Beautification Near Symbol 5 looms next

The start of a major ground beautification project will begin this spring upon the arrival of a landscape gardener.

With the extensive building program completed, work can now commence on the grounds that will finally enhance the overall scenic beauty of WSH.

Improvement of the landscape is one of Ira Carlson's greatest wishes, and well it might be, as he has served as WSH's Head Gardener for the past 33 years. "I have watched buildings being torn down and new ones erected during the past several years," he said, "and I wondered if the day would ever come when we could beautify the grounds."

The construction program made it all but impossible to keep the grounds in condition until late last fall when seeding was made in the wide expanse fronting the Administration Building.

Carlson is responsible for grass cutting on 150 acres that includes all lawns surrounding the buildings and the Ball Park adjacent to Sherman Hall. Regular mowing extends as far down as the park and lake. He also supervises the general maintenance of the 17 acres that comprises the apple orchard.

The events of last week failed to dampen the enthusiasm of residents in CUE'S fourth "Win A Prize" contest. A large number of entries were received and ten winners were named by the judges.

It is necessary to have an all-correct entry to win. Several contestants stumbled on the last statement. The New York Knickerbockers actually were the first team to wear regular baseball uniforms.

Once again, all units came up with winners. Men tied the ladies, 5-5.

The astute winners were: Richard [redacted], John [redacted], Mary [redacted] and Joy [redacted], all from Sherman Hall; Mike [redacted] from Kempster Hall; Cindy [redacted] and [redacted] from Hughes Hall; Patty [redacted] and Randall [redacted] from North Cottage, and John [redacted] from Gordon Hall.

Winning four consecutive contests, Robin Marie [redacted] leads all winners, although Mike [redacted] and John [redacted] are close with three wins each.

This issue of the CUE has another entry sheet for the fifth consecutive contest. Read it carefully and circle the "true" or "false" on all ten statements. Join the 55 winners of

LIBERTY EXTENSION

A change in liberty hours will go into effect this Sunday, April 26. Liberty will be from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. instead of 7 A.M. to 6 P.M., Mrs. Gertrude Bengston, R.N., Director of Nursing, told the CUE today.

This two-hour extension goes into effect at the same time as Daylight Saving and continues until the day after Labor Day in September.

Staff members on the Children's Unit will designate their own liberty hours.

The longer evening hours will enable patients to participate in recreational activities.

CENSUS 1970

To our readers who wondered if they were going to be counted in the Census 1970, can rest with the knowledge that they will be. A representative from the Federal Census obtained all the details this week.

MINATURE GOLF COURSE

Our reporters made a survey this past week regarding the adding of a new recreational facility to other sport activities now available during the summer months. (SEE: Issues & Answers on Page 3.)

The 100% affirmative response indicates that a Minature Golf Course would be a welcome addition to the overall recreational scene. The CUE recommends that such a course be set up on hospital grounds.

Perhaps there is someone who will donate a Minature Golf Course to WSH. We would like to hear from anyone interested in this project.

PATIENT BEHAVIOR

We received both verbal and written comment on the way the patients acted during last week's slow-down. All were impressed, but we feel the observations of Dr. Dachtera sums up the feelings of all. She said, "All of the patients handled themselves very well. They cooperated in every way, and even the patients that were real sick did not become upset."

CENSORSHIP

We have followed the problems of underground newspapers for some time. Recently, the publishers of Kaleidoscope were brought into a Green Bay Court on an obscenity charge. While the Court ruled for the publishers, we wondered just what is the literary taste of the readers of Kaleidoscope.

There is no censorship of material appearing in the CUE. The reason for this, is that our editorial staff has the opposite literary taste of people who publish the underground papers.

OVERDUE LIBRARY BOOKS

You are urged to return all overdue library books to the Patient's Library in the basement of Sherman Hall. Give the next patient a chance.

ISSUES & ANSWERS

WOULD YOU PLAY
MINATURE GOLF IF SUCH A COURSE WOULD BE AVAILABLE THIS SUMMER?

I certainly would. I think that this is a wonderful idea. The men have softball games, but there isn't much for the ladies during the summer months. People of all ages would be able to play miniature golf as it isn't too strenuous.

Yes I would. This is an excellent idea. Not only would this be fun, but it would also give the patients a chance to enjoy the summer as our Wisconsin winters are so long.

This would be a welcome relief from the long days we have to spend inside.

The exercise and fresh air would be good for the patients, and they would be learning a game that's fun for both young and old alike.

Minature golf is a game of skill; It not only provides many hours of fun for the patients, but it would get the patients outside into the fresh air and sunshine.

I think it would be good for the patients. It would help keep them active.

I think it would be a challenge for patients who never learned before as well as keeping them busy.

I would play whenever I had liberty as I always was interested in minature golf.

If the course would have obstacles similar to those around the state, I would be most interested. You can improve as you gain experience and it's very enjoyable as players laugh at the mistakes of others.

I don't think I ever played minature golf, but if a course was available, I would certainly take advantage of this new course.

I played minature golf in my home town and it's one of the most interesting games I ever played. I look forward to such a course here at the hospital.

Yes, indeed. You tally your score the same as in regular golf, and you try to better your game every day. You could play a two-some, three-some, or what have you.

I feel that this would be a tremendous addition to other games already established here. I bet the course would be busy all week through.

I play golf and this would enable me from getting rusty. You have to play the game to enjoy it.

Yes, sir. I hope a course will be ready soon. I'm not a young man, but I can play golf.

Whoever thought of having a minature golf course on the grounds should be complimented. It would fill a void in the general sports picture, as we haven't too many games for everyone.

I would not only play, but I would help keep the course in good condition as it really is a fun game.

This idea is great. Two girls could play two men and see who was the best.

Yes, as it is a sport that appeals to people who are handicapped and who are prevented from other sports.

I have always been a spectator, but I think I would play minature golf, as it isn't very difficult for one of my age.

I'll play as soon as a course is ready. It is an exciting idea.

Yes. I would play every chance I had, as it's real fun.

I would like to nominate Mrs. Donna Montag for Staff Portrait in the next issue of CUE.

Eileen Delwiche

MRS. DONNA MONTAG

Mrs. Donna Montag is a life-long resident of Oshkosh. She is married and has one child, 17 years old.

She graduated from Oshkosh High School and began working at WSH on September 1, 1952. The past 18 years was a period of change in treatment of the patient and she recalls the day when full liberty was granted for the first time to a woman-patient. Many patients today are unaware that the privilege of liberty is relatively a new approach in treatment, and there was a time when liberty was merely a word.

Mrs. Montag is now working as a psychiatric aide in Sherman Hall 5-6. The lady who nominated her states that "She really knows how to help you when you're feeling blue. She never looks sad, and she's always ready to do whatever needs to be done."

She feels that the hospital benefits the patient by providing full psychiatric care. When the treatment teams were initiated which included social workers, therapists, nurses, aides, and psychiatrists, the patient received complete understanding regarding all problems. The treatment program resulting from this, gave the patient a new insight into whatever difficulties he or she had at the time of admission.

Mrs. Montag has more than one hobby although antique collecting is her favorite. She has a picture that is 100 years old. She enjoys embroidery and at present is painting a cottage that she helped build. She makes one happy just talking to her.

MEET YOUR DOCTOR

DR. DACHTERA

Dr. Dachterra was born and raised in Poland and received her medical diploma at the University of Warsaw. She was a general practitioner for nine years before coming to the United States in 1949.

Psychiatry was always of great interest to her. She specialized in that field in Maryland, Michigan and New York. She believes psychiatry a very good specialty for women to enter.

Dr. Dachterra's husband, Edmund, is also a state employee, and their son, Edward, age 23, is presently in Vietnam.

She was assigned to WSH in July 1961. When asked how the hospital benefits the patient, she said, "I believe WSH to be one of the finest hospitals in the country because of the modern facilities and very advanced treatment techniques."

The Dachteras reside in Oshkosh and as a family thoroughly enjoy boating. Dr. Dachterra also enjoys music and painting. Her office has a lovely picture in watercolors, which she painted in her spare time. Her latest hobby is electronics. She believes computers will become an important part of the hospital in the near future.

It was a pleasure to meet and talk with Dr. Dachterra. She is a very interesting personality, one the hospital can be proud of. (Editor's Note: The editorial staff members of the CUE agrees.)

TURN YOUR WATCH BACK

ONE HOUR THIS SUNDAY

APRIL 26th.

Wisconsin celebrates Arbor Day today, April 24. It is a strangely exciting thing to plant a tree or to see one planted. Nobody who ever shared in a school Arbor Day tree-planting will forget the feeling of witnessing an act of importance, a solemn transaction between oneself and the earth. Putting flower seeds or seedlings into the ground is satisfying and good, but does not have the sense of long-range venture that comes as the spade cuts into the turf and a new tree is set for better or for worse into its own permanent place of growth.

Every tree is a personality and, like a child, will become a unique being in its own right. We can keep on watering it for a while, but it will go its own way. We can give it a name (every Arbor Day tree is named for someone) but that name will be forgotten. Trees need no names.

The whole idea of tree planting stems, of course, from the need for reforestation. As President Theodore Roosevelt said in an Arbor Day letter to the school children of the country:

A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as hopeless; forests which are so used that they cannot renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. A true forest is not merely a storehouse full of wood, but, as it were, a factory of wood, and at the same time a reservoir of water. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens.

golden VIEWS

ANYONE SPENDING A LITTLE TIME WITH THE PATIENTS ON THE GERIATRICS WARD WILL READILY SENSE THE FEELING OF FRIENDSHIP AND GOODWILL WHICH FLOWS FROM ONE TO ANOTHER, WHETHER IT BE ON THE WARD, THE DINING ROOM OR IN THE ARTS AND CRAFTS ROOM. IT IS SO REFRESHING TO SEE SO MANY PEOPLE THAT ARE GENUINELY INTERESTED IN THE WELL-BEING OF THOSE AROUND THEM.

HERE WE ASSOCIATE WITH PATIENTS WHO HAVE LEARNED A LESSON WHICH SO MANY PEOPLE ARE STILL TRYING TO LEARN. THE LESSON OF THE GOLDEN RULE.

WE ARE AMAZED AT THE PATIENCE OF THE NURSES AND AIDES AS THEY GO ABOUT THEIR DAILY DUTIES, GETTING THE BED PATIENTS WASHED AND READY FOR BREAKFAST, SHAVING THE MALE RESIDENTS, AND BRUSHING THE HAIR OF THE LADIES. ALL DAY LONG THERE IS SOMETHING TO DO THAT CONCERN'S THE INDIVIDUAL PATIENT.

THOSE THAT ARE ABLE, WALK BACK AND FORTH FROM THE DINING ROOM AND THE ARTS & CRAFTS ROOM. OTHERS ARE TRANSPORTED BY WHEEL CHAIRS.

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR DOCTOR'S TIME

One of the most-often-asked question in a hospital of this type is "When can I see my doctor?" or "Why doesn't my doctor ever talk to me?"

Little do the patients realize, that being a doctor in a mental hospital such as ours requires much more than merely meeting and talking to a patient.

Ask your doctor some day how much of his time is spent in staff meetings and report writing, among other group activities he is part of during one ordinary day. You will be surprised at his answers. He has little spare time when all is said and done.

One thing you should know, your doctor will not ignore a legitimate request regardless how busy he may be. If you do have a problem that only your doctor could solve or alleviate, ask your ward nurse or aide as to what time he will be on your ward. You being on time, will show your doctor that you are serious about wanting to see him.

If your problem is not pressing, write a note and have the nurse place it in the proper place so your doctor will read it when he checks the charts. Above all, don't bother your doctor with minor things that an aide or nurse could help you with. Perhaps your problem could be best handled by a social worker or a therapist, so ask the nurse and you will be directed to the proper person.

You can be assured that everyone from the doctor to an aide is here to help you recover and to help you solve your problems.

The month of May is just one week away. The birthstone for the fifth month is an emerald and the Lily of the Valley is the flower. Mother's Day falls on May 10 and Memorial Day on May 30.

We were attracted with Nancy Young, a 22-year-old artist who is the head designer for a leading manufacturer of pierced earrings, bracelets, charms, pins and other gold and sterling silver jewelry.

"I try to appeal to girls in the 18 to 25 group and create a fashion look with quality that the average working girl can buy," she explains. "I work with all types of genuine stones, studying what can be done using gold-fill and sterling with gems that ordinarily are offered only in 14-karat gold.

A matched jewelry set in which the gold has been molded into a Chinese motif, set with oval jade stones, is among the most successful of some thousand pieces she has designed.

Nancy feels the most practical items for a jewelry collection are these sets, consisting of bracelet, pierced earrings, screwback earrings, pendant and a selection of three to five pins all in matching designs.

"A girl can buy just one piece and add others later," she points out. "She can wear earrings, pendant and bracelet one time, perhaps earrings and a pin another time, adding or subtracting, depending on the occasion and outfit."

In designing she starts with color, studying stones to determine which can be used to achieve the effect she wants. "Some, like coral, can be carved into flowers or any shape under the sun," she notes. Then she makes sketches. Eventually, the stones are cut to her specifications in Japan, Germany or, more recently in Taiwan, her biggest source of jade, and Burma.

"I have to design a year ahead," she continues. "I go to fashion shows and see what materials are being used and what the look will be. For instance, if it's an oriental look I design to complement that. I basically am concerned with the style of clothes more than the length." Fashion colors also dictate what gems she will use to blend or contrast.

"When a man picks jewelry he wants something very feminine and delicate," says Nancy, who particularly likes flowers and leaves. "Floral designs are so utterly and charmingly feminine."

Miss Young, who started taking ballet lessons at 5 and has danced on the stage, originally planned to be a ballerina, but when she took out her sketch book she put away her ballet slippers.

(Editor's Note: Decorative pins will be given as prizes for CUE'S "Win A Prize" contests.)

Men don't use their imagination these days...the way women dress, they don't have to.

Men seldom make passes at girls who wear glasses...unless the gals have exceptional frames.

Then there's the doctor who wouldn't treat his wife...he doesn't make house calls.

 the days when our life begun
 The days of freedom for most everyone

When our country started with

 And the battles at Valley Forge
 The battle for freedom
 Has just begun

Now we join forces to fight for everyone's right
 To still be free

We've had great men to guide us
 Men to hide us
 Behind their great might Both during the day and night

I'LL BE GLAD

If I can put new hope within the heart
 Of one who has lost hope
 If I can help a brother up
 Some difficult, long slope
 That seems to steep for tired feet to go.

If I can help him climb
 Into the light upon the hill's far crest
 I shall begrudge no time
 Or strength that I can spend for well I know
 How great may be his need
 If I can help through any darkened hour
 I shall be glad indeed.

For I recall how often I have been Distressed, distraught, dismayed
 And hands have reached to help and voices called
 That kept me unafraid
 If I can share this help that I have had
 God knows I shall be glad.

A FRIEND

Once in a while a friend is found
 Who's a friend right from the start
 Once in a while a friendship's made
 That really warms the heart
 Once in a while a friendship's formed
 To last a lifetime through
 It really happens just once in a while
 To patients on Winnebago grounds
 And once in a while you'll be grateful
 For these friends you found.

TO LORETTA

Reluctantly I say goodbye
 Smiling with a little sigh
 For though my daydreams bring you near
 I wish that you were really here
 But what reality cannot change
 My dreams and wishes can arrange
 And through my wishing you'll be brought
 To me each day, a guest in thought.

ANNUAL REPORT 1968-69

The annual report for 1968-69, prepared by Dr. Darold Treffert, superintendent, showed a record number of admissions for the period, higher than in any year since 1873.

WSH received 2,061 patients during 1968-69, but its average daily resident population dropped to 601, the lowest since 1903. Discharges in those two years totaled 2,057.

Admitted for the first time, were 1,123 patients with 639 re-admissions and 158 transferees from other institutions. There were 669 admissions to A.T.U. While the A.T.U. in Gordon Hall also treats those suffering from drug abuse, only six addicts were admitted. Voluntary admissions numbered 549.

A total of 1,668 admissions were between 19 and 64; 194 were in the 65 or over age group; 84 between 16 and 18, and 115 were 15 and under.

Nearly 1,175 of the 2,057 separations from the hospital were final discharges. There were 414 transfers out and 324 conditional releases. Others were due to death, admissions to family care homes and returns to court and deportations.

There were 190 unauthorized absences during 1968-69 and 4,840 patients made home visits.

Dr. Treffert noted in the report that the state's system of county hospitals has relieved WSH of much of its traditional custodial role by assuming the treatment of long-term patients. WSH has therefore engaged in the specialized treatment of patients between the ages of 16 and 21, the severely ill, alcoholics, drug addicts, those found innocent by reasons of insanity and children and adolescents.

The latter unit reached its population peak in May, 1969, with 140. Its Waterwood School for the emotionally disturbed had 169 students in 1969. Twelve of these received diplomas either through Oshkosh High School or their local districts.

WSH training programs were expanded to include a one-year residency for psychiatrists. It also provides programs for psychologists, social workers, professional and practical nurses, teachers, occupational therapists, chaplains and dietitians.

A total of 24 research projects are now under way or have been completed.

Among its goals for 1970-71, WSH hopes to win approval for the construction of children's treatment cottages, to develop a specialized program for the treatment of those found innocent by reason of insanity, to adopt and use a responsibility accounting program for fiscal control and administration; also, assuming the care of the mentally ill from Wisconsin who have tuberculosis.

blames fathers

Dr. Joshua Bierer, a London psychiatrist and father of three, says American fathers allow their children to do what they like "and that leads to all kinds of troubles, including drug addiction." The psychiatrist, embarking on a coast-to-coast lecture tour, blames the permissive nature of American fathers on a misunderstanding of the principles expounded in the early years of psychiatry and their emphasis on freedom of expression.

"Freedom is a good principle," he opines, "if the individual is grown up and can carry responsibility."

CATCHER SKETCHER

Receiving a hot news tip, our catcher-sketcher grabbed a pencil and a drawing sheet and took off on his roller skates for the vicinity of Sherman Hall. There in the ball park, he found Don and a group of men running around the bases. He managed to get on the side. "What gives?" he asked the sweating Irishman. "We're training," puffed. "We're going to challenge the 48'ers. They had better be ready, too."

MORE ON HOW TO SCORE

In the April 10th issue we gave you tips on keeping score. On page 17 in this edition you will have an official score sheet to use when making score sheets of your own. After you have marked the score by innings for each team and tabulated the batting and fielding records, you proceed to the Summary.

The SUMMARY shall follow the score by innings. You should list the following items in this order: (1) The final score. (2) Runs batted in and by whom hit. (3) Two-base hits and by whom hit. (4) Three-base hits and by whom hit. (5) Home runs and by whom hit. (6) Stolen bases and by whom. (7) Sacrifice bunts and flies. (8) Double plays and players participating in them. (9) Triple plays and players participating in them. (10) Runners left on base, including the batter-baserunner, whose batted ball results in another runner being retired for the third out. (11) Number of bases on balls given by each pitcher. (12) Number of batters struck out by each pitcher. (13) Number of hits and runs allowed by each pitcher. (14) The names of batters hit by a pitched ball and name of the pitcher who hit them. (15) The number of wild pitches made by each pitcher. (16) The number of passed balls. (17) The name of the winning pitcher. (18) The name of the losing pitcher. (19) The names of the umpires and scorers. (20) The length of the game with any unusual delay in time deducted. (21) The number of innings or parts of an inning pitched by each pitcher. A part of an inning is determined by the number of outs. One out is one-third of an inning; two outs are two-thirds of an inning.

RUNS AND HITS

A run batted in is a run scored because of the following reasons: (a) A safe hit. (b) A sacrifice bunt or sacrifice fly. (c) A foul fly caught. (d) An infield put-out or fielders choice. (e) A baserunner forced home because of interference, the batter being hit with a pitched ball, or being given a (Turn page - 1st column.)

base on balls. (f) A home run and all runs scored as a result.

KEEP IN MIND

A run batted in is a run scored because of one of the following reasons:

(a) A safe hit. (b) A sacrifice bunt or sacrifice fly. (c) A foul fly caught. (d) An infield put-out or fielders choice. (e) A baserunner forced home because of interference, the batter being hit with a pitched ball, or being given a base on balls. (f) A home run and all runs scored as a result.

A base hit is a batted ball that permits the batter to reach bases safely. A base hit shall not be scored in the following cases: (a) When a runner is forced out by a batted ball, or would have been forced out, except for a fielding error. (b) When a player fielding a batted ball retires a preceding runner with ordinary effort. (c) When a fielder fails in an attempt to retire a preceding runner, and in the scorer's judgment, the batter-baserunner could have been retired at first base.

The length of a base hit shall be determined by the number of bases the batter advances without the aid of an error or because of poor judgment by the fielding team, or as the result of a play being made on another runner.

Questions concerning rules interpretation should be directed to Rules-Interpreter, the CUE. We will publish both the question and the answer in our following issue.

WHAT WE HEAR

Fun is like life insurance; the older you get, the more it costs.

One could get rich manufacturing crutches for lame excuses.

LOCAL 48 IN NEW LEAGUE

Our Winnebago Local 48 softball team has entered the Industrial league this season.

A total of 60 teams are entered in the ORD softball program this year. The first game is scheduled for Monday May 4.

The teams Local 48 will meet include the Medalist Dukes and Medalist Kings, Wisconsin Telephone, Morgan Company, Oshkosh Motor Trucks, Fire-fighters, Buckstaff, Rockwell-Standard and the SNC Manufacturing.

The CUE'S sports department will cover all the games as usual and we plan interviews with the players in forthcoming issues.

EASY, BOY

When you start practicing for the softball season, take it easy. Don't throw the ball as if you were going to send it out of the park, and watch that stretching when you are on the receiving end. You can easily strain a ligament.

A veteran trainer told us that there are 56 causes of back pain, most of which are rare. The common crick-in-the-back pain is usually a sprain, an overstretching or actual tear of ligaments that hold bones together. Nearby muscles go into spasm to protect the injured area, like a splint.

So watch that over-exertion as you get yourself in shape. Easy does it.

DUO WINS SINGALONG AUDIENCE

Mrs. Earl Sommers an Oshkosh organist teamed up with Clarence _____ as a organ-piano duo for the Singalong on April 16. Over 228 patients and staff members attended.

This was Mrs. Sommers 6th appearance at the Canteen. An artist of great repute, a skilled woodworker and a specialist in gardening, all may be used accurately to describe Mrs. Sommers. She has a personality that projects itself to the audience, and the response she received was truly merited. While her woodworking and gardening could be classified as hobbies, her brilliant handling of the organ keys revealed her artistry.

Clarence _____ on the piano, also displayed a rhythmic skill that blended beautifully with the organ. He repeatedly requested the audience to sing along, and while many did sing, a large number preferred to sit back and enjoy the musical performance presented by these two artists.

Mrs. Sommers, who was accompanied by her husband, comes from a musical family. She has several brothers who were professional musicians. She and her husband expressed amazement over the Canteen facilities. She also promised to come back in May for a return engagement.

DID YOU KNOW?

Ecology is the science of balance in nature, or interrelationship of organisms and their environment. It's from the German coined word Okologie.

Without work, suffering and danger, there can be no satisfaction at the end. Without sharing, there can be no wealth. Without self-discipline, no freedom.

Those who value their privileges above their principles soon lose both.

Nerve is nerves controlled.

It will soon be time for summertime outdoor activity. The great outdoors is infectious. Exposure to it, like anything habit-forming, increases the appetite. But, unlike the noxious parallels that may spring to mind, the outdoor habit is strictly healthful.

Fathers, discovering for the first time, the genuine pleasure of the close companionship of their sons, often become the biggest boosters of the outdoors.

Everyone, it seems, wants to escape from the confines of the inside and breathe in the freshness of a relaxing day on the outside. Thoughts naturally dwell on a summer camping or fishing trip and the thrills of boating.

Today's boats mirror the taste of a society swinging more and more towards the youthful. The trusty old rowboat is fast going the way of the streetcar ... Today's fishing "skiffs," for example offer such conveniences as built-in bait wells and rod holders, under-the-seat storage compartments and computer-designed hulls.

And there aren't as many oars sold these days, either.

There'll be plenty of families enjoying boating as the best way to get out into the great outdoors--together. And chances are you'll see a grandmother and grandfather savoring the get-away-from-it-all solitude in a small boat with plenty of cruiseable water.

Many families are getting Camper pickups. Capable, versatile, and attractive, these vehicles show what's happening now that more and more families are going to the great outdoors. Today campers can have just about any degree of comfort and luxury that they choose.

In today's modern scene, particularly around cities, the pressure of modern living tend to pull families apart, giving the members little time to be together.

Camping has just the opposite effect. It tends to bring the family together because it takes them away from everyday lives and moves them to a new setting as a family unit, and because it takes them away from the pressures that pull them apart at home.

And whatever the duration of the trip, whether it be a day's cutting, a weekend, or a glorious long vacation, every trip into the outdoors works up hearty appetites.

Almost every meal in the outdoors is either a picnic or a cookout. We have both at WSH during the summer months. Bus trips are arranged that enables a group of patients to view interesting and scenic spots in Wisconsin. The Fish Hatchery at Wild Rose is one of the most interesting.

We all want to be actively involved in outdoor activities, to be a part of the natural environment, not insulated from it. When you are out in the country you ride through bands of fragrance -- the smell of apple blossoms, lilacs and new mown grass.

We can't forget the pleasure of bicycling especially as an exercise. The Life Extension Institute even prefers bicycling to jogging. Many patients have discovered that bicycling is just about the most fun one could imagine--that they can do their own thing on a bike--that bikes, not automobiles, deserve to be called the Wheels of Man.

the merry month of may

SONG: ON MAY MORNING

Now the bright morning-star, day's harbinger,
 Comes dancing from the east, and leads with her
 The flowery May, who from her green lap throws
 The yellow cowslip and the pale primrose
 Hail, bounteous May, that dost inspire
 Mirth and youth and warm desire!
 Woods and groves are of thy dressing,
 Hill and dale doth boast thy blessing.
 Thus we salute thee with our early song,
 And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

May Day was the "maddest, merriest day" of Merrie England, and it began early. The custom was for everyone to go out into the woods a little after midnight, so as to get back by dawn, bringing with them the great sprays and branches of the may, or hawthorn, a prickly tree with pink and white blossoms, related to the rose. As Alfred Noyes tells in his ballad, one special prank was for the Lord of Misrule and all his court to come trooping up the aisle of a church where services were being held, dancing, singing, and waving garlands high above their heads.

But it wasn't only to church they went. They left flowers at the homes of friends--a custom we still follow, in hanging May baskets on the door--and the culminating event of the day was the dance around the Maypole. This was no small Maypole, such as the ones the school children of America dance around in parks, but a huge and ancient veteran of the forest which took forty yoke of oxen to transport. Getting it into the ground was no easy job and when it got there it usually stayed for the whole year, until another giant took its place. Little booths and arbors were often built around it, and it became the center of something like a fair.

No holiday has had a stronger hold on people's love of fantasy and spring merrymaking. As have so many festivals, it comes down to us from ancient Rome, from a celebration in honor of Flora, the goddess of flowers and the spring.

In New York City on May Day, five celebrations are held by school children, one in each borough. These Park Fêtes, as they are called, do not come on May Day itself, but on five different days through the month.

Back in the 1880's May Day was also significant in this country as a time for labor demonstrations in connection with the big struggle then going on for the eight-hour day. In October, 1884, a group of trade unions later known as the American Federation of Labor set May 1, 1886, as the date from which "eight hours shall constitute a day's labor." On the day designated, a strike was called, backed not only by these trade unions but also by left-wing and revolutionary groups. Many cities were involved, with Chicago as the strike center. Out of this strike developed the "Haymarket Riot," in Haymarket Square, Chicago, a demonstration held on May 4 at which a bomb was thrown, killing 7 policemen.

Since the riotous May Days of the 1880's, May Day has been observed in this country chiefly as a holiday with games and pageants, but even this custom has been gradually dying out. Although the European Labor May Day is still celebrated by Socialist and Communist groups. In Hawaii it is called Lei Day. American labor now has its own day, celebrated on the first Monday in September.

 The CUE tries harder.

This need for reforestation is now thoroughly understood by everyone and is being constantly met by the government.

Interesting ways of observing Arbor Day have sprung up in many states. In Mississippi and Texas, it is part of Conservation Week. In Connecticut there are two Arbor Days, one in April and one in October--a sensible solution, since some trees do better if planted in the fall. And in the eight states of California, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Massachusetts, Tennessee, and Wisconsin, Arbor Day is also Bird Day.

Bird Day has no fixed date, but almost everywhere falls in May, the great bird month. The purpose of Bird Day, as of Arbor Day, is largely conservation. The beauty of birds, as they dart and stop and swoop, would seem reason enough for their existence ...but birds serve other ends, too. They literally save the farmer's life by destroying the insects that destroy crops.

CAREER DAYS

APRIL 28, MAY 5

Winnebago State Hospital will participate in Career Days for high school students April 28 and May 5.

The program to interest students in the mental health field is sponsored by the Wisconsin Association for Mental Health and its local chapters in the state.

Approximately 250 students will take part in the program on each date at the hospital.

Students are expected from the northeastern section of the state.

Dr. Darold Treffert, superintendent, will present an overview of the psychiatry field and the association will show a film on mental health careers.

Treatment teams in the eight wards of the hospital will meet with students in small group workshops for an in-depth look at what persons in the field are doing.
