UNIVERSITY BILL

FAVORABLY REPORTED BY THE CLAIMS COMMITTEE

MONEY APPROPRIATED FOR THE CURRENT EXPENSES.

A Girl's Gymnasium—Repairs on University Hall—University Extension—Other Objects.

The joint committee on claims has unanimously decided to report favorably the bill providing for the general running expenses of the university. In making the decision to this effect the committee went over the report of expenditures made by the regents during the past two years, and, as Chairman Baxter said, it was the most convincing argument presented. The financial statement showed that the regents had expended the money in their care most judiciously. The expenses incurred by the regents themselves amounted to but $500, and this fact proved too much for the members of the committee, who had heard so many remarkable stories of gross extravagance on the part of the regents. In fact the unanimous decision of the committee came about in such a way as to be in many respects a most cordial endorsement of the work of the regents. Secretary Riley appeared before the committee in the afternoon and answered many questions in regard to the cost of administration. The only amendment offered to the bill is that at least $9,000 of the money appropriated be expended on the agricultural college. The bill provides for the levying and collecting of an additional state tax of one mill for each dollar of the assessed value of the taxable property of the state. The state tax directed to be levied and collected by chapter 29, laws of 1891 is extended after the lapse of the six years therein mentioned. The money so appropriated is to be used by the regents for increased administrative expenditures, expenditures for the department of engineering, advancing the work of university extension, building an addition to the horticultural building, enlarging ladies' hall with gymnasium apartments, changing and repairing university hall, constructing a farm barn, purchasing a herd of cattle for the agricultural department, and for the current expenses of the university. The total appropriations carried by the bill are $122,650, for 1896, and $119,650 for 1897; a total of $242,300.

CREW NOTES.

The outlook for a good Varsity crew for this year is excellent. The men are doing hard work every day and the material even at this early date is in fine form. There are five crews they meet at 4:30, 4:45 and 5:10. The best men are chosen and put in the first crew every evening, any one who does not show up well is put back and another promoted to his place. Two freshman crews are hard at work and some first-class material may be found among them. Two or three of them will make a hard pull for places on the Varsity. From the remainder a good class crew may be selected. Pyre came out for the first time last night and will probably row stroke this year. There are a few of last year's men who have not gone into regular training yet that expect to. The regular crew will not be selected until the men get on to the water.

Last night the first crew was formed of the following men:

Pyre, stroke.
Rohn, 7.
Weber, 6.
Knapp, 5.
ApRoberts, 4.
Dutcher, 3.
Smith, 2.
Alexander, Bow.

PRESS CLUB.

Amendments to the Constitution—The Editors' Convention.

The Press club held a business meeting at the Law building yesterday evening. The committee appointed to propose amendments to the constitution recommended a number of changes. After some discussion these were laid over until the next meeting. The club decided to attend the Thursday evening session of the editors' convention. Several new members were admitted to the club. The following are the changes recommended by the committee:

The executive committee to consist of three instead of five members.

The corresponding secretary to be an ex-officio member of the program committee and the librarian to be ex-officio chairman of the library committee.

The club to meet on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

To allow the president to call a special meeting of the club.

To make eight members of the club a quorum.

To change to annual dues from one dollar to fifty cents.

To expel a member from the club after three consecutive unexcused absences.

To reduce the fine for an unexcused absence from twenty-five cents to fifteen cents.

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS.

Coming Convention to be Held at Grand Rapids Next Month.

The meeting of the American Republican College league will be held at Grand Rapids April 5th. The indications are that the attendance will be very large and the citizens are making extensive preparations for their entertainment. It is expected that a number of members of the University club will attend. It is said that Theodore Cox, the president, has refused to become a candidate for reelection and E. J. Henning, '96, is mentioned as a strong candidate for the presidency. Vaughn of Chicago is also reported to be in the field, while Michigan, it is said, will come forward with a dark horse.

—Harvard's football squad will soon be called out for light work in the gymnasium.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING

ELECTION OF OFFICERS YESTERDAY EVENING.

AFFAIRS OF THE ASSOCIATION IN GOOD CONDITION.

Committees Report—Statistics of the Work of the Association.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in the Senior lecture room of the Law building. Reports from nearly all the committees were read and approved. The secretary's report showed a total of eighty five active members. Thirty-eight new members were elected during the year, most of whom were active, so that the entire membership is something over one hundred.

The local conference committee reported one conference held the past term.

During the year 67 meetings in all have been held, including the Sunday afternoon and Thursday evening meetings. The attendance at these meetings showed a very gradual increase until at the present time the average attendance on Sunday is 76, although sometimes it runs much higher. The total number of members is 147 of which 125 are active members and 22 associate. Of these 38 are new members.

The retiring Corresponding Secretary W. G. Bleyer also made a favorable report of his branch of the work.

The hand book committee recommended the appointment of the same hereafter in the fall term so as to give more time to collect material in a satisfactory manner. Also that the book gives more space to the aims and purposes of the association work such as would appeal to Christian students as their duty in becoming members at an early date.

The Evening Wisconsin has published the hand book much more reasonably and satisfactorily than any other firm. Hence it was recommended that one member of the committee be chosen from Milwaukee to look after the immediate topographical work. A resident of Madison was also deemed necessary to see to advertisements during the summer vacation.

The president in his report recommended that in election of officers great care be employed to secure men who could give as much time as possible to the association's immediate interests. Since a new general secretary is to be elected for another year, it will be essential that he have the co-operation of all the officers in his work. The advisability of publishing the addresses of importance in the Cardinal was emphasized as well as sending a number of the same throughout the state to all interested friends of the university Christian work.

The finance committee showed that the association would come out nearly even if the subscriptions were in a reasonable time realized both from faculty and students.

The plans adopted by the religious committee the past year were commended. Especially those of two leaders at Sunday meetings, one to read the scripture and make a few remarks, with another to confine himself entirely to the topic and conduct the meeting.

The social committee reported concerning the festivities in that department of the work. The entertainments were all well attended and much good fellowship prevailed. The Lake Geneva social last spring went a great ways toward increasing the attendance at the summer conference and as a whole the receptions were successful.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. P. Silverwood, law '96; vice president, L. L. Strock, '97; corresponding secretary, Grant Showerman, '96; recording secretary, R. G. Harvey, '98; treasurer, G. H. Jones, '97.

Mr. John M. Beffel, '95, who has been general secretary for the past two years will leave the university next June, so that a new secretary will have to be secured. A committee is already in correspondence with Mr. Matt, the national secretary, for the purpose of obtaining someone to fill his place.

PLATTVILLE NORMAL GRADUATES

Last evening in the pleasant rooms of J. A. Tormey, '95, in the Vilas Block, there was a social gathering of a number of the alumni of the Platteville State Normal. The occasion was pre-eminently characterized by good cheer, a renewal of old associations. Refreshments were served and general good fellowship prevailed. All but one of the company are students in the university.

Those present were as follows:

F. K. Shuttleworth, '92; Geo. Burton, '95; J. A. Tormey, '95; C. R. Frazier, '95; W. W. Pretts, '95; R. A. Goodell, '95; W. L. Smithyman, '96; James Dolan, '96; G. S. Moody, '96; D. O. Kinsman, '96; Thos. J. Jones, '96; Thomas Webster, '96; Oliver Gray, '96; W. H. Shephard, '96; Wm. Wilkie, law '96; A. W. Loy, law '96.

An expression of the sentiment of the evening points to other meetings of a similar nature to follow.

ENGINEERING TRIP.

The senior civil engineers will make the regular senior excursion the last week of the term. The trip will last about a week and most of the time will be spent in Chicago. Perhaps the junior class will accompany them to aid in the preparation of the senior theses.

DARTMOUTH'S LIBRARY.

The Bowdoin college library has a gift of $1,000 from George S. Bowdoin. This money is for a general book fund for the purchasing of such new books as the librarian shall think proper. Mr. Bowdoin is a New York man, and a direct descendant from Governor Bowdoin, for whom the college is named. Mr. Bowdoin is also related to Governor Sullivan, a part of whose name he bears, and is a connection of Alexander Hamilton—quite a remarkable ancestry. He has always been a good friend to the college.

What is the reason so many students who are owners of iceboats, do not take advantage of the excellent ice which we have had for over a month, and give us some excitement in the form of a regatta. It is well to maintain winter athletics out doors as well as in the gymnasium. The movement on the part of a few would soon develop so as to include most of the lovers of the sport.

After the track team has returned from Chicago with such enviable records and is faithfully training daily to excel its previous feats, what athletic spirit there is in the university ought to be manifest tomorrow night. Those who did not before appreciate the fact that our men were capable of defeating stars must now see that the sport of the early term was of a high order. Hence, let us give them all the encouragement we can by inducing as many as possible to turn out to the field meet in the gymnasium so as to aid the management financially and the contestants with enthusiasm.

The national league of college Republican clubs will meet in Grand Rapids, Mich., April 5 and there will be a very interesting struggle for the presidency. Wisconsin will present the name of E. J. Henning, law '96, and at present his prospects seem pretty bright. Theodore Cox of Columbia is the present occupant of that office but will not stand for re-election. It is moreover no more than just that the next president should come from the west. Mr. Henning is admirably fitted for the position of president. He is enthusiastic, a good speaker, and good political worker and thoroughly understands the practical working of political campaigns. Mr. Henning's work in the campaign of last fall established his reputation as a party manager and would aid him greatly in his work in the league. His most important opponent seems to be Vaughn, of Chicago.

Every student of the university cannot but feel happy over the favorable report by the joint committee on claims, of the general university appropriation bill. It means that many needed improvements and changes can be carried out—it means that the university will be able to increase its equipment to agree with the increase in attendance and above all means that the legislature and through them the people of the state are satisfied with the institution and are bound to see it stand in the first rank of American universities.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor of The Cardinal: In yesterday's communication regarding the granting of credit to joint debaters, it was urged that since men are always easily found to take the joint debate it needs no encouragement in the way of granting a thesis. But what could be more ridiculous, is it because our joint debates have attained their present excellence that credit should not be granted? Is it necessary that the joint debates sink to the level of debating in other colleges in order that they may receive recognition? Should not credit be given rather for the excellent work done? The writer stated that the granting of credit to Cardinal work, athletics, etc., was not a parallel case. These it is stated need encouragement, but we always found men enough to engage in this work before credit was granted by the faculty. Many of those who participate in the joint debate are in their senior year and it is difficult to give it proper attention, carry the regular university work and write a thesis too. Surely it would not be asking too much to be relieved from the latter, as the work done on the joint debate is much more thorough and a far better knowledge of the subject is gained than is the case in the ordinary thesis.

But it is stated that these debates are one sided productions—not at all. The debaters study both sides of the question thoroughly. All the material in the libraries in this city and surrounding cities are carefully read. Oftentimes the debaters are at considerable expense in the purchase of material even though it is not favorable to their side of the question. The debaters realize the necessity of understanding thoroughly both sides of question and do not make their investigations from one point of view. The debate as printed in the Aegis represents only a very small part of the work done.

It would seem that as the debates are already under the supervision of the faculty and as they are generally recognized to be excellent they should be placed on the same basis as other work in the university. The amount of work done is much greater than the credit asked for and is along the same line. It is idle to suppose that the granting of credit will cause them to deteriorate, but on the contrary, it would allow many to participate in them who now have not the time to do so and enable still more excellent work to be done.

AT MINNESOTA.

The members of the Minnesota legislature, accompanied by their friends, a party numbering 175, visited the state university last Thursday. They were received by President Northrup and the faculty in the main building and then escorted through the different rooms with seminary-rooms adjoining, the administrative department of the board of regents, was introduced by President Northrup and spoke of the needs of the institution. He said that in 1884 there were 310 students; now there are 2,150, distributed as follows: the arts, 885; engineering, 161; law, 295; medicine, 385; agriculture, 365; graduate students, 80. The university needs at once, he said, appropriations as follows: For buildings at agricultural school, $67,500; for a new mechanical arts building, $100,000; for a gymnasium and drill hall, $100,000; for a building for medical department, $50,000; for a small observatory, $10,000. Lieutenant Governor Day and several members spoke, expressing themselves pleased at the appearance of things.

HARVARD-YALE FRESHMAN DEBATE.

The Yale Freshman Union at its regular meeting last Friday night passed resolutions accepting the challenge of the Harvard Freshman Debating club for a debate. A committee of three was appointed to confer with the committee of the Harvard Freshman Debating club to make final arrangements for the debate.

No arrangements have yet been made for choosing the speakers to represent the Harvard Freshman Debating club, but the representatives will probably be chosen at a competitive debate. The judges will be members of the Faculty, and the competitors must be members of the Harvard Freshman Debating club. The competitive debate will probably be held within six weeks. As soon as official notice is received from the Yale Freshman Union arrangements for the debate will be made.—Harvard Crimson.

—The Harvard summer school has announced 39 courses for the coming year. They will be open to women as well as men.
