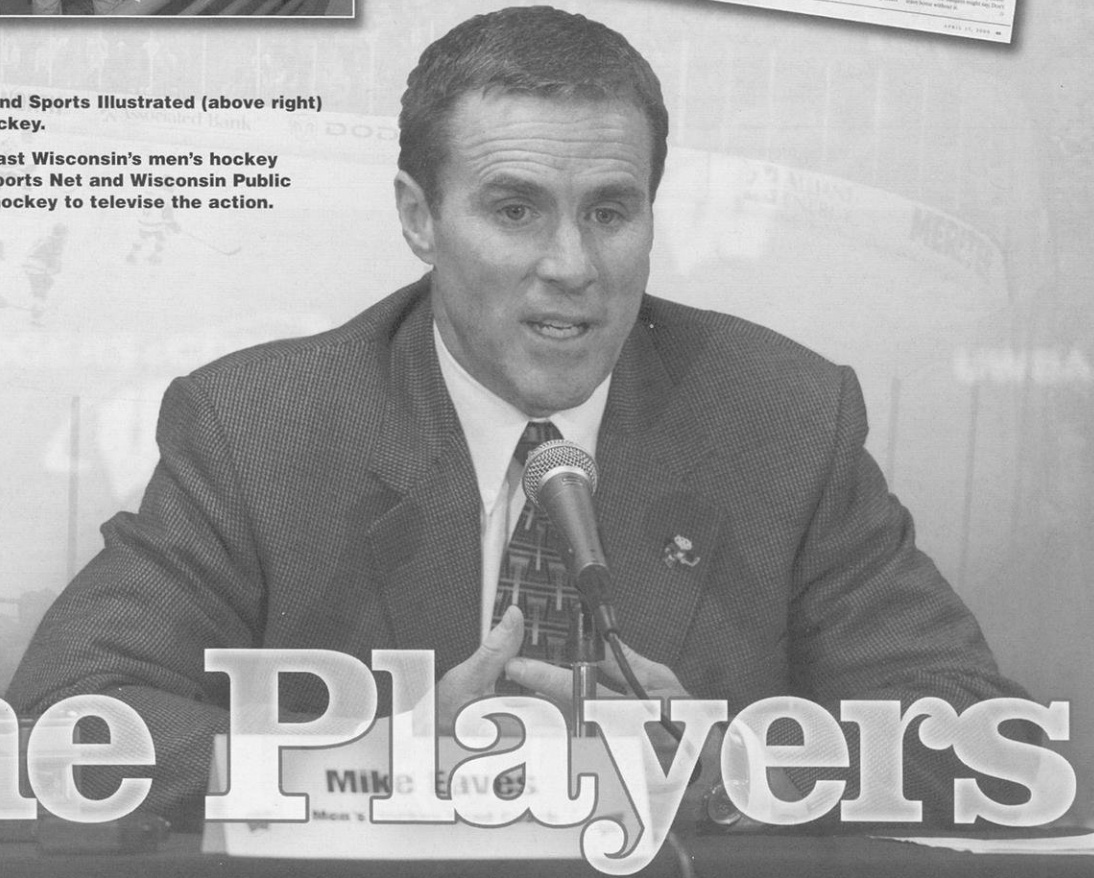

Prime

Up to three TV stations have broadcast Wisconsin's men's hockey games at one time. Normally, FOX Sports Net and Wisconsin Public Television are in attendance at UW hockey to televise the action.

Gilbert's power-play goal wins title

It was the culmination of a dream season. When the final Boston College shot rang off the post and the Bradley Center's horn blew to signify the end of the 2006 NCAA Championship Game, Wisconsin had won its sixth NCAA championship.

The Badgers earned a well-deserved victory, outshooting the Boston College Eagles, 39-23, and dictating play throughout the evening.

Goalkeepers: BC, Schneider (17-10-10=37), 59:36;
UW, Elliott (8-10-4=22), 59:49.

The Badgers fell behind 1-0 midway through the first period and despite outplaying the Eagles, Wisconsin was in unfamiliar territory. Only three times in the previous 42 games, Wisconsin trailed and finished victorious.

Robbie Earl, Tom Gilbert, Joe Pavelski and Adam Burish made sure there would be a fourth time. Earl tied the game just 1:17 into the second period. After sustaining what appeared to be a leg injury just outside the BC blue line, Earl recovered and drove to the net to tap in a centering pass from Burish for the equalizer. Then at 9:32 of the third period, Tom Gilbert completed a tic-tac-toe passing play with his 12th goal of the season and the most important of his career. Burish fed Pavelski along the goal line to the right of BC goaltender Cory Schneider, who hit Gilbert streaking through the slot for the one-time shot.

Boston College nearly tied the game as time expired when the Eagles pulled their goaltender and a deflected point shot sailed past Wisconsin All-American goaltender Brian Elliott and off the left post. The horn sounded a second later and pandemonium spread throughout Milwaukee's Bradley Center.

Wisconsin honored all over the State of Wisconsin

The afterglow of Wisconsin's NCAA title lasted well into the following fall. The team and its trophy were in high demand throughout the State of Wisconsin where it seemed everyone wanted to share in the pride and glory that came along with the NCAA title.

The celebration got underway almost immediately as fans awaited the team bus on an overpass along Interstate 94 between Milwaukee and Madison. Once the team hit Sun Prairie, Wis., just northeast of Madison, a total of 20 fire engines and police cars escorted the victorious Badgers the 15 miles home with sirens and lights blaring. The escort led a line of cars that joined the victory parade along the way.

Much in the tradition of the Stanley Cup, the NCAA championship trophy was seen throughout the Madison area in the weeks following.

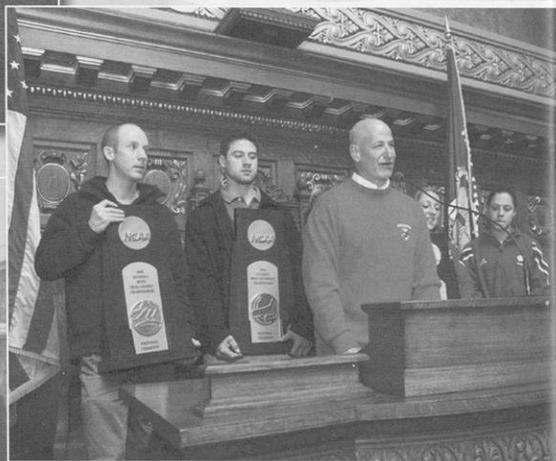

Before the unofficial tour began, Badger hockey fans welcomed back the team with a gathering at the Kohl Center the next evening. Upwards of 3,000 fans celebrated with the Badgers, including Chancellor John Wiley, Athletics Director Barry Alvarez and the national champion Wisconsin women's hockey team, who two weeks prior had already been welcomed home by Badger fans.

Just when things appeared to settle down, the trophy traveled to the state capitol building where the Wisconsin State Senate and House of Representatives passed resolutions honoring the champion Badgers.

The Milwaukee Brewers honored the Badgers in early May prior to their contest with the San Francisco Giants, then it was off to the Governor's Mansion for a visit along with Wisconsin's other NCAA champions, its women's hockey and men's cross country teams.

The victory tour still had stops at the Milwaukee Mile in July for an Indy Car race, and awaited the traditional call from the White House for a visit with the President of the United States.

Top: The Badgers were introduced prior to the start of a Milwaukee Brewers game at Miller Park on May 3.

The Badgers were honored at the Milwaukee Mile on July 23. The Badgers announced to the racers "Start your engines!" (below), waved the green flag during one of the undercard races (top right), and met many of the Indy car racers, including Danica Patrick (above).

On April 9, a day after winning the NCAA title, up to 3,000 Wisconsin fans welcomed the Badgers back to the Kohl Center to help celebrate.

Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic

U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game brings hockey to Lambeau

On Feb. 11, 2006, 40,890 hockey fans packed in to watch as a new definition for the 'Frozen Tundra' of Lambeau Field was written. The Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic, which served as the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game, drew the fourth-largest crowd ever for a hockey game and the second-largest crowd for a college hockey game. The fans were there to witness history as the home of the NFL's Green Bay Packers played host to an outdoor ice hockey game for the first time.

Most of the fans left happy because of the pregame tailgating, the crisp February Wisconsin weather, the festive atmosphere that included the Wisconsin band, an appearance by the Stanley Cup, and most of all, the 4-2 Badger victory over Ohio State.

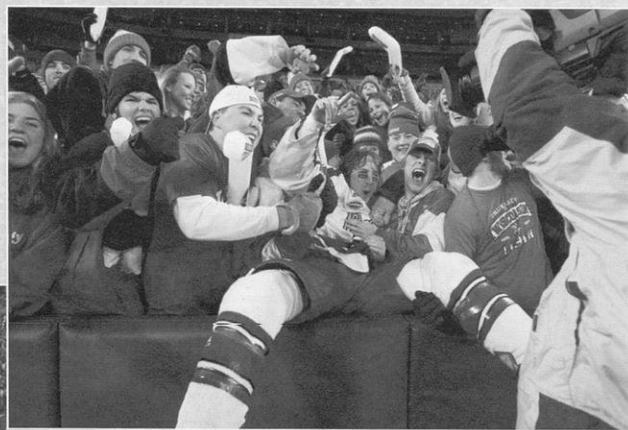

With a goal and an assist, Robbie Earl led the way for Wisconsin, while Adam Burish gave the Badgers a 1-0 lead 23 seconds into the contest and Andrew Joudrey tallied the game-winning score. Freshman goalie Shane Connelly stopped 18 shots for the Badgers to record the victory.

The 40,890 fans in attendance were treated to slightly better weather conditions than had been expected. The temperature at the opening faceoff was 28 degrees with winds out of the west at seven miles per hour so the temperature was 26 degrees with wind chill. By the start of the third period, winds were calm and the temperature held steady at 27 degrees.

During the game's second intermission, fans were delighted to hear "Jump Around" played over the stadium's stereo system, honoring a tradition at UW home football games. "Jump Around" was just one example of how Lambeau Field was transformed into a northern combination of Camp Randall and the Kohl Center on Saturday. In addition to roughly 170 members of the UW Marching Band and Bucky Badger, Kohl Center announcer Bob Look made the trip up to Green Bay, helping Lambeau feel just like home.

Wisconsin fans and players celebrated the victory with the "Lambeau Leap" made famous during Green Bay Packer football games.

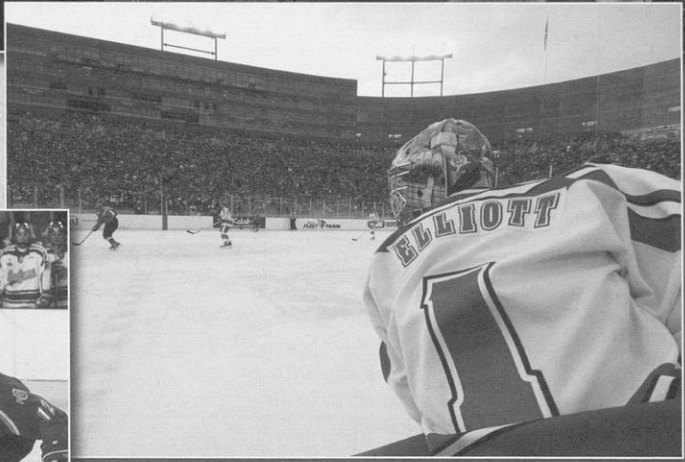

Jeff Likens and the rest of the Badgers celebrated their 4-2 victory over Ohio State at the Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic by revising the great Green Bay Packers tradition, the "Lambeau Leap."

Frozen Tundra

“It’s one of those games you’re going to remember the rest of your life... It just brought you back to when you were a kid playing on an outdoor rink. And then all of a sudden you look around and there’s 40,000 people and you’re in one of the most prestigious stadiums in sports. It was just an unreal experience.”

– former Badger Ryan MacMurphy

The WCHA

College hockey's top conference

With a noteworthy past that now spans six decades, three overriding characteristics continue to define the Western Collegiate Hockey Association over the league's 54 seasons: history, tradition and success.

From the Association's founding days as the Midwest Collegiate Hockey League (MCHL) from 1951-53, to the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League (WIHL) from 1953-58, and ultimately on to the Western Collegiate Hockey Association in 1959, this prestigious conference has maintained a tradition of excellence that is second to none.

In fact, no collegiate conference—in any sport—can top the impressive list of national scale accomplishments of the WCHA. Since 1951, teams representing this conference have earned an amazing 36 NCAA (national) championships, including the last five straight, finished as the national runner-up another 27 times, and qualified for a berth in collegiate hockey's national championship—the NCAA Men's Frozen Four—in 51 of 54 seasons overall.

In addition to its successes in national championship tournament play over the years, the WCHA owns an enviable reputation for producing outstanding coaches and student-athletes, with hundreds of its alumni moving on to noteworthy professional and Olympic playing careers.

Kohl Center

College hockey's top facility

On Oct. 3, 1998, the UW hockey team opened play in its new home—the 15,237-seat Kohl Center. The second-largest college-owned hockey arena in the country marks its eighth year as home of Wisconsin hockey.

The facility is named after U.S. Senator Herb Kohl, a 1956 UW-Madison graduate who donated $25 million towards the construction of the arena. Kohl's gift is the single-largest private donation in UW history.

Albert "Ab" Nicholas, a former All-Big Ten basketball player for the Badgers, and his wife, Nancy Johnson Nicholas, pledged $10 million toward the project. For their generosity, the facility's basketball practice gymnasium is called the Nicholas-Johnson Pavilion.

Additions were made to the Kohl Center for the 2004-05 season, including the installation of a new scoreboard and ring beam. The main Kohl Center scoreboard includes 9-by-14-foot video boards on all four sides that provide Wisconsin fans their first opportunity to enjoy video replays. The ring beam, which runs the circumference of the arena at the first balcony level, makes Wisconsin one of a select few college venues with a ring beam, promising to create a unique and exciting game atmosphere.

Further updates were made to the building in late summer of 2006. A new weight room and dining area were constructed at ice level to further enhance the student-athlete experience.

The Kohl Center, which cost $76.4 million, is also the home of the Badger men's and women's basketball teams (seats 17,142 for basketball), women's hockey, as well as concerts, guest speakers, shows and sporting events.

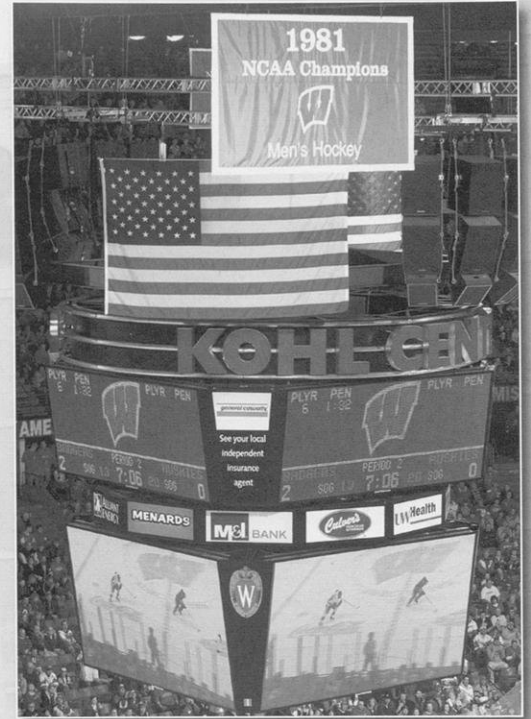

Entertainers who have already performed at the Kohl Center include Elton John, Faith Hill and Tim McGraw, Shania Twain, Cher, The Moody Blues, Dave Matthews Band, Tool, matchbox 20, Billy Joel and the Rascal Flatts. The Dalai Lama has also made an appearance.

The Kohl Center hosted one of the 2002 NCAA Division I Regionals of the men's NCAA basketball tournament, and also set the NCAA attendance mark for women's volleyball with the 1998 NCAA Championship draw of 13,194 people. The building will again play host to NCAA competition when the NCAA Men's Hockey Midwest Regional arrives in 2008.

"It was so loud in the building for the majority of the game, there were times we couldn't hear each other on the bench. It is always fun to hear other teams between whistles or during stoppages of play say, 'This place is crazy. Your fans and students are nuts.'"

— former Wisconsin captain
Adam Burish

Wisconsin installed a scoreboard with four video screens and a ring beam into the Kohl Center during the summer of 2004.

Fan-friendly displays decorate the first floor of the Kohl Center, including a "Greatest Moments" wall (top), individual sport displays (top right) and historical displays (right).

Above Left: The Badger Store serves as the Kohl Center's version of Bucky's Locker Room. The store is open during regular business hours and during UW events.

Conveniently located in the Kohl Center, the locker room is seconds away from the training room, weight room, and the Kohl Center academic and dining areas. It also houses a skate-sharpening room, changing room and equipment room.

The locker room serves as a source of inspiration for players as well. The room is decorated with reminders of the program's rich tradition including photos of Badger NCAA championships, All-Americans and former Badgers in the NHL.

The locker room gets used as a place to do video work, taking full advantage of a drop-down projection screen. The screen also gets used for relaxing television viewing. A table tennis set is also a mainstay for heated team ping-pong tournaments.

The Bob Johnson Hockey Facility

The Bob Johnson Hockey Facility is one of the premier hockey training facilities in the nation.

The facility is named after legendary Wisconsin head coach Bob Johnson, who directed the Badgers to three NCAA championships during his tenure from 1966-82. Johnson also coached the 1976 U.S. Olympic Team, as well as the NHL's Calgary Flames and Pittsburgh Penguins. He led the Penguins to their first Stanley Cup title during the 1990-91 season.

The complex, featuring state-of-the-art amenities for Badger hockey players, includes weight room and training room areas directly accessible from the main locker room area. Players have a private changing area equipped with personal lockers, and both the coaches and players have their own lounges.

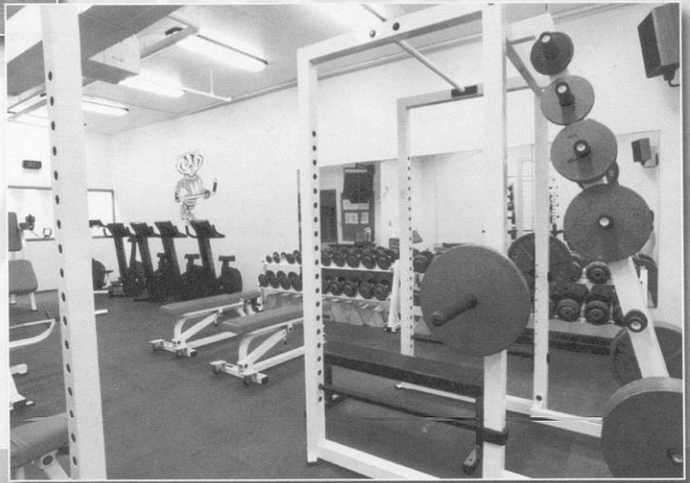

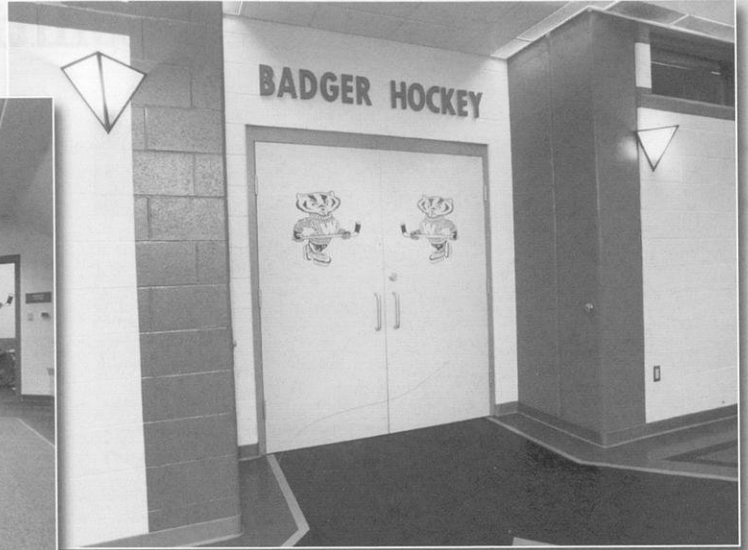

Upgrades for the 2006-07 season include in the dining area, where a 46-inch plasma television decorates the walls, and in the player lounge where a 72-inch big screen television has been added for players to wind down after a work out.

Walls recognizing Wisconsin's greatest hockey moments, its NCAA championship teams, NHLers, Olympians, Badger Hockey Showdown champions, as well as former Badgers who have been featured on the cover of The Hockey News remind coaches, players and visitors of the storied Wisconsin hockey tradition.

The Bob Johnson Hockey Facility is conveniently located between the Alliant Energy Center's Veterans Memorial Coliseum and the Arena for easy access to both ice sheets.

Bob Johnson was inducted into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame in 1991 and the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1992. He was also added to the UW Athletics Hall of Fame in 1992.

Fetzer Student-Athlete Academic Center

The Fetzer Student-Athlete Academic Center, named after Wade and Betty Fetzer, provides for the academic needs of more than 700 student-athletes at the University of Wisconsin. The center is home to both the academic advising and learning support staffs of the Office of Academic Services.

The 15,000-square-foot, state-of-the-art facility is fully wireless and features a large open study area that is surrounded by nine small to mid-sized classrooms, a 55-seat auditorium, staff offices, a computer lab and a canteen area. The open study area has 30 individual carrels as well as several study tables. The state-of-the-art computer lab, under coordinator Jim Eisenmann, allows student-athletes to work on assignments, access online library or course materials and check their e-mail. The computer lab also has several checkout laptop computers for student-athletes who are traveling for competitions and other team-related activities.

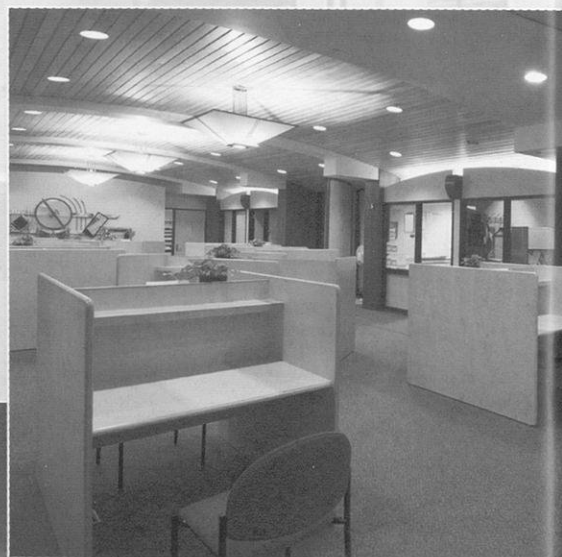

The center features a staff of five advisors, four learning specialists, a life skills coordinator and a tutor coordinator. The staff monitors academic eligibility and progress while providing study groups for selected courses, access to tutors, and hosting a variety of academic and career planning events throughout the year.

Under the supervision of assistant athletic director Doug Tiedt, the advising staff of Chris Butler, Jerry Darda, Mary Weaver-Klees and Alan Zussman as well as tutor coordinator Jill Hadfield work along with learning specialists Dan Ott, Toni O'Keefe and Nancy Gatyas to render quality academic and personal support to student-athletes and assist coaches in providing the best possible collegiate experience. CHAMPS/Life Skills Coordinator Kelli Richards oversees programs in career and personal development as well as community outreach.

The staff, including program assistant Nancy Kreklow, has a comprehensive understanding of academics at Wisconsin, and a permanent line of communication with all university departments.

Student-athletes can drop in before practice or between classes to study or meet with the advisors and learning specialists. Sessions are offered on a one-to-one basis at a time appropriate for the student-athlete. Athletes are degree-oriented while allowing for the flexibility to explore different areas. The staff takes a personal approach to each student-athlete in determining his or her individual needs, personal or academic.

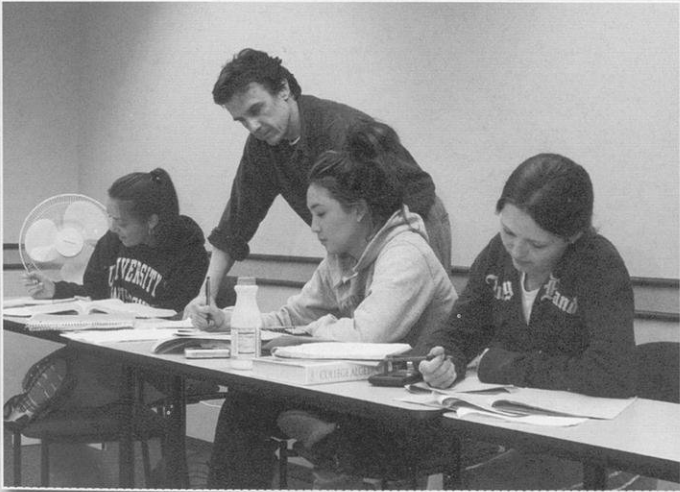

Student-athletes at Wisconsin receive recognition for outstanding academics in a number of ways on the national, conference and university level. The annual Student-Athlete Academic banquet recognizes student-athletes off the field of play by honoring over 200 athletes with a 3.5 or better grade point average. Additionally, the annual CHAMPS Cup competition recognizes the teams that succeed academically and are involved in community and campus events.

UW CHAMPS: A Program of Excellence

CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success) is a total development program that uses athletics as a preparation for success in life. Under the direction of Kelli Richards, the goal of the CHAMPS program is to support student development initiatives that enhance the quality of the student-athlete experience within the university setting.

The UW's CHAMPS program was selected as one of four 2005 Program of Excellence recipients. The award is presented annually to schools that have displayed a highly effective and pervasive program benefiting their student-athletes in the five components of the program.

CHAMPS provides support and opportunities for UW student-athletes in the following areas:

Athletic Excellence

- The student-athlete advisory committee (SAAC) works with the CHAMPS program to make sure all of the student-athletes' needs and concerns are being addressed.

Academic Excellence

- Through the Fetzer Academic Center, advisors, tutors, mentors and learning specialists are available to all student-athletes.
- A one-credit, 10-week course available to freshman and sophomore student-athletes discusses issues that many incoming college students face in their transition, such as time management, alcohol abuse and nutrition.
- Scholarships and internships are available through the NCAA for student-athletes continuing their education.
- The Academic Excellence Banquet is held each April to recognize the many academic achievements of our student-athletes.

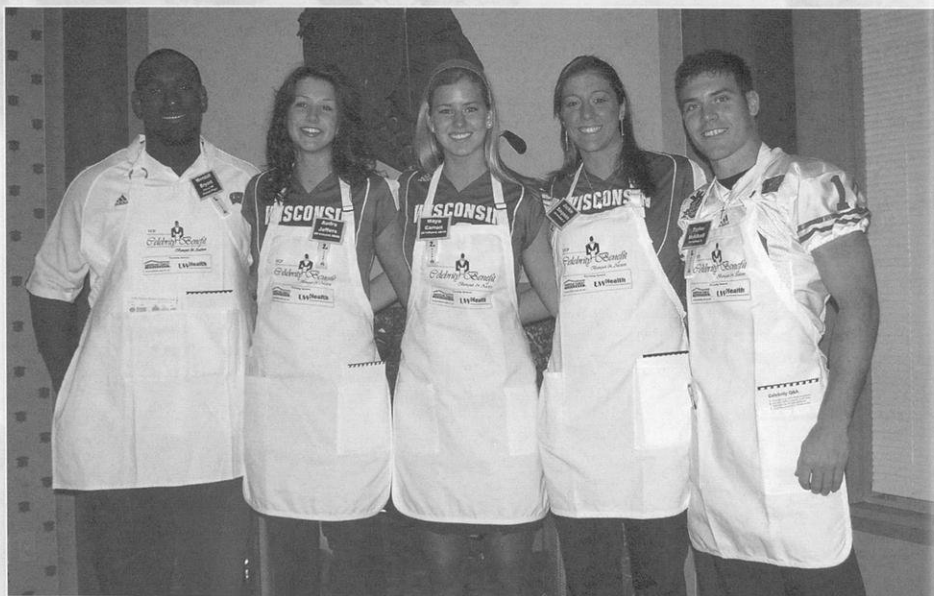

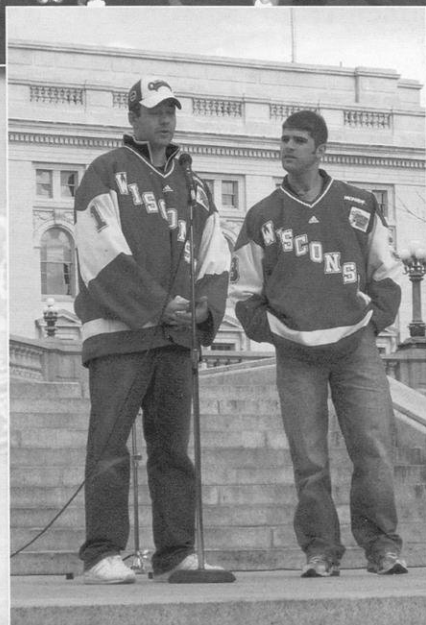

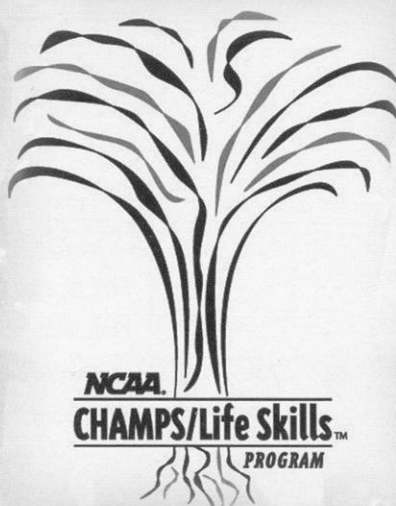

Personal Development

- The UW CHAMPS program requires all student-athletes to attend three personal development activities each year.

Top: Student-athletes participate in the Relay for Life to raise funds for cancer research.

Middle: Members of the UW men's hockey team speaking at a Sexual Assault Awareness month event at the state capitol building.

Bottom: Members of the UW football and volleyball teams were guest servers at the United Cerebral Palsy Celebrity Banquet and Auction.

- Workshops are offered for teams as well as any student-athlete on topics such as safe sex, fiscal responsibility, alcohol, peak performance, multiculturalism and many others.
- Opportunities for team and individual leadership development are also available through both the UW and the NCAA.

Career Development

- Workshops on various career topics are offered to student-athletes throughout the year. Topics include writing resumes and cover letters, interviewing tips, networking strategies, dining etiquette and job search strategies.
- Career assessment and career counseling is available for individuals as they work to declare a major and gain experience within their career field.
- UW Athletics partners with the National W Club and the Wisconsin Alumni Association as well as local corporations to assist student-athletes in finding jobs and internships as well as assisting in networking and career opportunities.
- UW Athletics hosts Career Night every January. This event is a networking dinner and career fair for all junior and senior student-athletes.
- Corporations also host information sessions and screening interviews within the Fetzer Center for student-athletes.

Community Service

- The CHAMPS coordinator organizes individual and team community service requests.
- Opportunities for involvement through one-time events as well as on-going volunteer opportunities in the Madison area.

- UW has structured programs, such as Bookin' It With Bucky. Through this program, athletes are scheduled to read in fourth grade Madison classrooms to encourage literacy and continued learning.

CHAMPS CUP

The CHAMPS Cup is an all-sport competition, rewarding teams who exemplify all aspects of the student-athlete. Student-athletes earn points for their teams in six categories:

Academic Achievement

Teams receive points for their team GPA, scoring at least 925 mark in the Academic Progress Rate (APR) as well as points for individual academic all-conference honors.

Athletic Achievement

Teams that place in the top three of their conference are awarded points based on their finish. Conference champions—100 points; second place—90 points; third place—80 points.

Personal Enhancement

Teams or individuals earn points for attending any CHAMPS/Life Skills on-campus event related to personal development.

Community Outreach

Community service done as a team, with other student-athletes or individually, will be rewarded.

Badger Pride

Points are awarded to teams that go the extra mile to support their fellow student-athletes by attending each other's sporting events. Each team will choose one competition in their traditional season that it will label as Badger pride night. Any athletes who attend this competition will receive points, individually or as a team.

SAAC Participation

Teams will earn 10 points for each meeting they have two representatives in attendance.

The Scoring System

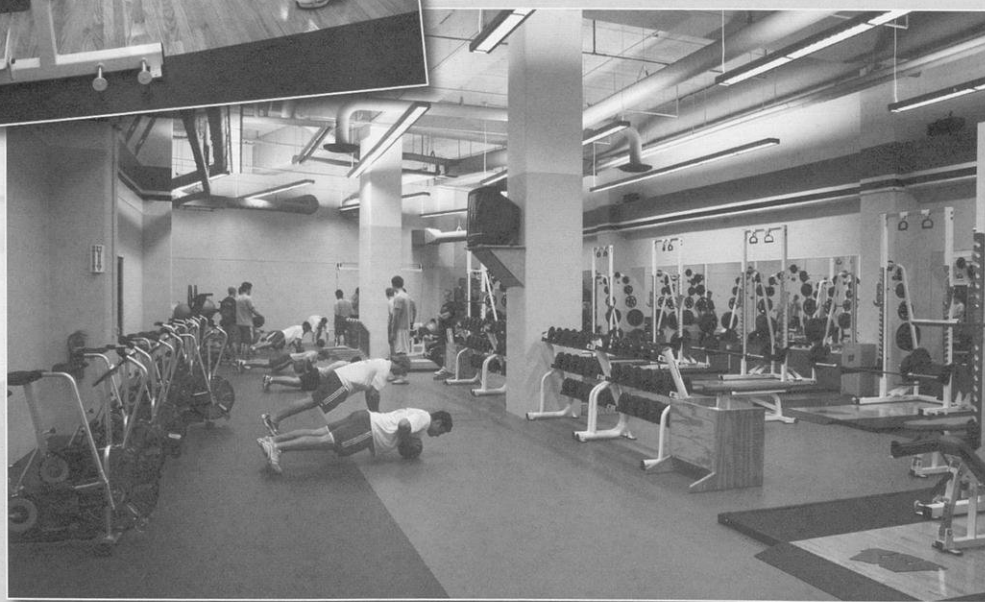

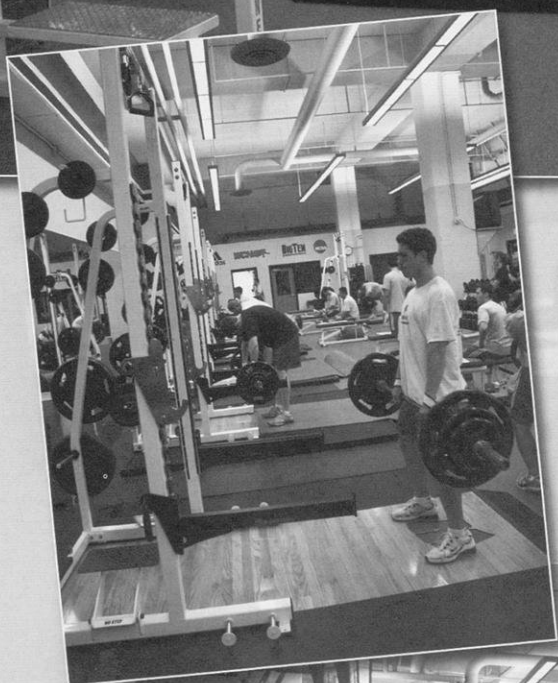

Individual Points—Individuals will earn 100 points for their team for each individual effort. At the end of each week, the points will be divided by the number of student-athletes on the active roster for each sport.

Team Points—Team efforts, defined as 70 percent participation or 20 members, for all categories earn 100 points per event. All mandatory events require 100 percent participation in order to receive points.

Reward

One men's and one women's team will be recognized as the overall winners at the Academic Excellence Banquet in April. The men's and women's team with the highest GPA as well as the team with the most community service points will also be recognized at the banquet.

Strength & Conditioning

The Wisconsin strength and conditioning program is a key component in all of the Badger success on the playing field. The goal of the program is to increase the overall performance of each student-athlete, prevent injuries and help athletes reach their potential.

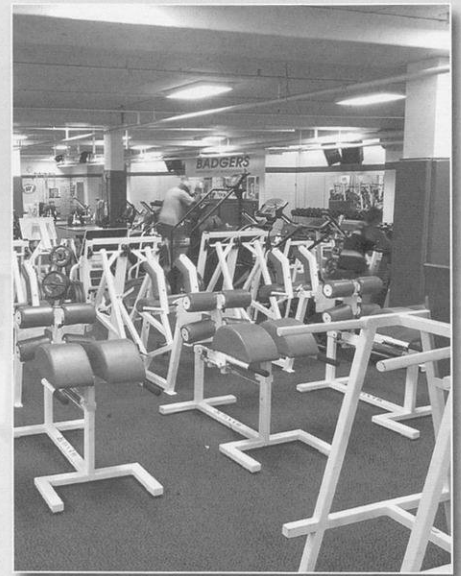

Strength and conditioning coordinator John Dettmann and his six assistant coaches, including hockey's Mike Potenza, work with members of the Wisconsin coaching staff to develop training programs to enhance each athlete's performance.

Badger hockey players work on their strength programs in the McClain Center, the Kohl Center, and the departments' other weight training facilities.

The McClain Center weightroom is the largest of the facilities and features more than 45,000 pounds of free weights and more than 50 weight machines. The room has seven squat racks, eight bench press stations, eight flat-to-incline benches, six Olympic lift platforms and numerous other free weight stations.

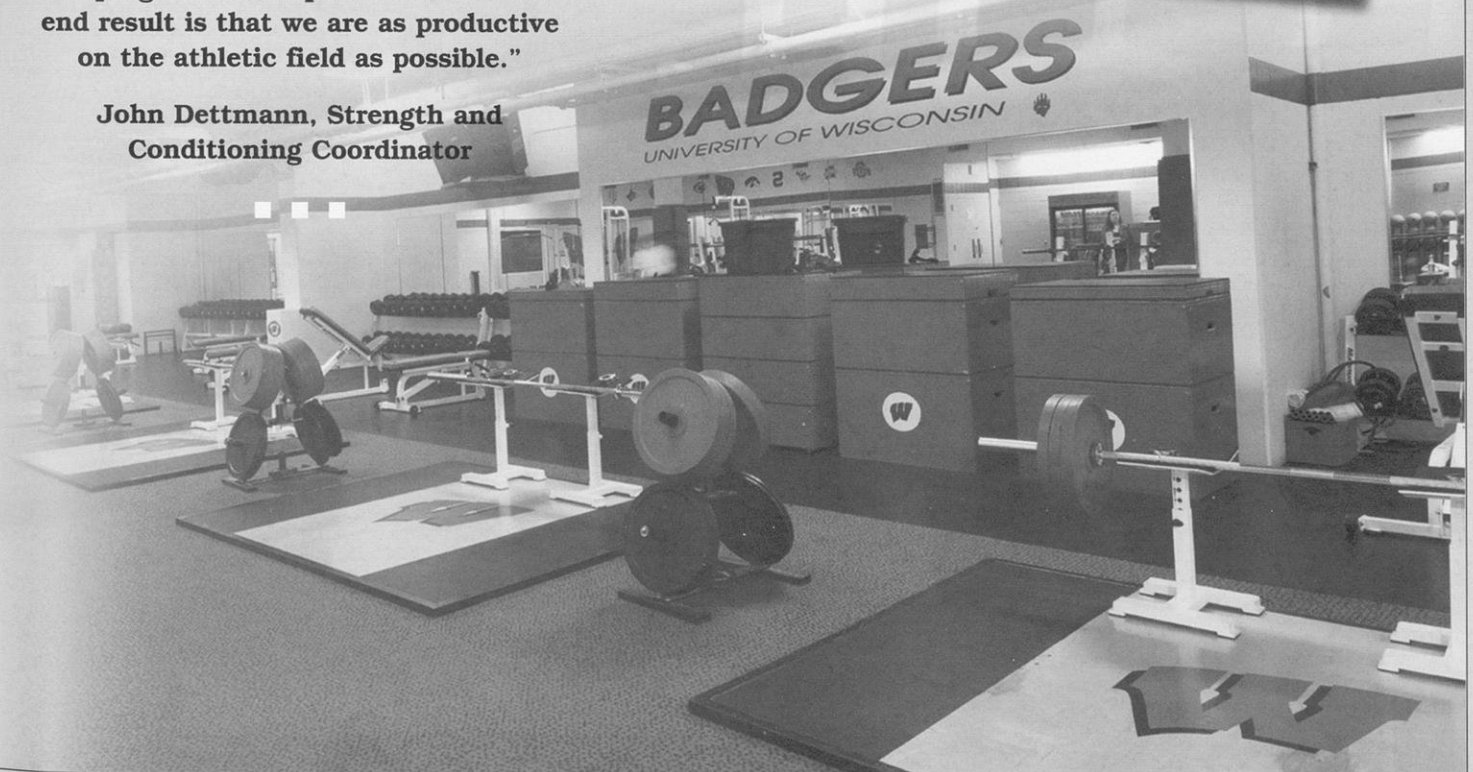

The new Kohl Center weight, outfitted by Magnum Fitness Systems, contains more than 10,000 pounds of free weights to go along with eight power racks. The roomy 5,500-square foot work out area also houses exercise bikes and other equipment to build better Badgers.

The Badger Den has five power stations with each consisting of a platform for Olympic-style lifting as well as a squat rack, bench press, incline bench press, pull-up station and a dip station. There are three lat-pull machines and seated row machines, a complete set of dumbbells and a complete set of plyometric boxes.

“The goal of the Wisconsin strength and conditioning program is to train for total athletic excellence. We profile each student-athlete upon arrival and set up specific training regimens to help athletes reach their individual potential. The plan is to build overall strength, speed, agility and stamina. Our program is comprehensive and the end result is that we are as productive on the athletic field as possible.”

John Dettmann, Strength and Conditioning Coordinator

Sports Medicine

Wisconsin's sports medicine staff provides all UW student-athletes with high quality health care. The sports medicine program features state-of-the-art facilities and the services of leading sports medicine and health care professionals.

The sports medicine staff consists of a team of physicians, dentists, athletic trainers and a full-time nutritionist. The day-to-day care, prevention and treatment of injuries to Badger student-athletes is supervised by a team of twelve full-time and two graduate assistant National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) certified and State of Wisconsin licensed athletic trainers.

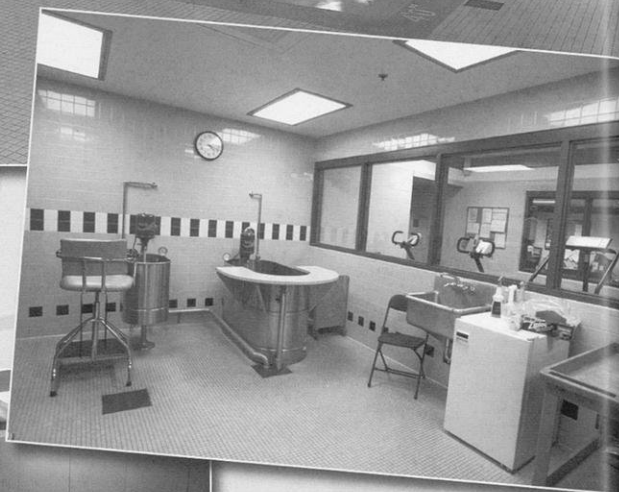

Under the direction of head athletic trainer Dennis Helwig, the sports medicine program focuses on injury prevention. The staff also utilizes functional measures, measures physiological capacity and outlines programs to improve flexibility.

Full-time nutritionist Jeremy Isenee provides dietary analysis and supervises training table meals to enhance the performance of student-athletes.

The sports medicine facility in the McClain Center features an extensive collection of therapeutic and rehabilitation equipment including a 50-foot, two-lane rehabilitation pool and an on-site x-ray facility. Considered one of the nation's finest, the McClain Sports Medicine Center offers an environment conducive to expedient care and a healthy return to competition.

Should an injury occur, athletes are seen immediately by team physicians affiliated with the world-renowned UW Hospital and Clinics.

In addition to the headquarters in the McClain Athletic Facility, auxiliary athletic training rooms are located in Camp Randall Stadium, the Natatorium, the UW Field House and the Kohl Center. All training areas are equipped with the finest therapeutic modalities and rehabilitative apparatus.

A World Class University

Carly Piper, a 2004 U.S. Olympic gold medalist in swimming, proudly shows off her diploma from the University of Wisconsin.

The University of Wisconsin is a world-class university, nationally and internationally recognized for its academic excellence, incredible students, inspiring faculty, exceptional value and an amazing campus and community.

The UW was founded in 1848 with the first class of 17 students enrolling on February 5, 1849. Today, Wisconsin ranks as the nation's ninth largest university with 41,169 students.

On a single campus, students can find a complete spectrum of liberal arts studies, professional programs and student activities. As one of the nation's first land-grant universities, Wisconsin maintains a strong research emphasis in agricultural and life sciences. Award-winning research spanning the academic disciplines, however, has earned Wisconsin a place among the world's elite institutions of higher education. The quality of its undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized around the world.

Students can also take advantage of opportunities to study abroad, participate in honors programs, complete an internship, conduct hands-on research and take service-learning courses.

The flagship school of the state system, UW-Madison offers the only public schools of law, medicine and veterinary medicine in the state and is one of only two state-supported schools to offer doctoral degrees.

One of the most picturesque college campuses in the country, Wisconsin sits along the shore of beautiful Lake Mendota. The city of Madison and the University were designed to be linked, signifying the interrelated nature of academic and political life at Wisconsin.

Growing with the times to meet changing needs in education and research has kept the university great. With an eye to the future, the university continues to change, guaranteeing a community and environment where true learning can take place.

Student Life

Student life at Wisconsin is more than books, term papers and exams. Some of the most important lessons learned at Wisconsin occur far from any lecture hall or lab.

UW-Madison is a community that embraces diversity—both in the people who live, learn and work here, and in the experiences that enrich life in the classroom and beyond. Our students come from every state in the nation and some 120 countries, bringing an abundant mix of life experiences and cultures. The campus provides services and student life programs designed to meet a broad range of student needs and concerns.

More than 700 student organizations, extensive recreational programs, modern fitness facilities, performing arts groups, Big Ten athletics, and ongoing cultural, social, and political events will provide you with hundreds of ways to get involved and challenge yourself. Whatever your interests, you can connect with others who share your enthusiasm.

The hub of student life on campus is the Memorial Union. With good food, live music, freshly made Babcock ice cream, movies and study lounges, you can eat well, be entertained, enjoy a good book or good company. The Union welcomes more than 15,000 students through its doors each day. It's no wonder the Union is considered the "living room of campus."

A Winning Athletic Program

In 2005-06, the University of Wisconsin won an astounding three NCAA championships in the same school year. The Badgers also added a national title by the women's lightweight rowing team and three individual national championships.

The men's cross country started the season off by winning its fourth national title in program history in November. Senior Simon Bairu won his second consecutive individual title.

In March, the women's hockey team won its first NCAA title. It was just the second NCAA post-season appearance and first run at the Frozen Four for the Badgers.

Wisconsin became the first school in NCAA history to win both the women's and men's ice hockey championships when the Badger men won the program's sixth title two weeks after the women.

The women's lightweight varsity eight crew won its third consecutive title at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association National Championships in 2006.

Junior Chris Solinsky earned two individual national titles in 2006. He won the 3,000 meters at the NCAA indoor championships for the second consecutive year and added the 5,000-meter title at the NCAA outdoor championships.

Attendance Leaders

Badger fans are some of the best in the nation and they annually show it by supporting their teams. Wisconsin is the only NCAA Division I school in the nation that has six sports that rank in the NCAA's top 20 for home attendance.

The UW has earned much national recognition for its college spirit including being named the "Best College Sports Town" by Sports Illustrated on Campus.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP HOSTS

Since 1993, the UW has hosted six NCAA championships and one NCAA men's basketball regional. Madison will also be the site of a hockey regional in 2008.

The Badgers played host to the NCAA Men's Ice Hockey Frozen Four in 1993, 1997 and 2006. All three events were sell-outs including the 2006 crowd that saw Wisconsin win the national title.

Wisconsin played host to the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship in 1993 and 1998. The Badgers shattered the attendance records for the championship match and two-day event both years.

The UW was also the site of the 1998 NCAA Division I Women's Golf Championship. The event was the first national championship held at University Ridge Golf Course and the first women's championship shown live on national television.

The NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament came to Wisconsin in 2002 when the Badgers played host to a regional in the Kohl Center.

Wisconsin Traditions

Badger Nickname

The nickname "Badgers" was borrowed from the state of Wisconsin, which was dubbed the "Badger State." The name didn't come from the animals in the region, but rather from an association with lead miners in the 1820s. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like Badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hillsides.

Bucky Badger

Although badgers in various forms had been the University of Wisconsin mascot for decades, the version that is currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by professional illustrator Art Evans.

In 1949, a student wore a badger outfit with a papier-mâché head at the homecoming game. A pep rally was held to determine the mascot's name—Buckingham U. Badger.

Bud Song

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've said it all," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Keren for Budweiser beer commercials. The song has become legendary at the UW because of its polka-like rhythm.

Fifth Quarter

The Wisconsin band has become nationally famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer the band as it plays traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song.

On, Wisconsin

The tune was composed in 1909 by William Purdy, with the words written by UW alumnus Carl Beck, who rewrote them in 1951. Some 2,500 schools and colleges have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs.

Hall of Fame

The UW Athletic Hall of Fame was established in 1991 to recognize and honor former student-athletes and staff for their exemplary athletic achievement and contributions to the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department.

Endowed Athletic Scholarships

At the University of Wisconsin, endowment funds to support athletic scholarships are created through gifts to the UW Foundation. A portion of the income from the endowed fund is used each year for scholarship support and the remainder is reinvested in the principal.

The following endowed scholarships, named for the donor or for someone the donor wishes to honor, provide grants-in-aid to Badger student-athletes.

A Great College Town

Welcome to Madison! You will discover the best of all worlds in Wisconsin's vibrant capital city: natural beauty and outdoor recreation, stimulating cultural offerings, distinctive restaurants and shops, and a spirit of fun.

Madison is consistently ranked by national publications and their readers as one of the best places to live, work and play. As host to a wealth of cultural offerings, intellectual pursuits and recreational opportunities, Wisconsin's capital rivals the urban sophistication of larger metropolitan areas, while maintaining the ease, convenience and friendliness of a smaller community.

Built on an isthmus between lakes Monona and Mendota, Madison is also renowned for its beautiful four-season scenery. A total of five area lakes, more than 200 parks and endless miles of paved trails provide an abundance of year-round outdoor activities, from hiking, biking, swimming and sailing to cross-country skiing, ice skating and ice fishing.

Throughout the year, the area welcomes a multitude of exciting annual events like April's Wisconsin Film Festival featuring more than 100 experimental and independent films, July's Art Fair on the Square, a favorite summer event that draws 200,000 attendees and 500 exhibitors, and September's Ironman Wisconsin Triathlon, a grueling and inspiring race held in Madison and its outlying areas. In addition to these signature events, the area is home to the Dane County Farmers' Market, one the nation's most recognized open-air farmers' markets, and is host to many outdoor summertime concerts, eclectic street fairs, ethnic festivals and sporting competitions.

Greater Madison also boasts a large number of live music venues, resident theater groups and visual art centers, lending the area an urban sophistication and cultural arts reputation usually reserved for larger metropolitan areas. The Madison area also offers a rich array of restaurants and shopping opportunities to suit almost any taste and budget.

We invite you to discover all that Madison has to offer and see for yourself that Madison truly has one of the most scenic downtown areas in the Midwest. Visit the majestic Capitol building, tour the Frank Lloyd Wright-inspired Monona Terrace® Community and Convention Center, attend a performance at Overture Center for the Arts or enjoy the fragrant surroundings of Olbrich Botanical Gardens. Venture out in any direction from the heart of the city to experience even more of the Madison area—where bookstores, coffeehouses, movie theaters, shopping malls and restaurants await you. Within just a short drive from Madison, nestled among the rolling green hills, you'll encounter dozens of fascinating attractions and picturesque main street towns.

Whatever your preference for relaxation or recreation, you'll find plenty to do in Madison.

Did You Know?

- Madison is one of only a few cities in the world built on an isthmus. Downtown Madison is set on a narrow strip of land between two glacial lakes—Lake Mendota and Lake Monona. A total of five area lakes, plus more than 250 parks and 120 miles of designated bike routes within the city limits provide an abundance of year-round outdoor activities, from hiking, biking, swimming and sailing to cross-country skiing, ice skating, and ice fishing.
- The Wisconsin State Capitol is the city's signature landmark. No building in Madison may be built higher than the 284-foot white granite dome of the Capitol, which is modeled after our nation's Capitol.
- State Street, a one-mile pedestrian mall linking the Capitol Square to the beautiful lakeside campus of the University of Wisconsin, is lined with diverse ethnic eateries, eclectic boutiques, galleries, coffeehouses and more.
- Famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright spent his childhood years in Madison and returned to live in the area at the height of his international fame. The Madison area is home to a generous selection of Wright-designed buildings.
- Ecologist Aldo Leopold, conservation pioneer John Muir, playwright Thornton Wilder, novelist Jacquelyn Mitchard, actor/comedian Chris Farley, Olympians Beth and Eric Heiden, composer/performer Ben Sidran, professional golfers Jerry Kelly, Sherri Steinhauer and Steve Stricker and NASCAR's Matt Kenseth are other notable people associated with Madison.

Wisconsin: Life's So Good

Wisconsin, located in America's heartland, is a four-season travel destination offering both urban and rural vacations. Ranked a top travel spot in the United States, Wisconsin owes much of its popularity to its natural beauty, with two Great Lakes, Superior and Michigan, and the world's most famous river, the Mississippi, as well as 15,000 inland lakes.

Forty percent of the state is forested land, with 43 state parks and 11 state forests providing plenty of outdoor recreation. Wisconsin's also been described as having the best natural golf course landscape in the country.

In spring and summer, travelers enjoy water-related activities, including fishing, sailing and canoeing. Fall is the time for "colorama," when the leaves turn colors and the entire state offers spectacular scenic touring. Winter features ample cross-country and downhill skiing, festivals, sled dog races, sleigh rides and snowmobiling.

Wisconsin's National Championships

1972-73

We're No. 1!

Wisconsin 4 - Denver 2 • March 17, 1973

The Wisconsin Badgers are the National Champions of collegiate hockey. Wisconsin won the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) championship by beating Cornell 6-5 in overtime and then disposing of Denver 4-2 in the title game to become the first Wisconsin team to win an NCAA title since the Badger boxing team did it in 1956.

The Badgers came within five seconds of never having a shot at the title at all. That's how much time was left on the Boston Garden clock when Wisconsin tied Cornell 5-5 to send the semifinal game into sudden-death overtime. Wisconsin had made an incredible comeback after Cornell jumped out to a 4-0 lead midway through the second period. The Badgers narrowed it to 4-2 on goals by Norm Cherrey and Dennis Olmstead, but Cornell scored their fifth goal only 40 seconds into the final period.

Then started the Wisconsin comeback. Junior Gary Winchester scored midway through the period to narrow Cornell's lead to two goals and with 3:11 to go senior Jim Johnston scored to bring Wisconsin within one goal. With 43 seconds left in the game Badger coach Bob Johnson pulled goaltender Dick Perkins to put a sixth skater on the ice. With the Wisconsin net wide open, freshman center Dennis Olmstead continually won important face-offs as the Badgers controlled the puck. Cornell never even got a shot on the Wisconsin open net and coach Johnson said afterwards, "We never lost our poise."

Even with the seconds ticking down to zero, Olmstead passed in front of the Cornell net to sophomore Dean Talafous who poked it in and the game was tied 5-5.

The unbelievable comeback continued into overtime, and at one point Cornell had a two-man breakaway, but Perkins made the save. With 33 seconds left in the overtime period, Olmstead centered the puck to freshman Steve Alley. Alley's shot was blocked, but the rebound came to Talafous and this time he scored the winner.

Perkins finished with 38 saves for Wisconsin while Cornell goal Dave Elenbaas had 34.

Wisconsin then moved into the championship game with Denver who had ousted Boston College 10-4 in the tournament's first game on Thursday night.

Wisconsin freshman Dave Pay opened the scoring in the first period but Denver tied it at 1-1. The Pioneers took a 2-1 lead early in the second period but from that point on it was all Wisconsin as the Badgers showed no after-effects of the exhausting game against Cornell the night before and completely outskated Denver. Denver was the Western Collegiate Hockey Association champion and had been ranked the number one team in the nation coming into the NCAA tourney.

Captain Tim Dool tied the game at 2-2 and then Talafous again scored the goal that proved to be the winner, putting Wisconsin ahead 3-2. Senior Jim Johnston added an insurance goal in the third period and junior Jim Makey was superb in the nets kicking out 32 Denver shots.

No NCAA All-Tournament team was named, but Talafous was named Most Valuable Player in the tournament. Wisconsin became the first team since 1965 to win both the Friday and Saturday night games in the national tournament.

The Badgers thus finished the season with a school record for wins in a single season at 29-9-2. Coach Bob Johnson finished his seventh year at Wisconsin with a record of 158-73-6 and the Wisconsin seniors Bentley, Dool, Cherrey, Johnston and Doug Kelso, who participated in three NCAA tournaments in their four years, finished with 99 wins, 43 losses and four ties in their careers.

Alley's Goal in Overtime Wins Title For Bucky

Wisconsin 6 - Michigan 5 (ot) • March 26, 1977

(From "On Wisconsin! The History of Badger Athletics" by Don Kopriva and Jim Mott.)

Wisconsin's finest hockey season ever culminated on March 26, 1977, when the Badgers defeated Michigan 6-5 on a Steve Alley goal 23 seconds into overtime for their second NCAA title. It was a bit of delicious irony for Wisconsin, which had lost 7-6 to Michigan at home in its season opener.

Coach Bob Johnson's team finished the season with a 37-7-1 record, a UW record for wins in a season, and became the first team to win Big Ten, Western Collegiate Hockey Association and NCAA championships in the same season. The UW never lost two games in a row and ended the season on a roll, going 22-1-1 in its last 24 contests. And the Badgers' seven losses—to Michigan, Michigan State, Notre Dame, Harvard, Minnesota and Denver and the Spartak Club of Russia in an exhibition game—were all, except Spartak, avenged by UW victories.

In post-season action, Wisconsin swept through the WCHA playoffs, beating Colorado College twice by 3-1 scores and then mowing down Minnesota (9-5, 8-3) and Michigan (4-0, 5-3). It took an overtime goal by Mike Eaves to give the Badgers a 4-3 semifinal win over New Hampshire and a berth in the title game against Michigan. Wisconsin won six of the seven games it played against Michigan, especially the one that really counted.

Honors aplenty came to the Badgers, as well. Johnson was named national coach of the year while his son Mark, a forward who had a UW rookie record 36 goals, was named freshman of the year. Defenseman Craig Norwich, goaltender Julian Baretta and center Mike Eaves were named to the All-American team. Baretta was named NCAA tournament most valuable player and Norwich and defenseman John Taft were picked for the all-tournament team.

Backdoor Badgers Exit Out Front!

Wisconsin 6 - Minnesota 3 • March 28, 1981

The Wisconsin hockey team took full advantage of its at-large berth in the NCAA hockey championship and captured the NCAA title for the third time under head coach Bob Johnson. The Badgers downed the CCHA champs, Northern Michigan, in the semi-final game, 5-1, and then took on the top-ranked team in the country and WCHA title-winner Minnesota.

Wisconsin beat Minnesota by a 6-3 count behind the steady goaltending of sophomore Marc Behrend and a total team effort that the Gophers could not match. Behrend, who was also in the nets against Northern Michigan, was selected as the tournaments' Most Valuable Player and along with freshmen center John Newberry, was placed on the all-tournament team. Behrend had a total of 55 saves in the meet, 25 against Northern and 30 against the Gophers. Newberry led the Badgers in scoring with two goals and four assists and tied with Aaron Broten of Minnesota for the scoring leader in the Duluth final four meet.

After a scoreless first period against Northern Michigan, Wisconsin opened up the second stanza with a power-play goal by Ed Lebler at the three-minute mark. A short-handed goal by John Johansson with just two seconds remaining in the period put the Badgers out in front for good. Defenseman Bruce Driver, center Scott Lecy and wing Ted Pearson all tallied third period goals. Northern got their only score after the Badgers had built a 3-0 advantage. The 5-1 victory put Wisconsin in the final game against Minnesota, who had downed Michigan Tech 7-2 in the other semifinal game.

Wisconsin, playing on an emotional high, never let the Gophers get into their style of play and first period goals by senior Dan Gorowsky, Newberry and Lebler gave the Badgers the confidence they needed. Wisconsin jumped out to a 4-0 margin midway through the second period on a goal by freshman Ted Pearson. Minnesota cut the advantage to 4-1, but Newberry gave the Badgers their four-point lead back with a power-play goal.

Minnesota scored a power-play goal just 10 seconds into the final period to get new life. Another power-play goal at the 16:09 mark cut Wisconsin's margin to two goals. Minnesota pulled its goaltender with 1:24 remaining in the game and Lebler hit the open net from just outside his own blue line to ice the victory for the Badgers.

On their way to the 1981 NCAA crown, the Badgers defeated the conference champs of all three Division I leagues, in the NCAA quarterfinals, Wisconsin beat Clarkson 9-8, in a total goal series. Clarkson was the ECAC title holder. Northern Michigan had captured the CCHA title and Minnesota finished first in the WCHA.

The Badgers finished their season with an overall record of 27-14-1, tied with Michigan Tech for second in the WCHA and winners of the 34th NCAA hockey championship.

Scott Lecy led the team in scoring with 75 points (26 goals, 49 assists), while Pete Johnson and John Newberry were the top goal scorers with 30 apiece.

Badgers Put Title on Ice!

Wisconsin 6 - Harvard 2 • March 26, 1983

by Glenn Miller, Wisconsin State Journal
(March 27, 1983)

Wisconsin won its fourth National Collegiate Athletic Association hockey championship Saturday night, defeating Harvard, 6-2, with a final-period flurry in which the Badgers scored four goals.

More than any other person, goalie Marc Behrend won the game with still another spectacular performance in the nets.

His saves were fewer than his opponent's, Grant Blair of Harvard. Behrend had 24, Blair 31.

But Behrend was tough in the first two periods, when Wisconsin nursed one- and two-goal leads.

In the final period, Wisconsin blew the game open with goals by Paul Houston, Bruce Driver, Houston and John Johansson. Johansson scored his goal in an empty net.

The celebration on the ice after it was over lasted even longer than you saw on television. After the interviews and after the trophy presentations, Wisconsin still celebrated and danced its victory dance.

It was particularly a sweet victory for Coach Jeff Sauer, who came to Wisconsin with a losing record at Colorado College and really should not have been expected to produce a winner in his first year.

As he waited for the trophy, he mopped his face the same way his predecessor, Bob Johnson, used to.

Sauer, in a quick interview, said once his team was ahead, 2-0, "we wanted to play a good defensive game."

Behrend, who seems to save his best hockey for postseason play, was named the tournament's most valuable player, the same honor he won when the Badgers won the title in 1981 in Duluth, Minn.

Behrend declined to differentiate between the victory he orchestrated in 1981 and this one.

"They are both pretty special."

Behrend said, but he admitted this run for the national roses was a bit of a surprise.

"There is now way I thought at the start of this year that we would go all the way," he said. "I thought that this would be a transition year and that I would simply have to be happy with it."

"And don't forget we had a lot of injuries. But we came together at the end when it was important."

On the final, he said, "When we got ahead, I may have lost a little concentration."

Well, it wasn't too bad. Behrend finally gave up two goals in the final period.

When all of the festivities on the ice were over, the Wisconsin team skated around the rink and saluted its fans, who were here in greater numbers than on Thursday. The Badgers raised their sticks in salute first to the Wisconsin band and then to the block of Badger rooters. The crowd, of course, went wild.

Sauer, pausing long enough to analyze the victory, said: "We were stronger and bigger, and we were able to use that strength to win."

On his first victory in an NCAA tournament, Sauer said, "I've waited a long time for that. I am so happy I came back to Wisconsin. It worked out."

While Behrend was named the tournament's MVP, Paul Houck, Chris Chelios and Pat Flatley were also named to the all-tournament team.

Flatley got Wisconsin off to a first-period lead on a power-play goal seven minutes, nine seconds into the game, and for a while it looked as if the final might be another 1-0 struggle like the Badgers went through with Providence Thursday.

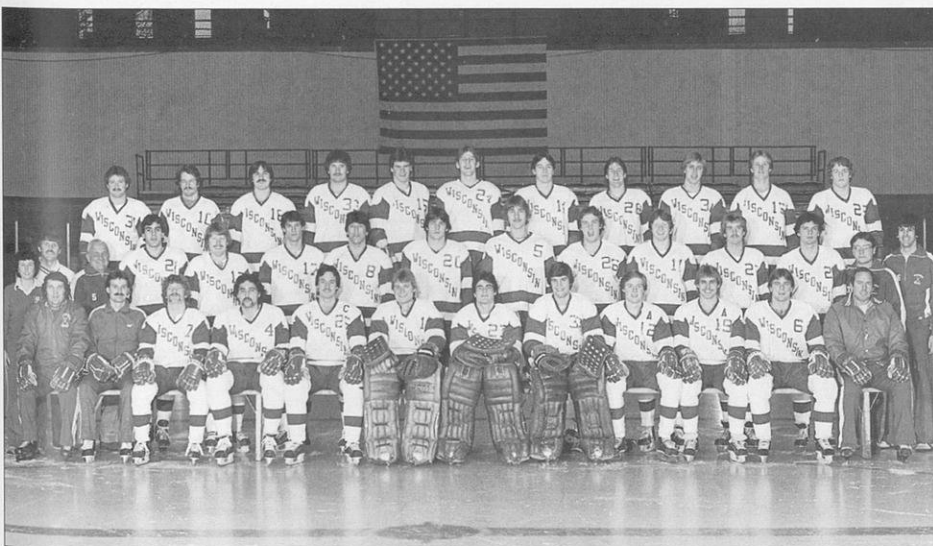

But at 16:09 of the second period, Flatley grabbed the puck in a melee in front of the Harvard net and fired it in for the 2-0 lead.

Things looked even better when Houston pushed in a rebound only three minutes into the final period.

It looked like a piece of cake.

But Harvard was playing like it wanted to win a national championship, too, and when it closed the margin to 4-2, the issue was still in doubt.

The big goal by Houston on a power play at 18:36 put Wisconsin ahead, 5-2.

Drive For Five Is Complete!

Wisconsin 7 - Colgate 3 • April 1, 1990

by Andy Baggot, Wisconsin State Journal,
April 2, 1990 (edited for length).

They sat in their cramped, hot dressing room at Joe Louis Arena Sunday afternoon with lumps in their throats, tears in their eyes and a sense of determination so profound that their innermost feelings simply could not be disguised.

I just walked around the locker room and looked in everyone's eyes," said Tom Sagissor, the outspoken senior wing on the University of Wisconsin hockey team. "I saw a lot of heart, saw a lot of dignity, a lot of pride. I saw guys who wanted to win."

One man's vision has never been more keen.

Spurred on by the combination of talent, a strong spirit of friendship and the firm belief that they would not be denied after two near misses, the Badgers whipped Colgate, 7-3, to win the National Collegiate Athletic Association title.

A season that began on Labor Day and ended on April Fool's Day produced a 36-9-1 record and the fifth national championship in school history. It was the second title under Coach Jeff Sauer and first since 1983.

John Byce scored three goals, the once-comatose playoff power play clicked four times and an overall constitution that was both tougher, quicker and more experienced than the opponent were the primary reasons why the Badgers earned the victory.

Chris Tancill, the tournament's most valuable player, Gary Shuchuk, Dennis Sneddon and Rob Andringa accounted for the other goals for Wisconsin, which surged to a 4-1 lead after one period and kept its distance.

Duane Derksen recorded 21 saves and got considerable assistance from a seemingly fearless set of defensemen who limited the Red Raiders (31-6-1) to 10 shots on goal in the first two periods.

The championship culminated a season that started with seven seniors—Sagissor, Byce, Tancill, Shuchuk, Rob Mendel, Mark Osiecki and Steve Rohlik—designating Sunday as their target date. Along the way they won the Western Collegiate Hockey Association regular-season and playoff titles, responded to the pressure by winning 18 of their last 20 games (18-1-1) and buried the memories of punching out in the NCAA quarterfinals in 1988 and '89.

"We knew we had one more goal to finish, and if we didn't do it, it would be an unfinished season. We didn't want that to happen," said Derksen.

Rohlik, the captain, choked back tears as he talked about what he and his teammates had overcome.

"There was pressure every night," he said. "Everyone would say, 'Is Wisconsin that good or aren't they?' That was the big question all year long. Some people said, 'You guys folded the last couple of years; you had a good enough team to do it.'"

Byce converted on the power play one minute, 30 seconds into the game, then struck again at 3:23 when he took a bounce pass from Mendel and zoomed in alone for a shorthander.

Joel Gardner answered with the first of three power-play goals for the Red Raiders (Steve Poapst and Jamie Cooke had the others) at 4:58, but Tancill and Andringa came through on man-advantage situations before the end of the period and Wisconsin was off an running.

The UW power play was 6-for-13 (.462) during the Final Four after coming in 2-for-29 (.069) in six previous playoff games.

Colgate Coach Terry Slater said his club's behavior (eight penalties in the first period, 16 overall) led to its early downfall.

"We took stupid penalties, no question about it," he said. "We deserved them. There's not much more to say."

Slater also admitted his team was affected by the announced crowd of 15,034, more than half of which were very loud UW rooters.

"The were awe-stricken with all the people," he said, explaining a first-period timeout.

Sauer said his club was affected by the crowd as well. "Just like playing at home," he said.

Badgers Back on Top

Wisconsin 2 - Boston College 1 • April 8, 2006

Senior Tom Gilbert's goal 9:32 into the third period proved to be the winner as the Wisconsin men's hockey team defeated Boston College 2-1 in the NCAA championship game at the Bradley Center. The championship victory came in front of a vastly red and pro-Badger crowd in Milwaukee, a quick 90-minute drive from the Kohl Center.

Junior Robbie Earl added UW's other goal as the Badgers (30-10-3) won their sixth national championship and first since 1990. Earl earned the Frozen Four Most Outstanding Player Award with three goals and one assist in Milwaukee.

Fellow junior Brian Elliott made 22 saves and was named to the All-Frozen Four Team. He was joined on the all-tournament team by Earl, Adam Burish and Gilbert.

Boston College's Cory Schneider stopped 37 shots on the other end. BC finished the season with a record of 26-13-3.

The Eagles placed two representatives on the All-Frozen Four team in forward Chris Collins and defenseman Brett Motherwell.

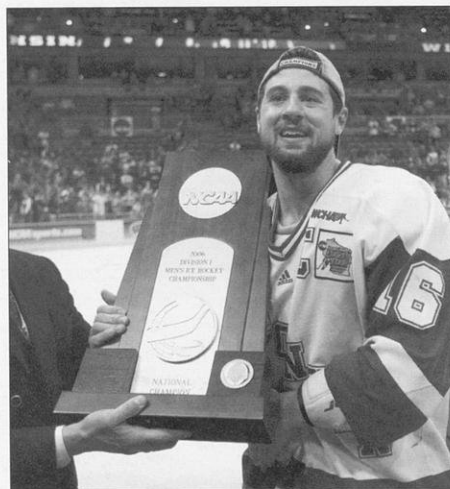

Pat Gannon gave the Eagles a 1-0 lead 9:01 into the opening period when he lifted a back-hand over Elliott's glove. Dan Bertram notched the only assist on Gannon's fifth goal of the season.

The goal put the Badgers down and in an unfamiliar situation. Wisconsin grabbed the lead in 32 of its 42 previous contests. Of the 10 prior games opponents scored first, Wisconsin won only three.

However, Earl tied the game at the 1:17 mark of the second. After taking a hit just outside the Eagles' blue line and appearing injured, Earl joined the play when the Badgers gained control of the puck. Burish sent a pass across the slot from the right corner which Earl redirected into the open net for his 24th goal of the season. Pavelski also earned an assist on the play.

With the assist, Pavelski became just the ninth Badger to reach 100 points in his first two years at UW and the first since Dany Heatley.

Gilbert gave the Badgers their first lead of the game 9:32 into the third period with a power-play goal. The senior assistant captain took a pass from Pavelski and fired a wrist shot past BC's Schneider. Burish also added an assist as Gilbert moved into a tie for the national goal-scoring lead among defensemen with 12 goals.

From there, Wisconsin withstood a barrage of BC shots, including a shot off the pipe in the final seconds of the contest, to become the first school in NCAA history to win both the men's and women's ice hockey championships in the same season.

Wisconsin finished the game 1-for-8 on the power play while Boston College was 0-for-4. The Badgers did not allow a single power-play goal in the NCAA tournament, holding opponents scoreless on 36 power plays.

The Badgers finished the season with 30 wins for the seventh time in program history and the first time in the Mike Eaves era.

Wisconsin's Conference Championships

1970 WCHA Regional Champions

Wisconsin skated to its first-ever victory over Denver, a 3-2 victory over "The Best in the West," the two-time defending NCAA champion Pioneers. The victory came in Denver, after the Badgers reached the title game with a 2-1 victory over Michigan in the semifinals.

The WCHA playoff title, Wisconsin's first, earned the Badgers their first trip to the NCAA tournament in just their first season in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association. The Badgers went on to place third in the NCAA tournament.

Wisconsin completed its season 23-11-0.

1973 WCHA Regional Champions

After a third-place, WCHA regular-season finish, the Badgers played host to Minnesota, defeating the Gophers 14-10 in a wild two-game, total goals series in the first round of the playoffs. In the finals, Wisconsin traveled to South Bend, Ind., battling to the final minutes of the second game against Notre Dame. Dave Pay tallied to win the second game 4-3 and the total goals series 8-7 to send the Badgers to their third NCAA tournament in four years. Wisconsin had also won its second-straight Big Ten title.

At the NAAs in Boston, Wisconsin made history by coming back from 4-0 and 5-2 deficits against Cornell for a 6-5 overtime win. Down 2-1 to Denver in the title game, the Badgers collected three-straight goals for a 4-2 NCAA title-winning victory.

Wisconsin completed its season 29-9-2.

1972 WCHA Regional Champions

Wisconsin qualified for its second NCAA tournament in three years when it won one of the WCHA playoff championships. The Badgers came from behind in two playoff series to defeat Michigan Tech 9-6 in the semifinals and then North Dakota 6-2 in the finals in two-game, total-goals series. Wisconsin, also first-time Big Ten champions, fell in the first round of the NCAA tournament but finished third after defeating WCHA regular-season champion Denver, 5-2, in the NCAA third-place game.

Wisconsin completed its season 27-10-1.

1977 WCHA Regular-Season Champions 1977 WCHA Playoff Champions

In yet another season of firsts for Wisconsin, the Badgers posted a 26-5-1 mark in WCHA play to capture the school's first WCHA regular-season title. The Badgers ran away from the field with 53 points, 12 more than second place Notre Dame.

In the playoffs, Wisconsin cruised through the first two rounds in Madison, defeating Colorado College 6-2 in a two-game, total-goals series before crushing Minnesota 17-8 with a pair of blow outs in the total-goals series. Against Michigan in the finals, the Badgers used 4-0 and 5-4 victories to capture the Badgers' first true WCHA playoff championship series.

The victory put the Badgers in the NCAA tournament, where overtime goals by Mike Eaves against New Hampshire Steve Alley against Michigan gave the Badgers a 6-5 win and the school's second NCAA title. The win made Wisconsin the first school to win the NCAA, WCHA and Big Ten titles in the same season.

Wisconsin completed its season with a school-record 37 victories and a 37-7-1 mark.

1978 WCHA Regional Champions

In a return to the regional format after just one season, Wisconsin placed second during the regular season, earning the opportunity to play host to one of the WCHA regionals.

The Badgers took full advantage, taking Minnesota Duluth 9-2 and 5-4 for a 14-6 total-goals victory. In the title series, 4-3 and 7-4 victories over Michigan Tech were good enough for an 11-7 total-goals series win and a berth into the NCAA tournament.

Wisconsin failed to match the 1976-77 squad's success in the tournament, falling 5-2 to Boston University and 4-3 to Bowling Green to finish fourth. However, Badgers fans were honored by the City of Providence, R.I., when they were presented with a trophy that claimed Badger fans as "The World's Greatest Hockey Fans."

The Badgers completed their season 28-12-3.

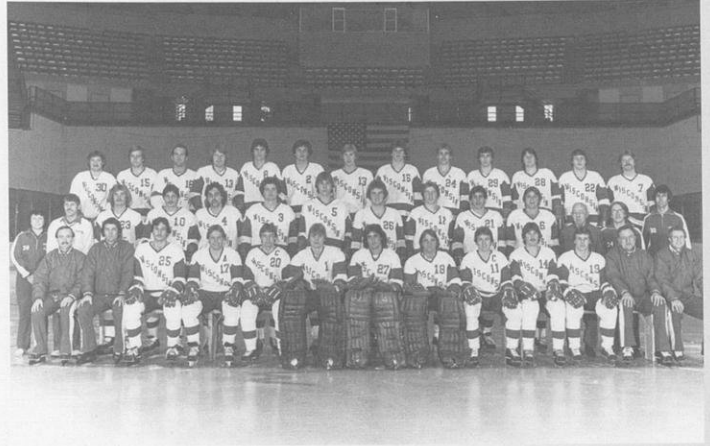

1983 WCHA Playoff Champions

All of Wisconsin's prior championships came under the watchful eyes of Bob Johnson, but in 1983, Jeff Sauer began his Badger tenure with the program's second consecutive WCHA playoff title.

Wisconsin advance out of the first round with a total goals victory over Colorado College, then played a classic series with North Dakota in the semifinals in Grand Forks, N.D. A 1-1 tie in the first game of the total goals series set up the finale. The Badger then defeated North Dakota, 6-5 in triple overtime to reach to the WCHA title game. Chris Chelios tied the game with 12 seconds left and Paul Houck scored shorthanded to win it in triple overtime. The Badgers go on to sweep Minnesota in Minneapolis for the title.

The Badgers eventually reach their third-straight NCAA title game with a series victory over St. Lawrence and a semifinal 2-0 shutout over Providence. A 6-2 NCAA championship game victory over Harvard gives Sauer his first NCAA title.

Wisconsin goes 33-10-4 during their fourth NCAA title run.

1982 WCHA Playoff Champions

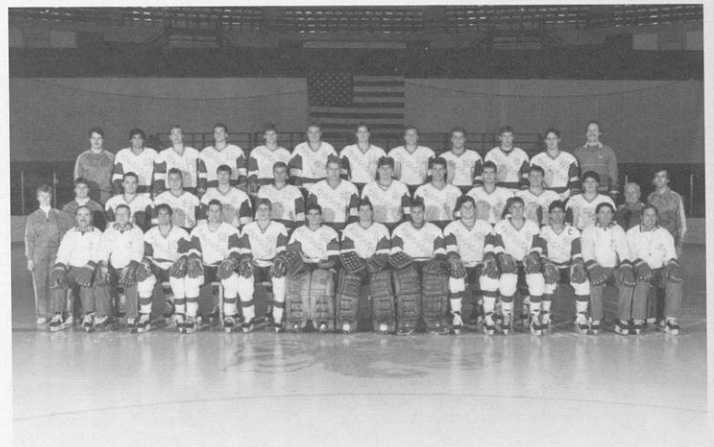

After a one-point loss in the WCHA regular season to North Dakota, the Badgers exacted some revenge by winning the WCHA playoff championship.

A first-round bye for the Badgers led to a semifinal series against Minnesota in Madison. The Badgers dropped the first game of the two-game, total goals set by a 4-3 count, but recovered for a 6-2 win in the second game for a 9-6 total-goals victory.

A 9-0 victory in the first game against North Dakota in the finals virtually assured the Badgers of the WCHA playoff championship and a 3-1 game two win clinched the title and an NCAA bid.

In the NCAA tournament, the Badgers advance past Harvard in the first round, blank New Hampshire 5-0 in the semifinals, but fall to North Dakota, 5-2 in the NCAA title game. The championship game appearance would be the second of three straight for the Badgers.

Wisconsin completed its season at 35-11-1.

1988 WCHA Playoff Champions

Nearly 25 years into the modern era, Wisconsin managed yet another first as winners of the first WCHA Final Four at the St. Paul Civic Center in St. Paul, Minn.

The Badgers reached the WCHA Final Four with a home sweep in a best-of-three series over Northern Michigan.

North Dakota awaited next and the Badgers escaped with a 2-1 win to advance to the finals against Minnesota.

Despite finishing second to the Gophers in the regular season, the Badgers managed a 3-2 victory and took the playoff crown.

The win sent Wisconsin into the 12-team NCAA tournament, where they beat Massachusetts-Lowell in the first-round, two-game, total-goals series, but were eliminated by St. Lawrence in a similarly formatted quarterfinal round.

Wisconsin finished up the season 30-13-2.

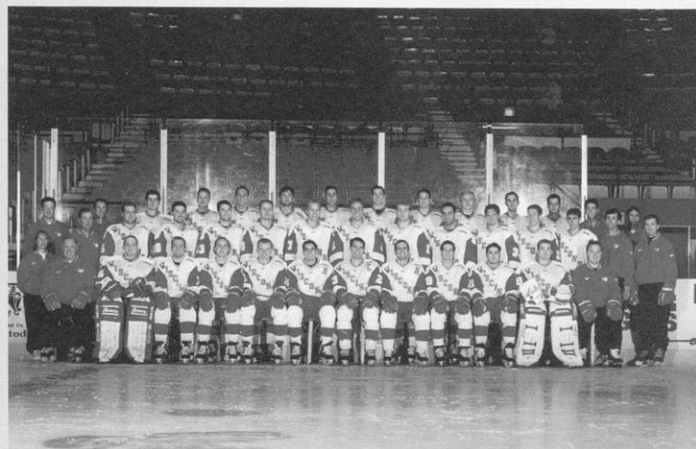

1990 WCHA Regular-Season Champions 1990 WCHA Playoff Champions

Wisconsin left no doubt what team was the best in the country. A mini slump during which the UW lost three of four games in mid-January preceded an 18-1-1 stretch run that included a nine-game winning streak to end the season.

The 20-game stretch propelled Wisconsin to its second MacNaughton Cup for the WCHA regular-season championship. A three-point cushion gave the Badgers the No. 1 seed for the league postseason, during which they swept Michigan Tech to reach the WCHA Final Four in St. Paul. The Badgers squeaked out a 4-3 overtime against Northern Michigan, then slammed Minnesota 7-1 for the WCHA playoff title and a bid to the NCAA tournament.

In the tournament, turned away Maine in the first round, then Boston College in the semifinals at the NCAA Frozen Four. John Byce's hat trick helped the UW's 7-3 title-winning victory in Detroit.

Wisconsin posted its second-most victories in a season in finishing 36-9-1.

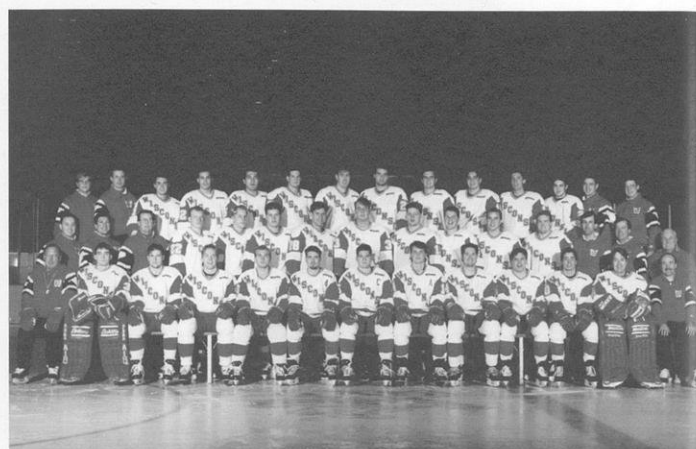

1998 WCHA Playoff Champions

Wisconsin's most recent WCHA playoff title and received one of seven automatic bids into the 1998 NCAA tournament with a 3-2 win over North Dakota in the 1998 WCHA Final Five championship game. The Badgers grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second period, saw the lead evaporate and then watched as Joe Bianchi scored on a power play in the third period for the difference.

Second-seed Wisconsin reached the title contest with a sweep over Alaska Anchorage in the best-of-three first round, and a 5-2 conquest of Colorado College in the WCHA Final Five semifinals.

In NCAA tournament action, the Badgers were eliminated in the first round by New Hampshire.

The Badgers posted a final record of 26-14-1.

1995 WCHA Playoff Champions

The Badgers received an automatic berth into the 1995 NCAA tournament after capturing the WCHA playoff title in St. Paul, Minn. Wisconsin defeated Denver, which had tied Wisconsin for second place during the regular season. The UW advanced past the Pioneers with a 5-4 win, then defeated Colorado College on Maco Balkovec's tally 43 seconds into overtime for a 4-3 victory. The crown was the school's 10th WCHA playoff title and victory sent the Badgers to an eighth consecutive NCAA berth.

Wisconsin nearly missed out on the title opportunity when it dropped the first game of the first round to ninth-seeded Northern Michigan, but recovered for two victories and a ticket to the WCHA Final Five.

The Badgers advanced past the NCAA's first round with a 5-3 win over Michigan State, but fell in the national quarterfinals to Michigan, 4-3.

2000 WCHA West Regional Champions

Wisconsin accomplished what has proven to be its most difficult challenge through the program's history by securing the 2000 MacNaughton Cup as the WCHA regular-season champion.

Wisconsin went 23-5-0 during the conference season for 46 points and a seven-point victory over second-place North Dakota. The school's .821 league winning percentage was second in school history behind the 1976-77 squad's .828 winning percentage.

Wisconsin opened with wins in eight of its first nine conference games, and won nine of its last 10 league games down the stretch to seize its third WCHA regular-season championship.

The Badgers eventually reached the WCHA Final Five title contest, but dropped a 5-3 game to North Dakota. The UW's NCAA trip ended 4-1 to Boston College in the quarterfinals.

Wisconsin finished its season at 31-9-1.

When the UW athletic counsel voted to officially recognize ice hockey as a varsity sport (1921-22), Dr. A.C. Viner was named the UW's first varsity ice hockey coach. But hockey at the UW was organized at the club level as far back as 1892. In the years leading up to that first season, Joe Steinauer coached Badger club teams from 1916-19. His name is the earliest mention of a UW hockey coach, club or varsity level.

"Badger Bob" Johnson

A man who has connections to four WCHA schools is the one responsible for crafting Wisconsin's hockey program into the one rich in winning tradition.

During the days Wisconsin football and basketball struggled through losing seasons, Wisconsin hockey captured the imagination of Badger fans beginning in 1964 when Bob Johnson took the reigns of the club.

Payoff came in 1973 when the Johnson-led Badgers corralled Denver, 4-2, for the schools' first NCAA title. Two more championships would follow during the Johnson era, including four years later in 1977. Captained by Mike Eaves, the 1977 team scored in overtime against Michigan in Detroit for championship No. 2. Finally in 1981, Wisconsin won a 6-3 contest from Minnesota in Duluth, Minn., to make it three titles in eight seasons.

During his time at Wisconsin, Johnson began the Wisconsin Olympic tradition. As head coach of the 1976 U.S. Olympic Team, Johnson took along three Badgers to Montreal. Four years later his son Mark, currently the coach of the Wisconsin's women hockey Badgers, would pace the Americans in scoring and lead the "Miracle on Ice," as the United States won gold over the heavily favored Soviet Union.

Johnson moved on to the professional ranks after 15 seasons and before the start of the 1982-83 season, joining the Calgary Flames as head coach. He took the Flames to the Stanley Cup finals in 1986, before once again moving on following the 1986-87 season. Johnson left the NHL to take over as executive director of USA Hockey.

The NHL called once again in 1990-91 as Johnson turned the Pittsburgh Penguins, a sub-.500 team the previous year, into Patrick Division, Prince of Wales Conference and Stanley Cup champions in just one season behind the bench. He was chosen to lead Team USA the following fall at the Canada Cup, but fell ill. A few weeks later, the hockey world was stunned by his death from cancer. The Penguins repeated as Cup champions that year and dedicated their triumph to the memory of the man who helped so many people during his career.

A 1992 inductee into the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, he was inducted into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame in 1991 and the UW Athletics Hall of Fame in 1992.

Johnson's legacy still resonates today at the University of Wisconsin. His immortal words, "It's a great day for hockey!" hang from the Kohl Center rafters and from the rafters of ice rinks all over the State of Wisconsin.

Jeff Sauer — “The Dean”

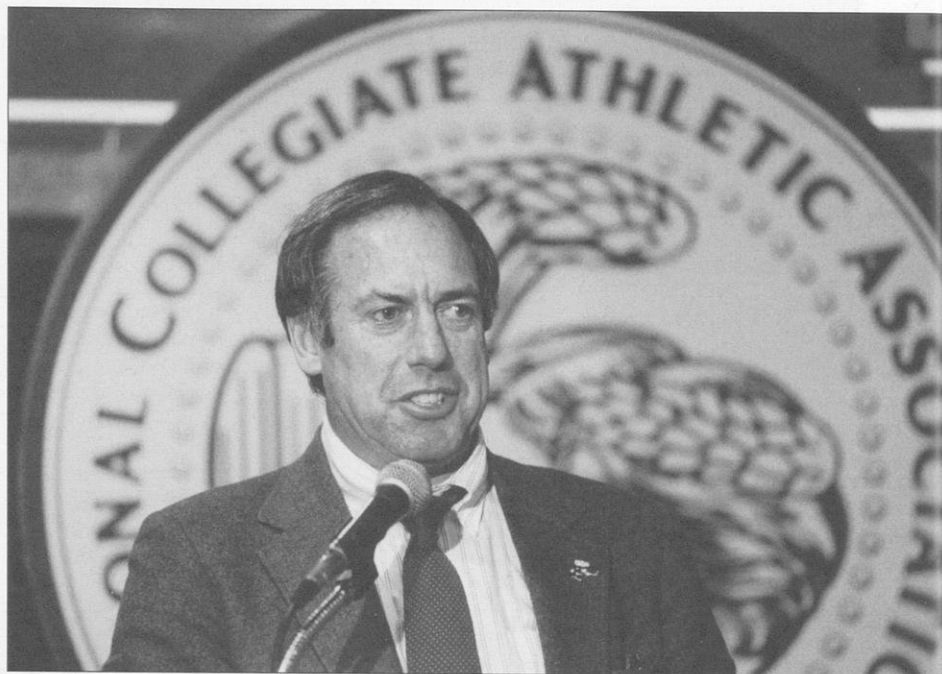

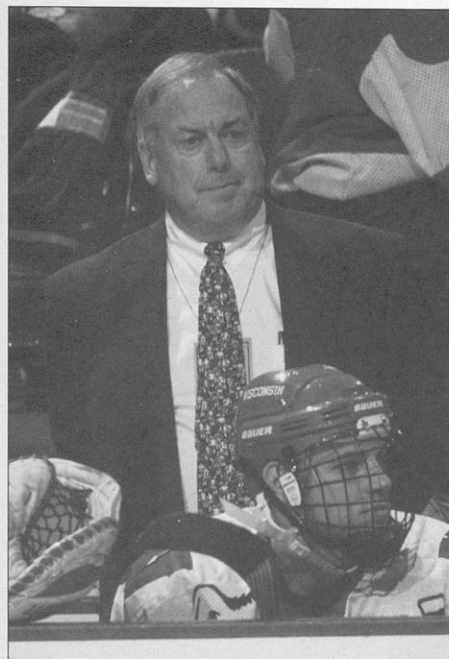

His list of achievements in the college hockey circuit places him among the elite in the coaching ranks. He is not only the winningest coach in Badger history in any sport, but he is the WCHA's most victorious.

Jeff Sauer spent 31 years behind the collegiate bench, including 20 in charge of the Badger hockey program. Since beginning his coaching career back in 1966, as a 23-year-old assistant to the legendary Bob Johnson at Colorado College, Sauer is the only person in WCHA annals to coach 30 seasons in the league and is also its winningest.

Sauer holds numerous league coaching records including those for longevity and for most games coached (1,244). His 655 wins rank seventh on the NCAA all-time coaches victory list.

In his 20 years at the UW, Sauer enjoyed unprecedented success. No other coach won more UW games (489) or coached in more contests (841).

He became the first coach in college history to win a national title in his inaugural season at a school when the 1982-83 Badgers won the school's fourth NCAA championship. His second national title came during the 1989-90 season when his team went 36-9-1 on its way to recording the school's second-winningest season in history.

Jeff Sauer, the winningest coach in WCHA history, won two NCAA titles at Wisconsin, including in 1983 and 1990.

Sauer recorded four 30-win seasons (1982-83, 1987-88, 1989-90, 1999-2000), the most of any UW coach.

In WCHA play, the UW finished in the league's top three 14 times during his tenure, winning league titles in 1990 and 2000.

One of the most-respected coaches in the game, he continues to be a consummate diplomat for the game of hockey. Sauer remains involved at all levels of hockey, from instructing kids at summer camps to speaking at high school assemblies to coaching international-level athletes in world tournaments.

In the summer of 2000, Sauer was honored by USA Hockey, when he received the JOFA/USA Hockey Distinguished Achievement Award. The award is given annually to a U. S. citizen who has made hockey his or her profession and has made outstanding contributions, on or off the ice, to the sport in America.

Many of Sauer's former players have received national honors and gone onto successful careers in pro hockey. Seventeen have earned all-America honors, and names like Chelios, Driver, Flatley, Granato, Joseph, Mellanby and Richter have adorned NHL jerseys for decades after playing collegiately for Sauer at Wisconsin.

In August of 2000, Sauer coached his first-ever women's team at the women's Olympic Festival in Lake Placid, N.Y. Olympian Cammi Granato (a sister to former Badgers Tony, Don and Rob and a cousin to Kevin) was one of his players, becoming the fifth member of the Granato family to be coached by Sauer.

In August of 1998, Sauer was head coach for the inaugural WCHA All-Star Team that competed against elite teams from Germany and Switzerland in the Kolin Cup Tournament in Switzerland. It was the first time in collegiate hockey conference history that a league sent an all-star team overseas.

At CC, where he served as head coach from 1971-82, Sauer won 166 games and was twice named WCHA Coach of the Year. His first award came following his rookie season, and the second followed the 1974-75 campaign when Colorado College posted a 23-16-0 record. The Tigers' third-place WCHA finish that season was the highest in 15 years for a CC team.

The Decade of the 60s

The first UW hockey team (1963-64) went 8-5-3 in its first season, with wins over Macalester, Illinois Club, Lake Forest, Carleton and Hamline that year. John Riley (below) was one of the main forces behind the return of hockey to Wisconsin.

In March of 1962 at an athletic board meeting, then-Athletic Director Ivan B. Williamson reinstated ice hockey as an intercollegiate sport at the University of Wisconsin. A year and a half later, behind co-coaches Art Thomsen and John Riley, Badger hockey made its 'second debut'.

On November 29, 1963, seven days after the tragic death of President Kennedy, the Badgers faced off against St. Mary's College of Winona, Minn. That game signaled the return of hockey to Wisconsin after a 28-year absence.

The first Badger team of the modern era was formed by posting flyers around the campus during the Fall of 1962. The flyers asked any university students wishing to play ice hockey to report to an initial organizational meeting in Agricultural Hall. Only about 15-20 students showed up and because there were no scholarships, the team was molded from kids who did not receive offers from any other schools and a lot of local kids who just wanted to play the game.

So, from those humble beginnings, co-coaches Riley and Thomsen laid the foundation for what would become one of college hockey's winningest programs.

During the first full season (1963-64), a TOTAL of 8,937 fans watched 15 games at Kelsey's Hartmeyer Ice Arena. That number tripled just one year later as in the Badgers' second season, nearly 28,000 people came out to watch the 17-game home slate.

Said Riley, "We had great enthusiasm from those who came out to see what was going on. Although small in number, they were very dedicated, very loyal, very excitable and very vocal." These were the first of the now famous Wisconsin hockey fans.

From the start, the Badgers boasted strong goaltenders producing such names as Jim Duffy, Gary Johnson, Bob Vroman and Wayne Thomas between the pipes in the 60s. The first 20-goal scorer (season) was Ray Clegg, who led the team in scoring during the 1964-65 campaign with 27-22=49. Bert Dehate was the decade's most prolific scorer with 108 goals, 80 assists for 188 points from 1966-70. He left with UW records for career goals and points, and season goals and points, to name a few. On defense, John Jagger became the school's first All-American when he was named to the first team following the 1969-70 season. Don Addison paced the team in defensive scoring three straight seasons (1964-67) and led the team in scoring with 12-28=40 in 1966-67.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

March 1962 – Athletic Director Ivan B. Williamson announces the return of hockey as an intercollegiate sport after the sport was dropped in 1935.

November 29, 1963 – In the first game of the modern era, the Badgers lose a 13-6 shootout to St. Mary's (Winona, Minn.). The game was played in front of 695 fans at Hartmeyer Ice Arena.

The first modern-era goal came off the stick of Tom French (Ann Arbor, Mich.) on a penalty shot.

December 6, 1963 – A rebound goal by Chan Young (Madison, Wis.) gives the UW its first win in the modern era. In overtime, the Badgers defeated Macalester, 3-2.

December 11, 1964 – The UW takes a major step in the future of the program, scheduling eight games against teams from the WCHA, but the Badgers lose all eight.

February 22, 1966 – The UW breaks a 13-game winless streak versus WCHA teams, when it posts a 5-4 overtime win over the Minnesota Gophers.

April 1, 1966 – Following the retirement of John Riley, the UW hires Bob Johnson as its ninth coach in the history of the program.

March 1968 – Sophomore center Bert DeHate (St. Paul, Minn.) became the first Badger to win the national scoring title. He tallied 47-30=77, including a school-record seven hat tricks.

March 30, 1969 – Wisconsin joins the WCHA, becoming the ninth member of the most prestigious league in Division I college hockey.

November 14-15, 1969 – The UW's first WCHA series was played against the Fighting Sioux of North Dakota. The Badgers upset UND, sweeping the series 8-4 and 7-4.

March 1970 – Wisconsin makes its first NCAA tournament appearance, finishing third. Defenseman John Jagger (Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario) is the first UW All-American.

The Decade of the 70s

The 1972-73 hockey team poses on the ice after winning the school's first NCAA championship. For head coach Bob Johnson, it was his first national title and one of three he would win at Wisconsin. (Johnson is also pictured below.)

The decade of the 70s established the University of Wisconsin hockey program as one of the nation's elite. After winning the WCHA playoff championship in its first season as a WCHA member (1969-70) and also making its first NCAA tourney appearance that year, Wisconsin entered the next decade with confidence and determination to take the program to the next level.

It didn't take long for the Badgers to make that step and return to the NCAA championship. In March of 1972, the UW lost to Boston University, but defeated Denver to place third at the NCAA tournament. It was the second championship appearance in three years for a Badger team. Then came the 1972-73 campaign—the 10th anniversary of the UW hockey program in the modern era. That year proved to be the best yet for a Wisconsin squad as the Badgers finished 29-9-2 and gave themselves the best anniversary present available in the college hockey world—an NCAA championship. It would be the first of three for Bob Johnson as the UW's mentor.

Just four years later, arguably the best college hockey team assembled, notched the first 30-win season in the school's existence ending the year 37-7-1. That team produced four first-team All-Americans in forwards Mike Eaves and Mark Johnson, defenseman Craig Norwich and goaltender Julian Baretta and Wisconsin's second NCAA title. The Badgers came from behind in both semi-final games to defeat New Hampshire and Michigan in overtime in two of the greatest comebacks in UW history. Both games were tied late in regulation by the UW and then won in overtime.

Wisconsin made another NCAA championship appearance in '77-78 (the fourth of the decade), finishing fourth after losing to Boston University and Bowling Green.

The UW watched two of its team members take part in the 'Miracle on Ice' during the 1980 Lake Placid Olympics. Mark Johnson and Bob Suter were both members of the United States' goal-medal winning team. Johnson led the team in scoring with 5-6=11.

The Badger hockey program had earned the respect of the college hockey world with the accomplishments and success during the 70s. Wisconsin made four NCAA appearances, won two NCAA championships, four WCHA playoff titles and one WCHA regular-season crown. Six 20-plus win seasons, including a 30-win campaign, were recorded. Individually, six players earned nine first-team All-America honors, while five players (and one coach) were Olympians during the decade of the 70s. Steve Alley, Bob Lundeen, John Taft and head coach Bob Johnson were members of the 1976 U.S. Olympic team, while Johnson and Suter played on the 1980 U.S. team.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

March 1972 – The Badgers make a second appearance in three years at the NCAA championships, finishing third.

March 16, 1973 – Dean Talaious scores with five seconds left in regulation to tie the game, then scores the game-winning goal with 33 seconds in left overtime to cap a stunning comeback 6-5 victory over Cornell. The win advances the Badgers to the finals, where they defeat defending NCAA champion Denver for their first NCAA title.

February 19, 1977 – Wisconsin captures its first-ever MacNaughton Cup with a 6-4 win over Minnesota-Duluth at the Dane County Coliseum.

March 25, 1977 – The Badgers make it to college hockey's final four for the third time in school history. In semifinal action, Les Grauer ties the game and Mike Eaves get the game-winner to give the UW a 4-3 overtime win over New Hampshire.

March 26, 1977 – The best season in UW history is culminated when Steve Alley's goal at 0:23 into overtime gives Wisconsin a 6-5 win over Michigan for the school's second NCAA title in five seasons.

The Badgers finish the season at 37-7-1, becoming the first team to capture the Big Ten, WCHA and NCAA titles in the same season. Bob Johnson is named national coach of the year, while his son, Mark, is named the freshman of the year.

March 1978 – UW fans take Providence, R.I., by storm for the 1978 NCAA Championship and are proclaimed the "World's Greatest Hockey Fans," by the city.

Mike Eaves ends his UW career as the school's all-time scoring leader, while he and Mark Johnson earn first-team All-America honors.

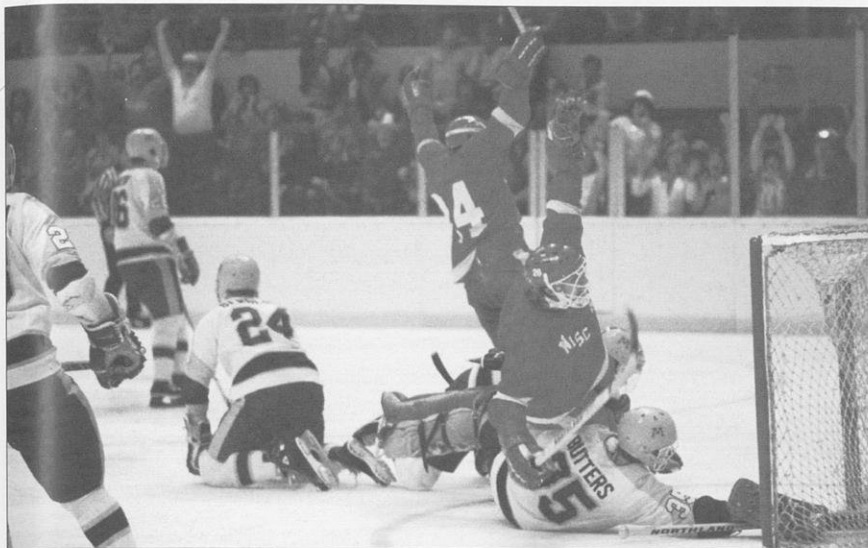

March 1979 – The Badgers play before 21 sellout crowds, averaging 8,654 (just eight short of a sellout) fans a game at the Dane County Coliseum.

Mark Johnson, the collegiate player of the year, closes out his UW career as the top goal scorer (125) in school history.

The Decade of the 80s

Ted Pearson (#24) gives the Badgers a 4-0 lead over the Minnesota Gophers at the 9:23 mark of the second period. That goal proved to be the game-winner as the UW went on to a 6-3 win and the 1981 NCAA title.

Wisconsin opened the 80s with three straight NCAA championship appearances (1980-81, 1981-82 and 1982-83) and two national titles (1981 and 1983). With three NCAA championships in seven years, Badger hockey had become the most successful collegiate hockey program in the nation.

Those three teams produced some of the best athletes to play the game. Consider that five members of those teams went on to distinguished NHL careers, including Bruce Driver (15 seasons/1,030 games), Pat Flatley (14/850), Brian Mullen (11/1,205), Dave Maley (9/512) and Chris Chelios, who marked his 20th season in the NHL in 2001-02 as a member of the Stanley Cup-winning Detroit Red Wings. Chelios, who has been named the NHL's best defenseman on three separate occasions, has played in 1,617 career NHL games.

In addition, four players – Flatley, Driver, John Newberry and Theran Welsh – were named first-team All-Americans. Welsh remains the Badgers' all-time leading defensive scorer (24-194=228) and is one of only four players in school history to reach the 200-point plateau.

Wisconsin won 20-or-more games every season in the decade of the 80s, including two 30-win campaigns. And, just as the UW entered the 80s, winning a national title, that is how it ended the 80s. The 1989-90 squad won the school's fifth NCAA title and posted the second-best record in school history (36-9-1).

The list of players that came out of the Badger hockey program during this decade is second to none.

John Byce, Tony Granato, Sean Hill, Curtis Joseph, Scott Mellanby, Paul Ranheim, Barry Richter, Mike Richter, Gary Shuchuk, Gary Suter and Chris Tancill are just a few of the top players that came out of the 80s.

The Badgers became just the fourth school to win three or more titles in the same decade. Denver (60s) and Boston University (70s) won three and Michigan won five (50s) championships in its respective decade.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

March 27, 1981 – For the sixth time in school history, the Badgers return to the NCAA tournament. After advancing past Clarkson in quarterfinal action a week earlier, the Badgers defeat Northern Michigan to earn the right to play for the national title.

March 28, 1981 – With a 6-3 win over arch-rival Minnesota, the Badgers grab the school's third NCAA title. The UW defeats the No. 1 teams in ECAC (Clarkson), the CCHA (Northern Michigan) and the WCHA (Minnesota) in its championship run.

March 27, 1982 – The Badgers make a second consecutive appearance in the NCAA title game, but lose to North Dakota, finishing second.

June 1, 1982 – Bob Johnson resigns after 15 years at Wisconsin. He led the program to three national titles, seven NCAA appearances and the highest attendance in the country.

July 8, 1982 – Jeff Sauer becomes the fourth coach (10th all time) in the modern era of Badger hockey.

March 5, 1983 – Wisconsin defeats North Dakota, 6-5 in triple overtime, to advance to the WCHA playoff championship. Chris Chelios ties the game with just 12 seconds left in regulation and Paul Houck wins it with a shorthanded goal in the third overtime. To date, it was the longest game in school history.

March 12-13, 1983 – With a sweep of the Gophers at Williams Arena, the Badgers earn the league playoff championship and the No. 1 seed in the West.

March 26, 1983 – For the third straight year, Wisconsin plays for the national title and wins the championship with a 6-2 victory over Harvard.

January 7, 1984 – Wisconsin becomes the only American collegiate team to defeat the 1984 U.S. Olympic squad (4-2) on its preparation tour.

November 23, 1985 – Wisconsin records the program's 500th modern-era victory with a 6-2 win over North Dakota at the Coliseum.

December 30, 1987 – The Badgers claim the Great Lakes Invitational tournament with wins over Michigan and Michigan State in front of 19,482 at Joe Louis Arena.

March 6-7, 1988 – A win over North Dakota (2-1) and Minnesota (3-2) at the St. Paul Civic Center nets the first-ever WCHA Final Four Playoff Championship.

December 28-29, 1989 – Wisconsin hosts its inaugural Bank One Badger Hockey Showdown at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee, Wis. The UW defeats Notre Dame (9-3) and Boston College (6-5) to capture the Pettit Cup.

February 16, 1990 – The Badgers play their 1,000th game since the resumption of the program in 1963, a 6-3 victory over Minnesota.

March 24, 1990 – The UW completes its sweep of Maine in the NCAA quarterfinals at the Dane County Coliseum. The Badgers advance to Detroit with a 4-3 overtime win.

March 30, 1990 – In front of 8,000 Badger fans in Joe Louis Arena, the Cardinal and White defeat Boston College 2-1 to advance to the 1990 NCAA Championship game.

April 1, 1990 – Head coach Jeff Sauer guides his Badger team to a second NCAA title, with a 7-3 victory over Colgate. It is the school's fifth national title as the UW's 36-9-1 mark is the second-best in UW history.

The Decade of the 90s

The Badgers entered the 1990s as the defending NCAA champions, coming off a decade which saw a Wisconsin team play for the national title four times. Trying to match that feat would be a challenge.

The 1991-92 team did its part, becoming the lowest seeded team (sixth) in NCAA playoff history to advance to the championship game (The Badgers lost to Lake Superior State, 5-3).

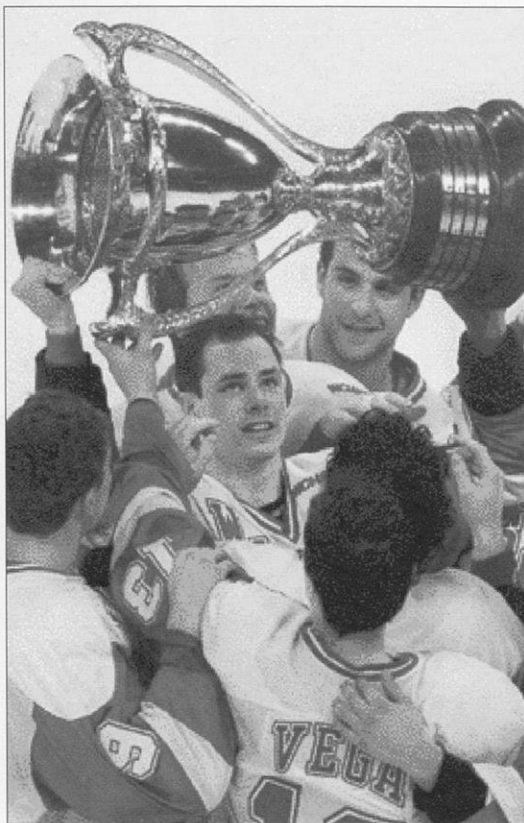

The following year, the 1992-93 squad came within inches of making it to Milwaukee and the 1993 NCAA Championship, but dropped a heart-breaking 4-3 decision to Michigan in overtime. Wisconsin managed NCAA berths in the next two years, but did not earn a trip to the NCAA's Frozen Four, despite additional NCAA bids in 1997-98 and 1999-2000.

The 1999-2000 squad boasted two of the most talented forwards that have played for the Badgers in Steve Reinprecht and Dany Heatley. Both helped lead the UW to the 2000 WCHA regular-season Championship and the MacNaughton Cup. It was the third time in school history a UW team had won the league title and the first since 1990.

Reinprecht earned first-team All-America honors, the first Badger forward since Gary Shuchuk (1990) to receive that distinction. He also finished his senior season as the runner-up (the highest finish ever for a Badger) for the Hobey Baker award, given to the nation's top player. Heatley, a second-team All-American as a freshman, was named a first-team All-American (2001), giving Wisconsin its first back-to-back All-America first teamers since Mike Eaves and Mark Johnson (1978 and 1979).

Three UW defensemen were named All-Americans – Barry Richter (1993), Brian Rafalski (1995) and Jeff Dessner (2000). In goal, Duane Derksen (1992) and Kirk Daubenspeck (1997) were second-team All-Americans.

Wisconsin made the 12-team NCAA tourney seven of 10 years in the 90s, averaging over 23 wins a season. The decade ended with the '99-00 team posting the third-best mark in school history, 31-9-1.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

April 2-4, 1992 – Wisconsin defeats Michigan, 4-2, to move into the national championship game against Lake Superior State. The Badgers lose 5-3, but become the lowest-seeded team to ever advance to a national title contest.

March 26-27, 1993 – The Badgers receive a sixth consecutive bid to the NCAA tournament. After a 3-1 win over Miami University, the UW drops a heart-breaking 4-3 decision to Michigan in overtime, missing the chance to appear in its third Frozen Four in four seasons.

March 25-26, 1994 – In its seventh straight NCAA appearance, the Badgers handle Western Michigan (6-3), but lose to top-ranked Boston University, 4-1.

March 17-18, 1995 – Wisconsin recorded wins over Denver and league champion Colorado College to claim the 1995 WCHA Playoff Championship, the school's 10th playoff title. The championship earns the Badgers an automatic NCAA berth, the eighth straight for the UW.

March 8, 1997 – Wisconsin and Colorado College make college hockey history playing in the longest game on record – 5 hours and 24 minutes. The first-round WCHA playoff game lasts until the 9:30 mark of the fourth overtime as the Tigers win the game, 1-0.

Badger netminder Kirk Daubenspeck sets a league and school record with 75 saves.

January 4, 1998 – Head coach Jeff Sauer becomes the WCHA's winningest coach when the UW defeats Denver 7-3. The victory is Sauer's 556th as a league coach and surpasses the legendary John MacInnes.

March 14, 1998 – With a 6-2 win over Alaska-Anchorage, the Badgers play their last regular-season game in the Dane County Coliseum. It had served as the home to Badger hockey for over 30 years.

March 20-21, 1998 – The Badgers take the 1998 WCHA Playoff Championship, with 5-2 and 3-2 wins over Colorado College and North Dakota, respectively. The win also gives Bucky an automatic spot in the 12-team NCAA tourney.

October 3, 1998 – Wisconsin opens the Kohl Center in the College Hockey Hall of Fame game vs. Notre Dame. Despite a 3-2 loss to the Irish, a record 13,398 fans turn out to see the Badgers' debut in their new home.

February 25, 2000 – For only the third time in school history, a Badger team wins the coveted MacNaughton Cup. The WCHA regular-season league championship is clinched with a 4-2 win over the Minnesota Golden Gophers at Mariucci Arena.

A New Century Begins — the 2000s

Wisconsin hockey began the 21st century as it had its previous three decades—with a 20-win season and a berth in the NCAA tournament. It was the 16th 20-or 30-win campaign for head coach Jeff Sauer and the 12th NCAA appearance for the Badgers under Sauer.

The Badger fans were also treated to a second year of watching Dany Heatley play as he opted to return for a second season (2000-01) with the Badgers instead of turning pro. Heatley, one of the most talented and gifted players to ever wear the Cardinal and White, was named the NHL's Rookie of the Year following the 2001-02 season. Drafted No. 2 overall in the 2000 NHL Entry Draft by the Atlanta Thrashers, he led all league rookies in scoring in 2001-02 before picking up NHL All-Star Game MVP honors in 2002-03.

Two seasons into the fifth decade of Badger hockey, the program said goodbye to the Jeff Sauer era as former Badger Mike Eaves became the fourth coach in the modern era of UW hockey. Sauer announced his retirement from coaching on January 9, 2002, after 31 years coaching in the WCHA and 20 seasons behind the Badger bench. He is the winningest coach in league and school history and the fourth-winningest coach all time.

The Eaves Era began on March 19, 2002, when he was hired to replace Sauer. After 26 years, Eaves still remains the school's all-time scoring leader with 94-173=267 in 160 games during his four-year career as a Badger. He led the team in scoring during his freshman, sophomore and senior seasons and in his junior year, was the top-scoring Badger forward (28-53=81) on the 1977 NCAA Championship squad.

By Eaves' second season, he already made a mark, leading his team to a record-setting campaign that culminated in the squad reaching the 2004 NCAA East Regional Final. The team advanced to its second-straight NCAA tournament in 2005.

Goaltender Bernd Brückler posted one of the greatest seasons in UW history and became the first goalie since Roy Schults in 1980 to be named a first-team All-American with the completion of the 2003-04 season. He set numerous single-season and a handful of career records in the process.

Brückler's records were short-lived as Brian Elliott was the next in line. Elliott and the Badgers reached new heights in 2005-06 when Elliott was one of the final three up for the Hobey Baker Memorial Award. The national leader in nearly every statistical category, Elliott shattered many of Wisconsin's goaltending records and gave the Badgers their second First-Team All-American in three seasons. More importantly,

Elliott anchored Wisconsin to its sixth NCAA title. The 2005-06 dream season included road sweeps at North Dakota and Minnesota, a sweep of the College Hockey Showcase at Michigan State and Michigan, a title at the Badger Hockey Showdown, an outdoor contest at Lambeau Field and a title run that never left the State of Wisconsin.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

June 24, 2000 – Dany Heatley, taken second overall in the 2000 NHL Entry Draft, becomes the highest player to be drafted in Badger history.

January 9, 2002 – Jeff Sauer announces he is retiring as the head coach of the Badgers after 20 years behind the UW bench and 31 years as a head coach in the WCHA.

March 19, 2002 – Mike Eaves is announced as the Badgers' fifth head coach in the modern era at a news conference in the Kohl Center.

October 19, 2002 – The Badger hockey program sees its 1,000,000th hockey fan come through the turnstiles at the Kohl Center when the Badgers defeat Alabama-Huntsville. After five years calling the Kohl Center home, Wisconsin has drawn a total of 1,192,099 fans for an average of 11,687 per game (102 home dates).

March 26, 2004 – Making their first NCAA appearance in three seasons, the third-seeded Badgers earn a 1-0 overtime victory over second-seeded Ohio State to advance to the Midwest Regional Final, before falling 2-1 in overtime to Maine.

February 11, 2006 – In front of 40,890 mostly Wisconsin fans, the Badgers defeated Ohio State, 4-2, at the Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic, played outside at Lambeau Field.

March 26, 2006 – Freshman Jack Skille one-times a no-look pass from sophomore defenseman Josh Engel to end 111:13 of scoreless hockey for a 1-0 victory over Cornell. The win at the 2006 NCAA Midwest Regional final in Green Bay, Wis., sends the Badgers to their first Frozen Four in 14 years.

April 6, 2006 – Junior Ross Carlson scored short-handed in the second period and junior Robbie Earl scored less than two minutes later on the power play to put the Badgers up 3-1 against Maine. Three goals later, the Badgers advance to the NCAA title game with a 5-2 victory.

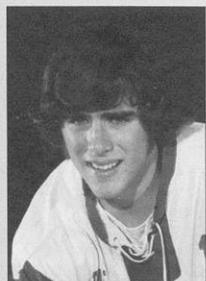

April 8, 2006 – Wisconsin wins its 30 game of the season at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee, defeating Boston College 2-1 for its sixth NCAA title. Senior All-American defenseman Tom Gilbert tallies at 9:32 of the third period on the power play for the game-winning score. The Badgers and goaltender Brian Elliott survive a last second BC shot that rings off the post.

Eighteen Years For The Showdown

The 2006 Badger Hockey Showdown, now in its 18th year overall and fourth at the Kohl Center, welcomes one of its best fields in recent memory with three teams that had winning records in 2005-06. Through the first 14 years, the tournament took place at the site of the 2006 NCAA Men's Frozen Four, the Bradley Center in Milwaukee. Begun in December of 1989, this year's Showdown continues one of the longest holiday traditions in college hockey in the top college sports town in America.

The brainchild of former Badger head coach Jeff Sauer, the Showdown has featured defending NCAA champions, Hobey Baker winners and finalists and numerous future NHL stars. Praised by coaches, players and fans as one of the best showcases of college hockey talent in the nation, the tourney has become one of the most successful in college hockey history.

Since 1989, over 440,000 fans have witnessed the December spectacle in Milwaukee and Madison, averaging over 26,000 fans per year and over 13,000 spectators a day.

Wisconsin has enjoyed much success at the Showdown, winning nine of the 17 championships. The Badgers have defeated hockey powers Boston College (1989), North Dakota (1990), Maine (1991), Northern Michigan (1993, 1997, 2002 and 2005), Bowling Green (1994) and Boston University (2000) to win titles. Hockey East members Boston University (1992 and 1995) and New Hampshire (1996 and 2001) have each won the Showdown twice, while Bowling Green was the first CCHA team to win the Showdown in 1998. At the 1999 event, North Dakota became the first WCHA team other than the Badgers to win the Pettit Cup. Wisconsin enters the 2006 event looking for its first back-to-back Showdown titles since victories in 1993 and 1994.

Showdown 2006

The Badger Hockey Showdown makes its fourth appearance in Madison after 14 years at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee. For the fourth year in Madison, teams from four different conferences will compete, including visitors that were all winning teams in 2005-06. Those include CCHA-member Lake Superior State (15-14-7), Hockey East's Providence (17-16-3) and the ECAC's Clarkson (18-17-3).

Lake Superior State made one previous appearance at the Badger Hockey Showdown. The Lakers advanced to the finals with a win over Northeastern, before falling to the UW in the title game, 6-4.

Providence placed third in its lone appearance in 1993. The Friars fell by one goal to Northern Michigan, then defeated Alaska Fairbanks, 8-3 in the third-place contest.

The Badgers' first-round opponent, Clarkson, returns to the Showdown after a third-place finish in 2004. The Golden Knights fell 4-1 to eventual tourney champion Ferris State. Clarkson then knocked down Yale, 8-1, to claim the consolation contest.

* Showdown records

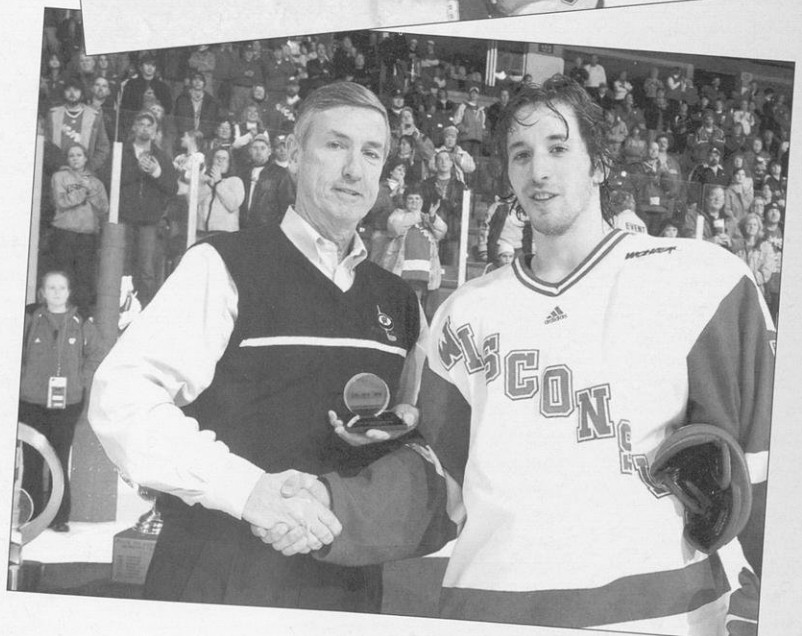

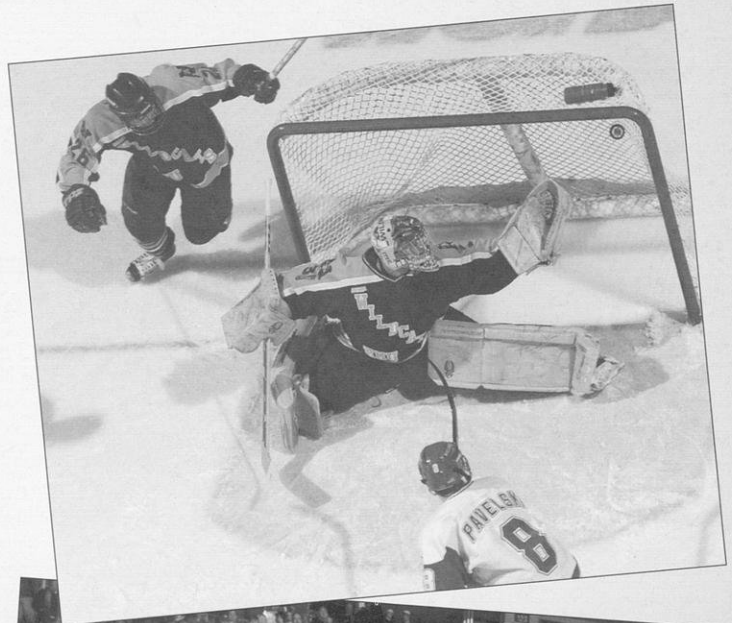

Wisconsin looks for its second-straight Badger Hockey Showdown title in 2006 after defeating Northern Michigan for the 2005 tournament championship at the Kohl Center. Should they complete the feat, it would mark the first back-to-back crowns for the Badgers since victories in 1993 and 1994.

MVP/Player of the Year

From 1960-81, the league's MVP award was administered by the Denver Post. Since 1981, it has been selected through balloting of coaches, players, sports information directors and news media. In 1992, the MVP designation was changed to the WCHA Player of the Year.

Rookie of the Year

The WCHA Rookie of the Year has been presented under three different sets of criteria since 1960. From 1959-60 through 1969-70, freshmen were not allowed to play in the WCHA and the rookie award went to the top sophomore. From 1970-71 through 1989-90, the award was known as the Freshman of the Year. In 1990, the WCHA adopted the Rookie of the Year Award for the top first-year player.

Final Five All-Tourney Team

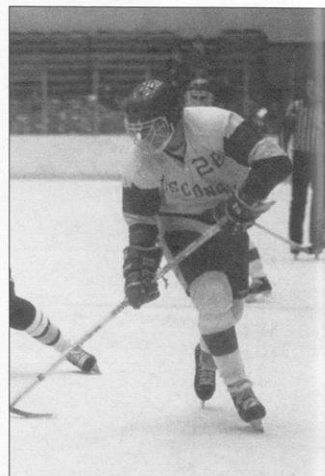

The WCHA Playoff Championship Final Five tourney began selecting all-tournament teams in 1987-88. That year, the league implemented its current playoff format of playing its annual tournament at a neutral site instead of on campus sites. The first round of the league tourney is a best-of-three series on the campus sites of the top-five finishers, with the winners advancing to the WCHA Final Five.

Head Coach Mike Eaves

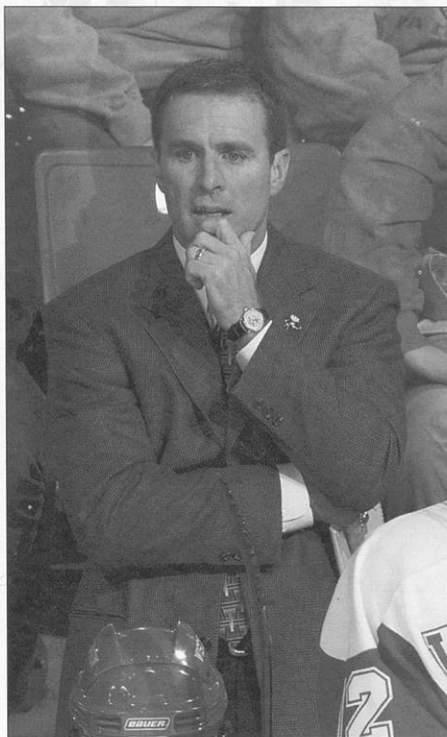

After a playing career that ended with the most prolific scoring numbers in Wisconsin hockey history and an NCAA title, Mike Eaves returned to his alma mater for the 2002-03 season as the fifth coach in the modern era of Badger hockey. Now through four years behind the bench, Eaves has added to his legacy, bringing the program's sixth NCAA title to Madison.

In his fourth season at the helm, Eaves directed his team during 2005-06 to a dream season. Finishing with a 30-10-3 mark, the squad defeated Boston College, 2-1, at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee for the storied program's first title in 16 years. Along the way, Wisconsin swept Michigan State and Michigan at the College Hockey Showcase, played in front of nearly 41,000 fans outside at Lambeau Field, reached the NCAA Frozen Four after a 1-0 triple overtime win over Cornell at the Resch Center in Green Bay, Wis., and set numerous school records. Individual honors were plenty, as well, with a Hobey Baker Finalist and three All-American honorees.

Eaves and the Badgers reached their high-water mark after a four-year process. In just his second season behind the bench, Eaves led his charges to one of the largest improvements in college hockey and to within one goal of an NCAA Frozen Four appearance. Included in the run was a national-best 15-game unbeaten streak, a third-place finish in the WCHA standings and national rankings as high as No. 3.

The Badgers continued their improvement in 2004-05 by qualifying for their first WCHA Final Five under Eaves, spending a league-best 10 weeks in first place in the WCHA standings and leading the conference in defense and penalty killing, while upping their goal average by a half goal per game.

Eaves returned to the UW after spending two seasons as the head coach of USA Hockey's National Team Development Program (NTDP). A program designed to accelerate the development of elite under-20 American hockey players, Eaves led the group to a gold medal at the 2002 IIHF

World Under-18 Championship in Piastany, Slovakia, the first-ever gold medal for the United States at the event. Eaves and his team clinched the gold with a 3-1 victory over Russia to end the tourney with a 7-1-0 record. Excluding the Olympics, it was the first gold medal won by a U.S. national team at an IIHF World Championship since 1933.

Eaves' encore performance came when he directed the U.S. National Junior Team at the 2004 International Ice Hockey Federation World Junior Championship to the country's first gold medal in that tournament.

Eaves' coaching days began in 1985 with the Calgary Flames (assistant) and since then he has held assistant coaching positions with the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and Philadelphia Flyers, and head coaching posts with the Helsinki Finnish Elite League, Shattuck (Minn.) St. Mary's High School and the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League (AHL). He also spent one season at St. Cloud State (assistant coach) and one season at UW-Eau Claire (head coach).

Eaves has represented the U.S. in international competition both as a player and coach. He skated as a forward for Team USA at both the 1981 and 1984 Canada Cup tournaments and was a member of the 1976 and 1978 U.S. National Teams at the International Ice Hockey Federation (IIHF) World Championships. As a coach, Eaves served as an assistant under Bob Johnson for Team USA at the 1991 Canada Cup, was an assistant coach for the 1991 U.S. National Team at the IIHF World Championship in Finland and directed the 2006 U.S. National Team at the IIHF World Championship in Riga, Latvia.

Eaves was recruited to play at Wisconsin by the legendary "Badger Bob" Johnson. He became both a standout student-athlete and one of the greatest players in Badger hockey history (1974-78). A first-team All-American as a junior and senior, Eaves is the UW's career scoring leader with 267 points (94-173) in 160 games. He helped lead the Badgers to the 1977 NCAA title by scoring 28 goals and 53 assists for 81 points during that championship season. He assisted on three goals in the championship game, including the game winner just 23 seconds into overtime, a 6-5 win over Michigan.

Hockey and coaching were two things Eaves grew up around. His father, Cecil, won an NCAA title at the University of Denver (1956-57) and is also credited with helping to start the hockey program at Ohio State. He was the head coach at the University of Windsor (Ontario) and is a past director of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association (CAHA). His brother Murray lettered two years at Michigan (1978-80) before playing for the Winnipeg Jets (1980-86) and the Detroit Red Wings (1987-88). He currently is the head coach at Shattuck St. Mary's High School.

A native of Denver, Colo., Mike and his wife, Beth, are the parents of two sons — Ben and Patrick — who both boast college hockey ties to Boston College. Ben captained the BC hockey team in 2003-04, while Patrick spent three years with the Eagles before joining the NHL's Ottawa Senators.

Ben became the third member of the Eaves family to win a national title when Boston College won the 2001 NCAA Championship.

Eaves graduated with honors from Wisconsin in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in physical education.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT MIKE EAVES

"Mike is one of the outstanding young coaches in our game today. He's an excellent teacher of the game and has worked successfully with players at all levels of hockey."

Paul Holmgren

General Manager of Team USA, Assistant GM of the Philadelphia Flyers, Former NHL All-Star and Head Coach

"He is going to give you a game plan and more than enough opportunity to succeed. He puts a plan together and helps you stay committed to your goals."

Joe Pavelski

Former Wisconsin All-American

"His intensity and passion for winning is contagious to everyone around him, which is what has made him so successful. He is somebody that I feel fortunate to have had the chance to work with and a person I will consider a close friend the rest of my life."

Adam Burish

Captain of the 2006 NCAA champion Badgers

"He knows so much about the game, both offensively and defensively. He breaks it down to the little things. He really pushes for us to always work our hardest, always do our best and never accept losing."

Jeff Likens

Senior assistant captain

"When you first come in, he opens your eyes. He teaches you how to play at both ends of the ice and his intensity rubs off on you. Not only does he help you on the ice, he tries to make you a better man off the ice."

Jack Skille

First-round NHL draft pick and Badger sophomore forward

"He just wins. It was nice for him to push me to get better every year. He's been in the NHL before and knows what to expect. If I ever need any advice, he's the guy I'll talk to."

Tom Gilbert

Former Badger All-American

"He's gotten me to where I am today. I see him as a coach, but more as a mentor. I respect what he says and he'll always be a person I can learn from, even being away from Wisconsin."

Q&A with Coach Eaves

Why should a student-athlete come to the UW?

Everything a student-athlete would want out of their collegiate experience is here at the University of Wisconsin. From the first-class education, the faculty and staff, the incredible social experiences, top-rate facilities, a beautiful campus—this university has it all.

As a student, you are attending one of the finest institutions around. As a student-athlete, the UW is one of the top athletic programs in the nation. The campus also has so much to offer with the lakes and its natural beauty. These things are why I decided many years ago to attend Wisconsin.

Did you ever think you would someday be the head coach at your alma mater?

Not right away. When I graduated from the UW, my next step was the NHL and trying to make a living playing professional hockey, so coaching wasn't something I was thinking about at that point in my life. Once you establish yourself as a pro athlete, you want to know how good you can be and how long you can play at that level. I was able to play at that level for eight years.

But then having to retire early from playing, my education then afforded me options that I would not have had otherwise. Instead of being limited because of not having an education, I had several options. My education allowed me to get into coaching and at one point in the early 90s, I did think it would be nice to get back to Madison and coach. After a few years of coaching at various levels, you are able to understand the scope of the coaching world and what path is best for you.

With the way things unfolded the opportunity arose again, so I decided to put my name in the hat to see what happened.

What is your coaching philosophy?

That's a tough question to answer concisely. Over time, I've come to realize that your coaching philosophy can come down to how other teams talk about you. 'Man they are hard to play against. They play hard and compete. They play smart and don't hurt themselves. They play as a team.' When teams talk about you in these terms with those comments then you have something that can become a great foundation for a successful program. That is what our philosophy is. We want to play hard, play smart and play as a team.

What are some of the characteristics you want to see out of your players?

Playing hard and having good work habits is at the base of what we want established here and what we will do right away with our young players. Once we've got that in place, we teach them what our definition of playing smart is. We put them in game situations and give each player feedback on playing smart in key situations and creating opportunities we can take advantage of.

If you have a group of players that aren't necessarily the most talented but they play as a team, you are going to be successful. If you can forecheck as a unit of five, if you can forecheck in the neutral zone as a unit of five, if you can play defensive hockey as a unit of five, you are collectively better than if you had five superstars on the ice.

What are the strengths of this staff?

Where Mark and I have been able to be, and where Kevin is coming from, lends itself to having experience as a strength for the coaching staff.

Another strength is our ability to be teachers. That is all our educational backgrounds, which lends itself to working with student-athletes at this level. You have to help them get to a higher level and you can do that when you have the mindset of a teacher.

Mark brings a vast amount of experience to his coaching expertise. He's played minor league hockey all the way to the NHL and so he's got a wide range of experiences to share. He has lots of experience and contacts in the recruiting world, as well.

Kevin has done exactly what we want him to do. He has been a great recruiter for us and on the ice with his individual work with the players, he keeps moving forward. He also brings class to the program.

Both Mark and Kevin will work on both the offensive and defensive side of the puck.

With Bill Howard, everybody sees his work with our goal-tenders, which speaks for itself. But Howie has been around the game a long time and is able to give tips to our players in all areas of the game. He has been around the WCHA for such a long time and has almost become our consultant in terms of the game.

The one guy that doesn't get enough recognition is Mike Potenza. We put such an emphasis on strength and conditioning and people don't see all the work he does, not only during the season, but in the off-season in helping our guys. Part of our protocol is to have our guys play hard. In order to play hard, you have to be in great condition. In order to play effectively hard, you have to win the one-on-one battles and he gives us the best chance of being successful in those two areas because what he does off the ice. He does a great job for us.

What's it feel like to succeed 'Badger' Bob Johnson and Jeff Sauer?

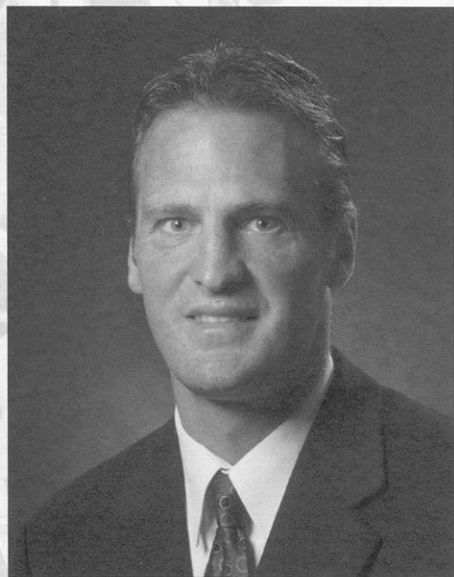

First of all, it's an honor. These gentlemen have come in and created a rich tradition of coaching here. They were here a long time and were very successful. The tradition that has been created here is something you can draw on for strength and inspiration. But after that, it goes back to day-to-day functions and what we can control day in and day out. If we are successful in our day-to-day activities, we give ourselves the best chance of doing what these gentlemen did and have a long prosperous career and be successful.

What is your greatest moment or experience as a coach?

It is tough to have one greatest moment. Anytime you win a championship, whether it is an NCAA championship or a world junior championship or an under-18 world championship, they are all special in their own way. You have to kind of put them all under one umbrella. They all stand out.

Assistant Coach Mark Osiecki

Former Badger defensemen Mark Osiecki looks to continue his impact in his third season as a Badger assistant coach. Osiecki has already proven himself an asset with his tireless recruiting efforts and coaching expertise.

Osiecki joined Wisconsin from the Green Bay Gamblers of the United States Hockey League (USHL), where he served as general manager and head coach for seven seasons. Compiling a 209-154-6-38 (won-loss-tie-overtime loss) mark during his career with the Gamblers, Osiecki became known for player development, as more than 65 of his players moved on to NCAA Division I hockey playing careers and 17 were drafted by NHL teams. Included among that collegiate group are current Badgers Adam Burish, A.J. Degenhardt, Kyle Klubertanz and Josh Engel, as well as former Badgers John Eichelberger and Dan Boeser. USHL Coach of the Year in 1999, Osiecki's Gambler squads won four-straight USHL Eastern Division crowns from 1999 to 2002, captured the 2000 Clark Cup as the USHL playoff champion and finished as U.S. junior A 2000 runner-up.

His Gambler squads set various team and league records during his tenure. The four-straight division championships set the league standard, while the 1999 team set the league mark for shutouts and road wins in a season. His teams in 1998 and 1999 set the team record for fewest goals against in a season.

Osiecki returned to his college coaching roots in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association where he began his career as an assistant coach with the University of North Dakota. During the 1996-97 season with North Dakota, he helped direct UND to WCHA regular-season and playoff titles and the NCAA championship.

Osiecki also boasts international coaching experience, capturing silver medals as head coach for the United States Under-18 Team at the 1999 World Championships in Slovakia and as an assistant coach for the U.S. Under-18 Team at the 2000 World Championships in the Czech Republic. Beyond that, he led the United States Junior Select team to a gold medal at the 1999 Freedom Challenge in Lake Placid, N.Y. Most recently, Osiecki served as video coordinator for Team USA at the 2006 World Championships.

The former Badger defenseman skated for Wisconsin from 1987-90, earning three letters and serving as one of the assistant captains for the 1990 NCAA Championship team. During the national championship season, he collected career-highs with 38 assists and 43 points, while earning selection to the Frozen Four all-tournament team.

A Burnsville, Minn., native, Osiecki was selected in the 1987 National Hockey League Entry Draft by the Calgary Flames. He enjoyed a six-year playing career, including stints with the Flames, Ottawa Senators, Winnipeg Jets and Minnesota North Stars, before a wrist injury cut his career short. He also represented his country as a player, competing for the United States at the 1992 World Championships in Prague, Czech Republic.

A 1994 graduate of Wisconsin with a bachelor of arts degree in history, the 35-year-old Osiecki was born July 23, 1968. Married to wife Robin, the couple have a daughter, Emily and a son, Jake.

Assistant Coach Kevin Patrick

One of the rising stars in hockey coaching circles, Wisconsin assistant coach Kevin Patrick is in his second year with Badger hockey.

Patrick joins the Badgers from Bowling Green, where he served as an assistant coach from 2002-05. While with the Falcons, he oversaw the team's defense, evaluated game tapes, monitored the team's academic progress, scouted and recruited potential student-athletes throughout North America and worked with alumni and the community. His accomplishments at BGSU include helping the Falcons improve steadily, going from eight wins his first year, to 16 victories his final season; recruiting members of the 2005 CCHA All-Rookie Team; and helping the team earn its first league winning mark in nine years and its first home ice for the CCHA playoffs in 10 seasons.

Prior to his time with the Falcons, Patrick spent four seasons at Union College as an assistant coach. He began his time at Union working with the team's forwards and defensemen, while coordinating the team's strength and conditioning program and ordering the team's equipment. Over his final three years, he became the team's recruiting coordinator. Throughout his time with the Skating Dutchmen, he watched the team go from three wins during his first season to 13 in his last season. During his tenure, his recruits were chosen to the 2002 and 2003 ECAC All-Rookie Teams.

Patrick is familiar with part of the UW coaching staff, having served the 1997-98 season as assistant head coach and assistant general manager under current UW assistant coach Mark Osiecki while with the Green Bay Gamblers of the USHL.

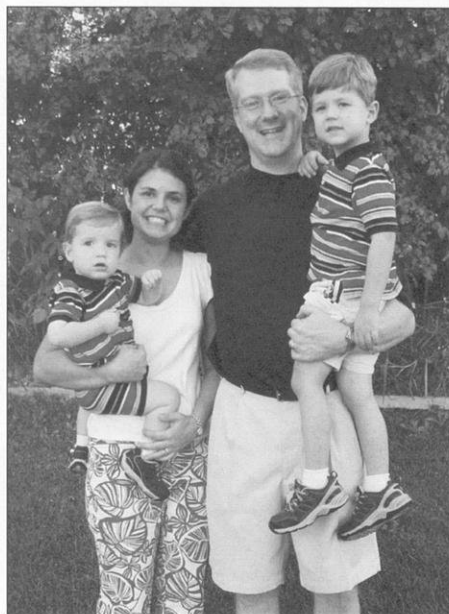

He got his start in coaching from 1993-97 during a four-year stint as assistant coach at Deerfield Academy in Deerfield, Mass. The team went 63-21-4 during his stay, qualifying for the New England tournament in 1994, 1995 and 1996. While at Deerfield, he served three years as assistant athletic director and two years as a science teacher.

Patrick graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1992 with a bachelor's of science degree in pre-professional studies. He was a four-year defenseman for the Fighting Irish hockey team, captaining the program during his final two seasons. He also played lacrosse for two seasons, helping Notre Dame qualify for the 1990 NCAA Division I Lacrosse Tournament. He resumed his education and earned a master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1998.

Following his graduation from Notre Dame, Patrick played one season of professional hockey, suiting up for the New Haven Senators of the AHL, the St. Thomas Wildcats of the CoHL and the Green Bay Ice of the AHA. He was selected to the 1993 American Hockey Association All-Star Team.

A former member of the Board of Governors for the American Hockey Coaches Association (2004-06), Patrick now serves as the vice president of convention planning. At USA Hockey, he spent 2004 and 2005 coaching at the USA Select 17 Festivals and also coached at the 2002 USA Select 16 Festival.

Married to his wife, Julie, the couple have two sons, James and John.

Assistant Coach Bill Howard

Bill Howard returns to the UW hockey staff for his 36th season as a volunteer assistant coach in 2006-07. He is a veteran of all six Wisconsin NCAA championship teams and continues to be the man behind the goaltending success of Badger teams. He also assists head coach Mike Eaves with the team's power play.

During the off-season, Howard is actively involved in numerous summer hockey camps and seminars, including 10 intensive goaltending schools in five Midwest states.

Recently produced and developed two comprehensive goalie instructional videos that are being used by over 500 programs, goaltenders and coaches throughout the U.S. He has also written a 72-page goalie manual that coincides with the two videos, and has developed a five-part "Sequential System" for playing the position of goalie based on his videos and manual. He has formed his own goalie consulting business and runs nine-hour clinics and seminars for youth programs, goalies, parents and coaches.

After 34 years of teaching business law at Madison Memorial High School, Howard retired in the spring of 2001 from teaching.

In addition, Howard has also served as color commentator, both on radio and television, for Badger hockey, including select games in 2005-06.

During his tenure at the UW, Howard has helped develop eight All-Americans: Julian Baretta (1977), Roy Schultz (1980), Dean Anderson (1988), Curtis Joseph (1989), Duane Derksen (1992), Kirk Daubenspeck (1997), Bernd Brückler (2004) and Brian Elliott (2006), plus eventual NHL standouts Mike Richter (New York Rangers) and Jim Carey (Washington Capitals). Joseph went on to star in the NHL and currently plays for Phoenix.

Before joining the UW staff full-time, Howard started the high school hockey program at Madison Memorial and was the Spartans' head coach for 10 years (1967-77). His teams won two state titles and posted a 136-72-1 (.653) record, including a perfect 44-0-0 mark from 1975-77.

Howard enjoyed a distinguished career at Colorado College as a goaltender, where he played for Bob Johnson. He lettered two years for the Tigers after transferring from North Dakota, and was the starting goaltender both years. Howard, a two-sport athlete at CC, was also a three-year letter-winner for the Tiger baseball team.

Strength & Conditioning Mike Potenza

Mike Potenza returns for his fourth year serving as the strength and conditioning coach for the Badger men's hockey team.

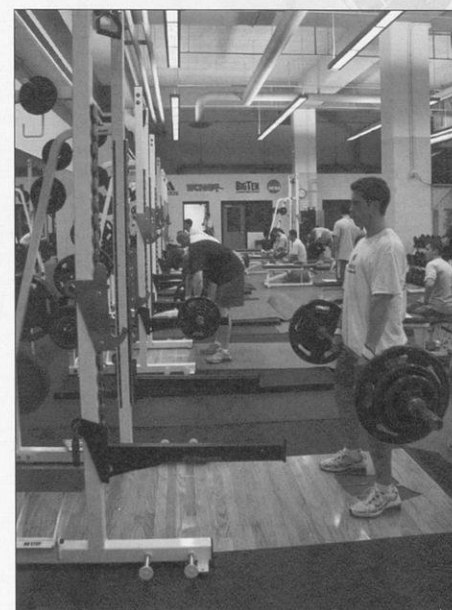

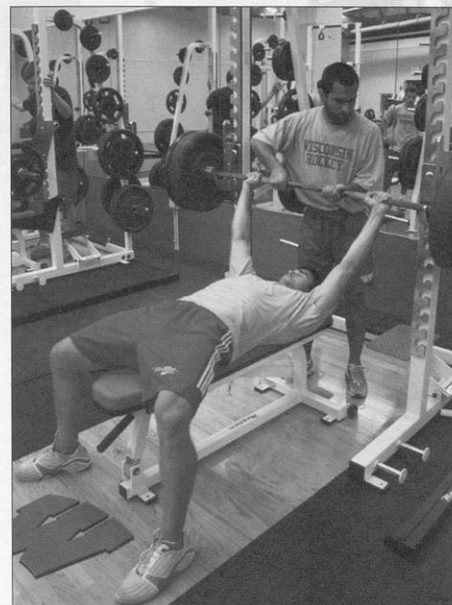

A 2000 Springfield College graduate, Potenza earned his bachelor of science degree in applied exercise science. From there, the Providence, R.I., native went to Boston University where he was a graduate assistant until 2002, earning his master's degree in human movement science.

Potenza boasts an assortment of strength and conditioning coaching and internship experiences. At the University of Miami, he served as a weight training, speed and post workout coach for the Hurricanes, a nationally-ranked football team. While earning his master's degree at Boston University, he instructed professional, amateur, and collegiate athletes for Mike Boyle Strength and Conditioning in various weight training, conditioning, agility, plyometric, rehabilitation and stretching programs.

Since graduating from BU, Potenza has held notable positions for Harvard University in Boston and most recently, Colgate University in Hamilton, N.Y. His duties were to assist and supervise the strength training programs for all men's and women's intercollegiate sports. At both Harvard and Colgate his primary coaching responsibilities were with football, men's and women's hockey, men's and women's basketball, lacrosse, and field hockey.

He resides in Madison with wife Bonnie.

■ ■ ■ ■

"The Wisconsin hockey strength and conditioning program is based on a threefold approach: the improvement of the players physical abilities (strength, speed, core stability, flexibility and endurance); an education on the synergy that exists among training, nutrition, and recovery; and an enhancement of the player's self-confidence that results from hard work and dedication. Our comprehensive program is aimed at maximizing each athlete's full potential, with the goal being success for the player on the ice and in life."

Hockey Staff

Mike Cerniglia Director of Hockey Operations

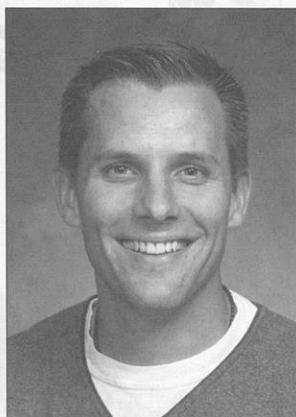

Cerniglia is in his first year as the Director of Wisconsin Men's Hockey Operations. He previously worked for UW Badger Sports Properties, after spending 14 months with the UW Athletic Department as the Men's Hockey Administrative Recruiting Coordinator and Alumni Coordinator.

Cerniglia was a member of the UW men's hockey team from 1996-2001. He is a member of the National W-Club as a four-time letter winner. Cerniglia was a member of various student athlete advisory boards while he was playing hockey for UW. He was also honored with a community involvement award by the National W Club in 2001.

As a Deputy Sheriff with the Dane County Sheriff's Office from 2001-04, Cerniglia volunteered his time to work with programs such as Shop with a Cop and the Dane County Holiday Toy Tour.

Cerniglia is a 2001 graduate of Wisconsin, holding a bachelor's degree in communication arts.

He lives in Madison with his wife, Aleah, and two children, Michael and Jada.

Andy Hrodey Athletic Trainer

Andy Hrodey is in his eighth season handling athletic training duties for the UW hockey team after being hired as a full-time staff member for the Badger athletic training staff in 1999-2000.

He returned to Wisconsin from the United States Military Academy where he served as a full-time athletic trainer for both the hockey and football teams.

Previously at the UW, Hrodey was a graduate assistant during the 1996-97 and 1997-98 seasons, working as a team trainer for both the UW football and wrestling programs.

A native of Sheldon, Ill., Hrodey attended the University of Illinois and worked as a student athletic trainer with the football, men's basketball, women's swimming and wrestling programs.

The 31-year-old Hrodey is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and received his bachelor's degree from Illinois (1996) and his master's degree from Wisconsin (1998). He is a licensed Athletic Trainer.

Hrodey, who married his wife Liz in the summer of 2003, resides in Monona.

Steve Castelletti Equipment Manager

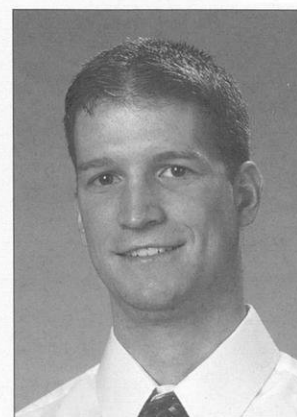

Castelletti joins the Badgers for his first year from the Cedar Rapids Roughriders of the USHL, where he spent the past seven years as equipment manager.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Roughriders, Castelletti spent eight years assisting the St. Louis Blues with their equipment management needs for training camp as well as during the NHL playoffs. He also served a four-day stint as an emergency fill-in as equipment manager this past March and April with the Iowa Stars of the AHL.

Castelletti boasts international experience as well. The equipment manager for Team USA's bronze medal run at the 2006 Viking Cup in Camrose, Alberta, he also served in a similar capacity for Team USA's silver medal run at the 2004 Viking Cup. In 2004, Castelletti served as equipment manager for Team USA's World Junior Camp after spending the 2003 camp as the assistant equipment manager.

Owner of his own Hockey Heaven Sports Shop in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, from 2002-04, Castelletti spent 1988 through 1994 as equipment manager for the Alaska Gold Kings in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Throughout his work in the hockey equipment field, Castelletti spent his time since 1985 as a criminal investigator with the United States Marshals Service. Prior to his time with the marshals, he was a U.S. Marine Corps sergeant.

Zach Remiker Video Coordinator

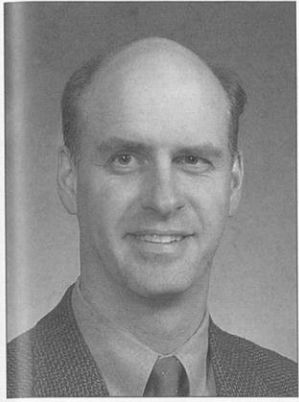

Zach Remiker begins his third year with the men's hockey program as video coordinator after spending the prior three years as a student assistant in Wisconsin's video services.

Remiker spent most of the time assisting video for the UW football program, but also served the Badger track and field program, as well as the swimming program, with their video needs.

A 2003 graduate of Wisconsin with a bachelor of arts degree in marketing, management and human resources, Remiker spent five years working for the athletic department in the mail room. He also worked four years on weekend security at Camp Randall Stadium and three years in concessions for hockey and basketball at the Kohl Center.

The 26-year-old's duties include creating highlight films, taping games, assisting coaches with film breakdowns, creating teaching tapes and helping with media video requests, among other responsibilities.

The Two Rivers, Wis., native lives in Madison.

Senior Associate Doug Beard

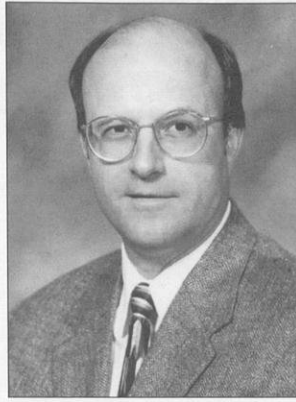

Doug Beard is in his fifth year on the UW administrative team. He was promoted to senior associate athletic director for administration on Feb. 1, 2006. Beard serves as chief of staff for all day-to-day operations of the department and directly supervises the men's and women's hockey programs, event operations, food and beverage service, business and finance, human resources and sports medicine units.

Beard joined the UW staff in 2001 as assistant athletic director for event management. He was promoted to associate athletic director in 2002. Beard was recently elected third vice president of the College Athletic Business Management Association.

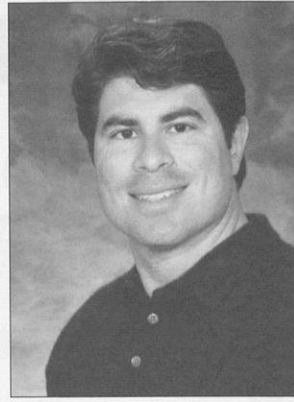

Before coming to Wisconsin, Beard worked at UW-Milwaukee from 1989-2001 and UW-Stout from 1987-89. He played a critical role in helping UWM move from Division III to Division I status within the NCAA, while enhancing its operational budget from $750,000 to $5.8 million.

Beard, originally from Kennebunkport, Maine, has a bachelor's degree in business administration from New Hampshire (1985) and a master's degree in athletic administration from Kent State (1987).

University & Athletic Administration

Chancellor John D. Wiley

Chancellor John D. Wiley has worked to amplify the Wisconsin Idea and build on the research and teaching strengths that have made the University of Wisconsin so rich in accomplishment and tradition.

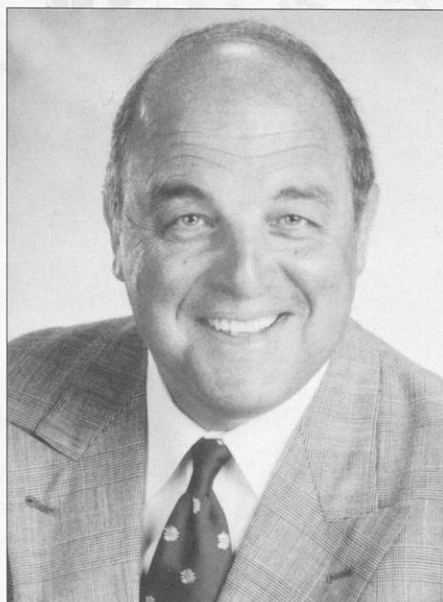

Since being named as the UW-Madison's 27th chancellor on Jan. 1, 2001, Wiley has aimed to enhance the university's role in creating a new, more viable economic future for Wisconsin while opening avenues to innovation and learning.

Wiley has presided over unprecedented growth on the west side of campus, which is being transformed into one of the nation's great health-sciences centers.

He also has mapped an east side redevelopment that will create a vibrant arts-and-humanities district to anchor the lower State Street area.

The chancellor has been a leader in efforts to expand on-campus student housing to meet demand, stem high-risk drinking and integrate athletics into the mainstream of university life. Wiley has reached out to the private sector by creating the Office of Corporate Relations to serve the increasing needs of the business community and help to build the Wisconsin economy.

Wiley received his bachelor's degree in physics from Indiana University in 1964; attended graduate school at UW-Madison as an National Science Foundation Fellow and received master's and doctoral degrees in physics in 1965 and 1968, respectively. He also serves as the 2006-07 president of the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors.

Athletic Director Barry Alvarez

Barry Alvarez is in his third year as UW Director of Athletics, but his first without the additional title of head football coach.

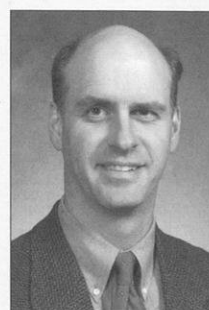

For 16 years (1990-2005), Alvarez guided Wisconsin's football fortunes. He piloted the Badgers to three Big Ten Conference and Rose Bowl titles (including back-to-back in 1998-99) en route to becoming the winningest football coach in school history (118-73-4 record).

Alvarez was just the 10th coach in Big Ten history to win 100 games at one conference institution. His 8-3 (.727) record in bowl games with the Badgers is the best in college football history (among coaches with at least 11 bowl appearances). The 2004 AFCA Region 3 Coach of the Year, he also was the 1993 national coach of the year, a two-time Big Ten coach of the year and a finalist for ESPN's coach of the decade (1990s) honor.

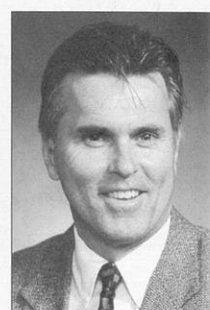

In 2004-05, Alvarez served as A.D. and football coach and has been at the forefront of the revival of the Badger athletic program during his entire tenure in Madison.

He is a 1969 graduate of Nebraska, where he played linebacker and went on to earn his master's degree. He received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from his alma mater in 2003.

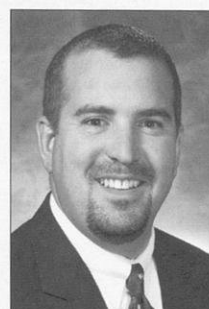

Alvarez and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of three children, Dawn (Mrs. Brad Ferguson), Stacy (Mrs. Mike Delzer), and Chad (wife Stephanie). Barry and Cindy are grandparents to Joe and Jake Ferguson, Grace and Jackson Delzer, and Scarlet Alvarez.

Badgers in the NHL

Dany Heatley

Ottawa Senators

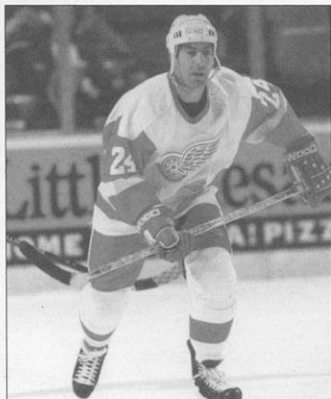

Chosen No. 2 overall in the 2000 NHL Draft by the Atlanta Thrashers, Dany Heatley has become one of the young stars in the world's most talented hockey league.

Beginning his career in style by winning the 2001-02 Calder Trophy awarded to the league's top rookie, Heatley was also named to the 2001-02 NHL All-Rookie Team. He led all league rookies with 41 assists, 67 points and 202 shots and ranked second in the league with 26 goals during his first season.

Heatley avoided a sophomore slump by setting a franchise record with 89 points to rank ninth in the NHL, while his franchise-record 41 goals ranked sixth in the league. Named to the 2003 NHL All-Star Game, Heatley posted the fifth four-goal performance in all-star game history and added a fifth goal in the shootout to earn MVP honors.

Before the start of the 2005-06 campaign, Heatley was traded from the Atlanta Thrashers to the Ottawa Senators for Marian Hossa and Greg de Vries.

He picked up where he left off, ranking fourth in the league with 103 points and fifth in the league with 50 goals. Through 282 games played entering 2006-07, Heatley boasts career totals of 133 goals, 163 assists and 296 points.

Chris Chelios

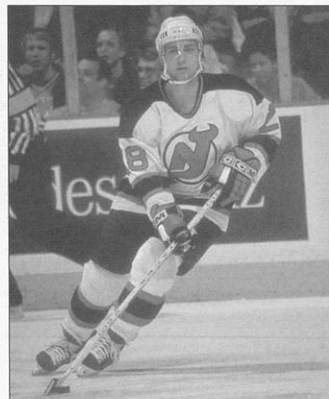

Detroit Red Wings

Sure-fire Hall of Fame defenseman Chris Chelios has enjoyed a 22-year NHL career that has included two Stanley Cups, three Norris Trophies, 11 NHL All-Star Game appearances and stints with three teams. His first Stanley Cup came with the Montreal Canadiens in 1985-86, while his most recent with the Detroit Red Wings in 2001-02. He won his first Norris Trophy in 1988-89 with the Canadiens, before winning the hardware in 1992-93 and 1995-96 with the Chicago Blackhawks.

A four-time U.S. Olympian, Chelios is a three-time captain of the team, including for the Americans' silver medal run in 2002. Captain in 1998 and 2006, he also represented the United States at the 1984 games.

He has skated in over 1,700 NHL games including both regular season and playoffs, and has accumulated 212 goals and 1,062 points over his career.

In two seasons at Wisconsin, Chelios skated in 88 games and collected 97 points. He was also a part of Wisconsin's 1983 NCAA title-winning team as a member of the all-tournament team.

Brian Rafalski

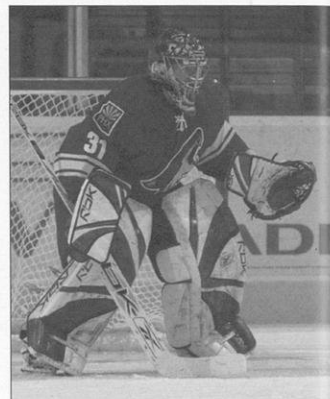

New Jersey Devils

A two-time Stanley Cup champion, Brian Rafalski joined the New Jersey Devils following a Badger career and four years of skating in Scandinavia.

Following a disappointing playoff performance by the Devils in 1998-99, one in which they failed to advance past the first round, general manager Lou Lamourillo went out and found a skilled defenseman. That man, Brian Rafalski, helped the Devils win the Stanley Cup the following season. Rafalski and his teammates won again in 2002-03, a year after the defenseman helped the United States win a silver medal at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Utah. He returned to Team USA for the 2006 games.

Rafalski skated in the 2004 NHL All-Star Game as a replacement for injured defensive partner Scott Stevens. He was also selected to play in the 2002 NHL All-Star Game, but missed it due to his own injury.

Over 550 career NHL games, including both regular season and playoff contests spanning six years, Rafalski has 51 goals and 308 points. In four of his seasons, he has led Devils' defensemen in scoring.

Curtis Joseph

Phoenix Coyotes

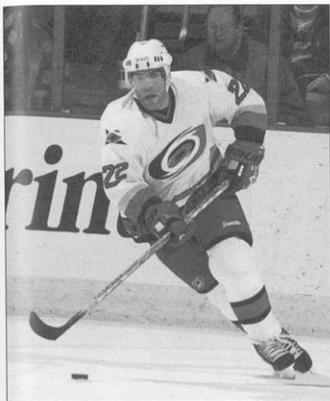

One of the NHL's most outstanding goaltenders through the 1990s, Joseph continues his excellence as a goaltender with the Phoenix Coyotes. Winner of the 2000 King Clancy Memorial Award for his humanitarian service, Joseph was runner-up for the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender in 1998-99.

Joseph began his career with the St. Louis Blues during the 1989-90 season, and has since suited up for Edmonton, Toronto, Detroit and Phoenix.

A two-time participant in the NHL All-Star Game (1994, 2000), Joseph boasts a career mark of 490-376-90 in 989 career games, including both regular season and playoff action. "Cujo" as he is known in NHL circles, also has 63 career shutouts to his credit.

Joseph represented his native Canada twice in Olympic competition, playing in 1998 and winning gold in 2002.

Despite playing just one season for Wisconsin, he was named the 1989 WCHA Player of the Year after 21-11-5 mark with a 2.49 goals-against average and .919 save percentage. He was also WCHA Rookie of the Year, a first-team all-WCHA pick and a second-team All-American.

Sean Hill

New York Islanders

Hill, who has 12 years in the NHL was a Stanley Cup champion in 1992-93 with the Montreal Canadiens. A veteran of seven NHL teams, Hill also skated in the 2002 Stanley Cup Finals with the Carolina Panthers.

Beginning his career in Montreal after he was drafted by the Canadiens in 1988, he has also played for the Anaheim Mighty Ducks, Ottawa Senators, St. Louis Blues and Florida Panthers, while he signed with the New York Islanders in the summer of 2006.

Hill was picked up by Anaheim in the 1993 expansion draft and recorded the franchise's first goal when the 1993-94 season began.

A 1992 U.S. Olympian, Hill helped the Americans to a fourth-place finish at the Games in Albertville, France.

In 806 career NHL games, including both regular season and playoff action, Hill has 64 goals, 210 assists, 2274 points, 29 power-play tallies and 10 game-winning goals.

During a Wisconsin career that spanned 1988-91, Hill skated in 124 contests, collecting 35 goals and 129 points from the blue line. A second-team All-American in 1991, he played on the Badgers' most recent NCAA title, won during the 1989-90 campaign.

Steve Reinprecht

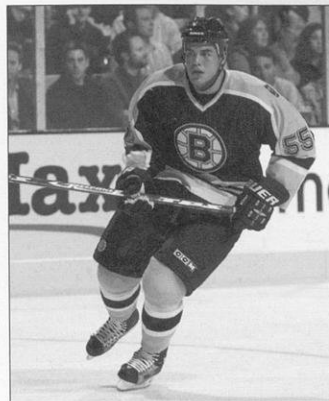

Phoenix Coyotes

Winning the Stanley Cup during his first full season in the NHL, Reinprecht joined nine other Badgers who boast championship rings.

The NCAA leading scorer during his senior season of 1999-00, Reinprecht signed a free agent contract with Los Angeles Kings and skated in one game before the end of the season. He played the first 59 games of the next season with the Kings, before the Colorado Avalanche traded for his services for their Stanley Cup championship run.

Following two more seasons with the Avalanche, Reinprecht was acquired by the Calgary Flames, via the Buffalo Sabres, for the start of 2003-04. Injuries limited him to just 44 games played, and forced him to miss the Flames' trip to the 2004 Stanley Cup Finals. He was traded from Calgary to the Phoenix Coyotes during the 2005-06 season.

As a Badger, Reinprecht was a finalist for the Hobey Baker Award as college hockey's top player. A First-Team All-American, he was also the WCHA Player of the Year in 1999-00. He completed his four-year UW career with 72 goals and 162 points in 154 games played. His totals included a senior season, during which he led the nation with 66 points in 37 games.

David Tanabe

Carolina Hurricanes

A six-year veteran of the NHL, Tanabe was drafted 16th overall by the Carolina Hurricanes in the 1999 NHL Draft.

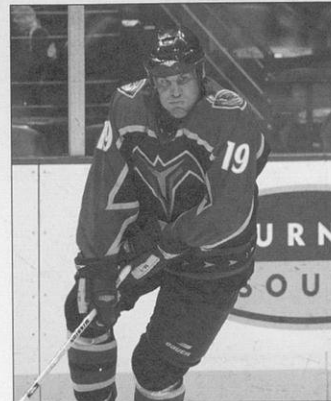

After playing one season with the Badgers, a season he earned 1998-99 WCHA All-Rookie Team honors, Tanabe turned professional. During his only season at Wisconsin, he posted 10 goals and 22 points in 35 games played.

Professionally, Tanabe began his career splitting time between Carolina and Cincinnati of the IHL. The following season, he stuck with the Hurricanes and played in the 2002 NHL All-Star Weekend.

That season, Carolina advanced to the Stanley Cup finals, though an injury allowed Tanabe to skate in just one playoff game.

Following one more season in Carolina, Tanabe was traded to the Phoenix Coyotes, the team he played for during the 2003-04 campaign. He played part of the 2005-06 season with the Coyotes, as well, before getting traded to the Boston Bruins. He resigned with his original team, the Carolina Hurricanes, during the summer of 2006.

Over his six-year career, the rearguard has skated in 378 games during the regular and postseason, collecting 26 goals and 97 points, while chipping in 14 power-play tallies and four game-winning scores.

Scott Mellanby

Atlanta Thrashers

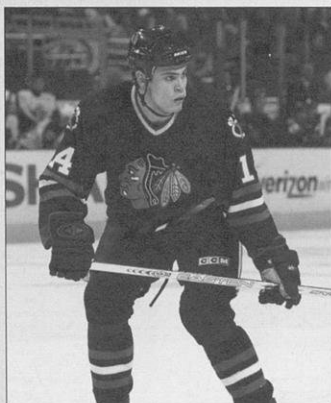

Selected 27th overall in the 1984 NHL Draft by the Philadelphia Flyers, Mellanby has reached the 20-goal plateau eight times and scored at least 30 goals twice, during his 21 seasons in the professional ranks.

Following six years with the Flyers, Mellanby was dealt to the Edmonton Oilers. Two seasons with the Oilers ended when he was chosen in the 1993 expansion draft by the Florida Panthers. He skated eight-plus seasons with the Panthers, helping the team set an expansion team record for points. He also led the team to the 1996 Stanley Cup Finals, inspiring Panther fans to throw toy rats on the ice during the season after killing a rat in the locker room.

He went on to play for the St. Louis Blues following a midseason trade in 2000-01, and now captains the Atlanta Thrashers after signing with the team during the summer of 2004.

An NHL All-Star Game participant in 1996, Mellanby boasts 1,494 games in the NHL. During his career, he has amassed 376 goals, 481 assists and 857 points to go along with 144 power-play scores and 57 game-winning goals.

At Wisconsin, Mellanby skated from 1984-86, posting 35 goals and 82 points in 72 games played.

Rene Bourque

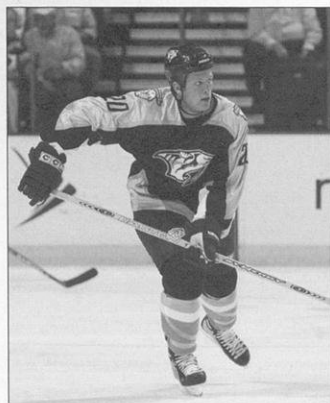

Chicago Blackhawks

An undrafted free agent, Bourque signed with the Chicago Blackhawks in 2004 following his four-year career with the Badgers.

Bourque played his first season with the Norfolk Admirals of the AHL. He collected 33 goals and 60 points in 73 games to lead the squad and was named AHL Rookie of the Year. He was also named to the 2005 AHL All-Star Game, where he won the hardest shot contest, firing a 99.8 miles-per-hour slapshot.

Bourque made his NHL debut in 2005-06, collecting 16 goals and 34 points during his rookie season. He ranked third on the team in goals and fifth in points. He also recorded four power-play tallies and two game winning goals.

At Wisconsin, Bourque led the team in goals and points during both his junior and senior seasons. He totaled 57 goals and 97 points during his four-year Badger career.

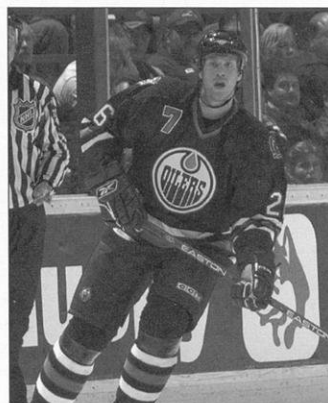

Ryan Suter

Nashville Predators

Selected seventh overall in the 2003 NHL Draft, Suter played one year, 2003-04, at Wisconsin before spending one year skating for the Milwaukee Admirals of the AHL.

He made his NHL debut in 2005-06, skating in 71 games and registering a goal and 15 assists. He led Nashville rookies in assists (15), points (16), PIMs (66), average ice time (17:21) and games played (71). Suter and the Predators set a franchise record with 106 points to take second in the Central Division.

In his only year with the Badgers, Suter was selected to the WCHA All-Rookie Team and 2004 Third-Team All-WCHA. He completed his UW career with three goals, 16 assists and 19 points.

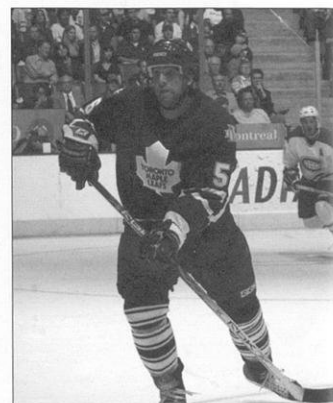

Brad Winchester

Edmonton Oilers

Taken 35th overall and in the second round of the 2000 NHL Entry Draft by the Edmonton Oilers, Winchester graduated from Wisconsin in 2003 with 40 goals and 84 points in 150 games played.

Winchester made his NHL debut in 2005-06, skating in 19 games and collecting and assist. He skated in 10 games of the Oilers playoff run, scoring a game-winning goal and recording two assists against Detroit in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Andy Wozniwski

Toronto Maple Leafs

Signed as a free agent in 2004 by the Toronto Maple Leafs after completing his career at Wisconsin. A transfer from Massachusetts-Lowell to Wisconsin, Wozniwski posted 10 goals and 38 points in 116 games over three seasons for the Badgers.

Wozniwski made his NHL debut in 2005-06, skating in 13 games for the Toronto Maple Leafs and registering one assist. He played the previous season and the rest of 2005-06 with the Toronto Marlies, the Maple Leafs' AHL club affiliate.

THE STANLEY CUP

NHL Individual Team Records Held by Badgers

Atlanta Thrashers

- Dany Heatley's rookie season of 26-41=67 set the Atlanta rookie record for goals, assists and points in 2001-02.

Calgary Flames

- Gary Suter is tied for the franchise record with six assists tallied in one game (4-19-86).

Chicago Blackhawks

- Chris Chelios holds the team mark for most career penalty minutes (1,495).

Edmonton Oilers

- Goaltender Curtis Joseph holds Oiler records for most shutouts in a season (8) and career (14).

Florida Panthers

- Scott Mellanby holds Florida records for most games (552), most career goals (157) and most career points (354). He is tied for the franchise mark for most assists in a period (3) and in a game (4), set Nov. 26, 1997.

Washington Capitals

- Jim Carey recorded nine shutouts during the 1995-96 campaign, which still stands as the Capitals' top mark for a season.

Wisconsin Captures Sixth Title!

Badgers win 30 games during championship season

Wisconsin capped a 30-10-3 season by capturing its sixth NCAA men's ice hockey championship. The Badgers defeated Boston College, 2-1, on April 8 at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee for the national crown.

Entering the NCAA tournament as the overall No. 1 seed, Wisconsin never left the state, competing in the NCAA Midwest Regional at the Resch Center in Green Bay, Wis., and then in Milwaukee at the NCAA Frozen Four, hosted by the University of Wisconsin.

The Badgers defeated Bemidji State, 4-0, in the first round of NCAA play, before surviving 1-0 in triple overtime over Cornell at the NCAA Midwest regional final to advance to the NCAA Men's Frozen Four.

When they arrived in Milwaukee, the Badgers faced No. 4 Maine, an opponent they dispatched, 5-2, before earning the victory over Boston College.

The championship capped off a storybook season that included a game outdoors at Lambeau Field on Feb. 11. The Badgers defeated Ohio State, 4-2, in the Frozen Tundra Hockey Classic/U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame Game in front of 40,890 hockey fans.

Team Notes

- ▶ Wisconsin played to its seventh season with at least 30 wins with its 30-10-3 record.
- ▶ Wisconsin posted 30 victories, setting a new high during the Mike Eaves' era. The Badgers have improved their win total in each of Eaves' first four seasons, winning 13 in 2002-03, 22 during 2003-04 and 23 in 2004-05.
- ▶ Wisconsin improved to 6-2-0 in NCAA championship games with its 2-1 victory over Boston College.
- ▶ Wisconsin played in its third consecutive NCAA tournament and its 22nd in school annals.

Wisconsin poses for the traditional team photo at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee after defeating Boston College, 2-1, in the 2006 NCAA Championship Game.

- ▶ Wisconsin made its first NCAA Frozen Four since 1992 and its 11th appearance overall.
- ▶ The men's title made Wisconsin the first Division I school to win both the men's and women's ice hockey titles in the same year.
- ▶ The Badgers' win over Hockey East-member Boston College made Wisconsin the first school to win NCAA titles against teams from the four major college hockey conferences (WCHA, CCHA, ECAC, Hockey East).
- ▶ Wisconsin played a stretch of 270:26 of hockey without allowing a goal in the postseason. The streak began in the 2006 WCHA Final Five semifinals at 18:24 of the second period against North Dakota. The UW then shutout Minnesota, 4-0, Bemidji State, 4-0 and Cornell, 1-0, in triple overtime. Wisconsin finally allowed a goal to Maine in the NCAA Men's Frozen Four semifinal at 17:37 of the first period.

The three straight shutouts were a first in the modern era of Badger men's hockey (since 1963).

- ▶ The Badgers finished the season with five shutouts in their final 10 games, allowing just nine goals over that span. Their nine shutouts in 2005-06 are a school record, eclipsing the mark of six set in 2004-05 and 1981-82.

Badger shutouts this season included two over the nation's second-ranked offense in Minnesota (4.12 goals per game), the only two against the Gophers all season. Others included then-No. 1 Colorado College, then-No. 19 St. Cloud State, Bemidji State, then-No. 8/9 Cornell and three against Michigan Tech.

- ▶ Wisconsin ranked second in the nation on the penalty kill (88.4 percent - 199-225).
- ▶ Wisconsin was perfect on the penalty kill in the entire postseason, killing off its last 32 penalties.
- ▶ The Badgers finished the season as the nation's top defense, allowing 1.84 goals-against per game. Their offensive average of 3.37 goals per game ranked 13th in the nation. The team's 1.53 goals per game scoring margin was second in the country.
- ▶ The Badgers scored goals in the first minute of five contests this season. All five were scored by the line of Robbie Earl, Joe Others receiving votes: Denver, 22; Nebraska Omaha, 13; Northern Michigan, 10; Dartmouth, 4; Bemidji State, 2.

Pavelski and Adam Burish, with Earl scoring two, Burish scoring two and Pavelski tallying one goal. The UW was 4-1-0 in those contests.

The Badgers totaled a goal during the first four minutes of a game 11 times. The UW was 8-3-0 in those contests.

► The Badgers broke their own NCAA record for average attendance with a 13,511 fans-per-game mark through 20 home dates. The mark shatters the former record of 12,153 set in 1998-99, the first season for the UW in the Kohl Center.

Wisconsin also had seven sellouts of the 15,237-seat building, including the last six regular-season contests.

The 13,511 average is better than the NHL's Chicago Blackhawks (13,318) and New York Islanders (12,609).

The average gave UW its eighth consecutive NCAA attendance title and 32nd overall.

► Wisconsin went 14-3-1 against teams in the NCAA field this season, including 3-0-1 against Colorado College, 2-1-0 against North Dakota, 3-2-0 against Minnesota and 1-0-0 against Michigan State, Michigan, Bemidji State, Cornell, Maine and Boston College.

► The Badgers had 14 players with at least 10 points, the most since 15 players scored in double figures during the 2000-01 season.

► The Badgers finished No. 1 in the USCHO.com pairwise rankings with a RPI bonus of .003, .002 and .0001 included in the formula. The rankings mimic the selection process used by the NCAA to chose the field of 16 for the NCAA tournament.

► Twenty-eight of Wisconsin's 43 games this season were played against teams with a winning record.

► The Badgers were 15-5-1 against ranked opponents this season with wins

► As of March 20, the UW has been ranked in 64 straight USCHO.com polls. The previous UW high in the USCHO.com poll, which started in October 1997, was 26 straight polls, from Nov. 8, 1999 to Nov. 20, 2000.

► 13 members of the UW roster hailed from the State of Wisconsin, more than half of its 25-member squad.

► Wisconsin reached 20 wins this season for the 31st time in school history.

► Wisconsin went on a 14-game unbeaten streak (12-0-2) from Oct. 21-Dec. 3, and had at least a four-game winning streak on five different occasions during the season. The 14-game unbeaten streak was tied for longest in the nation.

► Wisconsin scored four goals on a single five-minute major in the first period on Jan. 14 in a 9-1 win at Colorado College.

UW defenseman Tom Gilbert had a goal and three assists during the major, equaling John Byce's four-point, single-period, power-play performance in the second period on Nov. 5, 1988 against Michigan Tech. Byce had two goals and two assists on the power play in the second period.

Sophomore Joe

Pavelski collected three assists on the major and four in the period to tie the UW assist record for a period.

► Wisconsin's 145 goals scored are the most since the team collected 166 goals in 1999-2000.

► The University of Wisconsin was awarded the 2008 NCAA Midwest Regional in men's hockey. The Kohl Center will play host to the event between March 28-30, 2008. The Pepsi Center in Denver will serve as the home of the 2008 NCAA Men's Frozen Four.

Player Notes

► Wisconsin junior goaltender Brian Elliott was one of the college hockey players in the Hobey "Hat Trick." Elliott joined Denver junior defenseman Matt Carle and Boston College senior forward Chris Collins in the "Hat Trick." Carle won the award.

Elliott was the first UW top-10 finalist since Dany Heatley in 2000-01 and the seventh in school history, joining Heatley, Steve Reinprecht (2000), Duane Derksen (1992), Paul Ranheim (1988), Tony Granato (1987) and John Newberry (1982).

► Junior Brian Elliott became the eighth All-American goaltender at Wisconsin with his selection as the 2006 RBK/AHCA First-Team West All-American. He was joined on the squad by senior defenseman Tom Gilbert and sophomore forward Joe Pavelski, who both made the second team.

► Junior goaltender Brian Elliott set the WCHA record for longest shutout streak with a 269:52 stretch. (He was out for 34 seconds with an extra attacker and during delayed penalties during the UW's 270:26 streak). It broke one of the oldest league records, set by North Dakota's Gerald "Spike" Schultz during the 1953-54 campaign. Schultz' shutout string reached 249:41 before it ended.

save percentage and five shutouts in those games.

Against top-five teams, Elliott was 11-0-1, with a 1.33 goals-against average and .952 save percentage.

► Junior goaltender Brian Elliott led the nation with a .814 winning percentage (27-5-3), 1.55 goals-against average and .938 save percentage, while he shared the national lead with eight shutouts.

► Junior goaltender Brian Elliott won the WCHA title with a 1.84 goals-against average in league games. He is the second UW goaltender to do so in three seasons as Bernd Brückler led the league with a 2.11 goals-against average in 2003-04.

Elliott's .930 save percentage also led the league.

► Sophomore forward Joe Pavelski finished the WCHA season with 15-24=39 to finish fourth in league scoring. He is the first Badger to rank in the top-five of the league scoring race since Dany Heatley tallied 38 points to share fifth during the 2000-01 season.

► Senior forward Ryan MacMurchy collected his 100th career point and 300th career penalty minute during the season, finishing his career with 110 points and 342 career penalty minutes. He is the seventh Badger to collect 100 points and 300 penalty minutes for a career. He joined forwards Gary Shuchuk (176 points/314 PIM), Dave Maley (166/301), Jason Zent (160/397), Dave Lundeen (141/304), Paul Stanton (115/310) and defenseman Bob Suter (103/377) in select company.

► Senior forward Adam Burish collected two short-handed goals this season, eight for his career and seven for his career in WCHA play. The eight overall are one behind the school record held by Norm Cherrey and John Johansson, while the seven in league games share the school mark with Cherrey and current UW head coach Mike Eaves.

► Senior defenseman Tom Gilbert had 12 goals to share the national lead among defensemen. His 10 goals in WCHA games were the most among blueliners.

His 12 goals this season were one shy of the UW single-season top-10 list for defensemen.

► Senior Tom Gilbert played in his 162nd career contest to move into fifth among UW defensemen for career games played. UW radio color analyst Rob Andringa is the UW recordholder with 179 games played.

game-winning tally. Both have come in overtime. He scored the winning overtime goal in the UW's first game of the season against St. Lawrence on Oct. 7.

► Sophomore Joe Pavelski collected 56 points in 43 games played. His 56 points gave the Badgers their first 50-point scorer in a season since Dany Heatley recorded 57 points in 2000-01.

His 101 career points through 84 games and two seasons makes him only the ninth Badger to reach 100 points through two seasons. The others include Mark Johnson, Theran Welsh, Delbert DeHate, Bob Poffenroth, John Newberry, Dany Heatley, Pat Flatley and Dennis Olmstead.

► Sophomore Joe Pavelski scored his sixth game-winning goal of the season against Bemidji State on March 25 to tie for 10th on the UW single-season list with seven other players.

► Assistant captain Tom Gilbert finished the season with 31 points, the first UW blue-liner to record 30 points in a season since Craig Anderson, who posted 42 points in the 1997-98 season.

► Linemates Robbie Earl (24) and Joe Pavelski (23) each finished with at least 20 goals. For Earl, it was his second-straight 20-goal campaign, while for Wisconsin, it was its first season with two 20-goal scorers since Dany Heatley (28) and Steve Reinprecht (26) did so during 1999-2000.

The 24 goals by Earl are the most for a Badger since Dany Heatley posted 24 in 2000-01.

Senior Salute

Adam Burish completed his career captaining Wisconsin to its sixth NCAA title, a dream for the Madison, Wis., native. The two-time captain finished at the top of the UW chart with seven short-handed goals, and fell one short of the UW record with eight short-handed goal in all games. A member of the 2006 NCAA Frozen Four All-Tournament Team, Burish was twice voted the team's most competitive player (2004, '06) and also won the National W Club Community Service Award in 2005.

His career numbers include 145 games played, 28 goals, 50 assists and 78 points. Ten of his 28 career goals won games for the Badgers. In 2004-05, his four short-handed tallies shared the national lead. He finished third on the team with 33 points (nine goals, 24 assists) during his senior season.

A.J. Degenhardt skated in 147 games for the Badgers over four years, collecting 18 goals, 21 assists and 39 points. He posted three goals and six points as a senior, playing on the Badgers' key fourth line during the team's title run. He scored a career-high eight goals, including two game-winning tallies during a 16-point season in 2003-04.

The LaCrosse, Wis., native stood out among his teammates as the last player on the squad to still skate with a wood stick.

Tom Gilbert became one of the nation's top defensemen over his last two seasons with the Badgers. Sharing the national goal-scoring lead among blue liners his senior season with 12, he was chosen a second-team All-American. His 162-game career ranks fifth on the Wisconsin career list. He tallied 33 goals, 56 assists and 89 points and was a plus-70 for his career. Among his accolades were 2006 First-Team All-WCHA and 2005 Second-Team All-WCHA honors, 2006 NCAA Midwest Regional All-Tournament Team, 2005 Spike Carlson Team MVP and a three-time Dr. Joseph Coyne Most Consistent Player award winner.

Nick Licari, the team's 2006 WHA-TV Jim Santulli 7th-Man Award winner, as voted on by Wisconsin fans, was part of the heart and soul of the Badgers throughout his four years. In a career spanning 162 games, Licari collected 17 goals, 35 assists and 52 points, as well as two All-WCHA Academic awards.

In 2005-06, Licari's short-handed goal against Alaska Anchorage on Oct. 29 proved to be the game-winning tally in a 5-1 victory. He also scored a game-winning goal against UAA as a freshman.

Ryan MacMurchy backed up his legacy at Wisconsin as a power forward on the stat sheet. The Badgers' first 100-point scorer in five years, MacMurchy completed his career with 44 goals, 66 assists and 110 points in 164 games played. A 20-point scorer in each of his four seasons, MacMurchy became just the seventh Badger to finish his career with 100 points and 300 penalty minutes (342).

Some of his career highlights included all four goals at St. Cloud State on Jan. 8, 2005 in a 4-2 Badger victory and a WCHA Player of the Week award for the effort. He also went four weekends during the first half of 2003-04 where he scored game-winning or game-tying goals.

Most Goals In A Period

Only one player in UW history has ever scored four goals in a period. Mark Fitzgerald tallied four times in the second period in 1967, a feat that has not been equalled or bettered in nearly 35 years.

- 4 Mark Fitzgerald (2nd) vs. Ohio University (2/24/67)
- 3 16 times: most recently by John Byce (2nd) vs. Michigan Tech (11/5/88)

Most Goals In A Game

The Badger record for most goals in a game is five, held by three different players. It has been over 24 years since the feat was last accomplished, by Mark Johnson during the 1977-78 season.

- 5 Bert DeHate vs. Ohio University (2/24/67)
- 5 Mike Meeker vs. Michigan Tech (10/29/77)
- 5 Mark Johnson vs. Michigan Tech (1/27/78)

Most Assists In A Period

Only three players in UW history have been credited with assisting on four goals in the same period. That feat was last repeated in the 2005-06 season.

- Don Addison (1st) vs. St. Mary's (1/6/67)
- Bob Suter (2nd) vs. Denver (2/3/79)
- Joe Pavelski (1st) vs. Colorado College (1/14/06)
- 21 times: most recently by Dan Boeser vs. Michigan Tech (3/1/03)

Most Assists In A Game

During the 1967-68 season, Mark Fitzgerald set the UW record scoring six assists in one game.

- Mark Fitzgerald at Lake Forest (2/13/68)
- 16 times: accomplished twice during the 1999-2000 campaign by Dustin Kuk against Minn.-Duluth (10/23/99) and Steve Reinprecht vs. Neb.-Omaha (12/27/99).

ACROSS THE BORDER

The Wisconsin hockey program is one of the most successful in college hockey and without question part of that success has been the wealth of talent that has come from our neighbors to the north. Listed below is a province-by-province breakdown of how many Canadian student-athletes (85* total) have played for the Cardinal and White since the 1963-64 season.

Alberta	24
Ontario	22
British Columbia	17
Manitoba	9
Saskatchewan	9
Quebec	2
New Brunswick	1
NW Territory	1
Nova Scotia	1

* Includes only players who have lettered

OVERSEAS

The Badger recruiting effort has also reached overseas. The first-ever European born player to don the Cardinal and White was Jan-Ake Danielson (1981-84), who hailed from Insjon, Sweden. Since then, Latvians Ulvis Katlaps (1992-94) and Yuri Gusak (1995-99) and Finnish-born player Niki Siren (1996-2000) have played at Wisconsin.

The most recent addition to the overseas contingent includes Austrian, Bernd Brückler (2001-05). He was the first European-born goaltender to play for the Badgers.

FATHERS & SONS

Six sons have followed in their father's footsteps and become Badgers.

Dany (1999-2001) and Mark (2003-05) Heatley followed in father Murray's footsteps, who was a Badger from 1968-71. Dany signed with the NHL's Atlanta Thrashers following his sophomore season. Brad Winchester (1999-03) joined father Gary (1970-74) as Badgers. Pete Talafous (2002-05) is the son of Dean Talafous (1971-74), who played center for the Badgers. Ryan Suter, who skated 2003-04 for the Badgers before signing with the Nashville Predators, is the son of former Badger defender Bob Suter (1975-79). The most recent addition to the father-son club is Tom Gorowsky, who is in his second year at Wisconsin. Father Dan skated from 1977-81.

OH BROTHER!

Over the years, 13 families have had two or more brothers play hockey at the University of Wisconsin.

The Lundeens (Robert, Dave, Tom and Paul) all played in the 1970s. Tony, Don and Rob Granato were part of UW teams in the 1980s and 1990s.

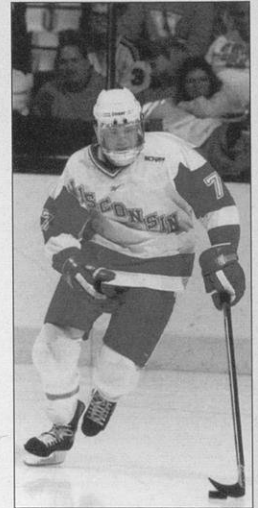

The only set of twin brothers to become Badgers were Mark and Mike Strobel.

Mark and Peter Johnson, and John, Bob and Gary Suter were all local boys who became Badgers.

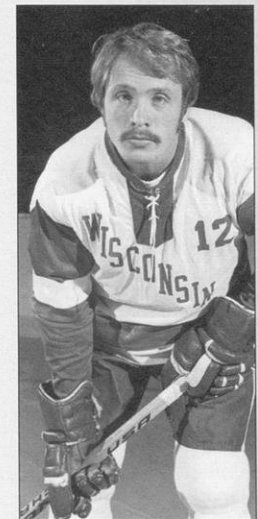

Rounding out the remaining brother combinations are Jeff and Rob Andringa, Mark and Dany Heatley, Jim and Mark Jefferies, Jim and John Johannson, Gary and Tom Kuklinski, Scott and Todd Lecy, Scott and Steve Sabo, and Jeff and Scott Sanderson.

A black and white photograph of Mike Eaves, a man with short dark hair, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and a tie with the NCAA logo. He is speaking at a press conference, with his hands resting on a table in front of him. A microphone is positioned in front of him. In the background, there are blurred signs, including one that says "sports".

Athletic Communications

Paul Capobianco Athletic Communications

Paul Capobianco, Assistant Director of Athletic Communications, is in his eighth year with the University of Wisconsin Department of Athletics. He currently serves in his fourth season as the contact for men's ice hockey, which includes the team's 2006 NCAA title run, and is in his seventh for the men's and women's open and lightweight crew programs. Prior to his time with the men's hockey program, he served the women's hockey program, and spent three years assisting the WCHA with its women's public relations duties.

A three-year letterwinner and member of Notre Dame's 1994 national championship fencing team, Capobianco graduated the Irish in 1996 with a B.S. in biology. The Selden, N.Y., native spent a year as a volunteer in the sports information office at then-NCAA Division II Stony Brook in Stony Brook, N.Y. He became a graduate assistant for two years at Minnesota State in Mankato, Minn., serving as the primary contact for football and men's and women's basketball, among other sports, prior to his arrival at Wisconsin.

Outside of his responsibilities at Wisconsin, Capobianco performed as the Peaks Ice Arena Mixed Zone Supervisor at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. The Peaks was one of the two facilities for ice hockey at the games. He also worked at the E Center for the men's ice hockey medal round and at the opening and closing ceremonies.

Capobianco and his wife Laurie reside in Madison, with their daughter Rose.

The Source for Badger Sports Information

The Department of Athletics has made a strong commitment to bringing its news straight to the fans. The Badgers' Web site (uwbadgers.com) produces news updates multiple times daily to keep fans up-to-speed on the happenings in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Web users can tune in for live video streaming of media news conferences, chat with coaches, staff and student-athletes, order tickets online or listen to live radio broadcasts of games.

The Badger Web site is maintained internally by a dedicated team of technical experts and an experienced editorial staff.

The Athletic Department site is the most visited one on the UW-Madison campus, averaging more than 5.4 million page views monthly.

Visitors from all over the United States and the world (an average of 119 different countries monthly) continue to log on to catch the latest Badger athletics news and those visitors are staying at the site longer and longer.

In the summer of 2006 the Department of Athletics unveiled a re-design of its Web site, making it easier to navigate, more pleasing to the eye and a worthwhile journey for those who want the latest information on the Badgers.

New features are constantly being added and the site is continually being refined, so check back often!

Coach Mike Eaves' news conferences can be viewed live on uwbadgers.com.
