

Now Folks, I'll Sing You A Funny Little Song

As sung by
Abel Jotblod

08-11-1946 Grantsburg, WI

Verse

Now folks I'll sing you a fun-ny lit-tle song, with a hope it won't de - tain you long. I sang it all the way from here to Hong—Kong so bib-il al-ley boo so low - ly.

Refrain

Chew rye ru rye ru rye ru su-gar rack-a su-gar rack-a ru rye ru, rim-a rim-a rim strim-a strim - a rim - a ru so bib - il al - ley boo so low - ly.

Verse 1.

Now folks I'll sing you a funny little song,
With a hope it won't detain you long.
I sang it all the way from here to Hong Kong
So bibil alley boo so lowly.

Refrain

Chew rye ru rye ru rye ru
Sugar racka sugar racka ru rye ru,
Rima rima rim strima strima rim a ru
So bibil alley boo so lowly.

Verse 2.

I'm going to buy me an old grey horse,
The Allegheny I will cross.
I'll try and find my true love that I lost
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)

Verse 3.

My dad went out in a Ford machine,
He dropped a match in the gasoline.
He went so high he's never been seen
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)

Verse 4.

As I came down from the South Sea isles
Where the ladies greet you with a smile,
I wrote back home, I think I'll stay a while
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)

Verse 5.

I sailed the seas, I roamed the shore,
Where white men never trod before,
But I'll never shun wild women anymore
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)

Verse 6.

An old maid had a beau, she said,
And grabbed him and said now we'll get wed,
He looked at her and then he dropped dead
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)

Verse 7.

Men came from monkey, Darwin said
Where women came from, I never read,
But I know where some are going when there dead
So bibil alley boo so lowly.
(refrain)