BADGER FOREIGN GAMES PORTRAYED BY GRID GRAPH

Students Unable to See Michigan and Chicago Games
Have Chance Here

Hundreds of students who will be unable to follow the team personally to Ann Arbor on October 25 to see Michigan and Wisconsin play, will have a chance to follow the game play by play with the grid graph, which will be set up again this year for the Michigan and Chicago games.

Those who have seen the grid graph in operation before have found it little less exciting than a real game, the only difference being the absence of real players. A miniature football field with the regular lines, flanked on each side by the names of the players on each team, at the top a list of the possible plays, and space for recording the score makes the grid graph surprisingly realistic.

Lights Denote Progress.

For example, Harris going through the line would be shown by a number of lights, one to show it was Wisconsin's ball, another opposite Harris' name to show he was carrying the ball, a light above the phrase "through line" and still another light operated by a mechanic back of the board denoting Harris' progress with the ball through the line and down the field.

A cheer leader leading a packed gym has put the finishing touches on the enthusiasm that has been shown at previous grid graph games. Last year over 1,700 students and townspeople witnessed the Wisconsin-Illinois game via the grid graph in the men's gymnasium.

No Admission Change.

The admission to the grid graph will be kept at 50 cents as it was last year, according to Byron Barwig, '26, president of the athletic meeting of the athletic board to board. It was decided at a recent keep this price in spite of the fact that few if any other schools in the conference charge as low a rate as this. Many Big Ten schools charge 75 cents for a game.

What profit is made is not turned into the general athletic fund but is used to buy sweaters and promote intramural athletics in general. There is almost no other source of income for these activities other than that from interclass activities for which admission is charged. The fund thus created also goes to help defray the expense of sending the freshman and all-American squads to the Chicago game.

COLLEGIANS TAKE 2 YEARS TO FORGE AHEAD

"That students take about two years to learn how to work, after they leave college, then go ahead faster than those who have not had college training," is the opinion expressed by Lillian Palmer, a professional business woman of San Francisco, who addressed women of the University of California on the position of college students in the business world.

Country Magazine Will Sponsor Old Fashioned Ag Hop

Plans for an old fashioned barn dance to be held at the end of this month in the new beef cattle barn at the Agricultural college for agriculture and home economics students, under the auspices of the Country Magazine, are being made, according to Everett Swingle '25, editor of the magazine.

It has been the policy of the Country Magazine to sponsor a hop at least once a year for all the students of the agricultural and home economics courses.

Arrangements are well under way. A barn dance is a novelty among campus affairs and efforts are being made to have a large attendance.

TUMAS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Election of officers of the Tumas club for the ensuing year took place Thursday noon at the Y. M. C. A. Russell Coleman '26 was elected president, Doyle Harmon '26 vice president, Thane Blackman '26 secretary, and Osmond Hand '26 treasurer. The club will hold its meetings on the first Monday of every month, and plans to have a dance on the night before Thanksgiving. There are 17 juniors in the organization who are picked during their sophomore year for their general campus activity.

RESERVE OFFICER LIST INCREASES

Advanced Military Course
Raises Enrollment 30 Per Cent Over Last Year

An increase of over 50 per cent in the enrollment in the advanced reserve officers training course here was reported by the Military department yesterday. Compared to 60 seniors and 105 juniors taking the advanced course last year, there are 100 seniors and 120 juniors enrolled in the advanced courses in infantry, artillery, signal corps, and ordnance.

More freshmen are also enrolled for military work this year than in 1923. A year ago 859 first year men were registered for the various courses. At present, 980 members of the class of 1923 have elected work in the reserve officers course. They are paid $9 a month by the government and receive their uniforms free of charge.

Many of the students attended the summer camps at Custer, Knox and Snelling and have had experience in leadership.

The courses consist of one hour a week with the various companies, and four hours in the special unit in which the student is enrolled. At other universities intercompany athletics have been undertaken but no efforts have been made along that line as yet at Wisconsin.

Castalia Purposes Explained in First Meeting of Year

"One of the purposes of Castalia is to take a place in the life of the student on the campus by its activities," stated Alberta Johnson '26 at the first open meeting of the society last night in Lathrop hall.

"We bring the student into contact with what the world outside is doing by our current topics given at the meetings, by the reviews of new books, and by our debates. In addition to this, we develop the artistic side by music and dramatic readings."

The program of the evening included a review by Ada Toms of one of Eileen Kilmore's poems. Margaret Bell played a piano solo, "Country Gardens" by Percy Grainger, one of the artists which Union vodvil is bringing to Madison this year. Angela Grebel gave two readings, "The Bride" and "Home, Sweet Home." Helen Herman explained to the visitors about tryouts for membership in the club.

PROF. HALL TO CONFER WITH SCIENCE COUNCIL

Prof. Arnold B. Hall of the department of political science of the University of Wisconsin, went to Washington yesterday for a conference with the National Science Research council preparatory to framing the recommendation for the establishment of post-doctorate fellowships in social science.

Professor Hall is chairman of the committee of the Social Science Research council, which has charge of the obtaining of funds for the establishment of fellowships to encourage research work in social science, particularly among faculty members.

The other members of the committee are Professors E. E. Day, University of Michigan, W. F. Ogburn, Columbia university, and John R. Commons, University of Wisconsin.

Library Rules Warn Against Holding Out Reference Books

There is a statement in the general library rules which says that any book which is reserved as class reference work "may be drawn only during the last library hour of each day, and must be returned within the first half hour the next day the library is open. Failure to return a class reference book when due will subject the person to a fine of $1.00 for the first hour or fraction thereof that the book is overdue, a fine of 25 cents an hour for each subsequent hour, and to a forfeiture for one month of the privilege of borrowing reserved books."

This fine is not a punishment, although it may seem like one to the student. It is rather, according to Walter Smith, university librarian, a device for protecting the student against other students, who, otherwise, would monopolize the reference books and inconvenience the students. If it were not for this rule scholars would find that on the night before an exam, the reference books would be more unobtainable than they are now. Persons who take books from the reading room without having them properly charged are also subject to fines, but this is intended only as a protection, and not as a money-making proposition for the library.

Fines are charged up on the student's library deposit of $2.00 which he pays when he registers. If the student is not charged for any book, or if he does not damage or lose any, his money will be refunded at graduation or earlier withdrawal from the university.

BAND WILL PLAY BADGER BALLAD

New Arrangement of Old Song
Will Be Feature at Game
Today

A new arrangement of the Badger ballad, known as "If You Want to Be a Badger," will be featured by the university band at the game this afternoon. The new arrangement is by Major E. W. Morphy, director.

For some time Major Morphy has been working on a more refined version of the famous ballad, and has at last turned out an arrangement which contains all the dash and spirit of the original with many new harmonies and features suited to instrumentation.

"The object of this new arrangement is to preserve all the fine points in the old ballad, together with many new touches which I hope will better one of our most popular student songs. It is very similar to the edition which was printed on the programs for the Varsity Welcome," Major Morphy said.

The band will come on the field at 2 o'clock, as usual, and during the game will play for the first time the new repertoire of pieces for this year.

ANNOUNCE GOLD WATCH AS SCHOLARSHIP PRIZE

East Side high school athletes will compete this year for records in scholarship as well as in athletics. The student attaining the best record in both scholarship and athletics will be awarded a gold watch. The prize will be presented to the winner at the end of the school year.

Ask Senior Women To Order Dragon Rings Immediately

Senior women are advised to order their Blue Dragon rings before twelve o'clock today in the S. G. A. office in Lathrop hall. After tomorrow women wishing to get their order in the first lot which will be delivered at Christmas may call Dorothy John for an appointment. The next order will be taken some time in February for rings which will be delivered in May. The Blue Dragon ring, designed in gold with a dragon engraved in blue about a lapis lazuli setting, costs $9.00, $2.00 of which may be paid at the time the order is taken.

The ring is the symbol of the senior society, which derived its name, the Blue Dragon, from the name suggested at the University of Michigan, Wyvern, a Welsh name meaning a protecting dragon.

The present society has an interesting history, for the first women's class organization was formed in 1916 when the freshmen joined under the name of Green Button. The following year they became members of Red Gauntlet and as juniors they adopted Yellow Tassel as their symbol.

PUBLIC GETS 1,200 FOOTBALL BLANKS

Hunter Receives Calls From Public By Special and Registered Mail

Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales, has mailed more than 1,200 football ticket application blanks throughout the state for the use of the general public. On September 1, the first day of sales, 223 applications for tickets were received, 533 special delivery letters, and 107 registered letters. All these applications were filed in the order received.

"It is not necessary to have an application blank to send in for football tickets, but those wishing to sit together merely put their applications in the same envelope, with their money and their return postage, and their seats will be together," said Mr. Hunter.

Applications must be filed for the Notre Dame game between October 20 and 24, and tickets will be distributed November 3 to 6. Applications for the Iowa game must be filed between October 27 and October 31, and tickets will be given out November 10 to 13. Applications for the Chicago game must be made between November 3 and November 7, and tickets will be given out November 17 to November 20.

Y. W. C. A. Will Hold Vesper Service in Lathrop Parlors

Vespers will be held again every Sunday afternoon at Lathrop hall from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

For a number of years it has been the custom of Y. W. C. A. to hold devotional services late Sunday afternoon. After a simple service there is an informal hour at which tea is served.

"It is our aim to make vespers a devotional period to foster spiritual associations and friendships," Mildred John, '26, who has charge of vespers, said yesterday.

Elizabeth Stolte, president of the Y. W. C. A., will speak Sunday. Every girl enrolled in the university is invited to come.

MUSIC, STORIES, YARNS TO ENTERTAIN PROFS

The Ygdrasil Literary society of Madison will hold its first meeting of the season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Steensland, 644 Prospect Place. The first evening will be both a musical and social. The music will be furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Carsten Wolf of Minnesota.

Dr. Oskar Hagen, who is the Carl Schurz professor at the university for this academic year, and his wife will be present and take part in the musical program. Dr. Paul Knaplund of the university will play the part of yarn spinner as he is to relate some Norse and English dialect stories.

Mr. Anton Brandtze, a graduate student from Norway, will also be present and assist Professor Olsen in playing some Swedish student's duets.

ELECTIONS BOARD ANNOUNCES RULES FOR CANDIDATES

Petitions Must Be Filed in Dean Goodnight's Office
By Friday

Rules for filing of petitions and announcement of candidacies for student offices to be filled at the general election October 31 were made public yesterday by the newly created elections board. The regulations governing petitions are as follows:

All petitions must be filed at the office of the dean of men before 5 o'clock next Friday. No petitions will be accepted after that time.

Each petition must bear the signature of 25 voters qualified to ballot for the candidate.

The telephone number and address of each candidate must appear on the petition.

A fee of $3 for each candidate except class presidents and prom chairmen must be paid at the time of filing. A fee of $5 is required of candidates for class president and $15 for prom chairmen.

Petitions must not be circulated by any candidate after filing.

Must Declare Candidacy

Receipts for fees, eligibility slips, matter for publicity, and the voters' guide must be presented to Wes W. Dunlap '25, chairman of the board, immediately after filing. Publicity will be run in the Daily Cardinal in the order in which it is presented by the candidates. Candidates for prom chairmen and the respective class presidents will be required to submit a statement, not to exceed 100 words, giving their reasons for running instead of a list of activities.

Post Officials' Names

Nothing will be printed in the Daily Cardinal after Wednesday, October 22, and candidates are advised to file petitions early in order to insure the matter for publication proper space. Every effort will be made to give each candidate the same position in the columns of the Daily Cardinal, but no agreement can be made concerning this.

The names of all election officials, and ballot clerks will be published in the Daily Cardinal 10 days before the election. The names of all clerks and officials together with the hours at which they are to serve will be posted in each balloting place on the day of election.

AUTOIST RUNS DOWN SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Hit by an automobile as she was crossing in the 1300 block on Williamson street, this afternoon, Dorothy Peschel, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Peschel, 213 Buell street, was severely cut about the head and neck and had to be taken to St. Mary's hospital where she is declared to be out of danger. The automobile was driven by Mrs. C. F. Witte, who immediately reported the matter to the police.

Recitals Open New Home of Wheeler School of Music

The Wheeler Conservatory of Music will formally open its new home at 627 University avenue today with open house from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 9:30 o'clock tonight.

During the entertainment members of the school faculty will appear in recital. They are Mrs. Marie Seuel Holst, Miss Alice Anderson, Miss Ethel Todd, Miss Janet Breitenbach, Miss Dorothy H. Hess, Miss Ruth Matthews, Miss Evelyn Fish, and Mrs. Joseph Malecke.

The entrance to the new building leads to the reception room, auditorium and business offices. On the third floor there are a number of studios. Several soundproof studios are found on the first floor also. They are well lighted, equipped with grand pianos, and are attractively furnished. The three largest ones are furnished with fire places.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDONE CONFERENCE
TILT INCLUDED IN
TODAY'S GAMESOhio Meets Iowa on Hawkeye
Field in Second Big 10
Contest

Today's gridiron program includes the second Big Ten game of the season. Iowa and Ohio are scheduled to clash this afternoon on the Iowa field in a contest that will eliminate the loser from the championship race. Ohio, fresh from a victory over Purdue, the first conference team to fall by the wayside, will have the advantage of the experience of one conference game, but this will be offset by the fact that Bert Ingwersen's team is composed of veterans who have the proper amount of self-confidence gained from a large score victory in their first game last Saturday. Although the battle will be close, the Hawkeyes should emerge from the fray with a victory to their credit.

The Chicago and Illinois teams are in for a strenuous afternoon when they take on Brown and Butler, respectively. Chicago made a miserable showing against Missouri last Saturday and unless Coach Stagg improves the play of his team the Maroon eleven will again taste defeat. Brown is coming west determined to win. It was back in the '90s that the Eastern and Midway teams used to clash in intersectional contests and the doughty easterners always put up a sterling battle. This year, possessing two of the cleverest ends in the East, Brown stands excellent chances of returning to Providence with the Maroon scalp hanging from its belt.

Illi Meet Butler.

The "Fighting Illini" will take on Pat Page's team in their last preparatory game before their crucial struggle with Michigan next week. Butler always has a strong team and will probably hold Bob Zuppke's eleven to a low score.

Minnesota will find stiffer competition in the Haskell Indians today than they had last week when they played the North Dakota eleven. A year ago the Gophers were forced to go the limit in order to earn a 13 to 12 victory from the Redskins.

Michigan will be put to test to-

Junior Co-ed Tank Stars Work
Hard to Defeat Senior Rivals

With the announcement of try-outs for women's swimming teams, anxiety grips the juniors, the champion class of last year, as they realize that they have lost four of their swimmers, leaving not more than half a dozen from which to pick their material.

Elna Mygdal, Harriet Graham, Beatrice Marks, and Alice Drews are the only left-overs. It appears dubious whether any new splashers will fill in the wide gaps by Esther Rosenberg, diver; Eloise Blakslee, plunger; Allen Goodspeed, free style, and Edith Jennings, plunger and side stroke.

The seniors, on the other hand, their closest rivals, have excellent material with which to replenish their ranks. Rosenberg left the juniors to win points for the class of '25. Anne Smith, star diver and breast stroke swimmer, has thrown down the hockey stick to don a swimming suit. With Lois Barry, Helen Robinson, Rhoda Koch, Dorothy Raper, and a number of other old-timers again on the job, the struggle for the championship will be a hot one.

The sophomores have a good chance to kick their feet mightily and spoil the dope, for while only freshmen last year, they won third place and some of their team members surprised the tank world by setting some Wisconsin records.

As for the freshmen, there is a goodly number trying out for the team, an energetic bunch ready to show their stuff. The first tryout will be held this morning from 11 to 12:30 o'clock in Lathrop pool.

day by the Michigan Aggies. This game will go a long way toward determining the Wolverine's chances in the Big Ten this year. Miami, a weak team, failed to test the strength of Yost's men last week.

Big 3 in Preliminaries.

Purdue, Indiana and Northwestern should find little difficulty in the preliminary games today. Northwestern, with what seems to be its strongest team for several years, will go through its final practice game with Cincinnati before entering the conference race. Indiana and Purdue with the experience of one game ought to come through with a victory.

In the East, Yale, Princeton and Harvard ought to add another victory to their season's total. All of the Big Ten teams seem to be fairly strong this year and a merry battle should be the result of their race to determine the champion.

Marquette at Annapolis.

Navy will meet Marquette today at Annapolis and the Hilltoppers are out to win this game. Little is known of the strength of the Mid-dies but the Cream City squad has been pointing toward this game since the opening of the season.

Notre Dame will have an easy time with Wabash in their game. Wabash has already been vanquished by the Boilermakers while Rockne used his second team most of the time against Lombard.

STUDENTS AREN'T ALONE IN THEIR
TICKET WORRIES

The business of filling applications for football tickets is not without troubles. At least that is the finding of Paul Hunter, in charge of the sale of tickets to Badger games.

"I receive many applications with which a money order is enclosed, but no statement is made of which game the tickets are to be for, whether two seats are wanted for one game, or one ticket for two games," says Hunter. "I even received one application where the writer did not even give his address."

Students, too, it seems, come in for their share of unreasonableness in regard to tickets. Some want tickets with a friend who put in his application a week or so before. Their desires cannot be fulfilled, says Hunter, because the applications are filed as received and unless they are sent in together there are no seats available next to the seats given on early applications. And, Hunter added, students object to being placed next to their friends in the poorer seats given to the later applicants.

LEATHER PUSHERS
WILL GET MEDALSCoach Moore Issues Call For Boxers; Regular Workouts
Start Dec. 1

"In order to create a greater interest in boxing this winter we expect to give a large medal as reward for the winners of various weights," said Coach Ray Moore last night. Coach Moore also stated that to the winners of the interclass groups numerals and jerseys would be given.

It has been through a delay that the watch charms, numerals, and jerseys, which were won last year have not been delivered to those to do more than give Iowa a hard fight, since the Hawkeyes will oppose it with the same lineup, with the exception of one guard, which beat it 2-0 last year.

FOOTBALL FIRST

Outlining Work of Year,
Says Berg

Football will be the first sport offered in intramurals when that department goes into action week after next. Besides the annual frosh-soph tilt there will be inter-college and interfraternity battles this year for those who decide to get into the famous fall sport.

"A booklet will be issued in a few days outlining the intramural work and giving this year's 'schedule,'" said Director George Berg yesterday. "Last year we got hundreds of men into health-giving athletics, and this year we are going to develop the department so we can take care of more."

Through Berg's work the intramural department reached the height of its career during the 1923-1924 session. Football, basketball, baseball, indoor tennis, horseshoe pitching, basketball, free-throw shooting, bowling, and practically everything else except checkers was out on the bill. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the year was Berg's athletic block division scheme in which the student rooming quarters in the university section were divided and teams were formed, the blocks being appropriately named for former athletic stars of the university.

Arrangements have been made which will give every student a chance to play on a team and win an intramural award for himself.

who won them. For further information Coach Moore asks those who have them coming to get in touch with him.

The all-university boxing tournament drew the largest number of entries last year that it ever had here. This year every effort will be made to double the number of contestants. Coach Moore advises all men to condition themselves at once, as regular workouts will start about December 1.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDBADGERS ENTER DIN OF BATTLE AGAINST
COE COLLEGE TODAYWisconsin Expected to Show
New Vigor Today; Kohawk
Line Light

After a week featured by the hardest sort of practice work, combined with strategical changes made in the lineup by Coach Jack Ryan, the Badger team will enter the din and dust of battle this afternoon against a team which nearly defeated them last year. Coe college, without Pence, last year's greatest drop kicker, brings an attack like the mythical bag of winds whose fury will be loosed, one by one, until the Badgers are either conquered or the Kohawks return home knowing they were beaten by a team far better than their own.

It will be a great day for the cardinal-jerseyed men on the Badger sidelines. Ryan is determined to find the true worth of each man on the squad who has showed the least promise. With Williams and Sauger out there will be still more opportunity for the unknowns to step in and make the fur fly.

Coe Attack Varied

Coe college brings a varied attack combined with the puzzling unbalanced line. Although Pence is absent, the Coe coach has developed a successor who, Badger scouts claim, will outpunt Harmon or Stangel. And punting means a lot in a football game.

The consensus of the campus is that the Badgers will have to show decided improvement today over the play against Ames if they are to be considered seriously as Big Ten contenders.

Wisconsin must show new vigor today. The glamor of last year's play by Bieberstein, Harris, Teckemeyer and the other men of experience is forgotten now. Yesterday goes as quickly in football as it goes on hunting trips.

Coe Line Light

Badger fans can today expect three improvements. The tackling will be more vicious and more accurate. The interference will keep out of the runners' way. Any pass attack that Coe may spring will be met more intelligently and solved more quickly.

Coe's one weak spot, it seems, is in the lightness of its line. But this may be offset by the fact that most of the men are lettermen, back from last year's squad. If Coach Ely has developed a drop kicker, Wisconsin had better keep the Kohawks away from the region bordering the 30-yard line.

The game will start promptly at 2 o'clock after the band has marched into the stadium and played "On Wisconsin."

OVER FORTY TRY
FOR RIFLE TEAM

Four Matches Already Arranged and Others Pending, Says Coach Shire

Considerable enthusiasm is being shown by a large number of rifle team candidates in the preliminary instruction practice, according to Coach R. E. Shire. Over 40 men have thus far reported for practice and by the end of next week it is expected that the number will be doubled.

Coach Shire is putting every candidate through a thorough course of instruction before shooting in the gallery range. When a man has shown that he can handle the rifle correctly he will be given a rifle for his own use during the gallery season.

C. J. Randall '25, manager, is arranging a series of matches for the team beginning with a dual match at Ripon probably during the early part of November. Northwestern university, St. John's Military academy, and the state meet at Milwaukee are likely to be on the program for out-of-town matches.

NOON DEADLINE ON
COE GAME TICKETS

Noon today is the last opportunity for students to get tickets for the Coe game at student rates. After that Hunter will hang out the $1.50 sign. Two windows will be in operation and students will not be required to wait in line, Mark's Plastic Age to the contrary. Indications are that today's attendance will be greater than that of either of the other two preliminary games.

So It Seems

Ryan started to clear the stadium last night for secret practice, then suddenly remembered it was "open house" day and allowed the fans to remain. He sent in the varsity about 4:45 and let the all-Americans have full sway on the field.

Story in today's Cardinal says those who were disappointed in not being able to get a ticket to the Michigan game have some reason to dispell their gloom in that they can see the game on the gridgraph. Humph! I never did like these second-hand football games quite as well as the real stuff.

"Tiny" Sauger, giant Badger linesman, is in the infirmary with an infection. Doc Faville, associate sports editor, writes he is there too and sees "Tiny" occasionally.

"Tiny" more than fills a bed, writes Faville, and it's good night for the water bottle if he rolls over.

Saw Roundy out interviewing Schwartz on the football field yesterday. Aw, what's the difference, Herb will have to "write his own ticket" anyway.

Kreuz, red-headed sophomore on the varsity squad, has been showing up better and better at half and he may see some real action today. Although he has Challenges are to be sent to Yale, Princeton, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Drexel institute, and Lehigh university for telegraphic meets.

NEW CREW SHELL
IS SATISFACTORY
SAYS "DAD" VAILBoat Lives Up to Expectations;
Stacks Well Against Eastern Outfits

"The new shell which we purchased last year for varsity use has lived up to all our expectations," said "Dad" Vail, crew coach, yesterday. The boat was ordered from the Peacock company and built according to "Dad's" own specifications. Coach Vail says that the shell stacked up very well with the others at Poughkeepsie last year, and was equally as good as the best.

Columbia thought that their Peacock boat was too weak, and so used another at the annual regatta last year. Harvard used a Peacock shell against Yale, and Wisconsin has no fault to find with hers. "Dad" says he would like very much to have another new craft soon.

Both Pennsylvania and Cornell have complete crews from last year, and should prove very stiff opposition to the Wisconsin oarsmen if they go to Poughkeepsie again this year. This is because there are but two "W" men left from last year, and it will be hard to whip sophomores into shape that will outdistance the experienced men from the other schools.

not carried the ball much in practice, he has shown clever work in defense play.

All eyes will be focused on Leitl and Muegge if they get in the game today. This radical change of positions has caused a lot of speculative comment among fans. Muegge was out in cardinal colors last night on the practice field, evidently all prepared for action today.

But this Coe game today is a puzzler. I've been looking for an easy battle, in spite of the close score last year, but whispers from the grid coaches are that the game today will be tougher than either the Dakota or the Ames battles. The Coe scout reports that the Kohawks will outpunt Wisconsin.

Badger grid followers are hoping that Leo Harmon makes a complete comeback today. After his injury in practice the first week, Harmon did not go so well. In the Dakota game his play was poor. Last week he showed up much better in all departments. Many look to see him star with his brother, Doyle, in today's contest.

Will He Repeat?

DOYLE HARMON

Today's contest with Coe will give Badger fans an opportunity to see Doyle Harmon, elusive and fast quarterback who made sensational gains in the Dakota and Ames games, repeat his good work.

Gym; Length of Course
3.9 Miles

The Badger cross country team will run its first race of the season today against the strong Marquette squad. The Cardinal harriers have been working hard for the past two weeks under Coach Mead Burke and are in very good condition.

The coach will run ten men today, most of whom are inexperienced and have never run in a meet before. The men who will wear the red jerseys are Captain George Piper, Perry Bergstresser, Petaja, Kubly, Link, Carter, Cohn, Schilke, and Schwengler.

Badgers Confident.

The only W man is Piper, but Perry and Bergstresser have had previous experience. Everything seems to point toward a win for the Wisconsin team.

As this is also the first meet of the year for the Hilltop squad, not much is known of their strength except that they have the same team which went through the season last year without being defeated. Captain Weber, Murphy, and Shimek are supposed to be very fast men.

The start and finish of the race will be in front of the gym, and the men will leave their marks at 11:15. The course is 3.9 miles long and is along the lake drive to the new bridge, around the hog pasture loop twice, and then back.

Marquette Line Up.

The men who will run for Marquette are Captain Weber, Shimek, Turek, Lynch, Smith, Schuette, and Murphy. The first five men of each school to finish constitute its team and are the only ones to score points. The points count one for first, two for second, etc., and the team with the lowest aggregate score wins the meet.

The referee and starter will be George Berg, the finish judges are Professors Mortimer, Miller, and Truog, while the timers are Duncan, Nickerson and Leitz.

Although most of the Badgers are inexperienced, they have looked very good in practice and are expected to win tomorrow.

points toward membership, later parties in horseback riding, bicycling, and skating are taken which do lead toward credit."

Those desirous of joining the party should sign the poster on the Outing club bulletin board in Lathrop. The party will leave the rear entrance of the building at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

A DISPICABLE FEW

When the committee on Fathers' Day made arrangements whereby a student could secure two tickets for the Minnesota game, one for himself and one for his father, there was a slight fear that students might take advantage of this offer and secure tickets in the fathers' section with no intention whatsoever of bringing their fathers to Madison for the event. However, it was decided that the supposed integrity of the students be respected.

And the students have shown, as nearly as can be determined, that they can not be wholly trusted.

Reports from pretty reliable sources have been advanced that students have been securing extra tickets in the fathers' section, one of the best parts of the stadium, with no intention in the world of bringing their fathers down for the game. The very fact that thus far only 470 applications for the father-faculty dinner the night of the game have been made whereas 649 tickets have been sold to students for fathers indicates unworthy methods have been used somewhere. Perhaps some fathers do not expect to attend the dinner; perhaps, too, some have not yet sent in their applications for the dinner. But at all events, there is now a discrepancy of 179, more than there should be, a discrepancy which would seem to indicate that the reports made are correct.

The fathers' section runs from the 50-yard line north in the top section and from about the 40-yard line north in the lower section. In other words, tickets in the fathers' section are about the best which can be obtained. If some students have been buying tickets in it with no intention of having their fathers with them, they are doing nothing more than putting some of their fellows out of seats which they should have and making it necessary for them to sit at the end of the field.

Who the few are who are trading upon the trust of those who are endeavoring to make Fathers' Day a success it is hard to tell, but they are not worth the respect of any one any more than are students who send tickets to Michigan for the Wolverine game. They will be found out on the eighteenth, when the fathers' section will be closely watched for students who are occupying it not in company with their fathers.

A CHALLENGE

The movement recently begun among the pledges of various fraternities, binding themselves to the wearing of the freshman cap throughout the year is a challenge to freshmen who are not connected with fraternities. The idea, as has already been editorially noted in the Cardinal, is distinctly a forward step and deserving of the cooperation of all loyal Wisconsinites.

The wearing of the green cap should in no sense be looked upon as a stigma. The principle of distinguishing new and untried members of a group is no new idea invented with the purpose of hazing the younger members of a university. In medieval times the squire was distinguished from the knight by appropriate insignia. Earlier still the Romans had their toga praetexta and their toga virilis. The wearer of the cap simply proclaims to his classmates and to the rest of the university that he realizes his place and his obligations as a freshman and that he is not ashamed. As some member of the class of 1928 aptly put it "the green cap is the symbol that the wearer is pledged to Wisconsin."

To wear the green cap is decidedly advantageous to the freshman class. It enables them in making acquaintances to concentrate on their classmates. It indicates whom to turn to and whom not to turn to when various sorts of information are sought at diverse times. It makes for class unity.

Now there are three hundred or more freshmen pledged to continual wearing of the cap which is the insignia of their class. This means that there will be a solid and unchanging nucleus to which it is hoped that other freshmen will individually join. No longer need the freshman fear that in wearing his cap he will be conspicuous on the campus.

The fraternity freshmen have shown their mettle. There is a positive and direct challenge to the non-organized groups of men in the class of 1928. Will they take that challenge and accept the invitation of their classmates to join in signing the pledge either as groups or as individuals? In their resolution published in Sunday's Cardinal the fraternity pledge groups invited all others in their class whether organized or not to join them in the movement. This was a significant gesture toward friendliness and toward class unity. It is to be hoped that the unorganized men in the class will respond in the same spirit.

If they do respond they will accomplish several very worth-while things for themselves, for the class of 1928, and for Wisconsin. In the first place, by cooperating with their fraternity classmates they will individually make many acquaintances which they would not otherwise make, and they will go a long way toward cementing the class of 1928 into a unit. This freshman class may become the first freshman class in recent Wisconsin history to be anything but an organization of not over-friendly groups. What could such a class accomplish for Wisconsin! What valuable traditions and precedents could it set for future classes! The class of 1928 has a chance to make for itself an undying name. It is very largely up to you men in the class who are not connected with fraternities. Have you leaders? Will you get together? Will you take this chance to do for yourselves and for Wisconsin? '28 out!

WILLFUL HYPOCRISY

The younger generation still seems to be quite a problem to the older. At a meeting in Madison the other day a minister held forth at length upon the disgraceful actions of modern youth and the neglect parents are showing toward their children in the gentle art of bringing them up. Time and time again some older launches forth in a long tirade about the independence of the youngsters, their fast living and disrespect for old age and usually manages to ring in something against the parents of the rascals.

And these ranting oldsters, how many of them have children? The minister in question probably has never been face to face with the problem of rearing children.

Then there is another type of oldster for whom it is difficult to bear much love, the woman who delights in sitting in her window across the street from a sorority or girls' rooming house lying in eager wait for some display of undergraduate actions which will provide good fodder for her gossip-mongering mouth. If she sees a co-ed smoking on the porch yonder, or laughing too loudly or getting too close to her male companion, she immediately goes forth to the world about "this terrible younger generation" and tells how the girls across the street all smoke continually, even get drunk so that they laugh too loudly and are lewd and licentious in their actions with men. If she has seen nothing out of which she can make a good story, she hesitates not a minute in fabricating one.

Why doesn't some bright entomologist or fumigologist or anything get busy and find a way of ridding us of these DAMNABLE "Lake Flies?" O, aren't they?

Yours fretfully,
A. EYEIUL.

DEAR EYEFUL.

2.—Bring on an early frost which will give each and every midget a fatal dose of pneumonia or the gout or something. You're welcome!

'S fact, that during the Frosh Welcome a sweet young freshman co-ed was heard to ask, "Where is Minerva's Hallowed Home? I've been all over the campus, but I must have missed it!"

Not to be funny, but just as a gag, is there bark to a dog's family tree? We had a dog named Chinchona once, and he sure had a dire bark. Also, by the way, are crime waves permanent?

Violets are blue,
Roses are pink;

PAGE NOAH!

We are willing in all sincerity to rise and remark that the grand social struggle which took place at Lathrop last night was no abstraction in any sense of the word. On the other hand, however, could one really venture to call it a CONCRETE mixer?

Reverend Robbins Wolcott Barstow will be installed in the church as pastor next Monday. Dr. Beale, formerly of the Grand Avenue Congregational church in Milwaukee, will speak at the evening service. Dr. Beale has spoken here several times.

1,305 GET TICKETS FOR CHEERING SECTION

According to Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales, 1,305 tickets have been sold for the student cheering section for the Minnesota game to be held here a week from today. The tickets were sold out soon after they were placed at the student's disposal and more were needed to take care of the demand.

"Popping" Way Through College is Novel Frosh Idea

Corn-popping their way to a college education is a method of securing a degree at the University of Wisconsin adopted by Edward Thomas '28 and George Stanley '28, Baraboo.

The freshmen own two pop-corn wagons, one in operation at Baraboo, the second recently installed on the lower campus near the Library building.

The story began two years ago when the boys finished their high school course and decided to attend the state university. Neither one had any funds and on borrowed capital they purchased the rights of their local pop-corn magnate.

Enough money was saved the first year to pay for the machine and to lay a little aside. They then decided to buy another wagon as one would not support both at school. At Elkhorn, Wis., they found a dilapidated popper that was purchased for $650. It took $300 more to buy it a shiny, new coat of red enamel and to transport it by truck to Madison.

Now Thomas is broke and Stanley has $80. But both of them are in school, the registration fee is paid, the landlady still meets them with a smile, and the pop-corn wagons are sputtering away daily.

"We're not worrying any," they told a Cardinal reporter yesterday, "but it's the dumps for us if the old wagons don't keep popping."

GRAFTERS CLUB PLANS FOR FLOWER EXHIBIT

At the regular meeting of the Grafters' club Wednesday evening plans for the coming fruit and flower show were discussed.

It was decided to add as an extra feature an apple exhibit contest open to all university students. The prizes to be awarded were established together with rules for the contest.

The rest of the meeting was turned over to individual discussion of the programs for the coming meetings. The members decided to have a talk and discussion on "The Selection of Apples for Show Purposes" at the next regular meeting to be held at 7:15 o'clock, Wednesday.

BADGER SUMMARY ROUSES AGS' IRE

Claim Other Campus Organizations Given More Space in Senior Annual

The Agric and Home-Ec students rebelled and took action on the matter of Badger summaries at a meeting of the Agricultural college federation board last night. A special meeting was called and a committee of three was appointed with a faculty member as advisor.

"The Ag and Home-Ec student body wish to know why an assistant chairmanship on the Prom committee is entitled to more consideration and space in the Badger than is a winning Stock Judging team, and likewise they want to be told why the Clef club or Outing club is more important than the Euthenics club," W. J. Zanmeyer, president of the board, said.

"It is high time our colleges were given just treatment. We have been placed in the rear row and completely forgotten. Our colleges are just as important a part of the university as any other college on the hill. The Saddle and Sirloin club engineers a successful International stock show each year and brings prestige and honor to the University of Wisconsin, but apparently the general chairman of the spring horse show accomplishes more for the university."

The board also discussed the matter of naming the agricultural buildings and thereby honoring the names of men who have aided in placing the college in the high position it now holds. A committee of three was appointed to take up the matter with the faculty and the Board of Regents.

Bulletin Posters Will Convey News of Weeks' Events

Weekly bulletins of university events will again be posted on the 60 bulletin boards of the various buildings beginning next week.

The bulletins announce convocations, public lectures, musicales, forensic events, discussionals, meeting of scientific societies, professional and departmental clubs, literary and dramatic societies, student organizations and other matters of general interest.

Anyone wishing to make announcements of this kind should record them in the "date book" which is maintained in the office of the dean of men by Thursday of the previous week.

The announcement should include the character of the event, subject, place, date, admission, hour and auspices.

OCTOPUS AWARDS JOBS TO 13 CAMPUS WITS

Plans for the year are just getting under way. Mr. Hibbard, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was present at the meeting. The committee meets every Thursday at 6 o'clock in the fellowship room and is open to those members of the frosh class who are interested in the work.

BULLETIN BOARDS KEY TO CAMPUS

Lathrop Has Sesame to Many Branches of Student Life

If you are still interested in finding second hand books—English, education, history, politics, German, or Latin; if you are interested in doing Y. W. C. A. work; if you want the straight dope on the Mischa Elman concert which is coming to Madison; in fact almost any kind of information that you want along the student activity lines, you can find it on the bulletin boards in Lathrop hall. They are seven or eight in number and are placed in the hall near the front door.

The British club, which is open to all students or faculty members born or naturalized in any part of the British empire, has an announcement explaining the eligibility and time of meeting of the club. The Neighborhood house, under the supervision of the sociology department, has a notice up outlining its purpose and urging students, whether sociology majors or not, to become interested in it.

One of the most interesting features on the S. G. A. board is the display of paper covers for recent books which the organization has added to its library. Among those on display are: "Heirs Apparent" by Phillip Gibbs, "Well Dressed Women" by Anne Rittenhouse, and "Gypsy Fires in America" by Irving Brown. W. A. A. honors and classification of "points" to be won by members of the organization is also outlined on the W. A. A. board.

S. G. A. HAS REQUISITION BLANKS FOR PURCHASES

W. S. G. A. has a new system whereby any purchase made for the organization can be checked up. These blanks which must be secured from the office have to be filled out and presented to the merchant from which the purchase is made. The slips are sent with the bill to the W. S. G. A. office. Every merchant in town has been notified that he must sell absolutely nothing to anyone representing or claiming to represent the organization unless one of these blanks is presented. In this way W. S. G. A. hopes to eliminate the purchasing of goods under false pretenses.

SEVEN PARTIES WORK FOR WISCONSIN VOTE

Wisconsin voters will cast their choice in the coming elections on a ballot which carries the names of seven Badger candidates for the offices of president and vice president. Beside the regular parties, republican, democratic, and prohibitionist, the candidates represent the Independent, Socialist-Labor, Commonwealth land party, and the workers party.

Charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, preferred against E. C. Vogt, were continued one week by Judge O. A. Stoen

PARKING MAY BE LIMITED TO 1 HOUR

State and King Streets Included in New Bill Before Council

Amendment of the traffic law limiting parking on the business side of the square and State and King sts., will be recommended to the common council Friday night for adoption by the council street committee which voted in favor of the ordinance at a meeting Thursday afternoon. All vehicles parked on these streets for more than one hour will be subject to a fine. The amendment only restricts parking to this time between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. on week days. Persons going to the theaters in the evenings or Sundays can park their cars without a time limit. Adoption of the Fuller Woods plat to the city will be recommended by the committee as presented to the council at its last meeting by the city plan commission. The plat was not accepted at that time when it was declared that the road through the property would not be extended along the shore of Lake Mendota. Further investigation was ordered.

Construction of a side track to be used by the Madison Railway Co. for the storage of street cars at the end of the South Madison line, as requested in a resolution of A. J. T. W. Quinn, will not be recommended for passage. The request was made to eliminate traffic by cars being parked there in any numbers while waiting for the crowds from the parks and Fair

Bresnahan, Former Coach Here, Maps New Iowa Course

George T. Bresnahan, former Wisconsin track man and now coach of the University of Iowa track team, mapped the new cross-country course which is nearing completion at Iowa City, according to the Big Ten Weekly current edition.

The Iowa runners declare that the new course is unsurpassed in the west. Coach Bresnahan attended personally to the construction.

The running section passes over a hilly terrain that surrounds the golf course. Plenty of hill and dale obstacles are included yet the entire course is visible from a vantage point within the center. All the running will be done on turf.

Regents of Normal School Accept New Building Program

Resumption of the building program for the nine state normal schools will be recommended to the next legislature as result of action by the state normal board of regents here yesterday, it was announced today by William Kittle, secretary of the normal board. The regents voted to recommend a building program aggregating slightly less than $1,000,000 for the next two years.

New buildings were voted for River Falls, Oshkosh, and Stevens Point, it was stated, and an appropriation of $66,000 recommended for completion of the gymnasium at Superior Normal. The new buildings recommended for the three normals are training school structures which will cost between $250,000 and $300,000 each, officials said.

With the exception of an addition to the Whitewater Normal during the past year, no building program has been undertaken at the normal schools since 1913.

The preliminary hearing for Mary Dana, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor and apparatus for manufacturing liquor was postponed to Saturday by Judge O. A. Stolen Friday in superior court.
