O'SHEA FLAYS STUDYING OF COLLEGE MAN

Methods of Study Are Described as Lacking Concentration

"Can a man sit down with a free mind to study calculus after being to the movies to see Theta Bara or after having danced for an hour and a half?" Prof. M. Vincent O'Shea, of the education department, asked the 300 students who attended his lecture on "How to Use Your Mind" yesterday afternoon at Music hall. "No, he cannot," was Professor O'Shea's answer, "since his emotions would be worked up to such a pitch that he would be calculating other things than calculus."

One of the chief sources of wasted energy is scattered attention, according to Professor O'Shea. One cannot make good in the University of Wisconsin or anywhere else in the business world unless he can apply himself for long periods without being distracted. To meet existing situations in the life of the campus or of the outside world, the first essential for success is the control of the body. Professor O'Shea cited the example of the rooming house in which he lived a short time ago, where the men students could not study for a period of more than 10 or 12 minutes without going after something to eat, drink, smoke, or chew. He claims that lack of control over the body is the fault which is hampering a great majority of students in their work.

"If a man or woman student must dance or play cards or other games of chance as a means of relaxation, let him do it after having completed his work, since it makes him unfit for long periods of concentrated study and if it is done after the work is completed, it will take away that action of the brain which prevents one from sleeping after working," was O'Shea's advice.

Proper poise of person and power to attack difficult tasks come as the result of proper application and care in the development of habits. The great intellectual sin of students is the blaming of deficiencies on the restrictions of heredity. Native defects and deficiencies can be overcome by proper methods of concentrated study, according to Professor O'Shea.

FRATERNITY MEETING TONIGHT

Representatives from every fraternity will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Chi Psi house for a Memorial Union rally. At least six men from every house will be present. All those designated to come are urged to be present on time. No funds will be solicited. The purpose of the meeting is to get every fraternity behind the greatest movement in the history of the university.

ELECTION DATE IS CHANGED TO NOVEMBER 10

New Regulations Will be Put Into Effect at Fall Election

Because of the suspension of classes on Armistice day, November 11, the student election will be held Thursday, Nov. 10, according to Tom Coxon '22, chairman of the Senate elections committee.

Three juniors, G. Lowell Geiger, Russ Frawley, and Walter Porth, were recommended as candidates for the Union board, yesterday, by the members of the board to fill the vacancy left by Alfred Hotton who did not return to the university this fall. The board also recommended John C. Emery, and Gordon Wanzer as candidates for Union board from the sophomore class. Only one representative from each class can be elected.

Forbids Shouting

Promiscuous shouting in behalf of any candidate for office in the elections, or the objectional accosting of any voter going to or from the polls will not be permitted this year as a result of new regulation passed by the Student Senate last spring. The Senate elections committee and its assistants will supervise the polls on election day to prevent any breaking of the rules. Violators can be declared disqualified by the committee.

The new regulations are as follows:

1. The Senate elections committee shall be assisted in the supervision of polls on election day by the remaining active members of the Student Senate and by such

OCTOPUS DEADLINE IS SET FOR TODAY

The deadline for Octopus contributions has been extended to 5:30 this evening to allow students to get last minute witticisms and cartoon ideas into the hands of the Octopus editors in the Union building before the fall issue goes to press.

The time given contributors to turn in their material officially ended yesterday, but Octy can use more short jokes and sketches to fill the 40-page magazine which the staff is publishing this year.

COMMERCE WOMEN TO HOLD BANQUET

A banquet for all women in the Commerce course will be held tonight at 6 o'clock in the Badger room of the Woman's building. Prof. W. A. Scott and Prof. S. W. Gilman, heads of the Commerce department, will speak. Prof. "Al" Haake will be in charge of the singing.

Tickets may be bought from any Commerce club member or may be bought at the door. The banquet is to cultivate commerce spirit, and a large number of Commerce women are expected to attend.

OTTO TO SPEAK AT SECOND OF MASS MEETINGS

"Armament: a Symptom or a Disease?" will be discussed by Prof. M. C. Otto of the philosophy department at the second of the all-university massmeetings on disarmament in Music hall at 11:55 to 12:05 today.

"I should like to get back of that idea of limitation of armaments and find out whether there is anything strong enough and deeply enough rooted in modern thought to form a permanent movement away from war as a settlement of disputes. The conference is surely not an end in itself," declared Mr. Otto Thursday.

The third of the ten minute massmeetings will be held Monday, Nov. 7, and will be addressed by Prof. Carl Russell Fish of the history department, and at the final meeting, Prof. Graham Stuart of the department of political science and Dean S. H. Goodnight will speak on November 9.

BRADER-TEBELL CARD ANNOUNCE TWO CANDIDATES

Trost, Ellis, and Peterman Seek Class Officers and Senate Positions

The Brader-Tebell junior elections ticket announces the candidacies of Arthur Trost, Milwaukee, for sergeant-at-arms of the junior class, and Ruppert S. Ellis, Madison, for one of the three junior positions on the Student Senate.

Trost is business manager of the Athletic Review, was advertising assistant of the 1921 Badger, and was Milwaukee district manager of the 1922 Badger. He was a member of the Exposition publicity committee, was chairman of street decorations for the 1921 Homecoming, and is now working on the Memorial Union drive. Trost is also a member of the Advertising club and has recently been elected to the Commerce club.

Ellis is a member of Farm House, professional agricultural fraternity, and also of Agric Triangle. He is treasurer of the Agricultural College federation and was a member of the sophomore commission last year.

The latest senior candidate to announce himself for the office of Student Senate is I. H. "Cy" Peterman.

Peterman is a student in the journalism course and has been active during the past four years. He is a "W" man, having won his letter as a varsity wrestler last year. He captained the team and won second place in the Big Ten championships. Last year he was sergeant-at-arms of the junior class, is a member of the "W" club, Star and Arrow, Sigma Delta Chi, Press club, and International Relations club.

HUGE PARADE WILL INCLUDE NOVEL FLOATS

Parade Promises to Be Largest in History—To Have 24 Floats

The university cadet corps and many floats will appear in the parade that will open the program of events at 1:30 on Dedication day, November 5. This parade will probably surpass all others Madison has witnessed, according to plans being made by the committee in charge, and the long list of floats entered by university organizations.

The line of march will be from the lower campus down State street to the capitol, around the square, down Wisconsin avenue, and up Langdon street to the lower campus. The procession will be headed by the First Regimental band. Seventeen hundred men in the cadet corps will follow. Gun and Blade, and speakers at the ceremony to be held at 3 o'clock, will be followed by the second band. Marchers and floats will complete the procession.

Two cups will be offered as prizes for the best floats, and three honorable mentions will be given. The judges will be: Stanley Hanks, chairman, A. P. Desormeaux, and Hugh Montgomery.

The committee in charge of the parade is composed of: George B. Hazen '23, chairman, Caryl Parkinson '23, Helen Keeny '23, Ward Hickok '23, Merritt A. Giles '22. Major Orlando Ward will act as marshal.

The following university organizations will participate:

S. G. A. GIVES ANNUAL MASK PARTY TONIGHT

Masqueraders will vie with one another tonight for the most original and funniest costumes at the S. G. A. annual costume party, at Lathrop gymnasium, 7:30 o'clock. Special individual and group prizes will be given for the cleverest make-ups.

"A Mellow Drama," a pantomime, will start the program. "Jerry" Kaepfel '23, and Mildred Miller '23, will read several humorous selections. Hilda Schultz '24 will sing.

After the program prize-winners will be announced by the judges, who are Ellen Correll '22, president of S. G. A., Helen Ramsey, student secretary, and Miss Lydia Brown, dean of freshmen women.

Boyd's orchestra will furnish music for dancing after the entertainment. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Margaret Callsen '24 is in charge of the party. Assisting her on the program committee are Alice Frick '23, Margaret Ives '25, and Flora Bodden '22.

MEMORIAL UNION DANCE TO BE HELD TONIGHT IN LATHROP

Feature Orchestra and Vaudeville Stunts Are Included in Program

The first test of the loyalty of the student body in the coming Memorial Union campaign will take place Saturday evening, when the Union Memorial benefit dance will be held in Lathrop gymnasium and concert room. The proceeds of the dance will be used to defray the expenses of the campaign to raise a million dollars to build a home for Wisconsin spirit.

The admission charge is $2.50, war tax included, and tickets may be purchased in advance at Morgan's Sumner and Cratmon's, the University pharmacy, and the Badger pharmacy.

Thompson's feature orchestra, including "Red" Hawkins, Jean Juster, Cece Brodt, and Bud Buell will furnish the music for the dance. Very high class vaudeville starring Sunny Ray and a banjo sextette will be the special entertainment offered for the evening.

The price of admission is a little more than for an ordinary dance, but the cause is no ordinary cause. We are going to build a home for Wisconsin spirit. First let us see what kind of a spirit we are building the home for. The best football team in the west has no trouble in attracting large crowds to Camp Randall, and a lot of good Wisconsin spirit is shown in the support it receives. Whether this spirit is genuine will be determined in the support the Union Memorial benefit dance receives.

KEYSTONE DRILLS IN PROCEDURE RULES

The opening lecture in a course in parliamentary drill was given last night at the regular meeting of Keystone by Mrs. H. Glicksman, parliamentary expert, who has instructed women's clubs and organizations in correct procedure for deliberative assemblages throughout the East as well as in Madison.

The course, as arranged by Mrs. Glicksman for presidents of women's organizations in the university, will include six lectures delivered to the organization on the first and third Thursday of every month.

Marion Mosel '22, the new president of Glee club, was formally admitted into Keystone at the meeting which preceded the parliamentary drill.

SEATS FOR BYNNER LECTURE ON SALE

Witter Bynner, lecturer, poet, and playwright, will lecture at Music hall on November 18 on "A Poet's Impressions of the Orient." Mr. Bynner, former editor of McClure's magazine, who is at present touring the country and using the proceeds of his lectures to send a Chinese student through college, is being brought here under the auspices of the Forensic board.

Tickets for the lecture can be secured from Wayne L. Morse, 1119 Mound street. Prices are 50 and 75 cents, 75 cents for the reserved seats.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BIG 10 BASKET BALL TEAMS GET STARTED

Conference Coaches Are Whipping Material Into Shape

Basketball teams throughout the conference are commencing activities for the coming season which is predicted to be the most interesting in the history of the Big Ten. It may safely be said, however, that Doctor Meanwell was one of the first mentors to have his men out for practice.

The election of Ceaser as captain will insure a harmonious feeling on the team, and that is one of the characteristics which is especially essential on a squad which plays the Meanwell style of game. "Duke's" willingness and ability to work with other members of the team was one of the outstanding features of his play last season. Thus it may be seen that the idea of team play will be the very foundation of the Badger basket tossing aggregation this year.

The forward positions are practically settled, as there is little doubt but that the new captain will be permanently located at forward, and will not be shifted around as he was last year. Present indications are that Taylor will play the greatest game of his career during the coming season. The two should constitute one of the strongest pairs of forwards in the conference and will be one of the big factors in the speedy offense which the Badgers are expected to have.

Several of the new men are showing up even better than had been expected. This fact is encouraging, since Coach Meanwell's biggest problem seems to be the training of utility men to replace the "first string" five. New rulings have somewhat changed the game of basketball. Formerly only five men were used during an entire game, whereas a modern team is composed of 10 or 12 players of "Varsity" ability. Foy looks as if he might work well as the third forward. He is a good floor man and is a free-thrower of considerable ability.

Indiana is making plans for a championship team this year. Head Coach Levis has three veterans back and in addition has several members of his freshmen squad of last year. After a fairly successful season in 1921 the Hoosiers may reasonably expect to be among the pennant contenders toward the end of the coming season. Levis learned the system of play which he is coaching from Doctor Meanwell, and, while they are not on the Badger schedule, it would be interesting to see teams employing the same style of play matched against each other.

SOCCKER SERIES TO BE COMPLETED SOON

Defeating the Giants, led by Captain Roach, Captain Matteson's Horseshoes won the third game of the soccer elimination series Tuesday afternoon by the close score of 1 to 0. In the contest, which was played on the lower campus, neither side was able to score from the field, the Horseshoes' lone tally being made on a free kick after a foul.

Six games remain to be played in the first round. This afternoon at 4:30, the Red Circles play the Clubs, and on the 4th the Shamrocks will contend with the Red Diamonds. Three games which were scheduled for Saturday have been postponed on account of the Memorial Union parade. The dates on which these games will be played will be announced on the bulletin board in the gym.

The series should be completed by the 9th; immediately after which the gym class championship will be awarded. The inter-college tournament will be held shortly after.

Frosh-Soph. Teams Are On Edge For Saturday's Battle

The annual froshmen-sophomore football game will begin when the referee blows the whistle at 3:30 p. m. Saturday. Both teams finished their hard practice last night, and today will be spent in short signal drills. The freshmen have the edge over their rivals in that they will be in better shape and their team work will be more finished. Football is a game where excellence in team work is the vital factor, and it seems as if the first year men will have the edge on their opponents tomorrow as they have been working on their attack and defense since the first week of practice. On the other hand, the sophomores have been unorganized until two weeks ago, when the call came for candidates. Many of the sophomores have been holding down positions on the all-American team, and others have been on the varsity squad for periods. But as a team, they have not worked together, and it was not until this week that they finally got going in regular style.

However, in spite of this seeming handicap, the sophomores can be depended upon to give the freshmen a real battle before submitting to defeat. Scores of the past years bear out this contention, and the conditions this year are no worse than they usually are. The freshmen usually enter the game as favorites, but many times the dope has been upset. Sophomores are backing their combination to win, and the same results may come about as occurred in the class rush several weeks ago, when the sophs turned almost certain defeat into a clean cut victory. "Eddie" Borgett will referee the contest.

Another feature of the big game tomorrow will be periodic returns from the Chicago-Ohio State game which is being played at Chicago, and also reports of other big games. Wisconsin's chances for the title depend largely on the outcome of this game, and Wisconsin's interest tomorrow will be in the outcome of the battle. Should Ohio meet defeat it would throw them out of the running and leave but Iowa, Wisconsin, and Chicago in the fight. Iowa will also have her hands full tomorrow when she meets Minnesota on the latter's field, and it may be that two leading teams will be thrown out of the race in the games tomorrow. However, should Ohio defeat Chicago, Wisconsin's only chance would be to end the season in a tie with Ohio and possibly with Iowa as a third team, provided they go through the rest of the season undefeated.

OHIO-CHICAGO CLASH FOCUSES EYES OF WEST

Last Minute Injuries May Keep Ohio Stars Out of Game

With the injury of halfback Honaker, Ohio State stock has taken a decided fall since the last Buckeye practice yesterday afternoon. The flashy back who gained consistently against Michigan and Minnesota was injured in Varsity-frosh scrimmage, and he will probably be out of the game for the rest of the season.

Howard Blair, another Buckeye cripple, is rounding into shape after being out of action since early in October. Blair will work at half in place of Honaker. The remainder of the Ohio eleven is in tip-top condition and the 1920 Big Ten champions will be ready for a tough battle with the Tiger-killing Maroons.

"Johnny" Bryan, Chicago back who became ill this week, has recovered. He will take his regular place at half. Against Princeton, Bryan and Milton Romney were the individual mackfield stars, and if the two get away from the Ohio primary defense on Saturday, some steady Maroon advances can be expected.

Coach A. Alonzo Stagg has been drilling his men with shift formations. Chicago is doped to consistently use the same shift which wrought havoc with the redoubtable Captain Keck and his Princeton line. With King, heavy center, Fletcher, Redman, Crisler, and Strohmeier in the forward wall, Ohio State backs will have a hard proposition to gain by means of the running attack.

Noel Workman and Stuart are the main cogs in a forward passing attack which may put Ohio on the long end of the score. Coach Jack Wilce has trained his men in the open game since the beginning of the season, and the big scores made against Minnesota and Michigan show that the Buckeyes have worked up a winning pass attack. The Ohio line is composed of veterans, all of whom are familiar with the Chicago style of play. Capt. "Truck" Meyers, Spiers, and Huffman form a trio of forwards which can handle anything in the Big Ten conference.

Illinois is doped to gain its second victory of the season. The

BURKE SELECTS SQUAD MEN FOR FROSH TRACK

Many Promising Yearlings Will Compete in Indoor Meets

Basing his selection on the showing of the men in the inter-class meet held October 22, Coach Meade Burke recently picked the men who will compose the freshman track squad in various indoor meets to be run off during the winter season. A large squad of candidates has been cut down to a more wieldy number, and Coach Burke will give the men intensive work in their events as soon as the cross country season ends.

Some of the best men on the squad are: C. B. Roberts, and J. D. Hart, sprinters. Roberts is also an excellent broad-jumper. The best frosh hurdler is G. G. Stebbins of Madison. In the jumps and vaults, D. H. Jones and E. Tuhtar have shown up the best. The three best distance men are R. Thiessenhusen and R. P. Smithyman, both from Milwaukee normal, and B. Hilberts of Jefferson high school. Another Milwaukee normal man, Van Ellis, stars in the shot put.

Besides the previously mentioned stars, the frosh track squad will be composed of the following men: Sprinters, W. C. Benson, E. Crane, E. J. Blewett, M. Blumenstein, A. Timm, H. Flueck, and J. Hurley. Hurdles, Porter, W. L. Ragatz, F. Meyers, N. Sharp, R. Stehling, and K. S. Mainland. Middle distance, A. O. Johnson, Valley and Gutz. Jumps and vaults, F. E. Henning, J. Widder, L. W. Muzzy, E. Schmidt and G. A. Pierce. Distance, W. G. Damerow, B. H. Vollrath, R. Trier, W. Fabera, and R. L. Perry. Weights, M. R. Bruemmer, P. R. Lallier, W. P. Iwen, G. A. Munkwitz, E. Swift, M. Stangel.

The men are practicing three nights a week under the direction of Coach Meade Burke.

Fighting Illini meet Coach Fred Walker's De Pauw eleven. Northwestern defeated the Indianans 34 to 0 last week, and the Suckers are due to repeat the beating. Northwestern engages Purdue. Coach Dietz has his Boilermakers whipped into fine shape. He has taught Purdue a new style of play which should be used with great effect against the weak Northwestern eleven.

BADGER HARES WILL BATTLE MIDWAY SQUAD

Race Will Be Run Over Grassy One-mile Track Saturday

It is with supreme confidence in their ability to conquer the Maroons, that the Wisconsin cross country squad leaves for the Chicago meet this noon. In the pink of condition, the entire team is eager for the race, and should easily take the first seven places from the weak Midway squad.

In a letter which was received yesterday from Coach Tom Eck, of Chicago, it was definitely stated that the Northwesterners will not participate in the race. The Maroons have already scheduled a meet with the Purple on the 12th.

The course will be an easy one for the Badgers to negotiate. It is over a smooth, grassy one mile loop in level Washington park, and the Wisconsin harriers, trained on one of the hardest courses in the conference, should be able to glide around at top speed.

The meet will be called soon before noon tomorrow. The probable lineups for the two teams will be:

Wisconsin	Chicago
Wall	Krogh
Finkle	Davis
Moorhead	Bowers
Rossmiessel	Spruth
Ramsay	Kayton
Daniels	Barnes
Knutson

All the Varsity squad men not going to the Chicago meet will hold a time trial over the short course of 2.7 miles at 11:15 Saturday morning. There is much promising material in the second Varsity, and some changes may be made in the team before the conference meet. Sommer, Herrman, Schneider, and Chase have all been running close on the leader's heels and may be given a chance to demonstrate their ability before the close of the season.

Several intra-mural meets are scheduled for the coming weeks. They will be as follows:

November 12, at 11:15 a. m., an inter-college meet. This meet is open to all men who have not run in dual meets this season. It will be held over the short course, and the winning team will be awarded their college insignia.

November 18, at 4:45 p. m., a meet between the freshmen and the sophomores. This meet is open to any man of the two classes and to any sophomore on the Varsity squad who is not at the conference meet. The race is over the short course, and class numerals will be given to the members of the winning team.

November 22, at 12 noon. The annual turkey race. Any student is eligible. The distance will be about 1 and 3-4 miles, and prizes will be awarded as follows: First place, a live turkey and possession for one year of the Elsom cup; second, a goose; third, a duck; fourth, a rooster; fifth, a hen; and to the last man to finish, an egg.

OUTING CLUB TO HIKE ON SUNDAY

Outing club will conduct a hike around Lake Mendota Sunday morning, under the leadership of Elizabeth Kirk '23. The group will leave from Lathrop hall steps at 6:30.

Those who are planning to go are requested to sign the poster on the Outing club board at Lathrop. This hike will count three hours credit for Outing club, and ten miles credit for W. A. A.

At the board meeting Thursday noon, the members planned a "Har and Hound" party for Saturday morning, Nov. 12.

Badger Road Construction Sets Record

3,764 Miles of Work Completed, Says Report of Hirst

This has been a good road year for Wisconsin with a construction season that will far surpass any previous record, A. R. Hirst, highway engineer, says today in the quarterly report of the state department of engineering.

Tables show that 3,764 miles of construction, including concrete and gravel surfacing, and dirt grading, will have been completed in 1921, a mileage never before approached. There are 357.6 miles of concrete surfacing, 103.6 miles of gravel, 84 miles of top soil and 1,009.9 miles of earth work which with 72 miles of miscellaneous makes 2,560 miles of construction which is supplemented by 1,204 miles of maintenance.

Federal aid construction so far this season, we believe that the maintenance work has excelled that of any previous year," the report says. "One thing that has been very noticeable this season is the fact that more patrolmen were discharged for inefficiency than any previous season."

A survey of the entire trunk highway system is being made by division engineers. The survey will give the type and condition of the surfacing on all state trunk highways, and it is said, will make possible interesting comparisons with condition surveys of earlier years.

Dan R. Hanna, Cleveland Publisher, is Dead

CLEVELAND, O.—Dan R. Hanna, publisher of the Cleveland News and Cleveland Sunday Leader, died at his home, Ossining, N. Y., early today. Mr. Hanna was well known in politics as a strong supporter of the late Pres. Roosevelt. A son of the late U. S. Senator Marcus A. Hanna, he was born Dec. 26, 1866, in Cleveland and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna of Washington; by two sisters, Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago and Mrs. Harry A. Parsons of Cleveland, and by eight children.

IOWA IS PLUNGING ITS WAY TO TOP OF WESTERN LIST

When a team trounces the powerful Notre Dame eleven 10 to 7 one week and the very next Saturday trounces Illinois 14 to 2 it is going some. That is only part of Iowa's brilliant showing this season. The Iowa City institution is making a bid for Big Ten honors this year. On paper the remainder of Iowa's opponents do not appear as formidable as either Notre Dame or Illinois.

Senate Body Favors Extension of Tariff

WASHINGTON—The senate finance committee resuming hearings today on tariff questions ordered a favorable report on the house resolution extending the emergency tariff law to Feb. 1, or until such time as the permanent tariff schedules are enacted into law.

Public To Be Heard On 1-Way Traffic Law

The merits of the one-way traffic ordinance, which has been in effect since June 1, will be discussed on Friday night at an open meeting of the street committee, to be held in the council chamber at 7:30, to which the public is invited.

Ald. E. F. Gibbs' resolution, introduced at the council meeting last Friday night, asking that the ordinance be repealed, will be taken up. All persons interested may appear and speak for or against the repeal of the present ordinance.

Two Girls Here, Run 450 Acre Farm; Have Hobby Of Using Up To Date Methods

Misses Lillian and Clara Schenk of Wittenberg Visiting Here; Father Died and Girls Took Over Property

Making plans for a stock farm of the best breeds of all cattle is the present program of Misses Lillian and Clara Schenk, owners of a 450-acre farm near Wittenberg, Wis.

The two young ladies are now visiting in Madison after their 200-mile drive from the northern part of Wisconsin. They are old friends of Edward Nordman, whom they called on this morning. The capitol and university buildings will be their special interest while here.

These two modern farmers have 100 acres of this immense estate now under cultivation, devoted mostly to dairy farming. They intend to cultivate a larger part of their property in the near future and eventually sell the timber and cut-over portions until they possess a compact properly managed according to the latest scientific methods.

Seven years ago their father died with his plans and farm operations largely uncompleted. Mrs. Schenk was unable to operate so large a property and these young ladies with more than ordinary determination and pluck started on the arduous job with which they were somewhat familiar but not wholly accustomed to all the important details. After seven years' experience they have now reached a degree of excellence in farm management that has enabled them to show yearly profits in most cases exceeding neighboring farms operated by veteran men. They are the owners of a Fordson tractor which they drive and repair, a farm lighting system that lights their home and buildings, milking machines, and other equipment found on all up-to-date establishments.

Periodically the agricultural college at Madison and the various substations throughout the state are visited by one of the sisters to inquire and keep informed as to latest methods developed by these university experts. Pure bred Holstein cattle is their present hobby on which they have centered their attention in the last few years. They have very little help except in the summer, when they hire a man to do the heavier work and a boy for the chores. Mrs. Schenk and a girl helper do the housework, which frees the two sisters to the more essential tasks on the outside.

When the duties of the profitable adventure permit them some relaxation, both of the Misses Schenk are politically active. They adhere to the progressive republican policies of Senator La Follette for whom they have voted when possible in last elections. Mrs. Schenk is as interested in Wisconsin political happenings as her daughters. She walked thirty miles for her citizenship papers after her arrival in Wisconsin.

Rail Body Is Working For Cut In Rates

Commission Reports It Is Following Suggestion of
Gov. Blaine

The Railroad commission reported to Gov. Blaine today that it has given his suggestions for rate cuts in public utilities careful consideration, and has taken active steps to carry out the recommendations recently made by him.

"It has been our conclusion that the activity of the commission should be directed first to those cases which present the strongest need for immediate consideration," the report says.

Point is then made of reductions brought about in sand and gravel rates, adjustment of sugar beet rates, and fuel wood rates, in addition to hundreds of adjustments between specific producing and consuming points which have been of material benefit to different localities.

Investigation of freight rates on coal are under way, the commission says, and will be brought for an early hearing. Hay and grain rates within the state will soon come up for investigation, and will be given immediate attention, according to the commission.

Gas rates in Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Green Bay, Janesville, De Pere and Fond du Lac are said to be under investigation.

Wherever local engineers are probing into utility situations, the commission reports that it is giving all possible assistance, and says that in a number of instances notably at Oshkosh, Racine, Kenosha and Beloit, local companies have made voluntary reductions in gas rates.

The commission says that in face of insistent demands of railroads for authority to reduce or abandon passenger and freight service on branch lines, it has steadfastly refused to give authorization.

CHANGING THE HOUR

A FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE football game has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon in plain conflict with the Memorial Union parade. Strenuous efforts have been made to get the game postponed at least until after the parade is over. At the present writing no action has been reported.

It is ridiculous to run a football game in competition to the parade. Every consideration demands that the game give the right of way to the parade. If the hour of the game is not postponed, then the teams will play to empty benches and rightly so.

INTERSECTIONAL FOOTBALL

IN the past there has been a strong sentiment among the Western conference schools against intersectional football. The policy of the Big Ten discouraged its members from arranging games with western or eastern schools, and for a number of years this policy has been adhered to.

Whatever may have been the reason for this attitude previously, the reason seems now to be void, and the policy to have been thrown into the discard. This fall one conference team defeated a prominent eastern university, and is already laying plans for a return game next season. Two other conference schools are also making arrangements for eastern games next fall.

Wisconsin, so far, is remaining passive in the midst of a general intersectional movement. Whatever the reason, it is not lack of interest on the part of the student body, certainly. Although the sentiment of the students has not yet been concretely formulated, nevertheless, there is a strong feeling among them that Wisconsin should get out of the provincial rut and arrange a game with some eastern institution.

Illinois is arranging a game with Harvard, and Chicago, having defeated Princeton this year at Princeton, is set to meet the Tigers next year on Stagg field. We won over Illinois and we are going to play a great game against Chicago, and we have every confidence that if we went up against Iowa, we should certainly spoil her present record. We are in a class with the best the East can put forth, and the students at Wisconsin want to try the mettle of our grid warriors against that of the easterners.

We know that in educational standards Wisconsin is outranked by none. We have proved it. Nor do any of the conference teams outrank us in football. Are we going to let Iowa, Illinois and Chicago be the only schools to show the East how the Middle West plays football? Why not give them a sample of the Wisconsin brand? We can show the East what Middle West football really is, and we can make them sit up and take notice generally. Coach Richards and his men are well able to cope with the best brains and brawn on the American gridiron. Why not give them a chance?

DRAMA IN MADISON

ALTHOUGH the city of Madison, due to its peculiar role as the seat of the University of Wisconsin, is an intellectual and cultural center, it has never had what could be justly called corresponding theatrical facilities. This want has prevented Madison from attracting drama of the better type except at infrequent intervals. Patrons of the drama whose tastes rise above the musical comedy, and who prefer to see a good play with the original rather than a second class caste, have been forced to go to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Another city the size of Madison could hardly be expected to support a dramatic season well filled with "high-brow" billings. But Madison is different from other cities of its size in that it contains a good sized group who are, or should be in view of their training, culturally inclined. Good drama is as essential to a well rounded intellectual life as literature and the fine arts. Unlike these other arts, drama depends upon physical production in the form of acting to give fullest expression to its possibilities. To be successful a play must be interpreted by superior actors, and superior actors are scarce and in great demand. To attract them, a city must offer a guarantee of a sufficiently large audience, an appreciative audience, and a theater capable of taking care of the production and the audience.

Madison can certainly guarantee an appreciative audience, and with proper facilities, the necessary box office receipts. What Madison has been lacking is a place suitable to do all this. However, this winter holds forth the promise that Madison may satisfy its dramatic appetite. The best of luck to the enterprise that should give the city a fitting theater.

CONTEMPORARY FICTION

AN eminent professor of English in an eastern institution recently stated that a good part of the fiction sent to magazines was distinctly immoral in tone. Dishonesty and cruelty especially seems to be no deterrent to the character of the hero or heroine so long as the writer portrays what he thinks to be the truth.

This hunting after truth on the part of writers is a praiseworthy virtue in itself were it not for the peculiar ideas of truth which they have. Emphasis seems to be given to the seamy side of life, and sordid details are played to the limit, in this conscientious search after elusive truth. Authors seem to forget that even today there is nobility and purity and old-fashioned virtues in actual life. Human nature does not change very much after all. What does change is the viewpoint of those who take it upon themselves to tell the world what the truth of life is.

UNIFORMED MEN ARE ASKED TO GUARD CENOTAPH

Organizations of War Veterans
Will Join to Make Program a Success

The Armistice day cenotaph on the square will be guarded by a uniformed squad of members of the university Gun and Blade club. This is in compliance with a request of Mayor Milo Kittleson which was put before the club meeting in the Union building last night.

Tribute will also be bestowed by the Gun and Blade club. A wreath will be formally placed on the altar by a uniformed body of two or more squads.

The men in the guarding squads are: E. M. Boerke, J. E. Sheldon, Tim Dulhanty, Richard Osterman, F. E. Mueller, Bruno Stein, Joseph F. Paxton, George Julius, Francis Johnson.

F. C. Cevallos is in charge of the body to place the wreath on the cenotaph.

The Union Memorial parade will be participated in by the entire Gun and Blade club. The university post of the American Legion and the Red Arrow club are co-operating with the Gun and Blade club to make both the Memorial Union dedication and Armistice day what they should be.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR MEMORIAL UNION DRIVE

Final Instructions Are Given to Members on the Drive

Two hundred enthusiastic and eager students attended the meeting of the salesmanship course for Memorial Union campaigners last night. "Hap" Baker, general chairman of the coming drive, characterized the meeting as the "zero hour" of the drive.

Following the monster parade next Saturday the drive will begin immediately, and last night's discussion gave all the workers and division leaders the final instructions.

Prof. "Steve" Gilman addressed the crowd at first. "Wisconsin," he said, "holds my most sacred affections, and ever since I gazed on the dome of Main hall from my father's farm I have loved her. This new plan for the further benefit and glory of Wisconsin seems to me to be the greatest thing ever attempted on this campus."

Prof. "Ned" Gardner, who has had charge of the course crystallized the points made in the former meetings, and once more clarified the real purpose of the future Union. He said, "This is the greatest cause for which any student has ever worked, and it ought to be a matter of pride to have helped in the erection of this institution."

All workers on the drive will meet in Sterling court on Saturday to join in the parade as one group. With all the necessary campaign literature distributed and every detail ready the workers, skilled in salesmanship as a result of the course, are ready for the drive.

The next meeting of the campaigners will be held Tuesday evening.

BUDDHAISM TO BE TOPIC OF VESPERS

Buddhism will be the topic for the Y. W. C. A. Vespers next Sunday afternoon. Professor Wolfenson of the History department will speak.

The meeting will be held in Lathrop parlors at 4:30 and will be open to all girls.

Ima Winchell '23 will conduct the meeting. Special music has been arranged for.

CARDINAL ADS PAY

BADGER ROOM WILL HAVE HILL'S MUSIC

The Badger room, where dances are given every Friday and Saturday night "by students for students," will feature tonight the famous Thos. Hill's orchestra.

This five-piece orchestra is composed mainly of men attending the university. Both the saxophone and the drums players were formerly connected with the Rainbow Melody boys on the west coast.

Hill plays the violin, and Wendell Bonesteel '23, will play the trombone. The pianist is also a student.

500 Signers To Petition itH New Theater

Members of Holy Redeemer Church Oppose State Street Venture

A hot fight over the erection of the new State street theater proposed by Mark Heimen, Chicago theater promoter, formerly connected with the Fuller opera house, developed this week, following on the heels of a resolution introduced last Friday night at the city council meeting by Ald. J. L. Starr.

The resolution asked that "no public garage, theater or bowling alley shall hereafter be erected and no license shall be granted for any public garage, theater or bowling alleys hereafter erected within a distance of 300 feet from any public or permanently established parochial school grounds."

The resolution is supported by the parish of the Holy Redeemer church. Father E. J. Meyer stated that he had asked Ald. Starr to introduce the resolution to prevent the erection of the theater, which would back onto Johnson street, opposite the church school grounds. Father Meyer characterized the theater as a "nuisance to the school and the residents in that section."

A petition signed by 500 or more members of the parish and nearby residents has been prepared by Father Meyer and will be sent to the city clerk today, he said. The petition has been circulated since Sunday.

"I have 500 signers and can get 500 more if necessary," Father Meyer said. "Trustees and members of the parish have signed it and I will send it to the city council today."

Ald. Starr, who fathered the resolution in the council, said today that there is no grounds for the statements that the resolution is aimed directly at the new State street theater. The resolution now is in the hands of the city planning commission, which meets Nov. 7 and 8.

3 Cowboys On Wager Ride Are In City Today

The wild west, a la movies and the woolliest tales of 50 years ago, appeared in Madison this morning, when B. F. Mears, Harold E. Leslie and Dick Ward, Wyoming cowboys, galloped into Madison on regular ponies.

The men are on their way from Jackson, Wyo., which is just south of the Yellowstone park, on a $2,000 wager, with the Jackson Holt Commercial club of Jackson to ride horseback to New York.

Four stipulations are made in the wager:

None of the men may sell or buy a horse. He may trade his for another if he wishes and can do so.

The men are forbidden to buy any tobacco, but must smoke every day. They must reach New York by Jan. 1, 1922.

They may not ride in any riding contest. This, however, does not exclude them from giving riding exhibitions.

The men started out August 25 with $4.18 between them and one package of cigarettes. They have so far ridden 1663 of the 2,700 miles they will have to cover. After a visit in New York they will ride to Washington to see President Harding, to whom they have letters of introduction from Senator Warren of Wyoming, Rep. Mondell, republican leader, and Gov. Cary of that state. They have ridden on the average of about 30 miles a day.

The men are picturesquely clothed in regular western paraphernalia.

They will give an exhibition tonight at the Elks' club where they are being entertained while in Madison. Elks and their wives are invited to the exhibition.

Fake Dry Agents Were Active in Wisconsin

CHICAGO—With the arrest of two men and a woman, the police today broke up what they described as the shrewdest confidence game worked on law-breaking saloonkeepers since the passage of the prohibition act. The amount collected the police said totals between $100,000 and $125,000. The prisoners under arrest are Walter Reise, and James Burns, with his wife, Mabel Burns. The police charge they carried supposedly forged letters identifying them as agents for the Internal Revenue department and also wore stars of internal revenue officers. They would visit saloonkeepers suspected of dealing in liquor, the police say, and after starting to take the victim to the federal building, offer to drop the charges providing sums ranging from $500 to $1,000, was paid. Operations of the trio was said to have extended throughout Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana.

Jones Permits Regulars To Return to Eleven

IOWA CITY—Coach Jones seems to have produced results by virtue of his vigorous verbal chastising of his players. He got the best "fighting spirit" practice out of the bunch tonight since the Illinois game. Locke was permitted to return to full back, and he showed that the layoff had benefitted him greatly. He tore holes through the opposing line in scrimmage. Jones kept Kriz in for Mead in the line, and the substitute played in first team form. Miller also continued to hold Shuttleworth's job at half, but "Shut" was given a trial at quarter back when Capt. Aubrey Devine rested.

City Wins Burrows Park Case

Action is Non-Suited After Hearing is Opened in Court Here

GOES TO ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Burrows Loses Fight
Against Park and Pleasure
Drive Body

The city won a victory in the circuit court here today, when Judge Oscar Fritz of Milwaukee decided that the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive association had complied with the conditions of the late George B. Burrows, bequest of Burrows' park to the city.

When Mrs. Celeste Burrows, plaintiff, who sued the Park and Pleasure Drive association for the recovery of the land bequeathed by her father-in-law to the city, on the ground that the city had not turned it into a park as stipulated, had completed her testimony, motion for non-suit was made by City Attorney Ryan, who tried the case for the association. The jury was then taken from the room in order that it might not be influenced, and arguments against and for the non-suit were made.

At the conclusion, Judge Fritz ruled that the testimony had shown nothing to indicate the failure on the part of the Park and Pleasure Drive association to comply with the terms of the will, and dismissed the case.

The terms of the will are as follows:

"I give and devise to the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive association of Madison, Wisconsin, the south one-half (1/2) of my real estate situated in section twelve (12) in the town of Madison, Dane county, Wisconsin, known as the Raywood property, upon the express condition that they shall forever keep and maintain the same as a public park to be always called and known as the Burrows park."

The land in question comprises 12 acres lying on the shore of Lake Mendota, south of Lakewood, and is valued at $25,000.

Attorneys for Mrs. Burrows would not state definitely, but the case will probably be appealed.

Pack Parcels Well is Perfect Package Slogan

With the opening of Perfect Package month, a nation wide project, aimed to make all shipping more satisfactory from the damage point of view, Madison shipping interests are taking pains to see that all parcels sent from the city are in first class condition.

Frank J. Zoelle, passenger agent for the North Western road, has returned a number of parcels to their senders for repacking. It is understood that some objection was made to some of these returns.

Committee Heads of A. of C. Name Workers

Committee chairmen of two departments of the Association of Commerce have named the members with whom they will work this year. Glen W. Stephens, chairman of the employment and service committee, will have with him W. B. Schulte, W. W. Powers, F. W. Huels, and H. C. Jamieson. George K. Anderson, head of the retail extension committee, has named Harry Williams, Neil Fox, H. H. Ratcliff, Julius Breitenbach, Edwin Schmitz, R. T. McGuire, W. A. Van Deusen, S. E. Capron and W. S. Craig.

Tellier, Golf Champion, Kills Self by Hanging

NEWTON, Mass. — The body of Louis Tellier, Massachusetts open golf champion, was found today hanging by a small rope in a shelter on the links of the Braeburn County club. The police said death was due to suicide. Motive for the suicide was not known. Tellier came to this country from France in 1913. He was one of the best known professional golfers in the country and one of the high ranking players nationally.

FULLER THEATER TO BE REOPENED ON DECEMBER 1

The work of remodeling the Fuller theater is going forward rapidly and the general contractors, A. D. & J. F. Frederickson, state that it will be ready to open about December 1.

The interior of the building is entirely new, the main floor and balcony being constructed of reinforced concrete and the arrangement is such that every seat in the house will have an unobstructed view of the stage.

The balcony is entirely supported by a huge steel girder weighing 22 tons, thus doing away with the pillars which have heretofore prevented a good view of the stage from many seats.

The cost of the improvements will be over $130,000. The Miffin Realty company, which is rebuilding the theater, announces that when it is opened it will be known as the Parkway, this name having been selected as being the most appropriate.

Dr. Becroft, the secretary of the company, states that the opening attraction has not yet been decided upon, but that it will be announced shortly.

Fire Marshal Probes $20,000 Farm Blaze

MILWAUKEE — The Deputy State Fire Marshal, W. G. End, and the sheriff's force were called upon today to solve the mystery of a fire which destroyed four barns 30 head of cattle and a large quantity of machinery, hay, grain and potatoes on the farm of Walter Schmidt, seven miles west of the city last night. The loss is $20,000.

THESE LADS, FROM HILLS OF KAINTEUCK, GAVE HARVARD FIRST DEFEAT SINCE 1916

"Bo" McMillan is today the outstanding figure in football. His name is already written large in grid history. For McMillan is the Centre college quarterback who scored the touchdown that gave his team a 6 to 0 victory over Harvard. It was McMillan's masterful Napoleonic handling of the Danville, Ky., team which gave Harvard its first defeat since 1916. "Red" Roberts was the other outstanding star of the Centre team, although the entire eleven, coached by Moran, showed a quality of football that amazed eastern critics. Centre's strategy in resorting little to open football fooled Harvard.

MAY DEBATE WITH WESTERN SCHOOLS

Forensic Board is Considering Triangle With Missouri and Washington

A triangular debate with the universities of Missouri and Washington to take place the first week after Christmas is being seriously contemplated by the Forensic board, the debates to be held in addition to the regularly scheduled contests with the universities in the Midwest Debating League.

Arnold Perstein, who graduated from the university last June, is at present the debating coach at the University of Missouri and it is largely through his efforts that the contests are being negotiated. While in the city Saturday he stated that the Missouri faculty committee had given its O. K. for the debate if it can be arranged.

One of the Wisconsin teams will be rewarded with a trip to Washington in the event that the plans are completed, for in such case Wisconsin will send a team to the University of Washington, Washington will send a team to Missouri, and Missouri will send a team here. The trip will also make it more convenient should the university complete plans for a debate with the University of Texas.

The debates if held will not only furnish an extended trip for one of the Wisconsin teams and broaden the range of forensic activity, but will also do much toward giving Missouri a better footing in the field of debating. There is much to be gained by way of prestige in debating with a school having as highly developed forensics as Wisconsin, and it is partially for this reason that Perstein has asked for a contest with his alma mater.

HYDE WRITES NEW JOURNALISM BOOK

"Handbook for Newspaper Workers," a new book by Grant M. Hyde, associate professor of Journalism and editor of the press bureau, university of Wisconsin, with an introduction by Prof. W. G. Bleyer, director of the Wisconsin course in journalism, has just been published by D. Appleton and company. It is a desk-book of English usage and newspaper technique especially for newspaper offices published as a companion volume of "Newspaper Reporting and Correspondence" and "Newspaper Editing," two earlier books by the same author.

The new handbook is a 225-page ready-reference manual of the 101 essentials that must be told to a "cub" reporter, either by an editor or a journalism teacher. Grammatical difficulties, logical punctuation, better newspaper English, words to be avoided, the news story, the office style sheet, devices to develop accuracy, clean copy, copyreading, and proofreading symbols, essentials in headlines, elements of type, handling of pictures and cuts, and essentials in libel are among the topics treated. A sample style sheet is included.

As the first handbook of English primarily intended for newspaper offices and prepared with a view to improving everyday English, the book illustrates the common errors and shows how to correct them. Its many devices for helping a reporter or desk man are tabulated, numbered, and indexed for easy reference, and examples take the place of lengthy discussions.

BADGER CLUB WILL HOLD NOVEL FROLIC

The mysteriously blind-folded group you see carefully lock-stepping its way through the gloomy university woods is nothing else than the Badger club on a Halloween frolic.

Goblins and elves will be present at the barn dance in great number, and when 7:30 Friday evening comes, the merry makers will assemble at the Y. M. C. A. for the first part of the program.

The exact location of the barn and all the details of the affair are carefully veiled in secrecy, but the committee in charge promises a great many scary but enjoyable surprises.

Mr. F. E. Wolf and Mrs. Thompson will chaperon.

STOCK INDUSTRY CONDITIONS BETTER —RUSSELL

"Live Stock Industry in the Northwest" was the subject of an address by Dean H. L. Russell to the members of Saddle and Sirloln club, last night.

Mr. Russell has recently returned from a tour of the western states where he made a detailed study of the livestock situation.

"Lack of money, and lack of confidence are the chief causes of the deplorable live stock situation in the west," declared Mr. Russell. He gave examples of this lack of credit by stating that Denver banks had millions of dollars tied up in cattle loans. Because market prices of live stock were low, hundreds of farmers could not meet their loans and were completely discouraged.

"The resuscitation of the government War Finance Corporation is the most hopeful solution of the stockmen's difficulty," continued Dean Russell. "The corporation has a billion dollars at its disposal which it may loan to needy farmers and stockmen."

"The working of this corporation is a little different than its operation during war time," Dean Russell explained. "The corporation loans money to the banks which in turn extends credit in a similar amount to the farmers." This system has already brought relief to the farmers of the west, according to Eugene Meyers, president of the corporation.

"The young man of today has just as good an opportunity in the live stock industry as his father had," concluded Mr. Russell. "It is better to buy on a falling market than on a rising market, but it takes more courage."

Rural Schools Make Own Hot Lunches

Wisconsin "kiddies" prepare their own hot lunches in the rural schools. Wisconsin leads the other states in the middle west in the percentage of hot lunches served. Forty percent of the rural schools in this state serve the hot lunch, according to Miss Ada E. Miller, of the Home Economics department of the Agricultural extension.

GODOWSKY CONCERT PROMISES NOVELTY

By Sheldon Henderikson

One of the greatest musical privileges of the season is being afforded this evening when Leopold Godowsky appears at the Presbyterian church in a piano recital. Godowsky is without doubt one of the greatest living pianists, and he is claimed by many to be the only artist to equal Liszt.

Critics have eulogized the playing of Godowsky until there is almost nothing left about which he can be praised. His interpretation of Chopin is always spoken of with awe, his dynamic power and his tone coloring are superb.

It is indeed fortunate that Madison is able to hear this artist who is so well known throughout the world. Although Godowsky now makes his home in America, he is leaving next year for Europe and the Orient where he expects to spend the next five years.

The MacDowell club of the Wisconsin School of Music is sponsoring this concert, and a capacity crowd is expected. Some desirable seats are still available at the Forbes-Meagher Music company.

ATHENAE TO HOLD DEBATE TONIGHT

PHILO TO DEBATE CARDINAL POLICY

Editorial and news policies of The Daily Cardinal will be discussed and criticized at the Philomathian meeting Friday evening, Nov. 4, in 220 Bascom hall. A debate: "Resolved, that the present editorial and news policy of The Daily Cardinal should be reversed" will be upheld in the affirmative by Frank J. Drobka '22, Harold A. Seering '24, Harland F. Gilbert, and in the negative by Gerald Foster '24, Roy Herman '24, and Malcolm McDonald. Seering, Foster, and Herman have been members of high school state championship contending teams.

The chief points of contention in regard to the Cardinal methods are that it takes no sides editorially in any issue concerning student life, and purposely slights the less popular activities regardless of their inherent value, in favor of the more popular forms of activities.

"Some Disarmament Problems" will be the subject of a speech by M. A. Fischer '22. He will touch on only a few major issues toward the solution, an attempt at which will be made at the Disarmament conference, and promises a well prepared summary.

A sympathetic critic has been selected and he has promised an interesting discussion of "The Critic's Task," as well as an analysis of the speeches made.

Every male student in the university is welcomed as a visitor at Philomathia hall. The discussions outlined are of timely interest and a special invitation to all men is extended for the meeting tonight.

Industrial Accidents In 3 Months 3,700

Industrial accidents numbering 3,700 have been reported to the state Industrial commission from July 1 to Oct. 1, the state department of engineering says in its quarterly report today. The commission visited 2,163 places of employment during the period and investigated 390 accidents. The number of accidents shows a decrease of 416 over the previous quarter and 2,001 over the corresponding period of 1920. Of the 390 accidents investigated, the commission said that 23 per cent were caused by violation of safety orders.
