GLADFELTER, BROOKS SELECTED AS HEADS OF 1925-26 CARDINAL

Board of Control Picks Managing Editor and Business Manager

Lloyd D. Gladfelter '26 of York, Pa., and Luther E. Brooks '26, of Wausau were selected as managing editor and business manager respectively of the Daily Cardinal for the year 1925-26 at a meeting of the Board of Control last night. Both will assume active control of the paper at the beginning of the semester next September.

Served as Desk Editor

Gladfelter is enrolled in the Course in Journalism as a junior and is completing his third year of service on the paper. He began as a reporter in his freshman year and worked as an assistant on the night staff, being appointed desk assistant at the end of the year. He held this position for one year and was promoted to the rank of desk editor, in which capacity he served this year.

Brooks is enrolled in the College of Engineering. He also began work on the Daily Cardinal in his freshman year as an assistant in the circulation department. The next year he was transferred to the advertising staff and worked the full year as a solicitor. He was promoted to advertising manager at the end of last year and has held this position during the present year.

Will Attend Convention

Gladfelter and Brooks will attend the annual convention of the Western Conference Editorial association at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. tomorrow and Saturday as representatives of the Daily Cardinal.

No other staff appointments

TO OPEN MUSIC CONTEST TODAY

Class B High Schools to Compete in First Day Program

Music hall auditorium will be the scene of the state high school music contest which takes place today and tomorrow. The final events for class B high schools, those of less than 300, will be held today. Those of class A, the larger schools, will take place tomorrow. All the contests and the university orchestra concert, which is being given to night at 8 o'clock in honor of the contestants, are open to the public.

The morning events will be solo contests on both days. The program this morning is 9 o'clock, piano; 10 o'clock, violin; 10:45 o'clock, soprano; 11:15 o'clock, contralto; 11:45 o'clock, boy's voice.

This afternoon's schedule includes 1:15 o'clock, girls' glee clubs; 1:45 o'clock, boys' glee clubs; 2:15 o'clock, mixed chorus; 2:45 o'clock, orchestra; 6:15 o'clock, dinner to judges by members of the School of Music faculty; 8 o'clock, university orchestra concert; and 9 o'clock, music faculty reception to the contestants.

OLD CLINIC BUILDING HUMS WITH ACTIVITY! WHAT'S IT ALL FOR?

The crackle of paper hurriedly tucked away into envelopes, the whiz-burr-r of the sealing machine, the swish of stamps being rubbed over a wet sponge as fast as 15 pairs of hands could do it—what was it all about?

The old clinic building fairly buzzed with work. No one had a minute to spare. The letters were stacked up in bags, 6,500 of them, ready for the morning trains.

"Say," we said, going up to one of the girls stamping envelopes,

FINAL EXAMINATIONS WILL BEGIN JUNE 6

Semester examinations begin Saturday, June 6. No separate examination schedules will be printed as those in the time tables are to be used. Students who have not a time table may obtain one at the registrar's office for the purpose of filling out schedules. Last semester separate sheets had to be made due to several mistakes of the printer. Changes in examinations will be announced by the instructors of the courses.

Capacity Audience Sees Presentation of French Farce

A large and enthusiastic audience witnessed the presentation of "La Farce de Maitre Pathelin" last night and filled Lathrop concert hall to capacity. The play was marked by sparkling repartee and a plot that moved swiftly. Prof. Gillen in the title role added humor to the farce through his clever interpretation of the part of the conceited lawyer. The work of Mrs. J. H. Greenleaf as his wife, and George Darby as the shepherd was excellent.

The remainder of the cast, which included Julian E. Harris, the draper, Maurice Leven, the judge, and Jacques Breitenbucker, William Gaines, and Robert Dunstan in minor roles, performed creditably.

11 ARE INITIATED INTO TAU BETA PI

Honorary Engineering Fraternity Confers Honors at Banquet

Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, conferred highest honors on 11 juniors at the initiation which was held at the University club last night.

The formal initiation was followed by a banquet which was attended by 50 active and alumni members of the local chapter.

R. S. Phillips '22, instructor in mechanics, was toastmaster for the program that followed the initiation banquet. The initiates were welcomed by Millard B. Smith '25, president of the local chapter. The response in behalf of the initiates was given by James C. Verner '26.

Short talks in behalf of the faculty were given by Dean F. E. Turneaure, Prof. E. R. Shorey and Prof. J. B. Kimmers. The alumni were represented in an address by O. W. Storey of the Burgess Battery company.

The junior men initiated were Ralph R. Brooks, Arthur W. Carlson, Hugo W. Hiemke, Carl E. Johnson, Luther E. Brooks, Henry L. Clark, Lynn H. Matthias, Oscar O. Fritsche, James C. Verner, Orvin E. Andrus, and Orvin A. Klema.

Tau Beta Pi is the oldest honorary fraternity on the campus. The local chapter was installed in 1899. The national organization is composed of 45 active chapters and four alumni associations.

1926 BADGER TO BE DISTRIBUTED NEXT WEDNESDAY

3,600 Copies Will Be Given Out; Last Pages of Book Now at Printer's

The 1926 Badger will be distributed next Wednesday, May 20. Otis Wiese '26, editor of the year book, announced yesterday.

The last 32 pages of the book went to the printer yesterday, and last night the completed printing job was sent to the Brock and Rankin company of Chicago to be bound. All of the printing for the book was done by the Cantwell Printing company of Madison.

Work Done by 85

A total of 3,600 copies, costing $30,000, will be distributed this year, according to Wiese. The date set for the distribution of the Badger this year is fully a week earlier than in previous years. The average for several years past has been about June 1.

One of the smallest staffs in the history of the publication of the Badger worked this year. Not more than 85 workers, divided between the business and editorial staffs, produced the year book.

Open Sale Price $6

The engraving and art work of the book is one of the features this year. All of the engraving was done by the Brock Engraving company of Madison. Work on the cover was done by David J. Molloy. The commercial art work was done by the Photoart House of Madison and the portraits were done by De Longe's studio of Madison.

Two hundred copies were ordered for sale at the exposition which were not all sold. The remainder of these will be placed on open sale. The price of these books will be $6.

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY IN MUSIC HALL TONIGHT

The university orchestra will make its last appearance tonight at 8 o'clock in Music hall. It is entertaining the visitors at the music contest. The university concert band will begin giving its outdoor concerts next week Thursday. The concerts will be held every Thursday evening on the upper campus.

INSTRUCTOR RESUMES DUTIES AFTER ILLNESS

Samuel A. Wofsy, instructor of romance languages at the university, has resumed his class work after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Wofsy was stricken with an attack of appendicitis, April 26. He resumed his class work yesterday.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

H. V. Kline '26 Chosen President; Banquet Closes Successful Season

The Men's Glee club closed its successful season with a banquet at the Woman's building at 6:30 o'clock last night, at which time the elections to the Glee club corporation were made and the officers of the corporate club for the coming year named.

Following the banquet the entire concert and corporate club went out on the annual Glee club sere-

nae. Members of the Concert club who were elected to the Glee club corporation are:

E. L. Leonardson '26, E. S. Gordon '27, G. S. Bartleson '25, J. E. Blomgren '26, J. B. Mason '26, P. G. Jones '27, S. M. Gunderson '26, C. D. Nyhus L1, H. Brandenburg '27, H. F. Henry '26, C. M. Harrison '26, F. Van Konynenburg '27, A. E. McGrath '27, H. C. Molson '26, R. Rosenheimer '26, I. S. Tarrant '27, H. M. Schuck '26, and Dan Vornholt '26.

The officers of the Glee club for the coming year are, president, Homer V. Kline '26; vice president, Eugene Leonardson '26, treasurer, J. E. Blomgren '26, and librarian, Paul G. Jones '27.

SELECTION OF FRANK AS NEW PRESIDENT DENIED BY REGENTS

ARCHITECTS TO MAKE REPORT TO REGENTS

Paul Cret, Philadelphia architect with whom state architect Arthur Peabody consulted last week on the university building program, is writing a formal report to the regents on the treatment of the lower campus and the relation of the proposed Memorial Union to the solution of that problem. Mr. Peabody also will report to the regents at their regular May meeting next Wednesday, and states that his consultation with Mr. Cret was most satisfactory.

Orders for Caps and Gowns Sent By Co-op Yesterday

An order of 602 caps and gowns was sent in by the Co-op yesterday, in order that they may arrive in time for graduation. This number includes caps, gowns, and hoods for bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, master of arts, and doctors degrees.

"Seniors who have as yet not put in their orders may possibly be able to get caps and gowns here in time for swing-out if they send their orders in sometime before the end of the week," said Alice Cummings '25, who has charge of the order.

The rate for caps and gowns for the bachelor of arts degree is $5, for swing-out, whether they are kept one day or a full week. For the master of arts and the bachelor of science degrees, rates are $5.50, and for Doctors, they are $6. The rates for commencement only will be $2.50.

ANNOUNCE STAFF OF COMEDY NIGHT

Two Directors, Twenty Workers Plan Plays; Tickets Now on Sale

Announcement was made yesterday of the business and production staffs for Wisconsin University Players Comedy night to be given at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in Lathrop concert room.

Business manager is Hillier Kriegerbaum '26, assisted by Robert M. Lewis '26. Margaret Patch '26 is in charge of publicity, assisted by Winifred Wise '27. Posters advertising Comedy night have been designed and distributed under the direction of Geraldine Stenz '26.

Ticket sales among the members of the club are being handled by Edgar Weibrech '28. The hill ticket sales are in charge of Edwin C. Morganroth '26, assisted by Elias Mathys '27, Donald MacKinnon '27, Marjorie Mueller '26, Sere Stolen '28, Clara Pratt '26, John Gillin '27, Donald Trenary '27, and Helen Stebbins '28.

MYSTERIOUS PROCESSION MAKES ITS WAY THROUGH LATIN QUARTER

A mysterious procession wended its way down State street and through the Latin quarter yesterday at noon. Eleven men garbed and hooded in black marching to the beat of muffled drums, bore among them a stretcher. On the stretcher something was concealed under a black cloth.

Students coming from classes stopped to watch and to wonder. The procession made an unexpected stop at the corner of State and Lake street after coming through sorority alley. Something was taken from under the black cloth on the stretcher and hastily deposited it in the mail box at the corner. Then the procession moved on. Another stop was made at a mail box on Langdon street. Something was again deposited there. Things began to be a little more clear, white envelopes with red devils were being put into the mail boxes.

The march continued to the post office where another stop was made. Then it moved down State street and disbanded as mysteriously as it had appeared.

The Gridiron banquet invitations have been mailed.

Badger Track Team At a Critical Stage As It Prepares For Quadrangular

FRESHMEN RUN MINNESOTA TODAY

Comparative Scores Show That Badger Track Men Should Lose

The yearling cinder team is out to win their meet against Minnesota this afternoon. News that the Gopher frosh made a much better showing against the strong Ohio team than Wisconsin did has only made the Cardinal first year men all the more determined to turn in a victory. Ohio's frosh beat the Badger yearlings 88 to 38, and only won from Minnesota 70 to 55.

On this year's yearling team, Idaho, Oklahoma, Illinois, and Wisconsin have their representatives.

Scott Sappenfield, captain, held the Oklahoma state championship in the broad jump while attending Tulsa high. "Scotty" can do 22 feet or more when at his best.

Stowe from Idaho

Stowe, the sensation of this year's team, comes from Kimberly, Idaho. Stowe started out in a track class last fall but the coaches saw his ability and now he is the best quarter miler and one of the best hundred men on the squad.

Chicago has plenty of good men on the team. The two sprinters, Miller, Senn high, and Hurt, Hyde Park, are winning points in the 100 and 220. Heckendorf, Oak Park, won the high jump in the Illinois state meet last year. Reeves, another Illinois man, beat the field in the half mile in the same meet. Reeves hails from Evanston.

The majority of the squad is from Wisconsin. Hanson took a first in the high hurdles and a third in the lows against Ohio. A few years back he was winning the half mile in state high school meets. Eisele, another hurdler, won the lows last year for East High. Park of Central runs the half mile.

Milwaukee

The Milwaukee schools have the biggest delegation. Delicker, hurdler, Vallincourt, weight man, and Newton, who broadjumps, defended the honor of Milwaukee West high last year. Barnes, who has made 6 feet in the high jump, hails from Riverside high. Remley, Riverside, is a discus thrower.

Van Horn, also of Riverside, is a javelin thrower of no mean ability besides being a football man. Van Horn is throwing the stick around the 160 foot mark and should develop into one of Wisconsin's strong men in that event.

McKee was one of the stars of St. John's academy track team doing the mile in 4:40.

Kanalz, West Allis, runs the 220, 440, besides throwing the javelin.

One of the prizes of this year's squad is Chapman, Eau Claire.

Ohio Doped to Win Due to Long Rest of Badger Team

Wisconsin's track team is at a most critical stage. This year the Badger cinderpath squad has undertaken one of the hardest schedules in the history of track at the Badger institution. With but a two week rest from the indoor season the Badgers entrained for California. The western trip was followed by two weeks of strenuous preparation for the Kansas and Drake Relays.

In order not to burn his men out for the last lap of the 1925 season, Coach Jones gave his men a rest before starting work for the quadrangular meet this weekend. The result is that Ohio, one of the four, crept up on the Badgers until now the Buckeye cinderpath men are doped to win the meet by a close margin.

In order to make up for lost ground, Coach Jones has been working his men both in the morning and afternoon. The whole squad is getting back into mid-season form again and will give the Ohioans a good run for their money but it is doubtful if they will be able to win. This will be the first time that the Badgers ever lost a quadrangular meet, either indoors or outdoors, if they drop the meet Saturday.

Herb Schwarze, the big weight star, has been putting long hours with the shot and discus. He is the one man on whom Coach Jones is counting for points. Schwarze should come through with 10 points.

Bob Trier is a new two miler that may gather in a few points for Wisconsin. Since Kubly was stricken with the mumps the star little two miler has not been able to hit his former stride. As a result Trier will probably get the call to run along with Piper and Perry in the long grind. Bourke of Chicago and Black of Ohio will offer the Cardinal two-milers the stiffest competition.

Valley, Petaja, Schutt, and Cassidy will handle the work in the mile for the Badgers. At present none of the Badger milers can turn in better than 4:35 in the mile, but by Saturday they should cut this below 4:30. Bergstesser, one of the best milers, is concentrating on the 880 and will offer Kennedy, Cusack and Martin a real race in this event. Carter will be the running mate of Bergstesser in the half mile.

McGinnis is getting back into shape in the high jump and will be able to give Russell, Maroon star, a real battle. Tuhtar is out again and looks like a likely point winner in his old event. In practice he has been clearing six feet and better consistently. He may also gather a few points in the high sticks.

Coach Jones is depending on some of his reserve material to pick off a few third places. Limberg should place in the shot put, while Schrader is booked for a point each in the discus and javelin. Every possible man will be used by the Badger mentor to gather points for this meet. Next to the conference meet this is the most important track battle that the Badgers have ahead of them.

All of the Badger quarter milers are hitting their stride as of old and will be among the first to break the tape. Hilberts is especially improved and looks like the same star that won so many points for Wisconsin on the cinderpath for the past two years.

Clausen to Pitch

Although Coach Lowman has not officially announced his pitching selection for Saturday, it is highly probable that Clausen, star left-hander, will get the call. Last Saturday "Lefty" let the Michigan nine

WISCONSIN BALL TEAM TO BATTLE PURPLE SATURDAY

Badgers Should Win; Hold Early Season Victory Over N. W.

After its unexpected and disastrous defeat at the hands of the hard hitting Minnesota baseball team, the Wisconsin nine is going through long practice sessions in preparation for the game with Northwestern Saturday afternoon.

Northwestern is coming to Madison the underdog, having lost a game earlier in the season to the Badgers by an 8 to 5 score. The game was played at Evanston, and thus the Purple will be at an even greater disadvantage due to playing on a strange diamond.

The Purple has a fair hitting aggregation, especially Christman, the shortstop, and Solheim, second base. The greatest weakness the Evanstonians have had this year is its weak pitching staff. As yet Coach Kent has not found a really dependable hurler, and it is due to this branch of the game that the Northwestern nine has lost its games.

Badgers Hit

On the other hand, the Badger nine has a powerful hitting aggregation. Larson, center fielder, again showed his superb batting in the Minnesota game Tuesday, when he got a triple, a single, and a base on balls in five trips to the plate.

Captain Ellingson seems to have found his batting eye again and he got two hits in four trips up Tuesday. Edwards continued his batting spree, getting two hits off of Gezy, Minnesota hurling ace. Steen, whose greatest weakness is his batting, seems to have found his batting eye as evidenced by his getting two bingles against Minnesota.

Although Coach Lowman has not officially announced his pitching selection for Saturday, it is highly probable that Clausen, star left-hander, will get the call. Last Saturday "Lefty" let the Michigan nine down to two runs, and won 11 to 2.

Shrenk and Stoll will be ready to relieve him.

For Northwestern, it is probable that Schultze will start. He has been pitching fair ball, going especially strong for about five frames at a time, then Coach Kent will no doubt give Mills a chance to finish the game. In this way he hopes that neither of his two pitchers will have a chance to tire, and thus come through with a victory.

The Badger lineup will probably be the same as has been used in the last two games.

Baseball

Interfraternity baseball games scheduled for today are:

Sigma Phi vs. Delta Sigma Phi on the west varsity diamond at 6 o'clock, while at 5:30 o'clock on the lower campus, Delta Sigma Pi meets Farm House. On the second frosh field, Beta Sigma Pi meets Chi Phi at 6 o'clock, and Tau Kappa Epsilon meets Sigma Phi Epsilon on the first frosh field at the same time.

GREENS AND BLACKS TO CLOSE GRID YEAR WITH GAME

FINISH OF SPRING TRAINING TO BE MARKED BY GAME

Green Recently Strengthened;
Contest Should be Close
Due to This

By J. H.

This afternoon the inside of the stadium at Camp Randall will witness a grand climax to spring football practice in the form of the final game between Blacks and Greens. The personnel of the teams has changed over night, and it will not be the same game as was played last week.

Probable lineup:

BLACKS	GREENS
Blackman..... RE	Cameron
Straubel..... RT	Geeseman
Splees
Von Bremer.... RG	Kasiska
Wilson..... C	McCartney
Sykes..... LG	Salstein
Nelson..... LT	VaSalle
Pabst..... LE	DeHaven
Goodlad..... Q	Boma
Rueland..... HB	Wilkinson
D. Harmon..... HB	Barofsky
	Uttar
Anderson..... FB	Rapkin
	Muegge

Both teams are much stronger now than before, because of the turnout for last night's practice of several men from last year's varsity. Most of the strengthening of the teams is in the lines, and it will be a battle royal between the left side of the Black line and the right side of the Green line. These wings are the salient points of both teams, filled completely with experienced men.

Greens Strengthened

While the Greens were previously on the little end of the stick, they now have a team that can begin to satisfactorily battle the strong Black line. Cameron, recent Green acquisition on right end, will greatly assist in the passing attack of that team.

Straube and Kasiska will form a formidable barrier in the same side of the Green line this afternoon. Nelson and Sykes of the Blacks have had their easy fling in recent scrimmages with the Greens, and now their hands will be completely filled when they face the two above-mentioned big boys from last year's team.

Barofsky, freshman captain of two years ago, will definitely play with the Greens, and he and Crofoot will make a pair that any opposing team should have cause to worry considerably about. Muegge, Green, fullback, shows wonderful speed and shiftiness for his weight, and has proven his ability to receive passes.

Harmon to Play

The addition of Barofsky to the Greens is offset by Doyle Harmon with the Blacks, and Harmon and Rueland will be the two Black men to balance Crofoot and Barofsky. Anderson, Black fullback, is decidedly the class of the punters, but that is about his limit. In light of this point, the Greens have three men who can run well while the Blacks have but two outstanding backfield men. And now with Barofsky on the Green team, that aggregation will do some punting that will about come up to that of Anderson.

Some of the positions on the Green team are not definitely filled, but all things considered, there will be two fairly well balanced teams on the big field this afternoon. The game, of course, will be official in every respect, and will provide a fitting end for the best spring football practice ever seen at the University of Wisconsin.

A large crowd is anticipated, for the various performances in this game will have much bearing on the selection of the varsity team next fall.

MOSCOW — Gen. Boris Savinkoff, anti-Bolshevik leader, once military governor of Petrograd, jumped to death Tuesday from the window of his prison.

WISCONSIN SPIRIT ON TRIAL TODAY

Wisconsin spirit will be put on trial today! For nearly two months Coach George Little has been drilling his football candidates.

A change in Wisconsin athletics has come with the advent of George Little, and today Wisconsin students and supporters will have a chance to prove that with this new athletic spirit has come a stronger revival of school spirit.

The fight of Johnny Van Gent, Pat O'Dea, Gus Tebelle, "Slam" Anderson, Ralph Scott, "Rollie" Williams, and other famous Badger gridironers has hovered over Randall field during the most successful spring football practice Wisconsin has ever known.

Now, will the student body live up to traditions that have made Wisconsin famous in the past?

Today will the student body be at Camp Randall to see the result of Coach George Little's efforts in developing a football team for next fall?

Does the student body realize that we owe it to Coach George

Little to be at Randall today and watch his two teams, the Greens and the Blacks, play?

Today marks the real test of Wisconsin men and women. Coach George Little came from the University of Michigan to rebuild Wisconsin athletics. What he has done so far is wonderful, and what he will do in the future will probably be still more remarkable.

The past year has been one of the most discouraging years in the history of Wisconsin athletics. But, since Little has come to Madison, the long planned for Field House has become a reality; spring football has become more than a "weight reducing" exercise; and the trip to Poughkeepsie for the freshman crew has been revived.

Whether George Little is instrumental in bringing these happy changes is not definitely known, but one can see that since his arrival, Wisconsin athletic authorities are striving to put Wisconsin back to its former high position in the sport world.

Ten Track, One Tennis Team Enter State Meets

Already ten entries for the state interscholastic track meet to be held May 23, and one entry for the state prep tennis meet May 22 and 23 have been received at the office of Guy Sundt, general manager of the meets.

High schools which have sent in entry lists for track are Shorewood, Manitowoc, Brillion, Watertown, Valders, Fort Atkinson, Westby, Elmwood, Monticello, and Sun Prairie.

Many inquiries were received by Sundt yesterday, and he anticipates a flood of entries today. The deadline for entries has been set for Saturday.

Richland Center has entered Burnham in the tennis tournament. Burnham is a star of the game, and Richland Center followers expect that he will stand high in the meet.

The net tournament will be held in conjunction with the 31st state interscholastic track meet and the first annual interscholastic swimming tournament.

Players of the court game will contest in both singles and doubles for state titles. The play will commence on Friday morning, May 22, at the Camp Randall varsity courts and will continue throughout the day. Starting again at 9 o'clock Saturday, the tourney will continue until events have been decided, and those athletes who have battled their way through the successive elimination contests and through the finals in singles and doubles will be crowned state high school champions.

Both individual and team awards will be given the successful contestants. The high score team will receive a large trophy, and prizes will be granted to winners of the first four places in both singles and doubles.

INDIANA-PURDUE MEET IN DIAMOND GAME TOMORROW

Contest Appears to be a Close One; Woodward, Indiana Pitcher

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Coach Dean and the Indiana University baseball team returned from their two-game trip and settled down to prepare for the Purdue game here tomorrow. The Boilermakers showed surprising strength by defeating Chicago last week and the Indiana mentor anticipates a stiff game.

Woodward, Indiana ace on the mound, will be used in the Purdue game and Link will go to left field according to the plans of the Hoosier coach, Druckmiller, whose injured leg hampered him in last week's games, is back in form and will cover the hot corner.

Friday's game will be one of the series of events celebrating Resurrection Day, annual holiday set apart by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity. On the day straw hats officially take their place as campus headwear.

As a climax to the day's events, members of the freshmen class will burn their green caps around a huge bonfire marking the end of their first year.

SPRING ELECTIONS AND THE UNION BOARD

With the approach of the realization of the Memorial Union building project, it becomes apparent that the body which will be in direct charge of the building will be one of the biggest, most influential groups on the campus. That body will be the Union board.

Union board has been growing in importance steadily since its foundation here. If it is given supervision of Venetian night as has been proposed another duty will come to it. At the present time it has charge of a concert series, of the Lathrop popular dances, of the Exposition every four years, of Union Vodvil, of a lecture series (which, however, has not amounted to as much as it might have) of the present Union building and is the executive board representing the men of the University of Wisconsin.

At Michigan the Union board is the most important body on the campus excluding nothing.

At Wisconsin it is a serious matter, and consequently its personnel is a serious matter.

Spring elections are only too apt to be taken lightly by the students; they have been in the past. But since three new members are to be elected to the board the results of Friday will have a great effect upon the body's personnel.

That far too little interest is being evinced in this matter is shown by the fact that one already has been elected by default.

It is a serious question which should be looked upon in a serious light and which should have a good deal of thought.

PROCRASTINATION

Procrastination is the thief of time—the student's time especially. The lake, the drive, all out-of-doors calls to the student at this time of year. His studies he forgets and roams at will, leaving his work undone. Undone? No. Not undone; for he will do it at a future time. O foolish man! Such beliefs belie the saner thoughts, such promises, good sense. To put off work is to destroy its quality; a future time is always in the future. It never comes with all the leisure that the mind foretold of time to do the work both past and present and to do it well, at that. The future becomes the present and the present, past, and yet the work remains undone, a mass now terrible in size; it never can be done!

To err is only human, it is true, but students who come here to learn must learn that even though they lack the inclination, the work must still be done. In later life, at office or in shop, there is work to be done. No respite to the disinclined is given, no dispensation of a special kind. The work is to be done, the man is not considered. And every student who can grasp this lesson has added to his store of useful knowledge a principle of life, which, if applied, makes a man dependable and useful in the world.

The answer to this point is this of course: "In college I procrastinate, but when I get a job I'll do the work." O foolish youth. Do you believe it so? Are you so sure of all you do that you imagine in a single night to change the habits of a college course, of four years' standing? No: far from that! The habits formed at school are the foundations of a lifetime's work. Procrastination is the thief of time—not only in the present but in years to come.

Spring Elections

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles on the political situation written by a student who has made a study of campus politics during the past four years. This article deals with the Union Board candidacies.)

BY POLITICUS

The Union Board

Now we come to the most important board on the campus. Like the others it has a peculiar bit of history. A Union board member has considerably more to do than other board men and correspondingly more responsibility. The activities of the board are widening each year, and electors should use the greatest possible discrimination in choosing their representatives. As time goes on the board will increase in importance as the Union building is constructed and becomes the central figure in campus affairs. The management of this building should be intrusted to only the most capable hands.

One junior officer goes in by default. With the prominence that the board occupies it is strange that an office should go through without a contest. One of the difficulties the board has encountered in the past two years is that of getting juniors to try out for recommendation. Added to this seems to be a fear of being recommended. Frequently a man will refuse a recommendation rather than try his fortunes at the polls. Apparently a political defeat seems to loom larger than the possible reward of a board position.

The contest in the junior class for the recommended position this year brings together two candidates from camps who opposed each other last fall in the class and prom elections. In the matter of qualifications one seems to have a slight edge on the other, but his opponent offers an equally imposing summary along other lines. It is to be hoped that these factions that locked horns last October will conduct a cleaner campaign and election-day procedure than they did on that occasion.

The sophomore recommended candidates present three men, each from factions that have been active in politics for many campaigns and know the ropes, seeking one position. Unfortunately only one of these will be able to serve. That is the sad part of it for the good of the board. The defeated men probably will not continue to assist the board in its various activities. Too bad, too, because the board needs a capable second string line to aid in its work.

Two men are out for the one position of sophomore non-recommended candidate. Like the recommended candidates, each man is backed by a faction well schooled in political warfare. They probably will make the closest race of the election. In qualifications the scales seem to be evenly balanced.

The senate has now under consideration the proposed appropriation bill for the university for the next biennium. Students can help the passage of a measure providing adequate funds not only by writing home and getting their parents and friends to write their representatives but they can help also by showing enough interest in the proceedings to attend the sessions of the legislature when the bill is under consideration.

Now is the time for all good teachers to come to the aid of their students by keeping class room windows wide open.

It appears evident that State senators may come and state senators may go, but the Junior Prom in the Capitol goes on forever—at least until the Memorial union building is completed.

With 28 parties scheduled for this week-end, it appears that the campus clubs are bent on winding up the social season in wholesale manner.

These encouragers of the use of nicotine should have the attention of the health officer.

Summer usually brings some one blessing with it. Last year it was the death of Mah Jongg. This year it seems to be the death of the crossword puzzle.

How about writing that letter asking your mother to come to Madison for the university's Mothers' weekend the last of May?

COMMENCEMENT AT RANDALL

Graduation in the stadium will give a lot of future parents the chance to tell their children of the honors they won on the football field. At any rate, there will be plenty of air for the speakers. Popcorn, peanuts, and ice cream cones will be served in the bleachers to lend the true Wisconsin atmosphere. At the signal, graduates will advance around the end to the 20-yard line; line plunging will not be considered good commencement form. As the line of sheepskin-bearing graduates moves from the platform, Shorty will lead them in the ancient yell, "We're out for gore!" The dads of the grads, who are footling the bills for the occasion, will graciously join in the yell, "Block that kick!"

Readers Say So

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Organized opposition to the ratification of the proposed publications board in the student election on May 15 has appeared in both the Engineering building and Agricultural hall in the form of placards posted in the hallways and also in the form of short class room talks by active opponents of the measure.

Recently the following notice was posted in Agricultural hall: "Keep the control of our magazine out of the hands of disinterested parties." A similar notice in the Engineering building takes the form: "Keep the control of the Wisconsin Engineer in the College of Engineering."

Another placard in the College of Engineering reads: "A publications board cannot secure more advertising for us; it cannot secure more subscribers for us; it cannot secure better material for us; it cannot pick a better staff for us."

"There is no crisis in the affairs of the campus publications; there is nothing to justify the attempt to throw the magazines into politics."

"The student senate has been futile. How can we expect anything effective in the way of management from any of its creations?"

Some of the professors in the College of Engineering are making short talks before their classes in an effort to blockade the ratification of the proposed board. At recent meetings of the engineering societies and in several class room groups, members of the staff of the Wisconsin Engineer have made em-

UNIVERSITY BILL MAY BE AMENDED

Changes in Measure Rumored;
Departments Dissatisfied
With Allotments

The university appropriation bill carrying for the $7,000,000 in allotments for operation and buildings for the biennium beginning July 1, 1925, may be amended when it again comes up for consideration in the senate. This was manifest when Sen. George Staudenmayer, chairman of the legislative joint finance committee at the opening of the session today moved to delay action until tomorrow.

The senator declared "something would be offered to satisfy all" in connection with his motion. Later, he said it was very probable that a change was about to be made. It is intimated that a great deal of dissatisfaction is being voiced in several departments of the university in connection with their allotments, and that demand will be made in the senate for increased appropriations, especially in the extension division which is said to have demanded $33,000 in place of $19,000 recommended for a portion of the work.

Sen. J. E. Cashman, a university regent, asked delay of consideration yesterday on the ground that he wished to "go over some new figures."

The senate reconsidered the vote by which the Keppel minimum income tax bill was killed last night and re-referred the bill to the committee on corporations and taxation. The bill provided a $5 minimum tax on all persons not paying other property or income tax. Reconsideration was refused for the Pahl imitation reed furniture bill.

No action was taken by the senate on the Heck resolution creating an interim committee to study the taxation and departmental consolidation questions, a motion to lay over until tomorrow having carried.

STATE DOCTORS LEAVE ON TRIP

More Than Score of Physicians Go on Summer Tour to Europe

More than a score of Wisconsin physicians and surgeons are leaving their homes this week on a tour which will take them to the medical centers of Canada and Europe, local medical men in the party said today. They will form a part of the Inter-State Post-graduate Assembly clinic tour, in which about 600 doctors of the United States will take part.

The party will leave Chicago on Sunday afternoon and will sail from Montreal on May 23. The first clinics will be held in Toronto and Montreal, Can. In Europe, the doctors will attend clinics in London, Liverpool, Manchester and Leeds, England. Dublin and Belfast, Ireland; Glasgow and Edinburgh, Scotland, and Paris, France, and at other places.

Wisconsin will be represented in the tour by Dr. F. F. Newell, Burlington; Dr. S. E. Williams, Chippewa Falls; Dr. L. A. Campbell, Clear Lake; Dr. J. A. Mudroch, Columbia; Dr. C. H. Traffic Laws Do Not Hold Good on Capitol Driveways

The driveways around the state capitol are upon state property and persons operating or parking their automobiles upon them in non-compliance with Madison traffic ordinances cannot be arrested and prosecuted, Atty.-Gen. Ekern ruled today. The ruling came at the request of C. E. Shacer, chief clerk of the assembly, after the assembly had passed a resolution asking for an interpretation of the situation.

The assembly's action came as a result of the arrest of Norman Berggren, Madison, assembly photostat operator, who was fined for parking his car on one of the drives without proper lights.

"The driveways are upon state property and are themselves state property," the ruling says. "They are not highways of the city of Madison, but are driveways constructed and maintained by the state capitol. The ordinances of the city of Madison relating to lights, speed and method of parking are, therefore, not applicable to vehicles operated or parked on the driveways of the state capitol grounds," it concludes.

A meeting of all the workers in the Methodist hospital expansion campaign will be held tonight in the Y. M. C. A. to give reports of funds raised since last Monday and to hear addresses.

The Jimmie Shirt

These warmer days when sports, as well as business and books, are in the mind of the active college man, he is faced with the problem of finding apparel that is both good looking and comfortable. The new Jimmie Shirt helps answer that question.

It is made of white English broadcloth, with attached collar. An elastic web belt at the bottom fits snugly about the hips and prevents the shirt from creeping up or bunching, no matter how active the wearer is. It can be worn either inside or outside the trousers, and its smart good looks combined with its loose, easy comfort makes it an appropriate shirt for either work or play.

ARCHITECTS LIST SUMMER PROJECTS

Fraternities, Churches, Residences Plan Building Operations for Future

More than $1,000,000 in building operations including a church, apartment buildings, store buildings, fraternity and sorority lodges, and residences—constructional work which will be done this summer—was announced today through Madison architects who are preparing plans for these buildings.

Five fraternity houses, church and church hall additions, a dozen large residences, now being erected or contemplated for erection shortly, are among the structures designed this spring by James R. and Edward J. Law, architects.

The fraternities to involve a cost of over $300,000 are: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Chi, and Alpha Sigma Phi. All except Beta Theta Pi have been financed by R. S. Crowl.

Eleven residences, being planned for erection the next few months, will involve a total cost of nearly $200,000. Additions to the Grace Episcopal church and Guild hall now being built, were designed by the Law firm.

New Sorority Lodges

Two new sorority houses, a group house for girls, and a new fraternity structure will rise up this summer at the close of the school term and will be erected from plans designed by Frank Riley, local architect.

Chi Omega sorority will move from N. Henry st. to Langdon st., now fraternity and sorority row. Delta Delta Delta will have a new sorority house on Langdon st., while Villa Maria, the group house for girls, will be erected on Howard pl. Sigma Chi fraternity will have a new home on Lake st.

More than fifteen residences designed by Mr. Riley are now in the process of erection or are to be built before the close of spring at a total cost estimated at a few hundred thousand dollars.

Construction work in excess of $100,000 is being supervised by Claude and Starck, architects, with offices in the Badger block.

The largest undertaking of the firm is the erection of the baseball and football stadiums at the new municipal athletic field. These structures will include seats for approximately 2,800 people on both fields. Underneath the stadium proper there will be dressing and locker rooms and shower baths.

Plan New School

The first construction work will be on the baseball stadium in order that it may be finished for the present season. The football stands will be started immediately after this work is completed. The entire field will be finished in the early fall and will afford one of the most modern athletic establishments in this section of the state.

Work on the new school building adjacent to the present structure in College Hills, will also be started immediately, according to Mr. Starck. The structure will be ready for occupancy in the fall and will be designed to conform with the architecture of the present building.

Plans for the new home of Charles T. Ellis on Vilas st., near Edgewood Academy, are almost completed in the offices of the firm. It will cost approximately $12,000.

An addition to the Trousdale Methodist church is also being supervised by the firm on W. Washington ave. It will cost about $12,000.

Other buildings, whose plans have been drawn by this firm include a public garage for Dr. J. P. West, near his present establishment to cost about $6,500, and two bungalows for Charles T. Ellis on S. Dickinson st., near Rutledge st., to cost about $5,500 each.

East Side Apartment

A $40,000 store, apartment and garage building will be added to the rapidly growing business section of Madison's East side this summer upon the completion of the structure being erected by D. Bornstein at the corner of Atwood ave. and N. Second sts. Plans for the structure are being drawn by Balch and Pope.

Construction work on the building will start immediately with plans for its occupancy set for Oct. 10.

New Church Started

A number of new apartment houses and plans for a new church building are now being designed by the architects firm of Alvan E. Small and John J. Flad, though details cannot be revealed until full

State St. Apartment

Construction of a new 21 apartment building with a cafeteria on the first floor at a cost of $65,000 will begin on N. Lake St. rear State st. within the next three weeks. The structure to have four stories was designed by Edward Tough, local architect.

A modern fruit store and fruit and cold storage plant soon to be built for the J. Halperin Co., at a cost of $60,000 was planned by Mr. Tough. It will be constructed on Main st., near the Illinois Central road station, and will have two stories.

Other structures designed by Mr. Tough that are in the process of erection or are soon to be built are: residence on Kendall ave. for C. R. Reiverson at a cost of $18,000; Jacobson Auto Co. garage, $70,000; Madison Motor Car Co. garage, $70,000; and the remodeling of the city hall.

Oleo Bill Comes Up For Final Passage Thursday

The Wisconsin senate has advanced to third reading stage the Miner assembly bill barring butter substitutes containing milk products from Wisconsin. The measure will come up for final passage Thursday.

Atty. Gen. Ekern in a recent opinion declared the bill probably would stand the test of constitutionality.

VOTE DELAYED ON REFERENDUM BILL

Assembly Progressives Succeed in Postponing Consideration After Battle

Assembly Progressives succeeded this morning in delaying action on the resolution providing for the initiative and referendum after it became evident that they could not muster the 51 votes required to pass the measure. After the assembly had been placed under a call of the house by Assemblyman Glass, the progressive majority succeeded in laying consideration of the resolution over until tomorrow.

The resolution came up today as a result of the motion by Assemblyman Glass to reconsider the vote by which the assembly had refused to concur. The vote on reconsideration was 46 to 35. Mr. Glass then moved the action be delayed until next Wednesday, and the motion failed by a vote of 41 to 43. Glass then moved a call of the house, and after remaining under the call for over an hour, the sergeant-at-arms made a report and the call was raised by a vote of 51 to 31. Glass then moved that all leaves of absence be cancelled, and the motion prevailed by a vote of 46 to 37. Glass, then moved that the sergeant be instructed to notify absent members that they were to appear Thursday morning. An amendment excepting Assemblymen Davies, Dihring, and Moseley on account of sickness was adopted, and the motion was carried by a vote of 43 to 40.

The lower house sustained the governor's veto of Assemblyman Raible's bill providing penalties for the baiting of animals by a vote of 28 to 47. The bill raising the garnish exemption limit on property was killed as a result of the efforts of Assemblyman Pahl who had moved reconsideration of the vote by which the measure had been engrossed.

Speaking to Father

The scene pictured above is an exciting moment in "Speaking to Father"—one of the three comedies to be presented tomorrow night at Lathrop concert room by the Wisconsin University players. On the right is Caroline Pickering, played by Ruth Obendorfer '26, and the ardent young man is Edward Swinger, or Richard Church '27. In the center, expressing disapproval at her daughter's choice, is Mrs. Pickering, portrayed by Katherine Reid '26 and behind her stands the somewhat bewildered Professor Bliss, Albert Muirhead '26. Looking on at the surprising tableau is the father who has been "spoken to," E. Ray Skinner, grad.

COMMERCE GROUP TO VISIT CHICAGO

25 Seniors Leave Today to Inspect Business Organizations

A group of approximately 25 seniors in the Course of Commerce, under Profs. C. L. Jamison, E. H. Gardner, and F. H. Elwell will leave today for Chicago where they will visit the offices of several large business organizations tomorrow and Saturday.

This is the first field trip taken by students in the Course in Commerce since 1921, owing to the fact that the number of persons desiring to make the trip during the past few years has been too large to be accommodated, according to Prof. Jamison. The department expects to arrange for an annual trip hereafter.

The visiting students and faculty members will attend a dinner to be given tomorrow night at the Hotel LaSalle by the Chicago alumni of the Course in Commerce. A prominent Chicago business man will be the speaker of the evening. More than half of the 125 alumni living in Chicago are expected to be present.

The students making the trip will separate into three groups, consisting of Prof. Jamison's class in business administration, Prof. Gardner's class in marketing and advertising, and Prof. Elwell's class in accounting.

Members of the business administration and accounting classes will visit the Illinois Bell Telephone company offices tomorrow morning. In the afternoon, Prof. Elwell's students will inspect public accounting offices and the Marshall-Field accounting offices, while Prof. Jamison's class will make a tour of the Western Electric company plant.

These two classes will reassemble Saturday to spend the day at the South Chicago plant of the Illinois Steel company, where they will inspect the offices during the morning and go through the plant during the afternoon.

Prof. Gardner's students will

SOFT DRINK RULE UPHELD BY COURT

Severson Act Prohibits Sale of Medical Liquors by Druggists

The decision of the state supreme court in the case of Luther B. Davis, Oshkosh, held that soft drinks must be sold under a non-intoxicating liquor license, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, said today by inference, he said, it would bar druggists who sell soft drinks from handling alcohol and whiskey for medicinal purposes.

The ruling that druggists licensed to sell soft drinks are prohibited under the Severson act from handling alcohol and intoxicating liquors was made by Atty. Gen. Ekern June 16, 1924, Mr. Messerschmidt pointed out. Druggists were informed of the ruling, it was said at the attorney general's office but no action has been taken to change the law or to prosecute druggists who violate it. The attorney general's opinion hold that a druggist licensed to sell non-intoxicating beverages was not a proper person to have a license to sell intoxicating liquors.

Druggists of the entire state are joining for concerted appeal to the legislature to amend immediately the Severson law to permit them to run soda fountains and dispense prescription alcohol and whiskey on the same premises. Such an amendment has been submitted to the legislature on recommendation of Atty. Gen. Ekern by George L. Baldauf, chairman of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association.

More Than 110,000 Are Registered in Extension Courses

More than 100,000 persons have registered in the correspondence courses in the university extension division, according to the latest reports sent out by Dean Reber.

Since the inauguration of the department in 1906 the course has grown until now registrations are piling upon the 100,000 mark. Some 29,000 of these are enrolled in business courses, 15,000 in mechanical engineering, 9,000 in English and 7,000 in mathematics.

Studies in 35 academic departments are incorporated under the general extension division system and the percentage of applicants completing each of these is continually being increased.

Of all enrolled in the courses, 36 per cent are women and the percentage of women applicants is regularly increasing.

M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the regents, stated that the meeting yesterday was a purely executive session, called to discuss the university appropriation measure now before the state legislature and that he could not substantiate the announcement that Mr. Frank had been selected.

Mr. Kronshage was silent in regard to the date when definite action on the choice of a new president would be made. The regular May meeting of the regents will be held next Wednesday but no information could be obtained as to whether any authoritative announcement would be ready then.

A White Felt Hat

(See The N. Y. Times of May 10)

When Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt joined the crowds at the famous French Race Course she wore a Chinese lace dress and a white felt hat. Now Simpson's introduce both fashions to the college girl, who is always a bit ahead of the world.

You'll not wonder why Mrs. Vanderbilt chose a Chinese Lace Dress in which to appear before the most fashionably dressed people in the world, for when ecru lace, heavily embroidered, is worn over a satin slip of pale violet, rose, or green, and a satin bow is perched on the side, the effect is enchanting.

You must see them, try them on, select one for your next tea, bridge, or dancing party. Then wear one Venetian night and double the thrills it brings you. Paris and New York fashions are always introduced first at Simpson's.
