PICK VARSITY DEBATE SQUAD FOR CONTEST

Twelve Are Selected For Intercollegiate Teams—Prospects Bright

Final tryouts held yesterday for the intercollegiate debating teams determined the personnel of the 1921 squad to be: B. W. Allin, Thomas Amlie, C. D. Assovsky, R. E. Axley, Melbourne Bergerman, L. W. Hall, A. C. Inman, F. H. Kraege, M. R. Kriewaldt, W. L. Morse, I. A. Pedstein, and Samuel Sygman. The question debated read: "Resolved, That the United States should immediately recognize the Soviet government of Russia."

Keen Competition

More than 100 men made a bid for a place on the squad. The preliminaries and semi-finals drew the largest group that has ever appeared for intercollegiate debating at Wisconsin. Twenty-five contestants, including veteran joint and intercollegiate debaters, who did not have to take part in the preliminary trials, were entered in the finals, and the competition for places was unusually keen.

The twelve men selected give every indication of furnishing a successful forensic season for Wisconsin. Assovsky, Bergerman, and Perstein are veterans from last year's squad. Amlie and Kriewaldt have had intercollegiate debating experience at other universities, while Kraege and Axley were members of Hesperia's team in the recent joint debate. The other members of the squad have all received their baptism of fire in varsity forensics and have come through with honors.

FLOOR PLANS FOR PROM PROGRESS

Special Platform for Orchestra to be Built—Announce Method Parking Cars

A music platform will be built on the first floor of the capitol for the 1922 Prom, according to floor plans being made by the floor committee under Al Hotten, chairman. It is to be placed on the first floor instead of on the main floor in the rotunda as last year, in order to make more room for dancing and to make the music better heard in all parts of the building. Special wax has been ordered to give the marble floor a perfect dancing surface.

Arrange Parking of Cars

Plans to accommodate all those going to Prom are now being taken care of by R. C. Zimmerman, chairman of the transportation committee.

HEADS FEATURES AT DANCE TONIGHT

W. G. DORWARD

"Doc" Dorward's sprightly hodge-podge of song and dance will head the features at the Pre-Prom dance to be given tonight in Lathrop gymnasium and concert room. Dorward has had considerable experience as an entertainer, having sung solos in musical comedies in Milwaukee, done impersonations of Harry Lauder, written musical acts, and sung at the recent Jamboree and other university entertainments. He will be assisted by George Dorsey at piano, John Mokrejs, violin, and "Hap" Davis on the banjo.

Other features scheduled by Reginald Garstang, chairman of the special features includes "Sparks" Dodge, who will appear for the last time with "his son Dennis," as both he and his son will graduate this semester, Reba Hayden of Union Vodvil fame will whistle, accompanied by Marion Mosel, at the piano.

Ticket Sale at Door

Tickets are on sale at Morgan's and the University pharmacy, and a number will be reserved for sale at the door. The price is $2.

The large ten piece orchestra engaged in order that the music may fill the hall includes the following: E. Carpenter, piano; E. Juster, violin; L. Spring, violin; R. Luhmann, saxophone; W. Olds, banjo; N. Lillis, clarinet; T. Foy, trombone; N. Ivey, saxophone; F. Davies, banjo; E. Kehl, drum. The floor, the committee, Harry Phillips, chairman, promises will be in excellent condition.

Dance is For All

"We want to emphasize again," declared Dale Merrick, Prom chairman, "that the Pre-Prom dance is not exclusively for Prom goers. Men whose Prom girls are out of town, and others wishing to attend the dance are assured that the affair is for them as well as Prom goers."

At the suggestion of university officials, a checking booth has been arranged for so that no wraps may be lost.

Consider Plans For Exposition In Gymnasium

"The advisability of undertaking an immense university exposition arranged on a giant scale, like the one in 1915, requires careful consideration," maintained President E. A. Birge.

"Whether a splendid bird's-eye-view of university activities offered in such a way merits the amount of time and work demanded on the part of students, particularly, and on the faculty and administration, must enter into the decision."

Dean S. H. Goodnight believes that the educational value of such an enterprise must be carefully weighed in order to determine whether such an exhibit would be worth while from an economic standpoint.

Recall Former Exposition

Six years ago, with the gymnasium and annex filled with display booths on March 25, 26 and 27, and thronged to capacity with visitors, a gala scene was presented. A summary of the life and work of the institution and a panorama of its activities were shown in miniature. Tax-payers, legislators, and students saw the constructive work that had been done and was being done in agriculture, science economics, and engineering, and in the 85 departments represented.

The business of bringing 13,000 feet of lumber, 11,500 yards of bunting, 1,500 feet of piping, and 4,000 feet of wiring together so as to contain the displays, fell upon the shoulders of a few efficient committees.

The sparking of a 90,000-volt wireless outfit, the working of a miniature railroad, modern city planning, and paving, attracted attention. Men were there to demonstrate the freezing of articles with liquid air and boiling of liquid air on ice.

Chemists analyzed adulterated foods; journalists had their own laboratory and ran off a daily newspaper; the English department showed how poor "John and Jenny"

HOLD ICE BOAT RACE SATURDAY

A university ice boat race will be held on Mendota Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock if the weather permits. This race is open to all university students and Coach Jones urges all men who can get hold of boats to enter. The course will be from the university gymnasium to Maple bluff, to Governor's island and back to the gymnasium. Entries can be made at any time. All men interested in organizing an ice boat club should get in touch with Coach Jones.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR UNION DANCE

Tickets for the second of the Union board student dances to be held Saturday night in Lathrop parlors are on sale at the University pharmacy. The price is $1, and the number of tickets is limited to 75, in order that the floor may not be crowded. Thompson's best five piece orchestra has been engaged to play for the dances.

VARSITY FIVE FINISHES WORK FOR ILLINOIS

Team on Edge for First Conference Game at Home

Coach Walter E. Meanwell sent his squad of basket tossers through their last hard scrimmage of the week, with the freshmen offering a stiff opposition yesterday afternoon.

The Wisconsin five are on edge for their initial conference game at home, and when the Illini and Badgers mix on Saturday night there will be some classy basketball exhibited. Meanwell sent his men through a light drill in the armory today, consisting mostly of basket-shooting.

Weak Spots Strengthened

He has perfected several flaws which he found in his men's work against the Maroons last week, and although the dope is in favor of the Illinois quintet, the game will be anyone's until the final whistle sounds.

Coach Winters' team sprung the surprise of the season when they walloped the 1920 Chicago champs at Champaign last Tuesday. From the dope the Illini should have a considerable edge on Wisconsin, as the latter lost to the Stagmen by twelve points. The Illinois-Chicago game, however, was staged on Illinois' floor, which is a great advantage in the case of the fighting Illini. They are seldom beaten when playing at home.

No Shifts in Line-up

The same line-up that faced the Maroons will probably start Saturday night's contest, for Meanwell has made no shifts in his team. Chicago scribes conceded the Badgers the edge over Chicago in team play, but Wisconsin's weakness lay in basket-shooting and failure to come-back strong in the final minutes of play. There was also some uncanny basket-shooting by the Maroon forwards. Indiana's overwhelming defeat of Northwestern placed Levis' aggregation among the probable championship contend-

TO SELECT WINNER OF HARESFOOT PLAY

The final selection of this year's Haresfoot play now rests in the hands of the faculty advisory committee for the Haresfoot club. The committee is composed of Prof. James O'Neill, Miss Gertrude E. Johnson, and Prof. Eugene Byrne, and their final decision, as to who is the winner of the $50 prize offered by the Haresfoot club for the best student play for the club's annual spring production, will be made within the next few days.

The plays submitted, according to "Ace" Carver '21, chairman of the play committee, are varied and any one selected will prove a hit for this year's offering. The club is now making extensive arrangements for their annual road trip, and as soon as the play is selected work will begin on the production.

GYMNASTS MEET MILWAUKEE "Y" SQUAD SATURDAY

With two of the varsity gymnasts injured, Wisconsin's chances to defeat the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. turners on Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium have been materially lessened. The two Badger tumblers who will not be in form are Leslie W. Tasche '21, who has injured his elbow, and Walter H. Porth '22 who is out with a stiff ankle.

Coach Fred E. Schlatter declared Thursday afternoon that he was optimistic about the chances of the two men to compete, and said that, although they would not be in tip-top condition, the men would put up a good exhibition.

Wisconsin gymnasts met the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. squad in two meets last year, capturing the one at Madison, and dropping the meet in Milwaukee. The Y. M. C. A. squad is coached by Henry Appel, member of the Milwaukee Turner Athletic club, who can be depended on to turn out as good a squad as that which represented Milwaukee last year.

The local handball tournament will be opened next week, and all men who wish to enter are asked by Coach Schlatter to sign up at the main office of the gym before the week-end. The tourney is open to all handball players, regardless of previous experience.

MATT LYNAUGH RESIGNS POST

Police and Fire Board Accept Resignation of Patrolman

The resignation of Matthew B. Lynaugh, Madison patrolman, recently acquitted of the murder of Carl E. Jandorf, university student, was unanimously accepted last night by the board of police and fire commissioners.

The resignation was handed to Jabe Alford, president of the board late yesterday afternoon.

It is said that Lynaugh will continue his employment with John F. Icke, contractor.

"GOD NOT PRODUCT OF IMAGINATION"

—ROBINSON

"God cannot be man-made or purely the product of the imagination because anything as fruitful and effective as religion cannot be founded 'on a lie.' This was the keynote of Dr. D. S. Robinson's lecture on the subject, 'Is God Man-made? Is God Dead?' yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Biology building.

Faith is Good Start

"Belief that there is a God is a good working hypothesis. If we believe that there is a God behind all life—that there is a purpose behind everything—then we will be better off when we get on the other side and find out that we were right. We have everything to gain. If, however, we accept the theory that there is no God, and then find out that there is, we would be the worse off for our belief.

"The argument has been advanced that God is a product of the human imagination. If this be true, it would be far better to worship humanity than the product of the imagination, because that makes God less than humanity.

Hard Task for Pagans

"Anyone who would prove that there is no God has a hard task on his hands. To say that it is just as easy to get along with an imaginary God; that religious experiences can just as well be explained on the basis of an imaginary God as a real God, does not prove that there is no real God."

The large audience which filled the auditorium and the spirited discussion which followed the lecture showed that keen interest is being taken in the course.

The third lecture of the series entitled "Who is God," will be given by Doctor Robinson next Thursday.

lived "before they took courses on the Hill," and how happy they were afterwards; the German department exhibited its Hansel and Gretel house, and distributed rings of the iron cross; psychologists measured the speed of human thoughts; and to the accompaniment of strains from the booth arranged by the school of music, future physicians told ages by a stereoscopic device, tested hearts, and showed very startling lines of similarity between the civilized race and ancestral apes.

There were agricultural exhibits of model dairy machinery, drainage systems, grain actually growing in small fields, and everything conceivable in the way of scientific agriculture.

Down in the gym annex, offering rest to the weary, was a real $765 modern bungalow; completely furnished from tea kettle to victrolas and from card-tables to magnolias; with a popular porch and a popular swing.

Large Crowd Attends

Not less than 10,000 persons from Wisconsin and adjoining states attended the exposition. From the time the doors opened at 9 o'clock, until midnight, a continuous stream passed from booth to booth during the day, and crowded the aisles at night. All who remember the exhibit describe it in elegant superlatives.

NEW COURSE IN ORDNANCE GIVEN

The newest department of Wisconsin's R. O. T. C., the ordnance corps, was established last November. This branch of the service, in charge of Capt. B. R. Olmsted, is given expressly for engineers, either mechanical or chemical. By taking two years of ordnance work and one summer camp, together with the practical experiences received in these engineering courses, a student may upon graduation be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the ordnance reserves. The two years of ordnance, of course, may be taken instead of infantry as drill credits.

After an engineer gets out into practical life, the ordnance keeps track of him, and, as he rises in his profession, he is promoted in the reserves, to a captaincy, majority, or such other officership as he is worthy of. Then, if another war breaks out, he is at once in a position to enter the regular army as an ordnance officer.

Captain Olmsted expects a large number of men to take up ordnance work next year, for it is helpful to any engineer. Any engineers who would like to know more about this course are at liberty to confer with him at any time, for he is

GOOD PROSPECTS

WITH the holding of the first tryouts yesterday Wisconsin intercollegiate forensics swung into full strides. The keen interest displayed shows that forensics have staged a comeback. The regrettable apathy of the past is disappearing and all the signs point to a revival of the platform as a major university activity in fact as well as in theory.

The debaters selected now have the responsibility of keeping alive the interest that has been awakened. They must work hard to vindicate forensics as an activity which above all others expresses the university ideals of intellectually and high public spirit.

Contests are being planned with Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota and one or two other nearby states. A splendid showing by Wisconsin will serve as an impetus to encourage forensics all over this section. Incidentally such a showing will prove that Wisconsin is no less formidable in headball than in football.

It is a great chance.

A WORD FOR THE GLEE CLUB

AFTER three months of hard and steady work it is reported that the Glee club will soon give its first out-of-town concert this season. Edgerton will be the favored town.

The indications are that the work of the club this year promises to be exceptionally good. Much interest was manifested in the organization early in the fall as is evidenced by the fact that 50 men tried out for seven vacancies. As a result the material is far above the average.

With this good foundation the club set to work to perfect a program out of the ordinary. No pains have been spared to put on a concert up to the best standards in the middle west. The members have given up two nights every week to insure the success of their venture.

Later in the season the club will tour the principal cities of the state, including Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, and Superior. It is also planned to give a concert at Rockford, Ill.

It is easy to see how such a tour as this helps to bring the university closer to the people. In order that the Glee club may make the best showing possible it is necessary for the organization to receive the cordial support of the university. Before starting on the state-wide tour a concert will be given in Madison. The reception accorded that appearance will be a test of support.

In recent years the Glee club has been exploited but little in the public prints. This is unfortunate in view of the influence which the club exerts. Credit must be given where credit is so justly due.

Comstock, an ex-marine, who has written a book of poems called "The Log of the Devil Dog," also spoke.

Another banquet was decided upon for the first Saturday in March and George Baum '23 was appointed chairman. A dance will be held soon after examinations.

The matter of organizing a marine rifle team will be taken up at the next meeting.

WEST POINT DRILL SHOWN IN MOVIES

Attempts are being made by the department of military science and tactics to secure moving pictures of the execution of the silent manual by the West Point cadets. These films, if brought here, will be used for instructional purposes in the university cadet corps, particularly for the newly formed President's guard.

The first regular drill of the guard was held last night at 7:30 in the gymnasium annex, and the men were assigned to permanent squads and platoons at that time. Temporary non-commissioned officers were also announced.

CHILDS' FUND GROWS SLOWLY

Faculty Members Subscribe Full Quota — Mayhew Drive Half Completed

The Wisconsin-in-China drive has not yet come to a close. The campaign which was begun soon after the holidays will be carried on in full swing until the entire quota of $4,800 has been raised. Prof. R. H. Whitbeck, who is in general charge of the drive, believes that as soon as all the students are canvassed, the end of the drive will be accomplished, since the students have been very cordial and have seemed willing to give. The lack of the necessary number of canvassers is the cause for the snail-like movement of the drive.

"The faculty members have shown up splendidly, and have already given their full quota of $1,000," said Professor Whitbeck. The Mayhew drive conducted by the women of Wisconsin is less than half completed, their goal being $1,800. The drive among the men for $2,000 is gradually succeeding but here again the lack of canvassers is felt.

Promotes Wisconsin Idea

Three thousand of the $4,800, which it is desired to raise is to be used to support John L. Childs and his work in China with those Chinese who have had a foreign education to promote the spirit of Christian civilization and the Wisconsin idea of service. The $1,800 to be raised for the Mayhew fund is to keep two Chinese girls in college another year. The girls are now at Mills college and intend to return to China and take positions on the faculty of the Normal School of Physical Education at Shanghai, after completing their two years of university life in America at Wisconsin next fall.

The drive came at a rather inopportune time but the same work is being done by men and women all over the country. Yale is giving $41,000 a year, Harvard, Oberlin, and a half a dozen other schools are contributing from $4,000 to $10,000 a year. The women of Minnesota each year contribute $2,300 for Chinese work, Nebraska sends $1,800, Iowa's quota is $1,200, Wellesley gives $3,500 and Smith $2,500.

FOREIGN STUDENT SECRETARIES SPEAK AT THE "Y" TONIGHT

Daniel C. Fu, general secretary of the Chinese students' Christian associations of North America; Oscar A. Gacitua, Y. M. C. A. secretary for Latin-American students, and Elmer Yelton, associate secretary of the committee on friendly relations for the Y. M. C. A. are to visit Madison this week-end for an inspection of the foreign student work here. A program has been arranged for their stay in the university, starting with a dinner tonight.

Personal interviews with foreign students will be arranged for Saturday. It is also expected that students interested in foreign work of the association can be reached at that time. Addresses will be made before the Young peoples' societies of the various churches, the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, and the student volunteers. Talks at the Badger club Sunday night will conclude their stay.

"Resolved, That the Philippine Islands shall be granted independence equal to that of Cuba," is the subject chosen by Pythia and Castalia for their joint debate which will take place some time in March. This debate means the same for women as the debate which took place last Friday means for the men.

Tryouts for the debate will be held by both societies tonight between 7 and 8 o'clock. Each society will choose three debaters. Eleanor Shearer '22, is in charge of Pythia tryouts and she, with her committee, is in charge of the meeting tonight.

R. O. T. C. PLANS SUMMER CAMPS

Plans for next summer's R. O. T. C. camps are already being made by the war department. The camps will last for six weeks, beginning about the middle of June, the exact dates to be announced later.

For the advanced students, the pay is $30 a month, and all expenses and transportation, and for the students of the basic course, all expenses and transportation are paid, but no extra pay.

Advance estimates already received indicate an unusually large camp attendance for this year. Locations of the various camps will be as follows: Infantry, probably at Fort Sheridan, Ill.; Signal corps, Camp Alfred Vail, N. J.; Field artillery, Camp Knox, Ky.; Ordnance corps, Aberdeen Proving grounds, Md.

HAERTEL WRITES ON U. W. REGISTRATION

"We at Wisconsin seem to have developed as efficient and comprehensive a scheme of systems of registration, students' records and space utilization as has any other school," says Prof. M. H. Haertel, former secretary of the faculty.

Professor Haertel is on a year's leave of absence from his duties at Wisconsin, and in a letter to a member of the journalism department stated that the time was being spent in New York city in some special work about which nothing definite could be divulged at present, excepting the fact that during the past few months repeated visits had been made to Columbia, with a view to a careful study of their registration system.

FACULTY FACTS

Who's Who Discloses Intimate Information on Professors.

"Serious and Frivolous Facts about the Great and Near-Great" may be found in the "Who's Who in America," as well as in the S. E. P. if one takes the trouble to look them up. Who's Who, moreover, has the advantage of numbers, for it includes all who have become prominent in some creditable line of effort, and also those eligible through some official position.

Out of the 258 Madison citizens listed in Who's Who, 110 are members of the university faculty. The conclusion arises that they have all "become prominent in some creditable line of effort." Examining the sketches of prominent members of the faculty, one discovers quite startling lines of effort for many celebrities.

Dean Nardin, for instance, as very few people know, is an authoress of pageants. "The Bugle Calls for Children," and "The Progress of Liberty," are the two which she made her reputation on. Two other achievements were her being born in a place called Vandaila, in Missouri, and her writing a "Notebook for English Composition."

A little-known fact about Dean Sellery is that he was born, brought up, and educated in Canada. His birth place is almost as euphonious as Miss Nardin's — Kincardine, Ontario.

Professor Ross' pre-eminence rests in the fact that he has been at ten different colleges and universities, in the capacity of student and professor. He went to Coe College, Iowa, to the University of Berlin, and Johns Hopkins, as a student, and taught at Indiana University, Cornell, Leland Stanford, University of Nebraska, Harvard, Chicago, and Wisconsin, since 1906. After all these experiences, he wrote "Changing America." But the biographer has failed to show the year on the same subject debated in the final tryout. Two weeks later the Minneapolis and Ohio State debaters are scheduled. It is interesting to note that the former contests will be "no-decision" debates in order to give the audience a chance to enter into the discussions after the debaters have completed presentation of their arguments.

Intensive work on the contests will start immediately after examinations when the men will be divided into teams. It is expected that the question for the Minnesota and Ohio clashes will be announced within a few days.

There is every likelihood that a debate with Southern California will materialize shortly. If it does, the three men who do the most creditable work in the regular contests will be rewarded with the western trip which will undoubtedly come toward the end of next semester.

U. W. PROFESSOR ON LEAVE OF ABSENCE

In order to be near New York, where his duties as secretary of the institute for exchange of students and instructors with Spain claim him, Prof. Joaquin Ortega, of the romance languages department of the university, is away on a year's leave of absence. He is professor of Spanish in Bryn Mawr college at present, but expects to be back at Wisconsin next fall.

what inspired the writing of "Changing Chinese."

Professor Carl Russell Fish has had a life too private to entrust to ordinary English, it seems. The writer resorts to cipher, in this way: Mem. Miss. Valley Hist. Soc. Am. Antiq. Soc. Am. Hist. Assn. Wis. Hist. Soc. Wis. Acad. Sciences, Arts and Letters Nat. Bd. for Hist. Service. Phi Beta Kappa, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Delta Chi. When one has finished he has a feeling of awe, if not of enlightenment.

Being a Senator of Phi Beta Kappa would probably have got President Birge into Who's Who, even if he had not been president of Wisconsin. He also has the claim to distinction of having been at Wisconsin as professor, dean, and president, since 1875.

Wisconsin has 110 names out of a possible 23,443, which is the total number of sketches in the last Who's Who—rather good for one university—and can claim to have many unusual people who have not yet appeared, but expect to soon.

Life in Infirmary Isn't so Bad With Telegraph Outfit Handy

Click, click. "Has the pretty one brought you your breakfast yet?"

Click, click. "You tell 'em."

Life in the infirmary is not all gloom if you have some means of communication with the prisoner in the next cell, such as the little telegraph outfit that has been rigged up between the rooms of "Chuck" Moore '21 and Frey Sperry '21 at the infirmary. Sperry has been out there almost three weeks and Moore joined him last week. "Bob" Lindsay '21 in a kind hearted desire to amuse the two, brought out the little top and installed it for them, putting the wire through a convenient knot hole in the intervening wall.

War-time experiences served in good stead as both knew the code, Moore having been in the aviation corp and Sperry having been a radio operator in the navy. Professor Cauthers of the electrical laboratory supplied the materials, and Lieutenant Herrick of the cadet corp helped helped install the ingenious little apparatus.

EX-SERVICE MEN
GET HIGH GRADES IN COLLEGE WORK

Gun and Blade Club Plans
Banquet for February 25

That the scholastic standing of wounded ex-service men in the university compares favorably with the standings of the student body at large was demonstrated last evening by M. H. Tiege, Federal Board Counsellor, in his address to Gun and Blade at their regular meeting in the club rooms.

Mr. Tiege has compiled statistical data of the grades made by Federal Board students at the university since the first semester 1919 to the present time. Mr. Tiege said in part:

"The data shows that only six per cent of the men have failed in their course, in spite of the fact that many entered without sufficient preparation. Many men entered as special students who had not even an eighth grade education. One man had never passed the fourth grade. It was inevitable that these students should have lower grades than those who had early educational advantages, but their work was surprisingly good. Many of the regular federal board students received grades of excellent in each subject; others did nearly as well so that the average of their work shows very creditably."

The federal board students decided at this meeting to hold a banquet at the city Y. M. C. A. on February 25 in honor of Captain Adams of the Fort Sheridan association as well as other prominent speakers. A vaudeville party at the Orpheum will complete the evening. It is expected that at least 150 men will attend, as all federal board students are invited as well as all former soldiers who were in service during part of their military career at Fort Sheridan.

TURKS TOO PROUD TO MAKE DEFENSE AGAINST CHARGES

"Most people in America today never hear Turkey's defense against the propaganda spread abroad by the other races in the Balkans, because the Turkish people are too proud to offer explanations where they are not asked for" said Col. J. A. Furlong formerly military observer with the American and Allied forces in the Balkans in his illustrated lecture on Turkey yesterday afternoon in Bascom hall.

"The Turk has his faults but he also has his virtues, which very few people here recognize. The modern Turk is very attractive, and well educated. I have often seen libraries in Turkish homes containing books in five or six languages, and all these are read," he continued.

"It is a question whether the Armenian persecution was on religious grounds, because the Turks are among the most tolerant of the Balkan peoples in religious questions."

"No doubt the stories of Turkish atrocities are true in the main, but the Greeks have not been entirely blameless. After the armistice many conflagrations were started in Constantinople, which burned only houses belonging to Turks, and left many women and children homeless. If the Turks had done this to the Greeks, the world would have heard about it, as it was really breaking a truce, but the Turks are too proud to complain."

Picturesque and colorful pictures of views and people in Constantinople and other parts of Turkey were thrown on the screen, and Colonel Furlong described the sections of Turkish life which they represented.

A good portrait of the present sultan was shown, and Colonel Furlong declared that he had never heard him unfavorably criticized by anyone who knew him.

"Even Pasha should not entirely be condemned," said Colonel Furlong, as his picture was thrown on the screen. "He believed that if Russia and the allies won the war, Turkey would be in Russia's hands. He was working more for Turkey than for Germany, and one cannot blame him for fighting for his country's safety."

PROFESSOR GILMAN
DISCUSSES METHOD IN SALESMANSHIP

Must Believe in Article You're Selling, He Says, at Advertising Club Dinner

"I've got to feel the zeal of a missionary before I can sell anything; I've got to believe in it," declared Prof. Stephen W. Gilman of the economic department in a talk on "Methods of Approach in Salesmanship" to the Advertising club in the banquet room of the city Y. M. C. A. last night.

Professor Gilman, who was introduced by Irwin Maier '21, president of the club, stressed enthusiasm, sincerity, and knowledge of one's proposition as the prime requisites of successful salesmanship, and he decried the use of any set methods of "approach."

"Approach" Method Tabooed

"If, in selling anything, I tried 'approach,' you'd laugh at me. Salesmanship is a matter of individuality and personality, and it must not be shaped," he said.

"If you get so you believe in some proposition or movement, I don't care what it is, you're a mighty interesting fellow. You don't know how many purchasing agents have told me how much they like to talk to a man from whom they can get something."

Cites Example

How a simple coal mine superintendent who did not have a pleasing personality but a perfect knowledge of mines and coal made a brilliant success as a salesman was a striking example of Professor Gilman's point. "He never spoke above a whisper, but he had that quiet way of making everybody feel that he was doing them a favor."

A general discussion of personal experiences by members of the club followed the talk. Prof. E. A. Gardner told of experiences he had recently in approaching big business men to get them to write articles for "Administration," the magazine of which he is editor.

The men at the head of big concerns, he declared, are always ready to listen to any sincere man who really has something to tell them; and it is always best to go directly to them rather than to their subordinates.

400 FARMERS ENTER PROTEST

Town of Brigham and Barneveld Residents Take Action

Members of the Voters and Taxpayers League composed of 400 farmers and business men of the town of Brigham and village of Barneveld, Iowa county, held a meeting and passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, farm life under present conditions is getting to be unbearable as a result of unjust and unfair legislation in preference to other interests, such as railroads.

"And whereas, the recent increase in freight rates due to the Esch-Cummins law, at a time when prices on all farm commodities are on the downward path, and are much below cost of production.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we demand the repeal of the so-called Esch-Cummins law.

"Whereas, waste and extravagance are rampant in the expenditure of public money, causing enormous direct and indirect taxation that farmers and business men, under present condition, can not bear.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we demand that a more just and equitable method of meeting public expenditure be devised. And, be it further resolved, that whereas farming is one of the nation's most important industries, we demand the same consideration in federal legislation as other important industries have been granted.

"And whereas, the present administration has seen fit to extend delivery of mail service to the larger villages with corresponding reduction in the rural post routes,

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we resent such discrimination and petition our representative in senate and house to use all honorable means to secure better rural mail service."

ELECT SADDLE AND SIRLOIN OFFICERS FOR NEXT SEMESTER

Saddle and Sirloin elected officers for next semester at its regular meeting in Agricultural hall last night.

The new officers are: Howard Clapp '21, president; Lawrence W. Murphy '21, vice-president; V. E. Sears '22, secretary; John Hanouske '21, treasurer; Dave Lacey '21, custodian; Gilbert C. Marshall '21, member A. C. F. board.

L. L. Oldham, secretary of the Wisconsin Holstein Breeders' association, talked on "Breed Promotion," and told about new regulations governing Wisconsin sales on Holstein cattle.

He also gave a review of Wisconsin's achievements at both the International Live Stock exposition and the National Dairy show at Chicago last fall.

"Wisconsin's success," he declared, "is due largely to state-wide co-operative effort on the part of various Breed associations."

MULE KICKS JOE ON HEAD; MULE'S LEG NOW BROKEN

HINTSVILLE, Ala. — The claim of Joseph Jones of Merri-mac, to hospital attaches here that he had "some bean" was borne out today when his story that he had been kicked on the head by a mule and that the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg, was investigated and found to be true.

Jones said his way was blocked by a stray mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. It refused to stampede, however, meeting the assault with a well directed kick to the brow. The mule's leg was broken in two places and had to be shot. Jones will recover.

TALL COMEDINNE SUPPLIES CLEVER ACT AT ORPHEUM

An exceedingly elongated lady with a good voice, some comic capers, and a clever partner supplies most of the comedy at the Orpheum the last half of the week. The two, Misses Morgan and Kloter, have some laughable patter and some well rendered songs.

In the musical sketch, "Old Black Joe land," Viola Lewis, a vivacious high-kicker, plays the role of a little girl with big ideas. She does her part well. Very attractive is her sister, Leonora Lewis, who plays the violin and sings. Allen Lewis is also a capable young violinist.

Two Swedes, one long and one short are versatile musicians. They sing and play the piano, the saxophone, and the banjo.

McCormick and Wallace present a novelty ventriloquist act, "At the Seashort." Miss Wallace adds a lot to the decorations.

The bill is opened by Willa and Harold Browns who make pictures out of scraps of cloth.

Ding difficult feats of equilibrium, Wille brothers conclude the bill.

AT THE STRAND

Douglas MacLean as Shakespeare Clancy in "The Jailbird" is now being shown at the Strand theater.

Sent to prison for an offense against the law, Shakespeare Clancy, a likeable young chap, escapes in a novel manner. He falls heir to a small estate in Kansas, this including a newspaper of which he assumes the editorship. His advanced ideas of journalism estranges his townsmen and to get even, Clancy decides to victimize them by selling them stock in a fake oil deal. But at the last minute, a gusher presents itself and not only balks Clancy's plans, but enriches all concerned, himself included.

Having fallen in love with his society editor, Clancy decides that honesty is the best policy. He returns to prison to serve out his interrupted term and all ends happily. Doris May plays opposite the star and the support generally is high class.

Larry Seman in "The Snitor" will be the extra added attraction.

Y. W. C. A. TO HOLD COZY IN LATHROP

Another one of the regular series of "cozies" will be given by Y. W. C. A. this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Lathrop parlors.

Cabinet council will be the hostesses. Miss M. Davies, resident secretary of the associated charities in Madison, is to be the guest of honor. Mary Maxwell '22, is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.
