The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

My dearest Agnes:-

I received Pete's
postal this A. M. I can well imagine how happy you are
and I truly rejoice with you.
Accept our heartiest congratulations. We hope your dear little son will grow strong
and healthy and be a joy
and comfort to you all.

Last week Wednesday a little baby girl arrived at the name of Louise Tabbert. Last reports; I heard both she and the little girl were getting on very nicely. I understand they were a little disappointed at first at its not being a boy. I am sure they will be just as fond of it, just the same.

Louise does not live with her mother; she thought it would be better for them to be alone for a time. I mean to make her a visit some time soon. How I wish you were as near as she is.

We are all well and busy as ever. Time seems to pass all too quickly. I am busy getting John ready for school which begins on Sept. 14.

I wont tire you by writing a long letter this time. Am so glad you are feeling well and hope you will continue the same.

With love from us all to you all, I am

Yours fondly
Minnie.

O. S. Kiss baby for me. What are you going to name him.
