HALL GIRLS ENTERTAIN

ANNUAL FORMAL PARTY A BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

Howell's Farce "The Mouse-Trap"
Given—Ladies' Glee Club Sings—Beautiful Decorations.

The girls of the Hall gave their annual formal party last evening.

Nothing more unique in the way of decoration has been seen in the University for some time. The gymnasium was used for dancing. Red bunting was draped from the center of the ceiling to the gallery railing, forming a canopy above the dancing floor. The guests were received in the reception hall where against a background of palms and couches heaped with pillows, girls in charming gowns seemed to the bewildered men to swarm in countless numbers. When he had finally "done" the reception committee and been introduced to some few dozen girls, the guest was swept along by the fluttering femininity until he found himself in a room blazing with cardinal. The walls were covered with "Varsity banners" and the couches and floor were strewn with "Varsity pillows." On the center table with its red cover stood a vase filled with flaming carnations. The floral decorations in the large reception room were pink carnations and palms. Later in the evening the floor in the reception parlor and hall were cleared for dancing.

All down the hall and corridor Japanese lanterns cast a subdued light over the inviting couches, up the broad stairways and into unexpected nooks and corners, piled with cushions everywhere. For those who did not care for dancing, games were provided in Miss Mayhew's rooms. Ice and wafers were served to the guests all during the evening.

The guests were received by Miss Mayhew, Misses Fern Hackett, Eliza Bartlett, Ada Lloyd, Mabel O'Dell and Lucy Case.

Following a short reception, a program was given in the gymnasium. Howell's popular little farce "The Mouse Trap," was cleverly given by the following caste:

Mrs. Somers, May Foley.
Mr. Campbell, Mr. Johnson.
Mrs. Curnoen, Miss Fisher.
Mrs. Miller, Miss Wright.
Mrs. Roberts, Miss Chandler.
Mrs. Bemis, Miss Lloyd.
Jane, Miss Jackman.

The entertainment was closed with a song by the Girls' Glee Club, and dancing was enjoyed for the rest of the evening. The party certainly was the best all-around good time that the Hall has seen.

About eighty guests were present. Among those from out-of-town were: Mrs. Carroll of Lake City Ia.; Miss Edith Heaton of Reedsburg; Miss Elizabeth Foley of Wauwatosa; Mrs. Glen Holland and Dr. James Slaven of Reedsburg.

—The Chi Psi fraternity danced at the Palace of Sweets hall last evening, a score of couples enjoying a happy evening. Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kremers were the chaperones.

—Henry F. Cochems, now practicing law in Milwaukee will be in Madison for the next three weeks working at some investigations in the state law library.

PROF. BULL ON PARIS EXPO

Interesting Address Before the Engineers' Club Last Night.

The address by Prof. Storm Bull on the Paris Exposition before the engineering club last evening was attended by a fair sized audience and was deserving of a much larger one. The address was ably given and was both interesting and instructive. Prof. Bull was a member of the committee on awards on machinery at the exposition and by his presence in Paris was able to see the exposition in a way which outside people would be unable to do thus enabling him to speak in an intelligent manner.

Prof. Bull spoke on the exposition in general comparing it with the Columbian Exposition of 1893. The chief inconvenience was the lack of space which prevented the exhibits from being shown to the best advantage. The general appearance of the whole grounds represented a vast amount of labor and industry and displayed great artistic taste in decorations. The whole exposition showed the great strides in industry which are being made in France. One of the secrets of the beautiful adornments was the natural ability of the French to display in a tasteful manner.

The bridge of Alexander, Prof. Bull said, was one of the most magnificent pieces of workmanship which he had ever seen. The bridge consisted of one span and was 150 feet wide.

In front of the United States building was a statue of George Washington. Inside the building were different exhibits while on the ground floor was a rest room for those who were weary with sightseeing. The walls were adorned with pictures of the aborigines causing Europeans to think that Indians were to be found roaming at large throughout this country.

The machinery exhibits were, he said, particularly fine, especially the steam engineering, their equal having never been brought together before. The Swiss engines were particularly good in both design and workmanship. Germany, Belgium, Italy, Russia and England had fine exhibits in this line. The tool exhibits of the United States he said was especially worthy of mention as they were not equaled by any other country. All the great companies with few exceptions were represented by wonderful exhibits. The Standard Oil Co. and a number of other large companies in America were represented.

Prof. Bull spoke on the wonderful lighting system of the exposition, closing with words of praise for the French people for the courteous treatment they accorded the strangers.

Oratorical Ass'n. Meeting.

The Oratorical Association met this morning at twelve o'clock. The first business transacted was the adoption of a new constitution to cover the entire debating and oratorical interests of the University. Officers were elected as follows: President—Robert A. Maurer, Philomathia; Recording Sec'y. J. C. Morgan, Athenae; Corresponding Sec'y.—E. J. B. Schubring, Hesperia; Treasurer—W. S. Kies, Forum; 1st vice-President—M. J. Cleary, Columbia; 2nd vice-President—Louise Loeb, Castalia.

The association also decided to have Mr. Frederick Paulding give an evening of readings under its auspices soon after the Christmas recess. The attendance was between fifty and sixty. Joseph Koffend presiding as president pro tem.

—Mrs. Augustus Trowbridge gave a dancing party at her home last evening to a score of couples of University friends.

SOCIETIES ENTHUSE

ANTE-JOINT DEBATE MEETINGS HELD LAST NIGHT.

Philomathia and Hesperia Hold Rousing Sessions—Castalia has Humorous Program—Other Societies.

Philomathia.

It was Alumni night at Philomathia last evening. The "old man" had full sway and the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held. Otto Patzer, joint debater in '97, was chosen chairman of the meeting and delivered a rousing address in which he emphasized the importance of the coming joint debate. His address was followed by the alumni debate: "Resolved, That an amendment should be made to the Federal Constitution providing for the regulation of trusts by the federal government." The affirmative was upheld by E. B. Smith, R. R. Frazier, J. F. Nicholson, Emerson Ela, and E. N. Warner. The negative was debated by F. Gugel, W. Berg, R. Jackman, J. B. Sanborn, and A. A. Bruce. The jury consisted of Hook, Lucas and Ringle. The decision favored the negative.

After the debate rousing speeches were made by Dr. Buckley, Professor Bruce, Mr. Warner, Mr. Ela and the members of the joint debate team, Messrs. Boehm, Lohr and Hancock.

Philomathians to a man will turn out and support their team next Friday evening and there is no doubt but that the team will put forth its greatest efforts to win the laurels then. The men have worked most faithfully and conscientiously for the last ten months and, while not over confident, the sole feeling expressed is that Philomathia will win.

Hesperia.

Hesperia's session last night after the first debate resolved itself into an enthusiasm meeting as a preparation for the coming joint debate. Among those present were a number of Hesperia's alumni, who did much to bring the members to a fuller realization of what the coming debate means. Among those who spoke were Mr. Kronke, N. S. Curtis and L. A. Anderson. The members of Hesperia's joint debate team, Mr. Brindley, Mr. Smith and Mr. Huebner, were then called upon, and were greeted with cheers as they arose to speak. The burden of these remarks was that their preparation for the debate had been most thorough and that, although they were not overconfident, they proposed to fight out the debate to the bitter end and believed that Hesperia would win.

Other members also spoke. All were enthusiastic in their faith in the team and expressed the belief that victory would go to Hesperia.

It is probably true that never before has the society stood so solidly behind its team, ready to support them to the utmost, as this year. The key-note of the whole meeting was this: We must win and we will win.

Castalia.

The program at Castalia last evening was not of the usual serious literary order but was humorous in character. It was opened with a recitation by Miss Wilcox, entitled "Saunders McGlasher's Courtship." Then came a talk on "Life at the Whitehouse." After this an excellent old time "news-sheet" was read by the two "editors," Misses Goddard and Anderson. This was packed with rich humor throughout, especially interesting to Castalians. Next was presented a series of able papers by members of the society on "Why I am not Married." After this rare treat, Miss Kasberg gave a review of Mrs. Humphry Ward's "Eleanor." "Current Events" by Miss Kuhns closed the program. One new member, Miss Adams, a senior lately of the University of Minnesota, was initiated. It was also announced that two special preparatory art programs will be given before the art exhibit of Jan. 7. These will take place on Dec. 14 and Jan. 4. At the second meeting Miss Kellogg will give an address upon "Italian Art."

Athenae.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, C. E. Macartney; vice-president, Robert M. Davis; secretary, Bishop; treasurer, John Powers; recording scribe, A. E. Thiede; censor, John O'Meara; assistant censor, W. D. Buchholz; chairman of excuse committee, A. A. Baldwin.

AN HISTORIC GAVEL.

Made From Portion of Spanish Vessel Sunk by Dewey.

A feature of the meeting of the Hesperian society last night was the presentation to the society by Mr. Enfield, one of the freshmen members, of a gavel that is rich in historic associations. The gavel is made of a portion of the main-mast of the Spanish flagship Maria Christina which was sunk in Manila Bay, by Admiral Dewey's cannon in that memorable battle of May, 1898.

Mr. Enfield is a soldier boy, and was in the Philippines at the time as a member of an Iowa volunteer troop. In the course of that terrific battle, one of the cannon balls from the American fleet cut off the mainmast of the Spanish flagship and the mast sank almost entirely into the bay. The top, however, caught fire, and burnt to the water's surface. A day or two later Mr. Enfield procured a diver's suit, and diving into the bay, sawed off a piece of the mast and brought it to land. When he returned to the United States he brought with him that piece of Norway pine.

Last fall Mr. Enfield entered the University of Wisconsin and became a member of the Hesperian society. This week he had a very neat gavel made of this historic piece of timber, and last night it was formally presented to Hesperia. Mr. Schoensigel made the presentation speech, and in the course of it he said that he considered it an event in his college life, to be able to present to the society this gavel so full of historic associations. The mast of which it is made is the mast from which all the Spanish signals were given.

As far as known this is with a single exception the only one of its kind now in use in the United States. Speaker Henderson of the House of Representatives uses a gavel made of the same piece of wood.

The whole matter was a complete surprise to the society and when the presentation was made, a tremendous applause arose from those present. Mr. Enfield was called upon to speak, and a rising vote of thanks was given him.

—All girls are invited to hear the address of Miss Conde at "Vespers" to-morrow at five o'clock in the music lecture room, Ladies Hall.

—Mr. Waltersdorf gave a paper before the Chemical club yesterday afternoon. It consisted of an argument on the Valence of Carbon.

Hop Programs.

One of the worst nuisances of the social life of the University is the persistence of some people in filling out military hop programs in advance. Such a practice, while undoubtedly subserving the private enjoyment of these individuals, is directly opposed to the democratic spirit that is supposed to actuate these affairs. The old student can fill his program with ease by getting to the hop in good season. On the other hand, the new student is very much handicapped in making up his program if he finds upon entering the Armory hall that a large proportion of the young ladies have their programs already filled up. But, apart from the matter of convenience, this making up of programs is entirely out of harmony with the spirit of these hops. It is intended that they shall be dances to which every student in the University can go without the fear of laboring under any disadvantages such as being exposed to this premature monopoly of dances. Any tendency towards this practice is greatly deplorable. The only influence that can prevent it is a mutual agreement upon and observance of the custom of not filling out dances until the beginning of the hop.

Cap and Gown.

The senior class is to be congratulated upon its prompt adoption of the custom of wearing cap and gown during the latter part of the year. Besides its academic significance it adds vastly to the beauty and dignity of the various commencement exercises. It may be inferred from the unanimity of sentiment upon the matter that the custom is becoming thoroughly engrafted upon our University life.

It has been said that the younger generation of legislators lacks interest and vigor. We deny it. Look at our freshman class.

PRIZES FOR BADGER WORK.

Board Again Calls Attention to Fine List Offered.

The attention of the students both graduate and undergraduate is again called to the excellent list of prizes offered by the 1902 Badger board for contributions for the university annual. More money has this year been appropriated in both departments and the board urges all students to enter into this competition.

Prizes for Literary Work.

I. Best short story of college life at Wisconsin. From 500 to 1,500 words. First prize—$6.00.

Second prize—Morocco bound 1902 Badger.

Third prize—Year's subscription to any $3.00 magazine.

III. Best collection of college jokes, joshes and jingles, happenings in class rooms personal roasts nonsense verses, etc.

First prize—Year's subscription to any $3.00 magazine.

Second prize—1902 Badger.

IV. Best piece of college verse by a student.

First prize—Year's subscription to any $3.00 magazine.

First prize—Morocco bound 1902 Badger.

6. Best set of photos of U. W. life—as well-known faces, class rushes, etc.

First prize—Three dollars.

The editors hope for a large response to the fifth offer made by the art committee. It has, in previous years, always served to bring the artistic ability of new students at the university into notice and give it the recognition it deserves. With the exception of this one class, contributions are open to all students of the University.

Provisions of Competition.

The board reserves the right to use any literary or art work for which prizes may not be awarded. If contributions merit it, however, extra prizes may be awarded. Contributions may be dropped in the Badger box in the vestibule of Main hall, or may be sent addressed to the "Chairman of 1902 Badger Board," at the Beta Theta Pi house, 614 Langdon street.

Competition Will Close Jan. 1.

Other work of all kinds suitable for the Badger and not entered in this contest is asked for. The Badger boxes are always open to such contributions. It may, perhaps, be unnecessary to state that persons contemplating entering this contest may contribute to as many of the different classes of work as they desire.

All literary matter must be unsigned. A sealed envelope containing the name of the author together with the literary matter should be placed in an envelope marked plainly as for which competition it is entered. The art contributions may be signed with the artist's name or initials.

PROFESSOR HONORED

R. W. WOOD INVITED TO OBSERVE ECLIPSE.

Govt. Will Send Expedition to Sumatra—Party to Start About Feb. 1, For Six Month's Trip.

Prof. R. W. Wood has received an invitation from the United States government to become a member of the party to be sent under the auspices of the United States naval observatory to the island of Sumatra next summer to make observations on the eclipse of the sun. The event will be one of much importance in the scientific world as the duration of totality will be six minutes, an unusually long period. The date when the phenomenon occurs is May 18 and the eclipse will be total.

The size of the party sent by the government and its equipment will depend largely on the appropriation made, the amount of which will be determined this winter. The members will sail from San Francisco about Feb. 1 next and will not return until about July 1. They will probably go on a war vessel and the rich and pleasant outing will undoubtedly include stops at Hawaii and Manila. The trip from Manila to Sumatra at least will probably be on a war vessel.

Dr. Wood has not yet decided whether or not he will become a member of the party, but it is presumed the allurements of this unusual opportunity will prove too great for a man of his strong scientific bias to resist. He was a member of the government party sent to Pinehurst, N. C., last year to take observations on the partial eclipse at that time and later went to London and lectured on color photography before British scientific societies.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Christmas recess will open at the close of recitations on Friday afternoon, December 21. The first recitations of 1901 will be held on the morning of Thursday, January 3.

Under the rules of the University, students who are absent, without excuse, from the last recitation preceding the recess, or the first recitation following it, will not be admitted to the examinations at the close of the semester in the studies from which they were absent. Excuses for absence from these recitations can be obtained only from the Dean of the College of Letters and Science. Under the rules, excuses will be granted to students who live at such a distance from the University that they cannot reach home before Christmas if they remain for the final recitations. Excuses for similar cause will be granted for absence from the first recitations following the recess.

Students who desire to be excused should make application in writing to me on, or before Thursday, December 13. Answers to such applications will be ready by noon of Friday, December 14, and can be obtained at the Registrar's office.

No Action by Regents.

No action of any importance was taken by the Regents at their session this week. Another meeting will be held Dec. 18, at which the subject of the proposed Agricultural building will be brought up.

Most people think that any old place is good enough for a bicycle through the winter, so they dump it in the basement where it is damp, or into the coal shed where it is almost obliterated with coal dust, etc. Of course they don't think of the consequences until spring, then Oh! My!
they wish they had taken it to Wm. J.
Park Co., 113 State St., successors to the Madison Cycle Co., and had it cleaned and stored properly for the winter for $1.50, and saved $5.00.
