SYNDICATE IS POSSIBLE

MINNEAPOLIS, May 20.—The appointment of a Conference editor for each Big Ten daily next fall, whose duty it will be to handle all photos, dope, stories, and written exchanges between Conference universities, as well as to act as local manager for the Western Conference radio and news service, was recommended by delegates to the Western Conference editorial association convention in session here Friday and Saturday.

Rotogravure Section

The possibility of a syndicate inter-collegiate rotogravure section was also discussed. Such a plan, if carried out, would furnish to each of the ten papers a weekly illustrated section containing feature material from all parts of the midwest. Each of the dailies would send in articles every week and the section would then be published at some central point and sent out to the various papers for distribution with their regular issues.

Every Conference university was represented at the convention this year.

Formed at Michigan

The association was formed at the university of Michigan last May when delegates from eight of the schools met and discussed the many problems confronting the modern university daily.

Elect Officers

George C. Dwoschak, managing editor of the Minnesota Daily, was elected president of the association for the coming year. Other officers elected were R. T. Kelsey, Purdue Exponent, vice-president; Harold H. Anderson, Daily Northwestern, secretary.

The University of Chicago and Northwestern university will jointly entertain the third annual meeting of the association next year. The visiting editors were entertained Friday night at the presentation of John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" at the Metropolitan theater. Saturday afternoon was devoted to an inspection trip through the Minneapolis Journal and the convention closed with a banquet Saturday night at the Union, followed by a Sigma Delta Chi dance in honor of the delegates at the Pi Beta Phi house.

College Masons to Organize Nationally

At the second session of the national convention of university and college Masonic organizations held yesterday afternoon at the university Y. M. C. A., the delegates from the various colleges agreed on a plan of organizing all the bodies represented into one national association.

E. J. Kaderabek '23, who was elected chairman of the convention at the first session Friday night, called on the delegates for an expression from their clubs. The organizations represented voted to affiliate with the Square and Compass, a southern association of college Masonic clubs which has been in existence for several years. The local Square club, represented by Rufus Phillips '23, will petition the Square and Compass for a charter immediately.

The third annual Square club picnic and dance was given yesterday at Edwards' park on Lake Waukesha, in honor of the visiting delegates.

Prof. Fish Finds Reminiscence In Literary Magazine

By Prof. Carl Russell Fish
Is the Lit worth reading? Is it representative of student thought at Wisconsin? What are students thinking about?

Yes, it is worth reading. I read it through at a sitting, was not bored, and found it easy to think about it afterwards. It liked best "Mary: A Reminiscence," apparently a real reminiscence, told in simple, straightforward English, and stopping short where the writer's experience actually stopped. It would, however, be unfortunate if no budding authors grappled with subjects beyond their present powers.

A very good example of constructive work, showing fine effort and giving assurance that its author will soon swim easily in the world where literature pays, is Margaret Emmerling's "The Madonna with the Green Cushion." It is a relief to find that the poets are struggling for real poetic form, and their verses are distinctly melodious. All of them have something to say. "Black Sheep" by Horace Gregory is interesting, and "Moth under the Moon," by Margaret Emmerling is a prose sketch of a poetic idea, very delicately done. Horace Gregory's review of Joseph Hergesheimer shows independence and judgment.

As for representative character, the number is rather representative of youth than of Wisconsin or of 1922. The general tone is pessimistic, and the humor not so good as the serious work. The pessimism, however, is not very convincing, and the number leaves the healthy impression of the refrain of Lloyd George's "Spring has come 'round Again."

The Lit is a good, clean representative of the literary work which is being done here, interesting in itself, and showing promise.

The following pledges were immediately initiated: Stanley L. Bernet, Nevin H. McKay, Edward N. Otis, Leon A. Gape '21, Bruce, S. Dakota, was also initiated.

Alif Mim was founded in 1920 and for the last year has owned and occupied its present chapter house. Its last public function was a formal dinner given in honor of Sigma Pi at Thompson's studio, May 19.

FROSH PARADER INJURED BY COP

Merton Bettendorf '25, Mauston, was injured in the head during the parade of freshmen along State street following the Cap Night celebration on the lower campus last night.

A policeman hit the freshman on the head with his club when Bettendorf and several other paraders the fender of a car in an attempt to keep it from passing along the crowded street, according to a report. The crowd broke up immediately after this incident.

Up until 12:30 last night no work had been received at the police station in regard to the reported fight.

Less than 250 freshmen were on the lower campus when the pile of rubbish was set on fire at 8 o'clock last night. No attempt was made by members of the sophomore class to light the pile before the hour set for the burning. The snake dance along State street took place shortly after the fire was started.

Defeat Hawkeyes in Contest
Full of Wrangling By
Score of 10-1

PROTEST RAY'S DECISION

By CHAS. J. LEWIN

In the weirdest Conference ball game played at Camp Randall for many a day, Wisconsin soundly walloped Iowa yesterday, 10 to 1, thereby getting complete revenge for the defeat at the hands of the Hawkeyes last Monday.

Shimek Goes to Showers

The contest was replete with wrangling which was climaxed in the sixth inning when umpire Ray sent second baseman Shimek to the showers for protesting a decision on "Jack" Williams at first base. Williams, first batter, dumped a puny fly in front of Shimek and beat the ball to the initial hasock. Gordon Locke, all-American fullback, Shimek, and other Iowans emitted loud wailings over the decision. Ray pulled his watch on the troublesome ball tossers, ejected Shimek from the fray and warned the others.

Williams Stars

Three twirlers were unable to stop the hitting Badgers who amassed a total of nine safe drives. J. Williams, with three safeties, was the most consistent batter. He drilled out a double and two singles and was safe on a fielder's choice in his first time at the plate. Elliott and Ruediger also collected a brace of hits apiece, the home run king doubling in the seventh frame to drive in two runs.

Gets Three Safeties

Frohwein, who was cast in a triple role of pitcher, left fielder, and second baseman, obtained one-half of his team's total. He hit safely three times after whiffing in the first inning. Draper's double was the only extra-base knock chalked up by the Hawkeye batters.

Pitches Steady Game

While Wisconsin was pounding Frohwein, Smith, and Becker for nine hits and ten tallies, Paddock pitched a steady game and held his opponents to a half-dozen safeties. He sent ten men back to the bench via the strikeout route, whiffing at least one man in every inning except the second and fourth.

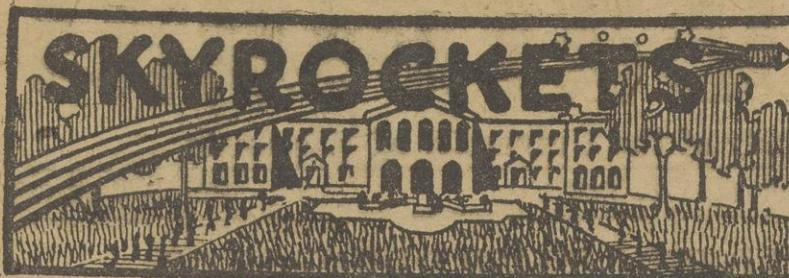

Score In First

Wisconsin got off on its right-foot in the first inning after Iowa had failed to produce. R. Williams fanned, ut Ruediger hit safely to deep short. He was safe on second when Ceaser hit to Hurlbut. The Hawkeyes tried to force "Rudy" at second bat failed and both men were safe. Elliott whiffed. Ruediger tallied on "Jack" Williams' infield slap, Ceaser and "Jack" Williams following a moment later (Continued on Page 11)

Campus Restaurant Opens in September

"The Campus," a modern restaurant and cafeteria at 716 State street, will open its doors to the student body and general public next September. The equipment is the best procurable, and cleanliness and efficiency will prevail everywhere, according to the builders. Service will be both at counters and tables.

The building is being built of stucco and brick with a tile roof, at a cost of $15,000. The management will be by Pfeifer and Grosshuesch. Mr. Pfeifer was formerly connected with the American Restaurant and Garden Grill and also at Lawrence's.

"YES, INDEED," said the Discipline Committee to the student, "We are somewhat of a bunch of liars ourselves but go on with your story, we are listening."

THE GREATEST thing that has happened in the last week, that has been reported is that the A. O. Pi dance which was given last Friday evening was given without the least bit of pulling of hair and gnashing of teeth.

UP UNTIL late Wednesday we thought that the Alpha Phi house was closed for the summer, but Dixie Davis suddenly jumped out of the second story and called for volunteers for a ride in her Essex. They hadn't gone far before they were pinched for speeding. (But the cop liking Lucky Strikes, freed them.)

It was stated by the heirs who still reside in the house that they have been given permission to remain for another year by the theater company. Their future home has not been decided upon as yet but will be later in the summer it is thought. Another landmark which is considered in the transfer is that of the watch repair shop adjacent, which has been occupied by Joseph Dresen Sr. for 28 years.

Pumping nit To Be Saving To City

"Addition of a pumping unit to the Madison fire department will be a great saving to the city," declared Leon A. Smith superintendent of the water department this morning. "The city needs more pumps and the suggestion of the chief is the last step in the transition from village system to that of a large city."

"The development of a city fire department is marked by four things," Mr. Smith stated. "First, the volunteer system procuring water from what ever source may be at hand; second, the establishing of a city water system with volunteer service; third, a paid fire system with the pumping station still increasing the pressure at alarms; and fourth, a paid fire company equipped with pumps and pressure at the last remaining the same at all times."

JOINT RECITAL.

Paul Sanders, pianist, and Earl Brown, tenor, both well known in musical circles here, will appear in joint recital at Music hall, at 8:15 Tuesday evening.

CAPS AND CAPERS

THE men who were out last night for the green cap bonfire should be congratulated upon the genuine and sane enthusiasm they showed both on the campus and on their march down to the square. Too bad there were so few who turned out. It is quite difficult to cool off to a normal sportsmanship spirit from the senseless running-amuck that characterized the last cap nighs before this. If Wisconsin is to have a cap night at all, it is hard to think of a better one than the freshmen held last night—except possibly for the fact that there should have been more wood, as one of the bystanders suggested. It was an occasion where the university folk and the townspeople turned out in a body. It was an occasion where the students met in a single spot, and all such occasions have an impressive and lasting effect on all. Such moments are highly prized after one's university days are over.

The freshmen have demonstrated that a peaceful and joyous cap night is possible. It is not the green cap that is in question here. It is the spirit in which the bonfire and the snake-dance and march were executed. Next year, if the students still uphold the traditions, we hope that cap night will be equally good.

THE IRONY OF PLEASURE
THE call to having a good time generally comes when it can least be had. Now, with the examinations approaching faster than we are willing to believe, the campus is thrilled with a multitude of affairs and picnics and wakings-out. In addition, the heat and the springy charm refuses to let us buck and cram as we should, or rather as most have to. That's the irony of pleasure. It always makes its call when it is most desired and can be least received.

Lots of will power is needed these days. Peculiar how even two weeks can change so many plans and hopes and great expectations. Hold to the helm—that should be the ever-ringing self-counsel in these trying times.

WORKING AGAINST TIME

Many students have formed the bad habit of studying against time. That is, if they are studying a book they figure on reading so many pages an hour, and no matter how the difficulty of the subject matter may vary, they plow straight ahead at the rate of speed which they have previously set for themselves. When the ambitious student remarks to a classmate that he has covered so many pages of an author in what is a remarkably short time, it seems that he has accomplished a great deal of hard work. It is hard work, but the question is, what does he know about the book he has been reading? If the idea he has gained from this rapid perusal of the book are vague and indistinct, then this method of study is unprofitable. It would be better to go slower. Then the student would be sure of knowing some part of his subject thoroughly.

This gives rise to another question. The term at McGill is short, and this means that much work must be done in a short time. The idea of some lecturers seems to be to pile an amount of work upon their classes that would keep them quite busy during a 10-months term. In certain courses certain ground must be covered and the only remedy here is the drastic one of lengthening them by a year or more. In some of the courses that are more strictly cultural it is ridiculous for the lecturer to prescribe an amount of work that is next to impossible for the student to cover in the time at his disposal. Why not cover less ground, but cover it more thoroughly? After all, a college education merely arouses out interest in certain subjects and founds a base knowledge for us to build on in future years. If this base is flimsy, the edifice erected on it will be flimsy.

As long as we have the lecturer who cannot see beyond the bounds of his own little subject, however important that may be, just so long will we have the student who studies against time. Possibly the idea is to give the student a lot of work to do in the hope that he will pick up a smattering of knowledge. The ideal should be—a thorough study of basic principles that would arouse and stimulate an interest that "cramming," rather than arousing, tends to destroy. —McGill Daily.

NO NEED FOR PITY

The working student has been the source of countless "heart interest" stories for years past. Who has not read about the terrible odds the poorly fed and scantily dressed lad has had to face to win his coveted degree? How he wistfully watches the children of the rich enjoying the social whirl of college life?

One of these days a student who has used his brain and his muscle as a means to paying his way through school is going to speak up and tell the multitude that it's all wrong; that many tears have been shed in vain, and that the working student may actually get more enjoyment out of his college life than does his silver-spooned brother.

He need not elucidate on ideals or principles to put this over. He may actually cite specific instances where he has had real, honest enjoyment and pleasure out of his four years.

A little observation around the campus will show that the working students are well represented among the active leaders. And a little more observation will show clearly that the student who is depending altogether or in part on his own personal efforts for his remaining in school is the one who is usually up and doing, whether it be on the campus or in a social organization.

All Wisconsin Will See True Venetian Fete

All Wisconsin turns to Venice next Saturday night when, with red flares lighting Mendota's shores and the pier bowers of green, thrilling with activity and music, a long procession of brilliantly decorated and lighted floats moves out on the lake, the most typical of Wisconsin traditions, Venetian Night, is under way.

A different Venetian Night, a different Water Carnival, a whole schedule of different entertainment will greet Wisconsin and the 520 high school athletes when they arrive here for their Twenty-eighth Annual Interscholastic Track meet Friday and Saturday.

Activities will open with a ball game Thursday afternoon, when the Badger nine meets Northwestern. Wisconsin won the first game of the season at Evanston, 4 to 2, in April. Since that time Coach Lowman's men have climbed the Conference ladder till they are near the top.

The Interscholastic Tennis tournament, which will be held Friday and Saturday, will be the largest prep school tourney ever held in the state. Seven high schools are sending 17 men to the meet. Prairie du Chien, whose squad practices daily with the Champion college team, is reported to have a strong representation. Milton Union high school practices with the strong Milton college squad, and should

HERE'S PREP MEET FACT AND GOSSIP

A total of 535 high school athletes from 60 different schools are entered in the 28 Annual Interscholastic Track meet.

The pole vault has the smallest number of entrants with 56 competing.

A large list of teams in the relay race, 25 in all, promises some exciting contests.

Stoughton, winner of Class B last year will compete in Class A this year.

Shotola of Milwaukee West is expected to place well in the broad jump and sprints.

Milwaukee's South team has the distinction of being coached by Arlie Shardt, Wisconsin's only representative to the Olympic games.

Antigo has a sure point winner in Kowalsky. In a dual contest with Merrill, Kowalsky captured 13 points for his school.

In the 23rd Illinois Interscholastic held last Friday and Saturday there were approximately 700 high school performers participating.

Illinois stages a University circus in which 500 students participate and which 18,000 people watch to entertain their Interscholastic visitors.

Monticello, a school of 69 students, has entered 18 men in class B. The team has won the Platteville Normal meet and has defeated Wisconsin high in a dual meet this year.

Hilberts who won both the mile and half mile runs for Jefferson last year in Class B is another prep school man making in freshman track. In the dual meet with Iowa freshmen, Hilberts placed second in the 440 yard dash.

High Schools Nearly Double Track Entries

Nearly 200 more high school athletes will take part in the Twenty-eighth Annual Interscholastic Track meet on Friday and Saturday than competed last year, when 366 men from 40 schools invaded Camp Randall.

Prep school athletes from 56 institutions will be entertained during the week end by the Water Carnival and Venetian Night festivals. They will see the crew races in Lake Mendota from launches which will patrol the course.

More than 275 track men from 21 schools are entering the meet as Class A, which includes the larger institutions. In the smaller school division, Class B, 27 high schools are sending 220 track athletes.

At Chicago and Illinois the Interscholastic meets draw nearly a thousand prospective university students each year. This is the first year that the Wisconsin meet has been held under the auspices of the Athletic department, and officials are already predicting that the meet next year will bring seven or eight hundred men to Madison.

Class A high schools which are entered in the meet include Merrill, Chippewa Falls, Manitowoc, Kenosha, La Crosse, Menominee, Marinette, Madison, Antigo, Wisconsin Rapids, Stoughton, Steven's Point, River Falls, Racine, Monroe, and Bayview. Five Milwaukee high

License Is Required To Send Radio

Inventor Warns Youthful Fans of Laws On Wireless

Urging a strict observance of radio laws, Frank J. Rener, junior at the university, spoke before the members of the Triangle Radio club Friday night in the city Y. M. C. A.

"You must familiarize yourself with the radio laws," said Mr. Rener, "especially those governing the operation of sending outfit. Not only because you will be subject to a heavy fine for any violation, but because you are not fair to your fellow radio operators when you break the rules."

"Beware of fraud," continued Mr. Rener. "Several swindlers have lately been detected. You will be safe if you remember that any one may operate a receiving set without paying a license, but that there is a license required for using a sending outfit."

Ross Conducts Family Surveys

Definite information regarding the changes in the size of the American families in one generation is the aim of the questionnaires recently circulated throughout the United States under the direction of the Sociology Department.

Nearly eight hundred family group have been selected for analysis. The final statistics will be based upon the blanks as filled out separately by each of the three generations of both lineages in each family. Besides the number of children in each case, the age, religion, occupation, nationality, and education.

The investigation will determine what the shrinkage has been in the birth rate during the past two generations; whether the kind of vocation affects the size of the family; whether religion and education are prominent factors to be considered; and how does the size of the family on the farm compared to the city family, correlate any facts now extant.

"This investigation may be referred to as a peephole into what is happening to the American people," said Prof. Ross. "We hope to settle many questions regarding the American birth rate."

Ray Barber, post graduate student, has had a major part in the organizing of the investigation, and in the securing of the cooperation of numerous professors throughout the country.

Graf of Milwaukee East now holds the Interscholastic record in the javelin of 149 feet 3 inches. He is entered in the same event this year and should heave the spear still farther.

Gene Tuthar, former Milwaukee North star who raised the Interscholastic high jump mark to 5 feet 10 3-8 inches last year, is now performing well in the high jump and hurdles as captain of the Badger yearlings.

Quiz System Not Used in England

"Quizzes are practically unknown in England, says Cecil R. Russell '23, of Christchurch, New Zealand, a graduate of the University of London. "A degree in England is granted solely on the basis of examinations. These are given twice during the student's career, at the end of the sophomore year, and at the end of the course. Co-education is also a new thing for me," he said.

Russell is doing special work in hydro-electrics and expects to receive his M. A. degree here. According to him the University of Wisconsin has an excellent reputation for the study of hydro-electrics across the water and the best equipment in that line.

He will return to England after completing his course, where he will do engineering work similar to that done at Kilbourn, Wis., in utilizing natural water power.

Leslie R. Gage '23, of Peoria, Ill., is chairman of the Venetian Night and the 28th Annual Interscholastic Track meet committee. It was largely through Gage's efforts that the two annual events were combined under one centralized committee of 75 students to make the affair the biggest interscholastic feature in years, and placing it on a par with Homecoming in the fall and with other similar programs in the Big Ten. Gage is a member of the Athletic board, president of Union board, Varsity basketball man, and a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

Porter F. Butts '24, of Springfield, Ill., is chairman of publicity for Venetian Night and the Interscholastic meet. Butts is giving this year's affair much advertising throughout the state as well as on the campus. Stories are being sent daily to all Wisconsin papers and 1000 posters advertising the event have been distributed over the state. Butts is night editor for the Cardinals.

Dayton R. Meade '23, of Marquette, chairman of the Venetian

Night committee introduced several new features for the 1922 night spectacle and carried out all preliminary work on the carnival until illness confined him to the infirmary.

Gordon Wanzer '24, of Chicago, Ill., chairman of the Water carnival has added several events to the program of water stunts to make it one of the most attractive features of the two day program. Motor boat and sailboat races will be held for the first time. He will have charge of the canoe events, the regatta, and the sailing events. Wanzer is a member of Ku Klux, Union board, and Chi Psi fraternity.

Paul Bekins '24, Omaha, Nebraska, is chairman of arrangements for the Interscholastic Tennis tourney to be held in conjunction with the track meet and Venetian Night program.

Lee McCandless '23, Davenport, Iowa, chairman of the entertainment committee for Venetian Night and the Interscholastic meet will have charge of entertaining and housing the visiting high school athletes and their friends for the two days May 26 and 27.

give the Prairie men stiff opposition.

Milwaukee Riverside and Plainfield are among the schools sending strong teams. Lake Geneva, Racine, and Richland Center have also sent entry blanks. The preliminaries will be held on Friday, May 26, the semi-finals will be played Saturday morning, and the finals in the afternoon.

Motor Boat Races

A water carnival which will surpass anything ever seen on Lake Mendota will be held Saturday morning. A motor boat race over a two mile course will be one of the innovations which the committee is planning. Several entries, both student and townspeople, have already come in. A loving cup will be awarded the winner.

More than 29 entries have been received for the sailboat races, which are also something new on the water carnival program. There will be sailing canoe races, standing races, tilting, bow races, hand paddling, combination canoe and swimming races, and other events. The canoe races will be held on a circular course so that spectators on the shore will have no difficulty in seeing every part of the race. The course will probably be laid out just off the shore between the university boat house and Park street.

Provide Launches

Launches have been provided for high school men in order that they may be better able to watch these races and the other features of the carnival. They will leave the university pier at 10 a. m.

For the first time a Canadian crew will race with a university crew from the United States when the University of Manitoba meets the University of Wisconsin at about 11:30 on Lake Mendota. The Manitoba arsmen are being coached by Selby Henderson and Frank Carruthers, two Winnipeg Rowing club oarsmen who have won American and English rowing championships. The Canadian crew uses the Winnipeg style of stroke, which won amateur international contests a few years ago. The eight is made up of light men, but they have had considerable rowing experience.

Will Signal Postions

The second Varsity crew will meet St. John's Military academy in a second race. In case the lake is rough these events will be held about 6 o'clock in the evening. A man on the Cardinal launch will wig wag messages to the boat house tower and keep everybody informed concerning the progress of the race.

At 1:30 everybody will adjourn from the lake to Camp Randall and the Varsity courts, where the Interscholastic track meet will be held and the finals of the tennis tournament played. More than 500 athletes, nearly twice as many as attended the meet last year, will compete, and nearly 60 schools are represented.

The Venetian Night program will begin at 7 p. m., when the First Regimental band will entertain with a concert. Coach Schlatter's gym team will give the second annual demonstration drill on the lower campus early in the evening. A diving exhibition will take place from the Sigma Chi pier.

Orchestras Will Play

Orchestras on all piers will play before judges in competition for a cup which will be awarded the best combination. Fraternities owning piers are providing their own orchestras or are hiring them. To avoid confusion each group will have a specified time to play.

Myriads of flashing lights will glitter from a score of floats as they glide by the reviewing stand in the final event of the three-day festival. Lighting for the barges will be furnished by an electric generator place on a barge near the university boat house. An average of 30 lights will be allowed each float.

Banks and piers will be decorated in various color effects. Powerful spotlights will be played on a barge on which a program of water stunts will be given. The floats will be towed, and power for the lights furnished by the tow boat.

Engineers Make New Deck Arms

Click, Click, Bang, Ouch!

Did you ever let the arm of your lecture desk down, and raise it up carefully to catch and then have the pesky thing drop and hit you on the knee?

The reason so many of the desks act that way is because of faulty castings in the catch that chip off and finally break.

But thanks to the engineers of the machine shop, this difficulty will be overcome. Upperclass men in shop work have perfected a casting for the catches that will stand the strain and wear much better than cast iron. The new castings are brittle but very hard and consequently will not chip and break like ordinary cast iron. The patterns are made in the shop and sent to a Milwaukee firm which makes a specialty of such work for casting.

The shop men are constantly working on a number of such problems, according to Prof. W. L. Dabney, superintendent of the machine shop. "We are giving the advanced shop men an opportunity to work on problems while they are still in college," said Professor Dabney. "Such work gives the man a chance to find out whether he possesses initiative and ability to cope with problems which he will surely run up against after he gets out into the field."

Fifty-six Schools Furnish Athletes

schools which are sending representatives are South Division, Washington, Riverside, West Division, and North Division.

Class B schools which have men entered are Rice Lake, Oconomowoc, Spooner, Viroqua, Waupaca, Wauzeka, West Allis, Wilson, Wisconsin University high, Soldier's Grove, Rosendale, Rewey, Prairie du Chien, Oconto Falls, New Lisbon, Montecillo, Milton Union, Middleton, Lancaster, Lake Geneva, La Farge, Humbird, Horicon, Hillsboro, Edgar, Cuba City, and Cambridge.

The following schools will enter men in the tennis tournament: Lake Geneva, Milton Union, Milwaukee Riverside, Racine, Plainfield, Prairie du Chien, Richland Center, and Madison.

Great interest in the Interscholastic is being shown by the small schools of the state. Rewey and Soldier's Grove entering for the first time are institutions of only 67 students.

Grossman of Milwaukee East is another runner who has been a consistent winner in the mile this season.

The three most popular events in the track meet are the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the discus throw. The number of entries in these events respectively are 82, 81, and 80.

Wisconsin Avenges Its

when Barry drove a high fly which the left fielder dropped. Barry was caught trying to stretch his wallop into a triple.

Locke Misses Peg

Both teams went out in one, two, three order in the second. The Badgers eased two more counters across the rubber in the next session. With two dead, Ceaser gained a life on Locke's failure to catch a low peg. He pilfered second. Elliott watched four float by and walked. The two dented the plate after J. Williams had singled to right center. Barry ended it by whiffing.

Iowa got its first hit in the fourth. Frohwein led off with a one-base wallop which was of no avail because the next three men went out.

Iowa's Only Run

Smith, who had relieved Frohwein of his pitching duties in the second, went along effectively permitting only two hits until the sixth. In their half of the sixth, the Hawks counted the only run. Shimek hit to "Rollie" Williams. Frohwein and Hicks smashed liners too hot for Paddock to handle and the bases were clogged. Paddock lost control in the pinch and passed Michaelson, handing the Iowans their lone tally. Frohwein was forced at the plate on Locke's dinky hit to J. Williams. Paddock pitched superbly during the remainder of the inning and struck out both Smith and Draper with the bases full.

Barret Walks

Wisconsin tasted Smith's offerings in the sixth. After J. Williams had led off with a single and stolen second, Barry singled to score the first sacker. He took second in the play for Williams, went to third on Christianson's perfect sacrifice, and scored when Williams pestled a long double to the outfield. "Jack" was caught at third.

Barrett started the seventh with a walk. Hurlbut whiffed, and Barrett was forced at second by Voltmer's infield hit. Frohwein was credited with a hit which hit Voltmer in the leg and the Hawks' chances were killed.

Fill Bases

Four hits sent the Badgers far into the lead in this session. "Rollie" Williams and Ruediger singled. Ceaser was safe on a fielder's choice. The Iowan tried to catch Ruediger off second, then tried to get Williams between third and home. Both men got safely out of the trap and the bases were filled. Elliott doubled, scoring Williams and Ruediger, and Ceaser was put out at third on the throw-in. A double by J. Williams counted Elliott. He was also caught at the third hock. Barry grounded out.

Neither team scored in the last two frames although two men got on the runway in the ninth when Draper doubled and Paddock hit Hurlbut with a pitched ball.

Culver Crew Wins Race With Varsity

CULVER, Ind., May 20.—The Wisconsin Junior Varsity crew lost its first crew race of the season to Culver Military academy here today. At the finish, the academy eight was one-quarter length in the lead. The time was five minutes, 4 3-5 seconds.

The Badgers took the lead at the start, but Culver drew up at the end of the first quarter-mile and took a slight lead, which it maintained to the finish. A brisk roadside breeze was blowing.

MAJOR LEAGUE SCOUTS AFTER PILOT AND SHORTSTOP OF FLORIDA TEAM

Two members of the St. Petersburg club in the Florida State league are drawing the attention of big league scouts by their great playing, and fans predict the two will go up before the season is much farther along. The pair in the limelight are Manager and Catcher George Block and Shortstop Eddie Moore. Block's biggest asset is his batting. Moore's sensational fielding is his strong point, although he hits well. Bob Gilks, veteran Yankee scout, says that Moore reminds him of Dave Bancroft.

L. & S. Track Squad Takes College Meet

By capturing firsts in six events and seconds in five events, the victorious Letters and Science track team piled up a score of 44 points in the annual inter-college meet at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon.

The Engineers, runners up in the contest, finished just 11 points behind the victors; Agrics took third with a total of 27 counters; and the Commerce squad were fourth with a score of 22 points.

Schneider, speedy Engineer runner, was the highest individual point winner of the meet. His firsts in the 220-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles, with a second in the 120-yard high sticks, netted him 18 markers. Yaudes, a Commerce weight thrower, was a close second to Schneider in the scoring column; Yaudes won the javelin, tied for first in the discuss, and placed second in the shot-put for the sum of 12 points.

In the shot-put Van Ells made a heave of 41 feet 6 inches; the L. and S. performer looks like a worthy successor to Guy Sundt, varsity shot-put star. Both the mile and two mile runs went in the fastest time made this year in non-fraternity meets; the two mile run was a thrilling race between Perry, Agrics, and Trier, Engineers, which Perry won in the fast time of 10 minutes 17 2-5 seconds; the mile was won in 4:40:1.

Land Tax is Advocated In Address Here

John White Urges Repeal Of Property Tax; Key To Progress

"The government can place the tax burden high enough to run manufacturers into bankruptcy," said John Z. White of Chicago, in the legislative reference library last night before the Capitol discussion group. "That has been happening frequently of late. This is because the price of an article cannot be definitely raised; after a certain point is reached the public stops buying and the company is unable to make a profit. The company then goes bankrupt.

"There should be a land tax. Property and improvement taxes hinder the progress of industry. If the government taxes a shoe manufacturer a dollar per pair of shoes, the manufacturer charges it up to the buyer; they cannot do otherwise."
