KAPPA DELTA WILL INSTALL CHAPTER HERE

Local Sorority Granted Charter by National Society

Tau Kappa Delta, local sorority founded this year, has been granted a charter by Kappa Delta national sorority and will be installed on Friday, May 28 as the Tau chapter. This is the sixteenth national sorority to be established at Wisconsin.

Miss Sarah Blue, national chapterian, of Union Springs, Ala., and Miss Mildred Schlafke, president of Delta Province of Appleton, Wis., will install the new chapter. Guests and representatives from the Northwestern and Lawrence chapters will also be present.

Founded in 1897

Kappa Delta sorority had its origin in the South and was founded at the Virginia State Normal, Oct. 23, 1897. Although extension throughout the South has been the policy, conservatism, until recent years, has been practiced in the establishment of chapters in the northern states. There are now 23 active and 19 alumnae chapters.

The sorority maintains chapters at Cornell University, University of California, University of Southern California, University of Minnesota, University of Pennsylvania, University of Denver, Iowa State College, Coe College, Ames College, Northwestern University, University of Kentucky, University of Alabama, and other schools of the South and Northwest. The Psi chapter at Lawrence College is the first chapter of Kappa Delta in the state.

Members of Kappa Delta from Northwestern University and Lawrence College, meeting here this year established the local organization and with the co-operation of the other sororities succeeded in meeting the requirements of the national society.

Members

Those who are already Kappa Deltas but who will be installed as charter members of the Tau chapter at the University of Wisconsin are: Dorothy Hope Ream, Lambda chapter, Northwestern University, and Elsie Taylor, Freda Gaterman, and Hazel Haberman, Psi chapter, Lawrence College. The new members are: Violet M. Smith, Mary Caldwell, Dorothy Barber, Esther Harris, Irene Clayton, Leona Seaver, Louise Jorgenson, Josephine Halsor, Edith Black, Selvida Kenneth, Beulah McComb, Elizabeth Long, Faythe Brosius, Esther Tilton, Florence Magaurn, Arline Schunk.

BADGER RUSHES PRINTING WORK

Hot off the press to the binders, Brock and Rankin, Chicago, is the latest news concerning the 1921 Badger which will be ready for distribution in another week.

Binding and covering 5,000 copies is such a big job that no Wisconsin firm put in a bid for the work and consequently the contract was let to the Chicago company. Although Brock and Rankin are six months behind their schedule they are putting every man in the plant to work on the 1921 Badger.

Transportation to Madison will be by freight, truck, and express in order to secure quick delivery.

Sawdust Arena Packed With Thrills at "World's Greatest Show" Saturday

The crowd that jammed the stock pavilion to its doors last night witnessed the biggest and most original University Circus ever staged. Hanson and Christianson, with their daring, devilish deeds on the double trapeze, won first prize in the main show. Second prize was awarded to the gym team which executed some very difficult feats on the horizontal bars. The double bareback, with Brandt and Field, and the singles bareback act by Brandt, took third place.

Honorable mention, in the main show, was given to the Chinese students' club which put on a clever exhibition of fencing, wrestling, and the shuttlecock "as done in the land of chop suey," to the clever take-off on Anthony and Cleopatra, by Delta Upsilon, to Phi Gamma Delta which gave a travesty of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and to the Phi Kappa Sigma's clown band. The judges were pleased with all the clowns, and especially with the photographer who took almost everyone's picture twice during the evening.

Side Shows

Willet Kempton, the living skeleton, assisted by James Davis, Dorothy Crook, Joy Shadboldt, Bobby Bradford, and Bernard Monfried, captured first prize in the side shows. Blue Beard's Wives, presented by the A. O. P.'s, won second place.

In the parade the broncho-busting riders of Alpha Gamma Rho took first prize. Gamma Phi Beta, with its breezy Hawaiian float, took second and Acacia's saxophone sextet won third place. Mention was made of the Alpha Phi gypsies and the Phi Gamm's brass band.

As the university band struck up the opening circus march, and the ringmaster gave the signal, the whole line of acts made a grand entry. After that the gym team took ring 1, doing some clever stunts on the horizontal bars, while Steinauer and Hagen put on some tumbling stunts on the main stage. The whistle—and Brandt and Field had the track, doing some sensational bareback riding.

Pageant

The lights were dimmed, and with one magic sweep, the brilliant spectacle, "Anthony and Cleopatra," given by Red Domino, Twelfth Night, and Edwin Booth, was before the crowd. It was no more than over, than 100 yelling clowns burst into the arena.

The D. U.'s took the first ring, the Chinese performers the stage, while Ku Klux Klan put across "A Dark Horse." Brandt and Field did some remarkable riding stunts. The whistle again.

Variety of Acts

The Commerce club put on a thrilling track meet, the Frosh gym team built some human pyramids, while Hanson and Christianson held the crowd spellbound with their double trapeze act. And soon Steinauer and Hagen were out again, this time doing acrobatics, while the Acacia saxophone sextet serenaded. Aaneson and Myrland followed with a broadsword battle. Hesperia and Zeta Psi both put on exhibitions of living statues, while W. A. A.

STUDENTS FORM CHURCH COUNCIL TO UNITE BODIES

Campus Religious Cabinet Represents Many Creeds; Leo Kohl Heads Group

With the organization of the Campus Religious council, completed in the past three days, denominations represented on the campus have united to promote religious enterprises. The council is composed of five student representatives and a paid student worker from religious bodies in the university community. Its purpose is to promote religious activities in which students are now participating.

The following officers were elected to head the work of the council: Leo Kohl, president; R. P. Gerholz, vice-president; J. B. Gleason, secretary.

The council is inter-denominational; every religious group on the campus has been invited to co-operate, and the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are actively represented. As a community enterprise, in which many religious forces are to be united it is in direct line with the great Inter-Church World movement.

The program of the council includes several events which have become annual, and others which will mark a broadening of the field of religious work. It has decided to give to incoming freshmen an enthusiastic, Wisconsin welcome. A pamphlet announcing every Bible class and its leader will be placed in their hands. When the Religious conference is planned, it will receive the hearty support of the students on the campus council.

WE got up so early yesterday morning to see the circus come in that we don't imagine we'll detain you very long this morning. It's Sunday, too, and we ought to really hold quite a long service, but we simply can't make it.

AND THEN THE FUN BEGAN
Co-ed (entering the Commandant's office just before the circus parade): Oh, Sergeant Atkins, may we borrow one of your Boy Scout's tents?

ONE of the greatest delights of the circus was to see the late Prom chairman flirting with one of the inhabitants of Sun Prairie on State street. Waltzing up to the aforementioned peasant Bud patted him on the cheek, and asked, looking at his astonished wife and equally astonished child, "You don't care if I do this, do you?"

STEVENS POINT TEAM FAVORED IN TRACK MEET

Coach Tenison Trains Group of Winners for Normal Clash

STEVENS POINT, Wis.—Coach S. A. Tenison of the Stevens Point Normal school has developed a great track team this year, that should come pretty near winning the big state normal track and field meet at Madison on the varsity cinder path, May 29. Tenison is himself a runner of note, who was inter-collegiate champion of Illinois in the century dash, when a student at Millikin university and later, at the Springfield "Y" college he starred in the sprints and on one occasion beat Andy Kelly, the crack New England dash man, who has records of 9 4-5 and 21 3-4 seconds in the hundred and furlong.

The stars of his normal team this year will be Getchell, the Paulsen brothers, Eagleburger, Precourt, Elliott, Dolloway and Zorn. Getchell, who comes from Merrill, Wis., cleaned up in both hurdles and the high jump last May, in the state high school meet, doing 16 4-5 in the highs, 5:08 1-2 in the jump and fast time in the low hurdles. The high school rules permitted him to compete in but three events. Nohr, a Stevens Point boy, ran for normal in the hurdles and sprints last year, but with Getchell for the hurdles, is confining his work this season to the dashes and jumps. Re is going great guns in the sprints and will make the highly touted Milwaukee sprinters step faster than they have this year, if they beat him. Against Lawrence, Nohr won the 100 in :10 3-5, hands down and the 220 in :24 1-5, with equal ease. He broad jumped close to 21 feet and did 5:08 in the high jump.

Paul Paulson won the normal conference mile last year easily in slow time, but has run in about 4:40 and should beat that figure, if he has to, May 29. Elliott and Dolloway are new men. Both are good vaulters and Dolloway throws the weights well, too. Elliott is vaulting around 11 feet. Precourt was new last year and failed to score, but he will have to be reckoned with at Madison for he won the javelin at 133 feet against Lawrence and was second in the high jump with 5:07. Paulsen is running the half and improving steadily, while Leinhardt is no slouch in the quarter. Eagleburger has been sprinting for several years and is just now striking a fast clip. He runs Nohr a close race in the 220 and is strong in the 440. Zorn is a good weight man, in the normal class. Ritchay, veteran in all sports is broad jumping and running the 440 well. Leinhardt is a quarter and relay man.

Stevens Point defeated Lawrence decisively, 74 to 57, in a dual meet, May 8, which put a lot of pep in the team. They are now working as never before with the hope of landing the state championship. Last year the Point team, with Kelsey as its star, finished a close third to Milwaukee and La Crosse.

clowns held the stage. The Kappa Sig's band, the Chi Psi pitched battle, and the Phi Gamma's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," were the next entertainers. And then there was "Tony and Cleo," a take-off of the brilliant spectacle, presented by Delta Upsilon. The gym team then put on a Roman ladder act.

Whistle!

A cry for help from the Psi U "house," and the fire department was on the scene. The debris was carried away, and with wild shrieks and shots the riders of Alpha Gamma Rho closed the show.

Mrs. C. F. Lamb, president of the Woman's club, refused to make a statement on the matter today. "The information will be given out later," she declared.

SENIORS

Your committee on membership in the General Alumni association asks you to read the following statement carefully:

4. ORGANIZATION IS NECESSARY

It is axiomatic that the alumni can work efficiently as alumni only through organization. The graduate who willingly stays out of the alumni organization not only does not contribute to the success of the organization but is a drag upon its efficiency.

It is a well recognized fact that one of the most important factors in promoting the welfare of a university—particularly a state university—is the intelligent interest and support of its alumni.

5. LOYALTY

There is only one test of loyalty—that is service. Hundreds can do more by co-operation than thousands working each by himself, and do many things which thousands could not do at all without co-operation.

6. INSPIRATION

The years you have spent at the university have been pleasant and profitable; their memory will be a constant inspiration; the friendships you have made will bring you cheer and give you courage to face whatever the future may have in store for you.

Speed the day when every man and woman who ever attended the university is enrolled as a member of the General Alumni association. It is one very practical way of showing your faith in the university and your desire to stand behind it.

N. B.—Seniors who join now will be credited with membership until July 1, 1921.

RESTORING LOST BEAUTY

SURVEYING with close scrutiny the condition of grounds and buildings within the confines of the campus, and meditating upon the opportunities for improvements, an observer runs smack against several questions:

When will the plan of Camp Randall stadium be carried through to completion?

When will dilapidated Music hall be put in such repair that its present barn-like interior will be unrecognized?

When is a long-suffering student body to expect the construction of concrete walks from Main hall to the Physics building, to replace the wooden gangways that are now the curse of the campus?

Whereat the university administrative officers, and the business manager in particular, throw up their collective hands and cry in despair, "When we get the money!"

There's the rub—the key to the whole situation in which the university now finds itself. The business management is working with a budget that is sagging in the middle from the demands of an increased enrollment and higher scale of prices. When there isn't enough to go around, some part of the institution has to suffer. The physical appearance of the university is beginning to reflect the pinching that is going on in the offices of the business management.

Our fervent prayer is that the legislature will take up corrective and preventive measures in giving new life to the university budget before buildings about the campus begin to crumble and decay.

PHI KAPPA PHI

A NEW society has taken its place among the university's honor organizations. The twenty-second chapter of Phi Kappa Phi was installed Friday as the result of the efforts of members among the faculty to bring this honorary fraternity to Wisconsin.

Phi Kappa Phi is not merely an addition to the roll of honorary organizations. It possesses distinctive features which promise that its installation will contribute largely to university life. The basis of membership is two-fold. Scholastic attainment is made essential by the provision that no person is eligible who does not stand within the first one-fourth of the students of his or her college. Character and strong personality are the other qualities on which election is based. Members are chosen at the end of the junior year, when men and women have had ample time to demonstrate their attitude toward scholastic work, and their qualities of leadership.

The national fraternity is dedicated to the principles of unity and democracy in education. In the words of its constitution, "its prime object is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thought of college students, and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership." Its members are chosen from all colleges and departments.

The chapter at Wisconsin plans to render a definite service to the university. It will work toward a more unified spirit and more effective "team work" among the students of the various colleges. Its object is to bring each student to appreciate the work of every other college, as well as his own. Every plan to strengthen and maintain a wholesome campus democracy will receive its support. During the year, several speakers of national importance will be brought before the students to present vital questions in our national life.

But its basic motive is to promote the great purpose which underlies university life. To train the minds of students who will soon enter into the life of their home communities, to equip them for wise and courageous leadership, is the ideal which Phi Kappa Phi realizes is fundamental and for which it stands. It encourages sound, thorough scholastic work. It demands in addition the integrity of character and strength of personality without which mental brilliancy is in vain.

What the College Editors Say

CO-EDS AT HARVARD

Co-education at the University! What delightful vistas our imaginations open at these words! The transformation of that dull class in Paleontology 37 X when you discover the delightful blonde two seats to the left to have a most ingratiating smile. We can picture the amorous flirtations between freshmen in psychology A, ripening four years later into a romantic courtship between fellow classmates in the "Education of the Child." With beatific dream of languorous "co-eds," we wonder why we have failed to welcome women students long, long ago.

But Alas! It can never be! The new school of pedagogy may allow women pupils, but we feel sure that the college will never be subject to the feminizing sway. That timid idea, so tentatively proposed by the governing board will not be adopted at Harvard. The stern spirits of every Puritan from Miles Standish to Cotton Mather arise in solemn protest. We see the inventor of the original "New England conscience" deliver his fateful warning—Never. The drear halls of Sever shall not be made frivolous. Nor shall they invade the awful precincts of "Mem." For this is your God: Education. And Education is austere. Else is were not Education. Amen.

The dream fades. Regrettably we admit that the Fathers are right. But what a pity!—The Harvard Crimson.

STUDENTS BEATEN BY LITTLE GIRL IN MEMORY TEST

Cleo Bach, age 9, and her brother John Bach, children of Mrs. Bach of the faculty of the School of Music, outclassed all the students who took part in the tests on music conducted by Prof. Peter Dykema following his lecture in Music hall Saturday morning.

Cleo and her brother got 23 out of 28 numbers correct. Three other high marks were recorded. They were Francis Mark, age 12, who answered 21 correctly and Katherine Mark and Iola Cook who tied with 20.

The lecture which was given as a part of the Music Memory contest was based upon the 28 selections used in the contest. Prof. Dykema not only illustrated how it was possible to listen intelligently to music, but also proved that it was possible to cultivate the power of recognizing different selections from classical music much as one recognizes a friend.

RAIN STOPS MATCH WITH PURPLE TEAM AT TENNIS COURTS

The rain storm which changed the circus plans at the last moment yesterday also made it impossible to hold the tennis match scheduled with Northwestern.

It was possible, however, to hold the inter-scholastic match. E. Pumperin of La Crosse defeated A. C. Grubb of Waterloo, the only other entrant. Score: 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

CALLS MEETING

A meeting of non-fraternity men and non-sorority women will be held Wednesday at 4:30 in 165 U. H. All are welcome.

HAROLD M. GROVES.

COMMUNICATIONS

WAR AND DIPLOMATS
To the Editor of The Cardinal:

War is made by diplomats and newspapers.

This is shown conclusively by the crisis of 1870. Bismarck planned the thing coolly, accurately, and determinedly, but had not the press flashed forth with tumultuous and inflammatory propaganda, war would not have come. The French and German papers made the war. They had been making it for years. Bismarck gave them the match with which to fire the magazine. The result was disastrous for France and for the world.

Today there are newspapers which are making war for the United States. The people of the United States do not want war. They do demand fair dealing and courteous treatment. The papers plot to embroil us by constantly telling the public that the nation they oppose violates our demands. They refuse us fair play, we are insulted, is the cry by which papers make war.

When two parties stand toe to toe, both suspicious of the other, both over-zealous of their rights, each waiting for the other to make the first move, war results. This is the position to which certain papers are attempting to drive us. There is hardly a city or town which is not represented by one of these papers. They are all dominated by one man. This man is a financier and intriguer of the first order. Through these hundreds of papers his influence is tremendous. He not only attempts to fill the public ear with his voice, he attempts to choke off all more moderate voices. This was almost accomplished by financial manipulation in New York a few months ago.

Do not minimize the danger. It is real. Mr. Hearst can only be prevented from driving the United States into war with England by active, fair-minded consideration of international politics and American policy. It is the price Americans must pay for liberty. This consideration must regard both sides of every question. It must rest upon a broad knowledge gained from many sources. Every American must be a statesman or he is likely to find himself a soldier. The statesman must replace the politician in America.

Most newspapers are honest and reliable as far as they know the truth. They should be read thoughtfully, but remember that many express the thoughts of one man. Know the authority for what you read. Accept nothing on credit. Think it over quietly. When every citizen thinks, the nation will be safe. War will have been averted.

RODGER C. CRABTREE.

THE CADET CORPS

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

There seem to be some people at this university who can see no good in anything which they, personally, are not conducting, or which is not done according to their specifications. I refer to the men who have been sneering and scoffing at the cadet corps during the past school year. They have been in evidence at all formations and wherever a group of cadets are seen in uniform.

Last Thursday, during the review given in honor of Colonel Morrow, of the inspector general's office, to cite a definite instance, freshman was standing on the sidelines, criticizing every movement that the corps went through. He took particular pleasure in yelling "Button fresh" as each company came along. Then the American flag, the "Colors" passed by. This particular freshman, who was leaning, in a very "military" attitude, against a tree, never took the trouble to raise off his elbows or remove his hat. When called upon to do so he answered that he had seen so much service in Camp Grant that he was tired of the colors.

This was only a particular example. No one could fail to be impressed by the snappy attitude of the group of men who were lounging around on the steps of the library as the colors passed. A group of women who were sitting there rose as the flag approached and remained standing until it passed. Most of the women ceased speaking. Not so the men, who knew it all. Their positions were too comfortable to change for anything so trifling as the American flag.

They are the same men who have been criticizing the cadet corps and its work. Yet none of them offer to come and help in building up a better corps. Colonel Morrow seemed to think it pretty good. As he left Madison on Friday he said it was one of the best conducted and best drilled units he had inspected. To quote a letter from Major James F. McKinley of the general staff board of inspectors:

"I want to again congratulate you on the splendid showing that was made by members of your unit. I hope I will have the pleasure of seeing you in the near future and talking over with you the matter of establishing at your university a normal school for officers on R. O. T. C. duty in the Central department."

Now you scoffers, what do you think of that? The Central department thinks Wisconsin has made a showing good enough to assure them that they would do well to establish a school here. Don't you fellows think it time to stop your knocking and get out and boost the R. O. T. C. of the University of Wisconsin? If there are faults, come on out and help correct them. Let's all get back of the corps instead of putting obstacles in its path.

O'SHEA GATHERS
GIRLS' OPINIONS
ON CO-EDUCATION

Questionnaire Sent to 5,000
Women Graduates of Colleges

"Do you favor co-educational high schools and colleges? Do you think it advisable that a girl's education have direct reference to the actual problems of life in the home and in the community?"

These are among the questions on the education of girls in high school and college that are asked of 5,000 women college graduates of five years standing, representing every interest throughout the country, in a questionnaire that has just been sent out by Prof. M. V. O'Shea, director of the School of Education, with the co-operation of the U. S. bureau of education. About 2,500 of the women are graduates of co-educational schools and 2,500 are graduates of women's colleges.

The letter is designed to ascertain the attitude of women toward co-education as compared with women's colleges, the attitude of graduates of various colleges in respect to education, the views held by women who have had different courses, and the attitude of mothers in respect to their daughters' education compared with their own.

Whether the preparation received in college is the best a woman could have for the problems which she is called upon to solve, what studies have proved of special service, and what were the chief virtues and chief defects in her secondary and collegiate education are among the questions asked.

That the questionnaire is being received with a great deal of favorable attention is indicated by the fact that about 50 detailed replies are recorded each day by Professor O'Shea.

Sure Adam Had to Have a Beard to Dry His Hands On

Did Adam wear a beard?
He didn't, according to M. Terrey, director of the Hungarian National Art museum, who declares that the whiskered Adam in Jordeus' painting, "Adam and Eve," were not put there by the original painter, but were added when beards were fashionable. M. Terrey will not have Adam follow the fashions, so he gives Adam a shave.

But our campus artists don't agree with him.

"Of course Adam wore a beard," said Fred Sperry, who was not in a serious mood. "He didn't have a towel, and he needed something to dry his hands on. But after all, the best person to interview is Eve—she ought to know."

There wasn't much use looking for Eve—she would have been sensed long ago.

So for a really authentic source, the Historical museum was inspected. Well, there were two prints of paintings by Massacio and Lippi, and in both Adam had a promising young beard.

The clinic believed that "Adam had 'em." But "em" were germs, and not whiskers.

Prof. W. H. Varnum of the manual arts department declared emphatically that Adam must have worn one. "How could he help it?" he asked.

Kenneth Fagg, however, said "No."

"Eve was supposed to be having a good time there in the garden," he declared. "It would make it a whole lot pleasanter if Adam had a shave. I don't insist on a haircut, but I'd paint him without the whiskers."

Boyd's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing. The party was chaperoned by Dean and Mrs. F. W. Roe, and Professor and Mrs. Julius Olson.

Announcement was made at the formal of the engagement of Esther Van Wagoner, junior in the Course of Journalism, to Harold G. Tufty, graduate student in the College of Engineering. Saturday afternoon the Achoth house, 629 North Frances street, was the scene of a kitchen shower in honor of Dorothy Martin, whose marriage to Veine V. Varney will take place August 16.

ed reprinting a signed editorial concerning his expulsion. The editorial, he claims, was kept out of the college paper after the president had threatened to hold his successor responsible if it were published.

"We have not published as much college propaganda, in other words, plain 'guff' as the administration desired," the editorial states. "If our opinions and ideas happened to differ from those of the ruling power we said so. Apparently (and from experience we knew) this is considered a crime around a college of liberal arts."

Another college editor was expelled at Beloit in 1918 as a result of a criticism printed in the paper. President M. A. Brannon of Beloit only recently withdrew his resignation which he had tendered on the ground that "reasonable idealism" was being interfered with on his faculty.

Prof. Marion Hawthorne Hedges, whose authorship of a novel dealing with academic freedom has made him a central figure in the recent disturbance, comes to Madison to speak on "Unrest in Education" before the University Social Science club Sunday.

SENIORS TO FIX FINAL PROGRAM AT CLASS MEET

PLANS FOR JULY FOURTH PROGRAM ARE UNDER WAY

Madison will have a big celebration on July 4th if the finance committee, appointed at the preliminary meeting of the general committee succeeds in rounding up a budget that will provide a fitting program including ample provision for the young folks.

C. A. Zilisch, B. B. Clark, H. L. Garner, Sol Levitan and J. H. Hansberry were appointed to look into the finances and report at a meeting to be called within two weeks.

All members of the committee believe that no definite program should be considered until the finances are definitely known. A budget of $1,200 seems necessary.

Several months ago, F. W. Montgomery, chairman of the patriotic activities committee of the Association of Commerce, had letters written to organizations in the city asking them to designate a member for this committee. Those who have been named are: Charles T. Demarest, J. J. Buellesbach, Mrs. Sarah D. Tyrrell, Mrs. C. V. Seastone, George F. O'Connell, Louis Andelson, Miss Belle Hurlburt, Miss Ethel M. Pierce, C.
