The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Mr. Quincy,

since I have commenced using the block I find it rather large and if you can conveniently make it as much smaller as the string you will oblige me. I am very sorry to trouble you again. if you can do it this afternoon Hannah will wait.

Yours in haste
Mary Milled
