Number 10

The Alumni Board met at 10 A. M., June 21, at 821 State St., Madison. Members present were F. H. Clausen, '97, Pres., J. E. McConnell, '87, Vice-Pres., C. N. Brown, '81, Treas., J. S. Lord, '04,

Alumni Board Meeting Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '89, R. W. McMynn, '94, L. F. Van Hagan, '04, Dr. V. S. Falk, '11.

(Lillian Taylor, '05, recording secretary, was out of the city. S. W. Reid, '15, was detained en route from Oconomowoc). The annual report of the General Secretary was read. The report reviewed the increase in membership, the growth of the local clubs, the labors of the central headquarters; it mentioned the increase in the number of life members, pointed out that if this Life Membership Fund could be further increased that no immediate increase in annual dues would be required even though other alumni associations were in many instances now placing dues from $2.50 to $5.00 per year. The report also contained recommendations for closer contact between the central headquarters and the alumni clubs. The treasurer made a brief general report stating that a detailed report would be furnished at the meeting of the Alumni Council and at the annual business meeting. Matters requiring formal action were referred to the Alumni Council.

The meeting of the Alumni Council was called to order by President F. H. Clausen, '97, at 2:30 P. M., June 21, 1920, at Music Hall. Those responding to roll call were Ernest Warner, '89, C. F. Lamb, '80, Susan Sterling, '79, Katherine Allen, '87, Samuel Fallows, '59, Wm. Huntington, '70, R. R. Barlow, '17, Ruth Phillips, '04 (proxy for Florence Moffatt Bennett, '04, class secretary), Lelia Bascom, '02, F. H. Elwell, '08, A. J. Myrland, '90, delegate at large, F. C. Rogers, ex'85, Lillian Wall, '17, Colorado, Lillian Heald Kahlenberg, '93, Harriet O'Shea, '16, New York, E. D. Steinhagen, '11, Katherine Whitney, ex'17, St. Louis, Lulu Saul, '19, R. B. Dudgeon, '76, J. E. McConnell, '87, La Crosse, Imogene Hand Carpenter, '87, delegate at large and representative of Chicago alumnae, W. P. Powers, '60, Los Angeles, J. S. Lord, '04, A. C. Umbreit, '83, R. C. McKay, '15, Boston, Wm. A. Nevin, '17, Racine, Rose Schuster Taylor, '85, Sioux City, C. H. Williams, '93, B. W. Jones, '70, Madison, J. H. Gabriel, '97, Denver, and R. S. Crawford, '03.

The report of the treasurer which follows was read and approved. This report shows that the finances of the Association are in very good condition. There is something over $12,000 in invested funds. There has been substantial increase in Life memberships during the year.

In conformity with the requirements of the constitution a motion was unanimously carried that Ernest Warner, '89, Burr W. Jones, '70, and R. B. Dudgeon, '70, be chosen as the three trustees to act with the treasurer in handling the Permanent Endowment Fund.

Secretary Robert Crawford, '03, made his annual report, reviewing the progress the Alumni Association has made during the past year and suggesting necessary and desirable undertakings for the future. This report shows that the Wisconsin Alumni Association is now relatively the largest alumni organization of any state university compared with the number of graduates, and that we now have a membership of 5,500, an increase of nearly 1,000 over last year. Financially, however, the associations of Michigan and Minnesota are much stronger than Wisconsin. Michigan and Minnesota each have life membership funds of over $30,000. Many associations have felt it necessary to increase alumni dues. The secretary reported that no immediate increase of annual dues in the Wisconsin organization seemed necessary, that the Life Membership list was steadily increasing, and that the Alumni Board was unanimous in feeling that class officers and officers of local clubs could do much toward further increasing the Life Membership list. The Alumni Council was also informed that the Athletic Council had, with the approval of the medical authorities, recommended the reinstating of intercollegiate rowing at Wisconsin. Suggestions for increasing the scope of the official publication, the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, and of making it cover broader fields were solicited by the secretary. The increasing expenses of printing and the absolute limitation on the supply of paper were also explained.

The motion that as a body the Alumni Council make its annual complaint about the directory, urging the Regents to publish with all possible speed the directory for which copy was furnished last February was unanimously carried.

The motion was carried that a $15,000 bond be secured for the treasurer.

W. A. Foster, '15, was unanimously re-elected as a member of the Board of Visitors.

The following resolution on the question of intercollegiate rowing, which had been adopted by the U. W. club of New York on June 11, was on motion of Harriet O'Shea, representative of the New York club, accepted for publication with the minutes of this meeting:

We, the Athletic Committee of the University of Wisconsin Alumni of the City of New York, do hereby petition the Board of Regents to re-establish rowing as a major sport at the University of Wisconsin, and urge that immediate steps be taken to insure Wisconsin's representation in the Eastern Inter-collegiate Regatta next year. In making this request, we beg to call attention to the fact that the main reason assigned at the time the sport was withdrawn, i. e., the length of the race and the evil effects ascribed thereto by the medical staff of the university—has been annulled by the action of the Intercollegiate rowing association who have prescribed a two-mile race for this year. We also believe that the action of the stewards in transferring the race from Poughkeepsie to Ithaca will make for conditions which will not prove as disadvantageous to Wisconsin as the Hudson River course and we believe that the financial burden will also be lessened by that action. At the same time we urge that if possible steps be taken to insure the University of Wisconsin membership in the Intercollegiate Rowing body.

(Signed)

W. D. RICHARDSON, ex'10, W. D. HARVEY, '16.

The motion that it be the earnest request of the Alumni Council to the Regents that some arrangements be made whereby at least one visitor be sent from the Regents, the Faculty, the Board of Visitors or an official of the Alumni Association to each of the local U. W. Clubs through the United States each year was unanimously carried. In connection with this motion J. H. Gabriel, '97, of Denver said "We who are far away look back with much interest to know what is going on. We are not able to be back as often as we like and I know of nothing that gives as much real interest to the alumni and that instills into them the real necessity of cooperation with the Association than does a visit once a year or oftener by some member of the Board of Regents, the Board of Visitors, the Faculty, or an official of the Alumni Association."

On motion of F. H. Elwell, '08, it was unanimously agreed that hereafter expenses of the Alumni Board members connected with the handling of the affairs of the Association should be defrayed by the Alumni Association.

The meeting adjourned at 3:30 P. M.

The annual business meeting of the Alumni Association was called to order by President F. H. Clausen, '97, at 10:30 A. M. June 22, at Music Hall. The annual report of President Clausen stated:

Annual Business Meeting

"When my term of office expires in November it will be a source of satisfaction that the financial affairs of the Association are in first class condition and that there has been during the past two years a remarkable increase in the number of members of the Wisconsin Alumni Association. There is no personal credit to be given except to the officers who have had this matter in charge, particularly the secretary, the treasurer, and the members of the membership committee.

"We have started on the road to great accomplishments of which the Memorial Union Building is one great project. It is a rule of a meeting of this kind that no subscriptions shall be solicited but every one should try to put over this great memorial project. The project is going forward and will continue to go forward successfully. To date the subscriptions amount to about a quarter of a million dollars. The one beautiful thing about the drive is that the students have come across almost 100 per cent. The campaign is through county organizations. It is the purpose of the committee having this matter in charge to send representatives to the different counties to promote the campaign and we hope by another year we can report a successful conclusion.

"It was voted at the Alumni Council meeting that the treasurer give bonds for $15,000. We also elected at that meeting a Board of Trustees, all residents of Madison, to supervise the Endowment Fund.

"The membership in the General Alumni Association has increased to over 5,500 which is the largest membership of any state university alumni association in the country compared to the number of graduates. Michigan leads us in actual numbers, but Michigan is an older institution with a larger number of graduates. It is our hope to get a larger per cent next year with our membership committee working with us.

"On account of the greatly increased cost of paper and printing we will continue the MAGAZINE on the average of about a 48-page publication. It has been suggested that the MAGAZINE can be made more attractive and readable if class notes were more numerous. Your co-operation is asked. We trust you will send in notices of personal interest so that this part of the MAGAZINE can be maintained and be made more interesting to the members of the Association. It is the hope of the Association that the number of local clubs may continue to increase and that the membership in each will grow. Occasionally the central headquarters has been asked to decide whether local clubs should be composed of ladies and gentlemen together or separate. This is a question for each locality to determine. The Alumni Board will, however, undertake within a short time to formulate an outline to assist the organization of new local clubs. Announcements of this matter will appear in the MAGAZINE and we trust eventually copy can be obtained by addressing the General Secretary.

"There is a reunion this year of the old members of the Band and they have promised to favor us with music at the parade this afternoon. We will march to the lower campus for a ball game between Illinois and Wisconsin. Bleachers will be erected and we expect a full attendance. The band will also be ready to give us a concert after the ball game."

The motion that the secretary cast the ballot for the re-election of Robert McMynn, '94, Victor Falk, '11, and Stuart Reid, '15, whose terms expire as members of the Alumni Board was unanimously carried.

Bishop Samuel Fallows, '59, addressed the meeting.

After this inspiring talk by our youngest oldest alumnus there was a short recess after which the special exercises prepared by the Committee on Public Functions in honor of Dr. Bascom were held.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

The Library School

Wednesday, June 16th, 8 P. M.

The commencement exercises for the fourteenth class of the Library School were held in the lecture room of the City Library Building, on Carroll St. The address was given by George Clarke Sellery, Dean of the College of Letters and Science. His subject was Books and Life. An informal reception followed the address.

Commencement Concert

Friday, June 18th, 8 P. M.

The annual commencement concert of the School of Music was given in Music Hall. The program was rendered by students of the school.

Baccalaureate Exercises

Sunday, June 20th, 4 P. M.

Speaking on "The State University at the Opening of the Twentieth Century," President E. A. Birge, of the University of Wisconsin, in the annual baccalaureate address, pointed out that 1918 begins a new century for state universities and that their growth and purposes are now developing in many new directions. He said in part:

"The state university, standing at the head of the public schools, has come to express the higher life of the people in a sense that no other institution expresses it. Out of that relation, felt equally by university and state, there has developed a new consciousness on both sides. On the side of the state there has arisen a sense of possession—a feeling of pride in an institution which gives visible expression to that which is best in the state. On the side of the university there has developed not only a new and higher sense of duty toward the state, but also on its part a new sense of pride in its position as embodying and as inspiring the higher life of a great people.

"This conscious relation between state and university is immensely stronger today than ever before. Nation and state have alike emerged from the war with a keener sense of their personality."

Class Day Exercises

Monday, June 21st, 3 P. M.

On Muir Knoll. Program: Address of Welcome, Fred M. Bickel, President of the Class; Class History, H. Kenneth Harley and Phyllis B. Hamilton;

THE CLASS PLAY

Photoart

Class Day Oration, Joseph B. Beach; Farewell to Underclassmen, Harlow H. Pease; Junior Response, Lothrop F. Follett; Class Prophecy, C. Harold Ray and Dorcas J. Hall; Presentation of Memorial, James M. Lindsey; Acceptance by the Faculty, Dean Frederick W. Roe. The Ivy Ceremony immediately followed the above program. Ivy Oration, Lawrence W. Hall; Ivy Ode, Janet Durrie; Planter of the Ivy, Anthony G. Zulfer.

The Class Play, 8:15 P. M.

At the Open Air Theatre, the senior class play, The Jesters, by Miguel Zamacois, was presented by members of the class.

Pipe of Peace Ceremony, 11:30 P. M.

Special preparations had been made to hold this ceremony on the lower campus. Leonard Erickson, '20, was to have delivered the Pipe of Peace Oration and Clyde Emery, '21, was to have made the Junior Acceptance. Senior girls had prepared an Indian dance in appropriate costume, but rain so interfered that the plans had to be given up.

Alumni Day

Tuesday, June 22nd, 10 A. M.

In Music Hall. Business meeting of the Alumni Association.

Exercises in Honor of Dr. Bascom, 10:45 A. M.

The renaming and dedication of University hall as "Bascom Hall" was the occasion for alumni exercises at Music Hall and for dedicatory exercises at the Lincoln Terrace. The alumni exercises, which preceded the dedication ceremony, honored the memory of Dr. John Bascom, who was president of the University from 1874 to 1887.

The various alumni who knew him and who spoke were: Burr W. Jones, '70, Madison, on "The Advent of John Bascom"; Mrs. Fannie West Williams, '75, Milwaukee, on "John Bascom as I Knew Him"; Mrs. Josephine Sarles Simpson, '83, Minneapolis, on "John Bascom and Co-education"; and Andrew A. Bruce, '90, of the University of Minnesota, on "Tragic Days and the Bascom Tradition." Miss Marjorie Lacy, '20, played a piano solo, and Reuben Brown, '19, rendered a vocal selection.

After the close of the exercises Dr. Florence Bascom, '82, gave a short talk in recognition of the honor which was paid her father and spoke briefly on his life at Wisconsin.

Bishop Samuel Fallows, '59, delivered the invocation at the dedication of Bascom Hall. President Birge spoke and Dr. Charles H. Vilas, '65, president of the Regents, made the formal dedication.

Buffet Luncheon, 12:30 to 1:30 P. M.

In Lathrop Hall. The alumni remained on the campus for lunch so as to be on hand to take part in the Parade.

Alumni Parade, 1:30 P. M.

Alumni Baseball Game, 2:30 P. M.

On the lower campus, between Illinois and Wisconsin. Illinois won. Score 4 to 2.

Alumni Dinner, 6 P. M.

In Armory Hall. Guests assembled at the Gym Annex for the procession by classes, headed by the President and Regents, distinguished guests, and members of the Faculty.

Frederick H. Clausen, '97, President of the Alumni Association, presided as toastmaster. President Birge spoke of the University's aspirations and needs; Dean Sellery represented the faculty; Regent W. J. Kohler urged support of the Memorial Union Building; Jessie M. Shepherd, '95, extended praise to the University; Dr. W. E. Huntington, '70, made some very pleasing impromptu statements. Caroline Oestreich, '23, sang a couple of solos and the Brown brothers—Earl, '20 and Reuben, '19, sang duets. The University Band Orchestra furnished instrumental music and played while the assemblage sang college songs. Lawrence Hall, '20, was cheer leader. The reunion classes were present in force and were given carte blanche for their stunts. Nearly 1000 attended.

Informal Reception, 9 P. M.

At the President's house. After the Alumni Dinner, which concluded shortly before 9 o'clock, President and Miss Birge received the alumni and their friends in their home. Many of the alumni took this opportunity to pay their respects to the new President.

Alumni Ball (Informal) 10:15 P. M. to 1:00 A. M.

In Lathrop Hall. Music was furnished by University Band orchestra. Several hundred who attended praised the music and spoke otherwise of the condition of the floor. (See 1910 reunion notes for other details.)

Commencement Day

Wednesday, June 23rd, 8:30 A. M.

The members of the graduating class gathered at the Lincoln Monument at 8:30, when the class panoramic photograph was taken. (See 1920 class picture.)

The University Procession

Candidates for degrees and other participants in the procession met on the Upper Campus at 8:45 A. M.

The largest class in the history of the institution was graduated. Nine hundred and sixty-nine degrees and diplomas of various grades were conferred. With the 202 degrees, diplomas and certificates that have been conferred during the year since last June, the total number of graduates for the year is 1,171.

The graduating class of 969 breaks the record set by the 946 graduates in 1917 and far exceeds the 606 graduated last June. The largest total number of degrees granted during any previous year was 1,105 during the year 1916-17.

Of the 1,171 degrees, diplomas, and certificates granted on June 23, and during the year, 905 were bachelor or other first degrees, 164 were master or other second degrees, 35 were doctor's degrees, 5 were honorary degrees, and 62 were short course certificates.

Some 483 women were included among the 1,171 graduates; 62 of those who received higher degrees were women.

The 1,171 degrees, diplomas, and certificates granted on June 23, and during the year were as follows:

The College of Letters and Science conferred 611 degrees, including 328 women, as follows: bachelor of arts, 364, including 266 women; B. A. (Commerce), 103, including 6 women; B. A. (Journalism), 28, including 15 women; Ph. B. (Normal), 27, including 16 women; Ph. B. (General), 7, including 2 women; bachelor of science (Chemistry), 29, including 4 women; B. S. (Physical Education), 1 woman; B. S. (Pharmacy), 3, including 1 woman; graduate in pharmacy, 5; B. S. (Medical), 27, including 1 woman; bachelor of music, 10 women; graduate music supervisors, 7, including 6 women.

The College of Engineering conferred 79 degrees, as follows: bachelor of science (Civil Engineering), 23; B. S. (Mechanical), 21; B. S. (Electrical), 15; B. S. (Chemical), 13; B. S. (Mining), 7.

The College of Agriculture conferred 135 degrees, including 63 women, as follows: B. S. (Agriculture), 66, including 4 women; B. S. (Home Economics), 56 women; graduate in agriculture, 11, including 1 woman; graduate in home economics, 2 women. During the last year, the college has granted certificates to 50 graduates of the short course in agriculture and to 12 graduates of the short dairy course.

The Law School conferred 45 diplomas, as follows: bachelor of laws, 26; certificates, 19, to students who have completed the law course and who will receive the LL.B degree upon completion of office apprenticeship.

The Library School conferred 35 certificates of graduation, to 30 women and 5 men.

The Graduate School conferred 199 degrees, including 62 women, as follows: master of arts, 106, including 46 women; master of science, 50, including 11 women; master of philosophy, 4; electrical engineer, 2; chemical engineer, 2; doctor of philosophy, 35, including 5 women.

Three honorary degrees of doctor of laws and one honorary doctor of science were conferred at the commencement exercises. One honorary doctor of science degree was conferred during the year.

University teachers' certificates were granted to 68 graduates, included above, and of these 64 were women.

Under the new system of honors for general scholarship, inaugurated last year at the University, high honors were awarded at commencement to 17 of the 969 members of the graduating class, and honors were awarded to 90. Women students captured 5 of the high honors and 46 of the honors.

High honors were awarded to those who made an average grade of about 91 in all their studies, and honors to those who averaged about 87. Honors for graduating theses were awarded to 19 students, of whom 6 were women.

Four honorary degrees were conferred by the University at its annual Commencement exercises. The honorary doctor of laws was conferred upon John Barber Parkinson, vice-president and professor emeritus of the University, upon Magnus Swenson, chairman of the state council of defense and federal food administrator for Wisconsin during the war and chief of mission to Northern Europe for American Relief Commission, and upon Alonzo Englebert Taylor, professor of physiological chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania. The honorary doctor of science was conferred upon Joel Stebbins, professor of astronomy in the University of Illinois.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together, and you'll work together."

BOZEMAN

AT a meeting of the Wisconsin alumni in Bozeman, Montana, the following resolutions were unanimously passed relative to the erection of the proposed Union Building:

1. That we most heartily favor the project.
2. That, in our opinion, the major portion of the funds should be collected from the alumni who have become established in their various walks of life.
3. That the administration of said building should be under the direction of the University authorities, the active manager to be a man of mature judgment. We suggest a man of the general make-up of Dad Morgan.—Signed—H. E. Morris, '17, Chairman, W. D. Powell, '14, D. B. Swingle, '00, E. C. Kading, '16, R. B. Lewis, '17, E. L. Grant, '17.

CHICAGO

By C. L. BYRON, '09

During the past month we have had no special talks at our regular weekly meetings but have enjoyed some very pleasant noon hours around the luncheon table.

For the next two months our weekly luncheons will be in the third floor dining room of the Chicago City Club instead of in our fifth floor club room.

We expect all Wisconsinites to lunch with us any Friday they may be in or passing through Chicago. We look forward to seeing you.

SIoux CITY

By ETHEL ROSE TAYLOR, '10

Twenty graduates and former students, husbands, wives, and children, members of the Sioux City U. W. Club, picnicked Saturday, June 12, at the Heizer Farm, Perry Creek Road, Sioux City. The occasion was one of great jollification and hearty renewing of the good old Wisconsin spirit. William Klinger, '10, talked splendidly after finishing his pie a la mode and ended by persuading everyone to write his nickname on a baggage tag. The names were all used generously in the sports that followed with Richard Zwemer, '16, and Wilbur Derthick, '10, in charge, keeping balls rolling figuratively and literally. All sorts of contests were held, winners, losers, and on-lookers all receiving pop prizes with each event's conclusion. There was singing too, and enthusiastic planning for lunches and picnics in the immediate future. Among those present were Louise Ludlum, '19, Marian Davis, '18, Mrs. H. M. Merrill (Ella Mosel) '11, Helen Parmalee, Mrs. W. M. Derthick (Cora Colbert) ex'16, Mrs. H. J. Taylor (Rose Schuster) '85, Ethel Rose Taylor, '10, W. A. Klinger, '10, R. A. Zwemer, ex'16, W. M. Derthick, ex'10, Verne Bonesteel, '12, and O. B. Cade, '06.

THE BAND REUNION

By PROF. P. W. DYKEMA

(By courtesy Wisconsin State Journal)

ONE of the most unique reunions held during commencement week was that of university band men. Here were gathered between sixty and seventy veterans of concerts, football rallies, championship games, transcontinental trips, and other interesting events which fall to the lot of that essential student organization.

Hither had come A. B. Rowley, '15, from Tulsa, Okla. Once more his lips were to pucker about the elusive mouthpiece of the French horn which in the old days he had played with rare skill and which still responds readily to his magic wind pressure.

Here was Harry Roethe, '15, who had left the Bureau of Chemistry at Washington, to take up his clarinet for a day or two at his old chair. R. Vander Bie, ex'19, had dropped his medical work at Philadelphia to roll again the tympani. That man playing the trumpet was R. E. Hewitt, Rapid City, S. D., while beside him was Wendell E. Dunn, '16, from Blunt, S. D. From the same state had come V. Bonesteel, '12, trombone, Arnold Meeham, and John Rydjord, clarinet.

The man, however, who had set the pace for long distance traveling was G. E. Eaglesfield, '15, the Sousaphone player, who had traveled all the way from Douglas, Ariz. He was surrounded by many of the men from Illinois, Wisconsin and neighboring states.

The center of attraction, however, was formed by the two men who as director and business manager had most to do with the trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition, Charles A. Mann, '09, now at the University of Minnesota, and Jesse E. Saugstad, now with the Oriental Navigation Company of New York.

Mr. Mann has long been known as the father of the organization, but the reunion showed that there was now a necessity of recognizing even earlier members in Ernest M. Warner, '89, Madison, and Dr. S. D. Beebe, ex-'93, Sparta, who were in the organizations at the beginning in the eighties.

As was to be expected, much time was given at the Monday evening banquet to the retelling of experiences. Naturally that famous 1915 trip into the West received much attention.

But aside from the fun and chaff which makes up a large share of every reunion there was much of seriousness. These band men believe that the band has been a big factor in making them better workmen and that it is essential to do everything possible to continue this force for building up university spirit and turning out enthusiastic university men. These university men feel that band work has been good for them, and of course it should be continued in the university, but they want it made widespread in the high schools and even in the grade schools of the country.

A permanent organization has been effected to publish The Band Echo at regular intervals and to stand behind efforts to keep the University organization at the high standard which it has attained. The members will keep the band director informed of good material in the way of men and music in much the same way that football enthusiasts keep in touch with the head coach of the University. The officers of the new band association are President, Ernest M. Warner, '89, and secretary, Louis Watzke, '17, both of Madison. They will serve to establish connections between the former men and the new band leader, Prof. E. W. Murphy.

These men not only talked together, but they did that which is the main bond of union and fellowship—they played together. The rehearsals for that concert on Tuesday were not as long or as strenuous as they were in the days when they were preparing Thomas Raymond overture, Luigini's Egyptian Ballet, Halvorsen's March of the Boyards, selections from Tannhauser and Aida, but they were filled with the same spirit of concentration and devotion. What else could be expected? Here were the same who had gone through those fine concert numbers and here were the same leaders—Yates, Saugstad and Mann, '09. "Charley"—for in spite of his doctor's degree and professor's rank, that is what he is all of the players—entered into the work with the zip and rigor which he displayed at those Tuesday and Friday rehearsals of the first band in old Music Hall. Almost unconsciously when they approached the second ending, out would come a shrill whistle and up would go the two fingers showing that it had been played well enough so that the repetition could be omitted. And at the end of each selection there was always that mingling of an encouraging word and a suggestion as to how to make it better the next time, which endeared the leader to his men.

You don't have to ask these band men whether they believe music is worth while. You don't have to ask them whether they would be in the band again if they had another chance. You don't have to ask them whether they believe every man who has chance ought to be in a band. All you need is to be around with them five minutes and you will feel an emphatic "Yes" radiating from them.

REPORT TO THE MEMORIAL BUILDING COMMITTEE

(Submitted on May 25)

By H. L. ASHWORTH, Executive Secretary

TOTAL subscriptions to the fund have passed the quarter million mark. The pledges covering the first quarter of the $1,000,000 needed came from a comparatively small per cent of graduates and former students. Nearly $100,000 of the amount was raised among students at the University and members of the faculty.

The best record so far has been made by Sheboygan County, where the committee has already exceeded its quota by more than 50%. There are approximately 108 graduates and former students residing in Sheboygan County. The quota assigned was $9,000, which was considerably higher in proportion than that assigned to most of the other counties in the State. To date Sheboygan County has sent in pledges for a total of $14,061. Marie Kohler, '01, is chairman. The Sheboygan committee extended its solicitation among the large industrial and mercantile institutions of the county with good success.

The initial drive in Milwaukee netted pledges for $50,000 and the county is now planning to complete its campaign. It is hoped that the total will be doubled when the final report is made.

The campaign now under way in Madison and Dane County, outside of the University, is in charge of Miles Riley, '09.

The Chicago committee, which is working on a quota of $80,000 has so far reported pledges for approximately $16,000.

Washington, D. C. has sent in about $4,000 and is continuing the work. B. H. Meyer, '94, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is chairman of that committee.

Pledges for something over $7,000 have so far been received by mail from scattered graduates and former students. Approximately 3,500 graduates and former students are being appealed to by letter from the committee's headquarters, 600 University Building, Milwaukee.

Other counties in the State have made partial reports as follows:

Dodge, $500; Dunn, $117; Juneau, $100; La Crosse, $1,905; Lincoln, $700; Monroe, $328; Oneida, $149; Racine, $3,125; Shawano, $734; Waupaca, $180; Winnebago, $2,256, and Wood $45.

Some counties have not yet been heard from at all. A number of chairmen have been forced by local conditions to postpone their drives and the work is under way at the present time in many of these counties.

The executive committee has decided to organize a sort of flying squadron, consisting of U. W. men, which will visit most of the larger cities in the State during the summer months to assist in putting over the campaign. This work will be carried out first in the larger industrial cities where there are possibilities of obtaining support from industrial and mercantile concerns. It is probable that several University students who have aided in the successful drive at the University will assist in this work during the vacation period.

To date practically nothing has been accomplished on the Pacific Coast, although those in charge of the work in California, Washington, and Oregon have assured the committee that the campaign would go forward at an early date. Other large cities with good Wisconsin representation which have delayed their campaigns are New York, Detroit, St. Paul, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Baltimore.

Akron, Ohio, with Walter H. Juve, '13, as chairman, and Buffalo, N. Y., with Homer W. Hillyer, '82, as chairman, are the only cities outside the State which have so far over-subscribed their quotas.

Morris B. Mitchell, '12, chairman of the campaign in Minneapolis, has proved one of the committee's valuable workers. Mr. Mitchell has already sent in pledges totaling $2,362. Other outside cities which have been doing good work in connection with the campaign are: Birmingham, Alabama; Aurora, Ill; Gary, Indiana; Dubuque, Iowa; Louisville, Kentucky; Boston, Mass.; St. Louis, Mo.; Lincoln, Nebraska; Omaha, Nebraska; Syracuse, N. Y.; Grand Forks, N. D.; Dayton, Ohio; Bartlesville, Okla.; Tulsa, Okla.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Dallas, Texas, and the State of Colorado, which is being handled under the direction of one committee.

The report of the work to date convinced members of the executive committee that the campaign can be successfully carried out and it was unanimously decided to continue the work more actively than ever. In communities where an organized effort has been made the responses have come willingly and good results have been obtained. The great difficulty has been to get those in charge of the work to give it sufficient time and effort.

The campaign to date has demonstrated conclusively that the great majority of the graduates and former students of the University of Wisconsin are willing to support the memorial project, provided the matter is presented to them in the right way. If every Wisconsin man and woman will give according to his or her means, the $1,000,000 required to make the memorial Union a reality will be pledged within the next few months.

BOOK NOTES

Digest of the Decisions of the Supreme Court of Washington, with Annotations, Citations and Table of Cases, compiled by Arthur Remington, Law '87 (Bancroft-Whitney Company, San Francisco, 1919). This Digest, in four handsome octavo volumes, has recently been presented to the Law Library of the University, by the compiler, an attorney of Tacoma. As reporter of the Supreme Court of Washington, Mr. Remington digested the entire set of Washington Reports, and the Digest is the natural outcome of his official labors. It is a one man Digest, and exhibits much more ability and conscientiousness than is usually found in works of this character. The Digest has been adopted as a text-book, or model, by many of the leading law schools.

Lucilius and Horace, a Study in the Classical Theory of Imitation, by Prof. G. C. Fiske, of the Department of Latin, is soon to be published by the University of Wisconsin as the seventh scholarly paper in the language and literature series of the Wisconsin Studies. The dissertation attempts to define concretely the nature of Horace's imitation of Lucilius, to show that Horace is at once an imitator, as defined by the classical theory of imitation, and yet a profoundly original poet, expressing his own theories and the ideals of his age.

The Makers of America, a civic ritual (Bulletin 1050 of the Extension Service) by Miss F. Louise Nardin, Dean of Women at Wisconsin, is being used by several cities throughout the state as part of a citizenship ceremonial. Its purpose is to provide a means by which the principles of Americanism may be crystallized and presented to the American public through dramatic representation and public celebration. The ritual is for use on any national holiday.

Parent-Teacher Associations (Bulletin 1030 of the Extension Service) by Edith E. Hoyt, '09, contains many valuable suggestions for the organization of associations and plans under which to work.

FIRST ADMISSION OF WOMEN

Praise to Alma Mater

Varsity! Varsity! Thou too hast wide-spreading branches, thy roots know deep waters,

*And each year thou dost fling thy young progeny far from each bough!
More and more liberal thy gifts, Mother of sons and of daughters!*

Praise to thee, Alma Mater! Grow thou evermore strong as now!—By ANNIE E. CHAMBERLAIN.

In the spring of 1863 women were admitted for the first time to the Normal Department of the University.

The fact that the Civil War had withdrawn most of the able-bodied young men from the University probably hastened somewhat the admission of women, for while there was opposition to the move, there was also necessity of enrolling a sufficient number of students to keep members of the faculty employed. In 1865 the Normal Department held separate graduating exercises, as today the School of Music and the Library School hold separate exercises. Six of the young women who entered this special Normal Department in the spring of 1863 completed the work by 1865. Four are living; two, Annie Chamberlain and I attended commencement this year.

ATHLETICS

By L. E. MEYER, '20

Rowing

ROWING is to be re-established as an intercollegiate sport during the coming school year. The Athletic Council has recommended the reinstatement of crew competition, with the full approval of the Medical Department, and at the present time the matter is before the faculty awaiting final action.

This picturesque sport of red-blooded men has been absent from the roll of major sports at Wisconsin since 1915, when the Athletic Department was forbidden to enter a crew on the Hudson or in any other intercollegiate competition. The shortening of the official course at the Poughkeepsie regatta has overcome the objection which was fatal to crew racing at Wisconsin.

The approval of the medical authorities does not extend to intercollegiate competition for freshman crews. It was thought advisable to continue the ban on the yearling crew, but this will merely serve to put rowing on the same basis with other major sports, by denying freshman the right to outside competition.

Since the close of the world war, and particularly since the Poughkeepsie regatta, when the course was reduced from the former strenuous four-mile distance, the agitation to reestablish intercollegiate rowing has steadily gained momentum. It was fostered by old crew men and alumni in general, and although a generation of students has gone through the University since rowing was abolished, tradition has made the student body just as anxious for the sport.

"Dad" Vail, the veteran oarsman who coaches the Wisconsin crews, is authority for the prediction that Wisconsin will be able to put a respectable crew on the water next spring. He made the following statement before the Athletic Council:

"There has never been a time since the discontinuance of rowing, when we were in better shape to take up the work. The agitation of the subject has created an unusual interest in the sport and the crews this year have been made up of men of exceptional physique. I have watched them closely, and in my judgment, their physical condition at the end of the season is in itself a justification of the sport.

U. W. CREW ON THE HUDSON

"We have the equipment, and I can safely say that I could put four crews on the water that would be a credit to themselves and to their school.

"It is my earnest hope that your committee will see fit to furnish the opportunity for the men of Wisconsin to engage in this sport, which I have followed all my life, both as a participant and a coach of racing crews, and which I consider one of the finest, cleanest sports known to college life, as well as a wonderful developer of character and physical condition."

A significant step in the campaign to reinstate the sport was a questionnaire sent out to crew men. Old oarsmen, many of whose names are linked inseparably with some of Wisconsin's dearest traditions, responded with letters literally begging that the ban be lifted and rowing reinstated to its rightful place at Wisconsin.

The first 100 of these questionnaires returned formed the basis of a recapitulation, the figures on which are interesting. The 100 men represented a total of 251 years, an average of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  years, of participation in rowing.

The question, "Has rowing affected your health unfavorably, especially your heart?" was answered negatively by 97 of the 100 men and the other three failed to note any results. Six of the 97 were practicing physicians.

Of the 100 oarsmen, 97 were examined for U. S. army service and not a single one rejected. Three were not examined, and did not enter service.

Not one of the 100 has been rejected for life insurance on account of a bad heart.

Every answer was a strong affirmative on the question of reestablishing rowing as a major sport.

With six exceptions, the answer was affirmative, on the question of having Wisconsin re-enter the eastern regatta.

On the final question, as to Wisconsin encouraging a mid-western regatta, the answer was unanimously in the affirmative.

Coaching Staff

The announcement that Dr. W. E. Meanwell is returning to the University of Wisconsin as basketball coach and medical advisor of all athletic teams is of interest to alumni, particularly those of the period from 1912 to 1917, when Wisconsin won four basketball championships in six years under this coach.

The resignation of Maurice Kent as baseball coach brought about an important readjustment in the coaching staff. Guy S. Lowman, who has coached basketball for three years, will act as head coach in baseball. Mr. Kent left Wisconsin to become basketball and baseball coach at Ames, Iowa.

Coach Meanwell handled basketball at Wisconsin for six years, and during that period four of the five conference championships which Wisconsin basketball teams brought home were negotiated under his direction. Mr. Lowman turned out a championship team his first year here, in 1918.

Dr. Meanwell has been at the University of Missouri as head of the department of physical education since leaving Wisconsin in 1917. One year during that period he did not coach on account of war service, but the other two years his basketball teams won championships in the Missouri valley conference.

Mr. Lowman is experienced in the handling of baseball teams, having coached baseball at the University of Indiana and at Wisconsin as well. He coached the varsity nine at Wisconsin during the war, and last spring presented a formidable freshman team. Next spring he will be as well acquainted with his material as though he had coached the varsity, for it is safe to predict that there will be an unusually large number of '23 numeral men playing on the team in 1921.

As far as coaching ability and experience in the Big Ten are concerned, the staff which Athletic Director T. E. Jones has gathered around him for next year should be second to none in the Western Conference. John Richards in football, George Bresnahan in cross country, "Doc" Meanwell in basketball, Guy Lowman in baseball, and "Tom" Jones in track, with "Dad"

Vail still here for rowing,—these men form a staff which means championship possibilities.

The only condition that can possibly keep Wisconsin from winning one or more championships, and being a serious contender in all branches of sport, is the ineligibility of the athletes. Since the close of the school year in June it has been rumored that many

"W" men are under the scholarship ban. Unless Wisconsin's athletes can remain scholastically eligible, the best coaching staff in the universe cannot bring home championships in the class of competition offered by the Big Ten.

Badgers in Olympics

The championship track teams of 1915 and 1916 may be represented at the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, later in the summer. Three members of the class of 1917, Arlie Mucks, Mead Burke, and Alfred Arlie Schardt, competed in the western try-outs at Chicago, as did several members of the 1920 varsity squad.

Mucks had no trouble in the shot-put, winning that event with a throw which was quite below his old-time tosses. In the discus throw he clearly demonstrated his lack of recent practice winning third in competition that was 20 feet or more under his conference record.

Schardt won second in the mile run, which was won by the famous Joie Ray. Burke won third in the 440-yard hurdles, the event which he won in the Penn relays in 1916. Captain A. Irving Andrews, '20, won third in the high hurdles.

Mucks and Schardt were picked for the final tryouts at Cambridge June 17. Schardt made the trip with the western team but Mucks was unable to leave his North Dakota farm, owing to inability to secure help, Mucks is eligible for the American Olympic team regardless of the eastern try-outs, if he can get away long enough to make the trip across the ocean.

Track Captain

Clyde L. Nash, '21, of Eau Claire, has been elected captain of the track team for the 1921 season. Nash is a half miler. He won his event in the dual meets against Illinois and Minnesota, won second against Chicago, and placed in the finals in the conference meet.

DEATHS

In the death of Chief Justice JOHN BRADLEY WINSLOW, '75, at his home, 131 Langdon St., Madison, on July 13, 1920, the University loses a great alumnus. He was a model judicial officer, an exceptionally able lawyer, an upright judge a devoted Christian, a splendid citizen—nationally known for his greatness and loved by all for his personality. Judge Winslow was born October 4, 1851 at Nunda, New York. He came to Racine in 1855, graduated from Racine College in 1871, studied law in Racine offices, and afterwards attended the University Law School, where he received the law degree in 1875 (in 1904 the University conferred the LL.D. degree upon him and Lawrence College gave him the degree in 1912). He practiced law in Racine where he was city attorney four years, was elected circuit judge for the first district in 1883, and in 1889 was reelected without opposition in a Republican community although he was a Democrat, gave a series of lectures to U. W. law students, was appointed Judge of the Supreme Court by Governor Peck in 1891, and became Chief Justice in 1907.

Justice Winslow served as president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, was one of the directors of the American Judiciary Society, served as President of the Wisconsin Bar Association, was a leader in loyalty who denounced acts of omission as well as commission, was a member of Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity, a life long Democrat, a devout member of the Episcopal church, an active member of the General Alumni Association.

During his almost three decades of continuous service on the supreme bench he participated in the decision of more than 10,000 cases. Many of these decisions have permanently effected vital problems of modern industrial conditions. As a scholarly writer and thinker he won such national recognition that the Review of Reviews in commenting on his masterly decision upholding the Workman's Compensation Act said, "The decision in addition to being a contribution to the social and economical literature of the day is a masterpiece of legal literature." Among his many lasting contributions to general and legal literature is his "The Story of a Great Court." Our great alumnus not only stated that the "practice of law is not a trade but a ministry" but he also consistently followed that high ideal.

Proud indeed may Alma Mater be of this distinguished son. Great is the sorrow throughout the nation, the State, and the community, and deep is the lasting grief among immediate relatives and intimate friends. Yet pride in a life so well lived and so usefully employed outweighs the burden of sorrow over the loss of so great and so good an ideal American.

Truly Justice Winslow was 'o his Alma Mater "The devoted son of a good mother"—one who realizes that "a devoted son best serves a good mother by living a high and good life, in the first place, and by remembering her in his strength and in her weakness."

In the affairs of the General Alumni Association Judge Winslow always performed active, helpful, willing, useful services. As he was known to practically every individual among our 5,500 members his lamented death brings individual personal sorrow to us all. Praise of and reverence for his great, useful, unselfish life will be heard from the lips of and dwell in the hearts of Wisconsin graduates for all time.

CLASSES

1859

By RT. REV. SAMUEL FALLOWS

As president and secretary of the class of 1859, composed of its one member, I may report that never was there a more enthusiastic and satisfactory commencement of the University of Wisconsin, in my memory of more than sixty years, than that of 1920.

What a wonderful sight it was to see the thousand graduates as they marched by the Regents and Faculty to receive their diplomas from the hand of the honored President of the University.

And afterwards! Such an alumni gathering for number and character was never before witnessed in the history of the institution.

Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows

Silver haired men and women, many of whom have won honor and fame throughout the land, were there to welcome with open hearts the younger alumni. They grasped by the hand the brave, youthful heroes who had gained immortal renown across the sea. And then the festal songs and choral responses!

There was a warm feeling of appreciation by all for the admirable management of the varied commencement functions by the tireless master of ceremonies, Professor Julius Olson. Praises were freely accorded him for his originality, versatility, surprises and efficiency.

There was but one opinion among the great body of the alumni, especially marked by those who had themselves been heads of colleges and universities, regarding the peculiar fitness of President Birge for his exalted position. It was very gratifying to learn of the same unanimity of feeling among the vast number of the under graduate students. It was recognized that many of the individual qualities which had inhered in his distinguished predecessors—of scholarship, profound knowledge of the natural sciences, acquaintance with human nature, tact in dealing with men, breadth of mind, firm discipline, directness in reaching the needed objective, were singularly united in him. I can offer renewed congratulations to the Regents for their wise and timely selection.

I feel sure that it was with a deeper love for our queenly Alma Mater, and with a firmer purpose "to carry on" her inspiring ideals in the unfolding activities which God may set before each one of us, that we said to each other good bye until the next reunion in her ever welcoming arms.

The Penalty of Graduating Fifty Years Too Soon

By W. P. POWERS, '60

The word "penalty" is suggestive of punishment, usually for some crime committed. It may also cover a denial of something desired, or as in this case a loss of opportunity.

That I lost much in the way of opportunities by reason of graduating in 1860, I realize when I look at the array of magnificent buildings that now adorn the campus and contrast them with the old "North Hall" which was the only one when I commenced, a youth not quite twelve years of age, in 1853. And when I think of the large number of professors and the various fields covered by them, and the technical, philosophical and chemical appliances now accessible to the student I fully appreciate the "penalty" due to my early graduation. And when I think of the athletics; the fraternities; the class yells; and best of all the dear co-eds; I did certainly miss a great deal, for we had none of these. The University was in its youth and so was I and a large part of the "penalty" was due to my immaturity as I was only seventeen years of age, when I received my degree of bachelor of arts. My post graduate course was taken at the front in the Civil War, where I received the second degree. With the University, as now equipped, there are certainly great opportunities for education compared with those that existed in my day, but candor compels me to say that meager as they were, I could have made better use of them than I did.

But, there is another way of looking at this question; had my graduation been deferred or fifty years, I would have been as much too old as I was too young and this could only have been averted by deferring my birth correspondingly and that would have entailed penalties that might have been even worse than the others. For I have been privileged to live through the grandest period that the world has ever seen; and if there is any virtue in signs, the grandest that it ever will see. I have been a witness to the wonderful development, not only of our Alma Mater but of the great West, from the days of my childhood in Wisconsin, where I was born, when the untutored savage was a common sight, when we led the simple life, where one man was as good as another (and sometimes better), when there were no millionaires, no labor troubles, no automobiles to take their toll of human life.

I have seen the building up of our cities, the development of the railroad, the telegraph and the telephone, all constituting a grand and glorious panorama of progress, which I would not willingly have missed. Then it was given to me to know that grand and dignified man "Chancellor" Lathrop, who was at the helm in those precarious days, when the State outside, could see in the University, only a "high school for Madison boys," and then Professor Sterling as acting chancellor, a man of sterling character, sometimes stern, but always just, and Butler, the "walking encyclopedia" as he was called, and Conover and Read and Dr. Carr who presided over the chemical laboratory in which I was greatly interested. It was indeed worth while to know these men who laid so well the foundations of this great institution in which we take so much pride today.

My graduation was just in time to enable me to take part in the Civil War, where two of our class of eight gave up their lives; Leander M. Comins and John E. Sutton. It was my good fortune to return and the memory of those years in the service of my country goes a long ways to offset any "penalties" of a premature graduation.

Had I been consulted as to the time of my advent into the world and had I been endowed with a vision of coming events, I question if I would have been justified in choosing a later date.

It has been a wonderful age in which to live and now in the evening of life, still actively at work, with health and vigor unimpaired, I am quite content with the role that has fallen to my lot. One of the compensations for having graduated "fifty years too soon" was found in attendance at the commencement exercises where my honored classmate John B. Parkinson and myself were given places among the "seats of the mighty" to which we, or at least I, could not have aspired coming from the class of 1910, fifty years later.

It is a long way from Los Angeles to Madison, but had there been no other recompense for the trip my wife and I would have felt well paid by the pleasure we experienced at the commencement of 1920.

It was an experience we shall hope to repeat some day.

By BURR W. JONES

The last commencement was the fiftieth anniversary of the class of 1870. In this class there were eleven graduates in the classical and eight in the scientific course.

Of the nineteen who graduated nine survive.

Clark A. Smith, for some years Judge of the Supreme Court of Kansas, and A. M. Rice, a clergyman residing in Massachusetts, were prevented from attending by ill health.

George Field and L. J. Rusk did not come to the reunion.

Ellen Chynoweth, now Mrs. Wm. P. Lyon, came from California with her husband, and as a matter of comparatively minor importance also took in the republican convention in Chicago. She was the first woman who graduated at the University who took a degree at the same time and place as the men.

Others who were present were Dr. Wm. E. Huntington of Boston, long President of Boston University, S. S. Gregory who has been President of the American Bar Association, Dr. W. F. Cobb of Northfield, Minnesota, and the resident alumnus, Burr W. Jones.

The five representatives of the class did not make as much noise as the classes of 1910 and 1915 but they gathered together with others of the older alumni and talked of days gone by when they and the University alike were young. The class was given full recognition in the commencement proceedings as Dr. Huntington responded to a toast at the alumni banquet and Mr. Jones delivered one of the addresses at the dedication of John Bascom Hall.

"Mr. Lyon and I enjoyed our visit to old U. W. with its pleasant memories of the long ago. We rejoiced to see so many old friends and to hear of the success that life had brought to them and to see how some had increased in size and number. I was fortunate in finding very many friends of past years as I attended the University many years as a student and was there several years as an instructor. Our class, '70, was loyal indeed as we came from the Atlantic and the Pacific to greet each other and to renew our asseverations that there never had been the equal of our class either before our day or since. It is with much of pride and pleasure that we note the wonderful growth of our Alma Mater and we trust that the great commonwealth of Wisconsin will sufficiently appreciate its position among the foremost universities of the world so that they will pursue such a wise and generous policy toward it as shall insure its continued expansion. In this way as in no other can Wisconsin gain fame in the nation and the world. Traditions are not always accurate and I found considerable inaccuracy mingled with U. W.'s early history. It is a matter of little importance and little general interest that I was the first woman to graduate with the men and to receive her diploma at the same time with them. The women who graduated before '70 held their exercises on the afternoon preceding the Wednesday morning of the regular commencement exercises. This custom was again reverted to with the classes following ours until '74. I am sure that we feel a deep sense of appreciation and of renewed loyalty for the hearty and honorable welcome which our Alma Mater accorded us on our fiftieth anniversary. It strengthened our ties to the University and will bring us back more frequently. Most sincerely, MRS. W. P. LYON (ELLEN CHYNOWETH)."

1875

By MRS. ALICE BAILY GORST

Notices were sent to all members of '75 whose addresses were obtainable by Mrs. Clara Moore Harper and Mrs. Alice Baily Gorst that it was planned to hold a class reunion on June 22, 1920, the 45th anniversary of their commencement. The members thus notified were informed that the ivy planted by the class in 1875 in front of the south wing of University Hall had died. This, the first ivy planted to adorn that building, had grown and spread in great beauty over the walls, but was probably injured by the fire that damaged the building. Members of '75 had attended to having it replaced and desiring to have the new ivy dedicated, this was made the central idea of the reunion program.

When Alumni Day came, five members of the class, originally thirty-one in number, appeared in response to the summons: W. G. CLOUGH, Portage, DR. J. W. FISHER, Milwaukee, P. F. STONE, Rockford, Ill., MRS. CLARA MOORE HARPER and MRS. ALICE BAILY GORST, both of Madison. Three children of the class were also present, CLIFFORD MILLS of Denver, Colo., son of the late JARED WARNER MILLS, MISS HESTER HARPER, daughter of CLARA MOORE HARPER, and MRS. PEARL CLOUGH REYNOLDS, daughter of W. G. Clough, all graduates of the U. W.

The class attended the memorial services for Dr. Bascom in Music Hall and the ceremony of renaming University Hall in honor of President Bascom, who meant so much in the history of the University and who presented the diplomas to our class.

Then followed the dedication of our new ivy in a beautiful address by W. G. Clough, our first honor man in '75. As we stood there in the glorious light of that perfect June day beside the walls which enclosed the rooms where we had so happily gathered as a class of enthusiastic young men and women, each of us was mentally recalling the members as they were in 1875—thinking of those who have vanished from earth—and of those still alive but absent from us, and of the great changes on the University grounds, but seeing still the same wonderful slope of green with its border of noble trees extending as it did in 1875 from University Hall down the long distance to the street in its matchless beauty, and the gleam of Mendota's waters just as radiant as when in college days it lured us to wander along its shores or adventure on its surface.

At the close of the ivy service the members of '75 present were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Pearl Clough Reynolds at the Madison Club and this was the real heart of the reunion. Letters from those who replied to the invitation were read; class jokes, fun and troubles were lived over, tender reminiscences of classmates who have left this world were indulged in, and the earnest wish expressed that every one living in 1925 may be here to celebrate our semi-centennial.

In her letter Carrie Barber Chandler asked us to "greet each classmate and tell them Carrie Barber sends remembrance—a hail and farewell for the rest of the journey," but we hope we may all greet her face to face in 1925.

Again we assembled at the alumni dinner, and favored the multitude with our class yell—

"Seventy-five! Seventy-five!

"Here we are! Much alive!"

Percy Stone was accompanied by his lovely wife, but not by his three daughters and grandchildren, and is as jolly as in the college days.

Mrs. Clara Moore Harper was elected class secretary.

It was decided that all shall begin now to plan for the reunion in 1925 and do all in our power to have every living member present at that time.

IVY ADDRESS

By W. G. CLOUGH

It is forty-five years—a long vista in any retrospect since, men and women grown, we went forth from the portals of the University. The last act of our scholastic life before setting out upon the great world quest, was to plant an ivy as a class memorial, which should cling to the walls of Main Hall as our entwining memories should cling to its rooms and corridors; whose verdure should betoken the perennial green of those memories and as well the brightness and freshness of the hopes we were carrying away; and whose ambitious growth should herald a broad expansion of the University in material extension and equipment, in spiritual endowment and intellectual vigor, and perchance in the minds of some should typify our advance in the fields of endeavor; but as is often the case and always when God disposes, the lesser purpose may have been lost in the greater.

We went forth a considerable band, each following the line that was half disclosed and half concealed in the fitful light of the future. As we forged on, it may often have been to see through a glass but darkly in the glimmering play of lights and shadows; but we could always turn, be it from the darkling gloom or dazzling glare before us, back to the peaceful mellow light of our Alma Mater, where our ivy was growing green and living fully and freely unto its purpose in life and where it was meeting in a resourceful and resolute way the heats and droughts and chills that beset the pathway of men and plants alike. And as it waxed and spread, it silently taught its lesson and with each recurring visit we carried away a new inspiration and resolution to live our lives against their environment even as the ivy lived its own.

On that early day, in spirit we went forth with songs and banners, but ere long the banner was furled and the song became a dirge, that the Scripture might be fulfilled that the race is not to the swift nor the battle to the strong.

The relentless enemy Time's tax gatherer reached out and plucked his toll and the lethal touch of his unsparing and impartial hand fell alike upon the lofty and the lowly and in all the marching and counter-marching from the start to the goal of our ambitions, we have had repeatedly to pause and pay the last tribute.

And now after the lapse of years and repeated decimations, we, the remaining few, are struggling back like the Jew to the center of his worship and with feelings like to the Jew when he found his temple destroyed and its glory departed. The tracery chart we set up, taken from God's temple, has perished, and like the Jew who set out to rebuild, we are prone to restore the old offering.

In another age, men would have sought to find some omen in the untoward circumstances, but it is a chief part of the training we received in Main Hall to free the mind from superstition, and the only divination we read in the dying ivy is the call to plant its fellow.

Obedient to the call, we are here assembled to perform that service—a duty that we owe, not to ourselves alone, but to those whose hands lie crossed and paralyzed and who perform can take no visible part in the ceremony.

As we place this vine in the earth, we renew the sentiments of the olden day when we all stood round. Though our numbers have dwindled, the tendrils of our feelings have strengthened in their grip and we consign it to its mission with a fervor increased with the passing years. And as we bestow upon it the blessing of our presence and our warmest wishes, our hearts are stirred with the urge of a quickening hope that our ivy will take a new life even as the old hall takes a new name.

May its roots reach deep into the mothering earth; may its cupping tendrils cling with unyielding grasp to the supporting wall; and may its abundant branches, clothed in living green, aspire to the open heavens, and thus typify what is best in the triple nature of those who have chosen to make it their symbol.

May we see it established in our remaining days, the hope to become a promise, the promise a fruition, and when at length our eyes are sealed, may our children and our children's children, as they come to this temple of learning, see in the growing ivy the purpose of their forbears and catch something of the spirit of the ivy as it rises excelsior.

May it live through the centuries like its congener of Europe, to cover and mantle the old hall where so many maps of life have been plotted; and may it speak the lesser virtues of the lowly student body, even as the old hall will speak the greater virtues of a Bascom, a Sterling, a Carpenter, an Allen, an Irving, a Daniells, and the rest, who did much to shape their minds and lives and destinies.

And all regardless of ourselves, may the countless thousands who come to face this ivy-covered shrine discern among its whispering leaves an oracle as in the Speaking Oak, and see at once the beauty hidden in its truth and the truth that lies hidden behind its beauty.

1880

Sec'y—MRS. MAGNUS SWENSON, Madison

For his application of science to human welfare, his work on the state capitol commission, and his civic service during and since the war, the University honored MAGNUS SWENSON, Madison, by conferring upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the annual Commencement exercises on June 23.

Reunion of 1880

By C. F. LAMB

The reunion of the class of '80, took place Monday afternoon, June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. MAGNUS SWENSON, and was pronounced by those present a delightful occasion. Eleven members of the class (which numbered only 38 at the time of graduation), was a very fair percentage to assemble after the lapse of 40 years. Besides the host and hostess there were present: MRS. ANNA HORNE CLAPP, DR. JOHN M. DODSON, HUMPHREY J. DESMOND, J. W. HOYT, CHARLES F. LAMB, DR. LOUISE MARTIN, COL. ARCHIE POWELL, and REV. CHARLES STERLING. ALBERT E. SCHAUB joined us in all the interesting events of Tuesday, Alumni Day. MRS. STELLA FORD ABBOTT and MRS. CARRIE HOWE PORTER who were with the class during the greater part of our college work were also our guests—as were several wives and children of members.

The afternoon of the reunion was very pleasantly spent in the usual way of class anniversaries, reminiscent stories and the reading of letters and telegrams from those whose misfortune it was to be unable to be present. Those reporting by letter and telegram were DR. GEO. HOFSTETTER, DR. WALDO FISHER, MRS. MARY DUNWIDDIE KEMP, MISS MARY A. NELSON, ETNA J. WISWALL, MISS LENORA M. NORTHROP, "DOC" A. W. WOLFORD, J. W. HICKS, JAMES D. JOHNSTON, F. B. BRUNDAGE and A. N. HITCHCOCK, all expressing disappointment in missing the reunion—a disappointment in which those present sincerely shared.

Mr. Wiswall's telegram of regret conveyed the information that he was just starting for the hospital to undergo a serious operation on his eyes. A message of cheer and sympathy was sent to Mr. Wiswall with hope that loss of eyesight might be averted.

Perhaps the most interesting event of the reunion was the modest and thrilling story by Magnus Swenson of his experiences as Director General of Northern European Relief, under Mr. Hoover, after the armistice.

All members of the class had been importuned to bring photographs of children and grandchildren, and prizes had been offered, but peace was maintained by forgetting all about the prizes and each and all expressed unbounded admiration for all the children and grandchildren of the class. Archie Powell claimed first rank with nine grandchildren and the host and hostess came next with seven.

After partaking of refreshments provided by the hostess, adjournment was voted "till we meet again."

"Eighteen-eighty, wise and weighty" are looking forward to their semi-centennial.

1881-1921

By F. S. WHITE

Commencement exercises were graced this year by a scouting party from the class of 1881, who were making a survey of events with a view of out-doing all others at their 40th anniversary in 1921.

Great things are predicted by the committee who were present—as follows: Judge Charles Evans, Dean of Law College at Chattanooga, Tenn.—and the prophesied next governor of that state, Col. William Penn Lyon and wife, San Jose, Calif., Hon. G. D. Jones, '82, Regent of University, Wausau, Judge W. J. Moroney and wife and four children, Dallas, Texas, Florence Bascom, '82, professor of geology, Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred-eric White, Chicago, Ill.

The above representation will be ably seconded by our secretary, Emma Gattiker, who was prevented from attending. Any ex-members of '81 who see this notice will kindly send their names to our secretary and signify their certainty of returning.

By O. D. BRANDENBURG

Uncommonly satisfactory and pleasing was the reunion of the class of '85. Members to the number of 21 were present after 35 years! The handsomest feature was a dinner on Monday evening, June 21, at the Madison Club, the host being Thomas Lyons, '85, of the State Tax Commission who, oddly enough, must perforce be absent himself in the Dakotas on some untimely official mission or other. He was toasted, however, right merrily and with fine appreciation by his classmates of old. Professor J. B. Parkinson, '60, one of the oldest alumni of the University, was present by special invitation—just because of the love the class bears for this fine patriarch; and also Professor E. T. Owen, who for all these 35 years has frankly admitted that '85 was the favorite of all the classes he ever taught. On this occasion, making a few remarks, he reiterated the fact, and almost with tears in his voice said that many years ago he had made up his mind never, no never, to become so fond of pupils again. Mrs. Owen likewise was an honored and esteemed guest. It may not be out of place to confess that Professor Owen's partiality for '85 was not because of the boys, but because of several mischievous girls who were wont archly to jolly him—greatly to his amusement, ill repressed.

Dr. A. J. Ochsner, '84, of Chicago, famous surgeon, and now in Europe attending the international medical congress, was among others who spoke. Dr. F. C. Rogers of Oconomowoc, the historian, offered a compilation of letters from members, and the pamphlets, each of 71 pages, were distributed. A melancholy presentation was the necrological record of '85. This was read, and informal eulogies were pronounced, one of nice appreciation of Judge George Bunn by F. A. Pike of St. Paul. Deaths, dates and places are: W. H. MILLER, Dec. 4, 1884, Madison, FRANK WHITE, June 23, 1886, Madison, A. L. PARMAN, Oct. 3, 1889, Spokane Falls, Wash., A. G. FARRIS, May 2, 1894, at sea, MRS. MARY PARKINSON SCHROEDER, Oct. 12, 1896, Salt Lake City, Utah, MRS. ALLIS L. WILLIAMS, Dec. 14, 1898, Baraboo, C. E. SCHLABACH, April 4, 1899, Manitowoc, E. D. MATTS Jan. 17, 1902, Chicago, Ill., MRS. ETHEL BUSHNELL MCGILVRA, Aug. 4, 1905, Milaca, Minn., MRS. FLORENCE HATHAWAY FOSTER, April 26, 1917, Rochester, Minn., N. M. THYGESON, Aug. 23, 1917, Palo Alto, Calif., G. L. BUNN, Oct. 9, 1918, St. Paul, Minn., A. S. LINDEMANN, Nov. 11, 1918, Chicago, Ill.

After the dinner the class reassembled for a few hours at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Brandenburg, 22 Langdon St., Madison, where Elizabeth Waters of Fond du Lac, former regent and one of the most popular girls in the University of her day, fairly outdid Dooley in one of that author's witty essays. P. H. Connolly of Racine, noted catcher in the varsity nine of the early 80's, and Dr. Rogers also told Celtic stories of humorous quality, and there was much fun with some punch besides. Sunday afternoon previously, Anna B. Moseley hospitably entertained the class at her Langdon Street residence, and Mrs. F. C. Sharp opened her home on Mendota Court. The class participated with spirit in the alumni banquet, and this was its song, to the tune of Tipperary, that had been hastily devised by Mrs. Mina Stone Gabriel of Denver:

'Tis a long way to old Wisconsin,
 A long way for some to go;
 'Tis a long way to old Wisconsin—
 The FINEst college that we know.
 Farewell to our home ties:
 Greet you with a cheer—
 'Tis a long, long way to old Wisconsin,
 But Eighty-FIVE'S right here!

The class yell was given with zest:

U Rah Rah! U Rah Rah!
 Eighty-five! Eighty-five!
 Zip! Boom! Bah!!

O. D. Brandenburg was elected secretary-historian, and Elizabeth Waters assistant. This class has the unique distinction of having printed, ready to distribute in pamphlet form, at each quintennial reunion, letters from members giving their experiences, observations, opinions, hopes, and disappointments of the previous five years. These booklets must become highly valuable as historical records far beyond the limits of '85.

The registration of '85, wives or husbands and children being included, was over 30, as follows: MRS. CARRIE BAKER OAKES, and her husband, ASSEMBLYMAN GEORGE OAKES, New Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. CONNOLLY Racine, former senator J. C. GAVENEY, Arcadia, former regent ELIZABETH WATERS, Fond du Lac, GEORGE WALDO, Chicago, Ill., MRS. ROSE SCHUSTER TAYLOR, Sioux City, Iowa, DR. F. C. ROGERS and MRS. ROGERS, Oconomowoc, MRS. BELLE SARLES BRANDENBURG and O. D. BRANDENBURG, Madison, MRS. BERTHA PITMAN SHARP, Madison, MRS. A. G. BUCKSTAFF, Regent, and MR. BUCKSTAFF, Oshkosh, MR. and MRS. J. A. STONE and daughter, MISS MILLIE STONE, Reedsburg, MRS. MINA STONE GABRIEL and MR. GABRIEL, Denver, Colo., MR. and MRS. J. L. ERDALL, Minneapolis, Minn., COLONEL J. M. HUTCHINSON, Camp Grant, Ill., MISS ANNA MOSELEY, Madison, DR. A. J. OCHSNER, Chicago, Ill., MR. and MRS. CHARLES BRIGHAM, Blue Mounds, PROFESSOR LOUIS PAMMEL, Ames, Ia., F. A. PIKE, St. Paul, Minn., MR. and MRS. ARTHUR ERDALL, Minneapolis, Minn., MRS. F. K. CONOVER, and Miss DAPHNE CONOVER, Madison.

A romantic incident was the presence of the son of John L. Erdall, and this young man's wife, also present, is a daughter of her who was Ethel Bushnell, deceased, a choice girl of '85.

'Mighty 90's Thirtieth Reunion

By W. N. PARKER

The class of 'Mighty 90' gathered on the shores of old Mendota at Bernard's Park, Tuesday noon, June 22, 1920. Of the original class of eighty-two graduates, twenty-six responded to roll call. Fourteen members are deceased. Several non-grads were in attendance, and these, with the wives, husbands, children and grand-children of the original 90's, made up a party of seventy-three.

After the lunch, the minutes of the last reunion of 1915 were read, the roll called, and an impromptu program carried out, which proved to be most interesting as well as entertaining. The notable event of the day was the presentation by Ex-governor McGovern of a bunch of roses to each of two grandfathers, E. R. Maurer and J. B. Ramsay, who had developed as such since the last reunion. In spite of the fact that the Governor is the only remaining bachelor in the class, he did full justice to the occasion, prompted largely by Tim Harrington, who was forced to be the presiding officer of the day on account of the absence of Ben Parkinson.

The two youngest members of the class—in looks—selected by the presiding officer, were D. E. Webster and F. I. Drake, who were compelled to stand on their feet amid the plaudits of the crowd. Sid Townley motored with his wife and three daughters from San Francisco, and entertained the assemblage for some time in reading from a dairy which he kept during his college days. His readings brought back to the members present many familiar events of under-graduate days. Judge Alexander Bruce of Minneapolis, Minnesota, with the same old Scotch burr on his tongue, told of the days when Luigi Lomia was our commanding general in the soldier ranks. Ralph Green came from northern Montana and for the first time was a guest at a 'Mighty 90' reunion. Mary Clark Brittingham of the class of '89 was so popular a guest on this occasion that she was unanimously elected chaperon of the 'Mighty 90' for all time to come.

The roll call shows the following original members of the class present upon this occasion:

RAMSEY, Madison, MRS. MARY FAIRCHILD ROCKWELL, Elkhorn, MRS. ZILPHA VERNON SHOWERMAN, Madison, MARY ALLEGRA SMITH, Madison, W. M. SMITH, Madison, S. T. SWANSEN, Milwaukee, S. D. TOWNLEY, Palo Alto, Calif., R. H. TRUE, Washington, D. C., D. E. WEBSTER, Milwaukee and B. C. PARKINSON, Madison.

The others in attendance responded to roll call as follows:

ANNA CHAPMAN, Virginia, ROBERT McMYNN, Milwaukee, C. R. RIETBROCK, Milwaukee, J. S. BAKER, Evansville, LOYAL DURAND, Milwaukee.

Of the original members of the class, regrets were received from A. W. ANDERSON, ELEANOR AUSTIN, HOWARD BROWN, E. E. BROWN, W. C. BRUMDER, MRS. KLEINPELL BURR, W. B. CAIRNS (In Europe), W. R. COOLEY, MRS. AUGUSTA Lee GIDDINGS, A. G. HOSKIN, C. F. JOYCE, HENRY PARKINSON, BEN PARKINSON, W. F. SEYMOUR, L. S. SMITH (in Europe), MRS. EUGENIA WINSTON WELLER, MRS. MARY ELA WILLARD.

The class never had a more enjoyable reunion. The spirit of the later 80's seemed to be with the members, even though there was a lapse of three decades since they received their final honors from the University of Wisconsin.

Today, for those who participated in the great event are pleasant memories; and for those who could not be present are regrets.

On Sunday afternoon we had a "get-together" meeting at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Burgess.

One by one we wandered in until there were some thirty of us, and we had just a wonderful time reviewing the days of our youth and learning of the big things some of our classmates were doing now and of successes achieved.

Monday morning we went across Lake Monona for a picnic, which had been arranged for by Vroman Mason and Charles Burgess. We thoroughly enjoyed the outing—boat ride, stroll, games, eats, etc.; but there was one event which must have more than casual mention, namely, a presentation speech made on behalf of the class by Vroman Mason to Dr. Wilson Cunningham and wife on the event of their twentieth anniversary. Dr. Cunningham was greatly overcome—the speech and the gift being quite out of the ordinary.

Monday evening the class banquet took place at the Madison Club, and here again the old days were lived over. We ate, sang, and were merry. Vroman Mason, toastmaster of the evening, in his pleasing way and with his usual versatility brought to mind many characteristics of his classmates which had long since been forgotten. He spoke of those who had answered to the last roll call; he read messages of love and greetings from many who could not come; he called on many present to speak for themselves. Among those responding were the following: WILBUR BALL, JESSIE HAND MACGREGORY, DR. A. G. HOUGH, FRANCES WELLES, GEORGE KINGSLEY, SAMUEL CADY, FLORENCE VERNON STEENSLAND, CHARLES BURGESS, INA JUDGE HANKS, JESSIE M.

SHEPHERD, DR. H. E. ALLEN, ANNA TARNUTZER ARN, and others. (See class register).

When we finally said each other "good night," we were all of one opinion—we were coming back for our "thirtieth."

Ninety-five was there! Ninety-five was there!

We were there rejoicing! Ninety-five was there.

Law Class of 1895

By PLATT WHITMAN

The law class of 1895 held a very enjoyable reunion during commencement when they met at the Madison Club for dinner on Monday evening, June 21. Judge E. Ray Stevens presided as toastmaster. Among those present were D. O. MAHONEY, PLATT WHITMAN, A. R. SMITH, H. T. SHELDON, C. B. ROGERS, M. S. DUDGEON, L. W. POLLARD, M. E. DILLON, ALOYS WARTNER, J. C. RUSSELL, C. L. AARONS, FRANK REED, GEORGE KRONCKE, RODNEY ELWARD, THEODORE WOOLSEY, A. T. ROGERS, GEO. WILLIAMS, G. T. SHIMUNOK, W. L. BAKER, and F. A. FOSTER. Roll call was taken and a general report was made on those who were not present telling of their progress and other information we knew concerning them.

Stories of experiences in law school and since we left our Alma Mater were told. Many of those present had not been here for a reunion for twenty-five years, and it was voted to appoint officers to take charge of the '95 law reunion so that we might meet oftener. On Tuesday the law class of '95 was well represented at the general alumni activities.

Class of 1900 Reunion

By JOS. KOFFEND JR.

The Class of 1900 had the most successful reunion in its history. Many of the members present had attended former reunions, but there were several who had not attended a prior reunion. The Class met informally Monday afternoon, June 21, and in the evening enjoyed a banquet at the Country Club.

Clarence Tearse, our president, and the Reverend Albert McCartney acted as toastmasters. Many letters were received from members who were unable to attend the reunion.

Almost everyone present was called upon to give a talk. Mildred Castle responded by announcing the subject of the various theses of the class when they graduated twenty years ago.

The banquet was a great success and aroused much enthusiasm. On June 22 the Class posed for several pictures and marched in the alumni parade in the afternoon, and attended the alumni ball in the evening.

The following were present: MILDRED CASTLE, FRANCIS CARNEY, ROBERT WASHBURN, JOSEPH KOFFEND JR., MARIE McCLERNAN, FREDERICK EMERSON, MARY STRONG, W. C. SUTHERLAND, MIRIAM REED TIBBALS, OLIVER ANDRESEN, WINIFRED TITUS KOWALKE, CLARENCE TEARSE, MABEL SHELDON WHITNEY, HARRY SMITH, JOHN DIXON, LOUISE HINKLEY, JOHN OSBORNE, GILSON GLASIER, KENELM LEE, OTTO WASMANSDORFF, FANNY WARNER, GRACE CHALLONER BURNHAM, ALICE JACKSON, NORA JOHNSON KERR, JOHN ICKE, SUSAN KLINKHAMMER, BLANCHE BRIGHAM HARPER, ALBERT McCARTNEY, MARCIA JACKMAN PYRE, EUNICE WELSH GILLIS, DR. ### Nynteenten Decennial

By MARY MCKEE

On Saturday June 19, the famous Nynteenteners burst forth through the city gates of quiet old Madison.

A life sized "Wham" blinked his roguish eye at us as we stepped on the depot platform, and from every crevice in his grinning countenance came the words "Welcome Home to 1910". As we pushed up King Street to the Capitol Square and down State to headquarters, we were joined by the Ignatz's, the Franklins, the Pierce Arrows, and the Marmons. Our luxurious limousines choked up traffic so pitifully that we were forced to take over a block on State Street and one on Langdon. That famous old banner that welcomed us in 1915, flapped in the breezes as it hung across the entrance to 515 Lake Street. The reception committee, consisting of Marge H'Doubler, Mary McKee, Walter Schulte and Hugh Jamieson, was there with the same honest glad hand. In less than half an hour some fifty loyalties were chattering like a flock of spring magpies.

Sunday morning many gathered at the old swimming hole behind the Gym for a dip in white capped Mendota. At ten A. M. everyone met at headquarters to greet new arrivals, blow up green balloons, and load up for the longest auto parade in the history of Madison. Some of the happy youngsters piled inside and some hung on the outside until we numbered sixty odd. Emmett Donnelly's little speed demon, which could not be tamed down to less than forty miles an hour, was forced to pull out and lead the race up Langdon, down Wisconsin Avenue, around the Capitol, and out to Tenney Park. At one P. M. we drew up at Elsie Bullard Morrison's beautiful mansion at 1937 Arlington Place, where we chewed and chattered to our hearts' content.

Everyone was in the best of spirits, and as soon as the meal was over the "eligibles" were inspired to burst forth in cheerful song, proclaiming their independence. The "uniteds" however, proved that they were still in the ring, by responding with blows and knocks of wisdom. After all this hilarity, the crowd dispersed, to visit old friends and dine old sweet-hearts. In the evening when we were gathered at headquarters, a 1911 Badger came to light. A complete list of the millionaires, the future graduates, the sapientes and the converteds was made. A motion, to send telegrams, collect, to all who did not return for reunion was lost because of the fear that the return liabilities would overwhelm us.

At one P. M. Monday we had donned our white togs, and were off to the picnic at Esther Beach—yes, 101 strong. Before we had time to get our hats and coats off the picnic committee rushed us into three deep. We ran around until our hinges were all loose, and every trace of rheumatic fever obliterated. Then came the baseball game, marrieds against singles with Jeff Simpson as umpire and George Worthington as official scorer. When the score crept up to thirty odd for the singles, someone bribed the score keeper and the score ended 7-7. There were sack races, three legged races, baby dashes, potato races, and pop races (the white variety only this time). Yes a cracker eating whistling contest too. Try it once tweet, tweet—

How we devoured the supper! From baked beans to birthday cake—not a crumb was left. At seven thirty the jazz arrived, and Nynteenten shook a wicked hoof until nigh midnight. Dances new and old were a feature of the occasion. T'was a gala day and everyone went home tired and happy. There was rumor afloat that 1910 piped a piece of the ceremonies on the lower campus and made light of the boxes and boards that were gathered for the bonfire.

Some spent Tuesday at the dedication exercises, others flitted about the campus visiting the secluded spots and favorite haunts of college days. One thirty saw Professor Julius Olson, the band, and a hundred greenhatted 1910ers, and a 1915 goat do a snake dance on the upper campus. Oh yes there were a few other alumni too, but the green clown hats were in evidence everywhere. We paraded to the lower campus to attend a baseball game between Chicago and Wisconsin graduates, but a cloudburst scattered us to places of shelter.

At six P. M. a gong and a huge locomotive bell tolled the first call to the banquet. Noise, noise everywhere and all from Nynteenten. The official program was as follows:

SPEAKERS

W. P. POWERS—1860—The Penalty of Graduating Fifty Years Too Soon.

PRESIDENT BIRGE—Why 1910 was Wisconsin's Best.

JESSIE SHEPHERD '95—What 1910 did for Suffrage.

GEORGE HAIGHT '99—You're a Better Class Than I'm In, 1910.

Shortly after the first course we started things. Class yells, class songs, and a single file parade around the tables put the ginger into everyone, and before we knew it the whole Gym was echoing "Soak'em again."

The President's reception and the Alumni Ball wound up the festivities. Nynteenten took over the concert room as a special booth at the ball. We were so full of "pep" and enthusiasm that the orchestra favored us with their entire attention every other dance, and they played whatever piece of music we mentioned.

From beginning to end the reunion was a great success. In these expensive times it was financed at a tax of five dollars. There were no "extras" except for the Alumni Banquet. The committee extends special thanks to those loyalites who sent their contributions knowing that they could not come to reunion, and to those who so generously responded with from five to fifteen dollars.

At the business meeting, Milton Blair, secretary for ten years, was elected president emeritus, and W. J. Meuer was elected class secretary. Appointments to other offices are as follows: Ethel Rose Taylor, class historian; Hugh Jamieson, treasurer; Elsie Bullard Morrison, Whamskizzle editor-in-chief; Mary McKee, Emmett Donnelly, and Milton Blair, associate editors.

The Reunion Whamskizzle—the fifth number of that internationally famed magazine—will come scorching off the press shortly. This eruption of piffle has grown into an annual publication and is the only regularly published class publication. It has been the chief medium of keeping the class together and bolstering up the enthusiasm with which Nynteenten is so well endowed.

1915 BROKE ALL RECORDS FOR ATTENDANCE AT A CLASS REUNION

By W. A. FOSTER

During the three days, June 20 to 22, 156 members of 1915 registered at the Class Headquarters. They were from 18 states and three foreign countries.

It sure was a great reunion. Monday forenoon the class staged a parade around the square. At 11 o'clock a chartered boat carried us across to Bernard's Park where a real lunch was provided. Here everybody forgot their troubles and had a real time.

At 6:00 in the evening 125 sat at the banquet at the Wayside Inn. Mrs. Rosenberry, who will be remembered as Dean Matthews, was the guest of honor. A kangaroo court conducted by Messrs. Bull, Biart, Gleich and Rademacher caused much laughter. Esther Kelly Bill was tried and found guilty of presenting a Bill to the Class of 1915 and was sentenced to the terrible penalty of dancing one dance with "Tubby" Keeler.

Mabel McMurry was found guilty of larceny of the heart; Lewis Anderson was found guilty of disorderly conduct. Many more cases were on the docket but the court adjourned to take them up in June, 1925.

"Tubby" Keeler acted as cop throughout the reunion, and certainly was capable of maintaining order. We can't begin to tell you of all the fun we had. Ask those who were there the next time you write to them. We told you in our letter of June 10 that you'd be sorry if you missed it and we know you are.

Class officers elected for the next five years were: WILL FOSTER, president, LUCILE HATCH, 1st vice-president, RIAH FAGAN, 2nd vice-president, NAT BIART, secretary, JACK EDWARDS, treasurer, R. M. KEELER, sgt. at arms.

We are now planning for the next reunion. The class will not be satisfied with less than 250 attendance. If you missed this, plan now to come next time. If you were with us this time we don't worry about your being back in 1925.

The names and permanent addresses of Fifteneers who registered are:

Our address is 352 S. Caroline Ave., Mason City. I am secretary of the Mason City Chamber of Commerce. From February, 1918, until May, 1919, I was in the army and spent twelve months of the time in France. I went over with the 82 Division, went to the Third Army Candidates School at Langres, received a commission as a second lieutenant and joined the 77 Division in the Argonne, taking charge of the Signal Platoon, 308th Infantry. When the Armistice was signed I was on the Meuse River, near Sedan. In January I was ordered to Paris for duty with the Peace Commission and was there assigned to work in the department of Finance and Economics and had the job of conducting an investigation of the business losses in the sugar industry in all the allied countries. Wherever I went I met Wisconsin men and it was always a pleasure to find them doing things worth while. I hope I may meet a lot of them next year."—E. J. is teaching French and Spanish in the high school of Beloit. His address is 327 West Grand Ave.—WALLACE MEYER, who is with the C. F. W. Nichols Co., Chicago, writes: "The request made in that March letter for members of the class of 1916 to use their influence in molding public opinion toward a favorable action on the part of the legislature for proper support of the University's financial needs was really a most important suggestion. Every so often a new legislature goes to Madison hostile 'agin the University'. Governor Philipp himself was first elected wholly, I believe, because he campaigned the state 'agin higher education,' but the Governor is an intelligent business man and it did not take him very long to find out that the University under the leadership of the late President Van Hise was sincerely conducted along lines for the betterment, not only of those who were fortunate enough to attend, but for the whole population of the state which supports it. The Governor is today, I believe, a friend of the University. This is also the experience of most legislators regardless of how indifferent they may be toward the University when they first assume their legislative duties. Public opinion should be molded now so that there will be less resistance to overcome when the legislature meets."

Built for Service

Our fine building would be an empty accomplishment had it been built for beauty.

People say it is a handsome structure, but our most gratifying pleasure is in making it very useful.

Its doors are wide open to you.

CAMPUS NOTES

A Surveying Camp of about 35 civil engineering students will be conducted at Devil's Lake as a summer school of surveying by the University this year. The school will last for four weeks and the men will live in tents like professional surveyors.

A school for citizenship was held in Madison on June 29-30, under the auspices of the Dane County League of Women Voters and the University of Wisconsin Extension Division. The school gave women information about voting methods, elections, and formation of parties.

Dr. Paul Withington, former football coach at Wisconsin, has resigned his position as assistant graduate manager and treasurer of the Athletic Association at Harvard and will return to his home in Honolulu, Hawaii. During the war Dr. Withington was in the Medical Corps overseas and was coach of the football team which won the championship of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Prof. E. H. Gardner of Wisconsin was elected vice-president of the Association of Advertising Teachers at a recent meeting held in Indianapolis.

The cadet corps of the University was mentioned with twenty others as the most efficient student military organization following inspection by representatives of the general staff.

About 3600 students have registered in the summer session of the University.

Prof. C. S. Slichter, chairman of the Department of Mathematics, was recently appointed Dean of the Graduate School of the University, to succeed Prof. G. C. Comstock, '83, who will retire this summer after many years of service.

Women students again led men students in scholarship at the University last semester, according to a table of average scholarship grades just made public. The women averaged 82.6, while the men averaged 80.6. The weighted average of all undergraduates was 81.3.

Sorority women, making an average of 84.5, excelled the average of 82.3 attained by non-sorority women. Men in the social fraternities made 80.2 as compared with 80.7 by non-fraternity men and 81.3 by members of professional fraternities. Kappa Kappa Gamma led the sororities with an average of 87, and Alpha Gamma Rho led the social fraternities with 83.9. Chadbourne dormitory excelled Barnard hall, 83.6 to 82.7.

The highest rank among the colleges was made by Agriculture with 82.7—a grade in which the 83.5 of four-year students was handicapped by 79.8 of two-year students. Engineering was lowest with 80.5. The lowest grade made by any group of students was 77.8 attained by the 130 adult specials. The highest average among the special courses was 84.6 by the Course for Normal School graduates—all upper classmen.

The rank of 78.9 of freshman year rose to 81.3 in sophomore year, to 82.8 in junior year, and to 84.8 as the average grade of all seniors.—Press Bulletin.

Commencement exercises in many Wisconsin cities and towns were addressed in June by members of the faculty. Included are addresses at: Wittenberg, Prof. Arthur Beatty, English Department; St. Croix Falls, Prof. J. C. Elsom, physical education; Neillsville, Prof. J. L. Gillin, sociology; Reesville, Dean S. H. Goodnight; Omro and Columbus, A. P. Haake, economics; Kaukauna, Prof. M. V. Haertel, secretary of the faculty; Elkhorn and Chilton, Prof. A. B. Hall, political science; Plainfield, Prof. B. H. Hibbard, agricultural economics; Hazel Green, Delavan, Fox Lake and Cambridge, Prof. Thomas Lloyd Jones, education; Beaver Dam and Sparta, Prof. W. H. Kiekhofer, economics; Menasha, Marshfield, and Granton, Prof. H. L. Miller, education; Shullsburg, Prof. J. M. O'Neill, public speaking; Eau Claire Normal, Prof. J. W. Powell, Extension Division; Friendship, Prof. D. S. Robinson, education; Milwaukee West division high school, Prof. E. A. Ross, sociology; Janesville and Port Washington, Prof. A. B. Hall; Two Rivers, Prof. Thomas Lloyd Jones; Watertown, Prof. W. H. Kiekhofer; West Bend and Racine, Prof. H. L. Miller; and Milwaukee Normal and Portage, Prof. W. H. Powell.

An Aero Club, which hopes to establish a flying station in Madison, was organized last week by former army and navy airmen who are now enrolled as students in the University of Wisconsin, all of whom have seen service and many of whom won decorations. Plans to secure machines, field, and hangar are now on foot. The officers of the aviators' club are Ora R. McMurry, Evansville, President, Howard B. Stark, Milwaukee, vice-president, and Frank C. Davies, Racine, secretary.

"University of Wisconsin Post of the American Legion" is the name selected by the ex-service men of the University, and an active campaign is now being conducted to enroll a great proportion of the former soldiers, sailors, and marines now numbered in the faculty and student body. The name was chosen to distinguish the campus post from other posts which are named after local men who died in service.

At the 1920 Commencement exercises the University of Wisconsin conferred upon Prof. Joel Stebbins, of the faculty of astronomy at the University of Illinois, the honorary degree of doctor of science, and upon Prof. Alonzo E. Taylor, who has distinguished himself as a man of science in the fields of chemistry and physiology, the honorary degree of doctor of laws. Professor Taylor is being honored by the University for his scientific work, his service on the war trade board and as scientific advisor to the food administration during the war, and for his earlier work in the American embassy at Berlin, the reports of which have been of great service to the American Relief Commission.

The Mississippi River Valley Historical Society will meet at Madison next spring in response to an invitation extended by the University according to information just received by Dr. M. M. Quaife, editor of the Wisconsin Historical Society. Dr. Quaife is chairman of the executive committee and retiring president of the society.

Friends of Mr. Hoard, "the father of modern dairying," in every state are making their subscriptions to the W. D. Hoard Memorial, which is to be placed on the University campus, reports A. W. Hopkins, '03, of the College of Agriculture, who is secretary-treasurer of the national committee. Inspiring tributes are paid his memory in many of the letters which are being received.

Prof F. D. Crawshaw, chairman of the Department of Manual Arts during the last ten years, has resigned to become general agent for an insurance company in an Illinois city.

The advertising training work of one of the oldest and largest advertising agencies in the country will be taken over by Wisconsin next fall and combined with the advertising courses now given by the University.

Commissions as officers for the coming college year and prizes for winning companies and men in the University of Wisconsin cadet regiments were awarded by President E. A. Birge at the last review of the year, May 28. The newly commissioned officers: J. C. Wolfe, Madison, honorary colonel; M. H. Zwicker, Madison, colonel; Joseph R. Sherr, Milwaukee, lieutenant colonel; majors, Joseph B. Bolender, Monroe, Cecil M. Russell, Fall Creek, Blandford Jennings, Washington, D. C., E. C. Caluwaert, Madison, Charles T. Schrage, Sheboygan, in charge of signal unit; staff captains with artillery unit, Walter C. Thiel, Schleisingerville, Alfred H. Gruppe, W. Milwaukee, and R. W. Rogers, Lisle, Ill.

Captains Caluwaert and Robert L. Luening, Oconomowoc, commanding the winning company, received automatic pistols. Private E. W. Birdleough Winona, Minn., individual marksmanship winner, also received a pistol.

The Madison Association of Commerce, through its board of directors, authorized the following resolution, at its meeting on May 19:

Resolved, by the board of directors of the Madison Association of Commerce, that we go on record as enthusiastically in favor of the proposed memorial building and promise to those in charge of the movement the services of the staff, in so far as that staff can be of service in assisting in promoting this worthy and patriotic undertaking which has for its final goal a higher conception of citizenship and patriotism.

Dr. G. E. Seaman of Milwaukee was elected president of the Board of Regents of the University for the ensuing year at a meeting held recently. W. J. Kohler, Kohler, was elected vice-president, M. E. McCaffery was reelected secretary, and Prof. H. J. Thorkelson, business manager.

THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY

Complete lists of all graduates of the University together with similar lists of such former students as are members of the General Alumni Association were furnished to the University editor early in February. These lists, which were carefully prepared and accurately checked, make up ninety per cent of the copy for the Alumni Directory. Responsibility for furnishing about ten per cent of the copy known as "Officers and Faculty" rests with one of the University offices. As addresses of graduates change at the rate of about ten per day, we urged, when we furnished the copy, that the publication be printed with all possible speed. Why at the close of six months time the publication is not yet ready is unknown to us. Nevertheless we have volunteered to re-check and correct to date all information regarding members of the General Alumni Association if those in charge of the printing will kindly send proof sheets to us. We ask, therefore, that members keep us supplied with up-to-date addresses. As soon as the long looked for and much needed directory is ready we will arrange to have it mailed to all of our members whose dues are paid for the current year—July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921.

A documentary history of the Russian revolution in the first year of the soviet rule up to October, 1918, based on material gained by the American

Prof. E. A. Ross

Red Cross, which formed the only communication between Russia and the outside world for a time, is to be written by Prof. E. A. Ross, head of the Sociology Department of the University, at request of the Red Cross. Professor Ross made a trip to Russia and Siberia in 1917 to study the situation.

Exactly 10,213 different students have been enrolled in the University during the current year since July, 1919, according to the final catalog figures which have just been announced by the registrar. The total includes 7,294 students in the regular semester sessions, 2,235 others in the 1919 summer session, 148 Federal Board soldiers, and 536 agricultural short course students. In addition, 13,124 students have been enrolled in the correspondence-study courses of the Extension Division.

The Senior Swing-out was held June 4. This ceremony, which is one of the prettiest traditions of University women, consisted of dancing numbers, songs, a torch ceremony, and a procession of senior women in cap and gown through two lines of junior women carrying daisy chains. Arrangements for the affair were handled by Winifred Titus, Fond du Lac; music was provided by Helen Owen, Milwaukee; and the dancing program by Eleanor Riley, Madison.

The death rate at the University during the influenza epidemic this year was only one for every 157 cases, according to a statement made by Dr. J. S. Evans of the University clinic.

Dr. J. S. Evans

The soldier educational bonus will be granted to ex-service men who attend the 1920 summer session at the University of Wisconsin, according to an announcement made by the state board of education. The bonus for the summer session will be paid on Aug. 6, and will total $39.

W. H. Motz, of the Triumph Ice Machine Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, has just been appointed instructor in mechanical engineering of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division, increasing the staff to nine men. Mr. Motz graduated from Rose Polytechnic Institute in 1916.

Subscriptions totalling $10,000 have been added by members of the faculty to the Memorial Union Building Fund at Wisconsin. In addition, a fund of $2,500 has been subscribed by other employes of the University.

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company's main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street—a mile long—are other buildings where everything electrical, from the smallest lamp socket to the huge turbines for electrically propelled battleships, is made by the 20,000 electrical workers who daily stream through.

What a story this gate would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and business, of ambassadors from other institutions and from foreign lands.

The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electric industrials and electricity in the home.

This gateway, as well as the research, engineering, manufacturing and commercial resources back of it, is open to all who are working for the betterment of the electrical industry.

Atlantic City

A fact:

At the fashionable Marlborough-Blenheim—in the very heart of America's most famous seaside resort, no other cigarette can touch Fatima's sales. Just another proof that men who can afford the most expensive straight Turkish brands prefer this moderate-priced "just-enough-Turkish" blend.
