ALL VARSITY PROGRAM HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

Big Mixer Will Take Place
On Campus and in Lathrop

The first party for the summer session students will take place Friday evening. Instead of the customary mixers of the previous summers those in charge are going to have an innovation in the form of a combined outdoor and indoor program.

All the students will meet on the upper campus at 8 o'clock where the various state groups will gather under their respective banners to get acquainted. It is expected that the students from the different states will organize at this time for social purposes during the summer.

Following the outdoor gathering, all will assemble in the gymnasium at Lathrop hall where Prof. P. W. Dykema will lead in the singing of Wisconsin songs. Several announcements are to be made and Prof. J. C. Elsom, of the Physical Education department will direct in games.

The faculty members arranging this first all university program are Professors P. W. Dykema, E. B. Gordon, J. C. Elsom, S. H. Goodnight, and Misses Gertrude Johnson and Margaret H'Doubler.

INFORMATION IS GIVEN TO ALL AT NEW Y. W. BUREAU

Office Open From 10 to 12
Every Day in Lathrop
Hall

How to get to Black Hawk's cave and Sunset Point are some of the questions which the Y. W. C. A. information bureau can answer for you. Between the hours of 10 and 12 Miss Mary Anderson, University Y. W. secretary will be in the Y. W. office in Lathrop hall to answer or help answer all questions about university life in general, that any one may wish to ask.

Six stunts are being planned by the Y. W. for university women to enable them to become acquainted and enjoy the opportunities for fellowship offered at Wisconsin. Additional Y. W. activities will include round table discussions on regular evenings. Specific announcement as to the time of stunts and discussions will be made in the Cardinal bulletin board.

C. E. BROWN WILL CONDUCT TOUR OF INDIAN EFFIGIES

An excursion will be conducted by Mr. Charles E. Brown of the State Historical Museum on July 9th which will cover Indian relics and points of historical interest in and about Madison. Mr. Brown is Curator of the State Historical Museum, and is an authority on early Wisconsin history. This excursion is open to the public, and announcement will be made later as to where to sign for it.

There formerly were about Lake Mendota thirty groups of Indian mounds, about Monona twelve, and about Wingra ten. Many of these are still in existence. Some have been permanently preserved and marked. The bird effigy on the State Hospital lawn at Mendota is the largest mound of its type in Wisconsin. It has a wingspread of six hundred and twenty-four feet. The squirrel effigy is one of several now known. The conical (burial) mounds at Morris Park include some of the largest and finest in this region. The plot of Indian corn hills located there is the only one now remaining on the shores of Lake Mendota. The turtle effigy on Observatory Hill, on the University grounds, is peculiar among turtle-shaped mounds in having two caudal appendages. The bear effigy preserved on the public oval on West Washington avenue is a particularly fine specimen. The large goose at Merrill Springs is a fine example of an infrequent type of effigy. Linear mounds of great length occur at Morris Park, Merrill Springs, Baskerville Park, and at the foot of Lake Monona. Dr. Increase A. Lapham made surveys of some of the Madison mound groups in 1850.

ANNOUNCE 5 PICNICS AT BRANCH STATIONS

Five big farmers' picnics and demonstrations are planned for Wisconsin this summer. Each year a station day is celebrated at each of the experiment stations maintained by the University of Wisconsin. The farmers for miles around drive in to see what is being done.

Here is the schedule for this year as announced by E. L. Luther who is in charge of the demonstrations: Tuesday, June 28, Madison; Thursday, June 30, Ashland Junction; Wednesday and Thursday, July 20-21, Marshfield; Friday, July 15, Hancock; Tuesday, July 26, Spooner.

MANY CLIMES REPRESENTED; TWO CHINESE GIRLS JOIN PHYSICAL EDS

Wisconsin physical eds may expect some competition this summer and next winter from two little Chinese girls who have come to our university to learn more of our methods of teaching. The Misses Chang and Koa have had two years in Miss Mayhew's School in Shanghai, and spent last winter at Mills College, Oakland, California. They do not expect to receive a degree here, but are taking a number of courses in education and physical education, and will return next June to China, where they expect to teach in the school from which they graduated.

They are very interested in bettering the conditions of women in China, and say that education is the first step in this direction. They say that the important thing to teach Chinese women just now is hygiene and efficiency in their daily tasks. They did not know very much about the political conditions in China now, and did not seem concerned about it, but were very earnest about learning "America's good customs—she does things so

SUMMER ENROLLMENT BREAKS PREVIOUS RECORDS WITH 4,300

WOMEN FORM SUMMER CORPS OF LIFESAVERS

Tests Are Open — Will Guard and Help at Special Pier

The Women's Life-Saving corps of the university will form a summer organization. This is to consist of all the members of the regular corps and any women who have qualified as members of some other official corps or those able to pass in life saving course given by the women's swimming department in Lathrop hall.

Any woman who has already passed the tests at some other place is eligible to membership in the summer organization of the corps.

The Life-Saving corps will keep guards on the women's pier which is soon to be erected. The guards will give special help to the women at the pier.

Last semester 20 women at Wisconsin qualified as members of the Red Cross Life-Saving department. Six of them qualified as official examiners for future applicants. The corps was formed with the 20 women as charter members; its aim is to promote swimming and to teach the women not only to save themselves, but to be able to aid others in a case of emergency.

The required tests are: breaking of four strangle holds, several carry holds, Shaffer's method of artificial resuscitation, endurance tests, and an oral quiz on methods employed. In order to qualify as a member, the applicants must be able to pass the tests with a high average.

Inez Levenson, president of the corps; Olga Anderson, captain, and Mary A. Brownell, faculty adviser, are in charge of the corps. Any woman who is interested should apply to one of the above.

much better than we—" and taking these lessons back with them.

A particular interest for the girls was the conveniences enjoyed by even the poor in our country, and say that electricity and running water and things which we take so much for granted are almost unknown even in the homes of the very wealthy in China, except in the large cities.

When asked if they found things in this country very strange they made the startling reply that they did not.

"We live in Shanghai, which is the foreign city of China," they said, "and while this is different from what we have at home, we found America exactly what we had expected."

"The girls, too, are very good to us. They let us copy their notes. We do not know how to take notes when first we come here, and the teacher say they will give us theirs, and they do. Now we can take notes, too. It is a very good custom."

Large Registration Crowds Many Courses; More Regular Students

More than 4,300 students have registered for the present summer session, and although the exact figures have not yet been compiled, it is positive that the enrollment will be considerably above this number.

The present enrollment will set a new high record for numbers at the Wisconsin summer session, the registration thus far being 700 above that of last summer, 3,600, the previous record.

The summer sessions are tending to bring back more and more regular university students, and with each successive summer the proportion of regular students among those attending the summer school is growing larger. Just as many, or more, teachers and special students, however, are taking advantage of the courses offered here during the summer.

The courses in Education and those in Physical education are showing comparatively larger enrollments, registration in the Education courses especially being much greater than was expected. Much interest is being shown the psychology courses also.

"All, all are gone, the old familiar faces?" That's what we thought before taking a weak eye-wash at Andy's shortly after returning from a week's waywardness, but, our eyes freshened, we managed to see Dot Shaner slipping down the Alley. While we're in this section, we'll spread the tidings of Milly Gerlach; we saw her hanging around the Northwestern station in Chicago, and, it's the truth, eight tenths of her hair was shorn. Baraboo Pastor Here For Advent Meeting

Rev. E. O. Coontz, pastor of the First Advent Christian church, Baraboo, arrived Tuesday to act as chorister in the special meetings conducted by the Advent Christian church on Webster st., opposite the police station. Tuesday night the evangelist, Rev. A. J. Bolster, of Mendota, Ill., preached on the question of Immortality. The speaker showed the weakness of the rational arguments often put forward in support of the inherent immortality of the soul. He then passed on to the scriptural argument for immortality. He said in part: "There is no direct scriptural proof of the natural immortality of the soul. There is no circumstantial evidence. The proposition rests entirely upon inferential testimony. The word immortal occurs but once in the bible and is there applied to Christ. The word immortality is there found but five times and is never applied to man or any part of man this side of the resurrection."

WOLF MAY GO TO EUROPE TO STUDY Y. M. C. A.

U. W. Association Secretary Asked to Make Trip; is Considering

Frederick E. Wolf, general secretary of the University of Wisconsin Y. M. C. A., known to the college world as "Dad" Wolf, yesterday received a communication from the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, asking him to make a tour of central Europe to study student conditions with the ultimate purpose of making a report embodying suggestions for remedying the existing deficiencies.

The tour would include Poland, Germany, Austria and Hungary. Mr. Wolf will decide within a few days. It would take several months to make the needed study abroad, and it is a serious question with Mr. Wolf whether he could get back to Madison within a reasonable length of time after the university re-opened. He would leave about July 1, if he accepts.

The international committee recognizes the progress made at the local institution in charge of Mr. Wolf and has selected him to go abroad. The appeal was first made by the World Christian Federation in behalf of the students and professors of central Europe.

LABOR BACKS RELIEF DRIVE

Near East Campaign is Progressing Slowly, is Report

PROCLAMATION.

The Madison Federation of Labor would not be living up to its ideals if it did not make public its hearty indorsement of the Near East Relief movement. The Central Trades Body urges its members and the members of all its affiliated locals to do all in their power, as individuals and as groups, to make this campaign a most successful one.

MADISON FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Quite a few checks have come in to the Near East Relief fund as a result of the moving picture film which is being shown in all the theaters. Quite a few of the teams have not as yet made a report. Norton Williams, chairman of the Dane county committee, states that the campaign is progressing slowly and says that in order for Dane county to raise their full quota of $10,000 to feed starving children of Armenia it will be necessary for every man, woman and child in the county to do their share.

Checks should be made payable to the Near East Relief and sent in to the Association of Commerce, Madison. To feed a child a year $60, a month $5 and six days $1. There are quite a few of us who can well afford to take care of one or more orphans for a year and these people are urged not to wait but to come forward now.

MAJOR REGULATIONS

1. All canoes to be off the lake at 10:00 P. M.
2. Whistle blows at 9:30. The university boat house closes half an hour later.
3. One life preserver must be carried for each occupant.
4. Canoes are not to be overloaded.
5. No canoes to be taken out in bad weather.
6. In case of trouble observers should telephone the university boat house or pumping station. The siren whistle will then notify Capt. Isabel of the direction in which the trouble has occurred.

PAST tragedies have taught the need for strenuous enforcement of the above major regulations. Human life is sacred and its protection is a responsibility that rests on all alike. "Am I my brother's keeper?" is no longer a question, but an acknowledged fact.

The summer session students have had, in most cases, little opportunity to know the vagaries of Lake Mendota. The lake can be dangerous as well as beautiful. It has already claimed three university students as its victims this year. That more have not been lost has been due to a kind providence as well as to the efforts of Capt. Thomas Isabel, enforced regulations, and new equipment.

It is lamentable that some students are either careless in observing these regulations, or else are unaware of the real dangers lurking in the waters of Mendota.

Storms frequently arise with alarming rapidity and canoes are caught far out on the lake and unable to get in without assistance. Picnickers leave in the mornnig on a quiet day and when they return for home the quiet beauty that the lake evidenced earlier had now changed to a mumbling, roaring rush of waves, whitecapped and dangerous.

With the advent of hot weather the number of canoeists has greatly increased. Over seven hundred boats are in operation on Mendota alone. It is asking the superhuman to expect that Captain Isabel and his small force can see that each of the canoes under his care properly observes these safety regulations. Students should realize that these regulations are necessary to prevent further loss of life. They should observe them without the supervision of the life saving crew. They should report known violators of these regulations.

In many recent cases, Capt. Isabel has found that few of these regulations have been complied with. It is deplorable that university students have not realized the danger that exists and the duty they owe to society, the university and to themselves.

In a large measure he university is responsible for the safety of its students. But it can not be held responsible for acts of foolhardy and "daring" students. If such acts result in death no one is responsible or accountable except the violator himself. If regulations are properly observed there should be no chance for Mendota to claim another victim. If another victim is claimed as the result of carelessness or unwillingness to obey the rules it will probably result in more drastic regulations.

Open Drive For New Luther Memorial Church

A campaign for funds for the new Luther Memorial church is now under way, under the leadership of Carl N. Hill, finance chairman. Last week a campaign was conducted among members of the church, and now a public drive is to be made. Fifteen teams under the supervision of Otto J. Endres will solicit funds. Ground for the new building has been broken and actual construction will soon be started. The cost of the church will be $250,000. It will help serve the needs of thousands of students who attend the university.

The new church will have many up-to-date features that other Madison churches lack. Among these are 20 independent rooms on the ground floor, suitable for class rooms, organizations, and social purposes, a large auditorium for gymnasium and social uses, and a service kitchen that will be able to accommodate 1,000 people. Rev. A. J. Soldan is pastor of the church.

BADGER SPIRIT DISPLAYED TO SUPERIOR FOLK

Banquet for High School
Letter Men Precedes
Duluth Regatta

Wisconsin songs and a toast to the Wisconsin crew featured the banquet given by alumni and students of the university for the high school letter men of Duluth and Superior, at the Superior Commercial club on Friday, June 24.

Over 150 letter men from three high schools of Duluth and two high schools of Superior were present and listened to speeches about Wisconsin life and spirit. Approximately 400 people attended the banquet, the remaining being Wisconsin alumni, students, and citizens of Superior and Duluth.

Cheerleader McArthur, who led the yells for Wisconsin in '15 led all of the skyrockets, locomotives, and cheers of the evening. A. D. S. Gillett acted as toastmaster and during the course of the evening called upon numerous Wisconsin alumni and representatives of Duluth and Superior, as well as upon several Wisconsin faculty members.

Upon the close of the second course of the dinner, Ralph Scott, All-American tackle, spoke to the high school men about Wisconsin spirit. The fighting spirit of Wisconsin's teams and the conspicuous absence of "paid" athletes at the university was the keynote of his talk.

Dean S. H. Goodnight spoke of the scholastic spirit of Wisconsin and during the course of his speech told of the recent abolition of hazing at the university. Coaches Tom Jones and W. E. Meanwell were also called upon and they told the high school students of university athletics.

Among the other speakers at the banquet were: "Sig" Stavrum former Wisconsin football star; Prof. Wade, Superior High school; Coach I. I. Tubbs, Superior; and Ben Davis, A. L. Anderson, and Louis Castle, of Duluth.

Auto Thieves Busy Last Night; Lose Two Cars

Automobile thieves were busy in Madison last night and got away with two cars. John C. Haley, 105 Monona ave., had parked his Ford sedan across from the Strand theater. When he went to get it, there was no Ford in sight. The license number was 23870. C. Y. Woo, Madison Chinese restaurant owner, had the same experience. He had parked his Buick in the 100 block on S. Webster st. Later in the evening he went to get his car and it was missing.

DRAMA CLUBS WILL PRODUCE PLAY JOINTLY

Give Two Performances in Open Air Theater During Fifth Week

A joint production will be staged the fifth week of summer session by the three university dramatic societies, Twelfth Night, Red Domino, and Edwin Booth.

Two performances will be given in the open air theatre, but further details as to the name or nature of the play to be presented have not been announced.

Red Domino and Twelfth Night are dramatic societies open to the women of the university. Edwin Booth is a men's dramatic society founded here twenty years ago. The purpose of the three societies is to stimulate interest in dramatics at the university and in this pursuit they have produced many excellent plays. Edwin Booth originated and produced the Varsity movie, the first of its kind ever attempted by any college or university dramatic organization.

The last joint production of the three societies was "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," which was presented last February.

R. O. T. C. UNIT AGAIN RATED AS 'DISTINGUISHED'

War Department Sends Award Following Annual Inspection

For the third consecutive year, the university unit of the R. O. T. C. has been awarded a "distinguished" rating, according to an official bulletin issued by the War department recently.

The annual government inspection of the local unit of the R. O. T. C. was held on May 27 at which time 1200 students were reviewed. Col. W. D. Chitty, Fort Sheridan, conducted the inspection, and at that time practically assured the local unit of retaining their distinguished rating.

At the time of the review, Col. Chitty also declared that the co-operation was better between the University of Wisconsin and the military department than at any other university which he had inspected. He also lauded the president's guard at that time, declaring that its maneuvers were accomplished with precision equal to that of a regular army unit.

The fact that this distinguished rating has been awarded the university for three consecutive years, establishes an excellent record for the military department of Wisconsin.

The autoists fined were: Ray Nienaber, Chester Nielson, George Brown, H. Martin Erwin Krueger, E. J. Schmidt, E. W. Eddy, and Brice Brown.

HOPE HAMPTON IN
MAURICE TOURNEUR'S PRODUCTION
"THE BAIT"
A Paramount Picture

Love interest and melodrama are nicely blended in Maurice Tourneur's new Paramount production, "The Bait", which opens at the Strand Theatre to play and will be the attraction for the rest of the week. Hope Hampton, the Texas beauty who sprang into film fame almost over-night, is the featured player.

"The Bait" unfolds the story of Joan Grainger, a pretty shop-girl, who is picked out by Bennet Barton, a master crook, as his pawn in a game to blackmail warren, a young millionaire. With the aid of his assistant, Simpson, Barton "frames" Joan and, after rescuing her on the way to jail, poses as her protector. A chance meeting with Warren at the Follies Bergere leads to a love affair between the millionaire and Hope. Later learning Barton's true character, she tries to throw off his innuence and, in a series of thrilling scenes, is finally able to thwart him and win happiness.

The added attractions will be a one reel comedy, a Pathe Review and Motion Pictures of Madison which are being held over until Saturday.

HOT STUFF They Put It On the Bill With the Rest at One Cent Per

It is popularly conceded that prices are coming down, but the prices of food in this region are apparently firmly anchored far up in the high blue sky. They certainly exert a strain on the naked eye during one chance glimpse. Moreover, these same prices have been out of bounds so long that they are getting irrational.

If my favorite cafeteria had furnished only food and drink, I would have been merry, but they gave me a bill. It was a nice little bill—face down on the tray, you know, so the customers won't die of shock while they're weak and famished. One of the items aroused my curiosity.

Something had cost one cent!

"Lady," said I, "is this cent a tax for parking my hat on the rack?"

"No," she snapped, "but you had frankfurters, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"And mustard?"

"Yes."

"Well—we charge a cent for mustard!"

And they carried me out.
