WOMEN'S JOINT ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Voting Will Be Continuous Throughout Day From 8:45 to 4:45

Polls for the joint women's elections on Friday will be open from 8:45 to 4:45 o'clock in Lathrop hall for continuous voting straight through the day, Martha Williamson '25, chairman of the elections committee of S. G. A. announced yesterday.

Nominees for the 1924-1925 officers of Red Gauntlet, Yellow Tassel and Blue Dragon, made at the annual spring banquets of the women's organizations held recently will be balloted upon at this time.

Activity Data Available

Three separate tables, one for each of the organizations, will be placed in Lathrop hall. Two women for each hour of the day have been commissioned to oversee each table under the direction of the elections committee which includes Betty Wells '25, Eleanor Rench '25, Elizabeth Shepard '26, Isadore Clissold '26, Ruth Klinger '25, Louise Mautz '26.

Women who are not listed correctly in the directory are asked to secure in advance a correction slip from the office of the registrar and present this slip in order to secure ballot permission. Activities of each officer will be placed for reference on the election tables, and should be consulted in order to make a judicious choice," Miss Williamson advises.

Voting Light Last Year

"Last year the voting in the joint elections was very light, but nevertheless all the positions were hotly contested. We hope that this year all of the women who are eligible to vote will turn out and that the results will be even more decisive than last year, Miss Williamson declared.

GOOD SHOWING IS MADE BY CADETS

—GLADE

Inspection Results Will be Given Out First Part of June

"The cadet corps made a very good showing," Lieutenant Colonel H. Glade, army officer of the war department inspection board, said yesterday afternoon after the inspection of the R. O. T. C. units on the lower campus.

"I was impressed with your band, the cadet officers were very good in commands and leadership.

"We shall return to Washington about May 26 or 27. The results of the inspection here will be given out the first part of June," he said.

More than 1000 men, making up infantry, artillery, signal corps, and engineering units, were reviewed by the inspecting officers, Lieutenant Colonel H. Glade and Major W. Goodwin, of the regular army staff.

Company D, under the command of Capt. Wells Sherman, won the competition among companies. The commanding officer will receive a gold medal, his Lieutenants silver medals, and each man in the company a bronze medal.

John W. Bolender, company F, won first place in the individual drilling competition. A. E. Wegner, company F, and Paul F. Murphy, company I, took second and third places respectively. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for first, second, and third places.

The Signal corps demonstrated the radio telephone, radio telegraph, and line telephone. They communicated between the lower and upper campus.

Yesterday's review ends the military activities here for this year, with the exception of the march on Memorial day.

Last Octopus of Year Issued; "Old Timer's Number"

Octy's last issue, the "Old Timer's Number" will make its appearance on the hill today. This issue the editors say will embody all the changed policies adopted by the new editorial and business staffs.

"We are stressing consistency and service in the Octopus now," Clark Hazelwood '25, business manager said. "The change in page arrangement will make the magazine more consistent throughout, and will improve the appearance."

A new service offered advertisers is the campus publicity under the direction of Floyd Gray '26. Cards and information are furnished-advertisers free, and copy is prepared for them by students if they wish it.

AWARD SCHOLASTIC CUP AT SWINGOUT

To Bestow Honor Upon Freshman Woman With Highest Average

A freshman scholarship cup will be presented for the first time at Senior Swingout on Thursday evening, May 29, when Lois E. Jacobs '24, ex-president of S. G. A. will award this honor to the freshman woman who has attained the highest scholastic average this year. S. G. A. plans to make this cup an annual award in order to promote scholarship among freshman women.

Early next week, members of both the freshman and sophomore commissions will gather flowers from the university green house and begin work on the daisy chain.

"Every member of the junior class is asked to feel an individual responsibility toward carrying the chain this year," stated Margaret Campbell '25 and Jean Palica '25, co-chairmen of the daisy chain committee. In the past it has been the rule to select a certain number of junior women to bear the chain under which the seniors pass.

An innovation in the Swingout program will be made in the introduction of a general class song, which has been written by Esther Fifield '25, and presented and practiced at the spring banquets of the women's class organizations. The plan of a single song will be substituted for the system of previous programs, when each class had its own farewell song to the graduates. An effort is being made to secure the co-operation of the Girls' Glee club to lead the singing.

Sophomore women who have been selected as a cast for the Maypole dance are Edith Jorris, Edith Faithhorn, Blanche Augustine, Lorraine Maytum, Marion Bigelow, Gladys Evans, Mildred Gray, Margaret Hoover, Fidela Pease, Mabel Hupprich, Hilda Gunther, Elizabeth Shephard, Florence Blackmore, Donnabel Keyes, Sidonie Many, Mildred Osman, Helen Mahaney '25, will be the piano accompanist.

JOINT MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Constance MacLean '26, pianist, and Lucille Scott, violinist, appeared in an advanced student recital which pleased an appreciative audience in Music hall last night. The Grieg "Sonata in G Minor" by Miss Scott, and "Rhapsody Number 12," Liszt, by Miss MacLean were numbers particularly well received. The recital was one the series of musical programs open to the public which the School of Music is presenting.

JEAN MASSART WILL LECTURE TOMORROW

Jean Massart, doctor of medicine and natural science, professor of botany in the University of Brussels, Belgium, and director of the Leo Errera institute of botany, Brussels, will give an illustrated lecture on the "Accommodability of Organism" in the auditorium of the Biology building, at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow. The lecture will be based on both plant and animal material, and the public is invited to attend.

Illinois Has No Knicker-Clad; Engineers Lead Peaceful Life

At the University of Illinois our engineers would lead a peaceful and quiet life with no knicker-clad youths at whom to shout "fore." Recently when a Wisconsin delegate to a fraternity conference appeared on the Illini campus in knickers, he caused such a sensation that even the deans forgot their conferences and peered out of the windows at the strange sight.

For the truth is that the Illinois public has not been educated to the sight of knickers. It is reported that a prominent Champaign merchant bought a large stock because of their popularity in other college circles, but was unable to dispose of a single pair at any price.

One social chairman wanted to rent the knickers for a costume party to be held at his fraternity house.

The fighting Illini also have an apathy to bow ties. During a recent convention of editors at Champaign, the Wisconsin representatives saw but three bow ties, and two of them were humble jazz-bows. Bright ties are as scarce at Illinois as they are plentiful here. Perhaps it is true that clothes make the man.

Fresh President Calls on Class to Pay Up Dues

Virginia Sinclair '27, acting president of the freshman class has announced that only 200 of the freshmen have paid their dues of 35 cents.

Miss Sinclair's statement to the class is as follows:

Varsity night, of which the freshman bonfire is a part, is scheduled for May 30. Only 200 of the entire class of 1927 have paid their dues of 35 cents. Unless the rest of the dues are collected it will be impossible for the freshmen to go through with the affair. There will be someone at the men's gymnasium all day next Tuesday to collect dues. Your co-operation is essential to make our part of Varsity night a success.

VIRGINIA SINCLAIR,
President.

Students to Form "La Follette For President" Club

Senator Henry Huber, progressive leader, and William T. Evjue, will speak at Music hall tomorrow night where a university "La Follette for President" club will be organized. The meeting will be called at 7:30 o'clock.

"There are many at the university who are interested in La Follette," said Attorney Harry Southoff, campaign director, who will also attend the meeting.

"Many who are interested in the character and ideals of the senator would like to become more active in making him president, and it is for these that the club is being organized."

Senator Huber, one of the original Wisconsin progressives, will speak on "Progressivism in Government," and Mr. Evjue will present evidence that he has collected as a newspaper editor that will be intended to show reasons for bias against liberals in the newspapers.

AGRICS AND HOME-EC'S FINISH PLAYDAY PLANS

Final plans for the Agric and Home Ec Play day which is to be held this afternoon in Dean Russell's grove, are being completed by William F. Osius '24, who is in charge of the affair.

The activities will begin at 4:30 o'clock with games and contests of various kinds, including a tug of war between the different classes, and a singing contest between Ag. campus organizations and societies. After the games a bonfire will be built, near which ice cream and cookies will be served.

Singing to the accompaniment of special music will complete the program.

CLINIC REPORTS 40 SORE THROAT CASES

"The temporary epidemic which resulted in the treatment at the clinic of over 40 cases of sore throat during the week end, was due in a large measure to the abrupt changes in weather," Dr. Robert Van Valzah, of the clinic, said.

CAST FOR SENIOR PLAY IS PICKED

Ten Seniors and Two Juniors to Present "Rollo's Wild Oat"

Ten seniors and two juniors, have been selected by the tryouts committee to present the senior class play, "Rollo's Wild Oat," which will be given at the open air theater below Bascom hall on the nights of June 19 and 20. The cast is as follows:

Rollo Webster, Thomas MacLean '24; Mr. Lucas, William Oatway '24; Lydia, Agatha McCaffrey '24; Aunt Lane, Alethea Smith '24; Skitterling, Eugene Meng '24; Horatio Webster, Laurens Hastings '24; Goldie, Lucille Hanson '24; Bella, Vesta Ritter '24; Stein, George Vaughn '24; Mrs. Park-Gales, Hazel Logan '24; Heuston, Louis Mallory '25 and Camperdown, Gordon Abbott '25.

Nearly every member of the cast has been active in campus dramatics for several years. MacLean will be remembered for his comedy part in this year's Haresfoot show and for his activities with the University Players. He appeared in a skit in Union Vodvil this year and last week took a lead in one of the Comedy Night plays.

Both Alethea Smith and Agatha McCaffrey have been connected with the University Players since the club was organized. The latter also took a lead in one of the Comedy night productions this year while the former directed one of the pieces.

Rehearsals for the play commenced last Thursday and will be held in the open air theater every day from now on until the final presentation.

While it has been decided to make Thursday night, June 19, senior night and Friday alumni night both performances will be open to the student body and townspeople as well.

The prices have been set at $1.50 and $1, and tickets will go on sale within the next few weeks. The production staff will be announced in The Cardinal the first of next week.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS AT AD CLUB MEETING

Advertising Club officers installed at a meeting of the club last night are Clark Hazelwood '24, president; Ellis Fulton '25, vice-president; Alice Moehlenpach '25, secretary; Ralph Crowley '26, treasurer; Robert Casterline '25, senior advisor; Luther Brooks '26, junior advisor.

Wallace Meyer of the Charles Nichols Advertising company, Chicago, spoke on "Overcoming Selling Resistance with Advertising." Mr. Meyer told of his actual experiences in the national advertising campaign for the Gossard Corset company.

The Advertising Club voted to sponsor a committee of persons connected with the advertising staffs of the various publications in an effort to bring about uniformity of rates.

LIMIT SENIORS TO TWO TICKETS FOR FINAL EXERCISES

Lack of Space Compels Rigid Enforcement of Set Rules

Just two tickets for the Commencement exercises will be issued to seniors for their immediate relatives, according to George A. Chandler, grad. Reservations for these tickets must be in Chandler's hands no later than noon Saturday, June 14. Tickets may be secured at Bascom hall on June 19 and 20.

"Students whose relatives do not plan to attend should not make any reservations," Chandler said. "Those seniors who feel that they need more than two tickets may apply for additional ones, such applications to be filled from any possible surplus. Candidates for degrees in June do not need tickets for themselves, but a candidate who will not receive his degree until the close of the Summer session should reserve a ticket for himself," he declared.

Pavilion Capacity Limited

This rigid restriction is due to the fact that the Agricultural pavilion can seat only 4,000. A large proportion of the seats will be reserved for the band, faculty, the graduating class, and 800 special guests.

Each ticket will entitle the bearer to general admission to the Agricultural hall only up to 9 o'clock on Monday morning. At 9:30 o'clock, after the procession has been seated, such seats as remain unfilled will be opened to the general public. All ticket holders must be in their seats before the procession begins, or they will not be admitted to the pavilion.

Extras Available June 21

Students who do not make reservations will not be able to get tickets. Reservations for tickets which remain uncalled for at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 20, will be cancelled and the tickets will be placed at the disposal of seniors who need more than they have been allotted. Information relative to extra tickets which remain uncalled for will not be available until Saturday, June 21.

12 PROMOTED ON CARDINAL STAFF

Board to Meet Tomorrow to Consider Summer School
Appointments

Twelve workers on The Cardinal staff were promoted by the board of control in its regular meeting yesterday noon.

Max F. Ninman '25 and Paul McGinnis '25 were made desk editors and Helen J. Baldauf '25 and Adeline Pepper '25 were promoted to the positions of assistant women's editors.

Helen W. Taylor '25, who was appointed society editor, succeeds Miss Baldauf in that position. She has directed the gathering of social news and the makeup of the society page for the past semester.

Austin Cooper '25 and Hillier Kriehbaum '25 were awarded the positions of assistant desk editors. Kathryn Shatuck '26, Josephine Thompson '26, Robert Paddock '26, and Alicia Grant '26, whose string books showed the most meritorious work in the April checking, were made reporters and John McCausland '26 was re-appointed as a special writer.

The board will meet again tomorrow to consider appointments for the summer session Cardinal, to fill the vacancy on the board occasioned by lack of candidates in the last election, and to consider a by-law to The Cardinal constitution regulating qualifications of candidates for the board in future elections.

FIRST GREEKS ON CAMPUS IN 1857

Fraternities Now Number 67
Social, 36 Honorary and 18 Professional

Greek first met Greek on Wisconsin's campus in 1857, nine years after the first fraternal organization was founded in the United States.

For 16 years Wisconsin harbored but one fraternity. Since that time 121 fraternities have come into existence. Of this number 67 are social, 36 honorary and 18 professional. Women are members of 33 of these organizations, three of which are professional, 19 social, and 11 honorary. Men are members of 90, 15 of which are professional, 48 social and 27 honorary.

Of the 4,711 men students enrolled in the university, approximately 1,378 are members of Greek letter social organizations. Some 730 out of 2,921 women are affiliated in social sororities. This makes a total number of 2,108 students out of a grand total of 7,632 who are members of social fraternities. These figures are based on statistics for last semester on record in the office of the dean of men.

Since the opening of school last fall, six social fraternities have been founded on the campus. With five fraternities already established since January, 1924 bids to be a record year for fraternities at Wisconsin. Previous to this date 1922 held the record with its quota of six social fraternities.

Some 500,000 persons in the United States are members of fraternities, while it is estimated that 40,000 are initiated annually. Approximately 200 fraternities and sororities with 4,500 chapters are found in 660 colleges and universities throughout the country.

Longer Days Raise Question of Adopting Daylight Saving

With longer days there comes the problem of what to do with the extra time. The question of saving or not saving the daylight finds friends and foes among the faculty and staff.

"The plan of daylight saving would have to be adopted by all of Madison if it is to be successful," said Dean Glicksman yesterday. "An increase in daylight hours would decrease the disposition to study at night, a result which would be disastrous in many cases."

"A student in the midst of a canoe party who finds it is still daylight at 8 o'clock naturally postpones his evening's work for an hour or so only to find that at that time he is too tired to study," the dean declared.

"Personally, I am in favor of such an arrangement," Dr. Robert Van Valzah of the clinic said. "I think it is a personal matter to be decided. At least it would not affect the health of the students to get up an hour earlier in the morning."

Dean Goodnight expressed the opinion that academically it would be ineffective. "It is improbable that students would go to bed any earlier and the daylight hours would have a tendency to detract from studies. Of course it would be good for athletics as the coaches would have one more hour of daylight for practice."

Mr. E. R. Miller, the weather man up in North hall, is personally against it. "It would be fine for the students," he said, "but it would make more work for us up here in the weather bureau. We would have to make out two sets of statistics—one according to sun time and another according to the time by the clock. If people want an hour more of daylight, they can get up and start work without changing the clock around."

Old Timers' Idea Well Carried Out In Last Octopus

By E. H. S.

Having an "old timers' issue" of the Octy is without a doubt a potent idea, as one of the campus activity leaders would say, very potent indeed, by gosh. And, what is more, the idea has been well carried out by the new board and the "old timers" themselves.

Evidently the new editors have been feeling that Octy has not been getting its share of publicity in "The Cheer-Leaders" section in Judge, for they have filled the book with short jokes, such as Judge likes; a feature in which the book has been rather low of late. We would like to call attention of the great American magazine—and the subscribers to Octy—to these quips, most of them mighty good and fit for reprint with the rest of "The Cheer-Leaders."

Just what the old timers had to do with the short jokes we don't know, but they certainly "done noble" as far as the art work is concerned. "Hub" Townsend has done a splendid cover—one, however, which is not at all characteristic of his work—and gives us a bit of the Haresfoot score cover in another full-page production. Ken Fagg's page, on a different order, pleases the nature-lover and is otherwise quite good in itself.

Marshall Glazier has done some of the most elaborate art work in the book. It's all on the same style, but it's good.

George Bartlett, who is in Los Angeles with Jim Brader gets across a good line on page 19. You probably won't read it because you probably don't like to plow through so many words, but if you don't read it you'll miss some of the best stuff in the magazine.

Sport Straw Hats But Cold Weather Brings Back Felts

Straw hats have been given another set-back by the weather man, and the few men who were brave enough to start the season in Madison have been compelled to resort to the felts on account of the cold weather.

Official straw hat opening day in Chicago, Milwaukee, and other cities was May 15. Madison has no official day for the adoption of straws, but several were seen about the streets on that date.

The Madison merchants all have their stocks on hand, but not many of them are displaying them. Several of the stores have advertised them in pamphlets sent to their regular customers, in which they advocate the buying of three straws, one for dress wear, one for business wear, and one for sport wear.

Come customers have taken advantage of the advance information to buy their straw hats in order to have the pick of a complete stock, but have not commenced to wear them.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDSPRING FOOTBALL
TO FINISH WITH
GAME THURSDAYRyan Plans to Give Fans
Glimpse of Hopefuls
in Action

The spring football squad ran through a long signal drill last night, followed by a light scrimmage. A short practice in tackling followed. The squad is busy preparing for a practice game which it is planned to hold on Thursday, the last day of hard football practice this year.

Monday night the squad went through a long drill in tackling and blocking, after a half hour of drop-kicking and place kicking. Last night signal work took up most of the time. The teams out worked on the simpler line plays and passes and bucks through the line were stressed.

The signal practice was followed by a light scrimmage. Bracket started out well by working at guard on the defense. Kreuz painted the ball the color of his hair when some one bumped him on the nose, but there were no other casualties. Harris, Kreuz, and Blackman worked in the backfield for the offense with Solbra and Larson playing the ends. In the line were Kascia, Strauble, McCartney, Wilke, Eves, Saltstein, and Walker.

After a short scrimmage a little tackling ended the workout. The spring football season will end Friday or Saturday with a contest in punting, passing, drop-kicking and place-kicking. Medals will be awarded to the best man in each event.

JUNIORS DEFEAT
SOPHS 22 TO 6Riegen's Drop Fans Out Batters; Both Teams Field Poorly

In a slow outdoor baseball game, the juniors defeated the sophomores 22 to 6 yesterday afternoon. Both teams displayed poor fielding, although the hitting was rather heavy, especially on the part of the winners.

The junior pitcher-catcher combination, Rugen and Weingant, was the outstanding feature of the afternoon. Had they had better team co-operation, they would have swamped their competitors. Mabel Rugen, junior manager, who sends the meanest ball at Camp Randall, had all the speed and dope on it in this first game of the season. Her nasty drop fanned out a dozen batters and she walked only one.

The juniors got more hits off of Madge Burt '26, the entire batting order usually going around once. "Muggs" Hoover, who was ineligible for team, is a powerful south-paw who could have made the competition keen. Elizabeth Shepard and Marion Bigelow played at catch and together with Burt did some fine playing.

In the first inning Margaret Uiry '25 hit a grounder through the center that slipped by Burt and Dohse. Halycon Lallier followed and Rugen brought them both in with a three-base hit. The juniors netted six runs and held the sophs to one.

Throughout the game both teams caught runners at stealing. Fumbling and overthrowing especially at first characterized the afternoon. The only home run was made by Rugen '25 when she walloped the ball through the center clear out of the field.

Hazel Weingandt '25 and Madge Burt '26 were elected captains of their respective teams. The sophomores will meet the freshmen at 4:30 Friday and the juniors the freshmen at 4:30 Monday.

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley, who is taking graduate work in the university, was the principal speaker at the Catholic Women's club which met at Portage on Monday night. While in Portage Mrs. Greeley was the guest of Zona Gale.

COACH LOWMAN MADE
LIONS VICE-PRESIDENT

Guy S. Lowman, of the department of physical education has been elected first vice-president of the Madison Lions club. The new officers will be installed on the last Tuesday in June at the meeting closing the club's activities for the summer. Members of the Lions club, with the other civic organizations, will be guests of the university athletic council at the Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game Friday.

Versus

We may often think that we have a gym that is old and antiquated, but Ohio has one that was built in 1897. Ours was finished in 1894.

Announcing to our readers a new Hall of Fame. We will accept and make nominations to said Hall. Nominees are to be Wisconsin athletes who have by some deed or deeds on the grid-iron, basketball floor, diamond, track, in the tank etc. gained distinction for themselves and honor for Wisconsin. It will be necessary to limit nominations to men in school at present.

Today's nomination to Versus Hall of Fame is Ralph Scheutz '24, captain of the crew. For four years Scheutz has pulled an oar in Wisconsin crews. "One of the best men that ever rowed here," says "Dad" Vail.

Now we know why Czerwony can swim the breast stroke so well. He says that he watches a frog to get the knack of kicking his legs. Which makes us wonder what a guy would do who was trying to learn to eat peanuts.

The meanest man in the world suggests to us that the easiest sort of an athletic contest to cheat in, that he can think of is a telegraphic track meet.

The old Cardinal is in the water, Cap Isabel having launched it yesterday, and will be used in following the crews. This boat is the Cardinal II, the other Cardinal having been acquired, used and discarded several years ago. Cap Isabel says they had to pump it out every morning before they started it.

Bravo! There is a new spring board installed in the men's gym. Took about five weeks to get it though.

How would you like to take your final exams on the train? Such is the lot of the crew men that go to Poughkeepsie.

Last year the second crew could beat the first crew at times. This year there is a difference. The first crew beats the second crew by nearly ten lengths. Give 'er ten!

WANT MORE MEN FOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT

All entries in the All-University Tennis tournament must be in today. Registration may be made with either Proc Wright or John Petaja between the hours of 8 and 9, 12 and 1:30, and 3:30 and 6 in Joe Steinauer's gym office.

In order to get the tournament going it is necessary that more entries be made, it was announced at the gym office. Registration for the doubles is especially low.

The competition is open to all men students, and no entry fee is charged. Tennis rackets are to go to the winner of the singles championship and to each man comprising the winning pair in the doubles.

What Wisconsin schools pay their principals is told in table form in a recent report of the Municipal information bureau of the Extension division.

Some 78 classes in freshman English meeting three times a week were needed to handle this one course this year.

BADGERS, BEATEN,
STILL HAVE HOPE
FOR CHAMPIONSHIPWisconsin, With Four Games to Play, Has Chance to Cop Title

The varsity baseball team, after defeating Illinois and losing to Purdue, put in a hard afternoon of practice yesterday in preparation for the Chicago game here this Friday.

Coach Lowman, in talking to the men, told them to forget the Purdue game and work hard to win the remaining four games on the schedule. One of the reasons for the loss of the game with the Boilermakers was that they have one of the hardest hitting teams in the conference. In the first inning of the game they got two home runs and a triple, besides several singles.

A few infield errors on the part of the Badgers also gave their opponents some free runs. Tangen, the Cardinal third sacker, played errorless ball and also garnered two hits and scored two of the team's three runs.

The Badger team was undoubtedly off color, while the Purdue nine had a good day. The first game between these two teams some time ago resulted in a victory for Wisconsin in eleven innings by the narrow margin of one run.

The loss of the game pushed the Badgers down one notch in the conference standings. Illinois now is again back in the lead. Whether or not they can hold this lead is the question. They still have some hard games to play. This week they meet both Ohio and Michigan. Both of these nines will push the Suckers to the limit if they expect to win.

Ohio also has a chance to land at the top of the heap. They are now in third place, but they still have eight games to play. The hardest game remaining on their schedule are two with Minnesota and one with the Wolverines.

The Badgers have as good a chance as any other team of winning the championship. They have won five and lost two games. This leaves them with four to play. If they succeed in winning all of them, they will undoubtedly run off with first honors.

Coach Lowman's nine plays Chicago here Friday, Northwestern Saturday and Michigan and Minnesota early in June. The way the team is going right now they ought to win the games. With the warm weather, the pitchers will work a whole lot better and it will take a good bunch of ball players to beat them.

ENTRIES POUR IN FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

Entries from high schools all over the state are coming in fast for the meet held here on May 31, in connection with Venetian night, according to Gene Tuhtar '25, who is working in conjunction with track coach Meade Burke of the athletic department.

The events will be run off at Camp Randall on the afternoon of the 31, and 500 high school men are expected to compete for honors. These men are the cream of the state high schools and bid fair to make new records this year.

The "W" club of the university will be on hand on the afternoon of the meet to acquaint the high school men with Wisconsin athletics in general. By having the men of the "W" club come in contact with the men from the high schools an interest in Wisconsin athletics will be created and will help in attracting these men to Wisconsin next year.

"According to the entries that are already in, we expect a larger number of men here than in former years," Tuhtar said last night.

There are 75 different departments of study in the university.

FRAT TEAMS WIN,
LOSE BALL GAMESDelta Sigma Pi, Kappa Sigma,
and Sigma Chi Take Loose Tilts

Theta Xi ball team lost a rather slow game to the Delta Sigma Pi tossers at Randall yesterday afternoon 7 to 1. Weiskoff, Theta Xi pitcher, was hit all over the field by the Delta Sigs and was forced from the mound in the early innings of the game. The Delta Sig pitcher threw a good game throughout the entire fracas.

In the other game played on Varsity field the Kappa Sigs took a one sided affair from the Chi Psi's 12 to 6. The game started out to be a rather close affair, both teams getting three runs in the first inning. Poser, Kappa Sig pitcher settled down and only allowed three more runs. The Chi Psi pitcher, Weeland, was not able to find his stride and the Kappa Sigs bounded him for fair. Several home runs on both sides through flukes gave the crowd plenty of entertainment. The fielding on both sides was loose and also gave the crowd several laughs.

The Sigma Chi team trounced Delta Pi Epsilon 9 to 4. The score at the end of the fourth was 5 to 4 but the Sig Chis opened up in their half of the fifth and made the game safe.

FRESHMEN PICK
DONAGANOF FOR
DIAMOND CAPTAINThird Sacker Chosen to Lead
Team in Annual Frosh-
Soph Tilt

The freshman baseball team elected as its captain yesterday afternoon Eddie Donaganof '27, of Janesville. The election was close, the first ballot resulting in a tie between Donaganof, Tyle, and Barnum.

Beside being a very good fielder "Eddie" is a very good sticker and has been able to hit against the varsity pitchers with ease in all the encounters so far this year. He played with his high school team for four years and received a very good reputation around Janesville as a ball player.

Arrangements are still under way for the Frosh-Soph game but the exact date has not yet been set. The frosh are working hard and the sophs will have to have a strong team if they want to give them any kind of a battle.

Coach Combacker seems to be pleased with the progress the team is making in fielding but not with their batting. He is stressing hitting more than anything else right now, and hopes to have a bunch of 'sluggers when he meets the sophs.

ROTATING SCHEDULES

From Indiana comes another murmur of agitation for a system of rotating athletic schedules in other sports besides basketball, especially in football and baseball. At the close of the 1923 football season the cry was taken up in almost every institution of the Big Ten—a wise and well-founded cry—for a system of rotating schedules. But, like other movements of its kind it faded out and was not heard again for many months when the Hoosiers took it up again. Here is what the Indiana Boosters' club has to say about it:

To date this system has been applied only to basketball. If the rotating system is made to apply to all sports, we feel, that on account of old rivalries existing between certain institutions, annual games between these schools should be kept on the schedules. The sole purpose of this system is to enable each University to meet every other one in competitive sport in a definite number of years. This condition would arouse a lot more interest than has been shown between some of the institutions in the Big Ten Conference. There is nothing but wisdom in such a system. It works admirably for basketball and should work as admirably in other sports too. Theoretically the Big Ten is much like a family; each member is on good terms with every other and should look on every other with equal feeling. But it would appear that some members are very finicky when it comes to making out schedules. They seem to think that they are especially privileged and should be allowed to play just those teams which they want to play.

It would work for the general increase of good spirit—which Big Ten officials are endeavoring to bring about at every turn—and for the destruction of petty dislikes and would give the athletically less fortunate members of the conference a better chance of scheduling good games if such a system could be inaugurated. It would not mean the destruction of old rivalries, for they could be continued, just as they are in basketball. What if old rivals did not meet each other every year in football? If they could not keep up their rivalry by meeting every other year that rivalry would not amount to much.

It will be for the advantage of all concerned if, at the next meeting of the Athletic Directors of the Big Ten this June, a bill for rotating schedules for football and baseball can be passed.

ONE WEEK MORE A FROSH

With the announcement of May thirtieth, decoration day, as the date for Varsity Night, the remembrance of sophomores, juniors, and seniors goes back to the inception of that event last year. Instituted purely as an event to make for greater brotherhood and fellowship among all the students of the university and to do away with the destructive rivalry of former days, in one year, Varsity Night came to have a meaning and a significance as great as any of Wisconsin's age-old traditions.

Preceded by the annual fraternity sing on the lake shore while "the sun was sinking in the west," the seniors last year stood illumined by the light of a tremendous bonfire and told the freshmen of the greatness of Wisconsin and welcomed them into complete fellowship. It was fitting that it should be done this way. The seniors had experienced four years of Wisconsin and deeply cherished its ideals and loved its greatness. The freshmen had had but one year in which they had just begun to feel Wisconsin's strength and in which time they could do no more than become mere apprentices of the Badger workshop of service.

It was the seniors then who passed on to the freshmen, who soon would be sophomores, the inspiration to work for and enjoy to the fullest Wisconsin's supremacy.

So it will be this year. The old rough-house cap night with its attendant burning of the caps has gone and in its place has come an all-university family meeting where the freshmen provide the ceremonial fire of tremendous proportions, and the entire rest of the university unites in extending congratulations to a class which has successfully passed the tribulations of one year's apprenticeship.

Just one week of being a freshman remains as far as the external accoutrements are concerned. Loyal freshmen will wear their green caps during the remaining period and will cooperate in making their class famous by preparing the biggest fire in the history of the school for the Varsity night celebration.

Education Moves Ahead With Publication of New Book

A great deal is being spoken and written these days regarding tests of intelligence and measures of school work. The man on the street often wonders what it is all about. He knows that something like a revolution is taking place in the way in which school work is being carried on, but he does not know on what grounds changes are taking place.

A book has just appeared which will help the layman, as well as the educator, to understand what is happening to our schools as a result of making use of scientific methods in prescribing work for pupils. It is entitled, "Fitting the School to the Child."

It is one of a series of volumes presenting the results of modern experimental study of educational problems which is being prepared under the direction and editorship of Professor M. V. O'Shea of the University and is published by the Macmillan Company of New York.

This book gives the results of the application of scientific methods of studying pupils' minds and of measuring achievement in school work in one of the great public schools in New York City containing several thousand pupils of almost every nationality.

Dr. Irwin, psychologist of the New York City Education Society and Dr. Marks, associate superintendent of New York City schools, undertook the task, at Professor O'Shea's request six years ago, of organizing and conducting this great public school on the basis of intelligence tests and the accurate measurement of school achievement in every phase of school work.

The authors describe the extremely complex pupil population with which they had to deal and then they show how they made use of measures of intellectual ability and of school achievement. The use of these scientific measurements resulted in a complete reorganization of the school. The volume in question shows how much more work was accomplished when pupils were treated according to their native capacities than when they were simply grouped according to age, or nationality, or any other artificial grouping. The whole spirit, as well as the achievement of the school was transformed by the employment of scientific measurements in order to determine what pupils were capable of accomplishing and in what directions their special talents and defects lay.

This book demonstrates the practical value of modern methods of diagnosing pupils' abilities and determining whether or not they are working up to their capacities. It shows that we have entered an era when those who are charged with the care and culture of the young will not have to guess at how they should be treated.

The old practice of trying to coerce pupils by the use of the rod or some other form of punishment when they did not accomplish their tasks in the school cannot last much longer in view of such results as were achieved in the New York City school where Dr. Irwin and Dr. Marks made a practical demonstration of the value of accurate methods of dealing with individual pupils and fitting the school to the children rather than making the children fit into a rigid program worked out without regard to individual differences and needs.

Those little habits acquired around the campus might shock Mother and Dad when you return home in a couple of weeks, so folks, you'd better try and forget them, but if unsuccessful in this, break them in easy on the "old folks." ## The Reader's Say-So

A DISAPPOINTING SPEECH

Editor, The Cardinal:

Why is it that those who ardently sponsor a cause are usually their own worst enemies? I attended the Carl Haessler lecture, expecting to receive an inspiring message from the much lauded Rhodes scholar, but was thoroughly disappointed. Mr. Haessler's talk was merely a weak defense of his personal philosophy and past record, interspersed with a few half-humorous anecdotes as to how he and his fellow objectors "put one over" on the prison authorities.

It was both void and trite of convincing arguments for the anti-war cause. Dozens of people left the hall during the address being unwilling to waste precious time listening to Mr. Haessler's feeble attempt to defend our cause. I am a "dyed-in-the-wool" anti-militarist, but was exceedingly disappointed in Haessler.

And then there is the irrepressible Mrs. Haessler. Publicity seekers of her type are causing our movement to be avoided and looked askance at by the intellectual thinkers and leaders of the community. Let us take stock, fellow war-haters.

NATION-WORSHIPPERS AND WARS

Editor, The Cardinal:

Down through the ages man, in his blindness and superstition, has been prone to put up false gods and worship them. He has bowed himself before kings, priests, nobles and imperial highnesses through all the long years that have fled, and only to the purpose that his money might be stolen, and his life thrown away in foolish wars to please his deities.

Today it is no different. One might have believed that the old age of nationalistic egotism and hatred was upon us after reading Mr. Peard's interesting article in Tuesday's CARDINAL. His statement that very man's duty is to defend his country, (an institution invented by capitalistic propagandists to enslave the worked) shows clearly that he has no notion whatsoever of the class-struggle which is slowly but surely dragging mankind into the pit.

Egyptians, Babylonians, Romans, worshipped kings as gods and bowed down before them; this new advocate of tin-pan imperialism humbles himself before that vast shadowy myth: The National God. These gods, manipulated by the great money masters who created them and by the Church which preaches them into the minds and souls of men, are creators of all wars of today.

Why therefore should we fight for them? To tin-pan imperialists and preachers of foreign wars let me quote in conclusion the lines of H. G. Wells on nationalism; lines expressly dedicated to such as Mr. Peard, who still walk in darkness:

"These are dead gods they serve. By land or sea men want no powers ascendant, save only truth, liberty, justice, and the brotherhood of man. This is the truth that is slowly but surely entering our disordered minds, like a light shining slowly but surely through the shutters of a disordered room."

WHA TO BROADCAST TALK BY DR. ELSOM

Next Monday, May 26, Station WHA, University station, will broadcast an address by Dr. J. C. Elsom, department of physical education, on "Why Every Boy should Be a Boy Scout."

Porter F. Butts, '24, will give a talk over the radio on "Significance and Function of the University Student Publications," on the following Wednesday.

A new song, "Nothing Too Good for Wisconsin," composed by Miss Lilian N. Drees, will be sung by Edward N. Otis, on Friday, May 30.

Grant county has been represented at the university this year by a total of 154 students, including 81 men and 73 women.

PLACE ONLY 938 PROGRAM ORDERS

Is Nearly 1500 Less Than Were Ordered This Time
Last Year

There have been 938 orders for 8600 commencement programs up to date, according to information gathered at the office of the Print Shop and this is approximately 1500 less than were ordered at this time last year.

This laxity may be due to a false rumor which stated that orders were no longer being taken, and the Print Shop wishes to state that orders are still being received and will be received as long as they come in. The fact that only 938 people have ordered means that over half of the persons graduating or receiving degrees have not yet placed their orders, and this should be taken care of at once if possible.

The invitations will be given out May 26 to May 29 at the office of the Print Shop, and there will be an open sale of 1000 extra programs.

In addition to the class roll, which will be arranged by schools, and the list of class officers and committees, the invitations will contain a calendar for the week of commencement. Events from June 20 to June 23 will be itemized therein by the hour.

Cardinal Reaches People in Distant Corners of Globe

Where does The Cardinal go? According to the statistics in the business office, 3,300 of the 10,000 daily issues go out of town.

Milwaukee rates first with 50 copies, Chicago comes second with 37 copies, and New York gets 30 Cardinals every day.

Every state in the union gets at least one paper from the university. Over 500 issues are sent to Wisconsin towns, more than 90 to cities in Illinois and the rest all over the globe. California, Alabama, Maine, Florida, Texas, get one apiece.

Foreign circulation is not neglected. A Cardinal goes to Alberta, Canada and Ontario, Canada every morning. But the long distance record is held by the National Academy of Czechoslovakia which keeps the current issues of the Cardinal in its foreign reading room.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO CAMP AT WOODSTOCK

Students of Bryn Mawr, Dartmouth, Yale, Swarthmore, and Northwestern will co-operate this summer in maintaining an inter-collegiate camp at Woodstock, New York. The camp is to be under the supervision of students of these schools, and its purpose is to give the students a chance to meet some of the leaders of American thought through lectures and comradeship. The camp is open to students of any college.

They are satisfied to let their customers choose from a dozen shades of powder, whereas a leading Parisian perfumer presents 17 different shades of face powder and 11 of lip-stick.
