UNION VODVIL TICKET SALE OPENS TODAY

Capacity Houses For All Performances Expected; Many Groups Purchase Block Seats For Show

The ticket sale for the Union Vodvil, to be presented in the new Parkway theater, December 9 and 10, begins today and mail orders are now being received. The open sale will begin on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

All of the acts for the show have been selected and the different organizations represented are working hard on their productions. Special coaches have been supplied for each group to assist in rounding out the acts.

Three performances will be given. The opening show will be on Friday night, and there will be two performances Saturday, matinee and evening.

Whole Blocks Taken

Following the usual custom, many fraternities and organizations are ordering blocks of seats for the Vodvil. The committee in charge urges that all organizations desiring such accommodations should order at once so that there will be no difficulty in obtaining a mass of seats together. Already indications point to capacity houses for all performances.

Mail orders are to be addressed to the Parkway theater, and checks should be made payable to the cashier of the Parkway theater. All orders must be accompanied by a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

The scale of prices follows: 109 loge seats (first three rows of the balcony), $2.50; first 20 rows down stairs, $2.00; last six rows, $1.50. In the balcony, the first 11 rows back of the loges are $1.50, and the last six rows are $1.00. This price is net and no war tax will be charged.

The new Parkway theater is nearly finished and will open with a performance next week. The finishing touches are being made on the interior and all will be in readiness for the opening bill.

Lobby is Great Help to University Men

The lobby of the Y. M. C. A. is a complete service station to the wants of university men and serves equally well as a meeting place for appointments or a place of recreation or refreshment.

The convenient location of the "Y" makes its lobby particularly desirable as a meeting place for students who have no other place which allows them the freedom which the "Y" affords. This is especially true for students who live too far from the university to go home at lunch, and as a result the lobby is a busy place at noon.

The soda fountain is perhaps the busiest place unless it is the information desk where one may find out anything, use the telephone, leave parcels, get parcels, cash checks, or locate some dormitory resident.

SENIOR PICTURE DEADLINE IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

All Pictures Will Be Made Up For Printers By Friday

The Senior section of the 1923 Badger is now being completed, and the last possible date for senior summaries is Wednesday, Nov. 30.

"We have all the details of the section about finished, and the few summaries that have not yet been turned in are holding up the completion of the section," said Horace Powell, editor, yesterday.

The arrangement for the senior panels will be completed by Thursday, and on Friday all the material for this section of the book will be in the hands of the engraver. All senior pictures must be turned in to the Badger office by tomorrow night.

Haresfoot Follies Offers New Song Number by Brodt

Original Music to Be Introduced Saturday Night at Annual Dance

A new song, composed by Cecil Brodt '22, and Norman Lillis '22, with words by Peter E. F. Burns and Walter K. Schwinn '22, entitled "Watchin' You All the Time" will be introduced by "Hub" Townsend and Wells Carberry at the Haresfoot Follies dance in Lathrop gymnasium and concert room on Saturday night, Dec. 3.

The song was written especially for the Follies, and will be worked into the song and dance act featuring Carberry and Townsend. Brodt is well-known in university musical circles, being a member of Thompson's orchestra. He is one of the musical directors of the Union Vodvil.

Other acts in the Haresfoot Follies include Mord Bogie '23, and George Bartlett '22, in a musical burlesque, and William H. Purnell '22, in a monologue. Tickets for the Follies are priced at $2, and are now on sale at Morgan's and the University pharmacy. Group reservations may be made with Carl Bronson, B. 197, 630 North Lake street. Only 250 tickets will be sold.

COUNCIL IS "Y" CLEARING HOUSE

The Junior council is the clearing house of the Y. M. C. A. work on the campus. There are men on the Junior council that work with the membership, fellowship, sick visitation, tutoring, social, Badger club, and all the other "Y" committees. The council correlates the different features of the work, and serves as a body to bring them together.

The council, as its name would imply, is made up entirely of members of the junior class, and trains men for work on the cabinet. The year ahead holds lots of hard work for these men. Perhaps, the most important piece of work they will undertake, aside from the regular routine, will be a scheme for bringing the faculty and students together often in a social way.

Raybold to Hold Dancing Classes

Charles Raybold of New York city will conduct folk-dancing classes in the department of physical education this week. He will teach English country dances at 11 and 4:30 every day and sword and Morris dances at 7 o'clock each evening, in the gymnasium at Lathrop.

Mr. Raybold is the representative of Cecil J. Sharp, who has been called the "father of old English folk dances," because of his interest in reviving the English dances. Mr. Sharp collected and published the old time music for the dances.

Although the classes are limited to normal students in the physical education department, the gallery will be open, and visitors are welcome to watch the classes.

Sister Classes Hold Silver Teas

Two silver teas will be given on Saturday, Dec. 3, by the sister classes. The senior-sophomore class will hold a tea in Barnard parlors, the junior-freshman class in Lathrop parlors. The teas are for the new charter co-operative house started this year, under the auspices of S. G. A. A sister collection will be taken up to help buy furniture for the first floor of the house. There are three co-operative houses at present, completely managed by the girls.

The senior-sophomore tea will be a reception. The junior-freshman tea has a continuation program from 2:30 to 5:30. An opportunity for the getting together of the sister classes, and a display of class spirit is offered by the management. A large attendance is looked for, and those juniors who have advisees are urged to bring them to the affair.

Large Canvassing Forces Are Organized For Campus Solicitation; Start With Pep Meetings

With each organization sending a corps of canvassers and solicitors into the field for the purpose of carrying on their annual campaign to secure contributions supporting their work on the campus, the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. officially opened their annual finance drives yesterday.

The Y. W. C. A. is asking the woman student body for $2,500, while the Y. M. C. A. is appealing to the men of the university to assist in raising $4,000 of the amount necessary to carry it through the year.

Meetings Start Drive

Pep meetings marked the opening of the campaign by each group. That for the canvassers of the women's organizations was held Saturday morning. Drive workers among the men met yesterday at 4:30 in the parlors of the Y. M., when sales talks were given and the territory to be covered was assigned. The solicitors in each case were equipped with folders explaining the need and use of the funds that are raised every year.

The budget for the Y. W. calls for $4,400, with only $2,500 of it being solicited from the students. To operate the Y. M. for one year necessitates a fund of $11,000, again the student body being asked to a comparatively small portion of the amount.

Kirk Heads Women

Heading the campaign for the women workers is Elizabeth Kirk '23, assisted by an organization of canvassers directed by ten team captains. They will carry on the personal solicitation through a system of zones. The spirit of their work is expressed in their drive slogan "Get behind and push."

James Buxton '22, chairman of the finance committee of the Y. M. will manage the campaign for that organization. Here the actual work will be conducted through the various class groups, the Cabinet, Junior council, Sophomore commission and Inner circle, from which team leaders and their workers will be picked.

Budgets for the Y. M. C. A. are as follows:

Lobby supplies $600, employment $600, tutoring $175, printing, stationery $500, news sheet publication $303, religious conference $300, Badger club $300, Fellowship meetings $200, discussion and Bible study $100, foreign student work $60, boys' work $25, sick visitation $50, social $2.25, handbook and frosh welcome $350, conference $125, Short course $100, fuel $1,000, light $250, water $75, phone $190, repairs $100, finance $500, postage $100, equipment $200, miscellaneous contingency fund $129, state and international aid $150, salaries $4,285.

The total is $11,100.

The following is the budget for the Y. W. C. A.: Secretary $2,000, office secretary $750; national pledge $350, printing and postage $200, student conference $275, annual religious conference $125, committees $400, contingent fund $300. The total is $4,400.

SICKNESS STOPS
BLOSSOM SEELEY

Further advice received Monday night at the Orpheum theater from Miss Blossom Seeley, who is under her doctor's care in Chicago, is that Miss Seeley will be unable to fill the expected engagement at the local playhouse starting Thursday night as announced in yesterday's papers. This will be quite a disappointment to her many followers here. The local management will try and arrange dates after the first of the year for this artist.

In place of the Blossom Seeley act on the Thursday bill, will be Miss Sarah Padden and company in her latest dramatic success, "The Char-Woman." Local theater-goers will remember this dramatic star when she appeared at the Fuller some years ago in "The Third Degree," and more recently at the Orpheum in "The Clod."

Y. M. C. A. Extends
Membership to All
Creeds and Classes

There is no leaning toward one creed or another in the Y. M. C. A. The association is a student organization which extends its membership to all university men regardless of belief. New members are received into membership at the first fellowship meeting of each month. There are no dues of any kind, but each man is asked once a year during the annual financial drive to give what he is able.

The University of Wisconsin "Y" was organized in 1894 and was carried on for several years by undergraduates alone. In 1899 the first general secretary was called. The organization has grown steadily, under the guidance of several different secretaries until, at the present time, it has a membership of 600 men and handles many branches of service, both on the campus and off.

The University of Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. is a member of the inter-collegiate Young Mens Christian Association, and contributes annually toward the support of that work and through it to the World Christian Student Federation which unites the students of 47 nations in one organization.

The Intercollegiate association was founded in 1877, at which time there were 26 student associations, with about 1,300 members. The number has since been increased to over 770 organizations with a membership of nearly 80,000.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

VARSITY FIVE DELAYS START OF SCHEDULE

Postpone Ripon Game; Will Play Aggies December 10

The opening of the basketball season has been postponed from December 6 until December 10. The Michigan Aggies will play here on that date, since the time for the Ripon game has been moved ahead to December 10.

The preliminary schedule has been definitely settled upon. December 20, the Knox team, which is coached by Sam Barry, a former Madison man, will play here. They put up a nice game against the Badgers a year ago, and later won the college championship of Illinois.

Meanwell's team will play two games in the auditorium at Milwaukee on the night of December 22. The first will be against the "M" club of the Milwaukee Normal. Mike Knapp and Paul Myers, two men who have starred under Doctor Meanwell, will play on this team. The regular Milwaukee Normal five will furnish the opposition in the second contest. All of the men on the Wisconsin squad who will not be used in the first game will be used in the second, so that every player will see action.

Play La Crosse

The next day the team will leave for La Crosse, where they will play the last preliminary game of the season, negotiations with Marquette having been dropped.

"Gus" Tebell was the first football man to report for basketball practice. It is this very fact which makes Tebell appear to be the man who will fill the back guard position. He was out on Wednesday, just three days after the closing of the football season, giving him a week more of practice than the rest of the football men will receive. In addition to this, Gus was a regular last year, at which time he played a high class brand of ball.

Requisition Papers for Marine Guard Issued

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Requisition papers for Marcus M. Hanson, marine guard, who shot a train rider in Depere, Wis., Nov. 20, was signed by Judge N. J. Monahan here today. The papers will be returned to Gov. Blaine, who will probably send them to Washington in care of a special messenger. It is believed in court circles here that about six weeks will elapse before Hanson is brought to trial if the government authorities permit Brown county officers to arrest him for the shooting. No further action was taken on the subpoena issued for R. V. Murphy, Hanson's marine mail guard companion, at the time of the shooting.

John Hool, Father of U. W. Professor, Dies

John Hool, 74, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, Prof. G. A. Hool, College Hills. He is survived by his widow and his son. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Frautschi Undertaking parlors, the Rev. George E. Hunt officiating. Burial will be at Forest Hill.

Ford to Make New Muscle Shoals Offer

WASHINGTON—Government officials in touch with the negotiations of Henry Ford for purchase and lease of the Muscle Shoals, Ala., nitrate and water power projects said today they expected to receive soon from Mr. Ford a modified proposal, probably a complete substitution for that now under discussion.

AND BADGERS LOOK IN VAIN FOR WILLIAMS

By CHUCK

Well, "Wallie the Great" Eckersall did it. He picked his first All-Conference team. He selected his second All-Conference eleven. And he chose his third All-Conference aggregation. But there was nary a sign of the name "Rollie" Williams, Badger football captain for 1922, and one of the greatest exponents of the art of open field running.

It came as a complete surprise. The student body woke up Sunday morning as usual. But the sleep producer came again when it searched for "Rollie's" name in vain. Like Abou Ben Adam, it was to have led the list. But it didn't. And now we rave.

This Eckersall must think Williams is the name of a shaving soap. He never saw Williams. "Rollie" is so fast that he makes the Twentieth Century limited seem like a slow train through Arkansas. No moving picture machine is fast enough to catch him in action. When they take a photo of "Rollie" they have to strap him to a chair and tell the cameraman to shoot. Strapped to a chair, he's faster than most Big Ten backs.

If "Doc" Williams had his way, the little Badger would be forced to carry a basket of eggs every time he took the ball. For every egg smashed, "Doc" would penalize Wisconsin 50 yards. They'd have to build Camp Randall on a South Dakota prairie. Williams runs backwards and sideways just as well as he runs forwards. He's like too much liquor. Every time he goes down, he comes up.

He could carry two 16-pound weights and still beat most of the conference. He could put the goal posts on his back and gallop down the garden faster than Man o' War. If "Rollie" was a racehorse, he'd be a 100 to 1 shot. But he's not.

He is only a poor, old, decrepit football player. And Eckersall doesn't think he's good enough for a third team. Ask Richards, Stagg, "Doc" Williams, Zupke, McDevitt, Yost, and Mary Garden what they think about "Rollie." Eckersall must be afraid of his laurels.

Mail Early Week Opens On Dec. 5

Mail Early Week begins Monday, Dec. 5, Postmaster W. A. Devine announced today. Messages will be read to all school children on that day, and newspapers throughout the country will carry the message of early shopping and early mailing to the public. Postoffices in the United States will be taxed to capacity this year, the Washington department officials say, and it will require the co-operation of the buying public to prevent delays in the delivery of holiday mail. Packages mailed the day before or two days before will be in danger of not arriving until after Christmas. The local postoffice will have the services of a register clerk in the lobby again this year, to speed up the mailing of parcel post.

Eleven Veterans Will Be Decorated Tonight

Nine World war veterans and two Spanish-American war veterans will be decorated with the Sons of Veterans war service medals at a special meeting of Henry Harden Camp No. 2, Sons of Veterans, at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Memorial hall. Mayor I. Milo Kittleson, also a member of the organization, will make the presentation of the medals.

John A. Hazelwood, past division commander, will deliver the principal address. A. Huessman, Fond du Lac, division commander, will be present.

A special program will include Songs by a quartet composed of Dr. W. L. Gillette, Mrs. V. V. Parsons, Miss Thelma Parsons and Charles Wehrman; an original poem by William Newton Nichols; talks by C. A. Zilisch, H. S. Siggelko, and C. E. Butters; a duet by McDonough and Hooley; reading of the declaration of independence by Miss Evangeline Henika, and a vocal solo by Mrs. V. V. Parsons.

Gym Squad Will Meet Milwaukee Men December 17

Promising Team Now Getting Into Shape For First Clash

"The Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. gym team is very good this year, and the men are practicing hard to try to beat our team in the meet on December 17," said Coach Schlatter on his return from the Cream city, where he watched his rivals at practice. "But," he continued, "we have some very good men ourselves, and I hope to be able to defeat the Milwaukeeans."

There are sixteen men at present on the varsity gym squad. Seven of these were on last year's team, three were on the Frosh squad the past season, and the other six men are new at the game. Kletzien, the captain of the squad, won a place in the exercises on the horse last year, and is also good on the parallel bars. Kubosch is another good man, who performs on the parallel bars, horizontal bar, and rings. He is entered for the tumbling feats, as is Kitchen, also from last year's squad. Hanson and Holcomb are veterans on the side-horse. Porth will enter the events on rings, parallel bars, and in club swinging, while Boomer will compete on the rings, and the horizontal and parallel bars.

BIG TURNOUT MARKS FIRST MAT MEETING

75 Men Report to Hitchcock For Wrestling Squad

At a meeting of over 75 enthusiastic wrestlers held in the trophy room of the gymnasium last night, Coach George D. Hitchcock opened what promises to be Wisconsin's greatest year in the mat sport with a talk on his plans for the season, which includes a meet with the famous Ames team and the all-conference meet to be held this year at Madison.

Prospects for the new sport are exceedingly bright this year. With McMurray '22, in the heavy weight class; Templin '23, in the 168 pound, and Captain Peterman '22, all "W" men of last year's team, in the 145 pound division, the Badgers have the nucleus of a championship team. Backed by such men as Prieaux '22, 115 pound; Haddorff '23, 125 pound; Hoelffer '22, 125 pound, and Barry '22, 175 pound, "W" wearers, the squad is going out to clean up everything offered this season.

Much new material of untested calibre but with promising looks has appeared. Among these are: Farrand, Cattan, Doehler, Livingston, Hener, Gregor, Bieberstein, Christiansen, Stocksted, Rogers, Snelling, Smith, Mercer, Bonnon, and Slaughter. Under the direction of Coach Hitchcock and the leadership of Captain Peterman this material should develop into a record squad.

*Substitutes in Orpheum Bill All
Critic Desires*

By P. H. J.

Blossom Seeley, who was scheduled to appear at the Orpheum for the entire week, didn't show up last night, and another act had to be substituted. From the way the "substitutes" got away last night, the management doesn't care whether Miss Seeley ever arrives. The show starts out with a pleasing effect that lasts until the final curtain. Every act is big time material, and how the Orpheum rated such an aggregation all in one bill will probably remain a mystery.

A refreshing personality who is positively untemperamental. When he came out, you realized immediately that he was a regular human being and not an "actor." His songs are new and he has some clever specialties that don't need hokum to get across. He is to be commended for not pulling the usual line of alleged comedy.

Block and Dunlap

An act entitled "Broke," played by two youthful persons that are not of the "old school"—meaning they are good. Everybody thought the girl was going to turn out to be a gold-digger but she fooled them. The man wears spats, but that's only because the act demands it. The girl wears—but that's a different proposition.

Spic and Span with Robyn Adair

The players in this act—the headliner—were all so good that we couldn't figure out which one was Adair. The whole atmosphere is more like a high-grade musical comedy than a vaudeville offering. The costuming and settings are too good for vaudeville, and the speed and ease with which everything is carried out is remarkable.

HENRY KATZ

Information concerning the main events of the school year, athletics at Wisconsin, the organization of the university and of the Y. M. C. A., debating and oratory, the cadet corps, and traditions at Wisconsin, all of which can be found in the "Frosh Bible," has made this little handbook a popular asset to new students at the university.

About 1,500 copies of this booklet, which is published each year by members of the university "Y," were distributed to freshman and upperclassmen this fall. Henry Katz '22 is the editor of next year's handbook.

Each year the book gives detailed information on almost every subject concerning the university that might be of interest to freshman and other new students. The purpose of the various organizations, together with an outline of the main events, such as the class rush, Homecoming, Varsity Welcome, Venetian night, and Cap night, are regularly presented in the book.

Much space is devoted to the various university publications, Wisconsin songs, and to the work being accomplished in forensics. Through the medium of this book freshmen become acquainted with the traditions enforced by the other classes.

Information concerning fraternities and sororities, in regard to their object, and a directory of social organizations established, were given in the handbook last year. Advice as to the proper procedure before joining such an organization was a part of this section of the book.

Directions for short walks in the neighborhood of Madison, a map of the city, and a complete calendar of university events, including football and basketball schedules, are always to be found in the handbook. Several of the churches in Madison have announcements, while many of the merchants use the book as an advertising medium.

Those who are assisting Henry Katz in the editing of the "Frosh Bible" are Halbert Hoard '24, Arthur Benson '22, Frederick Cheuvront '24, Rudolph Noer '24, Bob Grasshorn '23, Maurice Fitz '23, Bob Webb, Percy Sorenson '25, and Lloyd Lentzner '25.

NIGHT EDITOR—ROBERT L. REYNOLDS

WHAT $4,000 WILL DO

THE "Y" is asking for $4,000 from the men of the university in the annual finance campaign which opened last night.

For forty years the "Y" has been on the campus. It has grown from humble circumstances and meager activities to an organization eclipsing all others in usefulness to all the men in the university.

The secret of this phenomenal growth is summed up in the word service. The "Y" exists not for itself but for others. Its leaders early saw the needs of the men and it has been the constant aim of the organization to minister to these needs.

To be concrete, consider this program of achievement:

For the new students 400 letters of welcome were written last summer. During registration week the Sophomore commission met 38 trains at all hours. More than a hundred pieces of baggage were handled the same week. Two thousand students were located through the student rooming list.

The lobby, reading room, and parlors afford the only social center for all students to be found on the campus.

But it is for the student in need that the "Y" is rendering its best service. More than a thousand students who were ill have been visited either in their rooms or in the infirmary. Many of them have been supplied with lesson assignments, books, and magazines.

The student looking for work finds the "Y" his best friend. Already this year 500 pieces of employment have been handled through the office for students who are working their way through the university.

Loan funds have been established to meet extreme cases of need. More than $50,000 worth of checks have been cashed this fall.

All these things constitute a program of service that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

The only way to appreciate their value is go back over each item and consider the loss to the university if the activities of the "Y" were to be no more.

The "Y" has proved itself to be indispensable. It need offer no apologies in asking for continued support.

This campaign will fall lightly upon the students. They are not asked to give large sums. The average subscription never has been more than the price of two good theater tickets or the fare one way to the Chicago game.

Support your service station.

DEATH, THUMBS DOWN

FROM the University of North Carolina comes another voice raised against the crime of over-organization. It is a bit surprising that the virus has spread to North Carolina. Evidently the disease is epidemic.

Writing in "The Collegiate World" this month, Mack C. Gorham of the University of North Carolina declares over-organization to be the greatest curse of the modern college. After calling the roll of the high sounding organizations in his school, he continues:

"And in the end, transcending all else, making classes seems as nought and work as a joke, coming at all times of night and day, held here and there, always and everywhere—there are meetings. This matter of meetings, embracing the preparation for and the disconcertment from, is the crux of the whole situation. . . . The men who do belong to a dozen or so organizations, deprecate them, yet would be loath to lose the charm of the score or so emblems and pins which recline on their bureaus. . . .

"From a scheme destined to aid the development of the student, it has grown into a stupendous interest beside which the other college interests are but pygmies. . . . The old ideals of college, the courses of intensive reading with occasional conferences, the great quiet studies and the libraries, rich and ever growing richer in their daily gifts to the seeker after truths—all this is no more."

The writer proposes major surgery as the cure as follows:

"A scythe wielded by some stalwart farm hand, cutting into the very heart of the system—that is the need of the hour. There can be but one sentence for 75 per cent of the organizations in the American colleges today and that is 'death, thumbs down.'"

KEEP THE BALL ROLLING

THE Y. W. C. A. drive to raise $2,500 from among the university women is on. The money is necessary to keep up the work of the association and to make possible an expansion commensurate with its past growth.

When a drive for money is started the natural question arises, "what is the purpose to which the money is to be put, and is this purpose deserving of support?" In the case of the Y. W. C. A. the question is quickly and satisfactorily answered for any one who has at heart the bigger, more sincere things of college life.

The Y. W. C. A. satisfies a peculiar and vital need that no other body can, and so support to it does not alienate support to other groups. In short, the Y. W. C. A. does not compete with other activities; it adds to them.

The purposes and services of the Y. W. C. A. need not be reiterated, for their value is certainly realized and appreciated. But passive appreciation and mere verbal support are not enough. It is up to Wisconsin women to become members and pledge financial support to keep the ball rolling that was started in 1884.

May it roll farther and faster this year than ever before.

MOVIE NOTES

AT THE GRAND

Those who doubt the world has progressed during the last 2,000 years should witness the showing of Allen Holubar's famous Associated First National production of the eternal drama, "Man-Woman-Marriage," starring the talented actress Dorothy Phillips. The picture comes to the Grand theater today for one week.

"Man-Woman-Marriage" is a condensed history of the world's progress—a screen epic and proof positive of woman's subtle and benign influence over the destiny of mankind.

In the retrospective Roman scenes of this stirring modern story, beautiful Dorothy Phillips is seen as a Christian slave girl at the court of the Emperor Constantine. In the mighty splendor of this potentate's magnificence is pictured the decadence of civilization—the period when man lived for pleasure. It is the period whose unrestrained orgies were notable even in the reign of an Augustus Caesar. In striking contrast is Dorothy Phillips in the role of a despised and tortured slave steadfastly refusing to foreswear the tenets of Christianity.

Down through the ages, as depicted in "Man-Woman-Marriage," the talented Miss Phillips indelibly impresses the spectator with the influence for good woman has wielded over man. In the modern story of this magnificent film, Miss Phillips is no less impressive in her role as a woman of our times.

The story is strong and convincing, and the work of the star stamps her as an artist of rare talent and ability.

AT THE STRAND.

Mary Miles Minter, who is now playing at the Strand Theater in "Her Winning Way," has a most engaging role as Ann Annington, a breezy young newspaper writer whose specialty is book reviews and literary interviews. Her adventures hinge upon her assignment to get an interview with a popular but very shy young novelist. Mack Senett's latest comedy hit "Be Reasonable," the Latest News Weekly, and a Pathé Natural Colored Study, will be the added attractions.

Johnny Hines in "Burn 'Em Up Barnes" will be the attraction at the Strand Wednesday to Saturday.

Parkway Opens With Pulitzer Prize Play

December 5 and 6 Brock Pemberton will present his original Broadway production of "Miss Lulu Bett," which he brings to the Parkway with all the New York cast intact, including Carroll McComas, who created the role of "Lulu," the slavey, and Louise Closser Hale, who has made Grandma Bett and her "tantrums" one of the funniest comedy creations in a generation.

"Miss Lulu Bett" comes not only with the endorsement of seven months engagement at the Belmont theater, in New York, and a brilliant Chicago run just ended, but as the winner of the Columbia University Pulitzer $1,000 prize for the best play of the year 1920-21. Its scenes are laid in a small middle-western town, but so universal is the appeal of its humor and its pathos, that its setting might be the Main street of Winona, Rochester, or any one of ten thousand other American towns.

In addition to Miss McComas and Mrs. Hale, the remainder of the splendid cast consists of Catherine Calhoun Doucet, who will be seen in her familiar role of Ina; John Thorn as Height Herbert Deacon, the incorrigible punster of the comedy, Beth Varden as Diana, the flapper; Lois Shore as the terrible child Monona; Brigham Royce, as Ninian the bigamous husband; Walter Vaughn, as Bobby Larkin, and Russell Morrison as Neil Cornish. Zona Gale has put the world under obligation for her vivid and unsparing story of small town life, first told in her wonderfully popular book, "Miss Lulu Bett," and now the rage in the flesh and blood form and action of a play. Those who pass sentence on plays for the newspapers and public, and the essential ticket buyers who support the theater, have stamped "Miss Lulu Bett" with their warmest approval.

FIRST "Y" MEET
HELD IN 1917 BY
VERNE VARNEY

The first fellowship meetings were held in 1917 when Verne Varney '17 was president of the "Y." They have grown from the gatherings of a few men about the fireplace until at present Thursday night is one of the largest meetings during the week. On these Thursday evening meetings general songs are sung and an effort is made to instill good fellowship in all those present. Following this there is a talk on some social, economic, or religious problem by a prominent speaker. At all the meetings music is furnished by the house orchestra in charge of Lester Cappon.

This year a new plan of vocational guidance is being worked out in connection with the fellowship meetings. One Thursday a month is given over to the consideration of how a man can decide his life work.

On December 8, President Frederick H. Brammon of Beloit college will begin a series of talks. At later dates, well known business and professional men have been invited to talk on various kinds of work.

The fellowship meeting is in charge of Leo H. Kohl, president of the association. He is assisted by a committee of which Lester Cappon is chairman. The others on the committee are Tom Pond, George Gilland, Frederick Nimmer, Don Cooley, Earl Vandrell, Ismael Mallari, Edward Ewing, and Arthur Knudson.

Will Initiate 20 at Press Club Tonight

Some twenty recently elected members to Press club will be initiated tonight when the organization meets at 5:30 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall for its regular bi-monthly session. Several new arrangements have been added to the initiation ceremony, making a more serious aspect of the entrance into the group. Initiates have been asked to provide themselves with large handkerchiefs.

John G. Baker '20 will present a few comments on journalism projects in general and then refer more particularly to the recent convention of the Central Interscholastic Press association held here, and the possibilities it affords.

The group picture of the club will be taken today at 12:50 on the library steps.

A FEW COMMENTS FROM THE PRESS

He now has at his command a range of dynamics and color not surpassed by that of any other pianist before the public. —W. J. Henderson in New York Sun.

He possesses technical requirements of the most remarkable sort, which serve him unfailingly. His tone is of extraordinary power, richness and beauty. —Richard Aldrich in New York Times.

When Lhevinne plays as he did at this, his third recital of the season he is absolutely unapproached. —Max Smith in New York American.

One hesitates over the mere word "pianist" for this Titan of the keyboard. After meeting that astonishing technic and tone, that soul-satisfying maturity and perfect ripeness of his art, I find myself wordless and the man's humble admirer. —Herman Devries in Chicago Evening American.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kowalke left yesterday after spending the week end with their daughter, Marie.

Lhevinne Wins Audiences After Long Absence

After six years of absence, Lhevinne is again in the United States to repeat his triumphs which he won here before the war. His appearance in Madison is creating more than usual interest, as he has several of his former pupils and a number of friends living here.

Lhevinne first came to the United States 13 years ago. Those who were present at that memorable debut of Lhevinne in New York, when practically unknown and unheralded, he played the Rubinstein concerto, No. 5, with the Russian symphony under the baton of W. S. Safonoff, will probably always remember the thrilling reception which was accorded him.

The fact that Lhevinne is recognized now more than ever, as one of the greatest pianists of the day is clearly brought out in the following telegram which was received here from Evanston, Ill., yesterday.

Scores Hit in Chicago

"Lhevinne scored sensational success before a sold-out house last night as soloist with Chicago Symphony playing Rubinstein concerto with new orchestration by Stock, who gave inspiring accompaniment. It was necessary for Lhevinne to break the no encore rule and give three extra numbers, the audience manifesting an almost frenzied enthusiasm, recalling him until the lights were extinguished."

The colossal genius of Lhevinne was recognized by the great Rubinstein, and he became deeply interested in the young man's career. He was, in a way, the spiritual father of Lhevinne. After one of the public recitals at the Conservatory of Moscow, in which Lhevinne played the Beethoven Emperor concerto, the young player was publicly embraced by Rubenstein who said as he did so, "Very good, very good. You will make a name in the world."

The prediction that Rubinstein made then has been more than proved. Lhevinne has developed a tone of ravishing beauty which was only equaled by Rubinstein himself.

Lhevinne's appearance at the gymnasium tonight is one of the greatest musical attractions of the year, and those who hear him will long remember the artist.

Have you ever lived through one of those hectic mornings when you rise too late to make breakfast and the top of the hill by 8 o'clock? While steaming up the hill some kid co-ed touches your arm and informs you that a hole in your stocking is rapidly growing larger. Many of us have learned to step over to the Y. W. office and ask for a needle and thread. Both can be had for the asking.

When you are heavily laden with coats, sweaters, gym bloomers, galoshes, or books, go to the Y. W. office and drop your burdens upon the chairs, benches, and in convenient corners. The telephone is free for everyone. A copy of each day's Cardinal is there to be perused by one and all, and the Y. W. office is the well known melting pot of all campus information. If you have a spare minute, and feel inspired to write a letter, paper, envelopes, stamps, and ink are at your disposal.

The profit which is made from the candy table is another one of the ways in which Y. W. earns money to further its good work. The Y. W. office is a cure for all ailments.

Beatrice Hogan is Recovering From Auto Accident

Beatrice Hogan '19, who received internal injuries in an automobile accident while returning from a football game in Milwaukee on November 19, is rapidly recovering, according to information received yesterday.

Miss Hogan is a daughter of Mrs. J. F. Hogan, 146 W. Gorham street, and has been employed at the Columbia hospital at Milwaukee as a bacteriologist. Her mother and a sister, Mrs. P. C. Daley of Wisconsin Rapids are with her.

Board Carries Y. W. to Rooming Houses

To instill the spirit of Y. W. C. A. and carry its activities to each girl in all the rooming houses in the university is the problem of the Y. W. C. A. board.

There is a girl on the board from each rooming house. A meeting of the girls is held every Tuesday noon and information is given to them about the Y. W. C. A. to be advertised in their particular houses.

It is hoped that this system will eliminate misunderstanding about work taken up and will give every girl on the campus an opportunity to know what the Y. W. is doing.

Wisconsin to Send 10 to National Meeting

The Y. W. C. A. conference committee is making delegation plans in anticipation of the national convention which is to be held at Hot Springs, Ark., on April 20-26, 1922. This convention meets once every two years and had its last meeting in Cleveland, Ohio. The local student association will be allowed about ten delegates.

play chess, meet friends, doze in the easy chairs and davenport, or read the magazines. If he is in search of more active recreation he can make use of the billiard and pool tables in the lobby.

There is little that the student needs which the Y. M. C. A. does not offer and it offers it to everybody whether he be a "Y" member or not.

It has the artistry of a D. W. Griffith and a George Loane Tucker rolled into one; a more deep-seated appeal than "The Miracle Man" or Hearts of the World; the magnificence, stupendousness and ultra-sensationalism of an "Intolerance," and the beauty of an age-old but ever-new story that mirrors faith and love in its most presentable and truest manner.
