BADGER DEBATERS DEFEAT GOPHERS AT MINNEAPOLIS

Affirmative Team Loses Supreme Court Argument With Northwestern

While the Wisconsin affirmative debating team was losing to Northwestern, here last night, the negative trio, defeated the affirmative team of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. Excellence in delivery and more definite arguments characterized the victories of Wisconsin's negative over Minnesota and Northwestern's negative over Wisconsin's affirmative.

Upholding the present system of judicial review as better than congressional reenactment of laws once declared unconstitutional by the supreme court as proposed by the affirmative team of Wisconsin, the negative team of Northwestern composed of Wight Bakke, Willard Palmer, and Stewart Ball won the decision of the judges in the first intercollegiate debate of the year last night.

Northwestern Points Firm

Speaking for the affirmative, the Wisconsin team composed of John Sumner '26, Eileen Blackley '25, and Glen Bell '25 were unable to tear down the arguments of the negative. The decision was given by Prof. E. C. McBride of the speech department of the University of Iowa. Prof. P. B. Potter of the political science department, presided.

Both teams showed clear thinking but Northwestern excelled in delivery. Because of the success of the present system of judicial check on legislation, the members of the negative team were able to

RELIGIOUS CONVO WORKERS NAMED

Committeemen For Annual Conference Appointed By Chairman

Announcement of all committees for the annual religious conference which will be held March 28 to 31, with Harry Emerson Fosdick as the main speaker, made yesterday by Dorothy John '25 and Clifford Franzen '25, chairmen of the meeting. The committees are as follows:

Finance, Charles E. Nelson '27, chairman; Helen Herman '25, Frieda Auchter '25, Charles Husting '27, and Morton Stowe '28.

Publicity, Hillier Kriehbaum '28, chairman; Margaret Chamberlain '25, Alice Conony '26, George Schutt '26, John Gillin '27, and Florence Allen '27.

Luncheon, Dorritt Astrom '27, chairman; Kenneth Beggs '26, Eleanor Warren '26, and Orvil Schwoerke '27.

Arrangements, George Hanna, chairman; Carl Kasper '26, Robert Schwenger '27, and Truman Marsh '25.

Music and program, Clara Hertzberg '25, chairman; Esther Nelson '25, Robert Nethercut '25, Margaret Patch '26, and Marion Cunningham '27.

Preliminary plans are practically complete, for the meetings will be held in Lathrop hall and the men's gymnasium, and will open with an all university convocation Friday, March 27.

Theme and State Guide Book Tally; Co-ed is Expelled

"The university's enrollment is reduced by one-seventieth of one per cent as a result of action taken by the disciplinary committee Wednesday night in South hall," remarked Prof. Ray S. Owen, chairman of the committee, yesterday. A freshman woman was expelled for plagiarizing in an English theme and for prevaricating about it to the committee.

The woman was convicted for a similar offense last January, when she was fined five credits for plagiarism and five for prevarication. At that time she claimed her instructor was prejudiced against her.

In English 1b, under a different teacher, she was to write a description of the capitol. Evidently her library contained "The Wisconsin Capitol, Official Guide and History," for her theme and it almost tallied.

M'FEE LECTURE IS ON MEDITERRANEAN

Open Sale of Tickets For Address By Noted Author, Begins Today

Tickets for William McFee's lecture, "My Mediterranean," which will be given next Thursday night at Music hall, will go on sale this morning at the University Pharmacy, Hook Brothers' music shop and the Book Corner. The general admission is 50 cents. The lecture is being given under the auspices of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity.

Mr. McFee comes to Madison Thursday morning from Minneapolis.

His lecture is not intended to be a popular one full of clever quips, but in it he tries to give a picture of the various seaports along the Mediterranean, of the people in those ports, the natives and their attitudes.

His Mediterranean begins with his first voyage, 23 years ago. Since then he has kept his rendezvous in a score of secondhand bookshops from Marseilles to Saloniki, to Port Said.

None of the material which he uses in his lectures has appeared in any of his half-dozen books. It is from notes which have not been transmuted into fiction that the author lectures.

He started out as a sort of Harry Franck, on a tramp steamer loading coal for Genoa, and he has been shipping ever since in some engineering capacity.

The best known of his works are "Command," "Casuals of the Sea," "Aliens," "An Ocean Tramp," "A Six Hour Shift," "Harbors of Memory," and "Captain Macedoine's Daughter."

UNIVERSITY OF WALES PROF. SPEAKS TODAY

C. K. Webster, professor of modern history at the University of Wales, will talk on "The European Alliance of 1815-1822," under the auspices of the history department, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in 165 Bascom hall.

Among the 12 foreign authorities on history who have been invited by the American Historical association to attend the meeting to be held in this country, Professor Webster is one.

This evening, Professor Webster will speak to the graduate students in history on "History As An Applied Science." Both lectures are free and the former is open to the public.

Engineers Prepare Candidate List for St. Pat Parade Chief

Plumbers Celebrate Annual Event March 28; Many Groups Plan to Enter Floats in Procession

Special meetings of the engineering societies are being held this week for the purpose of nominating candidates for the St. Pat electoral race, according to James Vernon '26, newly elected president of Polygon, engineering society, and general chairman of the parade. The parade will be held March 28.

One candidate will be nominated by each of the five engineering societies. Other "dark horse" candidates may run on independent platforms if they desire. Votes are to be sold at the rate of 10 votes for a cent. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes will be honored as St. Pat in the parade. Norman A. Rick '25, is chairman of the elections committee.

A combined meeting of members of Polygon and the men on the various parade committees will be held on Monday to complete plans.

All the engineering organization and several social fraternities have signified their intentions to enter floats in the parade, according to Vincent Thieman '25, chairman of the floats committee. Every fraternity boasting of a few plumbers has been urged to enter a special feature in the event.

Prizes will be awarded also for the best individual events. More interest is being shown every year in the individual stunts. The owner of the longest beard will receive a coveted prize. With only slightly more than two weeks remaining before the parade, several plumbers are beginning to apply tonic to their chins.

Picnic Breakfast, Hike, Outing Club Plan For Sunday

A picnic breakfast on the drive will be the feature of the regular meeting of Outing club to be held at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

The club will assemble at Lathrop hall and hike out the lake past the willows, where breakfast is to be prepared. New members will then be inducted and the plans for an extensive spring sport program will be discussed and decided upon.

All persons desiring to join Outing club are invited to the breakfast, and those who are planning to attend can sign on the club bulletin board in Lathrop hall or communicate immediately with Mildred Hansen '26 at Badger 5440.

70 SHORT COURSE MEN TO GRADUATE

President of Oakland City College Will Give Commencement Address

Class day exercises for the graduating short course class of the College of Agriculture will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Agricultural auditorium. About 70 men will be graduated.

The short course orchestra and glee club which have proven very popular, will furnish the music. Ward Nelson, Racine county, president of the class, will give an address which will be followed by the class history and prophecy by R. D. Benedict, Kenosha county, Gordon J. Rice, Taylor county, and Donald Bright, Jackson county. Others on the program include Ray Hurlburt, Jackson county, Mrs. Warner, Walworth county, Thomas Metcalf, Sauk county, and Norman Evenson, Fond du Lac county.

Dr. W. P. Dearing, president of Oakland City college, Oakland City, Indiana, will give the commencement address at the Commencement day exercises which will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the auditorium of Agricultural hall. President Birge will also speak, and Earl S. Calvert will give the class oration.

Six-Weeks Summer School Planned For Girls in Industries

A second six-week summer school for industrial girls from factories and offices is being planned at the University of Wisconsin by the university and Madison branches of the Y. W. C. A. Last summer eight industrial girls attended, and the experiment worked so well that plans are now being made for 25 to be sent from middle western communities.

The girls are to be selected and sent to Wisconsin by their home communities. They will live either in a dormitory or a university house with regular summer session students. Prof. D. D. Leschier, economics department, has outlined a course in economics suited to the practical experiences of industrial girls, and special courses in English and in physical education will also be provided. The girls will be in charge of a supervisor with tutors to assist them.

Lois Bacon, student-industrial scholarship chairman, has estimated at $100 the cost per girl of room, board, tuition, and her share of paying the trained director.

GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT TONIGHT

Mid-West Champions Will Present Wisconsin Program Tonight

Wisconsin spirit in song! This is the spirit of the program which the Men's Glee club, champion of the Middle West, will present in its annual opening concert at 8 o'clock tonight in Music hall.

After having given 11 public concerts, having competed with the strongest glee clubs of the country in contests at Chicago and New York, and having completed months of intensive training, the club, under the direction of Prof. E. Earle Swinney, is prepared to sing tonight and tomorrow night for its home audiences.

Tickets for tonight's concert, of which a large number yet remain, will be on sale at the door, according to J. F. Murphy, club manager.

The program to be given tonight by the club will include the prize song "Come Again Sweet Love" by Dowland, and the club's choice song, "Dance of the Gnomes" by MacDowell, which were sung at both the Chicago and New York contests.

The songs the club will sing range from the lightly humorous type of "The Bobigale" by Hahn to semi-classical numbers as "Goin' Home" adopted from the large of the New World symphony by Dvorak.

Commons Talks to Labor Committee on Unemployment

Unemployment insurance was the subject of discussion before the senate committee on labor, agriculture, and industries, in the chamber of the state capitol, yesterday afternoon. In the crowd that filled the chamber were many university students and instructors, attracted by Prof. John R. Commons' talk.

E. G. Draper, New York city, spoke in support of the unemployment bill. Professor Commons likewise favored the measure, calling attention to its similarity to workmen's compensation which at one time was also vigorously opposed.

Leading the attack against the bill was Roger Sherman Hoar of Milwaukee. He attempted to show that there was no analogy between workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance. The former, he declared, was a result of conditions peculiar to the industries affected by the legislation. Unemployment, he explained, was caused by world-wide conditions for which the industries affected by the insurance measure were not responsible.

BADGERS OUTPLAY BOILERMAKERS IN HARD FIGHT, 32-26

Meanwell's Men Worry Purdue By Continuous Dash and Drive

LA FAYETTE, Ind., March 12 — Although outfought by the invading Badgers, the Boilermakers were able to come up from behind in the closing minutes of play to take the final basketball game of the season for Purdue in a rough battle, the game ending 32 to 26.

The Lambert men held a slight advance through the first half which ended 14 to 13, but Meanwell's five got going in the second period and had the old Gold and Black warriors worried until Robbins put the game away.

Brooks Makes Four Goals

Brooks kept the Wisconsin five in the running with four goals from short range after many long Badger attempts had gone wild. He was unable to do anything in the second period, but Merkle stepped into his shoes and had the Boilermaker fans in a frenzy with his four long goals. The Lambert men appeared to have gone stale while the Badgers were on their toes at all times with a dash and drive, taking advantage of every opportunity to get the ball.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI PLAN CHICAGO PARTY

The first Wisconsin class party for alumni will be in Keedy's studio, 867 N. Dearborn street, Chicago, tomorrow. More than 100 members of the class of 1924 are expected to attend. The party is being planned by Nella Burgess '24, and Vernon C. Beardsley '24, associate editor of the 1924 Badger. This party will be an experiment in Wisconsin class reunions in Chicago. The Wisconsin track team, which will be in Chicago, Saturday, to compete in the Big Ten conference meet at Evanston, will be guests at the party.

DELAY ACTION ON PUBLICATION BOARD

Senate Adopts Change in Constitution to Provide Veteran Board

At a special meeting of the Student senate held Wednesday night, the proposed Publications board was postponed for decision until April 1, and attention was confined to other amendments to the present senate constitution. The proposed changes will be referred to a referendum vote of the students in the coming spring elections.

The constitutional clause governing the election of senate members was changed to provide that two of the three juniors and one of the sophomore members be elected for a two-year term, thus providing for an experienced nucleus of the senate at the beginning of each year.

The present constitution has no provision for the filling of vacancies in the senate except by regular fall elections. A clause was adopted providing for such emergencies. Further provision was made that "all boards shall have the power to fill vacancies on their own boards."

In order not to be hindered by absentee senate members, the new constitution provision was made that a senate quorum shall consist of seven members instead of a majority as is now necessary to transact business.

Further provision was passed stating that "if a student member shall be absent from three successive regular meetings his seat thereby becomes permanently vacant and shall be filled as provided" for regular vacancies.

TRACKMEN LEAVE FOR BIG TEN MEET, BENT ON VICTORY

To Compete in Preliminaries
Tonight; Illinois Seems Likely Winner

The vanguard of the Badger track team will leave for Evanston, the battleground of the Big Ten track struggle, this morning. Coach Jones is taking all of the men who have to compete in the preliminaries this morning and the rest of the team will leave later today.

Preliminaries will be run in the dash, quarter mile and half mile runs, the hurdles, also in the pole vault and broad jump. The Badger chances for success will depend on the number of men that qualify for the finals.

Stars in Mile

A further consideration of the meet, event for event, gives the Illini a first place in the mile. However, it is possible that Coach Jones will enter both Bergstresser and Captain Valley in the mile, which means that Wisconsin should take two places in this event.

Phelps of Iowa is hoped to win the two mile as he is only entered in this event. In all previous meets the Hawkeye star has run both the mile and two mile. Kubly will furnish him with the most opposition and may even best him to the tape.

The hurdles look all Illinois and Michigan with such stars as Kinsey and Ream of the Suckers and Hubbard of Michigan. Guthrie and Snyder of Ohio are two other likely point winners in the high sticks.

Schwarze and McGinnis

Schwarze and McGinnis are the best bets for first places for Wisconsin. If Schwarze is at his best he is in a class by himself in the shotput. Although Russell of Chicago won the event last year and has the best record for this season many believe that Chuck McGinnis will better the Maroon jumper.

Wisconsin can do little better than tie for a third or fourth place in the pole vault with such a galaxy of stars as Brooker of Michigan, Brownell of Illinois and Bouscher of Northwestern competing.

Wisconsin, Northwestern and Chicago will fight it out for high honors in the relay with the Maroons with their quartet of McFarlane, Cusack, Ravenscroft and Spence having a slight advantage.

Track Handicap

One of the main handicaps that the Badger runners will have to overcome is running on the dirt track at Paten gymnasium as they have been running on a cinder track all season and the change to the hard dirt track will be hard on the men.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

ALUMNI ISSUE BULLETIN

The Alumni association of the department of physical education has issued a 1925 bulletin containing not only news of what has been done in the department at Wisconsin during the school year, but also articles dealing with the work of alumni at other schools. The paper which Miss Mary A. Brownell, instructor in the department of physical education, delivered before the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Washington, D. C., in December, is reprinted in the bulletin.

Little and Pyre Attend Coaches Meet in Chicago

Coach George Little and J. F. A. Pyre, chairman of the Athletic council, will attend the meeting of conference coaches to be held at Chicago today and tomorrow, representing Wisconsin.

Among the topics to be taken up that will affect Wisconsin athletics are:

1. Attitude of sport participants towards officials and vice versa.
2. Ruling as to when semester competition ends.
3. Ruling as to whether a man under contract with a professional baseball club is ineligible and under professional rating.
4. Scholarships.
5. Review of studies.

Hopes For Victory

Coach T. E. Jones

Coach Jones is taking his Badger track team to the Big Ten track meet with better chances of winning the title than Wisconsin has had for a number of years. Through the efforts of Coach Jones, Wisconsin is taking a new step in athletics by sending the track team on a two weeks' trip to California.

LITTLE, JONES WILL SPEAK IN MILWAUKEE

Coach George Little will speak before the Milwaukee "W" club and alumni association at the Milwaukee Athletic club March 19. Coach T. E. Jones will also speak, and Coach W. E. Meanwell has been invited to attend the meeting and speak. Judge "Ike" Karel will be toastmaster. Coach Little will also speak before the Hi-Y members of the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. on March 29.

Wisconsin's Gymnastic Team

The tumblers and apparatus men have their last home match here Saturday with Purdue. It will mark the last performance for three members of the squad, Captain Schmidt, Hicks and Kress.

HARVARD CLUB HEARS PROF. HART MARCH 19

The Harvard club of Madison will hold its annual spring dinner on Thursday evening, March 19, at the University club, according to Prof. Pitman B. Potter of the political science department.

Prof. A. B. Hart, chairman of the department of government at Harvard will speak on "Recent Developments at Harvard." Plans will be formulated regarding the meeting of the associated Harvard clubs which will be held in Baltimore next June.

Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the Courses in Chemistry and Chemistry-Commerce, is president of the Harvard club of Madison, which includes a number of townspeople, but the majority of members of which are members of the faculty of the university.

GREEK FOUL SHOOTERS ON FIRST ROUND PLAY

The Interfraternity Free Throwing competition began last night, but as the men still stood on the foul lines at a late hour, it was impossible to get the complete scores.

The fraternities that tossed last night are Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi Sigma, Triangle, Delta Sigma Pi, Delta Pi Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Tau Sigma Omicron, Kappa Sigma, Chi Psi, Alpha Chi Rho, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Phi Kappa Psi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

A conference championship will be determined by comparing the scores from the various fraternities at the universities that have entered. Tau Kappa Epsilon of Wisconsin won both the local and conference championship last year. A large cup was awarded to them by the department of intramurals at the University of Minnesota in addition to the silver basketball awarded here.

Cage Jottings

With the Purdue game past, the Badgers journey to Ohio to meet the Buckeyes, Saturday. The Wisconsin team has an excellent chance to win. The Badgers have been improving all along and will no doubt strive to make a fitting climax to a disastrous year.

The latest scoring standings give Logan of Indiana first place in the list with 124 points to his credit. Miner, Ohio forward, is second with 122. The season will probably end with Miner in first place, because Indiana has finished its schedule while the Bucks must meet Wisconsin yet. Miner can be sure of getting more than two points.

Third place in the list also goes to an Ohio man—Cunningham. He has made 104 points. Spradling, the fast Purdue forward, has made 84 points. This is a remarkable total considering that he started the first week in February.

Chicago wins the cellar title undisputed! The Maroons were trampled on by Northwestern Wednesday night by a score of 17 to 6.

On to the last game, Badgers' and "BEAT THE BUCKEYES!"

METALLURGY FUND IS GIVEN BY STEEL FIRM

A fellowship in metallurgy of $1,500 has just been established at the university by the Milwaukee Steel Foundry company, and Leo Shapiro, Madison, has been appointed under the fellowship to make a study of the technical problems peculiar to the steel casting industry.

Mr. Shapiro is carrying on the research projects at the university in collaboration with A. T. Baumer, works manager of the Milwaukee foundry, who is enrolled as a graduate student in the university class of graduate engineers conducted in Milwaukee by the university extension division.

Mr. Baumer's work is under university direction, and Mr. Shapiro will further the experiment in the engineering laboratory at Madison.

CARDINAL READERS TO GET TRACK WIRE

Daily Cardinal readers will be given first hand wire service on both the preliminaries and finals of the Big Ten indoor conference track meet this week end. George Dennis, who has been writing track for The Daily Cardinal all season, will go to Evanston today to send back the reports.

PREP CAGERS IN FREE THROW TILT

Berg Promotes Foul Shooting
For First Time in State
High Schools

State team champions and a state individual champion will be determined in the Wisconsin high school basketball free throwing competition that George Berg, director of intramurals, is now promoting. Eighteen high schools from the state have already answered the call and have sent for the necessary blanks with which to record the play.

The high school boy making the greatest number of goals in 50 trials will be known as the state champion, and the team of five which amasses the most successful shots will be the state championship team. All the free throwing is to be completed by March 28.

A special medal will be awarded to the victorious youth, and individual medals and cups will go to the championship team.

Foul shooting competition seems to have originated in the old game of "freeze out." Last year free throwing reached conference proportions, and now it is being made into a state wide sport, through the efforts of George Berg.

The high schools that have signed for the play are Menominee, Sextonville, Pewaukee, Barron, Muscoda, Walworth, New Glarus, Stevens Point, Chilton, Gilmanton, Oregon, West Allis, East Troy, Mauston, Watford, Beaver Dam, Algoma, and Rice Lake.

BADGER TANKMEN QUALIFY IN 5 OUT OF 7 SWIM RACES

Herschberger Places in Both
Dashes; Relay Team Makes
Best Time

CHICAGO, Ill.—(Special to the Daily Cardinal)—By placing two men in the 40 yard dash preliminaries; qualifying in the relay, plunge and 100 yard dash, the chances for Wisconsin winning a high place at the conference meet look bright.

Herschberger swam true to form by placing second to the touted Breyer of Northwestern in the 40 yard dash and by winning his heat in the 100. Hipple came through with a surprise by qualifying as one of the four finalists in the 40.

Cook was one of the six men to qualify in the plunge. In this event Eldridge of Illinois pulled the unexpected by winning from Lake, Iowa star, in record breaking time of 17 seconds even. Gilbreath came through in the back stroke with a second place to quality.

In the relay preliminaries the Badger quartet turned in a time of 1:19 1-5 which was better than any of the other qualifying teams. Summaries of the preliminaries are as follows:

Relay—Wisconsin, 1:19 1-5; Michigan, 1:19 3-5; N. W., 1:20 2-5; Minnesota, 1:22.

40 yard dash—Breyer (NW), Herschberger (W), Hipple (W), Gow (Mich). Time—18 3-5.

100 yard dash—Breyer (NW), Lambert (Ia), Howell (NW), Sampson (Mich). Time—2:31 1-5.

SORORITIES PICK CAPTAINS TO RUN IN RELAY MEET

Few Fraternity Teams Entered to Date; Deadline on Entries
Saturday

So far only eight fraternities have entered the interfraternity relay of the nineteenth annual relay carnival to be held next Saturday night in the annex. If the meet is to be a success it will be necessary for more fraternities to enter. Henry Bosch, general chairman of carnival, is planning on a last minute rush of entries. Saturday night is the latest possible to send entries plus a $10 entry fee to Chairman Bosch.

In the high school relays entries have been received from Monticello high school and the three Madison high schools. In the academy class Culver and Shattuck have entered teams.

Pick Captains

A good race is assured in the interfraternity relays as 19 of the fair Greek chapters have entered the competition. The following captains have been chosen for the sorority teams: Alpha Delta Pi, George Scott; Delta Delta Delta, Ray Kubly; Barnard hall, Walter Link; Pi Beta Phi, Victor Chapman; Phi Mu, George Piper; Kappa Delta, Charles Meissner; Delta Gamma, John Petaja; Chadbourne, Parker Shafer; Alpha Omicron Pi, Robert Schwenker; Alpha Phi, Russell Perry; Delta Zeta, Charles Bullamore; Alpha Chi Omega, Richard McKee; Alpha Xi Delta, Earl Elleson; Chi Omega, Ralph Schilke; Gamma Phi Beta, H. L. Stowe; Alpha Gamma Delta, Russell Trier; Phi Omega Pi, Walter Butz; Kappa Alpha Theta, Leslie Klevay; Alpha Epsilon Phi, Harry Cohen.

Many of the varsity men are not running in the meet but are saving themselves for the important California trip. This cuts out such star milers who would be captains of teams as Captain Vallely, Bergstresser, Cassidy and Hilberts. The team captains will meet sometime next week to select the other three members of their teams.

Those who heard Dr. Oskar F. Hagen, professor extraordinarius in the University of Goettingen, Germany, deliver any of his lectures on art here last semester, nay, those who are in any way interested in art will be rejoiced to hear that the university has appointed Dr. Hagen professor of the history of art in the Department of History and Criticism of Art and that Dr. Hagen has accepted the appointment.

For many years the late President Van Hise hoped to start some sort of work in art such as Dr. Hagen will institute here, but the war broke in on his efforts. Now, however, the hope is to be realized.

The number of students interested in Dr. Hagen's lectures of last semester, and more particularly, the kind of interest shown in his work, warrants the appointment. Dr. Hagen is a valuable man and Wisconsin should be glad to have him on its faculty.

But Wisconsin has had an especial knack at bringing valuable men to its ranks, or of bringing them up in its ranks, and then, after introducing them more or less to the country, of letting them go elsewhere with what approximates a "God-speed." Such has been the case almost every year, when valuable men who could have been kept here, who would have been only too glad to have remained here, have been allowed to go.

Didn't Harvard stretch every nerve to keep Dean Pound at his desk, with the students clamoring for him to stay? Didn't the student body at Illinois draw up a petition asking Stewart Sherman to remain on the Illinois faculty? Perhaps such a display of student sentiment really has little to do with a man's decision, but it does show forcefully to the men in charge of the institution in question that it would be a mistake to fail to make every effort to retain the professor in question.

The University of Goettingen has informed Dr. Hagen that he may return to his old position there any time he wishes to. Perhaps Yale or Michigan or Leland-Stanford or some other institution which has not taken from Wisconsin such first rate men as these, will offer Dr. Hagen a position two years hence, a position which it will be impossible and absurd for him to refuse unless Wisconsin can make as desirable an offer here.

Dr. Hagen will come to Wisconsin next fall, but will he come to stay? That is up to Wisconsin.

Wisconsin Should Know

EXTENDING THE CAMPUS TO THE BOUNDARIES OF THE STATE

The Extension Division

"The university is the institution and it is indeed the only institution whose campus can be coextensive with the state. It is the only institution whose clientele can be coextensive with the community at large. It is a central force for education, a unifying power in the larger social organization. In this work of unifying a democratic state, in maintaining democracy for our civilization, the university finds the University Extension department one of its most important, and, indeed, its indispensable instrument. University Extension was not established merely to rescue from the mass of ignorance in the community those souls who can be reached by correspondence-study, or by class study. But it is trying through these persons and through all whom it influences to effect that continual readjustment of society to environment which is necessary for the continuance of our institutions."

PRESIDENT E. A. BIRGE.

A Bird's-Eye View of the University's Extension Service

100,803 enrollments in Correspondence - Study courses were received up to July, 1924.

20,935 new enrollments were received during the biennium 1922-1924.

987 different communities used the package library service in the biennium; 695 of these had no libraries of their own.

18,179 package libraries were sent out in the past biennium—an increase of 1,065 over the number sent out in 1920-1922.

368 different towns and cities were assisted in the biennium in securing educational lecture programs and better music.

2,060 lectures and entertainments were given.

44 postgraduate medical lectures and clinics, demonstrating the newer methods of diagnosing and treating diseases, were given in 14 different localities in the state.

493 cities and villages were reached by the municipal reference service.

7,391 times service was rendered to municipalities.

430 communities were given special service by the Bureau of Community Development, and 85 conferences were held during the biennium 1922-1924.

15 Community Leadership Training Courses were conducted.

1,400 organizations received educational motion picture and lantern slide service in the last year of the biennium.

615,000 slides were lent.

33,300 reels of film were lent.

The Prisoner and the Professor

A little, red-headed man at Waupun prison takes one of the heaviest courses offered by the Extension Division. When he has finished the prison curriculum for the day, he undertakes the extension curriculum at night, and in four years of such night work he has completed with credit to himself nine correspondence courses, most of them in higher mathematics and electricity. His ambition is to be head of an electric power plant in South America when he finishes his term in two more years.

At an educational conference in Chicago recently Professor Roman, then head of the economics department of Syracuse university, chanced to meet a Wisconsin extension representative and exclaimed with pleasure to him and to others present that he had been able to take three Wisconsin extension courses in economics, courses which had enabled him to follow in the most effective way the developments in labor movements in which he was interested.

These instances probably represent extremes in the character of the extension enrollments, but they cannot over-emphasize the diversity of important interests the university is able to serve through extension.

Last year 26,505 people took courses offered by the Extension Division. Seventy-four per cent, or 19,613, were citizens of the state of Wisconsin. To them the university is constantly making available its best resources of information and trained minds.

WHOSE BOTTLE NOW?

Les Kissell and his Union Board are amazed over the new appearance of neat quarts of milk on the front porch of the Union Ruin—the last two mornings, explicitly. Speculation over the lacteal customer is rife in publications offices. Suspicion points to Cliff Franseen, who is training for the Military ball, and who may have found a milk diet beneficial. With the Alumni

Guy Stanton Ford '95, head of the graduate school of the University of Minnesota, may be offered the presidency of the university. Mr. Ford has recently been made a member of the board for the Rhodes scholarship fund. A short time ago Mr. Ford was offered the presidency of the University of Texas but he declined it.

Considerable agitation has been started among the alumni clubs for increased funds from the legislature for new buildings. The alumni of Manitowoc county have organized to start a movement in that direction. Earl Vits '14, now with the Aluminum Manufacturing company of Manitowoc, has been selected to head the movement.

The agitation in Racine has taken a turn of more personal contact. Four attorneys of that city have been elected to represent the Racine alumni in personal talks with the senators and assemblymen. E. B. Hanl '92, Thorvald Beck '13, Vilas Whaley, and Earl Buchlew '15, president of the Racine alumni club, are the men who have been chosen to carry on this personal campaign for increased funds.

M'Clintock Jury Foreman Is Menaced By Bomb

CHICAGO—Laurent E. Clody, foreman of the coroner's jury investigating the death of William Nelson McClintock, "Millionaire Orphan," was the object of a bomb attack yesterday, which tore out the front of his florist shop. He was at his home at the time. The explosion came, he said, after a man had called at the shop and a telephone call had been received at his home making inquiries regarding his connection with the store and the jury.

During the inquest, which recently was continued for 20 days, Clody resented a statement by an attorney for William D. Shepherd, foster father and chief heir of McClintock, that the jury must think the presiding deputy coroner was prejudiced in favor of Judge Harry Olson, instigator of the investigation.

WARREN NAMED AGAIN BY COOLIDGE

Submits Man Second Time For Attorney General; Fight Seen

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge threw down the gauntlet to his opponents in the senate today by again submitting the nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general.

The republican leaders previously

HEL'N MARIA GRINS AS SENATORS HAZE HIM

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Vice President Dawes got another dose of hazing in the senate today and outwardly took it smiling.

Sen. Norris of Nebraska read to the senate a poem—a parody on Sheridan's ride, but instead of Sheridan riding to save Winchester, a taxicab with the vice president inside was breaking the speed limit to the capital in the futile dash to save the nomination of Mr. Warren to be attorney general. Half suppressed laughter among senators punctuated the reading, but through it the vice president sat smiling and at the conclusion turned to Sen. Norris saying.

"The chair cannot refrain from expressing his appreciation of the delicate tribute submitted by the senator from Nebraska."

Sen. Neely of West Virginia, joined in the hazing party by reading an editorial on "absenteeism."

had advised Mr. Coolidge that the situation appeared hopeless, but with Mr. Warren's arrival here there was a stiffening of Republican lines. A careful canvass of the outlook during the long talk between the President, Sen. Butler and the nominee resulted in a decision that confirmation would be possible by a narrow margin.

Meantime the opposition, which includes almost the whole Democratic membership of the senate and a group of Republican insurgents, also set out to reorganize its strength so as to again block senate approval. It was indicated that the president's decision might result in lengthening the special session of the senate which leaders had hoped to end on Saturday.

Upon its resubmission the Warren nomination will have to travel the course through the judiciary committee, which includes some of the leading opponents of confirmation. There will be many opportunities to interpose delays, should the opposition use that sort of strategy.

In their reassessment of the situation the Republican leaders pointed out that when confirmation failed on Tuesday on a 40 to 40 tie, not only Vice President Dawes but several of the Republican regulars among the senate membership were absent. They also declared that several of the Democrats who were out of the chamber when the vote was taken could be won over to support of the nomination.

President Coolidge is understood to have left it to Mr. Warren himself to decide whether his name should again be submitted.

The nominee withheld judgment until he had been given by Sen. Butler a detailed report of senate sentiment. Sen. Butler insisted, that leaders had been alarmed unduly by their defeat of last Tuesday, and he presented evidence that appeared convincing to the president and Mr. Warren.

No sooner had news of the decision reached the capitol than the enemies of the Warren appointment began preparations to reopen a battle they thought they had already won. Senators Walsh, Mont., and Reed, Mo., who had placed themselves at the head of the Democratic-Insurgent Republican group opposing confirmation, declared they would make a resist-

FILIBUSTER HALTS BLAINE TAX BILL

Senator William A. Smith Talks Senate Into Day's Delay

With the administration forces in control of enough votes last night to pass the new administration tax bill the conservatives under the leadership of Senator William A. Smith staged a filibuster that prevented a roll call and brought about adjournment at 2 o'clock this morning.

Senator Smith talked for four hours in order to give the opponents of the bill an opportunity to prepare a substitute bill. At 2 o'clock this morning Senator Smith yielded the floor to Senator Morris who introduced a substitute. Under the rules, the whole tax question then went over until tomorrow when the battle will again be resumed.

The senate had convened at 7:30 last night to consider the tax bill.

ance even more stubborn than that which mustered 40 votes on Tuesday's roll call.

Sen. Walsh said today he questioned the legality of again bringing the Warren nomination to the senate. He predicted that the Democrats would vote solidly against confirmation, and the he was prepared continue his fight against it on the floor.

Opponents of the bill asked for adjournment in order to get time to study the new amendments to the tax bill placed before the senate by the administration forces yesterday morning. The conservatives contended that they wanted particularly to ascertain the effects of the provision that six per cent of the assessed value of property used in the acquisition of income could be used as a deduction. Administration senators pressed for a vote however and when it became apparent that the tax bill would be passed conservative senators started the filibuster which ended with adjournment at 2 a. m.

GEN. MITCHELL TO GIVE TALK HERE

Will Speak Under Auspices of Forensic Board Monday Night

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, recently demoted to Colonel by the naval department for his single-handed controversy on aircraft versus dreadnaughts, will speak in Madison next Monday night, March 16, at 8:30 p. m. in Music hall under the auspices of the Forensic board.

He will give an illustrated lecture whose title will be "The War Department and National Defense" but which will deal primarily with his dispute with the war department.

WM MITCHELL

Attempts on the part of the Forensic board, of which George J. Fiedler is acting president, to obtain the gymnasium for this address were fruitless. Authorities of the university, for reasons not made public, refused to sanction the use of the armory for Gen. Mitchell's address.

Gen. Mitchell will show actual pictures of the recent navy and aircraft tests in which several large dreadnaughts were destroyed and which, in his opinion, proved that battleships were obsolete. A fee of 25 cents admission will be charged to defray expenses of Gen. Mitchell's journey.

Late this afternoon Dean Goodnight declared that the reason why he denied the Forensic board the use of the gymnasium is because he did not want a repetition of the "Pat Harrison affair" when only a handful of persons turned out to hear him. He said he does not believe Gen. Mitchell will attract a crowd so large that the gym would be necessary.

Assemblyman George Blanchard, Edgerton, announced that he would introduce a resolution tomorrow inviting Gen. Mitchell to appear before the legislature Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Blanchard is author of a resolution recently adopted which asked congress and the president to recognize Gen. Mitchell's services in the interest of promoting the air service.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES TO SHARE BONUS

March Pay Checks Will Have Additional $75 For Each Man

One hundred twenty employees of the Madison postoffice will receive an extra $9,000 to divide equally between them when the pay checks for March reach here in middle of this month, it was announced today.

This will mean that each of the men will get an extra $75.

The increase follows the passage by congress and the signing by Pres. Coolidge of the postal bill. The bill will mean increases totaling $36,000 annually in Madison. Each employee at the postoffice, except the postmaster, will receive an increase of $25 per month. Since the measure is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1925, each employee this month will receive $75 increase in his pay envelope.

About $60,000,000 annually will be paid out in increases annually in the United States to the 300,000 postal workers, according to Postmaster W. A. Devine.

JUNIOR MATHEMATICS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

"Women Mathematicians" was the subject discussed by three senior women who are majors in the department of mathematics, at the regular meeting of the Junior Mathematics club in North hall last night. Helen Urschel '25, Gertrude Fries '25, and Dorothy Haskins '25 each told of two women who had made special advances in the field of mathematics. The old belief that women are not mentally fitted to make any progress in advanced mathematics was proven false by several noted examples where women have done exceptional work.

The Correct Note in Collegiate Style from the
Lytton College Shop

"Style" for College Men has become a study unto itself—and we have made it that. The Lytton College Shop is in reality a separate exclusive business with the true collegiate atmosphere—but because it capitalizes on the tremendous buying power of this great store it effects economies that are a vital factor to the young man who wants the most for his money. It would amaze you to know how many men from the Schools of the Middle West are patrons of the College Shop.

Catherine G. Burke in New York Case Over $150,000 Note

Court action was taken today in New York, according to an Associated Press dispatch, preparatory to a legal test of the validity of a note for $150,000, purported to have been executed in favor of Miss Catherine Genin Burke, formerly of Chicago, and Madison, Wis., 35 years old and blind, by Henry E. E. Kayser, who died Dec. 19, 1923, at the Majestic hotel, N. Y., where he had lived alone for some years. He was 74 years old.

Miss Burke was a student at the University of Wisconsin from 1916 to 1920 in the Letters and Science College and resided at 1338 Morrison st.

Miss Burke and her mother were described as having been friends and companions of Mr. Kayser, and as having attended him prior to his death. According to Miss Burke's attorney, Kayser first was interested in the blind girl out of sympathy and "later he fell in love with her. He took her to theaters and other amusement places and they became engaged to marry," her attorney said.

Challenge Legal Capacity

The temporary administrators brought the action challenging the legal capacity of Mr. Kayser to execute the note, asserting that he suffered two strokes of apoplexy prior to the date it apparently was executed.

An order was issued by Justice Elanger directing Miss Burke to show reason why she should not be restrained from disposing of the note until its validity is determined. Because of Miss Burke's blindness, legal documents in the case were read to her by her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Burke, who also was a witness.

Mother Lived at Madison

Mrs. Burke, a widow, lived in Madison, while her daughter attended Wisconsin university, she said. Later they lived in Chicago, where the girl continued at a university, specializing in history and romance languages.

Then they came to New York, Mrs. Burke said she was without funds to continue her daughter's desired schooling at Barnard college, until, she said, Kayser became interested in the girl and paid her college expenses. Mrs. Burke described Kayser, who came here from Baltimore, as "an old friend."

Won Phi Beta Kappa Key

Miss Burke was graduated from Barnard in 1922 and won a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Counsel for the administrators of Kayser's $750,000 estate told the court their action was aimed primarily to prevent the note from "falling into the hands of an innocent third party while its authenticity was being established or disproved."

The Hurricane Kid
Presented at the Strand
Featuring Hoot Gibson

For the lover of straight westerns of the outdoor type, this swiftly-moving story of ranch life leaves nothing to be desired. It is concerned with the love of a hard-riding cow hand for the daughter of the ranch-owner. A base foreman is thwarted by our debonair hero and a really beautiful wild horse. This is good entertainment.

"Contraband"

Featuring Lois Wilson
Presented at the Madison
Clarence Buddington Kellard's

story certainly receives excellent interpretation by Lois Wilson, as the sweet Carmel Lee, who inherits a mortgaged, run-down, small town newspaper, and by sheer courage makes it pay. Also, Professor Evan Bartholomew Pell (Raymond McKee) gives Carmel able help in cleaning up the town. The manner in which she teaches him the error of his very egotistical young ways is alone worth seeing.

For Next Week

By H. E. R.

There being nothing else that we like better than a good battle, it is with much interest that we watch for the action that is to start between the Orpheum and the Majestic theaters when the former presents its usual spring stock company performances, beginning next Sunday. Two stock companies for Madison!

But to talk first on the subject of movies for the coming week we learned that the Strand is going to open with "So Big," adapted from Edna Ferber's famous novel by the same name. The star is Colleen Moore. Ben Lyon, Wallace Beery, Phyllis Haver, and others of like ability also shine. We saw it Christmas vacation, and liked it very much. Colleen takes the part of an old woman in the latter part of the play, and we think that she does remarkably well at it. Then House Peters and Ruth Clifford will start at mid-week in a stirring melodrama known as "Tornado." Much to-do, with a tornado, a flood, and riding logs.

At the Parkway we will find Richard Dix opening the week in "Too Many Kisses," a comedy drama, with scenes supposed to have been laid in Spain. Frances Howard, a new character upon the screen, plays the feminine lead, and if we can take Mr. Brown's word for it (he's the manager of the theater), she is very good. Starting Wednesday will be a change of program, featuring a style show of evident worth, with "The Dress-Maker of Paris," starring Leatrice Joy and Ernest Torrence, as the photoplay. In conjunction with the elaborate style show, a number of acts, which include a team of dancers, a "Ukelele Ike" specialty, another girl dancer, and a brace of singers of opposite sexes, have been secured.

"Dick Turpin," a big picture that stars Tom Mix in a way that he has never starred before will be at the Madison the whole week. We have read reviews on this, and they are all extremely complimentary about the manner in which he performs his part. Dick Turpin was a bandit in the good old days of England, and this picture tells a romantic tale of his adventures. Kathleen Meyers and Alan Hale are co-stars.

Now for the legitimate stage. "Buddies," a post war play that couples comedy, pathos, and love, will be the play at the Majestic next week, and for the occasion the cast has been augmented to twenty, including four representatives from the university: Gordon Roberts '25, Duane Longaker, and Harold Rieger '27, who are the members of the Varsity String Trio, and Wayne Roberts is a member of the cast. The company is singing many of the songs of the original show, and Miss Homer will prove that leading ladies need not be in musical comedy in order to have a good singing voice. The Eagle's quarter is also assisting at the musical end of the performance.

While the Majestic is putting forth "Buddies," the Dorothy Laverne company at the Orpheum will enact "The Best People." The cast includes some old friends of Mad-

Sad news for local theater fans it was that the Trib carried on its second page yesterday morning. Ethel Barrymore sick. Well, it isn't the first time she has had to cancel her engagements for the same reason. Of course, our sympathy goes out to her, but we can't help reserving a little for ourselves, can we?

But the Parkway has some news that almost counter-balances the other. It's that Jean Eagles will appear here March 27 and 28 in "Rain."

Not so bad, what? In fact, quite excellent. "Rain" was one of the finest things that ever hit New York, and it hit that town pretty hard, too. In fact, it returned last fall to play four weeks and was held nearly as many months.

The beauty of it is that the original star will appear in Madison and not her under-study, who, by the way, however, they say is just about as good.

Yes, the Parkway is doing nobly. Local theater fans would like a little more legitimate, but can be fairly well satisfied with what they are getting. The old stand-by, Fiske O'Hara, will be along this season too.

ison theater-goers, such as Al Jackson, Ralph Bellamy, and Dorothy LaVerne. A new leading man, Richard Allen, has been drafted from a San Francisco stock company. The play is a comedy, in which Avery Hopwood had quite a hand, and should give the players a good start.

Featuring Virginia Valli and Norman Kerry

Presented at the Parkway

By R. M. S.

Not quite a comedy, not quite a tragedy, but very funny and full of some very appealing scenes is "The Price of Pleasure," featuring Norman Kerry and Virginia Valli, now showing at the Parkway. From the pathetic little shop girl to the dazzling Cinderella, showered with beautiful clothes and evening gayety, then led by love to a desperate struggle for the rights of her motherhood, Virginia Valli as Linnie Randal plays her part with charm and grace, but with no very impressive acting.

Louise Fazenda, as the loyal friend, Stella, holds down the real feminine role with her usual clever antics and amusing caprices. Even in the most intense moments of the action she sallies forth with some gesture, look, or remark which lends humor to the situation. Norman Kerry, the distracted husband who had been deprived of his bride by his ultra-artistic family, does some splendid acting. If genuine grief could be portrayed on the screen, Garry Schuyler (Norman Kerry) certainly plays it well in the hospital scene and after he returns home.

George Fawcett, the old family lawyer, makes an ideal bug-bear sort of ogre to frighten the rising complications of the picture to their dramatic climax.

OFFICIALS FAVOR THE MILITARY BALL

Thirteenth Affair to Be One of Year's Finest Social Functions

That the thirteenth annual Military ball, which is to be held in the capitol on April 3, will prove one of the finest university social functions of the year seems to be the consensus on the campus and in the capitol, according to statements made yesterday by state officials and university authorities.

"We have heard only the most favorable reports of the Military balls which have been held in the capitol," said Clifford C. Franseen, chief of staff. "No adverse criticisms have been received, and we are endeavoring to make the ball of this year far surpass anything which has preceded it."

The state officials are unanimous in their opinion that the Military ball is one of the best conducted student events held in the state building. "I have never had any complaints whatsoever on the attendance of the Military ball in the past, nor on the manner in which the capitol has been used for the event," said A. G. Meyers, assistant superintendent of public property. "I have been in close touch with this function for the past four years, and have only the highest praise for the officials who have been in charge of it," concluded Mr. Meyers.

Dean Scott H. Goodnight also expressed the opinion that the Military ball is traditional for its quality of excellence. "This university affair is distinctive in itself because of the military atmosphere," said Dean Goodnight. "I would like to see everyone wear a uniform in keeping with the spirit of the occasion," he said.

"Inasmuch as some of the more representative and active leaders in campus affairs are in charge of the ball this year, I believe that there is no question but that it will live up to and surpass former balls," said Major O. L. Brunzell, commandant of the cadet corps. "I have the utmost confidence in the students who are conducting the ball, and believe it will be an unqualified success," he said.

School of Music Presents Burleigh Recital, Tuesday

Prof. Cecil Burleigh will give a recital next Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Music hall under the auspices of the School of Music. Professor Burleigh is a member of the faculty who has written considerable music which has appeared recently on local programs.

As a violinist, Prof. Burleigh is, perhaps, not as widely known as he is in his capacity of composer. He gave a similar concert last year in Madison, however; and the year before that he played his own "Ascension Sonata," the sequel of which he was invited to give, in person, before the Bohemian club of New York city.

Mr. Burleigh's program on March 17 will include some of his own compositions. Among them are "The Bees," "Giant Hills," two humoresques, "Witches," and "Imps," and a winter idyll, "Snow Bound."

The last composition, which was suggested by Whittier's poem, is not an attempt at pictorial representation, but is a musical interpretation of the three different moods which characterize each of the sections in the poem. The musical piece is divided into three corresponding movements.

ALPHA ZETA TO HAVE PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

A prize essay contest for any undergraduate agricultural student not a member of Alpha Zeta is being staged between now and April 15.

The subjects are "The Ton Litter as an Educational Factor," "Quality, the Most Important Factor of Agriculture," "Has Agricultural Education a Place in the High School Curriculum?" and "What is the Most Important Agricultural Discovery Since 1910."

Each year the Babcock chapter of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, holds this campus essay contest to bring out student thought and ideas expressed on paper. The limit is 1,500 words.

Essays should be typewritten and submitted to Raymond E. Rowland.

Wisconsin Officials Publish Bulletin About Finances

In order to set right the financial situation of the university, authorities have prepared a bulletin for state-wide distribution. The pamphlet is being sent to all the legislators, and to persons, in practically every city in the state.

The bulletin, entitled "The Crisis Confronting the University of Wisconsin," is a plain story of fact, addressed to the legislature and the people of Wisconsin. It is an attempt to present the people with a picture of the affairs of the university as they really exist, and to explain, pictorially and graphically, just how the financial situation at Wisconsin compares with that of neighboring institutions.

cerpts from the articles written by Theodore Kronshage, president of the board of regents, concerning the financial condition at the university. A quotation from President Birge's address at the legislative banquet is cited on the cover. Charts developing the financial appropriations awarded the university, and graphs showing the disposition of the money awarded, are used to make clear the situa-
