HOLD MEETING OF DADS AND MEN IN GYM TONIGHT

Ryan, Below, and Mason Will Speak as Feature of Program

Dads and men students will hold a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in the men's gymnasium. This is the first annual Dad's Day and the meeting is the first feature on the program for the week-end.

Coach J. J. Ryan, varsity football coach, Capt. M. P. Below, '24, and Max Mason, professor of physics, will give short addresses tonight.

Welcome Dads

The meeting will be short and the purpose is to arouse enthusiasm for the Michigan game tomorrow afternoon, and to welcome the fathers.

Besides being the first meeting on the Dad's Day program, this is the first meeting in years for men only. The gym doors will be open at 6:30 o'clock and the meeting starts at 7 o'clock.

Gilkey Speaks at Y

The national observance of the week will be stressed by Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, who will speak tonight at the Dad's night meeting for the members of the Y. M. C. A.

It is expected that more than 300 persons will attend the meeting, which will open at 7:30 o'clock. Beside Dr. Gilkey the program includes a baritone solo by David McPherson, '27; a piano solo by Paul G. Jones, '27, and a xylophone solo by Donald K. Alexander, '27. Refreshments will be served by the mothers of association members and by the wives of faculty men.

Various organizations about the campus are heartily in favor of a regular "Dad's Day" such as those here at the University and Illinois and Northwestern University. These organizations have held their own reunions of the Dads for some time past, and report great enthusiasm on the part of all participants.

AGRICS PRESENT PUNKIN HOLLER

First Performance of Annual Event Scheduled For Tonight at 7:30

With three successful Punkin Hollers to their credit the members of the Agric triangle are working hard to repeat past successes in the program to be given tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium of Agricultural hall. Past experience has shown that one performance is not enough to accommodate the crowds that wish to see the affair and so this year arrangements were made to have the program presented on two consecutive nights.

The Agric triangle is adhering to the old policy of keeping the program of the evening a secret. The organization has succeeded securing many unique acts with plenty of snap and humor the managers state. The auditorium will be re-carated to represent a typical town hall where all the important events of the year are staged.

Tickets for the program can be obtained from members of the Agric Triangle for 25 cents. The tickets are in two blocks, one for Friday night, or Dane county night, and the other for the short course night on Saturday.

CELEBRATE "MICHIGAN NIGHT" AT UNION DANCE

"Michigan Night" will be celebrated at regular Saturday night Union board dance at Lathrop hall.

"It is our plan to entertain Michigan students who come here in support of their team," Sam Thompson '24, chairman of the dance, said.

Special lighting effects and a professional musical act are part of the plans for this dance. Features similar to those planned for the Michigan dance may be added to all future Friday and Saturday night dances under the auspices of the Union board.

Haresfoot Follies Given Preference By Union Board

Because the Haresfoot Follies date has been set for Friday November 30, Union board announced yesterday the cancellation of its dance which falls on that night.

The importance of the Follies as the promenade dance of the fall term is given by Sam Thompson '24, chairman of the Union dances, as the reason for Union board's action. Many fraternities have left November 30 as an open date in their social calendars so that their members can attend the Follies in body.

In 1916, when the Follies were first given the affair was primarily in the nature of a dance with but few features, but in its present scope, the event has taken the form of a miniature musical review, in addition to its function as the promenade of the fall term.

STUDENT COURT SUSPENDS JUNIOR

Max A. Brackett Ordered to Sever All Connections With University

The Student court last night suspended Max A. Brackett '25 from the university for refusal to appear before that body to testify in John Doe proceedings concerning the recent election. The action was made public last night by T. R. Hannon, grad, chief justice.

The ruling of the court is as follows:

"Max A. Brackett '25 is hereby suspended from all connection with the University of Wisconsin for refusal and failure to appear before the Student court on Nov. 15, 1923, after having been notified to appear and testify in John Doe proceedings which have been instituted to determine the persons responsible for illegal balloting in the election for prom chairman on November 2.

"This suspension shall be effective until Brackett shall, after making application to the secretary of the court, appear before the student court at its next regular meeting at which meeting the court will take action on removal or suspension.

The suspension of other students will follow if they persist in taking the court proceedings lightly, justices declared last night. The court has had difficulty in making witnesses testify and it is determined to sift the matter to the bottom immediately, the members state, and drastic action will be taken.

INDIA TO BE PORTRAYED IN "THE PILL BOTTLE"

India as it is today will be portrayed in "The Pill Bottle," a four act play to be given Sunday evening at 7 p. m. at the Wesley foundation in Music hall in which he attacked the policy of Samuel Gompers and supported the left wing of the American labor movement.

Olive Miller, '27, as a nurse in India and Emily Macken as a Hindu outcast woman are the leading characters in the play. Others in the cast include Marie Irish, '27, Maynard Halverson, '24; Eddie Mellor, '24, and Marian Chase, '27.

The play will be given at the regular meeting of the Wesley forum Sunday evening. The Forum orchestra will play during the intermissions.

Ruth Mink, '24 and Edward Judson, '23, are in charge of the play, and the costumes are being arranged by Jean Cox, '24.

TRIANGLE DELEGATES TO REPORT SUNDAY

Reports of the members of the Agricultural Triangle country life club who attended the sixth annual national American country life association, which met in St. Louis last week end, will be heard at the meeting of the club at 9 o'clock in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall Sunday. The local delegates were Arthur Wilden '24, Arthur Hagan '24, Ernest Ehrhart '25, and Minor Harris '26. The collegiate branch is composed of 14 clubs, one of which is at Wisconsin.

'MIXED MARRIAGE' IS FIRST OFFERING OF PLAYERS' CLUB

Wisconsin Dramatic Society Production Will Be Shown at Parkway Dec. 5

"Mixed Marriage," has been chosen for the first public production of Wisconsin Players and will be presented at The Parkway theater Wednesday evening, Dec. 5, according to an announcement made last night by Laurens Hastings '24, president.

Because the play comes on a week night, the overture will begin at 7:45 o'clock and the curtain will rise promptly at 8.

The play will be coached by Miss Gertrude Johnson of the speech department who will be assisted by Roy French, grad.

Example of Thesis-play

The play is in four acts and is by St. John Eryne. It is the first serious work which the Players organization has attempted since its founding last year, all of its other work having been in the field of comedy.

"Mixed Marriage" had the most successful Broadway run during 1920 and 1921 and was praised by critics for its excellent presentation of religious bigotry.

Kenneth MacGowan writing for the Vogue at this time declared that the play was "strong, truthful, sympathetic" and said that it was "a very excellent and moving example of the naturalistic thesis-play which has ruled the intellectual and continental theater since Ibsen."

Play Starts Early

"In reading over the play, I have come to the conclusion that it is one of the most fascinating and interesting plays I have ever read," Roy French, assistant coach and director, declared last night.

The early hour for the curtain on the first act will enable all women to be in their houses before 10:30 o'clock, according to Kenneth Gardner '25, business manager of the production.

Many fraternities and sororities will go in groups and are advised to make their reservations for block seats early. The top price is $2.

AMALGAMATION IS HOPE OF LABOR —FOSTER

Gompers' Policy Attacked By Speaker Addressing Social Science Club

"Amalgamation or annihilation is the impending fate of the labor movement in America," said William Z. Foster in his talk last night in Music hall in which he attacked the policy of Samuel Gompers and supported the left wing of the American labor movement.

The American labor movement is the most backward in the world according to Mr. Foster's statements. He stated that America is the only country in the world where labor is a political zero and that this backwardness is due to its attachment to established parties.

"The left wing," said Foster, "would recognise Soviet Russia, amalgamate all workers, and establish a Farmer-Labor party."

In making the introductory speech Mr. M. B. Olbrich of the local trades council praised the sentiment and work of the Social Science club under the auspices of which Foster came to Madison.

CHORAL UNION WILL SING "THE MEESIAH"

"The Messiah," an oratorio by Handel, will be presented at the annual Choral Union concert in December under the direction of P. W. Dykem. Two afternoon concerts have been arranged, one Thursday, December 13 and the other Tuesday, December 18, instead of the single evening presentation. Both concerts are open to the public.

WOMEN TAKE ACTION AGAINST DRINKING IN SET OF RESOLUTIONS

THE RESOLUTIONS

1. That the women of Wisconsin go down on record as opposed to drinking, and:
2. That the women of Wisconsin sign a petition and present it to federal authorities in order to have definite action taken against intoxication and its sources in the city of Madison.

Petition Federal Authorities to Make Clean-up of City

That the women of Wisconsin are unanimously opposed to drinking and that they have declared themselves willing to cooperate to the fullest extent possible with the Union board and other men's organizations which have instigated the opposition, is the consensus expressed by the 2,000 Wisconsin women who attended the public mass meeting held last night in Lathrop gymnasium.

"To test the sentiment of Wisconsin women on the subject of drinking," was the purpose of the meeting, as stated by Lois Jacobs, '24, president of the S. G. A., who called the assembly to order.

Cooperate With Men

"This is not a meeting to criticise men or men's organizations at Wisconsin, to relate personal experiences, or to organize a reformer's union. Rather women on the campus can have a great influence in cooperating with the men to stamp out the drinking evil. It is this influence that we desire to put into practice," Miss Jacobs stated.

The resolution that the women of Wisconsin go down on record as opposed to drinking was the first of the two resolutions to be passed unanimously. From the discussion which followed, the adoption of this resolution means clearly that Wisconsin women on the whole will refuse to associate with men who have been drinking, this stand to apply not only to students, but to returning alumni and visitors as well.

Pass Two Resolutions

The second resolution to pass unanimously, was the drawing up of a petition, signed by every Wisconsin woman, appealing to the federal authorities to investigate and take definite action to clean up the sources of intoxication in the city of Madison. A committee will be appointed by the chairman to formulate such a petition and secure the signatures thereto.

"To curb the false publicity that has grown out of the drinking situation at the University of Wisconsin at Homecoming time, a challenge has come from the state and nation, to the women of Wisconsin to take a definite stand in connection with the situation," declared Margaret Callen, '24, president of Mortar Board.

Students Not All to Blame

"We want to work with the men, not against them. Since the majority of the men at Wisconsin have started out on an organized basis to sift and solve the problem, the Wisconsin woman will lend her utmost aid in assisting them, for we feel that an injustice has been done the student body. The chief cause of the Homecoming situation arose from other sources than the student body proper." These were prevalent opinions evident in the discussion.

Foreign Flashes

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—William G. McAdoo has virtually announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for president.

LONDON, Nov. 15—It was learned from semi-official sources that Germany intends to cease reparation payments because of the various actions of France since the Rhine situation developed.

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 15—Eugene V. Debs is seriously ill in his home. The illness was brought on by the exertions of a country-wide speaking tour.

PARIS, Nov. 15—Expulsion of the crown prince from Germany is considered by France to be the first step in keeping the Hohenzollerns from starting a new war with what power then can seize. France is considering the seizure of the port of Hamburg to force Germany to deliver the former crown prince.

Action Promised In Union Vodvil Issue of Octopus

Plenty of action will be crowded into the "Union Vodvil" number of the Octopus, to appear December 12, according to the decision of the board of editors at a staff meeting held yesterday afternoon.

There will be approximately three pages of take-off on the Union Vodvil proper, in addition to working out Christmas, New Year and leap year themes. The art deadline has been set for November 26, while the copy deadline for all editorial material is on November 28.

A circulation increase of 20 percent in the sale of the physical education number has been reported to date. An additional heavy sale is expected on Saturday, when distribution will be reopened for Dad's Day. Copies of the Union Vodvil number will be disposed of at the vodvil performance on December 14.

LITERARY CLUBS HOLD MEETINGS

Philomathia to Give Mock Trial; Hesperia, Athena to Choose Teams

With preparations for the inter-society debates going full blast, the literary societies offer rather a varied collection of numbers for tonight's regular meeting.

Philomathia, after electing its sophomore semi-public debaters and Agricultural literary society contestants last Friday, will relax by holding a mock trial with Harold Seering L 2 as the defendant to a charge of stuffing the ballot boxes in the recent general election. The prosecutor has prepared serious charges, and the merits of the defendant will be determined by a jury consisting of the new members of the society which will be initiated immediately after the decision.

Hesperia will occupy the evening with tryouts for the sophomore semi-public debate teams, each contestant to speak on the question: "Resolved, that all prisoners under the Federal Espionage law be immediately released."

Athenae will discuss in open meeting some extemporaneous subjects to be chosen, and will hear a discussion of the international complications resulting from the Chicago drainage canal project.

SET LEADERSHIP WEEK FOR DECEMBER 9 TO 16

The date for the leadership week to be conducted by the Sophomore commission was set for the week of December 9 to 16, at the meeting of the organization in the fellowship room yesterday.

During that week it is planned to have all interested men come into the association office and have their qualities of leadership charted. The sophomore commission and the junior council will meet together on November 29 to listen to Dr. Bruce Currie, who will be here in connection with the bible study groups.

CASTALIA WILL HOLD INITIATION TONIGHT

Formal initiation ceremonies for the nine newly elected members of Castalia literary society will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. An informal dance reception for both old and new members will be held in the concert room following the installation.

Those to be initiated to membership are: Elizabeth Bloom, '28, Lorraine White, '26, Ada Toms, '26, Goldene Sterling, '25, Margaret Bell, '25, Margaret Jennish, '25, Dorothy Mulvey, '24, Rosetta Segall, '25, Lois Gasckell, '24.

A design for a new organization pin, and a lamp of knowledge bearing the insignia "Castalia," will be discussed.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENT ALLIANCE RAISES $2,100

The Presbyterian student alliance is to be congratulated for its work and organization which made it possible to carry through the recent campaign," says the Rev. M. G. Allison, university pastor. The $2,000 campaign went over the top before the drive closed. Pledges from students amount to about $2,100. Of these pledges about $700 were in cash.

C. R. C. WILL HOLD FALL CONFERENCE

Religious Organizations Will Promote First of Convocation Series

The first fall conference to be held at the university will be conducted by the campus religious council next month when the organization brings a speaker here for two convocations in one day. The meetings will be of the same nature as the annual spring conference.

The conference will be under the direction of Calvert Dedrick, '24, who is general chairman of the convocations committee of the council. Dedrick has arranged to hold the conferences on Thursday of the first week in December in order to avoid conflicts with week end activities.

"The conferences will in no way interfere with the spring conference conducted by the Y. M. C. A. and it is not intended to be a substitute for it. It is merely a new idea in convocations conducted by the council which we hope will prove to be a success," Dedrick said.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING COURSE IS INCREASING

A steady increase is reported in the number of girls in the leadership training course, under the direction of Miss Van Sant Jenkins, of the national Y. W. C. A. More than fifty girls attend the regular meetings, to learn methods of leadership of younger girls.

BADGER HARRIERS
MEET WOLVERINES
WITH CLEAN SLATE

Davis Adds to Chances of Former Conference Champions

The cross country team will face the crucial test of the year when it lines up in front of the gym Saturday with the Wolverine runners in the last dual meet of the season.

The Maize and Blue team is ranked as one of the strongest in the conference this year and was the champion of the Big Ten last year. With Davis back in the line-up the team looks stronger than ever. Davis is the fastest man on the team, but he was ineligible for competition last season.

Varsity Ranks High

The varsity team, by virtue of its clear record so far, also ranks as one of the leading conference teams. With victories over the Minnesota and Chicago distance runners, it is a certainty that the last race will bring to light some of the best running and closest competition seen on the local course for some time.

The Cardinal squad will be composed of Captain Finkle, Schneider, Sherman, Bergstresser, Swingle, Piper, Read, Perry, and Valley, and may be recognized by numbers 68, 85, 73, 90, 86, 88, 91, 89, and 87 respectively.

Strong Michigan Lineup

The Michigan lineup includes Captain Arndt, Davis, Rearich, Griffin, Polhanus, Shenefield, Reinke, Nicholson, and Mason, with numbers 51, 52, 56, 59, 65, 192, 193, 194, and 195 respectively.

As heretofore, the race will start in front of the gym and the course will be 4.9 miles in length. The officials of the race are: T. E. Jones, referee and starter; Professors Truog, Mortimer and Miller, judges; Robert Duncan, S. J. Farrell, and George Martin, timers, William Hammann, Hohn Morris and Robert Black, scorers.

Winners Last Year

Michigan nosed out the varsity runners last year by the narrow margin of one point and is determined to do the same in the race tomorrow. The outcome of the meet will, to a large extent, lessen the chances of one of the teams in the conference meet at Ohio State next week.

The annual inter-college cross country race will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. This race will also start and finish in front of the gym but the course will be but 2.9 miles in length. The first five men to finish the race will be awarded their college insignia, as well as the first five men on the winning team. With the exception of the Turkey Race on the Tuesday noon before Thanksgiving, this race will be the last of the intramural cross country races of the year.

BEAT MICHIGAN! BEAT MICHIGAN! THE BADGER SLOW-GAN FOR THE WEEK-END.

Let's see every red-blooded, big-hearted young Charlie on the lower campus at 4 o'clock sharp. A big surprise is on hand for all the men in Wisconsin. Beat Michigan is our slogan—let's go gang.

Also a big get-together for all the men students in the school, including the Dads who are present. Let's get together and incite some of the old time pep into this college—what say?

Just one trouble after another—another great loss to the team. It seems hard luck is following the team around, and it comes right after the loss of Gerber too. A nice new football was lost on the Camp somewhere last night. Someone please step out and remedy the situation, somehow.

The long, hard grind in preparation for the Wolverines is almost over. Last night the men were

First Time Trials
For Fish Monday

Time trials for each member of the varsity swimming squad will be held next week, beginning Monday. These will be the first trials for the varsity candidates held this year and through them Steinauer expects to get a line on his men and find the weak spots in their strokes.

Intensified training will begin after the trials in preparation for the varsity-freshman and preliminary meets. Hugo Czerwonky, captain and national breast stroke champion, is coaching the breast stroke swimmers, while Steinauer has charge of the sprints, plunge and dives.

CO-ED SWIMMING
MEET POSTPONEDTemperance Meeting Means no
Trials For Inter-class
Swim

Because the mermaids were not excused from the compulsory mass-meeting last night, where sentiment was strongly expressed against the drinking situation, their inter-class swimming meet was postponed until next Tuesday.

This will be the last meet and will decide the 1923 championship. Miss Mary A. Brownell, instructor in swimming, announced that time will not permit the customary match at which representative swimmers of all four teams compete.

The general opinion seems to be that the sophs have virtually clinched the championship, since they alone stand undefeated, and have only the frosh to meet. Since the championship is decided by total points, however, the juniors, if they win over the seniors by a margin of 10 points Tuesday, will be on top.

The frosh, furthermore, have a strong team with such stars as Marcella Steele and Miriam Wolleger. Steele makes the 40, yard breast in 30 2-5, the fastest time in that stroke made in the pool.

The total scores thus far are as follows: seniors, 34; juniors, 63; sophomores, 74; freshmen 55.

The coveted letter "P", awarded to all Princeton athletes, came as a tardy recognition to the twenty-two members of the Tiger football team that took part in the first game with Yale fifty years ago.

worked pretty hard we won't tell on what), and today the team will only run through signals and limber up in general.

Tomorrow two of the greatest backs in the conference will be seen on the Camp in the persons of Kipke and Steger. These two men will keep most of the seats in the stadium cool, don't worry. The time when the fans can sit through a whole game without getting excited is over. If you don't believe it ask Kipke and Steger.

We're going to win that old game tomorrow, and get to first base in the conference standing. Are we happy gagn? Are we going to voice our sentiments today, tonight, and at the game tomorrow? Get the old fight going gang, and just keep yelling, "Wisconsin will beat Michigan." Atta boy.

Line-o-Sport

In the first volley ball match this year the juniors defeated the freshmen by winning two games out of three. The games were characterized by good serving on both sides and volleying that came in spurts. The score was: game 1, 15-1; game 2, 7-15, in favor of the freshmen; game 3, 15-4.

The seniors won the two games played against the sophomores, 15-2; 15-6.

Scalping activities at the university have been curbed to a great extent. Tickets have been so plentiful for all the football games that there isn't a big enough demand for them, and therefore no chance to scalp. In many cases the tickets were sold for much less than was paid for them.

The Medic tennis tourney has progressed to the final round, in which Dr. Bradley is to play H. S. Randolph for the cup.

The match will take place at three o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Bradley concrete courts at College hills.

Reports that Dartmouth may be accorded a late season date on the Yale football schedule for 1924 have led many close followers of college sports to predict that the near future will witness the development of the so called "Big Three", comprising Harvard, Yale, and Princeton, into a "Big Four," with Dartmouth as the added number.

Minnesota is on edge for the Saturday game against Iowa, homecoming for the Gophers is bringing thousands of Grads back. The contest that will determine whether Coach Spaulding's eleven can stay in the running for the championship with a clean slate. Iowa's team will be the strongest it has put on the field this season, according to reports from the university.

Plans for the construction of the proposed University of Minnesota stadium have been completed and the work will be hastened in order to have it completed for the opening of the 1924 football season.

According to adopted plans, the stadium will have a seating capacity of 40,000, with a possible ultimate seating capacity of 75,000. The stadium will be located near the present Northrop field.

MAIZE AND BLUE
SQUAD ARRIVES
HERE THIS NOONTo Practice on Randall Field
this Afternoon For Tilt

The Wolverine invades the Badger camp today, firm in the conviction that the Badgers cannot stop her championship-ward march.

Coach Fielding H. Yost will arrive this noon with his squad of huskies, will work out on Randall field this afternoon, and then will sit tight until the game tomorrow afternoon.

It falls to the lot of the Badgers tomorrow to stop Michigan so that Illinois, her erstwhile enemy, may have the pennant without dispute from anyone. Tomorrow also will be Wisconsin's chance to show her followers that she is still in the running.

Victory in Sight

While the Badgers are out of the championship race, a victory over Michigan tomorrow would mean that she is among the strongest teams of the conference.

Behind closed doors, Coach Ryan has sent his charges through a series of fast scrimmages during the past week, ironing out difficulties which cropped out in the Illinois tilt and teaching his men tricks which may stop the Maize and Blue.

Secret Practice Prevails

Not a person who is not in some way connected with the team has been allowed behind the gates for the past few days, and something entirely new may be expected from the Badgers tomorrow. It is a known fact that Michigan resorts largely to a pass attack when the opposition is at all strong on the defense, and tomorrow's game should prove an exception. If Ryan has taught his men to stop the attack of that nature, the Wolverines may see their hopes go glimmering.

VARSITY OUT

Wisconsin will be out this afternoon to show that it is going to whip Michigan tomorrow. The team is full of fight and so are the rooters. In evidence of that fight every Wisconsin man is going to be at the big pep demonstration this afternoon.

The time is 4:15; the place is the lower campus; the dramatis personae are every loyal Wisconsin man.

And the, the massmeeting in the gymnasium at 4:15 o'clock tonight.

VARSITY OUT!

AGAIN, THAT STREET

Not so very long ago some enthusiastic student described State street as "that majestic approach to the university." Do you smile? We do not wonder that you do. Years ago that "majestic approach" was laid out by men who did not foresee the future with any degree of accuracy, who did not realize that soon it would become too narrow for traffic. What those men did then is none of our business; it is done and there seems no help for it.

What takes place on that street now, however, is the business of those men who are attending to the external appearance of the city today. The civil servants of yester-year have made it impossible for the approach to bear any semblance of majesty; those of today, however, can prevent it from appearing run down at the heels, as it were.

Last year, at the time the dog wagon was installed on the north side of the 600 block on State Street, The Cardinal published an editorial lamenting this new eye-sore. At the same time the Civics club or some other similar organization rose up in indignation. One way or another, the dog wagon was forced out of its situation.

Now a new structure has been put in its place. It was so long in being built and it was so difficult to tell just what its character would be that The Cardinal refrained from saying anything about it until it should be finished. Now, however, there is no room for doubt, and we see added to the motley array of peanut stands and popcorn booths this tin-can furniture repair and electrical shop—an impressive, beautiful structure indeed! But we would sooner expect to find it on a street in Podunk where no city council could disturb it than here. Perhaps it is that the Madison city council is not to be disturbed, that it is sweetly oblivious to this atrocity. Such ignorance is surely bliss.

Kansas City's beauty was threatened by such disgraces as this tin cigar box. Residents of Kansas City directed a boycott against proprietors of all such eye-sores—and the eyesores disappeared. What do you say? Shall it be a boycott, or do we not care enough?

THE WAYSIDE PARK

The extension service of the university serves again. Realizing how many people from outside of the state as well as from within it tour Wisconsin's roads, through its natural beauty and its parks, the extension service of the College of Agriculture has published a guide to tourists, a pamphlet telling of "Wisconsin's call to the great out-of-doors."

In these days when hundreds upon thousands of people own cars and tour the country at every opportunity, it is gratifying to see that the Extension division is taking such an active part in bettering the lot of the wayside tourist. This circular is being sent throughout the state and thus citizens are being informed of new roadside improvements and are being guided in their camping methods. Suggestions are made in this booklet which will help the tourist immeasurably; it tells how to choose a camping site, explains the campers' rules. It also outlines a program which is being carried on throughout the state. In accordance with suggestions therein made, local communities will take steps to provide better facilities for the motorist.

It is an interesting booklet, will do much to make camping more pleasant and advances a program which, when carried out, will render the state an unrivaled place for touring.

TO SAVE THE DAY

Although it is not generally recognized, in spite of the fact that no festivities are being planned in its honor, tomorrow is Dad's Day, unofficially, for men and women of Wisconsin. It was believed, and rightly, that the Michigan football game would be a splendid occasion for having Wisconsin dads visit the university. The day was set; that was all.

Perhaps, however, it is not now too late to save the event partially. At any rate every effort should be made to save it. If your dad is within hailing distance, send him a wire and have him come for the game. There are still several thousand tickets which have not been sold and your dad would doubtless welcome such an opportunity as this to close up the shop and pay you a visit.

Try it anyway; it will do no harm.

A UNION WITHOUT UNITY

When the Union building is finally realized, the unity among the men of Wisconsin will increase. But what of that unity before the building is an actuality? Must there continue to be a looseness in what should be a close corporation, the Wisconsin Union?

It does not seem so. There are men at Wisconsin who have ideas of knitting closer together the individuals of the institution, of improving conditions, men who are willing to give much. Yet they do not know where to go with their ideas in order to have them considered and put into action. They are members of the Union, yet perhaps they do not realize it. If they do, they go to their officers whom they have duly elected, the Union board, and submit their ideas.

Already men who feel the spirit keenly have done much for the university, those who have entered organized or unorganized activities. It may seem on the surface that an athlete is playing football, a reporter writing news stories for their own personal amusement and honor. That is not the case; they are not acting as individuals, but as members of an institution. That spirit brings closer the bond of unity, working for a common weal.

Yet there are other men who know something they would like to do or see done for the benefit of the university and who are unable to put their ideas into practice. It is they who should go to the Union board. Every male student in the university is automatically a member of the Wisconsin. Is there something wrong with the Board that there is so little unity or is it that the members of the union are at fault?

There is no reason why here should not be a strong tie between the men of Wisconsin ever before the "Home for Wisconsin Spirit" is erected, why we should not draw closer together.

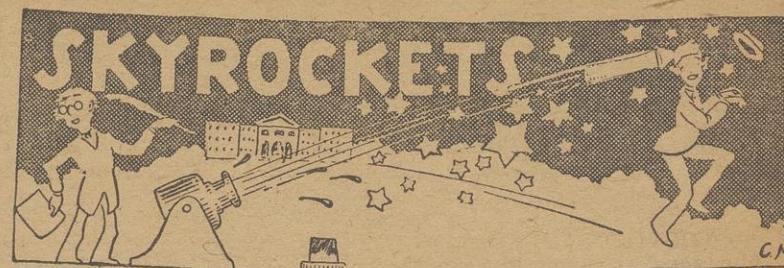

Editorial Quips and Facts

The girls hold the power of veto on any matter under the sun—they could do anything with mere men if they only knew it. Perhaps they'll find it out as a result of last night's big session.

The Outing club walked-out yesterday. Hope they aren't mad.

Cheer up, 39 days to Christmas.

Co-ed swimmers postponed their inter-class meet until Tuesday so that they could attend the anti-booze session last night. They evidently decided not to mix their drinks.

G'MAWNIN.

The following was written by Stuart M. Bell, column conductor for The Cleveland Plain Dealer:

STIGMA

Young Austin McSmith was a great college star Whose fame as a fullback was widespread and far; But coin for tuition he ill could afford

So he manicured plates to pay for his board.

Likewise on the team was the tackle, McStein, Who rendered large holes in the enemy's line.

He, too, being poor, just to make his own way,

Taught boys how to swim at a Y. M. C. A.

At last when the season had come to a rest,

McSmith won a letter to wear on his chest,

And he as a hero was loudly acclaimed—

(Because he washed dishes he could not be blamed.)

But long before this a committee

one day

Had gathered to question McStein's source of pay;

And ruled that a student who tutored for dough

Could play no more football because he was "pro."

Today's mud-slinging will now begin.

Wait a minute though. We forgo to look in the contrib box.

Not a contrib.

Someone asked the editor of this col. yesterday or sometime whether he would print anything they turned in.

And he said—"Yes, anything!"

Beta grass should grow as well as Beta votes did.

TO ROUNDY

Editor The Cardinal:

There is an old saying that goes: "Even if you live in hell, boast for your own home town?" Evidently Roundy does not live in hell or even in Wisconsin, which, we all agree, is the best place this side of there. I did not see the game at Illinois, but from all accounts the team failed to show up as expected. Is that any reason why we should condemn them? May I ask where Roundy gets his position to condemn Wisconsin's team and coach. Did he ever play football? And if he did, I suppose he never failed to gain, never pulled the wrong play, never forgot instructions; and if he coached, I suppose he had enough to give the best quarter-backs a brain storm.

The thing I wonder about now is why didn't the Athletic department hire Roundy instead of Jack Ryan.

Because you can't say anything good about a man is no reason to say all the bad you can. You don't need to go to the extreme as the Purdue exponent did. As Tommy Thompson says, "Knock, if you must, but boast if you can." Roundy's column was a fine boost and I wonder how many friends it made him in Illinois outside of Zuppke, who, as Roundy says, has been a back number for three or four years.

UNUSUAL ELSIE COMING HERE IN UNUSUAL SHOW

By CHATTY

Elsie Janis, minus "her gang," will put on an unusual show here a week from next Monday night at the Madison High School auditorium.

Most amazing of all, she is coming here under the auspices of the All Star Concert management, a company which conducts musicians who are artists. Perhaps Elsie would not like this seeming lack of respect and classing her away from artists. Nevertheless, though she may be great and a lot of fun, she is not primarily an artist, not like Raisa Gigli, Ferenc Vecsey and the others who are under the same management.

But everybody who has seen her will grant that she is a lot of fun, a whole lot of it, too. She will appear with a company, not quite the same old gang that played with her several years ago in New York, but a company of her own making.

Elsie Janis last year did what almost no other American actress has dared to do, put on a performance in Paris. Her success at the Apollo was remarkable and the French took to her in much the same manner that the boys of the A. E. F. took to her.

Even this tour is quite out of the ordinary for Miss Janis and Madison theater-goers will be curious to see what she has to offer.

VODVIL, DRAMA CINEMA

Variety Promised at Madison Show Houses

A little bit of everything will be shown at the Madison picture and vaudeville houses during the coming week. Lovers of comedy, of sensational plays, of good romance, and of invigorating syncopation will all have their fill.

During the first part of the week, the Strand will present Tom Mix in "Mile a Minute Romeo," in which Tom is said to ride like a Comanche Indian, to shoot for honor and to live like a Romeo. Interesting pictures of the Wisconsin-Michigan football game tomorrow also will be shown. During the second part of the week, the Strand has finally been able to book Colleen Moore's great revelation "Flaming Youth," which is heralded as one of the greatest and most piquant society exposées ever.

The Madison will present from Sunday to Tuesday the well known actress Marguerite de la Mott in "Desire" a tensely dramatic story of a girl who marries her chauffeur. During the second part of the week, the Madison announces Kenneth Harlan and Miriam Cooper in "The Broken Wing," the story of an aviator who crashes into the top of a Mexican house. It is the screen version of the musical comedy by the same name that is now playing in New York.

The Majestic will present Harold Lloyd in "Why Worry," which is—well, it is nothing else but Harold Lloyd, and that ought to suffice. Harold will be helped out by a new leading lady, and the show ought to prove a great success throughout the week.

The Parkway will present "Down to the Sea in Ships," which is said to be a stupendous piece of realistic photography.

The Orpheum, during the first part of the week heralds the well known Broadway smart couple, Tempest and Dickensen in one of their best vaudeville acts. During the second part of the week, the Orpheum will feature the famous Yellman's Irene Castle Orchestra, which is said to be one of the best ones in the country.

A one man prologue like that at the Orph is kinda hard in the stage hands, however, who have to buy their groceries whether they pull eyes or not.

Up Stage Bits

BY TORMENTOR

"Cotton Stockings," the Michigan Opera show which is coached by E. Mortimer Shuter, Haresfoot's coach, has a star, "Mike" Ames who had his limbs insured this year for $25,000.

The Michigan boys will carry their musical play as far as New York where they will play in the Metropolitan Opera house.

Roy French said yesterday that "Mixed Marriage" is the best play he has ever read.

The Double Standard edit appeared. Now it's up to some of you dramatic enthusiasts to take up the question and carry on.

Tormentor feels that the Student Life and Interests committee should be petitioned by all activity people to put all student activities on a fair and square basis of equality.

Union Vodvil is going right ahead, the latest news being that there will be a special Vodvil Octopus to help sell tickets.

The jazz orchestra men at the Orph last week were real collegians. They kept the Latin Quarter awake last night when they played at the Sigma Nu house from 11 to 2. The A. O. Pi's didn't get any sleep unless it was over the window sill.

After hearing the fellow at the Parkway play his harmonica, we don't feel a blush of shame when we speak of a mouth organ as a musical instrument.

Bert is Not So Mean In New Strand Film THE MEANEST MAN IN THE WORLD

Presented at the Strand. Produced by First National. Featuring Bert Lytell, Bryant Washburn and Blanch Sweet.

By HIT AND MISS

The Meanest Man in the World is very disappointing to anyone who expects the cave man stuff. Bert Lytell has too sweet a smile to smother it with frowns and hard boiled expressions except for a few brief moments.

As the cruel lawyer he starts out for Molassesville to force an unknown victim to "pay his debts or get out." However, as movie luck will have it, the person he intends to throw out on his ear turns out to be the village beauty with blond bobbed hair an' everything.

The villain now approaches and offers to buy the old farm for $1,000 which is a dirty deal, as you have guessed, since it is the mythical oil land—as well-known to the scenario writer as hundred dollar bills are to Andy Gump.

The "mean" hero who has been fired immediately goes into a cooperative arrangement with the heroine to make a fabulous fortune from the gushing oil on her land. But here they are foiled—the despicable villains use their power in an under-handed way and keep the sweet and hopeful hero from get-

Maybe there won't be any cold spell!

Probably all of us have that idea in the back of our heads this fine weather.

But—

We all thought the same thing last year, and as many years before that as we can remember—and still had bitter weather and plenty of it.

Conclusion—

We are all going to buy winter clothes as usual. We can get a bigger variety and better service by buying NOW, even if the weather IS still pleasant.

ART FRAT SHOWS TRAVELING EXHIBIT

Delta Phi Delta Presents Display of Drawings and Designs

Oil paintings, ink drawings, magazine cover designs, and Christmas cards are being displayed in the National Traveling Art exhibit at the Industrial Arts building. The exhibit is held under the auspices of the local chapter of the Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity.

The exhibit presents art work from a number of chapters, the Minnesota chapter and the Zeta chapter of the Art Institute of Chicago leading in the number submitted.

One ink drawing, "Smoke and Steel," is a picture in black and white showing three men at work in a foundry, typical laborers, brawny and husky. A large charcoal portrait is so true to life that it shows indifference on the face.

The Minnesota chapter of Delta Phi Delta submitted an attractive ink drawing of Roman architecture, in which the center of attraction is an arch of gothic design. In the foreground are weapons and stones of various shapes beautifully carved.

Several designs for cretonne and wallpaper and border designs are in the exhibition. Magazine cover designs for "Home Beautiful" and "House and Garden," Christmas cards, posters, drawings and paintings from wood cuts, water color paintings, all together make the exhibit varied and interesting.

Miss Martha Groan who has charge of the exhibit is an alumna of the local chapter, and secretary of the national organization. Mrs. Robert Stewart, another alumna of the local chapter, is vice-president.

Saddle and Sirloin Takes 24 New Men At Biggest Meeting

Saddle and Sirloin club held its biggest and most enthusiastic meeting of the year last night in Agricultural hall auditorium as a welcome to the entering short course men. Members present reached 150, and 24 new men were taken in.

W. S. Dunham, internationally known breeder of Percheron horses reviewed the history of his famous farm which has produced more than 9,000 horses and predicted a bright future for the draft horse industry regardless of the inroads of the tractor.

Professors J. B. Fuller and C. C. Humphrey, of the animal husbandry department, gave addresses of welcome to the short course men and urged their participation in the little International.

ALGOMA—George McCosky received a broken leg while employed in wrecking a stone wall, when the wall toppled over onto him.
