STUDENT PARADE WILL BE FEATURE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Cadets and Campus Organizations Unite With City in Celebration

Girls clad in white, each bearing wreath of green to be laid upon the base of Lincoln monument in memory of the soldier dead of Wisconsin will be one event in the Memorial day services of Madison. The city and university will unite this year in an impressive service to commemorate the memory of veterans in the Civil, Spanish-American, and World wars.

The Memorial day services will begin when the cadet corps assembles upon the lower campus for the president's review at 8:30 a. m. President Birge will award honors for the year after which the cadet corps will march to Wisconsin avenue where the parade will assemble at 10 a. m.

Major L. L. Lampert, United States army, is to be marshal of the day and will lead the parade with the cadet corps. The procession will march around the square, up Wisconsin avenue, and down Langdon street to Lincoln terrace, where the patriotic organizations of the city will meet the parade and join in the day's services.

Services on Terrace

Services at the monument will open with "Tenting Tonight" sung by the Mozart club. The Rev. H. G. Hengell, rector of the St. Paul's chapel, will give the invocation. President Birge will deliver the introductory address, and Michael B. Olbrich '05, prominent Madison lawyer and orator, will make the memorial address. Under the leadership of Prof. Edgar B. Gordon, the assembly will unite in singing "America" when the university service flag will be unfurled.

The wreath-bearing ceremony directed by Major Charles I. Corp, officers reserve corps, and performed by 139 girl students, the President's guard, and the university corps of cadets with Cadet Major Henry W. Klos 'in command, will follow the singing. As the wreaths are laid upon the monument, Major Harrison L. Garnez, officers re-

NEED EIGHTY MEN FOR AIR SERVICE

A. H. Wait Reports 120 Have Signed For Aviation
Here

If 80 more students sign up for a course in aviation, a branch of the air service may be established in conjunction with the R. O. T. C. department here next fall.

Up to last night 120 students had signified their desire to enroll in a course in aviation with A. H. Wait, instructor in mathematics, who served for a year with the air service during the World war, and who is backing the movement to have a branch of the air service established here.

It is thought by Mr. Wait that if 200 students are interested in the air service, the war department may consider the establishment of a branch here. Details concerning the number of hours of work each week, equipment, instructors and summer camps will be determined by the war department when it decides to establish the course.

A student who signs up now does not bind himself to take the course should it be established, Mr. Wait said last night. Knowledge of engineering is not necessary for the course.

Mr. Wait may be interviewed by students desiring information concerning the establishment of the service from 9 to 10, from 1 to 1:30 and at 3:30 o'clock every day at 404 North Hall.

"I would like to talk with every student interested in such a course," Mr. Wait said last night. "Credit in the R. O. T. C. may be given for aviation work."

Birge Successor Not to Come For a Year—Kronshage

There is little likelihood that President Birge will have a successor for a year or more, Theodore Kronshage, chairman of the committee appointed by the Board of Regents to select the next president, declared yesterday.

While the committee met yesterday, no definite action was taken and it has never met to consider the question, Mr. Kronshage said.

At the time President Birge was chosen to fill the vacancy created by the death of President C. R. Van Hise in 1917, he requested the regents to continue their search for a permanent successor. Whether the request has been further urged within the past few months is a matter on which the committee and the president refuse to commit themselves.

No definite action was taken upon President Birge's request at a meeting of the Board of Regents, held last night in the Administration building. Tonight the board will meet to consider the budget for next year.

BADGER TO ENTER YEARBOOK CONTEST

Judges of Art Craft Guild of Chicago to Judge Annuals
in June

The 1925 Badger will be entered in the national yearbook contest conducted by the Art Craft guild league of college engravers at Chicago, held during June. Announcement of the winners will be made late in the summer.

The three judges will be selected from among Chicago artists and the faculty of the Chicago Art Institute. The annuals will be judged according to the different elements of makeup such as engraving, art work, printing and photography. Page balance, the financial standing of the book, organization pages, athletic and beauty department, humor and class pages will be given special attention.

Four classes of year books will be judged, the university, the small university or college, the prep school and the high school. First prizes in each class will be a loving cup and $100 to be divided among the staff members.

The Badger won third place in the contest last year, the Missouri Savitar winning first place, and Texas Cactus second place. The cup won by the Badger is on display at the Biology building.

"In most of the schools and universities in which the annual is entered, the annual is one of the biggest of the campus activities," said Ellis Fulton '25, editor-in-chief of the 1925 Badger. "Last year, after the Savitar had been declared winner, the whole school met the delegates with the cup at the station, and held a big celebration. This is the spirit prevailing in the schools competing. The Badger is doing its best to make as favorable an impression as possible," Fulton declared.

R. H. Nason, editor of the Art Craft Review, the official magazine of the Art Craft Guild, is in charge of the contest this year.

ALCOTT WINNER OF HORSE SHOW POSTER

Ruth Alcott '26, won first place and the $3 prize and Richard Yeo '27, second and $2 in the poster contest conducted by the horse show publicity committee. Kathryn Sanborn '25, and T. Enner were given honorable mention. Posters are on display in the Chocolate Shop, University pharmacy, Morgan's and Simpson's. Winners may get their prizes from George Tyler '25, at the Delta Chi house. A. N. Colt and Jack Bailey '25, were the judges.

Riders for the R. O. T. C., who have entered, are Horace Fries '25, Harry Reynolds '26, Merl W. Miller '25, Howard Kerr '27, Russell Fosbinder '25, Donald Folk '26, Victor Shimanski '26. John Suhr, local rider, is entered for the five-gaited event.

Goodnight Celebrates Tenth Anniversary As Dean Today

Reviews Social and Athletic Problems Settled in Last
10 Years

No candles, no birthday cake, no speeches and songs will mark the tenth birthday of Wisconsin's dean of men. Scott Holland Goodnight, who assumed the manifold duties and responsibilities that this office imposes, ten years ago today.

In the spring of 1914 it was found imperative to make a complete reorganization of the committee on student life and interests. Supervision over extracurricular activities was put in the hands of the faculty and Dean Goodnight was voted full time chairman of the committee. Two years later the present title of dean of men was created, but the functions remained the same.

Reviewing the various problems and corrupt practices that crept into outside activities and made the present regulations necessary, Dean Goodnight said yesterday:

Reform Athletics

"Between the years 1905 and 1907 Wisconsin experienced a great athletic reformation. The Big Ten conference was formed then and corrupt practices in athletics were rooted out. Soon after an investigation into fraternity conditions was made and a committee for regulating fraternities was established.

"Attention was next directed to cleaning up graft and corruption in the handling of the funds of the various organizations. The result was the instigation of the present ruling which provides that all classes, publications, and other student organizations have their accounts audited and examined each semester by a member of the committee on student life and interests.

Social Reform

"Eccentric dancing and other laxities in social life were the points of attack in 1911 and 1912. At this time a general committee made up of six or seven smaller committees was established under the direction of Prof. Carl Russell Fish to control student interests.

"In the spring of 1913 social life at Wisconsin came to a climax just before final examinations and all thought of work was shot to pieces. The faculty rebelled and drew up a resolution forbidding any outside activity within the last month before final examinations. The measure was defeated, but a special recommendation for the reorganization of the committee on student life and interests was accepted and put into effect. With this recommendation the office of dean of men was created."

First Dean at Illinois

The first man to hold the position of dean of men in this country was Thomas Arkle Clark, of the University of Illinois, who has served in that capacity since 1901. This position is unknown at the University of Chicago and the University of Ohio where the deans of the college take over that work.

Dean Goodnight has also been director of the summer session since 1912. He was assistant director in 1911 under Dean George C. Sellery, who occupied that post from 1906 to 1911. President Birge was the first director in 1898 and he was succeeded by Prof. Paul Monroe.

Birdsong Accepts Offer as Head of Butler Journalism

H. E. Birdsong, instructor in the course in journalism for the past two years, has accepted a position as head of the recently organized School of Journalism at Butler college, Indianapolis, it was announced yesterday. He will take up his new work next September.

Mr. Birdsong, who is a graduate of the department of journalism at the University of Missouri, came to Wisconsin two years ago from Emporia, Kansas where he had been an instructor in the Kansas State Teachers' college. Previously to that Mr. Birdsong was on the staff of the Kansas City Star.

"I feel that the new department of journalism at Butler presents a good opportunity," he said yesterday. "The daily papers in Indianapolis are ready to cooperate with the department in every possible way, and the school is growing rapidly."

No announcement has been made in regard to a successor to Mr. Birdsong.

MAKE FIELD DAY SCHOOL TRADITION

Advisory Student Committee
Named By Director of Physical Eds

"Make field day a gala day, a tradition in the life of every university woman," Miss Blanche Trilling, director of women's physical education, said yesterday, while instructing the heads of the committees for women's field day to be held at Camp Randall on Saturday, May 31.

Miss Trilling and Miss Cynthia Wesson, faculty advisors, are assisting a student advisory board in the general administration of field day. Members of the advisory committee are Anne Smith '25, Daisy Simpson '25, Esther Fifield '25, Margaret Henry '24, Esther Bilstad '24, and Gretchen Kroncke '24.

All expenditures and final receipts from the field day committees are handled by the finance committee under the direction of Mabel Rugen '25, chairman. Assisting her are Madge Burt '26, and Jane Waltz '26. Each committee is required to file an itemized report of its expenses. Finances for the dance drama to be held on Thursday, May 29, as well as the field day receipts, are in charge of the same committee.

FROSH TAKE HONORS AT COMBINED PICNIC

Freshmen won the field meet held in connection with the Agric Home Ec picnic yesterday afternoon in Dean Russell's grove. In the three-legged race, tug-of-war, relay race, and suit case race, the freshmen scored 12, seniors 11½, juniors 11, and sophomores 1½. William Osius '24 had charge of the picnic.

Home Ec girls won a gallon of ice cream for the best singing. Other organizations who took part in the singing contest were Ag Triangle, Euthenics club, Saddle and Siroin, and Blue Shield Country Life club.

Edwin H. Rohrbeck '24 was toastmaster, Charles Bryce '27, spoke representing the freshmen, Marian M. Schnurr '26, sophomores, Fred H. Kauffman '25, juniors and William F. Osius '24, seniors.

SENIOR REUNION IN 1929, PLAN AT WOMEN'S BANQUET

Blue Dragon Speakers Address
250 Students; Nardin
Urges Service

More than 250 senior women met together for the last time in Lathrop parlors at the annual Blue Dragon banquet last night. Miss Elizabeth Waters, Fond du Lac, and Miss Leola Hirschman, Milwaukee, university regents, were guests of the class.

The speakers, Dean Nardin, Margaret Callsen, and Josephine Snow, were introduced by Nina Faris, toastmistress.

Dean Pleads for Service

Dean Nardin urged the seniors to make the spirit of Wisconsin felt wherever they go. "Create a desire everywhere for the services of Wisconsin women," she said. "I do not know what will happen to the seniors after they are graduated but I know that no dishonor will come to them and that they will never be lacking unto themselves."

Margaret Callsen enumerated the benefits the seniors received from their four college years and then told how the seniors could benefit Wisconsin.

"Wherever we go we can take with us the ideals of Wisconsin. We can be active in alumni associations, organizing them when necessary, and we can boost the Memorial union at all times. In 1929 let us plan to meet together at our first class reunion," Miss Callsen said.

Rings Distributed

"We may not have met as often as we wished but our gathering tonight shows that we still have the spirit that carried us through our four years in college," declared Josephine Snow, Blue Dragon president.

The Sigma Nu orchestra of six pieces played during the banquet from 5:30 until 6:30 o'clock. An order of Blue Dragon rings was received by Josephine Snow and distributed after the banquet. Another order is expected within the next week.

Gold keys for four year's of membership were awarded to John P. Wells, concert manager, Fredrick W. Nimmer, assistant director, A. Keith Brewer, Fred E. Mooney, Raymond H. Ludden, Edward D. Morris, Charles V. Goodrich, Lyman B. Kimball, Meyer R. Katz. Silver keys for three year's membership were awarded to John E. Gray, Waldemare P. Schoenoff, Harold Addington, August W. Spittler and Y. Arthur Gulson.

Science Perfects Chemical Cream to Cure Sunburn

Most people have the mistaken idea that sunburn is caused by the heat of the sun. This is incorrect, sunburn is caused by the ultra-violet rays, which constitute only seven percent of sunlight.

Research workers in the course of their laboratory investigations into the properties of ultra-violet light, have discovered a chemical which is as transparent as glass but which has the property of shielding the skin from the ultra-violet or burning rays of sunlight and thus giving absolute protection against sunburn. It performs exactly the same function as the transparent screen of glass or the yellow screen of tan or freckles. This chemical is said to be beneficial to the skin.

Dr. E. B. Vliet, chemist of the Abbott laboratory, Chicago, said, "In our search for a material that could be used to prevent sunburn and freckles, it was necessary to find a substance that would absorb all of the ultra-violet and transmit all of the other waves so that beneficial effects of exposure to the sun would be unimpaired. Furthermore, the substance had to be one that could be incorporated into a cream and applied to the skin in an invisible layer and be absolutely harmless."

Series after series of substances were quickly tried and a few were found that absorbed the ultra-violet waves completely, but let the others pass. These were tested further to determine their fitness in other respects and one was finally selected that was far superior to the others. This product is a synthetic organic compound with one of those long chemical names that serve to keep a haze of mystery about the otherwise very practical science, but for practical purposes it is known as sodium-sunnex.

Paintings on Exhibit Here

One of the most outstanding things about the exhibition of art paintings of Knute Heldner, Duluth artist, at the Karl Noble studio this week, is the versatility of the artist. His work represents the oldest types of painting to the very modern and almost futuristic tendencies.

"So different are his pictures that it is impossible to detect from one to the next that they are by the same man," says Carl Nordmark, an old friend of the artist, who has brought the collection to Madison for exhibition this week.

In regard to the futurist pictures Mr. Nordmark declares that Heldner never goes beyond understanding. He takes his pictures from life, but gives them his own interpretation. One of these examples is "Pythm," which is a winter scene in which all the lines are so arranged that they come to one point on the picture, and the eye is not allowed to leave the canvas. Another of the pictures with an underlying meaning is the one called, "Abstractions." It expresses the idea of the departing Indian race. A group of Indians have returned to the old camping ground, after having been driven out by the white people, and find in its place a modern city—nothing remains but a piece of an old tree—and that is almost gone. They are gazing at the transformation amazed and wonderstruck.

Thirty-seven paintings are exhibited. Most of them are colorful northern landscapes, but several have been painted from the artist's studio window, and are scenes in Duluth. Among these are: "Duluth Central High School," "The First M. E. Church," "The Court House" and "The Heart of Duluth." Perhaps the most carefully painted is "The Breaking up of Winter."

Heldner is a Norwegian by birth, and has been rated by the American Federation of Arts as one of the twelve greatest living landscape painters in America.

PAN-HELLENIC PICKS 5 TO INVESTIGATE GRADES

A committee has been appointed to conduct the Pan-Hellenic scholarship investigation by Jane Pierson '26, president of the Pan-Hellenic. This committee is composed of one representative from each of the first five sororities in the scholarship average. The sororities represented are Delta Gamma, Alpha Phi, Sigma Kappa, Pi Beta Phi, and Alpha Xi Delta. The various means of making high scholarship in each sorority will be investigated. Helpful suggestions will also be offered so as to maintain a higher grade average throughout all Pan-Hellenic organizations.

Blind Student Studies Law; Writes Exams on Typewriter

Blind since he was two years old, but inspired with the determination to educate himself, Arthur J. Petrie, of Franklin Grove, Ill., is now enrolled as a student in the Law school and is planning to practice Law when he finishes his course.

He has become a familiar figure on the campus as he resolutely finds his way up and down the hill following the sidewalk with his cane. Many students stop to aid him as he stands at a busy street corner listening for a lull in the traffic so that he may cross in safety. But, in spite of his handicap, he goes about his business as independently as any of his classmates.

In class he takes his notes with a Braille writer. To cover his assignments of reading in law books, he hires others to read aloud to him while he rapidly takes notes with the aid of the writer. These notes together with those which he takes in lectures, constitute his textbook.

He writes his examinations on a standard typewriter, which he learned to use while he was a student in a school for the blind, although in his writing for his own use, he writes by the Braille method.

He received his early education at the Illinois state school for the blind at Jacksonville. His college course he took at Illinois college in Jacksonville, and received the bachelor of arts degree. In his undergraduate college days, Petrie took a number of history and economics courses, Latin and German, and other regular college studies.

To earn money enough to put himself through law school, Petrie spent eight years tuning pianos, utilizing the profession that he had learned in the school for the blind.

"I decided a good many years ago that I wanted to study law," he declared.

For recreation, he plays the piano, reads magazines printed for the blind, and takes gymnastic exercises in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. where he stays. He travels alone, he goes to and from classes alone, and has trained himself to be as independent as possible. His watch is equipped with a special dial.

"It is rather difficult to find my way about when I first go to a new place," he admitted, "but I soon learn to know the town."

DAILY REPORTS OF
ALL BADGER TEAMS

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDBASEBALL TEAM
PREPARING FOR
WEEKEND GAMESPlay Practice Games With Frosh; Lowman Changes
Batting Order

Coach Lowman's warriors, for a brief time leaders of the Big Ten race, settled down in earnest yesterday afternoon in preparation for the fray to be made upon them Friday afternoon by the Maroon cellar gang.

Four brisk innings against Coach Combacker's aspiring frosh and copious infield and batting practice constituted the afternoon's workout, and the boys went through the drill with a vigor which boded ill for any hopeful team that attempts larceny on the Badgers in the shape of stolen games.

New Batting Order

The coach has shifted his batting order again, with the result that Jimmy Emanuel, who is hitting consistently in the neighborhood of .425, is now occupying the cleanup position. The boys experienced some difficulty in gatehiring hits off of Campbell, elongated Purdue hurler, and counted only six safeties, but swatted Roettger, Illinois ace, for ten solid blows.

With the season drawing to a close every game is of the utmost importance, and Wisconsin, while not a ruling favorite, is still in a position to snatch the bacon and cart it home.

Games remain for the Badgers with Chicago, Northwestern, Michigan, and Minnesota, in the order named, and, if the team is performing up to standard, it should be won hands down. Baseball teams are, like a woman, inclined toward fickleness, and not too much advance dope can safely be spouted about either.

Illini Look Like Champs

Ohio and Illinois still stand as logical contenders for the title. The Suckers have won four and lost one, while Ohio, with two victories and one defeat chalked up against one, while Ohio, with two victories it, and a 6 to 6 tie with Illinois, still has eight tilts to struggle through.

Optimism has not, however, deserted the Badger camp, and the coach heartily insists that he will play out the schedule and take what he can get. He is in good spirits, and when such is the case it will require more than the ordinary to baffle him or his team.

PREP TRACK MEET
ENTRIES REPORTEDPlans Are Made For Largest Annual Interscholastic
Meet

Yesterday was the last opportunity for the state high schools to enter their track teams in the annual interscholastic track meet which is run under the auspices of the athletic association. This is the thirtieth annual meet and preparations are being made to make it the biggest event that the school has backed.

The meet will be held May 31 at Camp Randall. There will be a tennis tournament run in connection with the track events. Each school will be allowed to enter three men in the singles. There will be no doubles matches.

There will be medals given to the men winning first four places in each event. All field and track events will be run. The teams that are entered are class A, Madison Central, Green Bay East, Milwaukee Washington, Milwaukee Riverside, Marinette, Janesville, Milwaukee North, Milwaukee South, Viroqua, Milwaukee West, Kenosha, Milwaukee Lincoln, Milwaukee Bay View, Wausau.

Class B, River Falls, Viola, Gays Mills, Warren Union, Sun Prairie, Dodgeville, Oconto Falls, Wauzeka, Elroy, Soldiers Grove, Norwalk, Watertown, Wisconsin, Humbird, Milton Union, Westby, Monticello, Albany.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE FOR GREEK GAMES

The games for today in the interfraternity baseball tournament are:

Alpha Kappa Lambda vs Phi Kappa Sigma, 6 o'clock, varsity east.

Triangle vs Phi Kappa, 6 o'clock, varsity west.

Acacia vs Alpha Gamma Rho, 6 o'clock, frosh field No. 1.

Delta Chi vs Kappa Psi, 6 o'clock, frosh field No. 2.

The third round of the tournament will be completed this week and drawing made for the final round next Monday.

CREW ON MONONA
FOR DAILY ROWBad Weather Hinders Crew
Greatly, Says Coach; Lake
Too Rough

Rough water on Lake Mendota forced the varsity crew to roll their scull to Monona yesterday afternoon for a comparatively short workout. "Dad" Vail is much discouraged over the cold and rough weather that is being experienced, and feels a bit gloomy over crew prospects.

Getting on the regular course for taking the three-mile practice row has been nearly impossible the coach says. The line-up in the first boat is still the same and does not seem likely to change.

Arrangements are being completed for the trip to Poughkeepsie and the crew will leave June 2 to spend two weeks on the course previous to the races.

The freshmen college crews did not get out their shells yesterday because of the condition of the water. The four college crews have been out daily and seem to be getting into good form. Some time has been devoted to racing starts and a few practice races have been held.

Cedar Rapids Prep
School Trackster
Breaks Records

"Bab" Cuhel, captain of the Cedar Rapids high school track team that won five of the six relays in the relay carnival held here May 3 added new laurels to his many string of victories in the Iowa state prep school track meet held last week at Iowa City.

The big Cedar Rapids boy broke the national high school record in both the high and low hurdles. Cuhel stepped the high sticks in 15 3-10 seconds and skimmed over the low barriers in the fast time of 24 3-10 seconds. The low hurdles record has remained unbroken since 1913 until Cuhel smashed it last Saturday. Besides breaking the two hurdle records Cuhel won the 100 yard dash in 10 flat.

Leo Loftus, team mate of Cuhel's broke the state record when he stepped the 440 in 50 4-10 seconds. These boys are expected to make a good showing when they compete in the Stagg national prep meet later this spring.

Visiting Athletes
Should Be Housed
By Campus Groups

"To save Interscholastic week in the future, it is necessary that organized groups provide rooms for 300 high school athletes who are coming here on May 31, Paul Faust '26, chairman of the entertainment committee for Venetian night," said last night.

"Unless fraternities and other organized bodies of men agree to accommodate these delegates, either the meets will have to be called off in the future or the men will have to be put up in hotels at the expense of the university," Faust said.

"The purpose of the meets is to bring prospective athletes here and to interest them in Wisconsin. To meet these men and to entertain them is the responsibility and privilege of every Wisconsin man."

HOLD GYM CLASS GAMES TODAY ON LOWER CAMPUS500 Frosh and Sophs Play in Third Annual Gym
Field Day

The Third Annual Gymnastic Field day will be held Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on the lower campus.

According to Fred E. Schlatter, coach of the Wisconsin gym teams and who also is in charge of freshman and sophomore gym classes more than 500 men will take part in these mass games. Over 26 games will be going on at the same time, giving the spectators more thrills than Ringling circus.

The first number on the program will consist of a mass drill in which these 500 students will compete. Following this will be an exhibition of group games and relay races. For the group games the Second Regimental band will play the Manhattan Beach March by Sousa.

Five rings of mass boxing will be the next feature with two men in each ring. This feature is certain to be one of the drawing cards of the field day. Stunts of this nature were put on in army encampments during the war and never failed to entertain the rookies.

T. E. Jones, director of athletics at the University will award physical efficiency buttons to men who have a grade of excellent in physical efficiency tests during the past year.

A mass chariot relay race will conclude the program. This will be men of each of the six classes.

Versus

Although defeated by Purdue, Wisconsin still has a good chance of winning the title if somebody will be kind enough to bump off Ohio and Illinois for us.

Wisconsin's tennis team seems to be enjoying about the same degree of success as our hockey team did.

Remember way back when Wisconsin's track team cleaned up at Drake and Penn and then won the conference title with a total of 49 points? Carman Smith captained the team, and won 13 points at the conference meet. Coach Mead Burke was a member of that team and won the 440 yard hurdles at the Penn games. (1916)

"Bab" Cuhel of Cedar Rapids, who ran so sensationally in the Wisconsin Mid-West relays, set two new marks in the Iowa State meet. He ran the 120 yard high hurdles in 15 3-10 seconds and the 220 yard low hurdles in 24 3-10 seconds breaking records which had stood for nine and ten years respectively.

Wisconsin's interscholastic is little over a week off. We can remember when the interscholastic was a rather small affair with only one set of track and field games; now there is added to it a tennis and golf tournament as well as a division of the track and field games into a class A, and a class B.

The crew is expected to leave about June 2, the race is scheduled for June 17, and the men will probably return immediately. "Dad" plans on taking only two subs on the trip, a port and a starboard man.

Some of the fraternity games remind one of anything but the national pastime. They only last five innings, but that is usually enough for either team to score twenty or thirty runs. Any person who voluntarily umpires such a game should be awarded the Croix du Guerre or else be examined for insanity.

The finals of the interfrater-

Tennis Tourney is Commenced Today
on Varsity Courts

The all university tennis tournament starts today on the varsity courts. Both the singles and doubles will be played at the same time under the following three rules:

1. Contestants must arrange their own matches and get their own courts.

2. The first round must be played by Sunday night.

3. All results must be phoned in to Proc Wright at Badger 8 as soon as the matches are played.

Entries and results will be printed daily in The Cardinal. Entrants in today's matches must report at the trophy room of the gym between 12 and 1:20 o'clock.

Unexpected enthusiasm and interest has been evinced in the tournament. Instead of 35 entries expected in the singles there are 64 and in the doubles there are 22.

FROSH-SOPH BALL GAME IS PLANNEDArrangements Completed and Contest Set For Saturday
Afternoon at Randall

Arrangements have been completed for the annual frosh-soph baseball game and the date has been set for Saturday May 24, at 2:30 o'clock at Camp Randall. The freshman team will be in fine shape for the mixup since the weather man has come through with several real days for baseball. Coach Combacker will have a good team in the field some of them will be Varsity material for next year.

Some of the men will start for the frosh will be Capt. Donagan at third, Barnum at catch, Tyke at second, Tyle or Martell at short, Novothy in the field. The pitching assignment will not be made until the day of the game.

Catcher Wold of the Varsity squad has been chosen as captain of the second year men. He will have complete charge of the team and will try to get a team together that will give the frosh a battle. Coleman will probably pitch for the sophs.

nity tennis matches will get under way next week with about eight teams competing.

Wisconsin has a new sport—it is walking. We don't know why but we suspect that some of the habitual drive-walkers have confessed and are being trained for the Olympic tryouts.

If everything goes well Wisconsin should have a wonderful two-mile relay team next year. With Hilberts and Vally back again and with the addition of Shilke from the freshman squad and Carter, who is not in school at present, Wisconsin should have one of the fastest two-mile teams that ever ran in the conference. Sort of a pipe-dream you know but still it looks awfully good.

Shilke is Gerge Berg's find. He unearthed him in one of his notorious gym classes and since then he has turned out to be one of the most promising middle distance runners that ever entered Wisconsin.

In speaking of freshman athletes one should not overlook Barnum, the big frosh from Evansville. "Rollie" is one of the best all-around athletes that we have seen in "yars and yars." He plays football, basketball, and baseball with equal facility, and besides is the type of clean-cut athlete that any school would be proud to have.

The next sporting event on the program for the writer is an engagement with a gent named Julius who takes a leading part in the topic that I shall give Mr. Root in English History.

Draw your own contusions folks.

FROSH DEFEATED
95 TO 40 IN TRACK
MEET WITH ILLINISucker Freshmen Win Eleven
First and Score Three Slams

The Illinois frosh swamped the Badger yearling track men in their telegraphic meet with a score of 95 to 40. The Illini scored slams in the hurdles, the broad jump and the pole vault. By taking eleven firsts to the Badgers four and winning plenty of seconds and thirds the Illinois men demonstrated that they have a powerful aggregation of cinder path men.

Several good records were made. White, Illinois stepped the two mile in the fast time of 9:57 3-10, Ham and Seed both of Illinois went over the bar at 11 feet six inches in the pole vault and Captain McGinnis of the Badgers made a leap of 6 feet 1 3-4 inches in the high jump. Both of these jumps would be well up in the scoring column in Varsity competition.

Leonard, Illinois, was high point man of the meet with firsts in the 100 yard dash, the 120 yard high hurdles, and a second in the 220 yard run. Shipley, Illinois was second high point man with firsts in the javelin, the hammer and a third in shot put. Schwarze, Badger star weight man was high point man for the Wisconsin frosh with firsts in the shot put and the discus, and was third high man in the meet.

The meet that was scheduled with Iowa today has been postponed at the request of Iowa until Saturday and the scores will be run in Sunday's Cardinal. The summaries of the Illinois meet follow:

100 yard dash—1st Leonard (I); 2nd Sullivan (I); tie for 3rd Francis (W) and Kelly (I) time 10 seconds.

220 yard dash—1st Boegal (I); 2nd Leonard (I); 3rd Francis (W), time 23 6-10.

440 yard dash—1st Sitting (I); 2nd Boegal (I); 3rd Dougan (W), time 51 8-10.

880 yard dash—1st Warner (I); 2nd Brooke (I); 3rd Schilke (W), time 2:00 1-5.

One mile run—1st Meissner (W); 2nd Rue (I); 3rd McElwee (I), time 4:41 1-10.

Two mile run—1st White (I); 2nd Kubly (W); tie for 3rd Rue (I) and Quick (I), time 9:57 3-10.

120 yard high hurdles—1st Leonard (I); 2nd Merigold (I); 3rd Shatterfield (I), time 15 3-5.

220 yard low hurdles—1st Merigold (I); 2nd Ewert (I); 3rd Horton (I), time 27.

Shot put—1st Schwarze (W); 2nd Kimmel (I); 3rd Shipley (I), distance 43 ft. 7 in.

Discus—1st Schwarze (W); 2nd Eichfield (W); 3rd Kimmel (I), distance 126 in. 6 ft.

REPORT BIG SALE OF
"OLD TIMERS" OCTY

"Octy, with "Hub" Townsend's vividly colored cover, and contributions from old and new timers under this cover seems to have taken the hill by storm," Clark Hazelwood '24, business manager said yesterday. From reports, the sales were greater this month than they were last month and also greater than in the month of May last year," he stated. Those who did not get an Octy today may obtain them at any Drug store in the university district, and envelopes for mailing may be obtained at the office.

NIGHT EDITOR—LLOYD GLADFELTER

IRON CROSS

A stream of white hot metal casting a ruddy glow on the features of the swarthy foundry man is poured into a cool sand mold, later a wilderness of wheels under the factory roof whirl and scream as rough edges are polished and holes are bored, then mysteriously in the night a simple iron cross appears on Bascom facade bearing the names of those men Wisconsin has chosen to honor in a singular way.

Just as that iron is simple and unrefined and is the most rugged of the metals, so the names emblazoned on that shield represent those men who in the class of 1925 had most sincerely kept as their chief ideal simple devotion to Wisconsin and undiminished service to the university community. And for this devotion and service they have been rewarded by the highest honor which an undergraduate body can impose.

In the election to Iron Cross, however, Wisconsin has placed a deeper significance than mere reward for past achievements. Those eight men have proved themselves true and devoted to the highest ideals of the university, and they are now chosen to carry on to even greater degree this work. Their achievements in the past have been great; they must surpass even these in the future.

The iron there is permanence. No erasure can rub off a name from that shield. Those men have confidently been thus named, because it is known that they will not fail to carry forward Wisconsin, to a greater and even more lofty pinnacle.

EXCUSE OUR DUST

This November many university and college students will vote for the first time in their lives. They will enter a long period of civil office-holding, for every citizen with the suffrage is in a sense an officeholder in that he has certain duties to his country to perform. This chief duty of the voter is to cast his ballot intelligently.

Americans are unusually lax in voting. The percentage of Americans who cast their ballots in national elections is far lower than that of other people in other nations. In many respects, it is more the unintelligent who votes rather than the intelligent person. Naturally, the reverse of this state of affairs should be in existence if we are to have a firm government in the spirit in which it was founded by our forefathers.

If anyone is to take an interest in the government, it should be the newly educated young man and young woman who are going into the world, fresh, full of ideals and ideas, with teachings ringing in their ears. If people do not vote, and vote intelligently when they are in that state, they will make sorry citizens when they become older.

So it is that any group of students which is enough interested in national affairs and politics to form a club for the purpose of supporting a candidate, no matter who that candidate may be, should be highly commended. They have the right idea from the start and, although you may think they are carrying out that idea in the wrong way, you have no cause to scoff at them unless you yourself are as concerned as they are about the outcome of the presidential election next November.

Senator La Follette is a native of this state, a graduate of this university and a citizen of Madison. Perhaps it is only natural, therefore, that his standard should be the first to be upheld. Those students who are supporting him, who meet tonight in Music hall, are the leaders on the campus as far as national politics are concerned. Where are the rest? Where are the supporters of Coolidge? of Johnson? of Ford? of Underwood?

The younger generation has been criticizing the older for getting the world into such an unsightly mess. Unless they expect to make just as much of a mess of the world when they are running it, they had better come to life, along with those who are supporting La Follette, and take some interest in the national elections on some side or another. The national conventions are called for next month. After they are completed things will begin to move pretty fast. Youth had better take care lest it be left behind in the dust to rub their eyes and criticize again the outcome of the fray.

A colloquialism has caused a misunderstanding. When an editorial in Tuesday's issue said that three summers ago the English boo-hoed because they were losing international athletic events it did not mean that the fans got up in the stand and booed the American athletes. Far from it. It did mean that some of the English, in the theaters, on the streets, in the restaurants, did not take the defeats any too graciously. Such action on the part of the few does not mean that the English were universally poor sports. Here and there there were a few. The purpose of the editorial was to warn those Americans who read it against any tendency they may have not to be thoroughly good sports.

English bobbies—otherwise known in this country as policemen—are not allowed to carry fire arms nor heavy clubs. America would do well to follow suit before many more students are killed off. Or would that be too much like pro-British propaganda?

We wager that if the name of the person who picked the campus beauties for the style show became known there some he—or she—would do well to hike for the tall timber. It's a dangerous business he undertook.

Other Editors Say—

MOST MEN ARE POOR JUDGES

Most men hold one mistake in common, and that is the misjudgement of themselves. Some think too ill of themselves, while conversely, others think too well of themselves. In both cases ignorance is usually the cause of these beliefs.

Take for example the student who has a humility complex. He lets himself become the underdog; he cringes when spoken to by an instructor. In the presence of a crowd he feels embarrassed, and feels that all eyes are turned on him. When with men of note he loses all eloquence of speech, and stutters and stammers in an embarrassed manner. Then when he reflects upon these things they trouble him. They trouble him for many reasons, but chiefly because he thinks the world is aware of them and that no other man of his acquaintance is so timid, or so evil. The truth is that very few persons observe him closely, and so well does he conduct himself in the orthodox manner that not one of these few observes his secret. Furthermore, none would appear to rebuke him if his weaknesses were known to the world; for the impulses and fears that actuate him are common to mankind.

Now consider the student that rejoices in his excellences. He helps others that are less able to do the work he does; he gives his instructors logical arguments, and feels proud of his achievements as he passes his classmates on the street; he appears arrogant; and he believes that others feel commonplace beside him.

In this case, as in the other, ignorance makes opinion. The classmates who appear so commonplace to this student, are in all points the equal of this man. Perhaps if he knew these men as they really are, the vanity for which he depends on happiness would go unfeared.

It is ignorance that makes us despise or envy men; it is ignorance that makes us stand in awe of them. There is no doubt that there are greater men and less worthy men than yourself, but the average man passed on the campus, or as far as that goes, anywhere else, is little better or worse than yourself.

THE CANOE

The canoe is a diabolical device conceived by the more designing sex. It gets more results per square inch than any vile resort to by young unattached females since Eve shared her worm eaten whiteness with the unsuspecting Adam. The warm lazy air of a summer evening, inhaled through the port hole of a good unseaworthy canoe while a mellow mixture of moonlight and Hawaiian guitar music floats over the silvery bosom of the placid waters, has been known to make a man say things that he will disclaim any knowledge of if confronted with them the next day. My roommate, who is generally considered sane, went canoeing the other night and came back engaged. The ironical part of it all is that the dizzy effects disappear next day but the dismal results remain. The canoe is very popular with co-eds, and just as you may spot a good joy-rider by her dusty sandals, so you may spot a good canoeist by her water wings.

A horse or mule lives thirty years, They never drink light wines or beers; Sheep and goats expire at twenty, They drink no gin but water plenty

At ten a bow wow is mostly dead, They never look on wines that red. The bugs but few days stay on earth, They never know the cock-tails worth.

At three the birds die off; they say, Far from alcohol they stay. At nine the cats lose all nine lives, That beast on milk and water thrives,

But evil, wicked, rum soaked men, Survive for three score years and ten.

Poor Health Price of Being Stylish Ohio Doctor Says

What's the price of the fashionable ultra slim figure? A lack of normal strength and vitality, a tendency to tire easily, and a proneness to illness, says Dr. Gertrude F. Jones of Ohio State university, who recently made a study of 800 freshmen girls to ascertain the cause for the predominance of the slender co-ed.

Lack of weight was found due to three reasons, too little food, too much exercise, and to disease.

The heftier sisters, who will some day cater to the "stylish stout" department, are practically immune from these trials to which their more slender sisters are subject.

In spite of the tribulations which will result from their slenderness, the sylph-like members far outnumber those who are inclined towards embonpoint. Over 28 percent of the freshmen women in Ohio State university were found underweight.

ONLY 100 THESES TURNED IN AT LIB

800 of 900 Papers Will Be in Before Graduation
in June

Only 100 out of a total of 900 theses have as yet been accepted for binding at the university library, according to L. C. Burke, assistant librarian. Approximately 800 of these are being prepared by students who will be candidates for degrees at commencement. The remainder will probably come at the end of the summer session or early in the fall.

"Theses must be in the hands of the librarian by June 17 in order that degrees may be granted at commencement," says Mr. Burke. "The Board of Regents can confer degrees at later meetings to candidates whose theses are accepted after that date, but their names will not appear in the list of graduates in the commencement programs, nor will they receive their diplomas with the class."

All masters' and bachelors' theses are bound, card catalogued according to name of the author and cross-indexed according to subject, and filed. They are used for reference by students preparing papers or theses on similar subjects, and occasionally, in rare instances, are drawn out by the authors to be presented as examples of their work when applying for positions. This is very seldom done, Mr. Burke asserted, and the library does not approve of letting anything in the nature of a university document or record be taken away.

Doctors' theses are presented in the same manner, but must be accompanied by deposits of $50, to be returned when the work is published.

Small pamphlets of instructions as to the correct form of the finished theses have been issued and can be obtained at the registrar's office or at the library. Mr. Burke stressed the importance of following these regulations scrupulously. He also cautioned against using those already on file as models, since regulations change from year to year, and some of them may not be correct.

"We will be glad to answer any questions at the desk," concluded Mr. Burke. "Any book published by a reputable concern can be safely used as a model, however."

Gloria Swanson with her new boyish bob

To Bob—or Not to Bob?

DEANS of great universities, leading hair-dressers, health authorities, screen and stage actresses express their views on this tantalizing question that is causing the greatest discussion American women have ever engaged in. One woman says the bob is barbaric. A noted hair-dresser fears bobbing will bring bald heads. Others defend it vigorously, while some call it the greatest boon ever conferred upon the fair sex. Their remarks, pro and con, reveal an amazing division of opinion in the first nationwide survey of this important subject.

"The Battle of Bobbed Hair"

If you are planning to have your hair bobbed don't do it until you see all the styles illustrated in June Photoplay. They are authoritative designs and give you a wide selection to choose from. One of them will be the one you will require if you want your bob to fit your head and face.

"Great Lovers of the Screen"

THERE is a kick in every kiss, whether it be on the screen or elsewhere. The thrill of being loved by the greatest Romeos in pictures is bared by fourteen prominent actresses es with amazing frankness. They tell which stars are the greatest screen lovers and why. Nothing as fascinating as these intimate disclosures of love-making that has ever been printed.

"The Kiss that Shocked the Sheiks"

RAMON NOVARRO and Alice Terry did it. They walked right out on the Sahara Desert and smacked the kiss that started pandemonium in the land where a man can have four wives and kiss them all at once if he wants to. But such a kiss as the screen stars gave to each other was too much for the real sheiks. They simply gargled Arabic in their excitement and their orchestra of pipes and drums ran wild. Herbert Howe tells all about it in his inimitable style.

MONOGRAPH GIVES SMOKING EFFECTS

Professor Hull Performs Experiments Financed By Eastern Committee

A monograph on the effects of tobacco smoking will soon be published as one of the psychological monographs, copies of which are in the library.

The monograph is the result of experiments by Professor Hull of the psychology department, which have cost $2,000 and 360 days of experimenting at three hours a day.

The experiment is financed by an eastern committee for the study of the tobacco problem. Professor M. V. O'Shea of the psychology department has had charge of the financial end of the experiment. Professor Miller, also of the psychology department devoted a great deal of time assisting in Professor Hull's experiments.

The most important findings of the experiment are that with habitual smokers the use of tobacco slightly retards the learning process. It materially stimulates and speeds up the thinking processes.

In the physiological field, no difference was found in the effect of tobacco on the heart actions of the habitual and non-habitual smoker. In many instances the use of tobacco produced tremor of the hand and an increased pulse rate.

"To make it convenient for the alumni to return for the W. A. A. reunion, the association is providing rooms in Barnard and Chadbourne halls for the week-end of June 21. Reservations for these rooms must be made sometime before June 1," declared Miss Meyer. The senior-alumni luncheon is an annual W. A. A. function which is held in connection with commencement week.

The four women from Chadbourne hall and 14 from Barnard who were sent to the infirmary over the week end because of throat trouble will be back today, Miss Hunt, the matron at Chadbourne hall said last night. At first it was believed by the medical authorities at the infirmary that the sickness was pharyngeal poisoning due to some food which had been served at the halls, but it later developed that there was a general run on tonsillitis throughout the student body.

UNIVERSITY AND CITY PLAN MEMORIAL DAY

serve corps will read the gold star roll.

Call Roll of Veterans

The service will conclude with roll calls by adjutants of the William B. Cairns Post, American Legion, United Spanish war veterans, and Lucius T. Fairchild Post, G. A. R., and the sounding of taps.

The women's Relief corps of Madison will follow this service with a water service for the sailor dead of all wars at the foot of Park street. The salute to the dead will be given at this service.

The city and the campus will be draped in flags, and all business in the city and in the university will be suspended for the entire day.

This is the first time that the university and the city have united in the services of the day.

Unfurl Service Flag

The first Memorial day services at the university were held in 1919 after the World war in which more than 5,000 students, faculty members and alumni of Wisconsin participated. The service flag, which has not been used in Memorial day services for several years, is approximately 15 feet in width and 25 feet in length, and bears about 2,500 stars, a star for every student who left the university to enter the war. The name of a person is embroidered upon every star. Up to the present time, university records show 139 known dead from the university in the World war.

LIGHTS NOW WARN OF ROCK BARRIERS IN LAKE

The rocks which form a barrier in the lake on the west side of the University boat house have been equipped with a warning system in order to save much canoe paint and trouble.

A series of miniature telegraph poles have been set up along the rocks and fitted with electric lights in such a way that the barrier may easily be seen and avoided from now on.

The rocks in the past have been the cause of many accidents because of the fact that they lie immediately beneath the water and cannot be seen readily. It was upon these rocks that the "Isabell" recently struck when starting to answer a call.
