S. G. A. TAKES UP NEW CHANGES AT MASS MEETING

Women Meet Tonight at 7:30

To provide for a system of secret balloting on future regulations and revisions, by changing the present constitution of S. G. A. will be the opening business at the second S. G. A. mass meeting called for 7:30 o'clock tonight in Music hall, for all university women.

A discussion of the recommendations left over from the list submitted at the first mass meeting by Keystone's special committee on recommendations will be next in order. These proposals are: 1. Calls: That the matter of receiving men callers during the day be left to each house; that rules for week-end calls and for evening calls are also left to the houses with the suggestion that an 11 o'clock rule be adopted. This measure was defeated at the first mass meeting, due to the lack of a two-third vote necessary at the time to carry it.

Change Riding Rule

2. Parties: Copies of rules adopted by houses should be filed in the office of S. G. A. 3. Riding rule: That the riding rule (outside city limits after 8 p. m.) be abolished. 4. Canoeing and Skating Rule: To remain as a general rule of S. G. A. with same provisions as at present.

Besides these Keystone proposals, other possible measures that will be considered are suggested changes in regard to lowering the amount of annual dues, revision of the personnel of Keystone, revised plan of election of members to S. G. A. board, addition of an article to provide for future changes being made by secret ballot instead of oral or standing votes at mass meetings.

Constitution Studied

The problem of revising the constitution has been studied carefully by a special committee appointed by the president of S. G. A. upon recommendation of the regular S. G. A. board meeting. Acting on this committee are Lois Jacobs '24, Cleo Parsley '23, Marian Metcalf '24, Helen Kingsford '24, Jean Kilgour, grad. At regular meetings of this committee the past week, constitutions of all the large colleges were studied.

Future voting by secret ballot, after discussion of mass meetings have been held, seems to be the general solution to the problem of getting every woman to cast a vote in a revision of rules that will effect every woman a Wisconsin. Such a process of secret balloting, it is generally believed, will do away with a large share of the clique voting and mob spirit psychology found to be prevalent when final balloting is taken at mass meetings proper.

Drive Habitues May Need Scarfs Says Mr. Miller

Golashes and wool muclers should be resurrected from the mothballs and brought out of hock by all Drive habitues for tonight as it will be much chillier than last night according to Eric Miller, official weather man.

Madison has lately been in the midst of tricky weather, as during the day it seems real spring, but cools down too much before evening to give the Drive its usual popularity.

Thursday the temperature, during the day, will probably reach 61 degrees and Friday will be even warmer if present indications continue. The nights however will continue to be chilly.

And while your delving into the back part of the closet for the muffler and golashes, you might just as well get your hands on the "slicker" for the weather bureau predicts rain the later part of the week too.

REGENTS PASS ON NEW COURSE

4-Year Chemistry-Commerce Combination is the Feature

Because of the growing importance of chemistry in modern commerce and the demand for men who are trained both in commercial and chemical subjects, the University of Wisconsin has just established a new four-year Chemistry-Commerce course, to go into effect next September. The course was approved by the Regents yesterday.

The new course is intended for those students who wish to fit themselves to hold commercial positions such as business managers, technical secretaries, managerial secretaries, sales managers, purchasing agents, technical salesmen, and others in which a thorough understanding of the basic principles of chemistry would be a valuable asset.

"Men of affairs in the industrial world are often seriously handicapped because they do not possess a fundamental knowledge of the technical principles involved in their business," declared Prof. J. H. Mathews, chairman of the chemistry department, who is director of the new Chemistry-Commerce course.

It is for students who are interested primarily in the economic or commercial aspect of industrial chemistry, rather than the purely technical. They will be given a wide acquaintance with commercial processes and materials of commerce, rather than a narrow, detailed, technical knowledge.

Elements of economics, money and banking, elements of accounting, business management, credits and collections, marketing methods, sales administration, retail advertising, commercial law, statistical method, railway transportation, corporation finance, personnel management, and theory and practice of accounting are the courses in commerce which have been selected as useful for men in industries involving chemical processes.

BIRGE HONORED BY ELECTION TO HONORARY

The highest honor that can be given to an educator, election to membership in the American Philosophical society, has just been conferred upon President E. A. Birge, according to an announcement made by Miss Elizabeth Waters at a meeting of the board of regents yesterday. Benjamin Franklin was founder of the society and yearly meetings are still held in the old Franklin residence in Philadelphia, Miss Waters said.

WEATHER: UNSETTLED

Somewhat unsettled Thursday and Friday. Not much change in temperature.

SENIOR TRYOUTS FOR CLASS PLAY HELD TOMORROW

Production to Be Given June 14-15

Tryouts for the senior class play, "The Road to Yesterday," will be held at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Lathrop concert room, according to Sidney R. Thorsen '24, production manager of the play.

The play will be given by the class as a part of the commencement exercises and will be presented two evenings, April 14 and 15. Miss Gertrude Johnson will coach the production. Walter A. Frautschi '24 is business manager.

"The Road to Yesterday" is a fantasy in four acts and has an especial interest in that it takes in two periods, 1923 and 1603. Eight men and six women make up the cast. Each member of the cast takes two roles, that of some modern person and that of an ancestral counterpart.

Only seniors will be eligible for the senior class play this year, according to the managers. This is a new step in limitation, but will make the affair more of a class achievement.

The Thursday night performance will be for seniors and undergraduates while the Friday performance will be primarily for alumni who will return for commencement.

Extensive plans have been made to notify each graduate of Wisconsin for the special alumni performance Friday evening and many class secretaries are planning on opening the week-end commencement activities by a class party at the play.

The play will be given in the amphitheater on the terrace behind Bascom hall.

CURTAIN CLUB WILL PRESENT PLAY TONIGHT

A few good seats are still available for the Curtain club plays to be presented this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Madison High school auditorium. These tickets are on sale at Bascom hall, as well as at Book Bros., State street, and there will be an open sale at the door.

Curtain club is a dramatic organization made up of members of the faculty, their wives and some other interested persons. Each year the organization puts on one large production. Last year they played William Ellery Leonard's "Red Bird". This year, however, instead of presenting one long play, the club is attempting something new by the presentation of four shorter plays.

"The Minuet", "Night at an Inn", "Shadow of the Glen", and "Peace in the Home" are the four plays to be presented this evening.

Dean Nardin Defends Attitude Of Man Toward Opposite Sex

That "woman has been made a convenience by man" is the startling declaration made by Lucie A. Zimmern in the article "Woman's Part in the New Renaissance," published in the April number of the Century magazine.

"This is untrue. I have no complaint to make about the unfairness of men," said Dean Nardin in an interview yesterday. "It is a case of woman's laziness vs. men's dominance. If a woman is reasonable, the man will try to understand."

The statement of Mrs. Zimmern that "the bringing together of the two sexes at college obviously results in the persistent division between the activities of college men and women in after life" is denied by Dean Nardin. "This condition does not exist here. I believe the college trained man and woman have more of agreement than of difference with each other. At Wisconsin women are treated as equals."

"Wild Life" On Campus Puzzles Madison Regent

Harry Butler, Madison, a member of the university regents, is in favor of protecting "wild life" on university property—but first of all he wants to know what is meant by "wild life."

At a meeting of the regents Wednesday, a letter from Prof. F. A. Faust asking that "wild life" be protected, was read and the board was asked by J. D. Phillips, business manager, to take some action on it.

The state conservation commission will place metal signs on all university property outside of the city limits which should be conserved for "wild life," according to the letter.

Butler stated that he wanted to know what kind of "wild life" is to be protected. He was assured that only the right kind of "wild life" will be protected. Action was deferred until the next meeting of the board.

YELLOW TASSEL HOLDS BANQUET

Junior Women to Make Nominations For Officers Tonight

Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, will hold its annual spring nominating banquet tonight at 6 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

Tickets may be purchased at the Y. W. C. A. office or the S. G. A. office for 85 cents apiece. A few may be obtained at the door this evening if the women are unable to get them before.

A program given entirely by junior women will be given between the courses of the banquet. This will include: piano solo by Lois Jacobs '24, vocal solo by Gertrude Haese '24, violin solo by Norma Schoen '24, accompanied by Lois Jacobs '24, whistling selection by Janice Boardman '24, and reading by Arlene Klug '24.

The plan of a program instead of the regular series of toasts is being tried out this year for the first time.

Nominations have been made for each office by the executive committee, and these will be announced after the banquet. Two additional nominations from the floor will be made tonight. The election will not be held until Friday, May 18, when all of the women's class societies will hold them together.

The committee in charge of the party is Pauline Dickinson '24, chairman, Mary Ball '24, arrangements, Jeannette Kennan '24, program, and Eleanor Day '24, decorations.

The banquet will be held promptly so that every one will have ample time to get to the S. G. A. mass meeting in Music hall on time.

BADGERS SWAMP NORTHWESTERN BY 13 TO 0 SCORE

Visitors Succumb to Swat Fest

By MARK OGDEN

Wisconsin took Northwestern college, Watertown, Wis., into camp, 13 to 0 in an eight-inning game played at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. Badger batmen went on a swatfest and netted 14 hits while the collegians were able to gather only two.

Capt. Rollie Williams was forced out of the game in the second inning with a strained ankle which he received when he slide to the home plate on an attempted steal after slashing a three bagger to right field. Williams expects to be in condition to enter the Chicago game Friday.

Johnson Pitches

Bill Johnson started the game in the box and allowed only two hits in the five innings he was serving them up. Walt Radke went in as relief man and struck out six of the nine batters who faced him in the three innings he worked without allowing a hit.

The game was called early to let the Northwestern men catch their train. By agreement between the coaches Northwestern batted extra half inning after the game to allow Schrenk to take a turn on the mound.

Aschenbrenner, W. Johnson, and Radke all had perfect batting records. The former made a single and two three-base hits in three trips to the plate, and topped it off by stealing a base. Johnson made two hits, one a two-bagger in his two times up, and Radke got a single and a triple in two at bat.

Game is Ragged

Although the team hit well and made only two errors, it played a rather ragged game, which is to be expected considering loose playing and poorer batting of the opposition. Eight errors and three bases on balls as gifts from Northwestern helped the Badgers pile up a score.

Lowman started running in his second stringers in the sixth inning. He used 16 men. Combacker, Servatius and Becker were the only regulars to play the entire game.

Scoring started in the second inning when Holm hit to right and advanced to second while the fielder played marbles with the ball. Ellington laid down a nice sacrifice and was safe at first when the first sacker dropped the ball. Holm made the first score when Tebell was thrown out at first by the third baseman.

Ellingson Scores

HARESFOOT BOOKS TO BE WRITTEN BY JUNE 1

Completed books for the Haresfoot contest to determine the play which will be used by the club for its show next year may be submitted any time between now and June 1, it was announced last night by Gerold Koch '23, president of the club.

Although it was announced that only a scenario and one or two pages of dialogue would be required, the club officials have expressed a desire to see as many completed manuscripts as possible.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The attention of all students is called to the fact that May 25 and 26 are the last evenings available for dances and other student activities during the current semester. The week end, June 1 and 2, will be closed to activities, and final examinations begin on Monday, June 4. Parties will be approved from the evening of June 12 on.

in when Williams raised the ball over the right fielder's head for three bases. Williams was thrown out at plate when he tried to beat the pitcher. His ankle was strained in the slide. Four runs scored in this frame.

Becker started the third inning with a safety through short stop and reached second on a sacrifice by Servatius. Holm struck out. Ellingson was safe when the second baseman bobbled his grounder and Becker scored. Ellingson stole second, and went to third on a passed ball. Tebell whiffed.

Aschenbrenner opened the fourth inning with a triple over center field and scored on a passed ball by the catcher. Combacker missed three. Johnson hit to center, going to third on Gibson's single while Gibby stopped at second. Kleinke, the Northwestern southpaw, pulled himself out of the hole by retiring Becker and Servatius on strikes after one run counted.

Holm Walks

Holm walked, went to second when Ellingson made an infield hit to third, but was thrown out at third base. Tebell lived on a fielder's choice and Ellingson and Tebell scored when Aschenbrenner made his second triple of the day. The left fielder threw the latter out at the plate when he tried to stretch the hit to a home run. Wegwart made a nice catch of Combacker's hard drive to left field.

In the sixth inning Radke hit to center but was caught off the bag by the catcher. Becker drew a walk and was run down between the bases.

Seventh Big Inning

The big seventh began when Servatius was tossed out at first by the pitcher. Cy Johnson hit, Pickford, batting for Ellingson, walked. Tebell made first base on an error by Volcks, the other men advancing. On the catcher's error, Johnson scored and the other men advanced. Pollock scored Pickford and Tebell with a hit to left field. Pollock resting on second. Combacker fled out to the pitcher. Pollock scored when Radke laced the ball to left for three bases, the latter scoring on the shortstop's error. Gibson ended the inning with a strike out.

The team leaves tonight for Chicago where it plays tomorrow afternoon. Wisconsin should be able to defeat the Maroons who won their first game from Northwestern university, 3 to 1, lost to Iowa 13 to 2, and were beaten by Northwestern Tuesday, 13 to 8. Northwestern made 10 runs in one inning. Northwestern College A B R H C E

INTER-COLLEGE SWIM TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The inter-college swimming meet conducted by Coach Joe Steinauer will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the gym. The men who wish to enter the meet should report to their college captain or to Joe Steinauer before the time of the meet tomorrow night. Fleuck has been elected to captain the engineer swimmers, while Ellicott will lead the Ag sharks. The winnings team will be awarded college insignia for their efforts. Coach Steinauer urges every one who can swim at all to come tomorrow night and show some college spirit.

FROST CHOSEN GOLF CAPTAIN

Wisconsin Will Have Strong and Well Balanced Team This Spring

Morton C. Frost officially was elected captain of the golf team at a meeting which was held at the gymnasium yesterday non. About 20 men were present at the meeting. Athletic director T. E. Jones gave a short talk in which he laid out the plans for the coming season.

Captain Frost has had considerable experience in golf, and he is one of the three men from last year's team who are out again this spring. Adolph B. Bock and Albert V. Stegeman are the other two men who have had previous conference experience.

To Have Good Team

With these three men available as a nucleus, T. E. Jones, who is acting in the capacity of coach, should be able to turn out a team of merit this spring. From present indications, Wisconsin will have one of the strongest and most evenly balanced teams in the conference.

The strength of the other teams in the conference is hard to determine, as most of the rival coaches are building teams out of new men. Illinois is said to have an unusually good team as most of the men who were on last year's team are again available this year. Chicago has only one old player left from last year, he being the captain of the team.

Four conference matches have been arranged for the coming season besides the conference meet at Chicago. The first match will be with Minnesota on the 12th of May and will take place in Madison. Northwestern will be seen here the following week, and Illinois is also on the schedule, but the date has not yet been decided upon. On May 29th the varsity team will go to Chicago where they will play the Maroon men. The conference meet will also be held at Chicago during the latter part of June.

Fourth Year of Golf

This is the fourth year that Wisconsin has been represented on the golf links and in this short period of time her teams have made a good account of themselves. Last year the team placed third in the conference meet at Chicago. The sport has been coming to the front rapidly, and more interest is being shown in this activity every year.

Some of the men who are out for the team are A. Bock, V. Stegeman, H. Pope, J. Hook, E. Hooker, Hopkins, E. White, O. Head, V. Gunther, L. Adams, C. Campbell, and H. Rice. These men have 11 had considerable experience on the golf links, and in the few practices held so far this year they have put up a credible showing. Many more candidates have signified their intentions of trying out, and the list will probably total about thirty.

FOOTBALL WORK CONTINUES WITH SMALL TURNOUT

Coach Disappointed By Results

Varsity football practice still continues with but few of the 75 who signed up reporting. Yesterday there were only 29 on the field in suits, about six were old varsity men who have had big time experience. The results of what was intended to be a big spring practice is falling flat. The new coach is holding spring practice under his personal supervision.

Wisconsin has been noted in years past as a school with a superabundance of spirit both in backing its team and in the teams themselves. The men who should report to the coach so that he may get a line on them for next fall's campaign are staying entirely away from the field. The coach is very much disappointed in the results that he has obtained. He has prepared a long program of training to be used this spring, but with the turnout that he has, his efforts are all in vain.

HARRIS AT INFIRMARY

Jack Harris '25, star Wisconsin backfield player, will be forced to undergo an operation on his left knee as the result of an accident suffered recently. Harris will be operated on next week to remedy cartilage trouble. He has been confined to the infirmary and will be unable to continue his academic work for at least two weeks. The Badger grid man hurt his knee when he leaped over a fence near the Delta Upsilon houses. It was a recurrence of the injury suffered during the 1922 football season. Tutors will aid him to continue his school work while at the infirmary.

Iowa Has 130 Out

Iowa has 130 men reporting daily in their spring campaign; Minnesota has about 70; all the other Big Ten teams with the exception of Northwestern and Wisconsin have a large number of men reporting. The turnout and the resulting reflection on the coach are very disappointing to him. He has come to Wisconsin with a bunch of worthwhile football knowledge and an interest in Wisconsin, but the men themselves are leaving him flat.

He urges every football man in the university to come out regardless of his previous experience. Some of last year's varsity men have graduated and left positions open to be filled. According to the coach he will take the best man who reports. Some of the old varsity men will get a jolt when they find that position filled which they thought was cinched.

Yesterday afternoon there were about 30 men on the field in suits. The coach conducted a practice consisting of the fundamentals of the game. The men were given instruction in passing the ball and starting. Some time was also devoted to kicking. Stigel, a frosh from last year's squad, looked the best. He got off some fair kicks with a good spiral.

15 Varsity Me Out

So far this spring there have been 15 varsity men on the field. The number of men reporting increases daily, and Ryan hopes to have a fair sized squad out soon. In a short time the coach intends to give the men some plays and team formations so that they can hold daily scrimmage.

"The spring practice idea is new here," said Coach Ryan yesterday, "and I have endeavored to make the work as attractive as possible by giving the men some scrimmage to relieve the monotony of the fundamental work. I think the program that I have made is one that should be attractive to any lover of football. I hope to be able to get more men out soon so that we can do some real work."

MEDICS PLAY L. & S. IN BASEBALL TOMORROW

The Medics will play the L. and S. team in baseball on the lower campus tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Sid Eagleburger is captain of the Medics and Ez Crane is captain of the L. and S. The Commerce school will play the Ags Saturday at 1:30 o'clock. Halverson is captain of the Commerce team and the Ag captain has not yet been announced. The captains want their teams to report early to facilitate their organizing.

CRANE STARTS CHEER CLASS

New Plan to Get Unified Action From All of the Yell Leaders

A school for future Wisconsin cheerleaders, which will probably be the first one of its kind, will be started early next week under the tutelage of Edra Crane '25, varsity cheerleader.

Cheerleaders who were trying out in the past have each had their individual styles harking back, perhaps to high school days and totally unadapted to the wording of the yells.

Under the new plan the cheerleaders will have a consistent system of movements for each yell and in this way several cheerleaders in different sections of the grandstands can cooperate.

Anyone, especially freshmen or sophomores, who has had cheerleading experience or who would like to try out should speak to Crane early this week as candidates will need preparation for remaining baseball games when they will be given an opportunity to try out.

"A number of men have already enrolled and we expect to hear from others who will cooperate with us in an effort to give Wisconsin's teams some real cheering to back them on the field," said Crane yesterday.

OUTING CLUB MEETING POSTPONED ONE WEEK

Outing club will not meet tonight as originally announced due to S. G. A. mass meeting, and the physical edmedic mixer, Romaine Barryman '23, president, announced yesterday.

The new officers which were elected at the last meeting will be installed at the next meeting, as well as all of the new board members who were elected at the same time.

Plans for several Outing club parties are under way, and when canoeing begins the customary war canoe party will be taken up and decided upon.

The next meeting will be held a week from tonight, Thursday, May 3.

Clara Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson, 618 W. Main st., is ill with pneumonia.

12 TRACK MEN RUN IN RELAYS AT DES MOINES

Drake Races to Be Held Tomorrow

Twelve Wisconsin track men will leave Madison this afternoon with Coach Tom Jones for Des Moines, Ia., where they will take part in the annual Drake relays tomorrow.

The squad will consist of enough men to comprise three distance relay teams besides three men who will enter special events. Captain Spetz will prance at Des Moines in the sprints, Donohue will high jump, and Newell will show his metal in the two hurdles.

Because Wisconsin has lacked the best of sprint men throughout the entire season, no relay team of dash men has been entered in the Drake runs. Coach Jones has entered teams in the four-mile, the two-mile, and one-mile relay events.

Two-milers to Perform

The two-mile team, composed of Johnson, Hilberts, Valley, and Ramsay, which took third place at the Kansas relays last Saturday, is slated to perform in that event at Iowa. Badger half-milers constitute much of the best material of the squad, and hopes for a high place in the finishing order are strong.

While the complete personnel of the four-mile team is still somewhat doubtful, the time trials which were held last Tuesday point to Schneider, Rossmeissel and Bergstresser as certain runners. Either Tschudy or Sherman will be the other man of the quartet, depending on the last moment choice of Coach Jones today. Sherman placed fourth in the time trial, but Tschudy's excellent work throughout the entire track season in both the mile and two-mile runs may warrant his being chosen to go to Des Moines.

Unless competition in the sprints is unusually strong, Spetz should place in his events. Spetz has been showing his heels to Badger sprint men for two years and has been working better than ever during the past two weeks of practice.

Donohue Should Place

Donohue has not been forced to push himself in the high jump this year, and so he has not made any remarkable records. Under pressure, however, he can sail well over the 6 foot mark, and he should place in his event. Newell is somewhat erratic in the hurdles, but if he hits a good day he may be expected to account for himself creditably.

Coach Jones has allowed no let-up in his intensive training of all track men during the past few days of good weather and, as a consequence, he has his squad in very good early season form.

UNION BOARD, S. G. A. ON THE MOVE

The week has brought forward proposals by Union board and S. G. A. for the redirection of two important roads in the complexity of our student world which augere much for the improvement of the student affairs involved,—all-university dances and women's self-rule,—and bespeak a creditable alertness on the part of the bodies governing those affairs.

Union board definitely has set aside the objectionable and ill-reputed Union mixer for a new type of all-university social function to be named by the student body, devised by it in part, and put into effect May 4.

The traditional first mixer of the fall will not go with the rest, however, in order that there may be some effective get-acquainted function saved for the start of the school year. Otherwise the old mixer as such is nil.

What the nature of the new Union party will be is a matter of intriguing interest. There are unlimited possibilities for flights into realms of student entertainment untried before. The Jamboree of a recent date, as a unique experiment beginning a few years back, has proved itself. Further experiments will be welcomed by the student body.

However the plan of Union board materializes, it will be essential that students dismiss the conception of the former mixer and place the new dance on a new basis in their own minds.

A dance capable of including all students, inexpensive, well-ordered and well supplied with entertainment and novelty should prove a tremendous force in the social life of the student body.

The second proposal, that before S. G. A. tonight, with respect to voting by secret ballot following a discussion mass meeting, strikes the mind with a political science twist as being entirely in order and highly advisable.

If the reports of the male who spied on the last meeting in feminine clothes are true, many women who ostensibly were logically and deliberately considering self-rule changes rather lost sight of deliberateness and cool reason in high pitches of excitement and voted or left the meeting under an emotional stress.

Whether these are the facts of the case or not, it is invariably true that the more thoughtful decision is made in privacy in away from the appeal of group favoritism or emotional speech.

Keep the discussion open meeting to thrash out the pros and cons, but reserve the ballot marking for private consideration. The experiment is worth the attendance and and favorable attention of every Wisconsin woman tonight.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Those who are interested in raising the standards of modern journalism cannot but highly commend the work of Theta Sigma Phi, the honorary and professional fraternity for women journalists, which is holding a most promising convention this week at the University of Oklahoma.

The women journalists have not hesitated to take the initiative in devising methods of cooperation to bring about higher ethical standards in the profession. We should be proud to note that the work along this line for the past year has been carried on by a committee headed by a member of Wisconsin's journalism department.

Theta Sigma Phi already has proved its worth to journalism through its Chicago "Register" which enables women writers and editors to find each other.

There are three aims of the fraternity: first, the raising of the standards of the profession; second, the extension of women's opportunities in journalism; and, third, the encouragement to greater achievement of women whose college work in journalism has shown distinction.

Perhaps the women will prove the coming emancipators and purifiers of the nation's press.

NOT A SERMON; JUST A HINT

The report comes to America that Catherine Breshkovsky, now 72 years old and engaged in relief work with the Russian children in Carpathia, Alexander Kerensky, head of the Russian government overthrown by the Bolsheviks, and many other prominent Russians have offered to surrender themselves as hostages to the present Soviet movement in order to temporarily set free those of their party who have been imprisoned by the Soviets and are slowly dying.

No matter what opinions are held as to Russian politics the offer of these leaders of the Socialist Revolutionary party most of whom are not even in Russia, to suffer in the place of their friends in order that these may regain a portion of their lost strength, is one of the world's greatest examples of personal sacrifice and self-abnegation.

University life has often been called ideal. The aphorism would be truer if a little more of the spirit of help and cooperation, such as that demonstrated by the Russians, could be inculcated into student relations.

AN UNFINISHED TALE

A writer in Harper's magazine declares that "Sixty million people in this country never see a book, and only four per cent of our population ever get into a book store."

If this is so, and if anything practical is learned from books, the college man, whose very existence is book bounded, has—

"BY THEIR WORKS....."

Editor, The Cardinal: "Obscenity is not humor,—neither is raw vulgarity," quoted the Cardinal in speaking about the Engineers' parade. "Checks", sayeth the plumbers, and neither is rotten suggestiveness.

We could quote numerous skyrockets from past publications of The Cardinal, which, if they were put on signs and paraded down State street in full view of the public, would not reflect any great amount of credit upon the publication from which they were taken. It is a common joke to talk about some of the "raw-ones" pulled in the Skyrocket column.

We wonder if the author of some of these was one of the spectators who had feelings of disgust aroused. Whether he was or not, we would like to inform The Cardinal that we have had similar feelings aroused in the past, there having been several copies of The Cardinal that if read outside of the campus, would certainly have created wrong impressions of the type of humor enjoyed by university students. We felt rather ashamed to own the paper as representative of the school in fact.

Now it is not our wish to dig up old skeletons, and we would rather let bygones be buried as such, but we just naturally resent imputations that come from "those who live in glass houses." We think that the decision not to pass judgment upon the plumbers was entirely in accordance with existing condition of affairs, for 'tis a poor rule that don't work both ways.

"By their works ye shall know them" might apply in more classes than to the misguided shysters across the campus. We would also like to inform The Cardinal that we have sufficient discrimination and sense to choose between the several types of humor that were pointed out in The Cardinal's editorial, and would sincerely recommend that those responsible for the reproduction of Wisconsin spirit in print, keep a weather eye peeled on their skyline before they attempt to point out in such detail, clouds that appear upon the horizons.

Of course, accidents do happen, but when they happen with astonishing regularity (as the plumbers would put it, "Vary directly as a function of the time"), we rather suspect that accidents are not so greatly accidental after all. We are all with you then, heart and soul for a cleaner expression of Wisconsin humor in order that "By their works ye shall know them" shall give to the people of the state a correct idea of university ideals.

PLUMBER '24.

REVIEW OF YE LIT.

TO BEGIN WITH, the cover seems to represent William Ellery Leonard, having fallen off of winged Pegasus, doing a swan dive into clouds of glory.

Inside the cover we come upon an indignant editorial, evidently in reply to past criticisms. What with the Octopus, the Scorpion and the Plumber's parade, the Lit does take a lot of punishment. Oh, yes indeedly. Us intelligentsia do get our little swats.

A PROPOS of Gaston Guy d'Arlequin Tallmadge's poem "La Ville" does the boy know that the view of our little town of Madison, from Abie Lincoln's lap, reveals the fact that State street is cooked to the hill? This ought to give rise to a neat controversy as to whether State street or the Hill was the original "straight and narrow".

We can judge one by the Cop and the other by the law school. (Engineers will please keep their mouths shut.)

The two short stories in this month's issue, "Slaves of Loneliness" and "The Book and the Balcony" both seem to arise from courses in Elementary Spanish. Dear! Dear! Does not the Lit realize that Spanish is the new COMMERCIAL language? What is art coming to?

Irv. Shafirin seems to have taken a new lease on life. He has discarded last month's garbage can, and now writes poems on hunchbacks and bare feet.

VERBATIM FROM MARK CHILD'S MASTERPIECE:

"...The Sun is like the soft caress of a demonstrative lover, enshrouding itself about my slim body, he thought...."

And later on.... "Oh, mother it's simply immense, oh!" and laughing loudly she began a triumphant dance about her mother."

THE STORY HAS AN EXCELLENT TITLE. "C'EST A RIRE" IS RIGHT!

HOW NICE of Carl Rakosi to introduce Chinese mysticism into Madison in the jolly Springtime! Only, it looks dangerously as if this would be the excuse for the overcrowded willow drive.

And next we come upon a little literary criticism. "Faint Perfume" by Zona Gale, is discussed. Verbatim again.

"...Then there is that great being, the grandfather, who is a Crumb in name and a star in origin. All lovers of humanity should examine the Crumbs closely."

Crumb advice wat say? Everybody knows that one half of humanity are cake-eaters, and the other half crumbs.

A perfectly splendid conclusion is offered us by Kenneth Fearing's own poem.

"That is why Scottwell shot himself.... With a superb, ironic frown And an apologetic giggle."

SHEBA.

THE UNION BUTTONS

Editor, The Cardinal: After a fairly long connection with the university, I have gathered the idea from some source or other that we prided ourselves on being democratic,—that one of us was about as good as another, generally speaking.

Could I have gathered a wrong idea?

Before a shovel full of dirt has been turned toward its construction the Memorial Union,—headquarters for all students,—has taken a step that sets apart as a favored group, those contributors who have means enough to subscribe to life memberships.

They, if they have paid $25 on their pledge, are to receive a special gold button. Those who can contribute but $20, $25, $30, $40 and whose pledge may mean much more of a sacrifice, get no recogni-

Once more the well-to-do men, often a result of inheritance, are favored above the poor fellow.

The poor man's $10 means much more to him than the rich man's $50 or $100 but that's all the good it does him.

The idea of a button is a fine one but why award it on a basis of amount contributed? A much idea, to me at least, would be to award it to those who have kept their pledge, paid the amount pledged. (That would let me in). This would be a reward for keeping ones word and not for being a men with money.

I thought that my own contribution, small as it was would be as welcomed as one ten times as large, because of the spirit back of it.

Maybe I was mistaken.

SNYDER WILL ADDRESS AGS

Farmers Hold Cattle and Swine Demonstration Here Tomorrow

Charles E. Snyder, editor of the Drover's journal, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of university students and farmers who assemble at the preliminary program for the beef cattle and swine demonstration which will be held in Agricultural hall at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

Other prominent live stock authorities who will address the assemblage are E. R. McIntyre, editor of the Wisconsin Farmer, and Prof. J. L. Torny, of the Shorthorn Breeder's association.

"Live Stock Production and Marketing" will be the central theme of the discussion. Mr. Snyder is considered an authority on the marketing of live stock and his address is said to be timely and interesting.

The University of Wisconsin Experiment station has just completed experiments on a carload of feeder steers. The animals were purchased at Chicago last November, and have been an experiment since their purchase. The results of the trial will be given to the public at the university farm Saturday.

The complete program for Saturday includes live stock marketing, discussion of tuberculosis problems, carcass demonstrations, exhibition of experimental cattle, and swine feeding demonstrations.

Foreign Students to Give "Tour Around the World"

"A real opportunity to become acquainted with the conditions and people of the foreign lands will be afforded in the program of the 'Tour Around the World,'" said Elsworth Bunce '24, chairman, when he announced the program yesterday for the exhibit in Music hall Saturday at 8 o'clock. Booths for the countries are being arranged.

An exhibit of a large map and flag, laces, doilies, center pieces, fancy work, different clothes, and industrial products from the Philippines will be one of the big features. These products are direct from Washington, D. C. and were shown in London two years ago. One of the students will give a talk on the population, education and occupation of the people.

China will be represented by an exhibition of books, different rubbings, embroidery, coins, and paper money. A student will explain the evolution of books in China as well as the origin and development of the language. His talk will be illustrated by old rubbings, a special form of old manuscripts, some of which date back 600 years.

Orchestras from China and the Philippines will each give selections of their native music. A Russian dance and a Chinese reading will be given. Three reels of motion pictures, showing the gymnastic movement that is backing the government of Czechoslovakia, has been obtained from the legation in Washington. Other features are being added to the program.

COMMERCE STUDENTS WILL HOLD BANQUET

One hundred fifty commerce students and 150 prominent business men of the city will get together at a banquet on May 2 in Lathrop parlors to celebrate the twenty-third anniversary of the commerce course at the university.

The Men's Commerce club and the Women's Commerce club are planning the banquet and arranging the entertainment.

Many eminent business men of the city will speak. Carl Johnson, head of the Gisholt Machine company, Madison, will be toastmaster, and H. E. Buram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad will speak both at the convocation and at the banquet.

Tickets will be sold on the campus this week. It is planned to sell them first to the seniors and if any are left over to allow underclassmen to have them.

Thursday night at 7:30, all persons interested in the organizing of a sanctioned Horseshoe pitching association are asked to meet at the city Y. M. C. A. where plans for such an organization will be discussed.

COMMERCE MAG OUT TODAY WITH MANY FEATURES

The April issue of the Commerce Magazine which goes on sale this morning features articles by a number of prominent men including Governor Blaine, President Birge, President of American Bankers' Association, President of General Electric Co., and Vice President of National City Bank of New York.

J. H. Priedrich, president of American Bankers' association, writing on "Education—An Investment that Will Pay Dividends," states: "There is need for all the education that a young person can possibly secure. No matter how costly the investment in securing the ability, the increased capacity will pay dividends in greater future success."

"National Isolation or International Co-operation?" is the title of an article by William S. Kies '99, discussing what attitude the United States should take toward foreign trade. Mr. Kies is one of the most prominent of Wisconsin alumni and is widely known as an expert on finance and foreign commerce.

The methods worked out at the General Electric Co. for measuring the efficiency of business operation are presented in an article, "A Method for Planning Ahead." The president, Gerald Swope, claims that they have entirely eliminated the guess from business.

Newspaperman Buys William Clark Home

Alex Richardson, local newspaper circulation solicitor, purchased the William F. Clark home, 2105 Keyes ave., recently, it was announced by L. L. Oeland, through whom the deal was transacted. A. T. Uehling represented Clark.

A home is to be erected soon by William F. Taylor, 922 Van Buren st., in the 100 block on Allen st., it was announced today, by L. L. Oeland, realtor, from whom Taylor purchased the lot. The lot was owned by A. J. Kramer, 932 W. Johnson st.

PROF. FISHER TO WRITE NEW REAL ESTATE TAX

Prof. E. M. Fisher of the university of business administration has been asked to prepare a text book on the real estate business, the first of its kind ever written. He will use material considered at the conference of real estate men and educational experts who completed a two-day session in Madison at noon Saturday.

The book is to be used in the two new courses of study which the conference has planned, a one semester elementary course and a two year course leading to a certificate. The courses are for real estate men, bringing land brokerage into line with the modern movement of education for business, and they are expected to be ready for schools and colleges by the beginning of next year.

The conference was held in Madison largely because of the extensive work done on the subject of real estate by Prof. R. T. Ely, who is director of research in land economics for the National Association of Real Estate boards.

"The conference was a remarkable success," Paul E. Stark, chairman of the committee of education, stated, "and far-reaching results in standardization and increased efficiency in real estate business are expected."

"There is an ever-increasing demand for courses in real estate," Mr. Stark went on, "due largely to the fact that 15 states already have laws requiring real estate men to have licenses and many others are considering such laws. The Y. M. C. A. schools especially are meeting this demand."

SENIOR MEETING PLEDGES 100% TO ALUMNI SOCIETY

"The university is really what the alumni make it," said Robert N. McMynn, law '94, urging the senior class to support the Alumni association, at the first senior class meeting of the year held in Music hall yesterday.

"The Alumni association is helpful in promoting Wisconsin spirit," he said. "The association is the organization that helps us make the most of university ties."

"The real work of the university is kept alive just as much by those who quit as students and go on as alumni," McMynn declared.

The senior class at the meeting subscribed 100 per cent to the association. Membership is $2 each.

As a class memorial each member of the class agreed to contribute $3 toward the chimes fund. Two hundred dollars was set aside for a future reunion of the class of '23.

Letters will be sent out to all seniors within a week, explaining in detail the way the $5 dues will be used, Hugo L. Ruch, class treasurer, announced last night.

L. W. Hutchcroft, of the state board of health and Mrs. Hutchcroft, 633 E. Gorham st., are spending a part of this week in Milwaukee.

Once, in the dead of winter, we froze our toes while waiting to see Richard Barthelmess in "Tol'able David". The picture won a national prize. Because in the quick of spring, there is no chance of freezing toes now, we do not discourage you from standing in line to see Barthelmess in "The Bright Shawl". It also may win a national prize.

Once upon a time, long ago, Cuba was more than a national distillery. All of the Cubans were not fat brewers or sugar growers. Some of them were thin revolutionists. And it is amid these sons of the Antilles Pearl that Dick Barthelmess projects his handsome face and his dependable hair.

The Spaniards were cruel. The picture really convinces us they were naughty enough to blow up the "Maine". They tortured the Cubans. And, in particular, they discomfited one Narcissa Escobar, who, in due time, came to be a close friend of Dick. Spies, intrigue, romance and love, which often, though not always are concomitant, abound in the picture.

Joseph Hergesheimer, author scores a distinct upset when he permits our hero to lose a thrilling duel. The consequences are not serious, however, because his Castilian opponent is too chivalrous to spit upon a fallen opponent.

Dorothy Gish, Mary Astor, and a Cuban background furnish beautiful scenery. Gish is as fitful as ever, if not more so.

It is too bad that Richard Barthelmess does not make more pictures. Women love him and men admire him.

SOME TICKETS
MUSIC EVENT

A few $3 and $4 tickets still remain for the Galli-Curci concert on May 21. A thousand $1 tickets, and 1,200 $2 tickets have already been sold, but it is expected that these remaining seats will all be sold within the week. Tickets will be sent out Wednesday or Thursday of this week. The student tickets are oversold by more than 300.

Orders for seats are taken only by mail. Those desiring seats can obtain them by sending self-addressed, stamped envelopes and check to the Galli-Curci committee at the University School of Music. Checks should be made payable to G. L. Gilbert, bursar of the university.

This last season was spent by Galli-Curci in making concert tours and in working with the Metropolitan Opera company and the Chicago opera company in the following operas: Rigoletto, Lucia, Barber of Seville, Romeo and Juliet, Sonnambula, La Boheme, Traviata, and Butterfly.

She is now studying several new roles, and has just received a new collection of songs from France.

FROM GYM CONVENTION

Miss Blanch Trilling, head of the physical education department here, has recently returned from the east where she has been attending a series of conventions dealing with physical education for women.

Miss Trilling attended five conventions during her three weeks' absence; two at Chicago, and others at Washington, D. C., Wellsley, Mass., and Springfield, Mass.

At the conference at Washington, which was a meeting of the National Amateur Athletic Federation of America, called by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Miss Trilling was made chairman of a committee to work out a national organization.

This conference was primarily for the purpose of discussing the general problems with reference to athletics for girls and women.

Mrs. Mary Osterberg, 318 N. Frances st., will spend a fortnight in Barneveld with her mother, Mrs. Johannah Jones. Mrs. Osterberg will leave the city within a few days.

"Nice People"
Well Balanced
In Its Appeals

Rachel Crothers, the authoress, has succeeded in blending together in "Nice People," now playing at the Orpheum, a well balanced proportion of unified fun and the touches heart stuff that we all like. She has made the path of the young lovers anything but a smooth one but, in the end, she has shown them the way to happiness. In addition to that, she has proved to the satisfaction of everyone that there is something in the world besides being just "Nice."

There is a delightful irony to "Nice People", in fact it may be classed as a satirical comedy because it pokes fun at certain phases

U. of W. Club in Chicago
Holds Meeting Tomorrow

The University of Wisconsin club of Chicago will meet at the Palmer House tomorrow for luncheon. Senator Lowell B. Mason, of Illinois, will speak at that time on the current political problems in Springfield. Arch Richards, captain of the Wisconsin track team in 1911, will be the speaker at the luncheon next week.

of our society system as it exists today.

"Turn to the Right" to be presented at the Orpheum starting Sunday matinee by the Dorothy La Vern Players boasts of runs of a solid year in both New York and Chicago, and while it is rated as the greatest laughing success of a generation, it is not without its serious moments.

JOHN HOPKINS PROF TO SPEAK HERE THURSDAY

Dr. Ralph Van Deman Magoffin, Associate Professor of Greek and Roman history at Johns Hopkins university and president of the Archaeological Institute of America, will lecture under the auspices of the Wisconsin Society of the Institute, on "An Archaeological Year in Italy and Greece," at 4:30 o'clock Thursday, April 26, in room 165 Bascom hall.

He is particularly well qualified to speak on the subject announced, since he was fellow in the American School of Classical Studies at Rome in 1906-07 and in 1920-21 was professor in the same institution. His lecture will be open to the public. It will be illustrated by his own pictures, taken year before last when his duties as professor in the American Academy led him over almost all Italy as well as Greece for two months.

His pictures show some of the new excavations in Rome, Ostia and the Alban Hills and some of the latest wall paintings found in the excavations of Pompeii. Glimpses are seen of towns in southern Italy and of the trip to Greece, where some of the time is devoted to pictures of Athens, Delphi and Olympia.

Professor Magoffin graduated from the University of Michigan in 1902, and received his Ph. D. at Johns Hopkins, after which he continued his studies in Germany and Italy. He has written various articles and books in the general classical field and is associate editor of the American Journal of Archaeology. He has recently declined the presidency of St. John's college, Annapolis, Md., and accepted for next year the headship of the newly formed department of Classics at New York university.

BIRGE PUT ON BOARD TO SPEND MEMORIAL

The president of the University of Wisconsin is one of a commission of five men which is to dispose of a fund of $20,000 to be raised as a memorial to Henry C. Campbell, late editor of the Milwaukee Journal.

The idea of the Memorial was originated by the City club of Milwaukee. Acting on the belief that the Memorial for this man should accomplish something, they determined that it should be used for some public service, not to be decided upon until the time of expenditure. This work will be done by the appointed commission.

The Memorial provides that at present, the interest on the fund shall be given to Mrs. Campbell, every year until her death. Two subscriptions of a $1,000 each have thus far been turned in.

Henry Campbell was editor of the Milwaukee Journal for 10 years. In 1919, this paper was awarded the Pulitzer prize for its campaign for Americanism during the world war. The editor was also a life member of the Wisconsin State Historical society, and member of the American Academy of

BROWN REPRESENTS U. W. AT CONFERENCE

Maynard W. Brown '23, president of the student senate, is representing the University of Wisconsin at the second Biennial Intercollegiate Conference on Undergraduate Activities meeting at the University of Pennsylvania today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Discussions will center about four divisions of student activities, student government, athletic, publications and musical clubs, dramatics and debating. These discussions will be conducted according to questions proposed by the representatives of the college and universities represented in the conference.

About 80 representatives will be assembled at this conference from 30 American colleges and universities.

Wisconsin is one of the three Big Ten schools represented at this meet. The other two from the Mid West are Ohio state college and the University of Chicago.

During the conference, the delegates will be entertained at the Pennsylvania relay carnival and at a special performance of "Here's How", the 1923 production of the Mask and Wig club, the university dramatic club.

Square and Compass meets to Discuss Spring Formal

Square and Compass laid plans for the spring formal and discussed the proposition of securing a new house at the meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The meeting followed a dinner held at 6 o'clock. The club will give a smoker Friday evening for all members of the faculty who are Masons.

Political and Social Science.

SCOUT COURSE TRAINS CO-EDS TO BE LEADERS

Classes in scout leadership conducted daily by Miss Marian E. Trott of the Girl Scout headquarters will continue until May 8. They are held to train women in community leadership and teaching. Although they are designed especially for seniors and juniors, sophomores and freshmen may enter with special permission.

The course consists of 10 meetings of one-half hour each, and are conducted in true scout fashion. Each class is divided into patrols of eight students each, and no class has more than five nor less than two patrols. Girl scout procedures, rites and ceremonies are taught as well as plays, games and other forms of recreation.

Miss Trott, who is instructor for the institutions in the Atlantic states, is a graduate from Tufts college, Boston, and has a certificate from the Boston School of Physical Education. Last summer she was associate director of camp Andree Clark, Briar Cliff, N. Y., the national camp for girl scouts. It was given three years ago by Senator and Mrs. Clark of Montana in Memory of their daughter. The four previous summers she was a counselor in private camps.

Jefferson Pastor Will Speak at Lutheran Banquet

Among the speakers at the Calvary Lutheran Students' banquet which will be held at the women's building at 4:45 o'clock Wednesday night will be the Rev. Harold K. Moussa, Lutheran pastor, Jefferson, according to Harriet P. Wollaeger, chairman of the arrangements committee for the banquet.

George Weigle, the state chairman of the church campaign committee of the Calvary Lutheran church will tell of the progress of the campaign during the last month Weigle was formerly the president of the Madison Drug company.

Others on the program for the evening will be Miss Hilda Shultz, soprano, who will sing during the banquet, and the Rev. J. W. Bergholz, of La Crosse, will give a short address to the students.

The arrangements for the banquet will be made by the following students; Harriet P. Wollaeger, chairman, Dorothy John, Edgar A. Auerswald, Victor Bittner, and Leo Berg.

Methodist Students Plan Hike Out to Post's Farm

A moonlight hike to Post's farm will take the place of the weekly party of the student league of the Wesley Foundation Friday, April 27, at 7:45 p. m. Starting from the Wesley Foundation, the group will hike west to Post's hill, where games, and other entertainment will be provided. A 15 cent lunch will be served. All Methodist students are invited.
