SENIORS TO HOLD FIRST MEETING AT 12:45 TODAY

Haight to Speak; Memorial and Dues to Be Discussed

The first meeting of the class of 1925 has been called for 12:45 o'clock this noon in Music hall by John Bergstresser, president.

Besides the reading of the reports of several committees which will be ready, a discussion of class dues, class memorial, and the alumni association will come before the meeting. The time for holding future meetings so as to allow more time will be brought up also.

Haight to Talk

George I. Haight '99, president of the Alumni association, will talk on the association and its work.

The committee on class organization, under the direction of Arno Wiese, sent cards to all members of the class yesterday.

Class Unity—Slogan

Seniors not receiving cards have been requested by Wiese to turn in their name and Madison address to complete the mailing list. Cards urging men to attend the rally this evening in the gym were sent out also by the committee.

"Class unity has been a rallying cry for '25 and especially during the last campaign," said Bergstresser last night.

"The life of the class is in the class meetings, the first one to be held this noon. Others before us have done much work for Wisconsin and for the individual class. What '25 does depends entirely on the spirit manifested in the class meetings, which are the heart of class spirit."

CARNIVAL ON ICE OCCURS SATURDAY

Fancy Skating, Races and Fireworks Are Among Features

Wisconsin's Ice Carnival, the Venetian night of the winter season, will be held Saturday night at 7 o'clock on the lower campus. Features to be presented are fancy skating, interfraternity and sorority speed and distant skating, and a display of fireworks.

Prizes are being offered to the five highest point winners. Silver cups will be given to the two highest, according to Leon Emmert '27, chairman of awards.

A special feature will be fancy skating by Lillian Gaswitz, a professional entertainer from Minneapolis, while George Martin, director of winter sports, and Kay Iverson, hockey coach, will also give an exhibition on skates.

Arthur Timm '25, general chairman of the carnival, announced last night that everything is in readiness for Saturday evening, and the carnival will be held unless the weather should turn too warm.

Fraternity and sorority events in skating are 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, and 880 dash. Entries for these events can be made by calling Lisette Haase, B. 6719, for women; and Robert Sykes, B. 194, for men.

The committee chairmen in charge of the carnival are Arthur Timm '25, general chairman; Helen Cushman '26, women's chairman; Leon Emmert '27, prizes; Jerome Zufelt '26, course; Milton Stangel '25, police; Sterling Alberts '26, decorations; John Eastman '27, features; Robert Sykes '26, entries; Alice Drews '26, publicity; Doris Cushman '26, women's entries.

TO PLACE COMMERCE MAG ON SALE FRIDAY

The Commerce Magazine will be placed on sale Friday. Prof. C. L. Jamison, assistant professor of business administration, H. B. Dorr, research professor in land economics, and C. H. Croft, of the Ohio Injector Company of Illinois, have written three articles for this issue.

"Two Georges" to Be Central Figures of First Wisconsin Union Massmeeting At 7 o'clock Tonight in Gymnasium

Campus Comment Says

Here are the comments of leaders in all campus activities on the men's massmeeting in the gymnasium tonight:

Marshall Diebold: "The massmeeting is an opportunity for Wisconsin to start in the right way on a new athletic program."

Thomas Morony: "Undoubtedly the most needed element at Wisconsin is a close relation between the students and those who have most to do with the university's forward progress, of whom George Haight and George Little are probably the most outstanding at the present time."

Wes Dunlap: "The massmeeting is an opportunity at the beginning of a new era that no Wisconsin man can afford to miss."

Ellis Fulton: "This is going to be one rip-snorting meeting."

Edwin Geber: "I think this is the biggest thing we have had this year."

John Dollard: "It will be well worth the time of every man in the university to hear the 'Georges' on Wednesday night."

Jack Harris: "I think George Little is great, and every man ought to turn out to give him a big welcome."

Lester Kissel: "A massmeeting of the Wisconsin Union should be of vital interest to all men in the university."

Eugene Tuhtar: "I heard Haight once and would go miles to hear him again."

John Bergstresser: "I want to urge every man to attend the massmeeting Wednesday night."

Bert Hilberts: "I don't think there is any doubt but that all the men on the campus will want to turn out to welcome George Little and to hear George Haight."

George Haight and George Little to Be Presented By Lester Kissel

Shortly before 7 o'clock tonight the doors of the men's gymnasium will swing open for the first Union massmeeting in the university's history, at which "the two Georges" who have recently become prominent campus figures will be presented to the undergraduate men.

George I. Haight, president of the Wisconsin Alumni association and prominent Chicago attorney, will arrive in Madison this morning, and will be occupied with conferences with students and members of the faculty prior to his address at the meeting tonight.

George Little, new athletic director, and the second "George," has been in Madison for several days, and will leave tonight, until March 10, when he will return and permanently assume his new duties.

Kissel to Preside

Plans for the program of the massmeeting include music by the second regimental band, a demonstration in welcome of Director Little led by "Shorty" Walsted, varsity cheerleader, and addresses by Mr. Little and Mr. Haight. Lester Kissel '24, president of the Wisconsin Union, will preside at the meeting and will introduce the two speakers.

Prof. Tom Jones, who until recently has been at the head of the athletic department, yesterday declared that he believes the meeting tonight will prove to be the biggest attraction in ten years as far as its importance to the welfare of the university is concerned, and he emphasized the value of such a demonstration as is planned for Mr. Little to aid him in assuming his duties here.

Jones Praises "Georges"

"Both speakers will have stirring messages to give. I know Haight, and know that he is a friend of athletics, always ready when he is called upon. I don't know of a Wisconsin alumnus I would go farther to hear," Mr. Jones stated.

"The work of an athletic director is not a one man job, and what he is able to do depends largely on what people think he can do. I think Little is the best man in the profession for Wisconsin, not excluding any of the most famous. He has the youth and enthusiasm that is needed here. Just to come and see and hear him will make every man in the university love and respect him, because he is here to do the job we want done."

Announcements Made

Extensive efforts will be made throughout the day to emphasize the importance of the massmeeting and to bring it to the attention of every man in the university. Announcements in classes, in fraternity and rooming houses, and on the streets during the dinner hour will be made.

Governor Blaine to Be Present at Night Horse Show

Wisconsin's International Night Horse Show will be honored by the presence of Gov. and Mrs. J. J. Blaine, Saturday evening. A party of eight immediate friends of the state executive, including the governor's secretary, will occupy a box near the arena.

"Committeemen actively participating in carrying out the show appreciate the distinction paid them by our state governor," declared H. E. Hill '25, general chairman. "Governor Blaine is known to be an enthusiastic lover of farm animals and he maintains a herd of pure-bred Holstein cattle on one of his own estates."

A large number of the members of the state legislature, both senators and assemblymen, have also signed their intention of accepting the invitation extended by officials of the stock exposition.

ANNUAL CONVO OF STATE ENGINEERS STARTS THURSDAY

Faculty of College of Engineering State Leaders to Discuss Problems

Members of the university faculty will read papers and lead discussions at the seventeenth annual convention of the Engineering Society of Wisconsin which will be held on February 19, 20, and 21, at the Engineering building.

City engineers, city managers, corporation officials and representatives from the scientific, municipal, and industrial fields of engineering will come together to confer upon and to discuss every phase of the engineering problem from the functions of mechanical systems to the contract and laws regulating their performance.

Will Hold Banquet

The first session Thursday afternoon will be opened at 2 o'clock with an address by Gov. J. J. Blaine. Joseph Schwada, city engineer of Milwaukee, will read reports on "Flood Control," and John Anderson, chief engineer of the T. M. E. R. and L. company, Milwaukee, will present a report on "Powdered Fuel." Prof. G. L. Larson of the College of Engineering will lead the discussion.

The Technical club and the Engineering society will hold a joint meeting and banquet at the Christ Presbyterian church at which Marshall Sampson, president of the Wisconsin Power and Light company, will speak on "Some General Problems of Public Utilities," and Judge M. B. Rosenberry will discuss "Law and the Changing Order."

Meet With A. I. E. E.

"How a City Plan Is Made" will be the subject of a paper that is to be read on Friday by E. E. Parker, city engineer of Madison, and the discussion that is to be led by C. V. Kerch, city engineer of Janesville. F. W. Ullius, assistant city engineer of Milwaukee, will speak on "Excess Condemnation of Land in Milwaukee," and C. M. Osborne, city manager of Kenosha, will lead the discussion.

Friday afternoon A. Boley, and Jerry Donohue, assistant and consulting engineers of Sheboygan, will speak and lead the discussions. The evening meeting will be held with American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

INDUSTRIAL FUND DRIVE IS STARTED

Object is Summer School Scholarships For Industrial Women

An all-university drive by the Y. W. C. A. for Student-Industrial scholarships with an objective of $300 in view is now progressing. Wisconsin is the only university which enables people from industry to enter the university summer session with the aid of funds gathered in a student campaign.

Last summer scholarships were awarded to eight women from industry in Madison. This next summer there will be 25 or 30, coming not only from Madison, but, from many cities in many states. There will be girls from Detroit, and Grand Rapids, Michigan; Ft. Wayne, Indiana; Chicago and Rockford, Illinois; Louisville, Kentucky; Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota; Green Bay, Janesville, and Beloit, as well as Madison, and many other cities.

The recruiting of women and the raising of scholarships is being done by the Y. W. C. A.'s in each locality.

"May we show the university that we approve of this broad-minded program by subscribing willingly to Student-Industrial scholarships," said Edith Frothingham, chairman of the drive.

The $600 which Madison must raise, to send her six women to school this summer is being divided equally between the city Y. W. C. A. and the university Y. W. C. A.

HEALTH WORK IS LAUDED BY EVANS

Says No Activity of Government Compares With Work of Medics

"No activity of the government can show a record comparable to that made by the health departments in the United States," said Dr. W. A. Evans, writer of the health column in the Chicago Tribune, in his speech in the assembly room of the State Capitol last night at 8 o'clock.

"No other department can show as much for each dollar of support as the health departments do," Dr. Evans continued. "The trouble with other departments is that until the present time they have dealt with end products rather than prevention."

"Public health work pays better than any other public work. This may best be shown by the improvement in the death rate in the last 75 years. In 1849 in Chicago one-thirteenth of the total population died. Today but one-nineteenth of the population dies. The death rate during the terrible influenza epidemic in 1918 was lower than the average death rate prior to 1896.

"The key of the situation is that medical men are more learned than they were. They diagnose diseases more systematically and more scientifically. Medical societies are entitled to a part of the credit for the accomplishments made by the public health departments."

Dr. Evans has spent 20 years doing public health work in Chicago. For four years he was public health commissioner. He has been associated with the health department for 16 years without compensation. During the past few years he has been conducting the public health column for the Chicago Daily Tribune.

BURTON IS RECOVERING FROM LUNG OPERATION

An operation to remove the fluid from the pleural cavity of the lungs, was performed yesterday on Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan. Doctor Burton has been suffering from pleurisy and the doctors' report at noon yesterday was that his temperature, which had reached 103, was falling and that he was resting comfortably.

HAESFOOT MEMBERS MEET SHUTER TONIGHT

Due to the non-arrival yesterday of E. Mortimer Shuter, who will coach the Haresfoot club's musical comedy "Ivan Ho!" the dinner which was planned in his honor will be held tonight. The dinner set for 10:30 o'clock last night at the Garden Grill will be held at the same hour and at the same place tonight.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE IN FIRE NEAR BOYD'S

Boyd's Candy Shop was threatened by fire early last evening when a fire began in the chimney of the house next door belonging to Mr. William E. Marquardt, 235 W. Gilman street. After the extinction of the fire, Mrs. Marquardt reported that little actual damage had been done.

IOWA, WISCONSIN EVENLY MATCHED FOR TRACK MEET

Contest on Saturday Will Rival
Dual Meet of Last Year

By GEORGE DENNIS
Iowa vs. Wisconsin—this promises to be one of the most evenly contested track meets of the season, rivaling that long to be remembered Iowa-Wisconsin dual meet of last year when the Badger mile relay quartet outran Brookins and his three record breaking team mates in the final event of the meet to win the dual for Wisconsin by a margin of three points.

Taking the meet event for event, neither team seems to have any decided advantage. In one race Iowa has the advantage only to have this offset by the dope favoring the Badgers to star in some other section.

Strong in Dashes

The Hawkeyes have a strong squad of dash and quarter mile stars. Headed by Captain Coulter, Olympic competitor, and Everingham, L. D. Phelps, Roberts, Mann and Nesler, the Iowa team will score heavily in these events. The record of Captain Coulter is already known. Everingham and L. D. Phelps are two sophomores who bring happiness to the heart of Coach Bresnahan. Both of these lads have shown promise of even bettering the records of such Iowa stars as Brookins, Eric Wilson and the present Captain Coulter. In recent frosh-varsity meets these two men stood out above the rest in clean cut fashion. Everingham is also due to win the broad jump as he has consistently cleared 23 feet in practice.

Harold Phelps, premier collegiate distance man, will take Iowa's end of the mile and two mile runs. After running a two mile in well under ten minutes two weeks ago, the winner of the last two cross country runs came back and ran a mile in around 4:40 without any visual signs of being fatigued. If the Iowa star can stand the gaff of competition in the two grueling distance runs he will be good for ten points. The remainder of the places should go to the Badger grinds as Phelps has no one who can stay with him all the way in either the mile or two mile. Van Ness, Sorensen and Stonebrook, last year's varsity men, are only mediocre while Terpell and Meyers, the two best sophomore distance men, are far from the time necessary to place in Big Ten competition.

SMALL SAUCEPANS

Do not use small saucepans on large burners. The gas should always burn so as to strike the bottom but not the sides of the pan. It will you you to have suitable sized utensils for your burners.

GREEK HOCKEY GAMES PLAYED AT RANDALL

Results in the Interfraternity Hockey league show victories for Triangle and for Delta Sigma Pi. The return of cold weather enabled the teams to play their matches at Camp Randall.

Triangle was victorious over Theta Xi by a count of 5 to 2, while Delta Sigma Pi downed Delta Sigma Phi by a score of 7 to 1. The Triangle squad showed very good play in their game with Theta Xi. The pep and fight of both teams were up at every minute of the match.

All of the rinks will be back in their former good condition in a few days, and the various squads will be able to again get out the pucks and sticks.

Independent Men Open Intramural Cage Play Today

Basketball opens tonight in the Independent Intramural league when 12 teams go into action in two divisions. The Independent league is formed of various independent groups about the campus.

At 5:45 o'clock in division 1, the Bright Spots meet the De Molays on court 1, the University club meets the Humdingers on court 2, and the Chinese club contests the Peacocks on court 3.

At 6:45 o'clock in division 2, the Laphams engage the Oesehners on court 1, the Johnson streets battle the All Stars on court 2, and the Slinger Grads meet the Murphys on court 3.

The popularity of the Independent league is shown by the fact that twice as many teams have entered this year as last year when the league was first introduced.

Purple Cage Men Take Jump Ahead of Chicago, 29-7

(Special to the Daily Cardinal)
EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 17.—The Northwestern basketball team jumped to ninth place, above Chicago, in the conference standings tonight by defeating Chicago, 29 to 7. The score at the half was 12 to 4. It was a one-sided affair and the game was featured by long shots by Baker. Chicago scored two field goals; Northwestern made 11 field baskets. Alyea, of Chicago, failed to score. Barnes led the losers.

FOOTBALL NOTICE
Because of the massmeeting tonight's football practice will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the trophy room of the gymnasium. All football men are requested to be present.
Signed,
COACH GEORGE LITTLE.

BLOCK LEAGUE PLANS NEARING COMPLETION

Organizers will enter the student rooming house district tonight to make the first rounds in the formation of basketball teams in the Wisconsin Intramural Block league.

The Block league, an institution inaugurated last year, has been very successful in its object of giving organized standing to the independent men who live in the rooming house district. Men who are not connected with groups which put athletic teams in the field are in this way able to form representative squads and enter them in the various sports. Individual awards are offered by the Intramural department as an added incentive to the competing men.

Wisconsin is the first to organize the rooming house districts about a university. Wisconsin has been decidedly successful in doing so and the credit goes to George Berg, director of intramural athletics.

FOOTBALL SPIRIT PREVAILS AS MEN BEGIN PRACTICE

90 Men Work on Fundamentals; Wilke Makes First Tackle

Wisconsin will take her place again next fall among the leaders of football in the Big Ten. Such was the sentiment of Coach George Little and the 90 men that reported for winter practice last night in the annex.

In the opinion of Coach Little last night's session was one of the best that he has ever conducted. The men went through the work with an eagerness that bodes well for Badger opposition on the gridiron for the 1925 season.

Work on Fundamentals

Most of the time was spent on fundamentals and in working out a few essential formations. Coach Little mixed right in the plays and through his practical demonstrations the men grasped the situation readily.

At times, as the men were running through the plays, they would become over enthusiastic and some real tackles and blocking were in evidence. Credit for the first tackle of the 1925 football season goes to Wilke, center candidate, when he tackled Wigdale coming through center on a drive play.

Clarence Barofsky, captain of last year's freshman grid team, was given favorable comment by Coach Little and was used a great deal in some of the pass formations that were tried. Although Barofsky is a diminutive fellow he is quick and shifty and possessed with football brains. If he can come through in his studies this semester he will stand a good chance of breaking into Big Ten play next fall.

Brainy football will be a specialty in the offense of Coach Little if last night was any indication of future tactics. In addition to the fundamentals he drove home some of the finer points of the greatest of college sports.

By KEN BUTLER

While the campus is still discussing the Iowa game of Monday night, Coach Meanwell is resuming work with his basketball squad in an effort to get the men in best possible shape for the important Illinois game at Champaign Saturday night. The Illini, undisputed top-notchers of the conference, with a perfect score of six games won, none lost, are figured the favorites in spite of Wisconsin's notable victory over the waning Hawks.

There is a general feeling of optimism among the players and although none are confident of victory over Illinois Saturday, the gloom of the disastrous start has been set aside and hopes run high. Doc himself is not entertaining any false hopes about Saturday.

"There is bound to be a relaxation after the Iowa game, high-pitched and hard-fought as it was," says Meanwell, "but things ought to show up better during the March games."

Bain and Miller, both of the new men on Meanwell's revamped quintet, are Indiana boys. Bain is from Martinsville and Miller is from South Bend. Both men are sophomores and were little known in high school basketball circles. "It is a notable fact," says Meanwell, "that of all my Indiana men in past years who have made the grade scholastically, no freshman failed to make numerals — no man of varsity squad failed to make letters."

The combination of Monday night probably will be the main makeup in future games. Miller was able to start because to becoming eligible in his studies. Meanwell now has Bain and Barnum as regular forwards, Miller at center with Brooks as relief, Anderson and Harget as another set of forwards; at the guard positions he has Diebold and Barwig alternating, with Merkel in the other guard position.

Most of these men are sophomores, which means excellent material for future teams. Only a few men of merit will come up from the freshman team, Meanwell says.

SLIDE AND RINKS ARE OPENED FOR OUTDOOR LOVERS

With the coming of more snow and colder weather George Martin, winter sports director, announces that the toboggan slide will be opened for use tonight.

All day yesterday men were working on the lake behind the gymnasium and today the lake is ready for use by skaters. Nothing is being spared to give the students a real place to skate.

The rinks at Camp Randall are also being put in shape. These rinks will be open for the students until 9:30 o'clock every evening.

DAD CARDINAL'S LETTERS

TO MIKE GENTILLE

Dear Mike: That kid brother of yours down in Chicago is all right! This tale may be ancient history now, but it is interesting. It was at the time of the Chicago football game last fall. I was coming out of one of the exits of Stagg field and a number of little boys ran near us, looked up with that I-havesomething-in-common-with-you look in their eyes, and one of them piped up: "Hey, yer from Madison, yuh know my brother Mike Gentille?" The one on the basketball squad? He's my brother!" I replied that I did and kid brother looks up again with that knowing look, pride too, one of those grins of satisfaction that makes all men—and boys, too—kin.

Sincerely,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO BY BARWIG

Dear By: The fans know best. During the heat of the game, when a basket was needed to down Iowa, a fan near me yelled, "Give the ball to Barwig; he's hot." And then they did pass it to you and you plunked it through the hoop at long range, and ain't it a grand and glorious feelin'.

Sincerely,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO RALPH MERKEL

Dear Mark: I'll say you're off to a start now. Keep up the good work.

Yours,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO HAROLD J. BENTSON

Dear Jay: They tell me you reported for crew yesterday and began your training. Glad to have you back, Harold. That helps our crew chances on the Hudson again this year. We must win two races at Poughkeepsie this year—a moral one and an actual one.

Rah! Rah! Rah!
DAD CARDINAL.

TO FREDDIE BAIN

Dear Fred: You played a whale of a game Monday night. Do the same at Illinois if Doc sends you in.

Sincerely,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO MARSHALL DIEBOLD

Dear Die: You sure put blood and thunder in that team while you were in there Monday night. With a start like that they couldn't help but play the game, unless they haven't fight, which we know they have.

Ever,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO ROLLIE BARNUM

Dear Rollie: Good work. And remember Illinois!

Sincerely,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO GODFREY MILLER

Dear Miller: Congratulations on your work in your first appearance Monday night. It was pretty to see.

Yours,
DAD CARDINAL.

TO THE WOMEN

Dear Girls: Kay Iverson says for all you who are interested in hockey to meet him at the hockey rink at 4 o'clock every afternoon. He'll show you how to trip the light fantastic skate. He told me so.

Ever thine,
DAD CARDINAL.

STEINAUER TO CURE MEN WHO JUMP GUN

Joe Steinauer was busy with the pistol yesterday afternoon, but he wasn't shooting anyone or trying out for the postal squad.

"I'll teach them to jump at the right second," said Joe, and time after time the swimmers were off with the shot of the gun.

Coach Steinauer is profiting by the contest with Michigan last Saturday night and he doesn't intend to have any more men disqualified for jumping the gun. Thus, he is burning a little powder before the meet with Chicago Friday night.

PENN GYMNASTS TO PERFORM HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Final Standing in Conference
Not Affected By Entry of Easterners

That the University of Pennsylvania gymnastic team will meet the Badger team and Minnesota in a triangular contest here Saturday night, if favorable action of the athletic council, is assured.

Pennsylvania is making a tour of the west, meeting Chicago and other Big Ten universities. They have a strong team of tumblers and apparatus men, Coach Schlatter believes.

The entry of the eastern team in the meet Saturday night will not effect the final standing of either Minnesota or Wisconsin in the conference, as it will be a dual meet as far as conference standing is concerned.

Men on the Badger squad are working harder than ever this week because of the possibility of Penn's entry.

For Young Men There is nothing like a STETSON

OST young men today know the importance of looking fit. Good appearance counts much in the game of life. The young man who dresses with taste has a decided advantage.

But—it is surprising how little thought the average man gives to his hat. It is his crown, yet he seems to stop dressing at the neck.

Be careful in your selection of your headwear. When you buy a hat, select a Stetson. Its style is right, its quality means long wear.

DESK EDITOR—KEN COOK

THE POT OF GOLD

Tonight at 7 o'clock every man student will be given a tremendous opportunity, an opportunity to hear two men who are big factors in Wisconsin life, George Haight, president of the Wisconsin alumni association, and George Little, athletic director.

These two men have said that they want to meet Wisconsin men. Doubtless they do.

But that is not the reason why Wisconsin men should be on hand at the massmeeting tonight. It is, rather, that Wisconsin men want to meet these two men. In fact, they can not possibly afford to miss this opportunity. They would no more think of missing it than they would think of passing up a chance to get the prize at the end of the rainbow, however different the two cases may be.

It is going to be such a big event, the two speakers are going to be such a tremendous influence in Wisconsin life that no one can afford not to be on hand at this massmeeting.

THE UN-FAIR SEX

The whole thing began with our well-known ancestor—Adam. It is quite true that the Book does not come out in flat Hebrew and say that when Adam lost a rib and gained a better half, that he definitely mortgaged the peace of mind of his grandsons even unto the undergraduates in our justly famous co-educational institutions. And what is worse, woman has ever progressed a very great deal and no longer requires the insidious promptings of the snake, and has discovered that there are more interesting and profitable things to do with a man than to just make him eat an apple. Nevertheless, her methods are essentially the same; it has been only a process of elaboration and development. Can you not imagine a petulant Eve weeping willy nilly upon the sunburned shoulder of a shrinking Adam until he consented to eat seven apples, core, stem, and all if she would just stop.

Consider the skill and finesse of the gentle Co-ed in the Artillery of the eyes. Optical Tactics may be divided into these classes: (1) the Wicked Wink—crude, but potent; (2) the Torrent of Tears, or, as the French so quaintly put it, the Broken-Hearted Boo Hoo, which invariably renders its victim helpless and plastic within four minutes; (3) the Killing Glance—the most subtle of all—a fleeting, fatal eye-bombardment which has been a consistent bread-winner for the sex since Cleopatra was a sub-deb.

Whimsically picture Eve, as she discovered the hypnotic possibilities concealed in the droop of the feminine eyelid. Perhaps a bit of dust or a dazzled gnat which fluttered past the fringe of her eyelashes stirred the muscles into the mechanism of the first wink. Adam was fascinated. Eve experimented further, and within a week he was eating apples from her hand. Her great-great-granddaughters even unto this generation have been profiting by her momentous discovery.

The Study of the Feminine Phenomena to be conducted safely, must be conducted varily and from a distance. An intelligent and thinking senior permits himself to be quoted as follows: "Naturally in the course of a lurid past more than one pair of languishing eyes have been turned upon me, but I have sniffed the air of freedom and sidled away into the offing. One axiom have I evolved—Women are false. There is nothing more unstable than a woman—unless it be a radio. Creatures of impulse and whim, they go vacillating through a spellbound world like a weather-vane, and, like the weather-vane turning eagerly to whatever man, as gilded chanticleer to the breeze—which blows the hardest. The Co-ed is a great obstacle to college accomplishment, but how we love them."

The Awkward Squad's First Lesson

The scene is the library steps; the dramatis personae are six couples, the pep band and Larry Hall '21, ex-W cheer leader.

"The basketball game is about to commence," says Larry to the six couples seated on the steps. "Give us 'Varsity', band."

After the first three bars of the hymn are played, three of the men and three of the girls stand up, one of them for the purpose of waving to a friend who happens to be walking down State street. Of the other three men, one is busy telling a story to his s. y. t., another is hunting frantically for his partner's vanity case and the third has found a letter which has been in his pocket for a week and which is so important that he must read it right away—the while his partner dreams about last night's date.

"Stand up!" shouts Larry.

The six offenders stand up, and continue their previous occupations. The one girl by this time has been given her vanity case and dabs away industriously. Three of the 12 are singing, one of them having difficulty rendering "On Wisconsin" to the tune of "Varsity."

The band finishes its work in a flurry, and Larry renders the locomotive in a solo.

Just then Prexy Birge happens along with the query as to what it is all about.

"You see," replies Larry, "this is the first lesson in loyalty to the awkward squad. These students fuss to the games. Not that that isn't all right. But it has been felt that they should take the games a little more seriously than they take a movie, for instance, or the Orph. Cheering and singing when called for by the cheer leader are merely outward signs, to be sure, but then they are signs of a latent something which it is felt every student should have as a backer of the team. Not that the team notices their disrespect shown by lack of suitable attention, but that it is believed that such lack of attention means that these students themselves lose much that is valuable. I have been delegated to instruct them here in the rudiments of slight personal sacrifice in order that they profit thereby."

"Very good," and Prexy stands by to watch the lesson.

"Now," the instructor turns to his pupils, "do you know 'Hail, hail, the gang's all here'?"

"Sure," replies one of the girls, "it's a good dance piece."

Chic Sale One of Cleanest Players Known to Stage

Charles "Chic" Sale is one of the best examples of cleanliness that the stage affords.

"Chic" once lived on a farm near McFarland.

Mr. Sale is at the Orpheum Theater starting Sunday. He is the teacher in charge of the Friday afternoon entertainment, who asks his audiences to regard themselves as pupils in a school, and takes them back to childhood days with his paintings of life in the rural centers of America.

"Just say that I want to produce clean comedy, will you? he asks. "That is what I'm most interested in."

Taking a letter from his pocket, "Chic" with pardonable pride, read how the minister in his home town in Illinois announced in church that a film in which he was starred would be shown at a local playhouse and that it was "good clean comedy" and the congregation was urged to see it.

LEGISLATURE HAS THREE TAX BILLS

Two Bills Vie With Administration Plans Before Committee

The Wisconsin legislature this session has before it three separate, totally different bills for the taxing of incomes of individuals and corporations.

These bills are designated as the administration tax bill, the Schuman bill and the Norris-Blanchard bill, for the purposes of identification.

The administration and the Schuman bills are slated for committee hearing today, the first by the joint committee on taxation and other by the senate committee on corporations and taxation.

The rate of individual income taxation under the administration bill is the same as under the present laws; that in the Schuman bill is materially, and in some classes, drastically raised, and in the Morris-Blanchard bill a reduction of 25 per cent of all present rates is asked.

A comparative scale of the administrative and Schuman rates of income taxation is here given:

	Percent	Percent
First thousand dollars	1	1
Second thousand	1 1/4	1 1/2
Third thousand	1 1/2	2
Fourth thousand	1 1/4	2
Fifth thousand	2	3
Sixth thousand	2 1/2	4
Seventh thousand	3	5
Eighth thousand	3 1/2	6
Ninth thousand	4	7
Tenth thousand	4 1/2	8
Tenth to fifteenth thousand	9
Eleventh thousand	5
Twelfth thousand	5 1/2
Excess of twelfth thous.	6
Excess of fifteenth	10

In each of these bills the rate of taxation on corporation income is changed to a flat rate of four per cent.

A comparison of the exemption of individuals is here given:

Administration bill Schuman bill
Husband or wife
(Bill 27 S adds head of family)	$1,200
Each child under 18	200
Other department	300

Under the administration bill, dividends of state banks, trust companies and mutual savings banks would be subject to tax, but government pensions, inheritance taxes, devises, bequests and gifts inter vivos, life insurance benefits, amounts of accident or health insurance and awards under the workmen's compensation act are taxed against individuals. The franchise tax on corporate net incomes would be in excess of $1,000 and allows exemptions on state, national bank, trust company, mutual loan and building and loan dividends. The incomes of religious, scientific, educational and benevolent corporations are not taxed under the bill.

The administration bill does away with the personal property effect.

The Schuman bill would provide a penalty for wilful neglect to comply with the law in respect to the making and filing of an income tax return on the part of an individual of 25 per cent increase on his assessment.

A difference in the manner in which the collected income tax is to be distributed is noted in the two bills as follows:

Administration bill—5 per cent to state; 10 per cent to county; 45 per cent to community.

Schuman bill—50 per cent to state; 10 per cent to county; 40 per cent to community.

The present law states that all incomes collected in cash over and above the personal property offset authorized by law will be divided ten per cent to the state; 20 per cent to the county and 70 per cent to the community, where collected.

The class in the Philosophy of Religion will resume its activities at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow at Hillel Foundation. A review of the work of last semester in preparation for the discussion of "Religion and the Self" will engage the meeting.

Co-ed Alumni Answer Questionnaires to Be Used in School Files

The Commerce school has recently sent out a questionnaire to its women graduates to determine whether woman has a place in the business world by requesting information as to the place of residence and occupation, of these graduates. This information is for a new set of files to be kept in the Commerce school. The women's commerce organizations have kept in touch with these women, and through personal letters and the questionnaires have obtained information of the work they are doing.

According to the 62 questionnaires returned, 49 women are unmarried. These 49 women are occupied in the most diverse occupations. Twenty-four are teaching, either commercial or academic work of some kind, another is a physical education teacher.

Two are secretaries in the university, one is in the Medical school, and the other in the department of Romance languages, another is a bank clerk, and the rest all have some position in offices.

Little International

Extensive news of the Wisconsin International Night Horse show has been carried in practically every paper in the state, both urban and rural, under the direction of H. L. Kropp '25, chairman of publicity for the exhibition.

Newspaper syndicates, press bureaus, the university press bulletin, and special correspondents have sent copy to their respective papers each week for Kropp '25 the last month. Pictures were taken of every man active in the work of the show and the prints distributed to the home town papers of the committee members.

More than 500 posters, vividly portraying the night show have been released in every corner of Wisconsin and in Madison and the university quarter. Four window displays have been erected in well known stores. Every livestock breeder in the state has received a card bearing an invitation to attend the show, the card displaying a picture of Swift and Company's champion six horse team of percheron greys.

"The publicity committee has received splendid cooperation from the great number of news organs and papers in the state and in adjacent states," explained Kropp. "Every newspaper men and Madison merchant has heartily approved of the show and its policies. These men have contributed a large amount of effort toward the success of the student venture."

MEN OUTRANKED
BY WOMEN HEREAverages Show Sorority Co-eds Make Highest Marks of All Groups

Women at the university rank higher scholastically than men. Sorority members average better standings than non-sorority women, but non-fraternity men out-distance the fraternity brothers in this respect.

"University women have a higher scholarship than men. They seem better able to withstand the diversions of university life," said Dean George C. Sillery, of the College of Letters and Science.

That women, in general, rank on an equal if not on a superior level with men in mathematics is the opinion of Prof. E. B. Skinner of the mathematics department. That no women have as yet become topnotchers in the profession may be due to the preference given men in the pursuit rather than lack of integrity of application, he said.

Prof. Arthur Beatty of the English department finds men and women equally brilliant, but he declared that women are more conscientious and painstaking.

University statistics prove indisputably that women receive more grade points. The first semester of 1923-24, sorority women averaged 1.455 grade points per credit; non-sorority women, 1.397 points; the fraternity men, 1.103 points; and the non-fraternity men, 1.241. The second semester 1923-24 sorority women gained 1.569 points; the non-sorority women, 1.515; the fraternity men, 1.282 points; and the non-fraternity men, 1.350.

Music School Convocations
Resumed Tuesday P. M.

The musical convocations which are held by the University School of Music in the concert room of Music hall Tuesday afternoons but which have been discontinued because of the alterations being made on this room in connection with the installation of the new pipe organ to be put into the building next spring, were resumed at 2:30 p. m. today.

The following music students in the University took part in the concert this afternoon: Adelheid Wagner, Sun Prairie; Anita Netzow, Milwaukee; Gwethalyn James, Moatford; Rosemary U. Rooney, Madison; Carol Wheeler, Viroqua; and Ruth Persson, Milwaukee.

The program included the following numbers: "Three Preludes" Chopin; "If I Could Only Die" Barberoli; "Ho! Mr. Piper" Curran; "Romance" Schumann; "Butterfly" Lavalee; "Norwegian Echo Song" Thraene; "Winds in the Trees" Thomas; "Impromptu" opus 29, Chopin; "Thou Art So Like a Flower" Chadwick; "The Last Wish" Warford; and "Sonata" in G minor, Tartini.

DELEGATION HERE
AGAINST TAX BILLManufacturers Protest Against Repeal of Personal Property Bill

Scores of manufacturers and business men from all parts of Wisconsin were here this afternoon to appear against the administration taxation measure which was up for hearing before the senate committee on corporations and the assembly committee on taxation. The largest number of those present today came from the Fox river valley and Milwaukee.

The opposition centered largely on the provision in the bill repealing the personal property offset. The contention of the opposition is that to repeal the personal property offset would bring about double taxation.

Eleven representatives of Wisconsin manufacturers, business men and cities were present to appear before the hearing.

The corporation franchise tax and the removal of the personal property offset in the administration tax bill were the features attacked by the speakers. Those who were scheduled to appear before the committees included F. H. Clausen, Horicon, Wisconsin Manufacturers association; J. D. Steele, Retail merchants in Eastern Wisconsin, and D. O. Kinsman, both of Appleton; Mayor Armstrong, Racine; R. B. Goodman, Marinette, Wisconsin Lumber Manufacturers; W. E. Nicholoy, Madison, Wisconsin canners; J. M. Baker, Evansville; C. C. Collins, Madison, retail lumbermen; William Hertzfeldt, Milwaukee, Milwaukee retail merchants, and W. H. Alford, Kenosha, Nash Motor Co, and city of Kenosha.

The administration tax bill set for public hearing today by the merged legislative committees on taxation, eliminates discriminations that have been injurious to new industries and burdensome to the industries with small profits, according to a statement today by Sen. C. H. Johnson, Gratiot, chairman of the senate taxation committee.

Sen. Johnson claims the bill reduces income tax rates, citing an instance of reduction from a maximum 7 to a flat rate of 4 per cent in the case of corporations, excepting all corporations and industries not having a new income of more than $1,000 a year and the teachers' retirement fund surtax repeal cutting off about $1,000,000 in income taxes of individuals and corporations.

The senator defended the removal of the personal property offset from the provisions of the new bill by stating that the offset was the cause of the greatest discrimination in favor of prosperous business and against industries, merchants, farmers and other citizens limited in undertakings and profits.

The statement says in part: "The personal property offset discriminates against income from real estate under the present law. Real estate not only pays taxes on its assessed value, but also taxes on the income derived therefrom. There should be no discrimination between real and personal property in taxation."

"The Wisconsin Manufacturers' association states that the bill raises between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 additional revenue and places every dollar in the state treasury, ignoring counties and local units. That is a gross misrepresentation of the facts. The bill does no such thing. It does not place a single additional dollar in the state treasury for state purposes. To the contrary, less money goes into the state treasury for state purposes and the general property taxpayer of this state are not to be taxed.

Expo Progresses With Some Exhibits Already Planned

A few of the general plans of the University Exposition to be held in the armory from April 16 to 18, inclusive, have been given out by those in charge along with the promise that the most interesting as well as the most novel features of the show will not be divulged until its opening.

Among the features planned for the exhibit of the School of Journalism is the printing of a paper every few hours during the exposition and its circulation on the floor of the armory.

Foreign students at the university will have as their share in the exposition an exhibit similar to their "Trip Around the World" show staged in Lathrop gymnasium last year. Special space has been granted to the group because of the fact that foreign students regard with especial favor this university in comparison to other universities throughout the country. These students have already sent home for costumes to be used in the exhibit, which will add greatly to the color of their pageant.

The home economics students will display all the essential details of a novel cottage in their exhibit. This is the kind of work in which they receive practical training in the home economics course so that visitors at the exposition will again have a chance to see just what is being taught here.

The forest products laboratory and the geology department have each planned special exhibits which will include interesting demonstrations of the work carried on. The medical school in connection with the hospital unit is planning a very interesting exhibit which will include a trip through the new State hospital and give citizens of the state a chance to see the results of the money spent on the new hospital.

Most of these exhibits will be on the main floor of the armory which has been allotted to the exhibits of the College of Letters and Science and special colleges of the university. However, the geology exhibit and several others will be placed in the tank room on the first floor of the gymnasium.

STONE MAY HEAD SUPREME COURT

Expected Resignation of Taft to Elevate Former Atty. Gen.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Atty. Gen. Harlan F. Stone, recently victorious in the battle waged in the Senate against his confirmation as associate justice, is in line for appointment by President Coolidge as chief justice of the supreme court when ex-President Taft resigns.

That Mr. Stone will have conferred upon him the greatest honor that can come to an American jurist, and that Chief Justice Taft contemplates an early retirement on account of ill health are accepted facts.

It has been the general practice of previous presidents to name a chief justice from outside the supreme court, instead of promoting a sitting associate justice, but considering President Coolidge's indifference to precedents which he regards as out-worn, it is believed this custom will be no bar to the elevation of Mr. Stone.

Additional confirmation for the belief here in well informed quarters that Chief Justice Taft will yield his post to Mr. Stone is seen in the fact that the two officials have been in unusually close personal contact since Mr. Stone came to Washington.

They have been friends for many years and it is well understood at the capital that President Coolidge discussed with Mr. Taft the appointments of Mr. Stone both as attorney general and as associate justice. Mr. Taft warmly endorsed the president's selection.

In recent months Mr. Stone has frequently conferred with the chief justice and foundation exists for the impression here that Mr. Taft is preparing within the next few years to yield the exacting duties and exalted responsibilities of his office to a younger successor.

Mr. Taft observed the 67th anniversary of his birth Sept. 15. While he is a "youngster" in years compared to many octogenarians who have served on the bench, the chief justice has lived a more strenuous public life than any man who has sat on the supreme court. From the time he became assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio, in 1881, he has been almost continuously engaged as a public official, serving as judge of the superior court at Cincinnati, solicitor-general under President Harrison, judge of the Sixth Circuit U. S. court, president of the Philippine commission by appointment of President McKinley, first civil governor of the Philippines under President Roosevelt, secretary of war, provisional governor of Cuba, civil officer in charge of the construction of the Panama canal, president of the United States from 1909 to 1913, appointed joint chairman of the National War Labor board, serving 1918-19, and finally chief justice of the supreme court since June 30, 1921, by appointment of President Harding.

The prodigious labor incident to the discharge of his duties in successive offices of great importance has perceptibly taken toll of Mr.

WAR, AIR DEPT ARE STILL AT IT

Mitchell Claims Junior Officers were "Muzzled," Charge of "Air Trust"

WASHINGTON—Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant army air chief and central figure in the aircraft controversy, repeated once more before the house military committee today the statements which have been questioned by Secy. Weeks.

The general reiterated that the war department had "muzzled" junior officers and added that the department seemed to regard the question of national defense as "secondary" to its purpose of keeping the air service from becoming a "paramount" branch of the army.

Officers sent before congressional committees by the department, he declared, "usually have no practical knowledge about aviation," and are like "closet naturalists," who describe the gracefulness of a bird's flight" and yet would not recognize the bird if seen in the open.

The house aircraft committee, meanwhile, continued its examination of J. V. Martin of the Martin Aircraft Co.

Gen. Mitchell told the military committee a squadron of air-planes could wipe out New York City in one day and that no city could withstand an attack from the air unless defended by aircraft. He disputed navy testimony that the German battleship Ostfriesland sunk in the 1921 bombing tests off the Virginia Capes, was obsolete.

Mr. Martin declared solution to the nation's lack of air power lay in freeing the government of the intrigues of the air trust, which he said, obtained a greater part of congressional appropriations.

He is false economy, he said. The bill is opposed by the administration and favored by Gen. Mitchell.

The advantages of a combined purchasing board under a unified service would be small, the witness said, as most purchasing at present is done on a joint basis.

The former assistant secretary minimized the effect of aerial bombing on surface ships, declaring that there was a marked difference between bombing a defenseless target and a battleship equipped for war. He said aircraft of present design would have to be carried to within 500 miles of American shores before being launched on a bombing enterprise against any American city and an adequate would hinder such an attack.

Franklin Pupils To Hear Varsity Expert

Miss B. F. Dodge of the home economics department of the university, will speak to the children at the Franklin school Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and at 3:30 will address the P. T. A. She will talk to both groups on "Child Welfare." The rest of the program will consist of patriotic program by the sixth grade, a vocal solo by Catherine Legler, piano solos by Irene Legler, and Ruth West, and a talk by Dr. Warren Smith on the "Care of the Feet."

Taft's physical reserve, and he has confided in friends that he believes he has "earned a rest."

PROF. RICE TALKS ON PEACE TREATY

Law Proposed By League of Nations Explained to Sophomore Group

"A Treaty to Outlaw War" was the subject taken by Prof. W. G. Rice in his talk before the sophomore lunch club at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday noon. Professor Rice described the treaty proposed by the League of Nations which would make aggressive war a crime and provide sanctions and safeguards. This treaty must be ratified by a majority of members on the League's council, and six additional members of the assembly.

The world disarmament conference that the League of Nations has called for June, will not get underway until later in the summer, according to Professor Rice. After this time, the treaty forbidding aggressive war will be taken up by the several governments for ratification.

This was the first of a series of talks by prominent men that the Sophomore Lunch club is conducting. The object of these meetings, according to Orville Schwoerke '27 is to bring sophomore men together for interesting discussions, the consideration of common problems, and to hear interesting speakers. Luncheon costs 35 cents. Session will be over in time to enable all the men to make 1:30 o'clock classes.

Besides the speakers listed below, the lunch club hopes to procure George Little, new director of athletics, for a date in the early spring. The program as scheduled to date includes:

Mar. 2—Prof. P. B. Potter, "American Foreign Service in Europe."

Mar. 9—Prof. Louis Kahlenberg, "Who Makes Up My Mind for Me?"

Mar. 16—Prof. F. C. Sharp, "Student Government and the Honor System."

Mar. 23—Prof. Max Otto, "Truth and Education."

April 16—Prof. Carl Russel Fish.

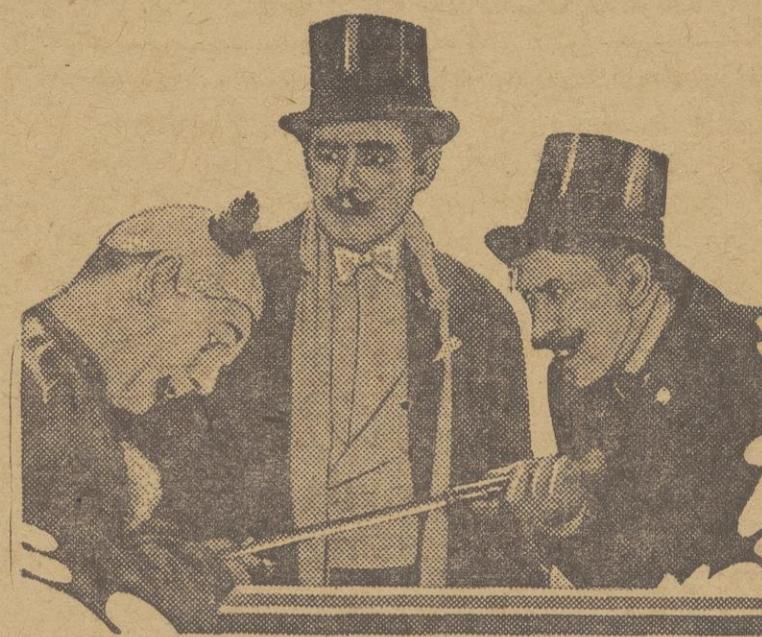

Yokohama Restored, Regaining Prosperity

TOKIO—More school children, more passengers carried on the street cars and a larger amount of savings in the banks than was the case before the great earthquake is Yokohama's answer to the question of how that port city has recovered from the disaster. In the part of Yokohama that was largely given over to Americans and other foreigners, the settlement for business and the bluff for residence, the city still speaks vividly of the destruction. Delay in formulating city planning for this section is the answer. In the rest of the city, which is by far the greater part of Yokohama, rebuilding has progressed steadily until it has now practically reached the pre-earthquake status.

AVIATOR SPEAKS HERE TOMORROW

Major Martin's Coming May Presage R. O. T. C. Air Unit Here

Major H. S. Martin, of the air service for the sixth corps area, of which Wisconsin forms a part, will deliver three talks in Madison tomorrow, one of which is open to the public. His subject will be general, including a discussion of "Recent Developments in Aviation." He is brought here by the Madison chapter of the National Aeronautic association, which has arranged for him to talk in the Chemistry auditorium at 4 o'clock.

Major Martin will also speak before the Rotary club at noon, and at a joint banquet of the Reserve Officers' association, and the National Aeronautic association at the University club in the evening.

The coming of Major Martin is a step in the program of the aeronautic association which brought him, whose purpose is to put Madison on the aeronautical map. A municipal landing field, and air mail service for Madison are parts of this program. Some time ago, the association tried to establish an air unit of the University of Wisconsin R. O. T. C., but this failed because of the policy of the War department not to establish new units, but rather to develop the old ones. However, the project has not yet been given up.

The afternoon talk will be given under the especial auspices of the military department of the university, and the public is invited.

TODAY'S QUIET HOUR HAS ORGAN PROGRAM

The program for the quiet hour held at the Luther Memorial church under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. from 5 to 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, will consist this week solely of organ selections played by Arthur Berthelsen. The program will consist of "Bells of St. Anne de Beaupre," by Ravel, "Andante Serioso" by Keletby, "Scherzando" by Gillette, and "Concerto G. Minor" by Handel, including "Allegro Con Molto," "Cadenza," "Adagio" and "Andante."

BUENOS AIRES—Four passengers in an airplane were killed and the pilot was seriously injured when the plane fell today at Ceres in the province of Santa Fe. The crash was caused by a frightened passenger who pulled the rudder control.

STEBBINS GIVES ECLIPSE REPORT

Relates Events of Trip East to Photograph Great Phenomena

Prof. Joel Stebbins, university astronomer who recently traveled to Connecticut with Prof. Jacob Kuntz, a famous astronomer connected with the University of Illinois, reports that "The period of totality at Middleton was 112 seconds. The sky was perfect at the last minute and our observations as planned were completely successful, but after all it was a great piece of luck. Our program was to measure the total light of the corona and the surrounding sky and compare it with previous eclipses. As a preliminary result the sky was found to be four times brighter than the eclipse of 1918. This was probably due to the diffuse reflection from the snow that covered the landscape. The indications are that the light of the corona measured in the minimum of the sun spots was no different in total light from that at the sun spot maximum in 1918."

Professor Stebbins says of the eclipse, "There was, of course, a great deal of interest in the eastern part of the country. All commercial business in New York city and Connecticut came to a standstill. The stock exchange postponed its opening for the first time in history. The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad ran 12 special trains into regions of totality. Passengers were given rain or cloud checks guaranteeing their money back if the sky were cloudy. Astronomers, however, were unable to get insurance."

"Only two of the nine mornings that we were at Middleton were perfectly clear. The cold wave brought clear weather the day before the eclipse but the sky was cloudy again at sunrise of the last day and remained so until about half hour before totality. The rising sun dispelled the clouds and at the last minute the sky was perfect, much to the surprise of those who were prepared for disappointment," says Professor Stebbins.

SENATE GIVES ITS O. K. ON KELLOGG

No Voice Raised in Opposition to Appointment of Hughes' Successor

WASHINGTON—Without reference to committee or a voice raised in opposition on the floor, the senate has confirmed the nomination of Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, to succeed Charles E. Hughes, as secretary of state on March 4.

Action on the nomination came unexpectedly yesterday after Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, changing his original intention to take up the appointment in committee obtained unanimous consent for its discussion without reference to committee. Confirmation was voted without a roll call and elimination reference to committee was in line with Senate precedent in acting on the nominations of former senators.

There was no revival of the opposition provoked among senators from the northwestern states affiliated with the La Follette insurgents when Sen. Kellogg was nominated to be ambassador to England because the nomination in this instance involved a post in the president's official family.

Senate Passes Move Honoring Whitehead

The senate adopted unanimously a resolution to the memory of the late Sen. John M. Whitehead of Janesville. The resolution recited that the deceased had an honorable record of twelve years' service in the legislature and during his incumbency urged measures which finally resulted in the state civil service law and other important legislation.

The Heck bill relating to removal of the limit of recovery in personal injury resulting in death by wrongful act cases was killed by the senate, after an amendment had been adopted making the limit $20,000 instead of $10,000 as provided under the present law. The senate voted to refuse engrossment 19 to 12.

NEW YORK—A strike order involving 25,000 white goods workers was issued by leaders of the miscellaneous trades of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union.

Severson Submits Bill Killing All Proms in Capitol

Senator Severson introduced into the senate yesterday his bill which will automatically prohibit the use of the capitol for future Junior Proms. The bill forbids dancing in the state capitol and it reads as follows: "No dancing to which an admission is charged, directly or indirectly, or to which the public is invited, shall be permitted in the capitol building." A public hearing will be held before the committee of state and local government to consider the measure.

In an interview Senator Severson declared, "I do not believe in the principle of permitting the use of state and public property for private purposes."

"At this last Prom dance," continued the senator, "I was at work in my private office with the door locked, and they even attempted to kick in the door."

REPUBLICANS TO MEET IN OSHKOSH

Send Call For Supporters of National Platform of Party

Wisconsin republicans "who endorse the national republican platform" were invited to attend a state-wide conference to be held in Oshkosh, March 2, in a call made public in Oshkosh today by W. J. Campbell, president of the Sixth District Republican club.

The purposes for which the conference was called, as announced by Mr. Campbell, include the formation of a Republican organization "with power to call a state convention in 1926."

"You are invited to attend a state wide Republican conference to be held in the city of Oshkosh at 10 o'clock in the morning on Monday, March 2, 1925.

This conference is called for the following purposes:

1. To form a Republican organization with power to call a state convention in 1926.

2. To arrange for the formation of a Republican organization in each congressional district that now has no Republican organization.

3. To plan for the formation of a Republican organization in every county in Wisconsin that is not now organized.

4. To provide a just and adequate method of representation for the different subdivisions of the state for convention purposes.

5. To arrange for the engagement of a secretary to direct the details of field work.

This call will reach as many as possible through the mail but if any zealous sincere Republican fails to receive a personal copy his attendance is invited the same as his presence will be welcomed.

This conference is not called to indorse any individual for any office or position whatever.

It is called because the members of the Sixth District Republican club feel that true Republican spirit and unity of action is being destroyed by insidious propaganda, being sacrificed to individualistic selfish political ambition.

The people of the state have not been allowed a voice in selecting the candidates nor the platform to be voted for at the primary.

The old school house and town hall meeting, the foundation stone of American government have been abandoned.

Candidates now make their own platforms which you must take even though they may be contrary to party principles, a political fallacy to be found only in Wisconsin.

There is a remedy for these evils and to seek it, and put it into effect in this state, is our purpose and in this purpose we ask you to attend this conference and give us your support.

We earnestly request that you sign and return the enclosed card with an affirmative answer. In any event do not fail to write us.

Cordially yours,
Sixth District Republican Club,
By W. J. CAMPBELL, Pres.

Use of the assembly chamber was granted the American Federation of Labor for an address on the night of Feb. 27 by a representative of that organization. The assembly adopted a resolution by Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee, permitting use of the chamber.

SHARP ASKS FOR 'ROGUES GALLERY'

Believes Photographs of Students Would Aid in Recommending

That the "personality touch" between the student and the faculty could be better maintained if a gallery system of photographs of all students in the university were kept by the registrar, is the opinion of Prof. F. C. Sharp of the psychology department.

A similar plan has recently been introduced in the Kansas State Agricultural college which includes the recording of the personal history with the individual's photograph and it has proved very successful in solving the problem of becoming personally acquainted with the individual student and keeping a mental catalogue in accordance with his written records and qualifications.

"Such a system would be a great aid when the different institutions write back for recommendations. Instead of merely looking up the grades of the student, who is probably but vaguely called back into the memory, if the professor could look up the picture of the student associations would be called into his mind which would enable him to give an impression rather than merely base his recommendation on the grades of the student for it is accurate in a minority of cases only. It is probable that some day educational tests will be given every student who enters the university."

SPANISH CLUB MEETS TO CHOOSE OFFICERS

Spanish club will hold election of officers at the first meeting of the new semester, which will take place at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Concert room of Lathrop hall.

Preceding the business meeting, a short program will be given. "Polvo y Colorete" (Powder and Rouge), a one act play, will be presented, with a cast consisting of Marion Juneau '26, Erna W. Wolf '25, and Ruth Hill '26.

Laurence Powell of the musical faculty, and R. C. Vollenweider, grad, will give a musical number, and F. Carleton Varney will conclude the program with a reading entitled "The First Day of School."
