MINI-COURSES ARE WELL INTO SECOND DECADE OF OPERATION

It was early in the 1970's when the Wisconsin Union moved to offer a series of non-credit, short-term courses geared to the busy student, faculty/staff member or Wisconsin Union member and their spouses. Since then the Wisconsin Union Mini Courses have filled an important role in the Union's educational/recreational program.

This fall's offerings will be set forth in the traditional brochure which will be available in the Mini Course office and in both Unions starting Tuesday, August 23. Registrations will be accepted beginning Monday, August 29 and will continue through Friday, September 16.

Two special Mini Courses have been planned this fall to complement performances in the Union Theater. "Background to Brahms" will supplement the Brahms Anniversary Trio Concert to be held October 21. "Shakespeare's Women Heroines" will highlight aspects of Claire Bloom's performance on October 28.

Other new courses planned for fall include: Italian for Travel; Financial Planning for Retirement; Changing Careers or Majors; Beginning Sculpture; Candle Wicking and Holiday Ornaments.

Increases in mailing costs have made it necessary to update the Mini Course mailing list. If you have not taken a Mini Course since June, 1982 but wish to remain on the mailing list, please return the coupon below by Monday, August 22 or phone 262-3156.

A REAL COMMUNITY FEELING AT THE MEMORIAL UNION CRAFTSHOP

Wisconsin Union members who want to put their creative energies to work are invited to use the Memorial Union Craftshop located on the fourth floor of the Union, above the Fredric March Play Circle.

Established in 1930, the Craftshop was the first ever to be located in a college union. It offers six craft areas, each with a full compliment of tools and supplies. The craft areas are: woodshop, darkroom, ceramics, art metal and jewelery, stained glass and batik.

Craftshop permits are required to use the facility. They are available either on a daily or semester basis at the price of $1.50 per day or $14.00 per semester. This permit fee covers use of the area and equipment. The Craftshop is open from 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 1 to 5 p.m. Fridays and Saturday.

The woodshop has a complete assortment of tools, including a table saw, lathes, a drill press, a radial arm saw, sanders and a wide assortment of hand tools.

The darkroom provides permit holders with equipment such as a dry mount press, a print dryer, tanks, trays and timers.

The ceramics area has four wheels, a kiln, wedging and handbuilding tables and storage racks.

The art metals and jewelry area is equipped with an enamel kiln, a pickle pot, a flex shaft and a wide assortment of tools.

Stained glass equipment includes pattern shears, flux, glass cutters and soldering irons.

Finally, the batik area houses a hot plate, wax and dye containers.

The general use area also provides a space for silkscreening, leather, framing and matting work.

For those who would like to learn any of these crafts, classes are offered in Beginning and Advanced Woodworking; Wood Carving; Lathe; Picture Taking; Beginning and Advanced Black & White Darkroom; Color Slides;

Each spring for the last three years the Union Directorate's Arts Area members have distributed stickers with their return address (and a stamp) to students, and others, passing through the Union buildings. The prerequisite is a promise to send back a postcard from someplace—far and wide, or otherwise. The results are hung in the Class of 1925 Gallery in the Memorial Union. The show is called "Drop a Line" and this year it will be on view through August 19. Be sure to catch a line.

Beginning and Advanced Wheel; Handbuilding; Raku; Fabrication; Lost Wax Casting; Enameling; Stained Glass and Beginning and Advanced Batik.

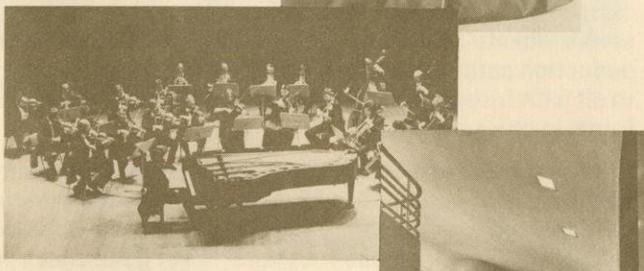

In addition to the work areas and classes, the Craftshop operates a store at which small craft supplies are sold. Merchandise includes art materials such as ceramic and clay tools, film, silkscreening and stained glass supplies, dyes and cloth for batiking.

There are three artists-in-residence at the Craftshop, one each in ceramics, woodworking and photography. Each artist teaches at least one mini-course in his or her specialty area. These professionals have prepared handouts for Craftshop users which answer technical questions about their craft.

According to Craftshop Director Margaret Armstrong, the Craftshop has become a regular recreation facility for many Union members. "It's got a real community feeling — people help one another with their projects. Although it's a hobby facility, people are very serious about what they make for themselves," she says. She adds that those using the Craftshop range from Liberal Arts freshman to retired Union members to children taking Creative Arts for Children classes.

For further information on the Craftshop, call 262-1282 during open hours.

45th SEASON

The curtain is about to go up on another season at the Wisconsin Union Theater—and once again, the spotlight is on excellence.

Our 45th season celebrates creative expression at its best, with artists whose virtuosity has been applauded world-wide. The Red and White Concert Series will present a variety of musical explorations, both solo and ensemble-style. Diversity is the theme for the Great Performance Series, which offers four very distinct artistic statements. And the 1983-84 season will also bring the Madison debut of one of the world's greatest orchestras.

Fine acoustics and an intimate mood help to make each evening in the Union Theater a special experience. Enjoy our tradition of excellence—plan now to join us often during our 45th season.

RED CONCERT SERIES CELEBRATES MUSICAL EXCELLENCE

For classical music lovers, the Union Theater's 1983-84 Red Concert Series brings another season of excellence. The Concert Series, which marks its 64th anniversary this year, ranks as Madison's premier showcase for classical artistry. Throughout its history, the Concert Series has provided the opportunity to hear live performances by the world's most renowned musicians—and the 1983-84 season continues that tradition.

To open the series, mezzo-soprano Jan DeGaetani, violist Walter Trampler and pianist Lee Luvisi will present a 150th birthday tribute to Brahms. The October 21 program will feature "Sonata for Viola and Piano in E-flat major," Op. 120, No. 2; Four Songs from Opus 72; "Two Songs for Alto with Viola and Piano," Op. 91; "Zigeunerlieder," Op. 103; and "Sonata for Viola and Piano in F minor," Op. 120, No. 1. The Brahms Anniversary Concert blends the talents of three superb artists, each of whom has earned international acclaim for solo performance as well as chamber music and orchestral collaborations.

November 17 will bring a return visit by Julian Bream, whose mastery of the guitar and lute has made him one of the world's most sought-after artists. The performance marks the eighth Union Theater performance for Bream, acclaimed for virtuosity ranging from Renaissance lute music to Romantic, Baroque and 20th century compositions for the guitar.

This season, Union Theater audiences will join audiences and critics around the world in applauding Zara Nelsova, whose "regal and commanding" style has earned her undisputed rank among the world's finest cellists. Nelsova, artist-teacher at the University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, will make her Union Theater debut on February 3.

Rave reviews followed pianist Janina Fialkowska's 1979 Concert Series debut—and a later performance with the Wisconsin Chamber Orchestra added to the artist's Madison following. The award-winning pianist, considered one of the brightest young stars on the international concert scene, will return to the Concert Series stage February 17.

The Red Concert Series will conclude March 9 with another encore engagement, this time spotlighting the famed Amadeus Quartet. "Individual styles blend in remarkable ensemble rapport," wrote one critic of the Quartet. The partnership dates back some 36 years, one of the most enduring in musical history.

Series tickets for the Red Concert Series are $48.00, $46.00 and $43.00. The lowest price is reserved for students through the mail order period.

TO ORDER TICKETS . . .

Tickets are now available on mail order for the Union Theater's 1983-84 Red and White Concert Series, the Great Performance Series and the Madison debut concert by the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra.

To order your series tickets, simply complete the mail order form in the brochure and return it with your check or completed credit card authorization. All faculty and academic staff, both 9 and 12-month appointments, and classified staff paid by the University payroll may purchase series tickets under the payroll deduction plan; payroll deduction cards are available at the Box Office. If you wish to sit with friends, simply mail all of the subscription order forms in one envelope.

Your purchase of series tickets represents a substantial dollar savings—from 10 to 25 percent—over the purchase of individual event tickets. And there are some additional values to series purchase—a series ticket guarantees your seating preference for the entire season and since series tickets are filled first, our subscribers do enjoy the best seats. With series tickets, you can put the performance dates on your calendar in early fall as you begin to plan your activities for the year. You don't have to worry about buying individual event tickets later—or risk missing your favorite artist.

All sales for Union sponsored events are final. Refunds will be given only when an event is canceled and is not rescheduled. The Wisconsin Union Theater Arts Area reserves the right to substitute comparable attractions or to change the dates of programs if compelled to do so by conductors beyond its control. No refunds will be made under such circumstances.

GREAT PERFORMANCE SERIES SPOTLIGHTS DIVERSE ARTISTRY

With programs ranging from classical music and drama to scat singing and vampire stories, the Great Performance Series offers a rich sampler of artistic fare for Union Theater audiences this season.

Renowned actress Claire Bloom will open the 1983-84 Great Performance Series on October 28 with her acclaimed solo presentation, "These Are Women: Shakespeare's Heroines." Bloom, who began her acting career in her teens, made her Old Vic debut at age 21 as Shakespeare's Juliet, a portrayal critic Kenneth Tynan applauded as "the best Juliet I've ever seen." Soon after, she scored her first film triumph as Theresa in Charlie Chaplin's "Limelight." She has since achieved international stardom for outstanding performances in live theater, film and television in both England and the U.S.

The New Swingle Singers, hailed as masters of classical scat or "mouth music," will perform November 3, offering music ranging from Bach and Mozart to Cole Porter, Scott Joplin and the Beatles. The ensemble's remarkable sound, which has earned them a world-wide following, results from an unusual vocal articulation and flexibility that often makes them sound more like instruments than voices.

London's New Vic Theatre returns March 7 for a second visit and another lively evening of entertainment in "Dracula" or "A Pain in the Neck." The New Vic resumed production work in 1979 after several years' absence from the London theater scene. Company members, trained at the major British drama schools, have all performed with other renowned companies including the Old Vic, the National Theatre and the Royal Shakespeare.

An April 3 duo-recital by virtuoso musicians Jean-Pierre Rampal, flute, and Alexandre LaGoya, guitar, will close the 1983-84 Great Performance Series. "Simply being in a concert hall where they are playing is a joy...unforgettable music-making," wrote one critic after the pair's first joint concert in New York's Avery Fisher Hall. The concert marks Rampal's eighth Union Theater performance, while it is LaGoya's Madison debut.

Tickets for the Great Performance Series are $48.00, $46.00 and $43.00 with the lowest price reserved for students through the mail order period.

CHAMBER MUSIC ENSEMBLES STAR IN WHITE CONCERT SERIES

Chamber music takes the stage in the 1983-84 White Concert Series, as we welcome return visits by the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra and conductor/violinist Pinchas Zukerman, Union Theater favorites for the past two seasons. You will see new faces as well this season, as the series presents the Vienna Chamber Orchestra and TASHI in their Madison debuts.

The Saint Paul will open the series on September 21, with Zukerman as conductor and soloist. Pianist Yefim Bronfman, who earned critical acclaim for his 1981 performance in the Theater's Debut Series, will be the orchestra's guest artist. The season's second Saint Paul concert is scheduled for January 28, with Zukerman again performing as both conductor and soloist.

The Vienna Chamber Orchestra will make its Madison debut on October 20, with internationally-renowned pianist Philippe Entremont as soloist and conductor. Entremont, whose performing career spans six continents, has been music director of the Vienna ensemble since 1976.

The season's final White Concert Series program on April 5 will present the Madison debut of TASHI, a dynamic ensemble praised for "style which ranges from lyrical to sassy." The ensemble features clarinetist Richard

CZECH PHILHARMONIC SLATED FOR MADISON DEBUT

The Czech Philharmonic, one of Europe's most distinguished orchestras, will make its Madison debut this season in a concert scheduled for April 13 at the Madison Civic Center. The concert is co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Union Directorate Theater Arts Area and the Madison Civic Center.

The Czech tradition began in 1896, when composer Antonin Dvorak conducted the orchestra's first concert. Since then, music's most eminent figures, including Gustav Mahler, Richard Strauss, Bruno Walter, George Szell and Rafael Kubelik, have been associated with the orchestra. Today, the Czech Philharmonic, acclaimed for "cohesiveness, clarity of attack and wonderfully healthy sound," is counted among the world's greatest orchestras.

BERNIE'S PLACE HAS OPENINGS FOR FALL

Children of Wisconsin Union members are eligible for childcare and educational enrichment at Bernie's Place, The Wisconsin Union Day Care Center. Located on Bernard Court between Park and Brooks streets, Bernie's Place does have openings for children in the fall. Children from ages two and one half to six are welcome to register.

One of the unique aspects of Bernie's Place is its multi-cultural setting. Approximately one fourth of the children at the daycare center are from foreign countries, including areas in the Middle East, Africa, Latin America, Europe and Australia.

Programs are offered on both full and part time bases. Drop-in care is available as well. The environment at Bernie's Place is designed on an open classroom model with a wide variety of activities available throughout the center. Activities aid in the development of the children's physical, cognitive, social and emotional skills. Arts and crafts, games, puzzles, books and stories, block building, woodworking and outdoor play are all part of the program.

Bernie's Place is open year round, Monday through Friday, from 7 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. Full time enrollment is $56 per week. Breakfast, lunch and a snack are included daily.

The schedule at the center offers a balance between teacher-directed and free-choice time, which allows the children to pursue their individual interests and needs at their own pace.

CELEBRATE (OR MOURN) BADGER GAMES AT UNION SOUTH BASHES

Spirits are high and activity is lively at the Badger Bashes that follow all home football games at Union South. As he has done since the bashes started in 1972 (following the opening of Union South) Doc DeHaven and his band will be providing dixieland jazz for the festivities. Roy B. and the Collegians, who joined the bashes in the mid 70s, will be back with their lively polkas.

In addition, the first three bashes — Sept. 10, 17 and 24 — will have a third rock and roll band playing outside Union South. On the 10th and 24th that will be the Cheaters, while Shakedown will play on the Sept. 17. The Pre-game festivities will feature the UW Band and cheerleaders. Brat stands will be located outside to help feed the swarming masses.

The 1983 Tudor Holiday Dinner Concerts have been scheduled for November 30 through Dec. 4 and Dec. 6 and 7. Information about the dinners and tickets will be mailed to members during the third week in October.

It is very important to make sure that your current address is up to date so that your Tudor mailing is not lost or delayed in the mail. Of course, you should keep your address current at all times so that you do not miss out on calendars and program announcements. Please send address changes to the Union Membership Office, Room 410, Memorial Union, 800 Langdon St., Madison, WI 53706. Send along both your old and new address and it will be changed immediately.

SAINT PAUL CHAMBER ORCHESTRA OPENS THEATER'S 45TH SEASON

Music by Beethoven, Vaughan Williams and Schubert will be featured Wednesday, September 21, as the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra inaugurates the Union Theater's 1983-84 season.

The orchestra, which has become a favorite of Union Theater audiences during the past two seasons, is the only full-time professional chamber orchestra in the U.S. Praised for versatility and excellence in live performance and in recordings, the ensemble has achieved an international reputation since its founding in 1968.

In 1980, Pinchas Zukerman, renowned world-wide as violin and viola soloist and conductor, accepted the post of Music Director of the Saint Paul. The combination has been called "one of the most inspired concepts that happen only rarely anywhere in a musical generation."

Zukerman will perform in the dual roles of violinist and conductor for the September 21 concert which will also feature pianist Yefim Bronfman. Bronfman, who appeared in the Union Theater's 1981 Debut Series, has appeared with all of the major American and European orchestras. He has also performed with the Juilliard String Quartet, the Cleveland Quartet, the Scottish Chamber Orchestra, in New York's Mostly Mozart Festival and in both the U.S. and Italian Spoleto Festivals.

The September 21 concert will feature the Overture to "Egmont," Op. 84, by Beethoven; Williams' "The Lark Ascending" with Zukerman; "Symphony No. 8 in B minor," D759 ("Unfinished") by Schubert; and Beethoven's "Concerto No. 1 for Piano and Orchestra in C," Op. 15, with Bronfman.

Tickets for the September 21 concert are $15.00, $13.00 and $12.00. Single tickets may be limited due to the series sale; priority will be given to series subscribers. Mail orders for single tickets will be accepted now, but orders will not be filled until August 29. Any remaining tickets will go on open sale September 6.
