FRESHMAN CONVO PLANS APPROVED BY GLENN FRANK

Committee Heads Announced to Take Charge of All-University Meeting

Machinery for organizing the first official all-Freshman Convention has started moving as a result of President Frank's approval of the project.

The idea of a series of freshmen convocations is one of long standing among certain groups of the university. Last year, it came to a head at a meeting between President Frank, Dr. A. B. Hall, Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, Mr. C. V. Hibbard, Clyde Kluckhohn '28, and John Gillin '27.

Frank Approves

At that time Dr. Hall said that although the entering students were given educational and medical help, they were afforded little opportunity to settle problems which they faced. For this reason, he felt that the freshman class as a whole should be addressed by experienced men. The President agreed to give it the official support of the university in the following letter to the chairman of the program committee:

October 11, 1926..

My dear Mr. Johnson,

I am very glad to give my approval to the plan of your committee for the Class of '30 convocation.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) Glenn Frank,
President.

Committees Organized

At a meeting held last night, at the Y. M. C. A. the following committees were officially organized:

Program—Arthur Johnson, chairman, Waldo Favrean, Lillian Krueger, Doris Zimmerman. Publicity—Howard Folsom, chairman, Theo. Otjen, Peggy Charters. Arrangements—Janet Smith, chairman, Francis Robinson. Finances—Ruth Oscar.

Allen Ruedt is the general chairman for the whole project, while Janet Smith will have charge of work to be done by the girls. Other members of these committees will be appointed from the freshman class as the work goes on.

DORMITORIES PLAN FIRST OPEN HOUSE

Men of Tripp and Adams Halls to Entertain Guests
Sunday

Five hundred men in Tripp and Adams dormitories are holding an open house from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, to all students, faculty, and those who are interested in seeing this newest unit of university life in fine detail. Invitations have been dispatched to members of the university faculty, fraternities, sororities, prominent citizens, and through the newspapers to the general public.

The open house on Sunday is in reality an enlargement of the regular weekly visiting hours from two to four o'clock every Sunday. A special committee has been appointed to take charge of the event by the general social board of the dormitories.

Visitors will be free to visit men in any section of the dormitories. Guides will escort all visitors through the typical units, the gatehouses, and the refectory, where meals for 500 men are prepared every day. Each section will have special reception committees for visitors. Plans are being made to serve refreshments to all visitors in the refectory. Some of the units are planning special entertainment features.

The committee in charge of the open house is headed by V. M. Woodworth '30, section A. Adams. Committeemen are Jack Patterson '30, Tripp-H; Edward Jemison '29, Adams H; Allan Colburn '26, fellow of Tripp B.

Have You Reserved Your Father's Room?

Dean's Office Prepares List of Available Places for Dads

The Fathers are coming to Father's Day, October 30. Have you a room reserved for your father for that weekend?

In the event that you have not yet made such reservations and to relieve some of the congestion which is expected to prevail at the downtown hotels because of the large number of people who are expected to attend the game between Wisconsin and Minnesota that day, the Father's Day committee working with Dean Goodnight's office, has arranged to compile a list of the available rooms in the university district.

In addition to the rooming list which is kept at this office, the committee will make a thorough canvas of the university district and list all desirable rooms in private homes and rooming houses which are convenient to the campus and for the events of the weekend.

Students who wish to make inquiries for rooms may call Dean Goodnight's office, university 46, and information will be given. The list will be published in the Daily Cardinal tomorrow.

Nelson '27 Assumes Work of Gallagher at Union Board Job

Charles Nelson '27 was chosen the member of Union board to replace Charles Gallagher who has left the university and Chris Zillman, John Fairbanks, and Francis Woolard were recommended as sophomore Union board candidates in the fall elections at the two meetings of Union board held Tuesday.

Members of the board were forced to withhold announcement of the selections until yesterday because acceptance of the positions were not received until then. Woolard was the only man not to take the position tendered.

Nelson, the new member of the board, has worked on Union board campaigns and other staff work in addition to being varsity basketball manager and a worker on the business staff of the athletic department.

Zillman and Fairbanks, the two sophomores who will enter the election, having been working as candidates for the Union board assisting staff during their sophomore and freshman years.

NEW RUSHING SCHEME UNDER CONSIDERATION

A plan for deferring rushing may be the result of a meeting of the Interfraternity council Tuesday evening at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Various plans were discussed for the remedying of many of the defects of the system now in vogue. A committee of five was appointed to make a study of methods employed in other schools.

RED WAGON DAYS ARE BACK AGAIN! TEAM OFF FOR PURDUE AT 5:15 TODAY

Red Wagon days are back again! The historic old wagon which has carried generations of Badger athletes on its seats will today carry the varsity football team to the station and send it away for the first Big Ten conference game of the year on foreign soil—against Purdue.

With the varsity cheer leaders on hand for duty, the full regimental band in uniform to furnish the music, and the student body assembled for a pep meeting before the send-off, the Badger football party of 40 players, coaches, and trainers will report at the Lower Campus at 5:15 o'clock to receive the cheers and encouragement of the student body, and embark on the Red Wagon.

A Wisconsin tradition of long standing will be observed when the players and coaches mount the Red Wagon and are pulled to the

REGENTS POSTPONE DEFINITE ACTION ON UNION CONTRACTS; ALLOW WEEK TO RAISE MONEY

DOLLARD SAYS MOMENT HAS COME FOR PAYMENT OF UNION PLEDGES

Every subscriber who has waited for the exact psychological moment to make his pledge count most, can be sure that this is it.

Although $678,000 cash was in the Union treasury yesterday, and our executive committee had given a note in the sum of $40,000 to raise the total available for contract-letting to $718,000, the regents did not see fit to let the contracts for two units. They did not approve of the suggestion of omitting sub-contracts temporarily, but insisted that all money must be in the treasury before the general contract can be let.

With this in view an additional nine days has been allowed us in which to raise the balance needed—$50,000.

The money raised in the last week of emergency collections, totalling $20,500, has been gratifying in view of the short time in which we had to act. It is, in fact, remarkable. The returns of alumni and student work are still coming in, and it is my earnest hope that they will continue to swell the fund within the coming week.

This is the time when every check is needed, as is proved by the willingness of the Union committee to borrow money on outstanding pledges at a high rate of interest in order that building may not be delayed.

The next nine days must be ones of renewed and intense money-raising effort on the part of everyone who wants a Union building at Wisconsin.

JOHN DOLLARD,
Union Secretary.

Regents Approve Plans for Million Dollar Program

Plans for nearly a million dollars worth of new buildings for the Wisconsin campus were approved by the Board of Regents in their regular meeting yesterday noon.

The state Architect was authorized by the Regents to advertise for bids for the completion of the Chemistry building on University Avenue. The executive committee of the regents was authorized to let the contracts. Approximately $390,000 has been appropriated for the completion of the building.

The preliminary plans for the Service Memorial building for the school of medicine were approved, and the state architect authorized to proceed with the development of the plans. Six hundred thousand dollars are set aside for this new medical unit. The new building will be located on the corner of Charter and Linden Drive.

SENIOR WOMEN HOLD CAUCUS FOR OFFICERS

There will be a meeting of all senior women for the purpose of nominating the secretary and vice-president of the class at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow in Lathrop Parlors. Petitions must be filed by Friday evening, and all women interested in choosing officers have been asked to attend.

WIBA TO BROADCAST BADGER-PURDUE GAME

WIBA, the Capital Times-Strand Theatre station will broadcast the Wisconsin-Purdue game at 2 o'clock Saturday, according to Mr. Bowden of the Capital Times.

"Varsity Out" for the Grid-graph of Purdue Game

See the Wisconsin-Purdue game at Madison for 35 cents! A detailed account of every play will be shown on the grid-graph at the gym annex at 2 o'clock Saturday. Over a special wire the athletic department is able to offer to all Wisconsin fans an accurate account of the game.

The grid-graph, which is in the shape of a large football field, will be used for the first time this season. The Michigan and Chicago games will also be shown on the electric board. In the center of the board is a glass field, marked off in a similar manner as on the field. On each side of the field will appear the names of the players; behind the names will flash a light indicating the player who is in possession of the ball. Below the field a complete list of every football player will show what has happened. It will also include the downs, the yards gained or lost, and the score. There will be a free demonstration of the board from 5 to 6 o'clock Friday.

Mr. Segner, who is in charge of the grid-graph, will have three assistants to help operate. The plays will be shown immediately after the action takes place on the field. The annex will seat about 1400.

HAREFOOT ITINERAY INCLUDES EIGHT CITIES

About 250 prospective members were present at the first meeting of the Haresfoot club last evening at Lathrop hall. William Purnell, graduate director of the club, outlined the plans for the coming year. The club has again hired Mr. Scott, who coached last year's "Mary Ann", and he will be here at least two days each month to supervise the work of the dancing classes, which are to be started sometime this next week. An extensive itinerary has been tentatively planned, according to Purnell. The production will open April 1 in Rockford and the show will then move to Chicago, St. Louis, Kenosha, Racine, Oshkosh, Sheboygan and two nights in Madison.

Y. W. C. A. SEEKS NEW MEMBERS THIS WEEK

The Y. W. C. A. drive for new members is being carried on this week. At this time new girls will be invited to join the organization, and old members may renew their membership. No fee is connected with membership in the organization. "We are not anxious to increase our membership merely in size, but to have new members who are sincerely in sympathy with our purpose and work," explained Bernice Winchell '27, president of Y. W. C. A. "Membership in the Y. W. C. A. is open to every woman on this campus."

$50,000 Yet to be Collected Before Building Can be Started

The regents yesterday voted to defer action on the Memorial Union building contracts, allowing nine more days in which to raise all the cash needed to meet the low bid of $773,000.

This decision was reached following a three hour session of the constructional development committee Tuesday night and two hours of debate yesterday in which attempts were made to find a solution for the problem created by contractor's bids running greatly over the cash in the Union fund.

Dollard Presents Case

John Dollard, representing the 17,000 subscribers to the fund, presented the Union's case to the regents, reporting $67,800 in the Union treasury and an additional $40,000, borrowed by the executive committee on the security of outstanding pledges ready for deposit.

With this $718,000 available for building, Arthur Peabody, state architect, offered the suggestion that an adjustment with the contractor be made whereby a small part of the contract be postponed so that the main building could be started immediately.

Need $50,000 Now!

The regents were unwilling to authorize any building until all cash needed was in hand.

After the vote to postpone action until Friday, Oct. 22, Dollard immediately began to reorganize his collection forces in the effort to produce another $50,000 in the next nine days. He was in telephone communication with his committee members in Chicago yesterday.

With cash coming in at a good rate—$4,500 on Tuesday and $2,500 yesterday, prospects for raising the $50,000 balance took on a hopeful color yesterday. In the hurry-up campaign of last week a total of $20,500 was collected.

It is agreed, however, that extraordinary measures will have to be taken if all the money needed is to be raised and building started this fall.

NO UNION VODVIL TILL NEXT YEAR

Kappa Betes to be Deprived of Season's Supreme Event

In giving the reasons why the Union Vodvil would not be held this year, Lowell Frautschi, '27, president of the Union, said that the old plan of giving the Vodvil on alternate years proved more satisfactory because there was not the danger of making it prove monotonous by having practically the same talent displayed in the show in successive years. Another reason is the lack of a university theatre. Playing it in a downtown showhouse creates a great deal of expense which could be avoided, if it were held in a University building.

Dean Goodnight said that the discontinuance of the Vodvil came as a distinct surprise to him and that the action was wholly voluntary on the part of the Union board.

The Union Vodvil has been one of the regular student activities since 1911. The first performance was held at the Gym, and was a very unpretentious but highly enjoyable affair. The price of admission was only ten cents. The Vodvil was held at the Gym for several years and then moved uptown where it has continued to take place.

For the first few years it was held every year; then it became the custom to have it every other year, until several years ago when it was decided to have it every year again. Now it has been decided to go back to the custom of alternate years, and we shall have to wait till next winter to enjoy the show again.

DEANS PLAN NEW METHOD OF RATING

Fraternity Scholarship to be Figured on Plus-minus Basis

A method which makes possible a uniform grading of the scholarship statistics of the organized groups at any institution, regardless of the system of marking employed, was recently adopted at a national meeting of deans and advisers of men, according to Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men at the university. By this method it is possible to see how the local chapters of any national organization compare in scholarship at the different schools, as well as to determine the national standing of any group by averaging together the ratings of its local chapters.

The procedure of this method is as follows:

The all-student average of the institution is taken at 0. The difference between this grade and the highest possible grade is divided into 10 equal parts labeled plus 1, plus 2, etc. The difference between the all-student average and the lowest possible grade is likewise divided into 10 equal parts, which are labeled minus 1, minus 2, etc. The organizations are then listed under their scholastic rating and classified under these plus and minus divisions.

The classification of the different groups at Wisconsin by this method reveals some interesting information. The average of all students—zero on the list—is 1.415. Four Greek letter organizations are put in the highest class of the list, plus 4, and two in the lowest class, minus 4. The average of all women falls in the plus 2 class with a rating of .591, while the average of all men is found in the minus 1 group with a rating of 1.309.

Hesperia to Hold First Open Meeting Tomorrow Night

Hesperia will hold an open meeting at 7:15 o'clock Friday evening in 212 Bascom hall. Tryouts for membership will feature the meeting. Candidates for membership are required to be prepared to give some debate or oration.

The regular program will be featured by the inaugural address of Fred Axley L3, president-elect of the organization. Robert Murphy '29, will speak on the history of Hesperia.

A debate on the proposition "resolved that the Wisconsin primary law should be repealed" will be held. Robert Rasche '28, will uphold the affirmative, and Harland Hiel '28, will speak for the negative.

OHIO BAND PLAYS AT EASTERN GAME

Buckeye Musicians Play March of Big Ten Songs at Columbia

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. -4—Songs of all the Western Conference universities, merged in a march especially arranged for the occasion, will be played Saturday by Ohio State's 135-piece band and drum corps when the Buckeye eleven meets Columbia at the Polo Grounds, New York city.

The game will mark the debut of Western Conference football in the metropolis and alumni of all the Big Ten schools, among others, are joining forces with the Ohio Staters to make a big rooting section at the affair.

As the song of each Big Ten school is played during the band's maneuvers on the field, it is planned to raise the colors of that university. Other special stunts will be put on by the band and drum corps.

The Buckeye band, in charge of a U. S. army officer and band master Gustav Bruder, will leave here tomorrow night in its own special train for the game.

STATE TO FORBID MISLEADING ADS

Plans to Protect Public Against Fraudulent Advertisers

The first step in the punishment of fraudulent advertisers was taken recently when state officials set out in pursuit of advertisers who represented veneered walnut as "solid walnut". Wisconsin passed a law against such advertising in 1913 but no machinery was set up for the punishment of such advertisers until 1925.

Such action as is now being taken by Wisconsin is a new step in the history of the national campaign against fraudulent advertising. An officer of the state has been appointed to enforce the act, and an appropriation of $5,000 annually has been set aside to help him in his work.

The law forbids advertising of

Badger Seconds Scrimmage Against Boilermaker Plays

First Team Rests While Light-weights Study Purdue Offensive Tactics

Further evidence that everything may not be exactly as the wise-crackers predict when Wisconsin meets Purdue, was presented at Camp Randall last night.

For when the all-Americans, clad in black and yellow jerseys and individually labeled "Wilcox," "Leichte," "Hogan," or whichever of the Boilermakers they were supposed to impersonate, swept into the center gridiron and cleared for action, it was the second Wisconsin team, and not the first that opposed them.

May Start Game

Whether that means that Head Coach George Little, following the example of a certain fairly well known K. K. Rockne, intends to start the second team against Purdue is something that neither man nor sport-writer may prophesy safely.

The mere fact, however, that Purdue is regarded as a strong offensive and weak defensive team may be reason enough for flinging the open-field brilliance of Shaw or Rose plus the passing threat of Rose to Shaw or Welch to Engle into the balance against the Boilermakers.

Seconds Scrimmage

Conjecture to one side, the light horse worked long and valiantly against the scrubs last night. Purdue plays, including Purdue passes, they met more than halfway on every occasion. In the Badger backfield were Rose at quarter, Kreske and Shaw at halves, and Mansfield at full. Among the linemen were Welch, Stupecky, and Hitchcock at ends, Binish and Schweers at tackles, Cole and Horwitz at guards, and Wilson at center.

Varsity Takes it Easy

Coach Little devoted most of his attention to the work of this eleven, leaving the first team to practice punt formation plays under the tutelage of Assistant Coach Tom Lieb.

The all-American ran their plays as if they had been brought up on nothing else; they made an occasional first down and completed several sparkling passes. But the seconds returned two socks for one in a manner which poked well for their ability to take care of themselves. Once started, the scrimmage was conducted under regular playing conditions, the two teams see-sawing up and down the field with few interruptions by the coaches.

Mansfield, Kreske Good

Mansfield, who has developed from an ordinary September 15 cripple into a strong bidder for a varsity backfield job, looked like spotless goods last night. He and Kreske will doubtless supply the necessary interference for Shaw and Rose should Coach Little send this combination into the game. Kreske has played a consistently intelligent brand of football all fall, none of which has remained unseen by the coaches.

The squad will leave for Lafayette at 5 o'clock this evening, following a send-off by students on the Lower Campus.

His fishing tackle jerked from his hands, Thomas Henderson undressed, and jumped into Rainford Reservoir, St. Helens, Scotland, recovered his line, and after a struggle landed a twenty-pound carp, believed to be thirty years old.

Meanwell to Have Formidable Group for Cage Season

Coach Meanwell is sending his basketball squad through a stiff drill three times a week in preparation for the coming season which will open a few weeks after the close of the football game. An unusually large squad is reporting to Meanwell regularly and according to the opinion of many it is a formidable looking group.

Many veterans of last year's team are with the squad and practically all the frosh players of last season with the exception of those who are with the football team. Captain Merkel, Behr, Andrews, Nelson, and Harget, are a few of the letter men who are with "Doc" at present. Hotchkiss and Barnum, two regular veterans of last season, and a pair that are sure to be considered when the first five will be selected, are at present out for football but will report immediately after the Chicago game.

Unlike previous seasons, the entire Frosh squad of last year is back at school and at present are working out with the varsity. The great majority of these are eligible while one or two have a few scholastic difficulties to right first.

The non-conference games this season are with unusually strong teams. Dr. Meanwell doesn't believe in facing weak opponents, before conference season swings under way and has always brought the strongest non-conference teams in the West to Madison for those few games. Besides games with such worthy opponents, Meanwell has this season added Notre Dame to the list. The Irish won the Western championship last year, winning 19 out of 20 games, and have the same team intact this season with the exception of Crowe, who graduated.

NORSEMAN TRADITION UPHELD AT MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS—Future Minnesota grid teams will consist of huskies if the frosh squad is a criterion. Of the 160 men reporting for daily practice, 37 are over six feet in height. Linemen average 195 pounds in weight. For backfield and end material, Sherman Finger, frosh coach, has plenty to choose from. There is a wealth of material that is heavy and fast, and also a large group that is lighter but shifty and fast. Minnesota bids to again have teams that can be called "Giants of the North."

TIME TRIALS FOR CROSS COUNTRY THIS AFTERNOON

Tentative Squad to be Chosen to Prepare Jones for Chicago

A two and a half mile time trial run will be held this afternoon at Camp Randall by T. E. Jones, coach of the varsity cross country team, in the first of a series of trials to determine the men to compete against Chicago and Northwestern Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Midway harrier course.

The run will be held at 4:30 o'clock and the results will not eliminate men from varsity competition, but simply will give the coach a chance to size up his team. He will choose 12 or 15 men as his tentative first team, and the remaining runners will compose a second aggregation.

Work Four Weeks

Four weeks of hard work have been on the program for the Wisconsin harriers. Work has ranged from the early season walking and jogging to running a good part of the five mile course at racing speed.

Word has come that Indiana will probably compete in the Chicago meet a week from Saturday, making it a quadrangular affair. The distance has not been definitely set, but it will probably be a three mile run.

CHICAGO ELEVEN BATTLES QUAKERS

Saturday's Game Marks Sixth Intersectional Tilt Between Grid Rivals

NEW YORK—Chicago's gridiron cohorts came east this week with another steel ribbed defensive team to confront one of the east's highest powered scoring machines on Saturday at Philadelphia.

Their intersectional game against Pennsylvania will mark the sixth renewal of conflict in a series which has yet to yield the midwestern eleven a victory. In four of their previous engagements the Quaker team emerged in triumph, while one game, that of 1898, resulted in a 5-5 tie.

Reports from Chicago have prepared Pennsylvania for a new Stagg gridiron model this year, bringing warning of a more daring offensive and liberal use of the forward pass.

It was a conservative, one touch-

KALISH WILL COVER GAME FOR CARDINAL

Stan Kalish, sports editor of the Daily Cardinal, will leave for Lafayette, Ind., today where he will cover the Wisconsin-Purdue game Saturday afternoon. The game promises to be a close one, and the Daily Cardinal will carry a detailed account of the contest Sunday morning.

Homecoming Gear Donned by Illinois for Saturday Game

URBANA, Ill.—Illinois' preparations for the homecoming football game with Iowa Saturday are almost ended. The last hard practice comes Thursday after which Coach Bob Zuppke will withdraw his Illinois to the seclusion of the Campaign country club.

Burt Ingwersen will lead the Hawkeyes into town Friday and ensconce them at the Urbana country club. On Saturday the Hawkeye rooters, armed with their famous cowbells and chanting praises of the state "where the tall corn grows," will invade the campus.

"Ted" Canty, famed as an announcer of track meets, will announce the highspots of the game through the loudspeaker horns at the stadium. The Illinois band of 160 pieces will play a concert before the game and later put on some of its new formations.

Many out-of-town fans plan to arrive in-time to see the "hobo" parade by the men of the senior class which will be staged Saturday forenoon. Zuppke will be the chief speaker at a mass meeting Friday night. The prediction of 50,000 spectators Saturday is likely to be justified because the ticket office is busy filling orders.

down team which Chicago sent against Pennsylvania last year but the ball carriers of Coach Lou Young were pressed to win by a single touchdown. Their lone score was the result of a long aerial toss to Thayer, captain of the team which will pit many veterans of the 1925 campaign against the Illinois contingent on Saturday.

Pennsylvania has given indication of greater power this year than the strong team which got away to so impressive a start last fall. They have averaged more than 40 points in their first three games, trouncing Franklin and Marshall by 41-0. Johns Hopkins by 40 to 7 and Swarthmore by 44 to 0. Stagg's team also has come through the early season unscathed but with a less impressive scoring record.

PREPARE FOR 30TH ANNUAL CINDERS MEET TOMORROW

Large Entry Expected to be Held at Randall at 3:30

The 30th annual fall track meet will be held at Camp Randall tomorrow afternoon beginning at 3:30 o'clock. Coach T. E. Jones, of the varsity track squad, has announced that the regular order of track events will be held.

Howard Lee, varsity track manager, has charge of the meet and promises a large entry list and a prompt running off of the events.

Entrant Calibre Unknown

The calibre of the entrants has not been determined, but a classy list of high school stars will make a strong attempt to win their numerals and sweaters, 10 points being necessary to accomplish this feat.

All but "W" and "aWa" men are eligible to compete in the contests, and besides the frosh aggregation, a number of sophomore stars will work.

Officials Named

Officials for the meet have been announced as varsity performers who have won their letters. Entries may be made at the men's gymnasium or at the Randall track at the time of the meet.

The events to be held are: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, half mile, mile, two mile, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles, shot put, discus throw, hammer throw, javelin throw, high jump, and broad jump. The regular order of events will be used.

INTERFRATERNITY RUN TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

The first run in fraternity cross-country competition will take place at 4:30 o'clock today. Eight men from each fraternity may compete and the score of each team is based on the first four men finishing. This race will start on the corner of Langdon and Park streets and will be over a course measuring approximately one mile.

Shivering students stood in line all night at Minnesota to secure student tickets for the football games. By morning several hundred were in line to secure the coveted ducats. For $8 students receive a book entitling them to all home athletic contests except swimming.

Enough!!

There are various arguments, some sound, some extremely specious, which are brought forward in favor of undergraduate politics. Politics are justified by reason if the ends to be attained; it is said that experience is politics is training of unique value in human relations and human psychology; politics are termed an interesting and harmless game. Interesting the game is, certainly, although most often it is also bitter and disillusioning; however, so long as the game is harmless it should probably be tolerated.

But when politics interferes seriously with activities which are necessary and constructive as politics can never be constructive, then we have had enough. The past week has seen the greatest crisis in the recent history of undergraduate life at Wisconsin. Wisconsin undergraduates failed to meet that crisis in a manner worthy of their best traditions! Let us have done with pretence. Let us face the fact: Wisconsin undergraduates have thus far failed to meet the Memorial Union crisis in a manner worthy of their best traditions. When the Regents met yesterday, the secretary of the Memorial Union executive committee had to report that the $100,000 goal was still far off. A considerable amount of cash had been turned in on student pledges, and of individual loyalty and effort and sacrifice much that is fine and worthy can be said. But class chairmen in the case of the three upper classes all reported unusual difficulty in securing canvassers and more especially in getting the men and women who had agreed to canvass to do their work promptly and efficiently. The record of the class of 1928 was distinguished by an exceptionally bad record, the same class which has had as its proudest boast the highest aggregate of pledges to the Memorial Union.

It would, of course, be idle to blame politics for the unsatisfactory results of the recent drive; it is far from being so simple a matter... the usual lack of ready cash on the part of students, other drives at this time, a disinclination to pay any more to the Memorial Union until building has started; these and other causes have contributed, but it certainly is fair to say that politics, particularly junior politics, have very perceptibly interfered with the collection of cash to meet the great need of the Memorial Union project. And this is enough. This single fact—that politics, which is admittedly a non-constructive activity should interfere seriously with the most important material issue at present at stake in undergraduate life—this should be enough to rouse the thinking men and women in every class to consider and put into effect measures for the regulation of future political activities.

The senior class seems to be setting an example worthy of emulation; they called a caucus of class leaders and made nominations on this basis. The election of the officers of W. S. G. A. has for some years been conducted with a minimum of political activity and wasted effort. It can be done. It has been done. This spectacle of the best men and women in a class devoting their best energies to settling questions of no significance either on heaven or on earth is a harsh commentary on Wisconsin.

Do or Don't

1930 either wear your green caps or don't! But whichever you do, hang together. The present sprinkling of caps among the 1600 men in your class makes a travesty of the green cap tradition. It would look far better and more reasonable for no green caps to appear than for the present ridiculously small number to be worn. At present a visitor, unfamiliar with our customs, would surely wonder what small and insignificant group was elected to the green cap distinction, or, if he knew it was the badge of freshmanhood, the pledge to Wisconsin, he must truly think that our entrance requirements had been greatly raised this fall, decimating the usual size of the entering class.

You started out very well. The Co-op reported the largest sale of caps since the days when the wearing of them was both compulsory and customary. This, coupled with the fact that the new cap adopted this year is much easier to wear than the style of the past few years, made upperclassmen hope that the custom might once again assume the proportions of a real Wisconsin tradition. At Varsity Welcome the showing was remarkable; during the first week it was fairly satisfactory, but the number of green dots on the hill has dwindled and is dwindling. What are you going to do about it?

It's quite up to you, you see. Forceful enforcement of the traditions by sophomores is prohibited, and upperclassmen in the organized groups are entirely satiated with the moral suasion device. What are you going to do about it? It's your tradition, your cap, your class. It is rapidly coming to the point where even the more loyal members of your class feel so conspicuous when wearing the cap, that most of them too, will soon hesitate to wear the green. The reverse of this condition should be true—a freshman on the hill without his cap should feel conspicuous in the eyes of his classmates.

The cap proves your loyalty to your class and to Wisconsin; it is the badge of your unity; it is the most effective means of getting your class to become readily and rapidly acquainted with one another. By proper organization, you can make this condition to prevail. Do you think it's worth trying? If not, let us abolish this ridiculous semblance of a green cap tradition.

ers. It works on the principle of a person watching a baby and saying, "I believe that baby will cry soon. I'll just spank it immediately and prevent the crying."

Surely the state has the right to punish a man for the actions which may result from the booze in his alimentary canal, but I do not feel it should have the right to prevent that man buying or drinking the booze any more than it can or does prevent a potential burglar from buying his tools.

Nor need Mr. Heege slap us on the wrist in these cruel cold words:

"And you kids have not yet fought many battles of life, whose experience has been so very limited, who are still living on dad's money and state aid, you want to tell this country what kind of laws it should make."

Well, old dear, I guess we can if we want to. A good many of us, being 21 or more, are recognized as mature citizens of these United States; almost as many are not living on dad's money as the Wednesday Daily Cardinal editorial will show you; and there is no very urgent need of your accusing us of having "alcohol mixed with our brains" when we express opinions contrary to yours.

No, Mr. Heege, immaturity of logic is not entirely confined to youth.

LOCH.

Editor, The Daily Cardinal:

I have twice before been on the point of writing The Cardinal regarding the remarks that are to follow, but I have been dissuaded by friends who claimed that certain amicable relations on the campus would be disturbed.

The first time was in the spring of this year, immediately after the last convocation of the All-University Religious Conference. I had been given to understand that this was a non-sectarian, non-denominational undertaking, in which nothing would be said from the platform which might in any way outrage the religious sensibilities of any member of the audience. Yet every prayer and benediction offered up at that conference, with the

WE THREATENED THIS LAST WEEK

Peter Rabbit went lippy-lyp over the Green Meadows and dashed into his Hollow Log Home. His breath was coming in plus fours.

"Glub ub glub!" He announced to his surprised frau. Mrs. Rabbit lay down her darning and knitted her brow. After doing two rows without dropping a stitch she asked her husband in tender tones:

"Wotinell is the matter with ya?"

Peter had regained his breath, and was busy mopping off his steaming face.

"He's come back!" announced our hero.

"Who's come back?" demanded the ball and chain.

"The Woofus bird, and—"

But Mrs. Rabbit had fainted.

AGAIN

"Are you from Milwaukee?"

"No, the nurse dropped me on the floor when I was young."

Things to worry about:

1. How to get out of a straight-jacket.

2. What we'd do if we weren't broke.

3. Who to take to prom.

The height of something is a writer of hair-raising tales buying a bottle of Wildroot.

"You know Abe Lincoln out there in front of Bascom, don't ya?"

"Yas."

"Well, he doesn't know you."

From one of our multitude of admirers:

"Dear Jonah,

Both my brother and I are troubled with water on the knee, what can we do about it. Gee, Jonah, I'm crazy about your column!"

—Genevieve.

Dear Gen:

Would advise your brother to borrow his roommate's towel check. We are glad you like our column, it seems to set lots of people crazy.

If you find us a little below par this week, just remember that we have pulled a tendon in our left leg, have sprained our right ankle, are blessed with both a cold and a sore throat. Goody goody goody!

Outside of having lost our glasses, we are in fine shape, not to mention being broke.

JONAH'S HALL OF BLAME

6. The guy with a cold and no handkerchief who sits next to us in lecture.

7. The bimbo who uses our rug for an ash-tray.

8. Persons who leave orange peels in the drinking fountain at Lathrop.

9. The guy who consistently refuses to return our glasses.

10. The fella who listens in on the extension phone.

11. The hungry co-ed.

12. The hungry co-edward, broke, with an eye for business.

The Sig Pi's gave a dance last Friday, and the orchestra was of such volume that it drowned all the neighborhood saxophone amateurs.

exception of the first convocation, was done in the name of "Our Lord Christ Jesus" or words of similar import. Strictly, one might interpret these convocations as non-sectarian, but certainly not in any liberal sense. For in each convocation are found Theosophists, Buddhists, Jews, Mohammedans, atheists, apostates, cyoists and those who accept the teachings of Jesus without the mythology which has grown up about Him,—in short, every shade of opinion and every variety of religious faith. The majority of the convocations I have attended are distinctly Christian, yet in Section 36.06 of the Wisconsin Statutes (1925) at page 384 one may find "but no instruction, either sectarian in religion or partisan in politics, shall ever be allowed in any department of the university."

I visited the minister who offered the prayer and sought information. I was met with the rather lame and abject apology that no harm was intended—"it was done through force of habit," and that it would not occur again.

The second time I was dissuaded from writing (by a member of the Faculty Committee) was after the address by the Right Reverend Wilmington-Ingram, who spoke in the Gym on Oct. 7th. I need not criticize his Lordship's address in any detail; to me, it seemed insulting to hurl such childish nonsense and drivel at a supposedly intelligent university audience. His Lordship is several hundred years behind the times. The prayer of the Bishop's Chaplain, however, must have aroused disgust and indignation in everyone who believes in the freedom of religious worship; and more especially, in keeping sectarianism and religious creeds outside of the university.

The occasion which prompted me to write this letter was the prayer offered at Music hall last Sunday night, when President Frank spoke. I was given to understand that the minister was specifically admonished not to make any reference to any creed,—but "force of habit" prevailed again.

Is it not time that a halt be called to these unseemly proceedings, or is the University to lose its cosmopolitanism and become the promulgator of the pet prejudice of the majority?

And as to the speakers and the speeches. If any contributions are to be made in solving the problems of youth, is it not time that reality be discussed with somewhat more brutal frankness than we have heard in the past? No solution will be found in the pedantic discussion of philosophical abstractions; that is for the classroom. Must we continue to sit enthralled before exhibitions of glib phrases, tactful evasion, euphonious alliteration, choice diction, and neatly turned epigrams?

Readers' Say-So

HITS HEEGE'S LOGIC

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Since the recent prohibition editorial in the Daily Cardinal various members of the older generation have taken great pains to tell the Daily Cardinal editorial writers in particular and us students in general just how immature we really are.

The most recent critic of college youth is P. C. Heege in Wednesday's Daily Cardinal, who, having condemned the illogic and immaturity of student thought, proceeds straightway to show at first-hand that faulty logic and immature thought are by no means confined to the youth of Wisconsin.

He compares the prohibition law with laws concerning adultery, murder, lying, taxes, and traffic. But Mr. Heege fails to observe that we do not punish robbers before they have broken the law.

That is just where the prohibition law differs from these oth-

TRANSFER WOMEN RECEIVE WELCOME

W. S. G. A., Y. M. C. A., and Classes Assist in Making
New Girls Feel at Home

The comment so often heard that transfer women are not given the opportunity to feel a part of the University was refuted yesterday by Miss Alice Brown, president of W. S. G. A.

"Transfer women have as much chance to participate in activities as do other students. The opportunities are there if they would only come and get them," said Miss Brown. She further urged that the transfers go out to their political meetings and get acquainted with members of their class and with class activities.

The W. S. G. A. is making a special attempt this year help the transfer women get acquainted with the other members of their class. Mary Catherine Lloyd, 27, chairman of a committee including Katherine Morrissey '27, Blanch Buhlig '27, Mary Leonard '27, Hildergard Weedy '28, Barbara Hornsby '27, and Mildred Anderson '28, which is in charge of extending a welcome to transfer women.

"The Friday evening dances held at Lathrop from 7 to 8 o'clock are to be specially for the purpose of welcoming the transfers. They will be invited in classes and when the announcement is made in the Cardinal, telling which class is to be the guests of honor, the former University students should make a special effort to be there and get acquainted with those who have transfers," said Mary Lloyd.

The Y. W. C. A. is likewise planning special entertainments for the transfer women. Laura Barrett is in charge of the sophomore clubs which will encourage the transfers to become members and be active in the discussion groups. On Nov. 4, the sophomore women are planning a banquet which is in charge of Dorothy Davis '28. Special invitations will be issued to all transfer women for this banquet at which they will be the guests of honor.

Y. W. C. A. also urges all the transfers to be present at the annual Friendship banquet which will be held October 24.

WOMEN PRESENT DRESS PAGEANT

Club League Follows Change in Costume Made Through Years

The committee on history and landmarks of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs, directly after dinner at the University club was entertained yesterday with a dress pageant presented by the local chapter. The pageant was directed by Mrs. W. A. Hastings of the local chapter and was held in the north hall of the museum.

The purpose of the pageant was to describe the evolution of woman's dress. Mrs. H. A. Main of Fort Atkinson opened the program, and Miss H. Manning, a member of the home economics department of the university, gave an introductory talk on the development of dress for American women.

Twelve women, members of the Madison chapter of the federation, took part in the pageant, wearing costumes illustrating as many periods in fashion from the time of the American Indian to the present day. Miss Louise Kellogg of the State Historical department, introduced each character, commenting on the characteristics of each style and its connection with the history of the time.

Most of the costumes were taken from the collection in the State Historical Museum; a few were loaned for the pageant by members of the federation.

The first costume shown was a dress worn by the American squaw. The colonial period was illustrated by a gown originally owned by Dolly Madison, a famous society belle of her day. Then came the pioneer woman whose wardrobe was confined to cambrics, and cotton cloths, who was followed by the period around 1854 when women's dresses became more elaborate and silks and laces were used.

The exhibition of two Civil war costumes was accompanied by a talk by Mrs. H. A. Main on Mrs. Cordelia Harvey, a famous war relief worker during the Civil war. The period of 1875 was illustrated by a very beautiful costume made in Paris and worn by a prominent Madison woman. Mrs. Bernice Kuney, of the English department in the university, talked on "The Mode Decay"; her talk was illustrated by three dresses showing the changes in sleeves, bustles, and other details of woman's dress.

Then came the Shirtwaist Girl of the 20th century, who heralded the beginning of business clothes for women. The final pageant showed the Modern Girl, acted by a student of Miss Manning in the university.

During intermissions in the program the old Warner Swiss music box, the finest Swiss music box in the northwest, was played. After the pageant the women were conducted on a tour of the museum by Mrs. Charles E. Brown.

BUCKEYES PLAN FRESHMAN WEEK

New Idea for Acquainting New Students Under Way
at Ohio

A trial of the proposed Freshman Week at the University of Ohio was recommended in the recent report of the faculty committee investigating the plan. By calling all new the Lathrop parlors. Helen Keeler '29, president of Red Gauntlet, and a committee of sophomores will act as hostesses. Mary Katherine Lloyd '29 and her assistants are attempting to issue an individual invitation to every sophomore transfer.

students four or five days early, matriculation and preliminary examinations may be carried on and familiarity with the university and its methods and ideals gained with the least possible confusion.

Three methods of procedure are being considered. The minimum provides only for the registration and examination of the entering students. The medium plan, in addition to this, divides the students into special lecture groups of from 400 to 500 persons for the purpose of acquainting them with the ideals, customs and life of the university. The maximum plan is similar to the medium plan, except that it divides the students into two groups of from 30 to 50 to permit discussion.

Freshman Week has been successfully carried out at the universities of Chicago, Harvard, Atlanta, Dartmouth, and Maine, the originator of the plan. It is soon to be tried at Michigan, Iowa, and Minnesota.
