Financial Report By Baillette Shows Big Donation For Union Fund

SUPPER IS BIG EXPENSE

Approximately $1,000 was cleared by the 1923 Prom, according to the preliminary report of Ralph Baillette '23, chairman of the finance committee of the Junion Promenade.

Of this amount, $800 has already been turned over to the Memorial Union fund and the remainder is being reserved for any bills which still might be outstanding. It is anticipated by Baillette that when all accounts are closed, the entire donation to the Memorial Union will amount to $1,000.

Movie a Loss

The total receipts of this year's Prom amounted to $7,725.16 of which the ticket sale netted $7,683. The pre-Prom dance cleared $281 and the boxes $605.

The pre-Prom movie and play both proved to be financial losses, according to the report. The movie, with a budget profit estimated at $300 resulted in a $75.99 loss.

Supper Biggest Expense

The total expenses to date have been totalled $6,692.51, although this amount may be increased slightly by bills which are outstanding.

Of the expenses, the supper was highest with an expenditure of $1,452. Two other large expense items were for programs and decorations, which totalled $1,416.11 and $1,224.53 respectively.

A complete list of all expenditures and receipts has been filed at the dean's office by Baillette.

The smaller expenditures for the 1923 are as follows: Publicity, $261.31; Reception, $52.50; Miscellaneous, $98.56; Men's arrangements, $76.50; Women's arrangements, $93.91; Transportation, $64.80; Music, $592; Floor, $490.95; Alumni, $7.98; Executive, $248.10; Finance, $444.66; Boxes, $24.50.

Choose Ylvisaker To N. O. L. Contest

Erling Ylvisaker '23 was chosen to represent Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical League contest held at Urbana this year.

Ylvisaker won the Junior open contest held recently, and was awarded the first place in the final N. O. L. contest some time ago. There were six other contestants.

EXHIBIT POULTRY CONTEST PRIZE

The poultry self feeder which will be given by the James Manufacturing company for the best judge of poultry in the contest which will be held in connection with the Badger egg show, April 20, 21, and 22, is on exhibition in Agricultural hall today.

Interest is being manifested in the show by manufacturers of poultry equipment and feeds. Other prizes and ribbons are to be given to winners in the various contests.

The poultry judging contest must consist of at least 12 entries in order to make the feed hopper available, according to William H. Frederick '23, secretary of the show. Students are urged to enter in the contest at once, as the show begins as soon as the vacation is over.

Close competition is expected in the different egg classes. Students will be given the privilege of bringing their choice eggs from home for competition in one of the classes. Other classes consist of eggs gathered in the university poultry building.

Oh, Girls, So Long And Don't Forget The Easter Eggs

When you see the old trunk, full of winter clothes and dance programs and other bric-a-brac you are clearing out to celebrate spring, go down the public highway on the top of the bus load;

When your grip is crammed full with light fiction, candy, and pink palammes,—and all locked up and ready;

When you stall around the hall talking to your pals and telling them about all the vacation parties you're going to, and hearing about all those they are going to, and you've got on your new spring suit and your Easter lid is cocked rakishly over your right eye;

When your best beau is coming to take you to the train;

And then you hear the taxi honking outside—oh, girls, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?

Just let me catch the cuckoo that comes around to throw a tack into the red balloon of joy at this salubrious moment!

What if that history topic is due in two weeks—is this a time to think of things of no importance? Rather we should occupy our minds picking out the precise gentleman who is to send us a violet corsage for Easter. Six solid days of frivolity—well, let's not waste one. My word! I should say not—why this is the last vacation this year.

Goodbye, everybody! And be sure to have the most marvelous, wonderful, keen, and supergolocious time. Goo'bye!

Because of an error in printing, Bell's Studio was not given the credit it should have had under the pictures of members of the Haresfoot cast in Sunday's Cardinal.

Bell's studio has recently moved from Main street to a university location, 509 State street. Several pictures of Haresfoot men have been taken, some of them in feminine poses, and are being broadcasted over Illinois and Wisconsin for advertising purposes.

UNION MEN OUTPLAYED

JACKSON, Tenn., April 10—Handing Union College its first defeat in six starts, the University of Wisconsin baseball team won its initial contest of the southern training trip series by a score of 9 to 3 here today.

Although a large crowd of enthusiasts turned out to see the Badgers licked, their team was unable to cope with the wrecking crew of Wisconsin batsmen.

The game was Wisconsin's from the first spit ball to the final spurt of dust which marked the ninth run. The mid-west aggregation out-hit and out-played Coach Robinson's men throughout the entire game.

Nine hits by Wisconsin all well placed and put across at opportune moments were noteworthy features of the game. Union got eight hits but failed to bunch them to an advantage. Their rallies were stopped by the good pitching of Hoffman.

Holland of Union fanned eight Badgers to Hoffman's one but Hoffman pitched a better grade of ball than his opponent, in the pinches. Holland's team mates put him at (Continued on Page 7)

Passion Play Is Truly Impressive

A truly impressive performance of the Passion play, under the auspices of the Catholic Woman's club, was given last night at the Parkway. The settings and the lighting effects were beautiful and produced in certain scenes the proper ethereal effect. The pipe organ, the chorus voices, and the song of the minstrel lent a sweet and elevated tone to the entire performance, while the voices of the actors were rich in intonation and volume.

Jimmy Brader was properly royal as Pontius Pilate. Besides him, several other university students took part. Judas was probably the best piece of heavy acting, and the Voice and the Prophet made very effect appearances.

The scene endings were particularly well-handled, both from the standpoint of writing and acting, and the effect was throughout beautifully impressive.

Wild West Will Go On Hang-over Party

The Rocky Mountain club will give a hiking party for its members next Saturday. Since most of the members live too far away from home to make the trip during the spring vacation the club is arranging the affair in the nature of a hang-over party.

The hikers will leave Science hall at 8:00 a.m. and walk out to Black Hawk cave for a picnic lunch and cottage party. They will return in the evening. The Westerners will have the party Monday if rain interferes with their plans.

NO CUT RULE TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

The no cut rule pertaining to the classes before and after the Easter vacation will be rigidly enforced, according to the statement given out by the registrar today.

Critic Claims
Haresfoot Has Knockout Octy

By WILLIAM H. PURNELL
With a number of pages that rivals an encyclopedia, art work that would drive Harrison Fishes to sign painting, and jokes that make Will Rogers sound like an undertaken, the Haresfoot number of the Octopus is a knockout hit.

To begin with, Hub Townsend's cover entitled "A Man's a Man For a' That" is a masterpiece. Of course, no Haresfoot girl ever looked so beautiful, but then who looks for realism in the Octopus? Fred Sperry plays a return engagement on page 9, after an absence of many moons. As usual, the drawing is excellent. Please Mr. Octopus, let's have some more of his work. The art work throughout the book is clever, imaginative and praiseworthy. Heinz Rubel contributes several of his delectable and weird cartoons, "Great Americans," "The Most Miserable Man in the World," and "Publishing the Octopus" being the best.

Mike Stiver, a new artist, has two or three drawings which show promise. With a trifle more humor injected into his stuff he should produce some fine work next year.

The little sketchy essays and the wise cracks succeed admirably in entertaining. And, by the way, be sure to read the editorials. They are extremely well done. Didactic humor and a real enthusiasm for impionining our university are most happily mixed in these concise bits of wisdom.

It I may be permitted to say a few words in defense of the Haresfoot number, I wish to state that it is a privilege for the club to carry to the people of the state a college magazine which abounds in such ingenious humor and such excellently turned out art work.

And lastly, I cannot but say something of the quantity. There are exactly 50 pages which according to all laws of mathematics makes the cost price of the book half cent per page. I believe this to be a bargain which transcends all fire sale competition. If "Kitty Corner" lives up to the send off which Octy has given it, it will be a great show.

Official Notice of Condition Examinations

Examinations for the removal of conditions incurred during the first semester of the current academic year will be held on Saturday afternoon, April 22, at hours and in rooms to be announced on Thursday, April 20, in the "Daily Cardinal" and on the official bulletin board in the rotunda of Bascom Hall.

Inasmuch as examination question will be prepared only in those courses for which there are applicants, all students desiring to take condition examinations at this time must make application in person at the office of the Faculty Secretary, 151 Bascom Hall, not later than 5:00 P. M., Tuesday, April 11. Students who have failed to make proper application will be refused admittance to the examinations and their conditions will lapse into failures.

Secretary of the Faculty.

Senators Give Statements On Vote On Caps

George B. Stolley '22
Compulsory wearing of the green cap has, in the last few years, resulted in serious trouble, and it is my belief that in a school of this size it will inevitably do so. The harm done to the school by such occurrences far outweighs any good that may be done by the enforcement.

I. H. "Cy" Peterman '22
I voted "NO" on the motion to make wearing of the green cap voluntary because my stand has always been for compulsory wearing of the cap by freshmen, and it was on that stand that I believe I was elected to the senate last fall. I therefore followed out my own convictions, and what I think is the wish of the majority of the student body, as evinced in their vote on such an amendment last fall.

Wayne Morse '23
I voted for traditional voluntary wearing of the green cap because: I believe in dealing with freshmen as equal men, and not as inferior beings.

Compulsory wearing of the green cap will inevitably result in hazing and the state of Wisconsin justly demands that this practice cease.

The traditional purpose of the green cap is to inculcate school loyalty in the freshmen, and true loyalty must come voluntarily, not by force.

A tradition to remain a tradition must be enforced by those parties directly involved, otherwise it becomes a compulsory requirement which defeats its purpose. Hence I believe that the Freshman class should voluntarily uphold its own traditions.

Such a voluntary plan has worked successfully on other campuses.

If the green cap is worthy of being a Wisconsin tradition, it should stand on its own merits and not have to be propped up by force.

My personal conviction is that the voluntary plan would be best for my Alma Mater, and I refuse to vote against my own convictions.

Robert B. Stewart '23
I feel that a fundamental principle is being voted on. The Social Science club has not been discreet in providing speakers for both sides and in presenting opposite views, and the club is not presenting entirely the proper issues. While the Social Science club purports to discuss social problems, nevertheless they do not discuss the problems; for discussion involves consideration of both sides of a question.

But the club may not be responsible for the blame. Outside capital is, I believe, furnishing speakers. While the Social Science club may be unable to secure speakers of opposing views because they can not pay them, this fact should be determined by the board of regents. If outside capital is financing the Social Science club program, then the club should be forced to discontinue its program, because I believe no outside capital should be spent for propaganda among students.

In view of the fact that I presume that the senate will censor the action of the Social Science club in bringing Kate Richards O'Hare to the capitol, and in view of the fact that the board of regents will be presented with the facts in the case, I vote "no" on this motion.

Birge Will Welcome Classical Meeting

Pres. E. A. Birge will deliver the address of welcome Thursday evening to the Classical association of the middle-west and south which will hold its eighteenth annual meeting here April 13-15, at the invitation of the university. Other speakers will be Prof. Harold L. Smith of the Law school, and Prof. Francis F. Sabin.

Following the program, a reception will be given by President Birge and Miss Ann Birge. The local members will give a dinner Friday evening at Lathrop hall.

AU REVOIR

ONE short week of recess, but what could be more welcome? Seven days of freedom from lectures, and recitations; seven days of care-free pleasure, perhaps. Here it is, the beginning of the spring recess with everybody packed up and ready to go home, and Mother Nature has turned traitor. She ought to realize that a recess of rainy weather is no fun; one might as well go to school. But perhaps this is just one last sample of how temperamental weather can be, and then maybe the rest of the week will be one glorious burst of spring. Probably it is not raining at home, so why worry.

Let us make the most of those meagre days. They will be the last until the middle of June when it will be all over. We have to come back and go through eight more weeks of bucking, so that it will be a good thing to get rid of the spring fever that's bound to come, by a whole week's loaf.

Spring fever is like the measles, you are sure to catch it, so that you might as well get through with it during the recess in order that it does not ruin those two important months that are coming.

LIP LAZINESS

IT is often said that Americans speak more slovenly than any other people in the world. Like all generalizations, this is stretching the actual truth a bit, but unfortunately there is some basis for this undesirable reputation.

Americans have a strong tendency to be lip lazy. They speak carelessly, through their noses, with their tongues in the wrong place, and without the use of their lips. The opening of the mouth when speaking is considered unnecessary except in the extreme occasion of yelling. In fact, a well malulated voice is a jewel in its rarity, and a clear enunciation is an ideal seldom attained.

The next time you are conversing with a group of people, note how many use their lips and speak distinctly, and you will be unpleasantly surprised. There is no excuse for lip laziness. The plea that one will never speak in public and will, therefore, never need to be able to speak correctly is a patently flimsy alibi.

It is not a question of whether one is destined to speak in public or not. Time and again one finds himself in a position where he has something, an experience, or story, to tell, that is of interest to a small group.

No matter how well one knows his subject, if he cannot express himself clearly and distinctly he is at a great disadvantage, be he a business man, teacher, professional man, or, in short, any human being who has to converse with his fellows.

In dramatics, for instance, the Italian ranks highest for clear, distinct voice carrying qualities, the French rank second, the English third, and the American fourth. An Italian has to enunciate properly, has to use his teeth, lips, and tongue, because his language demands it. English speaking peoples are more unfortunate, because English can be spoken in a slovenly manner and still be understood. In England, however, this disadvantage of the language is overcome considerably by training school children how to speak correctly.

In this country we are just beginning to realize that it is as necessary to know how to speak as it is to know what to speak. The opportunity for learning how to speak is present in the form of speaking courses. The college student, with the advantage he has of training his speaking ability should make use of it. Let us help make this a nation of careful speakers instead of jabberers.

ONE of the inherent evils of campus politics is the committee system. Along with a good part of the elective offices goes the aftermath of committees which the fortunate candidate has to take care of. The principle of committees is not bad, but it is the practical result that is so undesirable.

Somebody must be appointed to do the various detailed work, but is it necessary to appoint a flock of aids for each separate job? Is it not a waste of time and energy to put five or six men on a piece of work that can be done efficiently by one man?

It is usually the experience of chairmen that they have to do all or most of the work anyhow, so why include a half dozen subordinates, who, if they are not in the way, at least add nothing to the efficiency of the committee in question.

It should not be the aim of campus politics to give as many men as possible jobs, but to accomplish a given undertaking successfully, which means efficiently, which in turn means a few good men.

Court To Punish Student Hazers With Probation

The report of the Juvenile committee of the Student Senate by Ralph E. Axley, chairman, which was adopted by the Senate at its meeting last Wednesday evening will be given in its final approved form after spring recess. The committee held the report to be approved by the deans and Pres. E. A. Birge.

The report empowers Harry Fox, chief justice of the re-organized Student Court, to place on disciplinary probation students who violate hazing regulations, or are found guilty of drunkenness or disorderly conduct, rioting, breaking lake regulations, and thievery.

The report also provides for the appointment of an enforcement committee, which shall include three "W" men. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Gustav Tebell '23, Edward Gibson '23, James L. Brader '23, Rollin Ecke '22, and Charles Puestow '23, with Tebell as chief commissioner.

Orpheum Will Run Feature Photoplays

Last night the Orpheum vaudeville theater entered upon its last two weeks of vaudeville programs, the present policy to terminate with the two performances Sunday night, April 23, after a season of 32 weeks, which has been one of the most successful in the history of the house.

As has been the custom, the vaudeville policy will be resumed the latter part of August with Orpheum circuit acts and news reels. Before the theater is turned over to the decorators, painters and cleaners, for the annual summer improvements, a spring season of feature pictures will be presented, the first booking bringing to Madison for the first time D. W. Griffith's latest film production, "Orphans of the Storm," to be presented with a special symphony orchestra, stage and lighting effects.

Following "Orphans of the Storm" will come, D. W. Griffith's "Way Down East" production, and the million dollar picture, "Foolish Wives," featuring Von Stroheim.

Hills and Dells Form Setting of "Red Bird Play"

The woods and rocks at the Dells of the Wisconsin, formerly occupied by Winnebago Indians, form the setting for the first act of Prof. William Ellery Leonard's play "Red Bird," which will be given by the Curtain club, faculty dramatic club, at the Parkway theater, April 29.

Though the village of Red Bird, an historical Indian chief, and the Hill of the Dead, which plays a part in the scene, were some distance apart in the play, the two are moved to the dells for heightened effect and a certain amount of symbolism.

Generations ago, long before the dells became famous as a tourists' resort, they were known to the trappers, and Winnebago lore abounds with legends about them. Eagle Beak, an old Indian in Red Bird's tribe, tells the following literal Indian legend in the play:

Explain Topography

"The great Serpent came down from the northern forests across the lands. He wiggled on his belly a long ways, and tore open the earth underneath as he crawled. This made the bed for the Wisconsin. Sometimes he slipped along — over the rocks. This made the places of the waterfalls and the rapids. Sometimes he rested. That made the sandbars. And all the little serpents fled when they saw him coming, and that made the places where the brooks and the little rivers flow into the Wisconsin.

"But once he came to great rocks that he could not pass. He was very angry and he rent the rocks

For sake of contrast, the second act takes place in the flat prairie country back from the Mississippi near Prairie du Chien. This is actually where Red Bird murdered the white man, Gagnier, at his cabin under Sugar Loaf Bluff.

Devil's Lake is Setting

The third act takes place at Devil's Lake. Here Professor Leonard uses one of the well known Winnebago legends about this part of the country. Red Bird, the chief, says:

"Long, long winters ago, before ever the showers of stars fell from the autumn skies, the Winnebago fought there on the mountain-tops with the Giants, the Strong Men, who came riding on the Northern Lights to devour the animal mounds of the bear and the panther, and the deer, beside the pool below. But the Winnebago were then a mightier race than now. They were then in their deeds, as they are now only in their name—the people of the parent speech, from whom even the Dakotas learned to use words. They then took not two scalps for one. They took five for one.

"So they compelled the Strong Men to smoke the peace-pipe. And the Strong Men buried the hatchet in the mountain-top and swore never to return until the hatchet should rise out of the mountain. And they vanished away on the whirling snow drifts.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

INVITE STATE HIGH SCHOOLS TO FIELD TILT

Scholastic Week End To Have Many Events

Invitations to high schools throughout the state, asking them to participate in the 28th annual state interscholastic track and field meet are being issued by Coach Thomas E. Jones. The meet will be held on Saturday, May 27.

A preliminary announcement of the competition has been sent by Principal Volney G. Barnes, of the Madison high school. Schools will be divided into classes A and B, the former comprising those which have enrollment of more than 300 pupils.

Many athletic events have been scheduled for the interscholastic week-end. The Varsity eight will meet the University of Manitoba, Canada crew, while the Junior eight races St. John's Military academy. Inter-college boat races will also form a part of the water events.

Northwestern will engage the Wisconsin baseball nine on May 25, and the annual interscholastic tennis tourney is carded for May 27 and 28.

Venetian night will close the activities on Saturday night, May 27.

Varsity Women Win From Faculty Team

The Varsity women's bowling team showed a slight superiority over the faculty in the three closely contested games played off at the Madison bowling alleys Saturday afternoon to settle the challenge of the Varsity team.

The first game went to the Varsity with a majority of about 40 pins. In the second game the faculty reversed the tables by winning with a 50 pin surplus. The third and decisive game, marked by fast and accurate bowling by both teams, went to the Varsity 690-611. All the games were unusually even and were in question until the last frames were played.

Helen Meyers '23 and Miss Carnes of the faculty tied for the highest individual honors with 161.

Arrangements to have a joint tennis team of six Yale and Harvard players to go to England in July to return the visit here last summer of an Oxford-Cambridge combination was made public today.

VARSITY TRACK MEN TRAIN FOR DRAKE RELAYS

Will Hold Final Tryouts at Varsity-Frosh Meet

Varsity track men will take advantage of the spring recess to prepare strenuously for the Drake relays, which will be held at Drake College, Iowa, on April 28-29. The squad will train every day at Camp Randall, starting on Wednesday, with two workouts for Thursday and Saturday.

Coach Thomas E. Jones has announced that preliminary tryouts for picking the men to compete in the relays will be run off today, but that the final trials will not be held until April 22 when the annual outdoor Varsity-Freshman meet takes place.

With the exception of high jumpers and pole vaulters, the entire squad has been burning up the cinder path at Camp Randall since last Monday and, although not yet at top form, the men are rapidly becoming accustomed to outdoor running.

Entries for the Drake classic are closed on April 20, and Coach Jones has already entered teams in the quarter mile, half mile, mile, and four mile relays. The Badger representatives in these events have not yet been definitely chosen, as Coach Jones is waiting to see the results of the Varsity-Freshman clash on April 20.

Besides the relay teams which make the trip to Drake college, the following men have been entered in the special events:

Captain Knollin, Spetz, and Ellingson will compete in the 100-yard dash; Knollin and Stolley in the 120-yard high hurdles; Stolley in the 440-yard low hurdles; Platten and Gibson in the high jump; Sundt in the broad jump, javelin throw, and 16-pound shot; and Merrick, Hammom, and McClure in the pole vault.

TO START FRAT BALL GAMES ON APRIL 22

The inter-fraternity baseball games will start April 22 and every team will play at least one game each by Saturday April 29.

The schedule for these games has been drawn up and will be mimeographed and sent to each fraternity.

Any Princeton player who misses classes next fall without a good reason will be dismissed from the football team, according to Coach Bill Roper. He says scholastic troubles are all that ails football at Princeton.

Sixty Report For Spring Football

More than 60 men have been reporting for spring football the last few days of practice. There is a great deal of good material for the line, and several men also for the positions in the backfield.

The workouts thus far have been limited to preliminary practice. The squad will be given scrimmage after spring vacation. The most important part of the work so far has been the training in blocking, passing, punting, catching, and interference. Line formations and scrimmaging have been reserved until after spring vacation, and more men are urged to report for practice after the holidays.

Of the men on last year's team, five are going to graduate this June. They are Sundt, who played at fullback; Elliott, at half; Brader at tackle, and Gould and Woods, who alternated between end and half. Brumm and Barr have been practicing with the squad, and Brader has been assistant to Coach George Berg.

Other members of the 1921 team are now out for baseball, and cannot practice with the football squad now. A promising kicker has been discovered in Leonard Stoll, a sophomore in the Commerce school.

SOCCER SQUAD

MAY MEET BIG TEN ELEVENS

Schlatter Issues Call to Last Year's Captains

With two intra-mural soccer tournaments arranged for and with possibilities of a Varsity soccer team which will meet other Big Ten squads, Coach Fred E. Schlatter, yesterday sent out a call to captains of last fall's outfits, asking them to report in his office at any time during the afternoon. The 22 captains will form a nucleus around which inter-class and inter-college teams will be built for the coming tourneys.

Schedules, team personnel, and final arrangements for the matches will be made during the conference with Coach Schlatter. Coach Thomas E. Jones has offered a practice field at Camp Randall for the use of soccer players, and a dressing room with accommodations for 100 has been planned. Points scored will count towards winning the Nelson trophy.

Negotiations have been carried on for contests between the Wisconsin Varsity soccer squad and University of Minnesota and Chicago teams. Men who make the best showing in intra-mural games will be selected to stack up against the Gopher team on the morning of the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game at Minneapolis next fall. Chicago has signified its willingness to engage the Badgers in a soccer game at any time.

The Maroons draw on experienced players from organized Chicago high school leagues and produce some of the best teams in the Middle west.

Soccer may be an elective sport next year. Men who make the intra-mural teams will be exempt from regular gym classes, and if it becomes a minor sport, minor sport "W's" will be awarded to team men.

More than 350 freshmen and sophomores engaged in the sport last fall. The tournament title went to the Horseshoe team captained by J. C. Matteson.

Boy, 13, is Drowned in Monona

Tiedeman Peterson, 13, Local Boy Scout, First Victim of Season

CHUM SWIMS ASHORE

George Cripps, 15, Reaches Safety as Boat Leaks Near Shoreline.

While a companion swam to safety, Tiedeman Peterson, 13 years old, of 1122 E. Dayton st., was drowned yesterday afternoon in a lagoon near Lake Monona.

Young Peterson, who was a member of Troop 15, Boy Scouts, had taken part in a hike with members of the troop.

He and George Cripps, 15, living at 1109 E. Mifflin st., were boating on the lagoon when the craft sprung a leak and the boys leaped out to swim to shore.

There were no witnesses to the drowning besides young Cripps. Other troop members were playing on a bank out of sight.

When the scouts saw Cripps, his clothes soaked, coming up from the lagoon, they became alarmed and demanded to know where Peterson was. Cripps declared that he had fallen off the bank and that he did not know where his friend was.

After several minutes the boys and Scout Master Harvey Borman became alarmed and began a search for the missing boy. Lyle Andrews and Earl Kirby and Ernest Sargent found Peterson's cap floating on the lagoon and the boat, partially filled with water, nearby.

Mr. Borman and men living in the neighborhood recovered the body by dragging after it had been in the water about 45 minutes. Efforts at resuscitation were futile.

The police were notified. The lung-motor failed to bring back the spark of life.

When Coroner W. E. Campbell arrived, Cripps told him that a "spell" had prevented him from calling out at the time of the accident and had rendered him unable to tell fellow scouts what had happened.

When they found the cap of the Peterson boy floating on the surface of the water and could see no sign of the youth, Cripps said, according to Coroner Campbell:

"He's drowned."

The police and the coroner were then called and the body recovered in eight feet of water. When the coroner arrived, hopes of reviving the boy had been given up. The body was taken to the undertakers of Frautschi & Sons Co.

The two boys had been constant companions for years. They lived about a block from each other.

Mayor Spends $70 On Election Campaign

Mayor Kittleson spent about $70 in campaign funds during the spring election. He filed $30 after the primary and an account of $40.73 yesterday. Ald. G. J. Fessler of the sixth ward spent $31.75 for his election. Thomas McGowan, new ninth ward alderman, spent $10.

Street Committee To Meet On Wednesday

A meeting of the council street committee is scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The aldermen members will meet at the city hall.

Let Bids Friday On Improvement Work

The engineering department of the city will open bids on 19 street improvement jobs on Friday afternoon, it was announced today. Contracts will be let.

sters of the pool began quarreling with one another, and so the Thunder-Bird came to punish them. The flapping of their huge wings is the thunder; the opening and shutting of their huge eyes is the lightning flash; the dropping of their eggs is the thunder bolt.

"And they shattered the mountain; and the hatchet stood out on the ledge against all skies. There it stands, while the voices rumble down the steep places, and strange voices die away in the splintered bluffs, and the waters below grow dark before the setting of the sun."

The fourth act takes place at Fort Crawford, the guard house at Prairie du Chien. The general character of this was somewhat suggested to Professor Leonard by the picture, "The Trial of Chief Oshkosh," in the Supreme court chamber at the Capitol building.
