

LIBRARIES
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

U·kwé I·laks.

[s.l.]: [s.n.], 1970/1979

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/RGKOBSCCLQWLLA8W>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Cannibal

They say that one time a man was living in a great house and he was called a cannibal. He kept a young girl away in the house but she was such a young girl that he hadn't killed here. So this cannibal goes travelling and while he was out travelling a young man showed up where only the young girl was and she said, "This is the home of a cannibal so you should go home."

But he was there when the cannibal returned. Right away the cannibal realized someone was there in his house. The young man who was there ran off and the cannibal chased after him. The young man ran along the river and when the cannibal arrived nearby, he crossed over. Immediately the cannibal waded in underneath as the young man passed by returning in a boat. He stood back on the opposite side until the cannibal appeared over there.

Then the young man went back in the boat until the cannibal reappeared and he was standing again on the other side. Right away the young man said, "I'm saying come back across!"

Then the cannibal sure got angry and he threw himself on the ground and dragged himself around because he was so angry. Then he got back up and he became all stone. That is how he got his name as the stone person.