LEGISLATURE MAY ADOPT UNIVERSITY BUILDING PROGRAM

Joint Finance Committee Finds Accommodations Here Not Sufficient

A five year program taking care of the immediate needs of the university in additions has been virtually decided upon following an inspection of the buildings and equipment by the joint finance committee of the state legislature and Sen. John E. Cashman, member of the regents of the university.

After the inspection, the committee held the needs of the university imperative and that the plan should be started with appropriations beginning with the 1925 budget. A further hearing is imminent in the finance committee for the purpose of definitely deciding upon the plan.

The committee and regents inspected the university library, the chemistry building and Bascom hall. Among other things, it found the library can accommodate approximately 350 persons at the present time, while the need is for accommodation of 1,000 students.

No suggestion was given by the committee as to the amount of money which will be appropriated for building needs, but it was strongly intimated that the program would embrace extensive additions to at least one building on the university campus.

The visit of the committee is the culmination of a long fight for extension of the university buildings. The committee is expected to report its findings and appropriation in three weeks, along with the general budget allowances for the next biennium.

The budget for all state endeavors is expected to reach the legislative floor in omnibus form as to the general appropriation and in a separate bill as to the university and normal school appropriations.

ITALIAN CLUB TO GIVE PLAY BY PIRANDILLO

"Lunie Di Sicilie" by Luigi Pirandello is the one act play that will be given by members of the Italian club at their Italian night meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Lathrop parlors. The play tells of Micuccio, a middle class Sicilian, who finances the musical career of Sina Marnis. When he visits her after she becomes a famous star, she ignores him and he realizes that she will never marry him. Alice Winston '27 plays the part of Sina Marnis and Prof. J. L. Russo will take the part of Micuccio. Gordon Lewis '25 is manager. There will also be a musical program. Tickets will be on sale at the door for 50 cents.

MORTAR BOARD TO HOLD MAY SUPPER

Plans Progress For Dinner at Barnard, Arrange For Dancing

Plans are in progress for the Mortar Board May day supper to be held Thursday, May 21, in Barnard court. Supper will be served at 5:30 o'clock and is 85 cents a plate. There will also be an orchestra playing in each dining room at Barnard hall for dancing.

The purpose of the supper is to raise money for the Mortar Board scholarship fund which is awarded each year to a sophomore woman. This is a traditional affair and the co-operation of all the women in the university is asked. It has been a custom for all sororities and other organized houses to forswear supper in their own houses and attend the Mortar Board supper. Members of Mortar Board have expressed the hope that this would be carried out this year.

Jean Palica '25 is in charge of the plans for the supper and also for the program which will be announced later. The other seven members of Mortar Board are all actively engaged in promoting the affair.

Students Entertain Rotarians; Program in Stadium Today

Four university organizations provided entertainment for the representatives of the 57 Rotary clubs of the tenth district who gathered in Madison yesterday for the opening of the Rotary International Conference. The university glee club, the girl's glee club, and the Wisconsin players entertained the Rotarians in the afternoon with a one-act comedy by George Ade, and in the evening the members of the "Ivan Ho!" cast and the female choruses in costume with the Hares-foot recording orchestra provided music and entertainment for those gathered at the informal ball in the Capitol.

As one of the biggest features of the university, the athletic department has planned a program for this afternoon in the stadium of representative sports. Coach Little has consented to put on a football game with ten minute quarters, and Tom Jones will run his track men through some fast time tests between the quarters.

The program will begin at 4:30 and will be open to university students. A large crowd of Rotarians is expected and it is hoped by Coach Little that the chance to taste some of the fall football spirit in advance will bring out a great crowd of students.

WOMEN TO RIDE IN HORSE SHOW

100 to Compete For Awards in Night and Afternoon Events

More than one hundred women riders will compete for the awards in the spring horse show to be held May 8 and 9, according to an announcement made by Alice Bonniwell '27, chairman of the woman's arrangements committee. Women's events listed for the Friday night show at the Stock Pavilion include the usual three and five gaited classes, and the judges will mark 60 per cent on conformation, 20 per cent on manners and action, and 20 per cent on riding.

Four events for women are planned for the Saturday afternoon show to be on the Lower Campus. The usual three and five gaited Ladies' classes will be judged for performance only. There will also be a jumping event in which the horses will be shown around the arena twice over two brush hurdles and two post jumps, riding only to count.

The feature of the afternoon show will be the Intersorority three-gaited event in which 20 sorority riders will compete for the silver trophy. Keen rivalry has existed between the sororities for the past two years. Last year the cup was won by Phi Mu, and the year previous Alpha Chi Omega carried away the trophy.

The Prince of Wales drill team, made up of 20 co-ed riders will stage their exhibition cavalry drill. Blackhawk stables report that horses are in use every hour of the day, many women riding before 6 o'clock in the morning.

The governor's trophy, which will be presented to the winner of the ladies' five gaited class was received yesterday and is now on display at Baillie O'Connell and Meyers.

Members of the committee in charge of women's arrangements are Elizabeth Browning '27, Alice La Boule '27, Genevieve Bradshaw '28, and Eulalie Beffel '27.

Badger Gridiron Banquet Will Fill A Need At University Say Faculty Men

That a Gridiron banquet fills a need in university life is the opinion of faculty men interviewed yesterday.

Prof. F. C. Sharp: "It is a good thing and should be a decided asset to the university. There is no doubt that a distinct cleft exists between the faculty and the students; the banquet ought to show us all our short-comings and create a better spirit of comradeship between the faculty and students. I hope that it will prove to be a future tradition at Wisconsin."

Prof. W. G. Bleyer: "It will do more to get the students, faculty and regents together for the good of the university than anything that I can think of at this time. It will prove to be a mixer in the real sense of the word and much good ought to come out of it."

George Berg: "A Good thing. It should have been done a long time ago. We need a greater spirit of co-operation at Wisconsin."

Prof. Julius Olson: "We are too serious-minded here at Wisconsin. We need something to stir things up without arousing malice, and I understand that is exactly what the Gridiron banquet will do. I think it can be a real success if it is not too serious. I should like very much to be there."

Prof. A. B. Hall: "A very good idea. A frank discussion of our problems with the consciousness of a common good, will prove to be a real and decided asset to our university life. I hope to be able to listen to intelligent criticism of our daily problems, with the idea that something useful to the faculty, students and board of regents will result. I am for it and hope to be there."

George Little: "The Gridiron-banquet will do more to foster athletics, to inculcate a spirit of 'On Wisconsin' in the capable men who continually hang back from football, baseball, and all other sports, than any other condition at this particular time. It will be our best asset for the furtherance of all athletics at this particular time."

Prof. Curtis Merriman: "G. Stanley Hall says that our best friend is the one who hurts us most once in a while. A frank discussion of our university problems, even if it hurts a few of us, will prove interesting, useful and constructive to this social institution. I hope that a spirit of friendly interest without an idea of settling old grudges will prevail and then much good will arise from the banquet."

HOLD AG-HOME EC ROUND-UP FRIDAY

Agriculture Federation Board Plans Mixer in Ag Hall

An Ag-Home Ec Round-up, a mixer sponsored by the Agriculture College Federation Board, will be held in Agricultural hall Friday night. Every year the agriculture board holds a dance primarily to bring together the agriculture and home economics students.

"Since both the agriculture students and home economics women are so-called neighbors, the mixer Friday night will aid the two colleges to become more thoroughly acquainted," declared G. A. Piper '25, chairman of the dance.

The committee chairmen announced by Piper are Aileen M. Thiesen '25, assistant chairman; H. A. Murray '25, programs; Helen Calsen '25 and Lorraine Claus '25, refreshments; H. L. Kropp '25, publicity; J. P. Anderson '25, music; G. F. Massey '26, tickets; and J. B. Woods '27 and E. J. Rasmussen '26, decorations.

SENIOR CHAIRMEN TO HOLD DINNER TONIGHT

Committee chairmen and all members of committees of the senior class will hold a banquet and meeting at 6 o'clock tonight at the Women's building.

Following the banquet, reports from various committee chairmen will be read, and problems concerning class affairs will be discussed in relation to the class program.

The cost of the banquet, 75 cents for each person, will be paid by those attending.

BLUE DRAGON RINGS ARE STILL ON SALE

It will be possible for senior women to purchase Blue Dragon rings within two weeks of commencement. Rings may be ordered from 10 to 2:30 o'clock on weekdays at the W. S. G. PLAYERS TO GIVE THREE COMEDIES

"Rocking Chair" Cast Announced For Annual Comedy Night

Mildred Engler '26, will play the leading role in "Rocking Chairs," one of the three plays to be presented at the annual Comedy Night, May 15, by the Wisconsin Players. The play, "Rocking Chairs" was written by Krymberg, and is a humorous comedy skit.

The cast includes three characters and will be played by Miss Engler as Mrs. Berry; Mary Bishop '27, as Mrs. Alms, and Jane Gaston '27, in the role of Mrs. Doyle. Miss Engler attended Northwestern last semester where she majored in speech and was active in campus dramatics. She played the lead in last year's pre-Prom play "The Torch Bearers" and also starred in "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire" put on by the Players.

The cast is being directed by Ruth Diekhoff '26. The other two plays to be given on Comedy Night are "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," and "Speaking to Father."

Choral Union Gives Annual Concert of 100 Mixed Voices

The Choral Union, a mixed chorus of about 100 voices, presented its annual spring concert at Music hall Monday night. Prof. E. B. Gordon, chairman of the department of public school music, directed the chorus.

The outstanding number of the choral program was the musical setting of "The Wonderful One Hoss Shay" by Oliver Wendell Holmes. The music aids in the interpretation of the poem.

Dorothy Crocker '27, soprano, Luella Nienaber '26, contralto, Dan Vornholt '26, tenor, and David Mac Pherson, grad, bass, made up the solo quartet of the chorus.

Uniformity of dynamic change was evident in "Orpheus With His Lute" by German, while delicacy and precision of attack characterized "Song of the Pedlar," by Williams. Other numbers on the program were "Flourish Forever" by Rachmaninoff and "Deep River," Negro spiritual, Burleigh.

BAND TO PLAY AT LA CROSSE MAY 9

Will Give Two Programs For Participants in Music Contest

The University Concert Band will give two concerts in La Crosse May 9, at the invitation of J. F. Rolfe, a Wisconsin alumnus, formerly instructor in the School of Education and assistant director of the second band, who is now chairman of the La Crosse good music week committee.

The concert band's two performances, which will be held in the La Crosse normal school Saturday afternoon and evening, will be the closing feature of good music week, for which many Wisconsin bands, will be in La Crosse participating in a state band contest. The visiting bands will be guests of the university band at both concerts.

Approximately 70 men, the entire membership of the band, will leave for this out-of-town engagement at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and will return the following morning. The organization will be entertained by the State Normal school committee and La Crosse citizens. The men will go by train. The Life and Interests committee has granted permission for the trip.

TAUB PROMISES SMOOTHNESS IN TRACK CONTEST

Field Committee Head For Mid-West Relays Organizes Carefully

David Taub '25, chairman of the field committee for the Wisconsin Mid-West relays, has made sure that the week-end contests will be run off smoothly, with plenty of officials for all events.

The field committee is faced with a 50 per cent greater registration from entering high schools than signed up for the first annual meet last year. To care for the additional entries, a large corps of officials has been secured so that there will be no hitch in the proceedings, and that both athletes and spectators may enjoy the satisfaction that comes from a smooth-running meet.

Taub '25

Taub Speaks

"We want to make this the smoothest-running high school meet in the country," Taub said last night.

"We have enough officials for every event, and we are going to make sure that there will be no interference with the meet by keeping everyone except officials and athletes off of the field.

Athlete Attends

"Each team will be assigned a division in the locker-room with a Wisconsin athlete in attendance, who will be there to see that his division has every bit of encouragement possible."

Among the prominent Wisconsin sport captains handling the events are "Marsh" Diebold, and Steve Polaski, who will have with them a number of well-known "W" men.

You are told that the votes of German women decided the election in Von Hindenburg's favor. The German women, staying at home, suffered more than the men that went to war. The men lived in excitement, fighting, and what food there was went into their stomachs.

The women saw their children hungry and thin, and spent the years in waiting misery.

More than the men, perhaps, they long to see at the head of Germany a man that will make up for those hard years.

The ambassador also referred to the small amount of power exercised by a German President, as compared with an American President.

The German President, elected for seven years, can be deposed. He does not veto laws passed by the Reichstag. He merely presides

CEDAR RAPIDS COMES BACK TO RELAYS TO DEFEND PAST TITLES

Washington High school of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is returning to the Mid-West relays to defend the numerous trophies it won at the first annual carnival at Camp Randall last year.

Last year Coach Leo Novak's track warriors walked off with five of the six relay shields in easy fashion, and incidentally set up two national interscholastic records on the Randall track in the 440 and distance medley relays.

This year's track squad is not as strong as in the past few years, the Cedar Rapids team only four strong went to the national indoor meet at Northwestern in February, and won the national indoor championship with 24 points.

However, they can be depended upon to give a pretty exhibition of classy relay racing on the Wisconsin oval this Saturday. Their strongest opposition will come from the Milwaukee and Chicago prep teams and from the teams from Galesburg, Ill., and Mason City, Iowa.

Co-eds' Commerce Mag is Out With Women's Articles

In her article on "Continuing Education" in the April number of the Commerce magazine, Jennie M. Turner of the state board of vocational education suggests the need of public funds for the purpose of furthering the education of those who are employed. This number of the magazine was edited by the women in the course of commerce under the auspices of the Woman's Commerce club.

E. S. Beecher of the Guardian Life Insurance Co, tells of the various positions open for women in his line of work in an article on the "Insurance Field for Women." E. E. Quantrell discussed the life of a bond salesman in his comment on "Bond Business."

"Opportunities for Women in Advertising" is an article by Edna Walters C J 4, who is advertising manager of Simpson's at the present time. She shows the value of advertising in the life of every American woman and tells what some alumnae have done in the advertising field.

It is said that the women want a man in authority that will curb "ungovernable youth, reckless and wild."

Von Hindenburg, his career, his face, his appearance before the public with his hand upon his sword, stand for discipline. If that is what the women want, they will probably get it.

The only trouble for the present is that they may also get more war. But they won't see another war in their generation if ninety per cent of the Germans have their way.

WISCONSIN NINE PRACTICES LONG FOR TWO GAMES

Play Ohio Saturday, Michigan on Monday; Larson Behind the Bat

The Wisconsin baseball team is hard at work daily in practices for two big games away, which come against Ohio, Saturday, and Michigan, Monday.

Since the defeat by Illinois last Saturday, Coach Guy S. Lowman has deemed it advisable to shift his line-up.

Larson, Catcher

Larson, who has been playing center field, is now being worked at catcher, because of his good throw to second base. Lambole and Barnum are playing in the place vacated by Larson.

Coach Lowman cut the squad to 18 men, when six men were told to turn in their uniforms Monday night. Schmitt, a catcher, has come out for baseball again.

A practice game is to be played with the Madison Blues today. Last night the team had a scrimmage with the freshmen, Lustig and Clausen pitching. The game today will probably be three innings.

Mickey Walker to Make Picture For Jack Kearns

LOS ANGELES—Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion, arrived here Monday from the east to start work on a series of motion pictures under the direction of Jack Kearns, manager of the actor-pugilist, Jack Dempsey. Walker plans to leave for training for a bout with Lefty Cooper in that city May 16, after which he will return to his acting here.

DOLPHIN CLUB WILL HAVE ANNUAL SWIM

After opening its program with the traditional Dolphin club dive, Dolphin club will swim, dive, and plunge through more than 15 unique swimming events when it presents its annual exhibition at 7:30 o'clock Friday and Saturday nights in Lathrop hall pool. Josephine Winter '26 is general chairman of the exhibition.

More than 12 stunts have been planned for the 14th event on the program. The club has been practicing in preparation for the presentation of these stunts together with the other events all during the year.

Tickets may be secured from any Dolphin club member or at the door for 25 cents. Rhoda Koch '25 is program and ticket chairman for the exhibition.

PHI KAPPA TAU WINS MAT TITLE FROM FARMHOUSE

Championship Won When Tie is Broken in the Final Match

With the result in doubt to the last moment of the final match, Phi Kappa Tau last night won the championship of the Interfraternity wrestling league from Farmhouse, when they took the fall in the heavyweight class, thereby breaking the 7 to 7 tie and annexing the victory.

Every match was fast and hard fought, though none went into overtime periods. In the heavyweight class, Johnson, Phi Kappa Tau, finally pinned Eves, Farmhouse, when Eves was downed in a critical position at one corner of the mat. Peterson won the other fall for Phi Kappa Tau in throwing Cameron in the 175 pound class.

Thown Munn Style

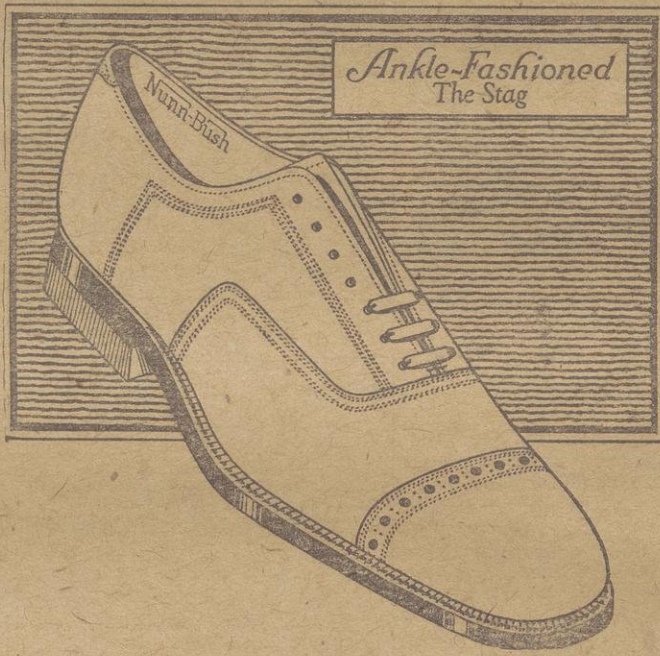

Harrison, of Farmhouse, took the decision in the 158 pound class when he won the advantage over Chapman. Earlier in the match, Chapman threw Harrison to the mat in true Wayne Munn fashion, but Harrison came back strong and took the decision.

Rundell won the only fall for Farmhouse. He threw Griffey in the 145 pound class after having the advantage for the entire period. In the 135 pound division, Little, of Phi Kappa Tau, won the decision from Rott.

The citizenship of France and the high finance of the United States will look upon Von Hindenburg's election with alarm.

FOOTBALL MEN TO STAGE REAL CONTEST TODAY

Will Be in Honor of Visiting Rotarians; Game Starts at 4:15

A genuine, 40 minute football game played on the varsity field inside Randall stadium is on deck in honor of the visiting Rotarians today at 4:15 o'clock, with Coach Little's "Reds" pitted against the reserve "Blacks."

Today's scrimmage will be the last of a series of these Red-Black games that have made this year's spring session famous throughout the country as one of the most enthusiastic turnouts for spring practice that Wisconsin or any other school has ever witnessed.

Coach Little has been following out his policy of teaching a man to play football by giving him plenty of scrimmage by using these Red-Black games. Rivalry has been keen for a place on the Red squad containing the best material and whenever a man shows the stuff gridders are made of he is given a Red jersey.

With the ending of today's game this idea will be dismissed, and the squad will be divided so that in scrimmage a strong line will be supported by a weak backfield and vice versa.

Finish May 14

From now until the end of the spring sessions, May 14, the squad will be driven at top speed. To develop varsity material now so that real work can begin immediately when the team trots onto Randall field for the first time next fall is the aim of Coach Little.

Many men from the home towns of visiting Rotarians will be in today's lineup and the visitors have expressed their desire to see the local boys from their home towns in action in moleskins.

Badger Crews Of Yore

Harry (Dad) Vail, whose name is synonymous with the word crew at Wisconsin, came to take charge of rowing here in 1911. For 14 years he taught Wisconsin men the power and skill in an oar, and is now coaching two crews for the historic Hudson race on the old battleground at Poughkeepsie.

During the four years he had coached Badger oarsmen, Ten Eyck, mentor before Vail, had watched the varsity crews defeat Syracuse in 1907 and Washington at Madison in 1910.

Dad Vail came to Wisconsin as a proven oarsman. He was born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, 65 years ago, the youngest of a family of oarsmen, and began to pull his own boat at the age of 15.

As a professional sculler, Vail met Jack Gaudaur, then champion of the world, and was beaten by less than two lengths. Afterwards, the Badger coach rowed against the best scullers in Canada and at the time he began his coaching career here Dad Vail was victorious over many of them.

JONES FALSELY ACCUSED AS TO PROTEST OF MAN

Track Coach Did Not File Complaint Against Brooker

Sport writers in the largest middle western daily and other lesser sport sheets did Tom Jones, veteran Wisconsin track coach, a gross injustice when they accused him of protesting Brooker, Wolverine captain and star pole vaulter.

While Coach Jones was in Chicago at an alumni banquet and could not be reached, the report was circulated that the Badger mentor had protested Brooker's ineligibility, so that through the use of retroactive action on the part of the committee, the Big Ten indoor title would go to Wisconsin after Brooker's points had been thrown out.

A Sportsman

Anyone who knows Coach Jones knows that he is too great a sportsman to do a thing of this order. Coach Jones has known for sometime that Brooker has been ineligible on account of competing against Notre Dame in his freshman year, but he has left the matter of his eligibility to the conference committee on that matter.

When interviewed, Coach Jones expressed his sympathy for the Michigan track team in losing a captain of Brooker's high calibre and expressed deep regret that anyone should consider him the source of complaint against Brooker. All accusations were emphatically denied.

Jones Silent

As to Wisconsin becoming the 1925 indoor champion now that Brooker is ruled out, Coach Jones had nothing to say. He did not know whether any retroactive action would go into effect or not. His only comment on that side of the situation was that he did not want Wisconsin to win a title in that way.

THE LONG DISTANCE GRIND

One of the hardest events in the field of athletics is the long distance cross country run. It seems never-ending; it requires the greatest endurance; it demands that a man be ever on the job, from the beginning to the end, a long, steady grind lasting approximately half an hour. So utterly different than a short spring, when all is lost or won in a few seconds' time, it is more apt to show up the real stuff of which a man is made.

Such is the four years' grind in the attainment of learning and high scholarship. And for its goal there is, not a white tape stretched across the lane, but a Phi Beta Kappa key. Yesterday it was announced that 50 students in the university had won that race and reached their goal—ahead of their school-mates. If they loafed at all, it was necessary for them to take a mighty spurt in order to make up for lost time. But there was little loafing for them, unless they happened to be abnormally brilliant. They plugged, and they reached their goal.

Yes, they plugged; and as a result they doubtless lost a great deal of the real pleasure of attending university, much of life—some of them, those who did nothing but plug. And for that reason the Phi Beta is now thought as a begoggled maniac with unkempt clothing and atrocious manners. Perhaps a few of them are. But where, oh where, is the logic behind such thoughts?

And if they did miss out on a bit of college life, if they did do little these last four years but grind, what then?

Two seniors were talking together the other day. They both agreed that their educations had been ridiculously and dismissably poor apologies for the acquisition of knowledge. They had each made an average of better than fair, they had each "gotten by." And they agreed that they had "gotten out" nothing of vital importance.

Then they agreed that the grind would probably get farther than they.

Ah well, and the Phi Beta has been known to turn the tables. It seems to be the old question of wanting what you haven't. But it is not altogether unfortunate that the book-worm, where he deserves that name, and the liver, where he deserves his, envy—even in a mild degree—each other.

WHY NOT FOR MEN?

Announcement in yesterday's issue of the Daily Cardinal that the scholarship fund provided by the

W. S. G. A. has now reached $1,000 brings to light the question of the need for more scholarships. There are usually plenty of loan funds available for students who wish to make application for them but there are not enough scholarships to supply the need.

The chairman of the committee on loans and scholarships reports that students hesitate to make application for loans for the reason that they do not wish to saddle themselves with the responsibility of paying back the money as soon as possible after graduation. There is no particular incentive for a needy student to apply for a loan. Anyone who can show an actual need for the money may get a loan without much trouble. Frequently the more apt the student in formulating a hard luck story the easier it is for him to get the loan regardless of the actual need. Scholarships on the other hand require a corresponding academic standing show that the student is worthy of consideration.

Several sororities have founded scholarships for women. W. S. G. A. in offering scholarships for women is carrying out in practice what it preaches in theory; service to those who need it most. But the men, to the contrary, have not done anything of a similar nature.

Foundation of a scholarship, or perhaps scholarships, for men would be an excellent thing for the Wisconsin union or some of the fraternities to do. As the leading organization fostering social activities for men the Union board might well offer such an inducement for higher scholastic attainment on the part of men. As the most prosperous organization financially it could well afford to do so.

Again, why not for the men?

SPRING ELECTIONS

Spring electioneering is beginning. Soon politics will be the principle small talk at all the campus tables. A very great deal will be said about the evils of politics, especially by those who have taken no part in them and who probably do not even take the trouble to vote. Campus politics, like national politics, are not wholly clean, but they are certainly not wholly evil. They supply real experience, simulating well political conditions in American life; and if student self-government is really necessary, politics are inevitable. A healthy interest, and, if necessary, a reforming interest in politics would be the best attitude for those who have such an aversion to present political practices. At this election particularly, with the new publications board to be decided upon, it is necessary to arouse the undergraduate body from its civic apathy.

OUR 1925 GRIDDERS

This afternoon will present the first opportunity for students to see next fall's football team in action. A short game will be played chiefly for the entertainment of the visiting Rotarians who are here, but students will find more than entertainment on the program.

The men who will make gridiron history for Wisconsin next fall have been working steadily for weeks that we might have a team to be proud of in the Big Ten. And among those who have worked harder than the rest is George Little. He has been in the line, the backfield, on the ends, drilling his charges to mold the strongest possible combination.

Wisconsin's measure of support for its football team next season will be determined in part by the showing this afternoon. It is easy to cheer for a winner, but the cheers that count most for the men in harness now will show how much their work is appreciated.

And in addition the track squad will be put through their paces, and the baseball team will show its wares.

You will be there.

Mrs. Anthony W. Cook has declared that there is no cure for war and urges that the United States "prepare." But, like a logical woman, she does not give her reasons, according to press reports, for believing that there is no cure for war.

Serenade season is upon us. What with the amateur songsters parading the streets in the late hours and the clarinet artists practicing Haresfoot will be welcome by the time Saturday gets here.

It is beginning to look as though those who "supported the Memorial union" are going to have their efforts rewarded before very long.

Write home to mother today and ask her to come to Wisconsin May 29, 30, and 31.

Just as an unpleasant reminder, there are only three more weeks for weekend parties.

Wisconsin still lacks funds. What are you doing about it?

King Equus holds sway next Wednesday. Rather a horse on us.

SOCIETY NOTE

The sorority of Delta Delta Delta entertained at a charming fire party at their gorgeous mansion on Langdon street Monday noon. The fire department and the entire residency of the Latin quarter were the guests of honor. The Delta Pi Deltas, who had celebrated their fire the night before, were present in full force. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done, the brave fire laddies breaking a Madison record when they snuffed out the blaze without breaking any windows. A speech by the fire chief was a feature. "The fire caught us totally unprepared," said a prominent member of the sorority today, "but we hope to have things better arranged at our next fire. It is quite likely that sandwiches will be served at that time."

A TRIP TO BLACK EARTH MAY BE MADE FOR NINETY CENTS. BUT WHO WANTS TO GO TO BLACK EARTH?

Argon put on his new knickers and ambled out to the Vilas park zoo Sunday afternoon. It is an open question whether he was half as amused by looking at the monkeys as they were by looking at him.

The Literary Ramblings of Argon the Lazy, which are to be published in next month's Lit, have been finished and given to the editors. There is no doubt that they are ramblings, but there is quite a discussion as to whether or not they are literary. The consensus of opinion seems to be that their sole value consists in the fact that the reader can discard them at any time without feeling that he is missing anything.

Elections to Phi Beta Kappa were held recently. Through some oversight neither Arg, Meth, or Heppa Dug Tripe were elected.

One of the features of the Horse

Show is to be the three and five bar jumps. It is undecided whether Oh Henrys or the customary Hersheys will be used.

We broke rashly into Rab's room the other day and went over to his desk, where he was writing his entry for the Vilas Prize.

"Did you," we asked, "ever hear about the man who was so stingy that he flunked five courses so that he would not have to buy new textbooks the next semester?" "No," said Rab, "what did he do?" Please omit flowers.

A FAIR QUESTION

Speaking of the weather, I wonder if fair weather is fair weather or just fair weather?

BeeTee

The Delta Pi Delta fire is easy to explain. You see, Sigma Delta Chi was holding a business meeting in the house at the time and the mansion was fired with enthusiasm about the plans for the gridiron banquet.

The Sig Chi washed Bosco yesterday; so we can't get any dirt on him today.

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

In Australia many people find it almost impossible to tip their hat without raising an arm.

The Theta Chis are in mourning. The Chi forest, consisting of one (1) tree, is to be cut down to make way for their new home.

And still W. A. J. hasn't shown up! The reputation of Skyrockets is at stake. A week of advertising and no result! The eight armed dibrancheate Cephalopoda wants W. A. J. Hey, W. A. J., where are you!

Cheerio,

ARGON THE LAZY.

Readers Say So

The communication appearing in this column yesterday morning concerning tennis courts, purporting to be written by Oscar A. Kaner, was not written by the person in question but by some students who wished to play a practical joke on him.

In fairness to Mr. Kaner the Daily Cardinal takes this means of informing its readers that it was not his letter and that he had nothing to do with it. The letter was worded in such fashion as to make Mr. Kaner appear ridiculous.

Contributors and others who address letters to this column are reminded that such communications are accepted in good faith by the Daily Cardinal and are treated in confidence.

If it is necessary the Daily Cardinal will require every writer of a communication to present the letter in person and give some evidence of his identity.

This column is conducted for the service of readers and subscribers and for no other purpose. The Daily Cardinal will not allow any such tampering with its news or editorial columns.

Home Washwringers Kept Busy By Tons of Student Linen

By W. W.

The washwoman dozed with her feet on a wash tub.

A road of laundry cases placed end to end stretched before her. "Highway 35 miles long," read the sign-post. The path vanished and a crane came into view moving loads of the containers, one ton at a trip. It dipped 373 times. Above her towered a huge pile of bulging canvas and fiber luggage 373,000 feet into the air. She counted them fascinated.

"Seventy thousand," she was depeating when the mountain tottered and she was buried in the avalanche. She yawned and started the wringer.

Bridget's dream would become a reality if the yearly shipment of laundry cases from the university were treated in a like manner. Three hundred and fifty-five sent out every day in the week bring the yearly total to 74,720. Most cases are shipped on Thursday and Friday. Specials run high on Saturday, the post office officials report.

Approximately 1,558 letters daily are mailed to home and friends by students. The mail station at Sumner-Champton drug store and the branch post office on University avenue together sell approximately $75,000 in stamps a year. Both trade almost exclusively with student trade.

DEDICATE HOSPITAL AT CAPITOL TODAY

Blaine, Phillips, Birge to Speak at Formal Exercises in Assembly Chamber

Special exercises in the assembly chamber at the Capitol today and speeches by Wisconsin men will mark the formal dedication of the Wisconsin General hospital as a memorial to those who served in the world war.

Among those who are to deliver addresses at the session are Governor Blaine, E. L. Phillips, former governor, President Birge, H. Hugo Kellar, commander of the American Legion, Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman of the regents of the university, and Dr. A. J. Ochsner, Chicago, a Wisconsin graduate.

The Wisconsin General hospital was authorized under a substitute bill offered by Senator Olson and was built from funds remaining from the amount raised under the soldier bonus bill.

All crippled children and indigent persons from the entire state are offered the opportunity for treatment in the hospital, which has a capacity for 300 persons. Any who are suffering from a peculiar disease, or who are unable to bear the expense of operation or treatment can get the necessary medical attention if sent to the hospital upon the recommendation of a physician. The expenses of such care are borne equally by the state and by the locality from which the patient comes.

The completion of the Wisconsin General hospital is an advance in the progress of medical treatment under the direction of the state and is a decided advance in humanitarian efforts.

Student Makes $712 in 40 Days

Unusual New Plan
Used by A. G. Davis
Devised by Successful
Business Man
Who Struggled Thru
College.

A. G. DAVIS

Every University of Wisconsin student is interested in a good sound method of adding dollars to his bank account. Not only the student earning his way through college, but every one can use several hundred extra dollars.

The same plan used by Albert G. Davis is now open to students of the University of Wisconsin. The St. Louis business man who made it possible for Davis to earn $712 in just 40 days knows the student's financial handicap. He earned his way through college. Now that he is in a position to do it, he is making it easy for other students to earn the money they need.

The unusual money making plan that helped Davis is too lengthy to cover in these columns, but he suggests that every student write Mr. M. H. Rhodes, 1400 Pendleton, St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Rhodes has offered to outline the details of this dignified, business plan to students who are sincere about wanting to earn good money through conscientious effort. The number of students to participate in this opportunity is limited and you should write Mr. Rhodes at once. Just ask for his "College Student's Proposal."

The Board for Publications

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the proposed Publication Board written by Hampton K. Snell of the Student Senate. The articles are printed to acquaint the students with the details of the measure.)

By HAMPTON K. SNELL

The new publication board plan recently accepted by the student senate for presentation to a referendum vote of the student body follows in almost every particular plans now in effect and working successfully at the Universities of Illinois and Michigan. However, the system those schools use are much more drastic and involve much more centralized control than is proposed in the senate's articles.

In a series of articles the separate sections of the Publication Board provisions will be discussed in detail and apparently doubtful or obscure passages presented in the meaning intended.

The first section deals with membership on the board. "This Board shall consist of seven members, 3 from the faculty or instructional staff, 3 from the general student body, and one from the Student Senate." In other plans the faculty is given either a majority of at least four-sevenths of control.

"Election of members: (1) The 3 faculty-instructional members of the Board shall be appointed by the Student Life and Interests Committee; one member from the Journalism staff, one from the staff of Business Administration, and one from the professors and instructors in general.

"(2) The Board members from the student body shall consist of 2 Seniors and one Junior. The candidates must have had at least one and one-half years of university publications' staff experience. Nomination is to be made by a petition signed by at least 50 undergraduate students, the petitions to be filed with the Student Life and Interests Committee not later than 3 weeks before the date of election.

"(3) The members from the Student Senate shall be elected from and by that organization and must have had at least one year of university publications' experience."

By these provisions an experienced group of Board members must be secured, guided by faculty members best fitted to conduct work necessary on the board.

"(4) No student members of the Board may hold a staff position on a student publication later than 2 months after election to the Board.

"(5) All candidates must qualify under faculty provisions for eligibility.

"(6) Vacancies due to resignation, ineligibility, or lack of candidates for election shall be filled by nominations of the Board, approved by the Student Life and Interests Committee, the Board then to elect the necessary members from the nominees."

Members of the various senior class committees will meet at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Woman's building. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock, and a business meeting at which reports from chairmen of the committees will be read will follow. The meeting is for committee chairmen and all members of the committees.
