MINNESOTA TEAM HERE TOMORROW FOR BADGER TILT

Gophers Want Revenge and High Conference Stand- ing; Look Good

From out of the North tomorrow morning comes a squad of fighting Gophers, bent on defeating Wisconsin for a two-fold purpose, to get revenge, and to start themselves at the top of the ladder in the conference race.

Three years in succession have the Gophers taken the count at the hands of the fighting Badgers; twice have the Badgers spoiled the Minnesota Homecoming by wins, and the Gophers are out for revenge.

Gopher Team Heavy

Wisconsin, with a 52 to 0 defeat over a conference team already under its belt, is looking forward to another victory. Should they win over the Minnesota team, they will virtually put the Gophers out of the title race. But Minnesota is not apprehending defeat. During their preliminary season the Gophers have steadily plowed through to large and encouraging wins. Wisconsin, they say, is to be no exception.

A heavy team represents the Northmen this year, and a backfield which has made non-conference teams look helpless will be in action. Earl Martineau, the "French flash" who has been the talk of the conference for the past two years will be here in full regalia. Despite reports that he is on the injured list, he may be expected to play against Wisconsin if it is with his last breath.

Another back who has been making fans sit up and take notice is Lidberg, a hard-hitting speed demon.

Badgers Well Drilled

A win for the Gophers in tomorrow's game starts Minnesota off with a bang in the pennant race. And fans journeying to Madison with the team are expecting a win.

Wisconsin may well fear the Gophers, but a week of steady drill since the Indiana game has put them in a fighting mood. Realizing the weakness of Indiana last Saturday, the Badgers do not measure their strength on the basis of that game. They know that Minnesota has a vastly stronger team, and they know what it will take to win from them.

During the past week Coach

CHOCOLATE SHOP DISPLAYS ALUMNI

Pictures Were Picked at Ran- dom and Presented By 1925 Badger

A display of Wisconsin alumni will be presented by the 1925 Badger at the Chocolate Shop today and tomorrow. Pictures of several alumni, picked at random, will be placed in the window and the other pictures that will appear in the Badger are arranged in a scrap book to be placed just inside the door.

About 200 pictures of Wisconsin alumni have been received by the office. The total number of alumni to appear in the year book is 250. The graduates selected are from all lines of work and all courses of study. Over 20 foreign countries are represented by these alumni.

All classes from 1881 to 1923 have contributed at least one alumni to the group.

Alumni whose pictures will be on display are: R. A. Nestos '02, governor of N. Dakota; Daniel W. Hoan '05, Mayor of Milwaukee; W. O. Harkness '03, state geologist of Wisconsin; Henry F. Mason '31, Justice of Supreme court of Kansas; Albert Ochsner '09, surgeon, and Guy Stanton Ford '95, dean of the graduate school at the University of Minnesota.

Senior Summaries Must Be in By Next Thursday

"The Badger means business," said Ellis Fulton '25, editor, "and all seniors whose summaries are not in by November 1 will be omitted from the year book."

November 1 is not an arbitrary date set by the editorial staff but is the last possible date that can be set in order to insure careful copy-reading and accurate work, according to the editors. Seniors can correct mistakes and add activities to the summaries until March, but space must be reserved before November 1.

More than 1,000 pictures have been taken to date, but less than half the summaries to complete the senior section have been received.

Any senior who has not had his picture taken may still make arrangements with the following studios, De Longe, Badger, Hone and McKillop, Schneider, Thomas, and Wooley.

BANDS TO PARADE BETWEEN HALVES

Musicians Provide Entertainment During Lull in Game

The members of the first regimental band will be the chief performers between the halves at the game tomorrow, according to Sam Thompson '24, chairman of the special features Homecoming committee.

Elaborate plans have been drawn up by the band and work on the feature has been going on for several weeks. No time and effort has been spared to make this affair unique and entertaining.

The band will form in the shape of a "W" and, standing before the Wisconsin cheering section, will play two songs. Then it will march to the other side of the field and forming into the shape of an "M" will play two more pieces. Several surprises have been promised and since they are surprises it would be inadvisable to say anything about them here.

The Minnesota band also will parade the field and play for the rooters, Thompson says.

The two Badgers, which have acted as mascots for the eleven, will be lead by two uniformed men. The suits have been made especially for the occasion.

"The Varsity quartet will sing between the halves of the game," Thompson said yesterday. "Because of the difficulty in the acoustics, it will probably be necessary for the men to sing through megaphones in order to be heard at a distance."

HASKINS AND BLAKE PRESIDE AT FOURTH TEA

Dorothy Haskins and Helen Blake acted as hostesses at the fourth of the series of ten teas being given for freshmen women by the junior advisory committee. The tea was held from 4 to 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the apartment of Miss Lydia Brown, assistant dean of women. The program and hostesses for the remainder of the series is as follows: Tuesday, October 30, Betty Stolte and Janet Wall; Thursday, November 1, Laura Dieruf and Florence Reppert; Tuesday, November 6, Alice Cord and Helen Robinson; Thursday, November 8, Elizabeth Brown and Clara Hertzberg; Tuesday, November 13, Esther Fifield; and Thursday, November 15, Doris Burdick.

EIGHTY IOWA FARMERS INSPECT AG COLLEGE

Eighty farmers from Manchester, Delaware county, Iowa passed through here yesterday and paid a brief visit to the College of Agriculture. This group of Hawkeye farmers are visiting dairy farms throughout the southern part of the state. After leaving here they planned to stop and take in the farms and cheese factories in and around Monroe, Beloit and Janesville.

LECTURE SERIES TO BE CONTINUED OCTOBER 30, 31

Third Lecture Follows Nov. 5, With Prof. Robinson Speaking

The second and third series of university lectures for the year will be given during the next two weeks under the auspices of the committee on lectures and convocations. Professor Vinograllo of Oxford university will lecture October 30 and 31 on the theory of the state and government. The second lecture will be given by Prof. D. M. Robinson of John Hopkins university on "Ancient Classical Cities of Asia Minor," on November 5.

Prof. Vinograllo to Speak

Professor Vinograllo comes to the university at the request of the historic and spectacular acts will be staged by students.

The carnival will commence at eight-thirty o'clock and the admission will be 50 cents. Two silver loving cups have been secured by the committee to be used as first and second prizes for the best acts.

Award Trophies

During the evening the judges of the sorority and fraternity, rooming house and dormitory decoration contest will make their rounds and award the silver loving cup prizes. There will be a first prize in each class. Miss Louise Narain, dean of women, Major O. L. Brunzell, commandant of the military corps and Prof. W. H. Wadsworth of the art department will be the judges in this competition.

The store show window decoration contest will also be judged tonight by S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, Prof. O. A. Hougen of the College of Engineering, and Frank Riley, a local architect.

The stores will be divided into two classes with a prize for each. Class A will be composed of those stores which have professional window trimmers and included in this class will be Manchester, Burdick and Murray, Andelson, Kessenich, Hills, Co-op, Carsons, The Hub, Bailey-O'Connor and Meyer, and Loken Bros.

All other stores will be in Class B.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE FOR FIRST TOUCHDOWN

A devil's food cake again will be awarded by the Woman's Exchange to the first Wisconsin man to cross the Minnesota line Saturday. The cake is to be decorated with cardinal and white, and will be on display Saturday in the Exchange window, 110 N. Carroll st.

It has been the custom for a number of years for the Exchange to present a cake to the first Wisconsin man to make a touchdown. It went last year to "Rollie" Williams, and was sent to him at the Beta house, where his fraternity brothers and the team enjoyed it together.

The cake, which is to be extra large, will be devil's food, because men seem to prefer that to any other kind, according to the manager of the Exchange.

Foreign Flashes

FOREIGN FLASHES

PARIS, Oct. 25 — German communists and nationalists today opened fire on the prefecture of police at Wiesbaden, in which French troops were stationed, according to a dispatch to Le Temps. They were immediately repulsed.

BERLIN, Oct. 25 — Five thousand unemployed began a march on Berlin today. They will demand the renewal of unemployment doles which have been stopped on account of money shortage.

SOFIA, Oct. 25 — The entire military air force of Bulgaria was wiped out today when the sole military plane left to Bulgaria by the treaty of Neuilly was wrecked. Two officers aboard the plane were killed.

HOMECOMING EVENTS OPEN WITH MEETING IN MEN'S GYMNASIUM

TODAY'S EVENTS

6:45 p. m. — Judging of fraternity, sorority, dormitory, rooming house and store window decorations.

7 — Massmeeting in gymnasium and Music hall.

8 — Bonfire on lower campus.
8:30 — Second annual Homecoming carnival in gymnasium.

SPECIAL CARDINAL TO BE BIG ISSUE

The 1923 Homecoming issue of the Cardinal will contain more material in various departments than any previous Homecoming issue.

It will have approximately 16 pages of stories on present and past Homecomings, and an eight page photo section. Two entire pages will be devoted to sports; skyrockets will occupy double space, and stories by prominent alumni will be features of this issue.

"Roundy" Coughlin, sport writer for the Capital Times, will write a feature story reviewing past Wisconsin football teams.

"Dad" Morgan and Wisconsin alumni, will write stories on their past experiences and Homecomings. There will be a big story on the first Homecoming and another on important events which have happened since last Homecoming. An interesting story will be "The Graduate Who Traveled the Farthest." One graduate traveled 3,000 miles to see Wisconsin defeat Minnesota.

The photo section will have pictures of old time players and business men, who were prominent in school activities in their days. Football teams, games, and Homecoming chairmen pictures will fill the rest of the eight pages.

This issue will be sold for 10 cents on the campus, at The Cardinal office, and along State street. There will be the regular distribution on Saturday. The Park Hotel pharmacy will be the selling center for The Cardinal on the Square, and it will be on sale there daily after Homecoming. They will be on sale in the University Pharmacy also.

Fraternities and sorority wanting extra copies of this issue should notify The Cardinal circulation manager at B. 6606 before 4 o'clock today.

200 RINGS PURCHASED BY SENIORS YESTERDAY

Two hundred Blue Dragon rings were sold yesterday, according to Dorothy Weisler '24, who has charge of procuring the rings. This leaves about five hundred out of the seven hundred senior women who have not yet ordered their rings. Orders which go in before tonight will be delivered from December 5 to 10. Those ordered later will not be in until some time after Christmas. Every woman graduate of the university is entitled to wear the Blue Dragon which is the symbol of Wisconsin women. There are no numerals or insignia of any kind which would make them class rings.

HOBO PARADE IS OPEN TO ANYONE ON CAMPUS

Not only hoboes will decorate their persons and vehicles for the hobo parade, but every person and group that wishes to march is asked to line up on Saturday. Everyone who wishes to get in the parade should notify Louis Ruhte, Fairchild 1489. The prizes will include two large cups and sorority pillows, and are on display in Morgan's window.

Week-end Will Furnish Varied Entertainment For Re- turning Grads

Several months work of more than 100 committeemen under the general chairmanship of Allan Walter '24, will culminate in the events of today and tomorrow when Homecoming festivities and activities take place. Beginning with the big pep massmeeting tonight in the armory and finishing with the "Homecoming Hop" tomorrow night in Lathrop gymnasium, the affairs of the week-end promise to be the greatest that have ever welcomed Badger alumni back to the campus on Mendota.

More than a score of committees have been decorating, writing, arranging since last spring in order that the alumni, who will be more in number this year than ever before because of the increased seating capacity at Camp Randall, might learn of what is going on here these two days and that they might be suitably entertained and fittingly accommodated.

Ryan Will Speak

At 7 o'clock sharp tonight the massmeeting in the gymnasium conducted by Gamber Tegtmeyer '24 will welcome the alumni and augment the pep and fighting spirit for the occasion. The members of the team, lead by Captain Marty Below, will march down the center aisle of the gym and up onto the stage where they will be greeted by the rest of the speakers.

Coach Jack Ryan, making his first public appearance on the campus will be among the speakers. Judge Andrew Bruce, who is connected with the Law school of Northwestern university will address the meeting on behalf of the alumni and Prof. Carl Russel Fish of the department of history on behalf of the faculty. Marty Below as well as each member of his team will have a few words to say about the situation.

Both the first and second university regimental bands will be on hand to accompany the singing and Ez Crane '24, varsity cheer leader, with his cohorts, will lead cheers. It is expected that 2,000 will be accommodated.

Plan Overflow Meeting

The doors of the gym will be opened at 6:30 o'clock and at the same time the doors of Music hall will be opened for the overflow massmeeting. The speakers at the armory session will leave for Music hall as soon as they have finished their talks in order that those who attend the overflow meeting may be infused by the same spirits.

For a time it was planned to hold the meeting on the lower campus in order that every one who wished might be present. On account of the possibility of bad weather and noise from the streets however, this idea was given up. For the same reason thoughts of having the meet in the stadium were also dispelled. Because of the long walk which would be entailed if the event were held in the stock pavilion, that place was also disregarded according to Tegtmeyer.

Carnival Closes Evening

Immediately after the close of the pep session, the gym will be cleared and the bonfire started on the lower campus. All yesterday afternoon and part of this morning crates and boxes and all sorts of inflammables were collected by the bonfire committee under the direction of Edwin Rohrbeck '24, until the pile on the campus assumed huge dimensions.

The bonfire will be followed by the second annual Homecoming carnival in the gymnasium. The carnival will consist of eight acts the characters of which vary widely, according to Tom Morony '25, chairman of the carnival committee. Orchestral, singing, dancing,

BUTTER MAKING IN WISCONSIN BETTER

Dairy Department Completes New System of Scoring Products

Recent tests made by the dairy department of the College of Agriculture indicate that Wisconsin buttermaking has improved decidedly in the past 15 years.

Coincident with this improvement has been the butter scoring contests conducted by the dairy department, reports that this competition is still growing in popularity.

The scoring is done on samples submitted by the creamerymen taking part in the contest. At regular intervals, but about once a month, officials call for samples of churn-run butter. These samples are sent to the college and scored by from three to seven outside judges. Each judge works independently. He rates the quality and advises how it may be improved, scoring each sample separately. The samples are also analyzed for fat, curd, salt, and moisture content. The butter is then sent to a commission merchant in Chicago and sold on the general market, the returns going directly to the creameries submitting the samples. A report of the score, the analysis, and the comments of each judge is sent to the buttermaker who submitted the sample.

Another advantage is that the creameryman learns more promptly of new methods developed for the benefit of the industry. The past year a new fat test was worked out by the University which enables the buttermaker to test for the per cent of fat in each churning. He can then see that he is keeping close to the correct fat content.

E. L. LUTHER ADDRESSES COLUMBUS INSTITUTE

Prof. E. L. Luther of the College of Agriculture and head of the farmers' institute spoke yesterday in Columbus, O., at the annual conference of institute-workers and county agents.

Perpetual Motion Machines Still Being Patented

"Perpetual motion machines are still being patented at the rate of ten a year in England," said Walter Koehler, former professor of physics in the University of Vladivostok, in his talk to the student branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers Tuesday night.

"In the United States, however, where a working model is required with each application for a perpetual motion machine patent, none has been granted in the last ten years," he said. Mr. Koehler's talk was the main event on the program given by the chemical engineers to welcome the freshman class into the school. Stuart Fiedler, local president of the A. I. Ch. E., welcomed the new students into the fellowship of the society, and Prof. O. L. Kowalke outlined some of the benefits the members could expect to receive from it.

DR. MILLS WILL TEST CLEF CLUB APPLICANTS

Twenty-five applicants have tried out for membership to Clef club. Those who passed the preliminary try-outs are now to be tested by Dr. C. H. Mills before they are finally admitted to membership. Plans have been made to hold meetings twice a month where programs will be given which illustrate the various phases of music. A concert open to the public will be held the second semester. The first program for members is scheduled for Thursday.

"FEED HENS AND GET MORE EGGS"

Eighty Million Dozen Eggs Laid Annually in Wisconsin

"Give her a chance and the farm hen will add millions of dollars to the annual income of Wisconsin farmers and poultrymen," said J. G. Halpin, of the College of Agriculture, in expressing his opinion of humble biddy. This, he insists, is a modest estimate of her merit.

Wisconsin hens laid eighty million dozen eggs last year, according to the state bureau of crop estimates. These were sold at an average of twenty-six cents a dozen. Most of the eggs came from farm flocks which, shifting for themselves, picked up their living from the waste on the place with a little feed and care afforded them during the winter.

A little more feed of the right kind would increase the average production per hen to the 120 mark, which, Halpin says, is a reasonable number to expect. This increase of about three dozen eggs per hen, he pointed out, would buy a lot of necessities and possibly leave a liberal allowance for luxuries.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY WORK ON NEW BOOKS

A number of new books are being prepared for publication by members of the economics and physics faculties.

Professor William H. Kieckhefer is working on an elementary economic text that is unique in being an approach to the subject peculiarly suited to the needs and abilities of the student.

S. L. Miller is preparing a text on railway transportation which will treat of the subject in four major divisions of history, economics, services, and regulation. It is expected that this book will be out in the spring.

Professors Gillen and Glasser are also working on texts in economic subjects.

Professor Benjamin W. Snow is revising the text now used in his elementary course.

CONFERENCE
WIRE SERVICEGOPHER HARRIERS
MEET CARDINAL
TEAM TOMORROWRace Will Start in Front of Gymnasium at 11
O'Clock

Exactly at 11 o'clock Saturday morning the report of a pistol will send the varsity and Minnesota cross country men away in what promises to be one of the closest races between the two institutions for several years.

The Gophers are out to wipe away the stigma of defeat which they have suffered at the hands of the Badgers for the last two years, and if any truth can be placed in the reports which have been circulating from the northern stronghold during the past week, they will have more than an outside chance of accomplishing their purpose.

The Gophers won their first dual meet last Saturday in easy fashion when four of the Old Gold and Maroon runners crossed the finish line before the first Grinnell runner was in sight. The winner covered the five-mile course in the excellent time of 26 minutes and 52 seconds. This all speaks well for the northern hill-and-dale men and promises an interesting time for the bearers of the Cardinal color.

Eight Men on Team

Each team will be composed of eight men. The Wisconsin lineup with the identification number of each man includes Captain Finkle, 92; Sherman, 93; Schneider, 94; Bergstresser, 95; Piper, 96; Perry, 97; Read, 98; and Swingle, 99.

The Minnesota lineup with the corresponding numbers is Captain Jacobson, 169; McLaughlin, 170; L. Brown, 172; Vye, 176; Popkin, 177; Varner, 183; Morrison, 187; Schuck, 190.

If experience is much of an advantage to a team, and it is generally considered as such, the Gophers should have a decided edge on the varsity runners. Wisconsin has only one letter man in the person of Captain Finkle on this year's team, while the Minnesota team has four "M" men back.

Brown and Jacobson Dangerous

Of these four experienced runners Brown and Captain Jacobson appear to be the most formidable. Brown finished first in the Grinnell meet last week and was closely followed by Jacobson, Vye and McLaughlin are also unusually good runners and are sure of giving their opponents a hard race.

In Finkle, the only "W" man on this year's cross country squad, Coach Burke has a reliable man who can be counted on to be among the first at the end of the race. Sherman is also a good point winner and is sure to place among the winners.

Practice today will merely consist of limbering up exercises, thus giving the men a rest and permitting them to be in the best condition for the meet tomorrow. The race will start and finish in front of the men's gym as usual.

ALUMNAE URGED TO ATTEND HOCKEY GAMES

All alumnae who will be back for Homecoming are urged by Miss Trilling, head of the physical education department, to attend the hockey games which will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Camp Randall. There will be two games, the first between the first varsity team and the Madison hockey club, and the second between the second varsity team and the graduate team. They will be played in alternate halves.

At 12 o'clock a luncheon will be served at the field house. Those wishing to attend the luncheon should sign up at Lathrop or at the field house.

The games are being arranged by W. A. A. and the physical education club. Miss Trilling has suggested that the day be made traditional as a fall field day similar to the spring field day.

Hard Drilling Places Gophers
In Condition for Big Game

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—If it is to remain a factor in the 1924 western conference football race, the University of Minnesota team must play Wisconsin off its feet at Madison Saturday, and the thoroughness with which headcoach Spaulding realizes this fact is shown by the hard driving practices that took place this week on Northrop Field.

Gopher prospects are brighter, as a matter of fact, than some have been willing to admit. Although Captain Martineau's passing hand is still injured and the heaving must be delegated to someone else, none of the other first string men are incapacitated by injuries, as both Ted Cox, tackle, and Freddie Grose, quarterback, have been reintroduced into active play this week.

Hard drill on running down under punts, tackling, blocking and other fundamentals took up the Gophers time on Monday, and on Tuesday they were sent back for an hour's stiff scrimmage.

Gophers Fear Badgers

Instead of facing a team that is an unknown quantity, as would have been the case had Minnesota met the Badgers a week ago, Spaulding's men will be fighting Saturday against the aggregation that last week made one of the biggest scores ever piled up by one conference eleven against another. Without revealing much besides straight football, Ryan's aggregation totalled 52 points against Indiana. Minnesota also showed scoring power, with four touchdowns against North Dakota and at least one other score sacrificed by a fumble. Many in the stands thought the Gophers were playing under wraps and most of the better reserves got in before the game was three quarters finished.

Minnesota rooters, however, show no disposition to belittle the caliber of the North Dakota team, which showed a sterling defense much of the time and tackled hard and cleanly. The game also was unmarred by the injuries that hurt Gopher chances against both Ames and Haskell.

1000 Rooters to See Game

If Minnesota wins from Wisconsin Saturday, she should go through at least to the Michigan game without a defeat. As Spaulding said when he heard the result of the Wisconsin-Indiana battle, "If the team goes in there and fights, it makes no difference how good the opposition may be." This is the stand more than 1,000 Minnesota rooters will take when they start Friday for the Madison battle ground.

Fred Oster and Lloyd Pederson showed the stands some of the best driving fullback play that Northrop Field has witnessed in two years when they cut through the North Dakota defense Saturday. Carl Lidberg, new halfback, also demonstrated that he can keep his feet and cut through. Lidberg was the stellar ground gainer in straight football tactics.

Regular Quarterback Not Chosen

Whether Grose, Swenbeck, Graham or Guzy will prove to be the regular quarterback of the 1923 season will be known following the Wisconsin game. Little Pete Guzy had his first chance last Saturday. He ran the team in brainy fashion, but his passing game was weak. Guzy is rather light for hitting the line, but he injects pep and determination into his crew. Grose, Swenbeck, and Graham are all first rate good football players, but none of them have shown really stellar qualities. Grose has the experience, Swenbeck the ground gaining ability, and Graham the speed. Any one of them will command effectively if the team plays as a unit. gets its plays off with a snap and works headily. Without these accomplishments a team can make any quarterback look foolish.

No one on the campus is going to Wisconsin expecting anything "inevitable." More look for a victory than defeat. "Badgers is Badgers" says the boys, and when Minnesota meets Wisconsin there is certainty of a battle royal. All the victory yells are being adequately rehearsed.

Our Varsity sure is getting ready. Last night they showed up better against the beefy Frosh with the Minnesota signals and formations than any time this week.

If there was any cockiness or over-confidence in that bunch when they came home from their win over Indiana, it sure is killed by this time. Ryan's slogan all week has been, "Forget Indiana—wallop Minnesota."

An alumnus who had arrived early, and watched the team go through its paces last night, remarked that the D. U. s had a couple of men on the Varsity; whereupon some wise cracker up and remarks, "Yes, they have a half."

Has anyone—or who hasn't—noticed Chicago's schedule this year? They have some of the best material in the conference and still they have chosen such teams as Indiana, Purdue, Northwestern and Ohio State. Wisconsin and Illinois should undoubtedly put a crimp in old man Stagg's title hopes however.

SET DATE FOR YEARLING SWIM
TRIALS AHEAD

Freshman swimming team try-outs, which were to be held in the men's gymnasium tonight, have been postponed until Friday, November 2.

At this time the men will swim a trial heat of their event, and time will be taken of each man's swim. The freshman candidates will then be divided into first and second squads.

Meanwhile the candidates are holding workouts in the tank every Tuesday and Thursday nights, under the tutelage of Coach Steinauer and varsity swimmers.

TRACK CANDIDATES
WORK OUT IN GYM20 Men From Last Year's Squad Have Reported to Coach Burke

Candidates for the varsity track team are working out three times a week in the annex in preparation for the meets which will be held next semester.

"There is material in the university for the best track team that Wisconsin has had since 1916," said Coach Mead Burke. "Prospects are good at other conference schools too and the men must keep eligible for competition."

"The meets do not begin until the second semester, but whether they are won or lost is determined by the kind of training the men do this semester," added the coach.

About 20 men from last year's squad have reported and will furnish the nucleus for the 1923-24 team. The distance men are working with the cross country squad and will be in fine shape by the time the track season starts.

Experienced men who are now in the school are Finkle, Perry, Schneider, Sherman, Bergstresser, Vallely, in the distance events; Jones and Krieger in the pole vault; McAndrews and Limberg in the shot put; Donohue and Tuhtar in the high jump; Muzzy and Tuhtar in the hurdles; Hilberts in the half mile; Cassidy in the mile; and Wade in the two mile.

MAT PROSPECTS
FOR COMING YEAR
LOOK PROMISINGNew Team Will Have Wealth of Experienced Material

With the coming of the winter wrestling season a new era opens in Wisconsin minor athletics. For never before have the prospects been so assured of a brilliant season.

For three years Coach George Hitchcock has been working to develop a team worthy of carrying the Cardinal colors into the frays with other conference matmen. Each year has approached more nearly to gaining his desired end, and this coming season, at last, it seems, that his hopes will be realized.

Lose Two Stars

Every man of his last year's squad except Captain Templin and Suzuki is back. And tucked under their belts is a year of experience against such competition as the conference will not see again for a long time.

Robert Benbow, 125 pounder, who missed a chance at the mid-west's highest honors in his weight by a matter of seconds in the great fight with the Ames representative, will captain the tusslers through what now promises to be the most successful season in the Badger's wrestling history.

With the exception of the 115 burthen, all the other weights promise to be fought for not only by last winter's regulars, but by a new crop of talent that has come out.

Plenty of Material

At present it seems that 135 limit will be well cared for by "Barecat" Bob Holmes of interscholastic fame. Hembre will probably return for the 145 class, but even if he should not Munquitz will be more than able to handle himself against the oppositions best.

Gregor who has worked in every weight from middle to heavy will represent Wisconsin in the 158, while Harold Holmes the football satalite, will undoubtedly enter the fray at 175. The big man's berth will be handed over to Beiberstein, left guard and one of the line's mainstays on the football team.

THINGS BEGIN

The alumni are here, or at least most of them that are coming for the game will be here by tonight for the massmeeting and the start of the week-end festivities. There will be no necessity to call "Varsity Out." The Varsity will be out without a call. There is no necessity for The Cardinal to speak a word of welcome to the grads. That goes without saying.

Yet there is one thing which should be said in connection with the massmeeting. For several years the gymnasium has been inadequate for the event, hundreds have been turned away each year because the armory was too small to accommodate the crowd, and much consideration has been given to the idea of finding some other place more suitable. In fact, it was fully decided to hold the affair on the lower campus. The possibility of bad weather and the fact that the audience would be required to stand, however, did away with this idea. It would be impossible to arrange chairs on the campus since the only available chairs must be used for the carnival which follows immediately upon the massmeeting. The noise of the streets would make it difficult for all to hear.

The thought of holding the meeting in the stock pavilion was also entertained until it was decided that this arrangement would make it necessary for the members of the audience to do too much walking.

For these and other less important reasons it was deemed advisable to hold the 1923 massmeeting in the time-honored gym. We must be satisfied with the prevailing conditions, realize that everything in the power of the committee and the athletic department has been done to try to improve them and accept the situation.

Perhaps you will be able to squeeze into the armory tonight, but if you are not, remember that there is an over-flow meeting in Music hall where just as good speakers will hold forth and where just as much pep will be registered.

Tonight there will sound the pistol shot for events to begin. We're going to show the alumni good spirit, a first-class game and we're going to show Minnesota that the Badgers have a winning team.

Let's go!

AN OLD QUESTION

The eyes of hundreds of alumni and visitors from east to west will be on the student body this week-end. Criticism will be passed freely on us, the microscope of friends and enemies alike will be held closely over our works and actions. It is unavoidable. We could not run it aside if we wished to. We can, however, be responsible for what falls under the rays of the glass.

Call it a matter of pride, a matter of self-respect, a matter of loyalty, decency or what you will—it would be a splendid idea to be sober during these days. If drinking is necessary, save it for another time when you do not offer cause for your university being severely criticized.

Respect is one of the finest things an institution can have. We can arouse respect for Wisconsin during these few days. We can also arouse disgust among visitors and shame among alumni and disrespect among all of our guests. Which shall it be?

GIVE 'EM A LIFT

Tired and weary after a hard afternoon of hitting the line and booting and passing the ball, tackling and being tackled, the members of the football squad have been trudging their way homewards each night after practice. A long walk at best, and after such gruelling tactics, it becomes a hard grind.

Among the student body there are many cars which are used for joy-riding in the last hours of the afternoons. Student cars are coming in from the direction of Camp Randall at the time the players are trudging their way homewards. Think how welcome a ride it would be to those men who are representing the Cardinal on the gridiron. Give them a lift in. You will find in doing so a certain sense of satisfaction at having done what you could for the good of the team.

If you do not happen to be going by Camp Randall at the time the team is leaving, it will do you no harm to make a special trip to the field. It is really a little thing to do, but it is one of those little things which the team will appreciate.

You want a championship team. Give 'em a lift and do your part towards turning out that team.

Other Editors Say—

HEAR, HEAR

The generalization of John J. Tigret, United States commissioner of education, on professionalism in college sports is essentially vicious in its utterance, the whole indictment obviously springing from stray rumors or whispered admonitions, occasionally true, which have drifted into his ear and found permanent lodging in an empty brain cell. Mr. Tigret, in a recent address before the tenth Recreation Congress stated in part: "The evil of professionalism of the colleges is reaching to the schools, and I am not prepared to point to a single college that is not subsidizing or paying its athletes or in which the president is not winking at it. Boys are being debauched and devotees to the 'god of winning' in the colleges and alumni associations are largely responsible for the condition."

From the very tone of this assertion, with its Bryanese fervor, it is not hard to assume that the commissioner's diatribe was not so much the product of his thundering ire at the diabolical practice, as of his realization that, having the stage for the nonce, he must make the wings reverberate. He admits he is not prepared to point to a single guiltless institution—how extensive and replete must be his information! Lightly, we challenge him to become specific.

It is a pity, or just possibly it is not, that a man with Mr. Tigret's weighty title cannot occupy his time and the time of others, with more effulgent pronouncements. The scope of his calling is evidently too wide to allow sufficient familiarization, in him, of its many sides. He would do much better to learn the facts and stick to them, so that, when his rare opportunities for public speaking do arrive, he can use eloquence for some purpose, other than false edification.—Cornell Daily Sun.

A good W. C. T. U. argument now is that the fines from bootleggers produce more revenue to the state than did saloon licenses.

Now that the political season is nearly over most people feel that there is no need for the printing of student directories.

MAN'S BRAIN HAS NOT ELEVATED HIM

—MAYO

Will Power is Only Partially Efficient, Doctor Tells Surgeons

CHICAGO—Man's proud brain power has not lifted him as high above the lower animals, as he likes to think, according to Dr. William Mayo of Rochester, Minn., who addressed the American College of Surgeons. Even when he is awake man is only a quarter conscious of what his body is doing, he said. Three quarters of the energy created by the food man eats and the air he breathes is spent without knowing it, Dr. Mayo declared.

Man's will power is only about 25 percent efficient, the surgeon declared. Certain often misunderstood ailments result from the clash when the conscious mind attempts to gain control over the unconscious, Dr. Mayo said. When emotional influences, spoken of as psychic, get so strong that they flood over and try to control the smoothly running unconscious system, trouble occurs.

"Disturbances which more or less resemble real diseases are caused," he said. "The trained observer knows them to be false, but the unenlightened patient accepts them as true. Herein lies the success of the cults and quackeries who play these 'diseases' for the real thing and reap a harvest."

Can't Revive "Dead" Brain
CHICAGO—Medical science can give life to the dead, but can not restore brain power, Dr. F. H. McMechan, attending the National Anaesthesia Research Society conference here, said today.

A woman in Atlanta, Georgia, restored to life three years ago, still is living but she is an imbecile and does not realize she is alive, Dr. McMechan said. This is an unusual case, he said, as in order to bring life back to the dead the body must be "vigorous and not worn out."

"Adrenalin, most powerful of stimulants known, can give the tremendous shock to the heart necessary to restore life," Dr. McMechan said. "How long a person might be dead and still be restored to life is unknown, but surgeons do know that a person dead over seven minutes loses the brain even though made to live again."

MARION, O.—The Harding memorial service which was to have been conducted here Nov. 2, the anniversary of the late president's fifty ninth birthday, has been postponed to August 2, 1924, the first anniversary of his death.

SOCIAL WORK IN CITY HANDICAPPED

Community Union Budget is Short $10,000; May Extend Campaign

That the work of Madison's social agencies will have to be curtailed because the budget allotments from the Community Union will have to be cut 10 per cent was the action taken at the meeting of the central council of the Community Union last night. The allotments will have to be cut 10 per cent because the recent campaign for the raising of funds fell $10,000 short of the amount required.

The amount that was raised in the recent campaign was $92,863.45. The expense of the campaign was $4,200. With the deficit of $2270 for the previous year the actual resources for the coming year $88,663.45. The requirements of the community union for the coming year, including the budget allotments to the various social agencies, is $98,663.45, or a shortage of $10,000.

It was decided last night that a supplementary campaign shall be put on in an endeavor to raise the additional $10,000. This will be raised largely among the people who have not been previously solicited.

Judge M. B. Rosenberry, president of the Community Union made the following statement to the central council:

"In the name of the Community Union and the various agencies, I wish to express our deep appreciation for services rendered, to Chairman James R. Garver and his associates of the Finance Committee as well as to all of the persons who assisted in the recent campaign. I doubt if any appeal for funds has ever been maintained with more aggressiveness, determination and intelligent effort.

There were discouraging periods, but the entire organization carried on to the end, overcoming every obstacle. Suitable resolutions should be presented expressing our gratitude to the Wisconsin State Journal and The Capital Times for the generous and able support which they gave the movement. Where so many deserve honorable mention, one hesitates to mention names but I feel that justice requires public acknowledgment of the valuable service rendered by Chairman W. E. Walker and the committee on publicity and Chief Auditor, Edward E. Reichert, and his assistants.

"The amount produced by the campaign does not meet the budget requirements as approved by the Central Council. It will be necessary therefore to limit the appropriation of the various agencies in such manner as to keep within the amount raised.

"It is my conviction that the Community Union must during the coming year justify itself in the mind of the public by rendering that service which it was organized to perform. The community has a right to hold us responsible for the administration of the trust which it has confided in us. It is not enough for us to act as a collection and disbursing agency. The larger problems must be outlined and solved.

"I am convinced that one of two things is true—either the idea of the Community Union has not been properly presented to this city, or we are asking more per capita for social and philanthropic purposes than should be asked. The amount subscribed this year is substantially 86 per cent of the amount asked. The amount subscribed last year was approximately 80 per cent of the amount asked.

"I am convinced also that, the Finance Committee should be appointed much earlier than heretofore; that the skeleton of the organization should be set up, the cards arranged and preliminary clerical work done in a more thorough and deliberate manner than is possible in an eight weeks campaign. I suggest therefore that the annual meeting shall be held on the fourth Wednesday of January instead of in April.

"Mr. Garver desired very much during the recent campaign to have a school of instruction for solicitors. He worked very hard to that end, but found it impossible to form the organization and give the necessary instructions in the time allotted.

"Dr. Head suggested that there should be a distinct effort to carry over from one year to the next as much as possible of the organization to the end that the experience and training acquired will not be lost. I think this an excellent suggestion. It also occurs to me that the Community Union might well avail itself of the enthusiasm and experience acquired by the Chairman of the Finance Committee. Those who occupy that position gain a very wide knowledge of the attitude of the community toward the various problems of the organization and their advice and counsel would be very valuable. Could they not be made honorary members and given a permanent place upon the Central Council?

"Your attention is called to the work to be done by the Committee composed of Mr. Gillen, A. C. Larson and Wm. F. Ryan, appointed in response to the suggestion of the Budget Committee, looking to a survey of the entire field of social service, public as well as private, to the end that duplications may be avoided and the work coordinated. There are constantly springing into existence organizations, often having the most laudable purposes, which nevertheless duplicate in one way or another, the work of existing public and private agencies. The American people seem to have a passion for organization and one can form a new organization much more easily than an existing organization can be perfected and its original purposes accomplished. The public seems to lack patience for long continued, consecutive effort. In particular, no agency supported by private subscription should trench upon or supplant the work of a public agency. Our responsibilities are largely increased and I ask the hearty assistance and cooperation of everyone in the hope that this may be made a especially fruitful year."

COLLEGES ASKED TO OBSERVE DECEMBER 2

American schools and colleges are asked to co-operate with foreign institutions of learning in observing International Golden Rule on Sunday, December 2, by serving a simple menu such as the children in the Near East relief orphanages have every day.

The difference in cost between this meal and the usual meal served is to be used to purchase food for the orphans.

The observance of this day was decided upon at the first annual meeting of the International Near East association held in Geneva, Switzerland early in September. Representatives of 14 countries are asking their respective fellow-countrymen to observe International Golden Rule Sunday.

WISCONSIN MEN ENTER IN HARVARD COURSES

The Harvard business school which has just announced a midyear entrance plan has enrolled the following men from the University of Wisconsin: John W. Cance, N. Y. Chang, Robert I. Blakeman, W. L. Dayton, Walter S. Kidder, William J. Mountain, William S. Smith and John H. Schee.

During the past summer applications were received from 443 men, but of this number only 332 were accepted and enrolled.

To meet the increasing demand for admissions the midyear entrance plan has been made possible by which students may carry the regular two years of work and graduate the following February.

DUBLIN—Republican headquarters issued a statement claiming there are 6,282 Sinn Fein prisoners on hunger strike in Free State jails. Demobilization of the Free State army is proceeding at the rate of 500 men weekly. It is reported the famous Dublin secret service is being disbanded.

Envelopes of Civil War on Display at Historical Museum

Soldiers charging in battle, negro children working in cotton fields, dainty ladies in hoop skirts waving Union flags, and sailors shooting cannons from the decks of ships are among the many bright colored illustrations on the Civil war time envelopes which are on exhibition in the museum of the Historical Library building. The collection, which was donated by E. J. Caswell of Madison, consists of 253 envelopes used in the north during the Civil War.

Titles and verses are found under most of the illustrations, many of which are bitter attacks upon the south and her leaders. One envelope contains two pictures of Jefferson Davis—one of Davis in his office dictating affairs, which is entitled "Jeff the Dictator as he is," the other of Davis digging potatoes in a huge field supervised by a negro, entitled "as he should be—Jeff the Dig-tater-er."

Other illustrations are purely patriotic in nature, such as the picture of an army of soldiers marching to battle, under which is written the famous song "We are coming Father Abraham." Another illustration is that of two hands clasped over a manuscript labeled "Constitution."

ARTHUR NASH UNABLE TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Arthur "Golden Rule" Nash, president of the A. Nash company, Cincinnati, O., will not speak here Sunday, contrary to the report that he would address several clubs and churches. Because of illness he has postponed his visit until some time in March.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Ruth Rice, daughter of the late O. S. Rice, to Mr. Henry A. Loftsgordon.

"IT PAYS TO BUY IN MADISON"

Needs for the Game
and DanceEvening
Gowns

of exquisite silk

$37.50 to
$65

Youth, beauty, and courtly splendor are the pictures which a glance at this group calls forth—lovely models, creations of distinct originality.

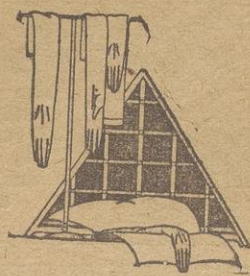

Velvets achieve a queenly grace with trimming of fur and beads; brocades soft and simply trimmed, are of artistic beauty; georgettes combined with lace and ribbon are the reflection of joy and youth. All are extraordinarily becoming.

A Furred
Wrap

$65 to
$79.50

Swagger coats of high pile fabrics are beautifully designed in the slender silhouette and given added beauty by rich fur trimming.

At the game, or at the dance, a wrap of this character is conspicuously successful. In this group, all are of good quality, and lined in silk crepe.

Long Gloves
16-Button
$5.50

Gloves of fine white kid with Paris Point embroidery on back. 12-button length. $4.75

Silk Hose

Dairymen Honor Prof. S. M. Babcock At Convention

Prof. Stephen M. Babcock, inventor of the Babcock test, who celebrated his eightieth birthday recently, received honors at the meeting of the Cheesemakers, Buttermakers, and Dairymen's Advancement association convention at Stevens Point yesterday.

The convention characterized Professor Babcock as the man who made the dairy industry one of the greatest in the nation. President John Francis Sims of the Stevens Point normal college delivered the address.

Resolutions were presented which paid tribute to the man who contributed this invention to the farmers and aided in making Wisconsin the greatest dairying state in the union.

EUTHENICS CLUB HOLDS SECOND OPEN MEETING

The Euthenics club had its second open meeting at 5:45 o'clock Wednesday evening in the form of a picnic at Camp Randall. All home economic girls were invited, about 75 attending.

Supper was served around a blazing campfire, and afterwards there was informal singing. Marion Duncan, Lorraine Claus and Gladys Wolfe were in charge of arrangements.

There is to be a regular meeting of the club in two weeks. New members will be taken in at that time, and it is hoped that the girls who have attended the open meetings will join.

HUGE LOCOMOTIVE HERE FOR EXHIBIT

Giant Engine is 76 Feet Long and Weighs 265
Tons

The "most powerful locomotive in the world" is the name applied to the electric locomotive to be exhibited by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway during Homecoming Day. The huge motor will be on display on the side track just east of the Forest Products laboratory near the entrance to Camp Randall.

Two electrical experts, who will be in charge of the exhibit, will conduct visitors through the giant engine. A platform will be constructed to provide easy access to the interior, and a coach will be attached to accommodate the visitor during the lengthy explanations.

The locomotive is the newest development of the General Electric Company, embodies the most efficient attachments, and is the acme of the electrical experts skill. It is designed for passenger service on the far western division of the Milwaukee road, and is similar to five locomotives now in service there. The "Mammoth of the Rails" is 76 feet long, weighs 265 tons, and develops 3,200 horse power continuous rating.

The exhibit will be brought to Madison about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and will be held in the yards to be thoroughly conditioned. In one place where the locomotive was exhibited 5,000 people made the trip through the "Death Chamber" where no life can exist when the current is turned on.

The exhibition is free, and the locomotive will be open for inspection all day.

School Survey Report To Be Given City Session
Nov. 9

Harland Bartholomew, St. Louis zoning expert, who has completed a survey of Madison public schools, will be invited to present the report of the survey to a joint meeting of the city council and board of education November 9, it was determined at a meeting of the special survey committee held in the vocational school building on Tuesday afternoon. An individual study of the report is being made by members of the special committee, prior to its presentation to the council.

State Road Program Is Almost Completed

The special legislative committee named by the last legislature to select the remaining 2,500 miles of the state's highway system had practically completed its work yesterday. The committee was in session again yesterday afternoon and it was said its work probably will be completed today. When the committee has finished its work, the state highway system will include 10,000 miles of roads.

Man Critically Hurt

In Jefferson Accident

JEFFERSON—Ed. Knaak, town of Farmington, was seriously hurt when his auto ran into the back end of a road truck on the road between Jefferson and Johnson Creek. His auto was completely wrecked and he is in the hospital here. Mr. Knaak was recently a defendant in a hunting case at Goose lake, where the Oconomowoc Shooting club claimed it owned the lake. He won the case, which was tried before Judge Grimm.

cludes Program

A total of 224 exhibits were entered by more than 100 boys and girls under 18 years of age in the annual Junior Livestock exposition, which opened at the college of agriculture Wednesday. The exhibitors represent 13 counties in the state.

First awards in the exposition were made Wednesday when judges examined 16 Shropshire lambs from nine farms. Prizes were distributed as follows: Walter Templeton, Evansville, first; Kenneth Stevenson, Dane, second; Wayne Watkins, Edmund, fourth; and William Hopkins, Morrisonville, fifth.

Judges were William G. Miles, Evansville; F. Renk, Sun Prairie; and Roy Broughton, Albany.

The program yesterday included swine judging and weighing of ton litters; judging of baby beeves and a banquet scheduled for 7 o'clock tonight.

Selling of swine and sheep is scheduled for this morning and the sale of baby beeves for this afternoon.

Counties represented in the nominations for prize winners are: Grant, Iowa, Rock, Dane, Columbus, Sauk, St. Croix, Chippewa,

52,000 Enrolled In Vocational State Schools

More than 52,000 children and adults in Wisconsin received instruction during the year were through vocational schools supervised by the state board of vocational education, according to a summary of activities announced today by George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education. Vocational classes were conducted in 46 cities of the state, the summary shows.

The larger part of those given instruction during the year were enrolled in night classes, according to Director Hambrecht. Under this group, 35,845 students were enrolled. In day classes 26,665 were enrolled.

Nearly 40 percent of the total vocational educational enrollment during the year was in Milwaukee, the director's report shows. In that city, 20,103 were enrolled, 13,098 in day classes and 7,005 in night classes.

Seven cities of the state have voluntarily started vocational classes, it is said. All cities over 5,000 population are required under the vocational act, to conduct such classes.

A summary of the number served through vocational classes in the larger cities of the state during the past year follows:

Madison Rotary Governor Praises Clubs of State

MILWAUKEE—W. N. Parker, Madison, governor of the Wisconsin and upper Michigan Rotary district, extolled service above self as the basic ideal of the Rotary clubs of the world in an address delivered before 320 Rotarians and Rotarians of Milwaukee, Sheboygan, and Waukesha at an inter-city meeting here Tuesday night.

Gov. Parker traced changes that had come in fraternal organizations and business methods since the first Rotary club was established 18 years ago in Chicago. The Masonic order, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias, Elks, Union League club of Chicago and others were mentioned by Mr. Parker.

"They were glorious unto themselves, and great self admirers 18 years ago," he said. "They were stultified in their own self satisfaction."

"Conditions today are very different," he said. He called attention to the fact that the Masons are building hospitals, the Knights of Columbus backing Boy Scout work to the limit, the Union League club doing a great work for the youth of Chicago's slums, and other organizations giving service for the good of the state, the nation and the world. The growth of Kiwanis, Optimist, Gyro and Lions clubs was cited as a further illustration of the spread of Rotary spirit.

A social meeting will be held by William B. Cairns post, American Legion, at 8 o'clock tonight in Dane County Memorial hall, Monona ave.

Next Week's PROGRAM FOR MOVIES GOOD

There will be no time to rest up after Homecoming for the theater goers, as every theater in town is going to present something excellent next week.

The Strand is going to hold the interest of all the students, at least, by showing the third of their series of exclusive pictures of university events, namely all about Homecoming. Two cameras will work today, snapping everything they can get, from the oldest grad, decorations of the fraternity and sorority houses to the game tomorrow.

Besides that the Strand will present from Sunday to Tuesday Owen Moore and Alice Lake in the comedy play "Modern Matrimony." From Wednesday to Saturday the First National Production "Ponjola", a romance of the African veldt, adapted from Cynthia Stockley's story of the same name, starring James Kirkwood, Anna Q. Nilsson, and Tully Marshall will be the program.

The Majestic will present all of next week Fritz Ridgeway, Edward Horton, and Lois Wilson in "Ruggles of Red Gap," a story in which an English butler is playing the social lion in Red Gap, Arizona.

The Madison will run, also for the whole week, the famous picture "The Merry Go Round" with Norman Kerry and Mary Phelvin. It is a movie playing in Austria during the fatal years 1914-1918, and tells a forceful story of the love of an Austrian nobleman for a little organ grinder in Vienna.

The Parkway will have a varied program next week. Sunday will be featured Dustin Farnum in "The Man Who Won." Monday will show the well known contralto comedienne, Nora Bayes in her "Revue Intime," in which lovers of high art as well as of syncopation will be delighted with Miss Bayes presentation of her satire on "Samson and Delilah." Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will show the famous automobile racer Alec B. Francis in "The Drivin' Fool."

Up Stage Bits

BY TORMENTOR

Some time ago the Parkway promised us Ethel Barrymore for a prologue. They don't seem to be working up to that calibre very fast.

The dancing lad in this week's Parkway presentation seemed to have a stiff neck or something. (We're trying to create an alibi for him).

Wonder if Nora Bayes is the one to whom "No, no, Nora" was dedicated.

Clint Draper, Elks producer, has been in the minstrel producing business for 18 years but has never seen the Haresfoot show. He promises to be on hand this year.

He's going to make actors of some of our Madison business Elks even if he has to camouflage them behind black paint.

The actor's temperament in Tom Morony is just beginning to get above his collar what with all his Homecoming acts turning out ineligible.

Did you know that this university permits a man to play football or take part in athletics when he is ineligible for dramatics. What about your double standard?

Wisconsin Players is getting all sorts of raw material at its tryout booth in the Union building. Even the Skyrockets editor signed up.

Bill Purnell's here tonight. Even a carnival will attract him all the way from Kenosha.

The big act tomorrow will be entitled "The Gopher's Down-fall."

Carl Seider, an inmate of the state psychiatric institute, escaped this morning. Police here are searching for him. He is described as being 32 years old, five feet and seven inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, clothed in a dark suit, and of dark complexion.

Majestic Offers
Irish Comedy in
"April Showers"

Sure an' "April Showers" is advertised as havin' an all Irish cast,—sure an' it has! It is just what its title implies, full of Irish scraps between Maggie and Danny, down on the east side in Dugan's alley. Although the people in this little Irish colony constitute the principal charm of the picture, its real merit lies in its humanity. The characters are human in their hilarious joy, their impetuous anger, their bitter disappointments. Nowhere does "April Showers" lack sincerity.

Kenneth Harlan is thoroughly interested in his portrayal of Danny O'Rourke, son of a fascinating Irish mother, played by Myrtle Vane. And wait till you see Colleen Moore toss her head around and call Danny "shanty Irish"! Maggie and Danny quarrel over everything imaginable, but we always know the sun will be shining again in two minutes! There are several bits of charming local color: Mother's imported shamrocks, the Irish police force, and the adjustable plank between Maggie's flat and Danny's. An unique scene in the play is an underground cafe with a synthetic jazz atmosphere. It represents the bottom of the sea, and a mermaid orchestra and fishes swimming around among rocks and sea-weed greatly enhances the illusion. There's a prize fight, too, in which the hero actually fails! First time we ever saw that done.

Danny's aim in life is to take his late father's place on the Dugan alley police force. Shannon, his sister thinks she's in love with the alley sheik, and Danny has to straighten that out. Danny and Maggie's squabbles are amusing, yet there is sincere pathos, also. All in all, it's a good Irish picture which most people will enjoy.

Current news and a juvenile comedy "Three Cheers" complete the program.

DR. DORWARD TO GIVE
LAST SERMON SUNDAY

"The Preacher Who Lost His Head Through a Dance" will be the farewell sermon of Dr. William T. Dorward Milwaukee evangelist who has been preaching in Madison for several Sundays on modern subjects.

His last sermon will be given at the First Baptist church and will have reference to John the Baptist.

Doctor Dorward will also give an evening address at 7 o'clock on the "Twentieth Century Preacher and What Ought We to Do With Him?"

Blackface

"Black Man". We'll all be there Wednesday night to see that Elk's show.

In fact, these people are going to show that they may have black faces and still be the Best People On Earth. Madison business men will forget their dignity at the Parkway Wednesday night when such sedate men as Harry Sautoff, Roy Drives, Billy Huels, and others don the black face to take part in the Elks' old fashioned minstrel.

Jazz music, buck and wing dances, soft shoe hopping, mger baby—they're all there. Sock time, watch your step keep a movin' Parkway Wednesday. All Elks will shed their horns.

May Robson Here
In Latest Comedy

May Robson, a favorite actress with Madison audiences, will be seen at the Parkway theater tomorrow afternoon and night in her latest comedy "Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." The book from which this play has been taken is said to be a scream from beginning to end, dealing with the caprices and pranks of Aunt Mary. According to reports from other cities in which this play has been running, it is quite as good as the book. Miss Robson is too well known to Madison theater-goers to require any introduction.

THEATER CALENDAR

STRAND — Homecoming pictures, and Owen Moore and Alice Lake in "Modern Matrimony," Sunday through Tuesday; James Kirkwood and Anna Q. Nilsson in "Ponjola", Wednesday through Saturday.

MAJESTIC — I-cis Wilson in "Ruggles of Red Gap", all week.

MADISON — Norman Kerry and Mary Phelvin in "The Merry-Go-Round", all week.

PARKWAY — Dunstan Farnum in "The Man Who Won", Sunday; Nora Bayes (in person) in "Revue Intime", Monday; Alice B. Francis in "The Drivin' Fool", Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; Elk's Minstrel show, Wednesday.

87, Equitable Fraternal Union, will attend a Halloween party to be given tonight at Sun Prairie by the assembly there. The local delegation will leave Moose hall at 7 o'clock tonight. Joseph H. Stephenson is in charge of transportation.

Hospital Budget Up
At Dinner Tonight

The board of estimates will review the General hospital budget this evening at a dinner tendered in honor of the board at the hospital dining room. The invitation is extended annually to the board. An inspection tour of the hospital will be made at the close of the meeting.

Second Half Bill
At Orph Suffers
Severe Relapse

BY CHATTY

The Orph has had a relapse this half of the week. The only act that might be considered passable is the Portia Mansfield dancers. Compared with the first half this show lacks pep.

Ralph and Helen Sternard

Xylophonists who played well but did not seem to give the audience exactly what it wanted.

"His Night Out"

Another comic opposer of Volstead. This kind of humor no longer seems funny.

Dave Roth

He played the piano well enough to leave out the burlesque. He would have made a big hit if he had played more.

Mollie Fuller

In "Twilight," a eulogy of bygone actors more than anything else.

"Just Jestin"

We were wondering all through the act if that was what he was trying to do.

Portia Mansfield Dancers

Aesthetic dancers who gave some beautiful sketches in rhythm and color.

Holds Sugar Co. Non Par Stock Is Tax Free

Beat sugar corporations are not subject to a license tax on non-par stock when organized under Wisconsin statutes, Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman was advised today by the attorney general. The opinion held that such corporations must pay only a $10 organization fee. The question of license fees was raised in connection with an application for incorporation of a $150,000 sugar beet corporation it is said.

history department. The department of classics is sponsoring Professor Robinson's lecture.

All university lectures, however, are under the supervision of the lecture committee which passes on the speakers for the year.

The committee, headed by Prof. O. N. Dodge of the English department, has for its members Dean George C. Sellery of the College of Letters and Science, Prof. J. L. Gillin of the department of economics, Prof. A. W. Hopkins of agricultural journalism, Prof. J. B. Overton of the biology department, and Prof. L. F. Van Hagan of the department of railroad engineering.

All Lectures Not Arranged
Lectures for the entire year are not arranged at the outset of the semester, according to Professor Dodge, but are obtained throughout the year as the committee hears of interesting and celebrated lectures.

The lecture fund set aside by the university budget must be apportioned to take care of lectures for the entire year.

"We do not plan the series for the whole year," said Professor Dodge, "but instead we arrange so that on the spur of the moment we can take on any lectures that departments request."

Invitations Sent to Lecturers
Lecturers are obtained through special invitations to them, but more often lecture bureaus send notices of prominent persons lecturing in colleges. More than half the lectures given last year in the university were given under the auspices of such organization as L'Alliance Francaise of the National Archeological institute. Requests of departments are given first preference, however.

A lecture that will attract wide attention is to be given some time during November under the department of economics by Professor Schulze-Gaevernitz.

BISHOP THIRKIELD TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

"Mexico's Struggle for Freedom" will be the theme for an address by Bishop Wilbur P. Thirkield before the Wesley forum at 7 o'clock Sunday at the Wesley foundation.

Coming at this time from Mexico, where he has been the resident bishop of the Methodist church in Mexico City for six years, Bishop Thirkield has an unusually stirring tale of events in Obregon's country.

Bishop Thirkield comes to Madison from Indiana where he spoke on the Mexican situation before the the Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. His views expressed at that time have been widely commented on by the papers of Indiana as a possible solution of the Mexican question.

TEAM FACES FIERCE BATTLE WITH GOPHERS

Jack Ryan has kept his charges behind locked doors, drilling them against possible Minnesota formations and plays. Scrimmage sessions with the All-Americans and the freshmen have been long and difficult. Not a night during the week has the squad gone to the shower rooms until long after dark.

The team remains intact without any serious injuries. Strains and bruises have been frequent, but every night sees the same complete squad on the field in uniform.

May Use Passes

The backs are going strong, working in that same consistent fashion which literally tore the Hoosier line to shreds. Even against the powerful freshman team they have gained.

While straight football is still the order of each scrimmage, the team has opened up with more passes than have been seen this year. Irish has grabbed them off against the frosh frequently in a way which makes fans think of his brilliant work of last year.

With the hard work practically finished after last night's session, the Badgers will take a light workout today. They will in all probability go into dummy scrimmage against the frosh and will run through signals during the remainder of the afternoon.

MANILA — Leading legislators today declared the war on to a finish to obtain independence of the Philippines and the removal of Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood and his replacement by a Filipino.

NET TOURNAMENT MOVING RAPIDLY

Five Entrants Remain in Battle For University Tennis Honors

Semi-finals in the men's upper class tennis tourney are progressing rapidly with the result that only five entrants, Grelle, Durand, Schneyer, Giessel, and Stebbins, are left to battle for honors.

The remainder of the semi-final matches will be played this week and the finals should be played during the week-end.

Stebbins, by his defeat of Henika, appears as the logical contender for high honors. The match was a desperate fight all the way and Stebbins had to display some brilliant tennis in order to win.

Henika, who was rated among the best men entered, took the first set 6-4 but lost the next two, 6-8 and 4-6.

In one of the crucial matches of the tourney Durand eliminated Riddle, 8-6, 6-4. Druand had previously taken Gindorff into camp in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, while Riddle had defeated Gilson 6-2, 12-10.

A tough battle was staged between Schneyer and Hanson, the former dropping the first set 4-6 and taking the next two in succession 6-3, 6-3.

Grelle dropped Dubin from further consideration in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, while Giessel treated Johnson in a like manner, 6-2, 6-3.
