

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 5, Number 7 April 1904

Madison, WI: [s.n.], April 1904

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

Based on date of publication, this material is presumed to be in the public domain.

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE.

VOL. V. APRIL, 1904. NO. 7

STATUS OF JUBILEE PREPARATIONS.

The preparations for the coming jubilee, although yet incomplete in minor details, are rapidly nearing completion, and the success of the celebration seems assured. Responses received from alumni, as well as from American and foreign universities, indicate that the attendance will be larger than was originally anticipated. During the past month a number of important matters in regard to the details of the program and the various parts of the celebration have been definitely settled. Hon. John J. Esch, '82, of La Crosse, congressman of the eighth district, has accepted the invitation to represent the alumni at the inauguration of President Van Hise. Eben R. Minahan, of Green Bay, a member of last year's graduating class and now a student in the college of law, has been chosen to deliver the address on behalf of the students of the university. In connection with the celebration it has been decided to have struck a commemorative medal to be presented to American and foreign universities officially represented by delegates at the celebration. The faculty of the university has agreed that all members of that body shall wear cap and gown with the appropriate hoods indicative of their academic degree and rank, in accordance with the accepted intercollegiate code. The advisability is also being considered of publishing a series of ten jubilee volumes to embody the results of research work that has been carried on by the members of the faculty during the past ten years. The final decision in regard to these jubilee publications cannot be made until the amount of the guarantee fund subscribed by the alumni and friends of the university warrants the undertaking. The committee on railway rates, of which Dean W. A. Henry is chairman, has secured a one-half rate for Wisconsin, northern Illinois and northern Michigan, and a fare and one-third for the whole of the Western Passenger Association territory. Several concessions have also been granted by the Central, Southern and Pacific Association. A special committee of one hundred women of Madison has been appointed to provide entertainment for the guests of the university during jubilee week. A number of other important details are now under consideration and will be decided shortly.

HORACE A. TENNEY.

Honored Pioneer of Madison who was Largely Instrumental in the Building of North and South Dormitories. Mr. Tenney is Still Living on a Farm West of Madison.

PUBLICATIONS.

The plans for the series as at present formulated by the board of editors provides for a set of ten octavo volumes of some four hundred pages each. The material which is already in sight is more than sufficient to fill a series of this kind, and if the financial conditions are favorable it is probable that the series will be increased to fifteen volumes. Like the anniversary publication issued recently in connection with similar occasions at Yale University and the University of Chicago, the proposed jubilee volumes will include both the results of recent investigation now published for the first time, and summaries of important pieces of research work, some of the details of which have already appeared in short papers from time to time. The - subject matter of these articles will be of the widest range, from geology and chemistry to history and economics, and from agriculture and engineering to philology and literary criticism.

During the last ten years investigation and research have been carried on by a considerable portion of the university faculty, the results of some of which have attracted attention both in academic circles and in the industrial, commercial and technical world. In a number of instances the results have not been published in full as yet, and hence will be available for the jubilee volumes. The work done by President Van Hise on the subject of ore formations has not only been of scientific importance in geology, but has proved of practical value in the location and operation of mines. Professor Babcock, well-known as the inventor of the milk test that bears his name, attracted the attention of the scientific world recently by his new theory as to the nature of matter and energy, and is now engaged in going over carefully again the results of his experiments before publishing them. Professor R. T. Ely's studies in the theory of monopoly and its history, Professor Paul S. Reinsch's discussion on international politics, and Professor B. H. Meyer's work on railroad transportation are important contributions to the literature of economics and political science. Professor E. T. Owen, of the department of French, has been engaged for a number of years on some interesting studies on the relation of thought and language; and Professor W. F. Giese, of the same department, is preparing a volume on literary criticism. In the field of chemistry, Professor Louis Kahlenberg has been carrying on some experiments in physical chemistry on the nature of solutions, which seem to discredit accepted theories on that subject; and Professor Victor Lenher is investigating the nature of tellurium and tellurides. One of the most interesting pieces of work at the present time is some experiments of Professor Trowbridge in wireless telegraphy, with a view to obtaining a satisfactory substitute for the coherer now in use in the transmission of wireless messages. In engineering Dean Turneure, Professors Jackson, Swenson and Burgess have each made contributions to the technical literature of their particular branches of work. The studies of Professor F. J. Turner in the history of the west and the importance of the frontier in the history of national development are of importance in American history, and are the subjects on which he was called to lecture during the present semester at Harvard University. Professors Russell and Babcock's experiments in the curing of cheese, and Professor W. A. Henry's work in practical agriculture, are among the recent contributions of the college of agriculture. Most of these and a number of other members of the faculty have pieces of work in preparation or ready for the press, which, instead of appearing through the usual channels for publication, will be contributed to the series of jubilee volumes.

It is estimated that the edition as at present planned will involve a cost of not less than $10,000, only a portion of which could be defrayed by sale of the volumes. While the sum is not a large one when compared with that expended for similar purposes by other institutions of corresponding rank, the fact that the university has not often made appeals for endowment or similar funds from the alumni and citizens of the state generally, makes it more difficult to determine in advance how liberal will be the response. If the plans can be carried out successfully as the result of such support, however, this series of volumes will mark an important epoch in the history of scholarship in the university.

MEDALS.

The committee in charge of arranging for the commemorative medal has selected Mr. Victor D. Brenner, of New York, to make the design. It is planned to strike off 250 copies of this medal, which will be of bronze about two and one-half inches in diameter, and the design of which will symbolize the development of the university. Mr. Brenner has been a pupil of Roty, the most eminent French medalist, and during the last few years has been doing a large amount of this kind of work, having designed the John Fritz medal, the De Vinne medal, the exceptionally beautiful "Discovery" medal of the American Geographical Society, as well as several designs for Harvard and Yale. Mr. Brenner is regarded as the leader of the recent movement which has led to a commemorating of events of historical and other significance by striking of appropriate medals.

PROGRAM.

The program for the week's exercises is now practically completed, only one or two of the details being still undecided. The order of the exercises as thus far arranged is as follows:

SUNDAY, JUNE 5th.

Morning: Addresses in the various churches of the city by clergymen from among the alumni of the university.

Afternoon: Baccalaureate address by Dr. John Bascom of Williamstown, Mass., former president of the university.

MONDAY, JUNE 6th.

Morning: Class day exercises.

Annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the University.

Afternoon: Reception tendered by President Van Hise to the official guests of the university.

Evening: Annual banquet of the alumni in the gymnasium.

Illumination and torchlight procession by 2,000 undergraduates.

TUESDAY, JUNE 7th.

Morning: Inauguration of President Van Hise.

Address by President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago on behalf of sister universities.

Address by Gov. La Follette, on behalf of the state of Wisconsin.

Address by Hon. John J. Esch, representing the alumni of the university.

Address by a representative of the regents of the university.

TUESDAY MORNING—Continued.

Address by Professor Turner on behalf of the faculty of the university.

Address by Eben R. Minahan '05, representing the students of the university.

Address by State Superintendent C. P. Cary on behalf of the public school system of the state.

Inaugural address by President Van Hise.

Music.

Afternoon: Luncheon on the terrace of the State Historical library building.
Inspection of the buildings and grounds of the university.

Evening: Reception by President and Mrs. Van Hise.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8th.

Morning: Jubilee ceremonies.

Address on behalf of the American universities by Pres. Daniel C. Gilman of the Carnegie Institution of Research.

Addresses on behalf of state universities by President Benjamin I. Wheeler of the University of California.

President Cyrus Northrup of the University of Minnesota.

President Jesse of the University of Missouri.

Address on "The State University" by President James B. Angell of the University of Michigan.

Evening: University dinner.

Class and society reunions.

THURSDAY, JUNE 9th.

Morning: Commencement exercises.

Conferring of degrees.

Evening: Alumni reception and ball in gymnasium.

AN EARLY EVENT IN "NORTH COLLEGE."

A recent article in the Alumni Magazine pleasantly referring to ancient days in "North College," referred also to the fact of my expulsion from the university for mischievous conduct. I have not the article before me, but, as I remember, it did not state the facts with accuracy. This is not of much importance, but as I have some documentary evidence pertaining to the affair I will here submit it.

I entered the preparatory department in 1850, when the university was conducted in an old building on the site of the present Madison high school. The erection of "North College" was commenced about May of that year, and, as stated, I had the honor of assisting in laying the corner stone. In 1851 the faculty and students first took possession. On the fourth floor there was a large room known as "The Chapel." In this there was a daily convocation, opened by reading a chapter from the Bible, followed usually by long and unctuous prayer. This was offensive to some of the students, who were aware that such exercises in the university were in violation of the constitution, as was later decided by our supreme court. The afternoon exercises were of a literary and properly instructive character. The building was heated by hot air proceeding from furnaces in the basement through radiators appropriately located. One of these in the chapel was located under a platform, out of sight.

When walking from the village to the university one day with a fellow-student, we discovered in the street a paper of smoking tobacco, and decided to have some fun with it. We got an old tin dish, filled it with live coals from the furnace, placed it upon the invisible radiator in the chapel, and emptied the tobacco onto the coals. It produced a lively and fragrant smoke. This was shortly before the afternoon exercises were to occur. Having accomplished this delicate task, we hustled downstairs, meeting on the way our good friend Chancellor Lathrop coming up. The old gentleman immediately detected the smoke, and finding the cause threw the dish and contents out of the window. He immediately came to my room, invited me to his office, and inquired whether I knew anything about the matter. I frankly confessed. He desired to know who, if any one, assisted me in the mischief. I declined to inform him and told him to charge the whole thing to me. That, I thought, would be the end of so small a matter, but it was not. In the evening I was requested to attend a meeting of the faculty, which I did. They insisted, one and all, some persuasive and others in a threatening manner, that I should disclose the name of my companion in that smoking iniquity. I declined to do so and told them I was not in the detective business.

At the sacred meeting on the following morning in the chapel after prayers, it was announced from the platform that I had been expelled from the university "for contumacy." I had been attending the institution for three years, on a charity scholarship, while the other boys had to put up their money. I fancied that the faculty wanted to get rid of me because I was poor and not contributing a cent toward the payment of their meagre salaries. Necessarily, I was wrathful at the infliction of so severe a penalty for so small an offense. No sooner did the students understand what had happened, than they called a meeting, appointed a president and secretary, and resolved not to attend the university another day until my expulsion had been rescinded and the rule implied by it abolished. A document, of which the following is a copy, was, thereupon, prepared and signed by every student present, except one, and delivered to the chancellor :

Madison, December 22, 1853.

To the Honorable, The Faculty of the University of Wisconsin:

We, the undersigned, students of the university, do hereby remonstrate against the adoption of the rule requiring students, on pain of penalty, to answer questions before the faculty touching anything done or caused to be done by any student of the university, and do hereby refuse to abide by such rule, and do also refuse to perform any exercises properly belonging to the university until such rule is rendered null and void by the faculty and the action taken against a late member for violating that rule be withdrawn.

(Signed)

JAMES HICKCOX,	W. L. SMITH,	JAMES T. DAVIES,
B. C. SLAUGHTER,	WM. H. LARKIN,	JOHN MACKAY,
GEORGE W. STONER,	G. H. MARCHER,	S. S. R. BENEDICT,
W. K. McHUGH,	J. R. SWAIN,	W. P. DEWEY,
GEORGE HENRY,	R. HUBBELL,	H. K. SMITH,
GEORGE CHASE,	W. POWERS,	G. DECKER,
L. B. HUDSON,	HIRAM BARBER, JR.,	HARVEY N. HUBBARD,
LEVI BOOTH,	W. IRWIN,	CHARLES T. WAKELEY,
S. FOOTE,	R. V. SWAIN,	JOHN REYNOLDS.
R. E. DAVIS,	W. H. RICE,

No exercises occurred on that day, except those involved in the packing of my trunk and in the general rebellion. Meantime, the faculty members were endeavoring to persuade the students to resume their allegiance, but without avail. The bell for chapel exercises rang as usual the next morning, but not a student attended. Thereupon, a special meeting was arranged for between the faculty and students, at which the chancellor pleasantly announced that I had been restored to my former honorable standing in the university and that the rule implied by my expulsion had been abrogated. The boys were happy, but I was not. I still believed that poverty, and not contumacy, was the cause of my expulsion, and regarded it as an unpardonable insult. I shouldered my trunk and marched down town. It may seem strange that, in my tender years, I had the courage to defy the learned faculty, as stated. My heredity was alone to blame. It should be remembered that my ancient namesake Daniel defied the lions, even in their den, and never feared.

The university still lives. So do I. This little experience in my early career made a deep impression upon me and I have always regarded it as of greater value than a dozen sheepskins. "Tackin' Latin names to 'em and lettin' on 'em loose" is not the only credential for success.

This bit of ancient history made quite a disturbance at the time in the newspapers, the correspondents and others, as is their custom, sometimes drawing upon their imagination for their facts. Accordingly, later on, I asked the chancellor for a certificate of the facts, which he gave me, a copy of which reads as follows:

"UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN,

"MADISON, September 18, 1854.

"Mr. D. K. Oenney, a member of the sophomore class in this institution, in good standing as a scholar, is hereby regularly dismissed from membership at his own request.

"I send the above on your asking, with regrets that you feel obliged to deny yourself a full course.

"(Signed) JOHN H. LATHROP,

"Chancellor."

Both of the documents above referred to I have preserved as evidences of both my university death and resurrection.

D. K. TENNEY.

TWO ALUMNI ELECTED SUPREME JUDGES.

James C. Kerwin, '75, of Neenah, a member of the board of university regents, was elected a member of the supreme court of Wisconsin at the recent spring election, his opponent being Louis K. Luse, '76, of Superior.

Mr. Kerwin was born in the town of Menasha, Winnebago county, Wisconsin, May 4, 1850. He was reared on a farm and attended the common school of the neighborhood. Later he graduated from the Menasha high school and in the year 1875 from the law school of the University of Wisconsin. Immediately upon leaving the law school he opened an office in Neenah, where he has since made his home and where he has built up a large and lucrative practice, having for years been identified with the most important litigation of the Fox River Valley. For twelve years he was city attorney of Neenah. He was appointed regent of the state university by Governor La Follette and is still a member of that body. He is an honest, independent, fearless man, a lawyer of recognized ability, in the prime of life and vigor, and one whose election to the supreme court will be an honor to the state.

CLARK A. SMITH, '71,
Elected to Supreme Bench in Kansas.

Another Wisconsin graduate has been elevated to the supreme bench in the person of Clark A. Smith, '71, of Cawker City, Kansas, who was elected to the supreme court of Kansas. Judge Smith is one of the pioneers of Central Kansas, having gone to Cawker City in 1871. In the spring of that year he was graduated from the law department of the University of Wisconsin, having previously completed the classical course in the same institution. He was the son of a Wisconsin farmer and he worked his way through college, sometimes being engaged in school teaching and sometimes in farming. During the first years of his residence in Kansas he underwent the usual hardships which are the portion of professional men in every new country. His law library consisted of a copy of the Kansas statutes and "Nash on Pleadings," and his early day practice was about as circumscribed as his collection of legal authorities. However, he prospered with the country, was elected city and county attorney, and in time judge of his district, a position which he filled with satisfaction to the people and honor to himself. He is now 57 years old, in the enjoyment of rugged health and a muscular physique, besides being abundantly equipped with the mental and moral attributes demanded in a supreme court judge. In passing it may be interesting to note that Judge Smith is a descendant of Ethan Allen, of Revolutionary fame, and that his middle name, Allen, was given in memory of this distinguished ancestor.

The Kansas City Journal, of recent date, says of Judge Smith:

"Like all pioneers in a new country, Judge Smith delights to tell of the humorous, if homely, incidents which are always such a large part of the beginning of things. He chuckles mightily, for example, when he tells how he found his wife. In 1871 Miss Sarah Bower came out from Pennsylvania to visit a girl friend who was living near Cawker. The two girls happened to be visiting in the family of Lew Best at a time when a party was to be given, a dance in the town hall. Lew was in town in the morning from his farm, a mile or so away, and when he met Smith, the young lawyer, he asked him if he was going to the ball.

“‘Don’t think I will,’ said Smith. ‘The fact is, I know only one woman in this town. She is my landlady, and I don’t think she would go with me even if I should ask her.’”

“‘I can fix that all right,’ said Lew. ‘There are two mighty fine girls out at my place, and only one of them has a beau. You come out to-night and you can have the other one.’”

“Smith didn’t know about the proposition. He doubted if it was exactly according to the social laws as made and provided to storm a girl in that fashion. But Lew declared that he would fix it all right, and the young lawyer finally consented.

“There had been a flurry of snow the day before, and the sleighing was fairly good. It occurred to Smith that it would be the correct thing to take his girl to the party on runners. But there wasn’t a sleigh to be had, and he had to build one. He got an old crockery crate from the rear of Parker’s store, and on the bottom of this he nailed some board runners. Then with a pole from a buggy and a team of ponies he was equipped with a vehicle which entirely satisfied him as an appropriate one in which to take that eastern girl to her first western party. It is hinted that when she saw the young lawyer drive up with his nondescript rig it took the combined argument and commands of the whole Best family to induce her to climb up on chairs and get into the crate for a ride to the ball. But, however that may be, the outcome of the crockery crate sleigh ride was that on a certain cold day in February, 1873, Smith came back from Pennsylvania with his bride in the person of Miss Sally Bower.

“They have two children, sons. M. A. Smith, A. B., received his degree from the University of Kansas and Omer D. Smith is a student at Washburne College, Topeka.”

EDITORIAL.

Readers of the Alumni Magazine will please take notice that if the above square contains a cross it is a reminder that the subscription is due and that payment is requested.

* * *

It is not too early for class secretaries and local alumni to arrange for class reunions during the jubilee. In fact it is well to make the plans at once that the university authorities, hotel, livery, steamboat men, etc., may be prepared to meet the demands of the occasion.

* * *

New subscribers can get all back numbers of the magazine. Send in your dollar and get the full official account of the jubilee.

* * *

An unusually large number of deaths among alumni is recorded in this issue of the magazine.

May their memories be duly honored.

* * *

Election returns show a considerable number of Wisconsin men were honored with judicial and other high positions this spring. Full returns would doubtless show more.

* * *

It is important to the business management that payment of subscription dues be made at once. The money is needed and accounts must soon be cleared up.

* * *

Another victory in debate has come to Wisconsin and this time wrested from our stout rival, Michigan. The achievement of the representatives of the cardinal is one to rejoice the proud heart of every loyal Wisconsin man and woman. Remember their names, Michael B. Olbrich, William J. Hagenah and Eben R. Minahan.

* * *

In renewing your subscription send an item of news about yourself.

ALUMNI IN THE FACULTY.

The rapid growth of the university in recent years has made increased demand for a larger instructional force and Wisconsin has adopted the policy of drawing largely from the ranks of its own alumni until now it can be said it is largely a Wisconsin faculty. The data given below have been compiled with much care and labor from university directories and catalogues and include all classes except that of 1903. Many names are naturally repeated, many professors having first served as instructors and assistants. Many whose names are given will also be found to have served but a short time. The first class represented on the faculty was that of '58 in the person of William F. Vilas. The next was the class of '60, by Prof. J. B. Parkinson, who is still in the harness, having the unusual record of some forty years in the service of the institution.

In professors and assistant professors the class of '58 has had one, '60 one, '69 one, '70 one, '71 one, '73 one, '74 one, '75 one, '76 one, '77 one, '78 one, '80 one, '82 three, '83 one, '84 two, '86 two, '88 one, '89 two, '90 six, '91 two, '92 three, '93 two, '94 one, '95 one, '96 two, '98 one, '00 one.

In the matter of tutors, instructors and assistants the class of '57 had one, '60 one, '67 one,

'69 four, '70 four, '72 one, '73 two, '74 three, '75 three, '75 one, '76 two, '77 one, '78 two, '79 three, '80 two, '82 four, '83 two, '84 seven, '85 one, '86 five, '87 four, '89 two, '90 five, '91 three, '92 seven, '93 five, '94 ten, '95 five, '96 four, '97 six, '98 five, '99 five, '00 twelve, '01 five, '02 twelve.

Following are the names and positions held, those whose names are starred being still members of the faculty:

PROFESSORS.

*John Barber Parkinson, A. B. '60, A. M. '63. Professor of Mathematics, '67-'72; Civil Polity and International Law, '72-'74; Civil Polity and Political Economy, '76-'92; Constitutional and International Law, '92—.

William Freeman Vilas, A. B. '58, A. M. '61, LL. B. '60 (Albany Law School). Professor of Law and Instructor in Evidence and Pleadings, '68-'85; Professor of Law, '89-'92.

*David Bower Frankenburger, Ph. B. '69, LL. B. '71, A. M. '82. Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, '78—.

Allan Darst Conover, Ph. B. '74, C. E. '75. Professor of Civil and Mechanical Engineering, '79-'85; Civil Engineering, '85-'90.

Clarke Gapen, M. D. '75 (Chicago Med. Coll.), LL. B. '87. Professor of Medical Jurisprudence, '79-'88.

- *William Holme Williams, A. B. '76. Assistant Professor of Greek, '83-'89; Professor of Hebrew and Sanskrit, '89-'92; Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek, '92—.
- *Charles Richard Van Hise, B. M. E. '79, B. S. '80, M. S. '82, Ph. D. '92. Assistant Professor of Metallurgy, '83-'86; Professor of Metallurgy, '86-'88; Mineralogy and Petrography, '88-'90; Archaean and Applied Geology, '90-'92; Geology, '92—.
- Arthur Loomis Sanborn, LL. B. '80. Professor of Law, '85-'88.
- *Burr W. Jones, A. B. '70, LL. B. '71, A. M. '74. Professor of Law, '85-'92; Domestic Relations, Corporations and Evidence, '92—.
- *Robert McKee Bashford, A. B. '70, LL. B. '71, A. M. '74. Professor of Law, '85-'86; Private Corporations and Commercial Law, '94—.
- *John Myers Olin, A. B. '73 (Williams), M. A. '76 (Williams), LL. B. '79. Professor of Law, '86-'87; Real Property, Torts and Wills, '94—.
- *George Cary Comstock, Ph. B. '77 (Michigan), LL. B. '83. Professor of Astronomy and Associate Director of Washburn Observatory, '87-'89; Professor of Astronomy and Director of Washburn Observatory, '89—.
- *Julius Emil Olson, B. L. '84. Assistant Professor of the Scandinavian Languages and Literature, '87-'93; Professor of Scandinavian Languages and Literature, '93—.
- George B. Brinkerhoff Ransom, B. C. E. '91. Professor of Steam Engineering, '88-'91.
- Almah J. Frisby, B. S. '78, M. D. '83 (Boston Univ. Med. School). Preceptress and Professor of Hygiene and Sanitation, '89-'95.
- *Homer Winthrop Hillyer, B. S. '82, Ph. D. '85 (Johns Hopkins). Assistant Professor of Organic Chemistry, '89—.
- Leander Miller Hoskins, B. C. E. and B. S. '83, M. S. '85, C. E. '87. Assistant Professor of Preceptress and Professor of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics, '91-'93.
- *Frederick Jackson Turner, A. B. '84, A. M. '88, Ph. D. '90 (Johns Hopkins). Assistant Professor of American History, '89-'91; Professor of History, '91-'92; Professor of American History, '92—; Director of School of History, '00—.
- Hugh Jocelyn McGrath, West Point '80, LL. B. '93. Professor of Military Science and Tactics, '91-'94.
- *Edward Kremers, Ph. G. '86, B. S. '88, Ph. D. '90 (Goettingen). Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Director of the School of Pharmacy, '92—.
- John Monroe Parkinson, A. B. '86, B. L. and LL. B. '88; A. M. '91. Assistant Professor of Civil Polity, '92-'93.
- *Edward Rose Maurer, B. C. E. '90. Assistant Professor of Pure and Applied Mechanics, '93-'01; Professor of Mechanics, '01—.
- *Arthur William Richter, B. M. E. '89, M. E. '91, M. M. E. '99 (Cornell), Assistant Professor of Steam Engineering, '93-'95; Assistant Professor of Experimental Engineering, '95-'02; Assistant Professor of Experimental Engineering, '02-'03; Professor of Experimental Engineering, '03—.

*Harry Luman Russell, B. S. '88, M. S. '90, Ph. D. '92 (Johns Hopkins). Assistant Professor of Bacteriology, '93-'97; Professor of Bacteriology, '97—.

Charles Noble Gregory, A. B. '71, A. M. '74, LL. B. '72, LL. D. '01 (Wisconsin). Professor of Law and Associate Dean of the College of Law, '94-'01.

*Leonard Sewell Smith, B. C. E. '90, C. E. '95. Assistant Professor of Topographic and Geodetic Engineering, '95—.

Rodney Howard True, B. S. '90, M. S. '92, Ph. D. '95 (Leipzig). Assistant Professor of Pharmacognosy, '95-'99.

Lellen Sterling Cheney, B. S. '91, M. S. '96. Assistant Professor of Pharmaceutical Botany, '96-'02.

Andrew Alexander Bruce, A. B. '90, LL. B. '92. Assistant Professor of Law, '98-'02.

*Louis Kahlenberg, B. S. '92, M. S. '93, Ph. D. '95 (Leipzig). Assistant Professor of Physical Chemistry, '98-'00; Professor of Physical Chemistry, '00—.

*Balthasar Henry Meyer, B. L. '94, Ph. D. '97. Assistant Professor of Sociology and Secretary of Accredited Schools, '99-'01; Professor of Institutes of Commerce, '01—.

*James Francis Augustine Pyre, B. L. '92, Ph. D. '97. Assistant Professor of English Literature, '99—.

*Paul Samuel Reinsch, A. B. '92, LL. B. '94, Ph. D. '98. Assistant Professor of Political Science, '99-'01; Professor of Political Science, '01—.

*Charles Frederick Burgess, B.

E. E. '95, E. E. '98. Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering, '00—.

*William Bolles Cairns, A. B. '90, A. M. '92, Ph. D. '97. Assistant Professor of English, '00-'03; Assistant Professor of American Literature, '03—.

Lucy Marie Gay, B. L. '82. Assistant Professor of French, '00—.

*Howard Leslie Smith, A. B. '89, LL. B. '85. Professor of Law, '00—.

*Walter McMynn Smith, A. B. '90. Librarian, '00—.

*Susan Adelaide Sterling, B. L. '79, M. L. '96. Assistant Professor of German, '00—.

*Eugene Allen Gilmore, M. D. '93 (Marion Syms. Med. Coll.), LL. B. '00. Assistant Professor of Law, '02-'03; Professor of Law, '03—.

*Charles Kenneth Leith, B. S. '97, Ph. D. '01. Assistant Professor of Geology, '02-'03; Professor of Economic and Structural Geology, '03—.

*Grant Showerman, A. B. '96, A. M. '97, Ph. D. '00. Assistant Professor of Latin, '02—.

*Edmund Ray Stevens, B. L. '93, LL. B. '95. Lecturer in Criminal Law, '02—.

*Oliver Brunner Zimmerman, B. S. (M. E.) '96, M. E. '00. Assistant Professor of Machine Design, '02—.

*Jessie Martha Meyer, B. S. '79. Mistress of Chadbourne Hall, '03—.

*John Mesley Shuster, B. S. (E. E.) '99. Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering, '03—.

Lucy Marie Gay, B. L. '82. Assistant Professor in French, '01—.

TUTORS, INSTRUCTORS AND ASSISTANTS.

John Francis Smith, A. B. '57, A. M. '60. Tutor, '57-'59.

John Barber Parkinson, A. B. '60, A. M. '63. Tutor, '61-'63.

Isaac Stephen Leavitt, Ph. B. '68, A. B. '69, A. M. '72, D. D. '90 (Lawrence). Instructor in English, '68-'69.

Albert H. Southworth, Ph. B. '67, LL. B. '70. Instructor, '69-'70.

David Bower Frankenburger, Ph. B. '69, LL. B. '71, A. M. '82. Instructor, '69-'71.

Clara D. Bewick, Ph. B. '69. Instructor in Latin and History, '69-'70.

Alfred Carroll Parkinson, A. B. '70, LL. B. '71, A. M. '74. Instructor, '70-'71.

Robert McKee Bashford, A. B. '70, LL. B. '71, A. M. '74. Instructor, '70-'71.

Stephen Leahy, Ph. B. '70. Instructor, '70-'72.

James Whitford Bashford, A. B. '73, A. M. '76, B. D. '76 (Boston), Ph. D. '89 (Boston), D. D. '90 (Northwestern). Instructor in Greek and Latin, '73-'74.

Robert Henry Brown, Ph. B. '72, M. S. '75, M. D. '78 (Chicago Med. Coll.). Instructor in English, '73-'74; Instructor in Natural History, '74-'75.

Ellen Lasea Chynoweth, A. B. '70, A. M. '82. Instructor in German, '74, '79-'84.

Jerome Henry Salisbury, A. B. '74, M. D. '78 (Rush Med.), A. M. '88 (Lake Forest). Instructor in Greek and Latin, '74-'76.

John Myers Olin, A. B. '73 (Williams), M. A. '79 (Williams),

LL. B. '79. Instructor in Rhetoric and Oratory, '74-'78.

Joseph Clinton Fuller, A. B. '74. Instructor in English, '74-'75.

Allan Darst Conover, Ph. B. '74, C. E. '75. Assistant in Civil Engineering, '75-'79.

Frederick Sargent Huntington, B. S. '75, M. L. '82, S. T. D. '83 (Boston). Instructor in English, '75-'76.

Samuel Whitney Trousdale, A. B. '77, A. M. '82, B. D. '82 (Boston), Ph. D. '92 (Ohio Wesleyan), D. D. (Lawrence). Instructor in English and Elocution, '77-'78.

Henry J. Taylor, A. B. '78, LL. B. '80, A. M. '84. Instructor in Latin and Mathematics, '78-'79.

Alice Jessie Craig, B. L. '80. Instructor in Elocution, '78-'83.

Elizabeth S. Spencer, Ph. B. '59. Instructor in Mathematics, '78-'80.

William Holme Williams, A. B. '76. Instructor in Greek, '79-'83.

Alice Frances Frisby, B. S. '78. Instructor in Mathematics, '79-'80.

Charles Richard Van Hise, B. M. E. '79, B. S. '80, M. S. '82, Ph. D. '92. Instructor in Metallurgy and Chemistry, '79-'83.

George Cary Comstock, Ph. B. '77 (Michigan), LL. B. '83. Assistant in Astronomical Observatory, '78-'83.

Gerhard Hubert Balg, A. B. '81, Ph. D. '83 (Heidelberg). Instructor in German, '79-'87.

Flora E. Dodge, A. B. '79, B. L. Instructor in French, '80-'84.

Magnus Swenson, B. Met. E. '80, M. S. '83, M. E. '99. Instructor University Farm, '80-'83.

Helen Dougal Street, A. B. '76, A. M. '79. Instructor in Latin, '83-'84.

Emmet Addis Drake, A. B. '82, A. M. '87. Instructor in Rhetoric and Oratory, '84-'85.

Olin Bailey Lewis, A. B. '84, LL. B. '89. Instructor in Chemistry, '84-'85.

Julius Emil Olson, B. L. '84. Instructor in Scandinavian Languages, '84-'87.

Milton Updegraff, B. S. '84, B. C. E., M. S. '86. Assistant Astronomer, '84-'87.

Lucy Marie Gay, B. L. '82. Instructor in French, '84-'00.

Grace Clark, B. L. '85. Instructor in French, '85-'91.

Homer Winthrop Hillyer, B. S. '82, Ph. D. '85 (Johns Hopkins). Assistant in Chemistry, '85-'89.

Harry Huntington Powers, A. B. and B. L. '82, A. M. '88, Ph. D. '96. Instructor in German, '85-'87.

Leander Miller Hoskins, B. C. E. and B. S. '83, M. S. '85, C. E. '87. Instructor in Civil Engineering, '85-'89.

Frederick Jackson Turner, A. B. '84, A. M. '88, Ph. D. '90 (Johns Hopkins). Instructor in Rhetoric and Oratory, '85-'88.

Alice Maxwell Lamb, B. L. '84, M. L. '85. Assistant Astronomer, '85-'87.

George Williams Brown, B. C. E. '86, C. E. '90. Meteorological Observer, '85-'86.

Susan Adelaide Sterling, B. L. '79, M. L. '96. Instructor in German, '87-'00.

Wilbur Stuart Tupper, A. B. '86, B. L. LL. B. '89, A. M. '90. Instructor in Latin, Rhetoric and Oratory, '87-'88.

David Ellsworth Spencer, B. I. '87, A. M. '91 (Harvard). Instructor in Rhetoric, '88-'89; History, '89-'90.

David Ellsworth Spencer, B. L. L. '84, M. A. '96. Instructor in Latin, '88-'91.

Oscar Henry Eecke, B. L. '87, LL. B. '94. Instructor in Elocution, '88-'90.

Edward Kremers, Ph. G. '86, B. S. '88, Ph. D. '90 (Goettingen). Instructor in Pharmacy, '90-'92.

John Monroe Parkinson, A. P. '86, B. L., LL. B. '88, A. M. '91. Instructor in Elementary Law, '90-'92.

John Wright Decker, B. Agr. '90. Instructor in Dairying, '91-'99.

Sarah Belle Flesh, B. L. '89, M. L. '91. Instructor in Elocution, '91-'92.

Arthur William Richter, B. Mech. E. '89, M. E. '91, M. M. E. '99 (Cornell). Instructor in Engineering, '91-'93.

Sidney Dean Townley, B. S. '90, M. S. '92, Sc. D. '97 (Michigan). Assistant Washburn Observatory, '91-'92.

William Bolles Cairns, A. B. '90, A. M. '92, Ph. D. '97. Instructor in Rhetoric, '92-'98; English, '98-'00.

Lellen Sterling Cheney, B. S. '91, M. S. '96. Instructor in Pharmacognostical Botany, '92-'93; General and Pharmaceutical Botany, '93-'96.

Edward Rose Maurer, B. C. E. '90. Instructor in Engineering, '92-'93.

Leopold Charles Urban, Ph. G. '92, Ph. M. '94. Assistant in Pharmaceutical Chemistry, '92-'94.

- Elsbeth Veerhusen, A. B. '91. Instructor in German, '92-'93; Assistant in German, '02—.
- Louis Kahlenberg, B. S. '92, M. S. '93, Ph. D. '95 (Leipzig). Instructor in Chemistry, '93-'94; Instructor in Pharmaceutical Technique and Physical Chemistry, '95-'96; Instructor in Physical Chemistry, '96-'98.
- James Francis Augustine Pyre, B. L. '92, Ph. D. '97. Instructor in English Literature, '93-'99.
- Leonard Sewell Smith, B. C. E. '90, C. E. '95. Instructor in Engineering, '93-'95.
- James Rowley Young, B. Mech. E. '93. Instructor in Engineering, '93-'95.
- John Lockwood Mead, A. M. '91 (Lawrence), Ph. G. '92, M. S. '93. Instructor in Pharmaceutical Chemistry, '94-'95.
- William Oscar Richtmann, Ph. G. '94, B. S. '97. Assistant in Pharmaceutical Chemistry, '94-'95; Instructor in Pharmacognosy, '98-'02.
- Herman Schlundt, B. S. '94, M. S. '96, Ph. D. '01. Assistant in Chemistry, '94-'96; Instructor in General and Physical Chemistry, '01-'02.
- Alfred Vivian, Ph. G. '94. Assistant in Pharmacognosy, '94-'95; Assistant Chemist of Experiment Station, '97-'02.
- Katherine Allen, B. L. '87, A. M. '95, Ph. D. '98. Assistant in Latin, '95-'00; Instructor in Latin, '00-'02, '03—.
- Charles Frederick Burgess, B. S. (E. E.) '95, E. E. '98. Instructor in Electrical Engineering, '95-'00.
- Edward Perkins Carlton, B. S. '94, M. D. '99 (Northwestern). Assistant in Histology, '95-'96.
- Abbie Fiske Eaton, B. L. '94, M. L. '95. Instructor in German, '95-'96, '99-'03.
- Jessie M. Griffith, B. L. '93, M. L. '95. Instructor in German, '95-'97.
- Frank Isham Hartwell, B. S. (M. E.) '95. Instructor in Machine Practice, '95-'97.
- *Frederick Thomas Kelly, B. S. '91, Ph. D. '01 (Chicago). Assistant in Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek, '95-'96; Instructor in Hebrew and Hellenistic Greek, '96—.
- Orin Grant Libby, B. L. '92, M. L. '93, Ph. D. '95. Instructor in History, '95-'02.
- Lynn Spencer Pease, A. B. '86, LL. B. '91. Instructor in Law, '95-'96.
- Paul Samuel Reinsch, A. B. '92, LL. B. '94, Ph. D. '98. Instructor and Extension Lecturer of History, '95-'99.
- Oscar Rohn, B. S. '95. Instructor in Gymnastics, '95-'97.
- Arthur Romeyn Seymour, B. L. '94. Assistant in French, '95-'99.
- Budd D. Frankenfeld, B. S. (E. E.) '95, E. E. '96. Assistant in Electrical Engineering, '96-'97; Instructor in Electrical Engineering, '99-'02.
- Azariah Thomas Lincoln, B. S. '94, Ph. D. '99. Assistant in Chemistry, '96-'98.
- Oswald Schreiner, Ph. G. '94 (Maryland Coll. of Pharmacy), B. S. (Pharmacy) '97, M. S. '99, Ph. D. '02. Assistant in Pharmaceutical Technique, '96-'00; Instructor in Pharmaceutical Technique, '00-

'02; Instructor in Pharmaceutical Technique and Physical Chemistry, '02-'03.

George Walker Wilder, B. S. '96, Ph. D. '01 (Zurich). Assistant in Physics, '96-'97; Instructor in Physics, '00-'03.

*Frederick William Meisnest, B. S. '93. Instructor in German, '97-'01, '02—.

Balthasar Henry Meyer, B. L. '94, Ph. D. '97. Instructor in Sociology and Secretary of University Extension, '97-'99.

Roy Edward Fowler, B. S. '98. Assistant in Chemistry, '98-'01.

Russell William Hargrave, B. S. (M. E.) '98. Instructor in Mechanical Practice, '98-'01.

*Sabena Mildred Herfurth, B. L. '93, M. L. '97. Assistant in German, '98—.

Rosalia Amelia Hatherell, B. S. '93. Assistant in Biology, '99-'01.

May Hunt, B. L. '97, M. L. '98. Instructor in English, '99-'03.

Walton Hawkins Pyre, B. L. '99. Instructor in Elocution and Oratory, '99-'01.

Edson Ray Wolcott, B. S. '00. Assistant in Physics, '00-'01.

*Willard Grosvenor Bleyer, B. L. '96, M. L. '98. Instructor in English, '00—.

*Rollin Henry Denniston, Ph. G. '97, B. S. '99. Assistant in Pharmacognosy, '00-'03; Curator of Drug Museum, '00—; Instructor in Pharmaceutical Botany, '03—.

William Henry Dudley, A. B. '92. Assistant Librarian, '00—.

Clarence Winans Eastman, B. S. '00. Assistant in Physics, '00-'01.

Roy Dykes Hall, B. S. '00, M. S. '02. Assistant in Chemistry, '00-'02.

Edward Lee Hancock, B. S. '98, M. S. '01. Assistant in Mathematics, '00-'02.

Arthur Alexander Koch, B. S. '00, M. S. '02, Ph. D. '04 (Zurich). Assistant in Qualitative Analysis, '00-'02.

*Otto Patzer, B. L. '98, M. L. '99. Assistant in French, '00-'01; Instructor in French, '01—.

Edward Emmet Sands, B. S. (C. E.) '00. Instructor in Civil Engineering, '00-'02.

Grant Showerman, A. B. '96, A. M. '97, Ph. D. '00. Instructor in Latin, '00-'02.

Winifred Titus, B. S. '00. Assistant in Chemistry, '00-'02.

*Henry Charles Wolff, B. S. '97, M. S. '98. Assistant in Mathematics, '00-'02; Instructor in Mathematics, '02—.

Albert Henry Woltersdorf, Ph. G. '00. Assistant in Chemistry, '00-'01.

Oliver Brunner Zimmerman, B. S. (M. E.) '96, M. E. '00. Instructor in Elementary Machine Design and Descriptive Geometry, '00-'02.

*Charles Elmer Allen, B. S. '99. Instructor in Botany, '01—.

*Florence E. Allen, B. L. '00, M. L. '01. Assistant in Mathematics, '01-'02; Instructor in Mathematics, '02—.

Robert Benton Holt, A. B. '01. Assistant in French, '01-'02.

John Frederick Nicholson, B. S. '00. Assistant Bacteriologist, '01-'02.

- *Warren Milton Persons, B. S. '99. Assistant in Mathematics, '01-'02; Instructor in Mathematics, '02—.
- Martin Fuller Angell, B. S. '02. Assistant in Physics, '02-'03.
- *Edward Albert Cook, B. L. '00. Instructor in English, '02—.
- William Gray Kirchoffer, B. S. (C. E.) '97, C. E. '01. Instructor in Civil Engineering, '02-'03.
- Alfred Emil Kundert, Ph. G. '01. Assistant in Pharmaceutical Chemistry, '02-'03.
- *George Alfred Olson, B. S. '02. Assistant in Agricultural Chemistry, '02-'03; Instructor in Agricultural Chemistry, '03—.
- *Annie Maria Pitman, A. B. '97. Assistant in Latin, '02—.
- *Arthur Romeyn Seymour, B. L. '94, M. L. Assistant in French, '02-'03; Instructor in French, '03—.
- *Halsten Joseph Berford Thor- kelson, B. S. (M. E.) '98, M. E. '01. Instructor in Steam Engi- neering, '02—.
- William Hartt Kelly, Ph. B. '02. Assistant in Physics, '02-03.
- *Sydney Hobart Ball, A. B. '01, Assistant in Geology, '03—.
- *Edwin Sherwin Bishop, B. L. '02. Assistant in Physics, '03—.
- Irvin Walter Brandel, Ph. G. '99, B. S. '01. Instructor in Phar- maceutical Technique, '03—.
- *Albert Rudolph Denu, B. S. '99. LL. B. '03 (Georgetown). In- structor in Rhetoric and Oratory, '03—.
- *Alvin Haase, B. S. (C. E.) '02. Assistant in Experimental Engi- neering, '03—.
- *Frederick William Huels, B. S. (E. E.) '02. Assistant in Experi- mental Engineering, '03—.
- *Edith Kathryn Lyle, B. L. '95, M. L. '96. Assistant in History, '03—.
- *Ralph Benjamin Macnish, B. L. '00. Instructor in French, '03—.
- *William George Marquette, B. S. '02. Assistant in Botany, '03—.
- *Francis Michael McCullough, B. S. (C. E.) '02. Instructor in Civil Engineering, '03—.
- *Lewis Eugene Moore, B. S. (M. E.) '00. Instructor in Draw- ing and Mechanics, '03—.
- *Adolph Pfund, A. B. '02. As- sistant in German, '03—.
- *Frank Rabak, Ph. G. '02. Lab- oratory Assistant in Pharmacog- nosy, '03—.
- *William Bonner Richards, B. S. '02. Assistant in Animal Hus- bandry, '03—.
- *James Webster Watson, B. S. (E. E. '01). Instructor in Electri- cal Engineering, '03—.
- *Lester Dennison Williams, B. S. (C. E.) '01. Instructor in Civil Engineering, '03—.
- *Joseph Gerard Holty, B. S. '02. Assistant in Chemistry, '03—.

WISCONSIN DEFEATS MICHIGAN.

A notable victory for Wisconsin was won in the debate with the University of Michigan March 25 at Ann Arbor. The question debated was the advisability of abolishing the personal property tax, Wisconsin arguing for the affirmative. The Wisconsin team consisted of Michael B. Olbrich, '02, law '04; J. W. Hagenah, '03, law '05; and Eben R. Minahan, '03, law '05. The judges were Hon. Merritt Starr, Hon. George E. Cole and Judge Mack, all of Chicago. It was the first forensic victory over Michigan in a number of years and establishes the debating prestige of Wisconsin. A rousing reception was given the members of the team on their return.

WISCONSIN'S ORATORICAL REPRESENTATIVE.

Henry C. Duke, '06, ex-'00, of Madison, a member of the Hesperian Literary society, was awarded first place in the final oratorical contest at the university held March 28 in Library hall and accordingly will be Wisconsin's representative at the Northern Oratorical League contest to be held at Ann Arbor early in May, and at which representatives from seven universities will compete. This is perhaps the first time in the history of the university that a sophomore has won this honor. Mr. Duke previously won the sophomore open contest. His subject was "The Guardian of the Yellow Peril" and in a strong and logical manner he pointed out the importance to the world of Japanese success in the present war in the orient that the integrity of China may be preserved.

Japan with her higher type of civilization and her racial relationship to the Chinese would prove to be the safer guardian of China's future. Russia stands for medievalism. Her rule is despotic and her people are now crushed to grovelling servility. She could not impress upon Chinese life any other stamp of civilization than that which she herself possesses. In the present war between the occident and the orient the American sympathy should be cast for the little isle of the eastern seas. By education and noble inspiration Japan could awaken the same impulses in

YOUNGER WISCONSIN MEN HONORED.

JOSIAS E. FLORIN, '96,
Municipal Judge of Dunn County.

JAY W. PAGE, '98,
Elected Mayor of Elkhorn, Wis.

HENRY C. DUKE, '06,
Wisconsin's Representative in Oratorical
Contest to be Held at Ann Arbor.

China that wrought such marvelous results in the last fifty years for the Japanese.

Harold L. Geisse, '05, also of Hesperia, was awarded second honors and Emil Olbrich, '05, of Athena, third place. The program was:

Democracy and Public Servants—Emil Olbrich, Athenae.

Tito Melena—Harold L. Geisse, Hesperia.

The Race Problem—Clifford Pease, '04, Hesperia.

Destiny's Genius—William P. Bush, '04, Philomathia.

The Emancipator of Slaves—Michael G. Eberlein, law '04.

The Master Spirit of Democracy—Arthur H. Bartelt, '05, Athenae.

The Guardian of the Yellow

Peril—Henry C. Duke, '06, Hesperia.

Mr. Duke, the winner, was born in Milwaukee, where he received his early education in the ward schools. He attended the East Side high school two years but came with his parents to Madison, where he completed his course in 1896. The following fall he entered the university and in 1898 severed his connections with the university to accept a position as collector for the Wisconsin State Journal. Later he resigned this position to accept one in the Madison postoffice. He resigned the latter position last June in order that he might resume his university work in the fall. Mr. Duke intends to complete the hill course and then enter the law school.

PROGRESS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED.

F. C. Thwaits of Milwaukee has established an annual $250 undergraduate scholarship. The scholarship is to be granted for one year only to a student of ability graduating from one of the Milwaukee high schools. Mr. Thwaits, who attended the university from 1889 to 1891, writes: "I designate the University of Wisconsin as the recipient of the scholarship in grateful recollection of two years spent there as a student and as an evidence of the pride in which, as a citizen of Wisconsin, I hold that institution."

NEW COURSE ADDED.

The last legislature appropriated $15,000 for the erection of a new building for use in a course of farm engineering. Prof. G. N. Knapp will have charge of the course, which will be given next year.

NEEDS OF LAW SCHOOL.

Following is an extract from the report of the committee appointed by the university board of visitors to inspect the college of law:

"Let such instructors be selected from the ranks of the successful practitioners at the bar in the state of Wisconsin—from those who have in the actual school of experience learned how to practice law in all the courts of this state, and then require them to devote their entire time to the work in the college. Of course, this will require money and considerable of it, as a successful lawyer (and none other should be employed) would not feel like giving up his practice without he was to receive an adequate salary. This brings us face to face with the real needs of the college of law, and that is, briefly spoken, 'more money.'"

Comparing the liberal treatment given by the university to its other colleges, the committee considers the treatment of the law school unjust, and asks:

"Why then should the state require that of all the colleges composing its university, the law school alone should be self-supporting? Why not extend to it the same generous and liberal treatment extended to other departments of the university.

"The greatest need, in fact, the one great need, of our law school today is an additional appropriation of at least $10,000 per annum. If this is given it, the college of law would be made to come up to the design and purposes of such an institution, make an honorable name for itself among the best institutions of the kind in the United States, and will give an added luster to the proud name of the University of Wisconsin. But if the present policy is to continue, and no more is to be expended upon the college of law than is derived from tuition fees taken by it, the law school must, perforce, largely fail of its purpose and be a continual source of disappointment and humiliation to the bar of the state, and to the university itself. It is useless to talk about improving the school so long as the present financial policy is pursued. All is being done at present that can be done with the limited means that is now devoted to its support."

PRESENT CHANGES.

At convocation on March 4 President Van Hise announced the following: First, the schools of history, of commerce, of pharmacy and of education have been consolidated with the college of letters and science. All the work of a similar nature is thus brought together. Second, the freedom of election has been enlarged so that twenty semester hours may be elected by any candidate for the A. B. degree in courses in the college of letters and science, in the college of engineering, agriculture or law, or in some combination of these. Third, a graduate school has been established with six graduate scholarships of annual value of $225 each.

CONVOCATION TALKS.

Professor D. C. Munro gave the address on March 11 on "Student Life in Europe Seven Hundred Years Ago." On March 18 Professor W. E. B. DuBois, of Atlanta university, spoke on negro conditions in the South. The subject was handled in a fairminded way and presented in a most pleasing manner. Prof. DuBois obtained his education at Harvard and Berlin.

Prof. A. R. Hohlfeld addressed the students on March 25 on the influence of German universities on the universities of the United States. Prof. Hohlfeld was the principal speaker at a meeting held recently at Chicago in honor of German scholars.

Convocations will be discontinued for the remainder of the year, except on occasions when the students may be called together for special announcements.

OTHER ADDRESSES.

G. W. Kittredge, chief engineer of the "Big Four" railroad, addressed the engineers on "The Life and Work of a Civil Engineer on American Railways," and President A. G. Humphreys of the Stevens Institute of Technology emphasized the importance of a business training to an engineer.

Prof. L. H. Fuller, of Northwestern University law school, is delivering a series of twelve addresses on the practice of law in Illinois.

U. W.'S EXHIBIT.

Prof. J. G. D. Mack and his committee have prepared a fine exhibit of the university to be placed in the Wisconsin section at the St. Louis world's fair. A complete model of the university grounds and buildings, and a model of the engineering machine testing laboratory have been constructed and will be on exhibition. Several charts have been prepared showing in a most interesting manner the growth of the university.

JUBILEE NOTES.

It has been decided to hold the pre-jubilee banquet on April 23 and any alumnus who can come is cordially invited to do so. Those who will speak are ex-Governor G. W. Peck, President C. R. Van Hise, Dean F. E. Turneure, Professors G. C. Comstock and Burr W. Jones, E. R. Minahan, law '05, Chauncey Blake, law '04, and R. M. Davis, law '04.

The Milwaukee alumni have held a banquet and the Ashland and Chicago associations will each hold one soon.

ON THE HILL.

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS.

The following officers for the second semester have been elected by the freshman class: President, Arthur H. Lambeck; vice president, Miss Elnora Dahl; secretary, Miss Helen Harris; treasurer, Addison B. Schuster; sergeant-at-arms, William Baine.

FIRE SCARE IN THE SHOPS.

A hot fire was discovered early one morning in the electrical department of the shops. It was quickly put out with the fire hose kept in the building—a fortunate circumstance, as a few moments more of delay might have resulted in the destruction of the shops. As it was the damage was slight, being confined to the wood work, which can be easily replaced.

SIGNAL SQUAD.

R. Q. Roemer, '06, last year first sergeant of the signal squad, has been appointed captain and national guard. The signal squad Capt. Roemer has had considerable experience in signal work in the national guard. The signal squad has this year been increased considerably in size, and under Capt. Roemer's direction an efficient squad is looked for by the end of the year.

GERMAN PLAYS.

The Germanistische Gesellschaft held an amateur play in its room in Library hall, entitled Er Muss Taub Sein. This German farce was presented on the evening of March 10. The Leon Wachsner Theatre Co. of Milwaukee presented the German play Alt Heidelberg here early in April under the auspices of the Gesellschaft, assisted by the University Glee club.

NEW LAW FRATERNITY.

A local chapter of Phi Alpha Delta has lately been established at Wisconsin. This is one of the four prominent national law fraternities and has chapters in all of the larger law schools. The fraternity was installed with twelve charter members.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING ASSURED.

A total of $50,000 has now been subscribed for the Y. M. C. A. house fund. With this as a nucleus, active preparations will soon be begun towards starting the erection of the building. The remaining $25,000 will be looked after later. A site for the building has not been definitely selected.

"W" MEN ORGANIZE.

The athletes of the university who have won the official "W" have formed themselves into a society.

MUSICAL EVENT.

One of the most successful of the many musical treats provided by the school of music was the concert rendered by the Spiering Quartet at Library hall on March 9. Every member of the quartet, including Mme. Kullak Busse, who assisted with vocal selections, is an artist and the whole concert was a more finished entertainment than is ordinarily seen at Madison.

PROM FINANCES.

A surplus of $15.67 remained after all the expenses of the Junior Promenade of the class of '05 had been paid. The decorations cost nearly $800. Over $250 was paid for music and nearly $350 for refreshments. The total receipts were $1,768.

AFTER RHODES' SCHOLARSHIP.

Three University of Wisconsin students were candidates for the Rhodes' scholarship to be presented to some student in the State of Wisconsin. They were Richard F. Scholz, Arthur Richter and Benjamin Paust, all from Milwaukee. These three men will compete among themselves for the honor of representing the university in a final contest for selection, in which all of the colleges of the state will be represented. Mr. Scholz won at the University of Wisconsin.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

The university Y. M. C. A. sent a delegation of fifteen students to the state convention at Oshkosh.

BADGER CONTRACTS.

The printing of the '05 Badger will be done by Pettibone, Sawtell & Co. of Chicago. The Barnes-

Crosby company of the same city has the contract for the engraving. The Badger this year promises to excel all others in interest and appearance.

SEMI-PUBLIC.

Athenae's semi-public debate was won by Walter M. Atwood, supported by G. Stewart McConochie and Albert Earle James. Opposed to them were Wm. H. Arnold (closer), Victor H. Kadish and Mr. Falconer.

Hesperia will have no semi-public debate this year owing to the death of Herman Canfield, one of the closers.

The joint debate between Forum and Columbia was won by Columbia. The contestants were: For Forum, F. N. Rogers, C. T. Godwin and J. A. McCormick; for Columbia, C. F. Smith, J. C. Davis and J. S. Earle.

FENCING CLASS.

A large fencing class is one of the features at the gymnasium this semester.

WANT FREE NATATORIUM.

There has been considerable agitation of late among the students for the abolition of the admission fee of five cents to the natatorium of the gymnasium.

CO-EDUCATION FRATERNITY.

A new fraternity has been formed in the university, called Sigma Delta Sigma. Its membership includes both men and women students.

STUDENT BASEBALL.

An inter-fraternity baseball league has again been formed and a schedule arranged. An inter-class series has also been planned.

HESPERIAN ELECTIONS.

Grover G. Huebner, '05, Wm. T. Evjue, '06, and Victor R. Griggs, '05, have been elected to represent Hesperia next year in the joint debate with Athenae. Hesperia has elected the following officers: President, Harry R. Pomeroy; vice president, Louis H. Turner; secretary, Howard C. Hofson; censor, Henry C. Duke; assistant censor, F. B. Sargent.

JUNIOR EX.

First place in the junior oratorical exhibition was won by H. L. Geisse, of Hesperia. Emil Olbrich and Miss E. Cook were tied for second place, the former of Athenae and Miss Cook of Castalia. Mr. Geisse received three firsts in delivery.

The junior preliminary oratorical contest was won by Emil Olbrich of Athenae.

SOCIAL.

The fourth military hop of the season was held in the armory on Saturday evening, March 19. It was a successful all-university affair. The last military hop was held April 9.

On the evening of March 17 the commissioned officers of the regiment held a formal dancing party at Kehl's hall. The officers were in full uniform, including swords, and throughout the evening the military idea was maintained to the highest degree.

LEAP YEAR PARTY.

On April 16 the girls of the university will give a leap year party at the gymnasium. It is expected that many of the men will be "imported" in retribution for the much lamented custom of the men at Prom. time.

THREE NEW FRAT HOUSES.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity is to have a new home next fall. A lot on Lake street opposite their present house has been purchased for $10,000 and the plans for a $20,000 building are now being drawn up and by next fall it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy. The Sigma Chi expects to begin work on its proposed $20,000 house at the foot of Lake street in a short time. Delta Upsilon will also build a new home at the foot of Francis street at a cost of $15,000.

LAWN PARTY.

At a recent meeting of the Self-Government association board it was decided to give a lawn party some time in May. A definite time and place will probably be made at their next meeting.

SENIOR ELECTIONS.

The senior class elected the following officers for the final semester of the year: Arthur E. Thiede, Columbus, president; Miss Lucy N. Case, Milwaukee, first vice president; Miss Anita Reinking, Madison, second vice president; Miss Florence Moffatt, Davenport, Ia., secretary; Arthur F. Krippner, Lake Mills, treasurer; Horatio Winslow, Madison, historian; Julius F. Derge, Eau Claire, sergeant at arms.

LAWN PARTY.

At a recent meeting of the Self-Government association board it was decided to give a lawn party some time in May. A definite time and place will probably be made at their next meeting.

JOINT DEBATE TEAMS.

The joint debate teams for next year are: For Athenae: Emil Olbrich of Harvard, Ill., Adolph Meyer of Cedarburg and W. S. Griswold of Waukesha. For Hesperia: J. W. Griggs of Madison, E. H. Huebner of Manitowoc and William Evjue of Merrill.

IN LAW FRATERNITY.

Eleven students of the University of Wisconsin law school were initiated into the Phi Alpha Delta fraternity at Chicago, March 2, the Russell chapter of that organization having recently been instituted here.

CLUBS ON TRIP.

The University Glee and Mandolin clubs, under the management of Louis Parks of the Mandolin club, made a week's trip through Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin during Easter week. The schedule was as follows: March 31, Sioux Falls, Ia.; April 1, Fairbault, Minn.; April 4, Rochester, Minn.; April 5, Winona, Minn.; April 6, La Crosse, Wis.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET.

The Y. M. C. A. banquet was held on April 7 this year. This is the second year that a banquet has been given and it is intended to make it an annual event.

SOCIAL DOINGS.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity gave a founders' day banquet in Keeley's hall, Madison, March 9. Prof. L. W. Dowling acted in the capacity of toastmaster.

The members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and their friends were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Bullard at the Mendota hospital, March 3.

IN FACULTY CIRCLES.

Dr. Georgiana L. Morrill of the English department attended a meeting of the Collegiate Alumnae association in Milwaukee on April 2. Dr. Morrill took part in a discussion on the means of teaching moral ethics.

Dr. A. S. Alexander of the college of agriculture has received notice of his appointment as official veterinarian of the Wisconsin state fair. Dr. Alexander has abundant qualifications for the position. In 1893 he acted as veterinary hygienist of the Chicago world's fair, and at present is official veterinarian of the International Livestock exposition.

At the memorial services held at the Unitarian church in Madison Easter Sunday evening in honor of Madison Unitarians who had recently died, President Van Hise honored the memory of the late Prof. W. H. Rosenstengel and Dean J. B. Johnson.

Prof. F. H. King, formerly of the department of agricultural physics of the university and during the past three years head of the department of soil physics in the agricultural department at Washington, recently resigned his position at the latter place.

Prof. Julius E. Olson gave the third in a series of lectures on the Sagas March 13, at Chicago.

Prof. E. B. Skinner recently spent a few days in Chicago in the interests of the tax commission.

Prof. Paul S. Reinsch delivered a lecture on Russia and Japan before the University club of Milwaukee.

Dr. S. Weidman attended the clay workers' convention in Portage in March.

Prof. C. R. Fish held open house for the gentlemen in his American history classes early in March.

Mrs. W. H. Hobbs, who is spending some time at Los Angeles, California, with a sick brother, recently submitted to a serious operation at that place. Prof. Hobbs was summoned and went immediately to the coast.

The University Glee and Mandolin clubs appeared in a successful concert before the Deutscher club of Milwaukee March 17.

Mr. Charles E. Allen, instructor in botany at the university, has received a research assistantship at the university of Bonn, Germany, and at the close of the summer session of the university will go abroad for a year of study. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Allen (Genevieve Sylvester, '99). The assistantship comes through the Carnegie Institution at Washington. Mr. Allen will receive his doctorate degree in June.

WITH THE CLASSES.

PERSONAL NOTES.

All secretaries of classes or of Wisconsin Alumni Associations or Clubs are requested to send their addresses or items of interest to Alumni to Mary S. Foster, 406 N. Pinckney St., Madison, Wis.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN DINNER.

A Dillon, Mont., paper has this to say of an event that occurred in February:

"Among the many pleasant social events of 1904, the University of Wisconsin dinner, given by Miss Jean Bishop, will live long in the memory of all present. It proved to be a veritable U. W. reunion, and considering the fact that Dillon is a small town tucked away in the Rocky Mountains, nearly two thousand miles from Madison, it is surprising to find here a roll of eight Wisconsin people, graduates or post-graduates. In the order of the classes, it runs as follows: Laura Miller Kress, '91, Prof. C. J. Fenner, '92, Dr. H. H. Swain, '97, Dr. C. W. Bagley, '98, Prof. W. C. Ruediger, '99, Charlotte Shedd, '02, Florence B. Mott, '02, and Jean F. Bishop, '03.

"The decorations were characteristic, reminiscent of university days. The cardinal university pennant hung in the archway, college pictures were profusely scattered about, while bouquets of red carnations and knots of cardinal ribbon worn by the guests repeated the Wisconsin color.

"About a cardinal decked table, calling up so many pleasant associations, the company lingered long over the delicious six-course dinner served. As the guests reluctantly rose, the glee club singers present gave a bit of the 'varsity song.

"In the parlor the collection of university pictures and booklets, and the volumes of the 'Badger,' the annual of the University of Wisconsin, were examined with great interest. A mirthful hour was spent over Miss Bishop's 'Pig Book,' in which each one, securely blindfolded, drew what he conceived to be the proper likeness of a pig.

"As the various guests were making their adieux and delightfully declaring to their hostess that the idea of a U. W. dinner was a happy inspiration, the 'varsity men broke out with the university yell, 'U-rah-rah! Wisconsin!' as the only adequate expression of their sentiments."

The graduates of the university who reside in Ashland, Wis., and roundabout recently enjoyed a banquet at that place and organized a permanent university club for the city of Ashland. The following officers were elected: George F. Merrill, '72, president; Gullick N. Risford, '97, secretary; Mrs. F. J. Colignon, '88, treasurer; Thomas J. Walsh, '84, and Victor T. Pierrelee, '00, directors. Alumni at Sheboygan have also organized a club.

A U. W. club was organized at Rhinelander in March. The officers are:

W. E. Brown, '74, president.

A. W. Shelton, '83, vice president.

Mary A. Smith, '90, secretary-treasurer.

The members are, the names of wives who are graduates or have attended the university one year being given in full:

A. W. Brown and wife.

W. E. Brown, '74, and wife, Juliet Meyer Brown, '75.

A. W. Shelton, '83, and wife, Mary Howe Shelton, '84.

E. O. Brown and wife.

Paul Browne and wife, Florence Brown Browne.

S. S. Miller, '73, and wife, Mary Oakey Miller.

F. A. Lowell, '95, and wife, Mary Manchester Lowell.

E. A. Edmonds and wife.
John Barnes, '83, and wife.
L. S. Bergstrom.
Luther Brown, '00.

Ralph Brown.

H. E. G. Kemp.
E. D. Minahan.
H. L. Reeves.

A. P. Rickmire, '01.
D. H. Walker, '92.

Mary Brown.
Helen Brown.
Edna M. Leihy.
Lillie E. Moessner, '98.
Mary A. Smith, '90.

'76

William Arthur Short, law '76, died March 27, 1904, on his farm near Edgerton. He was the only son of William and Marguerite Short and was born in the town of Albion, Dane county, Wis., Jan. 1, 1852. He was a graduate of Albion Academy, afterwards taking a course at law in the university. In 1876 he was admitted to the bar, and practiced law at Wausau one year, until the death of his father in the fall of 1877, when he returned to the farm in Albion. On March 20, 1878, he was united in marriage to Loata M. Hemphill of Sumner. Seven children blessed their union, six of whom, together with the wife, survive him. Besides these are a sister, Mrs. H. E. McEachron and her aged mother who reside at Wausau. The family lived in Albion until 1895 when they removed to the place known as the John Son farm, where he died. He had recently disposed of this farm and had arranged to move to Edgerton.

Thomas J. Pereles was recently elected president of the Milwaukee Bar association.

'83.

C. O. Marsh, editor of the Antigo Republican, read a paper before the Wisconsin Press association at Fond du Lac, entitled "What Can be Done to Bring About a Closer Organization of Wisconsin Publishers and Printers." Mr. Marsh was elected one of the vice presidents of the association.

Frank A. Cady, a prominent attorney of Marshfield, Wis., and Wisconsin assemblyman, who went to Hot Springs for his health some weeks ago, jumped from the fifth story of a hotel there March 30 and was killed. He was delirious and it was during the temporary absence of the nurse that he committed the act. He was born in Newport township, Columbia county, Wis., Dec. 31, 1858. He was a graduate of the Kilbourn high school and of the law department of the university with the class of 1883. He was a member of the county board of Wood county for twelve years, of the Marshfield board of education five years, city attorney five years, an alderman and a member of the republican state central committee. Mr. Cady was elected to the assembly in 1900 and again in 1902. In the last legislative session he was one of the most prominent and influential members, being chairman of the judiciary committee. The funeral was held at Kilbourn City April 3.

'86

John Harrington of Oshkosh

was recently appointed by Gov. La Follette a member of the board of normal school regents.

'87

F. W. Winter is a member of the firm of Kay, Totten & Winter, counselors at law, patent causes at Pittsburg. Writing to the Alumni Magazine, he says:

"There are not very many graduates of the university in Pittsburg and vicinity, and I rarely see any of the few that are here. I have occasion to go to Washington very frequently, and while there see Frank W. Holt, '85, and John R. Wise, '88. The former is assistant examiner in the patent office, and is at present assistant chief of the division of furniture. The latter is a clerk in the Indian bureau in the land and law division. Last week while in Washington I ran across Nils M. Thygeson, '85. He was interested in the merger case, that is, the United States against the Northern Securities company, which was being argued in the supreme court of the United States. Mr. Thygeson was present as a listener. Another of the university men also present at that hearing was Charles W. Bunn, who was graduated, I believe, sometime during the latter part of the seventies. Mr. Bunn, I understand, is attorney for the Northern Securities company, but whether or not he took part in the argument I cannot say, my impression being that he did.

"Quite recently I also saw Geo. H. Waldo, '85. He is practising patent law at Chicago, and I saw him at Washington recently during one of his trips there on business before the department. I also frequently see Charles Isaac Earll, '85, who is located in New York, and has a very comfortable practice as patent solicitor and expert."

Hon. E. W. Dwight, father of Edward F. Dwight, '87, died at his home near Oregon, Wis., March 6, aged 77 years. Mr. Dwight was one of the oldest settlers of Dane county, Wis., and was a member of the assembly in 1861.

'89

James B. Kerr, of St. Paul, son of Prof. Alexander Kerr, who has been seriously ill, has recovered.

Sumner M. Curtis is now a political writer on a Chicago newspaper.

'90

Bert B. Collyer, who for the past three and one-half years has been manager of the prescription department of Edwin Sumner & Son's pharmacy, Madison, Wis., has resigned to take the position as manager of the Wisconsin Pharmacy, Madison.

Judge Anthony Donovan, '90 law, was re-elected municipal judge of Dane county at the recent spring election without opposition.

'91

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Johnson are sojourning abroad. Mr. Johnson is making a trip in the interest of the Gisholt company of Madison.

'93

E. Ray Stevens was elected circuit judge of the ninth judicial district of Wisconsin at the spring election, having been appointed to the position by Gov. La Follette.

'94

Dr. Frank F. Bowman has been appointed to succeed Dr. A. R. Law as assistant surgeon to the St. Paul road, associated with Dr. L. R. Head of Madison.

Hobart S. Bird and wife (Ida Bratrud ex-'00) have returned to Madison to make their home, Mr. Bird having sold his paper, the San Juan News, the first daily English paper established in Porto Rico. While on the island Mr. Bird became frequently involved in trouble with the government and had several jail experiences.

'96

Martin A. Buckley, district attorney of Taylor county, and Miss Emma A. Fisch of Wausau, Wis., were married at Wausau Oct. 21, 1903. They reside at Medford, Wis.

Mrs. Theilene McGee, wife of C. A. A. McGee, died at their home in Milwaukee April 3. She was married to Mr. McGee in 1902.

'97

Mrs. Herman H. Liebenberg (Lelia Gile ex-'97) died at her home in Alma, Wis., Feb. 28, after an illness of about a week.

Henry Lockney has been re-elected city attorney of Waukesha, Wis.

A. D. Tarnutzer is principal of the Sheboygan (Wis.) high school. For six years since his graduation from the university he had been instructor in physics at Sheboygan, and was appointed to the principalship in the spring of 1903.

John H. Bacon, who was vice consul to Hong Kong during the boxer trouble, is bringing out a novel entitled "The Pursuit of Phyllis."

'98

Attorney Joseph E. Davies was elected mayor of Watertown at the late spring election.

A thesis on "The Influence of Goldsmith on Goethe" by Miss Julia Ruebhausen has been accepted by the literature department of Berlin university. Miss Ruebhausen has been doing graduate work in English literature and philosophy and in German literature and philology at Berlin.

Leslie R. Burns is a student at Rush Medical college.

'99

William Borgers is principal of the high school at Soldiers Grove, Wis.

Albert R. Denu, now instructor in rhetoric and elocution at the university, went to Ann Arbor, Michigan, with the university debating team. While there he represented the Wisconsin faculty and also had charge of the Wisconsin debaters.

Harry L. Trott and wife (Jessie A. Barney, '01) are spending a two months' vacation among Wisconsin friends. Mr. Trott is manager of a large sugar and rubber plantation at Tolosa, Oax, Mexico, near Tehuantepec.

Walton H. Pyre has organized a comedy company which will soon come to Madison and after a season of rehearsals visit the cities of Wisconsin and other states.

Mrs. Jessamine Lee Fox of South Dakota was recently a visitor in Madison.

Miss Adeline M. Jenney is acting as associate editor of Good House Keeping, Springfield, Mass. She assumed the duties of this position after taking an editorial apprenticeship of several months on the Congregationalist, Boston.

Miss Eliza H. Shaw and her mother are spending the winter in Helena, Ark., where Mr. Joseph L. Shaw, '99, has located for the practice of law.

'00

The class of 1900 has decided that, to have the class reunion in connection with the jubilee this year, will be quite preferable to waiting until 1905, the regular time. With that in mind Mr. C. D. Tearse, as president of the class, has appointed a committee to receive from class members notices of their probable presence at or absence from such reunion. The committee, of which Mr. Ernst von Briesen, Milwaukee, 401 Germania building, is chairman, is instructed and empowered to make any and all arrangements connected in any way with the reunion. As a large number of that class are now in position to spend a portion of their next summer vacation at Madison (and all desire to do so), it is probable the number gathered will exceed that representing any other class.

C. D. Tearse is secretary and treasurer of the Marfield-Griffiths grain commission company of Minneapolis.

Edson R. Wolcott, after spending a year at the university of Berlin, now holds a professorship in the Colorado School of Mines.

B. F. Coen is teaching in the high school at Rockford, Ill.

Thomas S. Morris, who for the past three years has been business manager of the State Journal Printing Co. at Madison, has withdrawn from that concern and will engage in the manufacture of hospital supplies in Madison.

'01

Announcement has been made of the marriage which took place last year in Berlin, Germany, of Miss M. Pearl Bragg and Ernst C. Meyer, '01. Mrs. Meyer is a Waterfield, Mass., girl who has been studying at the Leipsic conservatory of music. Mr. Meyer holds a position in the United States consulate at Chemnitz, Germany. He is a brother of Prof. B. H. Meyer.

Mr. Mark Newman and Miss Augusta Billings will be married at the latter's home in Cobb, Wis., April 19.

'02

Harold Stuart Peterson committed suicide March 28 at Milwaukee, by shooting, the reason assigned being the strain caused by overstudy while in the university. Mr. Peterson entered the university with the class of 1901. He was a brilliant student, especially in ancient languages and mathematics, and attempted to finish the four-year course in three years. The strain which resulted from this effort left him a nervous wreck in the spring of 1901, and he did not graduate. He then devoted himself to regaining his health, and during the next college year did not take any studies on the hill, but spent much of his time in the gymnasium and in long walks about Madison. This course of systematic exercise seemed beneficial, and in the following year he was able to resume his studies so that he was graduated with the class of 1902. In spite of ill health Mr. Peterson had always been a faithful and conscientious student, and in his last year he was a candidate for the honorary fraternity Phi Beta Kappa, and stood almost well enough to be elected to that honor. He was a member of Philomathia and the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Mr. Peterson was probably best known to townspeople and students as a musician. He was for two years organist at the First Congregational church. He was also a member of the glee club for several years, played the cornet in the university band, and was for one year leader of the band. During his last year as a student he organized a student orchestra which became popular, and which he continued to manage during his first year out of college. He then returned to his home in Delafield, coming to Milwaukee Sundays to act as assistant organist in All Saints' church, and at the beginning of the present year he became organist there. He moved to Milwaukee six weeks ago, and secured employment with the Milwaukee Telephone company, retaining his position as organist also.

John E. Brindley, who was principal of the schools at Soldiers Grove, has been appointed county superintendent of schools of Crawford county to fill out the unexpired term of his uncle, E. E. Brindley, who resigned on account of ill health.

'88

Thomas W. Hogan, law '88, was renominated for mayor of Antigo, Wis., by the democrats, but forthwith declined the honor, leaving the ticket without a head. Mr. Hogan has an extensive law practice, and has been district attorney of Langlade county for several terms.

'02

Oliver B. Kohl, who left the Madison Gas & Electric company last January to accept a position with the LaComb Electric company at Denver, has been obliged to resign and expects to return to his home at Antigo, Wis., this month. The climate did not agree with him, and during the past month he had spent most of his time in the hospital.

'03

Miss Blanche Germond is teaching in the high school of her home city, Oshkosh, Wis.

Stuart E. Washburn is in the employ of the United States geological survey, which is engaged in extensive operations in the Umcompaghre valley in southwestern Colorado.

'04

Miss Clara A. Dahle, daughter of ex-Congressman H. B. Dahle, last year in the school of music, was married to Dr. Frank E.

Moody, of Minneapolis, March 29, at Mt. Horeb, Wis. Dr. Moody is a prominent dentist of Minneapolis, where he and Mrs. Moody will reside.

George P. Hambrecht, ex-'97, was recently awarded the first Yale university parliamentary law prize.

'05

The engagement of Miss Elsa Bodenius of Madison, to Eugene A. Fuller of Milwaukee, is announced.

Willard Griswold has been chosen orator and will make the response to the senior class at the class day exercises.

'06

Miss Hattie Ludlow, ex-'06, has been chosen stroke of the Wellesley freshman crew.

One of the most widely lamented of student deaths occurred on March 18, when Herman Canfield, of Sparta, died of typhoid fever at his home. Mr. Canfield had won numerous honors during the year and a half he was at the university, and much was expected of him by those who knew him. He was a strong student, unusually popular and a leader among his classmates. Had he lived he would next year have represented Hesperia in the joint debate and he was already well up towards the top on the staff of the Daily Cardinal. The news of his sudden passing away spread deep sorrow upon the whole student body. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

'07

Mrs. George Warren Wilson of Milwaukee, mother of Ralph Wilson, '07, died March 27. The funeral was held at Nashotah. Mrs. Wilson was the granddaughter of the late Bishop Kemper.

OUTLOOK IN ATHLETICS.

Considerable publicity has, during the past month, been given to statements emanating from upper Michigan, that Captain Gordon Lewis of the Wisconsin baseball team played professional baseball in that region last season. These reports have appeared in the public press and while the matter has not been officially brought to the notice of the Wisconsin athletic authorities, friends of the university may rest assured that should any sufficient evidence be shown against Mr. Lewis, whether in the shape of a formal protest or otherwise, a careful investigation will be made and appropriate action taken. Meanwhile nothing has appeared of which any self-respecting athletic body could take cognizance, in the face of Captain Lewis' signature to the amateur statement.

* * *

Easter vacation finds the baseball candidates getting their first out-door practice, the freshman crew squad rowing in the pair oars on the Yahara and the 'varsity oarsmen and track athletes awaiting the reopening of the university to again take up their training. Both Lake Mendota and Lake Monona are under a foot of ice, which looks good for another two weeks at least. Camp Randall is under water and the lower campus a broad expanse of sticky clay mud. When it is recalled that eastern athletes have been on the water and afield for some weeks this will serve to show how much later is the season in the middle west. Even Chicago and Illinois have two or three weeks the lead of Wisconsin and Michigan, while at Minnesota the season is still later.

Coach O'Dea now has the freshman candidates reduced to three eights and has the same number of older men working twice a week for the 'varsity. It seems now likely that only Captain Jordan, Stevenson, Miller and Bartelt of the 1903 'varsity will row this year. McComb, stroke, is not training and Mather is uncertain. He may start in, in a few days, but McComb has announced that he will not row. Gaffin, also eligible, will be kept out of the boat by his duties as secretary of the university Y. M. C. A. The only training possible is the work in the pairs on the Yahara, but Mr. O'Dea is, as usual, making the best of the conditions and everyone is hoping for warm weather and wind to open the lakes.

* * *

The baseball squad, now reduced to about twenty-five men, is getting regular out-door work. While it is too early to tell much about the material, Coach Pierce seems to be pretty well satisfied with them, all allowances being made. And Mr. Pierce gives indication of marked ability in the coaching line. He knows baseball, knows the Wisconsin conditions and seems to be working on essentials, in addition to which he has a quiet forceful discipline that the writer has not seen surpassed in any Wisconsin baseball coaching in the past. If he will curb the ebullient spirits of three or four old men who seem to think that fast, aggressive ball consists in keeping up an unending and senseless clamor throughout the game, he will spare Wisconsin the humiliations of 1903 and whether his team wins or loses he will have the support of the university and alumni. Personally, I am satisfied that Mr. Pierce will make the most of his material and develop a clever aggressive nine without sacrificing Wisconsin's reputation for clean and gentlemanly sport.

They may not, probably will not, win the championship, but they ought to be in the running and anything as good as that will be welcome. The old men now actually in training are Leahy and Allen, catchers; Lewis and Ziepprecht, pitchers; Hoelz, short-stop; Brush, third base, and Persons, left field. Of the new men, little can yet be said. Young, pitcher; Perry, catch or infield, and Poole, pitch, will probably make good, and there are likely candidates for other places. Borre-son, first base last year, is in college and will probably play.

The schedule will be as follows, with addition of the Beloit and a few minor games:

April 18—Michigan at Madison.
 April 26—Chicago at Chicago.
 April 27—Illinois at Campaign.

April 28—Purdue at Lafayette.
 April 29—Notre Dame at Notre Dame.

April 30—Northwestern at Evanston.

May 4—Purdue at Madison.
 May 7—Illinois at Madison.
 May 14—Chicago at Madison.
 May 21—Michigan at Ann Arbor.

May 28—Northwestern at Madison.

A game or two may be arranged for jubilee week.

* * *

The track team on March 5 won the central association team championship at Milwaukee with a total of 54 points, a lead of 26 over the Central Y. M. C. A. of Chicago, which was second. The features of the meet, so far as Wisconsin was concerned, were the splendid work of Post, who won the mile in 4:35 4-5, a new central indoor record, the clever victories of Captain McEachron in the two-mile, Breikreutz in the half and Waller in the dash, together with the clean sweep of the Badger contestants in the high jump. Wisconsin won the 75-yard dash, the 440, 880, mile and two-mile runs, the shot put, high jump and relay race and landed many seconds and thirds. Neither Chicago university nor the First Regiment of Chicago completed. The Milwaukee Athletic club took third place in the meet, chiefly through the good work of Fred Schule, who won both hurdles.

A week later Wisconsin beat Chicago in the 'varsity gymnasium at Madison, 39 points to 38, in an exciting meet.

After this meet the men were permitted to let up in their training until the university opens after the Easter vacation.

* * *

The Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic association held its third annual meet in the university gymnasium March 26 and Wisconsin was first with 31 points, Grinnell second with 27 and Chicago, represented by one man, third with 4 points. Walleser of Grinnell took the individual championship, Stearns of Wisconsin being second. Summary:

Parallel bars—Stearns, Wisconsin, first; Walleser, Grinnell, second.

Long horse—Walleser, Grinnell, first; Persons, Wisconsin, second.

Side horse—Stearns, Wisconsin, first; Hancock, Chicago, second.

Flying rings—Walleser, Grinnell, first; Stearns, Wisconsin, second.

Horizontal bar—Stearns, Wisconsin, first; Walleser, Grinnell, second.

Tumbling—Walleser, Grinnell, first; Blain, Wisconsin, second.

Club swinging—Carey, Grinnell, first; Schreiber, Wisconsin, second.

Judges—Dr. H. L. Kallenberg, Chicago; George Wittich, Milwaukee, and George Sim, Waukesha.

* * *

Two or three months ago the writer expressed surprise that the athletic authorities at the university of Michigan seemed to expect to use Fred Schule in meets governed by intercollegiate rules, in view of the fact that he represented Wisconsin four years on the track. Since that time Michigan has entered the ex-Wisconsin man in a meet with Cornell, in which he won the 40-yard hurdles and a place in the high jump. The only reasonable assumption is that the Michigan authorities are ignorant of the facts. For Schule himself it is more difficult to find an excuse, as any man who has been in athletics four or five years ought to know the fundamental rules. In 1899 he competed at Milwaukee in a dual meet between Michigan and Wisconsin, taking part in the 120-yard hurdle race and the high jump. In 1900 and 1901 he took part in practically all the meets in which Wisconsin competed, and in 1902 he ran in the indoor meets and the Pennsylvania relay carnival games where he won a place in the broad jump and first in his trial heat in the high hurdles. If this does not make four years competition, then there is no such thing and a man may take part in athletics as long as he pleases.

Michigan has, in the past, sometimes been the subject of unjust suspicion in particular cases, but here the evidence is prima facie and it is reasonable to suppose that action by the Ann Arbor authorities will promptly follow their verification of Mr. Schule's record as noted above.

* * *

In the January number of the magazine there appeared a paragraph in the athletic department in which the writer, in speaking of the election of an assistant football coach for next fall, stated that Mr. McCarthy was not Mr. Curtis' choice last year and that as a result, there was a lack of that entire harmony which might otherwise have resulted. As Mr. McCarthy interpreted this statement to be a criticism upon himself, I take this opportunity to say that it was not so intended. The facts were substantially as stated and I do not believe the above inference was reasonably to be drawn from my statement, but as Mr. McCarthy feels that an injustice was done him, I am glad to explain that the article was written with a different purpose, which was merely to indicate my personal belief that a head coach should have the choosing of his subordinates and then be held to strict accountability—for results. This was impossible last fall.

GEO. F. DOWNER.

Our Hand Tailored Clothes

Are made specially for us, with our own label, no manufacturer's label, to tell they are ready-made, will retain shape longer, and follow, more than any other Ready-to-Wear Clothes, the latest fashions of custom tailoring.

We have everything new in that is Desirable in Men's Tailoring.

SCHMEDEMAN & BAILLIE,
MADISON, WIS.

MRS. KLUSMANN - GLEASON

FINE MILLINERY

20 East Mifflin St.

MADISON, WIS.

ALUMNI Who want 'Varsity Souvenirs, such as Pennants, Pins, Watch Fobs, Spoons, Views in Book Form or Single Photos, will do well to address

COLLEGE BOOK STORE

412 State Street

MADISON, WIS.

OPERA FLOWER STORE

Decorations for receptions, parties and weddings

Fresh Cut Flowers at all times

A full line of Palms and Ferns always on hand

V. WAYMAN, 10 West Mifflin Street

Cigars, Tobaccos,
Cigarettes

FARLIN'S

BILLIARD PARLORS

12 SOUTH CARROLL ST.

PHONE

1 ————— 2 ————— 3

New LAAW Stables.