PROSPECTS FOR IOWA GAME ARE ALL ABANDONED

Jones Dampens Plan With Report

Prospects for a post-season basketball game between Wisconsin and Iowa to settle the present tie for Conference championship collapsed last night when Athletic Director T. E. Jones advised a reporter from The Cardinal to "forget it."

"Such a game is out of the question," Coach Jones declared. "There is a Conference ruling definitely against it, and Big Ten athletic directors are not interested in advocating any changes in the present regulations."

The matter was brought up and reconsidered by Conference athletic directors at their meeting last Saturday morning at the Auditorium hotel in Chicago, Coach Jones said. No action was taken.

Athletics Are Educational

To have had the present prohibitory ruling abrogated or changed, it would have been necessary for the directors of athletics to have favored such action and recommend it to the Conference faculty representatives. The latter body then would have discussed the matter and probably voted.

"Conference athletics are run for education purposes, not to determine championships," Coach Jones affirmed, explaining the reason athletic directors took upon post-season games in any sport with so much disfavor.

If too much importance is attached to a championship, it will serve to relegate Conference sports to a position not above that of professional athletics, the coach concluded.

Cardinal Contest Shows Student Feeling

Final returns in The Cardinal's voting contest to determine popular sentiment on a Wisconsin-Iowa post-season basketball game indicate a total of 2,523 persons in favor of such a project and only 18 opposed.

Organized alumni in Detroit, Mich., and Stevens Point, Wis., went on record as favoring the game. E. W. Sanders, secretary of the University of Wisconsin Alumni club of Detroit, scratched his ballot "Yes" for 175 members of his organization and promised their names upon request.

Voting Widespread

The following telegram was received by The Cardinal from Stevens Point alumni yesterday: "ANXIOUS TO HAVE TIE PLAYED OFF STOP CHAMPIONSHIP PROBABLE." No indication as to number of members was given, however, and these votes have not

Fashions Song Is Featured In Uptown Store

"Fashions," the song composed by Jess Cohen '24, and Jack Cornelius '23, the words to which were published for the first time in yesterday's Cardinal, was introduced last night at Karsten's style show by the composers.

Friday and Saturday evenings this week end, Jess Cohen's orchestra will introduce the dance number at the Studio and Cornelius will sing it. This is one of several song-and-dance numbers written recently by Cohen which he plans to introduce at the week-end dances.

"Fashions," according to Miss Carolla Schaus, head of the sheet music department at Hook Brothers Piano company, is a very clever song.

"The harmony in the selection is very good, catchy and easy to remember, while the words are equally as striking," she said.

Music School Artists Offer Cycle Tonight

Musical artists from the University School of Music will present the song cycle "In a Persian Garden" at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Music hall.

This group of songs by Lisa Lehmann combines effective solo parts for soprano, contralto, tenor and baritone voices with quartette arrangements and recitative numbers. The songs are exquisite, fanciful and meditative and they will be presented by a quartet of artists unusually talented and capable.

Aagot Borge, soprano, Martha Chandler, contralto, Noel Stearn, tenor, and E. Earle Swinney, baritone, will present the concert numbers, accompanied by Leon L. Iltis, pianist.

Mr. Iltis will give two piano solos, "Magic Fire Music," from Wagner-Brassin, and Chopin's "Polonaise A Flat." He appeared in concert here earlier in the year with Cecil Burleigh, violinist, and was received with enthusiastic approval.

COACHES LAUD "MELTING POT"

Menorah Play Has Vital National Plot of Interest

That the "Melting Pot" which will be presented at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop concert room by the Menorah society is destined to hold the interest of everyone throughout its tense and interesting action, was the assertion of the coaches, Prof. R. W. West and Harriet Lewis '23, after the dress rehearsal last night.

The story of the "Melting Pot" centers around David Quixano, a talented young violinist, who has fled from Russia from the massacres of the Black Hundreds, to America, a land in which he had a great faith as the melting pot of all races and creeds, where superstition and suspicions disappeared in a vast crucible. His great love for the land of his adoption culminates in his American symphony which expresses his visions and dreams.

The leading roles are carried by Yvette Goldberg '24, as Vera' and Harry Katowitz '24, as David, while the supporting cast includes Benjamin Lieberman '24 as Herr Papelmeister; Norman Leshin '23, Quincy Davenport; Harriet Lewis '23, Kathleen O'Reilly; William Lipman '25, Mendel Quixano; Nathaniel Breslauer '23, Baron Revendal; Sara Abrams '24, Baroness Ravenal; and Gertrude Kasdin '24, Frau Quixano.

Prize Essay Contest Won For 2nd Time By Warren

For the second time, Browning Warren '23, has won the annual Alpha Zeta Essay contest which is held by the fraternity of Alpha Zeta for the purposes of promoting interest in current agricultural problems among agricultural students.

Warren's essay was written on the subject, "How a Farmer Can Make More Money in 1923." Second and third honors were given to Hugh Stiles '23 and Crawford Ellis '25, respectively. Stiles discussed the subject, "How Research helps Agriculture." A Plan for the Merchandising Wisconsin Dairy Products to Best Advantage was the theme of Crawford's article.

The judges of the essay contest were Prof. K. L. Hatch, Prof. A. W. Hopkins and Prof. G. B. Morimer.

As a result of winning the contest, Browning Warren wins the gold charm awarded by the fraternity of Alpha Zeta to the writer of the best essay.

KIKMI CAST IS TO BROADCAST SONGS TONIGHT

Haresfoot songs and instrumental numbers will be broadcasted tonight from station WHA in Sterling hall by members of the cast of "Kikmi" which will go on tour during the spring vacation.

The songs will be sent out at a wave length of 360 meters. It is expected by Malcolm P. Hanson, director of the station, that the concert will be heard for many miles and that reports will come back from as far as the coast.

The program of the Haresfoot club will start at 10 o'clock and will last for an hour. In addition to songs sung by the leads in the show, a jazz orchestra which in the play is known as "the ship's orchestra" will play several numbers. This orchestra is under the leadership of David Chudnow '25.

Those who will sing songs over the radiophones are Porter F. Butts '24, Thomas Morony '25, Hubert F. Townsend '23, Joel Swenson '23, Harold C. Buell '23, Arthur Platten '23 and T. Faxton Hall '23.

Octopus Sales Reach 1,400 Mark First Day on Hill

About 1400 copies of the Octopus were sold on the hill yesterday. This is about the same number as is usually sold on the hill the first day of the sale. The largest sales were made in Main hall and Engineering building. Those wanting copies may now buy them at the drug stores.

Nakoma Bus Operates Throughout Sunday Storm

The Cardinal of March 20 printed that the Nakoma bus service was suspended temporarily on Monday because of the storm Sunday. The bus operated by the Paul E. Stark company was run according to schedule throughout the storm, W. H. Hintzman announces.

SUPERIOR NOSED OUT OF VICTORY BY EAU CLAIRE

Championship Tourney Hard Fought

TODAY'S GAMES

Menomonie vs. Antigo at 10 a.m.
New Richmond vs. Oshkosh at 11 a.m.
Wisconsin High vs. Two Rivers at 3 p.m.
Eau Claire vs. Stevens Point at 4 p.m.
Appleton vs. Cuba City at 5 p.m.
Superior vs. Janesville at 6 p.m.
Kenosha vs. La Crosse at 7 p.m.
Winners, this morning's games at 8 p.m.

In the closest and most exciting game of the opening session of the Wisconsin championship basketball tournament, Eau Claire high school squeezed out a 28 to 26 victory over Superior Central yesterday afternoon.

The game was in doubt until the last seconds of play, each team taking its turn in the lead, and not until a long shot by McCreary failed and the final gun sounded did Eau Claire win the contest.

High school players of college calibre competed against each other. The two teams were evenly matched and see-sawed back and forth, with McCreary, Superior player, the best forward of the session, finding competition in McKinney, Eau Claire guard, for high point supremacy. Superior lead at the end of the first half by a score of 14 to 13.

Played Excellent Floor Game
McCreary spells Superior, if his playing yesterday was any criterion of his regular ability. The little forward netted six field goals and eight free throws out of eight attempts. McKinney dropped in three baskets and 10 out of 14 free throws. His teammate, King also accounted for a trio of field goals. McNab and Jacobinas, guard, helped to keep the Superior quintet in the running.

Both teams played an excellent floor game. Carroll and Gelinean were responsible for the baskets which put Eau Claire ahead, and these, with McKinney's free throws, enabled Eau Claire to eke out its slim margin of victory.

Eliminates Superior
Superior took a small lead at the beginning of the game. The Eau Claire combination soon closed up the gap and were on the heels of its opponents at half-time. The second half saw the two teams tied

Snow Battle Proves Trifle Hard on Law

Spirit ran high on both sides of the campus yesterday when the Engineering and the Law schools clashed in a snowball battle at 9:50 o'clock in one of the most spectacular engagements in university history.

The outnumbered lawyers put up a game fight but were forced to retreat slowly at the rapid onslaught of the plumbers. After the first 10 minutes of battle the engineers overran the picket line at which infringement of the rules of the challenge, the lawyers produced a fire hose. The nozzle, however, is now on exhibition in the Engineering building.

There were no severe casualties resulting from the fray, but one or two received black eyes from the well-directed missiles. Two of the Law building windows were broken.

The spectators who lined the walks were the judges. Their only pay for their services, however, was a late mark for 10 o'clock classes.

STUDENT MAG IS ON MARKET

Country-wide Publication Has Correspondent at Wisconsin

The initial issue of the American Student magazine published by the American Student company at Buffalo, N. Y. appears on the market this month.

The object of the magazine is to seek to forge a chain of news interest which will link together the parent and the teacher; the student, the school and the home. It does not seek to compete with any educational journal nor with any other magazine. It is a combination of a newspaper and a magazine offered as a news-journal.

Elizabeth Guilfoile '24, who is a student in the journalism school is acting as the correspondent for the University of Wisconsin. One of the special articles in this month's issue was an article on Minnesota gridiron banquet by the managing editor of the Minnesota Daily, George C. Dershak.

The magazine consists of articles on the various high schools and colleges in the country. It gives a brief account of athletic articles written by the staff correspondents, departments for the journalist and for the parents.

The entire magazine is devoted to the happenings, the conditions, and the general news of many schools in the country and is an excellent means to obtain knowledge about what is going on in the country's schools.

TO GIVE HOLY WEEK TALK IN MUSIC HALL

Lenten services will be conducted daily during Holy Week for five days beginning Monday in Music Hall from 12:45 to 1:15 o'clock. The services are under the auspices of the Campus Religious council.

Speakers will be the Rev. J. Sherman Wallace, local Baptist minister, Monday; the Rev. H. H. Lumpkin, Episcopal minister, Tuesday; the Rev. Jesse Saries, Congregational student pastor, Wednesday; John L. Gillin, professor of sociology, Thursday; the Rev. A. J. Soldan, Lutheran minister, Friday.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Lenten services consists of the Rev. J. P. Gleason, Baptist student pastor, chairman, Walter Couto '24, Christopher Hendra '23, Charles Rawson '23, Clarence Andree and Wibur Wittenburg '24.

Phi Delta Phi to Sell Lake Street House Soon

Phi Delta Phi fraternity through a committee composed of Michael Daley '23, Floyd Moni '24, and Edward Hooker '25, has made arrangements for the sale of their house at 616 North Lake street. Mr. J. H. Fraser of Canada is the prospective owner. The transaction is being handled by the H. H. Koss real estate firm in the Gay building.

Mr. Fraser, who expects to take possession of the house on June 15, plans to open a men's rooming house, commencing at the time of the opening of the summer session. It is said that he has had previous experience in conducting such establishments and is well qualified for that kind of work.

The fraternity is at present looking for a house that will suit their purposes.

American Legion to Hold Meeting For Service Men

A get-together meeting for service men will be held in the Engineering building at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The meeting will be held in the interest of the American Legion.

It is to be a joint meeting of the City post and the University post. The Legion hopes that those who are not members will join.

The principal speaker will be Ryan Duffy, State Commander of the American Legion and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. Prof. R. S. Owen, of the University post, will preside. Mr. Garner, of the City post, will open the meeting. Other speakers will be Doctor McCarthy, of the Richmond Center district and Doctor Kitt, who has charge of the membership drive.

Mr. Duffy will broadcast a lecture by radio before the meeting begins.

Cut in Auxiliary Service

Disrupts Mail Delivery

The two additional mail carriers allowed the Madison post office on February 1 have been ordered withdrawn, and because of this, a redistricting of the city has been necessary. This has caused a disruption in the mail delivery, and most of the parts of the city are now having only one delivery a day.

The appropriation for auxiliary service has been exhausted for the fiscal year, and because of this, the carriers now employed are obliged to have larger routes. This, however, is only temporary, and postmaster Devine promises that two mail deliveries will soon be in order.

There has been an abnormal amount of mail since the beginning of the year, and this, together with the fact that since February 22 the mail carriers have been forbidden to make overtime deliveries, is responsible for the retarded service.

"We ask the public to have patience for a time," said Mr. Devine. "We will have everything adjusted within a short time."

Professors Flunk Test

Given By Senior Class

Would you like to quiz the professors?

The students of the senior class of a young women's educational institution at New Orleans submitted an "intelligence test" to the faculty last Friday. The test on every day subjects yielded some amazing facts—

Francis Scott Key was a woman who wrote poems; Al Johnson is a wrestling champion; brilliantine is a preparation "that young ladies put in their eyes to make them shine"; Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen are in the transfer business in New Orleans; Grover Cleveland Bergdol was both a war hero and a Democratic statesman.—These are some of the facts submitted by this faculty.

FELLOWSHIP IS WON BY GRAD

Stanley McCandless Awarded Sheldon Honor at Harvard

Stanley R. McCandless, graduate of the university with the class of 1920, recently was awarded the

STANLEY R. MC CANDLESS

Sheldon Fellowship at Harvard, where he is finishing his third year of graduate work in architecture.

The Fellowship, a prize of $1,200 for study and travel abroad, was won by a unique combination of his architecture and stage design in which field he will do most of his work abroad at the Ecole de Beaux Arts in Paris.

It was during his years at Wisconsin that McCandless received his inspiration, and as his thesis he constructed a model stage with many modern innovations in lighting and production. The stage is still being used by Prof. W. H. Varum in his Manual Arts courses, and may be inspected in the machine shops where it now is.

While at Harvard McCandless spent a large part of his time in the 47 Workshop under Professor Baker as assistant production manager of the workshop plays, and in this way has continued his study in both fields.

At Wisconsin McCandless was a member of Edwin Booth, Arts and Crafts club and the Varsity Track team. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. McCandless, Davenport, Iowa.

Refreshments will be served which will be in keeping with the whole idea of the April Fool's celebration. The charge will be 25 cents.

The committee in charge of this party is Janet Cumming '24, Mabel Jobse '24 and Mary Aspinwall '24.

APRIL FOOL WILL BE OBSERVED BY WOMEN

An April Fool's party—with all of the old trappings and many new ones rigged up for the occasion—that's what Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, is going to give Saturday afternoon, March 31 in Lathrop parlors to honor the time honored holiday.

The decorations will give the room a weird appearance which will be something decidedly new.

An orchestra will be there for dancing and there will be tables for bridge and 500. During the afternoon a program will be given by junior women consisting of a dancing solo by Josephine Jung '24, a reading by Arlene Klug '24, and a whistling selection by Janice Boardman '24.

Refreshments will be served which will be in keeping with the whole idea of the April Fool's celebration. The charge will be 25 cents.

Membership Campaign For American Legion to Close

An opening meeting of the University post of the American Legion in combination with the Wm. B. Cairns post of Madison will wind up the campus Legion membership campaign at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Engineering auditorium.

The meeting is to be purely social, and a program of talks and music has been arranged. The chief speaker of the evening will be State Commander F. Ryan Duffey.

Music will be furnished by Kalbs orchestra, and Prof. P. W. Dykema of the music school will lead group singing.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

WISCONSIN HIGH CAPTURES FIRST TOURNEY GAME

Two Rivers Defeats Cuba City

University High school, of Madison, won the opening game of the state basketball tournament when it defeated the strong Appleton team 26 to 21, in the initial contest yesterday afternoon.

The Badger preps had a difficult time making the grade. They were in the lead by a 14 to 9 count at the conclusion of the first period, but Appleton steamed up through the efforts of Bries, guard, and kept close behind the victors.

Holzworth, big Madison center, was high scorer for his team with five goals from the court. His floor work was loose and many of his throws for the net were erratic, however. "Pink" Stehr and Otis each gathered a pair of baskets.

Bries, Appleton, guard, was individual star of the contest. He tossed three baskets after coming up from his guard position and was also responsible for five free throws. Mills, right forward, shot two field goals.

A large crowd of Wisconsin High school rooters occupied a section of the bleachers and watched Coach Ira Davis' squad fight to a victory.

Nelson, Madison forward, displayed some good floor work. He was held to a single basket, but often fed the ball to his mates who counted.

By virtue of its win, University high school plays Two Rivers at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Box score of the University High-Appleton game follows:

Two Rivers Defeats Cuba City

Displaying marked superiority over its opponents, Two Rivers defeated the Cuba City basketball team yesterday afternoon. The final score was 26 to 12, the Two Rivers team marking up most of its points in the second half.

Although the game was slow, it was remarkable for the excellent playing of Hendrickson, left forward, and Martell, center. Both the boys handled the ball well and were accurate shots at the net.

Two Rivers was slow in starting and held a one-point lead at half-time, with the score 9 to 8. Hendrickson found the basket in the next period and chalked up most of his six baskets. He and Martell picked up many of their points by following shots which had failed.

Kuehl, Two Rivers guard, held his opposing forwards outside the dangerous mark. They were forced to take many long shots. Kuehl made his first basket of the season when he tossed in a long one during the second half.

Nankival was high individual scorer for the Cuba City team. Three baskets were his portion. Winn, center, had a large number of long tries for the board, but he was unable to connect. Peacock connected for a pair of goals.

Sophomores Are to Meet Seniors in Baseball Bout

The sophomores will meet the seniors in the second round of the women's interclass indoor-baseball tournament which is to be played off at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon in the Lathrop gym.

This is the first encounter for both teams, as the only other contest in the regular tournament was between the juniors and the frosh Tuesday afternoon when the juniors came out on top with a score of 30 to 15.

The seniors will play with a team which does not have the required number because of the small number of women who came out for the sport.

LA CROSSE IS IN TITLE RACE

Runs Up Big Score Over Weak Rio Five Yesterday at Gym

La Crosse high school stepped into the limelight and announced itself a serious contender for the state title last night when the Black and White men stepped on Rio by a 24 to 9 score.

The La Crosse team found little trouble in running up a large score at the beginning of a game and almost an entire team of substitutes played the last half of the game to allow the regulars to rest for further competition. The score at the end of the first period was 15 to 2 in favor of La Crosse.

The La Crosse five had a fearful offence which the Rio men could not stop. Harget, playing at forward, played a brilliant game on the floor and was responsible for many of the points garnered by his mates when he passed rather than take the chance himself.

The Rio squad was stronger than the score indicates, but their strength lay mainly in the skill of two men rather than a united team. Captain Cleberg played a good floor game and Price, at center, worked well.

The box score follows:

LA CROSSE	F.G.	F.T.	F.
Harget, R. F.	2	1	1

RIVAL COACHES MATCH THEIR RUNNERS TODAY

Rivalry over the respective ability of their disciples is keen between Mead Burke and George Berg on the eve of their fourth inter-track class meet of the year. Burke and Berg, along with their other duties have undertaken to teach the art of track to scores of frosh enrolled in these classes, and having trained their respective teams, they are not content unless their athletes are in competition.

Three previous meets, which resulted in three consecutive victories for the cohorts of Burke, have not been sufficient to disprove Berg's theory that he has a better team—all of which brings about the last meet of the indoor season this afternoon in the annex.

Both Burke and Berg are confident of a victory and the men are eager to go.

STEVENS POINT QUINTET WALKS ON JANEVILLE

Kenosha Squeezes Out Shawno

The Stevens Point basketball five had little difficulty in trouncing the Janesville aggregation last night in a game of the first round of the tournament by a 22 to 10 score.

The only time that Janesville had a chance was during the second quarter when the down-staters opened up for several field goals. The score at the end of the first period was 14 to 8 with Stevens Point in the lead.

Razner, flashy Stevens Point forward, was the star of the game with four field goals to his credit. Kremer worked well at guard until he was removed from the game after suffering the referee's displeasure four times.

Dawson of the Janesville team was easily the leader of the squad. His floor work was excellent and time and again he succeeded in baffling the heavy Stevens Point guards with his speedy pivots.

Individual Honors For Women in Bowling Given

Individual honors in bowling for women who successfully fulfill certain requirements which will count towards the all-year class championship for their class, have been announced by the physical education department.

Class one, which gives one point towards the class score, necessitates three scores over 170; class two, giving two-thirds of a point, necessitates three scores over 145, and the third class which gives one-third of a point takes three scores over 130.

The interclass bowling tournament is now going on.

BASKET COACH SAYS NOTHING

Meanwell is Silent on Rumor Concerning Future Plans

Neither denying or affirming the rumor that he is to join the ranks of Minnesota athletic coaches, Walter E. Meanwell took a silent stand yesterday.

What appears to another of the unfounded rumor flurries has it that the Badger mentor is considering taking a position as basketball coach at Minnesota.

"I have talked to no one except Mr. Jones, Athletic Director, of my future plans" said Dr. Meanwell yesterday. "And I do not intend to make any statement until after I make the matter up with the athletic department."

The Badger coach has just completed highly successful season by turning out a championship team from a bunch of raw recruits and it is probable that his services are much in demand.

Substitutions: Janesville, Austin for Leary. Stevens Point, Herrick for Razner, Popple for Broble, Swan for Kremer.

The game almost resulted in a riot during the last half minute left to play when the Shawano team was but one point behind and were fighting to overcome the lead. The Kenosha-ites held the ball successfully and squeezed through for a win.

The box score follows:

POST SEASON GAMES AND COLLEGE ATHLETICS

The plan for a post season basketball game to play off the championship tie between Wisconsin and Iowa has been quashed,—and definitely so. But that doesn't end the fight.

It was anticipated that the Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives in their meetings last week end would ignore the requests for a post season game. And they did. It takes some time to swing the faculty bodies of ten institutions away from views they have insisted upon since way back in the dark ages of college athletics. Without the consent of their faculty bodies, the representatives can not act.

But a start has been made toward a greater end. While the present unsatisfactory tie was the prime factor prompting The Cardinal and thousands of students and alumni to cry out for a post season game, The Cardinal and those thousands have not been so much interested in seeing this single tie played off as in seeing the Conference policy opened to question and changed for all time. Conference rulings are not infallible.

Changes in the rules should be made to allow for changing conditions and tendencies. The rules of 1913 do not necessarily hold for 1923 and it is indeed regrettable that the deciding faculty bodies will not remain alive to the fact.

The Conference ruling states that post season games in basketball are undesirable but offers no reason why. The Cardinal was assured before the last meeting of the Conference directors that the matter would be brought up with view to presenting the public with an explanation of the whys of the undesirability. That explanation has not been forthcoming.

It would not be far wrong, however, to surmise that the objection is a part of the same general one that facilities have persisted on for years past, namely, that a post season game would place too much stress on athletic activity in the scholastic scheme of things.

But why not place stress on college athletic activity?

The athletic life of a nation is a vital thing. It cannot be dispensed with. In the nation's athletic life there are two centralizing forces—school athletics and professional athletics.

The same professors who would minimize college sport activity are the ones who damn professional athletics as not being a healthy factor in our national life. But both cannot be destroyed or minimized. One will dominate and if commercial sports are not desirable, then certainly the only alternative to satisfy the nation's need for a central athletic structure lies in the school and college. By providing the country with a wholesome, invigorating, and interesting athletic structure, the colleges of the country would be rendering a service as great as providing a system for research and intellectual progress.

Most professors admire the Greek. They seek to interpret the Greek mind to America. They know that the games of Greece served a high and important purpose in Greek life. It has been said that in athletics the Greek city states found about the only cohesion they had as Greeks and their devotion to sports made the games the high lights of such life as the Greeks had in common. Professors know that, but out of the cloisters of the unprogressive and too often the controlling one comes the protest against American youth engaging in athletics with anything like the fervor of the Greeks.

They fear the big, dramatic qualities of sport,—exactly what the Greek sought for. They dislike the spirited competition and show of big games, championships, post season activities. They want to reduce the crowds and reduce interest until sports are only a casual phase of university life.

The tendency of controlling faculties should be to allow for the markedly increasing interest in sports. It would not place college athletics in a professional light but overshadow the professional system extant now within entirely whole-some one.

One way of allowing an outlet for sport interest is to allow for playing off ties in sports where it is possible as in basketball. A championship game furnishes the dramatic quality in sport so much sought after by the Greek. People do not go to basketball games to be educated, they go to see a game won. And it's part of the fun, part of the sport to see ties played off.

Besides, a university can win a championship and retain its scholastic dignity. The two are not mutually exclusive.

MANHOOD IN FLOWER

Within the next few days, Judge A. O. Stolen of the juvenile court will place about twenty boys under the guardianship of members of the University Y. M. C. A.

The students will act big brothers to these boys who in some cases have a bad start, and who in other cases have a clean record but live in an environment which does not permit the training conducive to good citizenship.

The idea is not a new one. It has worked successfully for the past few years. Perhaps its results will never figure in a dollar-and-cents reduction on the state budget, yet for effectiveness it seems to eclipse all the vague treaties we have ever read on the brotherhood of mankind.

The big brother again will step into the shoes of his younger days and, confronted by the same problems which he once solved, he will solve them all over again for his friend whose rapidly forming ideas about things need some revisions and annotations.

He will take his protege to some of the athletic events for the purpose of instilling true sportsmanship and will give him instruction in personal conduct, courtesy, the obligations of citizenship, and in Christianity.

The benefits derived from the companionship will be mutual. The student may forget the experience, but the boy never.

Those who have received the benefits of an education furnished by the state can reciprocate in no better way than by helping to set aright any misconceptions or by strengthening any ideals of manhood which her adolescent citizens may have, even though the direct effects of their efforts reach only a handful.

Editors Say

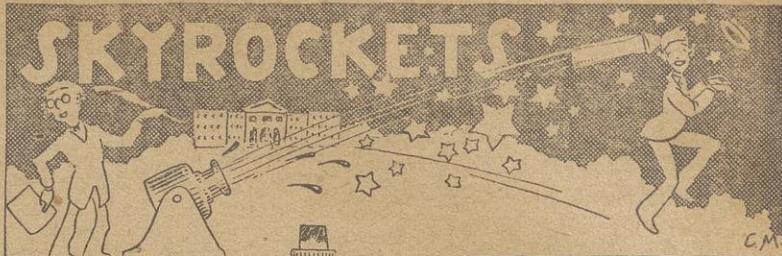

(Ohio State Lantern)

The proposal to have monthly or fortnightly interfraternity dinners, as discussed by Men's Panhellenic council, is a good thing, although we do not think that it is necessary on the grounds of promoting a more friendly spirit and closer cooperation.

We know of no school where there is better feeling among the fraternities than at Ohio State. The Greek-letter groups have no bitter spirit in their rivalry, which lasts only during the short rushing season in the autumn. That rivalry is a friendly one, in which the losers good-naturedly vow to "get it back a you next time."

The dinners, however, would serve the excellent purpose of getting the fraternity men better acquainted with each other. Although there is no antagonism among the organizations, there is always that tendency of becoming narrow and knowing but a small percentage of the men in school. It is one of the disadvantages of the fraternity system which could be alleviated somewhat if these dinners were adopted by any considerable number of the fraternities.

Ohio State is fortunate in the fine type of interfraternity feeling here, as well as the lack of any friction between the fraternity men and the non-fraternity men. The day of bitter fights among the fraternities, as well as between fraternity men and non-fraternity men, is a thing of the past here, which is distinctly to the credit of the student body. The interfraternity dinners will be another step in the closer relation of the men of the different groups.

ing initiation week—We suppose she is saving it up to have a matress made.

Eugene O'Brien told us when we were out to dinner with him, that he had invitations to dinner from all the fraternities and sororities on the campus, when he was in town the other night. The Pi Phis almost got him due to a well prepared written invitation, but two male Greeks with good spirits galore got a little farther than the rest of the crowd. He also told us that he took a bath that night instead of dining out.

THE CURIOUS CUB

Today's question—"What is the first thing you do at a sorority party?"
Jerry Koch—"The first thing I do is wish I was home."
Bob Talley—"I just stand around and look dumb like the rest of the crowd."
Dick Roberts—"I look around for a good place to hide my bottle until intermission."
Fran Morris—"I start lying like everybody else. I tell the chaperone that I'm glad to meet her and each girl I dance with that I'm having a wonderful time."

Frosh—"I won't go out for the crew, there is too much graft connected with it."

Dad Vail—"What d'ye mean graft?"

Frosh—"Well, I heard someone say that all you needed to make the crew was a strong pull."

The closing line,

I'll blush when I quote it,

And apologize to the guy that wrote it.

But honest I'm—

The Progress of The Union

John A. Dollard '22, assistant to Prof. E. A. Gardner in the Memorial Union campaign, will follow the progress of the last lap of the Memorial Union drive and crystallize the action of the building organization in a series of articles printed here for the information of the thousands of students and alumni interested in the consummation of the project. The first statement of the Union building situation follows.

By JOHN A. DOLLARD

What is being done on the Memorial Union? Students are asking this question justly and desirably so,—and nothing is more desired by the executive committee than that they should know. The occasional announcements of successful campaigns do not give an adequate picture of the several lines along which progress is being made, and it is the purpose of these discussions to do exactly that.

About the plans: They are now in the hands of two architects, the state architect, Mr. Peabody, and a consulting architect from Milwaukee who is known as one of the best in the Northwest, Mr. Eschweiler. The Union building is a complete problem involving a great many factors, all of which the architects must take into consideration. It must achieve the proper balance of space for a multitude of activities; it must serve to the fullest extent a variety of general and specific interests, such as the dramatic societies, who are especially interested in the theater, the general student body and alumni, to whom the club facilities are most significant, and the builders of the university (all of us) who see that the Union must serve the interests of growing student body which will make increased and specific demands upon it.

Alumni and students are continually raising new questions of space and arrangements which sometimes demand a change in plans. At the present moment preliminary plans are practically complete in the hands of the architects. They shortly will be turned over to the building committee, headed by the university business manager, Mr.

Philips, and from him they will be reported to the Memorial Union Building committee, headed by Fred Clausen of Horican. These plans will provide a basis for starting work on the new building.

The Memorial Union building committee is composed of as active, hard-headed and energetic a group of business men as there are in the state of Wisconsin. They are not asleep. They demand results and get them, but they realize that this Union is to be built only once, and that once must be right, or as right as it can be made with our present vision. No one is more anxious than this same committee to see the Union a working part of the life of the school, and no one more determined that this shall be accomplished at the earliest moment possible.

We are going to have our Union, and have it as quickly as it is possible to get the money together and put it up. But all this takes time, and a continued insistence on the part of those who have caught the idea, that the job shall be done. More next time.

FORMER CHIEF MARSHAL DIES

John F. Lamont Succumbs to Operation at Age of 55

John F. Lamont, 55, former chief deputy United States marshal here, died at a local hospital at 11 o'clock Tuesday night following an operation for gallstones and appendicitis Saturday morning. He had been reported recovering until a few hours before his death. He resided at 112 S. Mills st.

For six years Mr. Lamont held the position of chief deputy marshal. He took office on Aug. 1, 1915 and continued in that capacity until succeeded by Frank W. Heil, Platteville, on June 1, 1921.

He leaves his wife, Jessie, and four children, Alexander, James M., Marion and Kathleen. Also surviving him are five brothers, W. D. Lamont, Marengo; Charles A. and Earl, Unity; Angus E., Colby; and Ronald M., Cheyenne, Wyo. Two sisters, Mrs. T. H. Patterson, Field, and Mrs. D. E. Sullivan, Fond du Lac are now living, while the other sister, Mrs. Effie Wicker, Parish, died two years ago.

A short prayer service for the deceased will be held tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock at Frautsch's undertaking parlors, before the remains are taken by train to Colby, the former residence of the Lamonts.

Masonic funeral rites will be held at Colby for Mr. Lamont Friday afternoon, probably at 2:30.

SENATE WOULD BAR ALL CHILD ACTORS UNDER 17

The barring of child actors from Wisconsin theaters was favored by the state senate yesterday when it engrossed the Titus bill to prohibit appearance of any child under 17 years of age from the stage, unless with a special permit from the industrial commission.

Senator W. A. Titus, Fond du Lac, defining his bill, told how children as young as three years, were appearing in acts in Wisconsin show houses that often were unwholesome.

He presented data prepared by the industrial commission to show the extent to which young children were exploited on the stage. His bill would prohibit any child under 14 years of age from appearing in a public exhibition.

DISCUSS RUHR IN PARIS MEET

Labor And Socialist Group Favor League Or U. S. Intervention

PARIS — A definite move by labor and socialist parliamentary groups to request the British, French, Belgian and Italian governments to place the Ruhr situation in the hands of the League of Nations was foreshadowed yesterday following a conference of delegates representing these political factions in the several legislative bodies.

Spokesmen of the British laborites and the French, Italian and Belgian Socialists, deciding that a settlement of the controversy could only be effected "through American intervention or a decision of the League of Nations," came to the conclusion that the question of League assistance should be brought up in the British house of Commons and in the chambers of the other governments.

J. Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain; M. Vanderveld of Belgium; Signor Modigliani, of Italy, and Paul Boncour of France, were delegated to carry out the wishes of the conference.

NEW YORK — A branch of the Fascisti of Italy, called the Fascisti of North America, was founded in this country two years ago and now has 20,000 members in branches in many of the leading cities of the United States and Canada, the New York Herald says today.

Temporarily the organization in this hemisphere is said to be under the direction of J. Menicucci, who acts as political secretary. Officers of the New York office of the American organization are to be elected at a meeting here Saturday night.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT WAR ON TAX, BELIEF

Little credence is given to a report in the Milwaukee Sentinel yesterday that Gov. Blaine would support a bill for a one man tax commission as a method of eliminating Charles D. Rosa from the commission.

This story is believed to be a pure invention on the part of The Sentinel correspondent.

Gov. J. J. Blaine, it is held, would be unable to get such a bill through the assembly. Mr. Rosa has a big following in the lower house.

"Any such move on the part of the governor would be foolish," said a prominent progressive today. "The governor might get rid of Rosa but he might make a new progressive candidate for governor."

Mrs. Fredericka Pollard, 1114 Van Buren street, who was severely burned at her home Monday morning, is reported out of danger at St. Mary's hospital today.

Our Hitherto Unprinted Photographs

It was several days after the picnic that we all gathered at the home of Coe Dack. He had taken some rare snaps of the outing and we were all looking forward to the pictures of the day's fun.

"I just received these from the Mangle Photo Shop," Coe said. He opened up the envelope and drew out only negatives, and these looked as if they were in the last stages of small-pox—ruined.

"I used to take my films to the Photoart house," said Coe, "but I thought for a change I'd take them to Mangle."

"It certainly was a change, we all agreed."

At this we were all forced to laugh, despite our disappointment. Even Coe laughed, although, in a way, the joke was on him.

25 Faculty Members Will Speak at Closing Exercises

Some 25 members of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin are available this year as speakers at high school commencement exercises in Wisconsin cities, according to lists prepared by R. B. Duncan, chief of the Extension division bureau of instruction by lectures.

Last year, members of the faculty of the state university gave commencement exercises in 118 Badger cities and towns. The list for this year includes the follows speakers:

Prof. Arthur Beatty, English department, "Education and the New World;" Prof. Frank L. Clapp, School of Education, "Accomplishment and Character," and "America and Her Youth;" Dr. J. C. Elsom, "The Out-of-Doors," and "The Broader Education;" E. M. Fisher, commerce, "The Heroic in the Commonplace;" Prof. J. G. Fowlkes, School of Education, "The Prime Factor for Successful Living," and "Individual Responsibility to Civic Prosperity."

Prof. J. L. Gillin, sociology department, "Social Waste and Wealth," and "The Price of Success;" Prof. S. W. Gilman, commerce, "Hard Jobs," "What Is Back of Personality," and "The Winning Quality;" Prof. Harry Glicksman, English department, "Taking Stock," "The Fork in the Road," "The Mystery of Personality," and "Things Seen and Unseen."

Prof. S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, "Practical Education;" Prof. A. B. Hall, political science department, "Preparedness of Life," and "Leadership and Democracy;" Prof. J. A. James, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, "An Education With a Clutch;" Prof. Thomas Lloyd Jones, chairman of the committee on high school relations, "A Square Deal in Education."

Prof. J. H. Kolb, agricultural economics, "The New Challenge of Town and Country," and "Social Highways and By-Ways;" Prof. Sterling A. Leonard, English department, "Education and Extinction;" Prof. H. L. Miller, principal of Wisconsin high school, "The Building of a New Type of Individual Through Education," "Going to School for Democracy," and "The High School and the Community," and "Initiative and Authority."

Prof. J. M. O'Neill, speech department, "The Meaning of Commencement;" Prof. M. V. O'Shea, School of Education, "As a Man Thinks So Is He," "Seeing and Believing," and "Making the Most of Life;" Dr. J. W. Powell, Milwaukee Extension division, "The Battle of Life," "Bread and Lillies," and "The Challenge of the Future."

Dr. E. A. Ross, sociology department, "The Changing Social Position of Women," "The Roots of the Social Question," and "What Happened in Russia;" Prof. C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty, "Preparing to Play the Game;" Prof. Graham H. Stuart, political science department, "The Obligation of American Citizenship," and "America and the New Europe."

Prof. E. M. Tiffany, agricultural education, "The Thinking of the Worker;" Prof. George Wagner, zoology department, "A Student Citizen;" Prof. A. T. Weaver, speech department, "The House We Build," "Looking Ahead," and Prof. R. H. Whitbeck, geography department, "The Things That Pay."

$14,000 Bill Estimated In '23 Hat Sale

Deathblow to Cap Innovation is Heralded By Local Dealers

"$14,000 will be spent for hats by men students this spring.

"And this unprecedented total represents only student hats bought here in Madison," is the prediction of a leading hatter on the square who is looking forward to the greatest hat season in history.

There will be a reduction of 10 to 20 per cent in the price of men's hats this spring, while the styles will be smarter and the materials better than ever.

Knockdown Hat Is Here

Hats and caps will both be popular this year, although hats are due for the greatest popularity.

Students and all college boys in the past have liked caps because of the terrific wear they could stand, but this year an innovation in hats will be a deathblow to the cap enthusiasts, the merchants report.

A soft collapsible knockdown hat that will not lose its shape no matter what kind of treatment it receives is the big feature of this season.

As to the kinds and materials, soft smooth felts, fur felts and knock-about sports, will make a great race among students. The tendency is toward lighter hats this spring. The days of heavy velours for spring is gone.

Novelties in color blendings has been the aim of manufacturers for this spring, and how well they have succeeded is amply shown in the displays. Soft coloring predominates. Light tans, grays and greens compose one class, and for those who desire something not so plain, mixtures of various shades of tans and grays will surely appeal.

How would a derby, wing collar, and cane combination be received in front of Bascom hall some afternoon this spring? There is a chance for distinction for someone who has enough nerve to try it.

It's quite a craze among the young set in the cities, and local merchants although knowing the originalities of students carry the outfit in stock, but make no predictions.

U. W. NOT AFFECTION BY HOOVER'S RADIO CONVO

The radio station of the university will not seriously be affected by the results of the meeting called by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover at Washington, D. C., according to Malcom P. Hanson in charge of the local station. A change from 600-800 meters to 1000-1200 meters of the various receiving sets throughout the state is possible, however, he declared.

Had the Kellogg-White bill providing for wave length regulation passed congress, there would be no need for the present meeting now in session. The bill will be brought before congress next fall, and there is not much doubt but that it will pass.

The present law regulating radio work was passed in 1912 to meet the army and navy requirements which are wholly inadequate since private activity of the radio fad began.

Prof. C. M. Jansky Jr. of the College of Electrical Engineering of the University of Minnesota and formerly of the Wisconsin faculty is representative of both universities at the conference. Nineteen representatives from all sections of the country will attend which is more than the number that attended last year.

"THE SHRIEK OF ARABY"
Featuring Ben Turpin.
Presented at the Strand.
Directed by Mack Sennett.
Released through Associated First National Pictures.

By CHATTY

If you are one of those people who would plow through even worse slush than that which swamped the streets of Madison to see Ben Turpin in any sort of a picture just because you are fascinated with his roving optics and his handsome visage, and if you are one of those people who thought Valentino's "Sheik" more or less of a farce and would like to see the thing burlesqued in any manner whatsoever, a-and—if you are one of those people who like to go to any picture show at the Strand just because the aforesaid Strand is really a beautiful theater—if you are one of these people, we say, then you will like Ben Turpin in "The Shriek of Araby."

Now, if you know your mind, you should be perfectly able to judge whether or not you will want to see this much advertised film.

Somebody—we have forgotten just who it was—said recently that nowadays nothing is great until it is burlesqued or parodied. But we can't quite see how any parody or burlesque would help the original "Sheik" to greatness, and as for the man who played the title roll—well, a certain Chicago cabaret, along with several other things, is helping him to fame—or a certain kind of fame.

"The Shriek of Araby"

In one or two places during "The Shriek of Araby" we found ourselves grasping the arms of our seat (much to the annoyance of our next-door neighbor)—and holding our breath. We tried to remember that, of course, the heroine could not be drowned nor the hero have his head unceremoniously chopped off by the be-whiskered villain. That would be altogether too absurd for moviedom. Nevertheless, we forgot at the most exciting moments and allowed cold chills of terror to run up and down our spines.

The wild career of the Shriek takes him from the stage-hand at a theater where "The Sheik" is playing out into the ocean. There he is dumped overboard for misconduct and given a canoe, and an ex-

Sophomores Star At Parkway

The sophomores filled the Parkway theater last night at their benefit performance. The feature of the evening was a skit put on by "Dave" Chudnow and "Shorty" Walsted, both members of the class. The pair is shown above, the former at the piano.

Barbara La Marr takes the chief feminine role in the picture which the class of '25 is presenting. "The Hero" made a success in New York two years ago and the screen version is said to be worthy of the original play.

The performance will be repeated three times today. Tomorrow "Up In The Clouds," a musical comedy, will play at the Parkway.

ceedingly tippy one at that. But it proves sea-worthy, strange to say, and takes the Shriek to the Sahara. Ah! Then the real thrills begin. (Hoots from the gallery as the Shriek rescues Mrs. Shriek from the clutches of a rival Shriek. They're all Shrieks, more or less).

But enough. We have had our instructions as to how to review this sort of a movie and we have tried to carry them out. Does that excite any curiosity in you?

No Big Temperature Drop Is Anticipated

While rain or snow is predicted for tonight, no further tie-up of traffic is anticipated. Colder weather will reach Madison tonight but the temperature will not drop exceedingly low. Unsettled weather of today will probably continue most of Thursday, with clearing skies and warmer enroute for the weekend.

"Lightnin'" Tickets Are Nearly All Sold

The management of the Parkway theater announces that the tickets for the three performances of "Lightnin'" have been nearly all sold. This classic of the stage will play in Madison Monday night and Tuesday matinee and night.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT BY POPULAR DEMAND OF THE SEASON'S BIGGEST HIT

Antonio The De Marcos Mabelle

From the National Theatre, Buenos Ayres, with

Seven Musical Sheiks

The sweet aroma of sandalwood—The dreamy, soft blue light of a desert night—The twang of Arabian stringed instruments—Seven sheiks huddled in a semi-circle—A parting of heavy bronzed curtains—A flash of dancing figures in a tableau of sculptural beauty—Spirited animation of the dancers as the musicians burst into an orgy of weirdly harmonious tones.—THAT'S the word picture of Antonio and Mabelle De Marcus appearance today on the ORPHEUM stage, where they are dancing to the music of their SEVEN MUSICAL SHEIKS, a unique stringed instrument ensemble.

Demarcos Co.
Heralded As Orph Event

Never has there been more local interest shown in a theatrical attraction than that demanded by the return to the Orpheum of the dancing Demarcos and their "Seven Musical Sheiks," who open a limited engagement of only three days starting this afternoon.

At time when the so-called "band act" is a rage in vaudeville, and Demarcos' Sheik Band has proved something new in this latest form of a vaudeville feature. The Demarcos themselves present a dancing act that is considered more unique and elaborate than the average. In fact, they are perhaps the best dancing team seen at the Orpheum in several seasons, which alone is partly responsible for their engagement. Their moving background will be a group of seven Arabs, who provide exhilarating harmony from various stringed instruments. The entire company hails from Argentine, where it was a sensation at the National Theater, Buenos Aires. They have retained the substantial features of the act, but have, of course, revised the music and some of the dances—the marvelous coloring and stage effects and costumes remain the same.

Five other acts will support this headline attraction; Peronne and Oliver in "A Song Symphony"; "The Jolly Scot," Sammy Duncan; Billy Miller and his players in "The Sign Post"; Shannon and Gordon, in "Something New Beneath the Sun;" and a "Cycle of Youth" by Sinclair and Grey.

HENMON LAUDS CHICAGO PLAN

Says Strict Requirements Will Not Hinder Athletic Standing

"Enforcing more vigorous entrance requirements need not in any way stifle the athletics and social life of the institution," Dr. V. A. C. Henmon, director of the School of Education, declared in referring to the transformation planned by the trustees of the University of Chicago to reduce undergraduate enrollment by rigid entrance requirements to admit only students with exceptional ability and serious purpose.

When the plan was first made known it drew a storm of protest from the alumni and the undergraduates who do not approve of anything which threatens the athletic prestige of their alma mater, but Doctor Henmon points out that, "Removing the lower strata of ability from the school will make a wonderful institution, and will not kill the school spirit, the athletics, or the social life, because these things are carried on and kept alive by the higher grade of students."

"All universities and colleges are facing the situation which forces them to either lower their scholastic standards or decrease the number of their students. During the two decades from 1898 to 1918 the number of high school and college students have jumped over 300 per cent, while the population of the country and the number of students in elementary schools have only increased 40 per cent. In the last few years, especially since the late war conclusively proved that the college-educated men were superior, a great part of this increase has taken place without a corresponding increase in the faculty and equipment, and either the standards of the schools must be lowered or higher barriers must be raised to govern admission," Doctor Henmon asserted.

The change at the University of Chicago will eliminate approximately the lower 20 per cent of the students. It provides that scholarship must be a grade of "C" and that any student with an average lower by a whole point than that will be expelled, or, if he is applying for admittance with an average point lower than "C" or in other words if he has a record of 77 or less he will not be admitted. Fraternities are prevented from initiating new members until the pledge has carried two-quarters' work with a minimum "C" average.

PROSPECTS FOR IOWA GAME NIL

been included in the above total of 2,523.

One vote was received from Minneapolis, Minn., and two were received from Grand Rapids, Mich. Miss Ruth E. Lynd of the latter city comments: "I have heard no one here express any opinion against the game. All are in favor of it."

Iva M. Dodd '24 has the honor of casting the first ballot. Her vote was received the day the contest opened and her comment is: "With the University of Iowa as my Alma Mater for three years, my enthusiasm for this game is unbounded. I say 'Yes!'"

Student Comments

A few of the more interesting comments included on the ballot:

Helen G. Carpenter '26—"Give us a chance to beat Iowa!"

William E. Fieting '26—"It seems a shame that the Big Ten Conference championship should remain a tie."

Anne M. Bodensieck, grad—"Have ticket sale arranged so all stand equal chance."

Rufus S. Phillips '23—"I am heartily in favor of a Conference ruling which will eliminate future ties."

GOPHER POTATO GROWERS PLAN SALES SYSTEM

Potato growers in Minnesota are perfecting a state sales system along the same plan which has proved so successful in marketing wool for farmers in Illinois, cotton for farmers in the South, and tobacco growers in the tobacco states.

For three weeks preliminary work has progressed under the direction of S. G. Rubinow, who has recently organized the famous Aroostook potato region of Maine into an organization that now includes over 75 per cent of the acreage in that district. Starting with intense opposition from all sides, and especially from the bankers and agencies that had been accustomed to handling the potatoes, the campaign ended with public sentiment supporting the project.

March 24 has been set for the meeting of the organization committee. On it are 16 of the most prominent growers, bankers and business men scattered over the potato growing regions of the state.

Wisconsin and North Dakota growers are to be approached on the plan before the month closes.

Madison Police Chief Still On Sick List

Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy, who was taken ill with an attack of the grippe Sunday, is still unable to assume his duties at headquarters today. Capt. Harry Davenport is taking his place.

Construction Begins On New Kessenich Store

Construction of the new Kessenich company store, State and Fairchild streets, will be started in about a week, it was announced today. A permit was issued today for a $75,000 fireproof building through Frank Riley, architect, at the building commissioner's office.

The building will be two stories in height with a glass front on State and Fairchild streets and in the rear of the building. Contracts for the work have not been let.

Mr. Riley stated that raising of the old Nolden building will be started probably next week. The stores housed on the property have been vacated for over a month.
