DARTMOUTH IN WIN IN GLEE CLUB CONTEST

Dartmouth college was awarded first place in the Intercollegiate Glee club contest held at Carnegie hall in New York city Saturday night, according to Harry Carswell '23, who returned last night with the Wisconsin Glee club. Princeton won second place and Yale third.

The nine colleges and universities competing were: Dartmouth, Amherst, Columbia, Princeton, Harvard, Wisconsin, Yale, Pennsylvania State, and Pennsylvania Wesleyan. Harvard the winner for the past three consecutive years, was a great favorite, according to Carswell, and many considered this Glee club the winner before the official decision was given.

"Carnegie hall was packed to capacity and the Wisconsin alumni turned out in a body to support us," said Carswell. "A delegation of Wisconsin men met us at the train, arranged all transportation for us, and escorted the club to the train after the concert."

"Y" DEPUTATION TEAMS TO END PLANS TODAY

The preparatory work and training of the Deputation Team personnel is rapidly drawing to a close. One of the final meetings of the preparatory series will be held at 5:30 this evening (Tues.) in the banquet room of the University Y. M. C. A. cafeteria. Secretary Cockerell, one of the officials of the City "Y" is leading the group and presenting the points requisite to the team training.

The three preceding talks have covered the "Approach to the Boy," "Preparation of Team Talks," and "Personal Interviews and the Decision Meeting." The fourth and last talk involves the social part of the deputation work, games, hikes and informal meetings. Each team member is to bring suggestions as to suitable games and interesting social affairs.

The Deputation Teams are sent out to various Wisconsin towns and districts each year. This season's itinerary includes Rochester, Janesville, Eau Claire, Augusta, Neillsville, St. Johns Military Academy, Northwestern Military Academy, Elgin Military Academy, and certain localities in Walworth county. The town or institution visited pays the expenses of the trip.

ENGINEERING MAG TO FEATURE SCHWAB STORY

The Wisconsin Engineer for March will feature an article by Charles M. Schwab written especially for the magazines making up the group known as Engineering College Magazines, Associated.

This group, acting through one of the member publications, prevailed upon the famous engineer, executive, and financier to prepare for their thirty thousand readers. The article, it is stated, was written personally by Mr. Schwab.

"If you have any influence in the world to get you a start in life, don't use it," is the advice of Schwab to young men about to go to work.

King David to Be Tried at Menorah Mock Trial Today

A mock trial is to be presented for the members of Menorah society at the regular meeting in Lathrop parlors at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening. King David is to be placed on trial for the murder of one of his soldiers, whom he sent into battle purposely to get rid of. The trial procedure is being worked out by the law student members of the organization, and promises to provide interesting entertainment for all.

WEATHER: RAIN OR SNOW

Rain or snow will fall today. Tomorrow will be fair, with not much change of temperature. The maximum temperature yesterday was 29.7 at 7 p. m., and the minimum was 12.2 at 7 a. m.

YELL CONTEST TO BE CLOSED AT 12 TONIGHT

The yell contest will close at midnight tonight. All yells received tomorrow that are postmarked March 6 will be accepted and turned in with the others to the judging committee tomorrow night.

The Cardinal has been sponsoring this contest which has augmented the present supply of yells by over 225. Several of the submitted yells have been used at the games but all suggestions will be given a trial before the final award will be made and all yells have an equal chance to win.

Between halves at the last three basketball games the yells have been tried out and broadcast throughout the country. The alumni have contributed over 15 yells.

The contest has reached national scope as shown by a letter received several days ago from North Carolina and from the letters sent in by listeners-in on the broadcast.

The cheer leader of Sketlon college, North Carolina heard of the contest several days after it opened and has written for more information and for the final results.

The basis for final selection will be originality and snap. The judging committee will meet in a few days and make the awards.

POINT SYSTEM MEET CALLED

Senate Wants Student Opinion on New Activities Plan

The attitude of the student body toward the proposed point system will be tested out in the mass meeting tomorrow night according to plans completed yesterday by the Student senate.

Invitations have been sent by Senator Francis Lamb '23 to campus organizations urging them to attend the mass meeting for discussion of the point system. The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock in Music hall.

Senators Will Not Speak

"Members of the senate will not speak at the mass meeting," Senator Maynard Brown '23, president, declared last night. "There has been some misunderstanding of the plans of this body for the meeting. The affair was called by the senate as a means of sounding out student opinion on the point system, originally investigated by the senate."

"No action has been taken by the senate on the point system since the members have thought best that the student body be given an opportunity for self-expression."

Stewart Attacks

An attack upon the Senate mass meeting was made yesterday by Robert Stewart '23, president of the Council of Forty. Stewart, in commenting upon the mass meeting, declared:

"The mass meeting should be postponed until the Mid-West Student conference is held March 15 at Evanston. I'm interested in a point system. Students can't talk about something they know nothing about. Until they do there is no reason for a mass meeting."

Chemical Engineers Make Plans For Annual Parade

The Chemical engineers will hold a meeting Tuesday night for the purpose of laying plans for Saint Patrick's day parade which will take place on March 17.

"We expect only to lay our plans for the parade tonight," Kenneth Watson '23, president of the Chemical Engineers society said this afternoon.

"When the rest of the engineering societies organize we will be in a position to push the parade to a grand success," Watson said.

WISCONSIN'S VICTORY OVER PURPLE MAKES BIG 10 TIE PROBABLE

Hoosiers Get Revenge For Defeat at Iowa City Last Week

(Special to The Cardinal)

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Mar. 5.—Iowa, Big Ten basketball champions, went down in close defeat in her last game of the season here tonight, when Indiana varsity five out-fought, out-shot, and out-played the Hawkeyes in a return game and won 23-21 in a real honest to goodness conference upset.

Michael Nyikos '25, Crimson forward, was the star of the game, making five field goals and nine free throws for a total of 21 points, or enough by himself to tie the Iowans. J. M. Funk '24, Hawkeye forward, made 13 points for his team.

Indiana started in scoring when P. G. Parker, '25, center, made a field goal from under the basket. Iowa then took the lead on a field goal and free throw, but Iowa fouls, made good by Nyikos, put the Crimson in front again.

The Hoosiers were never again headed after the first few minutes, although the score was tied 17-17 in the middle of the second half. Fight was the prominent feature throughout the game, and over-eagerness on the part of both teams accounted for many fouls in the first half. The first half ended with Indiana in the lead, 13-11, with 3 fouls apiece chalked up against Funk, Parker and Nyikos the only men in the game who had scored either from field or foul in the entire period.

The result was that the second half was cleaner, although with Indiana ahead 17-16, Parker fouled for the fourth time and was ejected. Funk made the free throw, tying the score. Funk soon followed him from the game via the foul route. Nyikos was successful in keeping out of trouble and stayed in the game until the final whistle.

The game was witnessed by 4,000 Crimson fans and was conceded to be the best and most exciting game ever played on the Indiana floor. The victory for the Hoosiers avenged a defeat at Iowa last week, when Indiana was beaten 19-13 by free throws, both teams making five field goals. The game failed to topple Iowa from the leadership of the Big Ten, as no other team can hope to wrest the title from her. By the victory, Indiana moved up into fourth place in the Conference race, with three games, with Minnesota, Wisconsin and Purdue yet to be played.

By HARRY P. BARSANTEE

Wisconsin's cup of joy filled to overflowing last night when, following a victory for the Badgers over Northwestern by a 29 to 17 score, word came of a victory for Indiana over Iowa, the former conference pace-setters.

The outcome of the two important games played last night changes the percentage column which has remained stationary for so long, and Iowa loses its 1000 per cent record.

Double Tie Looms

A double tie for the conference championship looms up before Badger fans with the Hoosier five standing as its greatest barrier. Iowa played two hard games without in three days, however, and the Indiana victory may not speak of as great strength as it indicates at first.

During the entire first half of the game in the armory last night, the teams played evenly and fans in the bleachers feared that any break in luck would send the Purple team into a winning lead. The score was tied at several times during the first period, but the Badgers shot into a decided lead a few minutes before the pistol shot ended the period and the score stood at 16 to 11 with the Badgers ahead.

Northwestern Defense Strong

Northwestern presented one of the strongest defenses that Wisconsin has faced this season and during the first period the Badgers were at a loss to find a hole through the Purple guards.

Wisconsin loosened its defense for part of the first period and while they did not let their opponents reach the coveted 20-point mark during the game, they allowed them to pass the 15 points which, with the exception of Purdue, no team has been allowed to reach.

The Badger offense featured the game, with Les Gage, in his usual aggressive way, leading the work. While Les garnered only two of the 11 field goals scored by the Badgers, his floor work was a revelation and he was a pillar in every play the Wisconsin men started.

Patterson, burly Purple football man, was a tower defense and his work prevented many of the Badgers' rushes from being completed. Franzen led the Purple offense through their successful first period drive, but he was sent to the bench when he violated the rules for the fourth time and from that time on, the Purple scoring combination was broken.

Holmes Good

Holmes, begoggled center on the Purple five, was a potent factor in the Northwestern offense although he failed to earn any points. He

Mrs. Glicksman, Social Leader, Is Called By Death

Mrs. Harry Glicksman

WIFE OF DEAN DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Harry Glicksman, Club Leader, is Victim of Pneumonia

Mrs. Edna Glicksman, wife of Harry Glicksman, assistant dean of the college of letters and science at the University of Wisconsin, and a prominent Madison social and political leader, passed away suddenly about 6 o'clock yesterday at Bradley Memorial hospital at the age of 40 years. Pneumonia complications, following a week's illness with la grippe and influenza, was the cause of death.

Women's political and club circles were shocked yesterday at the announcement of her death. Only a week ago, Mrs. Glicksman presided at the regular meeting of the Legislative council, of which she is chairman, and had announced that she was planning to open a series of lectures on parliamentary law as an adjunct to the activities of the legislative committee of the Madison Woman's club.

Mrs. Glicksman was removed from her home, 2024 Chamberlain ave., at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon to the hospital. She continued in about the same condition throughout Sunday until 10 o'clock last night when a change for the worse was reported.

Mrs. Glicksman was exceedingly active in women's work, both local and state-wide. Social welfare work and philanthropies of many kinds also took up much of her time.

As chairman of the Legislative council, perhaps better known as the Clearing House association, and as state chairman of the department of parliamentary law of the Federation of Woman's clubs, her services have been most effective.

Mrs. Glicksman has been serving as vice-president of the University league of women, and superintended the arrangements in the furnishings of the latest co-operative house for women founded at the university. The Christmas party held for the crippled children at Bradley hospital last December was under her charge.

"Her knowledge of people and her skill in arranging combinations of people who would work together happily and efficiently has never been equalled by any person in my acquaintance," Dean Louise Nardin said this morning.

She received her knowledge of parliamentary law when she resided in New Haven while her husband was completing his doctors work at Yale. In the fall of 1918 she came with Mr. Glicksman to Madison, and immediately entered upon a career of active service among women's organizations.

A few weeks ago she was conducting classes in law in Milwaukee and Wauwatosa, at the invitation of clubs in those cities.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter Marjorie, 12, and a brother-in-law, Nathan Glicksman, Milwaukee attorney.

Will show you how folks get those whiter, cleaner teeth

Go ask for a test of this new way of teeth cleaning. It means too much to miss. You see prettier teeth everywhere today. Learn how people get them.

Do this now. Millions of people of some 50 nations enjoy these benefits. Get them for yourself.

Film makes teeth dingy

That viscous film you feel on teeth is their chief enemy. It clouds them. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Film absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now they curdle film

Old brushing methods did not effectively combat film. As a result, nearly all people suffered from it.

Now dental science knows two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. To millions of homes it has brought a new dental era.

Advised the world over

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Careful people the world over now use Pepsodent, largely by dental advice. It has supplanted in millions of homes the methods of the past.

Corrects old mistakes

Research also proved that old methods brought undesired effects. They decreased the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

They reduced the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Pepsodent brings just opposite effects. It multiplies that alkalinity, multiplies that starch digestant. Thus it gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents.

This test will show

The results of this test will amaze and delight you. Make it—watch the changes that occur.

Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Compare the results with old methods—by what you clearly see and feel. You will gain a new conception of clean teeth.

BADGERS CRUSH NORTHWESTERN IN FAST GAME

Now Have Chance to Tie For First

was fast and his passes were sure. McKenzie, Northwestern guard, scored seven of the Purples' 17 points via the free throw route when he succeeded in seven out of his ten trials.

Gage Does Scoring

Les Gage led the scoring for the Badgers when he made two field goals and six of his twelve attempts from the free-throw line. He was in every play and was easily the star of the game.

Doug Gibson followed Gage in scoring when he connected for four field goals before he suffered the Referee's displeasure and was disqualified from further competition about the middle of the second half.

Spooner was a little off color and was a little wild at times but he connected for two field goals while he was in the game. Elsom, while he played only a part of the game showed his old form and got through for two baskets. Gus Tebell got one basket and made a point from the free-throw line.

McKenzie Scores First

McKenzie started the scoring a minute after the game started when he dropped in a free-throw on Gage's foul. Gibby followed in a pretty shot from the back-board a few minutes later and sent the Badgers into a lead. The score see-sawed from that time and was tied at seven all after nine minutes of playing and nine all after fifteen minutes. Then Wisconsin opened up and by the end of the half had gained a 16 to 11 lead.

Ken Elsom started the second period with a basket but McKenzie followed with a free-throw on Rollie's foul. Pretty team work enabled the Badgers to gain several points on short shots and after ten minutes of playing they were ahead by a 22 to 14 score. Gibson went out and he was replaced by Barwig at center. Spooner missed a long one but a pretty follow-in shot netted two more points. Elsom replaced Gage and Diebold went in for Elsom. The new combination worked well and the Purple was held to 17 points while the Meanwell men dropped in enough to count a final 29 score.

Workmen Will Coach At Simpson College

C. Noel Workman, Ohio State football and baseball star, has accepted an offer to become athletic director of Simpson college, Indianola, Iowa. He will take up his new duties next fall.

Simpson college has an enrollment of 800 students, and claims fine athletic material and the finest gymnasium in Iowa.

Workman is one of the brainiest quarterbacks seen in the Big Ten in recent years. This year he transferred from intercollegiate competition to coaching and scouting, and has had pronounced success.

McCARTHY TO LEAD FROSH BASKETBALL

Jerry D. McCarthy, South Bend, Ind., was elected captain of the freshman basketball team at a meeting held recently. McCarthy plays a forward position.

He played with South Bend high school last year and was selected as an All-Indiana tournament forward.

Under the direction of Dr. Carl Harper former Wisconsin player, the freshmen have developed into a strong aggregation and will probably furnish material for Coach Walter E. Meanwell's squad next season.

MATMEN LOSE CHICAGO MEET

Badgers at Short End of Breaks in Hard Battle

Wisconsin seemed to be on the short end of the breaks proposition Saturday night when the Badger mat team endeavored to avenge the beating that Chicago gave it last year.

Coach George Hitchcock yesterday afternoon declared that he was not entirely satisfied with the conditions existing in the Maroon stronghold Saturday night. Wisconsin came up against a stronger team than it had expected to find. Sarpolius, Maroon heavyweight, took a fall out of Gregory in 9:0. He seemed to have had quite a bit of previous experience to fall back on. Hembre put up the battle of his life Saturday night, but was unable to best a man who also seemed to have had considerable wrestling experience. He threw a fall out of Hembre in 9:10.

Holmes and Bendbow won hard fought matches by the decision route.

If falls counted for anything, the Badger aggregation should have won the meet for they took four out of seven falls. The Maroons won purely on decisions.

Thursday the Badgers leave for Ames, Iowa, where they meet Ames College Friday night. Ames is one of the strongest, if not the strongest wrestling schools in the Middle-west. The lineup on the Badger team will be almost the same as it was for the Chicago meet.

Probable line-up for the Ames meet:

Suzyki	115
Bendbow	125
Holmes	135
Heuer	158
Templin	175
Beiberstein	heavy

ENGLISH CREWMEN GET BEER ON TRAINING DIET

Beer is included in the daily bill of fare of the Oxford and Cambridge crews who are being put through rigorous training for their race on the Thames which will take place on March 24.

Beef, mutton, and chops, with no pastry, constitutes the greater part of their diet. The oarsmen are not forbidden the use of tobacco and they may have as many as two pipes a day after their work on the water is done. Cigarettes are frowned upon by officials, but are not tabooed.

During the three weeks hard training preceding last year's race the training expenses of a crew were $7,000, about $450 of the amount being spent for wine and $175 for beer. The money is furnished by the university through the College Boat clubs.

Big Stadium no Menace to Athletics—Griffith

That stadium drives are not a menace promoting commercialism but are rather the logical solution of an economic problem was asserted by Major J. L. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner, in an interview about Indiana's University Memorial stadium. "It is simply good business to provide accommodations for the increasing crowds at athletic contests, just as business concerns improve facilities for handling increased trade," he explained.

In New Zealand there are 40,000 passenger cars, 9,000 of which are in the Auckland district. About 10 per cent of these cars require straight side tires.

HAMMANN WINS SECOND PLACE AT ILLINI MEET

Kansas Man Places First

When Edward Hammann '23, Milwaukee, won second place in the all-around championship events at the Illinois relays, Urbana, last Saturday, he hung up a record which had been made only once before by a Wisconsin track and field athlete.

Hammann competed in seven events and scored 4,885 1-2 points, finishing second to Emerson Norton, Kansas, who totalled 5,253. Coach Mead Burke, competing at the relays in 1917, finished second to Fisher, Chicago, according to Director Thomas E. Jones. In the six years since Burke was entered, no Wisconsin man has performed so consistently in several events.

Hammann First in Jump

Hammann took first place in the running broad jump, with a mark of 21 feet 2 3-8 inches, and in the 5-yard dash. He went the distance in 8 1-4 seconds. In the shot put and pole vault events, Hammann took second place. He put the weight a distance of 35 feet 10 1-8 inches and went over the bar at 12 feet 5 1-4 inches. He also finished second in the 880-yard run, third in the 75-yard high hurdles, and fourth in the running high jump.

The Wisconsin two-mile relay team stepped out and showed its heels to all opponents excepting Ames. The farmers running Miller, Hammerly, McIntyre, and Wolters, sped the two miles in 8 minutes and 6 seconds. Wisconsin was represented by Rossmessel, Schneider, Ramsey and Vallely.

Spetz Takes Fourth

Capt. Ralph Spetz took fourth in the 75-yard dash. The American and carnival records of 7 3-5 seconds were tied by Ayres, Illinois. Donohue, Wisconsin, tied with four other men for second place in the high jump. The bar was at 5 feet 11 inches.

BADGER FISH PRACTICE - FOR LAST MAROON MEET

Coach Joe Steinauer is pointing his varsity tankmen toward the final conference meet with Chicago this week-end. Although the Badgers lost the meet with Northwestern by a large score, the coach believes his men may take the Maroon fish into camp. This meet is the final one before the conference meet at Chicago on March 15-16.

All the dope to date on the Maroon tankmen shows that the Badgers can win the meet with them. The margins by which they won from the Milwaukee athletic club were narrow and the coach's times on his own men show that the Badgers are easily better than the Maroons.

The events that loom big for the Badgers are the relay, 40-yard dash, and the 100-yard swim. There is some doubt concerning the dives and the plunges. However, with the lead gained in the events that are certain there is not much doubt in the mind of the coach regarding the outcome of the meet.

The parliament of Japan has recently passed a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor to persons under 21 years of age.

The Wisconsin track team engages in its second dual indoor meet next Saturday when Coach Knute Rockne and Notre Dame track team comes to Madison. Notre Dame has one of the best cinder path squads in its history. The team barely lost to Illinois, Conference champions, when the anchor man in the relay, the last event, fell down, Illinois men won the relay and the meet.

Notre Dame Second

Notre Dame teams won second place in the medley relay race and four place in the one-mile relay at the Illinois relays. In the special events, Tom Lieb captured a second place in the shot put, and Barr took third in the 75-yard dash.

Although they have lost Johnny Murphy, champion high jumper, and Billy Hayes, tied for the Conference record in the 100-yard dash, they have many other veterans who are sure to count points.

Wisconsin track men will undergo a series of hard workouts in preparation for the dual meet and then speed up to the top of their form for the annual Conference at Northwestern university on March 16 and 17.

HOCKEY SEASON ENDS WITH TWO HILLTOP GAMES

Both Games End in Tie Scores

The Wisconsin hockey team wound up the season with a big week, engaging in four games, three of which were overtime contests. Wisconsin and Marquette played two tie games over the week-end, both going two ten minute overtime periods.

The Friday game was 1 and 1 and the Saturday game ended 2 and 2. In the Marquette games the Badgers were severely handicapped by the absence of Johnny Mokrejs, who is confined to the hospital.

Marquette Scores First

In the game Saturday the Hilltop team scored first about the middle of the first period on a freak, but lucky shot for them. The puck was driven wildly toward the goal and caromed off Woods' club into the goal. The second period was scoreless.

Wisconsin scored twice in succession in the third period, Johnson carrying the puck down the rink for the first one and Capt. Cambocker soon repeated the feat. Just before the end of the period Marquette tied the count. In the two overtime periods Wisconsin had the edge throughout, but the men were so tired from their hard week of playing that they lacked the punch to score.

Ends Best Season

This has been by far the most successful season Wisconsin has enjoyed since hockey was made a recognized sport. Last year the team failed to win a game, and the total score was 42 to 8 in favor of the opponents. This year Wisconsin held their opponents to 13 scores and made 10 themselves. A meeting will be held soon at which a successor to Captain Cambocker will be elected.

The men who participated this season are: Capt. Howard Cambocker, John Mokrejs, Johnson, Fiske, Bob Blodgett, Tom Tredwell, Wyllus Woods and Moran.

NIGHT EDITOR—HAROLD F. DIEHM

Well, Iowa got a Wisconsin basketball valentine after all. On our delivery route or off, Iowa got it.

Wisconsin delivered to old man Michigan on Valentine's day. Michigan delivered to Illinois, Illinois to Indiana, and Indiana to Iowa last night.

Or there's another way 'round: Wisconsin delivered to Northwestern last night. Northwestern to Indiana and Indiana to Iowa.

Or there's still a shorter route: Wisconsin delivered to Indiana. And Indiana passed it along.

Figure it any way you like—the valentine was delivered. But we like the direct method best.

IN THE WAKE OF DR. MOTT

"Let it not be said that any student is so engrossed in curricular and extra-curricular activities that he is digging his own spiritual grave."

And with these few words Dr. John R. Mott on last Friday night penetrated only too accurately to the actual maladjustment of activities the majority of students set for themselves during their four years of college life. Dr. Mott's words were given as a challenge, but in challenging they bespeak conditions of fact.

A survey of student church-going in Madison shows that not more than sixty per cent of the student body attends church regularly.

Only forty per cent of the men and women who have stated church preference belong to either city or university churches. How many others attend religious services regularly can only be estimated from the number of students present at various church meetings.

In justice to church activities in student communities, however, it must be said that the percentage of church attendance is as large or probably larger than any other cosmopolitan community. Some churches here are overcrowded to the point that two services of similar nature are necessary each Sunday. But again in spiritual matters as well as in others, the college student is held up as being the one best equipped to take the lead.

And he should.

At its best, the present extent of student church going is not what it should be.

Failure to pack Lathrop gymnasium during the religious conference meetings shows rather conclusively that students are not accustomed to attend church regularly, that the impetus of an all-university affair was not sufficient to jar the latent religious interests of the many.

Most of the students attending, it has been ventured, were regular members of the campus churches which had suspended meetings during the Mott addresses and urged attendance at the meetings.

The conference cannot be viewed from any angle as anything but a success; rather the lack of attendance resulted from the same lack of attention to religious matters that has depleted regular church attendance.

It is easy to explain why students do not go to church. There is no parental command or stimulus which impels church-going. Sleep comes with tremendous facility on Sunday mornings, and the sleepy will insist that there is no other opportunity quite so good to catch up on the week's losses. The busy or tardy in work will seize Sunday as the most admirable occasion to make up or forge ahead in curricular work.

Despite the apparent goodness or badness of all the reasons for not attending church, there is a common refutation for them all. The spiritual life of a man is an all-important one lasting through all time. It can never be sacrificed through the formative four years of college life with profit.

The college four years is theoretically a training ground for life to come, but never could it be so if the spiritual side is neglected, because certainly life after college includes spiritual life. Lacking in life training, indeed, is the student who in Dr. Mott's words "is so engrossed in curricular and extra-curricular activities that he is digging his own spiritual grave."

In relieving himself from cur-

MEDDLESOME REFORMERS

Daily Iowan

Advocates of "blue laws" and other restrictive measures tending to reduce the joy of living to the absolute minimum, have already been at work in Kansas, and two bills recently introduced into the state legislature there indicate that the reformers are still busy.

From the editorial columns of the Daily Kansan we learn that two bills are pending in the state legislative body which have a direct effect on the life of the students of the University of Kansas, and which, we might add, seem to be unwarranted intrusions into the rights of the students.

The first bill would prohibit students from using pleasure cars, not only on the campus of state schools, but would also deny them the use of automobiles at any place during the time of their enrollment in Kansas educational institutions.

The penalty for violators of the proposed law is $300 fine and 30 days in jail. As the writer points out, the student is forbidden even to use the "family Ford" while home on vacations. The author of such a bill should be laughed out of the legislative chambers, but in Kansas the legislators seem to have taken him seriously, for the bill has been approved and returned by the Senate judiciary committee.

The second bill seeks to abolish Greek-letter organizations and undergraduate secret societies in the state. The editorial writer in the college paper ably defends the fraternities, admitting the faults of the past, but showing that the evils have practically been eliminated in the steady improvement of the past half-century.

We hope for the sake of the college students of Kansas that both bills are decisively defeated. Such attempted regulation of matters which are clearly under the jurisdiction of the administrative officials of the university is nothing short of uncalled-for meddling. We hope the reformers lose, and pause a moment to utter a prayer of thanksgiving that we are a citizen of Ohio, where the reformers—although too active in some quarters—have not reached the stage of trying to run the university.

Arthur Wald Gives Report to Student Volunteers

Arthur Wald '24, addressed the weekly meeting of the Student Volunteers last night on the national council meeting of the organization at Yankers N. Y. held February 22 to 25, at the Baptist Student Headquarters. Mr. Wald was the Wisconsin representative at the national council.

About fifty members of the Student Volunteers will attend the fifth annual state meeting to be held at Carroll college, Waukesha, March 9 and 10. The delegation will leave Friday noon.

Dr. Beath of the university will be one of the speakers. President Ganfield of Carroll college will open the meeting, which will be addressed by the Rev. English on problems of international importance.

ricular engrossment, the student finds spiritual stimulus from the outside absolutely necessary. The source for that stimulus is the church.

The religious conference has passed and left in its wake a tremendous impetus to interest in religious matters and church. It is essential that that interest should not be shortlived and die until another annual religious convocation came around.

Already the suggestion has come that church-going students separate into about one hundred and twenty-five groups to canvass all student houses with the purpose of encouraging attendance at Sunday morning worship.

The Cardinal will assist in the rising movement by publishing on its editorial page each Sunday morning a short sermonette dealing personally with the student's every day problems. They will be written in rotation by the pastors of Madison.

The student body will not feel that a drive is being imposed on it. Rather the tendency is of the students themselves and the movement is one in which they have a pleasant part. That part is going to church on Sunday.

An econ. prof. went out to lunch one day and only planning to eat a bite left a note on the door of his office to the effect that he would be back in 15 minutes. Sometime later he returned and seeing the note on the door sat down in the outer office to await his own return.

IF LANDLORDS LOWER RENT, LANDLADIES WILL

Editor, The Cardinal:

Now that something has been started concerning the prices of rooms for students, I think that the fundamental reason for the present prices of rooms should be first investigated.

The enormous rent the landlords ask for the houses and flats in Madison, at least in the university district, makes it impossible for one to live here without renting rooms at the present prices besides giving up our bedrooms to sleep on a cot or some such thing in order to meet the necessary monthly expenses.

If you have not plenty of money how can one pay from $75 to $100 a month for rent besides the bills for gas, light, water telephone, coal, and your living without asking at least $4.00 for a single room and not less than $7.00 for a double room?

If the landlords would reduce their exorbitant prices, I would be glad to help the students by renting my rooms cheaper. But at present it is impossible. Some landlords are even planning to raise the rent and some pressure should be brought to bear not only to prevent the raise but to cause them to be lowered next Semester.

I have never had any complaint from any roomers but I try to treat them right in every respect.

A LANDLADY.

Illinois Votes to Keep Its

Honor System For Exams

The honor system won by a ten to one majority in the election held at the University of Illinois last Friday. Revisions of the system as it has been operated were voted in, and the publication of names of violators was made a feature of the system. The voting was carried on under the same system, with no official attempts to check plural voting. The women made a better showing than the men in voting, between 1,100 and 1,200 casting their ballots.

English women have become so interested in weaving their own tweeds that many of them have installed costly looms in their homes.

One Out of Four Want Degree For Social Prestige —Henmon

"One fourth of even as high as one third of the university students are here to obtain a degree as a social asset and to be able to join a university club rather than because of an interest in learning" was the doubtful surmise of Prof. V. A. C. Henmon, director of the School of Education yesterday. Prof. Montgomery of the University of California stated to his class on February 13 that seven out of every ten college students should be attached to the handle of a pick axe or a frying pan instead of pursuing an academic course.

"They must have a very selective group at California, if the statement is true," stated Professor Henmon. "Wisconsin, at least, has not such per centage."

"The progress of psychological research during the last ten years in the line of general ability tests has been marked, but the great field today is to devise some successful test for special abilities and disabilities," said Professor Henmon.

"The colleges and universities as well as the high schools have increased 300 per cent while the elementary schools have had a growth of only 40 per cent during the twenty years ending in 1918," he continued. "This 40 per cent increase is the result of compulsory school laws and additional population."

Intelligence tests ought to be adopted by every university to determine the high and low abilities. Intelligence tests could be more accurately called ability of adaptability tests. These should supplement the other data on the student and not replace all other methods.

"The problem of the universities today are to either have higher standards or to classify the entering students. Since education should be an open road, selection of courses and classification would be much fairer."

Illinois Will Not Publish Names of Exam Cribbers

The right to publish the names of students found guilty of violating the honor system was denied the honor commission of the University of Illinois by the council of administration last week. No reasons would be given by the council for their stand. Students of the university voted a week ago to retain the old honor system but to make it more stringent. The restrictions added include publication of names of offenders.

HIGH SCHOOLS SENT LETTERS

Athletic Department Tells About Plans For Tournament

Five hundred letters, to as many high schools were sent out by the athletic department Saturday explaining the plans for the eighth annual State High School Basketball tournament.

The visiting teams will be decided in district tournaments to be held in the various districts the last three days of this week. Sixteen teams will compete here. This is six more than have ever taken part in the tournament in previous years.

Each team will be turned over to a fraternity for entertainment. They will be given board and room and in case it becomes necessary to serve meals outside regular hours arrangements will be made with a restaurant.

The winner of the 1923 tournament will be awarded a permanent team trophy. A trophy cup will be given to second place and also to the winner of the consolation series. Gold basketball charms will be given to the coach and members of the teams who are the runners-up and entrants to the semi-finals. For individual prizes, a gold medal will be awarded to the best center, forward and guard, selected by the committee.

Reduced rates will be allowed by the railways provided a number of more than 250 come to Madison for the tournament. The eligibility rules of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association will govern.

Helen Bennett to Advise On Choosing Vocations

"Vocations for University and College Women" will be the subject of Miss Helen M. Bennett's talk to university women Friday afternoon, March 16, in Lathrop parlors, according to Lois Jacobs '24, chairman of the vocational conference committee.

Miss Bennett will give a lecture to the residents of Barnard hall that event and will devote Saturday to conferences with seniors regarding prospective positions.

Miss Bennett, who comes to Wisconsin regularly each year to talk to university women, is manager of the Chicago Collegiate Bureau of Occupations. This organization places women who are graduates of a college or university in positions for which they are best suited.

Illinois Students Narrowly Escape Smallpox Epidemic

Many students of the University of Illinois have been exposed to smallpox by a student who contracted the disease and mingled with the others. Not knowing that he had smallpox, the student attended a dance. Only four or five of those exposed have not been vaccinated, and the fact that the others had been vaccinated is thought to have saved the school from an epidemic. The university health officer is urging that every unvaccinated student be vaccinated at once.

SCHOOL OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING PRACTICE

A graduate school offering a course of study leading to the degree of Master of Science, with field stations established at six different companies located in Bangor, Maine; Boston, Mass.; and Buffalo, N. Y. These companies produce sulphite and soda pulp, paper, caustic soda, chlorine, heavy acids and salts, sugar, coke, gas, steel, ammonia, benzol, etc.

The more important operations of Chemical Engineering, as typified by the above processes, are studied systematically by means of tests and experimental work on full scale plant apparatus. One of the objects of this work is to fix in the mind of the student the principles of Chemical Engineering and to correlate these principles with practice.

The work is non-remunerative and is independent of control by the plant management, and therefore the whole attention of the student is directed to the study of Chemical Engineering.

The total number admitted to the school is limited and the students, studying and experimenting in small groups, receive individual instruction.

Before admission to the School of Chemical Engineering Practice, all students must have adequate preparation in chemistry and engineering. The able student can complete the requirements for the Master of Science degree in one and one-half years.

At the present time, thirty-one colleges and universities are represented among the men attending the School of Chemical Engineering Practice and these men comprise over one-half the enrollment.

Chatty Finds Strand Film Thri-i-lling

"THE WOMAN CONQUERS"
Featuring Katherine MacDonald.
Presented at the Strand.
Directed by B. P. Schilberg.
Produced by First National.
By CHATTY

The Strand pictures are nearly always individual in their character. Each film presented there is in practically the same class with the next.

"The Woman Conquers" is no exception to this rule. Katherine MacDonald is peculiarly well fitted to her role in it. For years she has been acclaimed one of the "stunners" of the screen and her years have not yet caused her to lose this title.

She isn't required to do a great deal of acting. There is so much rough-and-tumble action in this picture that there is little time left for the interpretive art.

It's all about the frozen north, the struggle against the mighty elements—ah-blizzards—ah a wild he-man-ah. It's the story of a society belle and the man who loves her who go to the Hudson Bay land for adventure. The man, we may say, would have preferred to have had his adventure farther away from wild nature, perhaps on Broadway. But the girl was bored and he loved her. So what choice had the poor man!

Emile Coue, the man who with Charlie Chaplin, Jack Dempsey and "Babe" Ruth has caused more world sensation within the last decade than diplomats or artists, almost convinced us that it would be worth-while to take up autosuggestion. But we haven't time for it.

The picture seems to do excellently in putting over his theories on self-mastery. We know of several people, old and young, who should see the demonstration. But we fear that even this could not change their habits. For they find so much happiness and glory in being ill that they could never afford to take up Coueism.

Roosevelt Appears in Picture at Parkway

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who was a great advocate for forest preservation, is shown in "Hearts Aflame" making his famous forest preservation speech. He appears for only a few feet at the outset of the picture.

Katherine's Here

Katherine McDonald, who won first prize in a "All-American" movie beauty contest recently, is now appearing at the Strand. Still good looking, we think, Katherine..

20 Cameras Used For Scenes of Forest Fire

Of the 20 cameras that were used in making the forest fire scene in "Hearts Aflame" two were utterly demolished by the flames. Five of the operators that were cranking them were so severely burned that they were forced to report for medical treatment after the scene had been made.

Jazz May Quit Restaurants Unless Licenses Are Paid

The syncopating tunes of jazz music from the instruments of some twenty student musicians will be heard no more in Iowa City restaurants unless the proprietors take out licenses. The law has been in effect for some time but has not been enforced until the present. Only three managers of cafes have paid the necessary shekels to date.

Youth, Dance and Song, the Orph's Motto

By ORPH OWL

Bouyancy of youth was over-evident at the Orpheum's first-half program.

Dancing is a favorite of ours and the sprightly Gibson Sisters with song and dance contributed 99 44-100 percent toward making a good bill.

Dainty Marie, the "Venus of the Air," furnished thrills. She would make a daring co-ed.

Humor was given also by Jack Hanley, the eccentric comedy pantomime juggler.

Leona Hall's revue, "Bits of 1923", was fair for minstrels. Frank Devoe in a song act "The Poster Girl" were features of the 90 per cent bill.

Thank you!

Author of Strand Film is Graduate of Chicago

The author of "The Woman Conquers," in which Katherine MacDonald is playing at the Strand, is a graduate of the University of Chicago and her name is Violet Clark. The story had been fashioned originally for a magazine. Miss Clark holds that it is hard work and not her university training that makes it possible for her to write scenarios.

SYRACUSE WILL NOT BAR JEWS

Chancellor Brands Report As "Ridiculous Rumor"

That steps to limit the number of Jewish students at Syracuse university will not be taken was made evident in a statement made by Dr. C. W. Flint, chancellor of the university, to the Associated Press Tuesday night.

"I will not verify any such ridiculous rumors by any comment," Doctor Flint declared when a report had become widely circulated that the senior council, the governing body of the students, informally had discussed and approved the suggestion that measures be taken to limit the admission of Jewish students to the university. Chancellor Flint, who made it evident that he was not in favor of a restrictive policy of this sort, declared that an investigation would be made immediately and that the movement was a surprise to him.

A committee of three was delegated to confer with university authorities after the students had criticized the Jewish students as a whole for their lack of interest in college athletics. It was cited that while Jewish students had contributed to football, baseball, and crew successes, the percentage of these who sought places on teams was very small.

About 20 per cent of the enrollment in the university is made up of Jewish students. There are five Jewish fraternities. Louis Marshall, an internationally prominent Jew, is a trustee of the university.

Raymond O. Coulter, of Mount Sterling, Ill., world champion rifle shot, has reenlisted in the United States marines.

BAPTISTS' ANNIVERSARY TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The first anniversary of the opening of the Baptist Student headquarters at 429 North Park street will be held Thursday evening, March 8, from seven to 10 o'clock. All Baptist students and their friends are invited.

The following persons will assist the Young People's cabinet in receiving the guests: Prof. and Mrs. H. Otis, Prof. and Mrs. Karl F. MacMurray, Prof. and Mrs. T. L. Bewick, Prof. and Mrs. Charles L. Fluke, Miss Della Meyers, Rev. and Mrs. J. Sherman Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gleason.

The Headquarters has been used during the past year by over 208 groups, making a total of some 2300 young people who have used the house. These groups were committee meetings, prayer groups, cabinet meetings and social events. This number does not include those with whom the university pastor has had private conferences nor those individuals who have used the house freely as a home.

Spark the Human Engine with Eline Chocolate Bars

Eline's Sweet Milk Chocolate Bars provide proteins and carbohydrates necessary as fuel for the human engine; also vitamins to fire this fuel.

"Vitamins are absolutely indispensable to the diet," says Dr. H. Steenbock, a famous Physiological Chemist of the University of Wisconsin.

Eline Bars are supremely nourishing. They contain rich, plump cocoa beans—pure refined sugar—nourishing whole-cream milk from cows that feed in the fertile, emerald green fields of Wisconsin, where crystal pure water abounds in spring-fed lakes and babbling brooks. Cheap, off-color materials have no place in the Eline plant.

Eline Bars contain thoroughly roasted almonds of wonderful flavor.

Eline's is marvelously smooth and creamy in texture. It is the best chocolate you can buy, yet—it costs no more than common chocolate.
